The number of cases actually occurring are perhaps not more than many a European city has to deal with continually, and our excellent Board of Health has been able to cope with the matter and have the same under thorough control.

As a matter of fact, there is not a hotel in the city with a single case, nor has there been one—rumors to the contrary notwithstanding—the best proof of which is that the Board of Health and the papers would have known and published such, as well as all other cases, and this fact should be persistently published in all the papers in order to assure intending visitors to the city that they run no risk in coming here, and allay the fears of our own citizens.

JOHN J. CRAWFORD.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

SHOULD STOP COPYING PICTURES.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your issue of Saturday last you comment on this very interesting topic, one of great importance to artists and the general public. The idea of stamping copies on the back is also done in Australia (where I have just come from) in the national galleries of Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide, but this does not prevent fraud, as it is possible to paint over such indelible printing, and another way practiced is to remount the copy on another and usually older canvas, and when done well will defy an expert. The brain stealer (copyist) gets there every time he is desirous of doing so, and no precaution can prevent copies being sold to the public as originals. The only way to do is to prevent copying altogether. It is an old-fashioned idea to suppose that copying helps the student—to understand a great work requires artistic knowledge, and judgment, that is from a technical point of view, and the would-be artist can learn more painting from nature either landscape or figure, than by copying.

It is true that the conditions of traveling scholarships have compelled clever students to copy old masters, mostly against their will; but I have never heard of any ordinary diligent copyist who painted a great original work or became famous. The artistic mind learns all the methods and absorbs all there is in a work of art by observation, and not copying, for until one has acquired a good technical training it is impossible to even see intelligently the picture before him.

Many alleged artists, especially on the Continent, make their livelihood out of copying pictures for this and other countries, and also sell numbers of them to visitors. Probably the woman quoted as painting for thirty years the "Immaculate Conception," had a standing order for all she could do, and this instance proves what I say above. It is an injustice to the public and to the artist who created the work. Stop it.

A. HENRY FULLWOOD.

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 2, 1900.

A PLEA FOR THE ARCH.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Admitting that the present arch has been removed for obvious reasons, is there any good reason why a community which pretends to so much cultivation and refinement in matters of art and criticism should permit its permanency to fall, and thus affront the navy, Mr. Dewey, and all the artists who gave so much energy and talent to its construction, forming a most noble tribute to every elevating and worthy influence to which art can be applied?

Surely we are a strange people, if we can so soon forget that when our naval successes were of vital importance to our country's honor, Dewey was the "right man in the right place." Therefore no subsequent act of his could diminish the quality of his service to the Nation, and no testimonial be too good for the occasion of his welcome home in safety.

He has said with modest sincerity that he "had only done his duty in his own way," (God bless him!) No doubt he would prefer that the arch should be known as the naval arch, but that is the least of our trouble, which is that we are going to lose what we ought to keep. A "thing of beauty" which would be a "joy forever," to all observers for the years and generations in which it would stand; glorious in sunlight, in the shadows of early evening impressive beyond description, and at all times immortal in its angelic beauty.

Let all who love truly what the arch represents join hands and hearts at once to continue the subscriptions required to make it permanent in some fitting place, if, indeed, any such can be found, where the city will not dig it out after it has been erected, and may no earthquake come as punishment for possible fickleness and ingratitude.

L. M. D. W.

New York, Dec. 10, 1900.

THE CITY'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The Springfield editor who referred to New York as "provincial" because within its great limits a few evidences exist of former days,' such as an occasional horse car and some inferior piers, evidently does not know much of the city's history. A few of its achievements may not be out of place.

In 1807 Robert Fulton demonstrated in the waters of New York the practicability of the steamboat, and the pioneer steamboat line was founded in New York.

In 1825, when New York was a less important town than Philadelphia, two of its brilliant citizens, De Witt Clinton and Gouverneur Morris, projected and carried out the plan of uniting the lakes and the ocean by building the Erie Canal, an undertaking that not only transformed a number of villages into flourishing towns, but made Manhattan the first city of the land.

In 1832 a New York medical student named Sheppard evolved the twin-idea of the one-cent newspaper and the newsboy. He interested Greeley in his plan. The latter opened a printing establishment in order to publish the newspaper, which, owing to various causes, lived only two weeks and three days. Greeley, however, kept up his printing establishment. Nine months later an enterprising journalist launched The Sun as a one-cent journal. In 1834 Bennett issued The Herald. Greeley put forth The Tribune in 1841. Associated with him was Henry J. Raymond, who in 1851 founded THE TIMES. Thus the cheap press—cheap in price but wonderful in every other way—was ushered into existence in New York City.

In 1844 one of New York's citizens, Samuel F. B. Morse, presented the world with a new marvel, and in 1857 two other worthy sons of the metropolis, Cyrus W. Field and Peter Cooper, conceived and executed the idea of connecting New York and the capitals of Europe by wire. Neither of these enterprises is likely to be termed "provincial."

In Battery Park stands the statue of John Ericsson, a New Yorker by choice, if not by birth. Four plates adorn the pedestal bearing images of his four greatest achievements—the monitor, the steam fire engine, the rotary gun carriage, and the Princeton, the pioneer ship of our steam marine. The liberality and sympathetic encouragement of a great New York iron company rendered the production of these wonders a possibility.

On lower Broadway there is a tall building which bears a tablet. Those who pause a moment may read that this building is the "earliest example of skeleton construction," the entire weight of the walls and floors being borne and transmitted to the foundation by a framework of metallic beams and posts. No one who looks at the towering pile will consider it "provincial."

The story might be made longer and more varied, but perhaps these few little items will serve to show that the city occasionally develops a spirit of proper enterprise.

ALBERT ULMANN.

New York, Dec. 13, 1900.

Complaint of Dangerous Driving.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

One of the most conspicuous instances of the demoralization of the police is utter neglect to enforce the ordinance which prohibits driving across intersecting streets at a speed of more than three miles per hour, about as fast as a man can walk. One has only to stand at any crossing of Fifth or Madison Avenues to observe how true the statement is. I have frequently had to stand for several minutes waiting for a favorable opportunity to dart across.

Such inhuman recklessness deserves the severest censure, and a few arrests, even if fines were not imposed, would stop this hourly menace to human life. The mere raising of the hand of a policeman brings the whole galloping cavalcade to a stop, and shows how easy it is to enforce this much-broken ordinance. A few timely observations of THE TIMES at this juncture could hardly fail to lessen an evil which is certainly growing worse.

AN INDIGNANT CITIZEN.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

Reform in the Teachers' Profession.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In a recent communication to your paper I remarked on the shameful neglect in our public schools of the physical and moral sides of education. I am pleased to learn that others have recognized the necessity of reform. The press should interest itself in this matter, and changes might be wrought in less time than usually is required "to reform."

Another matter, generally overlooked, should be brought to the public attention. I refer to the case of male teachers. It is rarely found that a male teacher will say to you: "I intend to make teaching my vocation for life." He will, in nine cases out of ten, let you understand that he is a pedagogue pro tempore only. Teaching brings him bread and butter while he is preparing himself for the law, medicine, or some other profession. Teaching is a means to another end—seldom undertaken primarily for its own self. Insufficient recompense is the cause; spiritless and negligent work the result.

To the statement that there is not enough money in teaching, the reply might be made that there are scores of male teachers on the waiting lists, eager for appointment. No denial of this assertion is made. But the man who is content to make teaching his profession, as it is to-day, must be without ambition, unprogressive, and very conservative.

To make teaching a truly desirable profession, its tone must be raised by required examinations and increased salary. A reformation cannot be instituted too quickly. The people of New York should have the subject constantly brought to their notice; then, perhaps, something may come of it.

E. C. H.

New York, Dec. 13, 1900.

Political Liberty Society.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your issue of Dec. 12, 1900, you refer to a protest by some gentlemen against Mr. C. C. Hughes's use of their names as officers of a proposed "American Liberty League," which, he says, is in process of formation and may develop into a third party. For reasons best known to himself, he is selecting for his proposed league a name somewhat like the name of a society already organized, having an Executive Committee of twelve members. The society to which I allude is the Political Liberty Society, of which the officers are the following: William J. Meagher, President; A. L. Cochran, W. H. Condon, and J. G. Lazarus, Vice Presidents; Morris W. Hart, Secretary; Sigmund Horkimer, Treasurer; Daniel J. M. O'Callaghan, Chief Organizer, and John M. Gitterman, John E. Kevill, Annie M. Lovett, C. B. Ludekins, M. D., and C. V. McConologue, Jr., the other members of the Executive Committee.

This society (the Political Liberty Society) is not a political organization nor a political party, nor will it become such, its plan being to conduct a campaign of education only. No one can become a member of the society unless he or she signifies in writing his or her approval of its declaration of principles and contributes to its funds an initiation fee of 25 cents; so that no one has ever been or will be claimed as a member of the society without his or her full authorization and consent.

DANIEL J. M. O'CALLAGHAN.

New York City, Dec. 13, 1900.

Merging of States Suggested.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

A just solution of the question of Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico would be reached by annexing them, respectively to Utah and Colorado; each of these States would gain a Congressman and that section of the country would gain two votes in Congress and in the Electoral College. This is all that even their wonderful progress entitles them to. By the recent census Colorado had 539,700 population; add New Mexico's 193,777 and we would have a State with 733,477. Utah had 276,565, add Arizona with 122,212, and this would give a total of 398,777. These would be fairly average States. There should be no more failures like Nevada.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory should come in as one State, with a total population of 790,205.

ADJUSTER.

Chicago, Dec. 12, 1900.

What Does It Mean?

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your issue of this date I find a letter from Prof. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton University, from which I quote the following passage: "I have written to The Post protesting against the annexation of my name to support the conquest of the Boer Republic without consent."

Query: Have not all conquests been made "without consent"?

Or does Prof. Van Dyke mean what he says?

Or does he say what he means?

JOHN PHIN.

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 13, 1900.

NUGGETS.

Excellent Prospects.

The Heiress—Oh, papa! The Duke has proposed.

Papa—H'm! What are his prospects?

The Heiress—He says he can settle with his creditors for a shilling on the pound!—Brooklyn Life.

A Professional Statistician.

"How did you come to be a professional beggar?"

"I ain't no professional beggar. I'm employed to git up statistics on how many heartless people they is in this town."—Chicago Record.

All He Paid for It.

She—Have you any knowledge of palmistry?

He—Oh, yes!

"How much?"

"About $2 worth, I think I got."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Real Victim.

"There's no doubt," said the suburbanite householder, "that we have been needing butterine legislation a long time. It was only the other day my grocer sold me some old and rancid country butter for good butterine. I made him take it back, too, quick!"—Chicago Tribune.

"FOR THE CITY!"

Loved of the Manitou, jeweled with rills
Lay Manahatta of laurel-browed hills;
Bowered in forestry, flowered with glades,
Boast of the sagamore, joy of the maids.
Hither the Hollander came from the main;
Blossomed his villages, rippled his grain;
Joyous and generous, earnest and true—
Sturdier, worthier, land never knew.
Hate thrilled the warriors! Blended in strife
Arrow and musketry, sabre and knife.
Search not the right and wrong; idle the toil.
Conquered and conqueror—both loved the soil.
Deep in a city's heart slumber the braves.
Was it worth fighting for?
Answer! ye graves!

Cannon and culverin bellow and roar,
Armies of tyranny sweep to the shore.
Scabbard and bayonet shimmer and ring.
"Forward! my grenadiers. Charge! For the King!"
Hessian and Waldecker plied them at bay;
How might our yeomanry stand to the fray?
Bitterly, sullenly—blow paid with blow,
Slowly they yielded the land to the foe.
Seven long years 'neath the arrogant heel!
Ransomed, at length, from the burden of steel,
Gloried our Isle, where, in desperate fight
Fell the first drops in our struggle for right—
Hallowed with blood to the Northernmost crags.
Was it worth fighting for?
Answer! ye Flags!

Girt with her waters and crowned with her towers
Rises, majestic, this City of ours;
Strong in the keep of her sentinel forts,
Tryst of the keels of a myriad ports,
Ringing with traffic and golden with gain,
Joying in conflict of spirit and brain,
Giving to all with her bounteous hands—
Guarding the gate of the Nation she stands.
Sink every littleness! Strike with acclaim!
Tear from her 'scutcheon the bearings of shame!
Say! Will ye leave her to basest of thralls—
Bond to the jackals that lurk in her halls?
Sport of their avarice, prey of their greeds?
Is she worth fighting for?
Answer! with deeds!

—ARTHUR GUITERMAN.

Letters From Readers on Various Timely Topics

FAITH AND PRACTICE.

PROBLEMS OF CITY CHURCHES.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The editorial in to-day's issue dealing with "The Problems of City Churches" gives expression to some plain truths which the "lay intelligence" perceives, but is unable, many times, to put into words. Your readers should be, and no doubt many are, like myself, grateful for your definite presentation of some of the problems the Church has to face.

When the Church of Christ has a clear understanding of her origin and mission she will be found faithful and efficient, both in large cities and country villages. Her minister who has a clear vision of his calling will, as things go to-day, be "forced to decide whether he shall make the spiritual or the temporal welfare of his church a first consideration," and his decision will be in harmony with his marching orders—"Preach the Gospel"—and the means employed in the prosecution of his calling those provided by his Commander, the Lord himself.

The Church, indwelt and energized by the Spirit of God, is the representative on earth of Christ, her head; her mission is one of blessing, to be a channel of life. Herself, taken out of the death and sin and degradation in which the world lies, she is to carry the great blessings found to all mankind. The how-is-it-to-be-done question is what is bothering the clerical fraternity and Church leaders.

Surely, He who is responsible to give light and guidance to His church has not left her to the vagaries of "Mr. Worldly-Wise Man." The Church, as instituted, is unique, stands alone, is in the world to give of her fullness, not of the world nor its beneficiary. And when the Church has deviated and sought certain social strata and reached after power that does not belong to her, she has failed. Nor do I understand it as part of her mission to build costly edifices by the thousands, sumptuously appointed, with most expensive machinery—organ, choir, flowers, and what not—until, as you truly say, Mr. Editor, "the second phase of the difficulty is that the church accommodations exceed the requirements of the devout as by about 16 to 1.

"Fixed charges and running expenses can be met only by attracting and holding large and liberal congregations, which must be attracted and held by other means than the devout are likely to find edifying." And great care must be exercised "not to interfere with anything innocent and proper which will attract those who are needed to fill the pews, or help swell the church revenues. To the lay intelligence the difficulty which the churches in large cities are experiencing is perfectly intelligible." M.

New York, Dec. 10, 1900.

Ignorance in the Pulpit.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Apathy in the churches, which some of your readers are discussing, may be traced to many causes, and it occurs to me that Bishop Potter, in his sermon on Sunday at the Church of All Angels, hinted very strongly at one of them. In this age of free libraries and cheap books it is surprising that some of the clergy should discourse before intelligent men and women, as if they were indeed "babes and sucklings." As an instance I have heard a certain clergyman in this city refer to Omar Khayyam as the celebrated Arabian poet, and yet this reverend gentleman assumes to be an authority on Oriental literature!

'twas this same man who, in speaking of Toplady and certain incidents in his life connected with his writing the hymn, "Rock of Ages," quoted two lines from one of Charles Wesley's most popular hymns as an example of Toplady's spiritual utterances. At another time he declared most emphatically that the most recent conclusions of scientific men and scientists proved that stones were living matter; that the stones used in the church building, and the common rocks of the earth were all alive. I regret to say that he did not mention the names of the "scientists" who made this wonderful discovery.

At another time this delightful, ingenuous preacher assured his auditors that the Pilgrims supplied their larders by hunting buffalo in the New England forests a few centuries ago. It is needless to say that he seldom preaches a discourse in which he does not make some statement calculated to make the judicious grieve. If it is an "intolerable impertinence"—as the Bishop says it is—for a man in the pulpit to mispronounce a common Scripture name, what may be said of him who constantly makes such outrageous blunders as those mentioned above? CHURCHMAN.

New York, Dec. 10, 1900.

ATTENDANCE AT CHURCH.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The question is often asked, "Why do the masses not attend church?" We think it is because church members themselves need reconversion to Christ, almost as much as those outside the church are in need of original or first conversion. Let the pastors, by gentle persuasion and faithful admonition, urge their own members to live nearer the Christ life, and let all the faithful pray often and fervently for an especial blessing of God upon those who name the name of Christ, that they may come closer to their divine ideal. Then, when we have in our churches a membership of men and women who are consecrated to do the will of God, willing to make sacrifices that the lives of others may be made nobler and holier and happier, it will not be necessary to urge the masses to come to church. They will flock to us of their own accord, realizing then, as they cannot now, that the Church is just the friend they need and wonder how they lived without it so long.

We do not think that church attendance (in itself) constitutes Christianity, but the Christian religion will never become widespread or universal without the Church. God has intended that she shall be the instrument in His hands of bringing the world to Christ, so let us, as church members, throw off the spell of indifference which seems to have bound us hitherto, and which delays so sinfully the approach of God's kingdom upon the earth.

Miss EVA COOMBS.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

YELLOW JOURNALISM IN THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

We have had yellow journals in the State, but hitherto the Church has been free from anything of that sort. Perhaps if we had more of it in all the Churches there would be less complaint about "apathy" in the Churches. It would be strange if, after all, it should prove to be the cure which has been earnestly sought by many, but discovered by none. Imagine, if you can, The Observer becoming a "yellow journal" even to save the Presbyterian Church from that apathy which is indicative of the approach of death.

About a month ago the Venerable R. H. Weller, D. D., of Wisconsin, was consecrated Bishop in the Church of God according to the form and manner of the Episcopal Church. It may not be generally known to your readers that the Episcopal Church is regarded as the "roomiest" Church in America, and this is in some sense true because she welcomes all who hold to the faith of the undivided Catholic Church, and always magnifies the importance of the old Latin maxim now freely rendered in English as follows: "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity." Hitherto, however, we have been so wide open that some have crept in unawares, even to the teaching office, who now openly boast that they may read into the Church's creed what is not there, and read out of it what is, and these men call themselves "Broad Churchmen," but nobody knows why, for they are not broad, but narrow, and in that respect and in that only, like their ancestors of the sixteenth century. It was this so-called "Broad Churchmanship" which lately inspired two hitherto respectable Church newspapers to call the consecration of a Bishop a "circus," and the eight Bishops concerned therein "ritual anarchists," and the justifying cause is found in the fact that the Bishop of Fond du Lac in his own cathedral exercised the liberty possessed by every Bishop outside of the Roman Catholic Church in arranging the details of the service, which included incense and lights and kneeling at the recitation of the mystery of the Incarnation in the creed. The Bishops also wore the cope and mitre which belong to their order. A ring was put on the finger of the new Bishop and a cross hung about his neck, and he received the kiss of peace from his consecrators, after which he walked around the church, blessing the people, meekly kneeling in their pews. Had the ritual on this occasion been of the plainer sort, and the sermon in accord with "Unitarian Episcopalism," there would have been no protest, at least from the same quarter.

A LAYMAN IN FAVOR OF LIBERTY UNDER LAW.

New York, Dec. 10, 1900.

CHRISTIANITY AND CONFUCIANISM.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is a human duty to regard Minister Wu-Ting-Fang with good-will and to compare notes with him, as he has volunteered to do with us. I cannot—and assume that few among us can—appreciate, however willing, Confucianism at its true value. And I must also assume that Mr. Wu cannot, nor his co-religionists, appreciate Christianity at its true value. I am quite willing to accept his presentation of Confucianism, and quite unwilling to accept his representation of Christianity. As it is, there is no new thought in Mr. Wu's dissertation, no evidence that he has thought out these things for himself. They are only the criticisms that may be heard from the man in the street any day.

It may be possible that every follower of Confucius is a Confucian, but among the followers of Christ not every one is a Christian. Mr. Wu must be fully assured of this from the sympathy of his audience breaking out into laughter at his travesty of the teaching of Jesus on the treatment of enemies. His Excellency subsequently said: "The world is gradually coming to Confucius!"

Mr. Wu marks out certain precepts of Jesus and takes it upon himself to say of one that "no sensible man ever lived up to it"; of another, that "there is no likelihood that men in this world will ever attain it," and of another, "I have never yet met a Christian who lived up to it." The statement is made that Jesus Himself did, and many believe it. It is, moreover, thought by many that such precepts could only be conceived by and proceed from the heart that practiced them. To any other they are inconceivable. And even now we see them regarded by many besides Mr. Wu as romantic and Utopian.

Mr. Wu puts the teachings of Confucius in opposition to the teachings of Jesus, and it is no over-done thing the marked antithesis is seen. Jesus says, "Love your enemies," and Confucius says, "Love your friends and requite your enemies with justice." Are the evils which humanity suffers to be helped by this? Jesus meets that precept and says that the very worst of men observe it. For what is justice? I should like to hear the Confucian definition of it. How is it arrived at? Who shall say what it is? Here the transcendent beauty and greatness of Jesus' teaching is seen. He knew that what is called justice for an offense committed is an impossibility. There are no scales that can weigh it. He regarded sin, as it is called, not as an offense against law, but against man, and to be requited by the immeasurable law of love, which is the only justice. The Being whom He taught men to worship as the Father He held to be the source and fountain of justice, and He "makes His sun to rise on the evil and on the good and sendeth His rain on the just and on the unjust." He, therefore, urges men to the same perfection.

Mr. Wu deprecates the conduct of the missionaries, whom he represents as "crying for vengeance" in China, while they are but demanding Confucian justice, of which he approves. In doing which they are going right in the teeth of the religion of Jesus, with which practices His teaching should not be confounded. The religion of Jesus is a religion of doing good, not of reasonings and disputations. The law of Christian life is sufficient for all circumstances, and for the settlement also of the matters now open in Mr. Wu's country, by a principle more beneficent and on a basis more secure than by the precepts of Confucius.

It is a strange and pitiable spectacle that in the metropolis of a Christian civilization, a disciple of Confucius should provoke an intelligent audience to laughter by an attempt to hold up to ridicule the teaching of Jesus on that subject which is its crowning distinction and glory.

A. BLACKWOOD.

Irvington, N. Y., Dec. 11, 1900.

THE EVIL AND THE ERRING.

DUTY OF THE CHURCH MEMBER.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your editorial in last Friday's issue, entitled "The Churches and the East Side," ought to be read by every church member of Greater New York. We have heard much lately, and much that is true, about the apathy of the churches, which, in plain English, means the apathy of the church members. How different would be the state of affairs if our churches, preachers and people, were to take an active part in public affairs, especially in denouncing and protesting against the many evils that daily confront them, evils that are contrary to law, yet permitted to exist and flourish because honest, law-abiding citizens do not care to complain, but, rather, treat the matter as if it were none of their business.

The conditions of things on the lower east side have certainly been deplorable, but they would have been even worse were it not for the great influence for good which has been maintained by the Methodist Cathedral and our city mission churches, as well as by the different educational settlements and institutions. For some years past, owing to the immense tide of foreign immigrants who have settled on the lower east side, and the entire change caused thereby in the population, the churches have been moving away up town, one by one, as said, to more congenial localities. The churches I have named, and a few others, still remain, and are doing good work, and their ministers do not all preach to empty benches, but their fight against evil is carried on against tremendous odds. It is very true, as our friend Mr. Jacob Riis has said, "One half the people do not know how the other half lives," and we would venture to add that Mark Twain, the humorist, who has so recently extolled our City Government, knows more about the jungles in Africa, India and Australia than he knows about the evils that exist in certain parts of New York City.

But, Mr. Editor, to return to the subject of your article, I would say, as I have already said on different occasions, if there were two or three public-spirited men in every church of Greater New York, Catholic and Protestant, who would protest against law-breaking and every form of evil that tends to degrade our people and bring reproach upon our city, it would not be long till we would be able to say, seriously and with excusable pride, what Mr. Clemens has in all probability said sarcastically and humorously—that we have one of the best governed cities in the world. M. R. B.

New York, Dec. 8, 1900.

TO GIVE HOPE TO THE ERRING.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The suppression of vice on the east side is at present one of the most absorbing topics of public interest. The compulsion of the police to abstain from receiving bribes to protect it, and to enforce the laws against it, is rightly the first step in the crusade for its overthrow.

But all vice is not confined to the east side, nor will the first step accomplish the desired end. It is a good sign that thinking men, the leaders of the movement, are looking forward to ultimate results, and reminding those whose interests they are enlisting of the far-reaching nature of the work for purifying the morals of the city.

I was glad to read Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s address to his Bible class a few days ago, in which he said that "the dreadful conditions prevailing on the east side can in some measure be relieved if Christian people will go thither and preach Christianity, and act it, toward the unfortunates who are suffering and groveling there." This is most true. And I have often wondered why some of our philanthropic millionaires, and I believe there are many of them, have not already done something in this way, by erecting, equipping, and endowing a refuge and home for that most unfortunate class of women who "suffer and grovel" in vice on the east side and elsewhere. What an instrument for far-reaching good might a large, cheerful, warm, well-lighted home prove to be, where food and lodging could be had at a minimum price, or gratis in cases of necessity. Where there would be a warm welcome, ready sympathy, a helping hand stretched out to those desiring it, and a way opened to reform, self-respect, and a new life.

I know there are institutions already of this character, sustained by churches and societies, but they are all hampered by lack of funds and interest, and so obliged to work in a small way, in obscure corners, and are comparatively unknown. What is needed is a large, attractive, well-located home, something on the scale of the Mills Hotels, so extensive and prominent as to force itself upon the eye, and be itself an advertisement to those whom it is designed to reach. I know, too, the immense practical difficulties in the way of successfully administering such an institution so as to avoid imposition, to reach and influence the outcast, and to secure permanently beneficial results. But wise forecast, and patience and perseverance, could doubtless overcome them all. And I know also the deep-rooted prejudice that exists against those who have sinned and fallen in this way. Yet they are all part of our common human race, all somebody's daughters, somebody's sisters, and all have become what they are through the sin of men. Moreover, while many no doubt are "very far gone from original righteousness," not a few are possessed of many redeeming traits of character, gratitude, generosity, kindliness, weak rather than wicked; many, also, have become what they are largely through unfortunate environments, and know no way out of them; some have a hearty desire to escape from their surroundings, and yearn for a better and purer life.

Surely, no better field for Christian missions and philanthropic work can be found than among the "unfortunates" in our streets and at our doors. Whatever is accomplished is so much gained in purifying the very depth and source of the evil. Nor are the difficulties and discouragements so very great after all. Let us remember that He who knows far more than we do about the qualifications for the kingdom of heaven opened the door of hope much wider to publicans and harlots than to some who thought they were walking in garments much whiter and more undefiled. A. B.

Somerville, N. J., Dec. 12, 1900.

CHURCH AID IN CITY REFORM.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The evils of our City Government are notorious. Bishop Potter's letter to the Mayor emphasized only the one most discreditable development of a system that is bad through and through. We have been wont to put a goodly portion of the blame for existing conditions upon our immigrant population, to the ease of our consciences, but, as one of the speakers at the recent meeting at Cooper Union pertinently remarked, it is our civic administration that corrupts and degrades the immigrant and debases his ideal of all American institutions. It has been properly questioned whether it was expedient for the Church and clergy, as such, to take a prominent part in the proposed crusade against vice; but there is no question that Church, clergy, and laity should feel a moral responsibility for these ills that lie at our very doors, and should do all that in them lies to mend matters.

Were there famine, epidemic, or disaster anywhere in the world, the appeal to the Church would be answered. Here in our own city are conditions that should, merely on account of the human sin and misery they entail, call as effectively for all the help that the Church can give as famine in India or flood in Texas. It is right to give, to work, and to train workers for missions to barbarians in the far-off regions of the earth, and it is surely also an equal duty to help those who are literally and in very truth our neighbors, whose families and social life are being daily smirched and tainted by the vice and immorality fostered by our civic misgovernment. If help for these is not a work for Christians, it is hard to say what Christian work should be.

The help that is most needed and that the membership of the churches can best give is the careful, tough, and conscientious study of the causes that have brought about these social ills and the methods that must be employed to better them. There is the best reason to believe that if the public understood the conditions that have caused these evils they would cease to exist. They are peculiar to our American cities. Chicago is as bad, if possible, as New York, and Philadelphia cannot boast over either. Other American cities have Governments of varying degrees of inefficiency and corruption, tempered by periodical crusades of reform. This state of affairs, coupled with the fact that our urban population is constantly increasing, makes the problem of good city government second to no other of our day and land. It is hoped that we may elect an honest and competent Mayor next Fall, but no thoughtful person believes that this will solve the problem or do more than secure us a breathing spell. The present conditions are the fruit of something inherently wrong in our system of city government. If any permanent improvement is to be made, it is essential that the problem be understood by at least a majority of our citizens. The churches should include in their membership the larger proportion of the conscience, education, and intelligence of the community. These factors should be brought to bear upon the solution of the problems involved in this matter. These qualities, in which the churches are rich, they should freely enlist for the sake of their poorer neighbors and their own home city. It is ignorance of causes and conditions that has brought us to this pass; it is knowledge and intelligence that must save us.

Already there are many ministers interested in this and allied subjects who preach and lecture and write for civic reform and a higher municipal life. It would seem, though, that the subject should be taken up and studied more systematically and thoroughly by the laity. Before we can hope for practical results a considerable body of our citizenship must understand what is needed and be able to diffuse this knowledge among the voters at large. It should be possible to organize in every congregation a club or class of thoughtful men and women who would study this subject as carefully as men study to fit themselves for their professions. As our forefathers studied the problems of representative government at the time of the adoption of the Federal Constitution. If the minister lacks time or the vocation to lead or teach such a class, there should be found some well-informed man who would be sufficiently interested to give one evening a week to the conduct of such an undertaking, and who would make it a matter of conscience to do it well. There should be real teaching and real study. The best works on the subject should be taken as text books, and the daily happenings bearing on the problems studied should be collated and discussed.

If only a small class in each congregation were engaged in this sort of practical investigation of the question, it would have a wonderful effect in diffusing general information and arousing general interest in the solution of our problems of municipal government. Next Fall should be but the first battle of a long campaign—a campaign that should not end until our American cities are placed on a plane of permanent good government, and these clubs should be the nuclei of permanent organizations to work for and until that end is accomplished. Tammany has clubs and associations to nurture its corporate religion of misrule. The better elements of the community should be enough in earnest for good government to organize and keep up their organizations until we have here a city government of which we need not be ashamed.

This proposed plan is based on the modern theory that the best charity, the wisest philanthropy, and the most hopeful work for humanity is the study and improvement of social conditions rather than the continuing relief of the victims of those conditions. It is better to remove the causes that produce paupers than to give alms. It is good to help the man who has fallen among thieves, but it is better if good Samaritan, priest, and Levite can unite to secure such a police administration as will break up combinations of and combinations with thieves. The times change and the needs of humanity change. New occasions teach new duties. The Church founded by Christ was not intended to stereotype itself to fighting only wrongs then prevailing or to methods of relief then in vogue. Wherever and whenever men need help there is a field for the Church, and he who gives time and thought and study to solving the hard problems of humanity and to securing happier conditions for the poor and ignorant does thereby the work of the Church.

Do not those churches that fail to interest themselves in the many new needs of our modern social environment hurt themselves? Are not many who would be valued members of the churches repelled because they find there no sympathy with the causes they have most at heart? If the Church is to keep her hold on the world, must she not seize with enthusiasm each new avenue of good to men as it opens? Can any church which recognizes no form of church work, no method of doing good unless sanctified by time and long usage, keep in touch with humanity in this time when our social structure is evolving into new forms and combinations and the forces that make for goodness must grapple for the life with problem after problem, each new and all unsolved?

THOMAS CONYNGTON.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

AS TO SECTARIAN SCHOOLS.

THE TRAINING OF THE YOUNG.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The pertinent plea of "F. D. H." for State support of private schools is plausible and obviously sincere. Whatever be our opinion of the problem, we sympathize with one who so ardently desires moral and Christian training of the youth of our country. A free State must depend for preservation not alone on intelligent citizens, but on citizens who fear Him that ruleth in the kingdoms of men and giveth them to whomsoever He will.

Secular education has to do with the intellect, and it is a question whether it makes men better. In refining the intellect it may in some degree lift us above the grosser things of our lower nature. Can secular education do more? It has nothing to appease a guilty conscience or support an approving one. If we go back to a period when the human mind achieved many of its noblest conquests, to the time of Aristotle, Plato, and Socrates, to Greece or Rome in the height of their civilization, and mingle with great men of the academy and the lyceum, we shall find that great delicacy of taste may go hand in hand with great moral defects; that the human mind may be developed to the utmost and yet men be bad. Man needs more than a trained mind. Man needs the working of a mightier power in the mysterious alembic of his heart.

Trees have largest growth in their early days. Men are like trees, in that they have their largest growth when young. If we would do much for either man or tree, we must work during the period of largest growth. If a sapling be crooked we may straighten it and make it grow straight. If it be straight, we may bend it and make it grow crooked, but we have little or no power over it after it has become a tangled and gnarled oak. When man is young, we may control him as readily as we control an oak. The material in hand is plastic and easily molded. Here, then, should we do our work, here lay the stress, here let fall the lictus, for "where there is anything growing, one former is worth a thousand reformers."

Youth is the period when character is formed. So true is this that all the influences of after years do but little more than modify the impressions given, the impressions made, and the character formed in childhood. Now and then a great Christian man falls, and we say that he must have been carried down by a Niagara of temptation, when the real cause may be traced back to youth. In our journeyings through woods we come across some towering tree prostrate on the ground. Curiosity prompts a seeking of a cause, and we find that when the tree was a sapling a sharp instrument was drawn across it. Nature, in its ministry of healing, with air, moisture, and sunshine, had done all it could to heal the wound, but there never is perfection in a scar, evidence of weakness, remained, and when a hurricane swept through the woods, a giant of the forest fell because of a defect in its youth. How true of men, sometimes of men who have occupied a large place in our heart's chamber of worthies!

A pebble in a streamlet scant
Has turned the course of many a river;
A dew drop on a baby plant
Has warped the giant oak forever.

It may be observed that Christian training of children in the home has become a lost art. With here and there a noble exception, the Christian training of children is given over to a half hour of Sunday school. Here a child is under the care of a well-meaning, self-sacrificing, zealous person, whose zeal is hardly according to knowledge. Young men trained in a high school find the instruction of the Sunday school so inane that they leave it in disgust. No wonder teachers and parents find it hard to hold them. Why do not collegebred men come forward and offer to help? Why do not persons trained to teach take classes? Why so hard to get Superintendents and teachers of Sunday schools? A reason may be found in the fact that one fears less, in becoming a Superintendent, he show his ignorance of the higher critic's canons of exegesis, and who has courage sufficient to make public his ignorance of a matter so important? Others do not take a class because they do not know what to teach concerning the creation, the physical beginning of man, the fall, the flood, and the modern philosophy of redemption. And the children receive little or no adequate Christian training anywhere.

The thousand and one presents for children at this season of the year prompt inquiry into a philosophy of it. What has given rise to a custom so widespread and so beautiful? One may believe that it had its origin in the fact that wise men brought presents to the Child who, at this season, was born in a stable and cradled in a manger, and unless we bring to the children of our time an endowment of mind and heart, worthy of the Child of Bethlehem, may God save the Church and the State.

There is no reason to despair. God is not dead. His cause is not weak. It is moving on, conquering and to conquer. The opposing forces of earth cannot stay its march one hour, but we may well hail the hour when those set to teach us shall put fewer stumbling blocks in our way.

New York, Dec. 13, 1900. PILGRIM.

CATHOLICS AND SCHOOL FUNDS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

If you will pardon me for again intruding upon you I would ask to say a word in reference to your editorial of yesterday morning upon the subject of "Roman Catholics and the Schools."

First let me express my appreciation of the admirable spirit and tone of the article. I view the question quite differently from what THE TIMES does; but if all questions of a controversial character were discussed in the same fair, courteous manner by all parties the cause of religion and comity would be immeasurably advanced.

The points to which I would ask your attention are these: You say:

It is evident from the discussion in our columns as well as from the utterances of prominent Catholic clergymen, that there is making something like a concerted movement for the application of the claim of their Church to a portion of the money raised by taxation to be devoted to the support of the schools of the Church."

On the previous day, Sunday, the 9th, you had been good enough to publish in your columns a letter from me on this subject. So far as my voice is concerned in this matter, pardon me for saying that no one knew that I wrote, or had any thought of writing, to THE TIMES, or to any other paper, on this or any other subject. I had recently noticed an editorial, and at about the same time a letter, from a non-Catholic in THE TIMES on this subject, and I was impressed with the thought, as I have often been, that the Catholic position was misunderstood. I do not think that there is, or could well be, upon the part of Catholics, any "concerted movement for the agitation of the claim of their Church to a portion of the money raised by taxation to be devoted to the support of the schools of the Church." And if you will carefully investigate you will find, I think, that the "utterances of prominent Catholic clergymen" upon this subject have been very few for a long time past.

I speak of the "claim to a portion of the money raised by taxation," not, of course, to the duty of Catholic parents to send their children to schools in which religion and morals are taught. I have the pleasure of knowing many Catholic clergymen of this city, and it is many a day since I have heard one of them even allude to this subject, unless it were perhaps to speak with gratification of the success which had met the Catholic effort to build up and maintain schools in which something more than mere secular education is imparted, in spite of the many difficulties with which they have been confronted. I believe their idea is that this question will eventually work itself out equitably and satisfactorily, and that when our thoughtful people come to realize by experience the result of irreligious—i. e., exclusively secular—education, upon the youth of the country, they will conclude that some other agency than the State is essential to the mental and moral training of the rising generation, if the best results are to be anticipated. We say, and we say it as "Catholic and our country." We should not forget that unless God is loved and honored, the country will be neglected and dishonored.

The other point in your editorial to which I would call attention is this. You say:

They are in fact trying to introduce for their own benefit a policy that was formerly worked in part at least for the benefit of the Protestants, and was abandoned as unfair and opposed to the spirit of our institutions.

It does not seem to me that this is a fair or correct presentment of the case. The "policy that was formerly worked in part at least for the benefit of the Protestants" was essentially different from that proposed by Catholics to-day. The "religious observances" to which you refer were common to all schools receiving State aid. The Catholic suggestion imports no such idea. It would leave the public schools as they are, for the benefit of those who are satisfied with the education imparted in them. But it would have the State, while maintaining these purely secular schools, say to the people: "Build your own schools, if you will, such of you as choose to do so; and when you have them thoroughly equipped and furnished and populated with your children, place them under our supervision—as to matters of construction, sanitation, efficiency in secular education, &c.—and if your work is found satisfactory, if you are accomplishing all that the public schools are doing, you who are paying your share of the school tax may justly claim a per capita share of the money devoted to educational purposes."

In other words, because your children spend a quarter of an hour in reciting the prayers and singing the hymns which for generations have been heard in Catholic schools, or half an hour a day to the study of Christian doctrine and Christian morals, you shall not be placed upon a different footing, as to the cost of education, from your fellow-citizens who are satisfied with the teachings of agnosticism. F. D. H.

New York, Dec. 11, 1900.

CATHOLICS AND SCHOOL TAXES.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your editorial on "Roman Catholicism and the School Funds" is evidence enough, if your columns had not already furnished abundant proof, that you are ready to discuss both sides of this burning question. While I have no doubt I should agree entirely with the position of THE TIMES in the ultimate disposal of this question, I am inclined to ask whether the closing statement of your editorial will bear examination, namely, that "there is no reason why it should not seek that aid if it wishes," referring to the Roman Church and the school fund.

The chief reason that makes it difficult to discuss this question with the liberality which ought to pervade discussions between churches is that the Roman Church is something more than a church. It assumes certain claims of authority over the State and in the State that render it a political as well as a religious institution. That is strikingly illustrated in another article in the same number of THE TIMES, in which the opinion of Archbishop Ireland as regards the return of the temporal power to the Pope is given. It is precisely this encroachment of the Church upon the State in all the history of Romanism in Europe and the perversion of the State's life by that encroachment that renders thoughtful Protestants critical of movements of the Roman hierarchy. This is not a question of religion, not an issue of faith, of church government, or church ordinances, but nothing less than an issue between the American principle of government which demands the absolute separation of Church and State and the Roman principle which demands the authority of the Church in the State.

This question of the use of our school funds grows directly out of the more fundamental issue. It is simply impossible that a division of the funds can be made according to denominations without destroying absolutely our present principle of free schools. It has been tried in England, but it is there, of course, a simple effort to compromise between the theory of the State which includes the Church and the growing principle of popular liberty. It may be doubtful which of these principles will win in America, but there is no doubt that they are two distinct and mutually exclusive principles. One or the other must yield. They cannot be compromised. I agree with you wholly in the advantage that the present system is to the Roman Church, but as long as the more Papal portion of the Roman Church does not accept this position so long will the contest and the effort be renewed from time to time to strike at the foundation of our free-school system on behalf of church schools, supported in part or altogether by taxation.

Every move in this direction is an invitation to bring back upon America the dreadful evils that have resulted in every country in Europe from a union of the Church and State. I should be the last to argue with any bitterness against the religious principles of the Romanists, heartily as I dissent from them, but I think that one might be excused if one should argue, even with some bitterness, against political dogmas which account for so much of the misery of European history, and against which our theory of Church and State, our one original contribution to political history, was formulated. CITIZEN.

New York, Dec. 10, 1900.

SOME CITY PROBLEMS.

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is with deep interest that every lover of his country and citizen of this great city witnesses the present movement in the direction of "Reform" and "Righteousness." The difficulties which lie in the way of this movement are certainly huge and apparently insurmountable. Surely it becomes a necessity that before attacking the very reprehensible state of things now existing, we carefully ascertain the causes which have led to this condition. The popular and universal answer and cry to this is "Tammany." Well, proximately, it is Tammany, her chief and satellites—but who had any right to expect anything else from that source? Do not all New Yorkers know well the "works" that organization has ever produced? Have we or can we forget the great predecessor of Croker—Tweed and all the evils he wrought and produced? I repeat, when this agency of evil was installed in power over the now great City of New York, no one who had any judgment whatever could have anticipated any other result than the present disgraceful state of things.

Who placed this vile crew in possession of all that is valuable to this city? I answer Thomas C. Platt and Benjamin F. Tracy. Let them shuffle and plead as they will, these two men, for their own personal and selfish purposes, deliberately and with a full knowledge of the necessary fatal consequences, threw this great city into the hands of Tammany Hall and its parasites. Just imagine the vast, extended good that placing this city and its government in the hands of so upright and talented a man as Seth Low for the years since its new charter went into effect would mean. How well we know that every act and movement of his administration would only have for its object the supreme good of the city. How difficult it would really be to overcome this good, even if evil-minded officials or a subsequent change in administration were to attempt it. Think how multiplied all exertions are and must be to have overcome the cost, waste, and protected processes of evil which Tammany rule has instituted. Knowing that this must be the normal result of the adoption of Tammany rule, Mr. Thomas C. Platt, evidently seeing that Mr. Low would not be a pliable instrument to perpetuate his G. O. P.'s power and that with the example and results of an independent ruler divorced from politics, the people might become alive to the desirability of also discarding the boss system equally from State politics, induces the highly respected B. F. Tracy, honored by the President and with a notable career, to offer himself as a candidate in his place. Both of these men, well knew that it was not possible for either candidate to be elected with a divided anti-Tammany vote, and yet with this knowledge they summoned all their partisan forces, and with all the powers exercised by a party so powerful as the Republican party of this State, the order went forth. Mr. Low was defeated. Tammany triumphed, and we now suffer irreparable injuries. These two men are to blame for it. It may be that no human tribunal will visit upon them the punishment which is their due, but, for one, I believe at the bar of God they will have to answer for a flood of crime and injustice which flows directly from their schemes and acts. I think for these acts no right-minded citizen ever can or ever should forgive them.

When I heard our honored citizen, Abram S. Hewitt even suggest in the Chamber of Commerce: "If we could get Mr. Croker to order Mr. Van Wyck, and Mr. Van Wyck would order Devery, and Devery would order his Captains, we could have these evils remedied in thirty days," my blood boiled in indignation to think that it was true. So, likewise, when I see the slime of the snake already manifested in the delicate suggestions of "Going slow," "Gathering all the forces," "Not mounting guns," &c., &c., would not be acceptable to Mr. Platt," &c., ad nauseum, I feel that the only hope of the citizens of New York to effect any permanent reform is first to get rid of all bosses. It is true that Republican bossism is more decent. It does not show its evil quite so plainly and conspicuously, but in some respects in the insidious manner it cloaks its evil, in the successful way it induces many otherwise upright men to do as desired and instructed for the good of the party, &c., it is really worse than the more evident evil. Who of the large number of respectable Republicans who voted for Mr. Tracy realized in the least that he was virtually casting a vote for corruption, injustice, and robbery?

I cannot believe that the mass of voters of this city are corrupt, or even other than good citizens, and I believe that they mean and desire to act for the good of this great city and its people. Let us, then, make it a watchword. No politics in city affairs for any reason or purpose, and no bosses under any circumstances. A. F. H.

New York, Dec. 11, 1900.

THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mr. Charles Stewart Smith has answered the questions that, through the courtesy of your journal, I put to him; but his answers are not such as to satisfy me—or those who think with me—that he has discharged his important function wisely or well.

If I understand the spirit of the meeting at which Mr. Charles Stewart Smith was empowered to name a Committee of Fifteen, it was the intention to have all the people represented thereon, and not a fraction only, and, inasmuch as the committee would have no standing before the community excepting such as it derived from its representative character, it was essential that the plain people should have been recognized in the appointments. We are now told, indeed, that this will be done, but what reason have we to believe that the duty which should have been done yesterday and was not will be done to-morrow?

This initial mistake, of so marked a character, was instantly followed by another. Mr. Charles Stewart Smith appointed these fifteen gentlemen without securing permission to use their names, and thus violated a law of social intercourse, with which he was perfectly familiar. The reason he gives for his conduct is no less extraordinary than the conduct itself. He says he knows that his friends Messrs. Rhoades, Kennedy, and Orr would not have served if he had first consulted them, but his intention was to compel them to accept by nominating them without their consent, and thus subject them to the pressure of public opinion. If Messrs. Rhoades, Kennedy, and Orr can receive this explanation with satisfaction, they are very complaisant indeed, for, in my judgment, Mr. Charles Stewart Smith's words might be construed as an implied impeachment of their moral courage, and, if I agreed with this construction, I should regard these gentlemen as ineligible to serve as leaders of this movement.

I note also with surprise the action of the ten members who accepted service on the committee. Although the committee was plainly not yet constituted, and the ten members were unable to perform any act at all, they held a meeting and elected Mr. Charles Stewart Smith, at whose hands they had received their appointments, a fellow-member. I should be glad to have an explanation of this action—to be informed under what authority it was taken and whether the vote was unanimous or not; and this leads me to express the hope that, in order to protect the rights and privileges of the minority, as well as for the information of the public, an exact record of the proceedings of the committee will be kept.

I write under the assumption that the campaign against vice is to be conducted by this committee in the name of and on behalf of all the people; that any citizen, therefore, has a right to say that he conceives to be mistakes in organization or action on the part of these gentlemen—not for the purpose of unreasonably criticising their acts or motives, but for the purpose of strengthening their hands and helping the cause that we all have so much at heart.

It is proper to add that Mr. Charles Stewart Smith must be credited with two excellent appointments—men who possess the confidence of the public and represent an important body of our fellow-citizens. I refer to Prof. Felix Adler and Mr. Jacob H. Schiff. These gentlemen are known as earnest, sincere, and practical philanthropists, who will do all that can be done to bring about a better condition of public affairs and to make this movement effectual in the repression of vice.

Would that Mr. Charles Stewart Smith had appointed thirteen other such men as these! FRANCIS M. ROSER.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

MR. FRYE AND THE SUBSIDY BILL.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The speech of the Hon. William P. Frye of Maine in the Senate of the United States on Wednesday, Dec. 5, as published in The Congressional Record, indicates that the best effort has been made to favorably present all that can be said in favor of a very bad bargain, which is an effort upon the part of the advocates of the Subsidy bill to obtain from the United States Treasury $9,000,000 per annum under the guise of promoting the commerce and increasing the foreign trade of the United States, and to provide auxiliary cruisers, transports, and seamen for Government use when necessary.

Great stress has been laid upon the fact that our ships cost 25 per cent. more than those of Great Britain and Germany. Mr. Frye said: "Why do we find ourselves in this unfortunate and humiliating condition as to our foreign trade? In my opinion there can be but one answer, Our ships costing 25 per cent. more than those of England and Germany." Mr. Frye is wrong. Our ships do not cost 25 per cent. more than those of England and Germany, but an American citizen is compelled to pay more than 25 per cent. over English and German quotations, not that they cost more, but that the American yards demand extravagant prices over those of foreign competitors.

Mr. Frye mentions twenty-five names selected by him as a committee, some of them shipbuilders and shipowners, experts, required for intelligent conclusions. Among the names he mentions that of Mr. Charles H. Cramp, the well-known shipbuilder of Philadelphia. Mr. Frye could not select one more intelligent or more capable to express an opinion regarding the shipbuilding industry of this country. In fact, Mr. Charles H. Cramp is without a peer in his line of industry. His knowledge of detail in all matters connected therewith, and the fact that fifty years of active life assiduously applied to this one particular line permits him to stand out as a shining light. And the writer speaks from a personal knowledge based upon many important interviews with this gentleman. It is owing to all of the above that great consideration should be given to any expression of opinion, or to any writings referring to the subject of ship construction. Mr. Frye appointed Mr. Cramp one of the committee and must therefore give consideration to any expression emanating from him.

Therefore, in view of the above, it is necessary that Congress be not conversant with an article written by Mr. Cramp in The North American Review in 1892, in which he asks himself the following question: "Can you build a ship to do the work of the City of New York or the Majestic or the Columbia for the same cost?" i. e., the same as the cost of those ships. Mr. Cramp answers himself as follows: "To that question I would reply, 'Yes, or within as small a margin as would be likely to prevail in a similar case between any two British shipyards.' * * * The 'first cost' of ships is not only not a prime factor, but it is not even a serious factor

SOME HAPPENINGS IN GOOD SOCIETY

Congratulations may be offered this week on the anniversaries of their weddings to:

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ireland, (Miss Adelia Duane Pell,) Dec. 22, 1863.

Senator George Peabody Wetmore and Mrs. Wetmore, (Miss Edith Kstelta,) Dec. 22, 1869.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry De B. Parsons, (Miss Frances Walker.) Their tin wedding, Dec. 16, 1890.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jennings, (Miss Brewster,) Dec. 16, 1896.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph de Tours Lentilhon, (Miss Louise Everett,) Dec. 16, 1896.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Smith, (Miss Fannie Taller,) Dec. 17, 1896.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Lusk, (Miss Mary Woodbridge Tiffany,) Dec. 20, 1899.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Leopold Schmidt, Jr., (Miss Gertrude Treadwell Townsend,) Dec. 20, 1899.

***

The influence of the coming holiday season is more than ever marked upon the social world to-day, and will be increasingly felt from this morning on. For the first time in some weeks past, days more nearly blank now begin to appear on the social calendar, and the minds and energies of the men and women of fashion will for a time be devoted to Christmas shopping, outings, and arrangements rather than to entertaining and entertainment.

***

On Thursday next the advance guard from the country schools and colleges of maidens and youths coming home for the Christmastide will begin arriving, and the welcoming of the young people by their friends and families, and the family reunions which Christmas always brings will fill the hours and days. Yesterday brought about the last of the more notable coming-out December receptions, which, with such a large army of débutantes, have been the prominent features of the season thus far. There will be several dances during the week at private houses, two or three dancing class meetings, and the annual junior ball of Columbia University at Sherry's. The week will also bring the wedding of Thomas E. Peters and Miss Gladys Whitin at Grace Church on Wednesday afternoon, which, with the further weddings the following week of Stuyvesant Fish Morris, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Hillis Wynkoop on Dec. 27, and of Charles P. Hoffman and Miss Zelia K. Preston at Tuxedo on Dec. 29, will close the list of December's fashionable marriages. The Columbia Sophomore theatricals will take place at the Carnegie Lyceum on Wednesday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings of this week, when the comedy of "Professor Whimsical" will be produced.

***

There will be more entertaining out of town than in, through the Christmastide. The more notable of the Christmas house parties will be those to be given by Mr. and Mrs. George Gould at Georgian Court, Lakewood; by Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid at Ophir Hall, Westchester County; by Mr. and Mrs. C. Albert Stevens, at Hempstead, and by several of the Lenox villa owners. There will also be numerous smaller house parties in all the suburbs, while open house will be kept at the Tuxedo, Cedarhurst, Meadow Brook, and other country clubs. A kid masque is planned to take the place of the annual dance on New Year's eve at Tuxedo. If the cold weather continues the members of these house parties will enjoy to the utmost skating, tobogganing, and other outdoor Winter sports. If ice and snow are not provided, they will make merry indoors, and all indications point to a remarkably merry Christmastide in the country. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter have included a number of New Yorkers as members of the large house party which they will entertain over the holidays in an old Virginian mansion at Warrenton, which they have leased for the time.

***

In town there will be a number of Christmas dances and other entertainments. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Breese will give a Christmas Eve dance at the Carbon studio which will have novel features, but, as said before, New York society will spend as much as possible of Christmas week out of town. Among the Christmas dinners in town will be one of thirty covers at Sherry's, at which the guests will all be members and relatives of the family of Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander.

***

For seventeen years, or since that eventful night in November, 1883, when the Metropolitan Opera House was first opened, the initial appearance in this city for another season of the European song birds, has, with the exception of the season following the burning of the first opera house, and the Winter of 1897-8, when no opera was given, been perhaps the most important event of the Winter social season in the metropolis. This first night, on Tuesday next, promises therefore to be the most beautiful and brilliant scene imaginable. There have been many changes in the list of boxholders, but these changes, and particularly in the parterre row, which is the "holy of holies" from the social standpoint, have been such as will make the box showing more notable than ever before. The Vanderbilts will on Tuesday night, with the exception of the immediate family of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, emerge from their period of mourning, and there is the greatest curiosity as to who will be the guests of the better-known box holders.

***

While there will be new forms and faces in many of the boxes and seats, there will be ghosts in others of these seats and boxes, and these will even walk the corridors, unseen by the many, but making their presence felt by the few. A glance at the list of boxholders reveals in a marked manner the significant changes that have taken place in New York society during the past seventeen years, or since the Metropolitan Opera House was first opened. The names of Mrs. Ogden Goelet, W. Emlen Roosevelt, August and Perry Belmont, Miss Annie Leary, Mrs. Astor, Lloyd Bryce, Mrs. George Henry Warren, Adrian Iselin, Levi P. Morton, H. L. Hurley, James J. Van Alen, Elbridge T. Gerry, Egerton L. Winthrop, G. G. Haven, George S. Bowdoin, W. Bayard and R. Fulton Cutting, Luther Kountze, Mrs. Frederick Gallatin, and Thomas Hitchcock in the parterre row, and of Miss Breese, Mrs. Jefferson Coddington, and John Burling Lawrence in the grand tier, are the sole remaining ones to represent the families who were at the head and front of New York society hardly a score of years ago. The tide of newly acquired wealth, particularly from the West and Far West, has swept away many of those names which were formerly considered the bulwarks of New York society's citadel. To recall the past of New York society, particularly in the old Academy of Music days, when the Rutherfurds, Stuyvesants, Rhinelanders, Schermerhorns, Suydams, and other old New Yorkers were the chief patrons of the opera, and when the few boxes of the old Academy formed the holy of holies, one must this year search the list of holders of orchestra stalls, and even then will look in vain for some of these old family names.

***

In the orchestra stalls will be found, among other representatives of old New York families of music lovers, Henry Parish, Miss M. Penniman, Miss De Ruyter, Mrs. W. L. Suydam, Mrs. J. E. Emmet, G. G. Frelinghuysen, Mrs. J. Van Doren, W. V. S. Oddie, John T. Conover, Albert Hendricks, Warren Delano, Alfred Wagstaff, A. C. Zabriskie, Miss Roosevelt, A. H. Schermerhorn, George B. Post, W. Butler Duncan, Mrs. Van Wyck Brinckerhoff, Augustus P. Montant, Mrs. M. E. Leavitt, Frank Sturgis, R. W. Taller, J. J. Townsend, Mrs. John W. Minturn, A. A. Heeksher, James Hude Beekman, M. B. Metcalf, and John Robb.

***

It is not necessary to give the list of the names of box and seat holders who are new comers in New York and whose name is legion. This column is not a genealogical record nor a financial agency report. The significance of the comparatively small number of old New York family names whose owners will be prominent this season at the opera, considered by the public the meeting place of representative New York society men and women, will be appreciated by the social student and observer, and it "points a moral and adorns a tale."

***

At the opening of the opera on Tuesday night the most prominent women, and those who, presumably, will be the most beautifully and richly gowned, will be Mrs. Ogden Goelet, who returns after some years of absence; Mrs. Astor, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry, Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies, Mrs. Lloyd Bryce, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. Edward Moore Robinson, Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting, Mrs. Richard Gambrill, Mrs. Luther Kountze, Mrs. Henry Clews, Mrs. George Gould, Mrs. Pembroke Jones, Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Mrs. W. D. Sloane, Mrs. Frederick Neilson, Mrs. George Crooker, and Mrs. Adrian Iselin, Jr. All the more prominent débutantes of the season will also be present. Although many of the more notable women have boxes and seats for other than the opening night, it has become a custom for those sharing the boxes and who chance to have them for the opening night to invite their less fortunate fellow box holders for that event. So it is that the Opera House on Tuesday night will present in the boxes almost all of those men and women who will attend the performances on different nights during the season.

***

There are still a few débutantes to come out, and the receptions are not all over. Perhaps the most notable private entertainment is the dance to be given by Mrs. Bayard Cutting for her niece, Miss Caroline Wilmerding. Mrs. Alfred Ely, who was Miss Helen Rutherfurd, will give a dance, also on Friday evening, at Sherry's, for her daughter, Miss Helena Rutherfurd Ely. To-morrow evening Mrs. Woodbury G. Langdon will give a dance at her residence, 719 Fifth Avenue, for her daughter, Miss Sophie Langdon, and Mrs. Louis P. Henop will also give a dinner, followed by a dance, at Sherry's, for her daughter, Miss Sydney Stuart Henop.

***

The dancing classes which meet this week will be the Fortnightly at the Astoria, Les Cendrillons on Thursday, the 20th, at Sherry's; the second Saturday Junior Cotillion, at Delmonico's, and Mrs. Huntington's class, which will also have its second meeting at Delmonico's on Saturday evening.

***

As usual, Mrs. Astor began her series of state dinners last evening, or the third Saturday in December. Mrs. Astor will be followed by Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry, who usually choose Tuesdays for their dinners. It would look as though the dinner, next to bridge whist, would be the popular form of diversion among the older set this Winter. The débutantes, of course, devote themselves to the dance.

***

Wednesday afternoon will bring the wedding in Grace Church, at 3:30 o'clock, of Thomas E. Peters of Gloucester, England, and Miss Gladys Whitin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Whitin, (Miss Lucy A. Morgan.) Miss Whitin was to have been introduced this season, and has spent most of the last two years abroad. She was a pupil of the Farmington School, and most of her wedding attendants were her fellow-students. Miss Whitin's maid of honor will be Miss Caroline Nichols of Worcester, Mass., and her bridesmaids are to be the Misses Cecil Boardman, Juliette Hubbell, and Charlotte Stillman of New York, Susan Franklin of Baltimore, Louisa Weightman of Philadelphia, and Angelica Thompson of Troy. Mr. Peters's best man is to be Harry M. Ward, and the ushers selected are W. Forbes Morgan, Jr., a cousin of the bride; Stowe Phelps, C. Morton Whitman, Templeton Johnson of Staten Island, Dwight Taylor, and Edwin Sands. The Rev. Dr. Huntington will officiate. After the wedding Mr. Peters will take his bride to India, and next Summer they will go to their English home. Mr. Peters gave his bachelor dinner at the University Club last evening, and Miss Whitin will give a luncheon to her attendants on Tuesday.

***

The wedding of William H. Dixon and Miss Josephine T. Williams is to be celebrated in Grace Church by the Rev. Dr. Huntington on Jan. 30, and as already announced in this column, Miss Williams, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Williams, (Miss Sarah W. Peters,) will have her cousin, Miss Lulu Peters, as maid of honor, while her bridesmaids are to be the Misses Marion Fish, Florence Twombly, Anna Dodge, and Evelyn Parsons. Woodward Babcock is to be his cousin's best man, and the ushers selected are Searle Barclay, Jr., Richard T. Williams, Jr., H. H. Hollister, Jr., Bradish Johnson, Jr., Maxwell Stevenson, and Samuel F. Babcock, Jr., a cousin of the bridegroom.

***

The past week was rich in its offering of débutantes. There were yesterday, as usual on Saturday, many teas, and the assembly showed an array of "buds" larger than that of any former year. There are still several prominent débutantes to be introduced, notably Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb, daughter of Dr. Seward Webb; Miss Florence Twombly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly; Miss Kathleen Neilson, daughter of Mrs. Frederic Nelson Neilson, and her cousin, Miss Dorothy Hinckley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Parker Hinckley, (Miss Rosalie Neilson.)

***

The first of Les Cendrillons will be danced at Sherry's Thursday evening. The dances are from 9 until 12 o'clock, and the cotillion is started not later than 10. The patronesses this year are Mesdames John S. Barnes, Charles T. Barney, Charles C. Beaman, Prescott Hall Butler, Stanford White, Stephen Van Rensselaer, Anson Phelps Stokes, Charles H. Stebbins, J. Kennedy Tod, Prescott Hall Butler, Francis G. Brown, Francis H. Cabot, Frederic J. de Peyster, Eugene Delano, R. J. Cross, Morgan Dix, James S. Edgar, Charles Phelps, Junius S. Morgan, Nathaniel T. Robb, John G. Neser, Alfred Pell, J. W. Miller, Henry E. Howland, Alfred M. Hoyt, H. R. Hoyt, J. Pierpont Morgan, Julian W. Robbins, Beverly Robinson, Walter S. Gurnee, Jr., James T. Gardiner, Louis P. Henop, and James A. Scrymser. These dances have always been popular and successful affairs, and this year there will be a larger number than usual for débutantes present.

***

The first rehearsal of the operetta of "Old King Sol," the joint work of Mrs. Albert Hendricks and V. S. Rothschild, who wrote the music and words, respectively, will be given at the Harmonie Club on Friday evening, and the first performance will take place on Saturday evening. Both principals and chorus are being frequently rehearsed, and the presentation promises to be most successful.

***

The Rubinstein Club, of which Frederick W. Devoe is President, Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge is Vice President, Mrs. William R. Chapman is Secretary, and William R. Chapman is conductor, will give the first of its three subscription concerts for the Winter in the Astoria ballroom on Thursday evening. The club has for the past fourteen years occupied a unique place in New York's musical life as a women's singing club. Its concerts are private affairs, and combine the vocal with the instrumental element. This season there are to be no complimentary tickets. The active membership of the club is limited to seventy-five members, and includes many of the leading concert and church soloists, and also a number of well-known amateurs and singers.

***

There will be given on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 3, in the Astor Gallery of the Astoria, under the direction and leadership of Victor Harris, a new song cycle by Liza Lehmann, entitled "The Daisy Chain." This cycle of child-songs includes poems by Alma-Tadema, Robert Louis Stevenson, and others, and the singers are to be Miss Marguerite Hall, Mrs. Seabury C. Ford, Mackenzie Gordon, and Myron Whitney, Jr. The new song cycle, although in the same form as "In a Persian Garden," which, by the way, will be repeated at this performance by the original singers, is different in matter and form from its predecessor. David Mannes, the violinist, will render compositions by Godard and Ries in the intermission between the two song cycles.

***

Miss Alice Ward, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Carter, arrived on the Majestic on Thursday. Miss Ward will remain over the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ward, at Brookline, Mass.

***

Mrs. Waldo Richards of Boston will give a reading from Booth Tarkington's novelette, "Monsieur Beaucaire," at the residence of Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes at 3:15 P. M. to-morrow afternoon.

***

Mrs. Lewis Rutherfurd Morris (Miss Katharine Clark) and her sister, Mrs. Everett M. Culver, are to give two large receptions in February. These will be given at ex-Senator Clark's apartments, 175 West Fifty-eighth Street. Mrs. Culver is to give a small musicale at the apartment this afternoon.

***

The cards for the two large receptions which were to have been given to-morrow and Tuesday afternoons by Mrs. Charles Thorndike Parker (Miss Susan De Forest Day) at her residence, 17 West Fifty-seventh Street, have been recalled owing to the sudden death of her brother, George Lord Day, on Friday morning last.

***

Mrs. Chares Bulkley Hubbell (Miss Emily Allen Chandler) of 20 West Eleventh Street has sent out cards for a reception on Friday, Dec. 21, when her two daughters, the Misses Juliette and Margaret, will be presented.

***

The first meeting this season of Mrs. Dallas Bache Pratt's dancing class—the one including débutantes—was held last evening in the large ballroom at Sherry's. Among the patronesses of this class are Mesdames Frederick Gallatin, Arthur M. Dodge, Spotswood Schenck, Louis P. Henop, Henry L. Morris, Charles R. Henderson, and William Iselin. The cotillion was led by Edward Tinker, and the favors were staffs, mirrors, and pompon headresses for the girls, and for the men large pansies, backed with shaving paper, and Napoleon sashes. Among the dancers were the Misses Henderson, Robinson, Gallatin, Robison, Langdon, Twombly, Schenck, Pratt, Lefferts, Stevens, Morris, and Messrs. Moran, Goelet, Gallatin, Barclay Kountze, Langdon Schroeder, Robert Livingston, Artnur Street, and Beverly Robinson.

***

Mrs. Joseph Bond Beall of 109 West Fifty-fifth Street gave a reception yesterday afternoon at her residence to introduce her youngest daughter, Miss Florence Beall. Among those who assisted in receiving were Mrs. E. Ross Grubb, Miss Mary Grubb, and Miss M. S. Grubb of Philadelphia; Miss Baxter, Miss Deshler, Miss Gertrude Lqueer Lane, Miss Elise Postley, Miss Timmerman, Miss Lucy Froment, Miss Constance Berry, and the débutante's older sisters, the Misses E. L. and Ethel Grubb Beall. The débutante wore a gown of white chiffon embroidered in silver. Mrs. Beall will give a dinner on Thursday for the débutante, at which the guests are to be young people.

***

Thomas E. Peters of England gave his farewell dinner at the University Club last night. His guests included his best man, Harry M. Ward, his ushers, W. Forbes Morgan, Jr., Stowe Phelps, C. Morton Whitman, Templeton Johnson of Staten Island, Edwin Sands, and Dwight Taylor. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Morgan are cousins of Miss Whitin, whom Mr. Peters is to marry on Wednesday next. Prince Troubetzkoy and David Lannon were also guests.

***

Mrs. William Fanshawe of 13 East Forty-fifth Street gave a large reception at her residence yesterday afternoon to introduce her two daughters, the Misses Julia and Lena Fanshawe. The Misses Fanshawe, who were gowned alike in white pean de soie and chiffon, were assisted in receiving by the Misses Margaret Robison, Nathalie Wells, Anna Dodge, Edith Greenough, Emily Grugan, Julia Edwards, Edna Loew, and Eleanor Swayne.

***

At the reception given yesterday afternoon at her residence, 55 Fifth Avenue, by Mrs. William B. Beekman, Mrs. Beekman was assisted in receiving by her two daughters, the Misses Heloise and Catharine Beekman, Mrs. Charles Mountant, Miss Dorothy Hinckley, Helen Rutherfurd Ely, and Ethel Du Bois. Mrs. Beekman was gowned in black silk. Miss Heloise Beekman was in pale blue silk trimmed with lace, and Miss Catherine Beekman was in a delicate gray crêpe de chine.

***

Mrs. James Scrymser (Miss Mary Prime) gave a reception at her residence yesterday afternoon to introduce her niece, Miss Charlotte H. Prime; Mrs. James Betts Metcalf gave the second of two coming-out teas for her niece, Miss Hildegarde Beste of Summit, N. J., and Mrs. Edward McL. Nash gave a dinner for her daughter, at which the guests were young people. Another débutante tea was that giver by Prof. W. H. Burr of [illegible] which his daughter, Miss Marion H. Burr, was introduced. Mrs. Luther Kountze gave a tea yesterday afternoon at her residence, 5 East Fifty-seventh Street, for her daughter, Miss Helen Kountze.

***

Echoes of the first Assembly Ball on Thursday night last are floating through the drawing rooms, and many interesting little details that escaped publication on the morning following the ball owing to its lateness, are being discussed. The ball was the largest that the "Matriarcha," as the fifty subscribers who give the Assemblies are called, have ever held. It was exceptionally late in starting, and many younger women who had been at the various large dinners held before the event drove up and down the avenue, some for nearly an hour, fearing to be the first arrivals. The crush was so great, soon after midnight, at which hour the majority of the guests appeared to arrive together, that it took a long time for the guests to reach the supper rooms and obtain seats. There was very little dancing before supper. The cotillion did not begin until 1:30 o'clock. There were no new figures, and Craig Wadsworth, who led, kept his temper remarkably well under trying circumstances.

***

It was evident early in the ball that the young matron did not intend to resign her place this year to the débutante. Notwithstanding the large number of débutantes present, the men, for the most part, flocked about the younger married women, some of whom, to quote an older woman present, "had the time of their lives." Mrs. John Jacob Astor was easily the belle among the younger matrons of the evening, and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin was also surrounded by admirers. Mrs. Ogden Goelet, of the older matrons, had perhaps the most attention, and was warmly welcomed after her absence of some years from New York. Of the débutantes, Miss Nora Iselin, Miss May Gallatin, Miss May Goelet, Miss Hester Hone, Miss Katharine Pratt, Miss Cecil Beardman, and Miss Frances Jones were perhaps the belles. Each débutante had a certain following of relatives and family friends who saw to it that she met the right people and had a good time. The triplets, the Misses Elsie, Ethel, and Edith Cryder, were, of course, objects of much attention. Their gowns were of white mousselin, laid in accordion pleats, and veiled with overdresses of white satin, delicately embroidered in silver. In their coiffures they wore sprays of white heather tied with silver ribbon.

***

One of the most beautiful gowns at the Assembly was worn by Mrs. Frederic Neilson. It was composed entirely of pale pink panne velvet, with a design in pink roses, made exceedingly simple, and was as chic and effective as it was simple. Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin wore a marvelous gown of pale pink satin, embroidered heavily in pink, with extremely bouffant chiffon flounces at the bottom of the skirt, edged with rose quillings of the same material. In her coiffure was placed a tiara of diamonds, ending in points, so that the effect seen from the front was that of a crown. Mrs. Ogden Goelet's gown was almost the same in style and effect as that of Mrs. Iselin, save that it was delicate green in hue. She wore a broad collar of pearls and strings of pearls drooped over the corsage and were caught up on the left shoulder with a clasp, headed with an immense diamond. From the shoulder, over the arm, depended a single string of five pearls, ending in a pendant composed of one immense diamond as large as the proverbial robin's egg. Mrs. Clarence Mackay's gown had a train of white satin heavily brocaded in black velvet, the front of the skirt was covered with lace, which was caught up on one side with a huge creacent of diamonds. The bodice was of black and white brocade, and in her hair she wore a tiara of turquoises and diamonds. Miss Frances Coster Jones was in one of the most artistic of the many beautiful gowns worn. It was cut en princesse and composed of mauve chiffon, embroidered in silver wreaths over silk.

***

At the ball to be given by William C. Whitney at his residence on the evening of Jan. 4, Worthington Whitehouse will lead the cotillion, dancing with Miss Helen T. Earney, in whose honor the ball is to be given. Mr. Whitehouse will also lead the cotillion at the ball to be given on the evening of Friday next by Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting, in honor of her niece, Miss Caroline Wilmerding, and will dance with Miss Wilmerding.

***

The large dinner to be given at Sherry's by Mrs. Louis P. Henop for her younger and débutante daughter, Miss Sydney Stuart Henop, will take place to-morrow evening and will be followed by a cotillion. There will be about ninety guests, and the cotillion will be led by Alexander Hadden, dancing with Miss Sydney Henop. There will be pretty favors, and the dance will be over early, so that those present at the dinner can go on to the dance given by Mrs. Woodbury Langdon at her residence, 719 Fifth Avenue, for her débutante daughter, Miss Sophie Langdon.

***

The recent première of "The Second in Command" in London was a brilliant one. Among well-known people present were Lady Carnarvon, who was very well dressed; Lady Reay, Mrs. Bradley Martin, and Mrs. Carl Meyer, both wearing some fine diamonds; Lady Dorothy Nevil, Sir Edward Sassoon, and Sir George and Lady Lewis, who are both enthusiastic theatregoers. Evening cloaks, specially designed for "first nights," are becoming quite a distinctive feature, something rather more striking and even conspicuous being often seen on such occasions.

***

Sunday night music has become a fashion in London. It was the Gallery Club at the Grafton Galleries which started it first, and now at Prince's Restaurant every Sunday night after dinner there are elaborate concerts with really good singers, as well as Cecil's Band. Another Sunday night club is being started, and seems likely to become a popular resort.

***

The latest engagement, which is causing a good deal of interest in social circles in England, is that of Lord Carrington's daughter, Lady Marjorie Carrington, and Charles Henry Wellesley Wilson, the eldest son of Mr. Charles Wilson, M. P., of Warter Priory. Mr. Wilson is a nephew of Arthur Wilson of Tranby Croft, and his father is the member for Hull, while on his mother's side he is connected with the Duke of Wellington, she having been a Miss Wellesley. His two sisters are Lady Hartopp and Lady Chesterfield, while Lady Marjorie is the eldest of Lord Carrington's five daughters. She is only in her twentieth year, and is a bright and pretty girl and a general favorite.

***

There was a carnival at Niagara, in London, on Dec. 12, when prizes were given for the best fancy dresses. A certain number of people remain faithful to the older rink, and of late Mrs. Ellis, Lady Coke, Ronnie Monorieffe, Count Badeni, Lady Helen Vincent, and Lady Falmouth have been among the visitors. An international skating carnival is announced to take place at Niagara in February, which is to last three days, and several of the foreign champions are to compete.

***

"The curious incident in connection with the lost jewels innocently appropriated by the Duchess of Manchester's maid recalls the fact that some of the most magnificent and historic jewels in the world are in the possession of Americans," says The London Mail. "Mrs. Bradley Martin has some of the French crown jewels, some of which are also the property of Mrs. Astor, who has a diamond ornament which once belonged to Diane de Poictiers. The Duchess of Marlborough has the famous Outlaw pearls, once the property of Catherine of Russia; Mrs. Clarence Mackay has some curious rings which formerly adorned a Hindu Rajah; Mrs. George Vanderbilt has a wonderful rope of rubies unsurpassed by anything of the kind, while Mrs. Webb has a rope of pearls which rival in beauty those of Queen Margherita. Mrs. Oglivie Haig has some magnificent jewels, and those of Comtesse Boni de Castellane and Lady Curzon of Kedleston are also very fine. America, too, boasts of one of the most, if not the most, artistic jeweler in the world."

***

There is a great preponderance of Americans over Britishers at all the Riviera resorts at present. Among the latest arrivals at Mentone are Lord and Lady Overtoun, Sir Alfred and Lady Revan, the Misses Hammond, Mrs. Hay-Drummond, and Mr. and Mrs. Eardley-Wilmot. Sir Henry and Lady Ogle and Capt. Albert Hay are at Nice, and Jack Jaffray, who used to be a well-known cross-country rider before his health gave way, is staying at Monte Carlo. The Empress Eugénie is expected shortly at her villa at Cap Martin, and Queen Isabella of Spain has taken La Bastide, Lord Salisbury's villa at Beaulieu, which is said to be for sale.

***

A very good Winter season is beginning at Rome; the weather is springlike, and visitors are fast arriving. The Piombino Palace, in the Corso, at present occupied by the United States Ambassador, or else the Villa Malta is likely to be the future residence of the Dowager Queen of Italy. The Duke d'Alençon and his daughter and son-in-law are now staying in Rome, and were received in a private audience by the Pope the other day with the honors of a sovereign.

***

There are prospects of a very good season at Cairo this Winter, and already a great number of rooms have been engaged at Sheppeard's Hotel, while parties have been formed to go up the Nile. Lord and Lady Newborough are going there to spend the Winter, and so are Lord and Lady Leven and Melville. Although the height of the Cairo season is usually not attained until after Christmas, it is well started. The river season opened by the departure of a large tourist steamer on the 13th inst. with twenty-three passengers on board—a very goodly number for the maiden trip. W. Waldorf Astor only reaches Cairo in January, and he intends chartering a dahabeah, if he has not already done so, for the Nile journey. Helouan, which is situated some sixteen miles south of Cairo, is again well to the front. The sulphur baths there prove the great attraction, and among its earliest visitors are Mr. W. S. Gilbert and Lady Blanche Morris. Nearly the whole of the extensive fleet of dahabeahs has been engaged, and, provided the state of the Nile permits, the Father of Rivers is evidently to be well patronized during the coming Winter. Although considerably better than last year, the state of the river is far from reassuring. Something like consternation prevailed in Cairo when it became known some few days ago that the railway line south of Nagh Hamadi had been washed away for nearly a kilomètre. It would appear that the native detailed to watch the rise of the water in an enormous storage basin failed in his duty, and finally the pent-up water topped the bank, the whole structure collapsed, and the flood spent its fury on the railway embankment. Communication by rail with the whole of Upper Egypt is therefore out of joint. The first tourist train from Haifa to Khartoum leaves the former place on Dec. 20. There is now quite a good hotel at Haifa, and the hotel in Khartoum will be ready for the reception of visitors early in January.

***

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer of 1 East Sixty-sixth Street are to give, as announced in this column on Friday, a dance at their residence on the evening of Dec. 26 for their daughters, the Misses Adeline and Electa Havemeyer. It will be for young people.

***

Among the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid at Ophir Hall during the past week have been Baron Herman of the German Embassy, at Washington, and Count Maximilian Puckler of the princely German house of that name, one of the Masters of the Court to the Emperor of Germany, and whose wife, countess Helena von Der Schulenburg, was for several years one of the ladies in waiting to the Empress Augusta Victoria.

***

John Winston Churchill, M. P., was recently given a dinner by his cousin, Mrs. Jondan Mott. Among those invited to meet him were Samuel L. Clemens, (Mark Twain,) Charles Longfellow, D. O. Mills, Frank Riggs, Whitelaw Reid, James Parker, and G. W. Smalley.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Prof. Edward Howard Griggs will deliver a lecture on "The Force of the Personal Ideal" at the residence of Mrs. Charles Robinson Smith, 34 West Sixty-ninth Street, on Saturday evening, Dec. 29.

The annual entertainment of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Orange, which is the principal social function of the season there, will this year take the form of an operatic performance. "The Mikado" has been chosen, and Arthur L. Stahlschmidt will conduct and manage the production, which will be given entirely by amateurs.

Mrs. Frank Russak of this city, formerly Miss Marie Barna, has been visiting her mother in California, and was last week the guest of honor at a reception given by her old schoolmates of the Mills College Club in Century Hall, San Francisco. Mrs. Russak has been receiving much attention from her many friends and former associates in California.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John Betts Calvert recently celebrated their crystal wedding at the home of Mrs. Calvert's mother, Mrs. John D. Mairs, 15 East Fifty-seventh Street. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and flowers. A dinner was served to the immediate family and other relatives. A reception followed, which was largely attended. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Mairs, Dr. and Mrs. L. Emmett Holt, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mairs, Miss A. B. Hays, Mrs. David Dows, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander E. Orr, Dr. and Mrs. James Nels, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Hoe, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Mornay Williams, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. R. S. MacArthur, the Rev. Dr. Edward Judson, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Bitting, the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Sanders, Mrs. William A. Cauldwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Isaacs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edison, Dr. and Mrs. Carroll Dunham, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw, the Rev. John A. Ingham, Miss Helen Gould, Mr. John T. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Conger, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Link, Mr. George M. Bayne, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Fox, Mrs. Warren Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haviland.

The College Women's Club gave a benefit concert and subscription dance for the scholarship fund, at Sherry's, Fifth Avenue and Forty-fourth Street, Tuesday evening, Dec. 11. The active members of this society are composed only of ladies who have graduated from Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, and other women's colleges. Associate members are elected as in all other societies. The members of the College Women's Club and their friends were received by the President, Miss Irwin-Martin, who was beautifully gowned in white with pearl ornaments; Mrs. Angus Cameron, wife of former Senator Cameron; Mrs. George P. Lawton, and Mrs. Theodore Sutro, who wore a most becoming costume of pink crêpe de chine and ciré ornaments. After the formal introductions to the President and the women who received with her, a delightful concert was given. It was the first performance of Mlle. Marie Schade, a pupil of Grieg. Others were Miss Mary Helen Howe, soprano; Robert Hosea, basso; Miss Frances Miller, soprano; Ellison Van Hoose, tenor, and Froken Bokken Lasson. At the dance which followed the musicale, the proportion of men to women was about four to one. It is seldom that at any public ball in New York more men are found seeking partners than women, but this dance proved that college women, instead of frightening away the young men, are really more attractive to them than the usual society girl. A large profit was derived from this concert and dance, and this will aid in sending some deserving girl to college for an education.

A SOUTHERN ENGAGEMENT.

Miss Sophy Hazeltine Betrothed to Judge Randolph Tucker.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 15.—The engagement is announced of Miss Sophy Hazeltine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Hazeltine, to Judge John Randolph Tucker of Virginia, grandson of the late St. George Tucker and a grandnephew of John Randolph of Roanoke. It was at a house party last Summer that Judge Tucker and his fiancée met for the first time, despite the fact that they are second cousins.

Miss Hazeltine, through her mother, who was a Miss Dallas, is a grandniece of Vice President George M. Dallas, who was also Minister to Great Britain and Russia, and she is a cousin of the Duchess of Portland, who was Miss Winifred Dallas-Yorke. She has lived abroad most of the time since her début a few years ago, is an artist of marked ability, and an accomplished musician.

No date has been fixed for the wedding, which will, it is expected, take place in the early Spring. Judge Tucker is at present Circuit Judge of Bedford and Roanoke Counties, Va.

Escaped from a Sleepy Policeman.

Michael Cashman of 740 Tenth Avenue was taken to Roosevelt Hospital from the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station at 2 o'clock Friday morning, suffering from alcoholism, and Policeman Baglan was set to watch over him. At 8 o'clock in the morning Baglan fell into a cat nap and the prisoner, seeing his chance, promptly jumped from the first-story window and escaped. Baglan awoke a few minutes later and immediately started on a hunt for the patient. He found his man three hours later in a hallway on West Fifty-third Street. Cashman was arraigned in the West Side Court yesterday morning by Baglan, who constantly kept a firm grip on him. The prisoner was fined $3.

Lathers Win a Strike.

The Journeyman Wood Lathers' Union announced yesterday that its members in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx have won a strike for the abolition of piecework, the eight-hour workday, and $3.50 a day. Six hundred lathers were involved in the strike, which lasted four days.

C. G. Gunther's Sons,

ESTABLISHED 1820.

184 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Our firm, which has been in business for nearly a century, has devoted its attention exclusively to furs, in the raw state, as well as to the dressing and manufacturing of same, every detail of which is under our personal supervision and management.

Our connections with the most prominent houses of Europe, Asia and Africa, and our Agents and Agencies there afford unequalled opportunities for securing skins in large quantities direct, and at low figures, and a careful inspection of our stock will prove the fact that in our establishment no intermediate profit between producer and consumer exists.

H. C. F. KOCH & CO

125th Street, West. — OPEN EVERY EVENING TILL CHRISTMAS.

A Mecca for Gift-Buyers.

Located near your homes—containing immense assortments of useful, ornamental, or amusing presents for young or old—and every article priced so uniformly low that a visit will demonstrate that it is positively a waste of time, exertion and a loss of money to do your shopping downtown.

Toys, Dolls, Games, Etc.

Dolls of every kind—Locomotives, Steamboats, Hill Climbers, Warehouses, Butcher Shops, Skin and Woolly Animals, etc. Wooden, Steam, and Electric Toys. A B C Building, Picture and Richter "Anchor" Blocks. Games in endless varieties. Tree ornaments, Punch and Judy Shows, Express Wagons, Go-Carts, Toboggans, Bob-Sleighs, Magic Lanterns, Kinetoscopes, Punching Bags, etc., etc.

Jewelry, Watches, Clocks, Etc.

Watches, Rings, Brooches, Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Lorgnette or Watch Chains, Match Safes, Cigar Cutters, Tie Clasps, etc. Sterling Silver Novelties, Opera Glasses, French and American Clocks in great profusion, etc.

Fancy Furniture.

Den, Hall, Easy, Morris or Desk Chairs, Novelties in mahogany, oak or Art Nouveau, Bachelor and Smoking Tables, Tabourets, Bookshelves, Pipe Racks, Plate or Spoon Racks, Mug Shelves, etc.

Men's Furnishings, House Coats, Etc.

Neckwear, Fancy Suspenders in Boxes, Full Dress Shields, Pajamas, Fancy Night Shirts, House Coats, Blanket and Bath Robes, Cardigan Jack

AT THE THEATRES

Farewell to "Cyrano de Bergerac" and a Welcome to Coming Plays.

Doubtless the inevitable flood of discussion of Coquelin's acting in "Cyrano de Bergerac" may have tired a few unappreciative souls without converting them to a righteous understanding of its merits. Doubtless there are still very worthy and occasionally amiable folks who like to think Rostand's drama inferior in literary quality and dramatic spirit to the late John Baldwin Buckstone's "Sea of Ice," if not actually to the French play from which that popular melodrama of our easily satisfied parents was deliberately cribbed. And what does it matter if both Coquelin and "Cyrano" are likened to "the fourthly in a Scotch sermon" a thousand times when those who have ears to hear and eyes to see and hearts to feel and the gift of comprehension have enjoyed the performance and will ever enjoy the memory of it?

Such a revelation of artistic sensibility and good taste, of perfect proportion in speech and action, of humorous, sentimental, heroic, and impassioned expression, of pictorial grace, will never lack its full measure of appreciation. A right-minded backwoodsman would see some of its merit and feel something of its power and charm.

Coquelin is a rare artist, and his portrayal of Cyrano is his rarest, finest, and greatest work, the culminating achievement of a noble artistic career. As for Edmond Rostand, he will be accounted in the future among the great poets and dramatists of his era. His genius has been well schooled. His art is eclectic. The influence of Molière and Marivaux and Beaumarchais; of Hugo and the great Dumas, of Shakespeare, and even of Schiller, may be traced in his work without the employment of uncommon critical skill or an extraordinary memory. But Rostand does not imitate the poets whose spirit he has assimilated. His style, his graces of expression, his pervasive humor, his view of human nature, are all distinctly his own.

Of this week's two plays in which the distinguished French artists will appear at the Garden Theatre, one is frankly a show piece built by an expert in stagecraft to exhibit the amazing virtuosity of a great actress. While the other, "La Dame aux Camélias," has more claim to respect as a work of art than "La Tosca," yet without the great scene of Act III., Armand's theatrical outburst in the ballroom, and the death scene to move the susceptibilities of common folks, this play of the younger Dumas would never have survived. The germ of it is an error.

As the "romantic revival" in the contemporary theatre reaches its most extravagant stage, one who has had to endure all the examples of romance and sublimated and perverted romance it has brought forth begins to sympathize cordially with William Dean Howells in his attitude toward romance, and to call him blessed. The concatenation of incidents in the new play at Wallack's is so absurd that it seems extraordinary that intelligent men and women should be engaged in lending the thing form and color for the entertainment of other men and women who are not all hopelessly unintelligent. In the old romantic drama there was generally a semblance of reason and some sort of logic. Here the playwright deliberately gets his good folks in a scrape and then cynically releases them by means of a mere picture.

The Continental officer, tried by court-martial and about to be put to death, in accordance with the invariable custom of the British Army, by commissioned officers armed with property pistols, is rescued not by some new and unsuspected device of the beautiful heroine, as he logically should be, but by the sudden appearance of the "old Continentals in their ragged regimentals," Washington having obligingly set history and common sense at naught by having given all his attention, after a remarkably quick passage of the Delaware, to the solving of this problem of melodrama.

Mr. Edward E. Rose would doubtless contend that he has craftily led up to precisely that influx of armed patriots through holes in the wall, and the customary doors and windows, in what may be called the "owl" movement of his third act, and the scene of the droll dictation of the letter which the heroine writes and chucks out of the window to the hidden patriot who hoots like an owl.

That dictation is a famous scene. The captured patriot declaims to his captors to the effect that if his hands were untied he would take his pen in hand and write so and so, and the alert heroine thereupon takes her pen in hand and does write so and so, with so much ado that the house cat, if not elsewhere occupied at the time, would surely have guessed her purpose, though the British officers who crowd the room never suspect her.

Let us be fair to "Janice Meredith," however. It is a collection of charming pictures. It has a decent story. The children and the "young girls" will like it. It glorifies Gen. George Washington! It has one delightful bit of comedy when Janice is placed under the eye of a special sentinel with an expansive grin.

It brings back to us also Mary Mannering, who is a lovely and charming woman and looks particularly well in the costumes of the Revolutionary period. Her portrayal of Mr. Paul Ford's heroine, transferred to the drama from the novel, is not to be very seriously considered as art, though it has a few positively delightful passages, but it will be liked while it is on view.

We are to have on view here soon an unusually large number of modern English comedies, for one batch, including "Mrs. Dane's Defense," by H. A. Jones; "The Wedding Guest," by J. M. Barrie, and "The Second in Command," by Robert Marshall. "Lady Huntsworth's Experiment," in which Daniel Frohman's actors will appear at Daly's late this week, is a few months older than any of these, but is likely to be found as smart and entertaining, as novel in its story, as vivacious in its dialogue, and as true to life as the best of them.

E. A. D.

THIS WEEK'S PLAY BILLS.

Three New Productions Are Scheduled —Holdover Pieces Doing Well.

At the Garden Theatre, Mme. Bernhardt will be seen in the title rôle of "La Tosca" to-morrow night. Wednesday matinée and evening and Saturday evening M. Coquelin will appear as Baron Scarpia. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings and Saturday matinée "Camille" will be given. On Thursday evening the Weber & Fields stock company will introduce its holiday novelty, which consists of a potpourri embracing bits from "The Gay Lord Quex," "A Royal Family," and "Florodora." The following evening—Friday—Daniel Frohman will present "Lady Huntsworth's Experiment" at Daly's.

The continued plays hold their places firmly as a rule. "L'Aiglon" has started on the last two weeks of its engagement with Maude Adams at the Knickerbocker Theatre. "David Harum" will celebrate its one hundredth performance to-morrow evening at the Garrick Theatre, and souvenirs will be given away to mark the event. John Drew, in "Richard Carvel," at the Empire Theatre, is nearing the end of the longest engagement he has ever played in New York City. It is his most successful engagement also. He will remain at the Empire two weeks longer, and will give an extra matinée on Christmas Day. On Monday, Dec. 31st, the Empire Theatre Stock Company will begin its regular Winter season at the home theatre, appearing in Henry Arthur Jones's new play, "Mrs. Dane's Defense." "A Royal Family" has been performed at the Lyceum for a period of four months, and the probability is that it will remain there well into the new year. What its succeeding play will be Charles Frohman prefers to withhold for the present.

"Hodge, Podge & Co." does not show any material change in the attendance at the Madison Square Theatre, which is probably due to the fact that this will be the last week of Mr. Dailey's two months' engagement. On Friday night the one hundredth performance will be given and appropriate souvenirs will be given away, and on Dec. 24 the Broadhurst Comedy Company will make its first appearance in the new farce entitled "The House That Jack Built." "The Gay Lord Quex" will be the play at the Criterion only three weeks longer, as the announcement is made that Miss Julia Marlowe will make her appearance in the new play, "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Jerome Sykes as Foxy Quiller will terminate his engagement at the end of this week at the Broadway Theatre, and likewise the "Star and Garter," in which the remarkable French jugglers are seen, will conclude its run in this city next Saturday night at the Victoria. The Agoust family will then be seen with Peter F. Dailey's company. Augustus Thomas's excellent play, "Arizona," was to have concluded its remarkable season in this city at the Herald Square Theatre Saturday night, but the time has been extended, and the company will remain during Christmas and New Year's week. Miss Ada Nethersole will make a return visit in "Sapho" to the Harlem Opera House, at only for a week's engagement; she will then go on a tour through the country.

Mary Mannering has, from all appearances, scored an individual success at Wallack's Theatre in the dramatization of "Janice Meredith." During the past week the box office statement showed very nearly capacity for every performance, and the advance sale is the largest ever recorded at Wallack's. The Nell Swynne play, "Mistress Nell," does not seem to be forgotten in these busy shopping days, as the little Savoy Theatre is very nearly filled to its capacity at every performance. "Sweet Anne Page," with Miss Lulu Glaser, is one of the few musical plays now before the public which will be continued for a short period longer at the Manhattan Theatre. At the Bijou Theatre new life has been inspired by the success achieved by Miss Irwin's new play "Madge Smith, Attorney." In contrast to the last play, "The Belle of Bridgeport," two members of her company have good individual parts, and both Mr. Sparks and Mr. Martinette occupy a portion of the programme with a song each. The breakfast scene in Act II., where the singing is done, and the court-room scene in Act III., are quite entertaining.

The success which Karlweis's comedy, "Das Grobe Hemd," with Mr. Gustav von Seyffertitz in the leading part, scored on Thursday last, has induced Manager Conried to keep it at his Irving Place Theatre for the entire week. "Die strengen Herren," ("The Strict People,") will have its first production in this country on New Year's Eve. "Florodora" is proving to be a Casino success, and to-morrow night this tuneful piece will enter on its sixth week, with a constantly increasing business. The libretto has had an overhauling with the result that the comedy has been toned to the American point of view. It will run indefinitely at the Casino.

James O'Neill's season in "Monte Cristo," at the Academy of Music, is now drawing to a close, Christmas week marking the end of its existence in New York. Two weeks more will be given over to "The Sprightly Romance of Marsac," at the Theatre Republic, after which Miss Viola Allen will make her first appearance in this city with "The Palace of the King." To-morrow evening will usher in the last week of "Lost River," at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, after which the play will go to other cities.

The plays reproduced at other theatres this week are uncommonly attractive in the main. "Never Again," Maurice Desvallières and Anthony Mars's farce, comes to the Murray Hill Theatre. This play proved one of the most emphatic successes the Donnelly Stock Company achieved last season. Wilson Barrett's drama, "The Sliver King," is this week's occupant of the American Theatre. The play has been in preparation for several weeks, and will be presented with an entirely new equipment of scenery and accessories.

The Grand Opera House has Smith and De Koven's comic opera, "The Highwayman," with Katherine Germaine in the principal rôle, created by Camille D'Arville. This will be the first time the opera has been presented in New York since its run at the Broadway Theatre. The suburban part of the city is to have at the Metropolis Theatre that thrilling drama called "The Ladder of Life." The Dewey will have the City Club Burlesquers as its attraction, and as a special attraction new living pictures will be exhibited. The melodrama entitled "The American Girl," will be offered at the Third Avenue Theatre.

An attractive holiday programme will commence at the Eden Musée the coming week. It will be arranged to be of special interest to children as well as to grown people. An extra feature will be James R. Adams's Pantomime Company in "Humpty-Dumpty." This pantomime will be full of laughable incidents and holiday scenes. Cinderella and the glass slipper will be shown in the moving pictures, which bring in fairies and mystery. Other interesting moving pictures will be shown hourly, and the afternoon and evening concerts will attract lovers of music. Among the wax groups many additions are being made, and the interior of the Musée will present a holiday appearance.

THE VAUDEVILLE SHOWS.

Many Old Favorites Retained by the Continuous Houses—Few New Features.

The vaudeville and music halls offer for their attractions this week nothing of an extraordinary kind, except at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, where Jean Marcel's living pictures and bas-reliefs of famous classical sculptures are retained. B. F. Keith's programme at the Union Square Theatre will include Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar in "A Close Call," with the comical cock fight; McIntyre and Heath in "The Georgia Minstrels," which is so funny that it has outlived countless imitations; Felix and Barry, in an eccentric comedy and acrobatic act, which is far above the average; Foy and Clark, in their latest bit of hilarious nonsense, "The Spring of Life"; Leo Dervalte and his spiral paraphernalia, and Bueman and Adele, in "The Door Key," are some of the attractions, while a special engagement for one week has been made of Clayton White, Marie Stuart and company in their successful sketch, "Dickie."

At Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, in addition to the Marcel pictures, will be found Ezra Kendall, Staley and Birbeck, the musical blacksmiths, in their transformation act; Lottie Gilson, Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance, in the farcical skit, "Above the Limit"; Juggling Johnsons, who are retained for a second week; Les Dumonds, Parisian street singers, and Horace Goldin, clever magician. A programme of vaudeville replete with comedy features has been arranged for this week at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre. Billy Clifford and Maude Huth will be seen in their amusing skit, "The Chappie's Visit," and the Russell Brothers are to offer their farce, "The Irish Servant Girls." The other laughing features number a dozen, and include Walter Le Roy and Florence Clayton in "Hogan of the Hansom," Alice Pierce, the mimic; Lew Sully, the blackface jester, and Genaro and Bailey. Della Fox will appear at Proctor's East Fifty-eighth Street Palace this week, and John Kernell is sure to keep his audiences in the best of humor with his bright monologue. Among the many other headliners are the Olympia Quartet, singing comedians; Clarice Vance, the Southern singer; Falke and Semon, well-liked musical artists; Caswell and Arnold, the clown and acrobat. Harlemites will see the best programme of the season this week at Proctor's One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Theatre, when the Four Cohans will appear in George M. Cohan's new farce, "The Governor's Son." Their associates are Yorke and Adams, the Hebrew impersonators; Sager Midgley and Gertie Carlisle, in "After School"; Ethel Levey, singing comedienne; Zeno, Carl, and Zeno, the daring aerialists, and Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Neuville.

This Sunday's afternoon and night bill of the Hashim management at Koster & Bial's offers final opportunities to witness there for some time Ezra Kendall, Pauline Hall, Jennie Joyce, Gussie McKee, the Potter family, Genaro and Bailly, Almont and Dumont, Ward and Curran, and the Brothers La Nole. Included in the Sunday programme also are Tim Cronin, Herbert's dogs, Juan Caciedo, Lawrence and Harrington, and Sharp and Flatt, who are held over for the new bill to be presented for the first time Monday afternoon, with Gertrude Haynes and her Choir Celestial as the principal feature, and the Donovans, Irish farceurs; Williamson and Stone, blackface comedians; the Matweefs, whirlwind dancers; McBride and Goodrich, eccentric funsters; Bickell and Watson, Dutch comiques, and Stella Lee, comedienne, associate entertainers. Violet Friend, the newly arrived English singer, is attracting large audiences to the New York Theatre. The bill for the coming week is quite up to the standard of entertainment offered at this house, and includes many vaudeville favorites.

The attractions at Huber's Museum will be numerous, as usual, this week, but especial atention has been paid to the bill in the theatre. In this department Mr. Huber offers for the first part a troupe of twenty Southern darkies, who will appear in a black-face minstrel show. For the second part a reproduction in moving pictures of the Corbett-McCoy fight will be the chief item, in which there will also be several vaudeville turns. In the curio halls, Baker's trained pigs will be the principal feature, Giovani's birds, the Arabian Trio, gun drill and dances; Ada Briggs, the mammoth fat woman; Blondell, the human volcano; Capt. Fisher, the tattooed juggler; the Hamilton Sisters, sword experts, and a number of others are to be seen.

The patrons of Hurtig & Seamon's Music Hall will heartily welcome the programme offered for the coming week. A great many head-liners have been engaged to present their well-known specialties. Isabelle Urquhart in "Even Stephen," an act which has won favor wherever it has been presented; James O. Barrows, John Lancaster, and company in the dramatic comedy "Tactics"; Ed Lateli, the popular musical comedian; O'Brien and Havel, in their funny absurdity, "The Newsboy and the Maid"; Louise Gunning, the singer of Scotch songs; the three Deltorellis, novel acrobatic musical burlesquers; Clark and Angeline, two Judges, acrobats, and Cobb and Edwards are on the bill.

NOTES OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

The famous Mlle. Georges, principal actress of the Comédie Française in Napoleon's hour of triumph, who lived to be old and fat and ridiculed, but still to have a wealth of remembrances for consolation, has been made the heroine of a four-act comedy, with songs, which bears her name as its title. Victor de Cottens and Pierre Weber are the authors, and it has been acted at the Paris Variétés. The plot turns upon the admiration of the First Consul for the lovely actress, the jealousy of a rival actress, Mlle. Duchesnois, and the historic conspiracy of Les Tulipes Blanches, in which the royalist Marquis de Rochencourt hoped to kidnap Napoleon in time to prevent the establishment of the empire. A detective of Fouché, disguised as the Prince de Montefiasco, baffles the conspirators. There is a scene in the historic greenroom of the Comédie Française. The music by Varney is said to be taking, and the piece has made such a pronounced hit that its translation for our own stage seems only a matter of time.

The famous actor of elegant men of fashion and heroes of romance, Worms, has finished his term of service at the Comédie Française and is about to retire to private life. He was sixty-three years old last March, but his powers of expression have not deteriorated, and his recent acting in the congenial rôle of Carlo Buinto in "Hernani" has been enthusiastically praised. The critics seem to have been impressed more than ever by the variety, beauty, and just expression of his delivery of the famous long soliloquy at the tomb of Charlemagne. This is one of Worms's official last appearances. According to the revered tradition, he will be seen in each of his most famous characters before he finally steps out of the scene of his triumphs.

"La Bourse ou la Vie," the new comedy by Alfred Capus, at the Paris Gymnase, seems to be bright and "up to date," and fairly decent in its substance, if not in its spirit. The heroine is that rara avis in French comic drama of the present hour—a good woman. But she is also a fool, and she induces her husband to live far beyond his means, and then to try to re-establish his finances through a partnership with an inventurer, which lands him in jail. The prison scene is thought to be highly amusing. The penal institution is new and a model of its kind. The rooms are beautifully furnished, the fare is so good that people outside go there when they want a particularly good dinner, the cigars supplied are of the best quality, the Governor is a charming man who has known all his "guests" at the best clubs, and the only unhappy individual is the head jailer, a university graduate, whose misfortune is that he has remained an honest man.

Martin Harvey has been arguing before the Playgoers' Club in London for such amelioration of the practical censorship exercised by the Examiner of Plays as will permit the treatment of Biblical subjects on the English stage. He argues that there is no objection to the use of such themes in painting and poetry.

Mrs. Kendal continues to say all the old things about the educational value of the theatre and the beauty of goodness in all walks of life. Only the other day, at the opening of an English provincial theatre, she told the apocryphal old tale of the youth who was lured to honesty by seeing "The Ticket of Leave Man," and supplemented it with an anecdote of her own about a bad man and woman who, seeing Mr. and Mrs. Kendal in "The Squire," promptly got married. The moral in this is vague, but presumably it is prodigious.

HARVARD'S FRENCH PLAYS.

This Year's Performances to Consist of Works by Hauteroche and Labiche.

The Cercle Français de l'Université Harvard has accustomed all lovers of French literature, to expect every year a French play put on the stage by the students of Harvard University and members of the Harvard Cercle Français. Last year a comedy by Cyrano de Bergerac was played. This year, a one-act comedy by Hauteroche, a contemporary of Molière, "Crispin Médecin," and a small play by Labiche, the modern author, "Un Jeune Homme Pressé," were selected. The casts are as follows:

"Crispin Médecin," comedy in one act by Hauteroche, arranged by J. Truffier of the Comédie Française:

Mirobolan	A. Champollion, 1902
Géraide	L. Wilmerding, 1901
Crispin	P. B. Haviland, 1901
Lisidor	H. Schenk, 1903
Un Chirurgien	L. de Koven, 1904
Simon	L. de Koven, 1904
Féliante	R. B. Bowler, 1902
Aléine	F. Watson, 1902
Dorine	F. B. Thompson, 1903
Lise	R. K. Thorndike, 1902

"Un Jeune Homme Pressé," comedy by Eugene Labiche:

Dardard	W. D. Haviland, 1903
Ponbrichet	P. D. Haviland, 1901
Colardeau	A. S. Dixey, 1902

The ballets, which in former years were a feature of the Harvard Cercle Français plays, have been omitted this year, as the two plays are too long.

Tickets for the performances, which will take place at Brattle Hall, Cambridge, on Dec. 17, and at Union Hall, Boston, Dec. 20 and 21, are to be had on application to the President of the Cercle Français, Robert Goelet, Jr., Claverly Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

New Keeper for Oak Island Station.

BABYLON, L. I., Dec. 15.—Israel Van Nostrand has been appointed keeper of the Oak Island Life Saving Station in place of Capt. Charles E. Arnold, who resigned recently on account of poor health after twenty years' service. Van Nostrand has been Man No. 1 at the Hemlock Life Saving Station for many years.

Locomotive Blows Up, Killing Two.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 15.—The boiler of a Lehigh Valley engine which was hauling a string of freight cars at Cheektowaga exploded last night, flying clear of the tracks and turning end over end. Engineer William Smith and Fireman James Kelly were instantly killed. Both lived in Buffalo.

Indians Killed by Gasoline.

CANNON BALL, N. D., Dec. 15.—An Indian family, consisting of War Bonnet, his wife, and four children, was burned to death last night from an explosion of gasoline. Another family of father, mother, and one child was frightfully burned, and probably will die.

AMONG MUSICIANS

Features of the Week Just Ended—Opening of the Fashionable Opera Season.

A lovely week in the world of music was that which has just come to an end. Those of us who cherish the high art of tones will think of it in the coming week, for on Tuesday night the fashionable opera season comes to crush the life out of honest music. Art must then be hurled into the outer darkness, where there are not diamonds and laces and low corsages. Money is the deity that shapes the destiny of all that is true and beautiful in this dear land of ours, and money "talks out loud" at the opera. It is not the opera that counts for anything. It is the social aspect of the thing. The world goes to the opera because society goes, and society goes because there it can be seen and envied of all the world. But for poor music, the Cinderella of the arts, no one cares a rap. On Tuesday night the same old people will sing the same old tunes in the same old way, and will be applauded by pretty much the same people (not old) from nearly the same seats and boxes. It will not require much of an effort of the imagination to think that the thing has never stopped, that there was no Summer vacation, no exodus to Paris, no return from Newport and the green hills of Berkshire. Mr. Daniel Daly, the eminent basso parlando, might sit in an orchestra stall in his customary meditative attitude and sing "Nothing New" with perfect suitability.

"Romeo et Juliette," "Tannhäuser," "Lohengrin," "Aida," Melba, Saleza, Nordica, Van Dyck, Dippel, Plançon, Edouard de Reszke—and Bauermeister; that is the outlook for the first week of opera. And when these high priests and priestesses of the yellow temple in upper Broadway begin their sonorous ministrations, all music other than theirs must retire into comparative insignificance, for between singer-worship and the desire to bask in the glow of the diamonds of the ladies whose names always lead the list of those present, music for music's sake will have little space in this town.

And that is what this complainant means when he deposeth that last week was a lovely one in the world of music. For it was made bright by the song recital of Mme. Sembrich and the concerts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and Mr. Franko. Several persons have expressed surprise that the writers on music were so generally agreed in their glowing praises of the song recitals of Mme. Sembrich. "Does she sing any better in a recital than in the opera?" asked one. Well, the question was not quite relevant, for Mme. Sembrich was praised as enthusiastically for her operatic work at times as for her song recitals. But when the opera was the subject of comment there were others to be mentioned, and Mme. Sembrich could not have exclusive consideration. Furthermore, when a woman is such a consummate artist as this one she can never be heard to such advantage in the frippery surroundings of the slipshod performances of opera at the Metropolitan as she can on the concert platform, where her pure and lofty art can shine out in the sweet refulgence of its own brilliancy unclouded by any vaporous atmosphere. There is no need to add anything now to the comments made on these recitals. They were memorable.

It was a pleasure to note the presence at them of many singers, and of some of the singing teachers. It is always a pleasure to note any evidence of willingness on the part of a singer or a musician to learn anything from another. The question is often asked of this writer, "Would you not think that So-and-So would learn something from hearing Jean de Reszke or Such-and-Such from hearing Sembrich?" To which the reviewer has only one answer: "No; I have been in this business a good many years, and have met only two musical performers in all that time who were willing to admit that some one else in their own line was great, let alone better than they, and therefore able to teach them anything. Those two performers had retired."

Sopranos praise all the great contraltos, but they do not see any other great sopranos. Each one thinks there is only one. The same thing is to be said of tenors. They praise the baritones and the basses. And the violinists praise the pianists and vice versa. But when Mr. G. W. Smith of the English opera company goes to hear Jean de Reszke sing Romeo, he spends the entire evening in pointing out to his friend just where Jean does it wrong, and explaining how G. W. Smith does it differently and much better. And when Miss Jane Deppe of Bronx goes to hear Dohnanyi play Beethoven and Brahms she does just the same thing as Mr. G. W. Smith does when he goes to hear Jean. So when this writer saw certain singers and singing teachers at the last Sembrich recital, he knew that they went to learn something, for they all did learn something, no matter what they may have said to their friends.

***

Another feature of the music of the past week was the admirable concert of old music given by Mr. Sam Franko at the Lyceum Theatre on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Franko deserves well of his countrymen for planning these delightful entertainments. In these days of musical turmoil, when composers are seeking to make effect by the employment of instrumental masses and by painting vast tonal color pictures, it is altogether healthful for us to hear this old-fashioned music in which the musical ideas were conceived in sunshine and set forth in the limpid transparency of an instrumentation as simple as it is satisfying. For enjoyment to-day it is only necessary that these works shall be heard as they were designed to be heard—namely, performed by a small, well-balanced, and accomplished orchestra in a small audience chamber.

Mr. Franko's plan embraced these essential features, and he has thus far carried it out admirably. His orchestra, composed of material heard in the old American Symphony Orchestra, and still employing that name, has done excellent work, playing with just the right spirit, with charming delicacy of tone and nuance, and with a general appreciation which bespeaks fine musicianship. Mr. Franko is growing in public esteem.

***

One of the curiosities of a season of music is the behavior of many persons who may be supposed to be music lovers or at least to wish it to be thought that they are. The peculiarity of their conduct consists in their unwillingness to recognize the fact that any noise or movement in a concert hall is a disturbance to others who are listening to the music. It is a familiar fact that people in masses will not care for their own interests and that guardians have to be appointed to see that these are protected. If there is a fire, for example, and walls are falling, with a great strewing of bricks and stones and pieces of broken glass, the crowd will not of its own accord stay away from the immediate neighborhood of the danger, but must be kept away by the police.

Similarly it is true that in a concert room not one person in a hundred, who may arrive in the course of the performance of an instrumental number or the singing of a song, will wait till it is over before proceeding to his seat. He will stalk down the aisle, glare indignantly at the occupants of the aisle seats, if his chances to be beyond them, force them to rise to let him pass, go to his seat, turn it down with a clatter, and seat himself with the air of one who has only done himself a simple justice. An excellent opportunity for a display of public consideration in this matter was afforded the other day at Mr. Franko's matinée concert in the Lyceum Theatre. The auditorium is not built in such a way that late comers can be kept outside of it till the conclusion of a number, and the ushers of the house endeavored to move as noiselessly as possible in showing people to their seats. All the noise that was made was by auditors, not by the ushers. But how gracefully it would have been in those late comers to wait till the end of a movement before going to their seats!

At Carnegie Hall the ushers stand at the heads of the aisles during the progress of music and decline to allow people to pass. They are frequently treated to some harsh English because of their refusal to allow the audience to be disturbed. But some of the old frequenters of the house have found a way to beat the ushers. The law prevents the locking of the two large doors leading from the corridors into the sides of the auditorium, and some attendants at concerts calmly walk around to these doors, enter, and proceed to their seats, while the ushers helplessly watch them from the heads of the aisles.

It must be added that the Carnegie ushers are not themselves guiltless in the matter of disturbing listeners to music. Both Mr. Paur and Mr. Gericke, when conducting orchestral works in that hall, are in the habit of rapping for attention before they begin a movement. Then they wait for silence. Now, the ushers, instead of ceasing to show people to their seats when the signal is given, invariably wait till after the music begins, so that the opening measures of many compositions are interrupted by the eager rush of belated ushers down an aisle. And the Carnegie ushers are not at all light of foot.

Again, in the use of programmes, many persons are very inconsiderate. Most of the programmes are printed on paper that rattles, and many persons persist in selecting as a suitable time for turning these crackling sheets of paper a piano passage in some work of delicate fancy. And then there is the good lady who prefers fanning herself violently to taking off her superfluous wraps. She is usually without a fan, and she uses her programme, so that one often hears just behind his head the swish and rattle of a paper windmill, always just a little out of rhythm with the music. These are all small matters, but most of the annoyances of life are small matters. Yet they are annoyances, and one should not willingly inflict them on others, even though the act of doing so increases his own comfort.

THE KNEISEL QUARTET.

Second Matinee Concert at Mendelssohn Hall on Tuesday.

The Kneisel Quartet will give its second afternoon concert in Mendelssohn Hall on Tuesday next at 2:15 o'clock. The programme will be as follows:

Quartet, G major, Op. 77 No. 1.....Haydn
Sonata for Violin and Pianoforte, Op. 47 ("Kreutzer,").....Beethoven
Quintet for Strings and Pianoforte, Op. 44.....Schumann

The pianist will be Mr. Harold Bauer, who will make his first appearance in New York at this concert. He comes to this city from Paris, where has won a large measure of success. English by birth, he is twenty-seven years old, and has studied with Paderewski, giving up the violin, on which he was also a player, at the latter's advice, to devote himself wholly to the piano.

The "Kreutzer Sonata" of Beethoven, which Mr. Kneisel and Mr. Bauer will play, is one of the most noted of the master's works in the sonata form. It was composed in 1803, the year in which he wrote the "Waldstein" sonata for piano solo and began the "Eroica" Symphony; except that the last movement had been written the year before and intended for the violin sonata in A, Op. 30 No. 1, but discarded from that as "too brilliant." The sonata now called by the name of the eminent violinist, Rudolph Kreutzer, because of its dedication to him, was written for a young violinist, George August Polgreen Bridgetower, whom Thayer calls "a handsome mulatto," son of a negro father and a German or Polish mother, who had made a reputation in England as an infant prodigy, had later been taken into the service of the Prince of Wales—the "First Gehtleman of Europe"—and who at the age of twenty-four was visiting Germany. He gave a concert in Vienna on May 24, 1803, for which he had commissioned Beethoven to write a violin sonata. The composer, with an aversion that has always manifested to writing to order, had delayed finishing the work, greatly to Bridgetower's anxiety, which turned out to be well founded, for he had to play the theme and variations forming the second movement from Beethoven's own almost illegible manuscript because there was no time to copy it. The first draft of the sonata was dedicated to Bridgetower, but soon after it was written Beethoven had a falling out with him, and at its publication it apeared with a dedication to Kreutzer. On the title page Beethoven described it as written in a "very concertante style, like a concerto."

Schumann's Pianoforte Quintet, Op. 44, belongs to that notable "chamber music year" of his life, 1842, when he put aside song writing, with which he had busied himself entirely the year before, and devoted himself to the production of the three String Quartets, the Quartet for Piano and Strings, and the attempt at a piano trio, published as the "Fantasiestuecke," Op. 88. It is one of the best known of all his compositions, to which chamber music players and their audiences recur with ever renewed joy, and bids fair to be one of the most enduring of them because of the spontaneity and beauty of its invention, its sheer splendor of tone, and its perfection of form, embodying altogether some of the highest flights of Schumann's imagination. He speakes in his letters of one of its most characteristic qualities when he said in 1843 "there is a right stirring life in it," and of its performance at a private matinee, "it produced a stirring effect."

Special Notice.

A. Jaeckel & Co.
AWARDED TWO Grands Prix
1900
Paris Exposition

A. Jaeckel & Co.,
FURRIERS.
Exclusive Styles
High Class Novelties
FURS and GARMENTS
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.
Evening,
Opera and Automobile Coats, etc.
HOLIDAY GOODS.
37 Union Square,
Between 16th and 17th Sts.

THE BOSTON ORCHESTRA.

The Second Afternoon Concert Given at Carnegie Hall.

The second afternoon concert of the Boston Symphony Orchestra took place yesterday at Carnegie Hall. The programme consisted of Goldmark's second symphony, the Brahms concerto for violin and orchestra, Sergei Taneyeff's overture to the "Oresteia" of Aeschylus, and Liszt's second Hungarian rhapsody, orchestrated by Müller-Berghaus. The solo performer was Franz Kneisel, the concert master of the orchestra. The Goldmark symphony is an unfamiliar work, though it dates from 1887. It was first performed in this country by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, under Mr. Gericke, in Music Hall, on April 7, 1888, and was made known to New Yorkers by the Philharmonic Society, under Theodore Thomas, at the Metropolitan Opera House, on Nov. 16 of the same year.

On that occasion we remarked that "not even the remarkable fact that the second movement is written in the awe-inspiring key of A flat minor will save the symphony from oblivion." But we had not counted on Mr. Gericke's early affection lasting all these years and bringing it back to us now. It was worth hearing again, if only for renewing the old impression that the composition shows a native commingling of Hungarian peasant melodies with the splendid coloring and Hebraism of the composer's operatic music. There is a touch of the Czardas in the second movement, and a frank employment of popular melody and popular instrumentation in the trumpet solo of the trio of the scherzo. This solo, by the way, was beautifully played yesterday. The scherzo is decidedly the best movement of the work. The first movement is well made, but too long in the working out; the second is tiresome, and the third is deficient in ideas. But the coloring is fine, and it is a pleasure to hear such good scoring.

The Taneyeff composition was heard for the first time here. The work is the prelude to a trilogy, the libretto, of course, being taken from the trilogy of Aeschylus. The composer's scheme is easily discerned. The first part of his overture depicts the remorse of the avenger Orestes, who has slain his mother for the murder of his father, and his torture by the Eumenides. Then comes the stroke of vengeance upon him. All this is painted by stormy music of the darkest and most foreboding kind, closing with one of those explosive climaxes used so often when a blow has to fall. Then comes a musical delineation of the new era of peace and justice under the tribunal of the Ephors, established by Apollo and Athene. This gives the composer opportunity to let loose the riches of his upper strings and his harp glissandos. The work is well made, richly and eloquently instrumented, large in its mood pictures, and lacks only the incisiveness of two or three commanding thematic ideas to make it great. But, alas! the deficiency is vital. The composition was splendidly read and played.

It is not necessary now to enter upon extended comment on Mr. Kneisel's interpretation of the Brahms concerto. Few in the audience knew that the artist was suffering intensely yesterday from a headache and fever, for he played with his customary surety of intonation, beauty of tone, and sympathy with this music. He was loudly and frequently recalled for the performance.

THE MUSICAL ART SOCIETY.

The Musical Art Society announces that its first concert will be given on Thursday evening next. The programme offers the most beautiful example of a capella music, namely the Missa "Papae Marcelli," by Palestrina, which revolutionized the music of the Church, and of which, when sent in 1563 to Pope Pius IV., the enraptured Pontiff declared "that the apostle of the Apocalypse must have heard such music sung by the triumphant host of angels in the New Jerusalem." Fritz Kreisler and David Mannes will play the Bach concerto in D minor for two violins. Mr. Kreisler will also play the adagio from the Bach concerto in E major. The full programme is as follows:

In exitu Israel.....Samuel Wesley
Salve Regina.....F. X. Arens
Two Bohemian Christmas Carols.
Adagio from concerto for violin, E major.....J. S. Bach
Fritz Kreisler.
Missa Papae Marcelli.....Palestrina
Concerto in D minor for two violins..J. S. Bach
Fritz Kreisler, David Mannes, with accompaniment of string orchestra.
Letztes Glueck..} .....Brahms
Im Herbst.....}
Spring song.....Kopylow
Sunrise.....Taneyef

THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The third concert of the Philharmonic Society will take place at Carnegie Hall on Saturday night, preceded by the usual public rehearsal on Friday afternoon. The programme:

Overture, "Oberon".....Weber
Symphony, No. 6, "Pastoral," op. 68.....Beethoven
Concerto for piano, B major.....Henry Holden Huss
Mr. Henry Holden Huss.
Fantasia, "Francesca da Rimini".....Tschaikowsky

The concerto for piano by the well-known American composer, Mr. Henry Holden Huss, will be a novelty in New York, though it has been previously performed by the composer with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Boston and under Mr. Van Der Stucken in Cincinnati. Tschaikowsky's "Francesca da Rimini" had its first hearing in this country at a concert of the Philharmonic Society just twenty-two years ago. As it has not been repeated in New York since that time, the work will be quite a novelty to the majority of the audience.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.

The regular Winter season of opera in French, German, and Italian will begin at the Metropolitan Opera House on Tuesday night. Operas, as usual, will be given, as far as possible, with the original text. The announcements for the first week are: Tuesday, "Romeo et Juliet," Mmes. Melba, Bridewell, Messrs. Saleza, Edouard de Reszke, Plançon, and Sizes; Wednesday evening, "Tannhäuser," Mmes. Termina, Strong and Olitzka; Messrs. Van Dyck, Plançon, and Bertram; Friday, "Lohengrin," Mmes. Nordica and Schumann-Heink, Messrs. Dippel, Bertram, Muhlman, and de Reszke; Saturday afternoon, "Romeo et Juliet"; Saturday night, "Aida," Mmes. Strong and Homer, Messrs. De la Tour, Scotti, Journet, and Muhlman.

HANSLICK ON LOUIS SAAR.

A friend of Louis V. Saar of this city recently sent some of his compositions to Eduard Hanslick, the famous Viennese critic of music. Thereupon Prof. Hanslick wrote the following complimentary letter:

Sincere thanks for the transmission of the compositions of Louis V. Saar. He is a decidedly talented and well trained, serious composer. His compositions for the piano, Op. 23, disclose his preference for Schumann and Brahms, which is, to my mind, a matter for praise rather than censure. Best of all, I like the Intermezzo in G flat. Saar demonstrates his excellent schooling, especially in the Variations, Op. 29, of which, however, there are too many not to have a monotonous effect. The songs are very melodious and of a very natural expression, which is getting to be rarer every day. "Sternlein," ("Little Stars,") "Thränen und Seufzer," ("Tears and Sighs,") have especially pleased me, as indeed all of his naive songs, which are of a cheerful character.

Thanking you again, yours,
EDUARD HANSLICK.

Vienna,

ANNOUNCEMENTS OF DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS.

PROCTOR'S

Five Beautiful Play Houses
Devoted to High Class Continuous Vaudeville—A Policy Established in 1883.
By F. F. PROCTOR, Sole Proprietor & Manager. J. Austin Fynes, General Manager.

THE TOWN AMAZED, DELIGHTED, ENRAPTURED by the Wonderfully Artistic

JEAN MARCEL'S LIVING PICTURES. ART REPRODUCTIONS.

2ND TRIUMPHANT WEEK AT PROCTOR'S 5TH AVE. THEATRE. TWICE DAILY, AT 3:45 AND 9 O'CLOCK P.M.

THE PRESS TRUMPETS THEIR PRAISES;

THE HERALD SAYS...."MR. PROCTOR MUST BE CONGRATULATED FOR PRESENTING MARCEL'S LIVING PICTURES. EACH ONE WAS A WORK OF ART."
ALAN DALE SAYS...."THE BAS-RELIEFS ARE THE BEST THINGS OFFERED. NOTHING FINER OF THE KIND HAS BEEN SEEN IN THIS CITY. THESE JEAN MARCEL LIVING PICTURES ARE DISTINCTLY WORTH ATTENTION."
THE SUN SAYS...."MARCEL'S PICTURES ARE A DISTINCT IMPROVEMENT UPON EXHIBITIONS OF SEVERAL YEARS AGO. THE HARMONY OF COLOR WAS AWAY BEYOND WHAT HAD BEEN EFFECTED HERETOFORE. THE GROUPS OF STATUARY WERE EVEN MORE REMARKABLE."
THE WORLD SAYS...."A SPLENDID NOVELTY FROM EUROPE. NOT THE SLIGHTEST MOVEMENT OF THE MODELS IN ANY OF THE POSES."
THE PRESS SAYS...."MARCEL'S PICTURES ARE THE FINEST EXAMPLES OF ARTISTIC POSING EVER SEEN IN THE CITY."

EXTRA STAR ATTRACTION AT PROCTOR'S 5TH AVE., EZRA KENDALL THIS WEEK.
NEW YORK'S MOST POPULAR AND MOST ORIGINAL MONOLOGUE COMEDIAN.

23D ST.
12:30 to 10:45 P. M.
TO-MORROW & ALL WEEK
CLIFFORD & HUTH
Favorite Comedy Artists.
LEW SULLY, the minstrel jester; CONWAY & LELAND, the one-legged acrobats; the KALATECHNOSCOPE.
LE ROY & CLAYTON
In "Hogan of the Hansom."
FISHER & CARROLL, Irish comedians; MAXWELL & DUDLEY, MARIE ROSE.
RUSSELL BROS.
"The Irish Servant Girls."
DONOHUE & NICHOLS, song and dance artists; McLOUD & MELVILLE, MAY EVANS, PICTORIAL TOURS, OTHERS.
PRICES ALWAYS 50c, 25c & 15c.
Continuous Concert To-day.
1 to 10:45 P. M.
DELLA FOX, J. W. Albaugh, Jr., & Co., Geo. Evans, Review Comedy Four, Louise Gunning, Les Dumonts, etc.

5TH AV.
Broadway & 28th St.
12:30 sharp to 10:45 P. M.
TO-MORROW & ALL WEEK
2d Triumphant Week.
JEAN MARCEL'S LIVING PICTURES
Bas-Reliefs That Are Amazing Examples of Perfection in Posing. Artistic, Beautiful, Refined!
THE PRESS TRUMPETS THEIR PRAISES.
EZRA KENDALL
Funniest of All Monologists.
GENARO & BAILEY, HORACE GOLDIN, YOUNG AMERICA QUINTET.
STALEY & BIRBECK
Wonderful Transformation Act.
CHAS. GRAPEWIN & ANNA CHANCE, THREE DUMONDS, JUGGLING JOHNSONS, COAKLEY & HUESTED, ARTHUR AMSDEN, CHAS. ULRICK, KALATECHNOSCOPE, and LOTTIE GILSON,
The Little Magnet.
BROADWAY'S LOWEST PRICES, 25 & 50c. Box Seats $1.00.
Continuous Concert To-day.
2 to 10:45 P. M.
Marcel's Living Pictures, Milton & Dolly Nobles, Russell Bros., Alice Pierce, Lew Sully, etc.

PALACE.
58th St. & 3d Av.
2 to 10:45 P. M.
TO-MORROW & ALL WEEK
DELLA FOX
In Operatic Selections.
OLYMPIA QUARTET, singing comedians; RAMZA & ARNO, the KALATECHNOSCOPE.
JOHN KERNELL
The Irish Genius.
FALKE & SEMON, musical comedians; REED'S BULL TERRIERS, WILLARD REED.
CLARICE VANCE
The Best Singer of Coon Songs.
CASWELL & ARNOLD, the clown and acrobatic girl; COLLINS & NORTH, FOREIGN TRAVELS, Others.
BARGAIN PRICES: Afternoons, 15c & 25c to all parts of house. Evenings, 15, 25 & 50c.
Continuous Concert To-day.
2 to 10:45 P. M.
McIntyre & Heath, Mark Sullivan, Ed Latell, Elizabeth Murray, Conway & Leland, etc.

125TH ST.
125th St.
2 to 10:45 P. M.
TO-MORROW & ALL WEEK
FOUR COHANS
Vaudeville's Greatest Favorites, in "The Governor's Son."
SAGER MIDGLEY & GERTIE CARLISLE in "After School";
MR. & MRS. AUGUSTIN NEUVILLE, CHAS. B. WARD.
YORKE & ADAMS
"Just Two Plain Jews."
ZENO, CARL & ZENO, daring aerialists; THE BRUNELLES, KALATECHNOSCOPE.
ETHEL LEVEY
In New Vocal Selections.
THE HELSTONS, C. E. BLODGETT, PICTORIAL TRAVELS, &c.
HARLEM'S LOWEST PRICES: Afternoons, 15 & 25c to all parts of house. Evenings, 15, 25 & 50c.
Continuous Concert To-day.
2 to 10:45 P. M.
Long & Cotton, Fisher & Carroll, Horace Goldin, Three Lukens Bros., Musical Kleists, etc.

KEITH'S

CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE. E. F. ALBEE - - - General Manager.
ALWAYS THE BEST VAUDEVILLE SHOW IN NEW YORK.
JOSEPH HART & CARRIE DE MAR: "A Close Call."
McINTYRE & HEATH: "The Men from Montana."
FELIX & BARRY: "The Vaudeville Craze."
FOY & CLARK: "The Spring of Youth."
BUOMAN & ADELE: "The Door Key."
WILL H. FOX as "Paddewhiskie."
LEO DERVALTO, Spiral Ascensionist.
FOUR RENTONS, Rural Comedy.
SATSUMA, Japanese Juggler.
BIOGRAPH: Aguinaldo's Navy.
SPECIAL ATTRACTION: RE-ENGAGEMENT FOR ONE WEEK ONLY OF CLAYTON WHITE, MARIE STUART & Company, in "DICKIE."
CHRISTMAS WEEK. FIRST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA IN TEN YEARS OF R. G. KNOWLES.

KOSTER & BIAL'S

New Policy.
25c. Mat. Daily.
Evening 25, 50, 75c.
Box Seats, $1.
25c. Sunday Mat. To-day—To-Nght ORC. 50c.
Ezra Kendall, 5 Patter Family, Pauline Hall, Genaro & Bailey, Jennie Joyce, Bessie Taylor-Hickey, Gussie McKee, Juan Caicedo, Alimont & Dumont, Herbert's Dogs, Ward & Curran, Tim Cronin, Sharp & Flatt, Bros. La Nole, Lawrence & Harrington, others.
25c. Daily Matinée Monday and All Week. Gertrude Haynes & Choir Celestial, Dolan & Lenharr, Maxwell & Simpson, Herbert's Dogs, Juan Caicedo, The Donovans, Williamson & Stone, McBride & Goodrich, Tim Cronin, Lawrence & Harrington, Sharp & Flatt, Bickell & Watson, Stella Lee, Clara Holliday, and others.
EXTRA! LOIE FULLER MONDAY, DEC. 31.
COMING! SEAT SALE OPENS DEC. 26, 9 A. M. EXTRA!

HAMMERSTEIN'S VICTORIA Evgs., 8:30. Sat. Mat., 2:15. 42d St., B'way and 7th Av. General Admission, 50c.
LAST WEEK
John J. McNally's Latest Vaudeville Farce,
STAR AND GARTER Introducing the Marvelous
AGOUST FAMILY
—AND—
FRANK McKEE'S COMEDY CO.
Organization of 60 People.
BURLESQUE OF DAVID HARUM.
Beginning Christmas Night. MARIE DRESSLER and company in the Musical Comedy, "MISS PRINNT."
METROPOLIS THEATRE, 142d St. & 3d Av. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. "THE LADDER OF LIFE."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC 14th St. & Irving Pl.
LAST 2 WEEKS
JAMES O'NEILL MATINEE XMAS DAY.
Liebler & Co.'s Massive Revival, MONTE CRISTO
Prices—25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat., 2. Eve., 8:15.
MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Monday Afternoon, Dec. 17th, at 3.
GERARDY
THE WORLD'S GREATEST 'CELLIST.
Seats on sale at Schuberth's.
CHARLES L. YOUNG.....MANAGER
GRAND Opera House. THE HIGHWAYMAN.
To-night, 10-25-50c
Pat Rooney, Hooker & Davis, Jennings & Alto, Howe & Scott, The 3 Lelliotts, The 3 Westons, others.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Sire Bros., Mgrs.
Dunne, Riley & Fisher's
PRETTY & LIVELY PRESENTATION, BACKED NIGHTLY WITH THE ELITE.
THE ONLY MUSICAL SUCCESS IN TOWN. DIRECT FROM LONDON.
FLORODORA
BEAUTIFUL GIRLS, COSTUMES, SCENERY, MUSIC.
Unparalleled Star Cast.
WILLIE EDOUIN,
EDNA WALLACE HOPPER,
CYRIL SCOTT.
FANNIE JOHNSTON,
R. E. GRAHAM, MAY EDOUIN,
Seats now on sale for Xmas and New Year's.

THEATRE REPUBLIC 47th St. just west of B'way. Evgs. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. Tel. 3940-38.
Last 2 Weeks. A Comedy in 3 Acts by Molly Elliot Seawell & Wm. Young
Christmas Matinee. THE SPRIGHTLY ROMANCE OF MARSAC
Introducing Maclyn Arbuckle
MONDAY EVG., DEC. 31ST.
VIOLA ALLEN
In Lorimer Stoddard's Dramatization of F. Marion Crawford's Story.
IN THE PALACE OF THE KING
Sale of seats begins Mon., Dec. 24th. Mail orders addressed to treasurer filled in order of rec'pt

BIJOU B'way & 30th St. Mat. Sat. XMAS Telephone 2224 Mad. Evg. 8:20. MAT.
Second Week—BIG HIT.
MADGE SMITH ATTY.
MAY IRWIN Funmaker extraordinary and joke cracker plenipotentiary to the American people. Nothing funnier seen on the stage than the breakfast scene in act 2 and the court scene in act 3.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinées 2:15. Last 2 weeks. Matinées Wed. and Saturday.
JOHN DREW in RICHARD CARVEL.

KNICKERBOCKER. B'way, cor. 38th St.
MAUDE ADAMS LAST TWO WEEKS. Evs. 8. Mat. Sat., 2. L'AIGLON
EXTRA MATINEE XMAS.
MONDAY, DEC. 31—ADA REHAN IN "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."

Charles Frohman's JOHN HARE. CRITERION THEATRE Broadway and 44th St. EVES. 8. MAT. SATURDAY. THE GAY LORD QUEX.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. 24th St., nr. B'way. Last week. Mats. Wed. and Saturday.
PETER F. DAILEY 100th Time Friday—Souvenirs. HOOLIGAN'S TROUBLES
Dec. 24, THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

GARRICK THEATRE, 35th St. & B'way. Evenings at 8:15. Mats., 2:15. 100th Time, Monday, Souv. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

GARDEN THEATRE, 27th St. and Madison Av.
CHARLES FROHMAN.....Manager
LAST TWO WEEKS.
EVENINGS AT 8. MATINEES AT 2.
Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.
MME. SARAH BERNHARDT and M. COQUELIN
Under the direction of Mr. MAURICE GRAU.
MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY EVENINGS, WEDNESDAY MATINEE. LA TOSCA.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY EVENINGS, SATURDAY MATINEE. CAMILLE.
NEXT WEEK—FAREWELL WEEK
HAMLET.
Mme. SARAH BERNHARDT & M. COQUELIN APPEAR AT EVERY PERFORMANCE.
Seats for the entire season now on sale at the box office, and at regular box office rates at Ruliman's, 111 Broadway, and at Tyson's hotel offices.
DEC. 31, E. S. WILLARD, in David Garrick.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St. Dahlel Frohman, Manager. Begins 8:30.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY.
4th Week LAST 4 NIGHTS LAST 4 NIGHTS LAST 4 NIGHTS 4th Week
of the 4-act Modern Society Comedy,
THE MAN OF FORTY
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING,
for the holiday season, the new comedy—which ran over six months in London, last season—entitled
Lady Huntworth's Experiment
By R. C. Carton, author of "Lord & Lady Algy" and "Wheels Within Wheels."
THE CAST WILL INCLUDE:
Hilda Spong, Cecilia Loftus, Mrs. Charles Walcot, May Robson, John Mason, William Courtenay, Jameson Lee Finney, Grant Stewart, and Wm. F. Owen.
MATS. WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY. EXTRA MAT. NEW YEAR'S DAY.

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23.....At 8:30 Daniel Frohman....Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15.
EXTRA MATINEES XMAS AND NEW YEARS.
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.

TO-Night 12 BIG ACTS 12 MATS. WED. & SAT.
HURTIG & SEAMON'S MUSIC HALL 125 ST. & 7 AVE
NEXT WEEK ISABELLE URQUHART & CO.
James O. Barrowa & Co., Ed Latell, Louise Gunning, O'Brien & Havel, etc.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evenings, 8:15. Sat. Mat. Only.
THE LAST TWO WEEKS Lulu Glaser
SWEET ANNE PAGE.
SEATS NOW XMAS MAT. AND NIGHT.

Weber & Fields' MUSIC HALL Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesque of ARIZONA
Next Thursday, Burlesques of THE GAY LORD QUEX and A ROYAL FAMILY.

AMERICAN 42D ST. AND 8TH AVE. MATINEE DAILY Eve. 8:15, 25, 35, 50c.
(Except Mon.) 25c. The Silver King
TO-NIGHT—BIG SUNDAY CONCERT. Great Bill

SAVOY B'way & 34th St. Ev'gs, 8:20. Reg. Matinées Wed. & Sat., 2:15.
SPECIAL MATS. XMAS AND NEW YEAR
HENRIETTA CROSMAN
in the Merry Play, MISTRESS NELL.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Evening at 8:15. Every Evening and Saturday Matinee.
THE GREAT LAUGHING SUCCESS, "DAS GROBE HEMD." Comedy by C. Carlwels.

BROADWAY THEATRE, B'way & 41st St. Matinée Saturday at 2:10.
JACOB LITT .....Proprietor
LAST WEEK.
The Klaw & Erlanger Opera Co. Introducing JEROME SYKES In De Koven & Smith's New Opera
FOXY QUILLER
MAMMOTH ORGANIZATION OF 150 PEOPLE.
UNDER STAGE DIRECTION BEN TEAL.
SIG. A. DE NOVELLIS, MUSIC DIRECTOR.
REGULAR MATINEE SATURDAY.

MONDAY, DEC. 24. SPECIAL MATINEE CHRISTMAS.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS and Company in the New Operatic Comedy,
A ROYAL ROGUE.
Book by Chas. Klein. Music by W. T. Francis.
Sale of seats begins Thurs., Dec. 20, 9 A. M.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, Lex. Av. & 42d St. Evgs. at 8:15. Mats. 2.
One Block East of Grand Central Depot.
3rd YEAR YEAR YEAR YEAR YEAR MATINEE 25c EVERY DAY HENRY V. DONNELLY STOCK CO.

THIS WEEK. NEVER AGAIN. THIS WEEK.
The Greatest of Comedies.
HENRY V. DONNELLY AS "RIBOT."
XMAS WEEK. EVENING PRICES, 25, 35, 50. LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY.

WALLACK'S
B'way & 30th St. Evenings at 8:30.
Mats. Wed., Sat. & Xmas Day at 2:15
FRANK McKEE PRESENTS
MARY MANNERING
IN
"JANICE MEREDITH,"
Dramatized by Paul Leicester Ford and Edward E. Rose.

THE DEWEY EAST 14TH ST. 3rd & 4th Av. GRAND "Pop." TO-NIGHT PRICES 25 & 50c.
JOE WELCH, GERTRUDE HAYNES & Choir Celestial, BLANCHE RING, JAS. RICHMOND GLENROY STANLEY & WILSON, IRVING JONES, RAE & BROSCHE, WILSON & LEICESTER, MADDEN & KILLENBECK Robt. Recker's Harmonists.
Mat. & ALL WEEK. CITY CLUB BURLESQUERS!
COM. TOMMY MON.,
FIRST PRODUCTION KILYANIS LIVING PICTURES
Outdone by Signor A. Opertl.
NEW BURLESQUE—GREAT VAUDEVILLE.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE.
Management.....Sam S. Shubert
Evenings, 8:15. Mats. Wed and Sat.
LAST WEEK BUT 2
ARIZONA
Secure XMAS Seats. Reserve NEW YEAR Seats.
By Augustus Thomas.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE Evgs. at 8. Mats. at 2.
One Week, Commencing To-morrow Evg.
ONLY MATINEE SATURDAY.
Last appearances in New York City of OLGA NETHERSOLE
in Daudet's Classic, Dramatized by Clyde Fitch, SAPHO
DEC. 24th—MRS. LESLIE CARTER AS ZAZA.

14TH STREET THEATRE Near 6th Ave. Mats. Wed. & Sat. Matinée Dress Circle & Entire Orchestra Circle, 50c.
LAST WEEK. LOST RIVER.
TO-MORROW NIGHT—SOUVENIRS.
Saturday Night—Last Performance.
Next Week—THE VILLAGE POSTMASTER.
MONDAY, DEC. 24, opening night of 1,000th Time.
HANDSOME SILVER SOUVENIRS.
SEATS READY. Extra Mats. Xmas & New Year's.

MADISON SQ. GARDEN
HUNGARIAN PEASANT BALL FRIDAY, JAN. 4TH
Village Life, Csikos and Hussars on Horseback, Four-in-Hand Driving, Mock Marriages, Divorces and Jail in full operation. Tickets at Tyson's, Ruliman's, leading hotels and office of Hungarian Peasant Ball Association, 320 Broadway. Telephone 916 Franklin.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Wednesday Afternoon, December 19th, at 3 o'Clock,
Violin Recital
Fritz Kreisler
PROGRAMME
Suite.....Bach
Praeludium—Adagio—Allemande—Corrente.
Concerto No. 2, F sharp minor.....Vieuxtemps
(a) Largetto.....Mozart
(b) Allegretto.....Nardini
(c) Sarabande.....Corelli
(d) Serenade Espagnole.....Chaminade-Kreisler
Non plu Mesta.....Paganini-Kreisler
Rec. seats, $1 & $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. Management Henry Wolfsohn.

CARNEGIE HALL
MADAME SEMBRICH
under the auspices of the Women's Aid to the George Junior Republic No. 1.
(By arrangement with Mr. C. L. Graff.)
MR. ISIDORE LUCKSTONE AT THE PIANO.
Farewell Song Recital Saturday Aft. Dec. 22 at 3:15
"Per la Gloria d'Adorarvi," Buononcini; "Zingarella," Paesiello; "C'est mon ami," Marie Antoinette; "Freudvoll und Leidvoll," Beethoven; "I Attempt from Love's Sickness," Purcell; "O, Mistress Mine," Old English; "Der Muller und der Bach," Schubert; "Er der herrlichste von Allen," Schumann; "Standchen," R. Strauss; Des Glockenthurmers Tochterlein, "Niemand hat's gesehen," C. Loewe; "Che to fatto," Neapolitan; "Kan fra Hallingdalen," Norwegian; "The Coolin," Irish; "Gai lon la," French-Canadian; "Das Muhlrad," "Spinnliedchen," German; "Dumka Gdrie to Jedriess," "Krakowiak," Polish; "Dalekaia i Blyskaia," Little Russian.
Prices—$1, $1.50, $2, $2.50; boxes, $15, $25.
Tickets on sale Mon., Dec. 17, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.
Grand Opera Season 1900-1901.
Under the direction of Mr. MAURICE GRAU.
Opening Night Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 8.
ROMEO ET JULIETTE; (in French)
Mme. Melba; MM. Ed de Reszke, Plançon, Sizes, and Saleza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Wed. Evg., Dec. 19, at 8—TANNHAEUSER, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Plançon, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Frl. Evg., Dec. 21, at 8—LOHENGRIN. (in German.) Mmes. Nordica and Schumann-Heink; MM. Dippel, Bertram, and Ed de Reszke. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Dec. 22, at 2—ROMEO ET JULIETTE. (in French.) Mme. Melba, Ed de Reszke, Gilibert, and Saleza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Evg., Dec. 22, at 8, at Popular Prices—AIDA. (in Italian)—Mmes. Susan Strong and Homer; MM. Scotti, Journet, and Imbart de la Tour. Conductor, Flon.
Sun. Evg., Dec. 23, First Grand Popular Concert.
Seats now on sale at BOX OFFICE, OPERA HOUSE, and at BOX OFFICE RATES at Tyson & Co.'s and Ruliman's, 111 Broadway.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM
Visit the Early Shows and Avoid the Crowds.
ALL NEW STAR ACTS THIS WEEK.

Grand Carnival of Old-Fashioned Minstrelsy.
MOORE'S COLOR D MINSTRELS
Genuine Southern darkies and Creole Cake Walk.
CORBETT-McCOY FIGHT.
Full six rounds and knockout.
BAKER'S TRAINED PIGS.
Musical trio of porcine comedians, and 20 others.
THEATRE. 2 Co's. Sunday Concerts

ADMISSION 25c SUNDAYS.
WORLD IN WAX
EDEN MUSEE
—NEW TO-DAY—
SPECIAL GROUPS AND FIGURES.
This Afternoon and Evening,
THE NEW TROUBADORS.
AND ORCHESTRA
Commencing Thursday Afternoon
CHILDREN'S HOLIDAY ATTRACTION.
HUMPTY DUMPTY.
JAS. R. ADAMS PANTOMIME CO.
Extra Cinematograph
CINDERELLA'S Glass Slipper.

THE NEW YORK IMMENSE SUNDAY CONCERT
THIS AFTERN., 2. TO-NIGHT at 8:15.
ALL SEATS 50 NO HIGHER.
Great Programme of Vaudeville Artists. Com. To-morrow (Mon.) Night & Mats. Wed. & Sat. BALLET, and 20 American and European Novelties. Tremendous List of Performers. MATINEE XMAS.

MUSICAL ART SOCIETY
FRANK DAMROSCH . . . Director
CHORUS OF 60 ARTISTS.
FIRST CONCERT, Thursday, December 20, at 8:30. MISSA PAPAE MARCELLI, Palestrina; Songs by Brahms; Old Christmas Carols, etc. CONCERTO FOR TWO SOLO VIOLINS, J. S. Bach.
FRITZ KREISLER,
DAVID MANNES and a selected String Orchestra.
SECOND SYMPHONY CONCERT
CHRISTMAS CONCERT
FRANK DAMROSCH . . . Director
Saturday, December 29, at 2:30.
CARNEGIE HALL.
March from Christus, Liszt. Christmas Songs, Cornelius; Pastoral Scene from MESSIAH
Pastoral Symphony, "There were Shepherds," "Glory to God," "Hallelujah Chorus."
SOLOISTS AND FULL CHORUS.
Tickets now on sale at office of both Societies, 388 5th Ave., (36th St.)

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Saturday Afternoon, Jan. 5th, at 3 o'clock, Saturday Afternoon, Jan. 12th, at 3 o'clock, Third and Fourth Piano Recitals by Gabrilowitsch
Tickets $1 and $1.50, on sale Monday, Dec. 24th, at Schuberth's, Union Square.
EVERETT PIANO USED.

MENDELSSOHN HALL. Thursday Afternoon Dec. 20 at 2:30.
First Piano Recital in N. Y. by HAROLD BAUER
Programme: Beethoven, Sonate, Op. 111; Mendelssohn, Etude, B flat minor; Gluck-Brahms, Gavotte; Chopin, Fantasia, Op. 49; Schumann, Carnaval; Chopin, Etude, C sharp minor; Liszt, La Leggierezze; Balakirew, Islamey.
Res. seats $1.50, $1, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq Management .....LOUDON G. CHARLTON

CARNEGIE HALL
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
1900—Fifty-ninth Season—1901.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
FRIDAY, December 21, at 2 P. M.
SATURDAY, December 22, at 8:15 P. M.
Program:
Overture, "Oberon".....Weber
Symphony, No. 6, "Pastoral".....Beethoven
Concerto for Piano, B major. Henry Holden Huss
Performed by the composer.
Mr. HENRY HOLDEN HUSS.
Fantasia, "Francesca da Rimini".....Tschaikowsky
Tickets now on sale at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Ruliman's. Seats, 75c. to $2; boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Second Chamber Music Matinee.
TUESDAY AFT., December 18, at 2:15.
KNEISEL QUARTET
Assisted by MR. HAROLD BAUER, PIANO
His First Appearance in New York.
PROGRAMME: HADYN, Quartet, G major, op. 77, No. 1; BEETHOVEN, Sonata for Piano and Violin, op. 47, (Kreutzer Sonata;) SCHUMANN, Quintet for Piano, Two Violins, Viola and Violoncello, E flat major, op. 44.
Res. seats, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

CARNEGIE HALL 28th Season, 1900-1901.
Oratorio Society Frank Damrosch Conductor.
ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PERFORMANCES
The Messiah
SOLOISTS:
Wednesday Aft. Dec. 26, at 2. Sopr. Mme. Lillian Blauvelt
Thursday Evg. Dec. 27, at 8. Contr. Mrs. Morris Black
Tenor Mr. H. Evan Williams
Basso Mr. David Bispham
Reserved seats 75 cents to $2.00. Boxes $12 and $15. On sale Mon., Dec. 17, at box office.

1884. 1900.
THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF THE DRAMATIC ARTS and EMPIRE THEATRE DRAMATIC SCHOOL.
Franklin H. Sargent, President. A practical training school in connection with Mr. CHARLES FROHMAN'S Empire Theatre and traveling companies. Apply to E. P. STEPHENSON, Gen'l Mgr., Room 145, Carnegie Hall.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM 57th Street and 7th Avenue.
"CHILDREN'S THEATRE."
Christmas Plays for Young Folk.
"THE FOREST RING,"
a 3 act play of FAIRYLAND.
ORCHESTRA OF CHILDREN.
Opening Thursday Afternoon, DEC. 20 at 3 o'clock, and Every Afternoon at the same hour

3D AVENUE THEATRE. Matinée Monday.
Melodrama—AMERICAN GIRL.

OLD-TIME PRIMA DONNAS

Enthusiastic Receptions Formerly Extended to Artists.

Recollections of Sontag, Alboni, Malibran, and Jenny Lind—Torchlight Parades and Serenades.

In the early days of opera in this city the arrival of a noted prima donna in the metropolis created, or was made to create, almost as much of a stir as did the recent visit of William J. Bryan during the Presidential contest. A grand reception was almost invariably extended to distinguished queens of song.

There was one element in New York in those days of a very picturesque character which was always ready to participate in a demonstration of this kind—the old Volunteer Fire Department. The "fire laddies" looked very striking in their broad black leather caps and red shirts, and were greatly addicted to torchlight parades, which were very effective and very popular. Whenever any notable personage or especial favorite of the world of song was announced as coming to the metropolis the volunteer firemen were always appealed to as assistants to do them honor, and they would enter into such demonstrations with as much energy, though perhaps not in such numbers, as when they turned out to do like honor to the Prince of Wales when he visited New York.

When the celebrated prima donna Sontag first visited the metropolis, there were two public receptions given her. The first was under the auspices of the Musical Protective Association of New York, when the members, nearly 200 in number, assembled one night at Niblo's Garden, and, accompanied by six engine and seven hose companies, the members attired in customary red shirts, with lighted torches in their hands, and almost every company headed by a band of music, marched in procession up Broadway and around Union Square to the Union Hotel, at which Sontag was staying, and there gave her a grand serenade, the bands of music, each in turn, after the exercises of the Protective Association, taking part in the demonstration. It was indeed a unique musical jubilee.

The second serenade was on a larger scale. Over 1,000 members of singing societies determined to do honor to the distinguished artiste, and having extended an invitation to the gallant firemen to assist on the occasion, it was estimated that nearly 15,000 men, women, and children thronged Union Square and vicinity to enjoy the serenade and witness the exhilarating spectacle.

Alboni and Sontag were rival prima donnas at the period referred to, and it so happened that they were both in New York on the night of this second Sontag serenade, Alboni, who had arrived only a day or two previously, being at the New York Hotel, on Broadway, near Bond Street. At the close of the Sontag demonstration some of the firemen suggested to the singing societies that it would be a gallant thing for them to pay their respects to the other distinguished lady, and the suggestion, met with unanimous approval. So the singers and the firemen, at the close of the Sontag programme, again forming in procession, marched down Brosdway to the New York Hotel and there gave Alboni the unexpected compliment of a grand serenade more than an hour after midnight.

Señorita Garcia, afterward Mme. Malibran, during the first season of Italian opera in New York, was also received in a manner similar to the reception afterward extended to Sontag, but, in addition, Mme. Brugière, the then social leader of the metropolis, gave a grand masked ball in her honor at the Brugière mansion, 32 Broadway, opposite Bowling Green. Never had there been witnessed a more brilliant affair. Over three hundred guests appeared in elegant and appropriate costumes.

But, so far as prima donna receptions are concerned, the "ovation" to Jenny Lind, under P. T. Barnum's management, perhaps "out-heroded Herod." In order to add greater éclat to the occasion, Barnum arranged to meet the distinguished visitor at Quarantine, and with a few guests he proceeded on a tug to Staten Island, remained there Saturday night, and early on Sunday morning he was on board the steamship Atlantic shaking hands with Jenny Lind and her party of accompanying friends.

The Swedish Nightingale landed at the foot of Canal Street, and, as Barnum had well advertised the fact of her probable arrival on that Sunday, almost all New York turned out to greet the fair stranger. Barnum had arranged that Canal Street was turned into a sort of public garden, with flags, festoons, and flowers as decorations in great abundance. There was a tremendous crowd at the steamship pier, and cheer after cheer went up as Jenny Lind stepped upon the gangway to leave the steamship, and there was besides an accident. This "accident" was perhaps the best-managed part of the ovation. A man, shouting welcome at the top of his voice, in his eagerness to see Jenny, ventured too near the end of the pier and fell into the water. Instantly there was a great commotion, shrieking of women, &c. Poor Jenny, pausing where she stood on the gangway, came near fainting at this accident to one of her ardent admirers. Pitifully she besought those nearest to the dock to save the poor, dear man.

Just then a tall chap—whom Barnum had engaged for the purpose—plunged into the water and saved the venturesome admirer of the distinguished singer amid much cheering by the sympathetic spectators. Jenny was almost overpowered with delight, and opening a bag she carried in her arm, she requested Barnum, who was by her side, to have the hero of the occasion, the rescuer, brought to her, when she deposited in his hand two louis d'or, with two other similar coins to be given to the rescued man, which kindly act on her part of course, added to the enthusiasm of the crowd, while Barnum, like Brer Rabbit, "lay low and said nothing."

The great showman had a fine carriage awaiting at the wharf for Jenny Lind, and he rode outside, seated by the driver. Jenny wanted her manager to ride alongside of her in the coach, but Barnum declined the honor, not for the sake of modesty, but business. Owing to his previous extensive advertising of his face on bill boards everybody knew Barnum's appearance, and so when he was seen riding on the outside of the carriage, everybody said to everybody else, "Jenny Lind's arrived," thus giving Barnum—which he dearly loved and always catered for—a free advertisement.

Jenny Lind went with her suite to the old Irving House, and then Barnum industriously set himself to work for carrying out an arranged serenade for the following Monday night. More than 500 musicians, escorted by nearly 700 fire laddies, joined in a torchlight parade and serenade, and after the singers had sung and Jenny had smiled, the firemen and an immense throng of spectators joined in hearty cheers for the Swedish Nightingale. But Jenny went one better than a smile for the great honor paid her. She gave the firemen a donation of $500 to their Widows and Orphans' Fund, and the firemen, in return, gave Jenny a splendid copy of Audubon's "Birds of America," which she took to Sweden with her and which is now in the Royal Library at Copenhagen.

So well had Barnum worked up the Jenny Lind boom that from the day of her arrival the city went crazy over her. Almost everything offered for sale in shop windows had Jenny's name attached. There were Jenny Lind gloves, Jenny Lind bonnets and chemisettes, even Jenny Lind cocktails! There were Jenny Lind poems, too. Barnum offered a prize of $200 for the best ode to Jenny Lind. There were more than 800 sent in. The best of all was one by Bayard Taylor, to whom the prize was awarded.

The first ticket sold at auction for Jenny Lind's opening concert—at which Bayard Taylor's ode of "Welcome" was recited—was knocked down to a Broadway hatter, John N. Genin, for $225. In Boston the first ticket was bid for by Ossian E. Dodge, who also had a keen eye for notoriety, and he paid $625 for it, while W. C. Ross was the successful bidder for the first ticket sold at Providence, R. I. It cost him $650. The first concert given by Jenny Lind, held at Castle Garden on Sept. 11, 1850, averaged in receipts $10 per ticket and was stated to have yielded $27,860.

In the Jenny Lind venture Barnum made a great deal more money than he expected, but his venture was not unattended with plenty of trouble. Jenny Lind's immediate friends were constantly advising her that she ought to have a bigger share of the receipts than she was getting, and after a while Barnum got so tired of this constant nagging on the part of Jenny that he consented to a canceling of her contract with him. Then Jenny married a little Dutch musician named Goldschmidt, who had been instrumental in causing disturbance between her and Barnum, and who had managed also to win her heart, and she made a tour of the country, giving concerts on her own book. But her husband did not prove to be a very good manager. Then Jenny wanted Barnum to come back to her, but the wily showman saw that they had "burst her boom," and, believing that lightning would not strike twice in the same place, he respectfully declined a renewal of the contract. Soon thereafter the Swedish Nightingale and her consort took their departure across the ocean.

The motive of Mr. Genin in outbidding competitors for the first Jenny Lind ticket provoked controversy. Finally A. Daniel came to judgment, and, deciding that Genin's action "wasn't a matter of feeling, but only a matter of felt," ended the discussion. The advertising enterprise of the Broadway hatter found imitators in almost every city visited by Jenny Lind.

WILLIAM CAULDWELL.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS

Changes in Standing as a Result of the Week's Games.

RECORD OF THE TOURNAMENTS

Belvidere Team Moves from Third to First Place in the Harlem League Series.

Changes occurred in the leading teams in several of the local bowling leagues as a result of the past week's games. In the Harlem League the Belvideres jump from third to first place in consequence of having won both their matches of the week. In the American National tournament the Fidelias, having lost two games, drop from first place to third, the Columbia team taking the lead.

The Knickerbockers move from fifth place to second in the North Side League and the Orientals replace the Golden Rod team at second position in the National League.

In the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum tournament Philadelphia Council regain the lead which it lost to Bedford Council last week. The Franklin Trust Company displaces the Williamsburg Savings Bank in the lead of the Brooklyn Bank Clerks' League, and the Imperials move from third to second place in the Long Island League. The records of the principal tournaments follow:

NATIONAL LEAGUE TOURNAMENT.

	Won.	Lost.	High Score.
Fidelia Bowling Club	20

SPARKS FROM THE MAGAZINES

EXCERPTS IN PROSE AND VERSE FROM CURRENT LITERATURE.

THE EVE OF MARY.

Sing out, and with rejoicing bring
Shepherds and neatherds to their King—
Their King who lies in stable-stall,
With straw for all His plenishing;
Who in His hands most weak and small,
Doth hold the earth and heavens all:
Sing loud, the Eve of Mary!

Bring in the soft ewes and their rams,
And bring the little crying lambs;
This stable's wide enough for all,
Bring hither all the bleating dams,
And bid them crouch around the stall,
And watch the wonders that befall
Earth, on the Eve of Mary.

This mother-maid with drooping head
Hath but a straw-heap to her bed;
Yet, did she list, would angels come
And make a palace of her shed,
With myrrh and music bring Him home—
'Mid these glad mouths the one mouth dumb—
Here, on the Eve of Mary.

But rather would she lie below
Thatched roof, and hear the north wind blow,
And pattering footsteps of the rain,
Aye, rather would she play her throe
And take her joy; to quit all pain
His lips are on her breast again—
Sing low, the Eve of Mary!

Sing low, indeed; and softly bleat,
You lambing ewes, about her feet,
Lest ye should wake the Child from sleep.
No other hour so still and sweet
Shall fall for Mary's heart to keep,
Until her death-hour on her creep—
Sing soft, the Eve of Mary!
—NORA HOPPER in The North American Review.

THE DIVINITY OF KINGS.

From Longman's.

How the belief in the divine right of Kings—their former source of so much strength—arose in modern Europe, where the titles of dynasties have been so constantly disputed, it is very difficult to say; but the fact that it prevailed over so many disintegrating influences down to quite recent times, if even now it can be said to be extinct, is a signal proof of its tenacity and power.

Kings' titles commonly begin by force,
Which time wears off and mellows into right.

These words of Dryden are almost a literally true description of the general course of history, and yet for centuries the belief in the divinity of Kings was not only popular, but the notion was constantly invoked by philosophers and politicians of the Jacobitist type. Perhaps at all times the apotheosis of Princes has been a mental process congenial to mankind; otherwise it would be difficult to imagine how the Romans could ever have deified a group of Emperors who were either maddened by lust or deeply tainted with insanity. When a Roman Emperor died, the funeral rites were ended by letting fly an eagle to symbolize his flight to heaven; but the remark of Vespasian on his death bed that he felt that he was being turned into a god—ut puto deus fio—has a touch of sardonic humor which suggests that to a robust mind such as his the idea was essentially absurd. Yet it is probably from the indifferentist of the Roman Emperors that the subsequent belief in the sacredness of kingship may be at least partially derived. At any rate, when after a long period of darkness and confusion there emerged that wonderful institution, the Holy Roman Empire, the old tradition of the sacrosanct Emperors was not forgotten. It is not difficult to see how the title of an empire, that loomed large in men's imaginations as the secular side of the visible Church, became encircled, as it were, in a halo of divinity.

THE BATTLES OF NATURE.

From The Contemporary Review.

We read the tablets of long ago which the geologist has deciphered for us, and we find them an endless story of battles. The successful species which occupy the great geological horizons have come out of great tribulation. The trilobites and stone lilies of the silurian period, the gigantic club-moss and fluted sigillarians of the coal age, the enormous ammonites of the jurassic and chalk epochs, the mighty elephants and majestic deer forms of the tertiary era, are magnates of the times and masterpieces of the struggle. They had been redeemed at a great price, even of a thousand species and tens of thousands of individuals, who fell short of the typical fitness and were killed out. These magnates, each in its turn, were pioneers of progress, like the scouts of an army, and were caught in a physiological ambush.

The pedigree of the horse, in the most recent past, has been made out, traced shall we say, for a hundred thousand years before man came on the scene. (for Lord Kelvin has asked the geologist to hurry up, and not be too lavish with time, or we should have said 250,000 years before man.) The fleetness, grace, strength of the horse are owing to his ability to walk on one toe, to which have been correlated the wonderful instincts by which he has become the partner of man in his industries and struggles. He has been derived in almost a strict gradation from the two-toed, three-toed, four-toed, and five-toed ancestors, which flourished in the ages which preceded man. Myriads of individuals, and all the species and varieties, died out to make room for the one-toed selection, to enable this favorite to occupy the ground, unthwarted by crossing or by recurrence to average forms. He was redeemed at a great price, and has come through a great tribulation.

FRENCH CONTEMPT OF ENGLISH.

From The Nineteenth Century.

It was my good fortune to have an opportunity for considerable conversation with a young and distinguished (French) officer, and I was much struck by the quiet contempt with which he spoke of the recent achievements of the British arms, and by the eminent opinions which he quoted as his authorities. "Your navy is strong, but your army—you have no army," he would say, and then hasten back to praises of the fleet to cover the unguarded utterance. His opinion of the course of any future war between England and France was not without interest. They would draw away the fleet from the Channel, and if they could keep the sea clear for forty-eight hours a hundred thousand men might land in England. The war would then be over. "The English! I know the English," he would say. "We should kill a few, we should march on London and kill a few more, and when they saw that the others would stop fighting and pay. We know the English. Look at their surrenders in Africa. It is all arranged. But I hope there will never be a war. It would be a pity. I like the English very well myself. Oh, yes, I would be a flying column, but what of that? There would be very little danger, and we should make our ammunition at Woolwich. And then you have no army."

This appears to be the general opinion, and an inner wrist of comprehension of the difficulties of the South African campaign has completely shattered our military prestige.

SHELLS AND HUMAN NATURE.

From "How We Kept the Flag Flying," Donald Macdonald.

Early in the siege of Ladysmith an old Major, whose fighting record is beyond question, was lecturing his men on the folly of ducking to shell. "When you hear it, men, it's actually past, so that ducking your heads is quite useless." Just then came a hissing shell from "Silent Sue" close over the Major's head. He ducked. The men laughed, and the Major observed: "Ah, well, I suppose it's just human nature."

INDUSTRIAL LEADERSHIP.

From The Engineering Magazine.

The hero of the future is the Captain of industry, not the Captain of armies. The struggle is to produce the most, and most cheaply—not to destroy the most and the most quickly. The strong nation is the one whose manufactures and whose merchant marine reach furthest in supplying the needs of the peoples, and return best laden with the needed goods of other lands. The keynote of success, the secret of power, is economy—economy in production, in methods, in management. The vast growth of manufacturing establishments must be met by adequate growth and adjustment in administration. Organization must replace the individual supervision and control which was sufficient even to the great works of a half century ago. In the study of works' management lies the highway to larger success and wider influence than the material conditions of the past ever make possible. Before engineers and managers lie the duty of meeting the conditions—and the other great duty of using their influence and their power in the affairs of the nation, so that justice and wisdom may govern the State at home and abroad. The task is a responsible one, but home and foreign politics have proved, during the year just closing, the triumphant success when follows when the industry and commerce of the country speak clearly to its rulers.

THE DOUBLE LETTER.

From Notes and Queries.

The doubled letter is scarcely of use in any language. Sometimes we are purely inconsistent. Letter must have two t's, literal ons. The double letter very seldom affects the pronunciation. Would it not be well to drop the double letter altogether? It would simplify spelling and save time, too.

MODERN JERUSALEM.

From Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

Studied, then, from its thoroughfares, Jerusalem looks for all the world like a huge rambling fortress, with fighting towers and dungeon depths. On either hand, instead of lines of houses, you have formidable and continuous walls pierced with low doors and body-wide stairs and iron-caged windows. You cannot tell where one house begins and another leaves off, nor whether a certain opening leads to roof or courtyard or dwelling room. There is indeed one way to tell, that is to push boldly in and up along stairs and passages and see what you can see.

Whatever else you fail to do in Jerusalem, (and you are sure to neglect half the guidebook admonitions,) do not fail to study the streets from overhead, as many of them as possible. You can always find a viewpoint by a little searching. Take Christian Street about midday, when the sun lights both sides, and get your station on the arch near David Street, no matter if you have to do some clambering. Now look to the north, there where the greenish domes and white minaret rise. You see a straight way along the base of a high wall, window-pierced, with a lower wall on the other side, its stones old and grassgrown. Below you see two lines of flimsy awnings, tipped down like the visor of a cap, to shelter the booths beneath them from the white glare. You see donkeys, camels, sheep, peasants, soldiers, Greek Priests, Sisters of Charity, tourists, pilgrims, Turks, and all who live in Turkey, Syrians and all who visit Syria, veiled women, sheeted women, and beggars (you will see them all if you wait a little) moving to and fro, now lost under the awnings, now coming into the open. You can follow them between two sombre archways, the one that you are on and another, yonder where a cross wall stops your view. You can watch them until you tire.

"SANDWICH MEN," EAST LONDON.

Sir Walter Besant in The Century.

They walk between the boards all day long for a shilling. It is work which makes no demand upon them. They slowly and mechanically plod along, each following the man before him. If you watch the sandwich man you may observe that he looks neither to the right nor to the left. His face expresses no emotion of any kind; he feels no interest in anything. He is like the hermit, or the recluse, or the anchoret—inclusus. He is dead to the world; a man without friends, without money, without hope, without resources, without the power of work, without strength of mind to resolve, without will to urge him and to sustain him or to lead him out, has no further concern with the world. It is a moving panorama, a series of pictures on which he looks without interest; his own figure, which ought to be there, is not there. Newsboys shout their evening papers; the shops light up their wares till the whole street is a fairyland of treasures; the well-dressed people pass him in long procession; the carriages go up and down the road. To all the life around him, to all the sights around him, to the meaning of the show, and to the dance of life and death that fills the street, the sandwich man is indifferent. He has no ambition; he has no future to hope for, no past that he cares to remember; he lives only for the day.

PORTRAITS IN PUBLIC PLACES.

From Scribner's.

At the present time the conditions by which these portraits are acquired by the State or the institution which owns them are such that few could be made use of for a decorative end; and it is mainly, perhaps, because the community is the beneficiary, not the donor. Many of them are gifts of individuals, and may or may not be works of art. This is not surprising when sentiment instead of knowledge guides the gift. There may be a way, however, to overcome this handicap. It would be no invasion of the prerogative of sentiment if the preparation of these memorials were placed under the control of the authorities who should care for them and house them, or of a special committee which should select the painter—a committee whose concern it would be to know the best that was being produced in the portraiture of the day. On this board of selection, then, might be one artist of reputation, chosen annually, to act with them. This could doubtless be arranged, and the judgment of the professional painter who should thus act would be valuable on the further question of framing and placing the picture; for this all has to do with the harmony and beauty of the hall destined for this character of decoration or ornamentation. Do not let the fact be ignored that portraits well chosen and well placed may serve the purpose of noble decoration.

A CHRISTMAS DANCE IN DIXIE.

Br'er Abram, take dat fiddle and chune de ol' strings right—
Dey 'sandin' er de cabin flo' fer dancin' Crismus night—
En put some rozzum on dat bow, en let de music roll;
Fer de gals is comin' down de road lak' glory in yo' soul!

En heah come Sister Mandy—stan' dar en take yo' place;
Dey ain't no lady in de lan' got such a shiny face!
Br'er Rufus is yo' pa'tner: his foots kin kiver groun'!
Dey ain't no one kin beat him a-swingin' gals eroun'!

Strike up de ol'-time chune now—pat foot, en swing yo' head!
De chune dat minahs de quadrille: en den play "Short'nin' Bread!"
En come in, Sister Sarah; han's 'roun', en take yo' chance!
De preacher's in a fidget, en de deacon's in de dance!

Han's 'roun'! en swing yo' pa'tners! Up en de centre walk!
(Dat goodness en de gracious!—but don't dat fiddle talk!)
De preacher will be wid us fo' de night's out—I be bound!
De ol' flo's des a-creakin' en de room's a-gwine 'roun'!

Come in—des ever'body—dar's room enough fer all!
Dance 'twell de winders trimble, en shake de roof en wall!
En put mo' rozzum on dat bow, en let de music roll;
Fer dis heah time is Cris'mus, en its glory in yo' soul!
—FRANK L. STANTON in Collier's Weekly.

TO DRAIN THE GHETTO.

Jacob A. Riis in The Review of Reviews.

The attempt to colonize Jewish immigrants had two objects—to relieve the man and to drain the Ghetto. In this last it failed. In eighteen years 1,200 families have been moved out. In the five months from October 10 March last 12,000 came to stay in New York City. The number of immigrant Jews during those months was 15,233, of whom only 3,831 went further. The population of the Ghetto reaches already 250,000. It was like trying to bail out the ocean. Within a year the projectors of Woodbine (N. J.) have taken the bull squarely by the horns with a proposition to reverse the programme entirely. Instead of arguing with unwilling employes to take the step they dread, they are trying to persuade manufacturers to move out of the city, depending upon the workers to follow their work. To that end they have formed an alliance with various reputable suburban land companies in Jersey, on Staten Island, and elsewhere, and offer to build homes for the families thus weaned from the tenements. Their plan, under which the operatives are able to become owners of their homes at little more than one-half the outlay for rent in the tenement, includes a cash payment of 10 per cent. The Hirsch Fund takes a mortgage for 60 per cent. of the purchase price at 4 per cent., the builder the remainder at 5 per cent. Thus the owner of a $1,100 cottage, with five rooms and bath, paying off the builder's mortgage in ten years, would be at a monthly outlay of $8, including taxes and insurance. At $10 a month he might have a six-room cottage, and at $12.50, the rent which he would ordinarily pay for a dark, three-room flat in Essex Street, a little mansion with seven rooms and bath. Farming does not enter into this scheme. It aims only at restoring the home.

MORDANT JESTINGS.

From The Cornhill.

Montesquieu boldly defined a lord as "a man who sees the King, speaks to the Minister, has ancestors, debts, and pensions."

Prudhomme chose in 1798 as his motto for his new "Journal des Révolutions de Paris": "The great only seem great because we are on our knees; let us get up."

When the Bien Aimé himself complacently said of the Farmers General—those wicked tax gatherers, the grasping publicans of old France—that they sustained the State, the Duc d'Ayen had the courage to answer: "Yes, Sire, as the rope sustains the criminal." The anecdote is, after all, but a preface to the familiar one of Voltaire, who, at the party when every one was telling robber stories, had nothing to say but "Once, gentlemen, there was a Farmer General," to receive the honors of the evening.

The times were, indeed, fast ripening or rotting to revolution. A woman's beauty and unscrupulousness could still Government offices with her friends, and her cleverness be trusted to keep their influence there, and turn the point of any honest rebuff. The Chancellor Maupeou was talking one day to Mme. Lapelletier de Beaupré, who had persuaded all her many relatives in State berths to oppose the Chancellor's changes: "It is a great pity, Madame, women mix themselves in affairs they understand no more than geese." "And, don't you know," she answered, "it was the geese that saved the Capitol?" The wit would have put her right in the estimation of that strange world, if she had been a thousand time more in the wrong. So long as one was amusing!

THE DANCE OF THE CHRISTMAS TREES.

In the land where Santa Claus keeps house,
Where Jack Frost creeps as still as a mouse,
There is a whispering and a rushing
Like small rain falling, like full streams gushing,
To the horn of the wind, to the flute of the breeze;
'Tis the dance, the dance of the Christmas trees
In the far-off Christmas Tree Country.

In that far land, where the snow lies deep,
Men go stamping, with teams that creep;
With creaking sleds and with axes keen,
They go to gather the Christmas green.
Little green babies and sturdy trees,
Down they rush like a wild young breeze,
"Good-bye, my Christmas Tree Country!"

At night when the silence is profound,
The others foot their solemn round
With many a sparkling wreath of ice
And flaunting snow-plume point device,
And the little stars in their nightgowns white,
Sit up late to stare at the sight
In the far-off Christmas Tree Country.

The Northern Lights on the hills so bare
Tiptoe eagerly here and there,
Over tree-shoulders, trying to see
The Christmas trees dance solemnly;
The trees which did not go to town,
Keeping the feast among woods so brown
In the far-off Christmas Tree Country.
—FLORENCE EVELYN PRATT in Punch.

A WOODLAND SHARPSHOOTER.

From St. Nicholas.

What boy or girl who has ever gone nutting in October has not been arrested among the underbrush by a sound of fairy artillery, or even been hit on the cheek by a solid piece of ammunition in the shape of a glossy black seed? Looking about for your assailant, you see only a tall shrub, whose almost leafless branches are hung with fringes of gold, and wonder, perhaps, why those delicate blossoms mature at a time when most wild flowers have finished their season's work—when, as Bryant says:

"Frosts and shortening days portend
The aged year is near his end."

But look closer among those tardy gold fringes and you will see clusters of oddly shaped pods, some empty and yawning like miniature cannon, others still loaded and ready to fire their handsome little missiles when the right moment arrives.

This curious shrub, which takes a whole year to mature its fruit, is the witch hazel, or hamamelis—the same that we know as a bottle genius, ready to cure our cuts and bruises. To see how the shooting is done, it is worth while to bring a branch of the seed pods indoors and to study their mechanism more at leisure. As the fruit ripens, the outer coat of the pod separates from the inner, and this outer shell splits down from the top, while the elastic inner covering also splits, and its edges press on the seeds. This pressure in time expels the hard little nut in much the same way that an apple seed (almost identical in shape) is "fired" by the pressure of a boy's thumb and forefinger.

The witch hazel always impresses me as a very spirited plant, full of will power and energy, and determined that its children shall have a good start in the world. It is said that its seeds are sometimes thrown to a distance of forty-five feet, and while I cannot vouch for this, I do know that they will strike one very forcibly at a distance of twelve or fifteen. By this ingenious contrivance the young witch hazel folks begin life at a distance, where the ground has been neither shaded nor exhausted by the parent bush.

The witch hazel is common over all Eastern America, and any young naturalist may see it sowing its crops or lighting the woods with its elfin smile as late as Thanksgiving Day.

THE GODOYS.

From The Cornhill.

In the time of Maria Luisa there was a handsome young guardsman, called Diego Godoy, who fell violently in love with a tejedora, a weaver, of Segovia. Her parents, in fear of his fascinations, sent her away out of his reach. He was inconsolable, and his frequent vows that neither rank nor beauty should prevail upon him to be unfaithful to the memory of his tejedora piqued the vanity of every lady at the Court. Maria Luisa herself undertook to subjugate him, but plainly Diego was not born under a lucky star. She was at S. Ildefonso, and one day when out driving she saw a guardsman of her escort run away with and thrown from his horse. Perhaps she mistook him for the Godoy she already knew, for she exhibited so much terror that the unfortunate yet fortunate guardsman approached to thank and reassure her. He was Manuel Godoy, younger brother of Diego, and he found yet more favor in the eyes of the Queen. She accused the hapless and certainly innocent Diego of having made love to her, and he was banished by the King. Manuel Godoy was very young, but unusually well educated for a man of his class, besides being handsome and attractive. He became the ruler of Spain, and his power over Charles IV. and Maria Luisa lasted until their son Ferdinand snatched the reins from their hands twenty years later, to have them instantly snatched from his own by Napoleon.

SEEKING REST IN BIRMINGHAM.

From The Westminster Review.

My first sojourn was on the black country side of the great midland metropolis, and here I was between the devil and the deep sea in the matter of noises. The house in which I staid faced a road traversed by a steam tramway, the traffic on which goes on from early morning till late at night; while the back windows overlooked the London and Northwestern Railway, upon which, at this point, perhaps a hundred trains pass in the twenty-four hours. I was about to write "a hundred trains a day," but, unfortunately for the light sleeper, many of them pass in the night. Just as one gets to sleep an express rushes by with a noise like an avalanche, and rouses one with a start. When you have recovered from the fright, and are settling yourself for a second attempt at sleep, a goods train arrives on the scene, and shunts into a siding just under your window. You lie awake listening to the bump, bump, bump of the buffers, and the occasional whistle of the engine, wondering how long it will be before the wretched train moves on. At length it is gone, and, being past midnight, you feel you can safely turn over and settle yourself for the night. You drop asleep to the soft music of a tilt-hammer and the rushing of steam at a distant iron forge, to be roused again, perhaps, about 4 in the morning, by an early excursion train. Between 5 and 6 the regular traffic recommences, so you need not try to sleep again.

The regular dwellers in such localities get used to the distracting noises, and profess not to notice them; but in cases of illness they are a serious drawback. For myself, I was glad to escape, after a visit of a few days, to the quiet country on the other side of Birmingham, where the only hindrances to sleep were the usual country sound, or the distant rumble of a train. To show how much there is in use, however, I was almost amused to find that my sister, who has resided for many years in the house between the steam tramway and the railway, could not sleep here in the early mornings on account of the singing of the birds!

LONDON JACK.

From Our Animal Friends.

In a quiet part of southeastern London there is what is known as the "L. and S. W. Railway Orphanage." In this home there are 150 children whose fathers have died in the service of the London and Southwestern Railway. Eight thousand dollars must be found each year to meet the expense of feeding, clothing, and educating these boys and girls. Among the friends of the charity there is one who gives his time so willingly to the work of securing the means to carry on the enterprise that he has become famous. His name is London Jack.

London Jack is only a dog, but he has many times collected the money which has bought food and clothing for these fatherless little ones. He is provided with a brass collecting box, which is strapped on his back, and he looks not unlike a small packhorse as he makes his way through the crowded streets of London.

Since he began the work of collecting, Jack has returned over $800. In one month he secured $30 for his little friends, and on the one afternoon which is called "record day," he returned with $19 in his little knapsack.

But all work and no play would make Jack a dull dog, so he has his time for sport. He is what is known as a retriever, a breed of dogs which have been trained in swimming and recovering things from the water. After his day's work Jack is taken down to the wharf by the River Thames and is allowed to splash in the water to his heart's content. It is a pleasant sight to see him swim far out in the river among the barges, grasp a stick which has been tossed there, and return and lay it at the feet of his master. This he does as faithfully as he brings back his daily contribution for the children of the orphanage.

ENGLAND AND BELGIUM.

From The Fortnightly Review.

One's own observation showed that the English had lost in many ways the popularity they once possessed in Belgium, and impartiality demands the admission that it was very much their own fault. "Our dear countrymen" are not seen at their best on the Continent, and the self-satisfied English colony in Belgium presents sharp contrasts with that Belgian society which ignores its existence. The typical Englishman does not adapt himself well to his surroundings, especially when the vehicle of communication is the French language. He is arbitrary, exacting, and a grumbler, and in the Belgium of former days he could live far better than in England at a very cheap rate. The wealth of Belgium of late has much increased, and with it the cost of living. It is a rich, prosperous community, spending a larger relative proportion of income on good living than is the case with us, and those who go to Brussels for economy find not only that it is difficult to practice, but that on that very account the English are of less importance in the eyes of Belgian shopkeepers than formerly. In old days the great majority, too, of visitors in Belgian hotels were English and Americans, who drink beer or water, but nowadays there are more Belgians, Germans, and French, and these are far more profitable customers, because they drink wine.

The value of the English visitor and tourist to Belgium has declined, while at the same time there has been no decline in their belief that they are indispensable to the prosperity of that country. Hence their comments at the expense of its people are vulgar and free, and as the majority of Belgians understand English, although they profess an inability to speak it, these comments, loudly expressed in public places, are often understood, and naturally resented. More serious cause of offense has been given by the accusation, believed by 99 Englishmen out of 100 to be true until quite recently, that "the Belgians ran away at Waterloo," and by the conversion in that connection into a phrase of contempt of the epithet "les braves Belges," which was first used by Prince Blucher as a title of praise and honor, and which raises a memory of Caesar.

THE LOST REPEATER.

From The Cornhill.

When Monsieur—the first Monsieur at the Court of Louis XIV.—discovered at his levée that his watch had been stolen, presumably by one of his valets, he finished dressing hastily, and, addressing them all, said: "Gentlemen, the watch strikes. Let us separate as quickly as we can." What a tact and finish was here! The spirit of Monsieur was admirably caught by the French gentleman of the time who, attacked by robbers at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, simply observed, "Sirs, you have opened very early to-day."

BETHLEHEM.

O Bethlehem, starred Bethlehem,
Bright with the Coronation gem
Upon thy brow through history,
Whose eyes have seen the mystery,
Hail brow and eyes and diadem—
Hail, Bethlehem!

O Bethlehem, Queen Bethlehem,
Of hallowed lap and diadem,
Thy schoolboy is a star;
Thy hands are white as lilies are;
Thy song is sorrow's requiem,
Queen Bethlehem!
—RUTH McENERY STUART in Harper's Magazine.

CHINESE BANKING SYSTEM.

From The Forum.

The insecurity of Chinese houses and the danger from fire make banks of deposit a necessity. All classes in China have bank accounts. The business of the banks is to discount paper, to negotiate bills of exchange, to loan money on land or on personal property, and to buy and sell the precious metals. There is no Government limit to their establishment. They sell bills of exchange at short dates to any point in China. The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation and other foreign banks have largely interfered with the sale of foreign bills and bills running for a long time. The banks ordinarily, except in Peking, pay interest on deposits, sometimes on daily balances. They agree also to give the parties every facility for borrowing. The custom is that a depositor can obtain on his pass, as a loan, twice the amount of his deposit, but only for a few days' accommodation. Deposits may be withdrawn at will, and the interest, except in Peking, is allowed up to the date of withdrawal. The foreign banks also pay interest on deposits, but they stipulate for fixed terms. The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation pays 5 per cent. on fixed deposits. The bank, for a consideration, guarantees the paper of its customers. It sometimes happens here, as elsewhere, that the deposits are ten or fifteen times greater than the capital of the bank.

There exists in Peking a clearing-house system which will compare favorably with that of New York. Each depositor receives from his banker a book with two columns, in one of which will be entered his deposits, and in the other to his debit all the sums he may disburse. He then sends all his creditors to his banker to be paid, and in the evening he sends his book to his bankers. The next morning the clerks of the various banks get together and indicate in their books the various sums that they are to disburse or to receive for their patrons. The balances are paid in cash or are left to stand over on interest until the end of the year. It is said that the banks assist each other in case of difficulty, and that they extend the time of payment to any solvent bank requiring it.

WHAT ENGLISH ROYALTY COSTS.

From Chambers's Journal.

The Prince of Wales draws £40,000 a year, an inadequate sum considering the public duties relegated to him consequent on the practical withdrawal of the Queen from public life. It is, however, supplemented by an annuity of £10,000 for the Princess of Wales and one of £36,000 yearly divided among his children. The Princess Royal, now Dowager German Empress, still draws her £8,000 a year from the British Exchequer. The late Duke of Edinburgh was voted £25,000 a year when he came of age. When he succeeded to the Dukedom of Saxe-Coburg, one of the wealthiest inheritances in Europe, inconvenient questions were asked in the House of Commons as to the reasonableness of continuing a British annuity to one who had practically become a foreign Prince. Protest became so threatening that there was every prospect of the Government being defeated if they persisted in defending the payment. In this extremity a compromise was arrived at. It was announced that his Royal Highness had graciously foregone £15,000 a year, holding on to the odd £10,000, a sum paid up to the date of his death.

The Duke of Connaught enjoys his full annuity of £25,000 a year, in addition to his army pay. The Duke of Cambridge's annuity of £12,000 a year is augmented in the same direction. The Queen's three daughters and the widow of the Duke of Albany each draw pensions of £6,000.

These payments foot up to £168,000 a year. Added to the £385,000 of the Civil List, it completes a sum of something over half a million a year passing through the Queen's counting house as the national subvention of British royalty.

THE TREASURES OF ST. ILDEFONSO.

From The Cornhill.

In the Chapter Room two dull portraits of Philip and Elizabeth simper over the cupboard which contains the treasures. When the guide book mentions with a thrill that there are 12,000 diamonds in the monstrance, one yawns and thinks there are more in Mr. Streeter's shop. But the monstrance is really a beautiful cross of its kind, and, besides, is a splendid memorial of the great imperial days of Spain. For the gold and the jewels came from Mexico, and it was the work of a Mexican goldsmith. It was stolen by the French during the war of independence, but, strangely enough, left intact with all its 12,000 diamonds, for the English to take at Ciudad Real and return to its proper place. Besides the crosses there is a whole cupboardful of relics, the most curious being the staff of St. Elizabeth of Hungary, which was supposed to be a sovereign remedy for the Queens of Spain in their confinements, and was regularly conveyed by a deputation of canons to Queen Isabella II. when infants of Spain made their entrance into the world. The most interesting is the little wooden stool which St. Theresa carried about with her. For hers was a personality whose memory yet breathes a sweet and pungent perfume, such as legends affirm to have arisen from the bodies of older and less vital saints.

CHRISTMAS BELLS.

Softly silvern, and golden clear,
The passing bells of the passing year,
Ring out! ring out! O chimes!
A knell for the rose, and the Summer dead,
For the lavish Autumn full richly sped,
And the blossomy April times.

Softly silvern, O Christmas bells!
Your dinsome clamor or falls or swells
In a chorus richly ringing.
Hark! hark! it swells in the upper air,
To join the stave, so fine, so rare,
The earth, the heavens, are singing.

Richly silvern and high and far,
As the dazzling gleam of a falling star,
Hark to the angels crying:
"Peace upon earth! Good-will to men!"
And bells from hamlet, plain, and glen,
In high accord replying.
—MARTHA McCULLOCH-WILLIAMS in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

ST. HELENA.

From The Imperial and Colonial Magazine.

In the old days—not good old days—when East Indiamen went round the Cape, St. Helena was a great port of call and of revictualing.

It was prosperous then, and when in 1815 Napoleon the Great came there as a prisoner its prosperity was at its zenith. The Government had no control over it. The island belonged to the East India Company, and it was only by arrangement with the Board of Directors that it could have been used as a place of deportation for the mighty Emperor. Why was it so well fitted for the purpose? It is in mid-ocean—a thousand and more miles from any continent.

Its coast rises up in precipitous rock from the ocean. Escape, save at the risk of a broken neck, would be almost impossible. Only at one place—Jamestown—on the northeastern coast—could any boat hope to land—and even there only if the elements are kind. This is not always so. There is the roller season. Great rollers come in from the South Atlantic, and often for days there can be little or no communication between an anchored vessel and the rough steps at the end of an embarkation quay. What St. Helena was between 1815 and 1821 it is now, a safe prison. But its prosperity is gone. No one goes there unless compelled by necessity. Once a month a Castle Union steamer calls for a few hours, lands and takes off the mails, discharges one or two officials, or receives them homeward bound, and that is all. Thus did I come to visit it the other day. The Governor was at the castle—a kindly Indian civil servant, certainly, ruling his little island on a moderate salary. There was a half battalion of West Indian troops under Major Westmorland—splendid fellows, in gaudy trappings—and a few gunners. How wistfully they looked at the travelers!

THE ANTIQUITY OF MAN.

From The Nineteenth Century.

In the early part of the present century there was, indeed, no possibility of doubt or disagreement on this subject, for did not every educated person know that the world was created in the year 4004 B. C.? More recently, however, while some leaders in our schools of science have reached the conviction that it is probable that mankind came into being about one hundred thousand years ago, others see reason to believe that this is almost as absurd as Archbishop Ussher's quaint chronology, and that there is little or no doubt that the human race has existed on the face of the earth for more than a million or even two million years.

The theory which would limit the duration of man's existence to one hundred thousand years is based mainly on the grounds that no human bones have been discovered anterior to the Quaternary epoch. But Sir Charles Lyell more than twenty years ago pointed out that although many hundred flint implements, including a large number of knives, had been collected in the alluvial sand and gravel in the valley of the Somme not a single human bone had been found therein. "The absence," he writes, "of all vestige of the bones which belonged to that population by which so many weapons were designed and executed affords a most striking and instructive lesson in regard to the value of negative evidence, when adduced in proof of the non-existence of certain classes of terrestrial animals at given periods of the past."

He also instances the case of the Lake of Haarlem, extending over 45,000 square acres, which the Dutch Government, by means of powerful pumps, converted into dry land in the year 1853. "There had been," he observes, "many a shipwreck and many a naval fight in those waters, and hundreds of Dutch and Spanish soldiers and sailors had met there with a watery grave, yet in the deposits which had constituted for three centuries the bed of the great lake no human bones could be found." One or two wrecked Spanish vessels, some arms of the same period, a few coins, and some shells were all that were discovered.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE NOSE.

From Harper's Bazar.

Very many young children have the bad habit of pushing small hard substances, as shoe-buttons, beans, or pease, into the ears or nostrils. A simple way to remove an object from the nose is to compress the opposite side and make the child blow his nose violently. If he will not do this, induce a sneeze by tickling the nostrils with a feather, blade of grass, or some fluffy substance. If this, too, is not successful, a little pepper or snuff can be used. The hard sneeze will probably remove the obstruction, but always keep the opposite side of nose compressed. If the trouble is in the ear, it is a little more serious, and the object more difficult to remove. Insects, bugs, beads, or small pebbles may be forced out by gently syringing the ear with warm water, or by pouring in a few drops of oil or glycerine. But if the object be large and so tightly wedged in that it cannot be easily removed with the fingers, do not tamper with it, but take the child to a good aurist. If the object be a pea or bean, it is better not to use a syringe, as the water will cause it to swell. An old and excellent way to remove these obstructions is to dip a camel's-hair brush, or small stick which has been tapered off to almost a point, in some stout glue; attach this to the offending body and allow the glue to harden, then gently draw it out.

SPANISH POLICY.

From The International Monthly.

Where they talk among themselves about the consequences of the colonial and American wars, they display their characteristic vigor and frankness in confessing that the loss of the colonies is a good riddance. They bitterly charge the colonies with having been a burden on their finances, a constant drain upon their best male population through army, navy, and emigration, a drag upon their resources of every kind, a source of weakness, and a clog in Europe, as they felt themselves sorely vulnerable in distant and chronically disaffected "provincias de ultramar," last, but not least, a cause of corruption and demoralization as the lawless and profoundly corrupt habits of their colonial administration of every kind had aggravated if possible the very unsatisfactory state of their own administration at home. They are of the opinion that the material advantages derived from the colonies by Spanish capital, industries, agriculture, shipping interests, were but a poor set-off against the greater evils of their rule beyond the seas. Their idea is, therefore, after a more or less prolonged period to settle down within their peninsula, become engrossed in the reorganization and development of the abundant resources of their soil and of their mines, to feed their trade in new channels, husbanding and concentrating all their energies and their spirit of enterprise, both in the peninsula and in fields nearer at hand, so they will after all in the long run, have improved their international position.

They illustrate their modern convention by pointing out, for instance, that their diplomacy will have henceforth not only a better vantage ground from which to go on trying to induce the Spanish-American republics to consent to closer relations, commercial and political, with the old mother country now that she has severed all connection with the New World, but also a better starting point for negotiations such as the Madrid Foreign Office is prosecuting with Minister Storer, to put the commercial and all relations between Spain and the United States on a better footing on the principle of reciprocity of concessions.

FOR THE BOERS.

From The Academy.

I was dug between the third and fourth ribs with the end of a penholder. I turned: my eyes traveled along the instrument of peace till they reached an outstretched arm, and, roaming up a magenta blouse, rested at last upon a homely, cajoling face. It belonged to a young woman, one of three seated behind a red-baize-covered table, on which were spread three tomes, the size of family Bibles, in process of being filled with signatures. "Témoignage de sympathie pour les Boers," said the young woman, again offering me the penholder. Well, I retired; I executed a strategic retreat. On the steps an incident happened that restored me. He was an old Frenchman, distinguished and courteous, and he and I saw the whole incident. He advanced toward me; he raised his hat. He did not speak, but his manner had so exquisite a touch of apology and sympathy that the indignity of the past minutes faded into nothing. "That is not France," I said, waving toward the ribald and insulting scribblings. "That is not France," he cried. "Ah! we of the older generation have memories. We are not swayed by every wind that blows. We do not seek our opinions on the boulevards. We do not have a fresh hysteria with every moon; and bare our souls at the bidding of the loudest screamer. "I"—he breathed heavily—"I have seen the German flag floating over St. Denis; I—I have seen the German troops camped in the Champs Elysées. I speak for France, not for—those."

Travelers' Guide—Railroads.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

STATIONS FOOT OF WEST TWENTY-THIRD STREET AND DESBROSSES AND CORTLANDT STREETS.

☞The leaving time from Desbrosses and Cortlandt Streets is five minutes later than that given below for Twenty-third Street Station, except where otherwise noted.

7:55 A. M.—FAST MAIL.—Limited to two Buffet Parlor Cars New York to Pittsburg. Sleeping Car Pittsburg to Chicago. No coaches to Pittsburg.
9:25 A. M.—FAST LINE.—Pitteburg and Cleveland.
9:35 A. M.—PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED.—Pullman Compartment Sleeping, Dining, Smoking, and Observation Cars. For Chicago, Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis.
1:55 P. M.—CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS EXPRESS.—For Toledo, Nashville, (via Cincinnati and Louisville,) Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis. Dining Car.
5:55 P. M.—ST. LOUIS EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis. Dining Car.
5:55 P. M.—WESTERN EXPRESS.—For Chicago. For Toledo, except Saturday. Dining Car.
7:55 P. M.—PACIFIC EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg and Chicago. For Knoxville, daily, via Shenandoah Valley Route. Connects for Cleveland except Saturday.
8:25 P. M.—CLEVELAND AND CINCINNATI EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg, Cleveland, Cincinnati.

WASHINGTON AND THE SOUTH.

7:55, 8:25, 8:55, 10:10 (Desbrosses and Cortlandt Streets, 10:20) (Dining Car,) 10:55 (Dining Car) A. M., 12:55, 12:55 (Dining Car,) 2:10 (Desbrosses and Cortlandt Streets, 2:20,) 3:25 "Congressional Lim.," all Parlor and Dining Cars,) 3:25, 4:25 (Dining Car,) 4:55 (Dining Car,) 9:25 P. M., 12:10 night. Sunday, 8:25, 8:55, 10:55 (Dining Car) A. M., 12:55, 12:55 (Dining Car,) (3:25 "Congressional Lim." all Parlor and Dining Cars,) 4:25, 4:

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $1,800,000.00.
ST. PAUL. B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Bankers' Cards.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St., NEW YORK,
BUY AND SELL
Investment Securities.
Receive accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals on favorable terms.
Make loans against approved collateral.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS & BROKERS,
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Stocks and Bonds for cash or on margin.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSIT.
Investment Securities.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.,
BANKERS,
11, 13, 15, and 17 Broad St.
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.
Orders executed for investment or on margin. Interest allowed on deposits, subject to check at sight. Act as Financial Agents for Corporations and Investors. Industrial Combinations Organized. Government and other Investment Bonds bought and sold.
BRANCH OFFICES:
22 W. 33d St., opp. Waldorf. 252 5th Av., cor. 25th St.
487 B'way, Silk Ex. bldg. 56 Worth & 39 Thomas St.
87 Hudson St., Merc. Ex. 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

SIMON BORG & CO.,
BANKERS,
No. 20 Nassau St., New York
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

Vermilye & Co.,
BANKERS,
New York and Boston.

Henry L. Wardwell. Edward L. Adams.
Telephone 3243 Broad.
WARDWELL & ADAMS,
STOCK BROKERS,
16 BEAVER ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds, & Investments

I. F. MEAD T. H. CURTIS.
I. F. MEAD & CO.,
44 & 46 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Twenty-five years' membership in N. Y. Stock Exchange.
STOCKS AND BONDS
Bought and Sold for Cash or on Margin.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
38 WALL STREET.

R. J. JACOBS & CO.,
41 New Street, New York.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Investment or on Margin
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

JACOB BERRY & CO.
MEMBERS OF THE CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
Established 1856.
44 and 46 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
Strictly a commission house, working in the interests of our clients and executing all orders upon the Exchanges. Send for our new book describing market movements, also fluctuation sheets and Market Reports.
COMMISSION 1-16.

LEWIS A. MAY & CO.,
Members { N. Y. Consolidated Stock Exchange. N. Y. Produce Exchange.
31 & 33 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Branch Office, Cor. 28th St. & B'way.
Connected by private wires.
MARGINS 2 TO 5 PER CENT. COMMISSION 1-16.
DAILY MARKET LETTERS and our new illustrated book, "WALL STREET," sent free.

Established 1868. Tel. call, 2385 Cortlandt.
FRED. H. SMITH,
STOCK BROKER, 8 BROAD ST., N. Y.
Member New York Con. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds and Grain.
Bought, sold, and carried on margin.
COMMISSION 1-16TH.
Book of Railway Statistics upon application.

Stoppani & Hotchkin,
Members New York Consolidated Stock Exchange,
66 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Telephone, 3078 Cortlandt.
Orders executed for investment or on margin.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON
Branch Office: N. E. cor. Broadway and 30th St.

FINANCIAL.

MORTON TRUST CO.
38 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, Surplus & Undivided Profits, $5,000,000
Levi P. Morton, President.- Thomas F. Ryan, V.-Pres.
James B. Corbiere, 2d V.-P. H. M. Froncis, Sec.
W. Redmond Cross, Treas. H. B. Berry, Trust Officer.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A PLAN of Reorganization of the Hampton Roads Hotel Company has been prepared by the Reorganization Committee, and filed with the Knickerbocker Trust Company, 66 Broadway, N. Y.
H. M. DE LANOIE,
Secretary of the Committee.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

WE LOAN MONEY TO MERCHANTS IN ANY kind of business; also on salaries. 150 Nassau St. Office 729.

FINANCIAL.

$1,000,000
NEWARK, N. J.
New City Hall Bonds.

Sealed proposals for the purchase of Newark, N. J., 30-year 3½ per cent. registered New City Hall Bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 will be received at the office of the Comptroller, in said city, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Friday, December 28th, 1900. For circulars containing conditions and information, address
FREDERICK T. JOHNSON
COMPTROLLER,
Newark, N. J.

One Burrows Gas Light is Equal to 10 OF ANY OTHER.
COSTS THE SAME
In order to fill the avalanche of orders received for plants, it has become necessary to get a factory at once. A limited amount of treasury stock will be sold at $5 per share (par $10, fully paid and non-assessable). Mail orders accompanied by check filled in the order received.
BURROWS LIGHT CO.
202 BROADWAY.

LAST OPPORTUNITY to secure Treasury Stock of THE
"TRIPLER LIQUID AIR COMPANY"
at $7.00 a share—(par value $10), full paid and non-assessable.
BOOKS CLOSE DEC. 18TH.
This company was awarded the "Grand Prix" at PARIS; its patents in the United States and in all foreign countries are BROAD, FUNDAMENTAL, EXCLUSIVE and UNASSAILABLE.
It has placed the manufacture and use of Liquid Air on a commercial basis as a motive power for Automobiles and Engines, Refrigeration, Chemical agent and aid to surgery. Its rapid and increasingly profitable development all over the civilized world is unquestionably a matter of the near future. THIS COMPANY ABSOLUTELY CONTROLS THE WHOLE LIQUID AIR FIELD.
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
25% cash; balance in 3 monthly payments. No order filled for less than TWENTY shares.
Make all checks payable to
GERALD M. FENNELL & COMPANY,
Fiscal Agents for the United States,
11 Broadway, New York.
Orders filled at $7, if mailed by the 16th.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.
At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficeint Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 21st day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.
Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.
WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

The Exploration Co. of New York,
Mills Building, Wall St., N. Y.,
HAS FOR SALE
6% GOLD BONDS,
(Denomination $100, $500, $1,000.)
Price: Par and accrued interest.
Secured by one of its most valuable investment properties.

OIL—INVEST IN OIL.—Greatest opportunity to make a great amount of money from small investment in Oil since the days of Pennsylvania Oil excitement. We have 1,900 acres of Oil lands near the great 7,000 barrel gushers in the wonderful Sand Fork Oil Fields in Lewis County, W. Va. Portion of our stock offered at 5 cents on the dollar. Money to be used in drilling wells. Property all paid for. Stock full paid and non-assessable. For further particulars address—
SAND FORK OIL & GAS CO.,
Peabody Building, Wheeling, W. Va.

WANTED — A WELL-ESTABLISHED NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE HOUSE WITH LARGE CLIENTELE DESIRES $150,000 TO $300,000 EXTRA CAPITAL, EITHER ACTIVE OR SPECIAL; WILL PAY SIX PER CENT. ON AMOUNT FURNISHED AND GIVE SHARE OF PROFITS; SATISFACTORY REASONS FURNISHED. ADDRESS HOLT, BOX 104 TIMES OFFICE.

ARLINGTON COPPER STOCK.
A small block of stock for sale. Address "COPPER," Box 113 Times Office.

WANTED—From principal, $125,000 on mortgage; property appraised at $200,000; well leased. BAKER, 106 Lexington Av.

Dividends.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Reading Co. and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., New York, will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M. W. G. BROWN, Sec'y.
Philadelphia, Dec. 13th, 1900.

TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE HOCKING VALley Railway Company First Consolidated 4½ Per Cent. Registered Bonds will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due January 1st, 1901, and will reopen January 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
WM. N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, December 13, 1900.

Office of
Buffalo Hump Mining Company,
Stokes Building, 45 Cedar Street,
New York, December 14th, 1900.
A dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the outstanding capital stock of this Company has been declared, payable January 2d to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 20th.
F. J. KILNER,, Secretary.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE FIRST Consolidated Mortgage 5 per cent. registered bonds of the Southern Railway Company will close at the office of the company, 80 Broadway, New York, Friday, December 21, at 3 P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
JOSIAH F. HILL, Sec'y.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 15, 1900.

Williamsburgh Trust Company.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
A SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND OF THREE PER CENT. has been declared, payable Jan'y 2d, 1901, to shareholders of record at the close of business Dec. 20, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from Dec. 21st, 1900, to Jan'y 2d, 1901, both days inclusive.
W. ADDISON FIELD, Sec'y.

United Traction and Electric Company.
Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 18, 1900.
A dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Capital Stock of this Company will be paid to the registered holders on the 2d day of January, 1901. Transfer books will be closed on the 19th inst., and will reopen January 3d, 1901.
C. S. SWEETLAND, Treasurer.

The State Bank, 378 Grand St.
The Board of Directors of this bank have declared a semi-annual dividend of Eight Per Cent. upon the stock of this bank, free of tax, payable on and after January 2, 1901. The transfer books will remain closed until that date.
A. I. VOORHIS, Cashier.

Meetings and Elections.

Empire City Fire Insurance Company,
50 Wall St., NEW YORK, Dec. 6, 1900.
At the annual election for Directors of this company, held on the 3d instant, the following-named gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year:

John M. Burke,	Henry W. Curtiss,
Charles H. Kerner,	Charles H. Leland,
Henry C. Mortimer,	Walter R. Wood,
John W. Condit,	David J. Burtis,
Lindley Murray, Jr.,	Francis M. Scott,
Charles H. Lowerre,	J. Eugene Robert,
George M. Miller.

For Inspectors of Election for the year 1901: Areunah M. Burtis, Wm. M. Farrington, Thomas B. Peck.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. LINDLEY MURRAY, Jr., was unanimously re-elected President.
DAVID J. BURTIS, Secretary.

Office of the American Coal Company,
No. 1 Broadway,
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of the American Coal Company of Allegany County, Maryland, will be held at the Company's office in the City of New York, on Thursday, the 27th day of December, 1900, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock P. M.
The transfer books will be closed on December 17th, at 3 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the morning of December 28th, 1900.
GEO. M. BOWLBY, Secretary.

The Western National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
7th December, 1900.
The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, for the election of Directors, will be held at the Banking House, No. 15 Nassau Street, on TUESDAY, January 8th, 1901. The Polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
H. A. SMITH, Cashier.

The Mechanics' National Bank
of the City of New York,
Dec. 8th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, No. 33 Wall St., on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association,
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The Hanover National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 9 and 11 Nassau Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 1 o'clock P. M.
WILLIAM LOGAN, Cashier.

Continental National Bank,
7 Nassau Street,
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking House on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
Polls open from 12 M. to 1:00 P. M.
A. H. TIMPSON, Cashier.

The National Butchers and Drovers' Bank.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking rooms, No. 683-685 Broadway, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.

Savings Banks.

NORTH RIVER SAVINGS BANK,
269 West 34th Street, (Near Eighth Avenue.)
70th SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
The Board of Trustees have directed that interest be credited depositors on Dec. 31st, 1900, at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. per annum on sums of $5.00 to $3,000.
Deposits made on or before January 10th will draw interest from January 1st.
SAMUEL D. STYLES, President.
ALEXANDER C. MILNE, Treasurer.
IRVING M. SHAW, Secretary.

Copartnership Notices.

Dec. 15th, 1900.
The undersigned beg to announce that they have this day formed a copartnership under the firm name of O. J. BRAND & CO., at 18 Wall Street, for the transaction of a general Stock Exchange and Bond business.
O. J. BRAND.
A. S. H. JONES.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.
Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 15.—The local market has hardly as yet apparently "caught the bull step" that is on in New York. And yet the trading to-day was of good-sized proportions. The copper shares were inclined to drag much of the time, and none of them made any noteworthy gains.

Amalgamated was still the "soft" spot in the list, and at one time broke again to 89¾, but appeared to get inside support around 90, at which figure it closed. Butte lifted 2 points just at the close, to 82; Montana fell off as much, to 325; the South Range properties—Baltic, Trimountain, and Copper Range—were all sustained. The feeling on Baltic is, if anything, more confident than ever, and to-day's buying was most excellent. United States showed signs of fresh strength, gaining a fraction, to 10, on an inside demand. Parrot sold at 48 and 47¾, and Arcadian was up ½, to 21½.

In the general list the trading in Cochiti was active and the price at one time was up to 10½, but later it sold off to 10, and closed a fraction above that figure. The trading in Massachusetts Electric securities, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and Northern Pacific, and Atchison reached large proprotions. The closing came active and generally firm.

At the local Clearing House to-day money loaned between the banks at 4½ and 4 per cent., all new loans being made at the last-named figure, and New York funds, in active request, sold at par and 5 cents premium.

The minimum rate for both call and time money is 5 per cent. Exceptionally strong names and collateral find a few buyers outside of banks at 4½ per cent. for four to six months.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure ..	6¾	7	Old Colony..	3	4
Allouez	2¼	2¾	Old Domin...	27½	28
Arcadian	21	21½	Osceola	72	73
Arnold	4¾	5¼	Parrot	47½	48
Ash Bed.....	.25	.50	Quincy	107	172
Atlantic	26	27	Rhode Island ..		3½
Baltic	29¼	29½	Santa Fé....	6½	6¾
Bost. & Mon.	323	325	Santa Ysabel.	2¼	2½
Butte & Bos.	80½	..	Shoe		32¼
Centennial ..	20¾	21	Tamarack	283	286
Franklin	15	16	Utah Cons...	33⅝	33¾
Humboldt	.50	..	Washington.	50	..
Isle Royale..	23¾	..	Winona	3	3½
Mohawk	22	23	Wolverine ..	45½	48

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	247¾	..	Cent. M. pf.	62	..
Bost. & Low.	212	..	Fitchburg pf.	137	138
Bost. & Me.	195½	196	N. Y. & N. E. 6s....	109	..
Bost. & Pr..	300	..	N. Y. & N.		..
Bost. Elev...	135	156½	E. 7s.....	..	114½
Bost. G. 5s...	79	83	West End....	93	93½
Cent. Mass...	14	14½

Miscellaneous Stocks.

A. T. & T..	166½	167	N. Eng. Tel.	126½	128
Chi. Stk. Y.	141½	143	C. S. Oil...	..	12
Dom. Coal...	38	39	Westinghouse Electric ...	54½	..
Dom. C. pf..	112½	113¼	Westinghouse Elect. pf....	65	..
Eric Tel....	101	102
Mex. Tel....	2½	2⅝

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.
Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—The local market received another setback to-day in a further decline in Asphalt of America 5s to 61½. One week ago they were at 69. Last year they commanded 97. The present slump is due to an adverse decision affecting the title of the company to valuable asphalt beds in Venezuela. The decision is clearly against the Asphalt Company of America, and gives a portion of its property to a would-be competitor. Following close upon litigation over the pending consolidation with the National Asphalt Company, this latest development was a hard blow to public confidence, which manifested itself in heavy selling of the first 5s, as well as the issues of the National Asphalt Company, all of which sold at low-record prices.

Otherwise the Philadelphia market was buoyant, with emphasis upon Pennsylvania, the Readings, Lehigh Valley, and Choctaw. Pennsylvania Steel rose a point, to 75. Philadelphia Company returned to 41. International Powder, which sold yesterday at 8, now commands 9¾ bid. Marsden rallied to 7⅞.

The close was strong, at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry., Lt.	35	36	Lehigh Nav..	58½	59
Cambria	20¼	20½	Lehigh Val..	27⅞	28
Choctaw	38¾	38⅞	Marsden	7	7¼
C. T., N. J.	59	60	North. Penn.	105	109
C. T., N. J., 5s.....	108¾	109	Penn. Steel..	74	75
C. T., Pitts..	25¼	25⅝	Pressed S. pf.	93	95
E. & F. 4s.	99¾	100	Peop. Tr. 4s.	108	108½
El. Stge. B..	80	85	Phila. & S..	29½	30
E. S. B. pf.	85	90	Phila. Trac...	99¾	100
E. Co. of A.	8⅞	9	Union Trac..	36¾	36⅞
H. & B. T..	18	20	U. Co's, N. J.	271¾	275
H. & B. T. pf.	49	50	U. Gas Imp.	12¼	12½
			Welsbach Lt.	48	49

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION

Professional speculators taking pessimistic views of the business situation, working to create scares and upset the security market's equanimity, have been badly punished. Such traders became very bearish a fortnight ago over what they declared was the certain prospect of money market stringency; and at the beginning of the past week they were not only of positive opinion but united in aggressive attacks upon quotations. An extended short interest did exist throughout the market, and it materially increased up to a couple of days ago—it being the popular professional estimate that surplus reserves would be found exhausted with the issuance of yesterday's Clearing House bank statement. In some parts of the market concentrated adverse efforts reaulted in rather substantial declines, but the stock list as a whole showed suggestive sturdiness, most of the standard stocks yielding not at all even when vigorous raids were specially made upon them. It was not, however, until Friday that more than negative strength showed; then actual buoyancy developed suddenly, and up to the close of business for the week there was continuing improvement attendant upon extraordinary activity. The exhibit of yesterday's market movement was equal even to the enthusiasm reflected in the record-breaking market that close followed the election.

When the weekly bank statement appeared it proved to be very different from any of the sensational forecasts. Instead of a reserve shrinkage of from seven to ten millions—such had been ordinary bear proclamations—there was shown an actual increase of some hundreds of thousands of dollars. This surprise was denounced as wicked manipulation, but the denunciation crowd could command scant sympathy, so cocksure and so violent had they been in their antagonism of every stockholding interest. Some had even been talking panic, insisting that money rates following this bank statement must of a sudden go rushing up to a point where wholesale security market liquidation would be enforced.

Very urgent seemed to be the buying in some parts of the market, and issues like those of the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific, as well as of the higher class stocks like those of St. Paul, Burlington, Pennsylvania, and the Vanderbilts, advanced easily and substantially. Yet veteran observers were disinclined to believe that the widely extended short interest was very much reduced by the covering purchases. Rather there seemed to be in some parts of the market stubborn resistance indicative of further increase in the short interest. European shorts, rather than the shorts of Wall Street's own bear traders, have been diminished. But that nevousness was pronounced in every bear quarter was one of the clear exhibits.

The security market disposition of those interests which are most influential in the financial world is not open to doubt. They do not hesitate to state with explicitness their confidence in the healthfulness of current business conditions. With practical unanimity they declare their expectation that National good times are to expand. Leaders of this calibre seldom talk much for publication, but the counsel they give to personal friends is unequivocal—counsel based on belief in the certainty of lasting business prosperity. But they act more than they talk—and the action of Mr. Morgan, Mr. Vanderbilt, Messrs. Rockefeller, James J. Hill, A. J. Cassatt, D. O. Mills, and the colleagues of such leaders, is now largely an open book. They are not affecting mystery. They are bulls—and that in the broader sense of what the Wall Street term denotes.

But this judgment is narrower than the coup warrants, for every one of the anthracite-railroads has direct interests in the transaction by which independent production and threatened competitive transportation lines are eliminated. No obstacle now remains to the establishment of that policy of concentrated control in the coal trade of which Franklin P. Gowen and Thomas A. Scott once dreamed. A central selling agency is no longer obstructed. Increased profits are of easy accomplishment—and that, too, without the imposition of burdens upon the consuming public, so vast are possible operating economies.

Though, as yet, no sign is made of similar satisfactory development in the bituminous coal field, there also will appear before long the force and good sense of a unified interest and a concentrated control.

And what is in course of accomplishment in the coal trade is but suggestive of broader developments in the railway field as a whole—dominating financial influences combining for the maintenance of equitable transportation rates and the extinction of extravagances in management.

In some parts of the market weakness shows without any adverse manipulative effort being required to produce it. Amalgamated Copper, (the Copper Trust,) and the Sugar Trust are notable illustrations. It is theorized of them that insiders are working to get quotations down so as to be able to acquire cheap stock. If this be true, insiders are engaged in despicable proceedings—scheming to damage the interests of their own stockholders in order to profit personally. Amalgamated Copper, whose promoters have claimed Standard Oil support, went upon the Stock Exchange a fortnight ago at a figure something like ten points above where it is selling now—having scored an almost uninterrupted daily decline. In Sugar Trust inaiders announce that they are worried over threats of new competition. What is in both of these properties clearer than anything else is that nothing about their affairs is clear. They are capitalized myateries, blind pools; and the New York Stock Exchange is not courageous enough to make them—and the like of them—deal frankly and fairly with the public. Just for the sake of a few commissions the Stock Exchange licenses them to befuddle the public.

Meetings of important railways in the Vanderbilt list may have effective sequels within a few days. New York Central is able to make an extraordinary exhibit. There are to be developments in the Nickel Plate property.

A quiet report has it that Vanderbilt interests have acquired a substantial holding in the People's Gas Company of Chicago.

SATURDAY.

Stocks buoyant.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 15.....	818,519
To date this year.....	123,982,983
Corresponding date last year....	167,245,268

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 15.....	$2,907,500
To date this year.....	$526,811,580
Corresponding date last year....	$810,502,640

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 4 per cent.; at three months, 5 per cent.; at six months, 5 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4½@4¾ per cent.

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. C. & F. pf.	½	Hocking Val. pf.	1¼
Am. Ice pf.	1	Illinois Central	1½
Am. S. & R. pf.	1¾	Int. Paper	⅝
Am. Steel Hoop	½	Iowa Central	⅞
Am. Sugar Ref.	1¾	Lake Erie & W.	1
Am. Tin Plate	½	Louis. & Nash.	¾
Am. Tobacco	1	Manhattan	⅞
At., T. & S. F.	1⅝	Met. Street Ry.	1¼
At., T. & S. F. pf.	½	Minn. & St. L. pf.	1
Balt. & Ohio	⅞	M., St. P. & S. S. M. pf.	.5
Balt. & Ohio pf.	½	Mobile & Ohio	⅞
Brooklyn R. T.	1	Missouri Pacific	1
Brooklyn Union Gas	1	National Biscuit	½
Buff., R. & P.	3	National Salt	1¼
Canada South.	⅝	National Tube	1
Chi. & Alton pf.	½	N. J. Central	½
Chi. & E. Ill.	½	New York Central	½
Chi. & E. Ill. pf.	1½	N. Y., C. & St. L.	2d
Chi. Great W.	⅝	N. Y., C. & St. L. pf.	1
Chi. G. W. pf., A	⅝	Norf. & West. pf.	1⅝
Chi. G. W. pf., B	2¾	Northern Pacific	½
Chi. G. W. deb.	3	North. Pac. pf.	1¼
Chi., Ind. & L.	1¼	Pacific Mail	½
Chi., L. & L. pf.	1	People's Gas	½
Chi., M. & St. P.	1⅞	Pressed Steel Car	1
C., M. & St. P. pf.	½	Pressed S. C. pf.	1½
Chi. & N. West.	½	Reading	1
Chi., R. I. & Pac.	⅞	Reading 1st pf.	⅝
Chi. Term. Trans.	½	Reading 2d pf.	⅝
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	1½	Rep. Steel	⅝
Col. Fuel & Iron	1½	Rep. Steel pf.	1½
Col. So. 2d pf.	½	St. L. & S. F.	½
Consol. Gas	2	St. L. & S. F. 1st pf.	⅝
Cont. Tobacco	½	St. L. S. W. pf.	⅝
Del. & Hudson	¼	Southern Railway	⅝
Del., L. & W.	1½	Southern Ry. pf.	½
Des M. & Ft. D.	1½	Texas & Pac. L. Tr.	1
Federal Steel	½	Union Pacific	2
Federal Steel pf.	½	Union Pacific pf.	¾
General Electric	1	U. S. Leather pf.	¾
Great North. pf.	5	U. S. Rubber 1st pf.	½
Hocking Valley	2⅝	Wis. Central	½

Stocks Declined.

Amal. Copper	⅜	Kan. City So. pf.	½
Am. Ice	⅜	U. S. Rubber	⅛
Am. Smelt. & R.	½	U. S. Rubber pf.	1⅞

Net changes in bond quotations of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Col. Mid. 1st 4s	1	Kings Co. Elev. 1st	1
Erie 1st con. 7s	1½	N. Y., O. & W. ref. 4s	1
Ill. Cent. coll. tr. 4s, 1952	1

Bonds Declined.

Chi. & Erie 1st	1	L. V. of N. Y. 4½s, reg.	2
Ill. Cent. coll. tr. 4s, 1953	1

YESTERDAY'S MARKET.

The stock market yesterday was buoyant and rampantly bullish. Prices went up with a rush all through the list under the stimulus of heavy buying for London account—fully 75,000 shares being taken by foreigners—and for the same large financial interests at home who lately have been conspicuous as purchasers. The fear of tight money had effectually disappeared, preceding the bank statement, but when that exhibit was presented, showing an actual increase in surplus reserves instead of the predicted large decrease, bullish sentiment spread, and commission house buying on a fairly considerable scale appeared. The close was easily at the best for the day, and very strong.

As on the previous day the standard railway stocks led in the advance, conspicuous strength developing in Northern Pacific, St. Paul, Great Northern, the Atchisons, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, and Nickel Plate second preferred. Coincident with the advances were heard many reports of "deals," "favorable developments," and the like. Nothing definite, however, was disclosed, but that closer working relations between some of the systems will shortly come to pass—eliminating rate cutting—railway authorities assert is assured.

The industrial list also was strong. The steel and iron stocks were helped by the favorable reports of excellent conditions in the iron trade.

THE BANK STATEMENT.

The bank statement, issued yesterday, shortly before the close of business, was an agreeable surprise. Instead of surplus reserves being entirely wiped out, as had been so freely predicted, there was an actual increase of $624,250, and this in the face of a loss of cash of about $4,000,000, specie decreasing $5,149,100, while legal-tenders increased $1,179,200. Loans decreased no less than $13,682,500, and deposits decreased $18,376,600. It was these decreases that so favorably affected the surplus reserve item, the legal requirements being reduced over $4,000,000 by the decrease in deposits.

The stock market had been buoyant preceding the publication of the figures under the stimulus of very heavy buying. This buying increased when the figures were made public, with the result that prices closed decidedly strong and at the best for the day.

The week's averages of the banks compare as follows with the same date one and two years ago:

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Loans	$792,780,000	$676,409,900	$708,555,800
Deposits	842,668,100	739,540,300	806,932,100
Circulation ..	30,724,300	16,036,300	16,341,700
Specie	157,635,300	141,230,600	164,325,100
Legal tenders	59,337,100	50,680,300	54,376,300
Total res...	$216,992,400	$191,910,900	$218,701,400
Reserve req'd	210,447,025	184,885,075	201,728,025
Surp. res...	$6,545,375	$7,025,825	$16,973,375

CONFIDENCE IN THE MARKET.

Herewith are views yesterday expressed to a representative of THE NEW YORK TIMES by Stock Exchange authorities, all practically agreeing that the new activity and strength in the stock market are warranted by business and financial developments:

H. H. HOLLISTER, of Hollister & Babcock—The prosperity of the country is simply remarkable. There has never been anything like it. There is nothing but confidence, for we have killed all the bad things. Our tremendous exports of manufactured articles continue to increase. Intelligent concentration is going on in the management of railways and commercial enterprises, which means stability of rates, economy, and greater net earning powers. The schemes in the minds of the great financial and business leaders of the country that are now being developed are magnificent in their conception, and in their necessary results. It looks as if for the first time Europe has begun to buy our securities instead of to sell, as lately it has done. I expect to see the prices of securities during the coming year so high as to make one dizzy. At the present moment I think they are still selling on a conservative basis.

FRANK K. STURGIS, of Strong, Sturgis & Co.—The only thing in the stock market situation that is to be watched between now and the first of the year is money. Everything else is absolutely favorable, and if no serious developments in the money situation appear—and at the present it looks as if none would—I think prices on the Stock Exchange will go considerably higher and will steadily improve after the new year. There is an immense amount of money being invested on waiting investment, and this cannot fail to influence prices.

M. W. DOMINICK, of Dominick & Dominick—The market, in my judgment, is a great runaway bull market. Just think of it, there are $150,000,000 to be invested in the next few weeks, and that it will be, in fact, is being, invested is assured, for the country is so prosperous that there is no room for pessimism or doubt as to the future.

F. M. DICK of Dick Brothers & Co.—The disposition of the market to remain quiet, although strong, owing to the fear of money complications, has been dissipated by the announcement of the purchase of the Pennsylvania Coal Company by Mr. Morgan. Almost thirty years ago, when Franklin B. Gowen bought for the Reading Railroad 100,000 acres of coal lands, he had in view every condition which exists today, but, unfortunately, for the company and the stockholders, he was a quarter of a century ahead of his time. Bankruptcy for the road and losses to the shareholders were the results. The acquisition of new collieries by the Ontario and Western and the purchase of the Pennsylvania Coal Company in the interest of the Erie emphasize the fact that anthracite lands are limited, and the prices paid for these newly acquired securities are virtually a guarantee of dividends on anthracite stocks. For three years the Reading Railroad has earned very much more than the dividend on its preferred stock, and the profits have been used to put the property in such shape that now it can mine coal as cheaply as any one. According to the figures of The London Statist, including betterments, sinking funds, renewals, &c.; the company earned $6,500,000 over fixed charges in the past year, and the dividend on the first preferred stock requires but $1,000,000. This is why Reading stocks have been heavily bought. Delaware and Hudson has beene more active and higher than for some time, and when we remember that it was formerly quoted on a parity with Lackawanna and above Jersey Central, with its dividend record being surpassed by few, it certainly looks attractive at the price. In fact, in my judgment, we will see higher prices all around. The prosperity of the country warrants them.

C. A. MORSE, JR., of George E. Armstrong & Co.—While the money situation has more or less deterred operators from making large engagements, it now seems to be sufficiently clear to give confidence for the new year. The supply of stocks in the Street is so small, because of recent withdrawals for investors, that one feels little hesitation in paying 6 per cent. or so for money for a short time. There is no question about the trade of the country being on an excellent basis, but even a more important factor, from the standpoint of a Wall Street dealer at the present time, is the imminence of a great number of important railway deals, which are likely to affect the leading systems in all parts of the country within the next six months. There is now a community of ownership of railroad properties in this country, such as has never before been known, and the result is bound to be beneficial for the holders of the securities of all the great systems. Rate cutting will soon be a thing of the past, because rate making will be directed more and more by the executive heads of our great systems. There is always danger in getting the market overbought, but holders of stocks at around current figures have

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Dullness prevailed in most outside stocks yesterday, and with very few exceptions the day's transactions brought little change in quotations. The market, however, was fairly strong, and changes in prices were nearly all on the side of advances. The notable strength of the Stock Exchange market was not reflected to any large extent in curb market transactions, and there were few if any developments of any importance directly affecting outside stocks.

ELECTRIC BOAT was one of the strongest of the industrials, although in this as in other issues the day's total was very small. Transactions in the common stock amounted to only about 500 shares, but these purchases proved sufficient to advance the price very considerably. Very little stock was offered, and after the last sale, which was made at 27, the stock was bid up to 28, and closed at that figure, with a net gain of two points. The preferred stock, in which only one sale was reported, closed with a net gain of one point at 46 bid.

STANDARD OIL advanced more sharply than on any day since the reaction which followed the advance which recently carried the stock to 825. It closed at 812 bid, a net gain of ten points. Transactions were light.

UNION COPPER was the most active of the copper shares and the only one of the group that advanced. It sold up to 51, and closed at 50¾ bid, against 49¾ bid on Friday.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER was also active, but it closed unchanged for the day at 20 bid.

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT was in considerable demand and closed strong at 12 bid, a net gain of half a point. Relatively little stock was offered and the advance was not accompanied by any large transactions.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was quiet and slightly lower than on the previous day. The common declined an eighth, closing at 6 bid, and the preferred ended the day a quarter of a point lower at 25¼ bid.

RUBBER GOODS was strong. Several hundred shares sold at 30⅜, and the preferred stock was in demand at 81½, with little stock offered.

Closing quotations yesterday, compared with those of the previous day, were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Dec. 15. Bid.	Asked.	Dec. 14. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	26	27	26	27
Am. Agricul. Chem. pf.	79	80	79	80
American Bankn'te	47	50	47	49
American Bicycle	6⅝	7¼	6½	7¼
American Bicycle pf.	27	29	28	29
American Bridge	43	43⅝	43	43⅝
American Bridge pf.	92½	92¾	92	92½
American Chicle	69	70	69	70
American Chicle bonds.	74½	76	74½	76
American Chicle pf.	82	85	82	85
Am. Hide & Leather.	10	10½	10	10¾
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	37	38	37	38
Am. Hide & Leather 6s	89½	90½	89½	90½
American Thread pf.	4	4½	4	4½
American Tobacco	21½	22	21½	22
American Woolen	72⅝	73	72¾	73
Am. Typefounders	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	85	87	83	87
Arlington Copper	5	6	5	7
British Columbia Copper	20	20½	20	20½
British Exch. 3s	98	99	98	99
California Copper	1⅞	2	1¾	1¾
Caat-Iron Pipe	5	5½	5	5½
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.	30½	31½	30½	31½
Central & So. Am. Tel.	104	106	104	106
Central Fireworks	25	35	25	35
Central Fireworks pf.	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	44½	46	44	46
Con. Ry. L. & Power	12	12½	11½	11¾
Con. Rubber Tire	5	6	5	6
Con. Rubber Tire pf.	22	25	22	25
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	17	18	17	17⅝
Crucible Steel pf.	79	80	79	80
Cramps' Shipyard	77	78	77	78
Dist. Co. of Ky. certs.	38	39	38	39
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. certs.	95½	96	95½	96
Electric Boat	27	29	27	29
Electric Boat pf.	45	46	45	46
Electric Vehicle	48½	49½	48½	49½
Electric Vehicle pf.	19	20	19	20
Electric Pneumatic	45	47	45	47
Flemington Coal & Coke	18	20	17	19
General Carriage	1½	4½	3	5
General Chemical	57	58	57	58
General Chemical pf.	97½	99	97½	99
German Treasury 4s	100	100½	100	100⅜
Havana Commercial	7½	9½	7½	9½
Havana Commercial pf.	40½	43	40½	43
Hudson River Tel.	115	118	115	118
Illinois Transportation	8	11½	8	11½
International Silver pf.	35	40	35	40
Inter-State Oil	18	20	17½	20
Iron Steamboat	3	4	3	4
Iron Steamboat bonds	55	65	55	65
Isaacth Lorine Mining	1	2	1	2
Kings Co. El L. & P.	135	140	135	139
Lorillard pf.	100	105	100	105
Manheim & Stumpo	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp.	80	84	80	84
National Graphophone	1	1½	1	1½
National Sugar pf.	100½	102	100½	102
New England Wringsort.	21	25	21	25
N. Y. Transportation	69	71	69	71
Otis Elevator	36	37	36	37
Otis Elevator pf.	86	88	86	88
Peo. Dec. & Evansville	17½	19	17½	19½
Phila., Bess. & Lake Erie	29½	29½	29	29½
Refrof	32	35	32	35
Refrof bonds	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	93½	95½	93½	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.	30½	31	30½	30⅝
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf.	81½	82½	81½	82
Safety Car Heat & Light.	117	118½	118	120
St. Louis Transit	20	20½	20	20½
Seaboard Air Line	22	23	22	23
Seaboard Air Line pf.	11	12	11	12
Seaboard Air Line 5s	103½	104	103½	104
Seaboard Air Line 6s	28	29	28	29
Sheet Steel pf.	32	33	32	33
Southern Light & Trac.	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	31	35	30	35
Standard Coupler pf.	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J.	810	815	810	815
Storage Power	11	13	11	13
Tennessee Copper	17	19	17	19
Tel., Tel. & C. of A., $10 paid	3½	3½	3	3½
Trenton Potteries	6	8	6	9
Trenton Potteries pf.	55	60	55	60
Union Copper	5⅜	5½	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	35½	38	35½	36½
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	110½	112½	110½	112½
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	110	112	110	112
United Rys. of St. L. 4s	85½	86	85½	85½
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	69½	69¾	69¾	69¾
Va. Coal, I. & R.	3	5	3	5
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	25	35	30	35
Westinghouse Air Brake	365	366	370	370
Worthington Pump pf.	110	112	110	112

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $10.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st	102½	102½	102½	102½
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d	119	119	119	119
Broadway Surface 1st 5s	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d	102½	103½	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R.	231	233	230	231
Brooklyn B. & W. R.	101½	103	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E. R. 7s	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	32½	33	32½	33
Columbus Railway pf.	89	92	89	92
Con. Traction of N. J.	58	60	58	60
Con. Traction 4s	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N. Av. 1st	113½	115	113½	115
42d St., M. St. N. Av. 2d	99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry.	27	30	27	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	78½	80	78½	80
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¾	20	21¾
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s	82½	83	82½	81
Nassau Electric 4s	86½	89	87	90
New Orleans Traction	22	23
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R.	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R. R. 4s	87	88	87	88
North Jersey St. R. R. 2d	23½	24½	23½	25½
Orange & Pass. V. bonds	93	95	93	95
Second Av. R. R. consols	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.	290	300	290	300
Stein Ry. Co. 1st 6s	116½	118	116½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit	15	17	15	17
Syracuse Rap. Trans. pf.	30	40	30	40
28th & 29th St. 5s	112½	114½	113¼	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac.	32½	34½	32½	35½
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf.	101	103	107	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1	2	1	2
Buffalo (N. Y.) & Susq.	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st	68	...	68	...
Central Union 5s, std.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Gas 5s	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark	53	...	53	...
Con. Gas of Newark bds.	104	106	104	106
Con. Gas of New Jersey	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	...	80	...
Consrs' Gas (J. C.) bds.	105½	106	105½	106
Denver Gas	19	21	19	21
Denver Gas 5s	62	63	62	63
Essex & Hudson Gas	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	62	70	62	70
Indianapolis Gas bds. 6s	95½	97½	97	100
Mutual Gas of N. Y.	295	299	295	299
Madison (Wis.) stock	70	75	70	75
New Amsterdam Gas 5s	103¼	104¾	103¾	104
N. E. Gas & Coke	12	14	12	14
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s	63	65	63	65
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st	112½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	106	108	106	109
Northern Union Gas	105½	106¼	106	107
Nor. Hud. L. H. & P. Co. 5s	56	58	55	56
Nor. H. L. H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego)	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1929	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.)	38	39	38	38¼
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock	...	50	...	50
St. Paul Gas bonds	75	80	77	81
Standard Gas, New York	131	133	130	132
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	156	153	156
Standard Gas 1st	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock	9	10	0	10
Western Gas	99	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s	107	109	107	109

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19½	21	19½	21
Brooklyn Ferry 1s	84	87	84	87
East River Ferry	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s	96	98	90	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s	94½	95	94½	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st	110½	112½	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	30	31½	30	31½
Union Ferry bonds	91	92	91	92

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Bond Transactions.

U S con 2s, coup 25,000 105
U S 3s, registered 1,500 ..... 109⅞
Am Cotton Oil 4½s 1,000 ..... 98¾
Atch, Top & S F gen 4s 26,000 ..... 102⅞ 2,000 ..... 102⅞ 20,000 ..... 102⅞ Adjustment 4s 15,000 ..... 88¼ 27,000 ..... 88½ 39,000 ..... 88⅝
Atlan & Dan 4s 10,000 ..... 84½
Balt & Ohio 4s 12,000 ..... 100⅜ 12,000 ..... 100⅝
Balt & Ohio 3½s 11,000 ..... 97 10,000 ..... 97½
Balt & Ohio, S'w'n Div 3½s 6,000 90
B'klyn Rap T 5s 1,000 107
B'klyn Un El 1st 10,000 ..... 97½
Cent of Ga con 5s 26,000 97
Cent of Ga 1st inc 20,000 ..... 53½
Cent Pac gtd 4s 5,000 ..... 100⅝
Cent Pac gtd 3½s 5,000 ..... 83½
C & O gen 4½s 50,000 104
Chi & Alton 3½s 33,000 ..... 85⅜ 25,000 ..... 85⅝ 30,000 ..... 85⅞
Chi & Erie 1st 5s 5,000 ..... 120 15,000 122
Chi, M & St Paul con 4s Ser A 7,000 ..... 114½
Col F & I gen 5s 22,000 ..... 97½ 5,000 ..... 97¼
Col Mid 1st 4s 4,000 80
Col Mid 1st 3½s 4,000 ..... 79½
Col & South 1st 4s 5,000 85
Denver & Rio Gr con 4s 5,000 ..... 101¾
Dul & Iron R 1st 10,000 ..... 110½ 2,000 ..... 110½
5,000 111
10,000 ..... 110¾
Erie 1st con 7s 5,000 ..... 140½
Erie 1st con 4s 150,000 ..... 96 40,000 ..... 95⅞ 62,000 96
10,000 ..... 95⅞
85,000 96
Erie 1st gen 4s 15,000 ..... 82½ 15,000 ..... 82⅝ 1,000 ..... 83 7,000 ..... 82⅞ 10,000 ..... 82⅝ 15,000 ..... 82⅝ 50,000 ..... 82⅝ 50,000 83
Ft Worth & D C 1st 10,000 ..... 78½
Ft Worth & Rio G 1st 5-6s 10,000 68
Gal, Har & S A, Mex & P Div 5s 10,000 ..... 100 4,000 ..... 100½
Gen Elec deb 5s 6,000 ..... 142 3,000 ..... 142⅝
Green Bay & West deb ctfs, A 4,000 ..... 61¼ 5,000 ..... 62 2,000 ..... 62¼ 1,000 ..... 61½
Ill Cent 4s, 1952 5,000 104
Ill Cent 4s, 1953 5,000 ..... 103½
Ill Cent, St L Div 3s 1,000 92
Int & G N, Nor 5s 1,000 57
Kansas City So 3s 1,000 ..... 68⅞ 2,000 ..... 68¾
Kings Co El 4s 5,000 88
Lehigh V of N Y 1st 10,000 ..... 111½ Registered 15,000 103
Louisville & Nashv unified 4s 1,000 ..... 101½
Mex Cent 1st inc 10,000 ..... 28½ 25,000 ..... 28¾ 10,000 ..... 27½ 15,000 28
Mex Cent 2d inc 23,000 ..... 13⅞
Mo, K & Tex 2d 4s 4,000 ..... 74½ 5,000 ..... 74⅝
Total sales $2,907,500

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64@65. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted in London at 29⅝d per ounce, and in New York at 64c. Mexican silver dollars at 50¼c.

On the Consolidated Exchange 300 shares of Brunswick sold at .18, 400 Consolidated California and Virginia at 1.50, 100 Father De Smet at .40, 100 Horn Silver at 1.12, 200 Iron Silver at .75, 300 Isabella at .70, 1,000 Jack Pot at .74@.75, 100 Little Chief at .16, and 200 Portland at 3.25.

Closing bids for mining stocks on the Consolidated Exchange were as follows:

Alice	.40	Occidental	.03
Adams Consol	.20	Plymouth	.07
Belcher	.12	Phoenix C. M. Co.	.10
Best & Belcher	.24	Potosi	.10
Breese	2.00	Quicksilver	1.25
Brunswick con	.15	Quicksilver pf	7.00
Caledonia, Ill.	2.00	Sierra Nevada	.25
Challenge	.12	Standard	2.85
Crown Point	.08	Small Hopes	.50
Chrysolite	.02	Union Consol	.20
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.35	Utah	.05
Com. T. Co. stock	.03¼	Victor	.03
Com. T. Co. bonds	.05	Yellow Jacket	.18
Com. T. Co. scrip	.05	Argentum Juanita	.25
Crescent	.08	Alamo	.11
Catalpa	.10	Anaconda	.48
Dunkin	.07	Crip. Creek Cons	.13
Deadwood Terra	.35	Creede & Cripple Ck.	.10
Daly	1.20	Golden Fleece	.20
Eureka Con	.15	Isabella	.68
Father De Smet	.35	Mollie Gibson	.23
Gould & Curry	.50	Mount Rosa	.45
Hale & Norcross	.29	Pharmacist	.11
Homestake	65.00	Portland	3.20
Iron Silver	1.12	Union	.68
Iron Silver	.70	Elkton	1.80
Julia Consol	.03	Findlay	.10
Kingston & Pemb	.10	Garfield	.07
La Crosse	.14	Jack Pot	.72
Leadville, Con	.06	Pinnacle	.15
Little Chief	.15	P. I. W. No. 2	10.50
Mexican	.20	P. I. W. No. 3	10.00
Moulton	.30	P. I. W. No. 4	9.25
Ontario	6.00	P. I. W., Grey F.	9.25
Ophir	.60

TREASURY BALANCES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—To-day's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows:

Available cash balance	$139,174,961
Gold	97,843,713
Silver	8,308,357
United States notes	10,530,698
Treasury notes of 1890	100,270
National banknotes	6,166,380
Total receipts this day	1,540,791
Total receipts this month	24,151,633
Total receipts this year	263,140,685
Total expenditures this day	1,395,000
Total expenditures this month	20,490,000
Total expenditures this year	253,879,537
National banknotes received for redemption	432,224
Government receipts—
From internal revenue	871,718
Customs	4,651,530
Miscellaneous	17,542

The condition of the Treasury, divisions of issue and redemption, at the beginning of business to-day was as follows:

RESERVE FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$150,000,000

TRUST FUNDS, DIVISION OF REDEMPTION:

Gold coin	$280,926,379
Silver dollars	425,880,000
Silver dollars of 1890	4,799,497
Silver bullion of 1890	57,735,503
United States notes	1,570,000
Total	$751,011,379

DIVISION OF ISSUE.

Gold certificates outstanding	$280,926,379
Silver certificates outstanding	425,920,000
Treasury notes outstanding	62,535,000
Currency certificates outstanding	1,570,000
Total	$751,011,379

GENERAL FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$64,730,083
Gold certificates	36,157,630
Silver coin and bullion	4,945,881
Silver certificates	4,362,476
United States notes	10,530,688
Other assets	11,066,805
Total in treasury	$130,799,066
Deposits in National banks	97,227,315
Total	$228,026,382
Current liabilities	88,851,420
Available cash balance	$139,174,961

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Saturday, Dec. 15, 1900.

Closing Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change
195		25	Albany & Susquehan.	205	205	205	205	...
90½	90¼	10,670	Amalgamated Copper.	90⅝	90⅝	89¾	90½	-½
22⅝	22½	1,000	Am. Car & Found. Co.	22⅝	22½	22⅜	22½	+ ⅛
69½	69½	1,030	Am. C. & F. Co. pf.	69	69½	69	69½	+ ½
40¾	40¾	1,700	American Ice Co.	40⅞	41¼	40¾	40⅞	— ⅛
70	71	200	American Ice Co. pf.	70	70	70	70	+1
54⅝	54¾	28,120	Am. Smelt. & Ref. Co.	55⅛	55½	54¼	54½	— ½
98½	98⅞	1,800	Am. S. & R. Co. pf.	97⅞	98½	97	98½	+1⅝
31¼	31½	1,100	Am. Steel Hoop Co.	31½	31¾	30¾	31¼	+ ½
45⅛	45⅝	12,425	Am. Steel & Wire.	45	45⅞	44⅜	45⅞	+ ¼
88	88½	350	Am. Steel & Wire pf.	88	88½	88	88½	+ ¼
126½	126⅞	10,200	Am. Sugar Ref. Co.	124	126¼	124	126	+1⅝
49½	50	10,985	American Tin Plate.	49½	50	49½	50	+ ½
89⅛	90	10	Am. Tin Plate pf.	89⅛	89⅛	89⅛	89⅛	...
100⅞	110	18,840	American Tobacco	108⅞	110	108⅞	109¾	+1
47	47⅜	700	Anaconda Cop. M. Co.	47	47⅜	47	47½	— ⅛
54	55	110	Ann Arbor pf.	54⅞	54⅞	54⅞	54⅞	— ⅛
42¼	42⅝	54,000	At., T. & S. F.	41½	42⅝	41½	42⅝	+1⅝
85½	86⅛	2,775	At., T. & S. F. pf.	85¼	86⅛	85¼	86⅛	+1¼
82½	82⅞	6,500	Baltimore & Ohio.	81¾	82⅝	81¾	82⅝	+ ⅛
86⅛	86⅞	3,000	Baltimore & Ohio pf.	86	86⅞	85⅞	86⅞	+ ½
73¼	75¾	20,450	Brooklyn Rapid Tran.	74½	75¾	73⅞	75½	+1
175	178	100	Brooklyn Union Gas.	176	176	176	176	+1
9¾	10½	400	Brunswick City	10	10½	9¾	9¾	— ⅛
79	80	250	Buff., Roch. & Pitts.	79	80	79	80	+3
59⅜	59⅝	1,400	Canada Southern	59⅜	59½	59⅛	59⅜	+ ⅛
88⅜	88⅝	500	Canadian Pacific	88⅜	88⅝	86¾	86¾	...
38⅝	38⅞	7,100	Chesapeake & Ohio	38⅝	38⅞	38½	38½	— ⅛
40⅝	40¾	2,725	Chicago & Alton	40⅝	40¾	40	40¼	+ ⅛
77	77½	2,380	Chicago & Alton pf.	77	77½	76¾	77½	+ ½
137⅞	139	11,425	Chi., Bur. & Quincy.	138¾	139	138⅝	138⅞	+ ¼
..	..	300	Chicago & East. Ill.	96	96	96	96	+ ¼
..	..	200	Chi. & East. Ill. pf.	121	121	121	121	+1½
16⅝	16⅞	2,650	Chicago Great West.	16⅝	16⅞	16¼	16⅝	+ ⅛
81	81½	900	Chi. Gr. West. pf., A.	80½	80⅝	80½	80⅝	+ ⅛
42	42½	1,400	Chi. Gr. West. pf., B.	40⅝	42⅛	40	42⅛	+2⅜
93	93⅝	800	Chi. Gr. West. deb.	93¼	93½	93¼	93½	+ ¼
26½	26⅝	1,600	Chi., Ind. & Louis.	26	26½	26	26½	+1⅛
61	61½	614	Chi., Ind. & Louis. pf.	61	61½	61	61½	+1
182	182½	61,775	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul.	131	132½	130⅝	132⅛	+1⅞
180	185	250	Chi., Mil. & St. P. pf.	181½	181½	181½	181½	+ ½
169⅜	170½	2,400	Chicago & Northw.	169⅜	170⅜	169⅝	170⅜	+ ½
117⅝	117¾	10,920	Chi., R. I. & Pac.	117¼	117½	117	117⅝	+ ⅝
122	164	..	Chi. St. P., M. & Om.	122	122	..	122	...
11½	11⅝	400	Chicago Term. Trans.	11	11¾	11	11⅝	+ ⅛
32½	32⅝	750	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	32¼	32⅝	32¼	32⅝	+1⅜
67⅞	68⅝	1,100	C., C., C. & St. L.	68	68⅝	68	68	+ ⅝
52½	52⅝	3,450	Colorado Fuel & Iron.	51⅞	52¾	51⅞	52¾	+1¼
120	122	10	Col. Fuel & Iron pf.	122	122	122	122	...
8⅛	8¼	10,000	Colorado Southern	7⅞	8¼	7⅞	8¼	+ ⅛
43⅛	43½	300	Col. Southern 1st pf.	45¼	46⅜	45¼	45⅝	— ⅛
19¼	19½	750	Col. Southern 2d pf.	19¼	19½	19¼	19½	+ ½
190¾	191½	1,360	Consolidated Gas.	190	191½	189½	191	+2
36¼	36⅝	2,535	Con. Tobacco Co.	36	36¼	36	36½	+ ½
90	90½	240	Con. Tobacco Co. pf.	90	90¼	90	90¼	+ ¼
122	122¼	6,300	Delaware & Hudson.	120⅝	122	120¼	122	+1½
189½	190	1,220	Del., Lack. & West.	189	189½	188	189½	+1¾
26	26½	2,800	Denver & R. G.	25¾	26	25⅝	26	+ ⅜
81¼	81½	2,610	Denver & R. G. pf.	81	81½	81	81¼	+ ⅛
18½	18⅝	2,400	D., M. & Ft. Dodge.	16⅞	19	16⅞	18¼	+1½
6	6¼	100	Dul., S. S. & At.	6	6	6	6	— ⅛
16¼	16½	400	Dul., S. S. & At. pf.	16¼	16¼	16¼	16½	...
19⅜	19⅝	12,150	Erie	20	20¼	19⅝	19⅝	— ⅛
50⅞	51	8,840	Erie 1st pf.	51½	51⅞	50¾	50¾	— ⅛
32⅜	32½	2,990	Erie 2d pf.	31¾	32½	31½	31½	— ¼
40½	41	100	Evans. & T. H.	40¾	40¾	40¾	40¾	— ¼
53	53¼	9,180	Federal Steel	52¾	53½	52¾	53¼	+ ½
78	78¼	2,010	Federal Steel pf.	77½	78⅛	77½	78⅛	+ ⅝
171½	172	1,100	General Electric.	171½	172	171½	171½	+1
52¾	52¾	200	Glucose Sugar Ref.	52¾	52¾	52½	52½	...
186¼	187½	5,494	Great Northern pf.	183	187	183	187	+5
42	42½	5,690	Hocking Valley	40	42¼	40	42½	+2⅝
74½	74½	1,050	Hocking Valley pf.	73¼	74¾	73¼	74¼	+1¼
126¾	127¼	2,972	Illinois Central	126	127	126	127	+1¼
22½	23¼	300	International Paper.	22½	23	22½	23	+ ¾
72	73	30	Internat. Paper pf.	71¾	73	71¾	71¾	...
53⅜	54½	500	Internat. Power Co.	53⅞	54½	53⅞	54⅜	+ ⅝
28	28½	520	International Pump.	28½	28½	28½	28½	...
20	20½	700	Iowa Central	20½	20⅞	20½	20⅝	+ ⅛
19½	20	1,300	Kanawha & Michigan.	19½	20	19½	19⅝	+ ⅛
14	14¼	1,276	Kansas City Southern.	14	14¾	14⅜	14⅝	+1¼
37⅜	38	1,100	Kan. City Southern pf.	38¼	38¾	38	38	— ⅛
42	42½	500	Lake Erie & Western.	41¾	42½	41¾	42½	+1
84⅜	85	8,975	Louisville & Nashville	84⅜	85	84½	84⅞	+ ⅜
110⅞	110⅞	13,810	Manhattan Elevated.	110	111	109¾	110⅜	+ ⅛
168½	169¾	3,835	Met. Street Railway.	168¼	168¾	167¾	168¾	+1¼
13⅞	13⅞	500	Mexican Central	13⅝	13⅞	13⅝	13⅞	+ ¼
4⅛	4⅜	100	Mexican National ctfs.	4½	4⅜	4⅛	4⅛	...
67½	68	600	Minn. & St. Louis.	67½	67¾	67½	67¾	— ⅛
102¼	103	450	Minn. & St. L. pf.	101¾	102¾	101¾	102¾	+1
20¼	21	200	Minn., S. P. & S. S. M.	20¼	20⅝	20¼	20⅝	+ ⅜
54½	55	400	M., S. P. & S. S. M. pf.	53	55	53	55	+5
40⅝	40½	2,670	Mo., Kan. & Texas pf.	40	40½	40	40½	+ ⅛
62¾	62½	13,185	Missouri Pacific	62⅛	62½	61⅝	62¼	+1
43¾	44½	900	Mobile & Ohio.	44	44½	44	44	— ⅛
37	37½	500	Nat. Biscuit Co.	37⅛	37½	37⅛	37½	+ ⅛
20¾	21	500	National Lead Co.	20¼	20⅝	20¼	20⅝	+ ⅛
93¼	93½	100	Nat. Lead Co. pf.	93½

CITY MUST PAY MONEY DUE TO CONTRACTORS

Appellate Division Decision a Defeat for Labor Unions.

Ends Fight Started Over the Prevailing Rate of Wages Clause in the Labor Law.

Controller Coler will to-morrow begin the payment to contractors of moneys which have been withheld on account of the legal fight over the prevailing rate of wages clause in the labor law.

Over 100 vouchers for sums ranging from $1,000 to $20,000 have been lying in Controller Coler's office because representatives of labor unions have claimed that the contractors violated the labor law. Dozens of suits have been begun by contractors, and the decision in the case of the People ex rel. William J. Rodgers vs. Bird S. Coler, as Controller of the City of New York, is viewed as a great victory for the contractors over the labor unions. The Appellate Division, in an opinion written by Justice Ingraham in the Rodgers case, holds that the wages law is unconstitutional, in so far as it gives the power to the Controller to refuse to pay for contract work done for the city because a complaint has been made that a few men, or hundreds of men, who have worked on the contract have not received the prevailing rate of wages. Justice Ingraham writes:

The clauses in the contract were inserted in pursuance of the labor law, and are not for the benefit of the contractor. They purport to regulate the actions of the contractor in performing the work under contract, and impose upon him in the performance of such work the obligation to pay his workmen what the contract calls the prevailing rate of wages, thus preventing him from making an agreement with his employes to labor upon the terms agreed upon between them. In the nature of things the contract could not be void ab initio. Failure to pay current wages is a matter which could only be ascertained after work under the contract was in progress. There is no provision which makes the relator's compliance with the obligation referred to a condition to his receiving the agreed compensation. The effect of a construction of this act as is asked for by counsel for the respondent would lead to the result that although a contractor had finished his work, and such work has been accepted by the city, if it should subsequently appear that the contractor had paid to one particular employe less than was subsequently ascertained to have been the prevailing rate of wages, then he would have the right to receive from the city the amount that it was agreed should be paid to some one else, and by force of this provision of the statute it cannot be supposed that such was the intention of the Legislature; and I do believe that if it was intended it was in violation of the Constitution and void.

This opinion was concurred in by Justices Patterson and Hatch.

L. Laflin Kellogg of Kellogg & Rose, who has carried on the litigation for the contractors, said yesterday:

"The decision of the Appellate Division will put an end to the action of the Controller under the labor law, whereby, upon notice from walking delegates of labor unions, he has been obliged to withhold from the contractors large payments of money during the past six or eight months. Hundreds of thousands of dollars justly earned under contracts have been kept from the contractors, and many suits are now pending to compel payment of the money."

The decision, it was said, would give city contractors the right to make whatever terms with their employes they pleased, and, if the workingmen consented, payment for contract work could not be withheld for alleged violations of the labor law.

THE WAR UPON PEDDLERS.

Park Keepers Expect a Lively Cleaning Out at Seward Park To-day—Attitude of the Police.

Unfortunately for the people who had assembled in the neighborhood of the William H. Seward Park yesterday morning in the hope of seeing a "scrap," Mr. Clausen's emissaries, whom he had sent down there to drive away from the park fence the peddlers that have of late been unlawfully doing business on the sidewalks, found few of their intended prey on hand. With the few peddlers who were there it fared badly. They were cast bag and baggage to the opposite side of the street, for the emissaries had no jurisdiction beyond the outer edge of that sidewalk which adjoined the park fence.

"We are down here to put the fakirs across the way," said one of the park keepers. "After they are over there, we don't care what is done with them. The 'cops' may hang and quarter them then if they like."

There promises to be some fun to-day. As is usual on Sundays, there will certainly be on hand hundreds of the peddlers, and many of them, having been absent yesterday, will not have heard of Mr. Clausen's orders for their eviction. The emissaries will reach the scene of conflict as early as 6 o'clock.

"You see, it's this way," said one of the emissaries. "The peddlers are fighting with each other all the time, and they are not particularly fond either of us or the 'cops.' They claim that we are trying to keep them from making a living, and that the police have been making the getting of that living a rather expensive luxury. So when we push them over to the part of the street that is ruled by the 'cops' they may be driven away from there, too. If they are, we shall see some trouble."

It is asserted that the police of the vicinity, having by reason of publicity been deprived of safety in exacting the daily taxes from the peddlers, will no longer afford to the latter any protection, and that in order to get revenge they will treat the venders, their former victims, with scant courtesy.

With the park keepers pushing the peddlers on the one side and the police chasing them on the other, there will be nothing left for the poor peddlers to do but to retreat up the various side streets and establish their business headquarters elsewhere than along the fences of the park.

Such a result will, say the emissaries, be highly approved by the police, for, with the vendors out of the sight of the keepers, tribute may be exacted anew.

Among the few peddlers who did put in an appearance yesterday there was much angry talk. Some favored the keepers, and said that they were willing to move if only they could escape the police levies; some asserted that they had never paid anybody a cent. Others declared that they would rather pay any amount than leave the very lucrative vicinity of the fences.

Since the license formerly held by one Moritz Tolk, a henchman of Martin Engel, has been revoked, his enemy, Lazarus, is full of rejoicing. No longer, he cries, will this Tammany Captain undersell him. Tolk himself refuses to discuss the situation, but he intimates that the day of Mr. Lazarus has not yet come.

In the meanwhile some of the peddlers who can speak English, and are therefore acquainted in a measure with what is going on, are attempting to secure selling privileges in a vacant lot opposite the park fence. The promoters of the enterprise plan to turn the lot into a kind of gigantic and perpetual fair for the refuge of peddlers.

BOGUS LUNATIC IN COURT.

Minnick, Who Didn't Fool the Insanity Experts, Discharged.

Thomas J. Minnick, the young man from Connecticut who labored under the conviction that it was the easiest thing in the world for a newspaper reporter to be mistaken for a lunatic and who was completely disillusionized after getting as far as Bellevue Hospital on the way to the State Insane Asylum, was arraigned yesterday morning before Magistrate Hogan in the Yorkville Police Court.

According to his story, told in a humble and crestfallen way, he went to the office of a New York paper and unfolded his scheme for fooling the public insanity experts. The editor, Minnick said, looked him over carefully and then said, in a burst of confidence:

"You can fool 'em all right, I guess. Go ahead."

Spurred on by this complimentary display of confidence, Minnick said he went ahead, beginning operations at the Hoffman House, where he fooled the clerks and later the policemen, but at the Bellevue pavilion the experts detected certain sporadic traces of intelligence about him, and this discovery quickly led to his undoing.

Dr. Fitch, one of the experts, who had taken commission on the young man, was in court and asked that leniency be shown him for the sake of his wife and family. The Magistrate discharged Minnick with a severe reprimand.

THEIR TENOR NEIGHBOR.

Charm of Living Near a Great Artist Tested.

It was everything the advertisement had said—select neighborhood, five large, light rooms, and tiled bathroom; steam heat, electric elevator, butler's pantry, laundry, and steam driers. The two visitors, however, did not wax enthusiastic, and the elevator boy, who was showing the flat with the patient, far-away look common to those who have to deal with home-hunters, had mentally dismissed them as "a couple more blanked women amoosin' themselves."

But suddenly there was a diversion. From some point near at hand there came the sound of a voice—a voice of amazing richness:

"De miei bollenti spiriti, il giovanni le ardore—"

It trilled, and the women—who were evidently mother and daughter—gasped.

"Who—what is that?" asked the elder.

"That's Seener Boccalini practisin', mum," replied the elevator boy. "He's got the next flat to this."

The effect of this announcement on the visitors was described by the elevator boy to the night elevator boy that same evening as "flabbergasting." They drew aside to a corner of the room and engaged in agitated whisperings.

"Greatest tenor living next to de eszke; chance never occur again; you'll learn how to place your voice; perhaps even get to know him."

These were some of the arguments that the elevator boy overheard. Meanwhile there appeared on his face a grin that could only be described as sardonic. But the women did not see that.

"Where did you say the agent was?" at length inquired the elder woman. "Oh, Kemp & Ketchum. Well. Don't you think they would reduce the rent $5? Oh. Well. We'll go and see them."

Within two hours the mother and daughter had rented that flat.

They were installed in the flat, and were eagerly waiting again to listen to that wonderful voice. They waited all the evening, but only heard a young woman upstairs trying to sing "The Palms," with an accompaniment of one finger.

"Why, How silly, Ethel," at length exclaimed Ethel's mother, who had been reading the paper. "Signor Boccalini's singing to-night at Carnegie Hall." So they went to bed.

At about 2 A. M. they were awakened. It was the voice again:

"Oh, mio suspiro, oh, palpito
Dilletto del cor mio!
Le mie colle tue lagrima
Confonder-r-re degg' io——"

The listeners were enchanted, and the spell was not soon removed. In fact, it continued for three hours, and included selections from "La Traviata," "Otello," "Romeo et Juliette," and "Tannhaeuser."

The new tenants were a little sleepy in the morning, but as enthusiastic as ever. Signor Boccalini was not heard from until noon, when his rising was signalized by the "Parigi, O Cara," given with great force. He then remained silent until a little after midnight, when he went through the entire tenor part of "Aida," and finished with a selection from "The Bohemian Girl." He was evidently catholic in his tastes.

The following night there was trouble in the famous tenor's apartment. A friend had called on him early in the evening, and soon afterward a strong smell of garlic permeated the entire floor. The Signor and his friend afterward went out, and the Signor returned alone at 2 A. M. He appeared to be ill, judging from groans and sounds of anger that were heard in his rooms. Once he shouted "Infamia!," and then appeared to be overcome by a fit of hysterical weeping. Next he seemed to be engaged in smashing all his crockery and glassware, and then, after pacing his flat heavily for twenty minutes, subsided into silence.

The elevator boy stated the next morning that there was nothing alarming in these manifestations. The Signor was frequently affected that way after he had been out with a friend.

Nightly concerts, interrupted occasionally by one of the remarkable attacks described, went on for three weeks, and then Ethel and Ethel's mother both discovered that it was necessary to consult the family physician. The latter told them that they appeared not to be getting a sufficient amount of rest. After many confabulations and much screwing-up of courage, they determined to beg the Signor to put a time limit on his practising. The request was sent in the form of a most politely worded note, but it was not received in the same spirit.

"What!" the two women heard its recipient shout. "You tell them I moost sing. What they tink? They tink an Artist be quiet for them?"

Five large, light rooms in a select neighborhood are again to let. Tiled bathroom, steam heat, electric elevator, butler's pantry, laundry, and steam dryers.

PRESIDENT COOGAN'S POSITION

Republicans in the Municipal Assembly to Question His Right to Retain Office.

A resolution will be introduced at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next week in regard to the right of President James J. Coogan to hold the office of President of the Borough of Manhattan because he declared at the last election that he was a resident of Southampton, L. I., and voted there.

The charter gives the Municipal Assembly the power to elect the successor to President Coogan if it is decided that by his voting in Southampton, L. I., he violated the charter provision, which declares that during his term of office he must remain a resident of the Borough of Manhattan.

The Republican members of the Assembly propose to place the matter before Mayor Van Wyck by the introduction of a resolution. Mayor Van Wyck is directed by Section 332 of the charter to call and preside at a joint meeting of the Municipal Assembly to elect a successor to any Borough President who moves his residence out of the borough which he was elected to represent.

Controller Coler did not return to his office from Chelsea, Mass., yesterday. It was said that a letter would be sent by the Finance Department informing President Coogan officially about the complaint which has been made by Lawyer Fitch that, as President Coogan voted in Southampton, he was not entitled to draw his salary.

On the receipt of President Coogan's answer the matter will be referred to Corporation Counsel Whalen for his advice.

UNIQUE DETECTIVE WORK.

Alleged Counterfeiters Discovered in California by Aid of a Field Glass.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Chief Wilkie of the Secret Service received a telegram today announcing the arrest in San Francisco of William Benton Fritch and Emmett Benton Fritch, father and son, on a charge of counterfeiting. On Tuesday of this week a workman high up on the new Post Office building at San Francisco noticed two men at work in a back room in a building some distance away. Occasionally one of the men came to the window and intently looked at an object in his hand.

The workman became suspicious and came to the conclusion that the men were counterfeiters, and reported the facts to Mr. George Hazen of the Western Division of the Secret Service. Mr. Hazen procured a field glass and on Wednesday went up to the top of the Post Office building, where he watched the operations of the two men.

His observations confirmed the conclusions of the workman, and with a search warrant he went to the place and found two men "filling" ten-dollar gold pieces. The men were arrested and $3,200 in coin captured.

Prof. Starr to Study Indians.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Prof. Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago leaves to-day for a six months' trip among some of the unknown tribes of Mexico. The Lacandones, one of the tribes he expects to visit, are one of the least-known peoples in the Western Hemisphere. Prof. Starr will have the aid of three assistants, a photographer, plaster worker, and a guide. Much of the traveling will be through dense forests, and 800 miles of horseback riding will be necessary.

Municipal League Elects Officers.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 15.—The League of American Municipalities, which has been in session here since Wednesday, concluded its business and adjourned today. The next convention will be held at Jamestown, N. Y. The following officers were elected: President—J. A. Johnson, Fargo, N. D.; Secretary—John McVicar, Des Moines; Treasurer—T. P. Taylor, Bridgeport, Conn. Mayor Ashley of New Bedford, Mass., was elected a Vice President and Alderman Goodman of New York a Trustee.

LOAN COMPANY'S TROUBLES

Judge Lacombe Will Not Appoint Temporary Receiver.

Affirms the Jurisdiction of the Federal Court—Anglo-American Must Now Answer Stockholders.

Judge Lacombe, in the United States Circuit Court, yesterday handed down his decision upon the application of James W. Carpenter and others for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the Anglo-American Savings and Loan Association. Judge Lacombe's decision was as follows:

The questions raised here are important and not free from difficulty; they are of such a character as should ordinarily be disposed of at a final hearing, when the facts in the case are sifted out in proof. Frequently, however, in applications such as this, it becomes necessary for the court, in order to preserve the property from waste and rescue it from improper or improvident hands, to reach a prompt conclusion with regard to the questions presented, and, if such conclusion be favorable to the complainant, to appoint temporary receivers. The expeditious action of the State court, however, renders it unnecessary to undertake any summary disposition of the questions presented. Temporary receivers have been appointed by that tribunal who, it must be assumed, are eminently fit and proper gentlemen to discharge the functions of that office, certainly no one upon this argument has criticised their selection. The property will undoubtedly be properly safeguarded during the time which may elapse before final hearing.

If this court should then reach the conclusion that the case is a proper one in which to grant the relief prayed for in the bill, and that the testimony makes out a case calling for such action, it will appoint a receiver or receivers. Inasmuch as this court has jurisdiction of the subject matter before the action in the Supreme Court of the State was begun, the receiver appointed in this action, should one be so appointed, would be paramount, and the State court would undoubtedly, in conformity to the comity which exists between courts, direct its temporary receivers to turn over the property to whomever might be appointed receiver in the paramount suit.

For these reasons the application for the appointment of temporary receiver is denied.

Capt. Joseph M. Dickey and Edward B. Dickinson, the receivers appointed by the State court, when shown the decision of Judge Lacombe were not disposed to comment on it. Capt. Dickey said:

"We have no comment to make on the decision. It leaves us in undisputed charge of the Anglo-American Association's affairs. Mr. Dickinson and myself are practical business men, and we will proceed to administer the company's affairs with a view to obtaining the maximum returns to the stockholders at the minimum expense."

Russell & Winslow, the attorneys for the Pennsylvania shareholders who sought the appointment of a receiver in the Federal court, were entirely satisfied with the action of Judge Lacombe in leaving Capt. Dickey and Mr. Dickinson in charge.

Judge Lacombe having decided that his court has jurisdiction, it now devolves upon Messrs. Hornblower and Deshon, the attorneys for the association, to make answer to the complaint of the Pennsylvania shareholders. As soon as this answer is filed, depositions will be taken, and upon the proof presented Judge Lacombe will decide upon his final action.

PLANS OF THE METROPOLITAN.

Completing the Park Row Extension and Connections—To Abolish the Cable Next Spring.

The construction of the extension through Park Row to the Post Office of the Madison and Second Avenue electric lines is nearing its completion, and will probably be finished by the end of this week, and by Thursday or Friday next the terminals of these lines will be removed from the bridge entrance to the Post Office. When this is accomplished all the work planned for the connection of the various electric lines and the other improvements will be dropped for the Winter, to be taken up again next Spring.

The extension of the Madison and Second Avenue lines does not complete the Post Office terminal. This will not be done until next March. The loop over which the Third Avenue cars now run in front of the Federal Building will then be removed, and its place will be taken by three spurs, so that the cars can be switched back. Two of the five spurs, which will constitute the terminal of all the lines, will be connected with the Broadway line, and this will be the first work to be undertaken in March.

The connection between the terminal of the Eighth and Sixth Avenue lines at Canal Street and Broadway and the Madison and Second Avenue lines on Centre Street will also be commenced when the ground thaws out again.

Among the other changes which are to be undertaken next Summer is the installation of electric motors in the cable as a motive power on the Broadway, Lexington, and Columbus Avenue lines. When this is done the Columbus Avenue cars will run straight up Broadway as far as Sixty-sixth Street, turning then into Columbus Avenue. The Broadway line will be connected with the Fifty-ninth Street crosstown line, and the Broadway cars will be run up Broadway to the Fort Lee Ferry.

The head cars of the Madison Avenue line no longer run over Lenox Avenue below One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street in order to get to the car sheds, as the connection of the Lenox and Madison Avenue lines has been completed through One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street. In April a similar connection will be built with the Eighth Avenue line through One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, enabling these cars to reach the sheds without going over Lenox Avenue.

W. W. ASTOR CAN'T BE TAXED.

Justice Andrews, However, Refuses to Vacate Assessment on Bradley Martin's Personal Estate.

Justice Andrews in the Supreme Court yesterday decided that the personal estate of William Waldorf Astor in this city was illegally taxed by the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments for the year 1899, when he claimed to be a resident of London. His personalty was fixed at $2,000,000.

Mr. Astor became a resident of London in 1895, but paid his taxes without objection until 1899. He then asked that the assessment be wiped out on the ground that he was a non-resident. He had not at that time become an English subject. When examined before the Tax Commissioners he swore he had given up his residence here and purchased a residence in London, and had no intention of again residing in this country.

No evidence was taken by the Tax Commissioners as against Mr. Astor's statements, but they held that there was no change in his status as a resident of New York since 1895, and that as he had continued to pay his taxes for four years from that time it was to be presumed he was still a resident of New York.

Justice Andrews says he is of the opinion that Mr. Astor's application for remission of taxation should have been granted, as his evidence was not contradicted and there was no reason to believe that his testimony was not true.

"The provision of the tax law is not conclusive," says Justice Andrews, "as to the residence of any person. It merely provides that when a person has acquired residence in a district, and has been taxed therein, such residence shall be pronounced continuous for the purpose of taxation until he shall have acquired another residence in this State. The presumption, however, which the statutes declare shall be made in a cause like that of the relator can be overcome by evidence that the person in question has removed from the State. This evidence was given by the relator. Such evidence was not contradicted, and all the facts testified to by him tended to prove the truth of the statement that he had actually and bona fide changed his residence from the City of New York to the City of London in the year 1895. It follows that the prayer of the petitioner must be granted and the assessment for personal property of the relator for the year 1 must be canceled."

Justice Andrews also handed down a decision refusing to vacate the assessment on Bradley Martin's personal estate for the same year, which was fixed at $200,000.

It was shown that he resided abroad a considerable part of the time each year since 1882, but paid taxes every year down to 1899. He maintained that he was a non-resident, but Justice Andrews holds that his condition as far as regards residence has not changed during the last eighteen years, and that he must still be considered a resident of New York.

Brooklyn Advertisements. | Brooklyn Advertisements. | Brooklyn Advertisements. | Brooklyn Advertisements.

The Best Restaurant In Brooklyn.

Frederick Loeser & Co.

BROOKLYN.

Open Every Evening Till Christmas.

Real Enchantments of Christmas Week.

It is universally conceded that we are showing the best and largest assortment of holiday goods in greater New York—a display that's a revelation to all who visit us. Quality! that's assured! And what isn't quality worth to the one who really buys to give! Here you are absolutely sure that representation means something—that the stamp Loeser is a guarantee of worth—that the aristocracy of genuineness is a vital part of our merchandise. It will be the most memorable of this store's memorable weeks—a Christmas hurry and energy electrical in force—but orderly and well arranged, assuring the quickest and pleasantest service. A matchless delivery—an army of helpers, prompt and willing to serve—the best, most modern and up-to-date systems that save your time—the best and most convenient restaurant—in short, everything done to make a visit here one of the not-to-be-forgotten pleasures of the holiday time.

Men's Furnishings Extraordinary.

House Coats and Robes at Lowest Ever Known.

We have bought nearly 2,000 house coats and about half that many bath robes and house gowns for this sale at the lowest prices ever known for equal qualities, and pass them along to you with the full extraordinary saving.

On the Second Floor.

AT $2.25—Wool cloth house coats, checks and plaids, value $3.50 and $4.00.
AT $2.95—Check cloth and plaid back house coats, value $4.00 to $5.00.
AT $3.75—Men's house coats, plaid back cloths, value $5.00 to $7.50.

On the First Floor.

AT $4.95, $5.50 AND $6.50—Men's plaid back and plain face, reversible cloth house coats, the popular coat of to-day, while the plain cloth and velvets and fancy Matelasse are not so popular; still, we have a fair lot of them. There is not a coat in the lot worth less than $7.50; just as many $8.50, $9.50 and $10.50 kinds and a few $12.00 to $15.00, all at the prices quoted above.

On the First Floor.

AT 50c.—$1.00 scarfs, new shapes.
AS $1.00 and $1.50—Men's $1.50 and $2.50 scarfs; packed one in a box.
AT 50c—The best lot of silk suspenders ever sold under $1.00; one pair in a box.

On the Second Floor.

AT 29c.—The best lot yet of the 50-cent scarf, for to-morrow.

AT $2.75—Men's wool eiderdown bath robes, splendid patterns, cheap at $3.50.
AT $2.98—Men's wool blanket and fancy eiderdown robes, value $4.00 and $4.50.

AT $3.95, $4.50, $5.50, $6.50 AND $8.50—The very best lot of men's bath and house robes ever shown. The enormous quality we bought enables us to make such prices; true values $5.00 to $15.00.
AT $7.50—Men's $10 00 mackintoshes, from one of the best makers.
AT $12.00—Some $15.00 to $18.00 mackintoshes for men; all sizes, but not many of a kind.

AT $1.00—Men's fine silk suspenders, some with sterling silver buckles.
AT $1.00—Just fifty men's full dress protectors, black silk or satin, white satin lined; value $1.25 and $1.50.

AT 29c—Men's 50c. suspenders, pure silk ends; one pair in a box.

The Best Book Store.

A Great Reduction in Dutton Color Books.

Dutton's Color Books published in conjunction with Ernest Nister, London, and printed in Nuremberg, have long been the most artistic children's books produced.

We prepared as long ago as last April to make this sale by purchasing their overstock from last season. We have held them back until the last week before Christmas so that they would go with a rush, as they surely will at these prices:

	Pub. Price.	Our Price.
Little and Good	$1.50	.69
New Rhymes for Nursery Times	1.25	.59
Miss Browne	1.25	.59
Ups and Downs in Picture Town	.75	.29
Tumble Down Pictures	1.00	.48
Bright Eyes	1.25	.59
Story Teller	1.25	.59
Floral Painting Book	1.00	.49
Runaway Pictures	1.25	.59
Picture Pastimes	.75	.38
Pictures Everywhere	1.25	.59
Little Folks' Surprises	.75	.38
Land of Long Ago	2.50	1.05
Snow White and Rose Red	1.00	.49
Hop O' My Thumb's Wanderings	1.00	.49
In the Farmyard	1.50	.69
Happy Families	2.00	.98
Something for the Chicks	1.00	.48
Fox and Geese	1.00	.48
Bible Scenes and Sweet Stories of Old	1.25	.38
Little Bo-Peep	.20	.09
Little Boy Blue	.20	.09
Holiday Coach	.50	.15
Toys and Games. A. B. C Book	.75	.24
Pictures and Parables from the Bible	.25	.12
Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp	.25	.12
Sinbad, the Sailor	.25	.12
Comical Characters	.25	.12
Beauty and the Beast	.25	.12
Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves	.25	.12
Dick Whittington and His Cat	.25	.12
Sleeping Beauty	.25	.12

Harper's Young People's Series.

Published for years for $1.00 each, and not sold for less than 72c.

The publishers made a new edition, which is a better and more attractive book in every way than the old $1.00 edition, and we sell it for 39c. Some of the authors are Kirk Munroe, James Otis, Lucy C. Lillie, W. O. Stoddard, Miss Mulock, all reduced from 72c. to 39c.

The New Mother Goose. Illustrated by Blanche McManus. 1.25 .25

The Children's Friend Series.

Nicely illustrated, attractive covers and very popular writers for young readers.

The series contains:

5 titles by Louisa Alcott, ea	.36
4 titles by Susan Coolidge, ea	.36
6 titles, J. H. Ewing, ea	.36
3 titles, Laura E. Richards, ea	.36
3 titles, Nora Perry, ea	.36
3 titles, O. G. Pyrnelle, ea	.36
3 Christmas Stories, Mary C. Hyde, ea	.36
2 books, Louise Chandler Moulton, ea	.36
Hunter Cats of Connorloa. Helen Hunt Jackson	.36
Book of Heroic Ballads, selected by M. W. Tileston, author of Daily Strength for Daily Needs	.36
Nonsense Songs, Edward Lear	.36
Man Without a Country, E. E. Hale	.36

Little Books by Big Authors.

Reduced to	.24
Little Lucy's Wonderful Globe, Charlotte M. Yonge	.50 .24
Allan, the Hunter, Rider Haggard	.50 .24
Cruise of the Albatross, Grant Allen	.50 .24
A District Messenger Boy, James Otis	.50 .24
Pansy Billings and Popsey. H. H	.50 .24
Bony and Ban, Catherwood	.50 .24
Stories and Pictures of Jesus	.50 .24
Sinbad the Sailor	.50 .24
Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves	.50 .24
The Fisherman and the Genie	.50 .24
Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp	.50 .24

Standard Sets. Wonderful Values.

Gibbon's History of Rome, 5 vols	$1.60
Green's History of the English People, 4 vols	1.30
Hume's History of England, 6 vols	1.80
Complete George Eliot, with Life, 6 vols	1.95
Washington Irving's Works, 6 vols	1.95
Les Miserables, Hugo, 2 vols	.59
Count of Monte Cristo, Dumas, 3 vols	1.32
Hildath's History of the U. S. The best complete history in one volume	1.35
Taine's English Literature, 2 vols	1.48
Taine's English Literature, 1 vol	.49
D'Aubigne's History of the Reformation	1.10
Edna Lyall's Works, gilt tops, 5 vols	1.80
Marie Corelli's Works, gilt tops, 5 vols	1.80
Cooper's Sea Tales, 5 vols., cloth	.72
Cooper's Sea Tales, 5 vols., ½ calf	1.25
Macaulay's Essays and Poems, 3 vols	.99
Macaulay's Essays and Poems, gilt top	1.10
Dickens complete, 15 vols	3.10
Dickens complete, 15 vols., gilt top	5.40
Hawthorne's Marble Faun, 2 vols., Roman edition, illustrated. Reduced from $2.24 to	1.90
Hawthorne's House of Seven Gables, Holiday Edition, 2 vols., illustrated. Reduced from $3.75 to	2.25
Complete Scott's Waverley Novels, 12 vols	3.85
Complete Works, Hawthorne, 8 vols	7.48
Oliver Wendell Holmes, 8 vols	7.48
Complete Robt. Browning, 9 vols., Macmillan. Pub. price, $20.00	7.48
Thos. Bailey Aldrich, 7 vols	7.48
Hans Christian Andersen, 10 vols	7.48
Self-Pronouncing Teachers' Bible. Large type. Reduced from $1.50, to	.93
Key to Heaven. Mor. bound	.25
The Prince of the House of David.
The Throne of David.
The Pillar of Fire, each 12mo., cloth, new author's edition, 25 cents each.
A special in Victor Hugo, 28 vols., 140 photogravure illustrations. Pub. $70.00. Our price	35.00
Bulwer-Lytton, 40 vols. Profusely illustrated, sold only by subscription for $20.00. We have a few sets only for	30.00
New Family Atlas	.95
Presidential Cook Book, adapted from the White House Cook Book	.39
Twentieth Century Cook Book. 3,300 Recipes	.69
Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass, with Autobiography. New Edition	.67
Peck's Bad Boy	.48
Remarks by Bill Nye	.48
Peck's Uncle Ike, now	.55
Mark Twain's Library of Wit and Humor	.48
Story of the Philippines. Murat Halstead	.55
Harper's Pictorial History Civil War, 2 vols.	3.25

Astonishing Umbrella Offer.

$3.25 for the Real $10.00 Ones.

Our Umbrella store is famous for never-heard-of offers—hence it is something more than remarkable to be able to give you the best yet. This lot of umbrellas (about 2,000 of them) are for men and women—the men's are all 28-inch, the women's 26-inch, covered with heavy English Levantine silk—the kind that wears and our guarantee for a year goes with them. Handles are genuine tortoise shell, Cape Horn, ivory, long pearl, gun metal, gold, silver and rare natural woods, all handsomely trimmed; are absolutely right in every detail. Umbrella history is made here; this eclipses anything done before, and Christmas week, too—$3.25 for more than $10.00 worth.

79c. for $1.00 All-Silk Crepe de Chine.

A very alluring lot of 1,980 yards of 24-inch all-silk crepe de chine—a beautiful quality—complete line of shades—white, ivory, mais, azure, ciel blue, rose pink, nile, lilac, old rose, silver, ecru, tan, turquoise, reseda, cardinal and black, all at 79c.

REVERSIBLE BLACK PEAU DE SOIE—59c., 69c., 79c., 89c., 98c., $1.10 and $1.25 for regular 75c. to $1.50.

BLACK TAFFETA SILKS—39c., 49c., 59c., 69c., 79c., 89c. and 98c. for regular 55c. to $1.25.

RICH FANCY SILKS FOR WAISTS, PETTICOATS AND COSTUMES—69c. and 79c. for regular $1.25 to $1.50.

LIBERTY SATINS AND COLORED TAFFETAS—49c. for regular 75c.

BROCADED CREPE DE CHINE—$1.25 for regular $1.50 24-inch, light and medium shades, for fancy work, &c.

LACE STRIPED TAFFETA SILKS—69c., regular 98c. These are plain colored taffetas with lace stripes, and are pretty for waists.

In the Best China Store.

How easy it is to say best if you don't care—but what a boomerang if not really so! Our china store looks at itself in this sense as others see it. What a busy place now! How alluring with its unexampled showing of art pottery, cut glass, bric-a-brac, clocks, lamps, marbles, bronzes, statuary, just as exclusive, varied and extensive as the best specialist store! Worth a visit this week for prices and merchandise.

Lamps.

Ornamented lamps, decorated with best designs; all new goods, fitted with best burners, complete, globes to match; the sizes range from medium to the large, massive lamps, with 12-inch globes.

$2.98	regular	$4.50
3.75	"	6.00
4.98	"	10.00
5.98	"	12.00
6.98	"	15.00
12.50	"	25.00

Lamp Globes.

Handsome hand-painted lamp globes, tinted in various shades, overlaid with bold floral design; 10, 11, 12-inch are $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, instead of $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00.

At 50c., worth up to $1.50—A lot of 8 and 9-inch lamp globes, tinted and decorated with floral design.

Venetian Lanterns at Half.

For cosey corners and halls; a fancy link chain with each lantern.

89c.	regular	$1.75
1.25	"	2.50
1.50	"	3.00
2.00	"	4.00
2.75	"	5.00

Bric-a-Brac Less Than Half.

Austrian vases, graceful shapes, tinted in soft ivory-shaded grounds and decorated in delicate floral sprays, traced with gold.

29c.	regular	50c.
39c.	"	75c.
59c.	"	1.00
95c.	"	2.00
1.50	"	3.00

At 25c., 50c., 98c., $1.00—A table filled with pretty Leeds ware, consisting of candlesticks, match boxes, tobacco boxes in grotesque shapes; tiger heads, owl, alligator, elephant and many other ornamental and inexpensive what-nots.

Jardinieres.

Rich pattern jardinieres in soft brown blended into a deep orange, and terra cotta blended with green, artistically embossed,

7 inch size,	25c.	10 inch size,	89c.
8 " "	45c.	11 " "	$1.25
9 " "	59c.	12 " "	$1.75

Some solid colors, red, olive, pink, plain jardinieres, spiral ribbed, 9 inch, 75c.; 10 inch, $1.00; 11 inch, $1.25.

JARDINIERES AND PEDESTALS—Rich color effects, both English and American.

$3.00	regular	$4.50
5.00	"	8.50
8.00	"	12.00
8.50	"	15.00
15.50	"	21.00

Clocks Less than Half.

Small one-day American gold clocks, were $3.75 to $4.25, are marked at 98c. to $1.25.

FINE FRENCH CHINA FISH SETS, decorated in a superior style, some have tinted rims, gold trimmed. Fifteen pieces to the set—large platter, 12 plates, sauce boat and stand.

$14.40	regular	$18.00
16.00	"	20.00
20.00	"	25.00
28.00	"	35.00

Two styles of German china fish sets, solid color rims in red and Empire green trimmed with gold; neat border pattern, floral tracery work, solid color, edge gold trimmed, 15 pieces, $12.00; regular $15.00.

German China fish sets, neat border design representing garlands of flowers, tied with ribbon bow knots, in pink and blue tints, 15 pieces, $5.00; regular, $10.00 per set.

AUSTRIAN CHINA DINNER SETS, $11.98 from $15.00. Austrian China dinner sets, three different decorations to choose from. One set shows carnation pinks in their natural colors, the other sprays of roses, and still another decorated in the Dresden style.

Men's Overcoats $12.50, Regular $16.00.

This is another pleasantly profitable introduction to the superiority of our Men's Clothing Store. These are the fashionable Broadway Box, loose fitting, broad shouldered kind in demand just now; made of a good quality Oxford frieze; good serge lining, satin in sleeves; fitting and workmanship equal to the best; $12.50, regular $16.00.

TAKEN FROM INSANE ASYLUM.

Mrs. T. A. Niven Released from Middletown by Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

NEWBURG, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Thornton A. Niven of Monticello, Sullivan County, was discharged from the Middletown Hospital this morning by Judge Dickey. Mrs. Niven was a leader in social life at Monticello, and is the mother of Mrs. Jennie Lee Greene.

The troubles of her daughter so preyed on Mrs. Niven's mind that she suffered from acute melancholia, and about a month ago was committed to Middletown. Her brother, Lieut. Hobart L. Tremaine, United States Navy, retired, had her brought into court on a writ of habeas corpus. Her husband did not oppose her discharge, but Mrs. Niven elected to make her home with Lieut. Tremaine.

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.78¼
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.45½
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.27
Flour, Minnesota patents	$4.10
Cotton, middling	.10½
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07
Sugar, granulated	5.60
Molasses, O. K., prime	.40
Beef, family	11.50
Beef hams	20.25
Tallow, prime	.04½
Pork, mess	12.50
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.06¾
Lard, prime	7.50
Iron, Northern, No. 1 foundry	16.00
Butter, Western creamery	.25½

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour dull; Winter patents, $3.65@$3.80; straights, $3.10@3.60; clears, $2.90@3.30; Spring specials, $1.30; patents, $3.40@3.85; straights, $3@3.40; bakers', $2.20@2.75; No. 3 Spring wheat, 66@71c; No. 2 red, 72¾@74½c; No. 2 corn, 37c; No. 2 yellow, 37½c; No. 2 oats, 22½@23¼c; No. 2 white

SUNDAY, THREE CENTS. DAILY, ONE CENT.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER. Fair; fresh north to east winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,894. NEW YORK, MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1900.—Twelve Pages and Supplement. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

MORE BRITISH CAPTURED

Boers Take 120 of Brabant's Horse Near Zastron.

Lose Heavily in an Engagement at Scheeper's Nek—Release 321 British Captives at Magalies Berg.

ALIWAL NORTH, Cape Colony, Dec. 15.—A party of Brabant's Horse, consisting mainly of raw recruits, engaged a superior force of Boers Dec. 13, near Zastron, Orange River Colony, losing 4 killed, 16 wounded, and 120 taken prisoners.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The following dispatch has been received by the War Office from Lord Kitchener:

"PRETORIA, Dec. 15.—Five officers and 316 men, Magalies Berg prisoners, have been released.

"The Boers surrounded and captured 120 of Brabant's Horse in a defile in the Zastron district.

"Col. Blomfield, moving on Vryheid, defeated the Boers with heavy loss, driving them from Scheeper's Nek and capturing a quantity of arms. The Scheeper's Nek movement occurred Dec. 13.

"The Boers who attacked Vryheid Dec. 10 lost 100 killed and wounded before they retired. The fighting lasted all day, the enemy drawing off at 7:30 P. M. The British loss was 6 killed, 19 wounded, and 30 missing. Our casualties include two officers who died of their wounds."

Wiring from Pretoria yesterday, (Sunday,) Lord Kitchener, after announcing that the released Magalies Berg prisoners have arrived at Rustenberg, says that the Boer force divided into two portions, one moving south and the other west.

KITCHENER CALLS FOR TROOPS

Sends Urgent Request for Every Available Mounted Man—London Anxious for News.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Lord Salisbury and his colleagues must to-day feel greatly relieved that Parliament was prorogued Saturday. A grim irony now attaches to Lord Roberts's description of the war as "over." Yesterday the War Office, for the first time in many months, remained open throughout a Sunday in response to the demand of public anxiety to learn the latest news.

Lord Kitchener is reported to have sent a fresh and urgent request to the Government to send out every available mounted man. With Gen. De Wet again escaped through the British cordon in the neighborhood of Thaba N'Chu, the serious affairs at Vryheid and Zastron, and the Magalies Berg disaster confronting the British people, they may well begin to ask, as they do, why Lord Roberts is allowed to come home.

The Colonial Office announces its decision to enlist five thousand men, instead of the one thousand previously asked to be recruited in Great Britain for Gen. Baden-Powell's constabulary, which shows that recruiting in South Africa is less active than had been anticipated.

Dispatches from Lorenzo Marques asserts that all the Boer forces are plentifully supplied with ammunition, but terribly in want of food and clothing.

THE MAGALIES BERG FIGHT.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Magalies Berg affair is described as follows in a dispatch to The Standard from Rietfontein:

"The scene of the engagement was a horseshoe-shaped depression. The Northumberlands occupied the centre. Gen. Clements's camp was pitched 1,000 yards lower down at the eastern point of the horseshoe, and Col. Legge's camp was about 800 yards distant.

"Gen. Delarey's 1,000 men, against whom Gen. Clement had fought repeated actions, were suddenly, unknown to Gen. Clements, reinforced by 3,000 men from Warm Baths, under Commandant Doyers. At daybreak Col. Legge's picket descried what seemed a fresh force of British troops eighty yards distant. The strangers were challenged. They replied with a volley, revealing 400 Boers in khaki. The firing became heavy, and the noise aroused Col. Legge's troops, who arrived just in time to save the outposts from capture.

"A furious engagement ensued. Artillery was brought up, and it compelled the Boers to retire. Col. Legge, following up the withdrawal, was shot dead by a bullet through his head.

"Gen. Clements and his staff soon arrived. The staff suffered severely, but Gen. Clements appeared to have a charmed life.

"While mounted men were driving the enemy back along a slope covered thickly with Boer dead, a deafening rifle fire suddenly broke on the plateau above. The signalsrs heliographed that the Northumberlands were being attacked. Gen. Clements, convinced that they would easily hold their own, disposed the remainder of his forces on the flanks and rear of his two camps.

"At 4:30 A. M. a heliograph from the western peak announced that the Boers were about to overwhelm the fusiliers. Gen. Clements was unable to send adequate help, but dispatched yeomanry to climb the precipitous hillside and create a diversion. Before the yeomanry could come into action the Boers had overlapped the Northumberlands and were in possession of the entire horseshoe, firing down on the yeomanry, intangled in the bushes and boulders.

"The Northumberlands made a magnificent defense so long as their ammunition lasted. According to the Boer accounts, many, even when resistance was hopeless, died fighting.

"Gen. Clements, now left with 700 men, made superhuman efforts against the bullets from the Boers, pouring over the peaks, and managed to save his guns and the camp equipment. He retired in splendid order, and at 4 P. M. started to march to Rietfontein, fighting a rearguard action all the way, arriving the next day at 4 A. M."

METHUEN TAKES BOER LAAGER.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Lord Methuen, according to a dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated yesterday, attacked and captured a Boer laager near Lichtenburg, Transvaal, Dec. 15, securing large supplies of cattle and sheep and a considerable quantity of ammunition.

BRITISH WAR OFFICE REFORM.

Committee Appointed to Consider the Matter Next January.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Secretary of State for War, William St. John Brodrick, has appointed a committee to deal with the question of War Office reform. The committee will consider the system of contracts and the possibility of further decentralization and more expeditious working.

The Chairman of the committee is Clinton Edward Dawkins of the firm of J. S. Morgan & Co. The other members of the committee are Sir Charles Glynne Earle Welby, who was private secretary to the Marquis of Lansdowne, while the latter was Secretary of State for War; Col. Sir George Sydenham Clarke, Superintendent of the Royal Carriage Department, and formerly Secretary to the Royal Commission on Navy and Army Administration; George Stegmann Gibb, General Manager of the Northeastern Railway; Ernest William Beckett, Conservative, member of the House of Commons for the Whitby Division of Yorkshire, and William Mather, Liberal, member for Rossendale. The committee will meet in January.

Mr. Brodrick is warmly congratulated upon the appointments he has made. The committee is considered a strong one. Mr. Dawkins's administrative and financial ability are well known. Sir George Clarke is an ardent advocate of army reform. Mr. Beckett is a banker and an able financier. Mr. Mather is another shrewd business man. He is an engineer. Mr. Gibb is a capable railway organizer.

The only doubtful member is Sir Charles Welby, who has long been connected with the War Office, having been private secretary to the late Mr. Stanhope while Secretary of State for War, as well as to Lord Lansdowne later, and who is regarded as an upholder of the existing system.

Approval of the composition of the committee, however, does not imply approval of Mr. Brodrick's action. The Daily News and The Daily Chronicle, and even some Conservative papers, complain that the expedient of appointing a committee really means shelving urgent reforms.

Boers Will Settle in German Colony.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger, fifty Cape Colony Boers, now in Amsterdam with their families, have been granted permission to settle in German Southwest Africa, the German Government having just assented to the purchase of lands by them in Damaraland and Great Namaqua Land. The Boers will leave Amsterdam Jan. 6.

William T. Stead Advises Krueger.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Mr. Krüger, at The Hague, received William T. Stead yesterday. Mr. Stead urged him to continue his tour of Europe and to go to America. The Boer statesman listened attentively, but declined to commit himself by any definite statement. It is reported that he is about to remove from his hotel to a private residence, as though contemplating a prolonged stay at The Hague.

Krueger Not Ready to Come Here.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 16.—In reply to a dispatch from Grand Rapids, Mich., inviting him to the United States, Mr. Krüger has wired that he has not arrived at any decision with regard to visiting America.

Report of Lemner's Death Confirmed.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—A further dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Dec. 16, says that Lord Methuen has official confirmation of the report of the death of Gen. Lemner, the Boer commander.

HURLED FROM BROADWAY CAR.

Woman's Injuries Aggravated by a Collision Later with an Ambulance.

Margaret Gill, a laundress employed at the Imperial Hotel, was hurled from the platform of a Broadway car bound up town at Thirty-second Street last night and received injuries that may cause her death. Nora Seeley of 65 St. Nicholas Avenue, a companion of the woman, says they asked the conductor to stop the car, but he failed to do so. Miss Gill had started to get off the step, with the other woman close behind her, when she was thrown violently to the ground. The shock rendered her senseless.

Arthur Couse, the conductor, of 301 West Fortieth Street, was arrested.

An ambulance was summoned from the New York Hospital, and examination by Dr. Youmans, the ambulance surgeon, showed that the woman's skull was fractured. She was placed in the ambulance, which went across to Fifth Avenue and down town. At Twenty-third Street the driver saw a car coming at rapid speed. He sounded his gong, but the gripman, failing to recognize the ambulance's right of way, rang his bell and made no effort to stop. A collision resulted, and one of the tires and several spokes in the ambulance wheels were broken.

Patrick J. Flynn, the gripman, of 833 Eighth Avenue, was arrested.

At the hospital it was said that the successive shocks had added to the seriousness of the woman's condition.

VASSAR'S ANNUAL DOLL SHOW.

Students Dress Hundreds of Toys Which Will Be Given Away in Several Cities.

Special to The New York Times.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Dec. 16.—While the 700 students at Vassar are tussling with geometric tangles and conjugating verbs in various languages, they find time for acts of kindness and charity, one of which is the annual contribution of dolls for poor children. Dolls are purchased by the hundreds and arrayed in fine raiment by the students themselves, who believe that the value of the gift is enhanced by some personal sacrifice outside of the mere act of purchasing it.

The annual Christmas doll show at Vassar is one of the events of the students' life about which no shadows cluster. It is now being held in the officers' parlor, where 300 daintily dressed dolls are on exhibition. The show this year is unusually attractive.

A part of the dolls will be sent to the University Settlement in New York, and the rest to Chicago and to an Indian mission, except a few which are to be distributed in Poughkeepsie. Indian girls will find golden-haired, blue-eyed dolls dressed in long clothes a novelty, to be none the less appreciated.

The dolls represent to a certain degree the tastes and fancies of those who adorned them, and in this sense the display has a significance which some people might not think of. No statistics have yet been collected, however, of the influence for the higher education of women exerted by the Christmas dolls dressed at Vassar.

GIRLS WANT MORE TO EAT.

Students at Northwestern University Complain that They Do Not Get Enough Food.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—"Co-eds" at Northwestern University unanimously complain that they do not have enough to eat. The authorities at Woman's Hall contradict the girls' statement that the quantity of food is insufficient. In the meantime grocers and caterers of Evanston are flourishing, because of purchases made by the hungry young women. One of the girls said:

"We get tired of having oyster croquettes for dinner on three days a week, but we wouldn't care so much if there was enough. We have to patronize the stores almost every evening to get enough to eat. Several students who had rooms here have gone where they pay less and get better food.

Another said: "It is always good news to hear that a reception will be given to the Faculty of the university at the hall. We know then that we shall have a good meal for once."

Miss Patterson, matron at Woman's Hall, was indignant when she heard what was being said by the young women.

"The young women get the worth of their money," she said. "Any one who says she does not should be ashamed of herself."

NEW JERSEY COPPER MINE

Ten Thousand Tons of Ore Taken from Watchung Mountain.

NATIVE COPPER IS IN SHEETS

Concentrating Plant Will Be Built and Worked and Ore Then Shipped to the Smelter—Mine an Old One.

Copper in its native state has been found in Watchung Mountain, Bound Brook, N. J., and a mine has been opened and 10,000 tons of low-grade ore have been heaped on a dump to await the completion of a $150,000 concentrating plant now in course of construction. The mine has been developing for the last two years, operated by a number of capitalists, of which Josiah C. Reiff, President of the Phoenix Gold Mining Company and the American Copper Mining Company, is the representative.

The discovery of native copper came to the owners of the mine as a surprise. At the outset it was thought that, owing to the prevailing high price of copper, a low grade ore might be worked to the same advantage, as it is being mined at present in a number of old mines that have been opened throughout various sections of the State. From the beginning, however, Mr. Reiff says, a number of Lake Superior copper experts who were commissioned to examine the mine reported that the Lake Superior and the Bound Brook geological formations were very similar, and they predicted that native copper likely would be found.

When Mr. Reiff was seen last night at his home, in the Knickerbocker Apartments, at 247 Fifth Avenue, he said in answer to a question: "The discovery of native copper in New Jersey will come as a surprise to many experts who have held that no paying deposit of metal existed in that State. The idea of copper in Alaska or New Mexico or Arizona would have met with confidence, but as to New Jersey, the idea was that if any copper minerals existed there they would have been discovered long ago.

"Knowing this, I went about the work of developing very quietly. It was one thing to lead men to a hole in the ground and say, 'Look, down there is copper.' It was quite another to mine 10,000 tons of ore and to heap it on a dump and say, 'There's so and so much ore and if you understand mining, go down the shaft and examine for yourself and see if there is more of it.'

"The ore for the most part consists of the oxide and the carbonate of copper. It was predicted by the experts that when a depth had been reached sufficient to get below the oxydizing action of air and water on the ore, native copper would be found. This, however, none of us expected. But at a depth of 100 feet, at the end of an 800 foot drift, the native copper already showed plainly in the ore. It occurred in flakes and pin-head particles, perfectly distinguishable as copper even to the naked eye. A little lower down we found sheet copper imbedded in the mineral.

"The assay of the 10,000 tons was 3 per cent. In order to save freight in carting and transporting the low grade ores to the smelters it is necessary to concentrate the ores at the mines, so that the useless portion of the ore is heaped on a dump, while only that part of it bearing copper is shipped. For this purpose a concentrating plant is in course of erection, and when it is complete we will begin to ship ore to the smelters.

"The discovery of the native copper in New Jersey is the most interesting information that will have come to the mining world in some time. Like many another mine that has been worked in Revolutionary days and has been unable to pay for itself, previous to the introduction of modern mining machinery, the Watchung Mountain mine was worked and abandoned long before this country was free. I managed to secure the affidavit of an old resident whose father had been imported to this country because of his knowledge of mining.

"From this document I learn that the mine was abandoned in those days because of water. Mining pumps at that time were unknown. But that was before the Lake Superior discoveries, and copper was scarce and high, and until the water became too much to handle the mine was worked at a profit.

"Then came an episode in the history of the mine which involves a bit of interesting history of copper itself. Early in the eighties came the electrical developments which demanded a tremendous output of copper. Then the Lake Superior mines were discovered. A French syndicate known as the Secretan Syndicate sent money here to run the copper mines of the country. Under their manipulations the price of the metal advanced to something like 20 cents a pound, and at that point a number of mines that had been idle for years opened up and were able to pay well because of the high price of their yield.

"That was about 1887, and I bought the three miles of mining land on Watchung Mountain, intending to dabble with it, and if possible to make it pay. But suddenly the French syndicate 'busted' and the price of copper 'flopped' from 20 to 8 cents, and I dropped out of mining copper.

"I never touched the mine again until shortly after the Spanish war, when copper went up with a rush and low-grade ores again became profitable. Ever since then I experimented and prospected, realizing that to induce confidence I would have to show the ore."

Watchung Mountain is a distant relation to the Orange Mountain range. It is six miles long and extends from Bound Brook to Pluckamin.

SENTIMENT ON CANAL QUESTION

Speeches on Hay-Pauncefote Treaty in Senate Show No Hostility to Great Britain.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—According to the statements of several Senators to-day the speeches in the executive sessions upon the Hay-Pauncefote treaty have not been characterized by hostility to Great Britain or a desire to provoke or offend British sensibility. "But," said one of the Republican Senators, "they have been growing more and more decidedly American, and the notion that any canal built across the Isthmus at Nicaragua should be absolutely under our control has gained acceptance with discussion. Those of us who are trying to amend it do not intend to make it impossible for Great Britain to accept it, but we are resolved that we shall have the same right to defend it in case of peril from war that the Sultan of Turkey or the Khédive of Egypt has to protect the Suez Canal."

"Is there not a difference; the Suez Canal is in the territory of the Sultan?"

"Yes, and the Nicaragua Canal will be in our territory if we obtain the concession we expect to get to entitle us to assert the right to protect. We propose to supersede the Clayton-Bulwer convention to accomplish this. If the British Government will not approve of supersession, we may abrogate the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. The Senate does not see that any other nation has so large an interest in the canal as we must have, and cannot make out that our control can injure Great Britain in the least."

The same Senator and another in conversation with him admitted that they believe that adverse railroad influences were seeking to so amend the treaty as to make it offensive to Great Britain, not merely to provoke opposition from that quarter, but to so delay action that the Canal bill would have to go over until another session.

Burglars Blow Open Railroad's Safe.

Special to The New York Times.

DANBURY, Conn., Dec. 16.—Three burglars broke into the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad station at Bethel early this morning, blew open the safe, and got away with its contents, about $60 in money, but left the tickets and mileage books.

Fast Trains to St. Louis

Via Pennsylvania Railroad, leave West 23d Street, New York, daily at 9:55 A. M., 1:55 and 5:55 P. M.—Adv.

MAY MAKE STRIFE FOR FRANCE.

Financier's Efforts to Save South American Investments Would Lead to Trouble with America.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The territory until recently in dispute between Brazil and France, and which has been decreed to belong to Brazil, as described in Prof. John Bassett Moore's article in to-day's NEW YORK TIMES, may shortly become the subject of a dispute between France and the United States under the Monroe doctrine.

This territory, lying south of French Guiana in the Brazilian State of Para, and containing 100,000 square miles, was claimed by Brazil and France, and Switzerland was made arbitrator. Her decision was in favor of Brazil. It is now reported that some French financiers, anticipating that the decision would be favorable to France, had already invested their capital in this territory. They are now, it is said, trying to engineer a deal by which the French Government will buy this land from Brazil.

The State Department has absolutely no knowledge on the subject, except what is contained in a newspaper report. Its attention has, however, been called to the matter, and the attempt of the French capitalists to secure Government aid in getting their money back will be watched with interest. There is hardly any question, it is said at the department, that such action would be a violation of the Monroe doctrine, and would call forth a protest from the United States.

As long as the claim was in its original form, France might have maintained that she was simply rectifying her boundaries, and that the United States could not object to that. Even in that case, a rectification of boundaries which involved an area of 100,000 square miles would be closely scrutinized. France has, however, forfeited the right to make that claim by submitting the matter to arbitration by Switzerland and getting an adverse decision. The territory has been officially decreed by the Swiss tribunal to be outside the boundaries of French Guiana.

There is no evidence as yet that the French Government will take up the scheme. It is said to have the backing of powerful capitalists, but the French Government is much better acquainted with the provisions of the Monroe doctrine than these financiers, and it is doubted whether any persons, however influential, could induce the Government to take such a step. Should they do so, the Monroe doctrine would undoubtedly be invoked by the United States. The proposition does not contemplate the planting of a foreign colony there, but it does contemplate the extension of one, which is equally repugnant to the Monroe doctrine.

PICKED UP A BOTTLE, GET $25.

Thrown Overboard at Sea by an American, It Was Found by Two French Sailors at Etretat.

Twenty-five dollars are ready for any man who finds a champagne bottle floating in the Atlantic Ocean containing the card of ex-Alderman William A. Baumert, who lives at 26 Avenue A. So says ex-Alderman Baumert, who had already paid $25 to the finders of a similar bottle containing his card.

Mr. Baumert, who is a member of the firm of F. X. Baumert & Co., had a holiday last Summer for the first time in two or three years, and decided to go to Europe. He sailed on the steamship Lahn, on May 15, for a three-months' trip, occupying a stateroom adjoining that of Christian Werner, secretary to the German Consul in this city.

Before the steamship left her dock, a case of wine came from a friend for Mr. Baumert, and was carried to his stateroom. He placed it with Mr. Werner, and when the last bottle was disposed of, he took one of his cards and writing on the reverse side, "$25 reward for the person returning this card, W. A. B.," put it in the bottle, and, sealing the latter, threw it overboard. Then he did the same with another empty bottle. He returned on the same ship on Aug. 18 last, and forgot all about the bottles until a few days ago, he says, when he received a letter in French, of which the following is a translation:

Etretat, November 27, 1900.

Sir: While walking along the sands we perceived a bottle dancing on the waves, and we waited until the waves had cast it ashore, which very soon came to pass. Then we picked it up, and great was our surprise to see that the bottle contained a card. Not being familiar with the English language, we had it translated by an amiable citizen of the country, who rendered it to us in French. Not having the pleasure to know you, we hasten, nevertheless, to send it to your address. Accept our most sincere compliments. Two sailors of Etretat, a village in the Seine-Inférieure Department, France.

GASTON DALLIN,
PIERRE FAUMELLE.
of Tower Street, in Etretat, France.

The card was inclosed with this letter. On Saturday last, Mr. Baumert mailed a check for the $25 to the two sailors, with a letter wishing them a merry Christmas. He is now waiting to hear about the other bottle.

ROBBED WHILE AT DINNER.

Rabbi Hirsch Loses $500 in Jewelry—Exciting Chase of the Thieves.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—While Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch and his family were at dinner last evening, a robber entered the house, stole $500 worth of watches, jewelry, and other valuables and succeeded, in company with a companion, in escaping in a buggy.

John Tait, a neighbor, and the robbers exchanged shots, but none of the bullets took effect. A patrol wagon with ten policemen from the Stanton Avenue Station followed the robbers down Thirty-seventh Street and Calumet Avenue until the trail was lost at the railroad tracks in Thirty-second Street.

One of the robbers entered the house through a window in Dr. Hirsch's study, and made his way up stairs to the room of the rabbi's daughter. In answering a telephone call Miss Hirsch found her door locked, and heard a noise inside. Soon she heard a man drop to the porch and then pistol shots.

The robbers had made their plans leisurely and carefully. They made inquiries near by for the location of Hirsch home, and drove up to the scene of their robbery as if they were merely making a call.

PEACEFUL USE OF CANNON BALLS

Old Projectiles from Governors Island to be Turned Into Machinery.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 16.—It was learned to-day that the purchasers of the yacht Defender, which beat Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie III. in the cup races in 1895, are Mendel, Samuel & Sons, wholesale junk and iron dealers of this city.

They have also purchased from the Government all the old cannon balls and shells, weighing 5,635 tons, which had been piled up on Governors Island for years. The shells are to be broken up for old iron and used in making locomotives and machinery.

"Little Bat," a Famous Scout, Killed.

CRAWFORD, Neb., Dec. 16.—Baptiste Garnier, formerly an Indian scout, was shot and killed early this morning by James Hague Wood, manager of a saloon, in a dispute over a bar bill. Garnier, who was known in the West, and especially among army men, as "Little Bat," was a fearless scout. He rendered distinguished services in many important campaigns against the Indians. He lately held the post of chief officer in the Government Secret Service at Fort Robinson.

A Perfect Protective Policy.

The equipment of the Pennsylvania Railroad with the electric automatic signal system.—Adv.

GAS KILLS TWO MEN IN ADJOINING ROOMS

One Found Dead, the Other Dying, in a Boarding House.

Jet Had Been Turned On in Miles Novotny's Bedroom, and Gas Had Penetrated Into that of Henry B. Gibbons.

While an ambulance surgeon worked over the body of a young man found dead in bed with the gas turned on in the boarding house 23 West Seventeenth Street, yesterday morning, an elderly man in the adjoining apartment was dying because of the gas that filtered through into his room. It was only after all attempts to resuscitate the younger man had been abandoned and surgeon, police officers and friends had gone below stairs that the non-appearance of the older man was noticed. Then they went to his room. It was too late.

The younger man was Miles Novotny, and expert stenographer, employed in the General Appraisers' Stores. He was thirty-three years old and unmarried. Henry B. Gibbons, the other was over sixty years of age and of independent means.

Saturday night both men took dinner with the others. Nothing unusual was noticed about either. Shortly after Mr. Gibbons retired to his room, while Mr. Novotny went to the theatre. He returned, it is thought, at midnight and retired. At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning C. D. Lawrence, a guest of the house, passed by Mr. Novotny's door. There was a strong odor of gas, which he found came from the room. No response being given to his knocking at the door, he put his shoulder to it and burst it in. Novotny lay on the bed. Lawrence managed to turn off the gas before he was compelled to leave the room. It had been turned full on.

Policeman Grant Williams of the Tenderloin Precinct, on whose beat the house is, was called. He summoned a New York Hospital ambulance, which arrived with Dr. Youmans. The doctor and the policeman worked over Novotny without result.

A number of people were about the rooms during the time efforts were made to revive Novotny, but nobody appears to have thought of Gibbons in the next room, which was separated only by a door, whose warped edges allowed the gas to penetrate.

After fifteen minutes' hard work over Novotny, Dr. Yoemans gave up the effort. "It's no use," he said, "the man plainly was dead when I got here."

The doctor packed up his instruments and left. The policeman, having filled in his report, went away with him. The guests went down stairs to eat an uncomfortable breakfast. Their appetites were not of the best, and they had not been at the table more than ten minutes and were about to go up stairs again when F. L. Lawrence, a brother of the young man who had burst in the door, remarked to the landlady, Mrs. A. M. Miles:

"We don't all seem to be here."

Mrs. Miles glanced in sudden alarm into the frightened faces of her companions. The same thought was in the mind of each.

"Mr. Gibbons!" burst from the lips of a young girl at the end of the table.

There was a moment of hesitation and indecision, then all rushed up the stairs. The brothers Lawrence and Mrs. Miles dashed past the others up to Mr. Gibbons's room. In vain they knocked and called, and then, fearing the worst, forced open the door. Mr. Gibbons was unconscious, but his heart was still beating.

Policeman Grant Williams was found outside near the house. There was some delay before the coming of the ambulance, for twenty minutes Williams tried to induce artificial respiration, but Mr. Gibbons was dead when Dr. Yoemans returned.

At the boarding house very little could be told about Henry B. Gibbons, as he had only been there since Friday. It was known, however, that he had lived at 28 West Twelfth Street. Edward D. Jones, who resides in the West Twelfth Street house, however, knew Mr. Gibbons well.

"For more than twenty-one years," said Mr. James, "Mr. Gibbons lived in this house. He was a bachelor, and was employed, I think, in the Second National Bank, here he managed to save up enough money to retire. We think he has a sister in the West somewhere, and a son and nephew in Albany, besides some relatives in Brooklyn of the name of Taylor.

"Up to a few years ago, Mr. E. N. Valentine, who now resides at 214 St. James Place, Brooklyn, lived there, and Mr. Gibbons always boarded with her. When I learned of his death to-night, my wife went to Brooklyn to inform that lady of his sad end, but she found Mrs. Valentine equally ignorant concerning his antecedents.

"Mr. Gibbons had been abroad a great deal during the last two years, having made three or four trips to Italy during this time. He sailed the last time on the 15th of July, and expected to remain abroad for a year, and we were much surprised when he returned on Thanksgiving Day. Last Thursday he informed us that he would sail on a German boat Saturday for Italy to spend the Winter season, and we thought he was on the ocean."

Miles Novotny had been a boarder at 23 West Seventeenth Street for about a year. He was formerly in business in Chicago. Envelopes were found in his room in the corner of which were printed his name and Chicago address, 613 Oxford Building, 84 La Salle Street. It was said that he had practiced law in Chicago, but there was no verification of this. Among the man's effects were found a number of letters from prominent officials in Washington, concerning his appointment as a stenographer. As he received a comfortably salary, no reason for suicide could be suggested.

The Coroner and the police were satisfied that the turning on of the gas was by accident, as the stop controlling a jet compactly lighted was near to one seldom used, which latter had been opened. A permit for the removal of both bodies to a near-by undertaking shop was issued by the Coroners' office last night.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Miles Novotny, an architect, lived on Lawndale Avenue in 1899. The name does not appear in the City Directory for 1900.

EAGAN AND THE LOYAL LEGION.

General Will Attempt to Have His Expulsion Set Aside.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Gen. C. P. Eagan, formerly Commissary General of the army, who has been pardoned and placed upon the retired list, has not fully recovered the status he occupied prior to his sentence for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. Soon after sentence was imposed he was dropped from membership in the Loyal Legion, after his case had been under consideration in more than one stormy meeting.

It is intimated that Gen. Eagan will make an effort to regain his membership through friends who are members and believe that his rehabilitation entitles him to be restored to the Loyal Legion. Members of the society are not permitted to discuss with non-members the affairs of the organization, but it is ascertained that there will be opposition to accepting the action of the President as equivalent to a vindication.

Carnegie May Endow a School.

RICHMOND, Ind., Dec. 16.—Andrew Carnegie is considering the gift of a sum sufficient to endow a school for librarians at Winona, Ind., and it is said he looks on the plan with favor.

The Train for Pittsburg.

Only $9.00 first-class and $6.50 second-class, New York to Pittsburg via Baltimore and Ohio R. R. on "Pittsburg Limited." Leave New York, South Ferry, 6:55 P. M., and Liberty Street 7:00 P. M., arrive Pittsburg 8:55 A. M. Pullman Drawing-room Sleeping Cars.—Adv.

GERMAN CADETS DROWNED.

One Hundred or More Go Down With a Training Ship.

MADRID, Dec. 16.—The German training frigate Gneisenau has foundered at the entrance to the port of Malaga, sixty-five miles northeast of Gibraltar, during a violent storm.

At the present time only the masts of the vessel itself are visible, and a large number of the cadets can be seen from the shore, clinging to the rigging. They are shouting and signaling for help.

The Captain and many of the cadets have been drowned. It is believed that forty who left in one of the ship's boats and have not been seen since are also lost.

The total loss is now thought to be no less than 100. Some dispatches say 140. Forty of those saved are badly injured.

The training ship had been at Malaga since Nov. 1, practicing with guns of large calibre. She had previously been at Mogador, Morocco.

At 10 o'clock this morning a review of the cadets was in order. The wind was extremely violent, and instructions were given to stoke up as rapidly as possible. But already mountainous waves had struck the ship, snapping the anchor chains. She was driven helpless toward the port and sank. The crew threw themselves into the sea and clung to the wreckage; but the majority quickly disappeared. Capt. Kresthman died at his post.

The Malaga lifeboat made heroic efforts and rescued fifteen, but the weight capsized the boat and twelve were drowned. The three others were saved by means of ropes thrown to them.

The port authorities saved many of the sailors. The survivors have been received at the hospital, the Hotel de Ville, and private houses.

According to The Naval Pocket-Book, the Gneisenau, which was built at Dantsic in 1879, was an iron vessel, sheathed with wood, and had a displacement of 2,856 tons. She was 242 feet 9 inches in length and 45 feet 11 inches in the beam, having a mean draught of 19 feet 8 inches and a coal capacity of 400 tons. Her speed was 13 knots. Her armament consisted of fourteen 5.9-inch Krupp breechloaders, two 3.4 inch quick-firers, one boat or field gun, and seven torpedo tubes. Her complement was 461 and she was used for training boys.

FOUND LASHED TO UPSET BOAT.

Two Men Rescued After Drifting a Day—Two Women with Them Succumbed.

MANITOWOC, Wis. Dec. 16.—The steamer Manhattan arrived here to-day with W. H. Shields and William McCauly, light house keepers on Squaw Island, and the bodies of Mrs. Shields and her niece, Mrs. Mary Davis. They were picked up Saturday afternoon in the lake, where they were found lashed to an overturned yawl.

They had been thus exposed since Friday, when they were capsized by a squall while sailing from the island to the mainland. Lucien Morden of Montague, Mich., was also an occupant of the boat when it capsized, and was drowned before he could be lashed to the overturned craft.

The two rescued men are badly frozen, and it is thought they may have to suffer amputation of their lower limbs. They were taken to the hospital here, where the following story of the terrible experience was told by Mr. Shields:

"Upon receiving orders to close the lighthouse for the season we prepared to leave the island, together with our helpers, Lucien Morden of Montague, Mrs. Shields, and Mrs. Mary Davis, my wife's niece. We left the island on Friday for the mainland, seven miles distant, bound for Harbor Springs. When out only a short time a heavy wind struck the sail of our boat, capsizing it and throwing us all into the lake.

"We all succeeded after much hard work in reaching the boat. McCauly and I lashed both women to the boat and then ourselves. Morden, the helper, had in the meantime become delirious and refused to be lashed or to attempt to save himself and soon after fell off the boat and was lost. My wife and her niece, McCauly and myself, lashed and clinging to the boat, were tossed about and suffered terribly from the cold and seas which washed over us.

"About seven hours after the accident happened my wife succumbed, being unable to longer endure the terrible conditions which the exposure to winds and seas caused. Mrs. Davis, after holding up for several hours after my wife's death, also succumbed, and only McCauly and myself remained alive, with the two dead women lashed by our sides, floating around the lake with no human being in sight.

"At one time we were within a short distance of the mainland and would soon have been washed on the beach, when to our dismay and horror the wind changed and we gradually drifted out into the lake again. Fortunately, however, as it proved, we were taken by the wind into the north passage, which is often taken by boats coming up the lake.

"In this manner we passed Friday night, suffering terribly from cold and hunger until Saturday at 1 P. M., when we succeeded in attracting the attention of the lookout of the steamer Manhattan. Although the weather was very rough the Captain of the steamer, after much manoeuvring, succeeded in rescuing us and also picking up the bodies of my wife and niece."

"WANT AD" FILLS A CHURCH.

Then a Western Pastor Talks to Girls About Their Habits.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The Methodist Church of Austin was filled this evening in answer to a want advertisement asking for 500 girls to attend the services.

"If I Were a Girl" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the pastor, the Rev. A. N. White. He said, in part:

"If I were a girl I would seek for the foundation principles that would bring to me a pretty face, form, and dress, without the use of paint or powder or arts of the tailor. I would seek to have a sound, healthy body, and in securing this I would be temperate in the use of caramels and 'fudges.' I would use more Indian clubs and tennis rackets and less of the dance racket."

The girls seemed pleased with the sermon.

AFTER WESTERN MARYLAND.

New York and Baltimore Capitalists Will Bid on It.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 16. — Mayor Hayes last week stated that several parties had proposed negotiations for the purchase of the Western Maryland Railroad, the line from Baltimore over the Blue Ridge which the Vanderbilts once intended should be the outlet to tidewater of the South Pennsylvania Road. The Mayor, however, declined to give names.

It has been learned that a syndicate composed of New York and Baltimore capitalists in the Canton Company, which owns extensive tidewater facilities here, will be a bidder for the railroad. The Directors of the Canton Company who are said to be in the syndicate are D. D. Mallory, J. W. Widdendorf, Alexander Brown, George C. Jenkins, and W. B. Brooker, Jr., of Baltimore, and James B. Colgate, John D. Probst, William Baylis, and Ferdinand M. Thieriot of New York. The President of the company is Walter B. Brooks, Jr.

A change of ownership in the Western Maryland Railroad would mean that the tidewater extension, for which the road has a franchise, would be built. This would probably be extended to Canton, the eastern suburb of Baltimore, and the tidewater terminals of the road made there.

Baltimore City practically owns the road on account of its indebtedness to the city. Mayor Hayes advocates its sale.

Accidentally Kills His Brother.

LEROY, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Lawrence Bryant, a five-year-old boy, was accidentally shot and killed by his ten-year-old brother this morning. The boys were playing with a loaded shotgun.

DEVERY'S SHAKE-UP ANGERS M'LAUGHLIN

"To Accomplish His Own Indecent Purposes," the Veteran Says.

"IN A CELLAR" WHEN HE DID IT

"Devery Will Be Buried Under the Ruins and Should Be Examined as to His Sanity"—May Sunder Political Machines.

Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings County Democracy, at his home, 163 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, last night, expressed himself forcibly upon the police shake-up ordered by Chief Devery. The action of Chief Devery has aroused Mr. McLaughlin's indignation, and his expressions left no doubt that war to the bitter end between him and the Chief was now on. If Devery is sustained by Tammany a rupture of the political alliance with the Kings County Democracy is not unlikely, but it was evident from Mr. McLaughlin's talk that he believed Tammany would be so quickly and conclusively convinced of the unwisdom of Chief Devery's latest move that the unpopular work of the Chief would be undone.

Until he is certain that Tammany is behind Devery and means to sustain him, Mr. McLaughlin will confine his criticism to Devery. He is unsparing in his denunciation of the Chief. His chief difficulty in commenting upon Devery's conduct was to find adjectives strong enough to convey his deep sense of indignation. Mr. McLaughlin was informed that many explanations of the Chief's action were being offered, and was asked what he thought were the underlying reasons for the police changes. Mr. McLaughlin thought a few moments and said:

"There was an old woman once who went out on the street on a muddy day without any stockings. A man meeting her and noticing that she was in her bare feet said: 'My good woman, how comes it that you are walking about the street on such a day as this without any stockings?' And the woman present conditions. I am here now, and shall try to do the work put before me to the best of my ability. I shall make no changes in the methods now in vogue. Whatever changes the Chief may have in mind he will make. I do not know that he intends changing things to any considerable extent. I shall continue to make public such matters as are of general importance, impartially and thoroughly."

Mr. McLAUGHLIN'S STORY.

Tale Which Is Supposed to Refer to Chief Devery's Position.

Hugh McLaughlin told a little story yesterday which those who heard it were inclined to think alluded more or less to Chief Devery and Commissioner York. Said the "Boss":

"There was once upon a time a man at the bottom of a tree with a gun at his shoulder. There was another man up the tree. The man at the bottom of the tree smiled. The man up the tree looked glum. Then the man at the bottom of the tree fired at the man up the tree. The gun kicked and knocked down the man at the bottom of the tree. Then the man up the tree smiled. And the man at the bottom of the tree said to the man up the tree: 'You wouldn't smile if you were at this end of the gun.'"

NEW POLICE LEGISLATION.

Bill for a Single Head Police Department Will Be Pushed at Albany.

Probable police legislation and the real inwardness of the great shake-up in the department were about the only matters discused yesterday by politicians of both parties Ex-Justice W. N. Cohen had a long talk with Senator Platt on Saturday, and the former expects a conference with Governor-elect B. B. Odell to-morrow.

The police situation was summed up last night by political leaders thus: The Republican organization will not recommend to Mayor Van Wyck the appointment of any Republican to succeed Commissioner Jacob Hess, whose term will expire in a few days.

The Single-Headed Police bill will be pressed to early passage, probably becoming a law before Feb. 1, and Mayor Van Wyck is expected to appoint a Commissioner who will promptly remove Chief Devery.

If this is not done, a State police measure affecting all the cities in the State will be introduced, but its passage will not be hurried until it is seen there is no intention to retire Devery. Then the State measure will be passed and a State Commissioner will be appointed who will quickly dispose of Devery.

The bill prepared by ex-Justice Cohen proposing a non-partisan Bureau of Elections and separating it from the Police Board is certain to be passed.

WOULD NOT INDORSE DEVERY.

Protest in Labor Union on Attempt to Approve the Transfers.

An attempt was made at yesterday's meeting of the Central Labor Union to rush through a resolution indorsing Chief Devery for his recent "shake-up." The resolution thanked Chief Devery "for his courageous action in disciplining the men under his control without consulting the politicians or political bosses."

A dozen delegates sprang to their feet at once. One man denounced the resolution as disgraceful to a body of working people. It was simply an attempt, he said, to whitewash Chief Devery, and the Central Labor Union should not be made a party to it.

"I can't see how any one can make it appear that Devery is entitled to any credit for the changes," said another delegate. "He only carried out the orders of Tammany Hall. You are crediting him with more originality than he is entitled to."

"Bah!" said a delegate at the back of the hall. "He was only trying to get square with the Hugh McLaughlin crowd in Brooklyn. We're not here to commend Tammany Hall or its actions."

The resolution was voted down unanimously.

EVIL CONDITIONS OF THE CITY.

Frank Moss Says They Exist Because They Are a Source of Gain to Officials.

In the Baptist Church of the Epiphany, Madison Avenue and Sixty-fourth Street, last evening, Frank Moss addressed a congregation on "Civic Righteousness." Mr. Moss was introduced by the Rev. Howard L. Jones, pastor of the church.

"Evil conditions exist," he said, "because they are tolerated by city officials, and oftentimes these conditions are a source of large gain and profit to the officials. There can be little hope until the Church sets about bringing about a condition of moral decency." He declared that he had heard politicians say that the people wanted a "wide-open city." He did not believe this, but city officials could hardly be blamed for maintaining conditions of great profit to themselves which made their campaign contributions powerful, believed they were giving the people what they wanted.

"Politics must be kept out of the Church," said Mr. Moss, "but when it is a question of whether young people shall be snatched from the path of virtue, whether 100,000 shall be gained by the forces of evil to every 10,000 saved by the Church, it is not a question of politics, but of religion. You would not have far to go from this church to-night," he said, "to find gambling houses, and young men in them. The officers of this city know where they are, and know that the law is being violated. Yet they do nothing."

As for vice in New York, he said that "the shame of it is that people, especially the young, are being debauched by a system built, sustained, and enlarged by the officials of the Government as silent partners, and the shame is not lessened when we consider how slow, how tardy, how half-hearted the churches of all denominations have been in waking up to these conditions. In one of this city's newspapers, he said, is a column of advertisements for servant girls. If these are investigated they will be found to lead direct to an inferno."

NEW YORK NEEDED CRUSADE.

Dr. Peters Says an Agitation for Improved Tenements Is the First Reform Demanded.

The Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, preaching the first of a series of sermons on "Municipal Reform," in the Sumner Avenue Baptist Church, Brooklyn, yesterday, declared that the cry must be "education rather than reform."

"An anti-vice crusade will not appeal to the masses of our citizens," he continued. "The first step in the direction of reform which will reform is to have human habitations in place of our denlike tenements. The death rate in Hester Street is 40 per cent. higher than the average made by the plague in Brazil, and throughout the tenement districts the deaths usually outnumber the births, so that if it were not for the continued stream of immigration the tenement-house problem would soon solve itself. The vast majority of our down-town and east side tenements are not fit to be inhabited; the landlords do not pretend to obey the laws of health, yet the tenants are paying large enough rents to yield landlords and estates from 15 to 40 per cent.

"There are many real estate agents who will not handle tenement property. The Astors, who have made it a rule of their real estate business to be satisfied with 4½ per cent., own no tenement property; neither do the Vanderbilts. There are scores of capitalists like them. The landlord is often an enormously wealthy estate which hires an agent, whose only business is to show a large balance of profits, and the poorer the tenements the larger the profits.

"Our large moneyed institutions which find it difficult to secure safe investments at 4 per cent. should take hold of this tenement question. Philanthropists, with big bank accounts, should look in this direction as a field in which to uplift their fellowmen. There is a greater demand for this class of benevolent investments in New York than there is for added cathedrals, churches, colleges or charity organizations. The greatest benefaction that could befall this city would be the replacing of our tenements by such buildings as the Victoria Square in Liverpool. All arrangements in the house are according to the demands of modern science. No room is smaller than 13 by 18 feet 6 inches; the ceilings are 9 feet in height. Three-room tenements rent for $1.44 a week, while one-room quarters are let at 54 cents a week. The total expenditure on the building was $288,000, and the returns are estimated at 4½ per cent."

LABOR ON VICE COMMITTEE.

Appointments Should Be Declined, a Delegate Tells the Central Body.

An attack on the Citizens' Committee of Fifteen was made at yesterday's meeting of the Central Federated Union by Daniel S. Jacobs of the cigarmakers. He began it by demanding to know if William J. O'Brien, delegate of the Granite Cutters' Union, and Andrew J. Smith, President of the Central Federated Union, who had been appointed to represent labor on the committee, had accepted the appointments.

"They were appointed as a compliment to labor," he said. "I don't think the invitation should be accepted. The Chamber of Commerce, from which the rest of the committee is drawn, represents all that is antagonistic to labor."

Matthew Barr of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers thought the invitation should be accepted.

O'Brien was not present at the meeting. Chairman Smith said he had not been officially notified of his appointment on the committee, and declined to talk about it.

POLICE VIOLENCE CHARGED.

Man Who Protested Against a Clubbing Ejected from Station.

Daniel and Cornelius Coughlin, brothers, walked along West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street late Saturday night. Their steps were unsteady, Daniel's so much so that Cornelius had all he could do to keep him on his feet. Policeman Thornton of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Station, saw their plight, and offered his assistance in getting Daniel home, but Daniel appeared to regard the offer as an unwarranted interference with his personal rights and pitched into him. Then Thonton decided to arrest Daniel, but the task proved a difficult undertaking. Within a block or two of the station house Thornton was met by several members of the midnight squad, who came to his assistance.

According to stories told later it became necessary to club Coughlin before he submitted to arrest. One of the witnesses to the clubbing was James T. Farrelly, a reporter, who was accompanied by a friend. He protested against what he charged was cruelty on the part of the police, and was beaten by the officers.

At the station house when arraigned before the Sergeant, Coughlin presented a pitiful appearance, and the friend of Farrelly, the reporter, who wanted to enter a protest against the conduct of the police, was thrown out of the building.

When arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday Daniel Coughlin, who said he was a laborer and lived at 617 West One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street, appeared to have only a hazy recollection of the events which led to his arrest. He remembered having been beaten, but had no idea, he said, by whom. He admitted having been intoxicated. Magistrate Braun thought that Coughlin had been sufficiently punished and discharged him.

"The police are very apt to lose their heads in times of a shake-up," he commented.

DETECTIVE DESMOND IN JAIL.

Accused of Shooting McMullen, Who Had Taken His Badge and Stick.

Timothy Desmond, a detective attached to the Fifth Avenue Police Station, Brooklyn, was arraigned in the Coney Island Police Court yesterday morning charged with shooting James McMullen, a shipping clerk employed by the Graves Paper Company, South Brooklyn. Both men live near Bay Seventeenth Street, Bath Beach.

When McMullen got home Saturday night he found the detective standing against the door. McMullen demanded to know by what authority Desmond was there, when the detective opened his coat and showed his badge. In a scuffle McMullen secured Desmond's pocket stick and badge. Mrs. McMullen came to the door with a baby in her arms. McMullen then went into the kitchen, followed by his wife and the detective. McMullen refused to give up Desmond's badge and stick. The fight was renewed, and Mrs. McMullen ran to the police station and notified the Sergeant.

She returned with a policeman and found McMullen on the floor with a bullet hole through his head. He was taken to the Norwegian Hospital in a dangerous condition. Desmond was arrested and in court yesterday was remanded without bail.

MANHATTAN CLUB'S PLANS.

Prominent Leaders to Meet at Its Foundation Anniversary—Mr. Whitney's Participation.

The thirty-fifth anniversary of the formation of the Manhattan Club will be celebrated on Saturday next, and it will be made the occasion of what may prove an important Democratic pow-wow.

Prominent among those who, it is said, will take an active part in the ceremonies are William C. Whitney, John D. Crimmins, Frederic R. Coudert, Charles W. Dayton, Ashbel P. Fitch, Perry Belmont, August Belmont, Bird S. Coler, Judge Truax, Thomas F. Gilroy, Hugh J. Grant, Jefferson M. Levy, J. Edward Simmons, and others who have been prominent in politics.

Leading Democrats of the city and State and from other States have been invited, but the list of possible guests is carefully withheld.

It is stated, however, that there is no intention of antagonizing the Democratic Club in anything that may be done, nor will those who stood by Mr. Bryan be ignored.

The main idea of the gathering is to revive the old status of the Manhattan Club as a factor in the Democratic politics of the State and Nation, with a possibility that more than passing attention will be paid to municipal affairs.

It is asserted that Mr. Whitney will play quite a prominent part in the movement and that he will be actively identified with the future of the club. Politicians are wondering whether Mr. Whitney proposes to re-enter active politics, but the general belief is that he will not figure largely in details.

City Club Appeals for Funds.

The Council of the City Club has issued an appeal to the general public for funds. In making the appeal it points out that what political work has been done has been at the expense of members of the organization, entirely outside the income of the social side of the club. The club in enumerating the many things it has accomplished, including successful opposition to bad measures, declares it originated the good government clubs, which brought about the formation of the Citizens' Union.

Ex-Policeman to Run for Assembly.

Friends of Thomas J. O'Brien, a retired policeman, who for many years was attached to the Essex Market Police Court, are grooming him for the Tammany Hall nomination for the Assembly next year in the Twenty-fifth District. He is said to have expressed a willingness to make the race, and wants to begin campaigning forthwith. A delegation of O'Brien's friends will present the matter to Leader George Scannell to-day.

Political Notes.

There will be an important meeting of the Central City Committee of the Citizens' Union to-night.

The district Captains in the Fifteenth Assembly District will give a dinner to the Republican leader, George W. Wanmaker, to-morrow night. It will be held at a fashionable restaurant in Upper Broadway.

The new Republican County Committee will meet for organization at Murray Hill Lyceum on Thursday. The present officers will be re-elected. George R. Sheldon will succeed the late John Sabine Smith as Treasurer.

Persons who were found at the Democratic Club yesterday ridiculed the published report that Lewis Nixon, President of the East River Bridge Commission, will succeed James J. Coogan as President of Manhattan Borough. All expressed a belief that Mr. Coogan will serve out his term.

ED. PINAUD'S, THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

Who makes the best soap in the world,
Does anybody really know?
With one accord the public cried:
"Of course we do; it's Ed. Pinaud!"

He makes the Violette de Parme,
Also the Royal Daisy fine,
The Ixora and the Noblesse,
And several others in this line.

The fragrant French Carnation Pink,
The Royal Lilac, sweeter still;
All have a choice of these perfumes,
So each may use the one he will.

'Tis Pinaud's soaps that take the prize,
They are delicate, fine, and pure;
He offers only first-class goods—
Of that his customers are sure.

They are found in every first-class store,
The trade all know them very well:
Ask for their finest Toilet Soap,
And Pinaud's is the only one they'll sell.

POLICEMAN RESCUES A WIFE.

Armed with Pistol and Stiletto Her Husband Drives Her Toward the River to Death.

With a loaded revolver in one hand and a stiletto in the other, Marsie Rofle, an Italian, of 323 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street, who had tired of his wife, marched her through the street and ordered her to jump into the East River last night. A few feet from the edge of the water Policeman Pretorius of the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station, with his revolver drawn, stopped the man and arrested him.

It is said that Rofle met another woman from his native country, whose attractions were greater than those of his wife. It is also said that his desire to be rid of his wife was the result of his wish to live with the other woman. Mrs. Rofle had been threatened several times by her husband.

It was bitterly cold, and there were no persons about at the time Rofle told the woman to start for the river. She walked through the street for some distance before several women and children on their way home saw the strange sight. They screamed when they noticed the revolver and stiletto, but they did not dare to interfere, and ran away without giving an alarm.

The woman walked on across Pleasant Avenue to Jefferson Park. She was going slower at every step, her fright half paralyzing her limbs. People now began to follow the couple, and one man left the crowd and told Policeman Pretorius. Pretorius drew his revolver and ran up. He saw the Italian's weapons as he came up behind him. Rofle did not see him, and the policeman caught him by the back of the coat and disarmed him.

The woman gave a little hysterical cry, though hardly realizing how near she had been to the water, which was now but a few feet away. The Italian tried to struggle with the policeman, but Pretorius easily subdued him and took him to the station and charged him with felonious assault. The woman ran back to her home.

STRIKERS' FRIENDS CUT WIRES.

Santa Fe Telegraph Operator Assaulted—Police Disperse Rioters.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Sympathizers with the striking telegraphers of the Santa Fé Railroad Company laid siege to the station at Willow Springs last night, and it seemed that a serious riot would ensue. The operator at the station was assaulted, the wires were cut, and a desperate effort was made to break into the building to destroy the instruments. The rioters were held in control by the local police, assisted by a body of citizens.

Several strike sympathizers gathered about the station the previous evening. The operator was told that it would be better for him not to report for another day. At dusk the next night the men began to assemble again. Within a few minutes there was a score of them. The crowd began pelting the station with stones, and several windows were broken. John Muiford, the operator, notified the local police. They were too few, however, to control the crowd.

Muiford had stepped to the platform to point out the leaders to the officers when he was assailed. One man attacked him with a lantern and felled him to the platform. The wires in the vicinity of the station were cut by men in the crowd, many of whom were supplied with nippers.

ARDMORE, I. T. Dec. 16.—At Dougherty, I. T., to-night unknown persons smashed the Santa Fé Station windows with stones and fired on the new operator. Marshals who were protecting the building exchanged several shots with the miscreants. No one was hurt.

EARTHQUAKE AT SANTIAGO.

No Serious Damage to the City—Excitement at the San Carlos Club.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 16.—There was an earthquake here last night about midnight, the most severe experienced in several years. It created a panic at the San Carlos Club, where a grand ball was in progress. It was preceded by a dull sound like a mine explosion. Two shocks were felt, the former being quite severe and the latter barely perceptible.

The ballroom at the club became a scene of frantic excitement. Several ladies fainted, and the people rushed into the streets expecting another and severer shock.

At Morro Castle a military ball was in progress, and the American ladies present had their first experience of an earthquake. They expressed great interest, but little fear.

Little injury was done in the city. Some dishes were broken and a few small buildings are said to have been slightly damaged.

SHOT HIMSELF ON FERRYBOAT.

Man Found Dying in the Cabin with a Bullet Wound in His Head.

When Charles Ward, a deck hand on the Catharine Street Ferryboat Republic, went through the cabins to see that all of the passengers had gone, after the boat had put into the Brooklyn slip at 8:40 o'clock last night, he saw a man sitting with bowed head in a corner of the men's cabin.

Thinking the man was asleep, he went over to arouse him. Then he saw that the passenger held a revolver in his hand, and there was an ugly wound in his right temple.

Ward reported the matter at the ferryhouse and an ambulance was called from the Brooklyn Hospital. The man died a few minutes after it arrived. The body was taken to the Fulton Street Police Station.

In the man's pocket was a newspaper on which in pencil was written the name John Dorick. He appeared to be about forty years old, was poorly dressed, and had dark hair and complexion. On the man's coat was Badge No. 574 of Longshoreman's Union No. 1, Branch 204.

BURNZ MURDER TRIAL.

Insanity the Defense of the Young Man Who Killed Station Agent Fellows.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 16.—The trial of Edgar C. Burnz for the murder of Herbert B. Fellows in Scarsdale on the night of Monday, Dec. 4, 1899, will begin in the Supreme Court here to-morrow morning before Justice Martin J. Keogh and a jury. An extra panel of 100 jurors has been drawn, which will give 150 from which to select a jury. The defense will be hereditary insanity.

Fellows was the station agent of the Harlem Division of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad and also Postmaster at Scarsdale.

Just before losing up time three young men came in from the back country to see about some stock that had come from there. While they were in the station Burnz came in. After 0 o'clock Burnz and Fellows, who lived in the same direction from the station, started to walk home together. Fellows had a gripsack, in which he had, as usual, placed from the bank he had taken in at the station and Post Office. There was only $60, but Burnz may have thought there was much more. When a short distance from Fellows's home Burnz shot Fellows in the head. He fell upon the boardwalk, and, from the pool of blood found there the next morning he must have lain there some time stunned; then, regaining consciousness, crawled across the road to the other side among some bushes, where he died from loss of blood. His body was found there.

Burnz went to Tuckahoe and took a late train to New York. He went about the city next day enjoying himself on the money he had stolen, and at night went to the Madison Square Garden, where a bicycle race was in progress, and was there found and arrested.

Allen Print Works to be Sold.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 16.—After having carried on the business for sixteen years, the committee which has been running the Allen Print Works for the benefit of the creditors has decided to recommend that the company go into liquidation and that the property be sold at auction. This action will be taken, it is stated, within a few months. About 450 hands usually are employed, but the works have been shut down for the last three weeks.

Actor Faversham Is Better.

The condition of Actor William Faversham improved slightly yesterday. Dr. Burke, his physician, said that Faversham has been almost a dead man since his relapse of last Tuesday. He is better than he was then, however, but will require very careful watching, and he will have a long convalescence.

INDIANA NEGROES LYNCHED

Two Murderers Hanged in Jail Yard by Mob of 1,000 Men.

Arrested Same Day for Brutal Killing of White Man—Run Down by Bloodhound—One Confessed.

ROCKPORT, Ind., Dec. 16.—Two negroes, Jim Henderson and Bud Rowlands, who waylaid and brutally murdered and robbed Hollie Simons, a white barber, early this morning, were lynched in the jailyard by a mob of 1,000 frenzied citizens to-night. The negroes were arrested early, and although Rowlande's clothing had blood stains on it the men asserted they were innocent of the crime.

In the mean time Sheriff Clemens of Union County, Ky., arrived with a trained bloodhound in response to a telegraphic summons. When the dog was placed on the trail he followed it until he reached the house where Rowlands lived, six blocks from the scene of the murder, and went baying to the bed the negro had occupied.

This was enough for the excited citizens. Within a few minutes a mob of 1,000 howling, blood-thirsty men with sledge hammers, ropes, and guns were running to the jail. Sheriff Anderson and his two deputies made a stand and attempted to protect the prisoners. The officers were seized by the leaders of the mob, who disarmed them. The Sheriff was then locked in a room and placed under guard, but he stoutly refused to give up the keys or tell where the prisoners were hidden. Failing to get the keys the mob made a determined but unsuccessful attempt to break in the jail door.

By t.is time the would-be lynchers were in a perfect frenzy, and securing a telegraph pole, they rushed it as a battering ram, and caved in the side wall of the jail. The door of Rowland's cell was then quickly broken in with sledges, and he was dragged from the jail to the east side of the courtyard, where a noose was placed about his neck. He was given time to make a statement, in which he implicated "Jim" Henderson and another negro. Rowlands then begged piteously for mercy, but the mob swung the confessed murderer to a tree and riddled his body with bullets.

Leaving the body of Rowlands dangling from the limb of the tree, the mob rushed back to the jail and attempted to burst open the cell occupied by Henderson, but before the steel bars yielded to the blows of the sledges some one in the crowd fired upon the terrified negro as he crouched in the corner of his cell. A few moments more and the door of the cell was broken in. The negro, more dead than alive, was dragged at a rope's end to the Court House yard and swung on the tree beside the body of Rowlands.

Firing a parting volley at the swinging bodies, the mob, eager for another victim, hurried away to catch the other negro implicated by Rowlands in his confession. He was found at a hotel where he was employed as a porter. The negro escaped to the roof of the building, and Manager Debruler succeeded in convincing the mob that the porter had nothing to do with the crime, proving an alibi for him. The mob then dispersed apparently satisfied with its awful work of vengeance.

The negro's victim, Simons, was waylaid and murdered in the most brutal manner one square from the main street of the city as he was going to his home from his barber shop at 2 o'clock this morning. As was customary with him, he carried the receipts of the day at his place of business. The negroes were aware of this and evidently laid the plans accordingly. Crouching behind a fence, they awaited their victim.

When he approached they jumped from their place of concealment and attacked him from behind, striking him over the head with a heavy club with a large nail driven into the end of it. Although terribly beaten Simons made a desperate fight and his cries and struggles soon attracted two boys, who went to his assistance, but they were a moment too late, the victim having succumbed to the terrible beating.

The murderers then drove the would-be rescuers away and accomplished their original design—that of robbing Simons—securing a bag containing something over $40 from the prostrate form of their victim. They then made their escape.

Simon was terribly mangled; his skull was crushed in, his head and face being beaten into a pulp. Four gaping wounds showed where the spike on the club had punctured the dead man's skull and penetrated his brain.

Walter Evans, one of the young men who attempted to save Simons's life, and who afterward assisted in the removing of the dead man's body to his home, was greatly affected, and almost suffered nervous collapse. After witnessing the tragedy to-night he lost his reason. The dead man's wife is prostrated, and it is believed she will die from the shock.

Hollie Simons came here from Winslow, Ind., three years ago, and was a popular young man.

The feeling against the negroes was intensified by reason of the fact that within the past two weeks over a dozen houses have been robbed at Rockport, and Henderson and Rowlands were suspected as being the leaders in these robberies. The mob announced that in the case of all future robberies the guilty persons would be run down and lynched.

Many negroes left the city to-night, among them Joe Rolla. Those remaining are keeping themselves closely indoors. Eight other negroes were arrested as suspects, and would have been lynched had they not been able to prove alibis.

The mob was very determined. There was no demonstration except the firing of about twenty shots in the air to prevent the throng of bystanders from crowding up too closely.

After the lynching hundreds of the mob collected in the hotels and other public places and discussed it, making no attempt to conceal their connection with the affair.

MANY CLAIM SMALL ESTATE.

If Divided Among Them Each Would Get $2.50, Lawyer Says.

About 150 sisters, cousins, aunts, and other relatives are clamoring for a share of the small estate left by John I. Hunt, who prior to his death two years ago was a well-known resident of the Bronx.

He lived at One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street and Bathgate Avenue, and his estate consisted of property in the Bronx valued at about $8,000. On this there was a mortgage of $1,700, held by the East River Savings Bank, several unpaid assessments, and two years' interest on the mortgage.

Mr. Hunt had two children. A daughter, Sarah, died in 1899, and a son, Edward, disappeared about ten years ago. Mr. Klugh, a lawyer of 1,060 East One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, has been advertising to find the missing young man, who is heir to what remains of Mr. Hunt's estate.

The lawyer said last night that he has been overrun with claimants, and he figures that if all are satisfied, they will each receive the sum of about $2.50.

The delightful flavour and unmistakable aroma peculiar to especially adapt it to High Balls, as the addition of water, still or carbonated, does not affect its taste in the slightest degree, no matter how great the dilution. Used in cocktails or other mixed drinks "CANADIAN CLUB" retains the fragrant and delicious qualities which are peculiar to it.

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY

CASPERFELD & CLEVELAND,

781 BROADWAY,
Opposite Wanamaker's.

Our progressive methods are already causing consternation among the high-priced jewelers. We believe in quick sales and small profits. Some of the specialties quoted below will certainly interest you as appropriate

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

DIAMOND PENDANT.
Beautiful brooch or pendant, illustrated above, contains 49 pure white diamonds, each one brilliant, weighing 6 carats. The design is exclusive and one of the showiest ever made; worth $425, special at..... $310

OPAL RING.
Fine Hungarian opal surrounded by 12 fine white full cut brilliant gems; gorgeous effect; special at $105

DIAMOND EAR SCREWS.
Pure white matched gems, very brilliant, flawless, 1½ carats; price..... $118

PEARL SCARF PIN.
An exquisite pear shaped Oriental pearl of rare color and perfection, eight grains, mounted with fine blue white diamond; unusual bargain at..... $95

Open Evenings.
Mail orders filled. Catalogue mailed free

CHANLER'S ASYLUM LIFE.

He Had a Large Fund When He Escaped—New Clue.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Interesting incidents concerning the life led by John Armstrong Chanler, who escaped from Bloomingdale Asylum on Thanksgiving Day, came to light to-day.

Chanler each week telegraphed for a large package of a special brand of Turkish cigarettes, for which he had a liking. Daily he purchased all the New York newspapers, and after cutting out all the articles pertaining to court and asylum cases he pasted them on the wall of his room. At the Macy villa it was learned that Chanler had a large sum of money when he escaped from the asylum, although the authorities knew nothing of this. He received a weekly income, and he saved most of this money. It was even hinted that he had probably been saving funds for months in preparation for his flight.

One of the attendants at the asylum left this morning for New Jersey to search the towns between Montclair and Philadelphia, as it was reported that a man answering Chanler's description had been seen in the neighborhood of Montclair.

NEW YORKER DIES ON A SHIP.

Charles C. Jackson's Body Landed at Gibraltar from Liner Columbia.

GIBRALTAR, Dec. 16.—Charles Carroll Jackson of New York City, a saloon passenger on the Hamburg-American liner Columbia, which arrived here to-day, died of peritonitis aboard ship. The body was brought ashore here and is being embalmed for conveyance to New York.

Charles Carroll Jackson, who lived at 33 West Thirty-seventh Street, left for Europe on the steamship Columbia on Dec. 8. He was sixty-four years old. He was a son of Isaac Rand and Louisa Carroll Jackson. His father represented the United States Government at Copenhagen. His great-grandfather, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Md., was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Charles Carroll Jackson was born in Philadelphia in December, 1836. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in the class of '63, at which time he entered the navy, serving until the close of the civil war. In 1870 he came to New York and became associated with the firm of Aswald, Jackson & Brother. He married, in 1882, Miss Mary Van Nest, who survives him, as does one daughter, who is the wife of the Rev. Osborn Baker of Bar Harbor. Mr. Jackson was a member of the Union League and Metropolitan Clubs and of several charity organizations.

MOTOR VEHICLE STRUCK HIM.

Driver McWheeney Arrested for Collision with a Doctor's Carriage.

Thomas McWheeney, driver of a motor vehicle, was in Yorkville Police Court yesterday charged with having willfully run into and smashed the phaeton of Dr. Edmund Carleton of 62 West Forty-ninth Street.

Dr. Carleton appeared against McWheeney. He said that he was being driven along Fifth Avenue near Forty-fifth Street, by his coachman, Josiah Virgil, when he saw the motor vehicle bearing down on him. He asserted that his coachman turned in toward the sidewalk to avoid the motor, but that McWheeney continued in the direction of his phaeton and refused to turn out when he shouted to him to do so.

Dr. Carleton described the collision following and placed the injuries to his horse and the damages to his vehicle at $50. He stated that he desired to prosecute McWheeney and later to bring a suit for damages in the civil courts. A continuance was granted until Tuesday afternoon despite the remonstrances of Dr. Carleton.

Fined for Taking Manager's Coat.

James Wilson, who as James Murray, a stage hand at the Harlem Opera House, was arrested on Saturday night charged with the theft of an overcoat and several other articles from the dressing rooms of the players, was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday. Some of the stolen articles had been recovered at his home, 600 St. Nicholas Avenue. They included an overcoat belonging to Manager Backus of the "Lord and Lady Algy" Company. The charge of larceny against Wilson was changed to disorderly conduct and he was fined $10.

Roland Reed Improved.

An improvement was shown yesterday by Roland Reed in his recovery from his illness in St. Luke's Hospital.

THEODORE B. STARR

Diamond Merchant, Jeweler and Silversmith

Madison Square

Open evenings commencing Thursday, December 20

W. & J. Sloane

For Holiday Gifts.

A unique collection of

Antique Oriental Rugs

Comprising many beautiful specimens of various weaves,

Rare Silk Rugs,

Unsurpassed for decorative purposes.

Antique Runners

in a great variety for halls and stairs.

Broadway & 19th Street.

CHRISTMAS SILVERWARE IN GOLD AND SILVER PLATE AND STERLING SILVER

MERIDEN COMPANY, SILVERSMITHS,
INTERNATIONAL SILVER CO. Successor.

MADISON SQUARE, WEST, 208 FIFTH AVE.
1128-1130 BROADWAY,
9-11-13 MAIDEN LANE.

BARRETT'S FAMILY TROUBLES.

Wife, a Chorus Girl, Has Her Husband Arrested for Deserting Her.

William Barrett of 460 West Fifty-third Street, employed as an Inspector by the Fidelity and Casualty Elevator Insurance Company, was a prisoner before Magistrate Mayo in the West Side Court yesterday morning charged with abandonment by his wife, Mamie Barrett of 122 West Forty-seventh Street. Mrs. Barrett, who is in the "Hodge, Podge & Company" chorus, told the Magistrate that since her marriage two years ago, they had twice separated. She said that on the day after last Thanksgiving Day, her husband deserted her and broke up their home at 931 Amsterdam Avenue by having the furniture and bedding removed. She admitted that she had been away from home nearly two days just before this, but said that she said away because of the harsh treatment she had received from Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Barrett's defense was that his wife had voluntarily left home. "As long as she is my wife," he said, "I am willing to support her, but I wish very much that she was not." He told Magistrate Mayo that he could prove that his wife had staid in a saloon one night drinking with another man until 4 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Barrett admitted that he held a responsible position and received $30 a week, whereupon Magistrate Mayo told him that he must pay his wife $8 a week. Mr. Barrett was paroled until to-day, when he must furnish bond to insure the payment of the sum.

OLD FIGHT RENEWED.

Noonan Stabbed Barry, Who Wants to Administer His Own Punishment.

William Barry, a rubber worker, and Frank Noonan, alias Frank McLaughlin, who live in the Empire Lodging House, 2,260 Third Avenue, had a fight two weeks ago, which ended so unsatisfactorily to both that they renewed it last night at One Hundred and Twenty-third Street and Third Avenue. Noonan quickly ended it by stabbing Barry under the right shoulder with a penknife. Barry was taken to Harlem Hospital, with a not very serious wound. Noonan escaped. Detectives Hawkins and Meehan went to the hospital to ask Barry about Noonan, but he refused to tell anything about his assailant, saying:

"Don't bother about him. I'll be out in a few days and settle the matter myself."

STILL FIGHTING IN COLOMBIA.

The Rebels Lose a Stronghold, but Are Not Dispersed.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 16.—Advices received from Colon, Colombia, to-day regarding the recent fighting between the Government troops and the insurgents at Tumaco, the rebel stronghold, which began Dec. 4 and lasted three days, the insurgents then evacuating the town, say that the withdrawing insurgent force was not dispersed. On the contrary, fears are entertained at Colon that this body of rebels will effect a junction with the force operating around Buenaventura.

Telegraphic communication with the interior has been suspended by Government order, and fighting is proceeding at various points, although without important results.

Both sides lost heavily in the battle at Tumaco. When the Government forces destroyed the rebel steamer Gaitan they also destroyed a large supply of ammunition.

Gen. Alban, Governor of the State of Panama, who was in command of the Government troops, left for Bogota after the evacuation of Tumaco and the destruction of the Gaitan.

FIVE BODIES FOUND IN RUINS.

Are Victims of Fredonia School Fire—Burned Beyond Recognition.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Bodies of five more victims of the Normal School fire were recovered to-day, making six that have been taken from the ruins. Those found to-day were charred beyond recognition, as was the one previously recovered. Workmen, while removing débris, found the five bodies at the foot of a fire-escape at the Terrace Street side of the ruins. They were piled across each other and burned almost beyond the semblance of humanity.

A ring upon the finger of one of the bodies gives a hope that it may be identified, but there is nothing by which the others can possibly be distinguished. It is proposed that all be buried in one grave and that it be marked by one monument, to be placed in the Fredonia Cemetery in memory of the victims.

Saloon Keeper Held for Forgery.

Edward Bruson, a saloon keeper at 11 First Avenue, was held for trial in $2,000 bonds by Magistrate Hogan in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday morning, charged with forging the name of Herman Goetz to a check for $123. He is alleged to have cashed the check at the Hupfel Brewing Company's offices.

UNITED HEBREW CHARITIES.

Report for November Shows 4,560 Applications Dealt With.

The work of the United Hebrew Charities for November is summarized in these statistics, taken from the reports of the various committees and from the books of the society:

The total number of applications received and dealt with during the month reached 4,560, representing about 15,200 individuals. Of these, in the Bureau of Relief, 982 persons applied for the first time, and the cases which had been previously investigated numbered 2,404. Relief was refused for sufficient causes in 536 cases.

Regular monthly allowances were given to 356 cases not included in the number of applications here given. Ninety-seven persons were supplied with transportation to different parts of this country and Europe. Four thousand nine hundred and fifty-six garments, 573 pairs of shoes, and 210 articles of furniture and bedding were distributed. Sixty nights' board and lodging and 209 meals were furnished to homeless men and women. There were thirty-one free interments.

Seventeen bundles of clothing, consisting of 340 pieces, were distributed to mothers and infants; 3,370 visits were said to 106 cases by the nurses; 106 persons were supplied with nourishing food; 589 office calls and 310 home calls were attended to by the physicians; 163 bottle of wine and liquor, 28 bottles of maltine, and 22 bottles of cod liver oil, also 23 orders for surgical appliances and 37 orders for groceries were distributed.

In the Employment Bureau there was a total registry of 1,464 applications. Work was found for 262, 78 refused work, and 619 failed to call after registering. Fifty were referred to the Auxiliary Society of the United Hebrew Charities.

Fifty-two subscribers enrolled themselves on the books, contributing $940. The receipts for the month were $13,454.00. The disbursements in the various departments for relief were $16,953.17.

$200,000 Fire at Norfolk Navy Yard.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 16.—The building occupied by the construction department at the Norfolk Navy Yard was completely destroyed by fire this evening. The building contained all the important papers, models, and plans of the construction department. Over 7,000 drawings and $100,000 worth of live oak timber were destroyed. Loss to building and contents over $200,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

An Unrivalled Assortment of

BROUGHAMS,
DEMI-COACHES, LANDAUS,
OMNIBUSES,
ROCKAWAYS, HANSOM CABS,

All sizes and weights; best quality; Newest Designs; lowest prices for quality.

EVERY STANDARD STYLE OR NOVELTY IN PLEASURE VEHICLES
For Town and Country
IN UNEQUALLED VARIETY.

Flandrau & Co.

372, 374, 376 BROOME ST.

4th Avenue cars pass door. Broadway cars to Broome Street.

When "Miller" Lamps are used
Light from Kerosene Oil is Best for the Eyes.

It is Steady, White, Bright, and can be had in just the position that is best.

Miller Lamps are Safe, Easy to Manage, Durable, Ornamental, and the Best Made.

Buy them for Gifts {Christmas, Wed

Glassware

CIGAR JARS
LIQUOR SETS

And many other gift suggestions for Christmas

OPEN EVENINGS

DORFLINGER

915 Broadway and 36 Murray St., New York

"Mellowed by the stealing hours of time."—Shakespeare.

Maryland Club

Pure Rye Whiskey

It tastes old because it is old

CAHN, BELT & CO.
Baltimore, Md.

Tiffany Favrile Glass

In no other glass is it possible to obtain the richness in metallic lustres and marvellous color effects found in Favrile Glass.

TIFFANY STUDIOS

333 TO 341 FOURTH AVENUE

(Bet. 24th and 25th Sts.) New York.

No more beautiful Christmas gifts can be found than the vases, bowls, etc., of Favrile Glass and the lamps of Metal Work and Favrile Glass.

The large pieces all bear the name Louis C. Tiffany in full, the smaller the initials L. C. T. Prices from two dollars up.

Christmas Gifts

RETIRING

FROM THE

CHINA BUSINESS

WE OFFER OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Porcelain, China, Faience, Parian, Bisque, French Bronze Cabinets and Enamels,

20% to 30% BELOW

WHOLESALE PRICES.

LE BOUTILLIER & CO.,

18 East 17th Street, near Broadway.

Courtesy

costs nothing and makes life worth living. Courteous attention to its patrons from its employees is enforced by the

Chicago Great Western

Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis; to Des Moines, St. Joseph and Kansas City. For full information apply to any railroad agent, call on or address E. M. JENKINS, City Passenger Agent, 379 Broadway, New York, or

F. H. LORD, General Passenger Agent, Chicago Great Western Railway, Chicago.

THE "Household" Tool Chest,

With Tools Fit to Use.

FOR SALE BY

LEWIS & CONGER

130 & 132 West 42d St., 135 West 41st St.

TRADE —41— MARK.

EVERYBODY'S WHISKEY

WHY?

Because it is a blend of absolutely pure whiskies, ripe and mellow with age. Bottled only by

L. J. CALLANAN,

41 and 43 Vesey St., New York.

SEND FOR COPY OF MONTHLY PRICE LIST.

H. N. SQUIRE'S SON.

Diamonds and Watches.

1 MAIDEN LANE, N. Y.

TO MAKE RAID ON CONGRESS

An Organized Effort to Get Action on Old Claims.

$500,000,000 THE GREAT PRIZE

Senator Money Says He Intends to Press His Bill for War Claims on Cotton on Every Occasion.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—In the Senate on Friday, just before that body went into executive session, Senator Money of Mississippi made a motion to take up Senate Bill No. 602, which is a measure prepared to revive an old act to pay a large aggregation of claims, principally for cotton, made against the United States on account of the war of the rebellion. Mr. Money had an amendment to offer to the bill touching the application of the proposed measure, and when Mr. Lodge pressed for the executive session, Mr. Money objected rather argumentatively, and gave notice that he would press the claims bill on every occasion. The impression created upon other Senators was that the Mississippi Senator intended to secure the passage of the bill if he had to put it in the way of the most important measure or consume time that would otherwise be given to the discussion of public bills.

The calendars of both the Senate and the House are loaded down with claims bills. Should all be passed the Treasury would be so depleted that talk of a tax reduction bill would be out of the question. In the Senate the task of getting through "old soldiers," the measures that have been crowded over from one session to another, is facilitated by a tradition, cherished in the Committee on Claims, that a bill once reported by that committee shall be reported thereafter without discussion in committee, the assumption being that the work of one committee is conclusive upon that committee ever after. So the Senate calendar is decorated, or disfigured, according to the appreciation of the reader of it, with the titles of a regiment of "old soldiers," many of which have been coddled by Senators now dead and gone.

The aggregate amount sought to be obtained by the men behind these bills, who are not the original claimants, but the "heirs or assigns," is very large. The purchasers or borrowers of the right to press the Government can be found at any hour of the day in the corridors of the Senate or the House. Sometimes they are gentlemen of great piety and reputed respectability, but who are not above taking money if they can get members of Congress to pull it out of the Treasury for them.

It is learned from members of the Senate and the House that something like a foray by the backers of these many claims is expected before the session is over. The holders of the claims by some means known to themselves, have established a sort of combination, partaking of the character of a log-rolling association, by which they are determined to "hold up" the House and the Senate and secure the passage of their claims bills. It is estimated by a well-informed member of the House that if this combination should ever get its machinery in working order and pass all the claims it has scared up, it would take $5,000,000,000 to pay them. Mr. Cannon says it might not be as much as that, but he admits "it would be plenty."

To make a successful raid, even if organized, the co-operation must be obtained of the Speaker and the Committee on Rules in the House, and the Finance Committee in the Senate. Fortunately for the taxpaying public, the Speaker has been for years a man who could stand up against all the "grafters" with swollen claims, and the Senate calendars show that that body has postponed a goodly number of the veterans. The threat to stop the Senate with the cotton claims has directed attention to the hunger of some of the claimants.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Canal Treaty and Subsidy Bill in the Senate—House May Take Up River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The Senate will devote the greater part of its time this week to consideration of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, if it should be necessary to do so in order to get the ratification resolution acted upon, and in case there is any surplus time it will be devoted to the consideration of the Ship Subsidy bill.

None of the appropriation bills can be reported to the Senate in time for consideration this week, or until after the holidays, and the same may be said of the Army bill. There will be an effort made to report the Army bill during the week, and it may be successful, but it cannot possibly be taken up before the Senate convenes after the holidays.

Senator Lodge is very hopeful of securing an agreement to-morrow to vote upon the treaty before the holiday adjournment next Friday. The present programme of the opponents of the treaty is to have Senator Money speak to-morrow, and other Senators of the opposition in succession. A number of speeches have been promised on the subsidy bill if opportunity offers.

The week in the House is not likely to be important, unless the River and Harbor Appropriation bill should be taken up Wednesday or Thursday. There has been no decision upon this point, however, the bill not having been yet reported to the House.

To-morrow is individual suspension day under the rules, but only a brief time will be occupied with suspension business. Several bills to divide judicial districts and the Lanham (Texas) claims bill probably will be passed. The remainder of the day, under an order made yesterday, will be devoted to the consideration of private pension bills. Tuesday has been set aside for the consideration of District of Columbia business.

REAPPORTIONMENT IN CONGRESS.

Agreement on the Bill Expected To-day—Indiana's Fight.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Representative Hopkins expects that agreement will be reached on his Reapportionment bill to-morrow and that the bill will be passed before the end of the week. It will have the right of way.

Mr. Hopkins's bill provides for keeping the representation at its present figure—357 members. The Burleigh bill provides for an increase of 30, but there is no expectation that it will receive any consideration. An attempt is being made to put the figure at 373. This is in the interest of the Indiana delegation. That figure will be necessary to keep that delegation intact.

The argument which the Indiana people put forth is that if a change is made in their State it will be necessary to make a redistricting which will retire several of the most distinguished Republicans in Indiana and fill their places with Democrats. For example, Representative James A. Hemenway of the First District will surely lose his place if there is a redistricting. Only by the most violent gerrymandering could the Republicans prevent the addition of enough Democrats to the district to beat him.

TAX REDUCTION IN THE SENATE

Committee Will Not Take up Bill This Week—Pressure Expected from the Brewers.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senator Aldrich said to-day that the Finance Committee of the Senate will not take up the Tax Reduction bill until after the holiday recess. The time of the Senate promises to be exhausted up to Thursday or later by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and then, until after New Year's, there will be almost a suspension of business in committees and out.

Before the House passed its bill, and when it called only for $30,000,000 reduction, Mr. Aldrich was positive in his declaration that the reduction would be much larger, going even so far as to intimate the probability of a sweeping away of all the internal revenue taxes that should not be retained permanently. Now he is more cautious.

"I have learned," he said, "that it is not wise to say what you hope to do unless you want to get into trouble. So I have nothing to offer in the way of prediction."

The Senate anticipates pressure on behalf of the brewers to still further reduce the beer tax, and members of the Finance Committee have heard intimations that the representatives of the brewing interest will urge a reduction that will bring the tax down to $1.50 a barrel and eliminate the sixth and eighth barrels.

Camerden & Forster

LARGE VARIETY FOR SEEKERS OF NOVELTY AND QUALITY IN

Art Objects for Gifts, etc.

DIRECT IMPORTERS FIRST-HAND PRICES.

Clocks, Statuary, Brasses, Knick-knacks, Quaint Novelties, &c.

273 Fifth Ave., Between 29th and 30th Sts.

THE PHILIPPINE TARIFF.

Rates to be About 40 Per Cent. of Those Now in Force.

MANILA, Dec. 16.—Most of the time of the Philippine Commission is now devoted to the Tariff bill. Judge Taft said to-day that, generally speaking, the new rates would be about 40 per cent. of the existing rates.

"It will be essentially a tariff for revenue," he remarked, "but some industries that are already established will be given protection. The commission is not considering the question of the constitutionality of taxing United States products. The precedents have been established in the case of Porto Rico and by the Military Government of the Philippines.

"The bill requires the washing of cotton goods, so as to eliminate the clay used by European manufacturers, which increases the weight. This will incidentally favor American goods. The rate on kerosene will be reduced from 11 cents a gallon to 4 cents. Some American goods will be admitted free, and almost all will come in at reduced figures."

OPERATIONS IN PHILIPPINES.

Insurgent Loses Small During the Past Ten Days.

MANILA, Dec. 16.—Advices from Iloilo, Island of Panay, reports that the American troops have been moving northward and westward for several days and that detachments of the Sixth, Eighteenth, and Twenty-sixth Regiments have been active near their stations.

The insurgent losses during the last ten days there have been five killed, several wounded, and forty taken prisoners. The Americans have lost two killed and three wounded. Large numbers of the natives, however, are swearing allegiance to the United States.

In various recent attacks and expeditions in Southern Luzon the insurgents have lost eight killed, seven wounded, and about twenty captured. The Americans have lost one killed and two wounded.

Gen. Wheaton reports that 430 natives have entered Calauan for registration.

CORPORAL SHOT BY OUTPOST.

Herbert Chase, Mistaken for Filipino, Killed by One of His Men.

BOSTON, Dec. 16.—The following was received by The Globe from James Sweeny, hospital steward with the Twenty-ninth Volunteer Infantry at Catbalogan, Samar Island:

"Corp. Herbert Chase, Company D, Twenty-ninth Volunteer Infantry, a brother of Frank Chase of Pleasant Street, Marlborough, Mass., was shot and killed by Jake Henderson, private, at, Company C, Twenty-ninth Infantry, at Catbalogan, Samar Island, during the night of Oct. 27. About 300 American soldiers hold the town of Catbalogan, being constantly harassed by the insurrectos, under Gen. Lukban, on the surrounding hills. This led to strict orders to kill all natives out after dark. On Oct. 27, a rebel officer came into town under a flag of truce and delivered over Sergt. Rice and Corp. Allen of the Forty-third Infantry, who were captured last March. These men reported that the force of Filipinos besieging the town numbered 2,300, and that they were boasting of coming into town to kill all Americans.

"About 10 o'clock that night the Filipinos opened a heavy fire on the town. It was Corp. Chase's duty to reinforce the 'Gatling gun' squad, and the Filipinos were repulsed after a lively half hour's fight. When the firing had subsided, the Corporal stepped into the bushes, telling the sentinel, it is said, not to shoot. The order was forgotten by the excited outpost, and, as Chase started to return, he was shot down without being challenged, evidently being mistaken for the much-dreaded boloman. Jake Henderson was put into the guardhouse, and will be tried on the charge of manslaughter."

Chase was buried with military honors Oct. 28.

BOY ROASTED AND SCALDED.

Terrible Fate of a Child Who Sought a Toy.

Charles Rummel, seven years old, of 142 Manhattan Avenue, Brooklyn, fell on the red-hot kitchen stove in his home yesterday, and was literally roasted to death. The boy had climbed on a chair near the kitchen mantel to get a toy, when he slipped and fell on the stove. He grabbed a can containing hot coffee and overturned it, the contents, scalding him.

The boy's mother, who had witnessed the terrible fate of her son, became apparently too paralyzed with fright to do anything to save him. Her screams brought neighbors, however, who lifted the boy from the stove. Doctors were called, but the little fellow died an hour later.

Stabbed to Death by Footpads.

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 16.—John Sterling of this city was stabbed to death shortly after midnight by one of three negroes who held him up while he was walking along the street. Sterling was accompanied by his uncle, Isaac Matthews, when the attack was made. The police arrested a large number of negroes on suspicion, and among them was Howard Davis, who admitted being with the man who attacked Sterling, but denied that he had anything to do with the stabbing.

Alleged Anarchist's Burns Fatal.

Louis Mayser, the alleged Anarchist who was burned Wednesday while lighting a fire with benzine at 181 Madison Street, died yesterday at Gouverneur Hospital. An Arnachist newspaper was issued from the place, the police say, and Mayser and his friends admitted that they were members of a club with "red flag" tendencies, who met at the headquarters.

Girl Drowned While Skating.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 16.—Edith Huff, aged eighteen years, was drowned last night at Milltown, near here, while skating with a young man named Leonard. The latter was rescued, but the night was so dark that the girl was lost. Her body was recovered to-day.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil has been the resort of all physicians, for more than 25 years, for mal-nutrition.

Mal-nutrition is failure to get new strength to be expended in bodily functions; it may be with or without acute disease.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

Both Sides 14th S. from 13th to 15th, 6th Ave.

Appropriate Presents for Riders and Drivers.

(Annex.)

There's a close association between the Macy Harness department and the gift-giving idea. Men and women who enjoy riding and driving will appreciate a present that counts in the equipment of such diversion. We print a short list which may prove helpful to hundreds who haven't remembered the fitness and practical character of such things.

Imported Riding Crops, 94c. $1.49, $1.99 and up to $10.32.

Imported Riding Whips, 74c, 99c, $1.57 and up to $8.99.

Straight Whalebone Driving Whips, $1.06, $1.88, $2.04 and up to $16.24.

Imported Lash Whips, with holly, bamboo, thorn and rabbit bitton sticks, $1.49, $3.24, $3.49 and up to $16.74.

Imported Dash Cases, with watch, $4.24, $5.63, $6.99 and $11.24.

Spurs, per pair, 78c, $1.19, $1.63 and up to $2.74.

Fur Driving Gloves, $1.84, $3.13, $3.74, and up to $9.24.

Fur Capes, $7.99 and $10.24.

Fur Collars, $1.96 and $2.99.

Fur Foot Muffs, $3.24.

Fur Robes, $4.99, $7.99, $9.61 and up to $22.61.

Footmen's Umbrellas, $3.74.

Carriage Heaters, $2.71, $3.72, $4.23 and $4.97.

Stella Music Box

ABSOLUTELY THE BEST AND SOLD AT MODERATE PRICES. EASY TERMS IF DESIRED.

The Stella has a Sweetness, Harmony and Volume of Tone found in no other instrument, and is the only music box using smooth steel tune sheets.

Prices from $26.00 to $300.00. Other styles from 25c to $1,200.00.

Musical Novelties from $4.00 up.

JACOT MUSIC BOX CO., 39 Union Square, N. Y. Broadway and 17th St.

WATCHES, DIAMONDS,

And Fine Jewelry.

Attention is called to our several grades of TIME-KEEPING WATCHES, all made specially for our house, and bearing our name.

(EVERY WATCH WARRANTED.)

Diamonds and Fine Gems a Specialty.

"The Benedict" Perfect Collar and Cuff Button.

In gold, extra heavy rolled gold, and sterling silver.

NOTE—THE GENUINE BENEDICT BUTTON has the name "BENEDICT," and date of patent stamped upon it. A SET OF FOUR MAKES AN ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.

BENEDICT BROTHERS, Jewelers,

Broadway and Cortlandt Street, N. Y. (Established 1819.)

THE JOURNALISM OF TO-DAY.

Rev. Dr. Reed Finds Much to Condemn in the Sensational Newspapers.

The Rev. Dr. John J. Reed, pastor of the Washington Square Methodist Church, preached a sermon last night on "The New Journalism" to his congregation. Dr. Reed dwelt upon the great changes that have manifested themselves in the making of a newspaper in the past fifty years, contrasting the journalism of Franklin, Greeley, and Weed with that of to-day, and touching upon the enormous outlays of money involved in the conduct of a great daily.

"The daily of to-day," declared Dr. Reed, "has a power that is illimitable and at the same time deplorable, inasmuch as a newspaper to-day can make or mar at its will. It supplies to-day a great many fields hitherto unknown to it, accomplishing detective work as well as the work of the interviewer, the reporter, and the editorial writer. Hitherto the editorial page was the attractive and most important page of a daily newspaper, but to-day it has so dwindled that it is often flippantly written, and does not serve the purpose which it was born to serve.

"The newspaper is an educator, whether it aims to be or not, and if a man is to be judged by the company he keeps, the same may be said of him regarding the newspaper he reads. Many of our newspapers of to-day are merely a chamber of horrors, a daily Mrs. Grundy. Three-fourths of them contain only tittle-tattle.

"A greater bane is our Sunday papers, and those papers which claim that edition form a new triumvirate of evil that is now at the fore.

"The freedom of the press is in some cases a curse. If a censorship is allowable during war time over even the United States mail, why might it not be placed upon the present almost unendurable conditions of journalism, and pay closer attention to the stuff that is going toward the spoilation of public morals?"

The Rev. Mr. Reed then stated that he considered the majority of the dailies of to-day directly antagonistic toward the evangelical faith, and leaning almost wholly toward secularism.

HARVARD'S CLASS OFFICERS.

The Seniors' Ticket Will Be Voted on This Week.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 16.—The nominations for class officers of the senior class of Harvard closed to-night. The class this year has returned to the plan of having the three leading societies—the Hasty Pudding, D. U., and the Pi Eta—combine and draw up a slate for the officers without any opposition.

The nominations drawn up for the committee this year from the various societies seem to meet with universal satisfaction. The election, which will take place Wednesday and Thursday of next week, will be only to decide a few minor points, as there is but one nomination for almost all the officers. The one contest will be between Capt. Reid of the baseball team and Capt. Hallowell of the track team for the position of third Marshal, as it is admitted that James Lawrence of the crew will be first Marshal and Capt. Daly of the eleven second Marshal.

The rest of the nominations are as follows: Secretary—H. B. Clark, New York; Poet—C. S. C. Arensburg, Fitchburg, Penn.; Ivy Orator—S. R. Dubois, New York; Oblist—J. G. Forbes, Boston; Orator—E. P. Chandler, Indian Orchard, Mass.; Chorister—N. H. Pride; Class Committee—O. C. Brayton of Burlington, Iowa; C. D. Daly, Boston; H. W. Hallowell, West Medford; I. W. Kendall, New York; J. Lawrence, Jr., Groton, Mass.; W. T. Reid, Belmont, Cal.; Class Day Committee—H. Blythe, Burlington, Iowa; H. W. French, Boston; G. A. Sawin, Cambridge; Photographic Committee—B. M. Brownell, New Bedford, Mass.; R. W. Cheney, Manchester, N. H.; S. G. Ellis, Lynn, Mass.; R. Fincke, Utica, N. Y.; W. T. Foster, Roslindale, Mass.; L. S. Jackson, New York; H. W. Keene, Lynn, Mass.

Dr. Anthony Schuyler's Successor.

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 16.—The vestry of Grace Episcopal Church has formally appointed the Rev. Alexander Mann as rector of that church to succeed his uncle, the late Rev. Dr. Anthony Schuyler. It is understood that the appointment is in accordance with an agreement made five years ago, when Mr. Mann became associate rector, that he was to succeed Dr. Schuyler when the latter retired or died.

Church's Novel Scheme to Raise Funds.

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 16.—A novel scheme has been adopted by the Washington Street Baptist Church here for raising money to make improvements in the church building. The scheme is the collection and sale of old newspapers. All the boys and girls in the Sunday school are employed in the work. For each 100 pounds of paper the children receive 5 cents. The papers are, in turn, sold by the church to a paper-box manufacturer for $9 a ton.

MEXICO'S FINANCES.

Minister Limontour Expects Only Small Surplus—Export of Silver Causes Trouble.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 16.—Minister Limontour's report of the financial condition of the country, made to Congress on the presentation of the annual budget, is a notable document. He estimates for the ensuing year a revenue amounting to $61,694,000, and expenditures of $61,677,990, and shows why he does not anticipate a large surplus for the coming year. He takes up the present financial situation, which is characterized by monetary stringency, and remarks:

"It is impossible to disregard certain economical phenomena and certain symptoms of the present business situation, which reveal a condition of uneasiness caused by the partial paralyzation of transactions, and which, to continue for a long time, would probably occasion a formal crisis in the commerce and industry of a large portion of the republic."

The Financial Minister estimates that in addition to $50,000,000 in cash deposited in banks the holdings of the general public in cash do not amount to more than $40,000,000, so that the total circulation of silver money may be estimated in the neighborhood of $90,000,000. Minister Limontour continues:

"It is not, therefore, strange that when suddenly the country's supply of cash was curtailed from 10 to 12 per cent. by the exportation of silver dollars business should have experienced some degree of paralyzation. There has been an unusual demand for Mexican dollars, and this demand has sensibly diminished the supply of metallic cash here."

The report shows that the formation of new stock companies for manufacturing and other purposes was a revelation to many business men of prodigious efficacy, of which instruments of credit are susceptible, and that a certain amount of speculation began, resulting in overproduction in manufacturing from which, in some lines, a natural reaction is experienced.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 16.—An early morning fire here destroyed the St. James's Hotel, gutted the shoe store of Police Commissioner Stanton, and department store of Quinn, Woodland & Co., resulting in a loss of $45,000; partially insured. The fire started in a cobbler shop in the rear of the shoe store and spread to the dumb waiter in the St. James's Hotel, occupied by Kelly & Sutcliffe, and owned by the Ney estate. The roof of the department store was soon ablaze, and the loss here will be the heaviest, principally by water.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Dec. 16.—The immense plant of Zschietsche & Sons, tanners, was totally destroyed by fire to-day. The cause of the fire is unknown. Loss, $180,000, fully covered by insurance. The flames scorched the big furniture plant of the Mattoon Manufacturing Company adjoining, whose loss will be several thousand dollars. Nearly 200 men will be thrown out of employment and the plant may not be rebuilt.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Saturday night until 12 o'clock Sunday night.)

2 A. M.—364 East Eighth Street; Charles Gutterman; damage, $10.

6:20 A. M.—107 Hester Street; Morris Rosenberg; damage, $300.

10 A. M.—2,144 3d Avenue; Rapbael Brothers; damage, $25.

10:30 A. M.—428 East Eighty-fifth Street; Samuel Kutz; damage, $10.

10:45 A. M.—411 East Eighty-fifth Street; Michael Wolf; damage, $20.

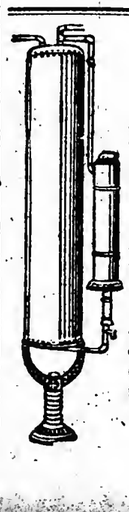
10:50 A. M.—130 Cedar Street, Mayer & Co.; damage, $100.

11:50 A. M.—Southern Boulevard and Briggs Avenue; Frank Dow; damage, $250.

2:15 P. M.—58 Norfolk Street; Wolf Edelstein; damage slight.

6:10 P. M.—246 West Fiftith Street; Frank Corkley; damage, $50.

6:15 P. M.—439 Lexington Avenue; Alexander Von Below; damage, $5.



All the Water Needed for the Household

Expeditiously, Economically

HEATED BY GAS,

In Large or Small Quantities.

See the latest device,—compact, inexpensive easily attached to any ordinary boiler — at nearest office of Consolidated Gas Co.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

Both Sides 14th S. from 13th to 15th, 6th Ave.

These are gala days at Macy's. The store is overwhelmed with brilliant embems of Christmas. Splendid displays that realize every child's dream of richness and happiness. A world of Toys and Dolls. Their variety, novelty and beauty baffle advertising. Too much color, and motion and diversity for dull types. They can't interpret the wonderful collections. Nothing but your eyes can do that. Come and see . . . . . .

Exceptional Blanket Values.

The mercury has dropped to the Blanket-time notch—with present prospects of descending to zero before these words get before the public. We are royally ready with Blankets. A huge, generous, imposing stock, bought during the summery days of late November from weather-worried manufacturers. There's not a tinge of exaggeration in the statement that we will save you a third. Come see the magnificent values:

Berkshire Wool Blankets, assorted borders, 10-4, $1.57.

All-wool California Blankets, 10-4 size, $2.99—11-4 size, $3.64.

California Lambs' Wool Blankets, 10-4 size, $4.69—11-4 size, $4.99.

Great variety of finer qualities—$5.63, $8.41, $9.69, $12.19 and $18.13—and the bargain element is as plainly manifest in all of them.

Down Comfortables

Comfortables, lined with pretty silk and filled with pure down—$7.99, $8.63, $10.63, $14.19 and $17.38.

Comfortables, lined with fine figured sateen and filled with down, $3.24

Wilton Rugs—Unusual Prices

These Rugs came from a manufacturer who wanted empty stock rooms when the New Year dawned. We had provided a large stock from other sources for your Holiday needs, but our buyer couldn't permit such bargains to pass. So here they are for you to choose from at extraordinarily low prices. Newest patterns and colorings—all were designed for next spring.

$31.50 kind at $20.98—8¼ x 10½ ft. | $35.00 kind at $24.98—9 x 12 ft.

Smaller sizes at prices equally attractive

Size 18 x 36 inches at	$1.49	Size 3 x 9 feet at	$7.86
Size 27 x 54 inches at	$2.93	Size 3 x 12 feet at	$10.49
Size 36 x 63 inches at	$4.68	Size 2½ x 15 feet at	$10.94
Size 2¼ x 9 feet at	$5.78	Size 4½ x 7½ ft. at	$11.79
Size 2¼ x 12 feet at	$7.74	Size 3 x 15 feet at	$13.21

An immense variety of Umbrellas, carefully and tastefully selected with your Holiday needs in mind. The collection is overlowering, far surpassing that of any previous season.

Silk and Silk-and-Gloria, imported hardwood handles in all shapes, with sterling silver and gold mountings, also pearl, ivory, cape horn and gun metal handles, artistically embellished with chased silver and gold.

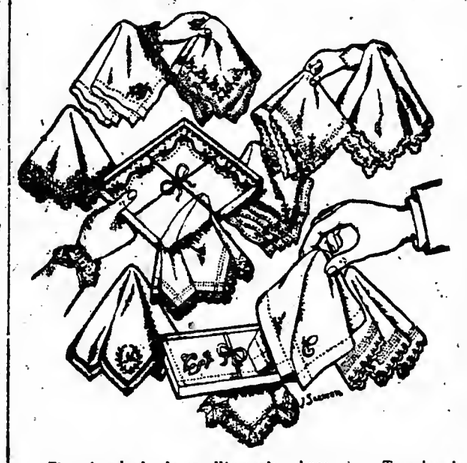
Prices for all purposes—97c. to $14.98 is the range.

Sporting Goods.

Sporting Goods may now be found on the fifth floor. The growth of the business required more space than we could spare in their old quarters. For that reason they were whisked to their present higher and roomier location. A multitude of values—and every one of them is uncha.lenged by competition. The instance:

Striking Bags, made of extra quality leather, double seams, value $1.50; our price, 98c.	"Globe" Air Rifles, 63c.
	"Atlas" Air Rifles, 98c.
Boys' Boxing Gloves, 74c. and 98c. Men's Boxing Gloves, $1.19, $1.44 and up to $4.29	Extension Roller Skates, 49c.
Adjustable Striking Bag Platform, $4.56.	Buffalo Bicycle Skates, $3.98.
Foot Balls, made of fine leather, pure gum bladder, $1.44, $1.69 and $1.94.	Peck and Snyder's Hockey Ice Skates, $1.44 and $1.98.
MacFadden's Pulley Exercisers, 84c. and $1.56.	Peck and Snyder's Racing Ice Skates, $2.19.
Boys' Trapeze, complete, $1.24.	Men's Extra Heavy All-wool Sweaters, $2.66.
Swinging Rings, per pair, $1.49.	Boys' All-wool Sweaters, $1.19 and $1.44.

A Perfect Whirl of Handkerchiefs.



Our Handkerchief holdings are equal to the enormous Holiday trade. Our own factory at Belfast sends them by the thousands, and we are ever ready to draw upon other sources when favorable chances occur. The counters are now fluttered with myriad styles and qualities at prices that are not matched anywhere. For example:—

Five hundred dozen Women's Lace-trimmed Handkerchiefs, 7c. and 9c.	Two hundred dozen Women's Swiss Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 10c., 12c., 14c., 19c., 24c. and 29c.
Three hundred dozen Women's Lace-trimmed Handkerchiefs, 19c., 22c., 47c. and 94c.	Four hundred dozen Women's Embroidered Linen Handkerchiefs, 24c., 49c., 79c., 99c. and $1.24.

Two thousand dozen Men's and Women's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, very fine, worth from 35c. to 50c.; at 24c.

Men's Hemstitched Initial Linen Handkerchiefs, half dozen in fancy box, for $1.32 and $1.44

Dainty Wear-Things Just Here from PARIS

Tardy, but still on time, is this exquisite group of Lingerie from Paris. Lucky, too, for those who will do their buying this week; for here is variety still untouched; with daintiest, choicest garments still unpicked from. Some of the most exquisite pieces that Corne and others have made this season.

The Paris Silk Waists are a most brilliant group—the finest that have come from France—of rich taffetas, panne velvets, black nets and crepes, with the indescribable grace and beauty that Paris always sends. Most delightful gift-things. Prices, $14 to $65.

The Paris Silk Petticoats—with all the marvelous, filmy daintiness that those French designers only know how to give to brilliant taffetas, with the aid of laces and chiffons. All colors and black. Prices, $23 to $75.

Paris Tea Gowns—most charming of negligee attire. Made of dainty crepes, wool fabrics, silks, satins, chiffons, albatross and flannel. Prices, $8 to $150.

Placed in dainty gift-boxes if you wish. Little French Store. Second floor.

About FURS

There were a great many awaiting a cold snap before purchasing new furs. Last week's brisk selling here verified our surmise as to that. A very fair proportion of the procrastinators are making purchases from these excellent stocks. Here's broad assortment of thoroughly honest furs, made up in correct style, and properly priced. Some pieces as low as $4—and there's one garment, the price of which is a thousand times as much. And these in-between fur-prices:

Alaska Sable Scarfs, trimmed with tails, at $5, $6.50 and $10.50.
Stone Fox Neck Scarfs, with 2 large tails and claws, at $12 and $20.
Plain Electric Eton Coats, at $25.
Plain Electric Seal Coats, $37.50, $40, $50.
Cloth Capes; squirrel lined; suitable for carriage or evening wear, at $45 to $75.
Electric Seal Coats, trimmed with blended mink, at $45; with chinchilla, at $55.
Fine quality Black Astrakhan Coats, at $65.
Handsome Bear Sets; long boa with large muff, at $70.
Handsome Short Jackets, made from Persian paws, at $75.
Persian Lamb Coats, at $65 and $90.
Persian Lamb Coats, trimmed with chinchilla, at $125.
Plain Seal Coats, at $200, $265 and $275.
Second floor, Broadway.

Women's COATS Newmarkets in Particular

Style-setters are not always absolute. The creations of coat makers sometimes fail to gain the approval hoped for them. It's part of our business to study the preferences of coat and cape and cloak wearers—to give them the best, handsomest, most desirable styles. As, for instance, this matter of Newmarkets, primarily a tight-fitting coat. There was nothing in the way of trimming effects that could hold a place for them after our first few semi-fitting garments were exhibited. The close-fitting coat was at once supplanted. The loose garments—a bit mannish, hinting of the favored Raglan overcoat—receive unqualified endorsement from all visitors here. There's splendid assortment—all the usual fabrics.

At $23.50, three styles. These in tan and Oxford covert cloth and of double-faced cheviot, with velvet collar; the last with the Raglan sleeve. A very attractive Newmarket, in very similar style, at $25.

Another elegant Newmarket coat is in Empire style with Josephine Girdle,—a particularly graceful garment. This of tan kersey. Price, $35.

A coat of velour with lining of brocaded satin—very rich and stylish—is $100.

Second floor, Broadway.

SILKS at 75c Worth $1.25

Crisp, brilliant and beautiful—just from the mill, are these soft and exquisite Silks. They're all this season's patterns, and selling to-day in the best stores at $1.25. A four-yard waist pattern would cost in another store $5. Here, it costs only $3.

Still better saving, of course, on a dress pattern. Then there is superb variety to choose from; evening colors, as well as black with colors. One of the best offerings made this season. 75c a yard. Rotunda.

Eiderdown SACQUES.

In this wide assortment of pretty styles and good values, are two deserving of especial mention. One is a group of eiderdown sacques in various colors, all with full fronts and fitted backs, edges crocheted with zephyr, closing with frogs and ribbon; 75c each; were $1.25.

The other is a lot of ripple eiderdown sacques—two attractive styles. These are priced at $1.25 each. Were $1.75.

There's splendid choosing, too, outside of these special lines, at prices up to $4.25. We'll put up your selection in a neat box, suitable for giving, if you wish.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Holiday Pictures

Our Picture Store offers a broad array of refined gift suggestions. Carefully selected subjects of high artistic merit; all fittingly framed.

Etchings of landscapes, neatly matted; in gilt frames; sizes 14x28 and 17x26 in.; such as regularly sell for $2.25; here at $1.50 each.

Same style pictures, size 20x30 in.; regularly $3, at $2 each.

Autotypes in fine subjects, in gilt frames; plain, $3; colored, $3.75.

Pastels, or landscapes, winter and marine subjects, in various styles of frames; size 12x20 in., at $2.25; 20x24 in., at $3.75, $5.25 and $6, up to elaborate frames, 13 x22 in., at $11.50.

Photogravures in gilt frames; such subjects as Love's Dream, Home Sweet Home.

Burst of Melody, the Love Letter; plain, $12.75; colored, $15.

Other subjects, such as Gossips, Wayside Conversation, Age of Gallantry, and landscape views, in frames; plain, $18.50; colored, $25.50.

Platinum and Carbon Photographs, in various styles of frames; reproductions of famous pictures, $1.25 to $25.

A fine collection of Water Colors, in marine, Venetian and landscape subjects, from $20 to $275.

Fine imported Facsimiles of paintings, mostly in figure subjects, in original colorings, at prices ranging from $22.50 to $50.

Picture Store, Fifth floor.

Desk Furnishings

Have you thought of them in your Christmas gift planning? A handsome useful article, for either a man's or a woman's desk, will most likely be very acceptable. The social stationery store has a rich collection of beautiful new things for desk and cabinet and mantel.

Not all useful. These imported bronzes, for instance, serve no purpose other than beautifying the vicinity in which they're placed. A fine placque,—"The Bather"—is $18. A statuette,—"The Artisan"—is $25. Another—"Paquerette"—is $35. "An Alpine Accident" is but $7.

Glass cylinder paper weights, encircled with gilt bronze bearing new century date "1901," $2.

Rich glass inkstands, ornamental edges in filigree silver, $3, $4, and $5.

Various new designs in silver top inkstands and other desk adjuncts.

Broadway.

Books for Gifts

Good books are like good friends—the same always. Here are some good friends—just a small delegation representing a wide circle from which you may choose. A comparison of publishers' prices and ours, in this partial list, will be found interesting.

America. By Joel Cook. Illustrated; 3 vols.; 8vo, cloth; gilt top; $7.50. Our price, $5.50.
Rulers of the South—Sicily, Calabria, and Malta. By F. Marion Crawford. 2 vols.; 28 full-page plates, etc.; $6. Our price, $4.50.
William Shakespere. By Hamilton W. Mabie. Over 100 illustrations; 8vo.; $6. Our price, $5.
Old Virginia and Her Neighbors. By John Fiske. Illustrated; 2 vols., 8vo., gilt top; $8. Our price, $6.
Women of the American Revolution. By Elizabeth F. Ellet. Introduction by Anna Hollingsworth Wharton. Eighteen portraits; 2 vols.; $4. Our price, $3.
Rambles in Colonial Byways. By Rufus Rockwell Wilson. Illustrated; 12mo.; 2 vols.; $3. Our price, $2.25.
Out-Door Pictures. Twelve facsimiles of water-colors; also, 12 half-tone engravings; 11x14 in.; $5. Our special price, $1.50.
Famous American Belles of the Nineteenth Century. By Virginia Tatnall Peacock. 23 full-page illustrations; 8vo.; $3. Our price, $2.25.
Ramona. By Helen Hunt Jackson. 25 photogravure plates; 2 vols., 8vo.; $6. Our price, $4.50.
Pilgrim's Progress. By John Bunyan. Illustrated by the Brothers Rhead. Edition de Luxe in colors; $5. Our special price, $2.
Book Store, Ninth street.

David Harum. By Edward Noyes Westcott. Illustrated edition; 70 full-page and text pictures by B. West Clinedinst; gilt top; $2. Our price, $1.50.
Richard Harding Davis. The Novels and Stories of Richard Harding Davis, (Olive Letter edition,) comprising Gallegher, and Other Stories; Soldiers of Fortune, 2 vols.; Cinderella, and Other Stories; The King's Jackal; The Lion and the Unicorn. 6 vols., each with photogravure frontispiece, flexible leather, gilt top; $6. Our special price, $2.75.
Eleanor. By Mrs. Humphry Ward. Special holiday edition; 2 vols., 8vo.; $3. Our price, $2.25.
The Golf Girl. Four illustrations in color, by Maud Humphrey. Verses by Samuel M. Peck. Quarto boards. Our price, 40c.
Diddlecombe Fair. Drawings in color. By Pamela Colman Smith. Limited edition. Our price, $1.50.
Saracinesca. By F. Marion Crawford. Illustrated edition; 2 vols.; $2. Our price, $3.50.
London: As Seen by C. D. Gibson. With illustrations by the author. Large folio, 12x18 in.; $5 Our special price, $1.25.
Idyls of the King. Lord Alfred Tennyson. 60 original illustrations by the Brothers Rhead. Quarto; $3.75. Our price, 85c.
Overheard in the Wittington Family. Drawings by C. Allan Gilbert. Quarto. Our price, $2.25.

Store Open Evenings Until 10 o'clock—All this Week

Christmas SHOPPING On In Earnest

The time for study is over—the week of action is here. All Christmas problems must be solved at once; or the worry and disappointment will mar the pleasure of Christmas Day. Here are fullest answers to every possible question—

Gifts for the infant of a few weeks—
Gifts for the toddlers that begin to know things—
Gifts for boys ready for choo-choo cars—
Gifts for girls that want dollies to dress and furniture for doll housekeeping—
Gifts for little men and women who begin to take things more seriously—
And this means a world of puzzling answers. Then—
Gifts for brother or sister—
Gifts for father or mother—
Gifts for sweetheart or lover—
Gifts for aunt or uncle—
Gifts for grandfather or grandmother, who don't use things younger people do—
Gifts for sick folks and cripples, who have needs and pleasures distinctly their own—
Gifts to make the world brighter, jollier, more comfortable.

What a wonderful time Christmas is, to make the world remember the forgotten ones, and forget the petty dislikes and the unreasonable hatreds of the past; and bring peace and good-will before the starting of the New Year.

All the brains and skill, experience and power of this great organization has been preparing for a twelve-month to be worthy to help most fully to a glorious Christmas. To-day the store speaks for itself.

A Pre-Holiday Offering of LACE CURTAINS

Do the windows of the Christmas home need new dress? Here is opportunity to choose from some of the most exquisite curtains we have, as well as others all along the line to the dainty sorts at most modest prices—

Some at HALF PRICE; others a Third or a Quarter Under Value

Then you are not confined in the matter of choice. More than six hundred pairs are in the offering, and they include many patterns in each of the styles of curtains represented. It is a splendid opportunity—fine desirable draperies at real and positive savings.

These hints of variety and prices:

Brussels Lace Curtains—
The daintiest of laces; fresh and perfect in every way; about a quarter under-price. 119 pairs, in 16 different patterns at these prices, as well as others in between:
$8.50 Curtains now $6.35 pair — $20 Curtains now $15 pair
$9.75 Curtains now $7.35 pair — $26 Curtains now $19.50 pair
$11.50 Curtains now $8.50 pair — $35 Curtains now $26.25 pair
$16 Curtains now $12 pair — $56 Curtains now $42 pair

Arabian Lace Curtains—
42 pairs, in 10 different patterns, at these prices, and others between:
$5.75 Curtains at $3.85 pair — $20 Curtains at $13.35 pair
$10.50 Curtains at $7 pair — $90 Curtains at $60 pair

Ivory Irish Point Curtains—
247 pairs, in 37 different patterns—splendid variety here, and many at half prices; others reduced less, as the list shows:
$4.50 Curtains now $3 pair — $10 Curtains now $5 pair
$6.50 Curtains now $4.85 pair — $11 Curtains now $8.25 pair
$8 Curtains now $4 pair — $12 Curtains now $8 pair
$9.50 Curtains now $4.75 pair — $13.75 Curtains now $10.25 pair

Also a group of white and ivory Irish Point Curtains, with taffeta silk combinations in green, rose, yellow and pink; all at a third below their value:
$15 Curtains now $10 pair — $19.50 Curtains now $13 pair
$16.50 Curtains now $11 pair — $30 Curtains now $20 pair

White Irish Point Curtains—
49 pairs, in 11 different patterns, at these and other prices:
$5.25 Curtains now $3.95 pair — $9.75 Curtains now $7.50 pair
$6.75 Curtains now $5 pair — $18 Curtains now $12 pair

Tamboured Lace Curtains—
69 pairs, in 14 different patterns:
$4.50 Curtains now $3.35 pair — $8.50 Curtains now $6.35 pair
$7.25 Curtains now $5.50 pair — $13.50 Curtains now $8.65 pair

Renaissance Lace Curtains—
32 pairs, in 9 different patterns, at these and other prices:
$7.50 Curtains now $5 pair — $29 Curtains now $21.75 pair
$14 Curtains, now $9.75 pair — $95 Curtains now $72 pair

Third floor.

Men's HOUSE COATS Fine Gifts Under-price

Still splendid choosing from this special purchase of House Coats at little more than half price. There were more than a thousand in the lot, or this story would not be told to-day.

The styles and fabrics are the handsomest that are shown this season; yet these are the prices for which they can be bought:

$6 House Coats for $3.50
$8.50 House Coats for $5
$11 House Coats for $6.50

Do you know of a better gift for a man?

Second floor, Ninth street.

Gift Things in the JAPANESE STORE

A walk about these interesting collections of Oriental goods will be helpful in solving the gift question. Is there some one, as yet unprovided for, that has a penchant for things antique? A bit of Phoenician glass, that lay hidden for many centuries—said to have been given shape 500 B. C.—would doubtless be a welcome remembrance. Not often seen outside of a museum. We have a number of pieces of this wonderful ware.

Wicked, mysterious-looking weapons from the far-Eastern countries, make effective wall decoration for men's dens. Turkish pipes, curious dinner gongs, unique carved ivories and so on.

Of vases, a widely gathered assortment—15c to $75. Bronzes at $1.25 to $200. Cloissonne vases at 50c to $50.

And screens of every sort that Japanese genius could devise. Beautifully embroidered specimens reduced in price: $6.50, from $9; $7.50, from $12.50; $9.50, from $15.

Basement.

Fine PIANOS Under-Price

This splendid pre-holiday offering consists of a group of new and handsome pianos of high artistic character. Our Christmas collection has been broader than ever before—broader than that of any other piano store anywhere. Now we start in early to dispose of a number of styles that we cannot retain on our floors regularly; and we make this extraordinary offer just when it will best serve those who have the purchase of a piano in mind for Christmas. The price-concessions range from a saving of $75 to $175, on each instrument. Our fullest guarantee goes, of course, with each piano.

This list suggests the very positive profits for the prompt purchasers that share this special group:

A $700 Piano for $525
A $550 Piano for $417.50
A $500 Piano for $375
A $400 Piano for $300
A $325 Piano for $243.75
A $320 Piano for $240
A $300 Piano for $225

The names of these pianos are not given because we do not wish to cast discredit on instruments which must continue to be sold in the regular way at the full prices named. This means as much to the purchasers as it does to us and the manufacturers. The bargain is almost confidential—and will be over as soon as these few are sold.

Piano Store, Fifth floor.

Gold CABINETS

Here is the very head and front of Christmas suggestion from the Furniture Store. The luxurious furniture that carries sentiment with elegance; for the parlor of the mistress of a home, or the boudoir of a lady friend.

We make a splendid showing of this beautiful gold and bronze furniture. Principally shown in cabinets of various kinds, but also in fine parlor suites. There is probably no other assortment of the goods so large. We do not attempt descriptions, but name some of the prices to give an idea of the ample price-range. The cabinets we tell of are in all sorts of sizes and plain or elaborately carved; finished with glass shelves and glass or decorated doors.

Gold Parlor Cabinets, at $66, $68, $75, $78, $90, $92, up to $350.
Gold Curio Cabinets, at $40, $45, $53, $58, $60, $65, $100.
Gold Parlor Tables, at $43, $45, $78, $85, $100, $125, $150.
Vernis-Martin Parlor Cabinets, at $40, $45, $55, $56, $60, $75, $78, $100, up to $265
Vernis-Martin Music Cabinets, at $40, $42, $55, $65, $100, $115. Fourth floor.

Men's Sack Suits

This is the good word from our Custom Tailoring Store:

Sack Suits, made to measure, made to fit and well made, of fancy cheviot suitings in good, tasteful patterns, at $20 a suit, instead of $25 and $30, last week's prices.

Also a lot of fancy cheviots and neat worsteds from which we were making suits at $30 and $35 each. They were very moderate prices.

Choice Now $25

In many of these patterns, there is only enough for a single suit, in some, two. The earlier the call the better the choosing. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Men's Neckwear

The absolutely correct dressers have learned the advantages of this Men's Furnishing Store. We welcome particularly the fastidious men. Our collection of neckwear, in exclusive designs and colorings, was prepared with just that sort of men in mind. They'll find it to their liking, we think.

There's been unusually hard study and work put into the subject of holiday neckwear. You'll find the variety to be unmatched, the qualities to be unmatched at the prices.

Of imported and domestic silks at 50c to $2.50—ready to wear. We'll make you a scarf to order, from a fine collection of exclusive fabrics, at $1.75 to $5.

Men's Store, Broadway and Ninth.

Boys' Kilt Suits

The Boys' Clothing Store only has things for the big fellows of 3 years of age and over. These kilts for the chaps of 2 and 3 are close by—in the Infants' Store, where the mothers love to linger.

Some Russian blouse pique kilt suits, with sailor collar, belt and cuffs of blue linen, feather stitched, at $2 each. There are two very pretty styles at $3.25. One attractively trimmed with embroidery ruffle and white lawn plaited shield. The other with plaited jacket and skirt; and with trimming of neat embroidery insertion.

Other styles up to $6.50. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Fire-place Fixings

The enthusiast who has these in charge has been making some investigations and comparisons. He's very sure that there's no collection equal to this, in point of variety or general excellence. Doesn't know either of prices anywhere nearly so low as ours. Very fine goods, all of it, from which these few quotations:

Brass Andirons, $3 to $65
Brass Fire Sets, $4.50 to $21
Brass Fenders, $4.50 to $21
Brass Folding Screens, $3.75 to $50
Brass Coal Hods, $4 to $9.50
Brass Wood Baskets, $8.50 to $10.50
Brass Coal Vases, $11 and $12
Brass Coal Grabs, $1.80 to $2.75
Brass Hearth Brushes, $1.85
Brass Wood Boxes, $19.50 to $48
Black Iron Andirons, $2.50 to $33
Black Iron Fire Sets, $2.25 to $36
Black Iron Fenders, $8.75 to $15
Black Iron Wood Baskets, $5.25 to $6
Black Iron Portable Grates, $2 to $8.75
Basement.

Clothing for Boys

To judge from the present indications, Christmas week in the Boys' Clothing Store is going to be a busy one. Seems as though so may mothers had never brought their boys to us to be outfitted as now. And it isn't easy to find a boy who can't be suited—or overcoated—from this splendid stock, now at its best.

Here are some of the particular attractions:

Russian Storm Ulsters; splendid coats for heavy weather, made long and full, with hood and belt. Of blue or Oxford frieze, with all-wool lining throughout, $8.50 and $11.

Overcoats for boys from 4 to 16 years, of frieze or cheviot, in good variety. $5, $5.50, $6.50, up to $15.

Vest Jacket Suits, of mannish cut, for boys of 9 to 16 years; in blue serge and mixed cheviots. $5, $6.50, $7.50, to $14.

Regulation Sailor Suits, sizes 4 to 12 years; made of storm serge, in approved nautical style. $5.50 and $6.50. Second floor, Ninth street.

Handkerchiefs

The selling is tremendous; but supplies are ample, and additional selling places have been provided to make selection more comfortable. Three counters on the second floor, one on the fifth, one in the basement and one in the Rotunda. If the main counters are crowded try one of the others—probably least crowd on the fifth floor.

We box the handkerchiefs neatly. One special lot of three pure linen handkerchiefs in dainty fan-shaped box for 55c.

But here is every sort of pure linen Handkerchiefs in the broadest variety in America, and best quality at the prices—plain or embroidered, at 12½c, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1 each.

Broadway.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue,
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

THE Ship Subsidy Bill.

Its True Inwardness and What It Means to Taxpayers.

They would have to pay over One Hundred Million Dollars, which would go into the hands of a few rich corporations.

The subject will be treated exhaustively in The Evening Post to-day.

The Evening Post TO-DAY.

The sign of the season is "Give." You can give nothing finer than an Arnheim suit or overcoat.

Special sale of overcoatings, embracing the newest novelties, the green gray, blue gray, brown gray and Oxford gray, Cheviots and Friezes, overcoat to order, satin lined, $20. Raglan or Chesterfield, $25. Special sale of fancy worsteds and cheviots, suit to order, $16. Prince Alberts made of Vicuna Thibet, silk lined and faced, $23. Imported trouserings, $6. Our full dress Tuxedo, at $30, is special value.

Samples, Fashion Review, Measuring Guide mailed upon request.

ARNHEIM,
BROADWAY & 9TH STREET.

Reed & Barton
SILVERSMITHS.
Holiday Presents

Silver,
in the many beautiful forms in which we present it, furnishes a most agreeable remembrance of the Holidays.

Household Silver.
Our designs are attractive and exhibit the refinement for which our work is noted.

Enameled Silver.
A superb assortment of enameled silver.

Toilet Articles.
Complete sets of articles for the toilet in Sterling Silver.

41 Union Square, N. Y.
6 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

A Big Fact

No; no one has ever truly been disappointed in the purchase, sale or use of

Hunter Baltimore Rye

It is simply perfect for health and hospitality.

For the physical needs of women, when recommended, it is the purest tonical stimulant.

A. S. HART and FRANK MORA, Representatives.
3 S. William St., New York, N. Y.

EVERY DAY AND SUNDAY
THE NEW YORK TIMES
Delivered at Your Home
NINE CENTS A WEEK.
Order in Advance from your newsdealer.

THE NEW YORK TIMES is sold by newsdealers without the privilege of returning unsold copies, consequently to be sure of getting the paper it is well to Order It Delivered at Your Residence.

BRUSHES ON THE SPEEDWAY

Freezing Weather Fails to Keep Amateur Drivers Indoors.

TROTTERS AND PACERS OUT

Hontas Crooke and Ellert Indulge in a Lively Encounter, Which Was Won by the Latter.

Muffled in furs from their head to their heels, the Speedway brigade defied the biting cold and the cutting north wind of yesterday morning and furnished several hours of excellent sport brushing their crack trotters and pacers. Cold as it was, the crowd that gathered to witness the sport staid until the last brush.

Among the early arrivals was Fred Gerken's crack Speedway trotters, The Monk, 2:08¼. Following close behind came John F. Cockerill, driving Swift, 2:16½, and C. K. G. Billings of Chicago with his string of horses, among them being Rightwood, 2:16¾, driven by W. S. McCrea; the chestnut pacer Hontas Crooke, 2:09, and Ellert, 2:11, driven by Mr. Billings. On the way down the stretch Hontas Crooke and Ellert were started together by way of a warming heat. It proved, however, to be a very lively brush, as both animals appeared at their best, and neither seemed able to gain a lead. A spurt was necessary to win, and this Ellert made just at the proper moment and won by a head. Hontas Crooke, however, passed Ellert further down the stretch. About this time Dr. David Randall put in an appearance behind his roan pacer Moth Miller, 2:07, who is looked upon by many as the fastest little animal on the road. There were immediately several proposals for a brush, but Dr. Randall chose his own company for a while, and turned to a good start with the famous trotter David B., 2:09½, by Young Jim. Moth Miller took the lead and held it to the first quarter post, where David B. seemed to strike his gait and closed the gap very rapidly. Both horses came down the stretch under the whip, but Moth Miller had a trifle too much speed, and was half a length to the good as the line was crossed.

The sidewalk brigade was anxious to see Hontas Crooke, and Moth Miller step together, and both drivers readily assented to the proposition. On the start both horses got away in fairly good shape, and a very fast quarter was covered nose and nose, when Moth Miller lost a boot and broke, thus spoiling her chances of winning.

The race of the morning had five starters, all of them star Speedway performers. They were Swift, 2:16; Ed Lock, Ellert, 2:11; Silvermaker, and The Duchesse. The start was somewhat ragged, but the horses closed up after the first quarter, and came down the stretch five abreast. Swift had a lead of half a length, with Ellert close behind, and Ed Lock a good third. Ellert made a desperate spurt to overtake Swift near the finish, but failed, and was passed by Ed Lock, who took second place from Ellert by a head, Swift winning by a short half length, while Silvermaker was a good length in front of The Duchesse. Later in the forenoon Nathan Straus took the reins behind the noted pacer Robert J., 2:01½, by Hartford, but did not seem anxious to step him, and only came down the stretch in company rush, when he beat Freeland, 2:17¾, driven by T. Goodman, by several lengths.

Jack, 2:12¼, the old Speedway favorite, driven by Dr. Gill, tried conclusions with Hontas Crooke, 2:09, Mr. Billings driving. Hontas Crooke had beaten Jack before, but not as bad as yesterday morning, when the chestnut pacer had at least a length and a half lead at the finish. Jack, however, did not appear to be in the best of condition.

Among the many on the road were Trainer Isaac Fleming, behind Page, 2:09¾; Dr. Hamilton, driving La Crosse Girl, 2:10½; W. Durando, driving Hopeful; Lydall Whitehead driving Saratoga Belle; F. R. Eckerson, driving Miss Gaddis; E. C. Kirkland, with the pacer Red Echo, 2:25¼; Fred Dietz, driving Miss Overton, 2:26½; Charles Riley, behind Belle Esprit, 2:12½; J. P. Barter, driving Fuigilt; Christopher Hackett, Jr., driving King Tom; George W. Young, driving Dandy, and Charles Newman, driving Nelson and Baby Mine to the pole.

Big Price Expected for Hamburg.

Special to The New York Times.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 16.—Dr. Edward Hagyard, chief veterinarian on the Daly ranch in Montana, has telegraphed to his brother, Dr. John Hagyard, here, to come to the Daly farm and take his place while he goes to New York with the thoroughbred horses to be sold by the Fasig-Tipton Company in January. Dr. Hagyard says the get of Hamburg are a fine lot of colts, and that it is expected the horse will bring more than Mr. Daly paid John Madden for him. There is much speculation as to what he will bring, and some place the estimate as high as $75,000. Dr. John Hagyard will leave for Montana on Wednesday. It is believed that young Daly will continue his father's breeding interests, excepting the thoroughbreds.

The race mare Sourane, by Rayon d'Or, owned by August Belmont, and bred in England, has been sent to the nursery stud here, she having failed to train on. She may be bred to Henry of Navarre.

SIX-DAY RIDERS TO RACE AGAIN.

Unhurt by Long Grind, Cyclists Talk of Another Contest.

The long-distance bicycle racers who completed their six days' ride in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, yesterday drifted in and out of the hotel opposite the rear entrance to the hall where the contest took place, looking but little the worse for the trying grind they had been through. None of the men who finished was in really poor condition, a good night's rest having freshened up all of them to the point where their appetites appeared insatiable. They were still somewhat stiff and sore, even after having gone through the hands of Turkish bath attendants, and most of them spent the first day of rest lounging about the hotel office. The men of the winning team, Elkes and McFarland, who are stopping at the Barthoidi, both dropped in on their late opponents at the Putnam in the afternoon, accompanied by their trainer, "Tom" Eck. Elkes came out of the race much better than did McFarland, but the latter was so far from the wreck that report pictured him on the last day of the contest that Eck took pride in exhibiting him. Eck said that his reason for putting McFarland back in the race in the last hour was simply because he wished to prove to the public that the rider was not in danger of collapse. The trainer also denied in vigorous terms that he had administered drugs to stimulate the men, and said that all he gave them was half a pint of champagne each, forty or fifty minutes before the end of the race. McFarland insisted that he was as good as ever, but added that he would never again ride in a six-day race.

The man who came out of the race best of all physically was Fisher, who weighed exactly the same, after he finished, as before the race, 172 pounds. His partner, Fredericks, los nine pounds. Fredericks explained his absence from the Garden Saturday afternoon and failure to relieve Fisher when the latter's time on the track had been completed, by saying that from the time the race began he had wanted to go to church, but could not get the chance until Saturday afternoon. Then he hurried to attend the service in the nearest Protestant church, which was the Little Church Around he Corner, and staying to the end of the service, was late in getting back to the race. The French rider, Gougoltz, was so well satisfied with his achievement in the contest that he announced his intention of remaining in America to engage in cycle racing next season. Aronson, the young Swede, who was injured by a fall in the race, is still in the New York Hospital, but will be out in a day or two. All the riders remarked about the peculiar outcome of the contest, which left only sprinters in at the finish, all the veterans in long-distance riding having been worn down by the sprinters. This was the more singular, as the average pace through the six days was half a mile an hour slower than last year's record.

The prize winners will meet the managers of the race at the Barthoidi Hotel to-day, when the premiums won will be paid. The winnings of a number of the men will be increased by sums offered for passing certain records, and the foreign riders will also have their expenses and cost of transportation refunded.

A proposition was made to the bicyclists to go to Boston for a six-day race, to be held in the old Park Square Station, and all the men except McFarland agreed to enter if the contest is arranged, on condition that the race is for individuals. None wished to ride again in a team race.

INDOOR ATHLETIC MEETS.

National Guardsmen and Associated Cycling Clubs to Hold Open Games.

The joint games of the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York and Company E, Eighth Regiment, will be held on the two Saturday evenings, Jan. 19 and 26, at the Eighth Regiment Armory, Ninety-fourth Street and Park Avenue. The games will be open to all amateurs in good standing. The following events will be included in the programme:

Sixty-yard handicap dash, 300-yard handicap run, 880-yards novice run, one-mile handicap run, two-mile handicap bicycle race, one-mile handicap bicycle race, one-mile novice bicycle race, and five-mile pursuit team race.

The trial heats of the bicycle races will be held on the first night, Jan. 19, and the final heats and all athletic events will be held on the second night, Jan. 26.

Company G of the Ninth Regiment will hold its indoor games and reception at the armory, 125 West Fourteenth Street, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 12. The games will be open to all registered amateurs, whether members of athletic clubs or not. The following events have been provided:

Sixty-yard handicap run, 440-yard handicap run, 440-yard novice run, one-half mile handicap bicycle race, one-mile handicap bicycle race, one-mile handicap race, and two-mile handicap bicycle race. A 600-yard handicap run, open only to members of the Ninth Regiment, will also be included in the programme.

Entries will close Feb. 5 with A. J. Walsh, 346 West Seventeenth Street, or G. F. Murray, 125 West Fourteenth Street.

CUP DEFENDERS AT NEWPORT.

Yachting at the Resort Will Boom Before International Races.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 16.—The selection of ex-Commodore E. D. Morgan as manager of the Columbia in the trial races against the two new defenders has been well received here by persons interested in yachting, for it was on Narragansett Bay that Mr. Morgan began his career as a yachtsman. The Columbia will be moored between races in Brenton's Cove, not many yards from Mr. Morgan's house, which is built on a rock jutting out into the waters of the cove. Equal satisfaction is expressed here at the appointment of W. Butler Duncan, Jr., as manager of the new Herreshoff trial defender. The old professional catboat men of this vicinity, such as Capt. "Tom" Shea and Capt. William Chapin, are particularly enthusiastic over Mr. Duncan's selection. These catboat skippers have taught as boys many of the New York Yacht Club members the rudiments of sailing, and they watch with interest the yachting careers of the amateurs who were once their pupils.

A cordial feeling exists here toward Mr. Lawson's entrance of a third boat in the trial races. It is believed that with the three boats here during the Summer there will be no end of yachting for Newport. In fact, several yacht owners who have heretofore made it a practice to remain about New York during the earlier part of the yachting season have decided to bring their boats to Newport to watch the contest between the three flyers. Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry will have his steam yacht Electra put into commission ear next Spring.

Ice Yachts to Race on Orange Lake.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 16.—With the mercury near zero, a light wind, and five inches of smooth ice, everything points to excellent sport in the regatta of the Orange Lake Ice Yacht Club, which is to be sailed Tuesday over courses on Orange Lake which were staked to-day. Four prizes have been set up for award in Tuesday's events. They consist of two silver cups, a piece of engraved silver plate, and a pennant. Mr. Higginson's yacht Aurora will join the half-dozen other club craft already in commission to-morrow afternoon, when her sails will be bent and her trial spin made.

BALL PLAYERS STAND FIRM.

Protective Association Through a Committee Announces that It Will Supervise Contracts.

The last gun before the establishment of an armed truce between the National Baseball League and the rebellious players, that is expected to continue until the February meeting of the League, was fired yesterday by the players. Then the committee, composed of Charles L. Zimmer, Chairman; Hugh Jennings, and Clark C. Griffith, representing the Protective Association of Professional Baseball Players, after consultation with Harry Taylor, attorney for the association, issued a statement concerning the refusal of the National League, at its meeting in this city last week, to consider the demands of the players for more favorable terms in the signing of players. This statement was as follows:

The refusal of the National League "magnates" to consider and discuss with us seriatim our requests as representatives of the Protective Association of Professional Baseball Players, and their tailless resolution, which is probably intended to express in words their complete ignoring of said requests collectively, without any adequate reason therefore, seem to require us, as such representatives, to make the following statement to all the members of our association and to the public:

1. We shall continue to stand—as we have always stood—for the avoidance of a "baseball war," if that be possible.

2. We recognize and shall respect the inviolability of all actual contractual obligations.

3. No member of our association, who during the past season played last in the American League, shall at present sign a contract to play the coming season in the National League—or vice versa.

4. Pursuant to our by-laws, none of the members of our association shall sign a contract for the coming season which has not been approved by our association.

CHARLES L. ZIMMER,
HUGH JENNINGS,
C. C. GRIFFITH,
Committee.

The players assert that in spite of stories to the contrary, there have been no desertions to the National League, and say that no man who signed the players' agreement will consider any proposition for a contract until the issue between the players and the club owners has been settled. The players now, the committeemen asserted, have dropped from their demands all except the three matters mentioned in the open conference between them and the National League Committee last week, which are that the "farming" of ball players be suppressed; that the term of contracts be limited to a certain number of years—three, four, or five—and that the sale, transfer, or lending of players be forbidden unless the player to be transferred shall give his written consent to the transaction. No mention of Ban Johnson and his American League was made, other than the statement that there was a perfect understanding between their association and Johnson and his associates in the American League.

Ban Johnson still is in Philadelphia. He has said:

"The American League has never entertained the idea of putting a club in New York. I can assert positively, however, that teams will be placed in Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington in the East. Those cities have been decided on. We will make up the circuit with clubs in Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee, and Indianapolis.

"We are now at work arranging details, for our league has already been firmly organized, with plenty of capital. We anticipate no trouble in getting all the good players we want, and, in fact, have assurances that we will not have the least difficulty in that direction."

Boxing Bouts for Charity.

There have been doubts as to whether the many pugilists who have volunteered to appear at the benefit to be tendered to the family of the late sporting writer, Hugh S. Hart, will be allowed to spar on Tuesday night at the Grand Central Palace. The impression has got abroad that Corbett, Sharkey, Ruhlin, Maher, Mike Donovan, and many other prominent pugilists will only indulge in bag punching. This is not the case. The men have volunteered to put on the gloves and the exhibitions of sparring will be conducted without a ring, referees, or timekeepers.

The management does not pretend that there will be any contest with gloves, as the competitive part of the programme will be confined to the wrestling bouts, in which Ernest Roeber will try to throw Jim Jeffries; Paul Pons, the French champion, will meet all comers.

Damp feet neglected,—then a cold and trouble. That's the way; but

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

MAKES ALL WELL AGAIN.

Pike's Toothache Drops Cure In One Minute.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Brooklyn-Chicago Teams to Play a Series of Exhibition Matches.

The committee of delegates who will represent the bowling clubs of Brooklyn at the American Bowling Congress in Chicago next month, have arranged a series of games between the six Brooklyn teams which will be sent to the National championship tournament in connection with the congress and as many other representative teams of the borough. The matches will be rolled on the principal Brooklyn alleys.

In addition to the six Brooklyn teams representing the Imperial, Carleton, Palace, Monarch, Echo, and Prosperity Clubs, there will be six Manhattan teams from the Fidelia, Rosedale, Metropolitan, Corinthian, and Empire Clubs, making a total of twelve five-men teams from the greater city. In addition, there will be several two-men teams, besides the individual bowlers, which will probably bring the total number of the New York delegation to over a hundred.

The schedule of matches for to-night follows:

Final match for East Side Championship between American National and Harlem League teams. Germania alleys.

Columbia Bowling League—Grove Hill, Corinthian, and Wang Bowling Clubs. Schlusing's Columbia alleys.

Harlem Bowling League—Lafayette and Eclipse Bowling Clubs and Harlem Wheelmen. Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace alleys.

National Bowling League—America and Spartan Bowling Clubs. Starr's alleys.

American National Bowling Tournament—Bank Clerks', Palace, and Monarch Bowling Clubs. Germania alleys.

North Side Bowling League—Hyperion and Tremont Bowling Clubs. Pump's North Side Palace alleys.

Inter-Club Bowling League, Brooklyn—Brooklyn Bicycle Club and Carlton Club; Aurora Grata Club and Crescent Athletic Club; Columbian Club and Knickerbocker Field Club. Club alleys, Brooklyn.

Greater New York Bowling Tournament—Imperial, Queer, and Empire Bowling Clubs. Thum & Ehler's Palace alleys, Brooklyn.

Long Island Bowling League—Orient, Atlantic, and South Paw Bowling Clubs. Elephant Club alleys, Brooklyn.

Brooklyn Royal Arcanum League—Washington Irving, Brevoort, and Fort Greene Councils. Trainor's alleys, Brooklyn.

Exhibition match—Academy Bowling Club and Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island. Academy alleys, Brooklyn.

Harlem Navy Bowling League Meets.

A meeting to organize the Harlem Navy Bowling League for the season of 1901 was held at Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace alleys yesterday afternoon, and was attended by representatives of the following eight Harlem River rowing clubs: Friendship Boat Club, Dauntless Rowing Club, Lone Star Boat Club, Nassau Boat Club, Nonpareil Rowing Club, Harlem Rowing Club, Union Boat Club, and Wyanoke Boat Club.

The Seawanhaka and Ravenswood Boat Clubs of Brooklyn were admitted to membership, after which the meeting adjourned until Jan. 13, when the annual election of officers will be held, and a schedule arranged. It is expected that by that time teams will be entered from several of the five clubs not represented at yesterday's meeting—the Metropolitan Rowing Club, First Bohemian Boat Club, Atalanta Boat Club, Waverley Boat Club, and Hudson Boat Club, all of which were members of the league last year.

Dead Heat in P. A. C. Run.

The bandicap cross country run of the Pastime Athletic Club over the Jerome Avenue course yesterday afternoon, resulted in a dead heat for first place, between J. McCarty, (3 minutes,) and E. J. Fagan, (2 minutes,) both of the Pastimes. R. Portner of the same club, (scratch,) was third; J. Lynch of the Star Athletic Club (3 minutes) was fourth, and J. Rathgabe, New York High School, (2 minutes,) was fifth. The distance was five and a half miles, and the time of the first men was 35 minutes.

Wednesday Talks at Yachtsmen's Club.

The Wednesday evening talks which have been held successfully at the Yachtsmen's Club in West Forty-third Street during the past three weeks will be continued throughout the remainder of the Winter. The following programme has been arranged: Dec. 19, "A Talk on Navigation," Capt. Howard Patterson; Jan. 9, "Marine Engineering," Prof. C. C. Thomas; Jan. 16, "Yacht Measurement," John Hyslop; Jan. 23, "Yacht Designing and Construction," Clinton H. Crane; Jan. 30, "Wrinkles of Yacht Racing," Newbury D. Lawton. An announcement of lectures for Wednesday evenings during February and March will be made later. B. B. Crowninshield will probably be one of the lecturers later in the season. He was to have talked before members of the Yachtsmen's Club this month, but was compelled to cancel his engagement because of his work upon Thomas Lawson's trial defender for the America's Cup.

The following yachtsmen have recently been elected to membership in the club: Dr. C. W. Schwartz, Cliff Haven Yacht Club; Lawrence D. Huntington, Jr., New Rochelle Yacht Club; E. C. Myrick, Rhode Island Yacht Club; Charles E. Lauriat, Jr., Hull-Massachusetts Yacht Club; John Taylor Humphrey, Hull-Massachusetts Yacht Club; R. W. Bartram, Bridgeport Yacht Club; Simeon Ford, American Yacht Club.

Seventh Regiment Rifle Matches.

Two matches were shot Saturday night by members of the Seventh Regiment Rifle Club at the armory, Park Avenue and Sixty-seventh Street. The prone class match was decided first. In this event seven shots are fired standing and seven prone. All scores having the same numerical value constitute a class, and ties are decided by the best prone score. Five prizes were awarded in the following order:

	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
A. Stein, veteran	34	34	68
Sergt. A. Stevens, Co. F	33	34	67
Private W. Biddle, Co. K	31	35	66
Capt. W. J. Underwood, Co. G	30	35	65
Corp. A. E. Wells, Co. E	30	34	64

The non-expert match, which was shot second, was open only to those who had never made scores of 68 or better in an Armory Rifle Club match or in competition for the Abeel Trophy. Five prizes were awarded, as follows, seven shots being fired standing and seven prone:

	200 Yards.	500 Yards.	Total.
Private O. Wuerz, Co. C	33	34	67
Sergt. W. H. Evans, Co. G	32	35	67
Private W. B. Cragin, Jr., Co. I	32	33	65
Lieut. T. C. Wiswall, Co. F	32	33	65
Capt. W. J. Underwood, Co. G	32	33	65

The following riflemen qualified as sharpshooters Saturday night:

	200 Yds.	300 Yds.	Total.
Capt. W. J. Underwood, Co. G	33	34	67
Lieut. C. S. Towle, Co. D	31	34	65
Sergt. W. H. Evans, Co. G	32	35	67
Private W. B. Cragin, Jr., Co. I	32	33	65
Private W. N. Croxton, Co. G	33	34	67
Private T. B. Lockard, Co. D	30	35	65
E. C. Robinson, veteran	31	34	65

CAB IN PARK COLLISION.

Pugilist Passenger Not Injured—An Exciting Runaway Later.

Joseph Cook of 229 West Thirty-second Street was driving a cab containing the colored pugilist "Joe" Walcott of 112 West Thirty-first Street through Central Park last night, when at Seventy-fourth Street and the East Drive the cab came into collision with a brougham, in charge of John Lang of 8 West One Hundred and Fourth Street and owned by the New York Cab Company. The brougham contained a woman and a man.

Cook was thrown to the road by the force of the collision, but he was not hurt. The passengers were shaken up a little, but were not hurt, and the horses and carriages were uninjured.

Lang insisted that Policeman Parker should arrest Cook. His pasesnger, the man and the woman, were forced to get out on the drive and walk, while he accompanied the policeman to the Arsenal. Parker got into the cab with Walcott and Cook.

Near the Arsenal on Fifth Avenue Cook's horse ran away. He swerved in his flight so much that he ran the cab into a lamppost, smashing one shaft. The horse was held, and the party went on to the Arsenal. Lang was finally induced to withdraw his charge, and the cabmen drove off.

Montefiore Home Patients Entertained.

The Young Ladies' and Gentlemen's League of Montefiore Home entertained the patients at the Home yesterday with a concert arranged by Miss Dinkelspiel, a member of the Board of Governors of the league. The children of the Home rendered humorous songs and recitations under the direction of Charles Harris. On next Wednesday the league will hold its first domino in the Waldorf-Astoria, dancing to begin at 8:30 o'clock and unmasking at 10:30. There will be two more receptions at the Waldorf-Astoria during the Winter season.

New Publications. | New Publications. | New Publications.

James Lane Allen's "Charming Idyls"

A KENTUCKY CARDINAL and Its Sequel, AFTERMATH.

IN ONE VOLUME. ILLUSTRATED BY HUGH THOMSON,
Illustrator of an alluring "Cranford," captivating editions of Pride and Prejudice, etc.,
Cloth, Cr. 8vo. $2.50.

"A BOOK OF RARE VALUE IN ITS EVERY DETAIL."

"Thoroughly charming, full of vitality and with an original flavor that is very taking, illustrated by a man whose drawings never fail to yield delight."—N. Y. Tribune.

"A delightful book, lively, humorous and genial, combining a love of birds with social incident, fun and pathos. It is the very thing for a Christmas present."—Evening Post, Chicago.

A Comple Edition of MR. JAMES LANE ALLEN'S Collected Writings.

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE, $1.50. THE REIGN OF LAW THE BLUE GRASS REGION, $1.50. SUMMER IN ARCADY, $1.25. A Tale of the Kentucky Hemp Fields. Illustrated, Cloth, 12mo, $1.50. and FLUTE AND VIOLIN, $1.50.

"Quaint, Humorous, Tender and Pathetic by turn."—Daily Capital, Topeka.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, 66 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

FARMERS SUE THE CITY.

Want Damages for Injury to Their Land Through Wells of Brooklyn Water Supply System.

Lawyer George A. Logan of Brooklyn has filed with Controller Coler nine claims, aggregating $50,000 in amount, on behalf of Long Island farmers, for damages suffered by them through the operation of driven wells in the water supply system of Brooklyn.

The claims have been presented as a result of the recent decision by the Court of Appeals in the suit brought against the city by Benjamin F. Forbell, a farmer, to recover damages for the exhaustion of the underground water supply of his land. The farmers similarly affected awaited the final decision in the Forbell suit before taking action themselves. The decision was in favor of the plaintiff and the first of the claims expected to follow upon it are now coming in. It is expected that hundreds of these claims, involving several millions of dollars, will be presented.

Unless the claims filed by him are honored by the Controller, Lawyer Logan intends to bring suit against the city on behalf of his clients to recover the damages asked. These claims are presented by Edward A. Higbie, Alfred A. Higbie, Samuel Mills, Emma H. Mills, and George Bailey, of Springfield, and John Hendrickson, Joseph Hendrickson, John C. Hendrickson, and Thomas West, of Valley Stream. The claims are for damages sustained during the past six years.

The farmers allege that the operation of the driven wells at the Springfield and Forest Stream pumping stations has had the effect of lowering the underground water table on their land, and thus made the ground unfit for cultivation. They have been put to much expense by the necessity of the extensive use of fertilizers. Not alone have they suffered in this respect, they say, but their ponds, which have supplied them with ice, have been drained, and where formerly it cost them but 50 cents to harvest a ton of ice, they are now obliged to buy ice at the price of $4 a ton.

ALLEGED BROKER ARRESTED.

Adolph Bodesch Accused of Swindling a Woman Out of $385.

Central Office Detectives Barrett and McConville, in Centre Street Court, yesterday morning, arraigned on a charge of grand larceny Adolph Bodesch, who says he is a commission broker, doing business at 44 Broadway, and residing at 26 Third Street.

The charge against Bodesch, who was arrested at his office late Saturday afternoon, was made by Miss Emma Hoffman, a saleswoman, or 340 Washington Street, Newark, N. J., who affirms that on Dec. 19, 1899, she paid to Max Schwartz, an agent and manager in the employ of Bodesch, $385 to purchase stocks and dispose of them in her name. Bodesch on that occasion, she avers, told her he was a member of the Consolidated Exchange, and in order to satisfy her on that point sent Schwartz to show her the building. Since that time Miss Hoffman has received no return for her money.

Schwartz, who is now in Ludlow Street Jail, charged with selling bogus stock to Annie Danielson, a servant girl in Jersey City, has, Assistant District Attorney Byrne says, volunteered to testify in this matter against Bodesch, who, the police say, is an old offender. Magistrate Flammer committed him to the Tombs in default of $1,000 bail for further examination.

BROKER IN INSANE WARD.

John C. Hasbrouck Committed to Bellevue at His Wife's Instance—He Accuses Her.

John C. Hasbrouck, who is well known in the city as a broker and as the inventor of a fire extinguisher, was arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday morning and committed to Bellevue Hospital, to which he was taken from his residence on Saturday night to be examined as to his sanity. He will be kept there for several days under the observation of Drs. Fitch and Wildman, the State examining physicians.

Mrs. Hausbrouck, when seen at her residence, at 114 East Twenty-fifth Street, yesterday refused to say anything about her husband. On Saturday she insisted that he should be taken to the hospital, and said that she was unable to live in the same house with him any longer. She said that he had been a heavy drinker for years and had squandered away two fortunes. Hasbrouck was very quiet at the hospital yesterday and gave no signs of insanity. He said that he was not insane and that his wife was trying to railroad him to an asylum.

Gifts for Flower Mission Wanted.

The rooms of the New York Flower Mission, 104 East Twentieth Street, will be open for their thirty-first Christmas season from Wednesday next to Saturday, inclusive. Evergreens, pictures, Christmas cards, fruit, and jelly for the island hospitals and insane asylums; clothing, delicacies, and supplies for tenement house sick, especially beef extracts and condensed milk; and toys and dollars for sick, crippled, or very poor children, and donations of money are requested.

WITH THIS MARK YOU GET
Ballantine Brew.
Try it once, you keep on trying it.
It is the best of best.
India Pale Ale,
XXX Canada Malt Ale,
Old Burton Ale,
Brown Stout, Porter, Half and Half.
On Draught or in Bottles.
P. Ballantine & Sons, Newark, N. J.

Fleming H. Revell Company Book Store

The Time Element
Intelligent service, at once satisfactory and expeditious, appeals strongly to one who seeks books for the Holiday season. Our equipment in point of salespeople and carefully selected stock ensures a great saving of time.

The Price Element
In ordinary comparison, our prices more than sustain our contention that this book store is never undersold. Add to this the comfort and convenience and special return privileges, and you are ensured a great saving of money.

158 Fifth Avenue NEAR TWENTIETH STREET, NEW YORK.

POST-GRADUATE HOSPITAL.

Annual Report Shows an Ambulance and Money Are Badly Needed.

The sixteenth annual report of the New York Post-Graduate Hospital for the year ended Oct. 31, finely printed and illustrated with half tones, has made its appearance. The scope of the Post-Graduate Hospital is wide. It has, among other departments, a nurses' training school, dispensary, hospital laboratory, lying-in department, babies' wards, and, in general, makes provision as far as its means will permit for the treatment of the worthy poor. The hospital, the report says, exists primarily for the sake of the medical school, and both being under the same roof, at Second Avenue and Twentieth Street, practitioners have easy access to the operations by specialists in wards as well as in dispensary and clinic rooms.

Like many other institutions engaged in charity work in the city, the Post-Graduate Hospital is in need of more funds. Through the gift of Harris C. Fahnestock, the Margaret Fahnestock Training School for Nurses has been erected opposite the Post-Graduate Hospital, as a part of that institution, giving it better facilities than ever for the training of young women. The Directors of the hospital in their report call attention to the great need of an indoor hospital and hope the necessary means for a new building may soon be forthcoming. An ambulance is also needed, and, while a sum is on hand for providing it, more money is required to make up the necessary amount.

The Treasurer's report for the general hospital shows disbursements of $90,784.48 and net receipts of $68,442.07, leaving a deficit paid and to be paid by the medical school of $22,342.41. The Directors also appeal to the public for an endowment of the Post-Graduate Hospital, and additional money is wanted for the babies' wards.

SHOT ON A YACHTING TRIP.

Gun Was Discharged Accidentally and Clarke's Face Disfigured.

Howard Peterson, owner of the sloop yacht Maggie Bell, accompanied by Philip Straudt of 333 West Fortieth Street, George Walker of 505 Tenth Avenue, James Blackwell of 437 West Forty-second Street, and George P. Clarke, 337 West Forty-second Street, Manhattan, and Nicholas Muller of Guttenberg, N. J., yesterday sailed on a fishing expedition.

Straudt, after they reached the shoals, got his gun and said he was going to take a shot a some sea gulls. Peterson convinced him that the birds were too far away to be hit. Straudt brought the gun back into the cabin, and it was discharged unexpectedly. The shot struck Clarke, and tore away nearly half of his face. The boat was immediately headed for Bay Ridge, and Clarke was taken to the Norwegian Hospital. Clarke said the shooting was entirely accidental. Straudt tried to kill himself, but was prevented by Muller.

New Catholic Church Opened.

The new Church of St. Jerome, at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street and Alexander Avenue, was open to the Catholics of the Bronx yesterday morning. High mass was celebrated yesterday with the Rev. P. B. Cushion, pastor of the church, as celebrant. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Thomas Donlan of St. Agnes's. There was a very large attendance.

Splinter Causes a Boy's Death.

While walking bare-footed at his home Friday Joseph Tie, eighteen years old, of 1,696 Madison Avenue, got a splinter in one of his feet. It was removed, but blood poisoning set in, and he died yesterday in the Harlem Hospital. The splinter was a piece of wood less than half an inch long.

Old First Church Organ Concert.

William C. Carl will give a free evening organ concert in the "Old First" Church, Fifth Avenue and Twelfth Street, to-morrow evening. This will be the annual Christmas-tide organ concert, and a special programme has been arranged. Mr. Carl will be assisted by Mrs. Ellen Fletcher-Caples, soprano, and Gwilym Miles, baritone.

In Aid of Prisoners' Families.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, on behalf of the Prisoners' League Department of the Volunteers of America, makes an appeal for money, food, and clothing to be given to destitute families whose needs are known through acquaintance with men in prison. The purpose is to visit the families on Christmas Day and give them help and comfort.

UNION DRINKS AND SMOKES.

Only Union-Made Beer and Cigars for Labor Delegates.

The Central Federated Union was in an uproar for two hours yesterday over union halls, union beer, and union cigars. There were complaints from various organizations that the letter carriers, the Actors' Protective Union, the Social Democratic Party, and other bodies were holding various entertainments in Grand Central Palace, which, it was declared, was a non-union place. Delegate Kelly said he had seen the lessee of the hall, who told him he did not care for organized labor. Other statements were made from which it appeared that few of the proprietors of public halls cared to have anything to do with organized labor, and in fact preferred to do without it.

The Rev. W. D. P. Bliss, the founder of the Civic Federation which had arranged to give a twentieth century dinner in Grand Central Palace on Dec. 31, said he had engaged Grand Central Palace for the dinner, but was willing to forfeit his advance payment and postpone the dinner rather than displease organized labor.

"While you go on spouting Sunday after Sunday about union beer and cigars," said Delegate Brown, "many will go out after every meeting to a saloon across the way, and drink non-union beer and continue to smoke non-union cigars."

A resolution was passed calling on all affiliated unions to be on the lookout for non-union beer and to hire no hall unless a contract had been made with the Central Federated Union.

A resolution depriving of a seat in the body of any delegate, after July 1, 1901, who does not wear all union made clothing was referred.

It was decided to organize a section of the central body of trades engaged in work on the Rapid Transit tunnel. Delegates O'Brien, Pallas, and Friday were appointed a committee on this work.

Philip Kelly of the Theatrical Protective Union reported that $154 due to members of his union by a theatre which had closed last April had been paid when the union threatened to oppose the granting of a license for reopening the house.

KILLED BY FALL DOWN STAIRS.

Boarders Who Helped Sittig to Bed Didn't Know He Was Hurt.

Charles Sittig, who lived in a furnished-room house at 41 Bank Street, was found dead in bed at his home yesterday morning. About midnight several of his fellow-boarders, coming in, found him sitting at the head of the stairs leading from the first floor of the house. They called to him to get up and go to bed, and he tried to do so. He lost his footing and fell to the floor below, landing on his head.

The boarders picked him up and helped him to his room. He had a small scalp wound on the top of his head, but he told his friends that he was all right and needed sleep more than to have the wound dressed. So they washed the wound and put him to bed.

Coroner's Physician Williams, who examined the body, said that Sittig had fractured his skull.

Two New Cases of Smallpox.

Two new smallpox cases were discovered yesterday. The patients are Mrs. Minnie Seaman, fifty-four years old, of 206 West Sixty-seventh Street, and Mary Birmingham, twenty-five years old, of 1 Amsterdam Avenue. The women were taken to

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, DEC. 17, 1900.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: F. Drechmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month.....$0.50
DAILY, per Year.....6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year.....7.50
SUNDAY, per Year.....1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year.....1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month.....0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year.....1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

TWELVE PAGES,
with
Financial Review and Quotation Supplement.

THE POLICE "SHAKE-UP."

In a police force properly composed and properly governed there could be no possible need of such extended and sudden changes as have just been made in this city. Especially would it be impossible that such sweeping changes could be made without the approval and against the known wishes and judgment of the officials at the head of the force.

It will be said, and it is true, that the changes, with one exception, are within the discretion of the Chief, and that he is justified in disregarding the views of the President of the commission if he deems the interests of the force and of the city are promoted thereby. But it is absurd to suppose that the changes as a whole are made for any such motives, and since the President of the commission denounces them in no measured terms, one of two things is to be inferred, either that he is unfit for his place or that the Chief is unfit for his. The unfitness of both has been pretty well demonstrated. The unseemly conflict that has arisen confirms the demonstration, and in addition shows the utterly ineffective organization of the system.

President YORK intimates that the transfers of Captains to precincts from which their previous removal had been made in order to insure better enforcement of the law will result in the same evils that before existed. The Brooklyn Eagle, the leading Democratic paper in the borough, does not stop at intimations. It openly charges that the transfers in that borough and the introduction of men from this side of the East River are simply intended to make robbery easy. "The public opinion," it says, "will be unanimous that these changes have been made to enable revenue from rottenness, under the sale of law, to be resumed here on the old scale." It avows the popular intention in Brooklyn "to destroy, root and branch, the conditions and the men that have defied decency in Brooklyn, punished honest police officers here for doing right, and brought in instruments that are expected to be pliable enough to make government mean the same as crime for the enrichment of politicians and for the lucrative annexation of vice to administration in this community."

This is plain language. We do not suppose that any one at all familiar with the motives and the methods of police management in this city doubts that the explanation of The Eagle is substantially correct. It does not, of course, apply to all the changes, some of which appear to be merely useless, substituting for men of fairly good reputation others of like sort. But what unquestionably is true is that the transfers are largely in the pursuance of the general policy of Tammany toward vice in this city, a policy of collusion at times and intimidation at others, with a constant view to extortion in either case. It is a shameful piece of business. It ought to serve to arouse still more strongly the resentment and alarm of decent citizens, and to confirm their determination to put an end to the detestable and injurious rule of Tammany.

THE ROTTEN SPOT.

The rotten spot in the Subsidy bill is the foreign tonnage provision. The advocates of the bill not only cannot defend that feature, they will not even tell the truth about it. They persuade many very intelligent men to assent readily to the proposition that a subsidy for the encouragement of American shipbuilding is a good thing. Outside of the immediate beneficiaries of the foreign tonnage clause can they get nobody, even a fool, to assent to the proposition that the payment out of our public funds of a bounty to persons who buy their ships abroad is a good thing?

Who put that clause into the bill? Why was it put in? Why are payments under it restricted to foreign ships bought or contracted for prior to Jan. 1, 1900? Why was the qualifying limit of American ownership in foreign-bought vessels reduced from 80 per cent. to 51 per cent.? Every one of these questions would be fully and frankly answered if the bill was an honest one. They ought to be answered for the information of the taxpayers, whose money is to be used for the encouragement of foreign ship buying.

There is another question. It is vital, and no Senator or member of Congress should have the hardihood to get on his feet to speak for the Subsidy bill until he was morally and statistically prepared to answer it truthfully. How much of the annual subsidy fund of $9,000,000 will go to foreign-built ships bought or contracted for prior to Jan. 1, 1900? Will it be one million, two millions, three millions, or four millions? How much of the subsidy fund will be left for the encouragement of shipbuilding in American yards after the persons who were fortunate enough and far-seeing enough to make their contracts a year ago have had their share of it?

If the bill becomes a law these questions will be answered. There must be a public accounting for every dollar paid to every line and every ship. If then it shall prove that there was an ugly job in the bill, the loud outcries of publicity will ring in the ears of the chiefs of the Republican Party night and day. There can be no concealment then. And the outcries will be loudest right in the middle of the next Congressional and Presidential campaigns.

If certain private gentlemen have by large campaign contributions bought the privilege of writing that thieving clause into the Subsidy bill, we admit that the repudiation of the terms of the contract would now subject the chiefs of the party in power to much private vilification. But vilification by a private committee of twenty-five is attended with far less personal and political inconvenience than denunciation by the majority part of fourteen million voters.

WU-TING-FANG.

The Chinese Minister has certainly reason to feel considerable satisfaction with the series of cordial entertainments of which he has been the recipient of late. We have no means of knowing, and we are not sure that he has, what are his exact relations to the powers that be in his own land, but it is safe to say that at no time within the last year could he have gone back to his capital and made report on his conduct here, wise and faithful as it appears to Americans to be, without grave risk of losing his head. Perhaps it was a consciousness of this fact that made him speak so kindly on Saturday evening of the possibility of the United States becoming the leader of a republic of the world. It might well be a good deal pleasanter for upright, enlightened Chinese gentlemen to dwell under the laws of such a republic than under the decrees liable at any moment to issue from Sian-Foo.

But it is quite open to us Americans to believe that WU-TING-FANG does in fact represent the people of China better than he represents the Government of the Dowager Empress and better than the Empress represents her own people. We have the testimony of all the most intelligent and well-informed observers in China that the Emperor himself is convinced of the need of a just and liberal Government and ready to promote it. We have WU-TING-FANG among us to demonstrate that the Emperor can command the aid of able and experienced men, statesmen in their ideas and in their equipment, in carrying out such a policy. How much sympathy and support they and he would receive from the people of China, or exactly what it is that enables the Empress Dowager to usurp the powers that she abuses, we do not know. That would be a matter on which, if it were practicable, it would be very desirable to have the views of the Minister himself. Of course he cannot be asked to give them. We must be content with the fact that, while holding his commission from the actual Government, he avows principles and ideas quite opposed to those that have been acted on by that Government. But it is reasonable also to infer that he would not do even this if he had not confidence in the ultimate saneness of the policy of China. While there is a chance of that, it is the part of wisdom and of fairness to avoid everything that can reasonably offend and estrange the people of China.

THE RECENT BRITISH DEFEAT.

What at first glance makes the Boer victory at Magalies Berg significant is the fact that the Boers could have concentrated 2,000 men within twenty miles of Pretoria when for several months past, with the exception of the fluctuating hundreds that are accompanying BOTHA and DE WET in their puzzling manœuvres, the bulk of the burghers in arms have practically been indulging in guerrilla warfare. Surprise, too, will be expressed that 573 British officers and men should be "missing" when only 14 of the original number attacked are known to be killed, although we are told that they fought until their ammunition was exhausted.

Two elements have of late been conspicuous in the war in South Africa. In the first place, there is the deadly long-range rifle of the Boer; in the second, there is the growing custom of the Boers to release their prisoners soon after capture.

In the battle of Dundee, Oct. 20, 1899, part of a squadron of the Thirteenth Hussars and the Mounted Infantry Dublin Fusiliers were captured by the Boers. Later in the year, Dec. 10, GATACRE retired from Molteno with 605 "missing" and only 2 killed and 26 wounded. By these instances public opinion has been somewhat prepared for the Magalies Berg affair. In each case the British fell into a trap, and to have continued the engagement would have meant certain death. In the early instances surrender entailed prolonged imprisonment; now it seems to involve only short detention.

That the men should, however, have been placed in a position that made surrender or annihilation inevitable, at this stage of the war, is a subject for different treatment, and conditions which explain do not excuse the incident. At the present moment the larger part of the British Army in South Africa is rendered practically useless by the consummate mobility of the enemy. The operative force, according to the plans of the new Commander in Chief, is being converted into mounted infantry. Things are in a period of transition. Reorganization is hampered from the fact that mounts are scarce, and when secured are available in their full strength for only a short time. Nevertheless, there is undoubtedly a sad lack of generalship evident.

LABOR AND THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN.

The committee appointed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting have certainly done wisely in filling two of the vacancies in their number by the selection of representatives of the labor unions. One of these gentlemen is already a member of the Tenement House Commission, as is also Prof. SELIGMAN, and the latter is an officer of the Educational Alliance, which has been active in the district where the evils to be fought are the most notorious. Another of the new members of the committee is Mr. AUSTEN G. FOX, who has had extensive and valuable experience as a public prosecutor, and still another is Mr. GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, who has served several times, and always efficiently, on the Grand Jury.

With this addition to its membership the committee should be especially strong. The accession of the officers of the trades unions is desirable for several reasons. They must be more familiar with the manner in which the evils affect the quarters in which the laboring men live, and they ought to be able to suggest practical methods for organizing resistance to them. In the long run the suppression of those forms and manifestations of vice that can be suppressed is a question of practical popular organization, and above all of organization among the laboring men, who constitute the majority of the voters of the city. We all know that the worst thing in connection with vice is its paid toleration and protection by the police, and that this exists by virtue of the connivance of the political authorities who are back of the City Government. Clearly this cannot be broken up without the active coöperation of the working men; and if their leaders can suggest how this can be secured without mere partisan advantage to the opponents of the present party in power, they will do an immense service to the whole community.

CONFIDENCE IN CUBA.

The enterprise described by Sir WILLIAM VAN HORNE in our columns yesterday morning is a substantial proof of the promise there is in the future of the Island of Cuba more convincing than a volume of official reports.

Here is an association of capitalists building a railroad line across the island from Santiago on land where the right of way is cheerfully granted by private owners, through a region that must yet develop nearly all the trade that the road seeks, without the slightest guarantee that it will secure a charter to authorize its operation, and indeed without the existence of an authority that can surely be relied on to maintain such charter if it were granted. The capital required is considerable and the prospect of profit is entirely contingent.

Yet the gentlemen engaged, after a careful survey of the territory and an estimate of the possible trade that can be developed, the temper of the Cuban people, the chances of essential order and legality prevailing, are going ahead with the work. They do not undertake to say what the probabilities are of Cuban independence or of annexation. But they must be convinced that whether the one or the other shall be the ultimate outcome, the affairs of the island will be sufficiently well managed to permit the exploitation of its resources and the safe and regular pursuit of the industries that are involved in that process. In effect they are betting and betting pretty heavily on the future of the island.

THE POPULATION OF FRANCE.

Political economists will find little that is cheerful in the published French population returns for 1899. The excess of births over deaths amounts to only 31,000, or an increase of 0.20 per cent., which is the lowest figure reached since 1895, when deaths exceeded births by 17,000. It was then that the fears of French sociologists, which had accumulated during the first three years of the last decade of the century, owing to the successive decrease, found expression in certain forms of remedial legislation which placed nearly 100,000 on the right side of the ledger in the following year. Since then every sort of appeal, legislative as well as moral, has been made to the French people. Prizes have been offered by the Government to the fathers of numerous families, many of the obstacles in the way of marriage have been removed, and an attempt has been made to confine the annual levies of recruits to those who were neither married nor contracted in marriage, while the amount of capital possessed by an officer or his prospective bride in order that he might marry has been reduced. Apparently, however, the reforms have not been radical enough or have not yet been interpreted in the way that their promoters have wished, as the following table, covering the last ten years, will show:

Year.	Increase.	Decrease.
1890	....	38,000
1891	....	10,000
1892	....	20,000
1893	7,000	....
1894	88,000	....
1895	....	17,000
1896	93,000	....
1897	108,000	....
1898	33,000	....
1899	31,000	....
Total	310,000	85,000

In 1889 there was an increase of 85,000, and since then—although emigration from France amounts to a few thousand annually, and there is no source from which the outflow may be made up—the population of the country has been practically stationary. The total increase, as shown by the record of births and deaths, for the last ten years is only 225,000, which is very likely completely absorbed in emigration and in migration to the colonies.

Those Frenchmen who have the greatness and glory of their country at heart may well be apprehensive of these figures. EMILE ZOLA, in his last novel, "Fécondité," presented the problem in his usual blunt and terrible fashion, in which some of the causes tending toward the depopulation of France were set forth with all the remorseless exactness of a legal document. It is a subject which cannot be discussed at length here, but the figures alone form an eloquent item of contemporary sociological history which should be of interest to everybody.

CHARLES C. BEAMAN.

The very sudden death of Mr. CHARLES C. BEAMAN is a shock to a wide circle of friends and a serious loss to the best life of the city. Although Mr. BEAMAN had never held a public position of importance and must be regarded as a private gentleman doing modestly the duties that presented themselves to him, he was a force for honor, refinement, and right conduct of no mean value.

Especially will it be remembered of him that he made the pursuit of high aims and the maintenance of a high standard bright and pleasant to his associates. There was nothing gloomy or narrow or even dull in his bearing toward life. He had the rare gift of a keen and brilliant wit that never wounded unless the wound was challenged and deserved. His humor was the delicate and joyous expression of a nature instinctively loyal to the best and happy in it. His standing in his profession was the evidence of his unusual qualities of mind and character, and that he should have been cut off in the very prime of his achievement is a matter for deep and general sorrow.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—In some comments made in this column the other day on M. ROSTAND'S Krüger poem, there appeared an unfortunate phrase—"the little Queen of Holland." That phrase was unfortunate, we learn from The Wilmington (Del.) News, which, evidently speaking with an entirely kind intention, tells us that "WILHELMINA is not short, and she is no longer 'little,' but has definitely taken on the generous proportions of width and depth for which her countrywomen have been famous since the days of WASHINGTON IRVING. It is generally thought, too," continues The News, "that her spirit has kept pace in growth with her body. 'Oom PAUL' might find, in case the poet's fancy was [sic] carried out, that his companion could be as determined as he is." To all this valuable and deeply interesting information The News gently adds: "Probably the writer of THE TIMES's paragraph has not seen WILHELMINA for some years." That, alas! is the exact and literal truth, the real explanation, not to be denied or qualified by any legitimate exercise of ingenuity, and therefore the confession of inaccuracy shall be no less frank than humble. But, after all, the mistake is in a way excusable. In these days of telegraphy and telephony, to say nothing of fast mail trains and steamers, the average paragrapher is sorely tempted to neglect the maintenance of his personal, face-to-face intimacy with European royalty, and, out of selfish regard for his own convenience, to content himself with such knowledge of Kings and Queens as he can secure by moderately frequent correspondence with them. Of course this is all wrong, and the danger of it is well illustrated by the deplorable error to which The Wilmington News has been forced to call our attention. In other days the blunder couldn't have occurred. Formerly paragraphers went about visiting their friends much more than they do now, and the present confidence in the labor-saving devices of scientific machinists did not exist. The world is improving, no doubt, but some of the improvements are at least in part to blame if paragraphers of the baser sort occasionally forget that after not many years little Queens acquire "generous proportions of width and depth," and that a characterization is not always safe just because it is old and familiar.

—To describe as a crazy scheme that of extending Waverley Place across Broadway through to Lafayette Place would in all probability be a piece of injustice to the originators and promoters of the idea, for the chances are that they are not only quite sane, but have a shrewd and accurate conception how most profitably to dispose of real estate in the sale of which they are directly or indirectly interested. While the scheme is not crazy, however, it is not one to awaken enthusiasm in the general taxpaying public if that public should happen to give the matter its attention. Some people know, and others can learn from an inspection of a map of the city, that Waverley Place is a singularly unimportant highway, with a haphazard beginning in the mazes of old Greenwich Village, and running over to Broadway and coming to an abrupt termination there, simply because there was no definable reason for going any further. If it had continued on to Lafayette Place in the days of old, no harm would have been done, and no particular good, for that matter, for Lafayette Place, too, is a desultory sort of a street, the result, to all appearance, rather of accident than of intention. The continuance of Waverley Place to that bearing the name of our sometime amiable and picturesque ally would have one, and only one, substantial effect—the expenditure of an alarming amount of municipal money. It would not facilitate traffic from anywhere to anywhere in any appreciable degree, and, try as one may, it is impossible to see in the proposed "improvement" a cause for other than the most strictly and narrowly limited satisfaction. Every purpose that could be served by the suggested extension, as well as many more, is already served by Astor Place, which is only a few rods further up Broadway, and there, obviously, is the point where the changes, if any are needed, should be made.

—A Congregational church was dedicated in Chelsea, Mass., Friday evening, and in the course of the proceedings there was read a letter of regret from Admiral SAMPSON, who had been invited, but could not come. The interesting part of the letter was a long passage devoted to eulogy of Lieut. HOBSON. After describing, as calculated to turn the head of an older man, the reception which the Lieutenant received on his return from Santiago, the Admiral continued: "Can any one in the vast crowds that pressed about him then remember that he ever gave one sign of overweening pride? Did any one ever hear him speak of himself or his own deeds?" To this question there is but one answer, and that a negative. Then followed a fitting condemnation of calumnies, which the Admiral did not deign to specify. "A man," he wrote, "always of amazing coolness and self-control; marked through all these years that we have known him for subordinating self to duty, no matter how bitter the cost; never, even as a cadet, what is known as a ladies' man, yet did the yellow journals all at once choose to tell us that the habit of a lifetime had been set aside; that he had become in a moment totally different from the young man we had been so proud of. And did any one with common sense believe the tale? You do not, and I do not." The next sentence will be taken, possibly, as hinting at more mistakes than one. It ran: "Yet if, in our proneness as a Nation to hysterical judgment, we did accept the silly story, our credulity and fickleness and ingratitude could not alter such a character as his." Somehow, that is not exactly pleasant reading, all things considered. There is no fault to be found, however, with the conclusion of the Admiral's appreciation of his young friend: "He is, believe me, as strong as in his cadet days, when, a mere boy, he deliberately gave up, for the sake of stern principle, all the joys of popularity. He is as brave to-day, I know, while combating the weakness and torment of fever, and he will be as brave to-morrow, whatever life dares him to do or to suffer, as he was in the hour when he offered his life for his country." The reference to something that happened in the Lieutenant's cadet days will excite wide curiosity.

—Gen. MAXIMO GOMEZ is certainly a queer old man. One day we hear of his giving to the Cubans advice marked by all the wisdom and moderation to be expected of his years and his experiences, and again the Havana dispatches quote him as talking like a boy whose only knowledge of the world and the relative strength of different nations had been obtained while living on an islet in the great Zapata Swamp. Last week the veteran seems to have been in a mood unusually mad, for he is said to have declared that the only practical way to drive the Americans from the island was by force of arms. In other words, he wants—or at that particular moment wanted—his adopted countrymen to declare war against the United States. The suggestion is at once so absurd and so wicked that one is tempted to forget the long and often demonstrated fighting ability of Gen. GOMEZ, and to think of him as a degenerate Spanish politician, with a fatal facility for sonorous eloquence and no power either to see or to learn that many things have happened since the time when Spain ruled half the earth and filled the rest of it with well-justified apprehensions. What imaginable reason has the old General for wanting to drive the Americans out of Cuba? Knowing the Cubans as thoroughly as he does, and absolutely certain that they will be independent at least as soon as they are ready for self-government, for him to excite the little group of ignorant or unscrupulous irreconcilables by advising a war with the United States is nothing less than criminal—or would be if Gen. GOMEZ were not exactly what he is, a very old man, a hero brooding over innumerable wrongs and losses and failures, and anxiously aware that the result for which he has sacrificed so much must come immediately if he is to find in it his own reward. His impatience has some little excuse for occasionally verging on madness, and perhaps the wonder is, not that he has his days for empty ravings, but that he often counsels well and wisely.

WHY AMERICANS BELIEVE IN A FORTIFIED CANAL.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have read with great interest the plea of "An American" in your issue of to-day for an unfortified Nicaragua Canal, and admit that, if his premises are sound, he has proved his case. But his premises are unsound. The experience of the last few years proves them so. No great European power will observe a treaty of neutrality for an hour longer than its interests compel. War is the solvent of treaties. With the most modern, as well as the most ancient, of belligerents (military) necessity has no law. "An American" holds that a neutralized canal would profit the United States more than any other power in time of war. It would, therefore, be the business of a stronger naval power (or powers) at war with us to seize the canal, and it would be seized. England, France, or Germany (the latter after 1914) could and would do this if at war with us, singly or in concert, because the battle for it would be a sea fight, and we have no right to say that we could always whip superior force. On the other hand—and this, Mr. Editor, is where American common sense sees through the sophistries of the special pleaders—a canal fortified at its outlets would be impregnable to naval assault. The English before Cronstadt; the French in the war of 1870; our fleet before Havana; our futility before San Juan de Porto Rico, and our failure to carry Santiago de Cuba by naval assault, all prove this assertion. In Capt. Mahan's letters upon the canal question he has always dodged this point. It is a sore one with naval men, but the American people, as well as the Senate committee, appreciate it.

What would it profit the United States if, after England and Germany, say, had beaten our fleet and seized the canal, the other seventeen signatory powers, ("An American" talks queerly of twenty signers in all,) what would it profit us, I say, if the other seventeen powers protested diplomatically? Nothing. The "seventeen" would be looking for "compensation elsewhere," not dreaming of helping us. It is the first thought of England, Germany, France, and Russia in China to-day. It was the chance which Kaiser Wilhelm improved in South Africa yesterday; it was the story of the treaty of Berlin after the last Russo-Turkish war. Believe in no treaty which you are not always strong enough to enforce; do not throw yourself down trusting to the first comer to pick you up; that is too uncertain; he may pick your pockets if it is dark.

A canal fortified at both outlets threatens no one that a fleet patrolling in the offing would not threaten. On the contrary, it would be one of the most valuable assets in the peace of the world. The European powers may build vastly greater navies than ours; all Europe afloat could not reduce our forts as fast as we could equip and maintain them at a fraction of the cost of an inferior fleet. Knowing this, they would all the more hesitate to engage the land defenses of our canal.

The above is the main point of this brief letter, for which, in the spirit of fair play, I ask you to find space, but I will say this further: The Clayton-Bulwer treaty has been the greatest stumbling block to the building of an isthmian canal; the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, if unamended, as proposed, will but continue the dead-lock. It will be a treaty under which the funds to complete the work will not be forthcoming. A slight reversal of the majorities in Congress and the whole scheme will collapse. The Congress may be cajoled so as to put its head in the lion's mouth, but the next is more likely than not to decline the experiment. The story of the Suez Canal is in point. A canal which we shall forbid ourselves to fortify is an invitation to disaster. CIVIS.

New York, Dec. 12, 1900.

Earthquakes a Menace to the Canal.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

There is one point in regard to the proposed Nicaragua Canal which, although constituting the most obvious objection to that gigantic work, has apparently been given the least attention. I allude to the earthquakes which are frequent and often severe in the mountain regions of Central America. A large lock constructed of masonry, the only available material, whether of cut stone or concrete, subjected to even a moderate earthquake would crack and disintegrate, and it would only require a slight shock to so tilt the dock that the gates must jam and refuse to perform their proper function.

It is possible that the commission may have considered plans for a form of lock which would be less liable to injury by earthquakes than the ordinary form, but I have seen no evidence of this, and if no such earthquake-proof lock has been devised, the construction of this enormously expensive canal would be a pure and lamentable waste of the public funds. Under the circumstances there would seem to be nothing more to do than to await the completion of the present canal across the isthmus, or in some way join hands with France in constructing a sea-level canal along the present line which would require but one lock—a tide lock at the Pacific end.

THOS. L. CASEY,
Major Engineer, U. S. A.

Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 12, 1900.

BOER SYMPATHIZER'S PROTEST.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Permit me to say that, while I am a regular subscriber to your esteemed sheet, I am at odds with you on one subject, and that is your derisive treatment of everything which is favorable to the unfortunate race which has opposed its power to that of the whole British Empire. By what jure divino do you assume to know that "it is for the best interest of the world at large" that the greater should crush the less, and is the sympathy for "the under dog" entirely a forgotten instinct of the human breast?

If blood is still "thicker than water," it is humbly suggested that there is a relationship of government, as well as of kinship, and the greatest Republic of all ages could well afford to look with pity and with favor upon a heroic people striving to enforce the rights of two little republics to exist in the teeth of the wealth and martial force of the chief exponent of kingship, aristocracy, primogeniture, and other toys and fallacies and remnants of the Middle Ages.

Surely, a score of years hence, when calm reflection has performed "its perfect work," no finger will point with pride to a course which, if it had been adopted by the Europe of the last century toward our forebears, our starry flag would have been hidden forever by mediæval clouds.

"Passing by on the other side" always brings with it an excuse to salve the uneasy conscience, and especially is this the case where the money and corporate power strews gifts and flowers over the path away from duty. But enough has been said.

"Why, let the stricken deer go weep,
The hart ungalled play;
For some must watch while others sleep,
So runs the world away."

And we will go about our several ways of making or keeping wealth, on "the pursuit of happiness," while the "inhumanity of man to man" is exemplified in burning homesteads and beggared families, content that our National sympathies, in and without our public press, are virile only when their limits are confined to a little beyond the Gulf Stream and where sympathy and self-interest conjoin.

But, while I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, permit me to predict that the people whose ancestors could combat an Alva will not allow the worst that a Kitchener can do to appall or quench their patriot zeal. RICHARD S. HARVEY.

Nyack, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1900.

Football Finances.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The revival of the preposterous report that the Columbia football team will be sent to California for a game during the Christmas holidays is most deplorable. Collegea are for study. Reasonable and wholesome athletics tend to encroach on study, especially when they take the form of great public intercollegiate contests. The interest and stimulus of these do, however, justify certain concessions. They cultivate the ambition for manly physical robustness and promote the college spirit, which is always worth cultivating. But when it comes to sending a company of students across the continent a month after the legitimate football season has closed, and at a time when their journey may be blocked by storms and when the anxiety of their friends in case of injuries would be painfully augmented by the distance and the risks of travel, then certainly the athletic issue is made altogether too "paramount."

And when such a scheme is urged on the ground of earning money to pay deficits in athletic expenses, it becomes not only blameworthy from the scholastic point of view, but to one who has any pride in our noble university unspeakably distasteful. There is something pathetic in the spectacle of a body of plucky students who have worked hard and well for their Alma Mater on the "gridiron" being goaded to further exertion and sacrifice of time avowedly for the sake of pecuniary profit. It does not seem fair to lay such a burden on these young though sturdy shoulders. Instead of depending on the football team to pay the very high rent of an athletic field, the university should provide one, as other universities do. If this chief strain were relieved, even with Columbia's lavish generosity to athletics in other directions, ends could easily be made to meet in the football accounts.

A LOVER OF STUDY AND SPORT.

New York, Dec. 12, 1900.

Influence of the Canteen.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have read with great interest the two excellent articles published in your paper on the abolishment of the canteen as voted by the House, and I feel in duty bound to give my views on the subject from personal observation.

I cannot understand how such an intelligent body of men could have voted as the House did, even though pressed sorely by the demands of the Women's Temperance Society, (which is totally ignorant of the great harm it is doing.) For many years I have lived in army garrisons and have been daily in contact with the soldiers. I have often visited the canteen also and cannot imagine how any one who has investigated the subject can hesitate to believe that it has been a blessing and not a curse. There a self-respecting soldier when off duty can pass an hour or more reading his paper, chatting, and smoking with friends, and when so desiring have a glass of wholesome beer.

Soldiers must have something to vary the monotony of an army post, and surely it is far wiser and better that a decent place should be provided for them at home than that they should seek the saloons that abound in all towns near a garrison, where they not only obtain "doctored" drinks and bad liquor, but are exposed to many temptations far worse. I have witnessed sad examples of soldiers' trips to town and can truthfully state that not once have I ever witnessed any evil arising from the existence of the canteen.

In abolishing such an institution the injury to the welfare of our brave soldiers would be most demoralizing, and I trust that the Senate will carefully consider the testimonies that have come to them from men of experience all over our country in favor of the canteen before they are willing to inflict such an injustice. J. B.

Cold Spring, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1900.

NUGGETS.

As with Others.

She—Were you ever troubled with dyspepsia?

He—Yes; that's the way it affects me.—Yonkers Statesman.

Last Treatment.

Druggist—I hear you have given old Skinner up.

Physician—Yes; I turned the case over to a bill collector.—Chicago News.

After the Sultan's Way.

"Lemme have a tenner, Tom."

"All right, my boy. When can I expect to get it back?"

"Just as soon as I buy a battleship. Good-bye."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cheaper Lots Further Out.

Eastern Man—What! You want $2,000 for a lot in the suburbs of Dugout City? Why, I can buy better lots close to New York for half that.

Kansas Boomer—Oh, well, if you are willing to go out, I can sell you lots at the same price, and you won't have to go all the way to New York for 'em, either.—New York Weekly.

His Delayed Dinner.

"What makes dinner so late to-night?" he asked.

"Why, my dear," replied the woman who had been reading all the pure-food literature left at the house and printed in the papers, "the preparation of it was unavoidably delayed. The chemist who passes upon everything served at our table was late in coming to the house to make his daily analysis."—Chicago Post.

THE WISE CHILDREN.

Ripley D. Saunders in St. Louis Republic.

The children go loving this good old world,
Just loving it simple and true;
Filling it full of their own sweet dreams
And loving it—that's what they do;
To them it's a place to be happy in,
And they view it with shining eyes—
O grown folks, weary and wistful and worn,
Are not the children wise?

We grasp for the mean and the selfish things,
They hold to the dream and the play;
We toil for money that leaves us poor,
They're rich in a sunlit day;
We hate and suffer, they love and enjoy,
All under the self-same skies—
O grown folks, living a life so bare,
Are not the children wise?

HEARD ABOUT TOWN.

Among the members of the Grau English Opera Company which has just concluded its season at the Metropolitan Opera House, there is one baritone with a most decided idea of his personal importance. A virulent attack of what the boys call "chestivititis" caused him to rather ignore the people of the chorus and the employes at the front of the house alike. The latter, which includes the members of the Bull family, John, "Tom," and "Billy," and the veteran Schaad, began to ignore the existence of the singer, as a matter of getting even with this pompous personage. They saw no good reason why they should be compelled to do obeisance to him whenever he appeared in the lobby. The pompous baritone was a bit touchy, and finally approached one of the Bull boys and wanted to know the reason why he was so ignored. He was an outspoken person, this particular Bull, and allowed the singer to know that "the men at the front" did not fancy his high and mighty ways, and that cordiality on the part of the artists had been a characteristic of the members of all previous organizations they had had to do with. A couple of days later the baritone appeared at the Opera House, and there was a manifest change in his habit. He greeted all the employes at the front of the house most cordially, and even called them by their first names as he greeted them with a cheery "Good morning."

His greetings were returned with a sort of semi-cordiality which indicated a breaking down of the barriers. Finally, in an outburst indicative of the fact that he wished to establish friendly relations, the baritone remarked: "It being a bit chilly, what reason is there why it would not be a good thing to go across the street and warm the cockles of our hearts with a bit of Browne's warming compounds?"

The proposition seemed to meet with the heartiest approval, and "the men at the front" donned hats and overcoats and strolled across the way to the chophouse.

"What will it be?" asked the singer, who was so rapidly getting into the good graces of his companions, when they were lined up at the bar.

With a wink the head usher of the house said to the presiding genius at the bar, "Well, 'Billie,' I guess you had better give us the same as the last one."

Rapidly a half a dozen champagne glasses were placed on the bar, a virile only when their limits are confined to a little beyond the Gulf Stream and where sympathy and self-interest conjoin.

But, while I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, permit me to predict that the people whose ancestors could combat an Alva will not allow the worst that a Kitchener can do to appall or quench their patriot zeal. RICHARD S. HARVEY.

Nyack, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1900.

Football Finances.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The revival of the preposterous report that the Columbia football team will be sent to California for a game during the Christmas holidays is most deplorable. Collegea are for study. Reasonable and wholesome athletics tend to encroach on study, especially when they take the form of great public intercollegiate contests. The interest and stimulus of these do, however, justify certain concessions. They cultivate the ambition for manly physical robustness and promote the college spirit, which is always worth cultivating. But when it comes to sending a company of students across the continent a month after the legitimate football season has closed, and at a time when their journey may be blocked by storms and when the anxiety of their friends in case of injuries would be painfully augmented by the distance and the risks of travel, then certainly the athletic issue is made altogether too "paramount."

And when such a scheme is urged on the ground of earning money to pay deficits in athletic expenses, it becomes not only blameworthy from the scholastic point of view, but to one who has any pride in our noble university unspeakably distasteful. There is something pathetic in the spectacle of a body of plucky students who have worked hard and well for their Alma Mater on the "gridiron" being goaded to further exertion and sacrifice of time avowedly for the sake of pecuniary profit. It does not seem fair to lay such a burden on these young though sturdy shoulders. Instead of depending on the football team to pay the very high rent of an athletic field, the university should provide one, as other universities do. If this chief strain were relieved, even with Columbia's lavish generosity to athletics in other directions, ends could easily be made to meet in the football accounts.

A LOVER OF STUDY AND SPORT.

New York, Dec. 12, 1900.

Influence of the Canteen.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have read with great interest the two excellent articles published in your paper on the abolishment of the canteen as voted by the House, and I feel in duty bound to give my views on the subject from personal observation.

I cannot understand how such an intelligent body of men could have voted as the House did, even though pressed sorely by the demands of the Women's Temperance Society, (which is totally ignorant of the great harm it is doing.) For many years I have lived in army garrisons and have been daily in contact with the soldiers. I have often visited the canteen also and cannot imagine how any one who has investigated the subject can hesitate to believe that it has been a blessing and not a curse. There a self-respecting soldier when off duty can pass an hour or more reading his paper, chatting, and smoking with friends, and when so desiring have a glass of wholesome beer.

Soldiers must have something to vary the monotony of an army post, and surely it is far wiser and better that a decent place should be provided for them at home than that they should seek the saloons that abound in all towns near a garrison, where they not only obtain "doctored" drinks and bad liquor, but are exposed to many temptations far worse. I have witnessed sad examples of soldiers' trips to town and can truthfully state that not once have I ever witnessed any evil arising from the existence of the canteen.

In abolishing such an institution the injury to the welfare of our brave soldiers would be most demoralizing, and I trust that the Senate will carefully consider the testimonies that have come to them from men of experience all over our country in favor of the canteen before they are willing to inflict such an injustice. J. B.

Cold Spring, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1900.

"It makes me rather tired when people talk of the equality of the sexes," said a lady who gets her semi-weekly exercise in the gymnasium at that of the Harlem Young Women's Christian Association. "We have what would be a well-equipped little 'gym' in the building if there was some man to take hold of it and keep it in order when the women are not there. In theory there is a punching bag for us to warm up on. Some weeks, or months, ago, the straps that hold the bag in place were broken, and the members of several of the classes have complained of it and asked for repairs. The shower baths, movable affairs, that are adjusted to the regular feed pipes by rubber tubing, have become split and will not stay adjusted. Complaint was made about them and repairs asked for. Curtains in the dressing rooms have become torn and disarranged, so that the dressing rooms are not places of secrecy at all. Complaint was made of this and repairs asked for again. None has been attended to. Now, if there had been a man in charge, these things would have been mended at once. Miss Cory, the instructor, has complained as well as members of the several classes. That seems to be all the good it does. Women manage the place, and they are forever putting off this and that repair on the false theory that it is economy. The result is that a good 'gym,' which is the chief attraction of the house, is going to rapid decay. A man would not allow such a thing as that. He would see where the penny saved at once is the dollar saved at the end. But the well-meaning young women who run things are too constitutionally tired, too careless, or too engrossed in other things to give a second thought to the complaints made. So things are slowly but surely going to ruin. The business woman may exist, and she may be a success, but she has certainly failed to put in an appearance at the rooms of the Harlem Young Women's Christian Association. It is unfortunate, too, for the institution is doing a good work in its way. But it sadly needs some one with the snap and business head of a man who knows just how to do things at the right time and at the least possible cost."

***

A city man was showing one of his friends from the country about town the other afternoon, and incidentally dropped into the Metropolitan Opera House. At the time there was in the lobby a portrait of heroic size of Bernhardt. A few singers also had their pictures displayed there, and the city man held forth on the merits and demerits of their performances just as if he knew all about them. His friend's eye was attracted by the Bernhardt picture, about which the city man had said nothing.

"And who is she?" asked the countryman.

"The greatest that ever happened!" exclaimed he of the city. "Take all the rest of the bunch and boil them down into one, and when you hear that one combined voice you get some idea of what her voice is. Why, man, when she sings in one of Wagner's operas the price of seats goes away out of sight, and they charge $5 for standing room in the gallery. Hear her sing once, my boy, and you'll forget all the other great singers that ever lived. Why, Patti herself was as an English sparrow alongside a nightingale to her."

***

Outside of the rush to physicians for purposes of vaccination perhaps the most striking evidence of the fear of smallpox contagion has been evidenced in the public libraries of the city. Less time for reading during this universal holiday season has something to do with the decrease of patronage. That is always the case at this season. But the marked decrease, especially in those branches of the free public libraries near to the sections of the city where smallpox cases have been found is markedly and confessedly due to a fear that the germs of the disease may be spread through the circ

BRITISH BALK IN CHINA

Minister Satow Demands a Change in the Joint Note.

Its Character Not Made Public, but It Is Said to be Important—Surprise to Washington Officials.

PEKING, Dec. 16.—Definite instructions supplementing yesterday's communication from London have been received by Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British Minister, and he now demands a modification of a point in the joint note which the foreign envoys generally regard as important. This means further delay, as all the Ministers must communicate anew with their respective Governments.

Just what is the nature of the objection raised by Great Britain the Ministers decline to say; but they admit that the new demand will involve a good deal more diplomatic procedure.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINOTON, Dec. 16.—It is definitely learned to-night that Great Britain had given unofficial assurance of her intention to sign the Peking protocol, and that preparations were being made to send the necessary order to Minister Satow. Information to this effect was given to the American Government about a week ago by Ambassador Choate. He reported that Great Britain was ready to sign the agreement, that it was entirely satisfactory to her, and that an order to that effect would shortly go forward to Minister Satow.

Then something occurred to change the attitude of the British Government. At first the State Department paid little attention to this, believing that the ordinary slowness of Downing Street was responsible. Later on their suspicions were aroused, and efforts were made to find out why the signature was being delayed, but all attempts proved futile.

Ambassador Choate has been able to give no explanation of the British action, nor has Lord Pauncefote. No official of the State Department will deny to-day that in his opinion something has happened during the past week, and almost certainly early in the week, which has induced Great Britain to withhold her signature. What it is no one will attempt to say.

RUSSIAN PLANS IN MANCHURIA.

Chinese Gratitude for Permission to Rule the Country.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking yesterday, says:

"Li-Hung-Chang, at the instance of Prince Ukhtomsky, has wired to Emperor Nicholas an expression of Chinese gratitude for permission to rule Manchuria under Russian protection. This permission purports to have come from the Czar, who is, of course, quite ignorant of the matter.

"Prince Ukhtomsky is leaving Peking within a few days, his mission having been accomplished."

The Shanghai correspondent of The Times, wiring Saturday, says:

"While the Ministers in Peking are haggling over the collective note, Russia has consolidated her power in Manchuria, which, under the guise of friendship, she is wresting from her deluded neighbor."

CHRISTIANS LEVY BLACKMAIL.

PEKING, Dec. 16.—The British are constantly receiving reports of dissatisfaction from the districts around Peking under their special charge.

The officer in command has informed Gen. Gaselee that armed bands of native Christians from the village of Sou-Ra-Noons, five miles southeast of Peking, are constantly moving about and levying blackmail.

The marauders are Catholics, led by a French missionary wearing Chinese clothing.

BOXERS ACTIVE NEAR PEKING.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—"Telegrams from the north," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Times, wiring Saturday, "report renewed activity on the part of "Boxers" in the neighborhood of Peking and Tien-Tsin. It is believed that certain foreigners are continuing a surreptitious business in arms, with the connivance of the Taotai of Shanghai.

"There are persistent rumors here that the foreign troops have arrived at Tai-Yuen-Foo."

The Morning Post publishes the following from its Peking correspondent, dated Saturday:

"The Boxer organization is nearly destroyed. There appears now to be no danger of a recrudescence of the recent troubles, although activity is shown in some unprotected places. The Boxer leaders were in reality not numerous, and most of them have been punished by the Chinese authorities."

FOUND ARMS IN CHINESE TOWN.

American Infantryman Captures Machine Gun Near Ho-Si-Woo.

PEKING, Dec. 16.—Yesterday, while a private of the Ninth United States Infantry was searching for two stray mules near Ho-Si-Woo, he arrived at a town where he found a rapid-fire machine with 5,000 rounds of ammunition, of which he took charge. He went back to the mail station for the night, but on returning in the morning he found two loaded Winchesters, two other magazine rifles, and 1,100 rounds of ammunition. When leaving the town he was fired upon, but he did not return the fire. A village five miles southeast of Ho-Si-Woo has been fired upon by Chinese twice within half a mile of the mail station.

GERMAN TROOPS BACK IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—A portion of the German contingent that recently arrived from China was publicly received here to-day, in accordance with the express desire of Emperor William, great enthusiasm being displayed by the crowds that lined the route from the Lehrter Railway Station, which was beautifully decorated.

The troops bore the shot-riddled German flags which were taken into action at the storming of the Yalu forts, together with several captured Chinese flags and guns. The procession went to the Arsenal, where the Chinese colors were deposited.

Everywhere the men were greeted with tumultuous cheering.

In front of the Arsenal were Emperor William, the Empress, Prince Henry of Prussia, Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, Count von Bülow, Imperial Chancellor; members of the general staff, and other persons of high rank.

After saluting the troops, the Kaiser inspected them, speaking to those who had been wounded or had received decorations, and then addressing all formally.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Express asserts that Emperor William, when complimenting the troops, said:

"After to-day the army and navy are one. The world shall know it here the Emperor shook his Marshal's baton vigorously[that where I put my blue boys nobody shall remove them."

RUSSIA AND THE RAILROAD.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 16.—The Official Messenger publishes an inspired statement as to the views of the Russian Government concerning the Yang-Tsun—Shan-Hai-Kwan Railroad, repudiating the charge that the Russians have acted illegally in holding the line, contending that Russia's action was necessitated by military considerations, declining to recognize the British as owners of the line, but admitting that they have the preponderating financial interest, and finally promising to restore it to the former administration after the foreign troops have evacuated the Province of Chi-li.

Notice to Readers of New York Times.

Orders for the delivery of THE NEW YORK TIMES to either residence or place of business may be made by postal card or through telephone Cortlandt 4861. Any irregularity in delivery should be immediately reported to the office of publication.—Adv.

GREAT BRITAIN DUNS TURKEY.

Wants Claims Paid—Action May Delay Settlement with America.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 16.—Owing to the success of the United States in pressing claims for compensation in connection with the Armenian disorders, Great Britain is now urging the Ottoman Government to pay similar claims put forward by British subjects. It is expected that energetic means will be taken to obtain a settlement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Contrary to the impression which, according to the Constantinople dispatch, prevails regarding the United States claims for indemnity against Turkey, the statement is made that no settlement respecting their payment has been reached. All this Government has secured up to this time is a series of promises to settle by the Ottoman Government.

The reported action of the British Government in urging its claims for compensation against the Turks because of the reported success of the United States in that regard is not calculated, in the minds of those best posted, to hasten the negotiations now progressing between the United States and Turkey, but on the contrary to hamper and retard them.

THE CUFIC SAFE IN PORT.

Disabled Liner Towed to Queenstown—Her First Officer Drowned.

QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 16.—The White Star Line steamer Cufic, from Liverpool, Dec. 4, for New York, was towed to anchorage here at 4 o'clock this morning by the British steamer Kansas City, which sighted the Cufic Dec. 9 in latitude 51.34 north and longitude 21.24 west, the day the White Star liner lost her propeller. Owing to the terrific weather it was impossible to connect the hawsers until Dec. 12. These parted in a fierce gale, and the Kansas City only succeeded in resuming towing the following day. The hawsers broke again last night off Kinsale, but after a short delay towing was resumed.

In one of the attempts to connect with the Kansas City, Mr. Crosby, Chief Officer of the Cufic, while trying to swim to a line attached to a buoy afloat from the Kansas City, was drowned, although a powerful swimmer.

The Cufic will await the arrival of tugs here, and will then proceed for Liverpool. She carries no passengers.

The Kansas City's machinery was stopped, and there is a heavy list to the starboard. She will recoal and may resume within a day or two her voyage to New York, whither she was bound from Bristol after touching at Swansea Dec. 6, when she sighted the disabled Cufic.

Charles Stuart, Baron Blantyre, Dead.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Charles Stuart, Baron Blantyre, Scotch Representative Peer from 1850 to 1892, is dead. He was born in 1818 and succeeded his father in 1830. He owned about 14,100 acres of land.

Denmark's Arbitrator Appointed.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 16.—Dr. Matzon, Professor of Law of the University of Copenhagen, has been appointed to represent Denmark in the International Court of Arbitration at The Hague.

Scandinavian Prince Ill.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 16.—Prince Gustavus Adolphus, eldest son of the Crown Prince of Sweden and Norway, is ill with the diphtheria.

WOMAN BURGLAR SEEN AT WORK.

Talking of Women on the Street Gave Her the Alarm and She Decamped.

The police of the Morrisania Station are looking for a young woman who was trying to rob the cash drawer of Hesson's steam laundry, at 710 East One Hundred and Sixty-second Street, about midnight last night. She was frightened off by a party of four women and a man before she secured any money.

The women and man were returning from a reception and were passing the laundry when they were astonished to see the woman, who was dressed in black, trying to pry open the cash drawer inside. Laundry packages were scattered all over the place, and the woman was so intent on getting at the drawer that she did not notice those outside. The man left the women to watch her while he went after a policeman.

While the man was gone the women began to talk outside, and the woman inside heard them. She dashed out of the store and past them before they recovered from their astonishment. By the time the man came up with Policeman Seiss of the East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street Station the woman had disappeared. The drawer had not been pried open.

YOUNG GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE.

Was Despondent Because She Had Lost Her Employment.

Despondent over the loss of her place in a dressmaking establishment of this city Mary Schneider, a sixteen-year-old girl, committed suicide at her home, 781 Myrtle Avenue, Williamsburg, last night.

Mary and an elder sister came to this country about four years ago from Germany, where their parents live. They boarded at 781 Myrtle Avenue, with a family named Fogee. Four weeks ago the two girls lost their employment.

Mary, the younger girl, brooded over the fact. Her sister tried to console her, but last night while the two were preparing to go to bed the girl suddenly showed a vial of carbolic acid. Before her sister could prevent it she had drained the contents.

An ambulance was summoned from the Williamsburg Hospital, but the girl died two hours after arriving there.

It was said that both girls were thrifty and had snug bank accounts.

DIES IN A GREENHOUSE.

Brooklyn Man Stricken Suddenly with Fatal Heart Disease.

A well-dressed man entered a greenhouse at Utica Avenue and Degraw Street, Bronklyn, at 6 o'clock last evening.

"I'm not feeling well. May I sit down and get warm?" he said.

He was told to make himself comfortable, and he drew up a chair and sat down. A moment later he was dead.

The police of the Atlantic Avenue Station were notified and the body was taken to the Morgue.

From a card found in the man's pocket it was supposed that he was Jacob Zimmerman, an importing milliner, of 700 Broadway, Brooklyn, whose home is at 681 Willoughby Avenue.

When the police inquired at the house they were told that it was probably Zimmerman, as he was a sufferer from heart disease. He left his home at 4 o'clock to go for a walk, and had not returned. Up to a late hour no one had called at the Morgue to identify the body.

Anniversary of Deaf-Mute Mission.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 16.—A large gathering of deaf-mutes assembled in Trinity Episcopal Church last night, the occasion being the twenty-eighth anniversary of the establishment of the National Church Mission for deaf-mutes. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Gallaudet, son of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet, founder of the first school for deaf-mutes in America. The announcement was made that the Gallaudet Home for Deaf-Mutes, which was burned a short time ago, is being reconstructed, at a cost of $48,000.

Towed in a Missing Lightship.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—The United States Relief Lightship No. 58, which broke adrift from her anchorage at Nantucket Shoals during the recent gale, was towed into Breakwater to-day by the British steamer Luciline, and is now anchored at Edgemoor, Del., the Government lighthouse station for the Delaware River and bay. After the lightship had been driven from her anchorage the fierce gale carried her 200 miles off shore. Her boiler sprung a leak and the Captain found it impossible to battle with the rough sea and accepted the assistance of the Luciline. The crew suffered some from exposure.

Dr. Henry B. Fellows Dead.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Dr. Henry Barton Fellows, former Dean of the Hahnemann Medical College and for thirty years a professor in that institution, died at his home to-day. Dr. Fellows, who was in his sixty-fourth year, had been ailing for some time.

United States Daughters' Reception.

The United States' Daughters, 1812, Empire State Society, will give their annual honor day reception and luncheon on Wednesday at Delmonico's. Officers of the army and navy will be the guests of honor. Many prominent clubs will also be represented.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE DEFENDED BY A JUDGE

Senator Thurston's Former Law Partner Its Champion.

Nearly Two Million Cases of Healing for Sickness Proves the Truth of the Scientists' Doctrine, He Declares.

Carnegie Hall was crowded yesterday afternoon for a lecture by ex-Judge Joseph Clarkson of Omaha, formerly a law partner of Senator Thurston, who is now devoting his time to his duties as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, in Boston.

His lecture was under the auspices of the eight Christian Science churches of this city, and the subject was "Christion Science Reveals the Kingdom of Heaven at Hand." The speaker, after saying that the world is in want of a religion more spiritual than most of those now followed, and that man, according to the tenets of the Scientists, is not really mortal, but immortal like God, he said: "Our proofs are actual personal experiences, than which no proofs are more cogent. Through Christian Science there have been, as well as can be estimated, nearly 2,000,000 cases of healing from sickness. In a large portion of the cases, perhaps the majority, physicians had abandoned or classed the sufferers as incurable.

"In thousands upon thousands of cases, bad habits, depraved tastes, sins of thought and deed, have been eradicated; worry and anxiety have been banished; poverty has been overcome; the dying and the bereaved have lost their terrors and sorrow, and to a great number of the vast army who march after the Christian Science banners, there has been born a keener consciousness of the joys of spiritual existence, a positive certainty of 'God with us' and to stay with us, and the resultant peace 'which passeth all understanding.'"

The speaker stated that the public had been deceived as to the real beliefs of the Scientists by malevolently disposed and false reports. Then he told of how Jesus had done all kinds of "so-called miracles," adding that the Scientists never admitted that there has ever been such a thing as a miracle, in the usual acceptation of the term, and that those acts which have been erroneously called by that name are in reality but results of the laws of God.

After declaring God to be as much on earth to-day as He was in Christ's time, Mr. Clarkson said that many of the recent healings of the Scientists had approached "In their marvelous character the healings wrought by Jesus and the Disciples." He added that the Scientists might have had some failures, but that the strength of a doctrine should rather be judged by its successes than its failures, especially when the latter are very few. Christ, said he, told His followers to go forth and heal the sick, thereby giving them the power so to do.

He told of the wonderful recovery of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, when she was ill in 1866, and was thought to be beyond hope of getting well. He said that she read of healings in her Bible, and immediately arose and walked, when it had been said half an hour before she would die within the day; that, after her recovery, she started to study the Bible to learn how she had happened to get well, and that she had, as a result of her investigations, learned that there was such a thing as the principle of Christian healing and regeneration. Three years were consumed in acquiring this wisdom, and while the studies were in progress Mrs. Eddy, the speaker declared, was visited by "whisperings from God."

Toward the end of his talk the ex-Judge said that Jesus had never taught that God makes men sick, and that it is, therefore, impossible for such to be the case. Jesus, he added, was never sick Himself, because He was a perfect man. Men nowadays should be perfect, or as near it as possible, and then they would never have any physical ailments. Along with the attainment of perfection, there should be a wholesale vanquishing of sin, sickness, and death. The world at large, he declared, has been trying to down the Scientists, but it is no use; they will be believed in the end, as they are right and the world is wrong.

APOSTLES MADE MISTAKES.

Dr. Rainsford's Criticism of Their Report of the Second Coming—Reality of Hell Denied.

In his sermon at St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford said that the teachings of Jesus Christ in regard to His second coming had been grossly misunderstood by the Apostles, that they had incorporated their mistakes into the New Testament, that the Church had been grossly misled; and, that the Prayer Book's teachings had been largely influenced by a muddled handling of the Bible, which did not discriminate between the spiritual teachings of Jesus and the concepts of men.

Dr. Rainsford said that the prophecies of the destruction of Jerusalem in the Gospel of St. Mark had been understood to include the promise that the Lord would come again within the generation of the Apostles. When He did not come St. Jude attempted to explain the apparent failure of the prophecy by saying that one day was with the Lord as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day.

"A delightful theological subterfuge," remarked the preacher, "a complete twisting of the meaning of Jesus."

The writer of the Book of the Revelation, Dr. Rainsford said, had also been misled in prophesying of the coming of the Lord. "He shall rule them with a rod of iron." "Scarcely," said the preacher, "could He get imagery more grotesque—the Lamb turned into a roaring lion."

"The comings of God," continued Dr. Rainsford, "are seen in all God's activity in the affairs of men. An age that thought of God as an outside God, a God of a few, was bound to misapprehend the teachings of Jesus as to God's ways with men. God is the God of the just-ridden world, the God of the bad as well as of the good; not a God coming to His world from an outside place.

"There is no terrible judgment ahead, no physically burning hell. Judgment is a process here and now; salvation is a process here and now. There is no standing before an awful throne and the separation of impossible sheep and goats, but right now separation is here and now, as men go on up, or slip down into the bog and mire."

WOMEN IN THE STATE.

R. Heber Newton Declares Their Rights Are Unassailable In Such a Sphere —Calls Them to Fight Vice.

The Rev. R. Heber Newton preached in the Church of All Souls on the subject: "Women in the State." His text was: "The inhabitants of the villages ceased, they ceased in Israel, until that I, Deborah, arose, that I arose a mother in Israel." (Judges, v., 7.) He said in part:

"Deborah was the Joan of Arc of Biblical times. The noble soul of a noble woman was stirred at the deplorable condition of affairs that existed, and she arose and freed the people. Many a land has a tale to tell of the influence of women in the State, though from the foundation of the world men have differed as to whether her influence has been for good or evil.

"The sphere of the State has been reserved by man unto himself from the earliest history, and he has always condemned woman to the home and to the Church, both of which he has always neglected himself. It has been said by some that woman's entrance into the affairs of State would only hurt herself, that she would only succeed in unsexing herself. Even St. Paul thought that woman should not be heard in the synagogue, and should only appear in public properly veiled. I think that we can safely trust Mother Nature in these matters. There is no danger of anything unsexing woman.

"Either woman is unfit for the State or the State is unfit for woman. Either the State is not divine or the woman is not divine. Which is it?

"Woman has every right in the State, for many questions that are to-day puzzling our lawmakers are but problems in home making, and this is woman's province, and could be solved by her very readily, where men are at a loss what remedies to apply. The tenement-house problem is nothing but a problem of home making and housekeeping, and I marvel when I see how few women are interested in this question. The liquor question, too, is one in which women are most vitally interested. Who is it who has to bear the abuse, the curses, and the privation that are attendant upon the drunken husband, save the woman?

"The vice problem is another in which women should be interested, and I would like to ask you beautiful women before me what you know about this question beside what you read in the daily papers. I may not tell you all that you should know about this matter, but I will tell you that there is in this city to-day an organized trade in the bodies and souls of young women—a trade as well organised as any in the city, and their agents are the first to meet the young women immigrants when they land on our shores. What have you done about it? Nothing. There is not a woman in this city who has made a single move. There has not even been a single women's mass meetin. Awake, O women of Israel!"

ARDSLEY'S BURGLAR STORY.

Respected Citizen Accused of Robbing His Merchant Friend.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 16.—There was lodged in the county jail here to-day under charges of burglary in the third degree a resident of Ardsley, heretofore highly respected. The charge is a most peculiar one. He was not placed in the regular ward for men, but was allowed the use of the women's department, that section of the prison having been vacant. He will be bailed in the morning.

For some weeks past the store of Wesley W. Brown at Ardsley has been often robbed. The thefts consisted of sugar, coffee, tobacco, cigars, and some fancy groceries. There was no forcing of windows or of locks. Each morning after a visit from the thief the doors and windows would be found just as they had been left the night before. Mr. Brown for a long time worked upon the theory that the thefts were perpetrated in the daytime. One night recently on closing he noted the condition of his cigar case, and in the morning found some cigars had been taken during the night.

Mr. Brown then called in Constable Eaton and Deputy Sheriff Travis, and told them of the robberies. The amount taken at any one time was not great, but the successive robberies were annoying, and the amount stolen in the aggregate was considerable, especially as the best cigars were usually taken. The officers questioned Mr. Brown, and he claimed that there was no key to his store unaccounted for.

A watch was set upon the store, and last night the Constable and Deputy, with Mr. Brown himself, made the arrest. The man, the two officers and Mr. Brown claim they saw enter the store and begin operations, is Isaac Lawrence. He is fifty years old, and well-to-do. He is unmarried, and lives with his mother, who is about eighty years of age. He looks like a prosperous banker, and always has had plenty of money.

Mr. Brown, Constable Eaton, and Deputy Sheriff Travis allege that they saw him open the door to the store with a key which they claim is a duplicate of the one in the possession of Mr. Brown. They assert that he had entered the store and was in the act of taking cigars when they pounced upon him. They refuse to say whether Mr. Lawrence made any statement to them. He was brought to the jail here and turned over to the custody of the Sheriff. The latter decided that he would not put the prisoner in the men's prison until such time as there was further grants when they land on our shores. What have you done about it? Nothing. There is not a woman in this city who has made a single move. There has not even been a single women's mass meetin. Awake, O women of Israel!"

ARDSLEY'S BURGLAR STORY.

Respected Citizen Accused of Robbing His Merchant Friend.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 16.—There was lodged in the county jail here to-day under charges of burglary in the third degree a resident of Ardsley, heretofore highly respected. The charge is a most peculiar one. He was not placed in the regular ward for men, but was allowed the use of the women's department, that section of the prison having been vacant. He will be bailed in the morning.

For some weeks past the store of Wesley W. Brown at Ardsley has been often robbed. The thefts consisted of sugar, coffee, tobacco, cigars, and some fancy groceries. There was no forcing of windows or of locks. Each morning after a visit from the thief the doors and windows would be found just as they had been left the night before. Mr. Brown for a long time worked upon the theory that the thefts were perpetrated in the daytime. One night recently on closing he noted the condition of his cigar case, and in the morning found some cigars had been taken during the night.

Mr. Brown then called in Constable Eaton and Deputy Sheriff Travis, and told them of the robberies. The amount taken at any one time was not great, but the successive robberies were annoying, and the amount stolen in the aggregate was considerable, especially as the best cigars were usually taken. The officers questioned Mr. Brown, and he claimed that there was no key to his store unaccounted for.

A watch was set upon the store, and last night the Constable and Deputy, with Mr. Brown himself, made the arrest. The man, the two officers and Mr. Brown claim they saw enter the store and begin operations, is Isaac Lawrence. He is fifty years old, and well-to-do. He is unmarried, and lives with his mother, who is about eighty years of age. He looks like a prosperous banker, and always has had plenty of money.

Mr. Brown, Constable Eaton, and Deputy Sheriff Travis allege that they saw him open the door to the store with a key which they claim is a duplicate of the one in the possession of Mr. Brown. They assert that he had entered the store and was in the act of taking cigars when they pounced upon him. They refuse to say whether Mr. Lawrence made any statement to them. He was brought to the jail here and turned over to the custody of the Sheriff. The latter decided that he would not put the prisoner in the men's prison until such time as there was further examination, and after a chance had been given to the accused man to make answer or furnish bail.

The arrest created something of a sensation at Ardsley when it became known who the accused man was. Mr. Lawrence's friends there declare their absolute unwillingness to believe the truth of the charge. Lawrence and Brown have been friends for many years and very intimate. Lawrence was an almost daily visitor to his friend's store, and the two men were much in each other's society.

Mr. Brown refuses to talk, excusing himself by saying that he will have to tell his story in court, and that will be all too soon. He seems to regret the arrest, but had no recourse, having called the officers into the case. The officers refuse to go into the case, saying they know nothing, except what they saw late Saturday night. No one could see Lawrence today, as he refused to receive reporters.

APOSTLES MADE MISTAKES.

Dr. Rainsford's Criticism of Their Report of the Second Coming—Reality of Hell Denied.

In his sermon at St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. W. S. Rainsford said that the teachings of Jesus Christ in regard to His second coming had been grossly misunderstood by the Apostles, that they had incorporated their mistakes into the New Testament, that the Church had been grossly misled; and, that the Prayer Book's teachings had been largely influenced by a muddled handling of the Bible, which did not discriminate between the spiritual teachings of Jesus and the concepts of men.

Dr. Rainsford said that the prophecies of the destruction of Jerusalem in the Gospel of St. Mark had been understood to include the promise that the Lord would come again within the generation of the Apostles. When He did not come St. Jude attempted to explain the apparent failure of the prophecy by saying that one day was with the Lord as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day.

"A delightful theological subterfuge," remarked the preacher, "a complete twisting of the meaning of Jesus."

The writer of the Book of the Revelation, Dr. Rainsford said, had also been misled in prophesying of the coming of the Lord. "He shall rule them with a rod of iron." "Scarcely," said the preacher, "could He get imagery more grotesque—the Lamb turned into a roaring lion."

"The comings of God," continued Dr. Rainsford, "are seen in all God's activity in the affairs of men. An age that thought of God as an outside God, a God of a few, was bound to misapprehend the teachings of Jesus as to God's ways with men. God is the God of the just-ridden world, the God of the bad as well as of the good; not a God coming to His world from an outside place.

"There is no terrible judgment ahead, no physically burning hell. Judgment is a process here and now; salvation is a process here and now. There is no standing before an awful throne and the separation of impossible sheep and goats, but right now separation is here and now, as men go on up, or slip down into the bog and mire."

WOMEN IN THE STATE.

R. Heber Newton Declares Their Rights Are Unassailable In Such a Sphere —Calls Them to Fight Vice.

The Rev. R. Heber Newton preached in the Church of All Souls on the subject: "Women in the State." His text was: "The inhabitants of the villages ceased, they ceased in Israel, until that I, Deborah, arose, that I arose a mother in Israel." (Judges, v., 7.) He said in part:

"Deborah was the Joan of Arc of Biblical times. The noble soul of a noble woman was stirred at the deplorable condition of affairs that existed, and she arose and freed the people. Many a land has a tale to tell of the influence of women in the State, though from the foundation of the world men have differed as to whether her influence has been for good or evil.

"The sphere of the State has been reserved by man unto himself from the earliest history, and he has always condemned woman to the home and to the Church, both of which he has always neglected himself. It has been said by some that woman's entrance into the affairs of State would only hurt herself, that she would only succeed in unsexing herself. Even St. Paul thought that woman should not be heard in the synagogue, and should only appear in public properly veiled. I think that we can safely trust Mother Nature in these matters. There is no danger of anything unsexing woman.

"Either woman is unfit for the State or the State is unfit for woman. Either the State is not divine or the woman is not divine. Which is it?

"Woman has every right in the State, for many questions that are to-day puzzling our lawmakers are but problems in home making, and this is woman's province, and could be solved by her very readily, where men are at a loss what remedies to apply. The tenement-house problem is nothing but a problem of home making

FOUND FREEZING IN HIS BOAT.

Capt. "Ted" of the Sloop Hustler Had Hands and Face Frostbitten.

Lying unconscious in the bottom of his sloop yacht The Hustler of Gravesend Beach, Capt. "Ted," the only name by which he is known at Coney Island, was found last night at the Iron Pier, Coney Island. He was covered with frozen spray, and his hands and face were badly frost bitten.

Early yesterday morning the Hustler, with a party of New York men on board left Gravesend for a fishing trip. At 10:30 o'clock last night William Stillwell, a hotel keeper, was asked over the telephone to send some men to get the yacht. He was told that it had become unmanageable, and was tied up at the Iron Pier. The passengers had gone back by train.

When the police arrived an hour later they found the Captain lying in the bottom of the boat. Four men were sent to bring her back to Gravesend.

WILL TALK OF ARBITRATION.

Employers and Labor Leaders Begin Conference in Chicago To-day.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Prominent employers of labor and labor leaders from all over America and several from abroad arrived in Chicago to-day to attend the arbitration conference, which opens at Steinway Hall to-morrow. The prime purpose of the conference is to discuss, and, if possible, name a joint National board on arbitration to settle important industrial and trades disturbances, such board to be representative of the labor organizations and the employers of labor.

Another duty of the board would be to frame and present to the State Legislatures and National Congress any subjects that might come up for permanent settlement, or to recommend to those bodies any propositions for compulsory, voluntary, or other arbitration.

Ralph M. Easley, Secretary of the Civic Federation of Chicago, under whose management the conferences is being held, said: "I believe a joint National board will be appointed as a result of this arbitration conference. It would have to be a non-partisan body, of course, but with this precaution taken, I believe such a board would be a success."

CANALBOAT CAPTAIN DROWNED.

Capt. Joseph Buchanan of the canalboat Hamburg was drowned in the East River at 9 o'clock last night. His boat lies off Mott Haven, and yesterday he came to New York to see his friend Capt. Alger Crosby of the canalboat Mamie S. Gildersleeve, which is tied up at Pier 6 East River.

They had several drinks together in South Street, and finally Buchanan offered to sell his overcoat for $2 to Crosby. The latter only had $1 with him, he says, which he gave to his friend. He then asked Buchanan to go with him to the Mamie S. Gildersleeve, to get the other dollar. When they reached the boat a strong ebb tide was running. Crosby leaped aboard his craft in safety, but Buchanan slipped and fell between the boat and the pier.

Crosby gave the alarm, and, with the watchman at the pier and Policemen Ryan and Bailey of the harbor police, searched for the body, but without avail.

Mr. McKinley's Plurality in Michigan.

DETROIT, Dec. 16.—It is announced that the canvass of the election returns has been completed and shows that McKinley received 104,584 plurality in the State. The Populist candidate for President received 833 votes, the Prohibition candidate 11,850, Social Democrat 2,826, and the Socialist-Labor, 903. The plurality of Gov. Bliss was 79,884.

Fire at Oneonta, N. Y.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Dec. 16.—This afternoon the school building at the east end of the town, a frame structure two stories high, valued at $6,000, was destroyed by fire. Insurance, $4,000.

MAURICE GRAU RETURNS.

Declares that His Western Trip Was Extremely Successful—Unpleasant Episode in Lincoln.

Maurice Grau, in advance of his opera company, arrived home from Minneapolis at 10 o'clock last night, three and a half hours late. Mr. Grau was considerably under the weather, having a troublesome boil on his neck to contend with, and was not in a talkative mood. He was met at the Grand Central Station by Mrs. Grau, Miss Grau, and Mme. Theo. Mr. Grau waved off the interviewers with the briefest of accounts of his trip, and, with his wife and daughter, took a carriage and went immediately to his home, at 16 West Seventieth Street.

Mr. Grau said, however, that the trip was extremely successful, both financially and socially. The company in its tour of five weeks and two days traveled 8,000 miles and gave forty-one performances. The company appeared in only six cities during the trip, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Kansas City, Denver, Lincoln, Neb., and Minneapolis.

Mr. Grau was asked about the performance in Lincoln, where the audience were kept waiting two hours while Mr. Grau was arguing with S. Kronberg of Denver and Willard Kimball of Lincoln for the payment of his guarantee of $10,000. The tickets sold amounted to only about $5,000, and it was reported at the time that the local managers turned over the receipts to Mr. Grau promising to make good in the near future if he would not take his company out of town as he threatened to do.

"Oh, that was only an episode," said Mr. Grau, "the only unpleasant feature of the trip. They settled with me, and so everything was all right so far as I was concerned. Otherwise we had large houses in every city."

Mme. Melba will arrive from the West to-day in advance of the company to prepare herself for the opening night at the Metropolitan to-morrow, when she will appear as Juliet.

Mr. Grau was also asked if he had decided upon a supplemental season in this city for Mme. Bernhardt and M. Coquelin. He replied that that matter had not been settled yet, inasmuch as he had just arrived home and had not as yet had time to decide.

ARION CLUB'S CONCERT.

The Numbers of the Programme Greeted with Great Applause—Work of the Orchestra.

After months of preparation, the Arion Club, whose home is at Park Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, held its second orchestral concert of the season last night. The concert hall was decorated with evergreens and red silk streamers, and the guests filled it to the doors.

Three of the numbers on the programme were heard in this city for the first time. They were von Spielmann's "Leid und Lust," which was rendered by the orchestra of fifty-five pieces, under the direction of Herr Julius Lorenz; Edvard Kremser's "Hymne an die Madonna," in which Herr August Granitza was the tenor, being accompanied by the orchestra and the club's männerchor, and Arthur von Henriquez's "Wo der Weg zum Liebchen geht," rendered by Herr Julius Scheuch, baritone, together with the männerchor and orchestra. Each one of these selections was received with much appiause that the performers were forced, despite the length of the programme, to come on front with encores.

Fraulein Gertrude May Stein sang four songs—Joachim Raff's "Traum-Königin und sein Lieb," Brahms's "Mainacht," and "Ständchen," and Louis V. Sarr's "Come, Let Us Go to the Land." In the last three she was accompanied on the piano by Herr Sarr himself. Last week Fraulein Stein sang the "Traum-Königin und sein Lieb" with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Nothing on the programme was received with more interest by the musicians present than Franz Liszt's "Concerto pathétique," for it had been known for some time that Richard Burmeister was arranging the orchestra and piano scores for this especial rendition, and there were many present who had come solely to witness the success of the effort. They went away well satisfied.

The programme of the concert follows:

1. "Von Spielmann's Leid und Lust." Vorspiel zum III. Aufzug der Oper "Der Pfeifertag," (neu) ..... Max Schilling
   Orchester.
2. Hymne an die Madonna (zum ersten Mal) ..... Eduard Kremser
   Tenor Solo, Maennerchor und Orchester.
   Tenor Solo: Herr August Granitza.
3. Traum-Koenig und sein Lieb..Joachim Raff
   Frl. Gertrude May Stein und Orchester.
4. Concerto pathétique ..... Franz Liszt
   (Fuer Pianoforte und Orchester bearbeitet von Richard Burmeister.)
   Herr Richard Burmeister.
5. Zwei Maennerchoere a capella—
   (a) Kosakenlied (neu) ..... Hans Hermann
   (b) Weihnachten ..... Mathieu Neumann
   (Mit Solo Quartet.)
6. Lieder.
   Herr Julius Scheuch.
7. Aufforderung zum Tanz..Weber-Weingaertner
   Orchester.
8. Wo der Weg zum Liebchen geht (neu)..
   Arthur von Henriquez
   Baryton Solo, Maennerchor und Streich Orchester.
   Baryton Solo: Herr Julius Scheuch.
9. Drei Lieder.
   (a) Mainacht. (b) Staendchen..Joh. Brahms
   (c) Come Let Us Go to the Land..
   Louis V. Saar
   Frl. Gertrude May Stein.
10. Waechterlied aus der Neujahrsnacht 1200. Friedrich Gernsbeim
    Maenherchor und Orchester.

FEAR AMERICAN COMPETITION.

German Steel and Boot and Shoe Manufacturers Greatly Alarmed.

The North German Lloyd Steamship Company has been much attacked in German industrial circles and in German newspapers recently because of the company's purchase of 1,000 tons of steel in the United States. At a public festival at Frankfort a few weeks ago Mr. Wiegand, the Director General of the North German Lloyd, defended the company from these attacks. In a report to the State Department, Vice Consul General Hannauer reports Mr. Wiegand as saying in his address:

We have, during the six years past, paid to German industries 130,000,000 marks, ($30,940,000.) The order given to the American steel works, amounting to about 300,000 marks, is insignificant as compared with these figures. It is not to save 10 per cent. in price that this order was given to a foreign concern, but the Lloyd Company would not have reached its present position had it not utilized the improvements offered by outside manufacturers. We would like to see German industry brought to the utmost tension by foreign competition and not afraid to meet it at home; thereby the only possibility exists for us to maintain our place in the international contest for economic fitness.

Vice Consul General Hanauer also reports that the influx of American shoes into Germany and their increasing popularity have led to the Economic Committee of the German boot and shoe manufacturers, who lately met in convention at Berlin, petitioning the National Legislature to raise the tariff on imported shoes. The association claims that an increase in duty is necessary to protect their important industry, which at present turns out a yearly product value of 250,000,000 marks, or $59,500,000, and which employs 50,000 persons in over 1,100 manufactories at an average wage of about $3.80 a week.

Singing for Friendless Boys.

The Arminia German Singing Society assisted at the song service held at the Tompkins Square Boys' Lodging House last evening, greatly to the delight of a large company of boys, who had assembled at their usual Sunday night meeting. The Arminia Society sang some of its own selections and led in the singing of hymns, in which the boys joined. J. H. Steuhl adressed the boys briefly in German and in English.

Obituary Notes.

DR. CHARLES D. GUNDELL, a retired physician of Fair Haven, Mass., died in that town yesterday, aged sixty-six years.

WILLIAM STANHOPE CALLENDER, who was in the insurance business at 58 William Street, died yesterday in Morristown, N. J. Mr. Callender lived at 66 West Thirty-third Street, but on Thursday left the city to go to Morristown. He was a member of the Racquet and Tennis and New York Athletic Clubs.

CHARLES F. BIGELOW, Treasurer of the E. T. Smith Company, wholesale grocers, at Worcester, Mass., died last night at his home in that city from Bright's disease, aged forty-three years. Mr. Bigelow was interested in the militia, and had been a member of several local companies and of the several corps of cadets.

CASTORIA.
Bears the

EXPIRED DURING MASS.

Worshipper Stricken with Heart Disease in St. Joseph's Church.

The Rev. Father Dennis P. O'Flynn of the Roman Catholic Church of St. Joseph, at Washington Place and Sixth Avenue, had just begun the celebration of the mass at 10 o'clock yesterday morning when he noticed John Kennedy, one of his parishioners, who sat in a pew near the front of the church. Kennedy's head had fallen back, he was deathly pale, and was breathing heavily. Father O'Flynn called one of his assistants, Father Malony, and told him to take Kennedy out of the church.

The father, with the assistance of the sexton, supported Kennedy to the vestibule, and Dr. J. H. O'Connell of 116 Waverley Place was called in. He told Father Malony that Kennedy had been stricken with heart disease and was beyond human help, and the priest anointed the dying man and administered the last rites of the Catholic Church. In the meantime the celebration of the mass proceeded, and at its close Father O'Flynn announced to the congregation that Kennedy had died.

The body was taken to the Charles Street Station and later to an undertaker's on Sixth Avenue.

John Kennedy was a retired truckman, seventy-four years old, and lived with his wife and two grown daughters at 47 Morton Street. He had been warned by his physician against excitement and hurrying, but in spite of this he dressed and hurried to church yesterday in order to be in time for the 10 o'clock mass.

BILL POSTERS AT WAR.

Detectives Lay in Wait for Midnight Workers and Capture Three.

It isn't the fault of F. J. Kelly that the rubicund face of May Irwin did not ornament the billboards in Broadway between Sixty-second and Sixty-third Streets yesterday morning for the benefit of Sunday pedestrians along that thoroughfare. Mr. Kelly meant to do the right thing for the Bijou Theatre, for which he has the billposting contract, but the Van Buren Bill Posting Company objected.

The Van Buren people own the space along that part of the street, but Mr. Kelly, being a bill poster of the old régime, sent his men out on Friday to paste about everything in sight, and that afternoon when Mr. Van Buren's inspector happened along that way he was horrified to see all the flaming paper of his firm buried from view. This caused the Van Burens a good deal of wrath, some new paper, and yesterday a visit to the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station, where a complaint was lodged.

"Those fellows are going to do the same thing to-night," said Van Buren's man, "and we want protection. How do you suppose we are going to keep our contracts if we don't show the paper?"

The Sergeant said he didn't know, but he would tell the Captain. The Captain detailed Detective Hibbard and Policeman Bradlot to bag the offenders. Just before midnight the policemen stationed themselves where they could watch the long board fence between the two streets without being seen. Presently an innocent-looking milk wagon, covered, hove in sight and stopped before the fence. The watchers were astonished to see a dozen men, with paste buckets, brushes, and rolls of paper pile out of front and rear, look up and down the street to see that the coast was clear, and then make for the boards.

"Hurry, youse," the policemen heard the man on the wagon say, and half the men taking brushes began to daub paste over the Van Buren paper. Presently Miss Irwin's visage began to decorate the fence and then a rush was made for the wagon, the dozen pasters scattered, dropping their tools and paper, while the man in the wagon drove off at full speed. The officers caught three men, who were dragged to the station vigorously protesting that they had not done anything but work overtime. They gave their names as Timothy Coffey, Ennis Buckley, and John Connolly.

The prisoners were arraigned before Magistrate Mayo yesterday morning charged with defacing property. A representative of the Van Buren Company telephoned asking for an adjournment until to-day, and the men were released on bail.

JEWISH REGIMENT FORMED.

May Be Admitted to the National Guard of the State—Many Members Enrolled.

About 500 young Jews, some of whom saw service in the Spanish-American war, met last evening at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory and were enrolled in an organization, which it is hoped by its promoters will be admitted to the National Guard of the State.

M. D. Gottlieb, the organizer of the regiment, who has enrolled 1,500 in the movement to form a distinctively Jewish regiment, presided, and Emil K. Fireinan, who acted as Secretary, made a speech, in which he referred to the record of the Jewish volunteers in the recent war, and said that in the formation of a regiment the Jews would show that they were not lacking in patriotism or bravery and were not afraid of militarism.

Dr. J. T. Sloninsky, who served in the Pennsylvania National Guard, explained the practical workings of the National Guard.

Mr. Fireinan said that Adjt. Gen. Hoffman was favorable to the project of a Jewish regiment, but that he feared the cost of equipping the men would be a bar to favorable action on the part of the State authorities, so it was proposed to obtain authorization to form a regiment and then raise a fund among the Jewish people of the city to defray the cost of establishing the organization. Mr. Gottlieb is to meet Adjt. Gen. Hoffman on Thursday morning at the State Arsenal to confer on the matter.

With the help of Alexander Edelman of Company B, Eighth Regiment, the men present were marshaled into files of ten and enrolled after they had vociferously voted down a suggestion that they be grouped into companies according to their nationalities. The recruits will be assigned to companies and will be drilled at Apollo Hall, in Clinton Street, where the first drill will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 14. Mr. Gottlieb will act as Colonel and Mr. Fireinan as Adjutant.

HARVARD STUDENT FINED.

An Actress's Efforts to Get Kibbey Out of a Cell.

William Kibbey, the Harvard student who was arrested Saturday night in the lobby of the Amphion Theatre, Brooklyn, charged with masquerading with a false beard, was arraigned in the Ewen Street Police Court yesterday by Policeman Carroll and fined $10 by Magistrate Lemon.

After untiring efforts on the part of Pauline Chase, a member of "The Cadet Girl" company, Kibbey was finally released from a cell Saturday, August Miller becoming his bondsman. Miss Chase remained in the Clymer Street Station House, where Kibbey was locked up, until he was bailed, and the two left the station house together. After Kibbey's arrest Miss Chase appealed to Manager Cohen of the Amphion Theatre to go on his bond. He refused, and the woman then appealed to Acting Captain Hayes to release the prisoner. August Miller was then called in, but refused to go on the bond until the prisoner gave as security for his appearance his diamond ring and gold watch and chain. Miss Chase was in court yesterday when Kibbey appeared. Kibbey is twenty-one years old and lives at 43 West Twenty-seventh Street, Manhattan.

PUT CHILD BEHIND A ROCK.

Henry Segol Arrested for Abandoning an Infant with the Measles.

Henry Segol, who sells newspapers, of 110 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, put a bundle behind a rock in the vacant lot on One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, between Park and Madison Avenues, yesterday afternoon, and ran. A man who saw it caused Segol's arrest. In the bundle was one of Segol's children, afflicted with the measles.

Segol had the child wrapped in some old clothes and a shawl. The child is a boy, ten months old. The infant was sent to the Harlem Hospital. Dr. Smith diagnosed his ailment as measles and notified the Board of Health. The child's condition last night was serious. Segol was locked up on a charge of attempting to abandon the child. He denied it.

This Climate Too Cold for Monks.

Because they were not able to endure the severity of the climate of Westchester County, the French Dominican monks who have had a church and monastery at Sherman Park for the last six years have returned to France. They have taken their students for the priesthood with them. The community at Sherman Park, including priests and novices, numbered about fifty. Now there are only half a dozen of the fathers left, and they are engaged in parish work only. It is the intention of the fathers to sell the institution to some religious order.

FARMER FOUGHT ROBBERS.

Carlson Broke the Leg of One Man Who Tried to Rob and Was Hurt Himself.

Farmer Carl Carlson of Marlborough, N. J., appeared before Magistrate Zeller, in the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday morning, as complainant against Daniel J. Murphy, a bartender, of 107 Washington Street, and James Ford, a cabman, of 40 Greenwich Street. They invited Carlson to have a ride in a cab, and, he says, attempted to rob him when they reached Grand Street and West Broadway.

Carlson fought so effectively that one of Murphy's legs was broken. Carlson's face was badly damaged, and two of his ribs broken. Ford was getting down from his seat, the police declare, to assist Murphy, when Policeman Carroll of the Macdougal Street Police Station arrived and put a stop to the fight, making all three men prisoners. Murphy was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, and will not be able to appear in court for six weeks. The case was adjourned until to-morrow. Carlson was sent to the House of Detention and Ford held in $1,000 bail.

A CHILD'S BURNS FATAL.

Her Father's Vain Efforts to Save Her—Played with Matches.

Nelly Reviewe, eight years old, of 327 East Seventy-fifth Street, played with matches at her home yesterday afternoon, and, her dress catching fire, she was so badly burned that she died, in the Presbyterian Hospital, a few hours afterward. Her father burned his hands slightly in trying to save her life.

The child was playing in the front room with her younger brother, Antony, when several matches ignited and set fire to her dress. The girl shrieked in fear, while the boy, shouting loudly, ran to his parents in the kitchen. The father hurried into the room where the girl was and attempted to tear the burning clothing from her body, wrapping a blanket around her when he saw he could not get the clothing off fast enough. He extinguished the fire, but not before the child's body had been terribly burned. She was taken to the hospital, unconscious. She died at 6 o'clock.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.		P. M.		A. M.
Sun rises	7:19	Sun sets	4:34	Moon rises 3:02

High Water This Day.

A. M.		A. M.		A. M.
S. Hook	3:52	Gov. Isl'd	4:27	H. Gate 6:23
P. M.		P. M.		P. M.
S. Hook	4:10	Gov. Isl'd	4:33	H. Gate 6:29

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (MONDAY,) DEC. 17.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail
Ferfield, Azores	10:00 A. M.	12:00 A. M.
Hamilton, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Tallsman, Demerara, &c.	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
TUESDAY, DEC. 18.
Adria, Inagua	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
Algonquin, Charleston		3:00 P. M.
El Dorado, New Orleans		3:00 P. M.
Kaiser Wilhelm II., Naples	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Niagara, Colon	9:30 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Princess Anne, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Roraima, St. Kitts, &c.	12:30 P. M. *1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19.
Belvernon, Inagua	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Havana, Havana	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Mae, San Juan	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Majestic, Liverpool	9:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Oranje, Nassau, Taiti	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
San Marcos, Galvestoo		3:00 P. M.
Southwark, Southampton	9:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
THURSDAY, DEC. 20.
Comal, Galveston		3:00 P. M.
Jefferson, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
La Champagne, Havre	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Santiago, Santiago	12:30 P. M. *1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Trier, Bremen		3:00 P. M.
FRIDAY, DEC. 21.
Comanche, Charleston		3:00 P. M.
Jamestown, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick Ga		3:00 P. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 17, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Coptic. Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily up to 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 21, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Zealandia. Mails for Hawaii, Japan, China, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 24, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer America Maru. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 25, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Empress of India, (registered mail must be directed "via Vancouver.") Mails for Australia, (except West Australia,) New Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji, and Samoan Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Dec. 29 and up to Dec. 29, inclusive, or on day of arrival of steamer Etruria, due at New York Dec. 29, for dispatch per steamer Sonoma. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia, which goes via Europe, and New Zealand, which goes via San Francisco,) and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 5, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Warrimoo, (supplementary mails, via Seattle, close at 6:30 P. M. Jan. 6.) Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Postmaster Van Cott announces that mails from the Philippine Islands, China, and Japan arrived at Vancouver and were dispatched East Dec. 13, due in New York to-morrow morning. Also that the mails from China, Japan, and Hawaii of the following dates, Hongkong, Nov. 17; Shanghai, Nov. 21; Yokohama, Nov. 28, and Honolulu, Dec. 7, which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Coptic, were dispatched East at 6 P. M. Dec. 11, and are due in New York on the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 19.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (MONDAY,) DEC. 17.

Bulgaria, Hamburg, Dec. 2.
Bovic, Liverpool, Dec. 7.
Colorado, Hull, Dec. 2.
Comus, New Orleans, Dec. 12.
El Cid, New Orleans, Dec. 12.
Exeter City, Swansea, Dec. 1.
Hugenden, Havre, Dec. 1.
Iberian, Liverpool, Dec. 5.
La Champagne, Havre, Dec. 8.
Laurentian, Glasgow, Nov. 29.
Minnehaha, London, Dec. 6.
Nubia, Stettin, Nov. 29.
Peconic, Gibraltar, Nov. 29.
Prins Maurits, Port au Prince, Dec. 9.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam, Dec. 6.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Dec. 1.
Trier, Bremen, Dec. 1.
Umbria, Liverpool, Dec. 8.
Victoria, Gibraltar, Nov. 3.

TUESDAY, DEC. 18.

Advance, Colon, Dec. 11.
Allegheny, Port Limon, Dec. 11.
Arkansas, Copenhagen, Dec. 2.
Maracaibo, Curacao, Dec. 10.
Maraval, Port Spain, Dec. 12.
Nueces, Galveston, Dec. 12.
Princess Anne, Norfolk, Dec. 17.
State of Nebraska, Glasgow, Dec. 6.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19.

Betty, Gibraltar, Dec. 4.
Comanche, Jacksonville, Dec. 16.
El Rio, New Orleans, Dec. 14.
Jefferson, Norfolk, Dec. 18.
John Anderson, Sunderland, Dec. 5.
Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Bremen, Dec. 11.
Phidias, St. Lucia, Dec. 12.
Vaderland, Southampton, Dec. 10.

THURSDAY, DEC. 20.

Arabistan, St. Lucia, Dec. 13.
El Norte, New Orleans, Dec. 14.
Jamestown, Norfolk, Dec. 19.
Kansas City, Swansea, Dec. 6.
Pennsylvania, Hamburg, Dec. 7.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21.

Brooklyn City, Swansea, Dec. 7.
Consuelo, Hull, Dec. 8.
H. H. Meier, Bremen, Dec. 9.
Incamaree, Algiers, Dec. 7.
Moonstone, Huelva, Dec. 7.

Arrived.

SS Madiana, (Br.,) Fraser, St. Croix, &c., Nov. 24, with mdse. and passengers to A. E. Outerbridge & Co. Arrived at Sandy Hook at 11:05 P. M.

SS Vincenzo Florio, (Ital.,) Montano, Naples, &c., Nov. 28, with mdse. and passengers to Hirzel, Feltman & Co. Arrived at Sandy Hook at 12:56 A. M., 17th.

SS American, (Dutch,) Butz, Amsterdam, Nov. 30, in ballast to C. H. Randebroeck. Arrived at the Bar at 2:30 A. M.

SS Darien, (Br.,) Clark, Sourabaya, &c., Sept. 5, via Delaware Breakwater, with sugar to the American Sugar Refining Company; vessel to Simpson, Spence & Young. Arrived at the Bar at 2:45 P. M.

SS Hamilton, Boaz, Newport News, with mdse. and passengers to the Old Dominion Steamship Company. Passed in Sandy Hook at 1:35 P. M.

WIND—At Sandy Hook, N. J., at 9:30 P. M., north, fresh breeze, clear.

Sailed.

SS Tordenskjold.
SS Iris.
SS Caspian, (Br.,) Aden, for Bombay, &c.
SS Chile, (Br.,) Birmingham, for Savannah.
SS Guyandotte, for Newport News and Norfolk.
SS Spaarndam, (Dutch,) for Rotterdam.

By Cable.

SS Campania, (Br.,) Capt. Walker, from Liverpool for New York, arr. at Queenstown at 11:15 A. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Lahn, (Ger.,) Dec. 16, for Malnz, (Ger.,) Capt. Raetz, from New York for Bremen, passed Scilly to-day.

SS Martello, (Br.,) Capt. Jenkins, from Hull for New York, passed Dover to-day.

SS Pontiac, (Br.,) Capt. Brownless, from New York for Venice and Trieste, arr. at Gibraltar to-day.

SS Meaaba, (Br.,) Capt. Lowe, for New York, sld. from this port to-day.

Notice to Mariners.

BORDEN FLATS LIGHT STATION.—Notice is hereby given, by order of the Lighthouse Board, that on or about Dec. 31, 1900, the characteristic of the fifth-order light at this station will be changed to flashing white every ten seconds. The station is on Borden Flats, Mount Hope Bay, Narragansett Bay, opposite Fall River.

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, 1900," Page 52, No. 195, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Third Lighthouse District, 1900," Page 32.

FEDERAL COURTS.

Calendars for Monday, Dec. 17.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building.

Preferred cause.
99—Thomson-Houston Co. vs. Lorain Steel Co.
General calendar.
35—3d Av. R. R. Co. vs. Barton.
36—McCaffrey vs. The Vandercook.
37—Central R. R. of N. J. vs. same.
40—Wolfe vs. U. S.
43—In re Lesser Bros.
44—Stern Bros. vs. U. S.
45—U. S. vs. Downing.
46—In re Butler.
47—Ash vs. Prunier.
48—In re Ablowich.
Motion calendar.
1—U. S. vs. One Pearl Necklace.
2—In re Kenney.
3—International Nav. Co. vs. British Ins. Co.
4—Mullin vs. U. S.
5—In re Lesser Bros.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J. Opens in Room 47, P. O. Building, at 11 A. M. Equity calendar.
21—Rosenblatt vs. Fraser Tablet Co.
34—Crocker vs. Oakes.
9—McCabe vs. Cruikshank.
7—Brander Adjustable Hanger Co. vs. Waterbury Button Co. Issue of law.
6—Willard vs. Sun Printing & Pub. Association.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Townsend, J.—Opens in Room 48, Post Office Building, at 11:15 A. M. Customs appeals.
15—U. S. vs. Schoverling, Daly & Gales.
30—Wildermann vs. same.
78—Davies-Turner Co. vs. same.
81—Russman, Gallard & Co. vs. same.
83—Graef vs. same.
84—Herrmann & Gulnsburg vs. same.
85—U. S. vs. Hensel, Bruchman & Co.
86—Hensel, Bruchman & Co. vs. U. S.
106—Calhoun, Robbins & Co. vs. same.
107—Renault & Niederstadt vs. same.
108—Stewart, Howe & May vs. U. S.
114—U. S. vs. Lee, Tweedy & Co.
116—Neuss, Hesslein & Co. vs. U. S.
119—U. S. vs. Churchill.
120—Train, Smith & Co. vs. U. S.
124—Nicholas vs. same.
126—U. S. vs. R. F. Downing & Co.
131—U. S. vs. Topham & Co.
132—O. G. Hempstead & Co. vs. U. S.
140—Douglass & Berry vs. U. S.
142—Paris, Allen & Co. vs. U. S.
144—R. F. Downing & Co. vs. U. S.
151—Kessler & Co. vs. U. S.
159—Davies, Turner & Co. vs. U. S.
162—Gillespie Brothers vs. U. S.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 66, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Admiralty calendar.
134—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Municipal et al.
148—Coastwise SS. Co. vs. SS. Craigearn.
153—Hastorf vs. Ferryboat Burlington.
43—Smith vs. Booth.
175—Newtown Creek Tow Co. vs. Dumper No. 2, R.
178—Morrissey vs. SS. Tauric.
132—N. Y. & N. J. Tr. Co. vs. Tugs Wilson and Lindeman.
138—Tracy vs. same.
170—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Mamie Hoffman, &c.
156—Chappelle vs. St'mboat Massachusetts.
139—Otts vs. Canalboats Mahar and Burns.
121—N. Y. & So. Brklyn Ferry Co. vs. Tug Transfer No. 1.
162—Standard Oil Co. vs. Tug Dorothy Annan.
75—Bowning vs. SS. Co. vs. Bowning.
150—Cardiff SS. Co. vs. Bowning.

STATE COURTS.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division.—Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court, Trias, P. J., Scott and Dugro, JJ.—Calendar for December term called at 10:30 A. M.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Blanchard, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.
1—Delafield vs. J. K. Armsby Co.
2—Lacey vs. Giles.
3—Met. Life Ins. Co. vs. Erdmann.
4—Hough vs. Maynard.
5—Torrens vs. Park.
6—Dittmar vs. Castellane.
7—Post vs. Schmerl.
8—In re Thoesen.
9—Last vs. Last.
10—German Exchange Bank vs. Maatkowitz
11—Marshall vs. Schnugg.
12—Ehrlich vs. Consol. Stock & Petroleum Exchange.
13—Jacobs vs. Salomon.
14—Battocletti vs. Castelvecchi.
15—Kirkham vs. Bank of America.
16—Jennings vs. West Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church of Rochester.
17—Coulter vs. Supreme Court, I. O. of F.
18—Jaubert vs. Consol. Gas Co.
19—Bridgeman vs. Thorley.
20—Kottek vs. Salomon.
21—Conried vs. Witmark
22—Murphy vs. Smith.
23—Barr vs. Macdonald.
24—Lawyers' Mortgage Ins. Co. vs. Macdonald.
25—Albert vs. Albert.
26—In re King.
27—Hart vs. L. D. Garrett Co.
28—Goldstein vs. Goldman.
29—Pfeffer vs. Kling.
30—Schaffer vs. Lindenthal.
31—Lawrence vs. Lawrence.
32—Lytton vs. Doyle.
33—Platt vs. Gano.
34—In re Aldermen, &c.
35—Miles vs. Kass.
36—11th Ward Bank vs. Powers.
37—Berger vs. Berger.
38—McDermott vs. McShane.
39—Brox vs. Riker.
40—Giblin vs. Giblin.
41—Bub vs. Sattler.
42—Dolon vs. Leslie.
43—Spaulding vs. Epstein.
44—Dimon vs. Shewan.
45—In re Skillin.
46—In re Deene.
47—Lytle vs. Crawford.
48—Oppenheimer vs. Blaglottl.
49—Schoenberger vs. Feltner.
50—City of New York vs. Parnass.
51—Same vs. Spitzer.
52—Oglesby vs. Standard Shoe Machinery Co.
53—Hosmer vs. Darrah.
54—Payn vs. Westbay.
55—In re Papap.
56—Newcomer vs. Blaney.
57—Du Bois vs. Rosenberg.
58—In re Gunn.
59—Anglo-Am. Provision Co. vs. Noble.
60—Stein vs. Sturgis.
61—Skinner vs. Skinner.
62—In re Reliance Mutual Ins. Co.
63—Fox vs. Engel.
64—Garvey vs. Garvey.
65—Warren vs. Amer. Electrical and Maintenance Co.
66—Naylor vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
67—Davidow vs. Williams.
68—Kane vs. Hutkopf.
69—Goldman vs. Barr.
70—Perkins vs. Stelle.
71—People, &c., vs. Mercantile Credit Guarantee Co.
72—Matteson vs. Van Tassel.
73—Sloman vs. Madden.
74—Same vs. Murphy.
75—Same vs. Baggott.
76—Oneida Community, Limited, vs. Crannsdorf.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Motions.
1—Kohler vs. Thoesen.
2—Martling vs. Wagner.
3—London vs. London.
4—Kissam vs. Pitt.
5—Kohler vs. Solomon.
6—In re Parsons. Demurrers.
1503—Bosi vs. N. Y. Herald Co.
1491—Lowery vs. Collateral Loan Assn.
1492—Same vs. same.
1399—Belden vs. Wilkinson.
1381—Morgan vs. Bucki.
1508—Booth vs. Dodge.
1515—Fuller vs. Press P. Co.
1515—Pfister vs. Writer.
1516—L. D. Garrett Co. vs. Astor.
1517—Gleitmann vs. Gleitmann. Preferred causes.
1652—Stewart vs. Feltner.
1655—Bishop vs. same.
1894—Higbie vs. Hewlette Land & Imp. Co.
1727—N. Y. & Bermudez Co. vs. Feltner.
2412—Haller vs. Haller.
1278—Dale vs. Feltner.
1578—Brown vs. same.
1579—Eggers vs. same.
1581—Andrews vs. same.
1582—Zollikoffer vs. same.
1583—Same vs. same.
1260—Colorado Midland Ry. Co. vs. same.
2097—Price vs. Meyer.
1690—Quinlan vs. Grubert.
2068—Fenton vs. Fenton
2195—Socy. of the Free Church of St. Mary the Virgin vs. Feltner.
2357—Mendelsohn vs. Horne.
2394—Well vs. Goazzla.
2386—Coe vs. Newman.
2413—Tuplitz vs. Toplitz.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Day calendar. To be called in Part IV. Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be assigned to the several parts of Special Term for trial. Law and fact.
2041½—Campbell vs. N. Y. & Harlem R. R. Co.
2107—Thackstor vs. Thackstor.
2110—Lippman vs. Low.
2145—Mathiasen vs. Barkin.
1823—Hall vs. Long.
2169—Gottschalk vs. Gottschalk.
1801—Deering vs. City of New York.
1772—Altieri vs. Green.
2103—Berg vs. Eager.
2175—Dornbusch vs. Costello.
1390—McLaughlin vs. Singer.
1679—Deeves vs. Stokes.
2137—Gellally vs. Raab.
2082—Cowan vs. Walker.
1337—Kellish vs. Higgins
1357—Same vs. same.
1815—Plummer vs. Getchell.
Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2186.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Ehrenkroff, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent frod ay calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—Russell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on. clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Case on. No day calendar.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Criminal Term—Fursman, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre, Schwarzkopf, and Hooker for the People.
1—Walter Dunn.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—McAdam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Causes will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Part XII., for trial. Preferred causes. Calendar clear.
6442—Sackett Wall B'd Co. vs. Snow.
6042—Raftery vs. Reichardt.
7311—Heydenreich vs. Simmons.
7775—Com. Guarantee Trust & Safe Deposit Co. vs. Ferris.
7980—Kniffin vs. Saranac Lake Hotel Co.
8068—Ulrich vs. City of New York.
8183—Carpenter vs. Raymond.
8211—Eno vs. Hoey.
3294—Oppenheim vs. Davidson.
6519—Lyman vs. Emken
6531—Lyman vs. Rakapoulas.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Part III, Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases will be sent from this calendar for Trial Term, Parts III., IV., V., and VI., for trial.
1646—W. C. Loftus Co. vs. Bennett.
1647—Loftus vs. same.
1901—McInerney vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.

CITY COURT—Special Term—McCarthy, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.) Motions must be made returnable at 10:30 A. M. Defaults on motions will be taken at 11 A. M.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Hascall, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Case on.
4382—Frank vs. Spiegelberg.
2125—Jansen vs. Consol. Gas Co.
1252—Kaminski vs. Schaefer.
1900—Manning vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1750—Green vs. same.
2083—Phillips vs. same.
148—Traynor vs. same.
2227—McCready vs. Lindenborn.
5127—Crane vs. Bennett.
2037—Dawson vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2316—McGrane vs. same.
5357—Hoes vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
1384—Fisher vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1175—Fitzpatrick vs. same.
1323—Schoen vs. same.
Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2405.
5481½—Flaherty vs. Carey.
1866—Miller vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
663—Stokes vs. Stokes.
3364—Karrigan vs. 9th Av. R. R. Co.
692—Woodward vs. Scheurer.
3674—Buchanan vs. Belsey.
1284—Grenolonge vs. Simon.
913—Klernan vs. Klernan.
1810—Horowitz vs. H. B. Claflin Co.
6148—Byrne vs. Eastman Co.
938—Ryan vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
8365—Widmann vs. F. W. McNeal Co.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Mc Lean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—O'Gorman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Beekman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VII. Room, at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VII. and XI., for trial.
1068—Rowe vs. Union Ry. Co.
1405—Collett vs. Mayor, &c.
2289—Grau vs. Wallace.
5214—Tyrell vs. Beckman.
7959—Ruland vs. Waukeshan Water Co.
921—Marvin vs. Lyons.
1494—Barentzen vs. Pr. Pub. Co.
848—Collins' vs. Hutkoff.
849—Clemmons vs. same.
1009—Thomasmeyer vs. De Lehner.
2000—Larned vs. Witte Water Placer Co.
2105—Greenlie vs. Scribner.
2116—Blanchard vs. the H. O. Co.
273—Safren vs. Dry Dock, &c., R. R. Co.
2280—Jennings vs. Ordning.
2274—Kroll vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
8372—Kochman vs. Baumeister.
8373—Schusterman vs. Schwartz.
407—Spotford vs. U. S. Nat. Bank.
1027—Oppenheim vs. Erlanger.
1839—Williams vs. Waytack.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Parts VIII., IX., and X. Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XI.—Giegerich, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XII.—Stover, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from preferred calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SURROGATES' COURT—Chambers—Thomas, S.—Held in Surrogates' Chambers, ground floor of County Court House. Wills for probate at 10:30 A. M.
Caroline Zinner, Herman J. Muller, Harry S. Kingsley, Rosa Hochfelder, John Brue, Bryce Gray, Benjamin Webb, Estelle N. Van Wyck, Garrett V. R. Simmons.

SURROGATES' COURT—Trial Term—Fitzgerald, S.—Held in Surrogates' Court, Trial Term, second floor in County Court House. Opens at 10:30 A. M. Contested wills.
1626—Helen C. Brush.
1511—Thomas W. Evans
1591—Catherine Wilton.
1592—Henry Ludlow Ritter.
1621—Emille Bartels, (No. 1.)
1630—Same, (No. 2.)

CITY COURT—General Term—Adjourned sine die.

CITY COURT—Special Term—McCarthy, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.) Motions must be made returnable at 10:30 A. M. Defaults on motions will be taken at 11 A. M.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Fitzsimons, C. J.—Held in General Term Room, second floor, Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.
2909—Penie vs. Richard.
1889—Birnbaum vs. Webb.
1968—Tierney vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1977—Lennon vs. Wright.
1985—Bernstein vs. Phillips.
1062—Blatt vs. Richard.
1930—Sykes vs. Zunger Paper Co.
437—Levy vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
3497—Heimer vs. Goldberg.
1010—Juilliard vs. Solomon.
1011—Price vs. same.
1012—Juilliard vs. Levin
1304—Cassidy vs. Cons. Ice Co.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Schuchmann, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.
1457—Krulich vs. Metzler.
1514—Lamothe vs. Wolff.
1938—Bailey vs. Kraus.
1943—Lyddy vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1870—Gorrill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1856—Schlechter vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1949—Martin vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1749—Littenberg vs. Littenberg.
1954—Shea vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1956—Levine vs. same.
1958—O'Neill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1959—Elliott vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1960—McFadden vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1951—Haffin vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
657—Sampson vs. Schmidt.
862—Meinhard vs. Kaufman.
1167—Kelly vs. Hogan.
1478—Cserl vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1481—Wade vs. same.
1395—McIntyre vs. Robson.
1605—Finn vs. Welr.
1747—Folkoff vs. Sullivan.
1755—Webel vs. Clark.
1876—Cranitsch vs. Walsh.
1610—Lewkowitz vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1140—Defels vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1738—Moran vs. N. Y. Painless Dentistry Co.
2017—Stegman vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2018—Hernandez vs. same.
2019—Thompson vs. Robert Biel Syndicate.
3315—Same vs. same.
3480—Monners vs. Fried.
3379—Carl vs. Ringler.
3565—Leslie vs. Birkett.
2450—Vrasada vs. Roth.
3568—Glassmann vs. Sobel.
2973—Reilly vs. Fyfe. Equity and non-jury cases.
371—Hoctor vs. Burns.
372—Guidero vs. Eccleston.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Conlan, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. All cases must be tried when reached. Calendar clear. Short causes.
2384—Marcus vs. Mishkind.
2164—Brewers' Journal vs. Scha

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Phenix National Bank
62 Wall Street.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $1,800,000.00.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS,
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission.
DEAL IN
High-Grade Investment Securities.
Lists of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS.
GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street. New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

E. C. POTTER & CO.,
BANKERS AND BROKERS,
36 WALL STREET.
Members of New York Stock Exchange

EXCELLENT SERVICE.
DIRECT PRIVATE WIRES.
CURRIER & BUNKER { New York and Boston.
Bankers and Brokers,
MEMBERS { New York Cons. Stock Exchange. New York Produce Exchange.
NO. 52 BROADWAY, N. Y.
103 STATE ST., BOSTON.
BRANCH OFFICES: { 21 Park Row, N. Y. 105 Summer St., Boston.
10 Shares and Upward. Commission 1-16.

JACOB BERRY & CO.
MEMBERS OF THE
CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
Established 1865.
44 and 46 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
Strictly a commission house, working in the interests of our clients and executing all orders upon the Exchanges. Send for our new book describing market movements, also fluctuation sheets and Market Reports.
COMMISSION 1-16.

Established 1868. Tel. call, 2385 Cortlandt.
FRED. H. SMITH,
STOCK BROKER, 8 BROAD ST., N. Y.
Member New York Con. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds and Grain.
Bought, sold, and carried on margin.
COMMISSION 1-16TH.
Book of Railway Statistics upon application.

FINANCIAL.

Oregon Railway & Navigation Co.
First Mortgage 6 Per Cent. Bonds.
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of The Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, 10, 18, 20 & 22 William Street, New York City, for the sale to the trustees of one hundred and thirty-four First Mortgage Bonds of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company for the Sinking Fund as provided in the mortgage to the undersigned securing the same, dated September 1st, 1880.
In the event of the Trustees not being able to purchase the bonds in accordance with the terms of Section 4, Article 2, of the mortgage, it will become necessary for the trustee to DRAW bonds AT PAR.
Proposals must be presented before 12 o'clock M. on the 31st day of December, 1900, and should be directed as follows: Proposals for the Sinking Fund, The Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, Trustee, E. S. Marston, President, 10, 18, 20 & 22 William Street, New York City.
The Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., Trustee
By E. S. MARSTON, President.
December 15th, 1900.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.
At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 21st day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.
Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.
WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

CONSOLIDATION COAL COMPANY
(OF MARYLAND)
First Mortgage Bonds dated January 1st, 1897.
Notice is hereby given as provided in the mortgage of the above-named company to the undersigned as Trustee, dated December 15th, 1896, that bonds of the following numbers have been drawn for the Sinking Fund and will be paid on presentation on and after January 1st, 1901, at the office of THE FARMERS' LOAN & TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK at 105%, with accrued interest to that date, after which interest on each of the said bonds will cease:

71	111	347	350	405
90	182	363	378	501
106	252	368	437	502

Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.
By H. A. MURRAY,
TREASURER.
Dated New York, December 1st, 1900.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19TH, 1900.
At 12:30 O'CLOCK, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway,
FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW R'WAY CO.
41,900 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. Prefd.
20,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common.
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 shs. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co.
$300,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., March, 1899. Coupons on.
$1,500,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bds.
THE SALE OF THE ABOVE SECURITIES WILL BE ADJOURNED TO WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9TH, 1901, AT SAME TIME AND PLACE.

OIL.
THE CALIFORNIA-CHITTENDEN OIL CO.
CAPITAL STOCK $2,000,000.
own 1,010 acres located in Great Oil Belt of California. Oil is now flowing on this land. A block of 50,000 shares of this non-assessable stock is now offered for sale in lots to suit at $1.00 per share, par value $5.00. For particulars call or write,
WILLIAM H. COE, 71 Wall St., N. Y.

The Trust Co. of America,
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $5,216,026.32.
ASHBEL P. FITCH.....President.
WILLIAM H. LEIPP, WILLIAM BARBOUR, Vice Presidents.
RAYMOND J. CHATRY, Secretary. HENRY S. MANNING, Vice President.
ALBERT L. SANISTER, Treasurer. LAWRENCE O. MURRAY Trust Officer.

UNIONTYPEWRITER CO.
BOUGHT AND SOLD BY
J. S. STANTON,
16 BROAD ST.
WE LOAN MONEY TO MERCHANTS IN ANY kind of business; also on salaries. 150 Nassau St. Office 729.

FINANCIAL.

Guaranty Trust Co of New York.
NASSAU, CORNER CEDAR STREET.
CAPITAL, - - - - $2,000,000
SURPLUS, - - - - - $3,500,000
ACTS AS TRUSTEE FOR CORPORATIONS, FIRMS, AND INDIVIDUALS, AS GUARDIAN, EXECUTOR, AND ADMINISTRATOR. TAKES ENTIRE CHARGE OF REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATES.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS subject to cheque or on certificate.
DRAFTS ON ALL PARTS OF GREAT BRITAIN, FRANCE, AND GERMANY BOUGHT AND SOLD. COLLECTIONS MADE. TRAVELLERS' LETTERS OF CREDIT AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD, AND COMMERCIAL LETTERS OF CREDIT ISSUED
WALTER G. OAKMAN, President.
ADRIAN ISELIN, JR., Vice-President.
GEORGE R. TURNBULL, 2d Vice-President.
HENRY A. MURRAY, Treas. and Sec.
J. NELSON BORLAND, Asst. Treas. and Sec.
WM. C. EDWARDS, 2d Asst. Treas. & Sec.
JOHN GAULT, Manager Foreign Dept.
DIRECTORS.

Samuel D. Babcock,	Adrian Iselin, jr.,
George F. Baker,	Augustus D. Juilliard,
George S. Bowdoin,	James N. Jarvie,
August Belmont,	Richard A. McCurdy,
Frederic Cromwell,	Levi P. Morton,
Walter R. Gillette,	Alexander E. Orr,
G. G. Haven,	Walter G. Oakman,
E. H. Harriman,	Henry H. Rogers,
R. Somers Hayes,	H. McK. Twombly,
Charles R. Henderson,	Frederick W. Vanderbilt,
Harry Payne Whitney.

LONDON OFFICES,
60 ST. JAMES STREET, S. W., LONDON.
33 LOMBARD STREET, E. C.
Buys and sells exchange on the principal cities of the world, collects dividends and coupons without charge, issues travellers' and commercial letters of credit, receives and pays interest on deposits subject to cheque at sight or on notice, leads money on collaterals, deals in American and other investment securities, and offers its services as correspondent and financial agent to corporations, bankers, and merchants.
Bankers,
BANK OF ENGLAND,
CLYDESDALE BANK, Limited,
NATIONAL PROVINCIAL BANK OF ENGLAND, Limited,
PARR'S BANK, LIMITED.
Solicitors,
FRESHFIELDS AND WILLIAMS,
London Committee,
ARTHUR JOHN FRASER, Chairman,
DONALD C. HALDEMAN.
LEVI P. MORTON.

Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry.
Second Mortgage Bonds.
All the second mortgage bonds of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, being one thousand bonds of $1,000 each, Nos. 1 to 1,000 inclusive, which matures January 1st, 1901, will be paid on and after January 2d, 1901, at the Continental National Bank of New York. Interest on same will cease at their maturity.
J. H. AMBROSE, Treasurer.

Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry.
Twenty bonds of $1,000 each of Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, Tracy City Branch, Nos. 181 to 200 inclusive, which mature January 1st, 1901, will be paid on and after January 2, 1901, at the Continental National Bank of New York. Interest on same will cease at their maturity.
J. H. AMBROSE, Treasurer.

Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry.
Call for Bon Air Branch Bonds.
Notice is hereby given that all the outstanding bonds, being 114 of $1,000 each, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, BON AIR BRANCH, will be paid on presentation at the Continental National Bank, No. 5 Nassau St., New York, on and after January 2d, 1901. Said bonds are dated July 1, 1887, and payable July 1, 1917, but provide as follows:
"This bond and any other of this issue are redeemable by said Railway at its own option at any time after the lapse of ten years from the date hereof."
This call is made under the provision of the Bond and Mortgage above quoted, and interest on said BON AIR BRANCH bonds will cease after January 1st, 1901.
J. H. AMBROSE, Treasurer.
N. Y., Dec. 11, 1900.

Referring to the above advertisements, we are prepared to offer for a limited time in exchange for these bonds:
Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Ry. 1st Cons. Mtg. 5% Gold Bonds, Due 1928.
TERMS UPON APPLICATION.
Hallgarten & Co.,
28 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK.

North American Trust Company
135 BROADWAY, COR. CEDAR ST., NEW YORK.
Capital & Surplus, $4,500,000
Fiscal Agent of the United States for Cuba.
DIRECTORS:

Charlton T. Lewis,	Henry F. Shoemaker,
John G. Carlisle,	Roland R. Conklin,
E. C. Potter,	Wager Swayne,
Samuel M. Jarvis,	James S. Kuhn,
James B. Dill,	William H. Taylor,
Alvah Trowbridge,	Stanley L. Conklin,
Frank H. Ray,	Heman Dowd,
Luis Suarez Galban,	Archer Brown,
Fletcher S. Heath,	Benjamin F. Tracy,
Oakleigh Thorne,	John C. Tomlinson,
E. W. Scott,	John Hone,
H. B. Hollins,	F. R. Coudert, Jr.,
Frank Rockefeller,	E. A. De Lima,
Wm. H. Cheesebrough,	Leopoldo Carbajal,
	Marqués de Pinar del Río

BRANCHES:
LONDON, SANTIAGO DE CUBA, HAVANA, CIENFUEGOS, MATANZAS.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows Interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT. T. STALLKNECHT, Vice-Pres. 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS. ERNEST EHRMANN, Treasurer. Secretary.
DIRECTORS:

Frederic P. Olcott,	Augustus D. Juilliard,
James Stillman,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Anthony N. Brady,	William A. Nash,
Alwyn Ball, jr.,	James N. Jarvie,
John D. Crimmins,	James H. Post,
Michael Coleman,	Frederick Southack,
Ernest Ehrmann,	Hugh J. Grant
Henry Morgenthau.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A PLAN of Reorganization of the Hampton Roads Hotel Company has been prepared by the Reorganization Committee, and filed with the Knickerbocker Trust Company, 66 Broadway, N. Y.
H. M. DE LANOIE,
Secretary of the Committee.

FINANCIAL.

COLONIAL TRUST COMPANY,
ST. PAUL BUILDING,
222 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital, Surplus & Undivided Profits } $1,800,000
Transacts a general Trust and Banking Business.
ALLOWS INTEREST ON DAILY BALANCES.
OFFICERS:
JOHN E. BORNE, President.
RICHARD DELAFIELD, CORD MEYER, JAMES W. TAPPIN, Vice-Presidents.
ARFAD S. GROSSMANN, Treasurer.
EDMUND L. JUDSON, Secretary.
PHILIP S. BABCOCK, Trust Officer.
TRUSTEES:

Henry O. Havemeyer,	Cord Meyer,
Anson R. Flower,	Perry Belmont,
Lowell M. Palmer,	Wm. T. Wardwell,
John E. Borne,	Henry N. Whitney,
Richard Delafield,	Theo. W. Myers,
Daniel O'Day,	L. C. Dessar,
Percival Kuhne,	Geo. Warren Smith,
Frank Curtiss.	John S. Dickerson,
Vernon H. Brown,	James W. Tappin,
Seth M. Milliken,	Geo. W. Quintard,
W. Seward Webb.

Dividends.

St. Joseph & Grand Island Railway Co.
38 Broad St., New York, Dec. 13, 1900.
At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, held this day, a dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. on the First Preferred Stock of the Company was declared, payable Jany. 15, 1901, to the holders of record of the First Preferred Stock at the closing of the transfer books on Dec. 31, 1900.
The transfer books for First Preferred Stock will close Dec. 31, 1900, at 3 P. M., and will reopen Jan. 16, 1901, at 10 A. M.
S. W. WILSON, Secretary.

54 Wall St., N. Y., Dec. 13, 1900.
The above-mentioned dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. will be payable on Jan. 15, 1901, to holders of record at the close of business on Dec. 31, 1900, on the books of the Voting Trustees for Certificates of First Preferred Stock of the St. Joseph and Grand Island Railway Company.
The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for Certificates of First Preferred Stock will close Dec. 31, 1900, at 3 P. M., and will reopen Jan. 16, 1901, at 10 A. M.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company,
New York, December 5, 1900.
The Board of Directors have declared a semi-annual dividend on the Preferred Stock of this Company of Two Dollars and Fifty Cents ($2.50) per share, payable February 1, 1901, to stockholders, as registered at the close of the transfer books on January 10, 1901. The transfer books for the preferred stock of the Company will be closed from three o'clock P. M. on January 10, 1901, until ten o'clock A. M. on February 2, 1901.
Dividend checks will be mailed to Preferred Stockholders whose dividend orders are on file at this office.
H. W. GARDINER, Assistant Treasurer, 59 Cedar Street, New York.

National Tube Company.
PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND NO. 6.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held November 20, 1900, a quarter-yearly dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENTUM upon the Preferred Capital Stock of the National Tube Company was declared out of the net profits of the Company, payable January 2d, 1901, at the office of the Company, No. 26 Cortlandt St., New York City.
The Preferred Stock Transfer Books will be closed on Wednesday, the 12th day of December, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., and will remain closed until Thursday, the third day of January, 1901, at ten o'clock A. M.
A. F. LUKE, Treasurer.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY.
New York, December 12, 1900.
DIVIDEND NO. 129.
The Board of Directors have declared a quarterly dividend of ONE AND ONE-QUARTER PER CENT. upon the capital stock of this Company, payable at the office of the Treasurer on and after the 15th day of January next to shareholders of record at the close of the transfer books on the 20th day of December instant.
The transfer books will be closed at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of December 20th inst., and reopened on the morning of January 2nd next.
M. T. WILBUR, Treasurer.

United Shoe Machinery Company.
A quarterly dividend of 1½% (37½ cents per share) on the preferred stock and 2% (50 cents per share) on the common stock of this Company has been declared, payable January 15th, 1901, to stockholders of record December 20th, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from December 20th to December 31st.
GEORGE W. BROWN, Treasurer.

OFFICE OF
Westinghouse Electric & Mf'g Co.
120 Broadway, New York, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of this Company held this day it was RESOLVED, That a quarterly dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. (1¾%) upon the Preferred Stock of the Company be declared payable on January 2d, 1901, to stockholders of record, and that the transfer books for the Preferred Stock be closed on December 20th, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., and opened on January 3d, 1901, at 10 o'clock A. M.
T. W. SIEMON, Asst Treasurer.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad Co.
New York, December 12, 1900.
The Board of Directors this day declared a semi-annual dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. (2½%) on the Preferred (formerly known as Second Preferred) Stock, and a dividend of TWO PER CENT. (2%) on the common stock of this company, payable January 15th, 1901, at the Central Trust Company to stockholders of record on the 31st day of December, 1900. Transfer books will be closed December 31st, 1900, and reopened January 16th, 1901.
F. H. DAVIS, Treasurer.

Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron Co.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a dividend of ONE AND THREE-FOURTHS PER CENT. upon the Preferred Stock of the Company, out of the earnings for the quarter ending Nov. 30th, payable January 2d, 1901, at the office of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Transfer Books will be closed at 3 P. M. on December 20th, and reopened on the morning of January 3d, 1901.
J. W. McQUESTEN, Secretary and Treasurer.
New York, 11th December, 1900.

P. Lorillard Company.
The Directors have this day declared a dividend of Two Per Cent. (2%) on the preferred stock of this Company, payable January 2d, 1901. The transfer books will be closed on Saturday, Dec. 22d, 1900, at 12 o'clock M. and reopened on Wednesday, January 2d, 1901, at 10 o'clock A. M. Cheques will be mailed to registered holders on January 2d, 1901.
BARING, MAGOUN & CO., Transfer Agents.
New York, Dec. 12th, 1900.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Reading Co. and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., New York, will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
WM. G. BROWN, Sec'y.
Philadelphia, Dec. 13th, 1900.

TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE HOCKING VALley Railway Company First Consolidated 4½ Per Cent. Registered Bonds will close at the office of J. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due January 1st, 1901, and will reopen January 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
WM. N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, December 13, 1900.

CHICAGO AND NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY. 52 Wall Street, New York, December 12th, 1900.—A dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. on the Preferred Stock and THREE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of this Company will be paid at this office on Monday, January 7th, 1901. Transfer books will close on Monday, December 17th, and reopen on Monday, December 24th, 1900.
S. O. HOWE, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE FIRST Consolidated Mortgage 5 per cent. registered bonds of the Southern Railway Company will close at the office of the company, 80 Broadway, New York, Friday, December 21, at 3 P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
JOSIAH F HILL, Sec'y.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 15, 1900.

Williamsburgh Trust Company.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
A SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND OF THREE PER CENT. has been declared, payable Jan'y 2d, 1901, to shareholders of record at the close of business Dec. 20, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from Dec. 21st, 1900, to Jan'y 2d, 1901, both days inclusive.
W. ADDISON FIELD, Sec'y.

COLONIAL TRUST COMPANY.
222 Broadway, New York, December 11, 1900.
The Board of Trustees have this day declared a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. on the Capital Stock of the Company, payable January 2d, 1901, to stockholders of record on December 20th, 1900. Transfer books will close December 20th, 1900, and reopen January 3d, 1901.
EDMUND L. JUDSON, Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
37 and 39 Wall St.
Capital $1,000,000
Surplus and profits..... $1,588,000
BRAYTON IVES, President.
FREDERICK D. TAPPEN, V. Pres.
BEVERLY CHEW, Second Vice President.
ALEXANDER S. WEBB, Jr., Secretary.
BERTRAM CRUGER, Asst. Secretary.
TRUSTEES:

Morris K. Jesup,	Brayton Ives,
Dudley Olcott,	D. O. Mills,
Geo. A. Hardin,	Fred'k D. Tappen,
Edward B. Judson,	Bradley Martin,
Robert Hoe,	Heber R. Bishop,
William A. Bull,	Wm. H. Tillinghast,
Richard Mortimer,	Geo. Henry Warren,
Samuel Thomas,	Haley Fiske,
John E. Parsons,	J. Edward Simmons,
John T. Terry,	George Coppell.

Indianapolis Gas Co.
First Mortgage 6s
DEALT IN,
SAMUEL H. BARROWS,
38 Broad St., New York.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

ARLINGTON COPPER STOCK.
A small block of stock for sale. Address "COPPER," Box 113 Times Office.

Meetings and Elections.

NOTICE
is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of M. Groh's Sons (Incorporated) for the purpose of electing Directors and transacting such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be held on WEDNESDAY, December 26th, 1900, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the office of the company, No. 238 West 28th St., in the City of New York. The transfer book will remain closed from the 18th day of December, 1900, until the 27th day of December, 1900.
Dated the 10th day of December, 1900.
M. GROH'S SONS, (INCORPORATED.)
By RUDOLPH H. SCHWARZER, Secretary.

The Merchants' National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
1370. December 5, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 42 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8, 1901, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

National Broadway Bank,
NEW YORK,
December 10th, 1900.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors for the ensuing year will be held at the banking house, 237 Broadway, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
Polls will be open from 12 o'clock M. until 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. J. DAY, Cashier.

The Western National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
7th December, 1900.
The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, for the election of Directors, will be held at the Banking House, No. 15 Nassau Street, on TUESDAY, January 8th, 1901. The Polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
H. A. SMITH, Cashier.

THE CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK.
Dec. 8th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank for the ensuing year will be held at the banking house, No. 270 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, on TUESDAY, the 8th day of January, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 2 o'clock P. M.
FRANCIS HALPIN, Cashier.

The Mechanics' National Bank
of the City of New York,
Dec. 8th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 33 Wall St., on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The Hanover National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 9 and 11 Nassau Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 1 o'clock P. M.
WILLIAM LOGAN, Cashier.

Savings Banks.

Metropolitan Savings Bank
1 and 3 THIRD AV., (opp. Cooper Institute.)
Chartered 1852.

95TH DIVIDEND.
New York, Dec. 11, 1900.
INTEREST FOR THE HALF YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1900, at the rate of FOUR PER CENT. PER ANNUM
will be credited to depositors entitled thereto under the by-laws of the bank on sums from $5 to $3,000. INTEREST PAYABLE JANUARY 16TH, 1901.
MONEY DEPOSITED on or before January 10 will draw interest from January 1, 1901.
JONATHAN CURREY, President.
EDWARD SHERER, Secretary.

CLEARING HOUSE COMPARISONS.

The following table gives the aggregate of the exchanges and balances at the New York Clearing House every week for a year past:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Dec. 15	$1,390,727,401	$53,193,411
Dec. 8	1,419,980,290	61,614,358
*Dec. 1	1,169,850,345	47,477,291
Nov. 24	1,589,539,179	56,616,100
Nov. 17	1,546,382,778	54,659,891
*Nov. 10	1,070,994,367	46,286,811
Nov. 3	1,072,949,998	51,280,010
Oct. 27	1,141,067,500	53,273,726
Oct. 20	1,023,592,101	61,706,588
Oct. 13	926,820,551	52,582,350
Oct. 6	989,961,743	54,880,111
Sept. 29	836,384,300	43,249,035
Sept. 22	912,622,414	47,270,876
Sept. 15	747,650,336	51,714,574
*Sept. 8	639,749,352	37,056,450
Sept. 1	959,717,454	44,471,076
Aug. 25	971,308,001	45,452,904
Aug. 18	1,016,780,299	49,880,774
Aug. 11	667,786,104	41,726,697
Aug. 4	782,061,788	55,383,959
July 28	753,779,500	45,311,780
July 21	785,578,094	46,764,063
July 14	965,929,981	51,182,189
July 7	933,138,447	50,344,104
June 30	980,910,627	60,314,484
June 23	842,062,208	49,580,384
June 16	878,370,496	49,458,370
June 9	895,061,896	54,623,259
June 2	820,976,655	49,240,800
May 26	905,215,330	55,921,961
May 19	1,006,863,479	61,884,228
May 12	995,720,213	54,580,513
May 5	1,155,701,031	72,806,381
April 28	1,084,446,657	48,974,241
April 21	1,195,361,041	76,001,061
April 14	1,080,414,173	60,447,958
April 7	1,270,068,626	69,745,368
March 31	1,116,124,633	52,429,218
March 24	1,070,885,960	47,934,706
March 17	1,048,032,741	54,880,142
March 10	983,380,761	50,508,191
March 3	1,020,735,949	55,318,914
*Feb. 24	878,155,580	46,336,547
*Feb. 17	925,315,975	45,246,144
Feb. 10	1,106,852,089	43,852,421
Feb. 3	1,026,052,652	69,007,580
Jan. 27	972,111,857	49,416,899
Jan. 20	1,005,176,062	56,906,368
Jan. 13	1,097,626,402	58,654,808
*Jan. 6	1,146,108,226	62,735,667
*Dec. 30	980,802,665	46,539,980
Dec. 23	1,428,303,043	58,302,770
Dec. 16	1,349,644,923	51,807,123
Dec. 9	1,114,066,435	45,117,038

*Five days.

FOREIGN BANK HOLDINGS.

The following is a comparison of the average of bullion in the principal European banks last week and at the corresponding date last year. These figures are cabled weekly to The Commercial and Financial Chronicle:

	Gold.	Silver.
BANK OF ENGLAND.
Dec. 13, 1900	£31,103,333	.....
Dec. 14, 1899	29,906,559	.....
BANK OF FRANCE.
Dec. 13, 1900	93,038,964	£44,420,908
Dec. 14, 1899	75,353,191	46,612,853
BANK OF GERMANY.
Dec. 13, 1900	26,714,000	13,781,000
Dec. 14, 1899	25,085,000	19,922,000
RUSSIA.
Dec. 13, 1900	72,024,000	6,022,000
Dec. 14, 1899	86,377,000	4,068,000
AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.
Dec. 13, 1900	38,315,000	9,819,000
Dec. 14, 1899	32,314,000	9,517,000
SPAIN.
Dec. 13, 1900	13,939,000	10,312,000
Dec. 14, 1899	13,600,000	14,175,000
ITALY.
Dec. 13, 1900	15,385,000	1,742,000
Dec. 14, 1899	15,451,000	1,494,000
NETHERLANDS.
Dec. 13, 1900	4,877,000	5,535,000
Dec. 14, 1899	3,757,000	5,906,000
BELGIUM.
Dec. 13, 1900	2,981,000	1,491,000
Dec. 14, 1899	3,005,000	1,502,000
Total for week	£298,377,297	£99,093,908
Total preceding week	299,408,597	99,346,259
Correap. date last year	284,751,750	97,095,583

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

The character of Saturday's bank statement fully discloses that the much-paraded tight money bugaboo was more a freak of the bearish imagination than anything warranted by actual conditions or facts. Instead of surplus reserves being entirely wiped out, there was actually shown an increase, and this despite the preparations for the extraordinary disbursements to be made immediately after the new year, disbursements that, when made, will so swell the volume of money available for market and other purposes that, temporarily at least, money will be a drug upon the market.

As a matter of fact, all this talk of the possibility of money stringency emanated from sources the nature of which suggests not only that no exact information on the subject was known, but that conditions actually had been overdrawn and exaggerated, in the hope that holders of securities might be induced, through timidity, to sell. And that some selling did result as a consequence is undoubtedly true. That there was no reason for it is now disclosed. Bankers continue to insist, as they have all along insisted—their views from time to time appearing in these columns—that there will not only be no money stringency, but that in the course of a few weeks money will be cheap.

As for the stock market, it should go higher. All the conditions favor advancing quotations. The prosperity of the country is not at an end; it has but begun. Money, though active, is not dear, nor will it be. Investment buying on a large scale is steadily absorbing all good securities. The earnings of many of the companies whose securities are dealt in on the Exchange are larger now than ever they have been. And Wall Street cannot discount such conditions in a day or a week or a month.

Important developments in the Vanderbilt properties will be disclosed at the meetings of the Vanderbilt interests this week.

VANDERBILT LEADERSHIP.

Apropos of the meetings this week of Vanderbilt interests to take dividend and other action on the Vanderbilt securities, the following expression of opinion in respect to the Vanderbilt railway stocks by Mr. Henry Clews is both suggestive and interesting:

"All the Vanderbilt properties are sound properties. They have the Vanderbilt ring to them, which represents building up, and not pulling down, and it is for that reason that so much confidence is felt in anything that has the Vanderbilt touch. This has been so in the past, and that speaks for the future. Of course, there was some disappointment in Wall Street that the schedule of securities of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt did not represent more of the Vanderbilt stocks, but doubtless his brother's holdings are abundant to make up. The present head of the family in enterprise and in force is the nearest approach in that respect to the old Commodore, and security holders of the so-called Vanderbilt properties can fully rely upon the judgment what is necessary in the development of these properties that can be accomplished by enterprise and sagacity will not be wanting. It is for that reason that holders of these securities are largely permanent ones.

"Nothing has strengthened the confidence in railroad properties generally more than the feeling that prevails in connection with the wisdom of the management of the varied Vanderbilt systems. It has much helped to put American railroad securities upon their present basis of high prices, approximating in a great many instances similar properties of the railroads of Great Britain.

"I may say that the Nickel Plate securities, which heretofore have had very little market conspicuousness, are not unlikely to loom up as market leaders in very short order."

GERMAN MORTGAGE BANKS.

Financial Conditions in Germany Greatly Affected by Their Troubles.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—In financial circles last week attention was devoted chiefly to the affairs of the mortgage banks. The weekly financial reviews freely admit that the market was rapidly drifting toward panic until the syndicate of Berlin banks was organized for the protection of the holders of obligations of the Prussian Hypothekeen Aktien Bank. The danger was intensified early in the week by the announcement that the Pomeranian Hypotheken Bank and the Mecklenburg-Strelitz Hypotheken Bank would discontinue repurchasing their obligations. A great rush ensued to sell all other mortgage bank obligations, and so great was the apprehension that the published statement of the united mortgage banks, asserting that their own condition was perfectly sound, did not have an immediate effect.

Nevertheless, this statement and the organization of a syndicate quieted alarm, and at the end of the week the selling of obligations had markedly diminished and the general tone of the market improved.

The declines for the week in mortgage bank obligations ranged from 2 to 8 points, which means an enormous loss on the 6,000,000,000 marks of such securities circulating in Germany.

Yesterday the committee of holders of obligations of the Deutsche Grundschuld Bank published a statement showing that the most recent balance sheets of the institution were false and that during the last eighteen months 41,000,000 marks of first-class mortgages had been replaced by second class, mostly worthless. The committee asks the holders to take measures to avoid bankruptcy, thereby saving from 30,000,000 marks to 40,000,000 marks.

The mortgage bank affairs affected the money market, inasmuch as the banks have entirely withdrawn from the loan business and are borrowing,

STRUCK DOWN BY POACHERS.

Guard Attacked in Bronx Park and Beaten Into Insensibility.

Poachers have recently worked great havoc in the eastern portion of Bronx Park, not only by killing birds and squirrels but by cutting down trees for firewood. This portion of the park is in practically a wild state, and it is seldom that a policeman goes through it, so Chief Forester Michael, a short time ago, put several men on duty as a special patrol in this region morning and evening at the time when the depredations were most likely to occur.

William McGreevy, one of these guards, had an encounter at dusk on Saturday with two marauders, who, after beating him into unconsciousness, left him in the woods. He revived in the cold night air, and was able to make his way to the Zoological Gardens, whence he was sent in a carriage to his home at 450 Summit Street, bordering Park. It was said yesterday that he was in a serious condition, under a physician's constant care.

McGreevy reported that at about 4:30 o'clock, as nearly as he could recollect, he was passing through the woods when he heard the report of a gun, and following the direction of the sound, came upon a man who had just shot a gray squirrel. The little creature had been killed, but in falling had lodged in the branch of a tree, and the man was in the act of climbing up after it when McGreevy came upon him. The watchman was in uniform, with a shield and club, and the man came down with the squirrel and surrendered when called upon to do so. McGreevy was leading the prisoner away, when a confederate, whom McGreevy had not seen, stole up behind them through the trees and struck the guard a heavy blow on the head with the butt of a shotgun. McGreevy fell, dropping his club, and the two men then set upon him and kicked and beat him about the face and body until they left him for dead.

The matter was reported to the Bronx Park Police. McGreevy can give a good description of his prisoner, but says he did not get even a glimpse of the face of the man who struck him down from behind.

McGreevy is an employe of the New York Zoological Society, and has been stationed at the park for about a year. He is about twenty-two years old and unmarried, living with his father at the address given.

STABBED BY INSANE PATIENT.

Attendant at St. Lawrence Hospital Seriously Wounded.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 16.—A patient named Smith, at the St. Lawrence State Hospital, who was not considered at all vicious, yesterday made a murderous assault with a knife on an attendant named Cummings. Smith was in his room at the hospital pacing the floor and muttering: "I'll do it! I'll do it! The Lord sent me here to punish those that won't mind Him, and I'll do it!" Not being considered a vicious fellow, no especial attention was given to his mutterings. In the course of his duties Cummings passed through the corridor and saw Smith pacing the floor of his room and passed on.

Seeing Cummings pass and stop at a closet Smith stole up behind him and jumping upon his back drew his head backward, and with an old pocketknife stabbed him in the face. The blade entered the left side of the nose and swung toward the eye, laying the cheek open. It was a slanting blow, and the point of the knife striking the bone, snapped the blade half off. Still holding to his victim, the insane man again struck the broken blade into the attendant's face, and completely encircled his head, laying open both cheeks, taking off the lower part of the nose, severing the muscles and cords leading to the head, and laying bare the base of the skull. The gash fortunately was too high upon the head to reach the jugular vein.

In spite of his injuries Cummings overpowered the patient and turned him over to other attendants who came to his assistance. Over 100 stitches were necessary to close Cummings's wounds. Though very weak from the loss of blood, he will recover, but will hereafter have a badly scarred face.

Doctor at Soldiers' Home Attacked.

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Dr. Oran W. Smith, Chief Surgeon in the hospital at the State Soldiers' Home, was violently attacked by two inmates, Francis Sayers, a hospital patient, and George Anderson of Barracks B., because the doctor admonished Anderson for bringing liquor to Sayers. Another inmate, an ex-policeman of New York, took a hand in the struggle, and Anderson and Sayers went sprawling on the floor. Dr. Smith was reinstated. Commandant Davidson dishonorably discharged Anderson from the home.

Excursions.

COOK'S HOLIDAY TRIPS,

Including Hotels and All Expenses.

Boston—3 days Dec. 25.....$12.
Washington—3 days Dec. 27.....$12.
Washington and Old Point—6 days Dec. 27.....$25.
Florida—Jan. 16, 26, etc. Tours from....$65.
Bermuda—Jan. 16, 21, etc. Tours from..$52.
Programmes free from
THOS. COOK & SON,
261 & 1185 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Musical.

30c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

MRS. CAROLIN'S MUSICAL BUREAU. ARTISTS FOR SOCIAL FUNCTIONS. 2 WEST 23D ST.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS for sale at low prices; especially old violins, 'cellos, basses, bows and fine strings. PFEIFFER'S, 220 East 86th St.

PIANO.—Experienced teacher, graduate Berlin Conservatory, desires pupils; best references. Address Miss A., 1209 3d Av.

MRS. EDWIN DUSTIN RUGGLES, ACCOMpanist for concerts and musicales. Apply to MME CAROLINE, 2 West 23d St.

VIOLIN PLAYING ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT pupil's residence or J. CHADOVITZ, Dumont Av., corner Osborn St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MISS EDITH ROBERTS, VIOLINIST, PUPIL of Shradieck. Address Box 1, 132 E. 23d St., for concerts and musicales.

VIOLIN, MANDOLIN, BANJO, GUITAR, ELOcution. P. C. U., P. S. C. cordially invited. 231 East 110th St.

REMINGTON SQUIRE, MANAGER FOR LEADing musical artists, 125 East 24th St.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH,
NOS. 12 AND 14 EAST 49TH STREET.
Classes and private lessons.
SEASON NOW OPEN.

MACDONALD'S KNICKERBOCKER SCHOOL for Dancing, 44 East 14th St., near Broadway. —Private and class lessons daily; send for circular; receptions every Wednesday and Saturday.

PROF. D. C. LESTER.—Dancing and polite deportment. Colonial Hall, 101st St. and Columbus Av. Offices hours, 2 to 10 P. M.

PROFESSOR PAUL'S SCHOOL FOR DANCING, 111 East 125th Street.—Open afternoons, evenings; also Sundays; terms, $1.00 monthly.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av. WALTZ 135-137 West 125th St.

Lawyers.

DIVORCE $50 entire expense. Lawyer GEO. ROBINSON, 99 Nassau St.

Bowling.

DRAKE'S OYSTER AND CHOP HOUSE, 63 East 59th St.; bowling alleys; clubs or private parties; few nights left.

Miscellaneous.

AT 344 6TH AV. AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stocking refooted; underwear repaired.

RESPIRATORIUM.—Great help to singers for hoarseness. Call and investigate. 132 East 23d St.

Watches and Jewelry.

MAURICE RAMNES,
DIAMONDS AND WATCHES,
1,008 3d Av., bet. 63d and 64th.
Old Gold, Silver bought and exchanged.

Clothing.

MRS. COHEN, 829 6TH AV.—Absolutely highest prices paid for ladies' street and evening costumes, jewelry, furs, &c.

MADAME BLUM.—Absolutely highest prices for ladies' castoff evening and street costumes; also furs. 759 6th Av.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AN OPPORTUNITY IS PRESENTED FOR party controlling about $10,000 to obtain an important interest, with active position in staple paying business, yielding large annual profit; object to increase line; highest references. Address F., Box 114 Times Office.

$2 for 1,000 Letter Heads, Bond Paper; 5,000, $9.00; cash with order. M. B. ATKINSON, Printer and Paper Dealer, 1,127 Park Row Building, City.

AN INCOME OF 26% IS SURELY REALIZED by investing only $8,000 in A1 Manhattan Real Estate. This is no speculation, but the most profitable investment in the market. Would not be sacrificed but for death in family. INVESTMENT, Box 141 Times.

FOR SALE—Established coal business, fully equipped, trestle, stables, building to handle hay, grain, and feed; easy terms. For particulars apply to E. C. QUACKENBUSH, Newark Av. and 7th St., Jersey City.

MONEY MAKER.—Merchant's Anti-stepladder, an indispensable commodity for stores; nickelplated; weight, 1¼ pounds; territory open. FLYNN, 72 Warren St., New York.

EXCEPTIONAL INVESTMENT; PERMANENT certain future. For particulars call on or address MURRY, 309 Broadway, Room 101.

ADVICE FREE.—Patents, promptly procured; Inventor's Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & COMPANY, Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

CAPITAL AND PARTNERS SUPPLIED; business bought or sold; have splendid laundries. MURRY, 309 Broadway, Room 101.

PATENT FOR SALE—DOUCHE AND BEDPAN rest and back protector: TRABAUD, 9 Orchard St., Newark, N. J.

INSURANCE AGENTS MAKE BIG MONEY selling my policies; largest commissions paid. JACOB A. KING, 81 East 125th St.

Dentistry.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH OF CONTINUOUS GUM Highly improved.—These teeth represent the highest art in dentistry. They restore form and expression to the face. The gums and roof of mouth, without seam or crevice, (all in one piece, porcelain or platinum,) are a perfect reproduction of nature, even in color. Dr. DEANE, Dentist, 454 Lexington Av., cor. 46th St., received highest award Columbian Exposition.

WHICH WOULD YOU RATHER HAVE—AN experienced dentist, doing his own work, or a company, hiring irresponsible labor, changing oftener than the moon? For reliable painless dentistry call on DR. C. S. W. BALDWIN, 124 West 23d St., opposite French church.

Bankruptcy Notices.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of GUSTAVE VEIT, Individually and as member of the firm of KLOTZ, VEIT & CO., Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Gustave Veit, individually and as a member of the firm of Klotz, Veit & Co., of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 1st day of December, A. D. 1900, the said Gustave Veit was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of F. K. Pendleton, referee, No. 44 Broadway, in the City and County of New York, on the 28th day of December, A. D. 1900, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

F. K. PENDLETON,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
December 15th, 1900.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of CHRISTIAN D. BEDROSIAN, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Christian D. Bedrosian of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1900, the said Christian D. Bedrosian was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of F. K. Pendleton, No. 44 Broadway, in the City and County of New York, on the 27th day of December, A. D. 1900, at 12 o'clock noon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

F. K. PENDLETON,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
December 15th, 1900.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of SIGMUND A. GUTMANN and LOUIS LICHTENSTEIN, Individually and as partners of the firm known as S. A. GUTMANN & CO. and the firm of S. A. GUTMANN & CO., Bankrupts.—No. 3,231.

To the creditors of Sigmund A. Gutmann and Louis Lichtenstein, individually and as partners of the firm known as S. A. Gutmann & Co. and the firm of S. A. Gutmann & Co., bankrupts, of the City and County of New York.

Notice is hereby given that on the 1st day of December, A. D. 1900, the said Sigmund A. Gutmann and Louis Lichtenstein, individually and as partners of the firm known as S. A. Gutmann & Co. and the firm of S. A. Gutmann & Co., were duly adjudicated bankrupts, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 346 Broadway, in the City, County, and State of New York, on the 27th day of December, A. D. 1900, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

SEAMAN MILLER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
Dated New York, December 7th, 1900.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—MAX MICHAELIS and ANNIE TAYLOR, bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that Max Michaelis and Annie Taylor, bankrupts, have filed their petition, dated December 4th, 1900, praying for a discharge from all their debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 26th, 1900, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupts thereon.

NATHANIEL S. SMITH,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 15th, 1900.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States, for the Southern District of New York. —In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of MAX KOWEN, known as Excelsior Mfg. Co., bankrupt. Greenwald, Kupferberg, Karp & Co., Joseph Shongood & Sons, United States Marshal's, auctioneers, will sell on Wednesday, Dec. 19th, at 10 A. M., at 26-28 Lispenard St., all the assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of clothing, woolens, linings, &c.; chairs, tables, boards, &c. Order of

BENJ. BARKER,
Receiver.

Summonses.

N. Y. SUPREME COURT.—Trial to be had in the County of New York.—AUGUSTINE J. SMITH, plaintiff, against ALFRED ERICSON and Elizabeth Ericson, his wife; Mary E. Neale, Alice H. Luce, individually and as trustee for the benefit of Alice H. Bondell under a certain deed dated 18 July, 1900; Alice H. Bondell, James Haley and Mary Coyne, Richard vom Hofe, Gerson Mayer, Donato Buonglorno, otherwise known as Donatus or Donatio Buonglorno; James Scanlan, Michael Scanlan, and Patrick Scanlan, composing the firm of J., M. & P. Scanlan, The Henry Elias Brewing Company, a corporation; The J. Chr. G. Hupfel Brewing Company, a corporation; Hand Drill Company, a corporation, and Consolidated Ice Company, a corporation, defendants.—Summons.

To the above-named defendants and each of them:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated 11 October, 1900.

LUIS JAMES PHELPS,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, No. 32 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, New York.

To Alice H. Luce, individually and as trustee for the benefit of Alice H. Bondell under a certain deed dated 18 July, 1900, and to Alice H. Bondell:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. James Fitzgerald, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 21st day of November, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and County of New York, —Dated 21 November, 1900.

LUIS JAMES PHELPS,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Office and Post Office address, No. 32 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, New York. n28-1aw7wM

Surrogate Notices.

MARCH, FRANK P.—IN PURSUANCE OF AN order of the Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against FRANK P. MARCH, late of the County of New York, deceased, to exhibit and present the same with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at his place of transacting business, at the office of Henry N. Tifft, Esq., No. 11 William Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 4th day of February, 1901, next.

Dated New York City, (B. of M.,) July 20th, 1900.

EOBERT G. MARCH, Executor.
Henry N. Tifft, Attorney for Executor, No. 11 William Street, New York City. B. of M.
jy23-1aw6mM

SCHUMACHER, CHARLES AUGUST.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against CHARLES AUGUST SCHUMACHER, late of the County of New York, jeweler, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, No. 46 Eighth Avenue, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the fourteenth day of February next.—Dated New York, the 4th day of August, 1900. CHARLES A. SCHUMACHER, DAVID H. P. McCUTCHEON, HENRY W. SCHUMACHER, Executors of CHARLES AUGUST SCHUMACHER, deceased.
aug5-1aw8mM.

Surrogate Notices.

BENARY, ALBERT E.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Marguerite Benary, Gertrude B. Strachan, Robert H. Benary, Charles H. Ditson & Company, George S. Bond, American Credit-Indemnity Company, Leopold Hilfelder, Max Illfelder, and Sigmund Levy, composing the firm of B. Illfelder & Co.; William Tonk and Charles J. Tonk, composing the firm of Wm. Tonk & Bro.; George Schenck and Arnold Von Phul, composing the firm of Schenck & Schlichte; Jacob Hofer, Wilhelm Spaethe, Celluloid Company Fred Gretsch, Charles Bruno, doing business as C. Bruno & Son; Jacob Strauss and Carl Strauss, composing the firm of Strauss, Sachs & Co.; American Exchange National Bank, Louis Meisel, National Musical String Company, Angelo Mannello, Julius Kraft, C. F. Zimmerman Company, J. A. Evans, Permanent Receiver of C. F. Zimmerman Company; Rudolph Teschner, William P. Rettberg, and William L. Lange, composing the firm of Rettberg & Lange; Charles H. Jacot and Aristides H. Jacot, composing the firm of Jacot & Son; Mathias Hohner, Albin Otto, Edward Gossler, Samuel L. Lasher, Philip Hano, and Jacob L. Hano, composing the firm of Philip Hano & Co.; Bradstreet Company, Henry Hoseus, Edison Electric Illuminating Company, George D. Kuper, Charles P. Kuper, and Jacob E. W. Kuper, composing the firm of G. D. Kuper & Brothers; Henry C. Ryan, Park & Tilford, Michael H. Baron, Phonoharp Company, Frederick Menzenhauer, and Oscar Schmidt, composing the firm of Menzenhauer & Schmidt; Charles Lauzer, Lucien A. Chisholm, George Closs, Joseph Dowden, John J. McKenzie, John J. Stratton, Robert V. S. Samuels, Assignee for the benefit of creditors of John J. Stratton; Johann Schick, Frances E. Timans, Edward Timans, and Gustave L. Schwab, composing the firm of Oelrichs & Co.; John Maulbetsch and George D. Whittemore, composing the firm of Maulbetsch & Whittemore; Carl Hoffman, George Minster, and Joseph Rose, doing business as Minster & Ross; George W. Plumley Company, Robert S. Gutman, doing business under the name of New York Mandolin Manufacturing Company; Buettell Brothers Company, F. G. Otto & Sons, James Weir, Jr., and James E. Weir, doing business under the name of James Weir, Jr., & Son; the Autophone Company, George W. Braunsdorf, doing business under the name of Manhattan Musical String Company, Snedeker Manufacturing Company, Louise Schneider, doing business under the name of Traugott, Schneider & Co.; Paul Richard Schmidt, doing business under the name of Hammer & Schmidt; Catherine E. Colburn and Alford W. Colburn, doing business under the name of A. W. Colburn & Co.; Peter Lamstine, Rudolph Emanuel Hogenson, composing the firm of L. L. Plistrup & Co.; Koch Sons & Company, W. C. Horn, Brother & Company, Bay State Manufacturing Company, General Insurance Company of Dresden, S. S. Steward, and George Bauer, composing the firm of Stewart & Bauer; the Ricca Manufacturing Company, John E. Brodsky, As signee for the benefit of the creditors of M. J Pallard & Co.; William Herman Otto, Frederick Benary, executors of the estate of Ernst Benary; American Musical String Company, Christian Weiss, Jerome Thibouville-Lamy, Leopold Thibouville, Alfred Acoulon and Emile Beranger, doing business under the name of Jerome Thibouville-Lamy & Co.; Steinway Printing Company, Edward Owen and Wilfred Owen, doing business as Edward Owen & Co.; George W. Wells, doing business as S. Wells & Sons; John W. Jacobus, Oscar Schmidt, Louis Pitzschler and Oscar Pitzschler, doing business as A. Pitzschler & Sohn; R. H. Woods, C. H. Congdon, F. C. Meinel, John Kahnt, the name being fictitious, the person intended to be cited being a co-partner in the firm of Kahnt & Uhlmann; Stephen Uhlmann, the name being fictitious, the person intended to be cited being a co-partner in the firm of Kahnt & Uhlmann; Franz Edward Ludwig, John Ludwig, the name being fictitious, the person intended to be cited being a co-partner in the firm of Gebruder Ludwig, send greeting:

You, and each of you, are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' Court of said county, held at the County Court House, in the County of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on the 25th day of January, 1901, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend a judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, as Administrator of the goods, chattels, and credits of Albert E. Benary, deceased; and such of you as are infants and have attained the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian may be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Thomas F. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 23d day of November, 1900.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
TURNER, McCLURE & ROLSTON, Attorneys for Administrator, 22 William Street, New York, N. Y. d10-1aw6wM

CASEY, MARGARET DE KOVEN.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against MARGARET DE KOVEN CASEY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 120 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 29th day of December next.—Dated New York, the 22d day of June, 1900. NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS, Executor. je25-1aw6mM

KOCH, HENRY C. F.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against HENRY C. F. KOCH, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of Boardman & Boardman, No. 155 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 7th day of June next.—Dated New York, the 7th day of December, 1900. ANNA C. KOCH, SAMUEL SLOAN, Executors of the last will and testament of Henry C. F. Koch, deceased. BOARDMAN & BOARDMAN, Attorneys for executors, 155 Broadway, Manhattan, New York. d10-1aw6mM

KOHN, OTTO.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against OTTO KOHN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 44 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 20th day of May next.—Dated New York, the 26th day of November, 1900. DAVID COHEN, Administrator. NICOLL, ANABLE & LINDSAY, Attorneys for Administrator, 31 Nassau Street, city. n26-1aw6mM

WARREN, CATALINA S.—The people of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Charles J. Warren, the next of kin of CATALINA S WARREN, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Raymond Jenkins and Charles N. Lockwood of the City of New York have lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing relating to personal property duly proved as the last will and testament of Catalina S. Warren, late of the County of New York, deceased; therefore, you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 14th day of January, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Thomas F. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 10th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
d3-1aw7wM

Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —REBECCA COHN, Plaintiff, against AARON J. COHN and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 9th day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 5th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows, to wit:

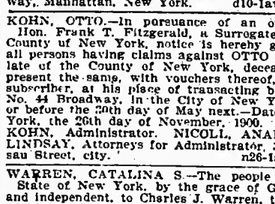
All those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and County of New York, bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of Seventh Street with the westerly side of Lewis Street; running thence northerly along the westerly side of Lewis Street, seventy-four (74) feet; thence westerly seventy (70) feet and eleven (11) inches; thence southerly seventy-three (73) feet and one (1) inch to the northerly side of Seventh Street, and thence easterly along the northerly side of Seventh Street seventy-nine (79) feet and eight (8) inches to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, Nov. 12, 1900.

STANLEY H. BEVINS, Referee.
MORRIS CLARK, Attorney for Plaintiff, No. 64 Canal Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $5,763.09, with interest thereon from the 2d day of November, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $335.22, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $751.40 and interest. Said premises are to be sold subject to four (4) mortgages, aggregating $69,600 and interest.

STANLEY H. BEVINS, Referee.
Dated New York, 12th day of November, 1900.
The foregoing sale is adjourned to Monday, December 17th, 1900, at the same hour and place.
—Dated New York, Dec. 8th, 1900.

STANLEY H. BEVINS, Referee.
d7-2aw2wF&M

Referees' Notices.

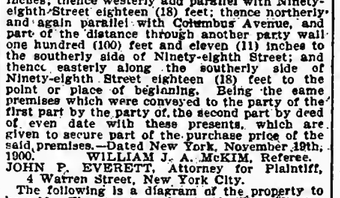
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —HELEN L. ANTHON, plaintiff, against GEORGE O. BOGERT et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date the 9th day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesrooms, Number 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City, County, and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Ninety-eighth Street, distant two hundred and fourteen (214) feet and eleven and one-half (11½) inches westerly from southwest corner of Ninety-eighth Street and Columbus Avenue, and running thence southerly and parallel with Columbus Avenue and part of the distance through a party wall one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches; thence westerly and parallel with Ninety-eighth Street eighteen (18) feet; thence northerly and again parallel with Columbus Avenue, and part of the distance through another party wall one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches to the southerly side of Ninety-eighth Street; and thence easterly along the southerly side of Ninety-eighth Street eighteen (18) feet to the point or place of beginning. Being the same premises which were conveyed to the party of the first part by the party of the second part by deed of even date with these presents, which are given to secure part of the purchase price of the said premises.—Dated New York, November 19th, 1900. WILLIAM J. A. McKIM, Referee.
JOHN P. EVERETT, Attorney for Plaintiff, 4 Warren Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold: The street number is 124 West Ninety-eighth Street.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $15,770.83, with interest thereon from the 23d day of October, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $490.04, with interest from November 9th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and Croton water charges or liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $309 and interest.
—Dated New York, November 19th, 1900.

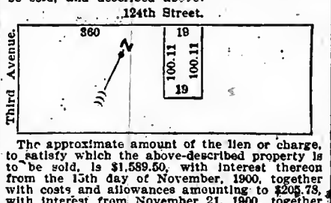
WILLIAM J. A. McKIM, Referee.
n26-2aw3wM&F&d17

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —WILLIAM H. HULL, Plaintiff, against BENJAMIN FRANKLIN and ISABELLE FRANKLIN, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date the 29th day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot or parcel of land, situate at Harlem, in the Twelfth Ward of the City, County, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Commencing at a point on the southerly side of One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street distant three hundred and sixty (360) feet easterly from the intersection of the southerly line of said One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street with the easterly line of Third Avenue and running thence southerly or thereabout and in a line parallel with the easterly line or side of Third Avenue one hundred (100) feet eleven (11) inches more or less to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Twenty-third and the said One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Streets, thence easterly or thereabout along said centre line of the block between said One Hundred and Twenty-third and One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Streets nineteen (19) feet, and thence northerly or thereabout and in a line parallel with said easterly line or side of Third Avenue one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches more or less to the southerly line of said One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, and thence westerly or thereabout along the southerly line or side of said One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street nineteen (19) feet to the point or place of beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to Marsden C. Perry by Elizabeth Belser and Andrew Belser, Sr., her husband, by deed dated June 2, 1869, and recorded June 7, 1869, in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, in Liber 1093 of Conveyances, Page 494.—Dated New York, November 21, 1900.

CHARLES W. WEST, Referee.
BASSETT & WILLIAMS, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 135 Broadway, N. Y. City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold, and described above:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold, is $1,589.50, with interest thereon from the 15th day of November, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $205.78, with interest from November 21, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $318.52 and interest. The premises will also be subject to a prior mortgage, a lien on said premises, amounting to $6,000.00, with interest from November 17th, 1899.—Dated New York, November 21, 1900.

CHARLES W. WEST, Referee.
n26-2aw3wM&F&d17

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—MARGARET KNOX, plaintiff, against JOHN M. BLAUVELT and others, defendants.

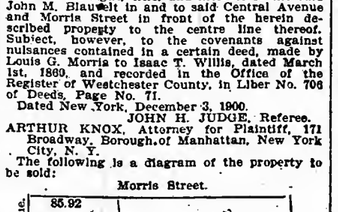
In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date the 28th day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Exchange Salesrooms, 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 24th day of December, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Bronx, in the City, County, and State of New York, and being bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a corner formed by the intersection of the easterly line of Central Avenue with the southerly side of Morris Street, as both the said avenue and the said street are laid down on a certain map entitled "Mortgage map of land belonging to Isaac T. Willis, being part of the farm belonging to Louis G. Morris, Esq. situate in the Town of West Farms, County of Westchester, New York, dated Mott Haven, March 1st, 1869, R. Rose, Surveyor." Running thence southwesterly along the said easterly line of Central Avenue as laid down on said map one hundred twenty-eight feet and seventy one-hundredths of a foot, (128.70) thence easterly and parallel with said Morris Street, as laid down on said maps, one hundred sixteen feet and twenty-five one-hundredths of a foot, (116 25-100;) thence running northerly and at right angles to said Morris Street one hundred and twenty-five (125) feet to said southerly line of Morris Street, and thence running westerly and along said southerly line of Morris Street eighty-five feet and ninety-two one-hundredths of a foot (85 92-100) to Central Avenue at the point or place of beginning, be said several distances and dimensions more or less, together with all the right, title, and interest of the said John M. Blauvelt in and to said Central Avenue and Morris Street in front of the herein described property to the centre line thereof. Subject, however, to the covenants against nuisances contained in a certain deed, made by Louis G. Morris to Isaac T. Willis, dated March 1st, 1869, and recorded in the Office of the Register of Westchester County, in Liber No. 706 of Deeds, Page No. 71.

Dated New York, December 3, 1900.

JOHN H. JUDGE, Referee.
ARTHUR KNOX, Attorney for Plaintiff, 171 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $10,705, with interest thereon from the 23d day of November, 1900, together with costs and allowance, amounting to about $416, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is about $2,040. The premises will be sold subject to a first mortgage now thereon, on which there is owing $7,000 of principal with interest at four per cent. from May 24th, 1900, also to two other mortgages on which there is due and owing $17,000 of principal with accrued interest amounting on the day of sale to about $920, and which principal sum of $17,000 bears interest at six per cent.

Dated New York, December 3, 1900.

JOHN H. JUDGE, Referee.
d3-2aw3wM&Th&d24

Surrogate Notices.

HERBST, GEBHARD.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Gebhard Herbst, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Benjamin L. Brandner, No. 302 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 25th day of March next.—Dated New York, the 17th day of September, 1900. ANNA M. HERBST, Administratrix. BENJ. L. BRANDNER, Atty. for Administratrix, 302 Broadway, New York City.
s17-1aw6mM

Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —JACOB LAWSON, plaintiff, against AQUILA W. WANMAKER and others, defendants.—Actions Nos. I. and II.

In pursuance of judgments of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in each of the above entitled actions, bearing date respectively the 30th day of October, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in each of said judgments named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, the City of New York, on the 17th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By Philip A. Smyth, foreclosure sale, Daniel P. Ingraham, referee, 217 West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, north side, 183 feet west of Seventh Avenue, 17, by 99.11, three-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $10,856.

By Philip A. Smyth, foreclosure sale, John E. Duffy, referee, 51 East One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, north side, 216.1 feet west of Park Avenue, 19.6 by 100.11, three-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $1,725.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, William J. A. McKim, referee, 124 West Ninety-eighth Street, south side, 214.11 feet west of Columbus Avenue, 18 by 100.11, four-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $16,230.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Stanley L. Bevins, referee, Lewis Street, northwest corner of Seventh Street, 74 by 79.8 by 73.1 by 70.11, two six-story brick tenements, with stores. Due on judgment, $5,968; subject to other mortgages for $89,500.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Charles W. West, referee, 232 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, south side, 300 feet east of Third Avenue, 19 by 100.11, three-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $1,795; subject to another mortgage for $6,500.

By McVickar & Co., sale by order of the liquidating committee of the Tradesmen's National Bank, Second Avenue, northeast corner of First Street, 81 by 84.3 by 67.3 by 75.6, six-story fire-front building.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Frank D. Arthur, referee, 2,068 Fifth Avenue, west side, 80.5 feet south of One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street, 19.6 by 75, four-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $24,209.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Edward G. Whitaker, referee, Fulton Street, west side, 400.1 feet south of Westchester Avenue, 25 by 100, two-story frame dwelling. Due on judgment, $1,400.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Rollin M. Morgan, referee, 3,310 Third Avenue, east side, 250 feet south of Boston Road, 16.5 by 45.9 by 16.9 by 29.3, one-story frame store; 907 Boston Road, west side, abutting on the foregoing, 16.9 by 50, two-story frame dwelling. Due on judgment, on 3,310 Third Avenue, $1,731; on 907 Boston Road, $3,920.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

NEAR RIVERSIDE DRIVE AND 88TH ST.

Choice 20-foot extension dwelling in most perfect order throughout; foyer hall; immediate possession; small amount of cash required; would trade for country place.
JOHN N. GOLDING,
9 PINE ST, AND 570 5TH AV.

EXCELLENT FOR INVESTMENT.—Desirable flat property on 47th St., near 8th Av. Always full. Rental, $3,700. Price, $35,000. Full particulars given. Small running expense. S. H. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St.

A.—ASKING $12,000; ANY TERMS; THREE-story, 18 foot brownstone dwelling; vicinity Madison Av.; 127th St.; fine condition; private block; sacrifice to quick buyer. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th St.

BEST CORNER PLOT IN THE BRONX TO hold or improve at once; streets sewered, paved, &c., and paid for; location fine; size 200x115; price $55,000. V. T. HERVEY, 759 Melrose Av.

LOTS $150 TO $400.
Not New Jersey or Brooklyn, but mainland of New York; 40 minutes from 42d St., 6th Av. "L"; high ground; no mosquitoes or malaria; healthiest locality; $5 monthly. BANNAN, 1,123 Broadway.

TO CLOSE AN ESTATE.—14x55x102.6; three-story brownstone high stoop, west side; above 59th St.; bank mortgage, $7,500, at 5 per cent.; little cash required. J. F. McKEON, 370 Washington St.

27 WEST 88TH ST.—Four-story 20-foot-brownstone, box stoop, foyer hall; perfect condition; finest location. Apply to owner, Room 9, 245 Broadway.

INVESTORS:—TWO NEW APARTMENT houses, elegantly located, all leased; will pay 12 per cent. net; plots on and near Broadway. THEO. ROGERS BRILL, 351 West 59th St.

24TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Plot 50x100; on reasonable terms; with building loan to a responsible builder. S. H. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St. (Fifth Avenue Hotel.)

THREE-STORY MODERN DWELLING; 11 rooms, two baths; will sacrifice; $3,000 cash; terms to suit; perfect order. M. J. NEWMAN, 147 East 125th St.

LOTS NEAR BRONX AND PELHAM PARK, fronting Eastern Boulevard and Pelham Road, Coming speculative section. Bargains. S. CONE, owner, 115 Broadway, Room 48.

BARGAIN.—West 15th St. private house, $13,000; sacrificed for $10,500 this week only. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

FOR SALE—20 Av. investment, between 21st and 22d Sts.; size, 20x100. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

FOUR-STORY ENGLISH BASEMENT HOUSE in West 22d St.; only $1,000 cash; bargain. ATWATER, 156 Broadway.

411 WEST 23ST ST.—Large, deep four-story brownstone, handsomely decorated; cheap. W. GILHOOLY, 3 Beekman St.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

QUEENSBOROUGH IS THE MOST VALUABLE from an investment point, and the cheapest in price of any of the Boroughs of New York City. We have the best and cheapest. A single lot or one hundred acres. WHEELER BROTHERS, 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

WHEELER BROTHERS.
Investments Queensborough,
16 COURT STREET, BROOKLYN.

ONE LEFT—2 FAMILY HOUSE, 2-STORY AND basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price $4,000; cash $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

SNAP—880 Monroe St., near Gates Av. L Station; 2-story basement brick dwelling; 10 rooms, bath; $3,000, mortgage $2,500. KETCHAM BROS., 1,505 Broadway.

$1,500 CASH WILL BUY FINE THREE-FAMily house; all improvements; 20 feet front, near Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn. Address D., 70 New York Av., Brooklyn.

FOR SALE.—Good modern 3-story brownstone dwelling; fine condition; Park Slope; desirable location; easy terms. L. H. POTTER & BRO., 81 Flatbush Av.

EQUITIES IN SEVERAL PIECES GOOD INcome property in all sections of Brooklyn for lots or unincumbered private house. FORMAN & WHITLOCK, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

WANTED—LOTS FOR PRIVATE DWELLINGS in exchange for good store property. Send particulars or call afternoons. MOE & CO., Third Avenue, 58th Street, Brooklyn.

$2,250, ONLY $100 DOWN DETACHED HOUSE, 7 rooms; all improvements; stable. STOOTHOFF, Eastern Parkway, near Montauk Av.

NEW 7-ROOMED HOUSES; IMPROVEMENTS; furnace, sewer; easy terms; $2,300. BEARDALL, 15 Willoughby St.

STUYVESANT SECTION.—2-story basement stone, same as new house, $5,500. PINCKNEY, 342 Sumner Av., Brooklyn.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

GREENWICH.—Large acreage property; on the ridge, finest elevation, overlooking the Sound; choice site for large country seat. J. W. ATWATER, 55 Liberty St.

ALL COUNTRY REAL ESTATE A SPECIALty; bargains and exchange all directions. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BRONXVILLE, HARLEM RAILROAD, 28 minutes from 42d; lots near station $100 upward; city improvements; no assessments; title insured; easy payments. OFFENBACH, 97 East 110th.

PORT CHESTER, NEAR STATION AND Sound; 11½ acres; 13 rooms, all improvements; $17,500. PERRY, 309 Broadway.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ICE HOUSE, 80x200; LAKE, 40 ACRES; RAILroad siding; farm, 180 acres; $12,000. CONDICT, 40 Wall St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

THOMAS P. PAYNE, 00 BROADWAY, HAS many parcels, large and small, of the finest city and country Properties for sale and exchange. Flats, Tenements, Business Property, Lots, private Dwellings, all sizes and all sections; suburban Houses and Farms; cash buyers for bargains; bargains for cash buyers; money on mortgage at lowest rates. Call or write.

DESIRABLE EXCHANGES. — Mount Morris Dwelling; Orange Residence; Brooklyn Dwelling; Income-Paying Tenements; Beekman Hill Dwelling, Elizabeth Residence, Washington Heights Dwelling; Others. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

HAVE GOOD-PAYING HOUSE IN BROOKLYN, price $7,500, bank mortgage $1,800, 5 per cent. interest; will exchange for a farm in Nassau County, or suburban lots. For further information call TREAD, 202 East 23d St., New York.

SELL OR TRADE FOR WESTCHESTER property, 286x75, 5th Ward, Manhattan; mortgaged $20,500 at 4½ per cent.; 5 years to run; rented for $1,500 for 3 years. J., Box 102 Times Office.

LEBANON, NEW JERSEY.—Nine acres, house, barn, $2,000; mortgage, $600; make offer. K., 683 Lafayette Av., Brooklyn.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANTING BETTER earnings or an advantageous exchange call on MURRY, 309 Broadway, Room 101.

SEVERAL WEST SIDE DWELLINGS FOR free and clear country or city equities. FINN, 115 Broadway.

Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

GRANTWOOD

ON-THE-HUDSON;
OPPOSITE GRANT'S TOMB.

Nature and man have done their best for you at Grantwood. In the finest region about New York, directly on the Hudson, and only 20 minutes via 14th and 42d St. Ferries and Hudson Traction Co's R. R. 15 minutes from 125th St. Ferry and Trolley. With perfect water works and sewer system, electric lights, macadam streets and all modern conveniences, this is the place that will appeal to your fancy and to your best judgment when you see it. Only a small initial payment required and covering principal and interest; we will build for you house like above, or we will build for you in any style on similar terms. Size of plot, 50x100. House has nine rooms and bath, with butler's pantry extension; large full-width porch, finished in oak, cypress, or whitewood; polished oak staircases, nickel open plumbing, porcelain bathtub, handsome mantels, laundry tubs, furnace, &c.

$40 a Month

Write or call for photographic views and maps of picturesque Grantwood and full particulars.

Free Tickets to visit the property.

Columbia Invest. & Real Estate Co.
1,135 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Telephone 1087 Madison Sq.

LOTS: BRONX BARGAINS; TREMONT, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avenues, Fordham Road, three Woodlawn corners, others. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

Long Island Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

FOR SALE—ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL properties on North Shore of Long Island, 55 acres, 1,800 ft. of fine shore front; good bathing and safe anchorage. No nuisances near. Large springs of fresh water. Many fine old trees. Forty-five minutes from house to 34th St. Ferry. Suitable for both Summer and Winter home. Can be divided into two or more parts. Prices $2,000 to $3,000 per acre. Address F. W. WRIGHT, Manhasset, L. I.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display:

ACCESSIBLE SUBURBAN LOTS WANTED—For improvement; Manhattan income property offered in exchange. GEORGE E. DOWLING, 189 Broadway.

WANTED—Upper Broadway property, improved or unimproved; within $500,000; diagram necessary. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

SMALL MORTGAGE WANTED FOR A SHORT time on a large tract of good paying land near city. PETER JAEGER, 69 West 106th St.

City Houses to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED HOUSE TO rent for Winter season; $300 monthly. W. D. STARR, 313 West 75th St.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

64TH ST., 138 WEST.—Four stories and extension; two bathrooms; open plumbing; prime condition; rent, $1,500; caretaker; examine. FINN, 115 Broadway.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Apartments To Let

Irvington & Rockland

136 TO 142 WEST 16TH ST.
Seven rooms and bath; steam heated and hall service; rents, $55 and $60 per month.

St. John, Wavecrest and Cedarhurst,

35 TO 41 EAST 50TH ST.
Seven and eight rooms and bath; steam heated and hall service; rents, $60 per month.

The Berwick,

315 TO 319 WEST 58TH ST.
Seven rooms and bath; steam heated; rents from $45 to $50 per month.

269 West 136th St.

Gas ranges; seven rooms and bath; rents, $44 per month.

267 West 139th St.

Seven rooms and bath; steam heated; rents, $47.50 and $50.

272 West 139th St.

Corner apartments; all large, light, airy rooms; handsomely decorated, steam heated; 6 and 7 rooms and bath; rents, $42.50.

Janitor on Premises.

THE IOWA,

135 West 104th St.

JUST COMPLETED.
ELECTRIC ELEVATOR & HALL SERVICE. THE FINEST 6 & 7 ROOM APARTMENTS. With all up-to-date modern improvements; every room large, light, and beautifully decorated; large, handsome entrance hall and reception room, richly and tastefully furnished, about 300 feet from 104th St. station; express trains, Broadway and Amsterdam Av. electric cars. For further particulars apply on premises.

PAUL B. PUGH & CO., Builders and Owners.
STABLER & SMITH, AGENTS
674 COLUMBUS AVE., 93D ST.
TELEPHONE 79 RIVERSIDE.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,500 BROADWAY.

MARQUERITE,
2,731 Broadway, near 104th St.
Six rooms and bathroom.....$40
Elevator—Hot water—Open plumbing.
Steam heat, gas and electric lighting, &c.
J. Edgar Leaycraft & Co., B'way, cor. 44th St.

117TH ST., 360-366 WEST, NEAR MORNINGside Park.—Handsomely decorated six room and bath, steam heat, hot water; private surroundings; near Columbia University and convenient to cable and elevated; rents, $25-$27; references.

$38.—HALL ATTENDANCE; STEAM HEAT; hot water supply; tiled bathroom, exposed plumbing, porcelain tubs and sinks; eight rooms and bath. Janitor, 230 West 122d St., or J. EDGAR LEAYCRAF & CO., B'way, cor. 44th St.

254 MADISON AV., NEAR 38TH ST.—$50 for splendid second floor suite of two rooms and bathroom; caterer on premises. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., Broadway and 44th.

BETWEEN 6TH AV. AND BROADWAY, ON West 40th St.—Single flat, seven rooms and bathroom; $50. See janitor, 155 West 40th St., or J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

ELEGANT APARTMENT DOWN-TOWN.—8 rooms and bathroom; all improvements; $38. 41 3d Av., near 10th St.

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HICKS ST., 308.—Desirable apartments of two rooms; prices, $7.

Patents.

THOMAS DREW STETSON, 23 MURRAY ST., patent solicitor and expert; established 1865. Telephone, 2190 Cortlandt.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE LAWYERS' TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK.
37 and 39 Liberty Street,
44½ and 46 Maiden Lane.

Enables dealers and investors to obtain the opinion of their own lawyers, and furnishes in addition the opinion of the Law Department, and in cases of doubt that of its Committee of Council, and a policy of Title insurance. Defends title at its own expense when assailed.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SINGLE FLATS AT 56 EAST 96TH ST., NEAR Madison Av., $38. SCHNUGG, 78 East 96th St.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 99d St.

21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $38 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-21, at 2 East 119th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, 2 in a row, cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $25.

43D ST., 225 WEST, Near Broadway.—Elegant single apartment, eight rooms and bath; modern improvements; steam heat; good light; very neat; rent, $45-$70. G. NICHOLAS, 1,483 Broadway, near 42d, or janitor.

43D ST., 250 WEST, Near Broadway.—Single flat; eight light rooms and bath; all improvements; $45. G. NICHOLAS, 1,483 Broadway, near 42d St., or janitor.

50TH ST., 154 EAST.—Handsome flat, 6 large light rooms and bath, steam-heated, $30; newly painted.

51ST ST., 250 WEST.—Neat flat, 6 rooms, bath; steam heat, modern improvements; rent, $40. G. NICHOLAS, 1,483 Broadway, between 42d and 43d Sts., or janitor.

122 WEST 135TH ST.—$21 and $24; all light; steam heat; hot water supply; six rooms and bathroom. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th St.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $30; handsomely decorated.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $30; handsomely decorated.

114TH ST., 305 WEST.—5 rooms; bath; hot water; all improvements; newly decorated. JANITOR.

10TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartment; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV.—3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

58TH ST., 308 WEST.—Steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; $40.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81-E. 125TH ST.

FACTORY, POWER, RAILROAD SWITCH, Sprinklers, cheap labor, low freights. W. LAWTON, Kingston, N. Y.

ALL THE UPPER PART OF 880 PEARL ST., 4½ lofts, to let; in good order; electric elevator. RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

6TH AV., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

16TH ST., 423 WEST.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

40TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

HAMILTON ST., 164.—Large store, with plate glass front and three dwelling rooms; $15; cheap

DESK ROOM TO LET.—Inquire Room 915, Hartford Building, 41 Union Square. J. L. Manney.

Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, 368 HICKS ST.—Large store, with dwelling rooms; will decorate to suit; $16.

Winter Resorts.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

LAUREL HOUSE, LAKEWOOD.

Open from October 1 to June 1.
A famous Resort hotel in a famous hotel resort.
DAVID B. PLUMER, Manager.
A. J. MURPHY, Assistant Manager.
GOLF AT TWO CLUBS.

Hotels and Restaurants.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

THE WALDO "ON THE HEIGHTS" 170 HICKS ST. NEAR PIERREPONT BROOKLYN

Newly furnished and Heated by Steam.
Excellent Table. Reasonable Rates.
A Delightful Winter Home.
WALDO SPRAGUE, Proprietor.

Automobiles.

$350 ROGERS GASOLINE AUTOMOBILE; seats four; boilers, engines, Baxters, pulsometers, miscellaneous pumps, blowers, forges, radiators, chain hoists; exchanging. MASLINS, 165 First St., Jersey City.

Auction Sales.

James P. Silo, Auctioneer,
ANNOUNCEMENT.
GREAT TRU TEES' SALE AT AUCTION.

DIAMONDS AND OTHER MOUNTED GEMS,

Gold Watches and Novelties of the Jeweler's Art.

Including Diamond, Ruby, Sapphire, and Pearl Brooches, Ladies' and Gents' Gold Rings, Scarf Pins, Bracelets, Ear Drops, Chains, Lockets, Studs, Sleeve Links, Scarf Holders, Cigar Cutters, Charms, &c., &c.,
Together with the Handsome Showcases, in good order.
SALE COMMENCES TUESDAY, DEC. 18TH, at 1 o'clock P. M., and daily until the entire large stock is cleared off,
At the
SILO ART GALLERIES
48 Liberty St.
By order of GEORGE I. WOOLEY, ESQ., Attorney for the Trustees, Lord's Court Building, 27 William St.
Also,
To close a private estate, and by order of Olney & Comstock, attys. for the mortgagees, Two Patent Phillipé Repeating Watches, one pair Diamond Solitaire Earrings, one fine Stone Diamond and Ruby Ring, Marcus & Co.; one Diamond Watch and Pearl Scarf Pin, by Tiffany & Co. Other artistically mounted gems in variety.
Also,
100 pairs fine quality Opera Glasses.
On exhibition To-day, Monday, from 11 until 6.

BOOKS AT AUCTION.
The entire stock of rich standard books contained in store at 148 FULTON STREET, near Broadway, will be sold at public sale, beginning at 12 o'clock every day, except Sunday, 6 o'clock evenings, and continuing every day next week until the entire stock is disposed of. Among other choice works are samples and remainders of the publications of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Appleton & Company, Harper & Brothers, Dodd, Mead & Co., and other leading book houses. Balzac, Hugo, Browning, Irving, Shakespeare, and many standards in choice editions, Encyclopaedia Britannica, Dictionaries, and Teachers' Bibles. Huxley, Darwin, Tyndall, and Spencer; a few slightly damaged sets. Books now open for examination. Visitors invited. Sale positive and without reserve.
A. SANDERS, Auctioneer.
148 FULTON ST., NEW YORK.

A. SANDERS AND ED SIMMONS WILL SELL to-day at 12 M. and 6 P. M. miscellaneous collection of books at 148 Fulton St. Sale peremptory.

E. W. AYERS SELLS MISCELLANEOUS books at auction to-day at 12 M. and 6 to 10 P. M., 7 Astor House Block. Sale peremptory.

C. WESTLEY, AUCTIONEER, SELLS EVERY evening, 730 Japanese high art and paintings. 79 East 125th St.

J. W. CAMPBELL, JR., AUCTIONEER, sells books and Bibles, 7:30 at night, 152 E. 125th St.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WISSNER PIANOS

Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN, COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

POPULAR

PEASE PIANOS.

109 WEST 42d ST., JUST WEST OF 6th AV.
Over 64,000 purchasers in the last half century will attest to the durability and fine tone qualities of the PEASE PIANOS. Special factory prices and easy terms. Bargains in used pianos of standard makes, from $125 up. Write for catalogue.
OPEN EVENINGS.

CALENBERG PIANOS

Are The BEST in
TONE, TOUCH, FINISH and DURABILITY.
Over 16,000 pleased customers is our evidence.
Special Inducements for Holiday Season.
TUNING, REPAIRING, RENTING.
Warerooms, 23 East 14th St.
EASY TERMS. OPEN EVENINGS.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano, stool, and scarf, delivered free; balance on easy monthly payments. In addition to elegant stock we have STEINWAY, $150; CHICKERING, $185, and many other rare bargains. Rents $4 up.
741-743 8th Ave., near 46th St.
Open evenings.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS.

cost no more, but give better satisfaction and last much longer than the rail of cheaply constructed pianos of recent origin. Large and elegant stock, including many other first-class makes. A small cash payment and balance in easy monthly payments. Rents $4 up.
MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.
OPEN EVENINGS.

BRIGGS PIANOS.

A few of these fine instruments, slightly used and fully warranted, at reduced prices cash or installments; pianos to rent; tuning and repairing.
C. H. DITSON & CO.,
867 Broadway, 18th St.

KRAKAUER PIANOS.

For Sale and to Rent. Easy Terms.
113 EAST 14TH ST.

BEFORE DECIDING ON A PIANO IT will be to your interest to consult us and ascertain the great advantages in price, terms, and quality of the Hardman. "A word to the wise is sufficient." If in town call on us, if not, write. Hardman, Peck & Co., Mfrs., 5th Av. and 19th St.

Buy of manufacturer: reliable Connor Pianos; easy terms; renting; exchanging; repairing. Open evenings, 4 East 42d St.

WINTERROTH PIANOS. CASH, INSTALMENTS. NEW PIANOS $125, UPWARD. 105 East 14th St. & 98 5th Ave.

$200 NEW PIANO, STOOL, AND SCARF; $7 per month. Call at 1,567 B'way, cor. 47th St. Open evenings.

$100.00—THIS MONTH ONLY, HOLIDAY BARgains; Beautiful Upright Piano, Stool, Scarf, 5 years' warrantee, one quarter's lessons free with every Piano; latest improvements. BANKS, 598 Lexington Av., 52d St.; open evenings.

MARSCHEIDER, 10 East 14th St.—Guaranteed high-grade pianos; easy terms; bargains in used pianos; price on every piano. Open evenings.

BARGAINS—New and second-hand upright pianos; fine makes, all improvements, mahogany, walnut, oak, or rosewood cases; fully warranted; $125 up; open evenings. WHITNEY & CO., 112 West 125th St.

GUYRIER BROS., 13 EAST 14TH ST.
Pianos to rent at $4. Sold on easy payments. Slightly used, $75. Tuning, repairing, exchanging.

A MAGNIFICENT, NEARLY NEW MAHOGany Upright piano; rich, beautiful tone; will sell for $185 if sold immediately; also furniture entire residence. 128 West 73d St.

STEINWAY UPRIGHT, BARGAIN.—High grade uprights, $95 upward; $10 down, $6 monthly; rents, $3. Open evenings. O. W. WUERTZ, 1,514 3d Av., near 85th Street.

BARGAINS.—Pianos, new and second hand; Steinway, Chickering, $100 up; rent, $3 up; cartage free. MYLIUS, 12 Union Square, between 14th and 15th Sts.

$125 ELEGANT UPRIGHT, STOOL, SCARF; 5 years' warrantee; quarter's lessons, and delivered free. Tuning, repairing, moving, etc., lowest terms. BANKS, 598 Lexington Av., 52d.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

BEFORE RENTING OR PURCHASING A piano call and examine our stock; rents $3 up; old pianos exchanged. DEWEY & CO., 5 East 14th St.

TEN SLIGHTLY USED UPRIGHT PIANOS, $110.00, $120.00, and upward; open evenings. R. C. JACKSON & CO., 15 East 14th St.

STEINWAY.—Every improvement. Beautifully carved. Great sacrifice. Elegant upright; only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

BARGAINS IN STEINWAY, BRADBURY, Hardman, Waters pianos; cash or easy payments. HEINRICH'S, 590 Fulton St., Brooklyn.

SQUARE PIANO, $15; PEDAL BASS ORGAN, $20; 50c. weekly installments. TIFFANY PIANO CO., 129 5th Av.

PIANO, $45, $3 PER MONTH; FINE ROSEwood upright, $80. HUBLEK, 1,524 Broadway, cor. Hancock St., Brooklyn.

WALTERS PIANOS, 105 WEST 33D ST., NEAR Broadway.—Large assortment, various makes; installments, exchange, repairing, tuning.

BUY THE RELIABLE LOHMANN PIANOS, CASH, INSTALLMENTS; RENTED AND EXCHANGED, 115-117 EAST 14TH ST.

$45 BEAUTIFUL WALNUT UPRIGHT PIANO; prominent make; bargain; $3 monthly until paid. 83 Court St., Brooklyn.

UPRIGHT, ROSEWOOD CASE, FULL-SIZE, $50; snap. O'REILLY, 109 Franklin Av., near Myrtle Av., Brooklyn.

$90 BUYS A BEAUTIFUL MAHOGANY UPright; cash or easy payments. HEINRICH'S, 590 Fulton St., Brooklyn.

UPRIGHT, $50; CHICKERING BARGAIN; Installments. LOCKHART & CO., 117 East 14th St, and 92 5th Av.

$15—MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN, $2 MONTHLY until paid. 83 Court St., Brooklyn. Open evenings.

FINE PIANO, great bargain, $25; cash or installments. 1,351 3d Av.

120 WEST 127TH ST., SOHMER SQUARE Piano for sale cheap; in good condition.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDed into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 30th St.

B. SILBERSTEIN, PRACTICAL FURRIER.—Seal garments to order; latest styles; furs remodeled. 22 East 125th Street.

L. BRYANT, PRACTICAL FURRIER, 348 6TH Av.—Honest place for repairing furs; largest assortment; cheapest prices.

AD. WOLFF, 31 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments a specialty; altered and repaired; lowest rates.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SMALLEST WHITE TOY BULL TERRIER IN America; 3½ lbs.; sell cheap; all week. Miss HALL, 100 East 121st St.

MEYERS, 207 WEST 23D ST.—Dogs, birds, gold fish; aquarium; dog and bird medicine; fine singing canary and cage, $2.60.

COLLIE PUPS, 5 MONTHS OLD, PRIZE stock, pedigree; white and sable. DR. DICKEY, 172 East 123d St.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT

If you think that if you can afford to dress yourself as well as your neighbor with his bank account you have a right to make as good an appearance as you can:
If you think your wife has the right to dress herself well in spite of the fact that you are only an honest working man;
If you think that keeping your children well dressed will help cultivate a taste in them for better associates and will tend to tear down the false bars between the plebeian and aristocrat;
If you think a well-furnished home and the responsibility of having honest debts to pay will improve your own moral tone and keep you away from the saloons and evil associations—
In short, if you think you have as much right to live for your money as well as anybody else and that you are a free man and the best arbiter of your own destiny, then connect yourself with
THE AARONSON CREDIT CENTRE,
who believe that an honest man is entitled to credit and who are perfectly willing to trust you.
Remember, this is a CREDIT CENTRE, where anybody and everybody can get anything and everything on credit.
MEN'S AND BOYS' SUITS, ready made or to order; Top Coats, Reefers, Hats, Shoes.
LADIES' AND MISSES' Tailor-made Suits, Underwear, Dry Goods, Millinery, Capes, Cloaks, Furs, Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, Plated Ware, DIAMONDS, ALL KINDS JEWELRY, FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC.

AARONSON CREDIT CENTRE

62 BOWERY AND 157 CANAL ST., ONE FLIGHT UP.
Open from 8:30 A. M. to 8:30 P. M. Open Saturdays from 4:30 afternoon to 11 at night. Also Sunday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

MONSTER BOOK SALE.

100,000 HOLIDAY BOOKS
AT YOUR OWN PRICES.
Everybody in New York for fifty miles around knows Lovering. His store is headquarters for book-lovers and book-buyers. Books to suit all tastes and all pocketbooks. Historical books, biographical, religious, scientific, books of travel, books of fiction, books for children, poetry, etc. Anything you want, and positively at the lowest prices. Encyclopaedias on sale for a song—Appleton's, Chambers', Britannica, and People's. Books and libraries purchased. Chambers' Encyclopaedia, 15 vols., $2.50.
LOVERING, 823 BROADWAY, Near 12th St.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY AFFORDED those who contemplate the purchase of furniture, bric-a-brac, works of art, &c.—Entire contents of a richly furnished private residence sacrificed regardless cost or value: Gold Suit, Cabinets, Paintings, silk covered Chairs, Couches, Leather Chairs, magnificent upright mahogany Piano, $180, standard make and sold for $475 regular; richly carved oak Dinette Room Set, complete, with tapestry covered Chairs, originally cost $900, sell $400; Cut Glass, superb Draperies and Lace Curtains, Brass Beds, Mahogany Bureaus, Chiffoniers, Desks, &c.; in fact, everything is essential for completely furnished home; sold separately or reasonable offer refused; must be sold at once. Monday and Tuesday, 128 West 73d St.

CREDIT

Ladies' and Gents' Clothing
Without Security or Easy Payments.

LENOX CLOTHING CO.
2,239 3D AVE., Near 125th St.
CONFIDENTIAL. ONE FLIGHT UP.

THE LATEST.—Indestructible Records, 50c each; Talking Machines and Supplies, cut rates; Graphophone Grand, $40.00; A. T., $15.00; Eagle, $4.00; Concert Grand Records, 75c; Good Toy Machines, $1.00; Edison or Columbia Records, $3.50 doz. J. McILLYNNE, 202 B'way, Room 4.

A.—ON WEEKLY PAYMENTS.—Fine diamonds, watches; no trash; delivered on first payment; lowest prices; business confidential. Call or address WATCH SUPPLY CO., 3 Maiden Lane, Room 52. All goods guaranteed.

R. V. HURD, LATE WITH WILLIAM MOIR, saves you money on diamonds, watches, and all repairing; old gold, jewelry, gems bought, exchanged or remodeled. 126 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Avs.

THE "EXPRESS DUPLICATOR," MAKING 150 clear and distinct copies from one original; the best multicopier extant. BENSINGER DUPLICATOR CO., 123 and 125 Liberty St., New York.

WATCHES AND DIAMONDS ON SMALL weekly or monthly payments; lowest prices; goods guaranteed; holiday goods a specialty. NATIONAL DIAMOND AND WATCH CO., 177 Broadway.

TYPEWRITERS SOLD AND RENTED; EXpert repairing done. GENERAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 1 Park Place. Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

SEWING MACHINES RENTED BY WEEK OR month; $2 monthly; Domestic, Singer, New Home, Wilcox & Gibbs Automatic; all kinds repaired. NICHOLES, 276 8th Av., 24th St.

HARDMAN UPRIGHT PIANO, THREE PEDals; folding bed, mattress, chiffonier; all in curly birch; also pool table. Apply to owner, Room 9, 245 Broadway.

CREDIT WATCHES, $1 WEEKLY; DIAMONDS, silver novelties; lowest prices; strictly confidential; open evenings. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane; take elevator.

ANTIQUE HALL CLOCKS, MARBLE COLUMN Empire Clocks, China Closets, High-Back Chairs, Clawfoot Sofas, Ball Clawfoot Desks, Dressers, etc. MULLER, 445 East 52d St.

MISFIT CARPETS HALF PRICE.
BRING SIZE OF YOUR ROOM.
JAMES R. KEANE & CO.,
1,351-1,355 Third Av., between 77th and 78th Sts.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW,) $40; REMODELED Remingtons, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone,) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

NAVAJO INDIAN RUGS, BLANKETS, CURIOS, burnt leather pictures, novelties. Wholesale prices. Capt. RIGGS, 41 University Place.

FOR SALE, CHEAP, SQU

In summer we make ready for winter; perhaps that influenced us in our choice of two cloths of a very decided greenish tinge—we thought we were putting our best foot foremost.

But we haven't a leg to stand on: the cloth, though the best the best mills make, and turned into suits cut and trimmed in accordance with the quality of the cloth, ought to have sold at $32 and $25—haven't sold.

At $15 they will hustle out.

That's just one example of the way we've treated our entire fancy sorts suit stock—if you don't like greens you'll find browns, blues and reds.

Overcoats too.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.
We fill orders by mail.

RAID ON PARK PEDDLERS

Driven Away from the Borders of William H. Seward Park.

PUSHED ALONG BY POLICEMEN

Peddlers Wept, Swore, and Wailed in Many Languages, but Park Keepers and Police Were Relentless.

Policemen and park keepers played battledore and shuttlecock with the peddlers along the Hester Street border of the William H. Seward Park yesterday morning. By 10 o'clock there was hardly one of the vendors in the forbidden territory, and the few who occasionally made spasmodic efforts to return to the park fence were hustled away with scant ceremony.

Mr. Clausen's representatives appeared at 6 o'clock. They had thought, not being familiar with the early hours kept by the peddlers, that their arrival at such a time would insure to them first possession of the field. But they were mistaken, for as soon as they were in sight they deserted along the sidewalk at least 200 salesmen of eatables, tin horns, trinkets, light clothing, and every other kind of thing that is bartered on the streets of that quarter. Pushcarts were arranged in lines in the gutters, old women sat on the curbs with their baskets on their arms, and waited for the rush hours of trade, little boys and girls (for the fraternity of the peddling profession numbers in its ranks some of these) ran up and down, waving about their heads whatever they had to sell.

As the Park Commissioner's emissaries came around the corner there was a perceptible stir, for, although there were many who had never even heard of the plans to keep them off the sidewalk abutting the fence, there were some who knew what was in store for them. Those who did not know were not long kept in doubt, for the keepers waved in the air their light bamboo sticks, which they had brought along to instill fear into the hearts of the enemy, and began to drive all hands to the other side of the street.

On that other side stood a couple of policemen. Mr. Clausen had ordered his men to simply keep unobstructed the side toward the park fence, and they knew that, as soon as they had driven the vendors to the middle of the street, their duty was ended. Across the way was the realm of the "cops."

So it happened that, as the peddlers were shoved across, they were straightway pushed back again. The policemen yelled at them even more harshly than had the keepers, and in five minutes after the arrival of the latter all the pushcarts and other receptacles of merchandise were huddled together in the middle of the pavement, while the owners swore and wept and wailed in as many languages as there were at the Tower of Babel. They surged first one way and then the other, trying alternately to deposit their wares on the side of the keepers, and then on that of the officers of the law. At every turn they met with a repulse; invariably, either the canes of the Clausen emissaries or the clubs of the police frightened them back to the neutral ground in the middle.

Gradually, after their efforts to regain the lost position had been repeated many times without success, one by one the peddlers edged away toward the neighboring side streets, and came not again within reach of their persecutors. Some of them, however, stopped trying to sell their goods and shouted defiance from the corners roundabout, calling down all evils on both police and emissaries, and asking in loud tones why it was that they were not to be allowed to "make a living."

There was no hostility between the two cohorts of guardians of the peace. Whenever there was a lull in the conflict keepers and officers chatted amicably together, and none of them seemed to be influenced to hostility by the unfavorable remarks recently made by the head of one of their departments about the workings of the other department. Both sides seemed to think it a huge joke that they could rout out of the neighborhood the vendors, for whom they professed a great aversion.

"To-morrow," said a keeper, "we are going to have a lot more fun. The fakirs are getting stubborn, and they will be likely to put up a little resistance. But we shall drive all of them away from the neighborhood before we are through."

"Yes," echoed a policeman, smiling as he howled at a peddler who was trying to slip around the corner and settle his cart in the forbidden territory, "yes, we'll fix 'em. They have been giving us a lot o' trouble all the time, and now the Park Commissioner has given us a chance to get even. Why, the up-town 'cops' don't know what trouble is. They just ought to have a sample o' this down here, and then they'd get enough of it pretty quick, with a thousand or more of these jackass peddlers littering up the street and making so much noise that a man can't even sleep."

The victory over the vendors was certainly decisive—for one day, at least. If they are beaten to a finish, the intelligent ones of them say that they are going to get the agent who manages a vacant lot on Hester Street to rent it to them, and that then all of them will congregate there and defy anybody who molests them. But, according to the park keepers, there are insurmountable objections, which the chief keeper described as follows:

"Even if they get the agent to let them have the lot, they can't stay there. As soon as they get in, the Health Department is bound to demand that they have a concrete pavement in the place. Then the Building Department will require that a shed of some kind be erected over the whole lot, and, last of all, the Department of Education will take a hand, for there is a public school next door, and the having a fakirs' paradise right under the school windows will be out of the question."

Where most of the trouble has been is along Hester Street, through the two blocks between Essex and Suffolk Streets, that being the northern boundary of the park. The other streets that surround the fence—Essex, East Broadway, and Suffolk—are somewhat, but not thickly, infested with peddlers.

THE CHURCH AND THE THEATRE.

Service for the Actors' Alliance—Plea for a Dramatic University.

A service was held yesterday afternoon at the Church of the Incarnation, Madison Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street, for the Actors' Church Alliance, by the Rev. Dr. W. M. Grosvenor, rector of the church. "The Church's Message and the Theatre's Reply" was the subject of the sermon by the Rev. Walter Bentley, General Secretary of the Alliance, who held that the stage ought to be the Church's greatest ally in the work of the world's redemption.

"We try," said the preacher, "to relegate God to the domain of revealed religion, and what have we as the result in this city to-day—immorality, political corruption, 'your own pocket every time,' a debased press, and a degraded stage as the mirror of it all.

"Puritanism would divert people from art, which is worship, and it turns them to greed. It is true that the stage does deal out infection in spite of the protests of the pulpit and the travesty of the law—all because there is money in it, and an alliance of Church and stage is needed to strive after purity, not merely of the flesh, but of the spirit and to fight covetousness.

"The hope of the Alliance is to bring about the establishment of a great National dramatic university from which men and women shall be graduated for the work of interpreting, uplifting, and inspiring human life, so that the stage shall no longer be a refuge for pugilists and for women with a past."

The preacher said that the Alliance also hoped that some Church would adopt a suggestion recently made by Dr. Parkhurst and endow a theatre and show what can be done, for example, in a great east side playhouse fun on the right lines of true art.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

JAMES McCREERY & CO.
BROADWAY AND 11TH STREET.

Sale of Holiday Dress Patterns.
Commencing Monday, December 17th.

Entire accumulation of this season's plain and novelty Dress Goods,—from the Wholesale Stock, representing about 10,000 Dress Lengths.

$2.00 to $10.00 per pattern;
Usual Price $4.50 to $20.00.

House Coats.

Men's House Coats,—reversible Cloth, plaid back. Pockets, collar and sleeves faced with plaid.
Suitable for Holiday Gifts.
$4.00, $5.50 and $7.00;
Formerly $5.50 to $12.50.

Flannel Waist Lengths.

500 patterns. Various colors. 2½ yards long. Dotted, figured and striped.
$1.25 each.

Linen Department.

Lunch Sets. Hemstitched Cloths with one dozen Napkins to match.

2x2 yards,	$6.75	and	$8.00 per set.
2x2½ "	$7.50	"	$9.00 " "
2x3 "	$6.50	"	$10.00 " "

Damask Table Cloths.

2x2 yards,	$2.00	and	$2.40 each.
2x2½ "	$2.50	"	$3.00 "
2x3 "	$3.00	"	$3.75 "
5-8 Napkins to match,	$2.40	and	$2.75 per doz.
3-4 " " "	$3.00	"	$3.60 " "

Renaissance Scarfs, Centre-pieces, round and square D'Oyleys.
At very greatly reduced prices.

Blanket Department.

Eastern Wool,—300 pairs, $4.50 & $5.75 per pair.
Extra size,—fine California Wool, $7.50 & $9.00.
200 Blankets for wrappers,—new, handsome designs,—numerous colors,
$2.00 to $4.75.

Down Comfortables,—covered with Sateen or fancy Silk,—in a great variety of patterns.
Silkoline Comfortables.
$1.00 and $1.25.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.
BROADWAY AND 11TH STREET.

CARPETS
GREAT CLEARANCE SALE,
Consisting of odd pieces and patterns we do not intend duplicating, in all the different grades. Some we have made up into RUGS in various sizes, suitable for all kinds of rooms, with Borders, ALL AT REMNANT PRICES.
(Bring size of room.)

ORIENTAL RUG SALE!
Consisting of Antique Irans, Daghestans, Shirazes, Kazoks, Shirvans, and Anatolians, in two lots, at the uniform price of $18.50 and $24.50 each.
In addition, a large collection of
Hall and Stair Strips, Single and in pairs to match, ranging from 3 ft. wide to 20 ft. in length.
Also a few very choice old pieces at proportionately low prices.

FURNITURE.
Many odd pieces for Parlor and Reception Room, consisting of Chairs, Tables, Divans, and Cabinets, in gold and other fancy effects.
Also Morris Chairs, Writing Desks, and large Writing Tables.
UPHOLSTERY GOODS in silk and satin damask.
CURTAINS in all the various grades and makes, Draperies, Sofa Pillows, Scarfs, &c.
ALL ESPECIALLY SUITABLE FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS.
(Open Evenings Until Xmas.)

SHEPPARD KNAPP & CO.
Sixth Ave., 13th and 14th Sts.

O'Neill's.
Holiday Books.

Handy Volume Edition of the Classics.
"Reveries of a Bachelor," Masterpieces from Eliot, "Evangeline," "Water Babies," "Robert Browning," and others,
19c. each.
Publishers' Price, 50c.

Antique Library of Modern Authors.
Bound in neat attractive binding. Gilt top such authors as: "Eliot," "Dumas," "Dickens," "Scott," "Kipling," "Lytton," "Doyle," and others.
50c. each.
Publishers' Price, 1.00.

Padded Poets.
Such authors as Scott, Longfellow, Moore, Whittier, Shelley, and others. Publishers' price, 2.00,
1.10 each.

Empire Edition of Gilt Top Books
Including such authors as "Henty," "Optic," "Mrs. Oliphant," "Corelli," "Hall Caine," "Cooper," "Tennyson," and others. Publishers' price, 50c.
25c. each.

Illustrated Teachers' Bibles containing Reference Maps, Helps, etc., Divinity Circuit. Publisher's price, 2.50, 1.10 each.

Wood's Natural History
fully illustrated, five large octavo volumes. Cloth bound. Publisher's price, 7.50, 1.98

Dickens' Works
Thirteen titles in half morocco binding, gilt top, fine quality paper. Publisher's price, 2.00,
69c each

☞Ask for our catalogue of standard and popular books.

Open Evenings.
Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

O'Neill's.
The O'Neill Ball Bearing Sewing Machine.
A new and popular style, light running, thoroughly protected from dirt and dust, oak or walnut drop head case made by one of the leading manufacturers in the United States. Complete with all attachments and a five year guarantee,
21.75
Same machine with box cover, 18.75.
The "Pacific" Sewing Machine, with drop head table of oak, five drawers, full set of attachments, and a five year guarantee. Regular price, 40.00.
Other styles at 13.50, 14.50, and 15.75.
16.50

Open Evenings,
Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

Dress Goods.
Special Holiday Offerings.

36-in. Plaid Dress Goods, at 25c
36-in. All Wool Serge, at 50c
36-inch All Wool Venetian Cloth, at 48c.
42-in. All Wool Cheviot, at 48c
42 " Diagonal " " 48c
45 " Fine Cheviot, " 65c
50 " Crispy Serge, " 75c
54 " Dress Cheviot, " 75c
In all the desirable colors, and black.

Dress Patterns.
A large variety of dress lengths, in fine imported goods, marked less than half their original prices. A special one, at $2.95.
We put up dress lengths in boxes free of charge if customers desire it.

Lord & Taylor,
Broadway & 20th St.

Sale of
Men's House Coats & Gowns.

Tricot Jackets,
all wool, with quilted satin collar, cuffs and pocket welts; colors, navy, seal, wine and myrtle,
$5.00.

Tuxedo Jackets,
all wool, made from reversible cloths, trimmed with military braid,
$7.95.

Velveteen Jackets,
imported, made with plain stitched edges; colors, navy, seal, myrtle and wine, $14.75.

Blanket Robes,
all wool, in stripes, plaids and polka dots,
$4.50, $5.50 & $6.95.

Dressing Gowns,
imported, all wool, made in England,
$10.50.

Lord & Taylor,
Broadway & 20th St.

O'Neill's.
WOMEN'S CLOTH JACKETS.
The newest shapes, short and long effects, all men tailored.
Black Diagonal Cheviot Jackets, short and jaunty, notched collar, reveres and facings of Peau de Soie, lined with black Taffeta,
9.98
Automobile Coats of excellent quality of Kersey, collar, reveres and cuffs finished with stitched velvet, lined with elegant quality of Satin, 30.00

FUR JACKETS AND CAPES.
Electric Seal Coats, 20 inches long, full box fronts, high storm collars and reveres, lined with brown satin,
37.00
Canada Seal Capes, 30 inches long, and 120-inch sweep, Alaska Sable Collar and Edge, full lined with brown satin, 37.50

MUFFS AND NECK SCARFS.

Red Fox Muffs,	6.75	Red Fox Scarfs,	6.75
Alaska Sable Muffs,	7.50 to 15.00	Alaska Sable Scarfs,	5.98 to 9.98
Sable Fox Muffs, with heads, tails and claws,	13.98	Sable Fox Scarfs, with six fine tails,	18.00

GLOVES.
A full assortment of Ladies', Men's and Children's Kid Gloves. Fur and Fleece Lined Gloves, Cloth Gloves, etc., at very attractive prices. These are special LADIES' TWO-CLASP GLACE KID GLOVES, all shades,
98c pair, value, 1.50
Men's Gray Mocha Gloves, value, 1.50, 98c pair.
A full line of Jouvin & Cie.'s celebrated Kid Gloves, including all the newest evening shades

DRESS GOODS.
The Great Sale of all-wool Scotch Plaid Dress Goods still continues! Thousands of yards comprising the finest color combinations, 48 to 54 inches wide, heretofore 1.25 to 2.00 yard,
59c yard
Also many exceptional values in Black and Colored Dress Goods appropriate for Christmas giving.

DRESS PATTERNS AT HALF USUAL PRICES!
A special lot comprising this season's most desirable styles and fabrics in lengths of 6 to 8 yards, at 2.00 to 5.00 a Pattern.

SALE OF LEATHER GOODS.
Ladies' Real Seal and Alligator Combination Pocket Books, some plain, others with handsome Sterling Silver corners, value, 75c,
49c each
Ladies' Combination Pocket Books in Walrus, Levant, Seal, Morocco and Alligator, latest shapes, plain and mounted in Sterling Silver, value, 1.49,
98c each

CHOICE NOVELTIES IN FANCY GOODS.
Bureau Scarfs and Sets, Ladies' Neckwear, Handkerchiefs, Mufflers, etc.

Open Evenings.
Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.
Grand Opera Season 1900-1901.
Under the direction of Mr. MAURICE GRAU.
TO-MORROW EVG. AT 8,
ROMEO ET JULIETTE, (in French.)
Mme. Melba; MM. Ed de Reszke, Plançon, Sizes, and Saleza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Wed. Evg., Dec. 19, at 8—TANNHAEUSER, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Plançon, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Fri. Evg., Dec. 21, at 8—LOHENGRIN, (in German.) Mmes. Nordica and Schumann-Heink; MM. Dippel, Bertram, and Ed de Reszke. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Dec. 22, at 2—ROMEO ET JULIETTE, (in French.) Mme. Melba, Ed de Reszke. Gilibert, and Salaza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Evg., Dec. 22, at 8, at Popular Prices—AIDA, (in Italian)—Mmes. Susan Strong and Homer; MM. Scotti, Journet, and Imbart de la Tour. Conductor, Fion.
Sun. Evg., Dec. 23, First Grand Popular Concert. Seats now on sale at BOX OFFICE, OPERA HOUSE, and at BOX OFFICE RATES at Tyson & Co.'s and Ruilman's, 111 Broadway.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

Proctor's — Continuous Performance. — 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
23d St. {Clifford & Hath, Russell Bros., Le Roy & Olsson, Alice Pierce, Lew Sully, etc.
5th Ave. {Marcel's Living Pictures, Ezra Kendall, Staley & Birbeck, Lottie Gibson, etc.
58th St. {Della Fox, John Kernell, Clarice Vance, Olympia Quartet, Falke & Semon.
125th St. {Four Cohans, Yorke & Adams, Sager Midgley and Gertie Carlisle, Ethel Levey.

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evs. 8:10. Matinée Saturday at 2:10.
Last Week "FOXY QUILLER" With JEROME SYKES
Mon., Dec. 24. Seat Sale Thurs., Dec. 20. JEFFERSON "A Royal Rogue" De ANGELIS and Co. Special Christmas Matinée.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av.
"Children's Theatre" Christmas Plays "THE FORESTRING"
a 3-act Play of Fairyland.
Orchestra of Children. Opening Thursday Aft., DEC. 20, at 3 o'clock, and every aft. at same hour.

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. CITY CLUB BURLESQUERS. NEW LIVING PICTURES.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, 14th St. & Irving Pl.
LAST TWO WEEKS JAMES O'NEILL in MONTE CRISTO
PRICES, 25, 50, 75, 1.00.
Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8:15.

Koster & Bial's 25c Daily Mat. Evgs. 25c. up. Boxes, $1. Gertrude Haynes, Dolan & Lenhar, Maxwell & Simpson, Herbert's Dogs, Juan Caicedo, The Donovans, Williamson & Stone, 15 others.

KEITH'S HART & DeMAR. McINTYRE & HEATH. WHITE, STUART & CO. Felix & Barry, Foy & Clark, Will H. Fox.

THE NEW YORK B'way, 45th St. Mats. Wed. & Sat. BEST SEAT 50c. Ballet, Operetta, & 20 AMER. & EUROPEAN NOVELTIES. Concert Sunday Aft. and Eve.

GRAND Op. House. "THE HIGHWAYMAN."

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Every Eve. & Mat. Sat'y. The great laughing success "DAS GROBE HEMD." Comedy by Carlweis.

BIJOU, B'way & 30th St. Tl. 2224 Mad. Sq. Mat. Sat. Ev. 8:20. MADGE SMITH
May Irwin's biggest hit.

AMERICAN 42D ST. AND 8TH AV. Evgs. 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c. Mat. Daily (ex'pt Mon.) 25c. The Silver King.

SAVOY 8:20. Mats. Wed., Sat., Xmas, N. Y'rs. Henrietta Mistress Nell. CROSMAN

Despondent Gardener Tries Suicide.

Isaac Gilbert, a Bridgeport gardener, who had been seeking work in this city for several weeks, tried to end his life yesterday in the Rockland Hotel, 337 Third Avenue, by inhaling illuminating gas. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Gilbert had enough money to last him a few days when he came to the city. Finding no work he grew despondent. It is said that he will recover.

Amusements.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St. Daniel Frohman, Manager. Begins 8:30.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY.
4th Week LAST 4 NIGHTS LAST 4 NIGHTS 4th Week
of the 4-act Modern Society Comedy,
THE MAN OF FORTY
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING,
for the holiday season, the new comedy—which ran over six months in London, last season—entitled
Lady Huntworth's Experiment
By R. C. Carton, author of "Lord & Lady Algy" and "Wheels Within Wheels."
THE CAST WILL INCLUDE:
Hilda Spong, Cecilia Loftus, Mrs. Charles Walcot, May Robson, John Mason, William Courtenay, Jameson Lee Finney, Grant Stewart, and Wm. F. Owen.
MATS. WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.
EXTRA MAT. NEW YEAR'S DAY.

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d. At 8:30 Daniel Frohman, Manager. Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15.
EXTRA MATINEES XMAS AND NEW YEAR'S.
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY.

WALLACK'S Evgs. at 8:30. Mats. Wed., Sat., & Xmas., 2:15
MARY MANNERING —IN— JANICE MEREDITH

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Evs. 8:15 Sharp. Mats. Tues. & Sat., 2
FIDDLE-DEE-DEE AND BURLESQUE OF ARIZONA.
Next Thursday, Burlesques of THE GAY LORD QUEX and A ROYAL FAMILY.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. To-night 8:15. 33d & B'way. Sat. Mat. Only.
LULU GLASER LAST TWO WEEKS IN SWEET ANNE PAGE.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE Evgs., 8. Only Matinée Sat., 2. OLGA NETHERSOLE IN SAPHO.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—NEVER AGAIN.

Amusements.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Wednesday Afternoon, December 19, at 3.
VIOLIN RECITAL
FRITZ
KREISLER
Res. seats, $1, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. Management ..... HENRY WOLFSOHN

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
TUESDAY AFT., December 18, at 2:15.
Second Chamber Music Matinee.
KNEISEL QUARTET
Assisted by MR. HAROLD BAUER PIANO
(His First Appearance in New York.)
Res. seats, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

Hammerstein's VICTORIA Last Week. 42d St. B'y & 7th Av. Evs. 8:30. Gen. Adm. 50c. Mat. Sat. p'cs, 50, 75, $1. No smoking or drinking at Mats. AGOUSTS—STAR AND GARTER
BEGINNING CHRISTMAS NIGHT, MARIE DRESSLER and Company in the Musical Comedy, "MISS PRINNT."

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Evry. Ev. at 8:15 Mat. Sat., 2. FLORODORA

HERALD SQUARE Every Eve. 8:20. Theatre. Mat. 2:20, Wed. & Sat.
Only Two Weeks More. Holiday Seats Selling.
Augustus Thomas' Masterwork, ARIZONA

WORLD IN WAX. EDEN MUSEE CINEMATOGRAPH. Xtra attractions. Charming Concerts.

REPUBLIC THEATRE 42d St., just west of B'way. Evgs. 8:20. Mats. Wed. Sat. & Xmas, 2:15. —Telephone 3940-38—
Last 2 Weeks THE SPRIGHTLY ROMANCE OF MARSAC

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM. Corbett-McCoy Fight; Colored Minstrels. Theatre, 25c's.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE, Broadway and 40th St. Evenings, 8:30. Matinées, 2:15.
CHARLES FROHMAN ..... Manager
LAST TWO WEEKS.
XTRA MATINEE XMAS.
John Drew's Greatest Triumph.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
JOHN DREW
AS
Richard Carvel.
MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.
MONDAY, DEC. 31—
CHARLES FROHMAN'S
Entire Theatre Company's Season
Presenting Henry Arthur Jones' Latest Success,
MRS. DANE'S DEFENCE.
Seats ready Dec. 27, at 9 A. M.

KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE B'way & 38th
AL. HAYMAN & CO. ..... PROPRIETORS
EVENINGS AT 8. MATINEE SATURDAY at 2.
LAST 12 NIGHTS!
LAST 3 MATINEES!
Seats for all remaining performances now on sale.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
MAUDE ADAMS
IN EDMOND ROSTAND'S MASTERPIECE,
L'AIGLON.
Adapted into English by Louis N. Parker.
"Miss Adams's great victory a riot of enthusiasm."—Sun.
"Miss Adams was stirred to a depth of emotion that almost triumphed over sex."—Herald.
EXTRA MATINEE XMAS.
Saturday Night, Dec. 29, Farewell Night.

MONDAY, DEC. 31 ST, MISS ADA REHAN
IN PAUL KESTER'S COMEDY,
"SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."
MANAGEMENT KLAW & ERLANGER
Seats on sale Thursday, Dec. 27th.

CHARLES FROHMAN'S
Criterion Theatre, corner of Broadway and 44th St. Evenings, 8:00.
SIXTH WEEK.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
JOHN HARE,
MISS IRENE VANBRUGH
and the
LONDON GLOBE THEATRE COMPANY
in A. W. Pinero's comedy, entitled
The Gay Lord Quex.
EVGS. AT 8. MATINEE SATURDAY.
MONDAY, JANUARY 14—
JULIA MARLOWE in
WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York
EMIL PAUR ..... CONDUCTOR
Fri., Dec. 21, at 2 P. M. Sat., Dec. 22, at 8:15 P. M.
Program: Overture, "Oberon," Weber; Symphony No. 6, "Pastoral," Beethoven; Concerto for Piano, B major, performed by the composer, Mr. HENRY HOLDEN HUSS; Fantasia, "Francesca da Rimini," Tschaikowsky.
Tickets at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Ruilman's

14th St. Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
LAST WEEK. LOST RIVER. TO-NIGHT SOUVENIRS.

Amusements.

GARRICK Theatre, 35th St., near Broadway. Evenings, 8:15. Matinées, 2:15.
CHARLES FROHMAN ..... Manager
TO-NIGHT, 100TH TIME—SOUVENIRS
XTRA MATINEE XMAS.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
WM. H. CRANE
—IN—
DAVID HARUM.
A STORY OF AMERICAN LIFE.
Dramatized by R. and M. W. Hitchcock from the novel of "David Harum," by Edward Noyes Westcott. Copyrighted 1899-1900 by D. Appleton & Co.
Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

MADISON SQUARE THEATRE. 24th St., nr. B'way.
CHARLES FROHMAN ..... MANAGER
100TH TIME FRIDAY—SOUVENIRS.
THE GREAT LAUGHING TRIUMPH.
FRANK M'KEE PRESENTS
PETER F. DAILEY
IN THE BIG MUSICAL COMEDY,
HODGE, PODGE & CO.
PACKED FULL OF FUN.
Last Mats. Wednesday and Saturday.
NEXT MONDAY
BROADHURST'S LATEST FARCE,
The House That Jack Built,
By G. H. Broadhurst, author of "Why Smith Left Home."
A GREAT CAST, COMPRISING
Thomas A. Wise, Mrs. Annie Yeamans, John Findley, Charles Cherry, Fred W. Peters, G. H. Trader, Harrison Armstrong, Roy Fairchild, A. L. Gisiko, Brandon Douglas, Anita Bridges, Grace Dudley, Jennie Yeamans.
SEAT SALE THURSDAY.

GARDEN THEATRE 27th St. and Madison Ave.
CHARLES FROHMAN ..... Manager
LAST TWO WEEKS.
EVENINGS AT 8. MATINEES AT 2.
Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.
MME. SARAH and M. BERNHARDT COQUELIN
Under the direction of MR. MAURICE GRAU.
To-night, Wednesday & Saturday Evenings, Wednesday Matinée, Tuesday, Thursday & Friday Evgs. Saturday Matinée, LA TOSCA. CAMILLE.
NEXT WEEK—FAREWELL WEEK.
HAMLET.
MME. SARAH BERNHARDT AND M. COQUELIN APPEAR AT EVERY PERFORMANCE.
Seats for the entire season now on sale at the box office, and at the regular box office rates at Ruilman's, 111 Broadway, and at Tyson's hotel offices.
MONDAY, DEC. 31, ENGAGEMENT OF
MR. E. S. WILLARD,
FIRST WEEK, EVERY EVENING.
DAVID GARRICK.
Matinées New Year's and Saturday.
THE PROFESSOR'S LOVE STORY.
SEATS READY THURSDAY, DEC. 27.

CARNEGIE HALL
Farewell Song Recital
Sat. Aft., Dec. 22, at 3:15.
MADAME Sembrich
Under the auspices of the Women's Aid for the GEORGE JUNIOR REPUBLIC
By arrangement with C. L. Graff.
Prices: $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50. Boxes, $15, $25.
Tickets now on sale at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

The New York Times.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW AND QUOTATION SUPPLEMENT.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1900. EIGHT PAGES.

STOCK EXCHANGE SUMMARY.

	Shares.
Stocks week ended Dec. 15...	4,965,079
Same week last year.....	4,992,653
To date this year.....	123,982,983
Corresponding date last year..	107,245,268

Bonds for the week.....	$25,417,620
Same week last year.....	$11,175,000
To date this year.....	$526,811,580
Corresponding date last year.	$310,502,640

Money rate range for week: Collateral loans on call, 3@6; at three months, 5; at six months, 5 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4½@4¾ per cent.

THE WEEK'S CHANGES.

The following is a list of stocks in which there were last week net changes of 1 per cent. or more:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Car & Foundry	2¼	Kan. City South. pf.	1
Am. C. & F. pf.	2	Lake Erie & West.	5½
Am. Cotton Oil	1	Lake E. & West. pf.	5
Am. Cotton Oil pf.	1	Louis. & Nash.	2¾
Am. Dist. Tel.	1¼	Manhattan	2¾
Am. Express	3¼	Met. Street Ry.	3¾
American Ice	1½	Minn. & St. L.	3
Am. S. & R. pf.	2½	M. & St. L. pf.	3
Am. Steel Hoop	3¾	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	3¾
Am. Steel Hoop pf.	1½	M., St. P. & S. S. M. pf.	5
Am. Steel & Wire	2½	Mo., K. & T.	2
Am. S. & W. pf.	3¼	Mo., K. & T. pf.	2¾
Am. Sugar Ref.	2½	Missouri Pacific	3¾
Am. Tin Plate	5½	Mobile & Ohio	2¼
Am. Tin Plate pf.	1¾	National Lead	2¼
Am. Tobacco	4½	Nat. Lead pf.	1
Ann Arbor pf.	1¾	Nat. Salt	1¾
At., T. & S. F.	1½	Nat. Steel	1¼
At., T. & S. F. pf.	3¾	Nat. Tube	2½
Balt. & Ohio	3½	N. Y. Central	1½
Balt. & Ohio pf.	1¾	N. Y. C. & St. L. 1st pf.	5½
B'klyn Rap. Tr.	5½	N. Y. C. & St. L. 1st pf.	5½
B'klyn Union Gas	1	N. Y., C. & St. L. 2d pf.	3
Brunswick City	1½	N. Y., Ont. & West.	4
Buff., Roch. & P.	3	Norf. & West.	2
Can. Southern	1½	Northern Pacific	6½
Ches. & Ohio	1½	North. Pac. pf.	2¾
Chi. & Alton	2	Pacific Coast	1¾
Chi. & Alton pf.	1⅞	Pennsylvania	1¾
Chi., B. & Q.	4	People's Gas, Chi.	2¾
Chi. & East. Ill.	1	Peo. & Eastern	1
Chi. Great West.	2½	Pere Marquette pf.	2
Chi. G. W. pf., A.	2	P., C., C. & St. L.	2¾
Chi. G. W. pf., B.	3½	P., C., C. & St. L. pf.	3½
Chi. Gt. W. deb.	1½	P., C., C. & St. L. pf.	3½
Chi., Ind. & L.	3	Pressed Steel Car	2¾
Chi., Ind. & L. pf.	4½	Pressed Steel C. pf.	2
C., M. & St. P.	6⅝	Reading	4
C., M. & St. P. pf.	3½	Reading 1st pf.	5½
Chi. & N. W.	3¾	Reading 2d pf.	5½
Chi., R. I. & Pac.	3¾	Rens. & Saratoga	7
C., St. P., M. & O.	1	Rep. Iron & Steel	3¾
Chi. Term. Trans.	1½	Rep. I. & S. pf.	1⅞
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	3⅝	Rio Gr. West pf.	1
C., C., C. & St. L.	1½	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	1⅝
Col. Southern	1¼	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	1½
Col. South. 1st pf.	2¾	St. L. & W. pf.	1⅝
Col. South. 2d pf.	2½	Sloss-Sheff. S. & I. pf.	1
Consol. Gas	4	Southern Pacific	2½
Cont. Tobacco	3¾	Southern Railway	1½
Cont. Tob. pf.	2	Southern Ry. pf.	3
Del. & Hudson	6¾	Tenn. Coal & I.	4¾
Del., L. & West.	6½	Texas Pacific	2½
Den. & Rio Gr. pf.	2	Texas Pac. Land Tr.	1¼
Des M. & Ft. D.	2	Third Avenue	1¾
Dul., S. S. & A.	1	Twin City R. T.	1
Dul., S. S. & A. pf.	2½	Union Bag & P.	1
Erie	3⅝	Union Pacific	4
Erie 1st pf.	4¾	Union Pac. pf.	2¼
Erie 2d pf.	4½	U. S. Express	2
Federal Steel	2¼	U. S. Leather	1
Federal Steel pf.	2¾	U. S. Leather pf.	1¾
Gas & El., Ber. Co.	2¾	U. S. Rubber	2⅝
General Electric	2	U. S. Rubber pf.	1
Great North. pf.	0¾	Wabash	4½
Hocking Valley	3¾	Wabash pf.	4½
Hocking Valley pf.	3¼	West. Union Tel.	8¼
Illinois Central	2	Wheel. & L. E.	1½
Int. Power	2½	Wis. Central	1⅝
Iowa Central	1¼	Wis. Central pf.	2¼
Kan. City South.	1⅝

Stocks Declined.

Lake Shore	10	Pacific Coast 2d pf.	3
N. Y. Air Brake	3½

***

Net changes in bonds of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Am. Sp. Mfg. Co. 6s.	2	Ft. Worth & D. C. 1st	1
Am. Dock & Imp. 5s.	1¾	Gila. V. G. & N. 5s.	1¾
Broadway & 7th Av. con. 5s	1	Green Bay deb., A.	1¾
Brooklyn, Queens Co. & Suburban 5s	1	Grand R. & Ind 4½s.	1¼
Cent. R. R. & Bank. Co. of Ga. 5s.	2¾	Houston & Texas 4s.	1
Chi. & Erie 1st.	5¼	Ill. Cent. col. tr. 4s, 1952	3
Chi., Ind. & L. ref. 6s	1	Ill. Cent., West. L. 4s	3
Chi., Ind. & L. ref. 5s	1	Long Island F. 4½s.	1
Chi., Mil. & St. P. gold 7s	11¼	Mex. Cent. 1st. inc.	1½
Chi., M. & St. P., C. & M. 7s	3½	Mil., L. S. & W. ext. 5s	1¾
Chi., M. & St. P. con. 7s	2½	Mo., K. & T. 2d.	3¾
Chi., M. & St. P., S'w'n 6s	2	Mut. Un. Tel. s. f. 6s.	4⅞
Chi., M. & St. P., C. & M. R. 5s.	1¾	Nat. Starch 1st	1¼
Chi. & N'w'n s. f. deb. 5s, 1933.	2	N. Y. C. & St. L. 4s, reg.	1¼
Chi. & N'w'n gen. 3½s	2½	N. Y., L. & W. 1st.	1½
Chi. & W. Ind. gen. 6s	1½	N. Y., S. & W. gen.	3
C. H. & D. s. f. 7s.	1½	N. Y., N. H. & H. deb. 4s, ctfs.	1
C., C., C. & St. L., C. W. & M. 5s.	2¼	North. Pac. Term. 6s.	2¼
Col. Mid. 4s	1	Peoria & East. inc.	2¼
Col. South. 4s	1½	Reading gen. 4s.	1⅞
Detroit City Gas 6s.	3	St. L. & I. M. 4s.	1½
Duluth & I. R. 1st.	2⅝	Sherman, S. & S. 5s.	1½
Erie 1st con. 7s.	1¼	St. L. S'w'n 2d.	1½
Erie 1st coo. 4s.	1½	St. P., M. & M., M. C. 6s	3½
Erie gen. 4s	2	So. Car. & Ga. 1st.	1
Gen. Elec. deb. 5s.	1½	Tenn. C. & I., Tenn. Div. 6s	1
		Tenn. C. & I., Birm. 6s	2
		Third Av. 5s	1
		Wabash 2d.	1¾
		Wabash deb., A.	2
		Wabash deb., B.	4⅝

Bonds Declined.

Brook. W. & W. 5s, t. r.	1½	N. Y. Cent., M. C. 3½s	1
Chi. & E. Ill. gen. 5s.	1	Norf. & So. 1st.	1¼
Int. & G. Nor. 2d.	1	Texas Pacific 2d	2

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK.

Monday, Dec. 17.

American Coal Company—Books close for annual meeting.
American Steel and Wire Company—Books close for dividend on common and preferred.
Chicago and Northwestern Railway—Books close for dividend on common and preferred.
Dominion Coal Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
New England Cotton Yarn Company—Books close.
Singer Manufacturing Company—Special meeting.
White Knob Copper Company—Books close for annual meeting.
William E. Uptegrove & Brother—Annual meeting.

Tuesday, Dec. 18.

West End Street Railway, (Boston)—Books close for dividend on preferred.

Wednesday, Dec. 19.

Columbus Edison Company—Books close.
United Traction and Electric Company of New Jersey—Books close.

Thursday, Dec. 20.

American Beer Cask Company—Annual meeting.
American Steel Casting Company—Dividend payable on preferred.
Ashland Coal and Iron Company—Dividend payable.
Booth Cotton Mills, (Boston)—Dividend payable.
Boston Towboat Company—Dividend payable Jan. 1 to holders of record this date.
Buffalo Humm Mining Company—Dividend payable Jan. 2 to holders of record this date.
Chicago and Alton Railway—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Colonial Trust Company—Books close.
Colorado Fuel and Iron Company—Dividend payable on preferred.
Commercial Cable Company—Books close.
Electric Storage Battery Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Hestonville Passenger Railway, (Philadelphia)—Dividend payable Jan. 1 on preferred to holders of record this date.
Homestake Mining Company—Books close.
Hurley Water Company of Hurley, Wis.—Bondholders' meeting.
Illinois Central Railroad—Books close for special meeting.
Iron Silver Mining Company—Dividend payable.
Knickerbocker Trust Company—Books close.
National Sugar Refining Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Niles-Bement-Pond Company—Dividend payable on common.
Old Dominion Steamship Company—Books close.
Osceola Mining Company—Dividend payable.
Pittsburg Stove and Range Company—Dividend payable on preferred.
Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Union Ferry Company—Books close.
United Shoe Machinery Company—Books close.
Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Western Union Telegraph Company—Books close.
Williamsburg Trust Company—Books close.

Friday, Dec. 21.

American Screw Company—Dividend payable Dec. 31 to holders of record this date.
American Sheet Steel Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
American Snuff Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Fifth Avenue Bank, Brooklyn—Books close.
H. B. Claflin Company—Books close for annual meeting.
Quincy Railroad Bridge—Books close.

Saturday, Dec. 22.

Jackson (Mich.) Gas Company—Dividend payable.
Manufacturers' Trust Company, Brooklyn—Books close.
Otis Elevator Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
P. Lorillard Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Royal Baking Powder Company—Books close for dividend on preferred.
Safety Car Heating and Lighting Company—Dividend payable.
St. Louis and San Francisco Railway—Books close for dividend on first preferred.
Victoria Coal and Coke Company—Books close for dividend on common and preferred.

THE WEEK'S TRANSACTIONS.

On the Stock Exchange for the week ended Saturday, Dec. 15, total transactions included 4,965,079 shares of stock, $25,417,620 bonds, including $209,620 Government and $49,000 State bonds.

In detail the week's dealings, compared with those of the corresponding week last year, show:

STOCKS.

	Dec. 16,'99.	Dec. 15,1900.	Increase.
R. R. & M.	4,992,653	4,965,079	*27,574
Banks	.....	70	70

BONDS.

	Dec. 16,'99.	Dec. 15,1900.	Increase.
R. R. & M.	$10,970,600	$25,159,000	$14,188,400
State	25,500	49,000	23,500
Government	178,800	209,620	30,820

*Decrease.

OUR LONDON CABLE.

A FLOOD OF SHORT CREDITS

Foreign Exchanges Give the Credit Merchants No Peace — Discount Rigid at 4 Per Cent.—Possible Significance of German Bank Failures —Many American Securities Coming Home.

Cable Correspondence.

Copyright, 1900, THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Christmas holidays are at hand and the money market is in a manner thankful. Its profits have been good during half the year, and both banks and discount houses will be able to make satisfactory dividend announcements in the beginning of next month. In other respects, however, the time has not been comfortable, and is perhaps less so now than at any period since the end of June. We struggle along amid a flood of short credits, which cannot be lent, as a rule, for more than 3 per cent., unless for more than twenty-four hours, when a conjunction of transitory demands may raise the figure to 3½ or 4 per cent.; and at the same time all leading foreign Exchanges are so threateningly adverse to us as to give our credit merchants no peace. We at the present moment are in fear about New York, Berlin, and Paris, and are unable to make up our minds which market threatens us most, but were inclined last week to turn our gaze most often to Berlin. So in fear the week closed with discount rigid at 4 per cent. and the banks sitting on their funds.

Conflicting estimates reach me about the extent of damage likely to arise through some insignificant-looking bank failures in Germany. All public announcements convey the impression that they mean nothing, but I am told privately that more trouble may be expected, accompanied by a sharp advance in money rates on all Teutonic markets, and not improbably by withdrawals of gold from London. Certainly all the markets I have named are ready to pounce upon and snap up any consignments of the metal that may be for sale here. My impression is that we shall lose gold to both Germany and France, but about your market there seems more reason to hesitate.

I am told that every steamer leaving

Continued on Page 6.

Sales of Stocks on the New York Stock Exchange Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900.

Range for Year 1900. Highest.	Range for Year 1900. Lowest.	Closing Sat., Dec. 15. Bid.	Closing Sat., Dec. 15. Ask'd	Net Ch'nge Past Week.	STOCKS. Sales Week Ended Dec. 15, 4,965,079.	Amount Capi'l Stock Outstanding.	Last Dividend. Date.	Last Dividend. Per Cent.	Period.	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Closing a Year Ago.	Sales Week Ended Dec. 15, '00.
140 November 12.	114 January 6.	145	150	..	Adams Express Company	$12,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900.	1¼	SA	145	150	141	150	110	182
*205 December 15.	*204 July 6.	195	..	..	Albany & Susquehanna	3,500,000	July, 1900.	3½	SA	205	205	205	205	...	25
99½ November 23.	83⅝ December 15.	90⅛	90¼	— ⅛	Amalgamated Copper Company	75,000,000	Oct. 29, 1900.	12	Q	91⅞	93¼	89⅜	90¼	...	51,150
25½ November 12.	12¼ January 15.	22⅝	22¼	+ 2¼	American Car & Foundry Company	30,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¼	Q	20¾	22½	20¾	22½	13¾	15,731
69½ November 12.	57⅝ June 25.	69⅝	69½	+ 2	American Car & Foundry Company pf.	30,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¾	Q	68	69½	68	69¼	59	8,182
37¾ April 7.	30 June 25.	31	31½	+ 1	American Cotton Oil	20,237,100	Dec. 1, 1900.	3½	A	30½	31½	30½	31¼	33½	1,255
100 April 5.	88¾ September 19.	91	92	+ 1	American Cotton Oil pf.	10,198,600	Dec. 1, 1900.	3	SA	91	91	91	91	95	625
37 November 27.	24⅞ January 4.	35	38½	+ 1¼	American District Telegraph	8,845,000	Nov. 15, 1900.	1¼	SA	37	37	36½	36½	...	222
168 December 12.	145 January 18.	169	175	+ 3¼	American Express	18,000,000	July 2, 1900.	3	SA	164½	168	164	168	140	1,062
49½ April 4.	27½ June 26.	40¼	40¾	+ 1½	American Ice Company	22,939,100	Nov. 1, 1900.	1	Q	33½	41¾	33½	40¼	32¼	8,472
78½ February 3.	60½ June 19.	70	71	..	American Ice Company pf.	13,440,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	1½	Q	70¾	70¾	69	70	75	750
16¼ February 6.	6 November 19.	7⅜	8¼	..	American Linseed Company	16,750,000	.....	..	..	7⅞	8½	7¾	7¾	12¾	3,921
60 February 5.	36 November 20.	38½	39	+ ⅜	American Linseed Company pf.	16,750,000	Sept. 15, 1900.	1¾	Q	39	39½	38½	39½	52¼	1,920
7⅝ January 2.	3 June 12.	5	5¼	+ ⅛	American Malting Company	14,500,000	.....	..	..	4⅛	5⅛	4⅛	5⅛	7¾	200
31½ January 2.	18⅞ June 27.	25	26	— ⅛	American Malting Company pf.	14,400,000	Oct. 15, '99.	1¾	..	26	26¼	25	25¼	37	1,050
56½ December 11.	34½ June 18.	54⅜	54⅝	+ ⅛	American Smelting & Refining Company	27,000,000	.....	..	..	54½	56½	52¼	54½	34½	97,815
99 November 17.	86 June 25.	96½	96¾	+ 2¾	American Smelting & Refining Company pf.	27,000,000	Oct. 9, 1900.	1¾	Q	96½	98½	95¾	96½	85	7,638
50½ February 6.	17 June 25.	31½	31¾	+ 8¾	American Steel Hoop Company	19,000,000	.....	..	..	28	32	28	31½	40	17,560
86 February 6.	64¼ September 28.	77⅛	78½	+ 1½	American Steel Hoop Company pf.	14,000,000	Oct. 31, 1900.	1¾	Q	77	79	76½	78	70	2,420
59⅞ April 2.	28½ June 25.	45¾	46	+ 2½	American Steel & Wire Company	50,000,000	Oct. 2, 1900.	1½	Q	43	45½	41¼	45⅛	37¼	108,070
95 February 1.	69¼ June 25.	89¾	89¾	+ 3½	American Steel & Wire Company pf.	40,000,000	Oct. 2, 1900.	1½	Q	85	89¾	85	85½	91	4,960
137½ January 4.	95¾ March 3.	126¾	126¾	+ 2½	American Sugar Refining Company	36,968,000	Oct. 2, 1900.	1½	Q	125¾	127¾	122¾	126	130	133,974
118 July 14.	107 March 2.	115	115½	+ ½	American Sugar Refining Company pf.	36,968,000	Oct. 2, 1900.	1¾	Q	115	115¾	115	115	113	800
50¼ December 12.	18 June 23.	49⅞	50	+ 5½	American Tin Plate Company	28,000,000	.....	..	..	45	50¾	44¾	50	26	70,590
90 December 12.	70¾ June 25.	89½	90	+ 1½	American Tin Plate Company pf.	18,325,000	Oct. 31, 1900.	1¾	Q	88	90	88	89¾	78	4,805
118 November 21.	84½ June 25.	109¾	110	+ 4½	American Tobacco Company	54,500,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	106¼	110	106	109¾	99	68,498
140 February 16.	128 May 17.	130	140	..	American Tobacco Company pf.	14,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	2	Q	136	136	136	136	141	40
54⅞ April 3.	37⅞ June 25.	47	47⅜	+ ⅛	Anaconda Copper Mining Company	30,000,000	Oct. 27, 1900.	$2	SA	47¼	48¼	46¾	47¼	38	5,690
23 December 5.	16 September 12.	20	24	..	Ann Arbor	3,250,000	.....	..	..	22⅞	22⅞	22½	22½	17¼	50
55 December 11.	40¾ July 24.	54½	55	+ 1¾	Ann Arbor pf.	4,000,000	.....	..	..	54	55	54	54½	43	1,297
42⅝ December 15.	18⅝ January 8.	42½	42⅝	+ 4⅝	Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe	102,000,000	.....	..	..	38¼	42⅝	37¼	42⅝	19¼	176,522
86¾ December 15.	58¼ January 11.	86⅜	86¾	+ 5¾	Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe pf.	114,199,500	Aug. 1, 1900.	2½	SA	82¾	86¾	82¾	86⅝	59⅝	155,865
89¾ April 19.	55¼ January 8.	82¼	82½	+ 3½	Baltimore & Ohio	45,000,000	Sept. 4, 1900.	2	SA	78¼	82¼	70	82⅝	52	25,443
90 April 16.	72¾ January 9.	86¼	86¼	+ 1¾	Baltimore & Ohio pf.	50,227,000	Sept. 4, 1900.	2	SA	84½	86¾	84¾	86	74¾	8,696
80½ April 10.	47⅛ September 25.	75¼	75⅝	+ 5⅜	Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company	45,000,000	.....	..	..	70½	75¾	70	75½	77⅝	157,283
181 November 19.	140 January 2.	175	178	+ 1	Brooklyn Union Gas	15,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900.	4	SA	175	176	175	176	135	330
16⅝ January 25.	6¼ June 25.	9¾	10¼	+ 1½	Brunswick City	5,000,000	.....	..	..	8¾	10¼	8¾	9¾	13	1,530
80 November 17.	52 February 27.	79	80	+ 3	Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg	6,000,000	.....	..	..	79	80	79	80	...	350
59¾ December 14.	47⅝ February 27.	59⅛	59⅜	+ 1¾	Canada Southern	15,000,000	Aug. 1, 1900.	1	SA	58¼	59¾	58¼	59⅜	56⅝	5,568
90¾ February 13.	84¾ September 28.	87	88	+ ½	Canadian Pacific	65,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900.	2½	SA	86¼	86⅞	86½	86⅝	82	450
39½ December 1.	24 June 25.	38	38¼	+ 1½	Chesapeake & Ohio	60,533,400	Nov. 26, 1900.	1	..	37½	38⅝	37	38⅜	29⅜	39,070
42 December 1.	31 October 25.	40¼	40¾	+ 2	Chicago & Alton	20,000,000	.....	..	..	38¾	40¾	38¾	40¾	...	22,228
77⅛ November 30.	68¼ November 1.	77⅛	77⅜	+ 1⅞	Chicago & Alton pf.	20,000,000	.....	..	..	75¾	77⅞	75¾	77⅞	...	12,337
139 November 21.	119¾ January 10.	138⅝	139	+ 4	Chicago, Burlington & Quincy	98,655,000	Dec. 14, 1900.	1½	Q	134¾	139	134¾	136¾	125¼	62,240
108 March 27.	88 January 31.	...	...	+ ¾	Chicago & Eastern Illinois	6,197,800	July 2, 1900.	$2	SA	97¼	97¼	96½	96	88	1,000
125 August 15.	120 January 17.	...	...	+ 1	Chicago & Eastern Illinois pf.	5,280,700	Oct. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	121½	121½	121	121	122¾	710
16⅝ December 15.	8⅝ September 26.	16⅝	16¾	+ 2¼	Chicago Great Western	21,210,000	.....	..	..	14⅞	16⅝	14⅝	16⅝	12⅝	21,377
80½ December 15.	68½ August 22.	81	81¼	+ 3	Chicago Great Western pf. A	11,877,000	July 31, 1900.	2½	SA	78	80¾	78	80¾	77	5,890
42½ December 15.	30 June 23.	42	42¾	+ 2¼	Chicago Great Western pf. B	7,489,100	.....	..	..	38¼	42¾	38½	42¾	32¼	4,350
93¾ December 15.	81 June 19.	93	93¾	+ 1¾	Chicago Great Western debentures	20,000,000	July 15, 1900.	2	SA	92	93¾	92	93¾	89	4,200
29 April 18.	14 January 15.	28¾	29¼	+ 1¼	Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville	10,000,000	.....	..	..	22	27¾	22	28	15¾	16,600
64 December 14.	46¾ January 24.	63	63½	+ 1½	Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville pf.	8,000,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	3	..	57	64	57	63½	47¾	8,700

Stock Transactions New York Stock Exchange Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900.--Continued.

Range for Year 1900. Highest.	Range for Year 1900. Lowest.	Closing Sat. Dec. 15. Bid.	Closing Sat. Dec. 15. Ask'd	Net Ch'ge's Past Week.	STOCKS.	Amount Cap'l Stock Outstanding.	Last Dividend. Date.	Last Dividend. Per Cent.	Period.	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	Week Ended Dec. 15. High.	Week Ended Dec. 15. Low.	Week Ended Dec. 15. Last.	Closing a Year Ago.	Sales Week Ended Dec. 15, '00.
182¼ December 15.	106½ June 25.	132	132¼	+ 6¾	Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul	47,147,600	Oct. 22, 1900.	2½	SA	126	132½	125¾	132¼	118¾	208,625
181½ December 15.	169½ January 18.	180	185	+ 3½	Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul pf.	41,003,900	Oct. 22, 1900.	3½	SA	179	181½	179	181½	166¾	1,580
171 December 15.	150¾ June 25.	169⅝	170⅛	+ 3½	Chicago & Northwestern	39,126,500	July 6, 1900.	5	SA	166⅝	171	166⅝	170⅜	157	5,110
212 December 6.	195½ May 9.	...	...	...	Chicago & Northwestern pf.	22,986,600	Oct. 5, 1900.	1¾	Q	212	212	212	212	196½	200
117⅝ December 15.	102 June 25.	117½	117⅝	+ 3½	Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific	50,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¼	Q	113¾	117⅝	113¾	117⅜	109⅝	36,587
126 November 17.	110 October 9.	120	122	+ 1	Chicago, St. Paul, Minn. & Omaha	21,403,200	Feb. 20, 1900.	5	A	121	123	121	122	119	964
175 March 3.	172 February 8.	172½	180	— ½	Chicago, St. Paul, Minn. & Omaha pf.	12,646,800	Aug. 20, 1900.	8½	SA	172½	172½	172	172	...	200
13⅝ April 27.	8¼ October 18.	11½	11⅝	+ 1½	Chicago Terminal Transfer	12,000,000	.....	..	..	10½	11½	10½	11⅛	11¼	4,615
39⅝ April 27.	26½ October 18.	32½	32⅝	+ 3½	Chicago Terminal Transfer pf.	17,000,000	.....	..	..	29	32½	29	32⅝	40	8,490
69⅝ December 15.	55 June 19.	67½	68⅜	+ 1½	Cleveland, Cin., Chicago & St. Louis	28,000,000	Sept. 1, 1900.	1½	SA	66¾	68⅝	66¼	68	60	8,550
115 October 3.	103½ June 1.	113	114	— ½	Cleveland, Cin., Chicago & St. Louis pf.	10,000,000	Oct. 20, 1900.	1¼	Q	113¾	113¾	113¾	113¾	100¼	200
54⅞ November 22.	29¼ September 24.	52½	52⅝	+ ⅝	Colorado Fuel & Iron	17,000,000	.....	..	..	52	52⅞	50¼	52⅜	41¼	28,070
131½ January 17.	117 October 19.	120	122	...	Colorado Fuel & Iron pf.	2,000,000	Oct. 8, 1900.	6	..	122	122	122	122	122¾	300
8¼ December 15.	5 September 25.	8¼	8¼	+ 1¼	Colorado Southern	30,995,000	.....	..	..	7	8¼	6½	8¼	8¾	13,950
47¼ March 27.	36 September 22.	45⅝	45⅞	+ 2⅝	Colorado Southern 1st pf.	8,500,000	Feb. 15, 1900.	2	..	42¾	45⅞	42¾	45⅝	45	6,451
20¾ March 21.	14 September 24.	19¼	19½	+ 2½	Colorado Southern 2d pf.	8,500,000	.....	..	..	17½	19½	17½	19½	15¼	3,721
21 April 2.	11½ June 28.	16	16½	+ ¾	Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron	4,700,000	.....	..	..	16	16½	16	16½	15¾	900
201 November 17.	164 September 21.	190⅝	191½	+ 4	Consolidated Gas	71,598,700	Dec. 13, 1900.	2	Q	158	191½	186¾	191	179¾	9,565
38¼ November 21.	21½ May 21.	36¼	36⅝	+ 3⅝	Continental Tobacco Company	43,845,600			Q	33¼	36½	33¾	36¼	31½	22,265
95 November 20.	70 May 12.	90	90½	+ 2	Continental Tobacco Company pf.	48,845,700	Oct. 1, 1900.	1¾		83½	90½	88	90¾	80	6,824
122 December 15.	106½ September 20.	122	122¼	+ 6¾	Delaware & Hudson	35,000,000	Dec. 15, 1900.	1¼	Q	116	122	115⅞	122	115½	33,768
189½ December 15.	171½ September 19.	189¼	190	+ 6½	Delaware, Lackawanna & Western	26,200,000	Oct. 20, 1900.	1¾	Q	184	189½	183	189¾	175¾	7,136
26¾ December 7.	16¼ June 22.	26	26¼	+ ⅝	Denver & Rio Grande	38,000,000	.....	..	..	25¼	26	25	26	18¾	8,622
81⅞ December 15.	64½ June 18.	81¼	81⅝	+ 2	Denver & Rio Grande pf.	23,650,000	July 6, 1900.	2	SA	79⅛	81⅝	78¾	81¼	70	15,100
19 March 26.	12 June 30.	18¼	18¾	+ 2	Des Moines & Fort Dodge.	4,283,100	.....	..	..	16¾	19	16¾	18¾	16	2,500
98½ June 14.	89 September 25.	...	...	— ¼	Detroit City Gas Company	2,944,300	Nov. 15, 1900.	2½	SA	90¾	90¼	90	90	97	1,100
6¾ March 5.	4 June 2.	5⅝	6¼	+ 1	Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic	12,000,000	.....	..	..	5¼	6¼	5¼	6	6	2,350
17⅛ March 5.	12 July 16.	16¾	16½	+ 2½	Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic pf.	10,600,000	.....	..	..	13½	16¾	14½	15½	14½	4,650
21 December 13.	10½ September 26.	19¾	19⅞	+ 3¾	Erie	112,347,400	.....	..	..	16⅜	21	16¼	19⅞	12	170,850
52⅝ December 13.	30⅝ September 22.	50⅞	51	+ 4¾	Erie 1st pf.	42,382,800	.....	..	..	46¼	52⅝	45¾	50¾	34⅜	186,496
34½ December 13.	15 September 24.	32¾	32½	+ 4¼	Erie 2d pf.	16,000,000	.....	..	..	27½	34½	27½	31½	17⅜	57,910
123⅜ February 23.	101 January 3.	...	...	— ⅞	Erie Tel. & Tel.	10,000,000	Oct. 5, 1900.	1¼	Q	104½	104½	103¼	103⅜	105½	1,300
54⅜ March 15.	38¼ October 9.	40¼	41	— ½	Evansville & Terre Haute	4,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¼	SA	41½	41½	40¾	40¾	43½	400
94½ April 19.	74 October 9.	80	81	— ½	Evansville & Terre Haute pf.	1,284,000	Oct. 16, 1900.	2½		80½	80½	80½	80½	...	118
57¾ February 6.	28⅝ June 25.	53	53¼	+ 2½	Federal Steel Company	46,484,300	Mar. 20, 1900.	2½	..	51¼	53⅝	51	53¼	51½	203,550
78¼ December 15.	60⅝ June 26.	78	78¼	+ 2⅝	Federal Steel Company pf.	53,261,000	Oct. 20, 1900.	1½	Q	70¼	78¼	76	78½	73¾	13,190
27½ December 14.	15 June 1.	27	27⅛	+ ⅜	Fort Worth & Rio Grande	3,106,000	.....	..		26½	27¼	26½	27¼	...	800
81 July 17.	64 May 17.	...	...	+ 2⅝	Gas & Electric Co. of Bergen County	2,000,000	.....	..	..	60	71½	69	71½	...	400
172 December 11.	120 January 10.	171⅝	172	+ 2	General Electric Company	19,702,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	2	Q	168⅝	172	169⅝	171¾	119	5,975
60 November 12.	44 May 15.	52½	52¾	— ¼	Glucose Sugar Refining Company	24,027,300	Dec. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	53	53¼	52¼	52½	41	1,075
187 December 15.	144¾ June 22.	186½	187½	+ 9¾	Great Northern pf.	98,417,250	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¾	..	180	187	180	187	166½	9,627
47 December 6.	40 November 27.	...	...	..	Green Bay & Western	2,600,000	Feb. 1, 1900.	2½	..	49½	49¼	49½	49½	....	12
115½ January 11.	105 October 29.	...	...	— ½	H. B. Claflin Company	3,829,100	Oct. 15, 1900.	2	Q	110	110	110	110	112½	135
42¾ December 15.	30 September 21.	42	42¼	+ 3⅝	Hocking Valley	10,356,800	.....	..	..	39¾	42½	38⅞	42¼	32½	9,320
74⅞ December 15.	58 January 8.	74¼	74½	+ 3½	Hocking Valley pf.	13,264,600	July 16, 1900.	2	SA	71¼	74⅜	71	74¼	62	6,864
79½ November 30.	65 February 6.	70	80	..	Homestake	21,000,000	Nov. 26, 1900.	50c	M	80	80	80	80	72	25
127 December 15.	110 June 25.	126¾	127¼	+ 2	Illinois Central	60,000,000	Sept. 1, 1900.	3	SA	123½	127	123¼	127	111	10,648
26½ November 9.	14½ March 6.	22½	23½	+ ¼	International Paper Company	17,442,900	July 1, '99.	1	..	22¾	23	22¼	23	19½	1,200
75 November 12.	58 March 6.	71	73	...	International Paper Company pf.	22,539,700	Oct. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	73	73	73	73	66⅞	980
54½ December 15.	24 June 30.	53¾	54½	+ 2½	International Power Company	6,400,000	.....	..	..	51½	54½	51⅝	54½	...	5,500
29½ December 13.	28½ December 13.	28	28½	..	International Steam Pump	12,262,500	.....	..	..	29½	29½	28½	28½	...	3,026
77½ December 14.	77 December 13.	78	77	..	International Steam Pump pf.	8,850,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	77	77½	77	77½	...	660
21¾ November 16.	11⅛ January 12.	20	20¼	+ 1½	Iowa Central	8,512,900	.....	..	..	10½	20¼	19½	20¼	12½	1,200
58 March 30.	39 September 27.	49¾	50	+ ⅞	Iowa Central pf.	5,671,600	Mar. 1, 1900.	1½	..	44⅛	44⅞	44⅞	44⅝	54	110
20 November 27.	10 January 2.	19½	20	+ ⅝	Kanawha & Michigan	9,000,000	.....	..	..	19½	20	19⅝	19⅝	11	1,700
17½ April 19.	7 September 10.	14⅜	14½	+ 1⅜	Kansas City Southern	29,993,500	.....	..	..	13½	14⅜	12½	14⅜	...	2,378
43⅞ April 3.	27¼ September 10.	37⅞	38	+ 1	Kansas City Southern pf.	21,000,000	.....	..	..	37¼	38¼	37	38	...	7,144
4 November 12.	3½ May 24.	4	4½	..	Keokuk & Des Moines	2,000,400	.....	..	..	4	4	4	4	...	200
80 January 5.	65 May 10.	69	72	— ½	Laclede Gas	6,014,400	Sept. 15, 1900.	2	SA	70	70	70	70	77¼	400
42½ December 15.	20½ March 16.	42	42½	+ 5½	Lake Erie & Western	11,840,000	.....	..	..	36	42½	35⅞	42½	19½	7,630
111 December 14.	83¼ February 2.	110	111½	+ 5	Lake Erie & Western pf.	11,840,000	July 16, 1900.	2	..	106	111	106	111	78	2,380
230 November 1.	206 April 26.	225	235	+ 10	Lake Shore	40,466,500	July 28, 1900.	3½	SA	220	220	220	220	...	183
87⅜ April 2.	68¾ September 22.	84⅞	85	+ 2⅞	Louisville & Nashville	52,600,000	Aug. 10, 1900.	2	SA	82⅜	85	82	84⅛	78¼	40,347
114½ November 22.	84 June 25.	110⅝	110⅞	+ 2¾	Manhattan Elevated	48,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900.	1	Q	108½	111	108¼	110⅜	96¼	66,705
152 February 13.	143⅜ September 26.	168½	168¾	+ 3¼	Metropolitan Street Railway	45,000,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	1¼	Q	165	168⅜	164½	166⅝	167	15,606
84½ November 21.	70 February 27.	82	84	...	Metropolitan West Side El., Chicago, pf.	7,000,000	Aug. 31, 1900.	2	SA	82⅜	82⅜	82⅜	82⅜	77	50
14¾ April 18.	10¼ January 8.	13½	13⅞	+ ⅞	Mexican Central	36,000,000	.....	..	..	13	14⅜	13	13½	11	11,270
5 March 17.	2⅝ September 26.	4	4⅛	+ ⅝	Mexican National certificates	33,350,000	.....	..	..	3½	4¼	3½	4⅛	3⅝	5,400
*115 June 8.	105 July 23.	105	...	...	Michigan Central	18,738,000	July 28, 1900.	2	SA	105	105	105	105	110	21
69⅝ March 28.	45½ June 16.	67½	68	+ 3	Minneapolis & St. Louis	6,000,000	July 16, 1900.	1½	..	64¾	68	64¾	67¾	60¼	4,585
104¼ November 10.	87½ June 18.	102½	103	+ 3	Minneapolis & St. Louis pf.	4,000,000	July 16, 1900.	2½	SA	100	102¾	100	102¾	91¼	1,285
27 April 24.	14 September 20.	20½	21	+ 2¼	Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie	14,000,000	.....	..	..	17	20⅞	17	20⅝	20½	1,000
69 April 24.	47 November 1.	54½	57	+ 2	Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie pf.	7,000,000	.....	..	..	50	55	50	55	60	500
14⅜ December 14.	9 September 10.	14⅜	14⅝	+ 1½	Missouri, Kansas & Texas	55,181,000	.....	..	..	13½	14⅜	13½	14⅜	11	7,640
40½ April 17.	25⅝ September 22.	40⅝	40¾	+ 2¾	Missouri, Kansas & Texas pf.	13,000,000	.....	..	..	38	40½	37¾	40¼	32¼	48,364
62½ December 15.	38⅜ January 11.	62⅜	62½	+ 3⅜	Missouri Pacific	50,432,150	July 1, '93.	1	..	59¼	62½	59⅛	62½	41	88,165
48½ April 2.	35 June 25.	43¾	44¼	+ 2¼	Mobile & Ohio	5,320,800	Feb. 28, '98.	1	..	41	44½	41	44	40	2,500
40¼ February 7.	27⅜ June 18.	37	37½	+ ½	National Biscuit Company	29,000,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	1	Q	37¼	37¼	37	37¼	33¼	1,403
96 February 7.	79½ June 18.	91	91¾	— ½	National Biscuit Company pf.	23,000,000	Nov. 30, 1900.	1¾	Q	90¼	90½	90¼	90¼	89	115
28½ February 5.	15⅞ August 11.	20¾	21	+ 2¼	National Lead Company	14,905,400	Mar. 1, 1900.	1	A	18¼	21	18¼	21	25	2,445
106¼ February 20.	83 August 11.	93¼	93½	+ 1	National Lead Company pf.	14,904,000	Dec. 15, 1900.	1¾	Q	92½	93⅞	92½	93½	105	986
48 November 15.	32¼ October 19.	39¼	40½	+ 1½	National Salt Company	7,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	37	39	36½	39	...	5,564
76¼ November 14.	69 November 5.	70⅜	72	+ ½	National Salt Company pf.	5,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¾	Q	71	71	71	71	...	100
53½ February 6.	20 June 23.	38½	38¾	+ 4½	National Steel Company	32,000,000	.....	..	..	34⅜	39	34¾	38¾	36¾	20,864
97 February 6.	79¾ June 26.	91	93½	+ ¼	National Steel Company pf.	27,000,000	Sept. 29, 1900.	1¾	Q	94¼	93¼	93¼	93¼	91	310
64½ November 19.	40¾ June 25.	62⅝	62¾	+ 2½	National Tube Company	40,000,000	Nov. 15, 1900.	1½	Q	60	62⅝	60	62¾	...	10,230
105¾ November 17.	86¾ May 14.	101¼	103½	+ ⅛	National Tube Company pf.	40,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900.	1¾	Q	103½	103¾	103¼	103¾	...	1,820
37 April 30.	30 November 30.	30	32	..	New Central Coal Company	1,000,000	April 1, 1900.	2	..	30	30	30	30	...	100
150½ December 1.	115 January 6.	145½	145¾	+ ⅜	New Jersey Central	27,139,800	Nov. 1, 1900.	1¼	Q	145	145¾	144⅛	145⅝	118	6,290
175 November 30.	112 September 25.	100	165	— 3½	New York Air Brake	6,250,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	2	Q	165	167	164	164	139	500
143⅜ December 3.	125⅝ June 25.	142⅞	143	+ 1⅝	New York Central	115,000,000	Oct. 15, 1900.	1¼	Q	141⅝	143	141	143	128	23,562
215¼ May 1.	210 October 8.	209	214	..	New York, New Haven & Hartford	53,684,000	Sept. 29, 1900.	2	Q	212¼	212¼	212¼	212¼	...	18
18⅝ December 13.	11 June 20.	18	18⅝	+ ⅝	New York, Chicago & St. Louis	14,000,000	.....	..	..	17⅜	18⅝	17⅜	18	13	14,435
106 December 12.	75 June 25.	103	105¾	+ 5½	New York, Chicago & St. Louis 1st pf.	6,000,000	Mar. 1, 1900.	5	..	100	106	106	105	...	1,780
48¾ December 15.	29 June 20.	48⅞	49	+ 3	New York, Chicago & St. Louis 2d pf.	11,000,000	.....	..	..	45	48⅞	44¾	48⅜	32½	19,950
29 December 14.	18¼ June 20.	28⅞	29	+ 4	New York, Ontario & Western	58,113,000	.....	..	..	27	29	24⅞	29	23	196,300
45 November 21.	22⅝ January 10.	43¼	43⅜	+ 2	Norfolk & Western	66,000,000	.....	..	..	41⅝	44	41¼	43¼	23¼	14,810
82½ November 19.	67 January 8.	82	83	+ ½	Norfolk & Western pf.	23,000,000	Aug. 24, 1900.	2	SA	81½	82	81½	82	67	610
21 November 21.	13⅝ January 23.	18¼	19	— ⅛	North American	39,776,200	.....	..	..	19	20¼	18½	18¾	14	14,885
76¼ December 15.	45⅝ September 29.	75¾	76	+ 6½	Northern Pacific	80,000,000	Nov. 30, 1900.	1	..	70	76½	69¾	75¾	53	140,815
86⅞ November 20.	67 September 27.	84½	84½	+ 2⅞	Northern Pacific pf.	75,000,000	Sept. 1, 1900.	1	Q	82	84½	82	84½	72⅛	15,395
31⅞ May 15.	25 May 21.	25	33	..	Ohio & Ind. Nat. & Ill. Gas Co	9,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900.	1	Q	24	24	24	24	...	10
62 November 20.	46 May 12.	59	60	+ 1¾	Pacific Coast	6,800,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1	Q	58	59	58	58¾	47¼	550
69½ October 15.	57 May 10.	65	67	— 3	Pacific Coast 2d pf.	3,914,400	Nov. 1, 1900.	1	Q	66	68	66	68	64¾	100
57 November 10.	25¾ June 11.	43	43⅜	..	Pacific Mail	20,000,000	Dec. 1, '99.	1½	..	43	45¾	42⅞	43¼	40⅞	7,359
740 December 13.	*420 June 11.	725	...	...	Pennsylvania Coal	5,000,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	4	Q	735	740	735	740	...	282
144⅜ November 19.	124⅜ September 20.	143¼	143¼	+ 1⅜	Pennsylvania Railroad	151,700,000	Nov. 30, 1900.	1¾	SA	142	143¼	141¾	143¼	131	79,506
111½ April 2.	81⅞ October 11.	100¼	100⅝	+ 2⅜	People's Gas, Chicago	28,868,800	Nov. 24, 1900.	1½	Q	98¼	100⅜	97½	100⅜	103	47,335
12¾ December 6.	5 June 19.	11½	12	+ 1	Peoria & Eastern	10,000,000	.....	..	..	11	12	11	11¾	5	1,085
34 December 12.	20 January 20.	33	34	+ ¼	Pere Marquette	14,145,500	.....	..	..	33¼	34	33¼	34	...	700
69 December 13.	54½ March 22.	68	70	+ 2	Pere Marquette pf.	10,512,200	.....	..	..	69	69	69	69	...	286
80½ January 2.	49¾ September 29.	56	58½	+ 2⅜	Pittsburg, Cin., Chi. & St. Louis	24,347,100	.....	..	..	57	59½	57	58⅜	75	800
94 January 8.	78 June 25.	88½	90	+ 3½	Pittsburg, Cin., Chi. & St. Louis pf.	22,649,200	July 16, 1900.	2	SA	87	90	87	89	87	1,400
58¾ January 17.	32½ September 26.	50½	51	+ 2½	Pressed Steel Car	12,500,000	Nov. 19, 1900.	1½	Q	19¼	51	49	51	54½	6,820
89½ November 10.	70¾ September 26.	83	85	+ 2	Pressed Steel Car pf.	12,500,000	Nov. 26, 1900.	1¾	Q	82¾	85	82½	85	85¼	1,720
204 December 3.	176 June 25.	200	201	..	Pullman Company	74,000,000	Nov. 15, 1900.	2	Q	201¼	201½	200	200	187	1,175
25 December 15.	15 September 22.	24½	25	+ 4⅝	Reading	69,900,000	.....	..	..	20¼	25	20¼	24¾	18¾	118,510
68⅞ December 15.	49 January 9.	68¾	68⅞	+ 5½	Reading 1st pf.	28,000,000	Sept. 10, 1900.	1½	SA	63¾	68⅞	63¾	68⅜	52	364,418
37⅛ December 15.	23⅝ September 24.	36⅞	37	+ 5½	Reading 2d pf.	42,000,000	.....	..	..	31⅜	37⅛	31⅜	37	28	93,194
200 December 10.	200 December 10.	198	205	+ 7	Rensselaer & Saratoga	10,000,000	July 1, 1900.	4	SA	200	200	200	200	200¼	180
27½ February 6.	8¾ June 25.	16¾	17	+ 1¼	Republic Iron & Steel	27,191,000	.....	..	..	15⅜	16¾	15¼	16¾	19	8,471
70¾ February 6.	49 August 1.	63¾	64¼	+ 1⅝	Republic Iron & Steel pf.	20,306,900	Oct. 1, 1900.	1¾	Q	64½	65¾	63¼	64¼	64½	5,679
95¼ December 12.	80 January 16.	...	96	+ 1	Rio Grande Western pf.	7,500,000	Nov. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	94½	95¼	94½	93	88½	500
133½ December 11.	131¾ March 26.	133	137	..	Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg	10,000,000	Nov. 15, 1900.	1¼	Q	133½	133½	133½	133¼	...	100
8⅞ December 6.	5 May 24.	8¼	8½	— ⅝	St. Joseph & Grand Island	4,800,000	.....	..	..	8½	8⅝	8¼	8¼	6⅞	1,000
63¼ December 7.	38½ May 26.	63	63½	+ ⅝	St. Joseph & Grand Island 1st pf.	5,491,000	Aug. 15, 1900.	1	..	62¾	63½	62	63	46	2,800
21½ December 6.	11⅝ June 26.	21	21½	...	St. Joseph & Grand Island 2d pf.	3,500,000	.....	..	..	21½	21½	21	21	16	1,123
20¾ November 27.	8⅝ June 25.	20¼	20⅝	+ ⅜	St. Louis & San Francisco	27,408,700	.....	..	..	19⅝	20⅝	19	20¼	9¾	14,500
76 November 28.	64 September 25.	75½	76	— ¼	St. Louis & San Francisco 1st pf.	5,000,000	July 6, 1900.	2	SA	75	75¾	75	75½	70¾	502
50¾ December 15.	31½ June 25.	50¼	50½	+ 1½	St. Louis & San Francisco 2d pf.	14,335,700	Sept. 5, 1900.	1	SA	49¼	50¾	49	50⅜	33¾	10,391
16¾ December 3.	8¾ June 20.	15⅞	16	+ ¾	St. Louis Southwestern	16,500,000	.....	..	..	15	16⅜	15	16	11	3,225
39 December 3.	21⅞ June 25.	38¾	39	+ 1⅝	St. Louis Southwestern pf.	20,000,000	.....	..	..	36⅞	38⅞	36⅞	38⅝	23	14,724
26 November 21.	17½ October 20.	23½	25	..	Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Company	7,500,000	.....	..	..	23	24½	23	24	...	500
71 November 20.	59½ June 25.	69	70	+ 1	Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Company pf.	8,700,000	Oct. 2, 1900.	1¾	Q	69	69½	68½	69	...	739
43¾ November 19.	30⅝ June 18.	42⅜	42¾	+ 2¼	Southern Pacific	197,832,100	.....	..	..	41	43	40⅝	42¾	37¼	138,245
19¼ December 15.	10⅝ June 25.	19	19¼	+ 1½	Southern Railway	112,900,000	.....	..	..	17¾	19⅝	17⅝	19¼	11½	79,550
69⅝ December 15.	49¼ June 25.	69⅜	69⅝	+ 3	Southern Railway pf.	60,000,000	Oct. 16, 1900.	1½	SA	66¾	69⅝	66½	69¼	53½	45,960
10¼ January 4.	4½ March 6.	5⅜	5½	..	Standard Rope & Twine	12,000,000	.....	..	..	5¼	5¼	5	5¼	10	710
104 February 2.	49 October 3.	62¾	62¾	+ 4¾	Tennessee Coal & Iron	22,553,600	Nov. 1, 1900.	2	Q	59	64¾	58½	62¾	80	101,495
22¾ December 15.	13¼ June 25.	22⅜	23½	+ 2¼	Texas Pacific	38,706,700	.....	..	..	20¼	22¾	20	22¾	15	71,910
17⅜ October 22.	11½ January 17.	17	17½	+ 1¼	Texas Pacific & Land Trust	6,840,000	.....	..	..	16¾	17½	16⅜	17½	13¼	700
135¼ January 3.	45½ March 2.	115	116	+ 1⅜	Third Avenue	16,000,000	Nov. 29, '99.	1¼	..	114½	117	114½	116	126½	2,857
68½ January 24.	61½ July 5.	68	69	+ 1	Twin City Rapid Transit	15,010,000	Aug. 15, 1900.	1½	SA	67	68	67	68	65⅞	1,335
25 February 7.	10 June 18.	18¼	18½	+ 1	Union Bag & Paper Company	16,000,000	.....	..	..	17⅛	18½	16½	18	21	2,140
77¾ February 2.	56½ May 9.	74	75	+ ⅝	Union Bag & Paper Company pf.	11,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900.	1¾	Q	76	77	73¾	74¾	75¾	1,325
75 December 15.	44⅝ January 10.	74⅞	75	+ 4	Union Pacific	95,953,800	Oct. 1, 1900.	2	SA	71¼	75	70½	75	45⅜	113,560
83¼ November 21.	70¼ June 23.	82⅝	82¾	+ 2¼	Union Pacific pf.	99,418,700	Oct. 1, 1900.	2	SA	80¼	82¾	80¼	82¾	72⅞	10,582
52 December 12.	45½ August 23.	51	53	+ 2	United States Express	10,000,000	Nov. 15, 1900.	1½	SA	51½	52	51½	52	47½	285
19 January 3.	7¾ June 25.	13½	13¾	+ 1	United States Leather	61,509,900	.....	..	..	12¾	13¼	12¾	13¾	12⅝	16,268
79¼ November 12.	65 June 25.	74⅜	75	+ 1⅝	United States Leather pf.	60,969,900	Oct. 1, 1900.	1½	Q	75	76⅜	74¼	75	73¾	5,376
44 January 2.	21 July 6.	28	28½	+ 2⅝	United States Rubber	23,686,000	Apl. 30, 1900.	1	..	25¼	29⅞	24½	28⅜	41⅞	34,651
101⅝ January 3.	77⅝ December 8.	80	81	+ 1	United States Rubber pf.	23,525,500	Oct. 31, 1900.	2	Q	78	83¼	77⅛	80	104

Bond Transactions New York Stock Exchange Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900

BONDS.

Sales Week Ended Dec. 15, $25,417,020

	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Sales.
Adams Express 4s	104½	104¾	104½	104½	22
American Cotton Oil 4½s	99⅝	99¾	99⅝	99¾	8
American Dock & Improvement Co. 5s	117	117	117	117	3
American Spirits Mfg. Co. 6s	74	75	74	75	8
American Tobacco scrip	99½	99½	99½	99½	1
Ann Arbor 4s	96	97	96	97	42
Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé 4s	102¼	102¼	101⅞	102	361½
Atchison, T. & S. F. adjusiment 4s	88¼	88½	88	88⅝	413
Atlantic & Danville 4s	94¼	94⅝	94¼	94¼	35
Baltimore & Ohio 3½s	97	97¼	97	97⅛	61
Baltimore & Ohio 4s	100¾	100⅞	100⅝	100⅞	197½
Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Div. 3½s	90	90⅛	89¾	90	179½
Balt. & Ohio, Pitts. Junc. & Mid. Div. 3½s	88¼	88½	88¼	88½	3
Broadway & Seventh Avenue consol. 5s	123	123	123	123	5
Brooklyn Ferry 5s	88	88	87⅞	87⅞	7
Brooklyn, Queens County & Suburban 5s	100	101½	90½	100½	62½
Brooklyn Rapid Transit 5s	106	107	106	107	30
Brooklyn Union Elevated 1st 4-5s	98	98	97¼	97¼	43
Brooklyn W. & W. 5s, trust receipts	70½	70½	70½	70½	6
Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg gen. 5s	114	114½	114	114½	13
Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern 1st 5s	106½	106½	106½	106½	12
Canada Southern 1st 5s	106	109	108¾	109	9
Canada Southern 2d 5s	108¾	108¼	108¾	108¾	2
Central of Georgia consol. 5s	97¼	97½	96¼	97	230
Central of Georgia 1st pref. income	53¾	53¾	53	53¼	96
Central of Georgia 2d pref. income	16½	17⅝	15½	17	203
Central of Georgia 3d pref. income	7	7	7	7	2
Central of New Jersey general 5s	127½	127⅞	127¼	127⅞	25
Central Pacific gtd. 3½s	83⅞	84	83½	83½	128
Central Pacific gtd. 4s	100	100½	100	100⅜	202
Central R. R. & Banking Co. of Georgia 5s	96⅜	96⅜	96⅜	96⅜	10
Chesapeake & Ohio 6s, Series A	116½	116½	116	116¼	18
Ches. & Ohio, Rich. & Alle. 1st con. 4s	107	107	107	107	1
Chesapeake & Ohio 4½s	103¾	104	103½	104	82
Chesapeake & Ohio consol. 5s	120¾	120¾	120¼	120¼	7
Chicago & Alton 3½s	85	85⅞	84⅝	85⅞	770
Chicago & Alton 3s, certfs	91⅜	91⅞	91½	91½	200
Chicago, Burlington & Quincy consol. 7s	111½	111½	111½	111½	1
Chi., Bur. & Quincy, Nebraska ext. 4s	111½	111½	111½	111½	1
Chi., Bur. & Quincy, Denver Div. 4s	102½	102½	102½	102½	4
Chicago & Eastern Illinois general 5s	114½	114½	114½	114½	3
Chicago & Erie 1st 5s	120	123	120	122	51
Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville ref. 6s	119	119	119	119	5
Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville ref. 5s	107	107	107	107	5
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul consol. 7s	178½	179	178½	178¾	54
Chi., Mil. & St. P., Chi. & Mo. River 5s	124	124	124	124	4
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul gold 7s	179	179	179	179	1
Chi., Mil. & St. P., Chi. & Mil. 7s	179	179	179	179	21
Chi., Mil. & St. P., Chicago & Pacific 6s	132	132	132	132	2
Chi., Mil. & St. P. gen. 4s, Series A	114¼	114¼	114¼	114¼	8
Chi., Mil. & St. P., South. Minn. Div. 6s	120¼	120¼	120¼	120¼	1
Chi., Mil. & St. P., Southwest. Div. 6s	120¼	120¼	120¼	120¼	4
Chicago & Northwestern s. f. deb. 5s, 1933	121½	121½	121½	121½	2
Chicago & Northwestern 3½s	109⅝	109⅝	109⅝	109½	12
Chicago & Northwestern gold 7s, reg	106¾	106¾	106¾	106¾	40
Chicago & Northwestern gold 7s, coupon	106¾	106⅞	106¾	106¾	10
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific gen. 4s	100¼	100¼	100¼	100¼	20
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific 6s	132½	132½	132	132	3
Chicago, St. Paul, Minn. & Omaha 6s	134½	134½	134½	134½	1
Chicago Terminal Transfer 4s	93½	93⅝	93½	93½	29
Chicago & Western Indiana gen. 6s	120	120	120	120	5
Cin., Hamilton & Dayton s. f. 5s	115	115	115	115	5
Cleve., Cin., Chi. & St. Louis gen. 4s	101½	102	101½	101½	16
C., C., C. & St. L., Cin., Wab. & Mich. 4s	100¼	100¼	100¼	100¼	1
Colorado Fuel & Iron general 5s	96½	97½	96½	97½	155
Colorado Midland 3-4s	79	79½	79	79¼	111
Colorado Midland 1st 4s	79	80	79	80	6
Colorado & Southern 4s	84	85	83½	85	229
Consumers' Gas, Chicago, 1st 5s	106	106	106	106	1
Denver & Rio Grande consol. 4s	101¾	101¾	101⅝	101⅝	10
Denver & Rio Grande Improvement 5s	105¼	105½	105¼	105½	18
Detroit City Gas 5s	99	99	98	99	24
Detroit & Mackinac general 4s	88	88	88	88	10
Detroit, Mackinac & Marquette land gr. 3½s	30	30	30	30	22
Duluth & Iron Range 1st 5s	110	111	110	110¾	64
East Tennessee reorganization lien 5s	111½	112	111¼	111¼	13
East Tenn., Va. & Ga. 1st con. 5s	118	118	117⅞	118	61
Edison Elec. Ill. Co. of N. Y. 1st conv. 5s	109	109	109	109	1
Elisabeth, Lexington & Big Sandy 5s	102	102	102	102	16
Erie 1st consol. 4s	95	96¼	95	96	1,670
Erie general 4s	81	83	80½	83	1,778
Erie 1st consol. 7s	140¼	140¼	140¼	140¼	5
Evansville & Terre Haute general 5s	108	108	108	108	12
Fort Worth & Denver City 1st 4-6s	77½	79¼	77½	78½	36
Fort Worth & Rio Grande 1st 3-4s	67½	68½	67½	68	41
Gal., Hor. & San An., Mex. & Pac. 5s	100	100¼	99½	100¼	100
General Electric debenture 5s	141	142⅝	140½	142⅝	34
Gila Valley, Globe & Northern 5s	104½	105	104½	105	37
Grand Rapids & Indiana 4½s	112¼	112¼	112¼	112¼	1
Green Bay & Western debenture, A	59	62	59	61¾	42
Green Bay & Western debenture, B	7¾	8¼	7¾	8¼	486
Hocking Valley 4½s	104¾	104¾	104½	104¾	24
Housatonic consol. 5s	135½	135½	135½	135½	1
Houston & Texas general 4s	85½	85½	85½	85½	32
Illinois Central 4s, 1951	116	116	116	116	12
Illinois Central 4s, 1952	104	104	104	104	5
Illinois Central, St. Louis Div. 3s	92	92	92	92	1
Illinois Central, Western Line 4s	114¼	114¼	114¼	114¼	2
Illinois Central 3½s	106½	106½	106½	106½	5
Illinois Central 4s, 1953	104½	104½	103¾	103¾	7
Illinois Central, St. Louis Division 3½s	103	103	103	103	5
International & Great Northern 1st 6s	123	123	123	123	2
International & Great Northern 2d 5s	91½	92	91½	92	17
International & Great Northern 3d 4s	57	57	57	57	6
International Paper Co. 6s	108	108	108	108	11
Iowa Central 1st 5s	115	115¼	115	115¼	7
Kansas City Southern 3s	68	68¾	67¾	68¼	40
Kansas City & Pacific 1st 4s	85½	86¼	85½	86½	5
Kentucky Central 4s	99½	99½	99½	99½	2
Kings County Elevated 4s	88	88	87	88	43
Laclede Gas 1st 5s	107	107¼	107	107	24
Lake Erie & Western 2d 5s	110½	110½	110½	110½	8
Lehigh Valley of New York 1st gtd. 4½s	110½	111½	110½	111½	14
Lehigh Valley of N. Y. 1st gtd. 4½s, reg	111	111	109	109	25
Lehigh & Wilkesbarre gtd. 4½s	102¾	103	102½	102¼	10
Long Island unified 4s	97½	97½	97¾	97½	19
Long Island Ferry 4½s	103½	103½	103½	103½	1
Long Dock 6s	137½	137⅞	137⅞	137⅞	1
Louisville & Nashville unified 4s	100¾	101½	100¾	101¼	15
Louisville & Nashville collat. trust 5s	100½	100½	100½	100½	5
Louis. & Nash., Mobile & Montgomery 4½s	111	111	111	111	1
Louisville, New Albany & Chicago 1st 6s	116½	116½	116½	116½	1
Manhattan Elevated consol. 4s	105	105	104¾	104¾	14
Metropolitan Elevated 1st 6s	118	118	118	118	5
Metropolitan Street Railway 5s	121	122	121	122	3
Mexican Central 1st income	27	28¼	27	28	719
Mexican Central 2d income	13¼	14	13¼	13¾	226
Mexican International consol. 4s	84¾	84¾	84¾	84¾	14
Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western 1st 6s	135⅝	135⅝	135⅝	135⅝	3
Mil., Lake Shore & West. ext. & imp. 5s	125⅞	126¼	125⅞	126¼	18
Minn. & St. Louis 1st & refunding 4s	97	97⅛	97	97⅛	12
Minneapolis & St. Louis consol. 5s	117½	117½	117½	117½	4
Missouri, Kansas & Texas 1st 4s	94	94⅞	93¾	94½	263
Missouri, Kansas & Texas of Texas 5s	95½	95½	95	95	23
Missouri, Kansas & Texas ext. 5s	94	95	94	94½	95
Missouri, Kansas & Texas 2d 4s	71⅝	74⅞	71½	74¾	1,036½
Missouri Pacific 3d 7s	115	115	115	115	2
Missouri Pacific consol. 6s	119	119½	119	119½	53
Missouri Pacific 1st collateral 5s	99¼	99¼	99¼	99½	21
Missouri Pacific trust 5s	98¾	99¼	98¾	99¼	391
Mobile & Ohio general 4s	86⅝	86⅝	86⅝	86⅝	19
Mobile & Ohio new 6s	127½	127½	127½	127½	2
Mobile & Ohio, Montgomery Div. 5s	106	109	109	109	5
Mutual Union Telegraph 6s	112¾	112¾	112¾	112¾	2
Nash., Chat. & St. Louis consol. 5s	109	109¾	109	109¾	17
National Starch 1st 6s	106	106¼	106	106¼	6
N. Y. Central, Lake Shore col. 3½s, coupon	96½	98	96½	98	604
N. Y. Central, Lake Shore col. 3½s, reg	96½	96½	96½	96½	13
New York Central general 3½s	111	111	110¾	110¾	7
New York Central, Mich. Central, col. 3½s	96¼	96¼	96	96¼	98
N. Y. Central, Mich. Cent. col. 3½s, reg	96½	96½	96½	96½	10
New York, Chicago & St. Louis 4s	107¾	107¾	107¾	107¾	2
New York, Chicago & St. Louis 4s, reg	106¾	106¾	106¾	106¾	1
N. Y. Gas, El. L., H. & P. coll. trust 5s	106¾	106¾	106¾	106¾	17
N. Y. Gas, El. L., H. & P. par, money 4s	94½	94½	94	94½	82
New York, Lackawanna & Western 1st 6s	137½	137½	137½	137½	10
N. Y., N. H. & H. deb. 4s, certfs	196	196	196	196	1
New York, Ontario & Western ref. 4s	106¾	107¼	106¼	107¼	21
New York, Sus. & Western gen. 5s	99½	102	99½	102	222
New York, Sus. & Western 1st ref. 5s	111	111	111	111	1
Norfolk & Southern 1st 5s	110¾	110¾	110¾	110¾	10
Norfolk & Western, New River 6s	121½	121½	121½	121½	2
Norfolk & Western general 6s	133	133	133	133	1
Norfolk & Western consol. 4s	99½	99½	99	99½	129
Northern Pacific general 3s, coupon	70¾	70¾	70	70¾	515
Northern Pacific general 3s, registered	70¾	70¾	70¾	70¾	6

	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Sales.
Northern Pacific prior lien 4s, coupon	105½	105¼	104⅞	104⅞	154
Northern Pacific prior lien 4s, reg	105½	105½	105½	105½	10
Northern Pacific Terminal 6s	117⅛	117½	117⅛	117½	3
Ohio River general 5s	95	95	95	95	10
Oregon Railroad & Navigation 4s	102½	102¾	102	102¼	75
Oregon Short line consol. 5s	117¾	117¾	117	117	60
Pacific of Missouri 1st 4s	107¼	107¼	107⅛	107¼	13
Panama sinking fund 6s	101	101	101	101	5
Pennsylvania 4½s	117	117	117	117	5
People's Gas of Chicago 1st con. 6s	118½	118½	118½	118½	5
People's Gas of Chicago 2d gtd. 6s	104	104	104	104	6½
Peoria & Eastern 1st 4s	94	94	94	94	8
Peoria & Eastern income	40	41¼	40	41¼	68
Pittsburg & Western 1st 4s	100½	100½	100½	100½	6
Pittsburg & Western 1st 4s, trust receipts	100½	100½	100½	100½	1
Reading general 4s	91¼	93¼	91¼	93⅛	1,920
Richmond & Mecklenburg 4s	83	83	83	83	3
Rio Grande Western 1st 4s	100½	100⅞	100	100⅞	65
Rochester & Pittsburg 1st 6s	130¼	130¼	130¼	130¼	3
St. Joseph & Grand Island 3-4s	91	91¼	91	91¼	6
St. Louis & Iron Mountain 4s	83¾	84½	83¾	84½	336
St. Louis & Iron Mountain gen. 5s	112½	113¼	112½	113	47
St. Louis & Iron Mountain gen. 5s, stamped	112½	112½	112½	112½	1
St. Louis & San Francisco gen. 5s	114⅝	114⅝	114⅝	114⅝	1
St. Louis & San Fran., Central Div. 4s	90¾	90¾	90¾	90¾	4
St. Louis & San Francisco consol. 4s	90¾	91	90¾	90¾	85
St. Louis Southwestern 1st 4s	93¾	94½	93¾	94½	103
St. Louis Southwestern 2d 4s	71¼	72¼	70½	72¼	456
St. Paul, Minn. & Man., Montana Cent. 5s	135	135	135	135	10
St. Paul, Minn. & Man., Montana ext. 4s	104	104	103½	103½	11
St. Paul, Minn. & Mnn. 1st consol. 6s	143	143½	143	143½	5
St. Paul, Minn. & Man., Dakota ext. 6s	119⅛	119⅝	119⅛	119⅛	10
San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s	79¼	79½	79¼	79½	26
Sav., Fla. & West., St. John's Div. 4s	94½	94½	94½	94½	1
Scioto Valley & New England 4s	101⅞	101⅞	101⅜	101⅜	35
Sherman, Shreveport & Southern 5s	97⅛	98¼	97⅛	98¼	12
Southern Pacific 4s	82	82¾	82	82⅝	405
Southern Railway 5s	113	113⅛	112⅞	113⅛	206
Standard Rope & Twine income	11⅛	11½	11	11⅜	88
Standard Rope & Twine 6s	70	70	70	70	23
Tenn. Coal & Iron, Tenn. Div. 6s	106	106	106	106	5
Tenn. Coal & Iron, Birm. Div. 6s	110½	112	110½	112	24
Texas & Pacific 1st 5s	114	114¼	114	114	21
Texas & New Orleans consol. 5s	104⅝	105	104½	105	76
Texas & New Orleans 1st 7s	114¼	114¼	114¼	114¼	4
Texas & Pacific 2d income 5s	80	80	80	80	15
Third Avenue 1st 5s	125	126	125	126	13
Toledo & Ohio Central general 5s	105½	105½	105½	105½	1
Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo 1st 4s	98	98	97⅞	98	31
Ulster & Delaware 1st 5s	105½	105½	105½	105½	1
Union Pacific 1st 4s	107½	107¾	107	107	171
United States Leather deb. 6s	112	112	112	112	5
Virginia Midland gen. 5s, guar. stamped	113½	113½	113½	113½	3
Wabash 1st 5s	116½	116	116	117½	71
Wabash 2d 5s	106½	108¼	106	108	45
Wabash debenture, Series A	97½	99½	97⅛	99	88
Wabash debenture, Series B	38¾	43	38½	43	3,841
Wabash 1st, Des Moines Div. 4s	96	96	96	96	5
West Shore guaranteed 4s	115	115	114⅛	115	27
West Shore guaranteed 4s, registered	113½	114¼	113½	114¼	51
West, New York & Pennsylvania 1st 5s	122	122	122	122	2
West, New York & Pennsylvania gen 3-4s	94	94½	94	94½	53
Western Union collateral trust 5s	114⅛	114⅛	114⅛	114⅛	2
Western Union funding & real estate 4½s	105½	105½	105½	105½	15
Wheeling & Lake Erie consol. 4s	89½	90½	89½	90	54
Wheeling & Lake Erie, Wheel. Div. 5s	113	113	113	113	5
Wisconsin Central general 4s	87½	87½	87	87¼	237
Total sales					$25,159,000

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Bond Transactions New York Stock Exchange Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900.

	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Sales.
United States of Mexico sinking fund 5s	97½	97½	97½	97½	1
United States 4s, 1925, registered	138⅛	138½	138⅛	138½	40
United States 4s, 1925, coupon	138	138	138	138½	4
United States 4s, 1907, coupon	115½	115½	115½	115½	10
United States 4s, 1907, registered	114½	115	114½	115	*164
United States 2s, coupon	104¾	105	104¾	105	35
United States 2s, registered	104½	104½	104⅜	104⅜	20
United States 5s, coupon	109¾	110½	109¾	110	47
United States 5s, registered	109¾	109⅞	109¾	109⅞	36
United States 3s, small	109¼	109¼	109¼	109¼	*2 1-5
Total sales					$209,620

STATE BONDS.

Bond Transactions New York Stock Exchange Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900.

	Week Ended Dec. 15. First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Sales.
Tennessee settlement 3s	96	96	96	96	15
Virginia funded debt 2-3s of 1991	94¼	95⅝	94¼	95⅝	34
Total sales					$49,000
Grand total					$25,417,620

*In $100.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

HIGHEST, LOWEST, AND LAST PRICES, YEAR 1900.

	Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.
United States 2s, registered	105	Nov. 8	104	Oct. 19	104⅜	Dec. 10
United States 2s, coupon	105½	Dec. 7	103½	May 8	105	Dec. 15
United States 4s, 1907, registered	117½	Mar. 12	114	Jan. 3	115	Dec. 14
United States 4s, 1907, coupon	116½	Mar. 12	114	Jan. 2	115½	Dec. 11
United States 4s, 1925, registered	138½	Dec. 14	132⅝	Apr. 16	138½	Dec. 14
United States 4s, 1925, coupon	138½	Dec. 3	131¾	Aug. 10	138	Dec. 11
United States 5s, 1904, registered	116¾	Mar. 12	112½	Apr. 24	113	Nov. 8
United States 5s, 1904, coupon	116¾	Mar. 7	112½	May 16	113	Dec. 5
United States 3s, 10-20, 1918, coupon	112¾	Mar. 9	108¾	Aug. 21	110	Dec. 14
United States 3s, 10-20, 1918, small	111¾	Mar. 13	108¼	May 11	109½	Dec. 13
United States 3s, 10-20, 1918, reg	112	Feb. 27	108¾	Apr. 30	100⅞	Dec. 15
District of Columbia 3-65s	121	Apr. 17	121	Apr. 17	121	Apr. 17
United States of Mexico s. f. 5s	98	June 5	96	Apr. 16	97½	Dec. 12

STATE BONDS.

HIGHEST, LOWEST, AND LAST PRICES, YEAR 1900.

	Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.
Alabama, Class A	116½	Mar. 8	108½	Jan. 8	110	Nov. 7
Alabama, Class B	108¼	Oct. 6	108¼	Oct. 6	109¼	Oct. 6
Alabama, Class C	102⅝	Sept. 10	102	Jan. 16	102⅝	Sept. 10
Louisiana consolidated 4s	106½	June 5	106½	July 6	108	Aug. 30
North Carolina consolidated 4s	106¾	May 21	104	Oct. 4	104	Oct. 4
South Carolina 4½s	120	Mar. 15	120	Mar. 15	120	Mar. 15
Tennessee settlement 3s	96⅝	June 7	93⅜	Sept. 29	96	Dec. 13
Tennessee settlement 3s, small	96⅝	June 7	90	Sept. 8	90¾	Oct. 13
Virginia deferred 6s, trust receipts	10	Mar. 15	6	Dec. 4	6½	Dec. 7
Virginia funded debt 2-3s, 1991	95⅞	Dec. 13	85	Jan. 5	95⅝	Dec. 14

FOREIGN TRADE FIGURES.

Following are the returns of foreign commerce at the Port of New York for the week ended Friday last, as compared with the corresponding week last year. In the case of the exports of general merchandise the returns are for the week ended Tuesday:

Imports of Dry Goods and General Merchandise.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$9,568,213
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	10,373,693
From Jan. 1, 1900	509,286,622
From Jan. 1, 1899	494,853,180

Exports of General Merchandise.

Week ended Dec. 11, 1900	$9,733,491
Week ended Dec. 12, 1899	10,606,112
From Jan. 1, 1900	547,502,014
From Jan. 1, 1899	438,502,784

Imports of Gold.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$29,717
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	44,982
From Jan. 1, 1900	10,896,313
From Jan. 1, 1899	14,084,991

Exports of Gold.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$7,480
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	2,454,502
From Jan. 1, 1900	47,514,504
From Jan. 1, 1899	26,893,488

Net Exports of Gold.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$22,237

Net Exports of Gold.

Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	$2,417,008
From Jan. 1, 1900	36,920,592
From Jan. 1, 1899	14,496,464

Imports of Silver.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$57,401
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	162,858
From Jan. 1, 1900	4,868,681
From Jan. 1, 1899	3,899,251

Exports of Silver.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$862,280
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	731,005
From Jan. 1, 1900	50,946,719
From Jan. 1, 1899	44,374,229

Net Exports of Silver.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$824,879
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	$568,047
From Jan. 1, 1900	46,438,038
From Jan. 1, 1899	40,475,068

Total Imports of Specie.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$87,118
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	206,350
From Jan. 1, 1900	15,180,993
From Jan. 1, 1899	17,984,222

Total Exports of Specie.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$869,680
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	3,185,505
From Jan. 1, 1900	98,460,823
From Jan. 1, 1899	72,857,744

Total Net Exports of Specie.

Week ended Dec. 14, 1900	$782,562
Week ended Dec. 15, 1899	2,979,455
From Jan. 1, 1900	83,279,830
From Jan. 1, 1899	58,372,680

Complete Bond Quotation List, New York Stock Exchange, for the Week Ended Dec. 15, 1900.

Where a bond does not appear in the following table in its proper place alphabetically, it can be found under the head of the system of which the road it is item on is a part. On Page 8 is printed a "key to bond list," which gives such bonds in regular order and the name of the system under which they may be found.

	Range for Year 1900. Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.		Bid. As'd.
Ann Arbor 1st g. 4s, July, 1995...Q J	97	Dec 7	90	Jan 8	97	Dec 12	96½ 97¼
Att., Top. & S. F. gen.g.4s,1995.A O*	103	Mar 31	86½	Jan 4	102	Dec 15	102 102¼
Do registered.....A O*	100½	Sep 24	86½	Oct 8	86½	Oct 8	.. ..
De adjust. g. 4s, July, 1995....Nov.	90	Nov 30	76½	Jan 10	86½	Dec 15	85½ 86½
De do registered.....Nov.	..	....	..	....	79½	De 11,99	.. ..
De stamped.....	84½	Nov 22	84½	Nov 22	84½	Nov 22	.. ..
Atl., Knox. & North. 1st g.5s,1946.J D*	106	Apr 23	105	Dec 4	105	Dec 4	103 ..
Baltimore & Ohio—
Do prior lien g. 3½s, 1925.....J J*	97¾	Apr 4	92¼	Jan 10	97¼	Dec 15	97 97¼
Do g. 4s, 1948.....A O	102¾	Mar 27	97¼	Jan 9	100½	Dec 15	100¾ 101
Do do registered.....	101	Apr 3	99¾	Oct 10	99¾	Nov 21	.. ..
Do S. W. Div. 1st g. 3½s, 1925..*J J	91¾	Apr 6	85½	Sep 25	90	Dec 15	89¾ 90¼
Do P Jc.&M.Div.1st g.3½s,1925.M N	91	Apr 16	85	Sep 22	88¾	Dec 15	.. ..
W. Va. & Pitts. 1st g. 5s, 1990..*A O	..	....	..	....	105¾	Oct., 95	.. ..
Mon. River 1st gtd. g. 5s, 1919..*F A	112	May 11	111	May 22	111	May 22	.. ..
Cen. Ohio reor. 1st g. 4½s, 1930..M S	..	....	..	....	111	Jne 5, 99	.. ..
Buff., R. & Pitts. gen. g. 5s, 1937..M S*	114½	Jun 1	100	Jan 18	114¼	Dec 13	113½ ..
Roch. & Pitts. 1st g. 6s, 1921....*F A	131	Apr 3	129	Jul 10	130¾	Dec 11	130 ..
Do con. 1st g. 6s, 1922.....J D*	128	Nov 17	124	Jun 29	128	Nov 17	127 ..
Clearf. & Mah. 1st gtd.g.5s,1943.*J J	..	....	..	....	103	Ap 14,97	.. ..
Buffalo & Sus. 1st g. 6s, 1913.....A O*	..	....	..	....	100	No 18,99	.. ..
Bur., C. R. & N. 1st 5s, 1906.....*J D	109	Mar 2	103	Jun 20	106½	Dec 11	106¾ ..
Do con. 1st and col. tr. 5s,1934.*A O	118½	Aug 24	115	Jan 19	118	Nov 27	118 ..
Do do registered.....*A O	117¼	Aug 29	115	May 28	117	Nov 20	.. ..
M. & St. L. 1st gtd. g. 7s, 1927..*J D	..	....	..	....	140	Fe 14,97	.. ..
C.R., I. F. & N.W. 1st g.5s,1921.A O*	113½	Dec 6	113½	Dec 6	113½	Dec 6	113½ ..
Can. South. 1st gtd. 5s, 1908....*J J	109	Nov 20	105	Jul 3	109	Dec 14	100 ..
Do 2d 5s, 1913.....*M S	100½	Jan 24	100	Jun 12	103¾	Dec 12	.. ..
Do do registered.....*M S	104	Apr 24	104	Apr 24	104	Apr 24	.. ..
Can. Br. U. P. 1st g. 4s, 1948.....J D	92	Nov 13	87½	Jan 5	92	Nov 24	.. ..
Cen. R. & Bk.Cn.Ga.col.g.5s,1937.*M N	96¾	Dec 11	91	Jan 15	96¾	Dec 11	.. ..
Cen. R. of Ga. 1st g. 5s, Nov.,1945.F A	120	Jan 15	117	Aug 18	120	Nov 20	119 ..
Do don. g. 5s, 1945.....M N*	98¾	Dec 3	83½	Feb 23	97	Dec 15	96½ 97
Do do reg., $1,000-$5,000.....M N*	96	Oct 30	96	Oct 30	96	Oct 30	.. ..
Do 1st pf. inc. g.5s,Nov.,1945.Oct. 1	54	Dec 4	32½	Feb 24	53¾	Dec 15	53¼ 53¾
Do 2d pf. inc. g. 5s,Nov.,1945.Oct 1	18¾	Nov 15	9¼	Jan 3	17	Dec 14	.. ..
Do 3d pf. inc. g. 5s,Nov.,1945.Oct 1	8½	Nov 15	4½	Jan 6	7	Dec 14	.. ..
Do M. & N. Div. 1st 5s, 1946...*J J	..	....	..	....	96	De 27,99	.. ..
Do Mid. Ga. & At. Div. 5s,1947..*J J	..	....	..	....	102	Jne 29,99	.. ..
Do Mob. Div. 1st g. 5s, 1946.....*J J	106	Oct 24	105	May 22	106	Oct 24	.. ..
Cen. of N. J. 1st conv. 7s, 1902...M N*	111¼	Apr 10	106¾	Dec 4	106¾	Dec 4	106 ..
Do conv. deb. 6s, 1908.....*M N	130	Jul 5	130	Jul 5	130	July 25	.. ..
Do gen. g. 5s, 1987.....J J*	128	Nov 16	117¼	Jan. 3	127½	Dec 13	128 ..
Do do registered.....Q J	125½	Nov 20	116	Jan 10	125½	Dec 6	125¾ ..
Leh. & Wilk. Coal 5s, 1912....Q Mar.	105	Aug 30	100	Apr 16	105	Aug 30	.. ..
Do consol 7s, ext. at 4½ to June 1, 1910.....Q March	103½	Nov 28	100	Sep 4	102½	Dec 14	102 ..
Am. Dock & Imp. Co. 5s, 1921...J J*	117	Dec 11	112¼	Jul 10	117	Dec 11	114½ ..
Ches. & O. g. 6s, Ser. A, July,1908.A O	118	Mar 30	113	Oct 2	116¾	Dec 14	.. ..
Do g. 6s, Jan., 1911.....A O*	120	Nov 23	115¼	May 18	117½	Dec 6	.. ..
Do 1st con. g. 5s, 1939.....*M N	121¾	Apr 10	115	Jan 5	120¼	Dec 14	120½ 121
Do do registered.....*M N	117	Jun 11	117	Jun 11	117	June 11	.. ..
Do gen. g. 4½s, 1992.....*M S	104	Dec 5	95¼	Jan 2	104	Dec 15	103¾ 104
Do do registered.....*M S	96	May 10	93	May 4	94½	Aug 23	.. ..
Do R. & A. Div. 1st g. 4s, 1989..*J J	107	Dec 5	101	Jan 8	107	Dec 10	106 ..
Do do 2d g. 4s, 1989.....*J J	99¼	Apr 5	92	Jul 3	98	July 23	.. ..
Do Craig Val. 1st g. 5s, 1940...J J*	103	Nov 28	100	Jul 5	103	Nov 26	103 ..
Do Warm Sp.Val.1st g.5s,1940.*M S	..	....	..	....	101¼	Ap 29,99	105 ..
Eliz., Lex. & Big S. 5s, 1902.....*M S	103	Feb 14	100¼	Mar 5	102	Dec 14	101¾ ..
Chi. & Alton s. f. g. 6s, 1903.....*M N	106½	Sep 24	104½	Dec 7	104½	Dec 7	.. ..
Miss. R. Bdge. 1st 6s, s. f., 1912..A O*	..	....	..	....	105½	Oct., 95	.. ..
Chi. & Alton ref. 3s, 1940.....A O*	93	Nov 15	92¾	Nov 15	93	Dec 1	.. ..
Do certificates of interest.....	92	Dec 1	91¾	Dec 5	91¼	Dec 14	.. ..
Chi. & Alton Ry g. 3½s, 1950.....J J*	85¾	Dec 15	81½	Oct 25	85¾	Dec 15	85¾ 85¾
Chi., Bur. & Q. con. 7s, 1903.....J J*	113¾	May 23	109¾	Jul 2	111½	Dec 11	111¾ ..
Do s. f. 5s, 1901.....A O*	103	Aug 14	100¾	Oct 2	101	Dec 8	.. ..
Do deb. 5s, 1913.....*M N	112	Mar 30	108½	Jan 10	110¼	Dec 8	.. ..
Do conv. 5s, 1903.....M S*	138	Nov 28	120½	Jan 18	138	Nov 28	.. ..
Do Iowa Div. s. f. 5s, 1919.....A O*	117	Mar 28	113¾	Nov 9	113¾	Nov 30	114½ ..
Do do do 4s, 1919.....A O*	107	Mar 28	103	Jan 5	104½	Dec 7	104½ ..
Do Denver Div. 4s, 1922.....*F A	103	Sep 10	100½	Feb 2	102¼	Dec 10	102 ..
Do Southw. Div. 4s, 1921.....M S	102	Jan 31	100½	Oct 15	100½	Oct 15	100¾ ..
Do Chi. & Iowa Div. 5s, 1905..*F A	104¾	Apr 11	104¾	Apr 11	104¾	Apr 11	.. ..
Do Illinois Div. 3½s, 1949.....J J*	105¼	Nov 14	100¾	Jan 5	105	Dec 3	104½ 105¼
Do Nebraska ext. 4s, 1927...*M N	113	Apr 23	108¾	Jan 2	111½	Dec 12	.. ..
Do do registered.....*M N	..	....	..	....	111¾	Jne 2,99	.. ..
Han. & St. Jo. con. 6s, 1911.....*M S	122	May 17	118½	Sep 27	120½	Nov 28	121¾ ..
Chi. & E. Ill. 1st s. f. 6s, 1907.....J D*	116	Mar 21	112	Jun 2	114¾	Nov 24	111½ 114
Do 1st con. g. 6s, 1934.....A O*	138	Jan 23	133½	Apr 10	134	Nov 15	134 ..
Do gen. con. 1st 5s, 1937.....M N*	117	Apr 4	112	Jan 2	114½	Dec 13	114 115½
Do do registered.....M N*	115	May 11	115	May 11	115	Aug 28	.. ..
Chi. & Ind. Coal R. 1st 5s, 1936..*J J	115	Dec 8	105¾	Apr 18	115	Dec 8	.. 115½
Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville—
L., New Alb. & Chi. 1st 6s, 1910. J J*	117	Dec 7	113	Jan 24	116¾	Dec 13	.. ..
Chi., Ind. & L. ref. g. 5s, 1947.....J J*	107	Apr 10	100	Jan 31	107	Dec 12	102 107
Do ref. g. 6s, 1947.....J J*	119	Dec 14	111½	Jan 12	119	Dec 14	118 120
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul—
C.,M. & St.P. 7s,$ gold,R.D.,1902. J J*	179	Dec 12	166½	Jul 13	179	Dec 12	178½ ..
Do 7s, £, 1902.....J J*	172¾	Apr 10	172¼	Apr 10	172½	Apr 10	178½ ..
Do 1st C. & M. 7s, 1903.....*J J	179	Dec 12	160¾	Jan 12	179	Dec 12	178½ ..
Do con. 7s, 1905.....*J J	179	Dec 12	166	Jul 11	178¾	Dec. 14	178½ ..
Do 1st I. & D. ext. 7s, 1908.....J J*	174½	Nov 26	166	Jan 17	174½	Nov 26	178½ ..
Do Southwest. Div. 6s, 1909.....J J*	120½	Dec 10	116¾	Jul 12	120¼	Dec 10	119 ..
Do 1st Lac. & Dav. 5s, 1919.....J J*	119½	Apr 12	117¾	Feb 14	118¾	Nov 12	119¾ ..
Do 1st So. Minn. 6s, 1910.....*J J	121½	Jun 18	117¾	Jan 6	120¾	Dec 14	120¼ ..
Do 1st H & D. Div. 7s, 1910.....*J J	127½	Jan 29	124½	Aug 15	126¾	Nov 13	128 ..
Do do 5s, 1910.....*J J	111½	Apr 5	109	Jul 19	109¼	Aug 9	111¾ ..
Do Chi. & Pac. Div. 6s, 1910...*J J	120½	Apr 20	117	Jul 19	119¾	Dec 4	120½ ..
Do Chi. & Pac. W. g. 5s, 1921..*J J	122¼	May 4	118	Jan 2	122¼	Dec 8	122¾ ..
Do C. & M. Riv. Div. 5s, 1926..J J*	124	Dec 11	120	Jul 25	124	Dec 11	124 ..
Do Mineral Pt. Div. 5s, 1910.....J J*	111¼	Feb 16	110¾	Sep 10	110¾	Sept 10	112¼ ..
Do C. & L. Sup. Div. g. 5s,1921.J J*	120¼	Nov 28	117¾	Jan 23	120¼	Nov 28	120¾ ..
Do Wis., Min. Div. g. 5s, 1921. J J*	120¾	Mar 16	117	Jan 3	119	Oct 18	120¾ ..
Do terminal g. 5s, 1914.....J J*	115¼	Jun 20	112	Apr 2	114½	Nov 13	115¾ ..
Do Far. & So. assu. g. 6s, 1924.*J J	..	....	..	....	137¾	Jul 18,99	136 ..
Do Dak. & Gt. So. g. 5s, 1916...*J J	115	Sep 4	110¼	Jan 2	114¾	Dec 8	116¾ ..
Do gen. g. 4s. Ser. A, May,1089. J J	114½	Dec 15	100	Jan 10	114½	Dec 15	114¼ ..
Do do registered.....Q J	..	....	..	....	105¼	Fe 19,98	.. ..
Mil. & N. 1st, main line 6s, 1910.*J D	121	Sep 21	116	Jan 12	118¾	Dec 8	117 ..
Do 1st con. 6s, 1913.....*J D	122	Feb 8	120	Aug 9	120	Aug 9	120¼ ..
Chicago & N. W. con. 7s, 1915.....Q F	144	Mar 14	137¾	Nov 3	137½	Nov 3	139½ ..
Do gold 7s, 1902.....J D*	112¼	May 17	106¾	Dec 3	105¾	Dec 12	106¾ ..
Do do registered.....J D*	111¼	Apr 2	106¾	Dec 12	106¾	Dec 12	106 ..
Do sink. fd. 6s, 1879-1929.....A O*	119¼	May 10	114¼	Nov 15	116½	Dec 3	.. ..
Do do registered.....A O*	117	Mar 7	111	Oct 18	111	Oct 18	.. ..
Do sink. fd. 5s, 1879-1929.....A O*	110	Feb 10	107	Apr 26	103¾	Nov 28	.. ..
Do do registered.....A O*	107½	Nov 22	107½	Nov 22	107½	Nov 22	.. ..
Do sink. fd. deb. 5s, 1933.....*M N	122	Apr 18	118	Nov 13	121¼	Dec. 10	121 ..
Do do registered.....*M N	120	Nov 30	120	Nov 30	120	Nov 30	.. ..
Do debenture 5s, 1909.....M N*	109¾	Oct 26	107	Jan 3	108	Nov 27	.. ..
Do do registered.....M N*	..	....	..	....	106	De 26,99	.. ..
Do deb. 5s, April, 1921.....A O 15	119	Apr 7	116	Nov 2	116½	Nov 8	.. ..
Do do registered.....A O 15	..	....	..	....	117¾	Fe 7, 98	.. ..
Do ext. 4s, Aug., 1886-1926..F A 15	111¼	Mar 30	106¼	Jan 23	108¾	Sept. 21	.. ..
Do do registered.....F A 15	107	Mar 7	107	Mar 7	107	Mar 7	.. ..
Do gen. g. 3½s, 1987.....M N*	110¾	Mar 21	105¼	Jan 9	109¾	Dec 12	.. ..
Do do registered.....Q F	..	....	..	....	103	No 19,98	.. ..
Escanaba & Lake Su. 1st 6s,1901.J J*	103½	Feb 26	103¼	Feb 26	103¾	Feb 26	102 ..
Winona & St. Peters 2d 6s,1907.M N*	123½	Sep 21	120	Jan 4	120¾	Nov 10	120 ..
Mil. & Mad. 1st 6s, 1905.....M S*	112¾	Apr 24	112¾	Apr 24	112¾	Apr 24	111 ..
Ottum.,C. F. & S. P. 1st 5s,1909..*M S	111¼	Apr 24	110	Mar 20	111¼	Apr 24	111 ..
Northern Illinois 1st 5s, 1910.....*M S	112¼	Apr 24	112¼	Apr 24	112¾	Apr 24	111 ..
Mil., L. S. & W. 1st 6s, 1921.....*M N	139¼	Feb 10	133¾	Nov 14	135¾	Dec 12	135¾ ..
Do conv. deb. g. 5s, 1907.....*F A	107¾	Nov 16	105	Jul 9	107½	Nov 16	108 ..
Do ext. and imp. s. f. 5s, 1929..*F A	127½	Jul 30	122¾	Feb 8	126¾	Dec 14	123¾ ..
Do Mich. Div. 1st g. 6s, 1924...J J*	137½	Aug 13	137½	Aug 13	137½	Aug 13	140 ..
Do Ashland Div. 1st 6s, 1925..*M S	139½	Apr 5	130½	Apr 5	139½	Apr 17	139 ..
Do incomes, 1011.....*M N	..	....	..	....	112	No 13,99	.. ..
Chi., Rock Isl. & Pac. 6s, 1917....J J*	134	May 3	129	Jul 2	132	Dec 13	133 ..
Do registered.....J J*	132¾	May 4	127	Jan 6	130	Nov 7	.. ..
Do gen. g. 4s, 1988.....*J J	109¾	Dec 1	103½	Jan 8	109½	Dec 11	109 109½
Do do registered.....*J J	107¾	Nov 8	105¾	Feb 1	107¾	Nov 8	.. ..
Des Moines & Ft. D. 1st 4s, 1905.*J J	96	Mar 31	96	Mar 31	96	May 25	97½ 99
Do 1st 2½s, 1905.....*J J	86¾	Aug 2	86¼	Aug 25	86¼	Aug 25	.. ..
Do extension 4s, 1905.....*J J	..	....	..	....	98½	My 18,99	.. ..
Keo. & Des M. 1st 5s, 1923.....A O*	114	Feb 19	107	May 14	112	Dec 4	110 ..
Do small bonds, 1923.....A O*	..	....	..	....	100	Ap 15,97	.. ..
C., St. P., M. & O. con. 6s, 1930...*J D	136¾	Apr 10	131	Jan 8	134½	Dec 12	134 ..
C., St. P. & M. 1st g. 6s, 1918...*M N	135	Feb 9	131	Oct 3	133	Nov 27	134 ..
St. P. & Sioux C. 1st g. 6s, 1919..*J J	132¼	Mar 21	127	Jan 10	130¾	Dec 8	130 ..
North. Wis. 1st 6s, 1930.....*J J	140	May 31	140	May 31	140	May 31	.. ..
Chi. Term. Trans. g. 4s, 1947.....J J*	97½	Apr 17	91	Sep 29	93½	Dec 13	93 93½
Chi. & W. Ind. 1st sk. fd. 6s,1910.M N*	..	....	..	....	100	Oct 4, 99	105 ..
Do gen. g. 6s, Dec., 1932.....Q M	120	Feb 6	118	Jan 29	120	Dec 14	.. ..
Chi. & W. Mich. 5s,1921, coup.off.J D*	..	....	..	....	100	Oc 28,99	105 ..
Choc.,Okla. & G.gen.g.5s,Oct.1,1910.J J	103	Jan 17	103	Jan 17	103	Jan 17	.. ..
C., H. & D. con. sk. fd. 7s, 1905...A O*	117	Sep 20	115	Dec 14	115	Dec 14	.. ..
Do 2d g. 4½s, 1937.....*J J	113¾	Sep 7	112¼	Oct 6	112½	Oct 10	.. ..
Cin., D. & Int. 1st gtd. 5s, 1941.*M N	114	Apr 24	111	Nov 23	111	Nov 23	111½ ..
C., C., C. & St. L. gen. g. 4s, 1993.*J D	102	Dec 5	94	Jan 2	101½	Dec 14	.. ..
Do Cairo Div. 1st g. 4s, 1939...*J J	..	....	..	....	97	Jne 20,99	101 102
Do St.L. Div. 1st col.g.4s,1990.M N*	104½	Apr 26	100½	Jun 13	103½	Dec 6	103¾ 104
Do do registered.....M N*	..	....	..	....	99	May 4,99	.. ..
Spring. & Col. Div. 1st g.4s,1940.M S*	94	Oct 12	94	Oct 12	94	Oct 12	95 ..
White W. Val. Div. 1st g.4s,1940.J J*	..	....	..	....	83	No 22,05	.. ..
C., W. & M. Div. 1st g. 4s, 1991..J J*	100¼	Dec 12	93	Jan 18	100¼	Dec 12	100 ..
C., I., S. L. & C.1st g.4s,Au.,1936.Q F	105¼	Apr 5	105	Mar 24	103½	Apr 5	104 ..
Do con. 6s, 1920.....*M N	..	....	..	....	100	Nov., 94	.. ..
C., San. & Clev. cn. 1st g.5s,1928.*J J	115¾	Mar 21	114	Aug 17	114	Aug 17	115¼ ..
Peo. & East. 1st con. 4s, 1940...*A O	94½	Dec 5	84½	Jan 4	94	Dec 13	92 94
Do income 4s, April, 1990.....A	42¼	Dec 5	24	Jun 18	41¼	Dec 15	.. ..
C., C., C. & I. con. 7s, 1914.....*J D	136	May 29	135¼	Aug 3	135¼	Aug 3	132½ 135
Do gen. con. g. 6s, 1934.....*J J	137	Apr 18	128½	Jul 24	134	Nov 21	134 137
Cin., Laf. & Chi. 7s, 1901.....M S*	..	....	..	....	105¾	No 24,90	.. ..
C. & S. 1st gtd. C.C.C. & I.,1901.*A O	101¾	Dec 7	101¾	Oct 29	101¾	Dec 7	100½ ..
C., L. & W. 1st con. g. 5s, 1933...A O*	111	Sep 5	106	Jan 29	111	Sept 5	.. ..
Clev. & Mah. Val. g. 5s, 1938.....*J J	130	Feb 16	128	Jan 5	130	May 8	.. ..
Col. Mid. Ry 1st g. 6-4s, 1947.....J J*	70½	Dec 12	63	Jan 4	70¾	Dec 18	79 79½
Do 1st g. 4s, 1947.....J J*	80¼	Mar 26	71½	Jan 2	80	Dec 15	79 79¾
Col. & Southern 1st g. 4s, 1929...*F A	87	May 31	78¼	Sep 26	85	Dec 15	84½ 85
Conn. & Pass. Riv. 1st g. 4s, 1943.*A O	..	....	..	....	102	Dec., 95	.. ..

	Range for Year 1900. Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.		Bid. As'd.
Del., Lack. & West. 7s, 1907..M S*	124¼	Aug 14	122¼	Nov 10	122¼	Nov 10	120 ..
Byr., R. & N. Y. 1st 7s, 1906.....A O*	122	Feb 8	118¾	Nov 15	118¾	Nov 15	118¾ ..
Morris & Essex 1st 7s, 1914.....*M N	148	Jan 26	138	Jan 4	137	Dec 15	137 ..
Do 7s, 1871-1901.....A O*	107½	Feb 28	102¾	Oct 30	102¾	Nov 13	105 ..
Do 1st con. gtd. 7s, 1915.....*J D	141¼	Apr 16	138	Jan 19	140	Oct 19	137½ ..
Do do registered.....J D	..	....	..	....	140	Oc 30,99	.. ..
N. Y., Lack. & W. 1st 6s, 1921...*J J	137½	Dec 13	133	Jul 18	137½	Dec 13	136 ..
Do registered.....*J J	135½	Sep 14	135½	Sep 14	135½	Sept 14	.. ..
Do construction 5s, 1923.....F A*	122	Dec 6	119	May 1	122	Dec 6	122 ..
Do term. and imp. 4s, 1923...*M N	108	Mar 7	108½	Oct 15	103¾	Oct 15	102 ..
Del. & H., 1st Penn. Div. 7s, 1917.M S*	148	Feb 13	146½	May 2	146¾	May 2	148 ..
Do registered.....M S*	141	Oct 22	141	Oct 22	141	Oct 22	.. ..
Alb. & Sus. 1st con. gtd.7s,1906.*A Q	121	Sep 12	116¾	Dec 5	116¾	Dec 6	116¾ 118
Do registered.....*A Q	..	....	..	....	122	Jne 6,99	.. ..
Do g. 6s, 1906.....*A O	115	Jan 12	111¾	Nov 22	112	Dec 12	112 ..
Do do registered.....*A O	118½	Aug 27	112½	May 28	113½	Aug 27	.. ..
Ren. & Saratoga 1st 7s, 1921...*M N	148¾	Jul 16	147	Dec 4	147	Dec 4	148¼ ..
Do registered.....*M N	148¾	Jul 16	148¾	Jul 16	148¾	July 18	.. ..
Den. & Rio G. 1st con. g. 4s, 1936..*J J	101¾	Dec 7	96½	Jan 4	101¾	Dec 15	101¼ 101¾
Do con. g. 4½s, 1936.....*J J	109	Nov 21	106	Aug 29	109	Dec 8	106 ..
Do improvement g. 5s, 1928.....*J D	106½	Nov 26	101¼	Jun 18	103½	Dec 13	106½ 107
Des Moines Un. Ry 1st g.5s,1917.M N*	109	Feb 20	106¾	May 7	106¾	May 7	106 ..
Det. & Mack. 1st lien g. 4s, 1995..*J D	96½	Nov 20	98	Nov 19	98½	Nov 20	96 ..
Det. & Mack. gold 4s, 1995.....*J D	90	Nov 24	78½	Jan 8	88	Dec 11	86¾ 89
Dul. & Iron Range 1st 5s, 1937....A O*	111	Dec 15	107	Feb 27	110¾	Dec 15	110 ..
Dul., Red W. & So. 1st g.5s,1928..*J J	..	....	..	....	92¼	Fe 11,98	.. ..
Dul., So. Shore & Atl. g. 5s, 1937..*J J	115	Oct 22	110	Feb 16	115	Nov 1	115 ..
Elgin, Jol. & E. 1st g. 5s, 1941.*M N	113	Apr 16	107½	Jan 9	109¼	Dec 6	110 ..
Erie 1st ext. g. 4s, 1947.....*M N	118	Jan 24	116½	May 22	117¾	July 23	118 121
Do 2d ext. g. 5s, 1919.....M S*	119½	Jan 4	119¼	Jan 4	119½	Jan 4	120½ ..
Do 3d ext. g. 4½s, 1923.....*M S	116¾	Jun 25	113¾	Jan 5	116½	Nov 21	116 ..
Do 4th ext. g. 5s, 1920.....A O*	123½	Mar 30	123½	Mar 30	123¾	Mar 30	120½ ..
Do 5th ext. g. 4s, 1928.....*J D	..	....	..	....	106½	Ap 14,99	107 ..
Do 1st con. g. 7s, 1920.....M S*	142	Jan 22	134½	Sep 5	140¼	Dec 15	140 ..
Do 1st con. g. fund. 7s, 1920...M S*	..	....	..	....	143	De 30,99	.. ..
Long Dock con. g. 6s, 1935.....A O*	139¼	Feb 15	136¼	Jun 22	137½	Dec 11	137¼ ..
Buff., N. Y. & Erie 1st 7s, 1916..*J D	..	....	..	....	140	Fe 6, 99	.. ..
Jefferson 1st gtd. g. 5s,Jan.,1909.A O	104½	Oct 22	104½	Oct 22	104½	Oct 22	103 ..
Chicago & Erie 1st g. 5s, 1982..*M N	123	Dec 13	114	Feb 5	122	Dec 15	114 ..
N.Y.,L.E.& W.D.&I.1st c.6s,1913.J J*	118	Sep 27	118	Sep 27	118	Sept 27	116¼ ..
N. Y. & Gwood L. gtd.g.5s,1946.*M N	..	....	..	....	109	Oc 27,98	108 ..
Erie 1st con. g. 4s, pr. bds., 1996.*J J	96¼	Dec 10	87	Sep 28	96	Dec 15	95¾ 96
Do registered.....J J	..	....	..	....	93¼	My 25,99	.. ..
Do 1st con. gen. lien g. 4s, 1996.*J J	83	Dec 15	67	Jan 3	83	Dec 15	82¾ 83¼
N.Y.,Sus. & W. 1st ref. g.5s,1937.*J J	111	May 5	107½	Jan 8	111	Dec 11	110 ..
Do 2d g. 4½s, 1937.....*F A	99¼	Apr 6	98	Feb 28	99¼	June 12	94 ..
Do gen. g. 5s, 1940.....F A*	102	Dec 12	90	Oct 11	102	Dec 15	102 ..
Do term. 1st g. 5s, 1943.....*M N	113	Apr 27	108½	Jan 3	113	Apr 27	111 ..
Wilk. & East. 1st gtd. g.5s,1942.*J D	108	May 31	104	Jan 4	106¾	Nov 5	104½ ..
Midland R. of N.J. 1st g.6s,1910.A O	120	Mar 14	115½	Oct 2	117	Dec 4	.. 119
Eureka Springs R. 1st g. 6s, 1933.*F A	..	....	..	....	65	No 10,97	.. ..
Ev. & T. H. 1st con. 6s, 1921.....J J*	125½	Jun 14	120	Jul 30	124	Dec 4	124 ..
Do 1st gen. g. 5s, 1942.....*A O	110	Mar 27	102½	Oct 2	108	Dec 14	107 ..
Do Mt. Ver. 1st g. 6s, 1923....*A O	..	....	..	....	110	May, 93	.. ..
Do Sul. Co. Br. 1st g. 5s,1930..*A O	..	....	..	....	110	Sept., 91	.. ..
Ev. & Ind. 1st con. gtd.g.6s,1926.*J J	108	Apr 18	100	Feb 16	105	Sept 25	.. 110
Flint & Pere Marq. g. 6s, 1920.A O*	125	Dec 3	120	Jan 17	125	Dec 3	124 ..
Do 1st con. g. 5s, 1939.....*M N	108½	Apr 26	102	Jan 12	106¼	Nov 24	107 ..
Do Pt. Huron D. 1st g.5s,1939.*A O	110	Apr 21	105	Jan 18	107	Dec 8	107 ..
Fla. Cen. & Penin 1st g. 5s, 1918..J J*	100	Sep 6	100	Sep 6	100	Sept 6	.. ..
Do con. g. 6s, 1943.....*J J	..	....	..	....	80¼	May, 96	.. ..
Fort St. Un. D. Co. 1st g.4½s,1941..J J	..	....	..	....	105	Mr. 11,98	.. ..
Ft.W. & Den. City 1st g.4-6s,1921.J D*	79¼	Dec 13	70	Mar 19	78¼	Dec 15	78 78¾
Ft. W. & Rio G. 1st g. 4s, 1928..J J*	68½	Dec 13	55	Jan 4	68	Dec 15	.. ..
Gal., H. & H. of 1882 1st 5s,1913.*A O	104¾

	Range for Year 1900. Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.		Bid.	As'd.
Do 2d ext. g. 5s, 1938 J	115¼	Sep 8	112¾	Mar 12	115¼	Sept 8	115¼	..
St.L. & I.M. gn.con.l.g.g.5s,1931.*A O	113¾	Dec 1	108	Oct 13	113	Dec 15	113½	113⅝
Do do gtd. g. 5s, stamped,1931.*A O	113	Nov 28	109	Oct 13	112½	Dec 10	..	..
Do do unified & ref. g. 4s,1929. J	64½	Dec 3	76	Sep 24	84½	Dec 15	84¼	84½
Mobile & Birm. prior inc. 5s,1945..J	110¾	Feb 20	110¼	Feb 20	110¼	Feb 20	110	..
Mobile & Ohio new g. 6s, 1927....J	130	Nov 23	122¾	Jul 3	127½	Dec 15	127	..
Do 1st ext. g. 6s, July, 1927....Q J	124	Apr 20	120½	Jul 31	120¼	July 31	123	123¾
Do gen. g. 4s, 1938 M	87	Feb 16	83	Jan 8	86¾	Dec 14	86¾	86⅞
Do Mont. Div. 1st g. 5s, 1947..*F A	109¼	Jun 11	106¼	Aug 9	109¼	Dec 12	..	109
St. L. & Cairo gtd. 4s, 1931.....*J J	96½	Dec 3	96½	Dec 3	96¼	Dec 3	..	..
Nash., Chat. & St. L. 1st 7s,1913.J J*	130¼	Nov 13	126	Jan 8	130½	Dec 6	128	..
Do 2d 6s 1901.....*J J	100½	Jul 11	100¼	Jul 11	100⅝	July 11	..	..
Do 1st con. g. 5s, 1928.....*A O	109¾	Dec 11	104½	Apr 11	109¾	Dec 11	108	..
Do T. & P. Bch. 6s, 1917.....*J J	..	....	..	....	111	De 20,99	..	..
Do 1st 6s, McM., M. W. & Alb..*J J	..	....	..	....	108	Mar., 96	..	..
Do 1st g. 6s, Jasper Bch., 1923..*J J	..	....	..	....	113	De 1, 99	..	..
N. O. & N. E. pr. lien 6s,Nov.,1915.A O	..	....	..	....	108¼	Aug., 94	100⅝	110
N. Y. Cen. & Hud. 1st 7s, 1903....*J J	112	Apr 6	108⅜	Oct 11	110	Dec 7	..	..
Do registered.....*J J	111	May 25	108¼	Jul 25	109¾	Nov 23	..	..
Do deb. 5s of 1884-1904.....M S*	108	Feb 21	104¾	Nov 14	105	Nov 26	105	..
Do do registered.....M S*	107¼	Feb 1	105	Oct 26	105	Nov 21	..	..
Do reg. deb. 5s, 1889-1904.....M S*	..	....	..	....	108½	Fe 21,98	..	..
Do deb. g. 4s, 1890-1905.....*J D	103¾	May 14	101⅞	Jun 6	103	Nov 7	101	..
Do do registered.....*J D	..	....	..	....	104¾	Fe 25,98	..	..
Do deb. certs., ext. g. 4s, 1905..*M N	103¾	Apr 27	101	Jan 11	101	Dec 6	101	..
Do do registered.....*M N	..	....	..	....	102¾	Au 1, 99	..	..
Do g. mtge. 3½s, 1997.....J J*	111½	Jun 12	106¼	Jul 6	110⅞	Dec 12	110½	111
Do do registered.....J J*	..	....	..	....	112½	Ap 14,99	..	..
Do Mich. Cen. col. g.3½s,1998.*F A	99	Apr 0	95	Sep 6	96½	Dec 15	96½	97½
Do do registered.....*F A	96½	Dec 10	94	Jun 5	96½	Dec 10	..	..
Do Lake Shore col.g.3½s,1998.*F A	99	Jan 27	95½	Sep 28	98	Dec 15	97¾	98
Do do registered.....*F A	98	May 2	93	Oct 9	96	Dec 13	..	..
West Shore 1st gtd. 4s, 2361.....*J J	115¼	Jun 22	110	Jan 2	115	Dec 14	115¼	..
Do registered.....*J J	114½	Dec 12	110	Jan 4	114½	Dec 12	112	112½
Beech Creek 1st g. 4s, 1936.....J J*	110½	May 24	108	Jan 4	109¾	Aug 2	111¾	..
Do registered.....J J*	..	....	..	....	106	Jne 17,98	..	..
Clear.El.C. 1st a.f.gtd.4s,S.A.,1940.J J	..	....	..	....	95	Jul 28,98	..	..
Do do registered.....J J	..	....	..	....	104	Jul 24,97	..	..
N. Y. & Harlem 3½ per cent. 100-year g. c., 2000.....*M N	115¾	May 2	115¾	May 2	115¾	May 2	..	..
N. J. Junc. R. gtd. 1st 4s, 1986..*F A	102	Feb 3	102	Feb 3	102	Feb 3	104½	..
R.,W.& O.cn.1st ext.5s,July,1922.A O	129½	Feb 13	125¾	Oct 1	126¾	Dec 7	126	127
Do Ter. R. 1st g. 5s, 1918.....*M N	..	....	..	....	109	Jan., 97	..	..
Os. & Rome 2d gtd. g. 5s, 1915..*F A	..	....	..	....	113	Ap 13,99	112	..
Utica & B. Riv. gtd. g. 4s, 1922..J J*	110	Oct 15	108	Oct 1	110	Oct 15	110	..
Mo. & Mal. 1st gtd. g. 4s, 1991..M S*	107½	Jul 3	106¾	Feb 8	107½	July 6	..	..
N. Y. & North. 1st g. 5s, 1927...A O*	122½	Sep 28	121	Oct 25	121	Oct 25	120¼	..
Lake Shore & Michigan Southern—
Det., Mon. & Tol. 1st 7s, 1906...F A*	121	Jan 13	119	May 3	119	Dec 7	118	..
Lake Shore con. 2d 7s, 1903.....J D*	116¼	Apr 4	109⅝	Dec 8	109⅝	Dec 8	109½	..
Do do registered, 1903.....J D*	114¾	Apr 17	111¼	May 31	112⅞	Nov 7	..	..
Do g. 3½s, 1997.....*J D	111⅜	May 25	109	Dec 7	109¾	Dec 8	109¼	109¾
Do do registered.....*J D	110¼	Mar 17	110½	Mar 16	110½	Mar 17	..	..
C. & Sp. 1st gtd.,L.S.&M.S.,1001.*A O	..	....	..	....	108¼	De 1, 97	..	..
Mahoning Coal R. 1st 5s, 1934....J J*	130	Nov 14	129	Sep 7	130	Nov 14	126	..
Pitts., McK. & Y. 1st gtd.6s,1932.J J*	..	....	..	....	117	Mar., 89	143	..
Michigan Cen. 1st con. 7s, 1902.*M N	100¾	Apr 19	104½	Nov 8	105¼	Dec 6	105	..
Do 1st con. 5s, 1902.....*M N	104¾	Apr 25	101⅞	Nov 22	102	Nov 30	101½	..
Do 6s, 1909.....M S*	121	Aug 1	119¼	Apr 16	121	Aug 1	..	..
Do 5s, 1931.....*M S	128	May 14	126	Oct 30	126	Oct 30	127	..
Do do registered, March, 1931..Q M	127½	Nov 8	127½	Nov 8	127½	Nov 8	..	..
Do 4s, 1940.....*J J	105	Jan 4	105	Jan 4	105	Jan 4	106½	..
Do registered.....*J J	106½	Nov 26	106½	Nov 26	106½	Nov 26	..	..
N. Y., C. & St. L. 1st g. 4s, 1937..A O*	108¼	Mar 28	104¾	Jan 3	107¾	Dec 11	107⅝	..
Do registered.....A O*	106¾	Dec 10	103½	Jan 3	106¾	Dec 10	..	..
N. Y., N. H. & H. 1st reg. 4s,1903.*J D	..	....	..	....	104½	Oc 7, 97	..	..
Do con. deb. certs., $1,000.....A O*	195	Oct 27	185¾	Jan 5	195	Dec 13	..	..
Do registered.....*J D	..	....	..	....	187	No 17,09	..	..
Do do small certs., $100.....*J D	189¾	Jun 11	185	Feb 27	189	Aug 4	..	..
Housatonic R. con. g. 5s, 1937..M N*	135⅝	Dec 12	132	Nov 7	135½	Dec 12	135	..
N. H. & Derby con. 5s, 1918.....*M N	..	....	..	....	125⅛	Fe 6, 97	113¾	..
N. Y. & N. E. 1st 7s, 1905.....J J*	114	Jan 5	114	Jan 5	114	Jan 5	114½	..
Do 1st 6s, 1905.....J J	..	....	..	....	113	Jul 29,99	110⅝	..
N.Y.,O. & W. ref. 1st g. 4s, June, 1992. M S	107¾	Dec 1	102	Jan 10	107¼	Dec 15	107	..
Do do registered, $5,000 only...M S	..	....	..	....	101½	No 30,98	..	..
Norfolk & South. 1st g. 5s, 1941..*M N	114¼	Jun 9	110	Jan 15	110¾	Dec 14	111½	112½
Nor. & W. R. gen. g. 6s, 1931.....*M N	136	Sep 8	129	Jan 2	133	Dec 13	130	133
Do New River 1st g. 6s, 1932..*A O	133	Mar 23	130	May 18	131½	Dec 10	131	134
Do imp. and ext. 6s, 1934.....*F A	129¾	Oct 18	129	Oct 18	129	Oct 18	129	131½
Col., C. & T. 1st gtd. g. 5s, 1922..*J J	107	Apr 10	95	Feb 14	101⅜	Dec 11	..	..
Scl. V. & N.E. 1st gtd.g.4s,1989.M N*	103	Dec 3	90¼	Jan 3	99¾	Dec 15	99¼	99¾
Nor. & W. R. 1st con. g. 4s,1996.A O*	100	Jul 18	97⅜	Jul 18	97⅜	July 18	..	..
Do registered.....*J J	97⅜	Jul 18	97⅜	Jul 18	97⅜	July 18	..	..
N. P. Ry p.in.ry&l.g.g.4s,Jan.,1997. Q J	105½	Mar 27	102¼	Oct 1	104⅞	Dec 15	104⅞	105
Do registered.....Q J	105½	Mar 13	101	Jun 22	104¾	Sept 18	..	..
Do gen. lien g. 3s, Jan., 2047...Q F	72½	Dec 5	65½	Oct 18	70¾	Dec 10	70⅝	70½
Do do registered.....Q F	70½	Dec 5	65½	Oct 18	70¾	Dec 10	..	..
St. Paul & N. P. gen. 6s, 1923...*F A	132½	May 3	131½	Mar 22	131¾	Nov 23	130	..
Do registered certificates.....Q F	..	....	..	....	132	Jul 28,99	..	..
Wash. Cen. 1st g. 4s, Mar., 1948..Q M	88¾	May 31	88¾	May 31	88¾	May 31	88	..
St. Paul & Dul. 1st 5s, 1931.....F A*	125	Aug 29	109	Apr 19	112	Dec 15	113¼	..
Do 2d 5s, 1917.....A O*	113	Dec 4	97½	Apr 19	101	Dec 4	101	..
Do 1st con. g. 4s, 1968.....*J D	101	Mar 12	113	Aug 27	117½	Dec 15	..	..
Nor. Pac. Ter. Co. 1st g. 6s, 1933..J J*	120
Ohio Riv. R. R.1st g. 5s, 1936...*J D	110	Jul 24	109	Apr 25	110	July 24	108	..
Do gen. g. 5s, 1937.....*A O	95½	Nov 22	90	Aug 13	95	Dec 12	..	..
Omaha & St. L. 1st g. 4s, 1901.....J J*	77	Mar 12	60	Jan 5	75	Apr 4	..	..
Pac. Coast Co. 1st g. 5s, 1946...*J D	112	Nov 30	104¼	Jan 6	111	Dec 6	108¾	110
Panama sk. fd. sub. 6s, 1910..M N*	105	Jan 16	101	Dec 15	101	Dec 15	..	..
Do do 4½s, 1917.....*A O	105	Oct 17	105	Oct 17	105	Oct 17	104	..
Penn. Co. gtd. 1st g. 4½s, 1921.....J J*	117	Sep 11	111½	Jan 10	117	Dec 12	116¼	117
Do registered, 1921.....J J*	116	Oct 10	111½	Jan 19	116	Oct 19	..	..
Do gtd.3½s,col.tr.reg.cfs..1937.M S*	..	....	..	....	102	No 11,98	..	..
C., St. L. & P. 1st con. 5s, 1932..A O*	124	Dec 5	121	Jul 10	124	Dec 5	121	..
C. & P. con. sink. fd. 7s, 1900...M N*	103½	Mar 6	102	Jan 12	103½	Mar 6	..	..
Do gen. gtd. g. 4½s, Ser.A.,1942.*J J	121	Oct 22	117½	Feb 2	121	Oct 22	124	..
Erie & Pitts. gen. 3½s, 1940.....J J	102	Nov 7	101¼	Apr 11	102	Nov 7	..	..
P.,C.,C. & S.L. cn.g.gt.4½s,A,1940.A O*	117¾	Aug 31	114	Jan 9	116½	Dec 7	116¾	..
Do Series B, gtd., 1942.....*A O	117¼	Sep 19	113⅞	Jan 12	116¼	Dec 6	..	..
Do Series C, gtd., 1942.....M N*	..	....	..	....	113	No 23,98	..	..
Do Series D, 4s, gtd., 1945.....M N*	109	Apr 12	106¼	Apr 3	109	Apr 12	..	..
Do g. 3½s, Series E, 1949.....F A	101⅞	Jul 14	100	Apr 10	100¼	Dec 5	..	..
P., Ft. W. & C. 1st 7s, 1912.....J J*	139¼	May 5	135	Jan 12	137¾	Dec 6	137	..
Do 2d 7s, 1912.....J J*	137¾	Nov 27	135½	Aug 25	137¾	Nov 27	135	..
Do 3d 7s, July, 1912.....A O	134	Feb 15	131	Jul 9	131	July 9	131	..
Penn. R. R. Co. re. est. g.4s,1923.*M N	..	....	..	....	108	My 12,97	..	..
Un. N. J. R. R. & C.gen.4s,1944.*M S	117	May 1	117	May 1	117	May 1	116	..
Clev. & Marietta 1st gtd. 4½s, 1935..	112¾	Mar 7	109	Jan 12	112¾	Mar 7	..	..
G.R. & I. ext. 1st gtd.g.4½s,1941.J J*	112½	Dec 11	108	Jan 15	112½	Dec 11	..	..
Alle. Val. gen. gtd. g. 4s, 1942...*M S	..	....	..	....	102	No 10,97	..	..
Peo. & P. Un. 1st g. 6s, Feb.,1921..Q F	130¾	Mar 10	130	Aug 28	130	Aug 28	131	133
Do 2d 4½s, Feb., 1921.....M N	101	Sep 19	98	Jun 6	101	Oct 31	98½	..
Pine Creek reg. gtd. 6s, 1932.....J D*	..	....	..	....	137	No 17,97	..	..
Pitts., Clev. & T. 1st g. 6s, 1922...A O*	..	....	..	....	107½	Oc 26,98	..	..
Pitts. Junc. 1st g. 6s, 1922.....J J*	..	....	..	....	121	No 26,98	..	..
P. & L.E.2d g.5s,Ser.A&B,Ja.,1928.A O	..	....	..	....	114	Mar., 93	112	..
P., P. & F. 1st g. 5s, 1916.....J J*	..	....	..	....	90	Jne 24,99	..	..
P., S. & L. E. 1st g. 5s, 1940.....A O*	116¼	Jul 28	113½	Jan 16	116¼	July 28	116	..
Do 1st con. g. 5s, 1943.....J J*	..	....	..	....	93	Jul 14,97	..	..
Pitts. & West. 1st g. 4s, 1917.....J J*	101	Jun 1	99⅝	Jan 18	100½	Dec 11	..	..
Do J. P. M. & Co. certs.....	101½	Jun 12	99¼	Jan 11	100⅜	Dec 12	..	..
Reading Co. gen. g. 4s, 1997.....*J J	93¼	Dec 11	83	Jan 9	93¼	Dec 15	93	93¼
Do registered.....*J J	88	Nov 15	87¾	Aug 28	88	Nov 15	..	..
Rio Grande West. 1st g. 4s, 1939...J J*	100⅞	Dec 15	94¼	Jan 4	100⅞	Dec 15	100½	101
Utah Cent. 1st gtd. g. l.g.4s,1917.A O	88⅞	Sep 27	85	Feb 20	88⅞	Sept 27	89	93
Rio Gr. Junc. 1st gtd. g. 5s, 1939..J D*	..	....	..	....	105	No 19,99	..	..
Rio Gr. South. 1st g. 4s, 1940.....J J*	81¼	Apr 25	71	Mar 9	78	Dec 3	78	..
Do guaranteed.....J J*	94	Nov 12	92½	Jul 30	94	Nov 12	..	..
St. J. & G. I. 1st g. 3-4s, 1947....*J J	91¼	Dec 12	81	Jul 5	91¼	Dec 12	91¼	..
St. L. & S.F.2d g.6s,Cl.A,1906.M N*	..	....	..	....	110	No 15,99	111	113
Do g. 6s, Class B, 1906.....M N*	113¼	Feb 15	110½	Nov 2	111¼	Dec 6	111	113
Do g. 6s, Class C, 1906.....M N*	113½	Oct 3	110½	Nov 7	111¼	Dec 7	111	113
Do 1st g. 6s, P., C. & O., 1919..F A*	..	....	..	....	113¾	July, 96	..	..
Do gen. g. 6s, 1931.....J J*	129	Dec 7	121¾	Aug 17	129	Dec 7	128	..
Do gen. g. 5s, 1931.....J J*	115¼	Nov 27	106	Jan 4	114⅝	Dec 15	114⅝	115
Do 1st tr. g. 5s, 1987.....A O*	104	Apr 20	102¼	Oct 17	102½	Oct 17	105	..
Ft. S. & V. B. B. 1st g. 6s, 1910.*A O	..	....	..	....	105	Oc 4, 97	..	..
St. L. & S. F. R. R. g. 4s, 1906....J J*	90⅞	Dec 10	79	Jan 8	90⅜	Dec 14	90¾	91¼
Do Southw. Div. g. 5s, 1947...A O*	100	Jun 7	96¼	May 10	100	June 18	100	..
Do Cen. Div. 1st g. 4s, 1929...*A O	95	Feb 19	90¾	Dec 11	90¾	Dec 11	90	..
St. L. S. W. 1st g. 4s,bd.cts.,1989.M N*	95½	Nov 30	85	Jun 25	94½	Dec 15	94	94½
Do 2d g. 4s,inc.bd.cts.,Nov.,1989.J J	72½	Dec 5	53⅞	Jan 10	72¼	Dec 15	72	72¼
St P., Min. & Man. 2d 6s, 1909....A O*	121	Mar 12	116¼	Nov 2	118¼	Dec 8	118⅛	..
Do Dak. ext. g. 6s, 1910.....M N*	121½	Apr 16	117¼	Nov 8	119⅛	Dec 14	119⅜	..
Do 1st con. g. 6s, 1933.....J J*	143½	Dec 14	137	Jan *3	143½	Dec 14	143	..
Do do registered.....J J*	..	....	..	....	137¾	Fe 23,99	..	..
Do do reduced to 4½s.....J J*	116¾	Apr 21	112¼	Jan 2	116⅜	Dec 5	116½	..
Do do do registered.....J J*	115¼	Nov 20	115¼	Nov 20	115½	Nov 20	..	..
Do Mon. ext. 1st g. 4s, 1937....*J D	105	Apr 16	102½	Jan 2	103½	Dec 11	..	..
Do do registered.....*J D	..	....	..	....	104	Ja 24, 99	..	..
Minn. Union 1st g. 6s, 1922.....J J*	128	Apr 4	128	Apr 4	128	Apr 4	..	..
Mon. Cen. 1st gtd. g. 6s, 1937....J J*	135	Dec 13	129¼	Jan 10	135	Dec 13	133	..
Do registered.....J J*	..	....	..	....	115	Ap 24,97	..	..
Do 1st gtd. g. 6s, 1937.....J J*	118¾	Jun 6	116⅞	Oct 2	118	Dec 7	117	..
East. Minn. 1st div. 1st 5s,1908..*A O	108⅝	Apr 19	108	Nov 30	108	Nov 30	108½	..
Wil. & Sioux F. 1st g. 5s, 1938...*J D	..	....	..	....	120	Ap 11,99	..	..
Do registered.....*J D	..	....	..	....	115	Ap 24,99	..	..
S. Fe, P. & P. R. 1st g. 5s, 1942...M S*	..	....	..	....	106¾	No 20,99	..	..
S. F. & N. P. 1st g. 6s, 1910.....*J J	112	Jun 9	112	Jun 9	112	June 9	..	..
Sa., Fla. & W. 1st con. g. 6s,1934.*A O	128½	Jan 13	125½	Jan 8	128½	Jan 13	125	..
Do 1st g. 5s, 1934.....*A O	..	....	..	....	112	Mr 17,99	111	..
Do St. John's Div. 4s, 1934.....J J*	94½	Dec 12	94½	Dec 12	94½	Dec 12	94	..
Ala. Midland 1st g. 5s, 1928.....M N*	105	Mar 28	100	Nov 14	102	Nov 27	102	103½
Bruns. & Westcot. 1st g. 4s, 1938....*J J	86	May 2	82¾	Sep 15	83	Sept 17	..	..
Sea. & Roanoke 1st 5s, 1926.....J J*	..	....	..	....	104½	Fe 5, 97	..	..
Southern Pacific Co.—
Do g. 4s, Cen. P. col.,Aug.,1949.J D	85¾	Apr 5	76⅛	Sep 28	82⅝	Dec 15	82¾	82¾
Do do registered.....J D	..	....	..	....	85	No 6, 99	..	..
Cen. P. 1st ref. gtd. g. 4s, 1949..F A*	100⅜	Jan 23	97	Oct 10	100¼	Dec 14	100	100⅛
Do registered.....*J J	99¾	Jan 1	99¾	Jun 1	99¾	June 1	..	..
Do mtge. gtd. g. 5s,Aug.,1929.J D	86¾	May 10	80¾	Oct. 5	83¾	Dec 15	83	83¾
Gal., Har. & S. A. 1st 6s, 1910...F A*	110¾	Apr 27	110	May 28	110	May 28	..	..
Do 2d g. 7s, 1905.....*J D	106¾	Feb 28	104½	Aug 9	105	Aug 15	106	106¾
Do M. & P. Div. 1st 6s, 1931..*M N	102¾	Jan 31	97½	Nov 1	100½	Dec 15	..	..
Hous. & T. C. 1st W. & N.7s,1903.J J	..	....	..	....	102	Nov., 94	..	..
Do 1st g. 5s, int. gtd., 1937.....J J*	113¾	Dec 6	109	Jul 13	113¾	Dec 6	113	..

	Range for Year 1900. Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.		Bid.	As'd.
Do con. g. 6s, int. gtd., 1912...A O*	113	Feb 21	110½	Nov 26	110½	Nov 28	110	..
Do gen. g. 4s, int. gtd., 1921...*A O	87	Mar 28	81	Aug 21	85½	Dec 14	85	..
Hous., E. & W. T. 1st g.5s,1933.*M N	105	Mar 26	100	Jan 24	105	Aug 20	105	..
Mor. La. & T. 1st g. 6s, 1920.....J J*	120½	Feb 28	120½	Feb 28	120½	Feb 28	..	..
Do 1st 7s, 1918.....*A O	..	....	..	....	134	No 22,99	..	..
Ore. & Cal. 1st 5s, 1927.....J J*	99	Jul 17	93¼	Aug 8	98¼	Aug 8	..	..
San A. & A. P. 1st gtd. g.4s,1943.*J J	80⅜	Mar 31	73	Jul 9	79½	Dec 13	79	79½
Texas & N. O. 1st 7s, 1905.....F A*	114¼	Dec 12	114¼	Dec 12	114¼	Dec. 12	..	..
Do Sabine Div. 1st g. 6s, 1912..M S*	..	....	..	....	106¾	No 17,97	..	..
Do con. g. 5s, 1943.....J J*	105	Dec 15	101	Jan 2	105	Dec 15	..	..
S.P.of Ar.gtd.1st g.6s,Mch,1900-10.J J	114¼	Jun 11	110	Jan 2	110	Oct 1	..	..
S. P. of Cal. 1st g. 6s, Ser. A, 1905.*A O	110	Mar 26	107	Oct 20	109½	Dec 4	109	..
Do do Series B.....*A O	110¾	Aug 24	110¾	Aug 24	110¾	Aug 24	109½	..
Do do Series C and D, 1906.....*A O	112	May 28	110¾	Nov 24	110¾	Nov 24	111½	..
Do 1st 6s, 1912.....A O	119	Jul 27	117¾	Jun 8	119	July 27	119¼	..
Do 1st con. gtd. g. 5s, 1937....M N*	107	Nov 27	103½	Jan 19	107	Nov 27	..	..
Do do stamped, 1905-37.....M N	109¼	Mar 29	104½	Jan 10	107	Nov 13	..	..
Aus. & N. W. 1st gtd. g. 5s, 1941. J J*	99¾	Apr 5	94¾	Oct 20	99¼	Nov 15	..	..
So. Pac. of N. M. 1st g. 6s, 1911.*J J	116½	May 10	116	Aug 3	116	Aug 3	..	..
Gila V.,G. & N.1st gtd.g.5s,1924.M N*	106¼	Apr 5	100	May 8	104¾	Dec 11	104	106
Nor. R. of Cal. 1st 6s, gtd., 1907.*J J	..	....	..	....	98	Au 6, 97	..	..
Do 50-year g. 5s, 1938.....A O*	..	....	..	....	106	Au 23,99	..	..
Southern R. 1st con. g. 5s, 1994...J J*	113¼	Apr 10	106	Jan 8	113½	Dec 15	113	113½
Do registered.....J J	108¾	Jul 30	107¾	Jul 27	108	Aug 3	..	..
Do Mem. Div. 1st g.4-4½-5s,1996.J J	109½	Apr 23	108	Nov 24	108	Nov 28	109½	..
E. Tenn. reor. lien g. 4-5s, 1933.*M S	112	May 8	108½	Jan 10	111¼	Dec 13	..	..
Ala. Central 1st g. 6s, 1918.....J J*	..	....	..	....	112¼	Au 17,97	112½	..
Atl. & Dan. 1st g. 4s, 1948.....J J*	94⅜	Dec 10	93¼	Sep 13	94¼	Dec 15	..	..
Col. & Green. 1st g. 6s, 1916.....J J*	115	Jan 31	115	Jan 31	115	Jan 31	..	..
E. T., Va. & Ga. divs.g.5s,1930...M N*	119	Nov 15	114¾	Feb 19	119	Dec 6	..	..
Do con. 1st 5s, 1956.....M N*	120½	Oct 19	114	Jan 2	118	Dec 14	..	..
Georgia Pac. R. 1st g. 6s, 1922...*J J	125¼	Nov 17	119½	Jan 16	125	Nov 27	124	..
Knox. & Ohio 1st g. 6s, 1925.....J J*	124	Apr 23	118¼	Jan 3	124	Nov 23	122½	..
Rich. & Dan. con. g. 6s, 1915...*J J	126	Apr 20	118	Jan 3	123½	Nov 26	123½	..
Do equip. s. f. g. 5s, 1909.....M S*	101¼	Jul 20	101	Jan 11	101¼	July 20	100	..
Do deb. 5s, stamped, 1927.....*A O	103¼	Aug 27	104	Aug 14	106¼	Dec 7	107½	109½
Rich. & Meckles. 1st g. 4s,1948.M N*	83¼	Dec 7	83	Dec 7	83	Dec 10	80	84
Va. Midland gen. 5s, 1936.....*M N	113	Nov 28	109	Jan 8	112½	Dec 5	113	116
Do do gtd., stamped, 1936....*M N	113½	Dec 14	108	Jan 4	113½	Dec 14	113	116
Do serial, Series D.....A O*	..	....	..	....	102	Oc 13,99	..	..
Do serial, Series E.....*A O	..	....	..	....	109	Js 12, 99	..	..
W., O. & W. 1st cur.gtd.4s,1924..*F A	91½	Sep 14	87	Jul 9	91½	Sept 14	92	94
West. N. C. 1st con. g. 6s, 1914..J J*	119	Mar 31	114½	Jan 10	119	Nov 17	119	..
So. Car. & Ga. 1st g. 5s, 1919...M N	109	Apr 19	102	Jan 15	106½	Dec 10	106	..
Spokane Falls & N. 1st g. 6s,1939.J J	117	Jul 25	117	Jul 25	117	July 25	..	..
Ter. Ass. of St. L. 1st 4½s,1939.A O*	..	....	..	....	113	Oct 2, 99	114½	..
Do 1st con. g. 5s, 1894-1944....F A*	114½	Jul 2	113½	Sep 28	113¾	Sept 28	115	..
St. L. M. B. T. gtd. g. 5s, 1930...A O	111	Jan 19	111	Jan 19	111	Jan 19	..	..
Tex. & Pac., E. Div. 1st g.6s,1905.*M S	105	Aug 1	104¾	Sep 28	104⅞	Oct 4	..	..
Do 1st g. 5s, 2000.....*J D	117	Nov 30	110½	Jun 25	114	Dec 14	113½	..
Do 2d inc. g. 5s, Dec. 1, 2000...Mar.	82	Nov 10	53	Mar 8	80	Dec 14	..	..
Tol. & Ohio Cen. 1st g. 5s, 1935....J J*	116½	Nov 28	105	Jan 8	115	Dec 6	112	..
Do gen. mtge. 5s, 1935.....*J D	106¾	Nov 24	92¼	Feb 26	103½	Dec 12	..	105½
Do West. Div. 1st g. 5s, 1935..A O*	114	Nov 17	105	Jan 29	114	Nov 27	..	..
Kan. & Mich. 1st gtd. g. 4s,1990.*A O	92	Dec 5	84½	Jan 2	92	Dec 5	90	100
Tol., Peo. & W. 1st g. 4s, 1917....J J*	86	Dec 5	78	Jan 3	86	Dec 5	86½	..
Tol., St.L. & K.C. 1st g.6s,1916,i.r.*J D	130¼	Jun 16	110	Jan 2	130¼	June 25	..	..
Tor., Ham. &

OUR LONDON CABLE

Continued from Page 1.

England for your side carries securities for delivery bought on this market. Ships have more offered them than they will take, a man said to me Friday, and unquestionably a large class of British speculative investors, who formerly played continually with your railroad stocks and who for the last year or two have been waiting a chance to escape, sell steadily, while the new public, a limited one now noisily playing, hops in one day and out the next.

No one buys to hold, and if such quantities of your stocks are going home to the extent of the money they represent, your hold over our money market must have weakened.

After all, however, these purchases can be but a trifle compared with the enormous trading balances always in favor of the States, so that if you want gold there can be no doubt of your power to take it, and we are practically helpless against our many creditors.

But for the shipments from India and Australia our slender stock would have been much reduced long ago, and the question with serious men is whether these dependencies can continue to produce enough to satisfy the demands upon us until events take a turn in our favor.

The riddle is unreadable at present, and the best we can do is to be thankful from week to week that the bank rate has not gone to 5 per cent. Even that thankfulness is tempered now by the ever-haunting fear that an advance may be sprung upon us any day, and that when it does come it may only be a halfway move to 6 per cent. A. J. W.

The Bank of Spain's Report.

MADRID, Dec. 16.—The report of the Bank of Spain for the week ended yesterday shows the following changes: Gold in hand, increase, 918,000 pesetas; silver in hand, increase, 2,586,000 pesetas; notes in circulation, decrease, 4,532,000 pesetas.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Net changes for the week of 1 point or more in the more active securities were:

ADVANCES.

Am. Agr. Chem.	1	Inter-State Oil	3¼
Am. Ag. Chem. pf.	1	Mex. Nat. Con. pf.	1
Am. Chicle	3	Ray. Bak. Pow. pf.	1
Brit. Col. Copper	1	Standard Oil	32
Cramps' Shipyard	6	St. Louis Transit	3
Electric Boat	3½	Un. Ry's of St. L. pf.	5
Elec. Boat pf.	1

DECLINES.

Am. H. & L. 6s.	1½	N. Y. Trans.	1
Compressed Air		N. E. Gas & C. 5s.	4
Electric Vehicle	1	Otis Elevator	1
Havana Com.	1	Otis Elevator pf.	2
Havana Com. pf.	1	Virginia I. C. & C.	2
Nat. Sugar pf.	1	Vir. I. C. & C. 5s.	2

Considerable irregularity developed in the outside market during the past week, and, generally speaking, transactions were on a smaller scale than during the recent past. The net results of the week as viewed from the final changes in prices were not as favorable as might be wished, but the market closed in probably better position than is indicated by the week's list of changes. Several substantial advances were made during the latter part of the week, and the market at the close was stronger than it had been on the earlier days. The outlook was made favorable by the very strong market that appeared on the board on Saturday, which strength was not reflected to any large extent in the outside market. As a rule the curb market is slower to respond to the factors that lead to a strong market than is the broader market on the Stock Exchange. Some of the week's changes were the result of special developments, but, all told, the news of the week did not play much part in the course of the market.

Among the notable announcements made was that a stock dividend of 200 per cent. will be given to the stockholders of the Singer Manufacturing Company. The announcement was one that naturally attracted much attention, but it can hardly be viewed as of general importance to the market because of the fact that the stock is so closely held that very few transactions are ever made. down considerably, but within the last few weeks it has shown much strength. On Saturday bids of 860 for the stock were reported, which was an advance of 75 points over the bids quoted at the beginning of the week.

Pennsylvania Coal was active as a result of the sale of the property which was announced during the week, and on one or two days as much as a thousand shares of the stock changed hands on the curb. On the day the terms of the sale became known the stock enjoyed an advance of 125 points, and this was followed by a still further advance on the following day, when the stock sold as high as 750. These phenomenal advances were much in the nature of those which of late have frequently occurred in Standard Oil. During the past week this stock was generally strong, and at the close a net gain of 32 points appeared.

Among the other industrials that received special attention was Electric Boat, both issues of which advanced substantially. American Chicle common, owing to the declaration of a 2½ per cent. dividend and current reports in regard to the dividends likely to be paid on the stock during the coming year, advanced beyond any previously recorded price. It made a net gain of 3 points, closing at 80 bid, with little or no stock offered. A number of other industrials, however, were under some pressure and ended the week with net losses. Among these were Electric Vehicle, Havana Commercial, and Otis Elevator.

The copper stocks supplied a fair proportion of the week's business, and two or three issues of the group closed at substantially better prices than those recorded the previous Saturday. British Columbia Copper gained a full point, closing at 20 bid. Union Copper sold up to 5¼, and closed at 5⅛ bid, a net gain of half a point. During the week it was announced by an officer of the company that the company's concentrating plant would be put in operation very shortly, probably during the present week.

Consolidated Equipment was irregular during the week, but closed strong on over the previous week's quotation. Reports of important developments in the company's business were heard, but it was not announced just what the nature of these developments is. Insiders state that they will result in permanent benefit to the property.

Following are the latest quotations for securities not listed or inactive on the Stock Exchange. These quotations are compiled from reports made to THE NEW YORK TIMES by many of the most active and reputable commission brokers. Information is solicited from all persons interested. Address Financial Editor, THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Banks.

	Bid.	Asked.
America	475	485
American Exchange	195	200
Astor	500	..
Bowery	300	..
Broadway	240	250
Butchers & Drovers'	88	95
Central	175	180
Chase	475	..
Chatham	800	810
Chemical	3950	4050
Citizens'	145	150
City	490	495
Colonial	275	..
Columbia	190	..
Commerce	300	305
Continental	135	..
Corn Exchange	365	..
East River	140	..
Eleventh Ward	150	..
Fifth Avenue	2500	3000
Fifth National	225	..
First	3600	..
Fourteenth Street	150	175
Fourth	173	177
Gallatin	400	425
Gansevoort	60	..
German Exchange	260	..
Garfield	1725	..
German-American	120	..
Germania	500	..
Greenwich	165	..
Hamilton	145	..
Hanover	400	430
Hide & Leather	125	..
Importers & Traders'	515	525
Irving	180	185
Leather Manufacturers'	220	235
Liberty	310	..
Lincoln	800	..
Manhattan	270	285
Market & Fulton	230	240
Mechanics'	205	215
Mechanics & Traders'	95	105
Mercantile	215	..
Merchants'	170	175
Merchants' Exchange	128	..
Metropolis	600	..
Mount Morris	180	..
Mutual	150	..
Nassau	170	185
New Amsterdam	675	..

Continued on Page 7

DECLARED DIVIDENDS.

STEAM RAILROAD STOCKS.

Company and Period.	Amount.	Payable.	B'ks Close.	B'ks Open.
Atch., Top. & S. F. pf. (semi-annual)	2½	Feb. 1	Jan. 10	Feb. 2
Atlantic Coast Line com.	1	Jan. 10	.....	.....
Boston & Albany quarter	2¼	Dec. 31	Holders of record	Dec. 13
Boston & Lowell	$4	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Dec. 1
Boston & Maine common (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 1	Dec. 1	Dec. 7
Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn (semi-annual)	$1	Jan. 1	.....	.....
Chicago & Alton Railway pf.	2	Jan. 10	Dec. 20	Jan. 11
Chi. & East. Ill. com. (semi-annual).	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Chi. & East. Ill. com. (extra)	½	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Chi. & East. Ill. pf. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Chi. Gt. West. pf. A (semi-annual)	2½	Jan. 31	Dec. 24	Jan. 1
Chi. Gt. West. debenture	2	Jan. 15	Dec. 24	Jan. 1
Chi. & N'western (semi-annual)	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 17	Dec. 24
Chicago & N'western pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 17	Dec. 24
Chic., Rock Isl. & Pac. (quarter)	1¼	Feb. 1	Dec. 28	Jan. 7
Chic. & West. Indiana (quarter)	1½	Jan. 1	.....	.....
Cin., Ports. & Va. pf.	3	Jan. 10	Holders of record	Dec. 31
Denver & Rio Gr. pf. (semi-annual).	2½	Jan. 15	Jan. 2	Jan. 16
Gila Valley, Globe & Northern	4	Jan. 1	.....	.....
Hocking Valley pf. (semi-annual)	2	Jan. 16	Holders of record	Dec. 28
Maine Central (quarter)	1½	Jan. 1	.....	.....
Manhattan Railway (quarter)	1	Jan. 2	Dec. 14	Dec. 24
Minneapolis & St. Louis	2	Jan. 15	Dec. 31	Jan. 16
Minneapolis & St. Louis pf.	2	Jan. 15	Dec. 31	Jan. 16
New York & Harlem R. R.	5	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Dec. 15
N. Y., N. Haven & Hart. (quarter).	2	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Jan. 1
Northern Central (semi-annual)	4	Jan. ..	.....	.....
Northern Pacific (quarter)	1	Feb. 5	Dec. 24	Jan. 10
Pennsylvania & Northwestern	2	Jan. 10	.....	.....
Phil., Wil. & Balt. (semi-annual)	4	Jan. 2	.....	.....
Rio Grande West. pf. (quarter)	1¼	Feb. 1	Holders of record	Dec. 31
Rutland pf. (semi-annual)	2	Jan. 1	.....	.....
St. Joseph & Grand Island 1st pf.	2½	Jan. 15	Dec. 31	Jan. 16
St. Louis & San Francisco 1st pf.	2	Jan. 7	Dec. 22	Jan. 7

STREET RAILWAYS.

Chicago City Railway	3	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Dec. 21
Hestonville com.	$1	Jan. 1	Holders of record	Dec. 20
Hestonville pf.	$1.50	Jan. 1	Holders of record	Dec. 20
Nassau Electric R. R. pf.	4	Dec. 31	.....	.....
South Side El., Chic. (quarter)	¾	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Dec. 21
Twin City Rapid T. pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 27	Jan. 2
Union Passenger Railway (Phil.)	$4.75	Dec. 31	Dec. 30	Jan. 2
United Traction & Elec. Co. (N. J.)	1	Jan. ..	Dec. 19	Jan. 3
West End Street Ry. pf.	$2	Jan. 1	Dec. 18	Jan. 2
West Phila. Passenger Ry. (Phil.)	$5	Jan. 1	Holders of record	Dec. 15

BANK STOCKS.

Fifth Avenue (Brooklyn)	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 21	Jan. 3
Fifth Avenue (New York)	20	Jan. 2	Dec. 24	Jan. 2
Fifth Avenue, New York, (extra)	5	Jan. 2	Dec. 24	Jan. 2
Union (Brooklyn)	2½	Jan. 1	Dec. 26	Jan. 2

TRUST COMPANIES.

Colonial	5	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
Fifth Avenue	4	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 2
Franklin, Brooklyn, (quarter)		Jan. 2	Dec. 24	Jan. 2
Girard (Philadelphia)	9	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Dec. 15
Knickerbocker (semi-annual)	3½	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 2
Manufacturers', (Brooklyn,) quarter.	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 2
Manufacturers', (Brooklyn,) extra.	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 2
Williamsburg, Brooklyn, (semi-annual)	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3

MISCELLANEOUS COMPANIES.

American Beet Sugar pf. (quarter).	1½	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Dec. 15
American Chicle Co. com.	2½	Dec. 31	Dec. 24	Jan. 21
American Chicle Co. pf.	1½	Dec. 31	Dec. 24	Jan. 21
American Express Co.	3	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Nov. 30
American Screw (quarter)	1¼	Dec. 31	Holders of record	Dec. 21
American Sheet Steel pf. (quarter).	1¾	Jan. 15	Dec. 22	Jan. 16
American Snuff Co. pf.	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 3
Am. Steel Casting pf.	3½	Dec. 20	Dec. 8	Dec. 21
Am. Steel & Wire Co. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 17	Jan. 3
Am. Steel & Wire Co. pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 17	Jan. 3
American Strawboard (quarter)	1	Dec. 27	Dec. 15	Dec. 28
American Sugar Ref. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 8	Jan. 3
American Sugar Ref. pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 8	Jan. 3
Am. Surety Co. (quarter)	2	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Jan. 10
Am. Thread pf. (semi-annual)	2½	Jan. 1	Nov. 28	Jan. 2
Ashland Coal Iron (quarter)	1½	Dec. 30	Dec. 15	Dec. 20
Booth Cotton Mills, Boston	$30	Dec. 20	Holders of record	Dec. 7
Boston Belting Co. (quarter)	2	Jan. 1	Dec. 15	Jan. 1
Boston Towboat Co. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 1	Holders of record	Dec. 20
Buffalo Hump Mining Co.	1	Jan. 2	Holders of record	Dec. 20
Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. (quarter)	$20	Dec. 28	Holders of record	Dec. 5
Castle Braid Co. (quarter)	1½	Dec. 31	Dec. 13	Jan. 2
Celluloid Co. (quarter)	1½	Dec. 31	Dec. 14	Jan. 2
Celluloid Co. (extra)	1	Dec. 31	Dec. 14	Jan. 2
Chicago. Junc. Rwys. & Union Stock Yards (quarter)	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 13	Jan. 3
Chicago. Junc. Rwys. & Union Stock Yards pf. (quarter)	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 13	Jan. 3
Chicago Telephone (quarter)	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 26	Jan. 3
Colorado Fuel & Iron pf.	8	Dec. 20	Nov. 30	Dec. 21
Columbus Edison Co. pf.	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 19	Jan. 22
Commercial Cable (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 2
Commercial Cable (extra)	1	Jan. 2	Dec. 17	Jan. 1
Continental Tobacco pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 12	Jan. 3

Company and Period.	Amount.	Payable.	B'ks Close.	B'ks Open.
Corporation Liquidating Co. pf. (semi-annual)	3½	Jan. 1	Dec. 26	Jan. 2
Crucible Steel Co. pf.	1¾	Dec. 29	.....	.....
Dominion Coal pf. (semi-annual)	4	Jan. 1	Dec. 17	Jan. 1
Electric Storage Battery pf.	6	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 2
General Electric Co. (quarter)	2	Jan. 15	Holders of record	Dec. 29
General Electric Co. (extra)	1	Jan. 15	Holders of record	Dec. 29
Homestake Mining (month)	25c	Dec. 26	Dec. 20	.....
Homestake Mining (extra)	25c	Dec. 26	Dec. 20	.....
International Paper pf. (quarter)	1½	Dec. 31	Dec. 14	Jan. 2
Iron Silver Mining Co.	10c	Dec. 20	Dec. 10	Dec. 24
Jackson Gas Co.	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 3
Knickerbocker Ice Co., Chicago, pf. (semi-annual)	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Maryland Coal Co. (semi-annual)	2	Dec. 29	.....	.....
Maryland Coal Co. (extra)	1	Dec. 29	.....	.....
Mergenthaler Linotype Co. (quarter)	2½	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Mergenthaler Lin. Co. (extra)	2½	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Mil. & Chic. Brewing pf.	2	Dec. 31	.....	.....
National Biscuit com. (quarter)	1	Jan. 15	Jan. 5	Jan. 16
National Steel Co. pf. (quarter)	1¾	Dec. 31	Dec. 12	Jan. 2
National Sugar Refining Co. pf.	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
National Tube pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 12	Jan. 3
New England Cotton Yarn Co.	$3.50	Jan. 1	Dec. 17	Dec. 24
Niles-Bement-Pond	1½	Dec. 20	Dec. 10	Dec. 21
Old Dominion Steamship pf.	3	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
Osceola Mining Co. (semi-annual)	$3	Dec. 20	Nov. 26	Dec. 24
Otis Elevator Co. pf. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 12	Dec. 22	Jan. 11
Pennsylvania Steel Company pf.	1¾	Jan. 15	Holders of record	Dec. 31
P. Lorillard Co. pf. (quarter)	2	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 2
Pitts. Steve & Range pf. (quarter).	1¾	Dec. 20	Holders of record	Dec. 3
Quincy Railroad Bridge	5	Jan. 1	Dec. 21	Jan. 2
Republic Iron & Steel pf. (quarter).	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Royal Baking Powder Co. pf. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 2
Rubber Goods Mfg. common	1	Jan. 15	Jan. 5	Jan. 15
Safety Car Heat & Lighting (quarter)	2	Dec. 22	Dec. 12	Dec. 26
Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron pf.	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
Street's West Stable Car Line pf. (semi-annual)	$3.50	Jan. 1	Dec. 24	Jan. 1
Swift & Co. (quarter)	1¾	Dec. 31	Dec. 15	Jan. 4
Tamarack Mining (semi-annual)	$10	Dec. 28	Dec. 7	Dec. 17
Union Bag & Paper pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 2
Union Ferry Co. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
Union Switch & Signal (quarter)	¾	Jan. 10	Dec. 31	Jan. 11
Union Switch & Signal pf. (quarter).	2	Jan. 10	Dec. 31	Jan. 11
United Fruit (quarter)	2½	Jan. 15	Dec. 31	.....
United Gas Imp. Co. (quarter)	2	Jan. 15	Holders of record	Dec. 29
United Shoe Mach. Co. com.	2	Jan. 15	Dec. 20	Dec. 31
United Shoe Mach. Co. pf. (quarter).	1½	Jan. 15	Dec. 20	Dec. 31
United States Brewing pf.	4	Jan. 1	.....	.....
U. S. Leather pf. (quarter)	1½	Jan. 2	Dec. 15	Jan. 3
Victoria Coal & Coke com. (annual).	10	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 3
Victoria C. & C. pf. (semi-annual)	6	Jan. 2	Dec. 22	Jan. 3
Westinghouse Air Brake (quarter)	2½	Jan. 10	Dec. 31	Jan. 11
Westinghouse Air Brake (extra)	3½	Jan. 10	Dec. 31	Jan. 11
Westinghouse El. & Mfg. Co. pf. (quarter)	1¾	Jan. 2	Dec. 20	Jan. 3
Westinghouse Machine (quarter)	1½	Jan. 10	Jan. 1	Jan. 11
Westinghouse Machine pf. (quarter).	1½	Jan. 10	Jan. 1	Jan. 11
Western Union Tel. (quarter)	1¼	Jan. 15	Dec. 20	Jan. 2

MEETINGS.

	Books Close	Books Open.	Date.	Nature.
American Beer Cask Co.	.....	.....	Dec. 20	Annual
American Coal Co.	Dec. 17	Dec. 28	Dec. 27	Annual
Bank of New York	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Central Brewing Co.	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Central National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Chemical National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Chicago City Railway	Jan. 4	Jan. 16	Jan. 15	Annual
Chinus's Umque Dairy Company	.....	.....	Dec. 26	Annual
Columbus Edison Co.	Dec. 31	Jan. 22	Jan. 21	Annual
Columbus Railway Co.	Dec. 26	Jan. 11	Jan. 10	Annual
Continental National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Cosmopolitan Range Co.	Jan. 5	.....	Jan. 12	Annual
Dry Dock, E. B'way & Bat. R. R.	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Hanover National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
H. B. Claflin Co.	Dec. 21	Jan. 11	Jan. 11	Annual
Henderson Bridge Co.	Dec. 28	Jan. 8	Jan. 7	Annual
Hurley Water Co. of Hurley, Wis.	.....	.....	Dec. 20	Bondholders
Illinois Central Railroad	Dec. 20	.....	Jan. 26	Special
Knickerbocker Trust Co.	.....	.....	Dec. 26	Special
Leather Manufacturers' Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Liberty National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Mechanics' National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Merchants' National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
M. Groh's Sons (Incorporated)	Dec. 15	Dec. 27	Dec. 26	Annual
National Bank of the Republic	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
National Broadway Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Nat. Butchers & Drovers' Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
N. Y. County National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
N. Y. Loan & Improvement Co.	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Special
N. Y. National Exchange Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Ohio & Ind. Con. Nat. & Ill Gas Co.	Dec. 16	Jan. 3	Jan. 2	Annual
Singer Manufacturing Co.	.....	.....	Dec. 17	Special
Swift & Co.	.....	.....	Jan. 3	Annual
Western National Bank	.....	.....	Jan. 8	Annual
Western N. Y. & Penn. R. R.	.....	.....	Jan. 14	Annual
White Knob Copper	Dec. 17	Jan. 15	Jan. 8	Annual
Wm. E. Uptegrove & Brother	.....	.....	Dec. 17	Annual

OUTSIDE SECURITIES

Continued from Page 6.

Banks—Continued.

	Bid.	Asked.
New York	300	..
New York County	1500	..
New York Nat. Exchange	130	..
New York Produce Exchange	125	130
Ninth	90	..
Nineteenth Ward	100	..
North America	200	..
Oriental	180	190
Pacific	165	180
Park	435	..
People's	225	..
Phenix	101	105
Plaza	475	..
Republic	220	230
Riverside	210	..
Seaboard	310	..
Second	600	..
Seventh	160	..
Shoe & Leather	100	110
State	350	..
State of New York	135	..
Twelfth Ward	100	115
Union Square	225	..
Western National	400	410
West Side	375	..
Yorkville	225	..

Trust Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Atlantic	220	230
Bankers'	195	204
Bowling Green	145	155
Brooklyn	410	425
Central	1900	2100
Central Realty Bond & Trust	270	300
City	320	335
Colonial	330	..
Contineotal	375	..
Farmers' Loan & Trust	1425	..
Fifth Avenue	425	..
Flatbush	165	..
Franklin	275	300
Guaranty	625	675
Hamilton	265	..
Kings County	360	..
Knickerbocker	400	..
Manhattan	350	..
Manufacturers'	300	320
Mercantile	800	..
Metropolitan	425	475
Morton	475	..
N. Y. Life Ins. & Trust	1300	1375
Nassau	185	195
N. Y. Security & Trust Fund	750	..
North American	215	225
People's Trust	290	310
Real Estate	300	..
Standard	220	..
Title Guarantee & Trust	410	420
Trust Company of America	205	210
Trust Company of New York	..	205
Union	1350	..
U. S. Mortgage & Trust	395	..
United States	1600	1650
Washington Trust	200	..
Williamsburg	195	205

Ferry Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Brooklyn Ferry	20	20½
Brooklyn Ferry bonds	86	87
East River Ferry	69	71
East River Ferry 5s	07	09
Hoboken Ferry 1st	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s	94⅝	95
Tenth & Twenty-third Street	65	80
Tenth & Twenty-third St. bds.	105	107
Union Ferry	30	32
Union Ferry bonds	92	94

Insurance Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Citizens'	108	..
Commonwealth	80	160
Continental	540	..
Eagle	230	..
Empire City	75	85
German-American	500	529
Germania	280	..
Globe & Rutgers	40	..
Greenwich	150	..
Hamilton	85	100
Hanover	130	140
Home	200	210
Kings County	140	..
Nassau	150	..
New York	80	95
Niagara	150	..
North River	130	..
Pacific	110	125
Peter Cooper	110	125
Phenix, Brooklyn	160	170
Stuyvesant	60	..
United States	110	120
Westchester	310	..
Williamsburg City	465	..

Street Railways.

	Bid.	Asked.
Atlantic Avenue con. m. 5s	114	116
Atlantic Avenue gen. m. 6s	107	110
Atlantic Avenue imp. 5s	100	101
Bleecker St. & F. Ferry stock. 35	38
Bleecker St. & F. Ferry ext. 4s	100	102
Broadway & Seventh Avenue	230	235
Broadway & Seventh Av. 1st	102	103
Broadway & Seventh Av. 2d	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d	102	103
Brooklyn, Bath & W. E. 5s	100	102
Brooklyn City R. R. 1st m. 5s	113	114
Brooklyn City Railroad	231	233
Brooklyn City & New. 1st	115	117
B'klyn, Queens Co. & Sub. 5s	108	110
Buffalo Crosstown 5s	113	115
Central Crosstown	365	380
Central Crosstown 1st 6s	123	125
Central Park, N. & E. River	200	202
Central Park, N. & E. River 7s	104½	105½
Christopher & Tenth St.	180	185
Cleveland Electric con. 5s	104	106
Coney Island & Brook. stock	328	332
Coney Island & Brook. 1st 5s	103	104
Consolidated Traction of N. J.	58	60
Con. Traction of N. J. 5s	108	109
Columbus Railway	32½	35
Columbus Railway pf.	91	92½
D. D., E. B. & B. stock	120	130
D. D., E. B. & B. 5s	115	118
D. D., E. B. & B. 5 p. c. scrip	100	102
Eighth Avenue Railroad	380	420
Eighth Ave. 9 per cent. scrip	106	109
42d St. & Grand St.	398	405
42d St., Man. & St. N. Av. 1st	113	114½
42d St., Man. & St. N. Av. 2d	99	101
Jersey City, Hoboken & Pat.	20	21⅛
Nas. Elec. 1st 5s, Brooklyn	107	111
Nassau Electric 4s	86½	89
New Orleans Traction com.	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	96
Ninth Avenue	195	205
North Jersey Street Ry.	24½	25½
North Jersey Street Ry 6s	83	84
North Shore Traction com.	15	16
North Shore Traction pf.	84	86
Orange & Passaic Val. bonds	93	95
Rochester Railway	20	22
Rochester Railway con. 5s	100½	100
St. Louis Transit	20	20⅛
Second Avenue stock	295	305
Second Avenue consol. 6s	113	115
Second Avenue 1st. m. 5s	107½	107¾
Sixth Avenue stock	210	220

INACTIVE STOCKS—LAST TRANSACTIONS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

The following table gives the range of prices in 1900 for stocks in which there have been no dealings during the past week. Where no sale has occurred this year the date of the last transaction is given:

Closing Dec. 15. Bid.	Asked	STOCKS.	Amount Outstanding	Last Dividend.	Range in 1900 Highest.		Lowest.		Last Sale.
..	..	American Beet Sugar	15,000,000	....	*23	Nov. 13	*23	Nov. 13	*23 Nov. 13, 1900
..	..	American Beet Sugar pf.	4,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 1½	75	Nov. 17	75	Nov. 17	75 Nov. 17, 1900
160	170	American Coal	1,500,000	Sept. 1, 1900 4	160	Nov. 27	150	Sept. 24	160 Nov. 27, 1900
..	..	Am. Spirits Mfg.	27,983,200	....	4	Feb. 15	1½	Sept. 8	*3 Sept. 25, 1900
..	..	Am. Spirits Mfg. pf.	6,995,800	....	*14	Sept. 26	*14	Sept. 26	*14 Sept. 26, 1900
94	97	Am. Tel. & Cable	14,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900 1¼	96½	Dec. 0	89	Oct. 3	96½ Dec. 6, 1900
..	..	At. & Charlotte Air Line	1,700,000	Sept. 6, 1900 3	..	.....	..	.....	*121 Nov. 28, 1898
..	..	Beech Creek	5,665,000	Oct., 1900 1	..	.....	..	.....	100 Oct. 31, 1898
108	..	Boston & N. Y. Air Line pf.	1,426,000	July, 1900 2	..	.....	..	.....	106½ Nov. 14, 1899
..	..	B'lyn Wharf & W. pf., Series B.	5,000,000	....	..	.....	..	.....	21 Feb. 15, 1899
118	120	Buff., Roch. & Pitts. pf.	6,000,000	Aug. 15, 1900 3	120	Nov. 7	95¾	Mar. 31	119 Nov. 19, 1900
118	125	Bur., C. R. & Nor.	7,150,000	Aug. 1, 1900 4	137½	Nov. 16	137½	Nov. 14	137½ Nov. 14, 1900
102¾	..	Capital Traction	12,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 1	*101¾	Oct. 11	91¾	Feb. 26	*101¾ Oct. 11, 1900
..	..	Central Coal & Coke	1,500,000	....	..	.....	..	.....	20¾ Oct. 13, 1898
..	..	Chi. Con. Traction	15,000,000	....	59¾	Jan. 15	37	April 25	39 Apr. 28, 1900
..	..	Chicago Stock Yards	6,500,000	Oct. 1, 1900 2	..	.....	..	.....	102½ May 22, 1897
..	..	Chicago Stock Yards pf.	6,500,000	Oct. 1, 1900 1½	..	.....	..	.....	120 June 4, 1898
25½	27	Cleve., Lor. & Wheel.	8,000,000	....	30	Nov. 15	14½	Jan. 10	27 Dec. 7, 1900
62	66	Cleve., Lor. & Wheel. pf.	5,000,000	Oct. 2, 1896 1¾	72	April 19	46	Jan. 2	69 Dec. 6, 1900
182	..	Cleveland & Pittsburg	11,243,700	Dec. 1, 1900 1¾	184	Dec. 3	*185½	July 3	*187½ Dec. 3, 1900
..	..	Col. Coal & I. Dev.	6,500,000	....	2⅜	April 10	½	Nov. 20	1⅝ Nov. 21, 1900
..	..	Col. Coal & I. Dev. pf.	500,000	....	3⅜	Mar. 26	¾	Sept. 24	⅞ Oct. 31, 1900
..	..	Colorado Midland	3,420,200	....	12⅜	May 3	9	Jan. 4	11½ June 12, 1900
..	..	Colorado Midland pf.	4,954,800	....	20¾	Mar. 21	21	Jan. 5	29 June 12, 1900
..	..	Col. & Hock. Coal & Iron pf.	336,700	....	..	.....	..	.....	30 June 9, 1899
100	..	Commercial Cable	13,333,300	Oct. 1, 1900 1¾	*183	Jan. 17	*158	June 7	*175 Sept. 20, 1900
58	..	Consolidation Coal	10,500,000	Feb. 1, 1900 2	52	May 9	50	Feb. 16	*52 Aug. 31, 1900
100	125	Des Moines & Ft. D. pf.	763,000	Aug. 1, 1900 7	..	.....	..	.....	110 June 20, 1899
375	425	Eighth Avenue	1,000,000	Oct., 1900 3¾	*400	Jan. 20	*395	July 5	*395 July 5, 1900
..	..	Ft. Worth & Denver City	2,555,000	Mar. 15, 1898 2	17	Nov. 22	14½	April 4	*14¾ Dec. 4, 1900
100	102	Glucose Sug. Ref. pf.	12,683,300	Dec. 1, 1900 1¾	103	Nov. 14	98	Jan. 2	*103¼ Dec. 8, 1900
..	..	Gold & Stock Tel.	5,000,000	Oct., 1900 1½	..	.....	..	.....	*108½ Dec. 14, 1897
..	..	H. B. Claflin 1st pf.	2,600,300	Nov. 1, 1900 1¾	*102½	July 17	*101	June 28	*102½ July 17, 1900
..	..	H. B. Claflin 2d pf.	2,570,600	Nov. 1, 1900 1½	*106	Sept. 12	*106	Sept. 12	*106 Sept. 12, 1900
..	..	Hawaiian Sugar	10,000,000	Nov. 26, 1900 50c	..	.....	..	.....	*105 May 20, 1899
100	..	Ill. Central leased line	10,000,000	July, 1900 2	103¾	June 7	100¾	Sept. 25	*102 Nov. 7, 1900
4½	4⅞	International Silver	10,000,000	....	10⅝	June 25	3¼	Aug. 2	4½ Dec. 5, 1900
16	17½	Keokuk & Des Moines pf.	1,524,000	July 2, 1900 50c	17½	Mar. 27	14½	Oct. 19	*14½ Nov. 10, 1900
..	..	Keokuk & Western	4,000,000	Jan. 1, 1900 1	..	.....	..	.....	*32 Jan. 25, 1899
..	..	Kingston & Pembroke	2,500,000	....	..	.....	..	.....	7½ Nov. 9, 1899
14	20	Knickerbocker Ice (Chi.)	4,000,000	Jan. 1, 1900 1	40	Feb. 13	10	Nov. 20	15 Nov. 28, 1900
47	55	Knickerbocker Ice pf. (Chi.)	3,000,000	July 2, 1900 3	66	Feb. 6	50	Nov. 26	50 Nov. 26, 1900
96	100	Laclede Gas pf.	2,500,000	Dec. 15, 1900 2½	100	Jan. 4	96	Jan. 11	*100 Oct. 9, 1900
70	74	Long Island	12,000,000	Nov. 2, 1896 1	89	May 5	47½	Jan. 4	69 Dec. 8, 1900
11	14	Manhattan Beach	5,000,000	....	19¾	May 26	26¾	June 30	12 Nov. 24, 1900
77	84	Maryland Coal pf.	1,876,000	June 30, 1900 2	81	Mar. 23	74	Sept. 18	79 Dec. 4, 1900
..	..	Mergenthaler Linotype	10,000,000	Sep. 29, 1900 5	..	.....	..	.....	*152 May 31, 1899
30	32	Met. W. S. El., Chi.	7,498,70	....	37½	April 5	24½	Jan. 29	31 Nov. 27, 1900
187	189	Morris & Essex	15,000,00	July 1, 1900 3½	189½	May 8	134	June 25	188½ Nov. 19, 1900
..	..	Nash., Chat. & St. L.	10,000,000	Nov. 1, 1898 1	45	June 20	43	June 27	45 June 29, 1900
..	..	National Linseed Oil	1,000,000	....	..	.....	..	.....	3½ June 9, 1899
..	..	New Jersey & New York Tel.	5,000,000	Oct. 15, 1900 1½	..	.....	..	.....	*124 Jan. 28, 1897
..	..	New York & Harlem	8,638,450	Oct. 1, 1900 2	413	July 12	405	July 1	413 July 12, 1900
132	135	N. Y., Lack. & West.	10,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 1¼	134	Feb. 28	130	Feb. 2	*134 Dec. 6, 1900
..	..	N. Y. Mutual Gas.	3,500,000	....	298	Dec. 3	298	Dec. 3	298 Dec. 3, 1900
..	..	Norfolk & Southern	2,000,000	Oct. 10, 1900 1	..	.....	..	.....	88¾ Nov. 14, 1899
..	..	Omaha & St. Louis	621,900	....	..	.....	..	.....	7 Nov. 6, 1899
8	7	Ontario Mining	15,000,000	Apr. 20, 1900 30c	9	Feb. 2	6	Nov. 26	6 Nov. 26, 1900
..	..	Oregon R. R. & Navigation	16,357,500	July 2, 1898 1	..	.....	..	.....	*45 Nov. 13, 1899
..	..	Oregon R. R. & Navigation pf.	1,155,400	July 2, 1900 2	..	.....	..	.....	75½ Oct. 7, 1899
85	92	Pacific Coast 1st pf.	1,515,500	Nov. 1, 1900 1¼	89¾	Dec. 3	82½	Sept. 20	89¾ Dec. 4, 1900
..	..	Panama	7,000,000	Jan. 3, 1896 2	..	.....	..	.....	*95 Sept. 22, 1897
..	..	Park Steel Co. pf.	5,000,000	Dec. 1, 1900 1¾	..	.....	..	.....	*110 June 26, 1899
..	..	Philadelphia Company	14,719,950	Jan. 20, 1900 2½	74	Jan. 19	74	Jan. 19	74 Jan. 19, 1900
..	..	P. Lorillard pf.	2,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 2	..	.....	..	.....	*117 May 16, 1899
184	..	Pitts., Ft. W. & Chi.	19,714,200	Oct. 2, 1900 1¾	188	Feb. 19	186	Mar. 10	*185 Nov. 5, 1900
..	..	Pitts., McKeesport & Yough.	4,000,000	July, 1900 3	..	.....	..	.....	*137 Mar. 3, 1899
..	..	Quicksilver	5,708,700	....	2½	Mar. 20	1½	Aug. 1	1½ Sept. 5, 1900
..	..	Quicksilver pf.	4,291,300	July 16, 1900 ½	10⅜	Mar. 28	7¾	Oct. 22	9 Nov. 30, 1900
65	..	Rio Grande West.	10,000,000	Sep. 1, 1900 5	65	Aug. 17	43¼	Jan. 27	65 Nov. 19, 1900
64	65	Silver Bullion Certs.	.....	....	65½	Nov. 3	59½	Jan. 16	65½ Nov. 5, 1900
200	225	Sixth Avenue	2,000,000	July 1, 1900 3½	..	.....	..	.....	*200 Mar. 10, 1899
..	..	Southern & Atlantic Tel.	559,525	July, 1900 2½	..	.....	..	.....	100 Feb. 17, 1898
..	..	Texas Central	2,649,400	....	*14	April 11	*14	April 11	*14 Apr. 11, 1900
..	..	Texas Central pf.	1,324,500	Jan. 15, 1900 4	*60	April 9	*60	April 9	*60 Apr. 9, 1900
8½	..	Tol., Peo. & West.	4,076,900	....	10	Jan. 24	10	Jan. 24	10 Sept. 26, 1900
..	..	Twin City R. T. pf.	3,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 1¾	146	Dec. 7	136	Jan. 2	146 Dec. 7, 1900
..	..	Union Ferry	3,000,000	Oct. 1, 1900 ½	..	.....	..	.....	64 July 13, 1897
..	..	United N. J. R. R. & Canal	21,240,400	Oct. 10, 1900 2½	*272¼	Jan. 17	*268¾	Oct. 9	*268¾ Oct. 9, 1900
..	..	U. S. Flour Milling	3,000,000	....	½	May 23	¼	May 22	¼ Aug. 24, 1900
..	..	U. S. Flour Milling pf.	6,000,000	....	13½	Feb. 23	4	Mar. 23	*1½ Aug. 9, 1900
..	..	Utica & Black River	2,223,000	Sep. 29, 1900 3½	..	.....	..	.....	165 Oct. 20, 1897
..	..	Warren Railroad	1,800,000	July, 1900 3½	..	.....	..	.....	*174 Nov. 11, 1898
..	..	West Chicago Street	13,189,000	Nov. 15, 1900 1½	..	.....	..	.....	120 Aug. 8, 1899
..	..	Western Gas	4,000,000	July 20, 1900 ⅝	..	.....	..	.....	*98 Mar. 15, 1899

*Sales of less than 100 shares. All stocks in this table par $100 except Beech Creek, New York and Harlem, Philadelphia Company, Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny, Warren Railroad, Morris and Essex, Cleveland and Pittsburg, Long Island, and Kingston and Pembroke, the par value of each of which is $50. Southern and Atlantic Telegraph and American Coal are $25 par.

Street Railways—Continued.

	Bid.	Asked.
Southern Boulevard 5s, 1945	110½	113½
South Ferry 1st 5s	106	109
Steinway R. R. Co. 6 p. c. 1st	117	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit	11	15
Syracuse Rapid Transit pf.	34	37
Twenty-third Street	385	410
Twenty-third Street deb. 5s	102½	103½
28th & 29th St. 5s, 1996	114	115
Union Railway 1st 5s	113	114
United Rys. of St. Louis pf.	63½	69
United Rys. of St. Louis 4s	86	86½
United Traction, Providence	109	111
United Trac., Prov., bonds	113¼	114½
Westchester Electric 5s, 1943	108	110
Worcester Traction common	34½	35½
Worcester Traction pf.	107	108

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Bid.	Asked.
Acker, Merrall & Condit	100	102
Am. Agricultural Chemical	26	27
Am. Agricultural Chem. pf.	79	80
American Bank Note	47	50
American Bicycle	6½	7⅛
American Bicycle pf.	27	29
American Bicycle bonds	74½	79
American Bridge	43	43⅝
American Bridge pf.	92¼	92
American Chicle	80	..
American Chicle pf.	75	82
American Hide & Leather 6s	89½	90¼
American Hide & Leather	10	10⅜
American Hide & Leather pf.	37	38
American Press Association	60	70
American Thread pf.	4	4½
American Type Founders	57	62
American Woolen	21½	22
American Woolen pf.	76½	77½
Anthracite Coal	8⅝	8⅞
Arlington Copper	5	7
Barney & Smith Car	15	18
Barney & Smith Car pf.	103	106
Barney & Smith Car bonds	107½	..
British Columbia Copper	20	20⅝
British Exchequer 3s	98	99
California Copper	1⅝	2
Cast Iron Pipe	5	5½
Cast Iron Pipe pf.	30½	31⅝
Central & South Am. Tel.	102	104
Central Fireworks	22	25
Central Fireworks pf.	70	78
Cheesebrough Mfg	350	360
Compressed Air	44½	46
Consolidated Equipment	12	12⅝
Consolidated Fireworks	10	15
Consolidated Fireworks pf.	60	70
Consolidated Rubber Tire	2	5
Consolidated Rubber Tire pf.	25	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	105
Crittenden and Eagle Mfg.	17	19
Crucible Steel	17	18

Industrial and Miscellaneous—Continued.

	Bid.	Asked.
Crucible Steel pf.	79	80
Distilling Co. of America	6	6¼
Distilling Co. of America pf.	25¼	25½
Electric Boat	28	29
Electric Boat pf.	46	50
Electric Vehicle	18½	20
Electric Vehicle pf.	35	45
Electro-Pneumatic	2¾	3
Flemington Coal & Coke	18	20
General Carriage	4½	4¾
General Chemical	58	60
General Chemical pf.	97½	90
German Treasury 4s	100	100¾
Havana Commercial	7½	9½
Havana Commercial pf.	40½	42
Hecker-Jones-Jewell bonds	75	80
Hudson River Telephone	115	118
Illinois Transportation	⅞	1¼
International Silver pf.	35	40
Inter-State Oil	78	79
Iron Steamboat	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds	55	65
Kings El. L. & P.	135	140
Lorillard pf.	100	..
Markeen Copper	1	2½
Mexican Nat. Construction pf.	13½	13⅝
Nat. Enameling & Stamping	17	20
Nat. Enameling & Stamp. pf.	80	84
Nat. Gramophone	5	12
Nat. Sugar pf.	102	103½
New England Transportation	3½	3¾
New York Transportation	6	7
N. Y. & N. J. Telephone	169	175
Otis Elevator	26	27
Otis Elevator pf.	86	88
Pitts., Bess. & Lake Erie	29	29½
Procter & Gamble, new	320	330
Procter & Gamble pf.	200	210
Royal Copper	11	12
Retsof	29	32
Retsof bonds	74	78
Royal Baking P. pf., ex div.	93½	95
Rubber Goods	30½	30¾
Rubber Goods pf.	81½	82½
Safety Car Heat. & Lighting	117	118½
Seaboard Air Line 4s	72	73
Seaboard Air Line com.	10¾	11
Seaboard Air Line pf.	28	29
Singer Manufacturing	750	..
Southern Light & Traction	32	35
Standard Coupler	34	37½
Standard Coupler pf.	120	125½
Standard Oil	809	815
Storage Power	11	13
Swift & Co.	100	102

Industrial and Miscellaneous—Continued.

	Bid.	Asked.
Swift & Co 5s	101	105
Tel., Tel. & C. A., $10 paid	3½	3½
Tennessee Copper	17	19
Texas and Pacific Coal	80	90
Trenton Potteries	4	6
Trenton Potteries pf.	55	60
Union Copper	5½	5¾
Union Typewriter	35½	36½
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	108	110
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	110	112
Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke	3	5
Virginia I., C. & C. 5s, 1949	34	35
Westinghouse Air Brake	365	370
Worthington Pump pf.	110	113

Gas Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Bay State	⅞	1
Buffalo City	6	9
Buffalo City 5s, 1947	..	68
Central Union 5s, 1927	106¼	107½
Consumers' Gas (J. C.) bonds	105¼	100
Denver Gas	20	22
Denver Gas bonds	63	65
Fort Wayne Gas bonds	58	62
Grand Rapids	103	107
Grand Rapids 1st 5s, 1915	103	105
Indianapolis	62	70
Indianapolis 1st 6s, 1920	95½	97½
Indiana Nat. & Ill. bonds	57	60
Lafayette Gas bonds	58	63
Logansport & W. Valley bonds	56	60
Madison (Wis.)	68	71
Madison (Wis.) 1st 6s, 1926	107	109
Mutual	205	238
New Amsterdam 5s, 1948	108¼	108¾
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s, 1937	63	65
N. E. Gas & Coke	12	14
N. Y. & E. R. 1st 5s, 1944	110	113
Ohio & Indiana Gas bonds	52	55
People's Gas & Elec., (Oswego)	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Oswego) 5s, 1990	90	101
St. Joseph (Mo.)	31	38
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s	91	93
St. Paul (Minn)	..	50
St. Paul bonds	75	80
Standard (New York)	131	133
Standard pf.	151	153
Standard 1st 5s, 1920	115	117
Syracuse	8	10
Syracuse 1st 5s, 1946	89½	93
Western (Milwaukee)	96	100
Western col. tr. 1st 5s, 1933	107	109

CITY TRUST CO
OF NEW YORK.
36 WALL STREET.
CAPITAL..... $1,000,000
(Entirely invested in City of New York Bonds.)
SURPLUS..... $1,000,000

OFFICERS.
Jas. Ross Curran, President.
John D. Crimmins, Vice-President.
George R. Sheldon, 2d Vice-President.
Arthur Terry, Secretary.
Walter W. Lee, Asst. Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

John D. Crimmins,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Frank H. Platt,	Homer B. Parsons,
George R. Sheldon,	Albert G. Jaeger,
Edward Eyre,	William H. Geisbenen,
Peter Doelger,	Eugene Kelly,
William Rails, Jr.,	Edwin Wendell,
James D. Layng,	Elverton R. Chapman,
William R. Grace,	Charles V. Fornes,
Hugh Kelly,	Frank R. Lawrence,
Charles W. Morse,	Jas. Ross Curran,

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO.
OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits
$900,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Guardian, Transfer Agent, Registrar, &c.

TRUSTEES:
HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. CAMMANN, Vice President.

James M. Varnum,	Douglas Robinson,
Charles C. Burke,	John Downey,
Horace S. Ely,	Charles S. Brown,
Lispenard Stewart,	George G. De Witt,
Ebenezer S. Mason,	Henry K. Pomroy,
Henry Lewis Morris,	Percy Chubb,
Edwin A. Cruikshank,	Franklin B. Lord,
Charles A. Peabody, Jr.,	J. Roosevelt Roosevelt,
Charles A. Schermerhorn,	Lansdale Boardman,
James I. Raymond,	Harrison E. Gawtry.
Joel F. Freeman,	Frank S. Witherbee.

HENRY W. REIGHLEY, Secretary.

Letters of Credit
IN Pounds Sterling
AND Francs
ISSUED BY
BLAIR & CO.,
33 WALL STREET., NEW YORK.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
38 WALL STREET.

FIDELITY TRUST COMPANY,
NEWARK, N. J.
Capital $1,000,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits, 1,331,285.98

ALLOWS INTEREST ON daily balances of $1,000 or over, subject to check at sight, and transacts a general banking business.
AUTHORIZED BY LAW to act as Executor, Trustee, Administrator, Guardian, Assignee, Receiver, and in all fiduciary capacities, both under court and personal appointment.
TAKES ENTIRE CHARGE of Real and Personal Estates.
RENTS SAFES AND stores valuables in well-guarded burglar and fireproof Vaults.
GUARANTEES TITLES of Real Estate throughout New Jersey.
Acts as Trustee under mortgages, Registrar and Transfer Agent of Stocks and Bonds of Corporations.

OFFICERS:
UZAL H. McCARTER.....President
JOHN F. DRYDEN.....Vice-President
JEROME TAYLOR.....2d Vice-President and Trust Officer
FREDERICK W. EGNER.....Secretary and Treasurer

DIRECTORS:

John F. Dryden,	Charles A. Felch,
James W. Alexander,	Jerome Taylor,
James H. Hyde,	J. Herbert Ballantine,
Leslie D. Ward,	William N. Coler, Jr.,
Thomas N. McCarter,	Thomas N. McCarter, Jr.
Edgar B. Ward,	William H. Staake,
William Scheerer,	Forrest F. Dryden,
Schuyler B. Jackson,	Henry S. Redmond,
Uzal H. McCarter.	Bernard Strauss.

LEWIS A. MAY & CO.,
Members { N. Y. Consolidated Stock Exchange. / N. Y. Produce Exchange.
31 & 33 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Branch Office, Cor. 28th St. & Broadway
Connected by private wires.
MARGINS 3 TO 5 PER CENT. COMMISSION 1-16.
DAILY MARKET LETTERS and our new illustrated book, "WALL STREET," sent free.

HAVEN & STOUT
BANKERS AND BROKERS,
1 Nassau Street, Cor. Wall St.,
Members of the New York Stock Exchange.
BONDS, STOCKS, COTTON, GRAIN.

I. F. MEAD. T. H. CURTIS.
I. F. MEAD & CO.,
44 & 46 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Twenty-five years' membership in N. Y. Stock Exchange.
STOCKS AND BONDS
Bought and Sold for Cash or on Margin.

A. M. Kidder & Co
BANKERS, 18 WALL ST., N. Y.
Dealers in Investment Securities.
Members of the New York Stock Exchange.

N. W. Harris & Co., Bankers.
31 Nassau St., (Bank of Commerce Bldg.,) N. Y.
Issue Travelers' Letters of Credit Available in all Parts of the World.
Deal in Bonds of Railroad, Street Railway, Gas and Electric Light Companies.
Government and Municipal Bonds Bought and Sold.
Quotations Furnished for Purchase, Sale or Exchange.

Spencer Trask & Co.,
BANKERS,
27 & 29 PINE ST., NEW YORK,
Transact a general banking business; act as fiscal agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies.
Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members of New York Stock Exchange.
BRANCH OFFICE: 67 STATE ST., ALBANY

VERMILYE & CO.,
BANKERS.
NASSAU AND PINE STREETS, NEW YORK CITY.
13 CONGRESS STREET, BOSTON.
Dealers in U. S. Government Bonds and other Investment Securities.
Deposits Received and Interest Allowed on Balances Subject to draft at sight.

HURLBUTT, HATCH & CO.,
BANKERS,
Members New York Stock Exchange. 71 Broadway, New York City.
Stocks and Bonds bought and sold for cash or on margin.
Interest allowed on deposits subject to check.
Cable address, Hutch, New York. Telephone No. 1239 Cortlandt.

BOODY, McLELLAN & CO.,
BANKERS.
MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Cable Address, "Goskite." 37 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
ALLOW INTEREST ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK.

H. B. Hollins & Co.,
WALL & BROAD STS., NEW YORK.
Letters of Credit
FOR TRAVELLERS
Available in all parts of the world
Draw Bills of Exchange and make Cable Transfers.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St., NEW YORK,
BUY AND SELL
Investment Securities.
Receive accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals on favorable terms.
Make loans against approved collateral.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

Lincoln, Caswell & Co.,
SUCCESSORS TO
Chas. T. Wing & Co.
BONDS
18 Wall Street, New York.
2 KILBY ST., BOSTON, MASS.
Ezra Lincoln. Wm. W. Caswell. Wm. Henry Allen, Jr.

A. A. HOUSMAN & CO.,
MEMBERS OF THE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE,
20 BROAD STREET,
Branch Office, No. 2 Astor Court,
NEW YORK.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1896.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

Dominick & Dominick,
100 BROADWAY.
Members of the N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Brokers in Stocks, Grain, Investment Securities.

Boston.	Louisville.	Cincinnati.
Curtis & Sanger, 53 State St.	Halsey & Halsey, 225 Fifth St.	Branch Office, 334 Walnut St.

PRIVATE WIRES.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.,
BANKERS,
11, 13, 15, and 17 Broad St.,
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.
Orders executed for investment or on margin. Interest allowed on deposits, subject to check at sight. Act as Financial Agents for Corporations and Investors. Industrial Combinations Organized. Government and other Investment Bonds bought and sold.
BRANCH OFFICES:
22 W. 23d St., op. Waldorf. | 362 5th Av., cor. 35th St.
457 B'way, Hill Ex. Bldg. | 56 Worth St.
39 Hudson St., Hoff. Ex. | 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

Geo. H. Holt & Co.,
10 WALL ST., N.Y.
BANKERS,
Members of New York Stock Exchange.
Dealers in Investment Securities. Purchase bond issues of solvent corporations, and act as Fiscal and Transfer Agents. Execute orders at the New York Stock Exchange, either for cash or on margin. Daily market letter issued. Correspondence solicited.

FOURTH STREET
NATIONAL BANK
OF PHILADELPHIA
Capital $1,500,000
Surplus and Profits. 1,950,000
Deposits . . . 29,000,000

Stoppani & Hotchkin,
Members New York Consolidated Stock Exchange,
66 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Telephone, 3078 Cortlandt.
Orders executed for investment or on margin:
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON
Branch Office: N. E. cor. Broadway and 30th St.

WARNER & CO.
52 Broadway,
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
High-Class Investment Netting 4½ and 5%.
Loans made on approved collateral.
Stock and bonds bought for cash or on margin.
TELEPHONE, 1515 BROAD.

William T. Floyd. Frederic P. Moore.
Floyd & Moore
BANKERS AND BROKERS,
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
71 Broadway.

George Barclay Moffat. Alexander M. White, Jr.
Moffat & White,
BANKERS.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange,
NO. 1 NASSAU STREET.

KEY TO BOND LIST.

The following is a list of bonds which do not appear in their proper alphabetical order in the "Complete Bond Quotation List" on Pages 4 and 5, but are here so arranged. Opposite each is placed the name of the system under which they are given in the table referred to:

Railroad Bonds.

Road.	System.
Alabama Central—	Southern Ry.
Alabama Midland—	Sav., Fla. & Western
Albany & Susq.—	Delaware & Hudson
Allegheny Valley—	Penn. R. R.
Allegheny & Western—	Buff., Roch. & Pitts.
Am. Dock & Imp.—	Central of N. J.
Atlantic & Danville—	Southern Ry.
Atlantic & Yadkin—	Southern Ry.
Austin & Northwestern—	Southern Pacific
Battle Creek & Stur.—	Michigan Central
Beach Creek—	N. Y. Central & Hud.
Belev. & Carondelet—	Illinois Central
Booneville Bld. Co.—	Mo., Kan. & Tex.
Brooklyn & Montauk—	Long Island
Brunswick & Western—	Sav., Fla. & West.
Buffalo, New York & Erie—	Erie.
Buffalo & Southwestern—	Erie.
Carb. & Shawneetown—	Illinois Central.
Carolina Central—	Seaboard & Roanoke.
Carthage & Adirondack—	N. Y. Central & Hud.
Ced. Rap., Ia. F. & N.—	Bur., C. R. & N.
Central Ohio—	Baltimore & Ohio.
Central Pacific—	Southern Pacific Co.
Chicago & Erie—	Erie.
Chicago & St. Louis—	Atch., Top. & Santa Fé.
Chi., St. Louis & New Orleans—	Illinois Cent.
Chi., St. Louis & Pittsburg—	Penn. Co.
Cin., Ind., St. L. & C.—	C., C., C. & St. L.
Cin., Sandusky & Cleve.—	C., C., C. & St. L.
Clearfield & Mahoning—	Buff., Roch. & Pitts.
Cleveland & Marietta—	Penn. R. R.
Cleveland & Pittsburg—	Penn. Co.
Columbia & Greenville—	Southern Railway.
Col. & Hocking Valley—	Hocking Val. Ry.
Col. Connect. & Term.—	Norfolk & Western.
Dakota & Great Southern—	C., Mil. & St. P.
Dallas & Waco—	Mo., Kan. & Texas
Del. Riv. R. R. & Bdge Co.—	Penn. R. R.
Des Moines & Fort Dodge—	C., R. I. & Pac.
Des Moines & Minneapolis—	Chi. & N. W.
Detroit, Minn. & Toledo—	L. S. & M. S.
Eastern Railway of Minn—	St. P., M. & M.
East Tenn., Va. & Ga.—	Southern Ry.
Eliz., Lex. & Big Sandy—	C. & O.
Elmira, Cortland & Northern—	Lehigh Valley
Erie & Pittsburg—	Penn. Co.
Escanaba & Lake Superior—	Chi. & N. W.
Fargo & Southern—	Chi., M. & St. P.
Fort Smith & V. B. B.—	St. L. & S. F.
Gal., Harrisburg & S. A.—	South. Pac. Co,
Georgia Pacific—	Southern Railway
Gila Val., G. & Northern—	South. Pac. Co.
Gouverneur & Oswego 1st gtd. g. 5s—	N. W. C.
Grand Rapids & Ind.—	Penn. Co.
Grey's Point Terminal—	St. L. Southwn
Hannibal & St. Joseph—	C., B. & Quincy
Housatonic R. R.—	N. Y., N. H. & H.
Houston, E. & W. Texas—	Southern Pacific
Houston & Texas Central—	Southern Pacific
Iowa Midland—	Chicago & Northwest
Jefferson R. R.—	Erie
Kalamazoo, All. & G. R.—	L. S. & M. S.
Kanawha & Michigan—	Toledo & Ohio Central
Kansas City & Pacific—	Missouri, Kan. & Texas
Kansas Midland—	St. Louis & San Francisco
Kentucky Central—	Louisville & Nashville
Keokuk & Des Moines—	C., R. I. & P.
Knoxville & Ohio—	Southern Railway
Lake Shore & Michigan Southern—	N. Y. C. & H.
Lehigh & Hudson River—	Central of New Jersey
Lehigh & Wilkesbarre—	Central of New Jersey
Leroy & Caney Valley—	Missouri Valley
Long Dock—	Erie
La. & Mo. River—	Chicago & Alton
Lo., New Albany & Chicago—	Chicago, Ind. & Lo.
Mahoning Coal—	L. S. & M. Southern
McKeesport & B. Varnon—	N. Y. C. & Hudson
Metropolitan Elevated—	Manhattan Railway
Michigan Central—	New York Central & Hudson
Midland of New Jersey—	Erie
Mil., Lake Shore & Western—	Chicago & N. W.
Mil. & Madison—	Chicago & N. W.
Mil. & Northern—	Chicago, Mil. & St. Paul.
Mil. & St. Paul—	Chicago, Mil. & St. Paul.
Minn. & St. L. gtd.—	Bur., C. R. & N.
Minneapolis Union—	St. P., M. & M.
Mississippi River Bridge—	Chicago & Alton.
Mohawk & Malone—	N. Y. C. & H.
Monongahela River—	Baltimore & Ohio.
Montana Central—	St. P. & Man.
Morgan's Louisiana & Texas—	S. Pacific Co.
Morris & Essex—	Del., Lack. & W.
Nash., Flor. & Shef.—	Louisville & Nashville.
New H. & Derby—	N. Y., N. H. & H.
N. J. Junction R. R.—	N. Y. C. & H.
Newport & Cincinnati Bridge Co.—	Penn. Co.
N. Y., B. & Man. Beach—	Long Island.
N. Y. & Greenwood Lake—	Erie.
N. Y. & Harlem—	N. Y. C. & H.
N. Y., Lack. & Western—	Del., L. & W.
N. Y., Lake Erie & Western—	Erie.
N. Y. & New England—	N. Y., N. H. & H.
N. Y. & Northern—	N. Y. C. & H.
N. Y. & Putnam—	N. Y. C. & H.
N. Y. & Rockaway Beach—	Long Island.
N. Y., Sus. & Western—	Erie
N. Y., Texas & Mexico—	Southern Pacific Co.
Northern Illinois—	Chicago & Northwestern.
Northern Ohio—	Lake Erie & Western.
Northern Railway, Cal.—	South. Pacific.
North Wisconsin—	C., St. P., M. & O.
Northern & Montreal—	N. Y. C. & H.
Ohio, Ind. & W.—	C., C., C. & St. L.
Oregon Railway & Navigation—	Union Pac.
Oregon & Cal.—	Southern Pacific.
Oregon Short Line—	Union Pacific.
Oswego & Rome—	N. Y. C. & H.
Ottumwa, C. F. & St. P.—	Chi., St. P. & N. W.
Pacific of Missouri—	Missouri Pacific.
Pensacola & Atlantic—	Louisville & Nash.
Peoria & Eastern—	C., C., C. & St. Louis.
Pitts., Cin., Chi. & St. L.—	Penn. Co.
Pitts., Fort W. & Chi.—	Penn. Co.
Pitts., McKeesp. & Yough.—	N. Y. C. & H.
Rensselaer & Saratoga—	Del. & Hudson.
Richmond & Danville—	Southern Railway.
Rochester & Pittsburg—	Buff., Roch., & Pitts.
Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg—	N. Y. C. & H.
St. Louis & Cairo—	Mobile & Ohio.
St. Louis & Iron Mount—	Missouri Pac.
St. L., K. C. & N., St. Chas. Bge—	Wabash.
St. L. Merch. Bge.—	Term. R. R. of St. L.
St. Louis Southern—	Illinois Central.
St. Paul & Duluth—	Northern Pacific.
St. Paul & North. Pacific—	Northern Pacific.
St. Paul & Sioux City—	C., St. P., M. & O.
San Antonio & Aransas Pass—	South. Pac. Co.
Scioto Val. & N. E.—	Norfolk & Western.
Sherman, Shreveport & South.—	Mo., K. & T.
Silver Springs, O. & G.—	Sav., Florida & W.
South Carolina & Ga.—	Southern Railway.
So. & No. Alabama—	Louisville & Nashville.
Sunbury & Lewistown—	Pennsylvania R. R.
Syracuse, Binghamton & N. Y.—	Del., L. & W.
Tebo & Neosho—	Missouri, Kansas & Texas.
Texas & New Orleans—	Southern Pacific Co.
United N. J. R. & C. Co.—	Penn. R. R.
Utah Central—	Rio Grande Western.
Utah Northern—	Union Pacific.
Utica & Black River—	N. Y. Cent. & Hud.
Verdigris Val., Ind. & W—	Missouri Pacific.
Virginia Midland—	Southern Railway.
Warren Railroad—	Del., Lack. & Western.
Wash., Ohio & Western—	Southern Railway.
Washington Central—	Northern Railway.
Western North Carolina—	Southern Railway.
West Shore—	N. Y. Central & Hudson.
West Virginia & Pittsburg—	Baltimore & Ohio.
Wilkesbarre & Eastern—	Erie R. R.
Wilmar & Sioux Falls—	St. P., M. & M.
Winona & St. Paul—	Chicago & N. W.

Miscellaneous Bonds.

Cahaba Cl. Min. Co.—	Tenn. Coal, Iron & R.
Chi. Gas Light & C. Co.—	People's G. & C. Co.
Clearfield Bitum. Coal—	N. Y. Central & Hud.
Consumers' Gas Co.—	Peo. G. & C. Co.
De Bardeleben C. & I. Co.—	Tenn. C. & I.
Edison El. Ill., N. Y.—	N. Y. G. & E. L. H. & P.
Edison Ill., Brook.—	Kings Co. El. L. & P.
Equit. G. & Fuel—	Peo. G. & C. Co.
Mutual Fuel Gas Co.—	Peo. G. & C. Co.
Mutual Union Tel. Co.—	Western Union.

SUNDAY, THREE CENTS. DAILY, ONE CENT.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER. Partly cloudy and warmer; winds variable becoming fresh, south.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,895. NEW YORK, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1900.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

TO VOTE ON CANAL TREATY

Senate Will Dispose of Amendments and Agreement Thursday.

Senators Believe Great Britain Will Accept the Treaty in Its Amended Form.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Just before adjournment, late this afternoon, the Senate gave its consent to a fixing of a definite time to vote upon the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Senators Money (Dem., Miss.,) and Mason (Rep., Ill.,) had occupied the time of the executive session in making speeches upon the treaty, and when Mr. Mason, who was the last speaker, concluded, Senator Lodge (Rep., Mass.,) renewed his request to take a vote next Thursday. No voice was raised in opposition, and the unanimous agreement was recorded. The understanding is that the voting shall be on the amendments at 3 o'clock, and that the Senate shall continue in session until the first vote on the treaty itself is reached.

Senator Money's speech was a protest against the entire proceeding in connection with the treaty. He talked for two hours, contending for the right of the United States to act in this matter independently of other nations. He said that conditions had changed greatly since 1850, when the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was made, and added that while the interest of Great Britain in constructing a canal across the Isthmus and in maintaining its neutrality had diminished greatly because of the construction of the Suez Canal, the interest of the United States in an Isthmian canal had been vastly enhanced because of growing trade and our newly acquired possessions in the Orient.

Mr. Money asserted that while England demanded that the United States should not fortify the proposed Isthmian canal, she herself had fortifications which practically control the Suez Canal. He called attention to the fact that the Hepburn bill provides expressly for the defense of the canal, and he asserted that the treaty should be defeated outright and the canal bill passed in its stead.

Senator Mason spoke in support of his suggested amendment authorizing the United States to defend the canal as it may deem proper in case it constructs the canal. He presented the arguments in support of our right to defend the waterway in concise and forcible terms, and received considerate attention. He corrected at the outset the impression that in his effort to have the treaty amended he is seeking to antagonize the Administration. Nothing, he said, was further from his thoughts, because he believed that in this, as in all other matters, the Administration had been entirely patriotic. His difference of view was due, he said, to a different conception of the way to reach a common end, that common end being the welfare of the American people.

He then proceeded to make his argument for the right to defend the canal if this country constructs it with its own money. He declared that the present instance furnishes the first precedent of a great nation being asked to agree not to defend a great public work, the construction of which it is contemplating. He did not consider that Great Britain should undertake to say what we should do in the matter.

"At the same time," he continued, "I would have it understood that I am not actuated in my position by any hostile feeling toward Great Britain, for, while I consider that country in the 'sere and yellow leaf,' I believe that we should deal with it as we would either the weakest nation or the strongest. In other words, our dealing should be on the plane of justice and the manly assertion of our own rights."

Mr. Mason said there was and could be no contention over the question of the right of the Nation to defend itself and its citizens and property, and he argued that the recognition of this right must enforce concession of the right to make precautionary defense. Not only, he argued, have we the right as a Nation to erect fortifications as a means of defense, but we have the right, according to international usage, to enter a neutral or friendly territory and there make assault if need be. This point he supported by the citation of authorities among others the case of the steamer Carolina, apprehended by British forces in American waters in 1838.

If the United States should construct the canal at its own cost, he said, it would have the natural right to defend it, subject only to its treaties with Costa Rica and Nicaragua. He contended that our natural right of defense is more definitely fixed under international usage than under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and said that our rights would be much stronger if the canal were built by the Nation as such than if constructed by private enterprise, even if the enterprise be American.

In spite of all the criticism in England of the amendment of the treaty and the reported belief at the Department of State that Great Britain will not accept the treaty as amended, the opinion prevails in the Senate that the treaty will be approved by the British Ministry, even as amended. It is certain that, if its rejection is threatened as the price of amendment, the menace will not defeat the amendments. The right to fortify may be given up by the members of the Senate who have been insisting upon a strictly American canal, but there will be no promise to ask the approval of other powers of our guarantee of neutralization.

English Press on the Treaty.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Daily Chronicle and the Standard publish editorials this morning on the Canal question, which are in a much more temperate tone than some of their former expressions. Both journals admit the difficult position of the Washington Government, and advocate "all reasonable concessions to the sentiment and interests of the American people with a view of preserving the Anglo-American understanding."

NEW NAME FOR SING SING.

Citizens of the Village Want the Place to be Called Ossining.

SING SING, N. Y., Dec. 17.—By a unanimous vote to-night the citizens of this place voted to petition the Legislature to change the name of the village from Sing Sing to Ossining, which is the name of the town.

To prevent the State prison at Sing Sing from taking on the new name of this part of the town it is proposed to erect a new station at the prison gate and remove the Sing Sing sign to it.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks strong. Financial Affairs.—Pages 12 and 13.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 78c.; corn, No. 2 mixed, 46c.; oats, No. 2 mixed, 27½c.; cotton, middling, 10c.; iron, Northern, No 1 foundry, $16; butter, Western creamery, 25c. Commercial World.—Page 13.
Amusements.—Page 8.
Arrivals at Hotels.—Page 6.
Business Troubles.—Page 10.
Court Calendars.—Page 11.
Legal Notes.—Page 13.
Losses by Fire.—Page 3.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 7.
New Corporations.—Page 13.
Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 3.
Real Estate.—Page 14.
Society.—Page 9.
United Service.—Page 5.
Weather Report.—Page 3.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 3.

The delightful aroma of Ballantine's India Pale Ale comes from the finest hops in the world.—Adv.

TO RISE AGAINST TURKEY.

Osman Pasha Says an Army of 100,000 Men Is Ready to Deliver Kurdistan and Armenia.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The Matin publishes a dispatch from London giving an interview with Osman Pasha, a General of the Ottoman Army, who recently left Turkey clandestinely. The Turkish officer, who is a relative of the late Osman Pasha, the "Hero of Plevna," unfolded plans for ridding Kurdistan and Armenia of the yoke of Turkey.

Accompanied by his partisans, some of whom are in Europe, he will return to Kurdistan, where, according to his statement, the population, already secretly armed, only awaits his arrival to march as one man against the oppressor.

He says that the Ottoman Empire will be compelled to engage in one of the most formidable struggles in its history. He expects to be able to put into the field an army of 100,000 men, and is confident of rescuing the people from a state of anarchy and social abjection.

BRITISH CLAIMS ON TURKEY.

Doubt in Washington that Great Britain Will Succeed in Making the Sultan Pay.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Officials who are conversant with Turkish affairs are rather skeptical of Great Britain's success in her reported determination to insist on payment of the Armenian claims.

The Constantinople dispatch announcing this intention says that it is "owing to the success of the United States." The prevalent view in official circles here is that the Sultan will be able to deny that the United States has had any success. He can claim that he has not paid the United States anything, but has simply ordered a warship from an American company. If it is asserted that this is simply a cover for the payment of the indemnity, the Sultan can reply that diplomats do not do business on information furnished by newspaper clippings.

This sort of procedure will not always protect Turkey, however. After the Sultan has bought his cruiser and paid for it, and the money has been turned over by the Cramps to the United States Government, Great Britain and other powers may inquire of the United States whether that company has paid the sum of $90,000 into the United States Treasury. If such an inquiry is made it can be positively asserted that a truthful answer will promptly be given. How, after that, the Sultan can longer persist in his policy of evasion is not understood, and some wonder is expressed why he should have chosen to employ a trick which was so certain to be fully exposed in the long run. The only explanation is that he is playing for time.

If the British design is to get the Sultan to pay the indemnity in the same way he has paid it to the United States, it is improbable that it will succeed. To pay the British claims he would have to buy more than one cruiser, and his plea is that Turkey is too poor to pay. All the powers which have claims growing out of the Armenian atrocities have long ago given up making the Sultan pay up, and the success of the United States is due simply to the dogged persistence with which the State Department and Minister Straus have hammered at him after settlement seemed hopeless.

ASKS GOVERNMENT FOR AID.

National Asphalt Company Wants to Prevent Confiscation of Its Lands in Venezuela.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—Bonds of the National Asphalt Company fell from 40 to 33½ to-day, because of the action of the President of Venezuela, who on Dec. 13 attempted to annul the exclusive right of the company to mine asphalt in the State of Bermudez.

F. V. Greene, John M. Mack, George D. Widener, and George W. Elkins, officers of the National Asphalt Company, and large holders of the securities of that company and of those of the Asphalt Company of America, to-day issued a statement to the security holders of the two corporations explanatory of the recent proceedings in Venezuela.

In the statement they show that the Venezuelan Government in 1883 gave the exclusive right to dig and take asphalt from the State of Bermudez to the New York and Bermudez Company. Later the company acquired the asphalt fields in fee simple. The company is now owned by the National Asphalt Company and National Asphalt Company of America, the concessions being for twenty-five years.

Repeatedly the Venezuelan Government has tried to take the property from the American companies, but has always failed. On Dec. 13 the President of Venezuela admitted that a commission had proved the company's clear right to the property, "but a few hours later he attempted by decree to annul our concession, cancel our mining rights, and give a portion of our property to others."

The statement concludes thus: "It seems hardly possible that the United States will allow the property of its citizens in a foreign country to be ruthlessly destroyed or confiscated under an executive decree issued in defiance of the decision of the highest courts of the country. All the facts and the documentary proof thereof have been placed in the possession of the Department of State at Washington, which is fully advised of the situation, and we confidently await its decision and action.

"Meanwhile the property remains in the possession of your agents and representatives, who will not fail to take all necessary and proper steps to prevent its being alienated or confiscated."

G. A. FULLER LEFT $3,000,000.

Distributed Estate Among Relatives, Wife and Daughters Getting Greater Part.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The will of George A. Fuller, who died in New York, distributes the estate among the near relatives, and leaves the greater part of it to his wife and two daughters.

The value of the estate is understood to amount to more than $3,000,000.

The beneficiaries named are A. Fuller and Amelia H. Fuller, parents of the testator, residing at Baldwinsville, Mass., $5,000 each; a brother, Eugene L. Fuller, of Chicago, $10,000; a nephew, Frank Fuller of Chicago, $2,000.

The residue of the estate is left to his wife, Ellen M., and two daughters, Grace B. and Allon Mae.

Boxing Gets a Blow in Chicago.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The Council to-night passed Alderman Patterson's anti-boxing ordinance, and it is thought that the Mayor will sign it. It prohibits boxing of any kind within the city limits unless the exhibition is given without any charge for admission. If the Mayor signs it it may kill pugilism in Chicago, but there are serious doubts as to the right of the Council to prohibit charges being made for entertainments of any kind. Mayor Harrison favors boxing, and he may refuse his signature if he gets encouragement from the city Law Department to do so.

To Washington in Five Hours
From New York, Royal Blue 5-hour trains, leave foot of Liberty St. 11:30 A. M., 1:00 P. M., and the "Royal Limited"—no excess fare—at 3:40 P. M. Other fast solid trains at 8:00, 10:00 A. M., 1:30, 5:00, 7:00 P. M., and 12:15 midnight. Leave South Ferry 5 minutes earlier. Best dining car and café car service in the world.—Adv.

BRITISH OBJECTION TO CHINA PROTOCOL

Omission of the Word "Irrevocable" Said to be Demanded.

But a Peking Dispatch to London Reports That Great Britain Urges Retention of Word in Dispute.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Great Britain's objection to the protocol drawn up by the Peking envoys is to the use of the word "irrevocable." This word is also obnoxious to the United States, and there is no doubt that Great Britain will have American support in her efforts to amend the protocol so as to omit this word. The objection means a long delay in the conclusion of the preliminary negotiations, but Great Britain is determined on the omission of the word "irrevocable," and with the support of the United States she will in all probability win. Otherwise she can and will block all the negotiations.

There is more behind the objection than appears on the surface. Great Britain, there is reason to believe, has grounds for suspecting that the word "irrevocable" has been inserted for the deliberate purpose of entrapping her and other powers into a position into which she does not wish to be drawn. The word commits the signatory powers to the commencement of hostilities in case a single clause of the demands is denied by China. The wording of the protocol is to the effect that all the demands made therein are irrevocable.

Having committed all the powers to an agreement of this kind, it would be easy for one power to so manipulate affairs that China would find herself unable to agree to some demand or part of a demand. In that case, a power which wanted war would be able to commit all the other powers to it, and thus could withdraw at will without violating the terms of the protocol.

A singular and unexplained thing about the situation is that Great Britain does not seem to have been aware, when she first intimated that she would give her assent to the protocol, that the word "irrevocable" was in it. It was stated a week ago that she would agree to the protocol. Her objection now seems to have been made in such form as to give the impression that she has only just discovered the use of the word "irrevocable."

The United States takes the view that such a word will endanger the world's peace by making withdrawal or modification impossible; and will undoubtedly join in the protest.

A long dispatch was sent to Minister Conger this afternoon, informing him fully as to the course he is to pursue.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring on Sunday, says:

"Great Britain has instructed Sir Ernest Satow, I understand, to urge the retention in the joint note of the word 'irrevocable' and the inclusion in the preamble of a declaration that, 'until the Chinese Government has fulfilled the demands of the powers, Peking and the Province of Pechi-Li will not be evacuated by the allied troops.'

"It is rumored that Germany is warmly supporting the British proposal, and I believe a majority of the powers, and possibly all of them, will eventually accept the proposal, which is hailed here with delight."

CHAFFEE SENDS CHINESE FLAG.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Secretary of War to-day received from Gen. Chaffee, commanding the legation guard at Peking, a large, red-bordered yellow flag, made of the finest silk, captured by Troop L of the Sixth Cavalry in an engagement with Chinese imperial troops at Chang-ping-Chow, about thirty miles north of Peking, Sept. 4 last.

In the centre of the flag in white letters is the word "Chang," which means Chang-Chun-Fa, the commander in chief of the Province of Hu-Pe. At the side in black letters are the words "Commander in Chief of Advance Corps of Left Flank of Hu-Pe Army, of the Province of Hu-Pe," together with the titles "Cher-er-Ching" (distinguished) and "Pa-tu-Lu," (brave.)

KAISER THANKS HIS TROOPS.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—Emperor William in his speech yesterday, upon the occasion of the reception given here to a portion of the German contingent which recently arrived from China, said to the returned soldiers:

"With anxious forebodings and heavy heart I witnessed your departure from the Fatherland. The efforts which awaited you could be foreseen. For what you have effected, I offer you my thanks in the name of the entire Fatherland. You have under all circumstances upheld your oath to the flag. I am firmly convinced that each has done his duty in the hour of need. You have not quivered, no hand has trembled. Thus were the victories gained. None among you can know with how great joy the news was received of your victories, in which the army and navy together were concerned.

"Yes, the great Emperor-King, by whose statue you have marched to-day, now looks down upon you. The help of God, which has hitherto been with us, will continue on our side also in the future."

His Majesty also referred to the troops who are still in the Far East.

FRANCE TO RETURN LOOT.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—By order of the Government a number of cases filled with Chinese loot, sent to President Loubet and others by Gen. Frey, (commander of the French marine force in China,) will be embargoed at Marseilles when they are unshipped.

This action of the French Government is evidently an outcome of the protest of Gen. Chaffee against looting, which called attention to the fact that the military forces were despoiling China of works of art. The Government here has come to the conclusion that the articles in the cases cannot be considered prizes of war, and that therefore, they do not belong to the soldiers who seized them.

More Trouble from Chinese Stoves.

PEKING, Dec. 17.—While a number of German officers were dining they narrowly escaped death from asphyxiation through the fumes from a Chinese stove. Four out of seven were partly insensible for more than half an hour. Fortunately all recovered. The stoves in this country are a constant source of danger.

EARL LI ILL AGAIN.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—A dispatch received here from Peking, dated Dec. 16, says Li-Hung-Chang is suffering from influenza.

The dispatch also denies that the Dowager Empress is going to Cheng-Tu, Province of Sze-Chuen.

ANOTHER FOLDING-BED VICTIM.

Wealthy Chicago Man Found Dead in His Bedroom.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Henry Bonn, a wealthy and retired tobacconist, who resided with his family at 4,808 Langley Avenue, was found dead in a collapsed folding bed by members of his family at 10:30 o'clock last night.

Bonn retired at 9:30 o'clock and nothing unusual was heard by the other members of the family during the hour that followed to indicate that an accident had occurred. He was sixty-eight years of age.

Right to the Point.
Service to St. Louis via the Pennsylvania Railroad suits the man whose time is valuable.—Adv.

BOERS AGAIN IN CAPE COLONY.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 17.—Seven hundred Boers have crossed from Orange River Colony into Cape Colony, near Aliwal North.

They have reached Kaapsdaal.

Aliwal North is about 110 miles south by east of Bloemfontein. Kaapsdaal is not marked on the United States War Department map.

BRITISH VICTORY REPORTED.

Boers Said to Have Lost Heavily in Big Battle at Orange River—One of De Wet's Guns Captured.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The report of another severe battle, resulting in a British victory, is current here.

According to the story, the fighting began at daybreak yesterday and lasted for several hours. The Boers, who numbered from 1,500 to 2,000 men, were surrounded at the Orange River and totally defeated, with very heavy losses in killed and wounded. It is added that a number of Boers were captured.

Gen. Kitchener, in a dispatch received by the War Office, confirms the dispatch from Aliwal North, Cape Colony, of Sunday night, announcing the capture by the Boers of a detachment of Brabant's Horse on Dec. 13, near Zastron, Orange River Colony. Lord Kitchener says 107 men were made prisoners on that occasion.

The Colonial Office, in announcing that Sir Alfred Milner succeeds Lord Roberts as administrator of the conquered territory in South Africa, says his taking up his residence at Johannesburg on account of his health must not be regarded as a settlement of the capital question.

MASERU, Dec. 16.—It appears that De Wet's force was twice repulsed before it broke through the British lines in the neighborhood of Thaba N'Chu.

In the third attack De Wet led in person. With a few determined men he charged and broke the British lines, the rest of the commando following. He was forced, however, to leave in the hands of the British a fifteen-pounder and fifteen wagons with ammunition and stores.

Commandant Haasbroek, with a commando and two guns, tried to get through Springkants Nek, but was driven back, losing forty men.

MAYOR OF ATLANTA ARRESTED.

Charged with Intoxication—Not His First Offense, and His Resignation Has Been Handed In.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 17.—Mayor James G. Woodward of this city has been arrested, and was locked up in the police barracks to-night on a charge of intoxication.

Some time ago, for the same cause, the City Council and Board of Aldermen threatened impeachment proceedings against Mr. Woodward, but upon promises that he would abstain from further offenses of the kind, no action was taken.

The Mayor tendered his resignation, and it was placed in the hands of Councilman Rawson, who holds it on condition that if the Mayor becomes intoxicated it shall be tendered for acceptance. The resignation was submitted this afternoon, but action was postponed until Friday.

RICH GOLD DISCOVERIES.

Great Strike in Montana—Large Particles Found in Ore from the Mary Nevin, Colorado.

Special to The New York Times.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 17.—A great gold strike has just been made at Virginia City by C. A. Damours, from Canada, who has had a lease and bond on an old quartz mine known as the Kearsarge.

In years past more than $120,000,000 in gold have been taken out of the placers of the gulch. Young Damours now believes he has discovered the mother lode. Experts who have been permitted to inspect his find say he has $1,000,000 worth of ore in sight now, and that the indications are that the greatest deposit of gold quartz in the known world has been uncovered.

Special to The New York Times.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., Dec. 17.—Ore was shown in the hotels to-night from the Mary Nevin, on Rosebud Hill, which ranks with the richest ever found in the camp.

One specimen, two inches in thickness, displays particles of gold as large as a pea, and will assay $200,000 to the ton.

IMPRISONED IN A CAVERN.

Willard Holcomb of This City and His Guide in Terrible Situation in Indiana—May Be Drowned.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST BADEN, Ind., Dec. 17.—Willard Holcomb, a traveling man, representing the firm of Lieber & Co. of New York, is imprisoned in the Lost River Cavern, thirteen miles from this city. With him is Lafe Jones, a guide.

The two men started from West Baden early this morning to explore the cavern, which they were seen to enter by boat. A short time afterward the river began to rise so rapidly that the entrance to the cavern was closed. It is feared by some that Holcomb and his guide have been drowned. State Geologist Kendall, however, says the men, by seeking the higher levels of the cavern, may live several days if the supply of air does not become exhausted.

Frank Collier, a Chicago lawyer, who is here temporarily, as soon as the mishap was known, began a rescue party. He has been engaged all day in floating food into the cavern on shingles and small boards, in the hope that some of the improvised rafts will reach the imprisoned men.

GREAT STEEL PLATE POOL.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 17.—Negotiations are on foot and are declared to be certain of successful conclusion for the formation of a pool by fourteen of the largest steel plate manufacturing establishments in the United States.

Among the concerns included are named the Carnegie Steel Company, the Illinois Steel Company, the Federal Steel Company, the Lenkens Steel Company, the National Steel Company, and the American Steel and Wire Company. It is said that the Carnegie Company heads the list with 10 per cent. of the total business of all the mills.

The meetings for the formation of the pool have been held within the last two weeks in Chicago and Pittsburg. The pool is arranged on the percentage basis, and the country is divided into territories to be exclusively supplied with steel plates by the various members of the pool. The price agreed upon at the last meeting in Chicago was $28 a ton at Pittsburg, with conditions elsewhere equivalent to freight charges. The decision was also reached to do away with commission agents.

The pool affects the domestic market alone, all the concerns being on an equal footing so far as the foreign market is concerned.

Faster Than Ever to California.
Every day in the year the Overland Limited leaves Chicago 6:30 P. M. via the shortest route Chicago and Northwestern, Union and Southern Pacific Railways, and arrives San Francisco 6:45 P. M. third day. Best of everything. Double drawing room, sleeping cars, buffet, library car (with barber) and dining cars. Full information at Northwestern Line Office, 461 Broadway.—Adv.

Taste Ballantine's India Pale Ale. Notice the "body"; that shows the quality.—Adv.

THE CORONER ARRESTS INSANE WARD NURSES

Accused of Strangling Louis H. Hilliard, a Patient.

Affidavit of the Man Who Feigned Insanity—Commissioner Keller Charges Extreme Violence.

Clinton Marshall, one of the three Bellevue Hospital insane pavilion nurses charged last Wednesday by Coroners' Physician Donlon with having kicked and strangled to death Louis H. Hilliard, an insane patient, was arrested last night at the Bellevue Training School, foot of East Twenty-sixth Street, by Coroner Fitzpatrick and three Central Office detectives and remanded by the Coroner to the Tombs. Warrants had been issued by the Coroner for the arrest of T. R. Davis and Edward Dean, the other nurses, and at an early hour this morning they were taken into custody at the hospital. They had been out until midnight. They were locked up in the East Thirty-fifth Street Station House.

The arrests were made principally on account of the investigations of Commissioner of Charities John W. Keller, who, after giving the nurses a hearing at his office, Twenty-sixth Street and East River, discharged them from the hospital with the intimation that it was the Coroner's duty to make arrests.

An affidavit submitted to Coroner Fitzpatrick by one Thomas J. Minnock was also responsible for the issuing of the warrants. Minnock was the reporter who, acting for a newspaper, feigned insanity in order to be sent to Ward's Island to expose abuses which he fancied existed there. Minnock now claims that while detained in the Bellevue insane pavilion he was an eye-witness to what he describes as the "deliberate kicking and strangling to death" of an insane patient by the three nurses.

Hilliard's body was taken from the insane pavilion to the Morgue on Tuesday night last. The man died in a fit of violence, it was reported, while struggling with the nurses. Dr. Moore, the physician in charge of the pavilion, reported the circumstances to Coroners' Physician Donlon, who made an autopsy, which showed that three of the man's left ribs had been broken—one of them directly over the heart—and also that the hyoid bone, or "Adam's apple," had been broken, indicating that the man had been strangled.

Commissioner Keller ordered an investigation for yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. At the close of the examination, after the nurses had been heard in their own defense, Mr. Keller said:

"The patient, Louis H. Hilliard, was brought into the pavilion, under the care of three of these nurses, a comparatively well man. He was taken from the hospital twenty-five hours later a corpse. He died, the nurses told us, while in a vicious madman's struggle with them. When the Coroners' physician performed an autopsy he found that there were marks of violence upon the body which were not there at the time the patient was examined for admittance the day before. There were evidences of strangulation.

"It is a matter of record that Hilliard died within thirty minutes after the wrangle. The fact that the man's hyoid bone was not broken when he was admitted and that he could not have lived more than an hour with the bone in that condition resolved the case into the simpler one of calling upon the nurses to explain whether they used undue violence in suppressing the man or whether they were justified, as sometimes happens with violent patients, in using extreme measures in order to protect their own lives.

"I find on investigation that the nurses deny having used undue force. They claim that the man was extremely violent and dangerous. They deny having punched or kicked the patient and they are unable to suggest the least reasonable thing to explain how the patient received his broken ribs or how the hyoid bone, causing death, came to be fractured. However that may be, there is a rule in this department that neither violence nor brutality will be permitted.

"That there was violence here the condition of the man's body testifies. Nor do I think that the extreme violence here used was in the least justified by the circumstances. And, therefore, for the discipline of the hospital and the good of the patients in the institution I dismiss the three nurses, Davis, Dean, and Marshall."

The testimony of the nurses before Commissioner Keller was practically a repetition. Head Nurse Davis said in part:

"I first saw the man at about 2 o'clock on the day he died. I noticed from the instant I saw him that he was in an ugly mood.

"That afternon his wife came to see him, and that excited him greatly. At supper he refused to eat. I asked him to eat, when he uppercut me with his cup and knocked my glasses off. I grappled with him, and we went down, rolling over and over. Nurses Dean and Marshall arrived, and together we tried to hold the man down.

"Just before we broke loose and dashed into the lavatory. We chased him. He ran at top speed, and struck against a washbasin, which sent him headlong to the floor. We piled on top of him, hoping in vain to keep him down.

"When he fell he cut his head so that it bled. Then he jumped to his feet and dashed again into the corridor. He fell, striking his head and shoulders violently. He lay still and we left him. In a few minutes it dawned on me that he was not breathing right. We put him to bed. His pulse was very low and we sent for Dr. Moore, who came and pronounced the man dead."

RED LIGHTS IN THE SENATE.

Lamps Put Over Main Door to Act as Signals to Representatives.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate has adopted red lights as signals, and the new display is exciting the interest of the latest visitors.

The occasion for the adoption of red lights was the desire on the part of the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to meet the convenience of many members of the House. Owing to the fact that the Senate has been of late much of the time in executive session, members of the House who had business at the Senate traveled across the building, only to be refused admission when they had reached the Senate door. Col. Ransdell thought of a way to save all this unnecessary travel. The main door of the Senate Chamber can be seen from the main door of the House, if visitors are not too numerous. Col. Ransdell had three electric lights inclosed in red glass bulbs placed right over the main door of the Senate. When the Senate goes into executive session a doorkeeper turns on the lights in these red lamps. A member of the House who starts out for the Senate at once sees these red lights and may postpone his visit until the lights are turned off.

MISSING DIAMOND RETURNED.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—The one missing diamond of the twenty gems stolen by Express Messenger Hoffman from the Adams Express Company was returned to Deputy Police Superintendent Rowe Sunday evening.

The Deputy Superintendent had guests at home Sunday evening, and just after the last of them had left a rap came at the front door of his residence. A small boy handed the officer a brown envelope, and, stating that there was no answer, disappeared. Deputy Superintendent Rowe opened the envelope and in it was the missing diamond. On a slip of paper were the words:

"This is the Adams Express Company's diamond."

The identity of the small boy is not known, and who sent the diamond to the Deputy Superintendent is also a mystery.

Few and Far Between are the travelers who, having once used the Pennsylvania Limited, travel by any other train between New York and Chicago.—Adv.

WAR VESSELS IN COLLISION.

Torpedo Boat Porter Rams the Cruiser Montgomery at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

While seeking a berth in the Brooklyn Navy Yard upon her arrival from Newport Sunday afternoon, the torpedo boat Porter rammed the cruiser Montgomery. To eye witnesses it appeared as if the little flier tried deliberately to send the Montgomery to the bottom of the basin, but it is believed that the accident was caused by a failure of the engine telegraph to convey signals from the conning tower at the critical moment.

Rear Admiral Barker, Commandant of the yard, yesterday appointed a board of inquiry to look into the matter and fix the responsibility.

The Porter had been directed to moor alongside the Montgomery, which was undergoing repairs at the end of the yard near Dry Dock No. 3. Lieut. S. M. Strite was in command of the torpedo boat, and as she neared the cruiser he signaled to the engine room to slow down, but the order was not obeyed, and the Porter struck the ship a glancing blow.

The collision bent the Porter's stem about a foot over to port and broke several of her deck plates, and it will take about a week to repair the damage. When this is done the torpedo boat will probably join the North Atlantic Squadron in the West Indies.

THE LOSS OF THE GNEISENAU.

Official Dispatch Gives 136 as Number of Missing—Commander Rumored to Have Killed Himself.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—An official dispatch received here to-day from Malaga accounts for 314 survivors out of the 450 persons who were on board the German training frigate Gneisenau, which foundered at the entrance to the port of Malaga yesterday, while she was taking refuge from the terrible storm prevailing at the time.

It is rumored that the commander of the Gneisenau committed suicide when he saw all was lost. A nephew of the Imperial Chancellor, Count von Bülow, named Berndt, was among the saved, though he was injured in the head.

The first engineer, the assistant engineer, and a number of petty officers were drowned.

It is hoped that the guns, the treasure chest, and perhaps part of the hull will be salvaged.

The foundering of the Gneisenau has created a most painful impression in Berlin, following, as it does, the jubilant reception to the sailors and marines from China yesterday. The news spread rapidly through the city this morning. Great crowds thronged the Admiralty Building and the Ministry of Marine. Many touching scenes were witnessed.

Emperor William has received a telegram of condolence from the Spanish Queen Regent.

MALAGA, Dec. 17.—Of the 314 survivors of the Gneisenau, 30, who were injured, were transported to the local hospital; 125 sheltered in the barracks, and 150 lodged in the Town Hall. The municipality is providing food for all.

Members of the German colony and many Spanish ladies have offered to nurse the injured.

The flags over all the consulates are at half mast.

MADRID, Dec. 17.—Dispatches from Malaga confirm the statement that the Naval Commander there had warned Capt. Kretschmann of the Gneisenau of the approaching storm, and had recommended that he enter the port, but without avail.

The shock on the rocks is described by eye-witnesses as terrible. Many holes were driven in the vessel's stern, and she sank within ten minutes.

The Captain refused assistance. When a Spanish sailor got within a short distance of him and threw him a rope Capt. Kretschmann was so greatly agitated that he threw his sword at the sailor.

The first mate struggled for an hour against the waves, clinging to a piece of wood, but finally went down.

The Spanish gunboat Nueva España has left Cadiz to render assistance.

$425,000 FIRE IN CLEVELAND.

Big Plant of the Brown Hoisting and Machinery Company Almost Entirely Destroyed.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 17.—Fire entailing a loss of $400,000 and throwing 1,200 men out of employment practically destroyed the entire plant of the Brown Hoisting and Machinery Company early this morning.

Within half an hour after the fire was discovered six immense buildings, covering a space 300 by 500 feet, were in ruins. Only the firm's office building and pattern shop were saved.

Although the firemen had many narrow escapes from falling roofs and walls, no one was seriously injured. So quickly, however, did the flames spread before a high wind that many of the workmen were obliged to drop their tools and jump from windows to save themselves.

The fire originated in the shop of the Elwell-Parker Electric Company, which occupies a part of the Brown Building. An employe went into the paint room with a lighted candle. An explosion quickly followed, and the flames spread with lightning rapidity. Fifty employes of the Elwell-Parker Company had to run for their lives. Through the Brown Company's erecting room, plate shop, blacksmith shop, and shipping department the fire swept, driving the workmen out in haste.

Two additional alarms were sent in immediately, and twenty-three fire companies were summoned to the scene. Before they were fairly at work the roof of the erecting room had fallen in, and for thirty minutes afterward roofs and walls and heavy machinery kept crashing down. In thirty minutes every roof was down, and the fire had practically spent itself, because there was nothing left to burn but tangled ruins.

The firm's office building, a four-story brick structure, was hemmed in on three sides by blazing sheds, but the Fire Department managed to save it, with its valuable plans and blue prints. By hard work the pattern room was also saved, and this will materially aid the firm in getting ready for business again.

Within two hours after the alarm of fire the officers of the Brown Company were figuring with contractors for the erection of new buildings. It is expected that they will be completed within four months. The Brown Company's plant was one of the largest manufacturing institutions in the city. The firm has several contracts for Government work and for foreign delivery. Among the machinery wrecked is a big order for the new Carnegie plant at Rankin, Penn., which was all ready for shipment. Where possible, contracts will be turned over to other firms for completion.

Five hundred men were at once put to work cooling the works and clearing them away. This work will be carried on night and day. President Fayette Brown estimates the company's loss at $400,000. It is fully covered by insurance, distributed among sixty companies. The Elwell-Parker Company lost $25,000, and has adequate insurance.

New Orleans Sewerage Bonds Awarded

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17.—Five New Orleans banks, the New York Security and Trust Company and Edward C. Jones & Co., comprising the pool which made one of the bids for the sewerage and drainage bond issue, received the award of the bonds to-day. They take $12,000,000 bearing 4 per cent. interest at 104.619.

Popular Tour to Washington Royal Blue Line.
December 27th. Only $12 round trip from New York City, all expenses included. Leave Liberty St. 10 A. M. Full particulars at all Royal Blue Line Offices.—Adv.

MR. McLAUGHLIN READY TO FIGHT TAMMANY

Again Hurls Defiance at Chief of Police Devery.

OPEN CHARGE OF CORRUPTION

Declares He Has Knowledge of Platt-Croker Negotiations—His Action Indorsed by Mr. Shepard—Wigwam Leaders' Denial.

Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings County Democracy, is ready for an open fight with Tammany Hall. He is ready to fight a Croker-Platt combination, and from statements made yesterday by Mr. McLaughlin to a NEW YORK TIMES reporter it was made plain that the Brooklyn leader has known of the friendly interchange of views between the representatives of Richard Croker in New York and those of Thomas C. Platt.

Police Commissioner Henry E. Abell, a close personal friend of Thomas C. Platt, who was for years "Platt's man" in Albany, was sharply criticised by Mr. McLaughlin. He declared that money was made by "those who stand for thieves" in the Police Department, and how "honest men were removed to put dishonest men in their places."

That the Brooklyn organization is ready for a battle if the Tammany leaders want to wage one was made clear by Mr. McLaughlin. A personal friend of Mr. McLaughlin said, also:

"Chief Devery and the Tammany men seem to have forgotten that we have a District Attorney in Kings County."

This statement was made in the presence of Mr. McLaughlin, while the latter sat silent.

AGAIN DEFIES DEVERY.

A TIMES reporter saw Mr. McLaughlin in the afternoon, after he had had conferences with his leaders in the Willoughby Street Auction Rooms. Mr. McLaughlin said:

"I was incensed at the contemptible action of Chief Devery, and spoke my mind. If he was a man, why didn't he come right out and say that he had made the transfers for the good of the service and for the better government of the Police Department? Why did he hide in a cellar or in a garret when he made the changes?

"Have any of you men been able to find Devery to-day? Why don't he stand up like a man? Devery must have been reading of those cyclone cellars the people have in the West. Out there a man digs one of those places under his house. It is always ready, and when a cyclone comes along he goes into the cellar. When the blow is over he comes out, but often finds his house blown down and his place in ruins. Sometimes he gets into a cyclone cellar and the house blows down, and he never escapes alive from the ruins."

Commissioner Abell's name was mentioned. A friend of Mr. McLaughlin, who stood by the Brooklyn leader, said:

"That man Abell is tarred with the same stick as Chief Devery. Why, Abell is a member of the Ed. J. Milan Association, which gave a ball at Saengerbund Hall, in Brooklyn, a short time ago, and Commissioner Abell's name was on the list. It is against an outrageous and shameful action."

"What will be done now?" was asked.

"What can be done? It remains to be seen whether the people will stand it."

"Will you favor a bill in the Legislature to get rid of Devery?"

"We will get rid of Devery," said Mr. McLaughlin, with a smile. "His action was outrageous. Devery will never succeed in any effort to force a corrupt rule on Brooklyn. I can say that the Brooklyn organization has had the confidence of the people for years. We still have the confidence of the people, I am sure."

Then the reporter said that Edward M. Shepard had made a statement for publication in THE NEW YORK TIMES that he was pleased to see that the Kings County organization was in sympathy with good government. Mr. McLaughlin was pleased, but he said nothing.

"Have Mr. Shevlin and Senator McCarren had a talk with you to-day?" was asked.

"Yes, they have been here. I want to say that I am speaking for myself in these matters. I am a free man. The Democratic leaders, such as Seymour, Tilden, Cleveland, and Hill, know that. The men around me are free men. They can do as they please."

A friend suggested to Mr. McLaughlin that there had been no exodus of Brooklyn political leaders to Manhattan.

"No; I guess not," said Mr. McLaughlin, laughing. "The leaders in Brooklyn wear no collars."

That Mr. McLaughlin will have the backing of every political leader in Brooklyn, with the exception of Michael J. Coffey, was made plain by the events of yesterday.

James Shevlin was at the Willoughby Street headquarters and had a long talk with Mr. McLaughlin. There was a rumor that some of the Brooklyn leaders would go to New York to demand the removal of Chief Devery and an explanation as to whether his action was taken with or without conference with the leaders who represent Mr. Croker. Mr. Shevlin disposed of these rumors by stating:

"We are not going to do any worrying over the matter. It is not our intention to demand any explanation of Chief Devery or Tammany Hall, but we do expect the Chief to give us his reasons for some of the transfers he has made. The matter will be investigated in a quiet way if light is not thrown on it. Whether Devery did this on his own responsibility or not I don't know, but I regard the transfer of the Brooklyn men as a certificate of their good character. I have not seen Commissioner York to-day, and I don't intend to. Neither do I intend to go to Manhattan to ask any of the political leaders the cause of the transfers."

MR. SHEPARD'S ATTITUDE.

That Mr. McLaughlin would have the hearty support of Edward M. Shepard and his followers is shown by a short statement dictated by Mr. Shepard for THE NEW YORK TIMES, as follows:

"I have known for many years that the Kings County organization was in sympathy with good government, and I am glad to have this further proof that the Brooklyn organization wants an honest administration of the Police Department."

Mr. Shepard has indorsed President York in the fight he has been making against Chief Devery's administration of police affairs.

Controller Coler declined to be interviewed as to what stand he would take in the event of an open fight between the Kings County organization and Tammany Hall. It is known, however, that Controller Coler would go to any extent to drive Mr. Croker out of political power and that his interests are all with the Brooklyn organization and Mr. McLaughlin, who demanded his nomination for Controller from Mr. Croker.

A statement was made by a politician who has the confidence of the Brooklyn political leaders that Mr. McLaughlin and his friends are all ready for an open battle with Tammany Hall and Senator Platt. There are many evidences on the surface that some combination of this kind has been formed. Many well-known politicians are outspoken in private conversation, but refuse to be quoted.

One plan which was talked of in Brooklyn yesterday was that Senator Platt, through his representative, Frederick S. Gibbs, had promised Mr. Carroll and other Tammany leaders to introduce a bill which will give the Presidents of the boroughs nearly as much power as the Mayor of the city. The Republicans hope that by this "deal" they can gain control of all the patronage of the Brooklyn departments. Tammany, in return for this concession, will be kept in power by the large majority in the Borough of Manhattan, and may also be able to elect a Tammany Mayor.

DEVERY TAKES A VACATION.

Quiet at Police Headquarters After the "Shake-Up"—Mr. York Questions the Corporation Counsel.

Quiet was yesterday the chief characteristic at Police Headquarters. Chief William F. Devery did not visit his office. According to his chief aid, Sergt. John Flood, he will at 8 A. M. to-day enter on a vacation of thirteen days, the balance of the leave granted to him last Summer. Sergt. Flood also stated that the Chief will not leave the city, but will use his time in rest and in preparing for and enjoying Christmas with his family.

Senior Deputy Chief Moses W. Cortright will be the head of the uniformed force during the absence of his superior, and will have all the powers of transfer possessed by Chief Devery. He will not exercise them to change the situation created by the "shake-up" of Saturday.

The telephone did not yesterday bring to Sergt. Flood any instructions of importance, and there will be no more transfers of superior officers. There will be a few transfers, in order to give the Deputy Chiefs and Inspectors who were shifted on Saturday such staffs as they may call for.

The Police Board could yesterday have held a meeting, as President York and Commissioners Sexton and Abell were at Police Headquarters. But there is a called meeting of the board to be held to-day, to consider a labor union complaint to the Factory Inspector that the labor law has been violated in the construction of the Bathgate Avenue Station House, and this will afford an opportunity for the transaction of any police business. Commissioner Hess, who has entirely rallied from his illness, will be able to attend it if the weather is fine. President York had an hour's conference with Commissioner Sexton in the afternoon. Commissioner Abell did not visit Mr. York, but when Mr. Sexton left Mr. York and went to his room Mr. Abell promptly called on him and had a private interview.

PRESIDENT YORK'S ATTITUDE.

"I will not," said President York, "discuss the transfers made by Chief Devery. I have not yet heard from the Corporation Counsel in regard to my inquiry as to the power possessed by the Chief to transfer Deputy Chiefs. I have no knowledge that Chief Devery is going on a vacation. He has the right to do so without communicating with the board, on the permission granted him some time ago. If he goes away, Deputy Chief Cortright will have the same power of transfer as the Chief.

"As to what the board may do, or as to what the future may bring forth, I make no forecasts. For myself, I have no reason to believe that I am in a false position. I am all right, so far as I can see. No, I don't care to say a word on the political aspect of the situation. I have nothing to say about Brooklyn and New York politics."

Mr. York's communication to the Corporation Counsel, of which he spoke, is as follows:

Police Department of the City of New York,
300 Mulberry Street.
New York, Dec. 15, 1900.

Hon. John Whalen, Corporation Counsel, Borough of Manhattan:

Sir: Section 320 of the charter in part provides:

"A Deputy Chief of Police shall be assigned to duty by the Police Board at Police Headquarters in the Borough of Brooklyn, and in the discretion of the Police Board a Deputy Chief of Police may be assigned to duty at Police Headquarters in each of the other boroughs."

Section 292 of the charter in part provides:

"That the Chief of Police shall assign to duty the officers and members of the police force, and shall have power to change such assignments from time to time, whenever in his judgment the exigencies of the services may require such change."

I respectfully ask to be advised whether under the provisions of the sections, as above quoted, the power to assign a Deputy Chief of Police, invested exclusively in the Board of Police, or whether the Chief of Police, as such, has power to make such assignment in his discretion; and whether, in a case where, by resolution of the Police Board, a Deputy Chief has been assigned to duty at Police Headquarters in the Borough of Brooklyn, the Chief of Police has the power to transfer the Deputy Chief so assigned without the authority and direction of the Police Board. Respectfully,

BERNARD J. YORK, President.

Deputy Chief Cortright, who is a Republican, said that he had not received formal notice of the intention of Chief Devery to take a vacation, but that in the ordinary course of police business he should on knowing of such absence announce it to the force.

"You would," Chief Cortright was asked, "have all the power of Chief Devery in the matter of transfers?"

"I certainly would."

"Will you exercise it?"

"In case of necessity."

"To the extent of altering the situation created by the 'shake-up' last Saturday?"

"I will do nothing to alter what may have been done by my superior officer."

"Not even if urged by the Board of Police or a member of it?"

"You have my answer."

"Has Chief Devery the power to transfer you?"

"I have not given the subject much study, but I suppose he has."

"Do you believe that the transfers of Saturday were for the good of the service?"

"I have no opinion to offer on the subject, nothing to add to what I have said."

MR. SEXTON'S STATEMENT.

"My first knowledge of the transfers of Saturday," said Commissioner Sexton, "was when I saw the list. I had nothing to do with the changes."

"Even in the way of suggestion?"

"Not even in the way of suggestions with one of them."

"Were they wise changes and for the good of the department?"

"I do not care to express an opinion on that. The Chief acted on his own authority."

"Was Tammany Hall or any of its members at the back of the action?"

"I can only speak for myself."

"Will you say that Tammany Hall was not back of it?"

"No, I will not."

"Will you express an opinion as to the tendency of this action to further embitter the relations of Tammany Hall with the Kings County Democracy?"

"I must ask to be excused from talking on that subject."

Mr. Sexton added that he had read Hugh McLaughlin's comments on the transfers, and did not care to discuss them.

Chief Detective Titus received several floral tributes of congratulation yesterday, and showed them to Capt. McClusky, who called on him to go over unfinished business in the Detective Bureau and fully inform him in regard to it. Capt. McClusky had nothing to say except that he was "breaking in" at the Grand Central Station.

Ex-Judge W. M. K. Olcott sent word last evening to President York that he could not forward the charges and specifications on which Capt. Herlihy will be tried until this morning. They will be acted on at once, and a day will be set for the trial.

TAMMANY MEN NOT PLEASED.

Disclaim Responsibility for Chief Devery's Action—Declare that Spite Instigated It.

The men left by Richard Croker to conduct the affairs of Tammany Hall while he is in Europe disclaim all responsibility for the action of Chief Devery in the recent police transfers.

Corporation Counsel Whalen said yesterday:

"I was not consulted about the recent transfers, and I knew nothing about the action of Chief Devery until Saturday evening."

"Do you know of any word being received from Mr. Croker about the matter?" was asked.

"No. I have received no message from Mr. Croker."

"Have you received the letter from President York in reference to the legality of Chief Devery's action in transferring Deputy Chief McLaughlin from Brooklyn?"

"Yes, I will give the matter careful consideration. I do not care to say anything at this time."

Charities Commissioner John W. Keller said:

"I did not know about Chief Devery's transfers until they were made."

"Were you consulted in any way?"

"No, and I do not want to say anything about the matter."

No other Tammany leader could be found last evening who was willing to say that he knew prior to Chief Devery's action what was about to take place. There was a feeling among the Tammany leaders that Chief Devery had overstepped the mark, and that he would have to take the consequences.

The claim was made by several Tammany leaders that Chief Devery had committed another blunder. When Chief Devery issued the order in reference to the McCullagh deputies the Tammany organization had to straighten the matter out.

Chief Devery was also charged with issuing the order prohibiting music in the large hotels without consultation with the leaders, and his action had to be nullified again.

The Tammany leaders did not seem satisfied with the prospect of a fight with Hugh McLaughlin and the Brooklyn organization. Chief Devery's action was said last evening at the Democratic Club to be the result of a personal spite against President York of the Police Board and Mr. McLaughlin, and that he made the transfers to put his Brooklyn enemies "in a hole."

The question as to how Chief Devery can be removed was discussed by the leaders last evening. According to the charter the votes of three members of the Police Board are necessary to remove the Chief.

Commissioners Abell and Sexton are counted on to support Chief Devery. While Commissioner Hess is sick even the Tammany leaders could not remove Chief Devery without specific instructions from Mr. Croker to Commissioner Sexton. Mayor Van Wyck has the power to go to a meeting of the Police Board and vote to remove the Chief, but he must have the support of two Commissioners.

John C. Sheehan said yesterday:

"It is apparent that the transfers made by Chief Devery were not made for the good of the service, but were made for the purposes of revenue. Chief Devery's record in the Police Department is well known. He makes moves for one purpose and one only. People know by this time what is back of every move which Devery makes."

CITY PURIFICATION PLANS.

The Committee of Fifteen to Announce the Scope of Its Work—The Tammany Committee.

W. H. Baldwin, Jr., said yesterday that the Sub-Committee on Plan and Scope of the Committee of Fifteen had reached a stage where a report could be rendered at the next meeting of the full committee, tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Baldwin also said that, in all probability, a public declaration of policy would be made at the close of the next session. He declined to express himself on the recent "shake-up" in the Police Department.

Col. Joel B. Erhardt, another member of the committee, and an ex-Police Commissioner, when approached on the same subject, said:

"The transfers in the Police Department mean nothing. Not a man who wears the blue does not know that this is the case. No more will be gained by these transfers than if in a corporation, which every one concedes to have been grossly mismanaged, and where a large number of the employes are corrupt, the clerks and tellers were removed from one desk or one room to another.

"Where have the Police Commissioners been transferred to? Where has Devery been transferred to?"

Chairman Nixon of the Tammany Committee of Five declined to make any comment on the "shake-up" in the Police Department beyond saying that the committee had had no hand in it, and that he did not know that the changes would tend to lessen or facilitate the work of the committee.

"The Tammany committee," said Mr. Nixon, "feel sure that the 'Red Light' district is clean. It is now the [illegible] of the investigators to turn the [illegible] in other directions. A beginning will be made at once with Capt. Diamond's precinct, the East Fifth Street Station. Mr. Platzek and Commissioner Keller having appointed a committee to consult with Capt. Diamond and impress him with the necessity of stern methods for the suppression of vice."

BROOKLYN FORCE DEMORALIZED.

Deputy Chief Clayton Intimates that He Does Not Expect to Command There Long.

The Brooklyn police force was demoralized yesterday as the result of the transfers made by Chief Devery. Deputy Chief Elias P. Clayton, who was transferred by Chief Devery from Queens to Brooklyn, was at his post, but he gave out an intimation that he did not expect to stay there very long. He said:

"I am glad to be in Brooklyn, and I must admit that I feel it an honor to be at the head of the Brooklyn force. I have been in the department for twenty-five years, and I have lived in Brooklyn all my life. I have as much interest in keeping Brooklyn a clean place to live in as any other citizen, and I will do my duty here if it is only for a week, a month, or a year. I may not be here a week, but while I am here you can depend upon it that I will carry out the laws. I cannot do it alone, and I expect the co-operation of the Inspectors, Captains, and Sergeants. If I know of any subordinate who will not co-operate with me I will try to compel him to do his duty."

Deputy Chief Patrick H. McLaughlin, according to his friends, does not expect to remain long away from his post in Brooklyn. When he left for Long Island City on Saturday he locked all his papers in his desk and took the key away. It is the custom of police officials to clear all papers out of their desks and leave the key for their successors. Whether the failure to leave the key was an oversight cannot be told. Deputy Chief Clayton has no desk at Brooklyn Headquarters at present.

Deputy Chief Clayton announced to the Police Captains that the customary weekly talks would be dispensed with, and that if there were any reasons why the Captains should be called together he would issue a notice.

Inspector James Kane, the friend of Richard Croker, who was detailed to duty in Brooklyn, had a talk with the Captains. There was a rumor that Inspector Kane was marked for further promotion, and that he would soon be made Acting Deputy Chief of Brooklyn. This would give the Tammany machine complete control of the police organization in Brooklyn.

It was said at Brooklyn Headquarters that raids would be made on all poolrooms and policy shops, and that the keeping of slot machines in saloons and other gambling devices would be stopped and the saloon men prosecuted. There were rumors also of more transfers in the Brooklyn force, but up to a late hour none had been announced.

DENIAL FROM MR. ODELL.

Police Transfers Not Due to Any Action on His Part.

Governor-elect Odell, who is at his home in Newburg, was called up on the telephone yesterday by a NEW YORK TIMES reporter and informed that a report was current in this city that he was supposed to have instigated the recent transfers in the Police Department.

"You can say for me," replied Mr. Odell, "that there is nothing in such a report."

Brooklyn Must Be "Worked."

From Brooklyn Eagle, Dec. 17.

Tammany is simply out of money. Supplies from shame run low in Manhattan, for folks are aroused there. Brooklyn must be "worked." The officers who would not "work" are sent away. Those relied on to "work" it are put in their places. Thus the compact was broken, and that is why it was broken.

PRESIDENT COOGAN'S POSITION

Controller Coler Thinks He Has Forfeited It, but Refers the Matter to Corporation Counsel.

Controller Coler stated to several friends yesterday that he was of the opinion that President Coogan had violated the provisions of the charter in voting at Southampton, L. I., and that he could not retain his office. When seen by a reporter for THE NEW YORK TIMES, Controller Coler said:

"I will refer the matter to the Corporation Counsel, by whose advice I will be guided. I hope that President Coogan will continue as President of the Borough of Manhattan."

The letter which the Controller sent to Corporation Counsel Whalen recites the claim set up by Lawyer Joseph Fitch, that, as Mr. Coogan voted in Southampton, he was no longer President of the Borough of Manhattan, having vacated that office by removal from the borough. Controller Coler also refers to the statement made in the letter by Lawyer Fitch that the Finance Department would be held responsible for payments of salary to President Coogan, and asks for advice as to whether Mr. Coogan should be recognized as the legal holder of the position of Borough President.

Corporation Counsel Whalen said he would give the matter careful consideration.

President Coogan said yesterday:

"It is making a mountain out of a molehill. I had no intention whatever of making my residence at Southampton, and would not have remained there had circumstances not compelled me to. I was expecting to return to New York about Oct. 1. I was the only man in the house, and when my mother-in-law, Mrs. Lynch, became seriously ill, I found it my duty to remain there, as I could not be in New York to vote, and as I had been in Southampton the necessary time, I cast my vote there."

A Tammany politician said yesterday that President Coogan had voted in Southampton in 1898 and 1899.

WILL BE HIS OWN LAWYER.

Louis A. Gourdain Will Defend Himself from Charge of Insanity.

Louis A. Gourdain startled the commission appointed to examine into his sanity yesterday by demanding that he be allowed to defend himself in the examination into his mental condition. Gourdain attained quite a little notoriety some time ago by subpoenaing Bishop Potter, J. Pierpont Morgan, Sarah Bernhardt, and many other prominent persons to attend his trial. He claims that he is being persecuted by Anthony Comstock, and that he wished to prove by several of those he subpoenaed that they would not believe Mr. Comstock's testimony on oath.

He is quite familiar with the banking laws of the country, he says, having been through a similar trial in Louisiana and having also been examined there as to his sanity and found sane. He conducted his own examination there. When Hugh O. Pentecost, assigned by the Recorder to defend Gourdain, visited him in the Tombs, he found him, he says, apparently perfectly sane.

"A man is insane in the eyes of the law," said Mr. Pentecost, when he is mentally incapable of talking with his counsel. Gourdain, on that count, will be discharged any commission in a minute."

The commission, which is composed of Dr. J. E. Kelly, F. W. Pollock, and C. E. Campbell, never having been called upon to decide such a question before, referred the matter to the Recorder.

DEATH OF "COL." DUNPHY.

Peekskill Camp Canteen Proprietor Passes Away in Colorado.

News was received in Peekskill yesterday that "Col." William Dunphy had died in Colorado.

The Colonel was known to every National Guardsman who has gone to the State Camp at Peekskill for more than a score of years. He was the only man who ever obtained permission to run a canteen thereabouts. One thing for which the proprietor was celebrated was that he never sold drink to a drunken man, his instructions on that point being always carefully obeyed.

Born in Peekskill, "Col." Dunphy came to be one of the leading politicians of the place, being a Trustee of the village and a Commissioner of Highways, and holding other positions of public trust. He was the owner of a saloon, the profits of which, together with those of the canteen, made him a rich man.

When there was talk of establishing a State training camp, it was largely through the efforts of the Colonel that a site was chosen across the river from his native village. Later he suggested to the authorities that the militiamen, who were in the habit of crossing the stream and regaling themselves in his saloon, might be saved a lot of trouble if a canteen were established in proximity to the camp. Its location was fixed just outside, and it had ever since continued to be one of the pleasant sights toward which the embryo soldiers would cast their eyes on reaching the camp in Summer. Often attempts were made by other men to get the privileges of starting a rival canteen, but the Colonel's influence was strong enough to frustrate their efforts.

Valuable Naval Records Lost in Fire.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—It is said at the Navy Department that a serious loss has been suffered by the navy in the fire at the Norfolk Navy Yard yesterday. The money loss is of secondary importance. The fire destroyed valuable records that cannot be replaced, and many necessary plans which can only be replaced at much expense in time and money.

To Attend Mr. Ottendorfer's Funeral.

The funeral of Oswald Ottendorfer will take place this morning at Liederkranz Hall. At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the New York Press Club, held yesterday, resolutions of regret were passed and a committee was appointed by President William Cullen Bryant to represent the club at the services.

THE UMBRIA'S ROUGH TRIP

Big Liner Reaches This Port with Hurricane Deck Warped.

Encounters a Storm Which Keeps Passengers Below—Furniture Is Washed Overboard.

Heavy seas and rough winds buffeted the Cunard Line steamship Umbria so fiercely on her just completed trip from the other side that she arrived here yesterday with her sides looking as if they had not been painted for years, her deck railings battered out of shape in many places and most of her deck furniture missing altogether. Doubtless the latter is now floating about and being beaten into kindling wood by all the seas between here and Liverpool.

Leaving Queenstown on the 9th, the Umbria traveled only as far as the Banks before the rough weather struck her. From then on the passengers had to stay below decks most of the time. As evidence of the fierceness of the gale, the vessel's hurricane deck is warped for twenty or thirty feet along the port side, and the carpets in the main saloon and library, which were flooded by a big wave which burst through the skylight above, show long streaks of salt water stains.

Just after leaving Queenstown a stiff breeze met the ship from the west. Soon this developed into a veritable gale, and on the third day its velocity was so great that the vessel, usually a speeder, made but 178 miles. All during that time gigantic seas broke over the decks fore and aft, and it was with the greatest difficulty that Capt. Duffon and his officers kept in the right course.

It was at noon on Wednesday that a wave, more terrific than those which had gone before, dashed across the starboard bows and came battering into the centre skylight, which is just over the saloon and the library, the latter being a gallery from which one can look down into the saloon. Over the skylight were heavy shutters, but they gave way at the first impact of the wave, the splinters from them, together with fragments of broken glass, falling down into the saloon. Through the saloon run two large wooden ventilators, placed there when the Umbria was in the British transport service. One of these was cracked so badly by the same heavy sea that it had to be sawed off in the middle.

As it happened, there was nobody under the skylight when it fell in, nor, in fact, was a single passenger injured during the entire trip. Every one was kept closely below, for it was dangerous even to walk on deck for a few minutes at a time.

The thick iron railing on the bridge was bent considerably by the force of the waves, most of which came at the ship from in front and so struck that point with the greatest strength. It is thought by the officers that the remarkable buckling of the hurricane deck was caused by the impact of a wave from underneath, the sea having first dashed into the deck below, where it was hurled up against the ceiling, causing the floor above (that of the hurricane deck) to be bent upward.

The longest day's run of the trip was on Sunday, when 454 miles were logged. Beginning on the 10th, the day when the storm became violent, the day's runs were respectively as follows: 10th, 393 miles; 11th, 330; 12th, 178; 13th, 330; 14th, 389; 15th, 312; 16th, 454, and 17th, up to the Sandy Hook lightship, 378. The time of the voyage was eight days two hours and twenty-five minutes.

The Minnehaha of the Atlantic Transport Line also arrived yesterday, and her passengers, too, told of very bad weather. Until Sunday the waves had free play over the decks nearly all the time, but there was no damage to the vessel except for the salt crust on her sides and the beating to pieces of a few deck chairs.

James A. Bailey, the circus man, was one of those who arrived from Europe yesterday on the Umbria. He said that he would be here for ten days, at the Hotel Manhattan; that he came on personal business, and not for the Greatest Show on Earth. Others among the passengers were Lloyd Carle, Capt. R. L. Heygate, H. Morgan-Browne, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O'Sullivan, Sir Anthony Thornbill, William Muir MacKenzie, Robert Nixon, Charles S. Noble, Commander L. Power of the Royal Navy, and Warren D. Rollins.

On the Minnehaha were Dr. W. R. Blue, Capt. J. Archer Harris, and C. J. Bentley. There were also aboard two horses for W. C. Whitney, one of them a thoroughbred, and the other, according to the ship hands, an animal that was captured in Gen. Cronje's laager by the British.

TOBACCO IMPORTERS LOSE.

Decision in the Rothschilds' Suit Involving Rate of Duty on Wrapper and Filler.

Word was received in this city yesterday from Washington that the United States Supreme Court had sustained the case of the Government in the test suit brought by Rothschilds & Brother, relating to the payment of duty on wrapper tobacco under the Dingley Tariff act. The decision, it is said, will affect to a considerable degree the tobacco trade all over the country. When there is less than 15 per cent. of wrapper tobacco in a bale, under Paragraph 212 of the law, the duty on filler tobacco is 35 cents per pound and on wrapper tobacco $1.85 per pound, but it is provided that the higher rate shall be assessed on the entire bale if there is more than 15 per cent. of the wrapper tobacco in it.

The importers conceded that, under the Dingley law, if there were over 15 per cent. of wrapper it must pay the higher rate on the whole bale. They claimed, however, that if there were less than 15 per cent. of wrapper it should all come in at the rate for filler tobacco. There being the very material difference between 35 cents and $1.85 per pound to pay, it at once became the object of every importer under this contention to have just as near 15 per cent. of wrapper in a bale as he could without overstepping the limit. Then came the dispute.

Appraiser Wakeman had tobacco returned as being composed of so much filler and so much wrapper, and even when the latter fell below 15 per cent. of the whole, whatever there was of it was assessed at the higher rate. The importers protested and carried the case to the Supreme Court.

WOMAN ACCUSED POLICEMAN.

Honorably Discharged by the Court on the Charge of Pocket-Picking.

The arrest of a policeman on a charge of pocket-picking took place yesterday afternoon in a store on Sixth Avenue. The prisoner was Policeman Thomas F. Kiernan, attached to the Fifth Street Station, and the complainant was Mrs. Frances Connors of 619 East Fifteenth Street, who charged that Kiernan had stood beside her while she was making some purchases and had taken her pocketbook containing $6.

The arrest was made by Special Policeman Walsh of the store. Kiernan, who was not in uniform, demanded that he be searched then and there. This was done, but no pocketbook was found on him. Mrs. Connors stuck to her charge, however, and the officer was taken to the West Thirtieth Street Station, where he was again searched at his request. The woman insisted that he had robbed her, and Kiernan was taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court and arraigned.

When Magistrate Zeller questioned the woman she said she could not swear that Kiernan had taken her purse, but as he was the only man near her, she thought that he did. On this evidence the Magistrate honorably discharged the policeman. At the Fifth Street Station House it was said that Kiernan was one of the best policemen in the precinct.

Rickety babies—there isn't the least necessity for them. Long before rickets appear, the baby has lost some weight. Then is time to call in the doctor. He'll order Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. The baby likes it; don't let him take too much, and upset his stomach.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

Steinway

Steinway & Sons announce that their Holiday stock of pianos in specially designed cases is now open to inspection in the Steinway Art-Piano-Case Rooms at Steinway Hall. Lovers of decorative art are cordially invited. As each case is an original creation, the number of these instruments is necessarily limited. Intending purchasers are therefore advised to make an early choice.

Steinway & Sons beg to call the attention of their customers to the considerable length of time necessary for the manufacture of art-piano-cases to match particular pieces of furniture or after original designs, and respectfully urge the need of ample allowance when placing orders for instruments required for special occasions.

STEINWAY & SONS
107-109 E. 14th St.
Near Union Square

DR. CADMAN MAY SUCCEED DR. BEHRENDS

Call from Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn.

Young Pastor of the Methodist Metropolitan Temple, in This Borough, Unanimously Chosen.

The Church and Society of the Central Congregational Church, Hancock Street, near Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, met last night and decided to issue a call to the Rev. Dr. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Metropolitan Temple, Manhattan, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. A. J. F. Behrends in the pastorate of the church. The call is a unanimous one. A joint committee of the church and society was appointed to wait upon Dr. Cadman and extend the call to him. In the event of his acceptance the committee is empowered to call a council for the purpose of ordaining him as pastor. A salary of $7,500 a year will be offered to him.

The report of the committee appointed to recommend a pastor was in part as follows:

Your committee fully realized that it could not hope to find another Dr. Behrends, but did hope to find a man who would build upon the broad and deep foundation laid by him; one who would attract and hold our young people, as well as the older members of the congregation, a man of broad culture, of deep piety, a firm believer in the mission to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ acceptably to the Central Church and this community, and willing to give himself unreservedly to the work of this great church.

We naturally looked for such a man first in our own denomination, but in discussing one and another, there were none found that were available, whom the committee could present to you with anything like unanimity. It has remained for us at last to find a man in the Methodist denomination to whom we have turned, and in no way inquired about him the more were we attracted to him.

A man of English birth, the son and grandson of clergymen, with strong Congregational leanings, inherited from a Congregational mother, Dr. Cadman was educated at Richmond College, London University, and was graduated with double honors, and then took a post-graduate course of a year in philosophy. He came to America about ten years ago, and took his first charge in a little town in the eastern part of this State. Soon after he was assigned to the Central Methodist Church of Yonkers, N. Y., and there his powers as a preacher and organizer were recognized. Six years ago he was assigned the difficult task of reorganizing some of the down-town churches in Manhattan, chiefly the one well known as Bishop Newman's Church, where Gen. Grant worshipped when in this city, and then known as the Central Methodist Church of New York City. Here he entered upon what has been known as "The Forward Movement" in Methodism.

By reason of changes in population this church, now known as the "Metropolitan Temple," corner of Fourteenth Street and Seventh Avenue, had become reduced in membership to sixty. Our candidate was not only equal to the task of reorganizing this church, but had placed under him three other contiguous down-town churches with four assistants and two missionaries. During these six years over 1,300 members have been added to the church, next year it is hoped this will have been infused into them, and he preaches to a full house morning and evening, while services in some form are being held every night in the week. His preaching is not of the sensational order, nor does he partake of the so-called evangelistic type, but he has a message which the people want to hear and they come.

At Mr. Cadman's home, 60 Seventh Avenue, last night it was said that he had gone to Tivoli, N. Y., and would not return until some time to-day. Mrs. Cadman, when told that the Central Congregational Church of Brooklyn had called her husband as its pastor, seemed interested, but said she could not tell what action he would take in the matter. She was, however, sure he would deliberate long and carefully before leaving his present important field of labor. She said she had never heard him discuss the question of leaving Methodism for Congregationalism.

When it was remarked that there was some talk among Methodists that he was likely to be chosen as Bishop, she smiled and said: "I don't think there's any danger of his being made a Bishop in the next three or four years. It is not the custom to make Bishops of such young men. There are three conferences before the Bishops will be chosen, and no one can tell at this time who will be selected."

The Rev. S. Parkes Cadman is one of the youngest men in the conference, being only thirty-five years old. He possesses a forceful and magnetic manner and is of commanding presence. He is much in demand for lectures in various parts of the country, his topics being of a historical or literary character.

ACADEMY OF MEDICINE.

Annual Election of Officers Will Take Place Thursday.

The annual election of the officers of the Academy of Medicine will take place on Thursday, at No. 17 West Forty-third Street, and the liveliest kind of a contest is predicted.

The association has a membership of more than one thousand, and claims to be the wealthiest medical organization in the world, with a library that only two bodies can excel.

The position of President is considered one of extraordinary honor, and because of the desire to secure it, it has been the unwritten law of late years that no member should fill the presidency for more than one term.

Prof. William H. Thompson is the present incumbent of the office, and is seeking a re-election to the end that matters he has undertaken have not been completed. He is opposed for re-election by Dr. Andrew H. Smith and Prof. Robert F. Weir.

The late Dr. A. L. Loomis was the last President to serve for two successive terms.

TRAIN HAD NO SLEEPING CAR.

Man Who Bought a Ticket for a Berth Sues Palace Car Company.

W. Seward Webb, as President of the Wagner Palace Car Company, was the defendant in a two-thousand-dollar damage suit tried in the City Court yesterday before Justice Fitzsimons. George W. Birnbaum, a traveling salesman, was the plaintiff.

It appeared from the testimony that in November, 1899, Birnbaum was traveling through Texas, and on the night of Nov. 3 he went to the office of the Wagner Palace Car Company at Dallas and purchased a ticket calling for a sleeping car berth on a train going to San Antonio. He paid $2 for the ticket, and when the train started he found there was no sleeping car. As a result he had to spend the night sitting up in a day coach. He declared that the coach was so cold that he contracted rheumatism and he was forced to discontinue his trip through Texas.

The defense was that it was not the fault of the Wagner Company that the sleeping car was not attached to the train, but the fault of the railroad company over which the sleeper was carried.

The jury failed to agree before court adjourned, and a sealed verdict was ordered returned this morning.

Established 1823.

WILSON WHISKEY.

That's All!

THE WILSON DISTILLING CO.,
Baltimore, Md.

The Aeolian in A Midsummer Night's Dream

Soloist: Mr. GEORGE RIDDLE.

AT THE AEOLIAN HALL,
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 19TH, AT 3:30 P. M.

The most elaborate program ever performed with the Aeolian.

A Midsummer Night's Dream, a work that frequently appears in the list of programs performed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra; the Theodore Thomas Orchestra of Chicago; the Damrosch Orchestra of this city; the Choral Symphony Orchestral Society of St. Louis, and the Soloist is always Mr. George Riddle.

The Aeolian Orchestrelle takes the place of the entire Orchestra.

Admission will be by ticket, which can be obtained without charge by letter enclosing a two-cent stamp for return postage, or by calling in person at the Aeolian Company's warerooms, 18 W. 23d St.

As the entertainment is one of great popularity, the number of tickets issued can supply but a small part of the demand. Those who do not wish to run the risk of being disappointed are advised to send in their application as soon as possible.

The Aeolian Co., 18 West 23d St.

COST OF PARK DEPARTMENT.

Controller Coler Gives Out His Fourth Itemized Statement Showing Per Capita Expense.

Controller Coler gave out yesterday his fourth itemized statement concerning the expenditures and per capita cost and other items of the city departments, taking the Department of Parks. He had previously given out similar statements, taking the Departments of Education, Fire, and Police. The object of the statements is to make the budget of 1901, readable for the general public, as in its regular form it is only understandable by those who issued it.

In the year 1890, the first taken up, the total cost, including expenses and salaries, was $1,072,700. The per capita cost for citizens then was .707, with a population of 1,515,300. That was for the Borough of Manhattan. The total cost dropped over $100,000 in 1891, and in 1892 dropped over another $100,000, to $894,363.32. It rose again after that gradually until 1897, when it reached the highest cost of any year since 1890, being $1,143,125. In 1898 it decreased nearly $400,000, as the budget for that year took in all five boroughs, and it had the low total cost of $763,404.50. The per capita cost that year was .380, dropping from .707 in 1890.

From that time until the budget for 1901, which is $1,082,840, it has gradually increased. The number of men employed by the department now is 965, compared with 749 in 1890. The appropriations for museums in the Borough of Manhattan have steadily risen since 1890, when they were $50,000, to $225,000 for the current year.

In Brooklyn the lowest total cost was in 1892, when it was $387,510, and since then, with the exception of 1896, when it took another drop, has risen until, in 1901, it is $500,398.45. The number of men employed in Brooklyn is 458, with a per capita cost of .368.

In the other three boroughs there are no parks separate, those in Queens being included with Brooklyn, and Richmond with Manhattan and the Bronx.

In a summary attached to the statement of separate boroughs Controller Coler gives out the totals for the greater city. Part of the total is as follows:

Year.	Aggregate Cost.	Per Capita Cost.	Aggregate Salaries.	Museums, Approximated.
1890..	$1,479,544.52	.595	$963,984.43	$50,000
1891..	1,339,846.42	.526	1,017,381.77	50,000
1892..	1,231,873.32	.479	903,266.31	50,000
1893..	1,404,081.18	.506	1,076,421.11	135,000
1894..	1,466,600.06	.511	1,095,574.27	160,000
1895..	1,477,545.39	.499	1,151,000.27	176,000
1896..	1,428,950.17	.467	1,184,942.07	190,000
1897..	1,642,201.97	.521	1,312,894.59	190,000
1898..	1,175,804.60	.362	799,647.13	220,000
1899..	1,493,860.00	.448	1,063,836.27	236,875
1900..	1,563,288.45	.453	1,120,111.26	261,875
1901..	1,583,238.45	.448	1,159,137.01	280,000

THE BURNZ MURDER TRIAL.

Jury Not Yet Secured for Trial of the Scarsdale Postmaster's Slayer.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 17.—The courtroom in the old Westchester County Court House was crowded this morning when the trial of Edgar C. Burnz for the murder of Herbert B. Fellows, Postmaster and station agent at Scarsdale, was begun before Judge Martin J. Keogh. It is understood that the defense will attempt to show that Burnz inherited insanity and was also a victim of excessive cigarette smoking.

Lawyer Prime, for the defense, challenged the whole panel of jurors on the ground that it was unconstitutional, as it had not been drawn under the general act. Judge Keogh overruled the motion, and the defense took exception. The Court then ordered the work of selecting a jury to proceed.

Both sides exercised every caution in selecting the jury. George W. Abrams of North Salem, a harnessmaker, answered the questions of both sides and was allowed to take his seat in the jury box as Juror No. 1. Richard Ostrander of Yonkers was excused because he was not a property holder. William H. Brown, editor of The Peekskill Blade, said he could render a verdict in accordance with the evidence, though he thought all murderers had emotional insanity at the time of the commission of the crime, and were not morally responsible. Editor Brown was allowed to take his seat in

CHARGES AGAINST ASA BIRD GARDINER

Deputy Attorney General Accuses Him of Malfeasance.

IT MAY MEAN HIS REMOVAL

Has But Five Days in Which to Answer or Appear in Person Before the Governor.

Charges of misconduct and malfeasance in office have been preferred against District Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner by Deputy Attorney General John Henry Hammond. Only five days are given the District Attorney in which to answer or appear in person before the Governor in his own defense. Col. Gardiner received a copy of the allegations by special messenger from the Governor yesterday.

The District Attorney is charged specifically with interfering with the deputies of the Attorney General in the presentation of election cases to the Grand Jury and the prosecution thereof before Recorder Goff.

Col. Gardiner pronounces the charges groundless, but the belief among his assistants that the "Chief" is marked for sacrifice is almost unanimous. The short period of time given to answer the charges is declared by them to be an undoubted indication of Gov. Roosevelt's determination to remove Col. Gardiner. If the Governor had intended giving the District Attorney an impartial hearing, the Assistant District Attorneys say, he would have referred the charges to Governor-elect Odell instead of fixing Thursday, three days away, as the date for the District Attorney's answer to be in his hands, or Saturday as the last day upon which the public prosecutor could appear at Albany and personally defend himself. The Constitution provides that the Governor may remove the District Attorney when charges are made and the accused official has been given an opportunity to defend himself.

Eighty indictments were found by the October Grand Jury for violations of the elections law. Eighteen of those arrested are still in the Tombs awaiting trial. Of the fourteen cases placed on trial, one conviction has been had, seven have pleaded guilty, three were acquitted, one case was adjourned, and one is still pending. The jury disagreed in one.

Mr. Hammond alleged in court recently that Assistant District Attorney Gordon characterized the election cases as unimportant, and that the District Attorney's office endeavored to prevent the cases being put upon Recorder Goff's calendar. Mr. Gordon characterized Mr. Hammond's statement concerning him a falsehood. Mr. Hammond's other charges against the District Attorney include five specifications. In the case of John Lynch, held for trial on a charge of illegal registration, he claims that when Abraham Levy, defendant's counsel, sued out a writ of certiorari in the Supreme Court, the "District Attorney, for the purpose of preventing the appearance of the Attorney General, upon the return of the said writs of habeas corpus and certiorari, willfully and unlawfully failed to notify the Attorney General."

Further, Mr. Hammond says that for the purpose of bringing the Attorney General's office into ridicule and contempt, Assistant District Attorney McClelland stated in open court that it was the duty of the Attorney General to file the papers constituting the said return. Col. Gardiner's answer to this allegation is that he knew nothing about it, and that Abraham Levy caused the papers to be served. Mr. Levy makes affidavit to this effect.

Assistant District Attorney Unger also, says Mr. Hammond, unlawfully interfered with the Attorney General by refusing to supply the latter with subpoenas and blank certificates of attendance upon the Grand Jury, and also interrupted the Attorney General, on one occasion, when the latter was presenting a case to the Grand Jury. Mr. Unger says about this that Mr. Hammond did not apply in person for the subpoenas; that he did not know the messenger sent, and that he does not give subpoenas indiscriminately, anyway.

For the purpose of creating a prejudice against the Attorney General in the mind of the Honorable Recorder, continue the charges, Mr Unger stated in open court that the Attorney General was interfering with the District Attorney's office by trying to present to the Grand Jury "an election squabble that amounted to nothing."

That Col. Gardiner further willfully and unlawfully interfered with the Attorney General in the performance of his duties, Mr. Hammond is informed by a Tribune reporter, by characterizing the indictment of Cliff Devery as an outrage by declaring that it would not hold water and that his signature to the indictment was a forgery.

Upon pretense of finishing a case in two hours, says Mr. Hammond, Assistant District Attorney McClelland put the case of Charles Mather on the calendar in Recorder Goff's court and consumed two and a half days in trying it, so that no election case could be disposed of during those days. In view of all which, and much more, he respectfully requests the removal of the District Attorney from office.

Col. Gardiner, when seen, said he knew nothing about the election trials except a passing conversation he had had with Mr Hammond. In an elevator, when the latter had asked for blank Grand Jury subpoenaes.

"I told him," said the District Attorney, "that such were never issued by my office except when the names of the witnesses were first filled in, and that as the Attorney General's subpoenaes were of equal force and effect with mine, I could see no propriety in complying with his request."

"My instructions to the professional staff have been to aid in all ways the Deputy Attorney General in the disposition of election cases," and I have never had the slightest reason to believe that my instructions were not properly carried out."

Assistant District Attorneys Unger, Gordon, McClelland, and McCann were instructed by the District Attorney to prepare answers to the allegations concerning them, and these will be incorporated into Col. Gardiner's answer, which it is expected will be in the Governor's hands within the specified time.

FRENCH AMNESTY BILL DEBATE.

Vote of Confidence in the Premier Passed by Chamber.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, in the debate on the Amnesty bill, M. Vazeille (Radical Socialist) moved an amendment excluding forgers and false witnesses from its provisions. He explained that ordinary criminals should never be allowed to profit by amnesty. "And," he added, "there is nothing viler and baser than forgery and lying testimony."

M. Vazeille said he did not desire to revive the Dreyfus agitation, but he did not wish the authorities to find their hands tied should a fresh fact come to light.

The Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, replied that the effect of the amendment would be to stir up the whole affair again, and the Republican Party would find itself confronted by perils it has already overcome and which it would be unpardonable to resuscitate.

Continuing, the Premier said the Nationalist Party was opposed to amnesty, not in order to permit Dreyfus to establish his innocence, but to take advantage of the misunderstandings to which his doing so would give rise. It was easy to see through the Nationalists' game. The Dreyfus affair was the broth upon which nationalism was nourished. It desired to delay the realization of Republican reforms, and in voting for the Law of Associations the Government asked the majority to again inspire itself with the superior interests of the republic and not confound their votes with those of the worst enemies of democracy. He asked for the confidence of the Chamber.

The remarks of the Premier were greeted with prolonged applause.

Ex-Premier Méline (Republican) was here allowed to make an explanation with reference to M. Breton's assertion in the debate of Dec. 13, that the Italian Ambassador warned M. Méline of the Henry forgery. M. Méline said it was the rule in all countries that in cases of espionage the word of a foreign Ambassador did not suffice. He justified his Government's refusal to allow a revision of the first Dreyfus court-martial on the ground that the investigation of documents made by Gen. Billot, the Minister of War at the time, indicated that Dreyfus was the culprit.

The Chamber then voted confidence in the Premier by the rejection of the amendment, the vote standing 341 to 90.

SCHOOLBOYS FOUGHT A FIRE.

Brigade of the Van Nest Catholic Protectory Kept Flames in Check.

The fire brigade composed of boy inmates of the Catholic Protectory at Van Ness successfully held in check what might have been a very serious fire at the institution yesterday, and after the arrival of the regular Fire Department from West Farms the youngsters did their full share in extinguishing the blaze.

The fire was discovered at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in the roof of the boiler-house. The building is located within seventy-five feet of the female wing of the protectory, which, at the time, contained 650 girls, engaged in various occupations. The blaze was lively, the flames shooting high in the air.

The conflagration was distinctly seen by the girls, who however, displayed perfect coolness. They all formed in line and marched into the grounds, and thence to the main building, without the least display of excitement. The boys then lined up and went for the fire apparatus.

They were commanded by Foreman Galloway of the regular Fire Department, who is detailed at the Protectory in charge of the boys' brigade. The boys went to work like veterans, and largely through their efforts the flames were confined to the boiler house, the damage amounting to about $700.

STUART ROBSON'S ESCAPE.

Actor Nearly Hit by Two Bullets While on a Train.

DANVILLE, Ky., Dec. 17.—Stuart Robson, the actor, had a narrow escape from death yesterday while traveling on the Queen and Crescent Railway. Two revolver bullets, coming from a hill top near the tracks, passed through the windows of Robson's compartment and shattered the woodwork over his head. The authorities were immediately notified and arrested James Stout, one of the richest young men in this part of the State, who is charged with doing the shooting.

It is not believed Stout had any idea of trying to kill Robson, but he is thought to be mentally unbalanced and to have fired at the train for amusement.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL FORGER.

Secured Money on Bogus Checks—Recently Left Orphan Asylum.

Fifteen-year-old Nellie Moffett of 308 East Thirty-ninth Street was a prisoner in Centre Street Court yesterday, charged with obtaining $280 on forged checks. The girl has been only nine months out of an orphan asylum.

She lives with an aunt, Mrs. Kate Murray, and after her discharge from the orphan asylum obtained employment at $2 per week as a seamstress at 513 Broadway. Five weeks ago she gave up her employment to take another that her employer, Miss Leary, had gone on a vacation and had left her in charge of the business. Shortly afterward she presented checks for various amounts to the Merchants and Traders' Bank, which were cleverly forged.

In court she said that she had been compelled to forge the checks in order to pay $4 a week board, and support a small brother and sister.

She was held for further examination.

TO FEED 25,000 POOR.

Salvation Army's Big Christmas Dinner at Madison Square Garden.

Preparations are being made by the Salvation Army to give to 25,000 poor people of the city a big Christmas dinner. For the affair the Madison Square Garden has been engaged, and besides the eating, there are to be cinematograph pictures representing the Passion Play. Commander Booth Tucker will preside over the gathering.

The committee that is arranging for the dinner says that it is hoped to raise $10,000, fully $6,000 of which will be forthcoming from the various pots that have have been placed on the street corners and in some of the largest stores. One of the chief donations thus far has been $100 from Mrs. Collis P. Huntington.

Only about 15,000 of the diners are to come to the Garden, for the rest will be fed in their homes from baskets, each basket holding enough for a family of five people and the recipients being selected upon application, after furnishing good references.

AUSTIN FIGHTS FOR LIBERTY.

Man Who Killed His Farmhand Fourteen Years Ago Not Yet Sentenced.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Dec. 17.—Peter Austin, who killed his farmhand, Charles Brower, and threw his body into a well fourteen years ago, and who was indicted for murder in the second degree and convicted last week of manslaughter in the second degree, was arraigned before Judge Phillips today for sentence. Frank E. Lown, counsel for Austin, moved for his discharge on the ground that the statute of Limitations bars any conviction for manslaughter when committed on the date proved in these proceedings.

Mr. Lown read the section of the Penal Code which stipulates that "an indictment for a felony other than murder must be found within five years after the commission of the act." He said: "There is no reason to believe that the jury was actuated by any merciful consideration in finding this verdict. They simply determined the degree of crime of which he was guilty to be manslaughter in the second degree. Therefore, as the statute says that he cannot be indicted for that crime after five years, the prisoner should be discharged."

Mr. Lown asked that the sentencing be adjourned until Saturday, and Judge Phillips granted the request.

SMALLPOX IN SCHENECTADY.

Two New Cases Developed Yesterday—The Town Panic-Stricken.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Two more cases of smallpox developed in this city to-day, making three that are now being treated here, and the people of the city are panic-stricken.

At a hastily called meeting of the Board of Health this evening, all citizens were asked to immediately procure the vaccination of themselves and their families.

The Board of Education will be asked to meet at once and take steps to compel the vaccination of all pupils in the public schools and to appeal for co-operation in regard to similar action in the parochial and other sectarian institutions of the city. A pest house has been established, and Dr. Hall, who attended the first case that developed here, that of Henry Teller of Mount Pleasant, has been engaged to remain in the pest house to treat all cases.

The new cases to-day are those of Ernest Schwilk of 418 Union Street and Minnie Lasher of 319 Germania Avenue. The latter case was fully developed on Saturday, but it was not reported until to-day. Minnie Lasher and her mother, on learning that their house was to be quarantined and the patient removed to the pest house, attempted to escape, but were prevented by the guards.

"WHO'S T. C. PLATT?" JUDGE ASKS

Then Fines a Man with a "Pull" $50 for Threatening a Girl.

Although claiming to have much influence with Senator Platt, and having proved that he could have a policeman objectionable to him removed from Brooklyn to the wilds of Staten Island, young Henry Ayres, charged with sending threatening letters to Mrs. Mary Curry of 15 Debevoise Place, Brooklyn, did not escape being fined in the Court of Special Sessions, Brooklyn, yesterday.

Ayres, who also lives on Debevoise Place, was arrested a short time ago on complaint of Mrs. Curry, who is a young widow. It was claimed that he was jealous of Policeman Thomas Fay, who paid attention to the widow, and caused Fay's transfer to Staten Island, so that he might not be near Mrs. Curry.

It was brought out that Ayres secured the transfer of Fay through Senator Platt. A letter written by the Senator to Ayres, informing him that a certain objectionable person, supposed to be Fay, would not give Ayres further trouble, figured in the case.

"Who is this T. C. Platt?" asked Justice Courtney of Ayres in court yesterday, referring to the letter mentioned.

"Why, the senior Senator from New York," returned Ayres.

"Oh, I see," said the court. "Are you responsible for the recent shake up in the Police Department, too?"

"No," replied the accused, seriously. "My influence doesn't extend as far as that."

Ayres was fined $50.

THE BOOZ CASE INQUIRY

Military Board Hears Testimony at Bristol and Philadelphia.

Physician Says Alleged Treatment of the Cadet Might Have Made Him More Susceptible to Disease.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—The taking of testimony in the case of Oscar L. Booz, the former West Point cadet who died two weeks ago from injuries which his parents allege were inflicted at the West Point Military Academy, was begun to-day by the board of inquiry appointed by the Secretary of War. Three sessions were held in the course of the day, two at Bristol, the home of the Booz family, and a short session in this city in the late afternoon.

The members of the board, Major Gen. John R. Brooke, commanding the Department of the East; Brig. Gen. Alfred E. Bates, and Brig. Gen. J. W. Clous, Deputy Judge Advocate General, arrived at Bristol at 10:30 o'clock. They were accompanied by Capt. Dean, who acted as recorder. The inquiry was held in the pastor's study of the Bristol Presbyterian Church, the first witness called being W. H. Booz, father of Oscar L. Booz.

Mr. Booz stated that Oscar entered the academy on June 20, 1898. Soon afterward letters were received from him stating that he had been hazed. In August a letter was received in which he said he had been in a fight, and had received a pair of black eyes, and that he had been knocked out by a blow over the heart. Mr. Booz said he went to West Point to see his son, and told him he must stand it. Oscar told his father he expected to be hazed, but he did not want to be treated brutally. The father said Oscar did not want his mother to know how he was being treated.

Mr. Booz then told how Oscar had informed him that tabasco sauce had been forced down his throat. The witness started to deny the published statement alleged to have been made by Superintendent Mills of West Point, but he was stopped by Gen. Bates, who said they would later hear what Col. Mills had to say.

Continuing, Mr. Booz said when Oscar went home in the Fall of 1898, he was broken in health and was never well after that.

In answer to a question, Mr. Booz said he made no complaint. While in tents, the father continued, Oscar said the cadets would pull the blankets from him and pour hot wax from a candle on his body. Oscar spent all or last year at home in an endeavor to build up his health. In June of this year he accepted a position with a law firm at Philadelphia, but was compelled to give it up owing to his throat trouble.

In conclusion Mr. Booz said that Oscar would never mention any names. When he felt very badly he would talk of the brutal treatment to which he had been subjected, but never revealed the identity of his persecutors.

Mrs. Booz, Oscar's mother, said that her son never told a lie, or ever acted one. Oscar wrote to her that he liked the surroundings at West Point, but complained of the treatment he had received at the hands of the upper class men. He said the place was unfit for a young man who wanted to do right, and that parents should not send their sons there.

"The upper class men," Oscar wrote, "are brutes and bullies." At this point Mrs. Booz, trembling perceptibly, said that Superintendent Mills should be made to apologize for calling her son a liar.

Nellie Booz, a sister of the deceased young man, was next called. Her testimony related principally to a letter received by the family on Aug. 7, 1898, from Oscar. In it he told of the fight he had with another cadet, and that he fought until he was winded. The cadets began to taunt him and call him a coward, and said he was a disgrace to the corps. If he did not go into the fight, they said, the "fellows would make life unbearable for him."

He thought it best for him to leave West Point, and asked his father for permission to resign.

Miss Booz, in answer to a question, said that Oscar told her that if he had not swallowed the tabasco sauce he would have been strangled. The others were holding him down and he could do nothing else.

Dr. Willis Weaver of Bristol, the next witness, testified that he has known the Booz family for sixteen years. He said when Oscar went to West Point he was in good physical condition. When he returned in October, he was pale, thin, and dejected. The witness did not prescribe for him until July, 1900, when he had a throat under observation. He treated him for about four weeks, and then advised Oscar to see a Philadelphia specialist.

At this point Gen. Bates asked Dr. Weaver if tabasco sauce in large or small quantities would have caused disease in the boy's throat, but the doctor refused to answer, as it was expert testimony.

Gen. Clous, in answer to the doctor's question as to what the result of his declination to answer would be, said he was in contempt of court, but could not be punished.

The Rev. Dr. Allson paid a high tribute to the character of Oscar Booz. He said that after the young man had entered the Academy he received a letter from Oscar in which he told of ill-treatment and said it was hard to be a Christian at West Point, but he would stick to it at any cost.

After hearing other witnesses, the court adjourned, to meet in this city later in the day.

Gen. Brooke told Mr. Booz that if he had any further evidence to submit at any time the board would be glad to hear from him.

The board reconvened at the Lafayette Hotel in this city at 4 o'clock for the purpose of hearing witnesses residing in Philadelphia.

Dr. J. S. Cohen, a throat specialist, who attended Oscar Booz for some time last Summer, said that Oscar had tuberculosis of the larynx, and that when he came to this city for treatment his case was a hopeless one. He continued to treat the ex-cadet until the latter was unable to come to the city because of physical weakness.

In answer to a question whether a person could contract tuberculosis from an injury to the throat, Dr. Cohen said it could only come from a pre-existing cause. He had noticed that Booz had an old injury in the throat.

Dr. Cohen thought that if tabasco sauce had been forced down Booz's throat it might have made him more susceptible to the disease.

Sigmond S. Albert, who was a cadet at West Point for fourteen months, and was a classmate of Booz, was called. The young man at the very first question declined to answer. He had been asked to state in a general way what sort of hazing had been indulged in at the Academy. He was not afraid that he would incriminate himself, he said, but refused merely on the ground that at West Point there was a rule that no cadet should submit to hazing or stand by and see it done.

The members of the board could not see how West Point rules could govern the inquiry, but Albert would not answer direct queries, although information was to a certain extent extracted from him by a desultory fire of seemingly immaterial questions.

Albert said that Booz was not hazed any more than any other cadet. He was one of Booz's roommates while in camp, together with Anthony B. Burnham of Kentucky. Booz and others were made to do "ridiculous stunts," such as making the upper classmen's beds and "other unmanly and disgraceful" things. What these things were the witness refused to state, saying that it was none of the public's business. He told, however, of one night when some fourth year men were stood up in a tent and told to open their mouths and shut their eyes. They obeyed, and then some one squirted into their mouths what he believed to be tabasco sauce. He could not say whether Booz was one of the victims, as they all had their eyes closed.

Albert said he did not see the fight in which Booz was engaged, but noticed that after the encounter Booz was snubbed by some of his own classmates and upperclass men. He said Booz never complained to him of ill-treatment.

After some further unimportant testimony, the court adjourned to meet at West Point to-morrow afternoon.

INVALID SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Edwin C. Partridge Decided to Drown, but Changed His Mind.

Brooding over his ill-health, Edwin C. Partridge shot himself yesterday morning at his home, 358 West Twenty-second Street, and died a few hours later at the New York Hospital, Mr. Partridge, who was sixty-three years old, owned the house, in which he lived with his wife, son, and daughter, the family for a number of years having rented rooms to lodgers.

A letter to Mrs. Partridge was found in the bedroom. It was addressed and stamped ready for mailing. The letter said that by the time Mrs. Partridge received it her husband would be at the bottom of the river.

CITIZENS' UNION'S WORK

The Central City Committee Elects Delegates at Large.

Municipal Reform Organizations Represented—Mr. Cutting Elected Chairman—Charter Amendments Indorsed.

The meeting of the Central City Committee of the Citizens' Union, at 42 East Twenty-third Street, last night, was marked by a large attendance. R. Fulton Cutting presided.

In addition to the district delegates already announced, there were present the following: Dr. Andrew J. Hussey of the Eleventh, R. H. Robinson of the Fifteenth, George R. Bishop of the Eighteenth, Josiah T. Newcomb of the Twenty-third, and Arthur F. Cosby of the Twenty-seventh.

Twenty-two Assembly districts were represented.

Delegates at large were elected, and it was pointed out that they not only represented the different political parties, but many of the most prominent reform organizations in this section. They number nineteen, and eleven more will be chosen. Those selected last night are:

MANHATTAN—Dr. Matthew Beattie, Republican, President of the City Vigilance League; R. Fulton Cutting, Republican, Central City Committee; Paul Fuller, Democrat, Central City Committee; Joseph Larocque, Gold Democrat, Chairman of the Committee of Seventy; Wallace Macfarlane, Democrat, President of the Reform Club; Robert C. Ogden, Republican, member of the Chamber of Commerce; Adolph Oppenheim, Republican, member of the Ethical Culture Society and City Club; Gustav H. Schwab, Independent, member of German Republican Club and Chamber of Commerce; Samuel Seabury, Labor, and follower of Henry George; Isaac N. Seligman, Republican, member of the Chamber of Commerce and Ethical Culture Society; John De Witt Warner, Democrat, member of Reform Club; Everett P. Wheeler, Democrat, President of the East Side Settlement.

BROOKLYN—A. J. Boulton, Bryan Democrat, President of the Stereotypers' Union and Secretary of D. A. 220, Knights of Labor; Henry A. Goulden, Bryan Democrat, and President of the People's Institute; Abner S. Haight, Republican, member of the Chamber of Commerce; Ludwig Nissen, Republican, President of the Manufacturers' Association, and a member of the Union League Club; Willis L. Ogden, Republican, Vice President of the Republican Club, and a member of the Hamilton Club; George Foster Peabody, Democrat, member of the Committee of Fifteen and of the Chamber of Commerce; Henry Hentz, Republican.

BRONX—Fielding L. Marshall, Central City Committee.

The following committee officers were chosen: Chairman—R. Fulton Cutting; Vice Chairman—Henry Hentz of Brooklyn; Treasurer—E. R. L. Gould; Secretary—Thomas A. Fulton.

Three additional Vice Chairmen will be chosen as soon as the organizations in the other boroughs are perfected. Nominating committees are now at work there.

Mr. Cutting, in accepting a re-election as Chairman of the Central City Committee, thanked the delegates for the honor conferred. He asked the cordial aid of all in the municipal campaign. He expressed confidence in success next year, and said there was no doubt that a combination could be made that would surely overthrow Tammany Hall.

The Chairman was authorized to appoint an Executive Committee of nine, Committee on Finance, Committee on District Organization, and a Committee on Legislation. The last named is to devote its efforts to urging a modification of the election law regarding independent nominations.

General legislative matters will be placed in charge of the Legislative Committees of the City and Reform Clubs.

Resolutions were unanimously adopted approving the work of the Charter Revision Commission and pledging the efforts of the Union for the adoption of the amendments proposed by the Legislature. It was also resolved that a committee of five be appointed to carry into effect the pledge of the Union.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 28, 1901.

THIEF ALTERED A BIBLE.

Took Bank Notes from Between Its Leaves and Made Cynical Changes in the Text.

Special to The New York Times.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 17.—A cynical sneak thief, not satisfied with mere robbery, indulged in vulgar satire by altering his victim's Bible in Omaha last night.

Hugh Hawthorn of 1,903 Farnam Street had deposited a number of banknotes between the leaves of his Bible. In all he placed $55 in the book, and fancied that it must be a hardened criminal indeed who would look for material wealth instead of spiritual riches among the sacred pages. But yesterday just such a degenerate fell covetously upon the money. Perhaps, softened by early recollections, the thief took only $25.

Before leaving Hawthorn's room, however, he made several alterations in the Scriptural text. Under one of the banknotes he found the Golden Rule, and with his lead pencil made it read thus: "Do others or they will do you." another point he added a few words to the Fifth Commandment, and excused his particular conduct in this manner: "Thou shalt not steal more than enough for current expenses."

Hawthorn suspects a young man of the crime, and has confided his suspicions to the police.

NEGRO SAYS HE SHOT A MAN.

Surrenders Because Conscience Troubled Him—He Alleges Self-Defense.

Alfred Lowe, colored, a billiard marker of 492 Seventh Avenue, surrendered himself at Police Headquarters last night. He says he killed William Bentz, colored, in a fight on West Twenty-seventh Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, on Dec. 11. Bentz drew a knife to stab him, and he said he was forced to shoot his antagonist in self-defense.

The West Thirty-seventh Street Police Station was informed, and the police there said they were looking for a man named Lowe, who had shot a man named Bentz, and Policeman Coughlin was sent to take the prisoner to the station. Lowe said he had been in the precinct, but had evaded the police. He said his conscience troubled him, though his act was done in self-defense. He was locked up in the West Thirty-seventh Street Station.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Ward, M., & Co., Chicago, Ill.; D. Hill, books and stationery; 43 Leonard Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Horne, Joseph, & Co., Pittsburg, Penn.; E. K. Bennett, millinery and ribbons; 47 Lispenard Street; Westminster Hotel.

Glimer Brothers, Winston, N. C.; T. L. Vaughn, notions and furnishing goods; St. Denis Hotel.

Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago, Ill.; J. A. Kelly, linens and white goods; 115 Worth Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Gross & Strauss, Worcester, Mass.; M. Gross, notions and ribbons; 138 Spring Street; Belvedere House.

Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo.; R. S. Johnson, dry goods; 443 Broome Street; Hotel Cadillac.

Howe & Stetson, New Haven, Conn.; E. M. Seely, notions; 52 Franklin Street.

Oppenheimer Brothers & Co., Baltimore, Md.; H. Oppenheimer, straw goods; Hoffman House.

Hills, C. S., & Co., Hartford, Conn.; H. Vedder, furnishing goods; Hoffman House.

Snellenberg, N., & Co., Philadelphia, Penn.; M. Snellenberg, clothing; Hoffman House.

Snellenberg, D., Wilmington, Del., clothing; Hoffman House.

Hengerer, William, Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; G. A. Kilburn, silks and dress goods; 377 Broadway; Hotel Imperial.

Williams & McAnulty, Scranton, Penn.; S. J. McAnulty, carpets; Hotel Imperial.

Gillen, H. J., Chicago, Ill., dry goods; Hotel Imperial.

Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Company, Rochester, N. Y.; J. G. O'Brien, dry goods; 454 Broome Street; Hotel Navarre.

Mandel Brothers, Chicago, Ill.; F. E. Mandel, cloaks and suits; 450 Broome Street; Hotel Cadillac.

Stearns, R. H., & Co., Boston, Mass.; F. Wakefield, silks and dress goods; St. Denis Hotel.

Halle, Schwarz & Skall, Cleveland, Ohio; S. M. Skall, furnishing goods; 106 Franklin Street; Hotel Imperial.

Hutzler, A., Sons, Richmond, Va.; L. Hutzler, notions and fancy goods; Hotel Albert.

Crane, F. L., Scranton, Penn.; hats and caps; Hotel Albert.

Strauss Brothers, Baltimore, Md.; M. Strauss, dry goods; Herald Square Hotel.

Mann & Anker, Albany, N. Y.; L. Mann, dry goods; Hotel Cadillac.

Annewalt Brothers & Co., Allentown, Penn.; W. H. Annewalt, hats and caps; Hoffman House.

Greif, L., & Brother, Baltimore, Md.; M. Greif, clothing; Victoria Hotel.

Notice to Readers of New York Times.

Orders for the delivery of THE NEW YORK TIMES to either residence or place of business may be made by postal card or through telephone Cortlandt 4861. Any irregularity in delivery should be immediately reported to the office of publication.—Adv.

BEST & CO
LILLIPUTIAN BAZAAR

Underwear and Hosiery

in all the desirable makes—at popular prices.

Hosiery in cotton, silk, wool and lisle thread—black and fancy colors.

Special—School Stockings, double knee, heel and toe, sizes 6 to 10; usual price 30c., now 19c.

UNDERWEAR.
Cartwright & Warner's.
Combination Suits.
White Merino and Natural Wool.
Ribbed Underwear.
Silk and Wool Underwear.

A lot of natural wool Shirts, Drawers and Pantalets, broken sizes, reduced to 35c. and 50c., worth double.

60-62 West 23d St.

Here's something you can stack up against any sort of weather in, and not feel a shiver—and it's stylish, too. Part of the original price left off—

Frieze overcoats, greys, dark oxfords, greenish greys, and brown, satin lined shoulders, worsted body lining, a big, warm dressy coat, special—$15.

All our fancy double breasted vests, that were $5 and $6, reduced to $2.50.

Give him one for Christmas.

WM. VOGEL & SON,
Broadway, Houston St.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Partly cloudy and warmer; winds variable, becoming fresh, south.

There has been a general and decided rise in the temperatures east of the Rocky Mountains, except in the South Atlantic States and Northern New York and New England, and they are 5 degrees to 23 degrees above the seasonal average. West of the Rocky Mountains they have fallen to 14 degrees, except on the Pacific Coast. There has been light rain and snow from the Upper Mississippi Valley and lake region eastward through the northern portion of the Middle Atlantic States, followed during the day by clearing weather in the Lower Ohio Valley and Western upper lake region. It will be warmer Tuesday in the Atlantic States, and temperatures will remain comparatively high elsewhere, continuing Wednesday. It will be cloudy Tuesday in the lower lake region, the northern portion of the Middle Atlantic States, and in Western New England, with probably light rain or snow. With these exceptions, generally fair weather is indicated Tuesday and Wednesday. On the New England Coast the winds will be light and variable; on the Middle Atlantic Coast they will become light to fresh southerly, and on the South Atlantic Coast they will be light to fresh and mostly easterly.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES's thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau— 1899.	1900.	TIMES. 1900.
3 A. M.	33	15	16
6 A. M.	33	13	15
9 A. M.	35	14	19
12 M.	39	22	26
3 P. M.	42	28	30
6 P. M.	40	28	29
9 P. M.	38	24	26
12 P. M.	39	22	23

THE TIMES's thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	23
Weather Bureau	21
Corresponding date 1899	36
Corresponding date for last twenty years	34

The maximum temperature yesterday was 30 degrees at 5 P. M. The minimum temperature was 13 degrees at 6 A. M. At 8 A. M. the barometer registered 30.44, and at 8 P. M. 30.35. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 64 per cent., and at 8 P. M. 61 per cent.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Sunday night to 12 o'clock Monday night.)

5:15 A. M.—310 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street; owner, Frederick Reeves; damage, $25.

7:40 A. M.—1,524 Third Avenue; owner unknown; damage, $10.

7:45 A. M.—7 East Forty-second Street; owner, Joseph Malbenk; damage, $250.

8:35 A. M.—495 Pearl Street; owner, Israel Block; damage, $250.

8:50 A. M.—248 Thompson Street; owner, Andrew J. Smith; damage, $100.

9:40 A. M.—324 Madison Street; owner, Nathan Winger; damage, $200.

9:50 A. M.—338 West Eighteenth Street; owner, Alice Grabb; damage, $50.

10 A. M.—1,637 Park Avenue; owner unknown; damage slight.

10:10 A. M.—162 Reade Street; owner unknown; damage, $10.

10:40 A. M.—Unionport Road, near Westchester Avenue; owner, Catholic Protectory; damage, $100.

10:50 A. M.—1,132 Broadway; owner unknown; damage, $100.

12:20 P. M.—307 Rivington Street; owner, Morris Bakulle; damage slight.

12:50 P. M.—143 East Thirty-ninth Street; owner, Amelia Hill; damage, $300.

2 P. M.—715 Park Avenue; owner, Henry G. Marquand; damage, $250.

2 P. M.—324 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street; owner, A. Hammond; damage, $100.

3:15 P. M.—404 East Eighty-third Street; owner, L. Kaufman; damage, $25.

3:15 P. M.—39 East Street; owner, Mark & Jacobson; damage, $2,500.

5 P. M.—23 Stanton Street; owner, Rosie Goldberg; damage, $25.

8 P. M.—7 East Twenty-seventh Street; owner, John J. Scammel; damage, $10.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 17.—A fire in Chicopee Falls early this morning destroyed three dwelling houses and rendered three families homeless. Some of the inmates had narrow escapes. Loss, $8,000.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

both Sides 14th St. from 13th to 15th, 6th Ave.

Store Open Evenings.

We Sell Strictly For Cash.
No Store That Sells On Credit Is In A Position To Match Our Low Prices.

Diamond Jewelry.

We have a magnificent stock of Diamond Jewelry. It's well worth remembering. We do not claim that our Diamonds are intrinsically superior to those sold elsewhere. That would be mere bathos. Our plea for your preference is based on the fact that we secured our Diamonds at very low prices and are selling them on exceedingly narrow margins. Many another dealer would consider four times our profit fair merchandising. However, we sell Diamonds just as we do everything else—as low as possible.

Man's Gipsy Ring, set with one ruby and two brilliants, weighing 1⅛ kt., worth $150.00; at $112.49.

Man's Gipsy Ring, set with opal centre and two brilliants, weighing ¾ kt. less 1-6 4 worth $85.00; at $64.49.

Woman's Cluster Ring, large, fine sapphire centre and twelve brilliants, weighing ¾ kt., worth $120.00; at $99.42.

Woman's Three-Stone Circle Ring, containing one sapphire and two diamonds, weighing 2⅛ kt., worth $250.00; our price, $194.24.

Woman's Marquise Ring, medium size, sapphire centre, surrounded by twenty-four brilliants, weighing ¾ kt., worth $75.00; our price, $49.79.

Woman's Princess Ring, containing five rubies and twenty-four brilliants weighing 1¼ kt.—fine white stones—worth $135.00; our price, $97.49.

Brooch, set with beautiful white stones, fancy design, thirty-seven brilliants, weighing 2 kt., worth $175.00; our price, $124.49.

Pansy Brooch, set with fifty-nine fine white diamonds, worth $175.00; our price $149.24.

Diamond Sunburst, containing fifty-five brilliants, weighing 2⅛ kt., worth $175.00 our price, $139.24.

Diamond Links, set with white cut stones, from $5.69 to $31 24.

Silk Waists.

We'd as soon have you measure the goodness of the store by our Silk Waist values as anything else. Unmistakable bargains are abundant—prodigal. Here's a glowing group at $2.89, $3.49 and $5.24. The garments are well worth seeing—black and colored taffeta with cording, hemstitching and tucking. The higher priced ones are relatively as cheap.

Women's Silk Skirts.

The fluffy, dainty prettiness of a Silk Skirt appeals to nearly all women. Their ruffle and shimmer will be welcome on Christmas morning. This list makes choosing easy:

Taffeta Silk Skirts, trimmed with accordion plaiting and pinked ruche, finished with dust ruffle, $6.49.

Taffeta Silk Skirts, trimmed with two rows of accordion plaiting and pinked ruche, $6.49.

Taffeta Silk Waists, trimmed with accordion plaiting and two pinked ruches, finished with dust ruffle, $8.44.

And there's a tempting array at $8.89, $13.93, $17.49, $19.69 up to $29.99—all the newest Parisian touches of art and beauty.

Women's and Misses' Mackintoshes.

Women's Mackintoshes, made of wool cashmere, double texture, velvet collar, single or double cape, $2.99.

Women's Mackintoshes, made of wool cashmere, double texture, velvet collar, very full military cape, $3.99.

Women's Mackintoshes, made of wool cashmere, double texture, velvet collar, lined with silk, $5.99.

Misses' Mackintoshes, cashmere finished, velvet collar, single cape, $1.59: wool cashmere, double cape, $2.39.

Men's Bath Robes.

The experiences of former Christmases taught us the importance of Men's Bath Robes as Holiday merchandise. That's why we have provided so lavishly. Here are meagre hints of the last lots to arrive:

At $3.89, instead of $4.75—made of fancy striped eiderdown, colors that you'll like.

At $4.99, instead of $6.50—made of heavy, fleecy eiderdown, cloth-bound throughout.

At $6.24, instead of $7.50—made of extra weight double-faced eiderdown—luxurious!

At $6.74, instead of $8.00—made of rich camel's hair; Jacquard patterns in pretty tints.

At $7.99, instead of $10.00—made of camel's hair, red, gray, lavender, brown and blue; bound throughout with cloth and fancy silk cord.

$1.50 Neckwear, 74c.

One hundred dozen Men

Store Open Evenings Until 10 o'clock—All this Week

Whose CHRISTMAS PARCEL Isn't Ready To-day?

EACH day the pressure will grow greater. Stores will be busier; express companies will be over-burdened; Uncle Sam's mail will be over-taxed. The discomfort of buying, and the chance of loss or delay in sending will be double, later. Practically undiminished stocks are here to select from; much improved organization for packing and delivery; but you'll help us to best please you by doing your buying as early in the week as possible.

Cloth Capes Reduced

This is the best news of Cloth Capes that has been, or will be told for many a long day. Now, while wearing time is at its height, and the demand for these beautiful wraps the strongest, we ruthlessly reduce prices on the entire collection by a quarter of their value.

The capes are the finest productions of skilled Paris designers, and present an almost illimitable range of choice. The deft French fingers have made the most of the marvelous possibilities of the materials, the color play, and the full sweep of present day design, so that each cape differs from its neighbor in some one of these particulars, thereby entirely avoiding duplication.

Prices Were $30 to $95
Prices Are $22.50 to $71.25

All handsomely boxed for holiday gifts. Some descriptive detail of a few:

At $32.50, from $43.50—Of brown kersey; falling in closed plaits; elaborate design in black braid; flaring collar, edged with marten; lined with silk serge.
At $49.50, from $66—Of red broadcloth, with quadruple cape in Empire effect; closed plaits from shoulder, opening midway; jabot of white chiffon with beautiful applique design of red taffeta; trimmed with gold buttons.
At $56.25, from $75—Of castor kersey, three-quarter length; rich applique design of stitched taffeta; inlaid velvet collar of lavender velvet; lined with lighter shade of lavender figured satin. Second floor, Broadway.

Holiday Umbrellas
Many Kinds—All Bargains

Men's, women's and children's umbrellas, in a vast variety of handsome styles—an unmatched variety. The preparations for this season's selling have been on a much more extensive plan than ever before. That means much to those who've seen our previous displays. Better, too, as to values. Let these few specimens speak for the entire splendid gathering:

$2.50—Women's all-silk umbrellas with fancy handles of ivory, horn, pearl, Dresden, and natural wood; some with silver caps. Would be very moderately priced at $3.
$3—Men's silk umbrellas—extra good quality —fancy silver trimmed handles. Value $4.
$3.75—Women's fine silk umbrellas, with long ivory and pearl handles. Good value at $5.
The Wanamaker special umbrellas of silk, guaranteed for 2 years, are $5 for women's, $6 for men's; all have natural wood handles.
At $5—Women's umbrellas of extra fine, pure silk; handles of pearl, ivory, gun metal, gold, tortoise shell, and natural wood with silver trimming.
Men's umbrellas at same price, with handles of natural wood; silver trimmed; also of horn and ivory. Both men's and women's are easily worth $1.50 more.
Numerous good values for men, women, and children at 50c. to $2.
Umbrellas that fold to fit in dress suit case, at $5 each. Broadway.

SILK WAISTS

Two new lots—handsome styles all of them—fresh from the factory. We had them made especially for the holiday selling. They are all put up in neat boxes.

In one group—price $4.50 each—are waists of excellent taffeta, in various pretty solid colors and black. The very newest styles.

The other is a lot of solid black and solid white waists. Beautifully made. Entire waist of small plaits and hemstitching; bishop sleeve with puff above. These are $5.50.

Both of these are good values. In fact, of the many exceptionally attractive offerings here this season, there was none better than these. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Fur Scarfs and Sets

Here's a sable scarf at $5, and here is a sable set at $500. The former of Alaska sable, the latter of imperial Russian sable. Those two items fairly illustrate the wide range of choosing in these splendid stocks. All good, dependable furs, in the best latest styles, and priced in the most reasonable way. Here are further for hints from an unsurpassed gathering.

Alaska Sable Cluster Scarfs, trimmed with tails, at $6.50, $10.50, $15.
Mink Cluster Scarfs at $15, $17.50.
Sable Fox Double Scarfs, trimmed with 2 large tails, at $12 and $20.
Blue Fox Animal Scarfs at $20 and $35.
Natural Lynx Collarettes, long tabs, $35.
Silvered Lynx Collarettes at $40 and $50.
Mink Collarettes at $45, $50 and $65.
Extra Choice Cross Fox Sets, muff and scarf, at $85.
Extra Choice Fisher Set, large cluster scarf and muff, at $175.
Second floor, Broadway.

House Dresses

All the usual fabrics are well represented in this gathering of women's dresses for home wear. Percales and ginghams in widest possible variety of patterns and colorings; black mohair and black sateen. At least a dozen styles. All with waist and skirt joined; some very plain, others attractively trimmed—with white braid or piped with white.

Neatly boxed for giving, at $1 to $4.50. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Girls' MACKINTOSHES

Don't you think your young daughter or niece or sister would like to find a mackintosh among her presents on Christmas morning—that is, a neat, stylish garment such as these?

This "Zenda," for instance, in navy blue and garnet plaid back serge, double cape, velvet collar, at $3.25 each. Or the "Lenox," same colorings, but made with double-breasted circular cape, at $4. Perhaps she would like some of these golf mackintoshes best—they have deep circular capes with hood showing plaid. $5.

Lengths 34 to 50 in all styles. Your choice will be packed in a suitable holiday box. Second floor, Ninth street.

Handkerchiefs

The initialed kinds are in greatest demand for gifts. There is a most varied collection here. Pretty styles for the little folks, as well as the most tasteful designs for men and women. Numerous attractive novelties in colored borders and colored initials. And effective new styles in hemstitched silk handkerchiefs.

All are either pure linen or pure silk. Not a thread of cotton in these handkerchief stocks.

For Men—Pure Linen—
At 12½c each—Hemstitched and initialed.
At 25c each—Two styles of initials.
At 50c each—Two styles of initials.
At $1 each—French handwork.

For Women—Pure Linen—
At $1 dozen—Hemstitched and initialed.
At 12½c each—Two styles of initials.
At 25c each—Two styles of initials.
At 50c each—With neat initial.
At 75c each—French handwork.

For Men—Pure Silk—
At 25c, 50c, 75c and $1 each—Handsomely initialed and hemstitched.

CAMERAS

What better Christmas gift than a Camera? Through the long year it is an ever fresh delight to its possessor. Well-known scenes assume fresh charm, as his photographic instinct is developed along with his plates. The pleasure in after days, of turning back over the views of pleasant places, jolly groups, and all the happenings that otherwise would have passed into indistinct memories, goes with the camera.

Our collection of cameras and photographers' needfuls is complete. All best kinds are represented; and all supplies are of the most reliable sort. Among our stock of cameras we mention the following—all 20 per cent. below list prices.

Pocket Kodaks, 1½x2; loaded for 12 pictures; list $5, our price $4.
Bull's-eye Kodaks; No. 2, 3½x3½; No. 4, 4x5; list $8 and $12, our prices $6.40 and $9.60.
Cartridge Kodaks; No. 3, 3¼x4¼, No. 4, 4x5 and No. 5, 5x7; list $20, $25, and $35, our prices $16, $20, and $28.
Eastman's Toning Solution; 4-oz. bottle, 25c, 8-oz. bottle, 45c.
Folding Pocket Kodaks; No. 1, 2½x3¼, No. 1A, 2½x4¼, Nos. 2 and 3; list $10, $12, $15, and $20, our prices $8, $9.60, $12, and $14.
A special camera, 4x5 in.; with one double plate-holder, $1.85.
Basement.

Christmas MUSIC
To Echo All Year 'Round

It won't be Christmas without music, will it? Here is the one thing needed to give life and jollity to the Christmas festivities. Even if you have a piano, who wants to play it all day long? Then you can't move it into the nursery for the children to enjoy.

With a REGINA MUSIC BOX
EVERYBODY is Happy—Children, Too

Have it in the parlor for your guests to enjoy; then move it into the nursery for the children to dance to. It will give life and pleasure to the entire household, on Christmas Day, and every day, next year and for many years to come. You never tire of a Regina Music Box, for new tunes can be added all the time; including the latest music, as it comes out.

It is a Splendid Gift for Any Home

And it is extremely easy to buy, on the Wanamaker Club plan. Only $4, and upwards, to pay cash down—depending on what instrument you select—then easy monthly payments afterward.

It's hardly worth while to leave music out of the Christmas arrangements this time—it is so easy to have by joining the club.

See the Music Boxes in the Basement, or, if you can't come, write for full particulars to-day.

SLIPPERS
For Everybody

Have you had in mind any particular style of men's or women's or children's slippers? It's here, very likely. We can help you, if you're still undetermined as to the styles you'd like to have. It's a splendid stock—embracing the best, handsomest sorts of slippers that could be found. Take the matter of felt slippers—they're worn more generally now than ever. All these are of Dolge felt—the best that can be made.

There's a special lot of women's high and low cut felt slippers that go on sale to day at $1 a pair. Values up to $2.

Women's high-front toilet slippers; leather soles, at $1.25 a pair.
Women's felt Romeo slippers, at $2 a pair.
Men's black felt slippers, with felt soles, at 50c a pair.
Men's black and red toilet slippers; leather soles; extra felt lining; $1.50 a pair.
Men's red felt Romeo slippers, with felt trimming, at $2 a pair.

Just a hint of other sorts:

Men's kid opera slippers, well made and lined, at $1.25 a pair.
Men's Romeo style kidskin slippers, at $1.50 a pair.
Men's Russia leather Romeo slippers, welted soles, at $3.50 a pair.
Women's kid one-strap slippers, beaded toes, at $2 a pair.
Women's patent leather, vamp kid back slippers, at $1.50 a pair.
Women's patent leather and kid Louis XIV. heel slippers, at $2.50 to $5 a pair.
Boys' slippers at $1.25 to $2 a pair.

Women's SUITS

Two splendid offerings of Tailor-made Suits for women. For immediate wear, yet in advanced styles that will be ideal far into the spring. All are handsomely made and of choicest materials.

The prices are remarkable.

At $18—Suits worth up to $37.50—
Made of cheviots and homespuns, with blouse, tight-fitting and Eton jackets; some silk-lined throughout.

At $28.50—Suits worth up to $50—
Of fine cheviot and broadcloth; with various styles of jackets; all suits silk-lined throughout. Second floor, Broadway.

RUGS Under-Price
Ideal CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Every dollar that you put into a rug buys fullest value of appreciation from the friend that receives it. That's when you pay full price. Look how much more can be bought by the splendid offerings told of below.

For a housekeeper; for a girl's boudoir; for a young man's den, here are abundant suggestions at most unusual prices:

Smyrna Rugs—Rug sizes—
18x34 inches, 85c, were $1.15
21x45 inches, $1.25, were $1.65
26x45 inches, $1.75, were $2.25
30x60 inches, $2.15, were $3
36x72 inches, $3.15, were $4.25
48x84 inches, $5.15, were $7
30x33 inches, $1.35, were $1.85
36x40 inches, $1.90, were $2.50
48x54 inches, $3.35, were $4.50.

Smyrna Rugs—Carpet sizes—
6x9 ft., $11, were $14.50.
7½x10½ ft., $18, were $22.50.
9x12 ft., $23.50, were $28.50.
9x15 ft, $32, were $42.
Third floor.

Oriental Rugs—India—
9x12 ft., $108, was $160
12x9 ft., $125, was $165
12½x9¾ ft., $125, was $146
16¾x9¾ ft., $164, was $248
14¼x10 ft., $144, was $182
16¼x10 ft., $163, was $210
14x11 ft., $158, was $235
17¾x10 ft., $185, was $268
15¼x10½ ft., $165, was $245
16¼x10¾ ft., $185, was $265
14x12 ft., $169, was $255
15x11 ft., $166, was $248
14x12 ft., $170, was $255
15x12 ft., $198, was $286

Oriental Rugs—Ouchak—
16x12 ft., $200, was $310
11¾x9¼ ft., $90, was $148
12¼x9¼ ft., $90, was $170
12½x11¼ ft., $130, was $210

Women's DESKS

Here is a thoughtful gift suggestion—a gift that is as practical and gratifying to the recipient as it is effective in appearance. Every woman not already supplied frequently wishes for better facilities for writing and keeping her letters; yet a desk is just one of those semi-luxuries that one puts off buying whether they need to or not—and it is just these things that present seekers like to give.

There are one hundred styles to select from, taking in the most popular woods. Some are very elaborately inlaid, others are handsomely carved. Some in mahogany are in dull finish of Colonial pattern; in those in oak are some in wax finish. The finest desk of all is a Dutch inlaid mahogany at $250.

A word of some prices:

At $6.50—Golden oak; quartered oak drop lid; long outside drawer; French legs; well built and finished.
At $8, from $12—Quartered golden oak; open pattern; long drawer.
At $9 from $15—Imitation mahogany; drop lid; long drawer; French legs.
At $12—Imitation mahogany; carved drop lid; long drawer.
At $12—Imitation mahogany; mahogany veneered lid, inlaid; long drawer.
At $14.50—Quartered golden oak; ornamental top; drop lid; long drawer.
At $15—Quartered golden oak; drop lid; 2 long drawers; French legs.
At $16.50—Bird's-eye maple; drop lid; 3 long drawers; shaped legs.
$17.50—Quartered golden oak; drop lid; long drawer.
At $18.50—Mahogany; drop lid; long drawer; shaped legs.
At $20—Quartered golden oak; drop lid; 2 long drawers, with carved fronts.
At $22—Quartered golden oak in wax finish; drop lid; highly finished.
At $23—Flemish oak; long drawer; lower shelf; carved drop lid.
At $24—Quartered golden oak; 3 long drawers; handsomely carved drop lid.
At $25—Mahogany; drop lid, inlaid; swell front drawer; shaped legs.
Fourth floor.

Christmas CANDIES

No argument needed about candies—who'd think of Christmas without a jolly big supply? Only thing to decide is: Where is the biggest variety of purest, freshest, and most delicious kinds? Everyone that knows, and knows all, must say Wanamaker's.

The best Bonbons and Chocolates that finest and purest materials and most expert skill can make, at 60c a pound. There are none better at any price.

Bonbons and Chocolates, just as fresh and pure, but not requiring the most expensive ingredients, at 30c a pound.

Special Chocolates and Assorted Candies, at 20c pound. And ever so many more; as well as the boxes for them. Basement.

DINNER SETS

This is a very opportune offering of rich, splendid chinaware, any set of which would surely be a most acceptable present. It's all of high grade—mostly French, one kind only being of fine Austrian ware—and new. Some of it came only a day or two ago, 'way beyond the time it was expected. This special collection will be displayed for your choosing this morning, with these special prices, which will doubtless help many to quick selection. Handsome and cheap as they are, they can't remain long.

Theo. Haviland Dinner Sets: 100 pieces: border decoration and all handles gilt; 10 sets at $18.50 each; were $25.
Chas. Field Haviland "G. D. A." Dinner Sets; 100 pieces; 2 pretty flower decorations, all handles gilt; 19 sets in one decoration at $20 each, were $25; 10 sets in another decorat on at $20 each, were $25.
Austrian china Dinner Sets. 101 pieces; festoon wreath decoration, blue border and all handles gilt; 27 sets at $15 each; were $20.

Blankets and Quilts

The falling temperature may remind some of us, during our Holiday shopping, that we have wants of our own. There's no virtue in planning for others to the total exclusion of our own needs. In the matter of bed-coverings, for instance. Maybe you've thought of them the last few nights. We thought of them early last spring—gathered in a most careful but very generous way. The finest blankets that are made are here—here at lower prices than are usual for equal goods. Down-filled comfortables that we make ourselves. Honestly made, and at a saving in cost, which is yours:

At $2.50 a pair—"The Elkins." A well-made, strong and warm blanket; wool filling and cotton warp; 70x90 in.; 5 lbs.
At $5.50 a pair—"The Columbia." Made of fine wool; finished soft and spongy; cotton warp; 72x84 in.; 5½ lbs.
At $7.50 a pair—"The Torrington." Of extra fine wool; sightly in finish; cotton warp; 84x86 in.; 7½ lbs.
At $10 a pair—"The Waverly." Fine soft wool on spool cotton warp; 78x86 in.; 6½ lbs.

Down Quilts—
Some with sateen covering, figured both sides, at $3.50, $4 and $5.
Some with rich covering of China silk, one side figured, at $10 and $12.
Cotton filled comfortables, with silkoline covering, at 90c, $1.25 and $1.50.
Third Floor, Ninth Street.

Linen Table Pieces

They're an attractive addition to the rich holiday display—these handsome combinations of linen and Renaissance lace. The collection comprises five hundred center pieces, round and square, bureau and sideboard scarfs, all with linen center and Renaissance lace edge. They are extremely decorative, and specially priced—in some cases at less than half former values. Your needs can undoubtedly be met from among the gathering:

75c each—18-in. squares and 20-in. round centers; formerly priced up to $2.25.
$2.50 each—30-in. round and square centers; formerly priced up to $3.50.
$4.50 each—36-inch round and square centers; formerly priced up to $10.
$2.75 each—20x54-in. sideboard scarfs; formerly priced up to $6.
$3.50 each—20x54-in. bureau scarfs; formerly priced up to $7.50.
Fourth avenue and Ninth street.

Fancy Bed-Muslins

Here are Sheets and Pillow Cases prettily hemstitched, that make excellent gifts for housekeeping friends. It is almost wonderful how much daintiness and finish can be added to these practical pieces at so little cost. You know how tedious the hemstitching is when done by hand; yet these are the prices, with the work all done:

Pillow Cases, with 3 rows of hemstitching and insertion—
42x38½ in., at 35c each.
45x38½ in., at 37c each.
Sheets to match—
63x99 in., at $1 each.
90x99 in., at $1.25 each.
Pillow Cases, with 5 rows of hemstitching—
42x38½ in., at 42c each.
45x38½ in., at 45c each.
Sheets to match—
63x99 in., at $1.12 each.
90x99 in., at $1.35 each.
Pillow Cases, with 7 rows of hemstitching and insertion—
42x38½ in., at 57c. each.
45x38½ in., at 59c each.
Sheets to match—
63x99 in., at $1.30 each.
90x99 in., $1.56 each.
Fourth avenue.

Men's Suspenders

Silver buckle suspenders. Put up singly in neat boxes. Men generally will be pleased with such a gift. There'll be a great many recipients of suspenders, judging from the selling here.

There's a really wonderful variety of designs in these silver buckles. The web in all of these suspenders is silk, of course. Colorings and patterns here, too, to meet any taste. Calfskin ends. Durable as well as handsome. $1 to $3. Men's Store, Broadway and Ninth.

Men's Overcoats

That man is foolish who goes a-shivering or snabby these crisp days, on the score of overcoat economy. Here's the true economy—in our Men's Clothing Store. Whatever may be the sum you wish to give, it represents here the resultant of lowest price and most reliable quality. Witness, for proof thereof, these four overcoats priced in a manner generous to Our Public:

At $8.50—Of all-wool gray cheviot; plaid lined with velvet collar. Fully worth $10.
At $12—Of all-wool dark-gray frieze; with black satin shoulders; all-wool black diagonal body-lining, satin sleeve-linings; a very dressy coat that would be fairly priced at $15.
At $10—Of all-wool dark-gray frieze; satin shoulders and plaid wool body-lining; velvet collar. A good $12 value.
At $15—A newly-received Raglan, a splendid looking coat, of all-wool medium gray frieze; with big shoulders and loose back; full of style.
Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Boys' CLOTHING

Just at the outset of the cold weather comes this word of reductions in the stock of the Boys' Clothing Store. We have gathered up the broken lots of this season's suits and overcoats, and place them at your disposal at prices far below regular value. It's scarcely necessary to offer additional inducements to visit this corner of Wanamaker's—you show continually that you are alive to its value as the headquarters for stylish, reliable, yet low-priced clothing for boys. But this news should increase even the present attendance considerably.

At $4, formerly priced up to $10—Sailor, Middy and Russian Blouse Suits, in blue and mixed materials. Sizes 3 to 12 years.
At $5, formerly $8—Double-breasted Suits of mixed, striped or plain blue cheviot; with extra trousers; sizes 8 to 16 years.
At $7, worth up to $10—Reefers of fine quality of kersey; some trimmed with braid; splendid bargains at their new prices; sizes 2 to 10 years.
At $8.50, formerly priced up to $12—Overcoats of kersey and frieze; extremely stylish garments; sizes 4 to 16 years.
Second floor, Ninth street.

Diaries for 1901

Are you going to begin the new year, and the new century with a new undertaking—that of keeping a record of daily happenings; or are you going to continue a long-established custom in so doing? In either case, here's the place to come for your diaries. We can satisfy the man who confines himself to jotting down, here and there, items of importance, or the man who wants to write pages full, with diaries for all sorts of requirements between. Some of the kinds:

5c—The Wanamaker diary, 4½x7 in., neatly bound in red cloth; 3 days to page; with pages for cash account, addresses, and memoranda; and much valuable information.
12c—Vest pocket diary of leatherette, with map of the United States, postal rates, etc.
35c—Vest pocket diaries, 7 days to the page, with pages for cash account and memoranda.
Numerous other styles, up to fine pocket diaries handsomely bound in leather, with flap and extra pockets, at $2.25. Commercial Stationery Store, Basement.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue,
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

SUPREME COURT HEARS THE PORTO RICO CASE

Argument Involving Status of Island Possessions Begun.

Counsel in Customs Case Before Federal Tribunal Maintains the Constitution Follows the Flag.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—In the United States Supreme Court to-day argument was begun in two cases, the decision of which is expected to fix the status of Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands and other insular possessions acquired through the war with Spain, with respect to the United States proper, to say whether their people are citizens, and to indicate whether the Constitution follows the flag.

One of the cases is that of John H. Goetze, who, in June, 1899, imported from Porto Rico a quantity of leaf tobacco into the United States through the Port of New York, and protested against the assessment of duty on the importation, claiming that the tobacco was not subject to duty because "Porto Rico at the time of the importation was not a foreign country, and because, therefore, the imposition of duties on goods brought from a place within the territory of the United States into a port of the United States is not lawful and valid under the Constitution."

The Collector of the Port and the Board of General Appraisers both ruled against him, as did the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, when Goetze took the case before that tribunal. From the opinion of that court the importer appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

The other case is known as the "Fourteen Diamond Ring Case." In that suit the claimant is one Manuel Pepke, who served as a soldier of the United States in Luzon, in the Philippines. While there he purchased or acquired the rings in question and brought them into the United States without paying duty upon them, some time in the year 1899, between July 31 and Sept. 25. The rings were seized May 18, 1900, at Chicago, by a United States customs officer as merchandise liable to duty which should have been invoiced, and was fraudulently imported and brought into the United States contrary to law.

An information for the forfeiture of the rings was filed on behalf of the Government June 1, 1900, to which the claimant pleaded, setting up that at the time he acquired the property Luzon was a part of the territory of the United States and that the seizure was contrary to the claimant's right as a citizen of the United States under the Constitution, and particularly under Section 2, Article IV., thereof, and he insisted that under Article 1., Section 8, Congress is required to see that all taxes and duties shall be uniform throughout the United States. To this plea the United States demurred, and upon hearing of the demurrer, the District Court gave judgment of forfeiture for the Government. This judgment the claimant removed into the Supreme Court by a writ of error.

The opening argument in behalf of Goetze was begun by Everit Brown of counsel for appellant. Mr. Brown rehearsed the main features as to the cession of Porto Rico, with the circumstances of the enactment of the tariff law of 1897 and the imposition of the duties on the goods of Goetze. The main contentions, he said, were that Porto Rico was not a "foreign country," as contemplated by the tariff act, and that Porto Rico was within the United States, so that an import duty against the goods of Porto Rico would be in violation of the Constitutional provision that "all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States."

Mr. Brown remarked that counsel who had opposed this view had maintained that Porto Rico was a part of the United States only in a Pickwickian sense. It was conceded, he said, that "the people of the United States constituted an absolute sovereign Nation; that the power to declare and carry on war has been delegated by the people to its Constitutional agents, and to govern it and its inhabitants while it remains foreign territory, subject only to the rules and usages of civilized warfare under international laws."

It was also conceded, Mr. Brown said, that the people had delegated the power to add permanent acquisitions to its territory.

But with these concessions, Mr. Brown declared, the people had established certain Constitutional limits never to be transcended. This case was something more than one of ex proprio vigore. It went to the extent of denying the right of any branch of the Government to transcend the limitations laid down by the Constitution. He closed his introductory presentation of the case by referring to its momentous character, which he and his colleagues regarded as the most profoundly important that they ever had been called upon to present.

Mr. Perkins, also for Goetze, followed, taking up more particularly the Constitutional phases of the case. He spoke of the grave and serious interests involved, not only for the present but for all time in the future. It was only because of the extraordinary events which the Nation had participated in of late that this case had arisen.

Mr. Perkins maintained that the Constitution was in effect a power of attorney, and the question was as to what were those powers. The prosecution of the war to Porto Rico or elsewhere, or to the acquisition of this or that place, were all acts which must be brought within the powers of the Constitution. The metaphor as to the Constitution following the flag Mr. Perkins regarded as equivalent to saying that a man's shadow followed him. The first Constitutional point urged by Mr. Perkins was that "the claim of unlimited power in new territories is opposed to our entire theory of Constitutional government."

A large number of cases were cited to show the attitude of the United States Supreme Court on analogous issues in the past. An unbroken line of decisions, it was maintained, established that the prohibitory clauses of the Constitution apply in the government of the territory of the United States. In one decision, as late as last March, Mr. Perkins said that Justice Harlan had held that the seventh amendment to the Constitution, securing the right of trial by jury, applies to juaicial proceedings in the Territories.

The other chief points advanced in behalf of the appellant were: "The treaty of Paris is not open to the construction that it provides for the governing of Porto Rico without regard to constitutional limitations, and as a country foreign to the United States. If it were possible to place that construction upon the treaty the provision would be void, as contrary to the Constitution, but this would not in any way prevent or affect the accomplishment or the usual results of annexation.

"If the tariff act imposes a duty or tax upon goods brought from Porto Rico to a place elsewhere in the United States after the annexation, the imposition is void as being in conflict with an express provision of the Constitution.

"When the treaty of Paris took effect Porto Rico ceased to be 'a foreign country' within the meaning of those words as used in the tariff act."

Mr. Perkins's argument was in progress when the Court adjourned until to-morrow, when Mr. Perkins will continue and the other counsel will be heard. The five hours on each side which the Court has allowed will extend the hearing through to-morrow and part of next day if all the time is occupied.

OTHER PORTO RICAN CASES.

Actions Arising Out of Levying of Duties to be Heard Jan. 7.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Chief Justice Fuller to-day advanced a number of cases involving the relation between the United States and Porto Rico so as to be heard with the De Lima case, in which this question is at issue. The De Lima case is set for Jan. 7, and will be argued by ex-Secretary Carlisle. It was at his instance that three of the cases were to-day advanced. Two of the cases so advanced are in the name of Dooley, Smith & Co., and both come from the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York.

In one case the action is brought to recover money exacted from them at Porto Rico as customs duties upon merchandise taken from New York to Porto Rico between the date of the ratification of the Paris treaty and the date of the enactment of the Porto Rican Civil Government act. In the other case the duties were collected after the Porto Rican law was enacted. A third case is that of Carlos Armstrong, coming from the Court of Claims and also involving the general question, and still another, that of Samuel B. Downs. In the last-named case Frederic Coudert, Jr., appears as counsel.

SHIPPING BILL GOES OVER.

Will Be Considered After the Holidays —Talk of Republican Opposition Still Heard.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Ship Subsidy bill goes over until after the holiday recess, not, according to Mr. Lodge, because it has been sent back to committee to be patched up, nor because it has been abandoned, but because the Hay-Pauncefote treaty has the right of way until Friday; that on Friday Congress is to adjourn until after New Year's, and that it would not be possible to dispose of the Subsidy bill in one day.

Meantime the talk of opposition on the Republican side is still heard, and the promoters of the bill, in both Senate and House, are aware of the fact that the interest in the measure is confined to a limited area of country and the objections to it are found everywhere. The Democrats are making the most of the report that the Standard Oil Company is one of the interests demanding the passage of the bill, and is prepared to enjoy its earliest benefits.

The report was circulated here to-day that the Steering Committee of the Senate had sent the bill back to the Commerce Committee to be fixed up to meet the latest objections. Members of the committee deny this report, and say that it would not be necessary to return the bill in order to improve it by amendment.

The presence of Messrs. Hanna and Payne at the White House to-day gave rise to the report that they had called upon the President to inform him that strenuous efforts were needed on the part of the administration to secure a solid Republication vote for the Subsidy bill. The presumption was against the correctness of the report, and both visitors deny it outright. The verification of such a report would not assist the bill, for the Republican members who are in doubt about how they should vote on it are much more anxious to satisfy the expectations of their constituents than those alleged to animate the promoters of the Subsidy bill.

Senator Teller was quoted a day or two ago as having spoken of the Subsidy bill as doomed to be shelved. It is now learned that he must have been misunderstood by the person who reported him, for it is his belief that the Republicans will not only pass the Subsidy bill, but about every measure set down on the party programme of legislation to be put through. He does not regard the postponement until after the holidays as an indication of its failure.

ATKINSON ATTACKS THE NAVY.

Says He Is Glad There Is Difficulty in Getting Men for New Ships.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—The Executive Council of the Massachusetts State Board of Trade declared in favor of the subsidizing of American shipping at its meeting to-day. The principal dissentient was Edward Atkinson, who came out flat-footed against the subsidy principle, and criticised the Government for its present policy in regard to the building of warships.

"We are making the mistake," said Mr. Atkinson, "of taxing our people for the building of a large navy that we do not need; that will be obsolete in ten years, and for the manning of which we cannot find enough men. The whole thing is wrong, and I am totally opposed to it."

Mr. Atkinson went on to say that he was glad the Navy Department did find it hard to get enough sailors and officers to man its new ships, and that there was nothing in the naval service that appealed to bright and ambitious men. Even those highest in the ranks got out of it whenever a favorable opportunity came.

G. A. R. BILL LOST IN THE HOUSE

Measure Giving Preference in Government Positions to Spanish and Philippine War Veterans Defeated.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—An attempt was made in the House to-day to pass a bill to give soldiers and sailors of the civil war, the Spanish war, and the war in the Philippines preference in the matter of appointment to and retention in positions in the executive departments of the Government; but it aroused opposition on the ground that for years to come it would practically shut out of the Government employ all civilians, and was overwhelmingly defeated.

The matter was brought before the House by Mr. Bromwell (Rep., Ohio), who moved the suspension of the rules and the passage of the bill. A second was ordered to the motion by a vote of 67 to 34.

Mr. Hepburn (Rep., La.) asked if it would be in order to move an amendment to strike out that portion of the bill providing that "Persons thus preferred shall not be removed except for cause, upon charges and after a hearing." The Speaker replied that it would not.

Mr. Bromwell then explained that the bill as originally introduced was the bill prepared by the G. A. R. It simply extended the provisions of the existing law giving preference to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the civil war, and the committee had further extended it to veterans of the war with Spain and of the war in the Philippines.

Mr. Richardson (Dem., Tenn.) asked why the soldiers of the Mexican war were not included. "In this era of good feeling, why not include the soldiers and sailors of all the wars?" he asked.

Mr. Bromwell replied that there was less reason for including the soldiers of the Mexican war now than when the original law was passed.

Mr. Gillett (Rep., Mass.), the Chairman of the Civil Service Committee, protested vigorously against the bill. He declared that the bill was improperly before the House. Speaking directly to the merits of the bill, he said that it was vicious, although drawn, doubtless, with good intentions. It would, he declared, practically shut civilians out of the Government service for years to come. It would place at the top of the preferential list all the soldiers and sailors of the war with Spain, regulars and volunteers alike, amounting to 200,000, the 100,000 now in the service and the 35,000 who would soon be enlisted under the army reorganization bill. It would, therefore, give preference to 350,000 men, and for many years would keep civilians off the rolls.

The regulars, he said, were not entitled to be in a preferential class. The soldiers of the civil war enlisted as a sacred duty. The regulars did not enlist for the same reason. Many of them went into the army because they liked the service. Why should they go to the top of the list? They were rewarded with pensions; why also reward them with preference of appointment in the civil service.

Mr. Hepburn also opposed the bill on the ground that it made an appointment a vested right.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., Ohio) took the same position, and asked Mr. Bromwell to withdraw the bill.

Mr. Sulzer (Dem., N. Y.) supported the measure, which he said had been asked for by every Grand Army post in the country.

Mr. McCall (Rep., Mass.) opposed the bill because, he said, it would create a military caste. The soldiers fought to maintain a free government, the fundamental principle of which was equality before the law. He believed the soldiers of the country were entitled to the most liberal treatment; they were entitld to liberal pensions, but the Government service should be open to all. It was a slur upon the intelligence of the soldiers to give them this preference.

Mr. Sulzer attempted to force a yea and nay vote upon the bill, but failed, and on a rising vote the bill was defeated—51 to 105.

LOOKING FOR A LOST BILL.

Measure Passed by Congress During Last Session Seems to Have Disappened.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A few anxious persons are looking for a lost bill. Some odd accidents happen to Congress, but seldom, or never, before has a measure over which everybody concernod in legislation, from the first step to the last, totally disappeared just as it was due to become a law. On April 28 last, the House passed a bill to amend the revised statutes so as to provide for the holding of a term of the United States Circuit and District Courts at Winston, N. C., on the second Monday of July and January of each year. The occasion for it was that it would save the Government great expense and be a convenience to witnesses and persons living north of Winston.

This bill went to the Senate and was considered and passed by that body without objection, soon after its reception. It was duly signed by the officers of the Senate and the House, and the records show that on June 5 it was received at the White House and a receipt obtained for it by the messenger of the House. The interested persons hoped to hold a session of court at Winston next month, and it was desired to obtain a certified copy of the law before proceeding. The Department of State could not provide the certified copy because it did not have the law. It is not in the statutes of the session. It is not at the White House. It is lost.

Search is being made, and the President is personally interested in the hunt, for the records trace the bill to him, and make it disappear in the White House.

THE REAPPORTIONMENT BILL.

Measure Leaving Total Representation Unchanged Will Be Reported—Some States Affected.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The House Committee on Census, by a vote of 7 to 6, agreed to report the Hopkins Reapportionment bill, leaving the total membership of the House at 357, as at present, and rearranging a number of State delegations. The bill will not be taken up until after the holidays. The only change in the bill was an amendment requiring that the several Congressional districts of the several States should be composed of "contiguous and compact territory." The purpose of the amendment is to prevent gerrymandering.

Under the bill the following States will lose one Representative each: Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Nebraska, Ohio, South Carolina, and Virginia. The following will gain one eacht Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, and West Virginia. Texas will gain two Representatives.

Based upon present political divisions, neither party will gain advantage from the new reapportionment proposed in the bill. The Republicans will gain five and lose five, and the Democrats will gain three and lose three. The basis of representation will be one Representative for each 208,868 inhabitants.

It has been figured out that this retention of the present membership will not in the slightest manner affect the strength of the parties in the Electoral College. The object in keeping to the present membership was not to continue the last Electoral vote for ten years, but to avoid crowding the hall of the House. If adopted, the bill will be the first since the first apportionment that did not increase the total membership.

The Census Committee is confident that it can hold the Republicans to the proposition to retain the present membership. The holiday recess will give members a chance to consult their constituents with reference to the prospect of gaining, losing, or standing still in the House make-up.

CLARK CASE UP AGAIN.

Leads to an Argument Between Chandler (N. H.) and Jones, (Ark.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Montana Senatorial case again was brought to the attention of the Senate by an inquiry of Mr. Chandler, (Rep., N. H.,) Chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, as to whether the Committee on Contingent Expenses was ready to report back the resolution authorizing the Committee on Privileges and Elections to send for persons and papers in the investigation of the right of W. A. Clark and Martin Maginnis to a seat in the Senate.

Mr. Gallinger (Rep., N. H.,) explained that no action had been taken by the committee because of the absence of the Chairman, Mr. Jones, (Silver, Nev.,) and also of Mr. Jones, (Dem., Ark.)

In reply, Mr. Chandler thought the Senate had a right to an early report from the committee, and said he would be glad to know what had influenced members of the committee to delay action.

This aroused Mr. Jones, (Ark.,) who questioned the right of any Senator to demand the reasons which might influence the action of a member of any committee. He could not understand why Mr. Chandler should seek to punish him, and intimated that Mr. Chandler must have some personal interest in the resolution.

Mr. Chandler said there was no use for the member of the Committee on Contingent Expenses to put on any disguises. It was perfectly evident that no such treatment had ever before been given a resolution of the character of the one pending. The matter finally went over.

HOUSE ACTS IN BOUTELLE MATTER.

Adopts Resolution Placing Congressman on Navy Retired List.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—During the House session to-day Mr. Littlefield (Rep., Me.,) moved the adoption of a joint resolution to appoint Representative Charles A. Boutelle of Maine on the retired list as a Captain in the United States Navy. Mr. Littlefield said there was no exact parallel to the case of Mr. Boutelle, but there were eight instances in which Congress had placed officers on the retired list of the army and navy.

Mr. Williams (Dem., Ill.,) asked if Mr. Boutelle had not been re-elected to the next House.

Mr. Littlefield replied that he had, but that his condition had taken an unfavorable turn and that it would be impossible for him to serve. He said Mr. Boutelle undoubtedly would resign.

Mr. Underwood (Dem., Ala.,) said he was opposed to the principle involved in the bill, but realized the circumstances of the case, and he would not object.

The bill was passed.

Money for Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Indian Appropriation bill was completed to-day by the House Committee on Indian Affairs. It carries something over $9,000,000, the exact aggregate not yet being determined. The number of Indian agencies is reduced from fifty-two to forty-four, those omitted being the Lemhi, Idaho; Neah Bay, Washington; Nevada, Nevada; Quapaw, Indian Territory; Sac and Fox, Iowa; Slitz, Oregon; Sisseton, South Dakota; Tulall, Washington.

Bills to Punish Train Robbers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Two bills providing for the punishment of train robbers were introduced in Congress to-day. The onc in the House, offered by Mr. Ray, (Rep., N. Y.,) provides the death penalty for those guilty of a "hold-up" in case the death of any person on the train results. In case no one is killed the penalty is made hard labor from twenty to forty years. The other bill, introduced by Senator Hoar, (Rep., Mass.,) provides that any person convicted of train robbery in any of the territories of the United States shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall suffer the punishment of death.

Army Bill Goes to a Sub-Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs to-day referred the Army Reorganization bill to a sub-committee consisting of Senators Hawley, (Rep., Conn.,) Proctor, (Rep., Vt.,) Sewell, (Rep., N. J.,) Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.,) and Harris, (Pop., Kan.)

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

The House yesterday passed a bill to refer to the Secretary of the Interior for investigation the claim of the State of Texas for moneys expended on public improvements in Greer County, before the decision of the Supreme Court placed it within the jurisdiction of Oklahoma.

The House also passed 102 private pension bills.

In the Senate Mr. Carter (Rep., Mon.) introduced a resolution calling upon the Judiciary Committee to investigate and report to the Senate the facts in the matter of the charges against Judge Noyes of Alaska. The resolution is more comprehensive than that presented by Mr. Brick, (Rep., Ind.,) in the House, and covers allegations previous to the appointment of Judge Noyes. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Military Academy Appropriation bill was completed and reported by the House Military Committee. It carries $699,153, which is $246,598 below the estimates and slightly above the bill of last year. The largest items, outside of those for ordinary maintenance, are $46,000, for a south wing to the hospital, and $45,000, for engineers' barracks. This project for a hotel is omitted.

Mr. Cannon, (Rep., Ill.,) Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House, reported an Urgent Deficiency bill, carrying $182,500 for contingent expenses of the House of Representatives, Indian Affairs, District of Columbia, and the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers. The bill was passed.

Bills were passed by the House to divide the States of West Virginia and Kentucky, each into two judicial districts.

The Senate bill to provide for an additional District Judge for the Northern District of Ohio was passed by the House. The bill is designed to relieve from duty Judge Ricks, who has been incapacitated for some time.

The Senate in executive session agreed to give its adhesion to the convention to regulate the importation of intoxicating liquors into certain regions of Africa.

"Standard of Highest Merit"

FISCHER PIANOS.

We call attention to our large assortment of GRAND and UPRIGHT PIANOS, cased in rare and choice woods.

Several special Designs for the Holiday Season.

PRICES REASONABLE.

OPEN EVENINGS

From December 15th to 24th inclusive.

FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS

33 Union Square—West,

Between 16th and 17th Sts., New York.

POLITICS IN PHILIPPINES.

First Party Under American Regime Recognizes Sovereignty of the United States.

MANILA, Dec. 17.—The first political party under the American régime is in process of formation. Its principles have been embodied in a platform which will be shortly made public. It is understood that the declarations of the platform give the fullest recognition to American sovereignty, and also favor a considerable degree of native autonomy concerning internal and local affairs.

Several of the most intelligent Filipino leaders, who have been instrumental in bringing the matter to a head, have been in conference with those interested, and this evening the platform will be outlined to the Philippine Commission by Señor Buencamino, former Premier in the so-called Government of Aguinaldo, Col. Aquiles, and Dr. Frank S. Bourne, an American, formerly Chief Surgeon, with the rank of Major, and Health Officer of Manila.

Dr. Bourne was with Prof. Dean C. Worcester prior to the American occupation, and has confidential relations with the Filipino leaders.

The Commissioners are not likely to give public expression to their views regarding the formation of political parties, but the principles of the new organization, so far as made known, seem to be favored by intelligent Filipinos.

Skirmish with Rebels in Iloilo.

MANILA, Dec. 17.—Advices just received from Iloilo, Island of Panay, say that the insurgents Saturday night burned a large part of the village of Cabatuan. Assistant Surgeon Frederick A. Washburn, Jr., of the Twenty-sixth Volunteer Infantry, with eighteen men, held the principal buildings. A strong wind was blowing at the time. The Americans sustained no casualties.

Auditor for the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—A. L. Lawshe, Deputy Auditor for the Post Office Department, has been appointed Auditor for the Philippine Islands. Mr. Lawshe made an examination and report on the Cuban postal finances after Neely's alleged defalcation.

Ministers Bar Aguinaldo's Emissary.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—The weekly conference of Baptist ministers at their session to-day refused to hear the appeal for sympathy and aid which Sixto Lopez, the emissary of Aguinaldo, desired to address them.

The Rev. Wayland Hoyt, who led the opposition to Lopez, said that to allow him to speak would virtually be acknowledging a traitor. The Rev. L. Sensholes urged that the Filipino be given a hearing. "All reports that we have had from the other side have been garbled," he said. "Would it not be better to give a hearing to this man that we may determine the truth?"

Discussion was cut short by referring the subject to the Committee on Hearings, and it decided that the request for an audience was declined.

PORTO RICO'S CUBAN CLAIM.

United States Cannot Sanction the Collection of the Debt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The State Department has rendered an opinion to the effect that the United States Government cannot intervene in favor of Porto Rico in the matter of her claim against Cuba for $2,500,000. The Spanish Government raised a loan to this amount from the Porto Ricans to help prosecute military operations in Cuba, basing the loan upon the revenues of the latter island. In substance, the decision of the United States Government is to the effect that, leaving aside the question of equity in this case, to sanction the collection of this claim against Cuba now would be to open the door to numberless other and larger claims, which would exhaust the financial resources of the island.

It is known to the authorities that most of the claims sought to be included in the treaty of peace at Paris, but resolutely excluded by the United States Commissioners, are not regarded by the claimants as dead by any means, but are simply held in abeyance, to be presented and enforced by the full power of foreign Governments, if that can be invoked by the claimants, as soon as the United States control of the island ceases.

AMERICAN OFFICER DEGRADED.

Capt. R. R. Steedman Tried by Court-Martial at San Juan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Capt. Richard R. Steedman, Eleventh Infantry, was tried by a general court-martial recently at San Juan, Porto Rico, on a charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman."

The court found him "guilty of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline," and sentenced him to be reprimanded in general orders and reduced in rank fifty numbers on the list of Captains of Infantry.

Bill for Woman Suffrage in Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 17.—In the House of Delegates to-day Mr. Descartes introduced a bill granting unrestricted suffrage to women on the same terms as men.

MOSQUITO INOCULATION.

Experiments in Cuba to Guard Against Yellow Fever Successful.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Surgeon General Sternberg to-day received a cable message from Major Walter Reed of the Medical Department, stationed at Havana, saying that the recent experiments with mosquito inoculation have been entirely successful in 80 per cent. of the cases under treatment. These experiments are being conducted by Dr. Reed and other surgeons of the army near Havana, with the approval and aid of Major Gen. Wood, commanding the Division of Cuba. They are based upon conclusions reached by Major Reed and other medical officers, recently appointed to conduct scientific investigations with reference to the acute infectious diseases prevalent in Cuba.

So far the inoculation has been confined to Spanish immigrants intending to settle in Cuba and desirous of making themselves immune to yellow fever. These persons have voluntarily presented themselves for inoculation, with a full understanding of the nature of the experiment.

Bill Provides for Gens. Wilson and Lee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Senator Daniel of Virginia to-day introduced a bill authorizing the President to select from the Brigadier Generals of Volunteers two officers, without regard to age, and appoint them Brigadier Generals in the regular army, for the purpose of placing them on the retired list. This is intended to provide for Gens. James H. Wilson and Fitzhugh Lee.

President to See the Ohio Launched.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—President Scott of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, the builders of the new battleship Ohio, saw the President to-day and received his assurance that if nothing occurred to prevent he would go to San Francisco some time next May to witness the launching of the big vessel. The exact date has not yet been decided upon.

New Publications. | New Publications. | New Publications.

"FOR SUSTAINED INTENSITY AND GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION MARION CRAWFORD'S NEW NOVEL IS INAPPROACHABLE IN RECENT FICTION."

IN THE PALACE OF THE KING

A Love Story of Old Madrid.
By F. MARION CRAWFORD.
Author of "Saracinesca," etc.

Illustrated by FRED ROE.
75th Thousand.
Cloth, $1.50.

"The character drawing of the crafty Philip, the gay and dashing Don John of Austria, and the heroine, Donna Dolores is very strong, while the pictures of court life in the old palace at Madrid are thoroughly artistic. It is indeed a charming story."—Cambridge Tribune.

"It has the intensity, the dramatic action—the vivid portraiture, and the exquisite style in which its author leads among our novelists."—Pilot, Boston.

"Attractive and entertaining in every way."—Argonaut, S. F.

"Deserves to class among the best of Mr. Crawford's romances. . . . Several of the scenes are worthy to be called magnificent. . . . The story glows with the rich color of Spain. It invests with life an historic epoch. It will rank as one of the books of the year."—News, Denver.

"A CAPITAL STORY . . . . . FULL OF EXCITEMENT.—New York Tribune.

Send for the Christmas Catalogue of

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, 66 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

VALUABLE PICTURE BURNED

Fire in a Fifth Avenue Building Destroys "The Last Meeting."

A Number of Lives Imperilled, but No One Injured—History of the Painting.

Draperies around the large painting "The Last Meeting," which for the last three months had been on exhibition at 1,132 Broadway, caught fire at 10:55 o'clock yesterday morning, and before the flames were extinguished they had gutted the building, destroying the picture and its accessories and placing half a dozen people in great peril. The building was next to old Delmonico's, at Twenty-sixth Street, and Broadway traffic was blocked for half an hour at that point.

Edward Bessinger of 221 East Thirty-second Street, a passer by, was the first to see the fire from the outside. He shouted an alarm, and Policeman Conboy of the West Thirtieth Street Station ran up. As they were struggling to open the door Miss Waters, the cashier, ran out with the money and tickets and was lost in the crowd. The flames filled the front windows, and a moment later the only others in the place, Henry M. Goggerty, thirty-nine years old, of 229 East Thirty-fifth Street, and William Lawson, twenty-seven years old, ran through the fire with their clothing ablaze. Bessinger and the policeman threw them down and helped them to roll over on the sidewalk to put out the fire, and they then took shelter in a big patent medicine establishment across the street, from which they were removed to Bellevue Hospital. Both were burned about the head and well-high delirious with pain and terror, but neither was seriously injured.

The building is a four-story brownstone structure, and connects on the ground floor with the similar building 210 Fifth Avenue. The upper floors of both were vacant, except that John Whitaker, the caretaker, has furnished an apartment on the top floor of the house on the avenue. He was at home, with his wife and their young Italian servant, whom he knows as Flora, when the fire started. They tried to make their way down stairs, but so dense was the smoke that it drove them back to their room and to the windows. As they leaned out they saw a hook and ladder truck pull up before the door. The crowd in the street shouted to them not to jump, and Mr. Whitaker replied that they did not mean to.

In a few minutes the firemen broke into the room where they were and led them to the street, having opened the windows on the floors below, so as to let the smoke escape. They were lustily cheered as they appeared, until becoming tired of the attention they were receiving, they entered a cab and were driven to the Hotel St. Gothard, near by. The only other tenant of the two buildings was A. Mendelsohn, who recently opened the shop in the Fifth Avenue basement for the sale of paintings and curios, as a branch of his larger establishment. He was there with his clerks when the smoke rolled in.

Two alarms were sent in, and the streams from the engines froze as they reached the sidewalk.

The fire was practically out at 12:30, and at 2 o'clock Engine 14 received orders to stop throwing water into the wrecked Broadway front.

The police jumped the entire loss at $100,000, but this is probably excessive, as the building was very old fashioned. Mr. Mendelsohn said his loss would be about $2,500.

"The Last Meeting" was valued at $50,000 by its owners. It represented a dead man, supposed to have been dissipated, lying in his coffin, surrounded by the nude figures of former boon companions. It was of colossal size, and was the masterpiece of Giacomo Grosso, a young Italian artist.

W. P. Crary, head of a lamp company at 19 Warren Street, was the manager of the present exhibition. At his office yesterday it was said that the picture was owned by a company, in which a number of Italians were interested, and that the insurance upon it was only nominal. Crossed electric wires caused a small blaze in the gallery about a week ago, and the big fire is attributed to the same cause. The building in which the picture was shown was owned by Dean Hoffman.

LUNATIC AT Y. W. C. A. SALE.

Stranger Causes Excitement at Binghamton by Buying Entire Stock.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 17.—A lunatic at the "rummage sale" of the local Young Women's Christian Association Saturday night caused considerable excitement.

While the sale was proceeding a stranger walked in and surprised the women with an offer to purchase the entire stock outright. His bid of $44 was accepted, and the goods turned over. A man named Pethcal, who entered the room intending to make a purchase, was at once impressed as chief clerk in spite of his protestations. The proprietor, after instructing his unwilling employe to sell everything in sight for 5 cents, went out "to get a beer."

Pethcal called in the police, who later arrested the lunatic. He gave his name as Eugene Olmstead of Willow Point.

Court Fixes Duty on Glass Beads.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The United States Supreme Court to-day rendered decisions in the tariff cases of E. A. Morrison & Son and H. Wolf & Co., involving the classification of articles in imitation of precious stones. The goods were glass beads, and they were assessed by the port authorities at the rate of 60 per cent. as glass, whereas the importers contended that the duty should be 10 per cent., which is the rate of the duty on imitations of precious stones. The Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York decided in favor of the authorities, but the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed this finding. The opinion handed down to-day reversed that decision and affirmed the decision of the Circuit Court.

BOYS SWINDLE BROKERS

Pose as Messengers and Circulate Christmas Lists.

Other Methods by Which They Secure Money from Business Men in the Financial District.

The managers of the various telegraph companies which employ messengers in the financial district have announced their intention of taking active and stringent measures against the gang of what they call "grafters," who display much ingenuity in devising means to get money from the many banking and brokerage firms in that district.

The latest device of the swindlers is the Christmas lists, many of which have been circulating in the street for the past few days. In no case have the promoters of these schemes been the boys actually employed by the companies, but young men who were discharged for crooked practices, fortified with badges or cap pieces of the companies, have carried on their swindling operations.

The "grafters" make up a list with the usual Christmas and New Year's greetings and then head it with such names as J. P. Morgan, Henry Clews, John W. Gates, and other well-known men who are credited with gifts of $50 each, in order to induce the other bankers to subscribe. W. J. Knittle of the New York Quotation Telegraph Company, which is owned by the Stock Exchange, had two boys, Joseph Donelon and William Fairbrother, arrested several days ago. Their lists showed subscriptions of $112, of which $75 had been actually paid to the boys. In the police court they were discharged because the men whom they mulcted were too busy to appear against them.

Other lists in circulation and denounced as swindles are ostensibly for the boys employed by the Bankers and Brokers' Messenger Company, the American District, and the Postal Telegraph Company.

According to E. E. Stuart, President of the Brokers and Bankers' Messenger Company, the Christmas list is only one of the many ramifications of the grafting game that has been and is being carried on. The majority of the boys live or hang around that classic part of Brooklyn known as Smoky Hollow, where they have formed clubs with such euphonious titles as the "Skylark Club," the "X-Ray Club," the "Comet Club," and others. They gather in these organizations, and it is from them that emanate the various schemes for getting money without working for it.

Ever since the war tariff went into effect the boys have driven an enormous trade in revenue stamps used on stock slips. They have one of their number in a broker's office, who stands in, and messengers regularly employed by firms are also members of the gang. The stamps are taken off the slips, washed, and resold. Boys carrying these slips, which usually have attached to them stamps of the value of $2, are held up in the street or meet members of the gang in saloons or corridors of office buildings, where the stamps are removed and others substituted.

Another scheme is to engage a messenger for some brokerage house in conversation while they steal from him his checks or slips. One of the gang then runs around to the office for which these checks or slips were intended with the story that he found them in the street. A reward is usually the result.

Every once in a while members of the gang take around to the various offices tickets for raffles, entertainments, &c., for the relief of disabled messenger boys. These usually find a ready sale, being cheap. In every case these schemes have been swindles and the entertainments have not taken place.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

Major John M. Carson, Jr., Quartermaster United States Volunteers, will proceed from this city to Fort Bayard, New Mexico, on official business pertaining to the Quartermaster's Department.

Announcement is made of the retirement from active service Dec. 15 of Major Frank W. Hess, Third Artillery, by operation of law.

Capt. Solomon E. Sparrow, upon his own application, is detailed as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Kingston, Rhode Island.

Capt. Charles M. Auguer, Assistant Quartermaster United States Volunteers, having tendered his resignation, is honorably discharged, to take effect Jan. 11.

Capt. Harry L. Pettus, Assistant Quartermaster United States Volunteers, will proceed from Manila to San Francisco and report not later than Dec. 25 to the General Superintendent of the Army Transport service at that place for assignment to duty as Quartermaster and Acting Commissary of Subsistence on the transport Hancock, to relieve Capt. John J. Bradley, Assistant Quartermaster United States Volunteers, who, upon being thus relieved, will take temporary station at San Francisco.

Navy.

Lieut. Commander I. S. K. Reeves is detached from the Norfolk Navy Yard and ordered to the New York Navy Yard for duty in connection with the New York.

Lieut. N. E. Irwin is ordered to temporary duty in charge of the branch hydrographic office at Baltimore.

Movements of Government Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Admiral Remey, on his flagship, the Brooklyn, has sailed for Cavite from Iloilo, which had been his temporary headquarters for about a week.

The Alabama has arrived at Tompkinsville.

The Vicksburg has sailed from Port Said for Aden.

The Essex is at Hampton Roads.

The torpedo boats Porter and Ericsson have left Newport for the New York Yard.

The collier Alexander has left Cavite for Hongkong.

The gunboat Marietta arrived at Zamboanga yesterday, and the Villalobos at Cebu.

The training ship Hartford has left Puerto Cahello for La Guayra.

The Mayflower has sailed from San Juan for Port Jobos.

The Collien Caesar has left Aden for Port Said.

The Buffalo sailed to-day from Tompkinsville for the Delaware Breakwater.

The transport Sheridan arrived at Manila Dec. 15, and the Sherman sailed the same day for San Francisco.

The Kentucky has sailed from Smyrna on her way to Manila.

Army and Navy Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate: Army—Lieut. Col. John G. Clague, Assistant Commissary General, to be Assistant Commissary General, with rank of Colonel.

Major William L. Alexander, Commissary, to be Assistant Commisssry Geheral, with rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Capt. George B. Davis, Commissary, to be Commissary, with rank of Major.

First Sergt. Ralph W. Jones, Company H, Forty-fourth United States Volunteer Infantry, to be Second Lieutenant.

Navy—Passed Assistant Surgeon George H. Barber to be Surgeon.

Samuel Sayre Rodman of Kentucky to be Assistant Surgeon.

John Mosley Brister of Pennsylvania to be Assistant Surgeon.

Major Prime's Will Probated.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Dec. 17.—The holograph will of Frederick E. Prime of Huntington has been admitted to probate in the Suffolk County Surrogate's Court. The will was drawn on April 7, 1896, when the testator was a Major of the Engineer Corps, and was stationed at New York. He bequeathed his entire estate, consisting of $30,000 real property and $115,000 personal property to his father, Rufus Prime. As the latter has died, however, Templar Prime, a brother, and Miss Cornelia Prime of Huntington, a sister, inherit the estate.

Diphtheria in Patchogue.

P

Solid Silver

Exclusively.

TRADE MARK STERLING

WHITING M'F'G CO.
Silversmiths,
Broadway & 18th St.
New York.

SUGGESTIONS.

I. We manufacture solid silver only, and of but one grade, that of Sterling 925-1000 fine, therefore the above trade-mark is a guarantee of quality as absolute as the Hall Mark of England.

II. Purchasers secure an entire freedom from false impressions to which they are liable where solid silver and plated ware are made in the same factory.

III. The question, "Is it silver, or is it plated?" is never raised concerning a gift bearing this trade-mark, as all wares so marked are solid silver and solid silver only.

OPEN EVENINGS
UNTIL CHRISTMAS.

WE HAVE REDUCED OUR $25.00 Solid 14-Karat Gold LADIES' WALTHAM WATCHES to $15.

GENTLEMEN'S SIZE.
$25.

Our $45.00 Diamond Rings Reduced to $25.

"All Styles."

You will never have this chance again.
Solid Gold Jewelry at Factory Prices.
Watch Chains, etc.

$8.00 OPERA GLASSES $3

KEENE'S WATCH STORE,
140 Fulton St., New York.
OPEN EVENINGS THIS WEEK
UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK.

RETIRING
FROM THE
CHINA BUSINESS

WE OFFER OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF
Porcelain, China, Faience, Parian, Bisque, French Bronze Cabinets and Enamels,
20% to 30% BELOW
WHOLESALE PRICES.

LE BOUTILLIER & CO.,
18 East 17th Street, near Broadway.

Artistic Creations

of every description for house-furnishing and decorating. Our Furniture, Rugs, Antiques, Metal Work and products of Favrile Glass are universally recognized for their merit.

TIFFANY STUDIOS
333 TO 341 FOURTH AVENUE
(Bet. 24th and 25th Sts.) New York.

Those seeking Christmas Gifts bearing undoubted evidence of beauty and merit, and at a fair price, will find much to interest them at our studios.

Holiday Gifts

Household Art Goods.
Mantels, Tiles, Open Fireplaces.
We offer an elegant and varied assortment of Useful Holiday Gifts
at manufactorers' prices.
ANDIRONS, FENDERS, FIRE SETS,
of all styles, in BRASS and IRON.
Brass Wood Holders, Bellows and Brushes. In fact, everything for the Chimney piece.
WM. N. JACKSON COMPANY.
UNION SQUARE (North),
29 E. 17th Street.

Useful Presents.

CROUCH & FITZGERALD
161 BROADWAY.
688 BROADWAY.
723 SIXTH AVENUE
Trunks, Bags, Suit Cases

ENTONA CURES
Constipation and Hemorrhoids
At all druggists, 50c. a box or sent on receipt of price.
Write a postal to-day for FREE SAMPLES
The Entona Co., Dept. T., 61 Fifth Ave. N.Y.

LIBRARY AND EASY CHAIRS. GREAT VARIETIES. TABLES
CHAS. E. MATTHEWS, 275 Canal St., nr. B'way.

MORE INDIANA LYNCH LAW

Third Negro of Gang Which Killed a Barber Hanged by Mob.

Confessed That He Struck First Blow—Militia Ordered Out by the Governor Arrives Too Late.

BOONEVILLE, Ind., Dec. 17.—John Rolla, the third of the colored men implicated in the murder of Hollie Simons, the Rockport barber who was robbed before being killed, was hanged to a tree in the Court House yard by a mob of about 100 men from Rockport this evening. Two of his companions were lynched at Rockport last night for the same crime. Not a shot was fired, and everything was conducted as quietly as if the execution had been one under the sanction of the law.

Rolla was brought to this place this afternoon about 3 o'clock in charge of Sheriff Anderson of Rockport. Upon his arrival he was placed in a cell on the second floor of the jail and his presence was known only to a few citizens.

A few minutes after 6 o'clock a body of 100 men marched through the principal street to the jail and demanded that the prisoner be turned over to it. Deputy Sheriff Raymond Cherry was in charge of the jail. He declined to give up the keys and the mob at once began to batter in the wall of the jail with a telegraph pole.

Six members of the mob crawled through the hole, and with sledgehammers broke down the door of Rolla's cell, and soon the thoroughly terrified negro was in the hands of the men, who placed a rope around his neck. All left, again crawling through the hole by which they had entered, dragging the negro after them.

A few minutes were consumed in the march to the court-yard, the rope was thrown over the limb of a tree, and a hundred hands sent Rolla's body flying into the air. The loose end of the rope was tied to a tree, and as soon as the mob was sure that its work had been completed it left in as orderly a manner as it had entered the town.

None of the mob wore masks, and men apparently from every station in life took part in the lynching.

Rolla was implicated by Rowland, one of the negroes lynched last night at Rockport, but denied his guilt. He told conflicting stories, and it was learned that he was away from the Verandah Hotel, where he worked, about the time Simons was murdered. Confronted with this evidence, Rolla weakened and confessed his share in the crime, admitting that he struck the first blow and that the other two negroes helped him to kill Simons.

The militia from Evansville, ordered out by Gov. Mount, arrived at Booneville fifteen minutes too late, and the dead body of Rolla met their gaze as they marched into town.

The citizens of Rockport held a meeting to-night and formed an organization for the purpose of maintaining law and order and assisting the officers in the prosecution of criminals.

It was also resolved to make an effort to take municipal affairs out of politics. While the lynching was only incidentally discussed, the general sentiment of the community upholds the action of the mob in taking affairs in their own hands. There is no purpose to prosecute any one concerned in the mob.

NEGRO'S UNEASY CONSCIENCE.

Forges Check in an Unguarded Moment and Then Surrenders.

I. F. Wright, a negro of Matawan, N. J., was troubled by his conscience last night and determined to expiate his sins. He stopped a policeman at Sixth Avenue and Thirty-second Street, and asked to be arrested.

"Boss," he said, "ma conscience is troublin' me. Ah's forged a check fo' $35, an 'Ah wants to be 'rested."

The policeman took him to the West Thirtieth Street Station. There he explained that he had worked for one Gaston in New Jersey. Seeing a check on a desk he signed Mr. Gaston's name to it and gave it to a man to whom he owed money. He was seized with remorse before the check had time to reach the bank. He was locked up.

AMERICAN MONTE CARLO OPENS.

Clubhouse, Race Track, and Other Attractions at Chesapeake Beach, Which Governs Itself.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 17.—A resort which is intended to be an American Monte Carlo was opened to-day at Chesapeake Beach, a beautiful bluff on the Chesapeake Bay, in Calvert County, Md.

The sporting element of Washington and Baltimore is largely interested in the place, and large sums of money have been spent to make it attractive. A fine mile racetrack has been constructed, a hotel and clubhouse costing $100,000 built, and many other attractions provided. It is intended as a Winter resort for sporting men, where they may not only enjoy the allurements of the racetrack, but almost any other game. Safe anchorage for visiting yachts is also being prepared.

The new law incorporating the town of Chesapeake Beach is sweeping in its provisions. It begins by creating "the inhabitants of Chesapeake Beach, Md.," into a corporation "under the name and style of the Commissioners of Chesapeake Beach," which is given the usual powers of a town corporation. The charter practically lifts the beach out of the State of Maryland's control and turns it over to the Commissioners of Chesapeake Beach, who are to be elected by the residents of the place. The Commissioners, which, of course, means the company, regulate all licenses. The President of the Board of Commissioners is to have all the jurisdiction and powers of a Justice of the Peace except as to the recovery of debts.

The Commissioners may maintain an almshouse and compel the inmates to work for their support, may regulate market houses, suppress disorderly meetings, and make general police regulations. The sale of liquors is to be controlled by the company. The Commissioners, upon application of the Chesapeake Beach Hotel Company, shall issue to the company, or to the person designated by it, as many licenses to sell liquor as may be required. The clerk of the court for Calvert County has no option, but to issue the number of licenses designated upon certificate from the Commissioners, each license costing $250 a year.

The roulette and faro rooms in the clubhouse are gorgeous apartments. Red and gold and again green and silver are the colors predominating.

The race track is the property of the New Maryland Jockey Club, with John D. Allen of Philadelphia President and E. B. Waugh Secretary. The races will begin Jan. 1. No sanction has been granted by the American Jockey Club for the races at the beach, and horses and their owners running there will be outlawed. A request was made upon the club to set aside its rule against Winter racing in this latitude and grant a sanction, but it was denied. Then Mr. Allen took another tack—that the horses be outlawed, but not the owners. Mr. Allen has no idea that his new scheme will be accepted, and is preparing to go ahead on an independent basis.

TRAIN TRAFFIC DELAYED.

which were tanks filled with Pintsch gas in the Forty-second Street railroad yard yesterday afternoon when another engine hit the rear car, knocked tank and car over on the track, and damaged the engine. The accident delayed traffic till after 11 o'clock at night.

The Pan-American Express and the Chicago Express were delayed, and the trains on all schedules, including the express time, were stopped for from one to three hours.

Roland Reed Passes the Crisis.

It was said at St. Luke's Hospital early this morning that Roland Reed had passed the crisis of his illness and was now on the road to recovery.

Lieut. Hobson Much Better.

At the Presbyterian Hospital last night it was said that Lieut. Hobson had passed a comfortable day and was better than he had been at any time since admitted to the hospital.

William Faversham Improving.

Dr. John A. Burke said last night that William Faversham, the actor, was steadily improving, but that he was not yet out of danger.

Three New Smallpox Cases.

The Board of Health physicians yesterday discovered three new cases of smallpox. The victims are Edward Doyle, one and a half years, of 317 West Sixty-seventh Street; William Brennan, forty-three years old, of 392 West Sixty-ninth Street, and Evelyn Evans, twenty-four years old, of 258 West Twenty-fifth Street.

STECK

THE OLD RELIABLE.

PIANOS GUARANTEED BY ALMOST HALF A CENTURY OF SUCCESS AND ALWAYS CONCEDED TO BE ALL THAT AN ARTISTIC, HIGH-GRADE PIANO SHOULD BE BY THOSE WHO KNOW.

Several odd styles are offered at reduction from regular prices.

WAREROOMS, No. 11 East 14th St.

CLAIMANTS ASK MILLIONS

Money's Cotton Claim Bill for $10,000,000 but One of Many.

Seventy-seven Others Pending—Senator Says No Combination Exists to Raid the Treasury.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Senator Money's (Dem., Miss.,) intimation, on Friday last, to the Senate, that his cotton claim bill would have to be considered before the session is over, or something might happen, was not meant, according to the Senator's statement to-day, to be understood as a menace. But it had been so taken by leading members of the Senate and the House, with the result that attention was directed to the vast aggregate of pending and threatening claims.

The cotton claim bill, according to the report that supports it, calls for the disbursement of more than ten millions of dollars, and an omnibus bill waiting on a siding, having received the sanction of Senator Teller, (Sil., Col.,) would take $5,600,000 out of the Treasury. This is accounting for only two out of seventy-eight private-claim bills placed on the Senate calendar with the approval of the Committee on Claims of that body.

Mr. Money occupied a little of the time of the Senate this morning to speak to a question of personal privilege, to which he was provoked by publication of some reports about the Cotton Claim bill. He disavowed knowledge of any Senatorial combination to force the bill through, and objected to the overstatement of the amount involved, saying that there is only $4,992,000 in the Treasury to meet demands upon the fund.

Mr. Spooner (Rep., Wis.,) drew from Senator Stewart, (Rep., Nev.,) a member of the Committee on Claims, the admission that there is a rule or habit in that committee of permitting reports to be made on bills that have been reported favorably before. It is not considered necessary to make new investigations of subjects once favorably reported upon. The practice has continued, according to Mr. Stewart, for thirty years.

It came out during the debate that Mr. Tillman (Dem., S. C.,) had been told by Mr. Teller to put a claim in which he was interested on an omnibus bill that was to carry a number of claims favorably reported upon. The cotton fund, according to Mr. Stewart, was one held in trust by the Treasury to be distributed to the proper persons when they could be found.

The report of the Senate Committee on Claims, putting the Cotton Claim bill on the calendar in a preferred position, states in one of the many old reports that are reaffirmed that the fund in the Treasury awaiting disbursement to those who seek it is $10,512,007. Originally the fund reached $31,722,000, but $20,900,000 were covered into the Treasury in 1872. About $9,800,000 was paid to claimants and on judgments of the Court of Claims rendered in 1883 and in small amounts since.

The old payments from this captured and abandoned property fund were paid to loyal persons who had been deprived of their property without compensation. The bill now pressed permits the benefits of the bill and the distribution of the fund to claimants regardless of any statute of limitations or the loyalty or disloyalty of the claimant. It will admit to the consideration of the Court of Claims, for a short time, all claims which have been rejected or dismissed by the court. But it is distinctly provided that the decision of the Court of Claims is not to create any liability on the part of the United States, the getting of the money being left to be accomplished after the disposition of the court is ascertained.

Claimants who can trace their property into the Treasury are to get the full amount of it, and the balance is to be divided among those claimants who cannot identify their share in the Treasury.

It is possible, by making up bunches of claims into omnibus bills, to produce measures well-nigh superior to rules and presiding officers. The advocate of a claim in the Senate can very seriously interfere with business if he sets out to prefer his pet measure to everything of a public nature. When forty-five Senators can be interested in a big claim bill, they can hold up the Government indefinitely. Public opinion might discourage, but it would not necessarily defeat them.

The presiding officers of both houses are oppressed by these adventurous measures, back of which there are few or no real original claimants, but only the speculators who have secured the claims in a market constantly supplied through the distress of those who were original owners of the claims or heirs of the original owners. It is believed that no original claimant, so to speak, for the claims made in this bill now under discussion can be found, for the disloyal contributors to the captured and abandoned property fund never expected to recover from the Government.

CHAPLAIN JOHNSON'S ABSENCE.

The Archdeacon Says Son's Trouble Is Due to Overwork.

Archdeacon George R. Johnson of New Brighton, S. I., said last night he could not say where his son, Chaplain James L. Baron Johnson of the New York Fire Department, is at the present time. The last Archdeacon Johnson heard of his son was two weeks ago, when one of the members of the family received a letter from him. He was then in the sanitarium at Watkins. In the letter the son said his health was improving.

Archdeacon Johnson said he believed his son's mental and physical troubles were due to overwork. The young man had had a mania for going to fires all his life. Fires and Fire Department matters had been a fad with him and he was also a man who, when he had duties to perform, would not rest until they were performed.

So far as the Archdeacon knew, there had been no trouble between his son and his wife, except that the wife had remonstrated against her husband going to fires at all hours of the night. His son had not visited the home on Staten Island since last Spring. He had, however, visited the family when it was in the mountains during the Summer a short time before he went to the sanitarium.

The Archdeacon said he did not believe there was any justification for the connecting of his son's name with the disappearance of any other person, and he did not believe the departure of a nurse from a New York hospital was in any way connected with the absence of his son.

The Hungarian Peasants' Ball.

The Hungarian Literary Society had a stormy meeting last night at 253 Second Street over the arrangements for the Hungarian peasants' ball and watch meeting to be held New Year's eve, at the Grand Central Palace. Sigmund Neustadt presided, and had his hands full keeping the younger faction from forcibly overvoting the older members of the society. The younger members advocated liberality of costume and games of mimic marriage and divorce. The older members insisted that the Hungarian laws of 100 years ago should be considered. After a vote the younger members won. The proceeds of the ball will go to swell the charity fund of the society for the benefit of widows and orphans.

Ehrich Bros. Ehrich Bros.

Restaurant open evenings while the store remains open.

Christmas Buying and Economy

Go Hand in Hand in the Ehrich Stores.

Restaurant open evenings while the store remains open.

Santa Claus and Toy Land—Fourth Floor. Store Open Every Evening Until Christmas.

Misses' and Children's Coats

Selling Here at Half and a Third.

Entire Stocks of New York's Two Largest Manufacturers.

Gustave Blum & Bros., 84 and 86 Greene St., N. Y. City.

Bauman & Sperling, 832 and 834 Broadway, N. Y. City.

New York Never Before Saw Such Selling.

These values crowded the misses' store all day long Saturday and until 10 o'clock in the evening. We had extra floor space, extra salespeople and extra cashiers to facilitate selling. Yet withal we must apologize for not planning broadly enough. There were little waits and inconveniences that we greatly dislike. Frankly, you overwhelmed us. We're better prepared now. Each new success leads to greater perfection in merchandising. Following unequalled offers in plenty for to-morrow:

1.95 FOR GIRLS' $5.00 REEFERS AND BOX COATS, fine materials, elegant styles, sizes 4 to 14 years.

2.95 FOR GIRLS' $6.00 AND $7.50 REEFERS AND BOX COATS, choice kersey and melton cloth, pretty fall colorings, richly tailored, sizes 4 to 14 years.

3.95 FOR $8.50 to $10.00 BOX COATS AND REEFERS, handsomely braided and fur trimmed, fine materials, sizes 4 to 14 years.

4.95 FOR HANDSOME $12.50 REEFERS AND BOX COATS, richly lined, plain tailored and fancy trimmed, sizes 4 to 14 years.

7.50 FOR GIRLS' REEFERS AND BOX COATS worth up to $20.00, very handsomely made and trimmed, some appliqued, others braided, sizes 4 to 14 years.

Girls' Three-Quarter Coats and Automobiles.

Sizes 6 to 14 years.

5.95 FOR $12.00 STYLISH THREE-QUARTER COATS, made of very fine kersey, full satin lined, richly tailored.

7.50 FOR $16.75 STYLISH THREE-QUARTER COATS, handsomely lined, made of finest imported kersey, in castor, red, blue and brown.

9.50 FOR $20.00 AND $22.50 THREE-QUARTER COATS AND AUTOMOBILES, fine kersey, richly lined in satin, new winter shades.

Misses' Fitted Jackets.

1.95 FOR MISSES' $6.50 FITTED JACKETS, stylish effects, choice materials, elegantly tailored, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

2.95 FOR $7.50 STYLISH JACKETS, richly tailored, fine materials, in black and new winter shades, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

3.95 FOR MISSES' $8.75 JACKETS, fine kersey and cheviots, notch and storm collar, finest tailoring, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

4.95 FOR $10.00 and $12.00 JACKETS, finest kersey cloth, in tan, castor, blue, black, handsomely lined, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

7.50 FOR $15.00 AND $16.50 MISSES' JACKETS, made of choice materials, newest winter shades, richly lined, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

Misses' London Box Coats and Automobiles.

7.50 FOR $15.00 SWELL BOX COATS, made of fine kersey cloth, in tan, castor, blue and black, full lined, sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

9.50 FOR MISSES' $20.00 HANDSOME BOX COATS AND PALETOTS, swell styles, finest materials, full silk lined, elegantly tailored, sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years.

5.75 FOR MISSES' $12.50 BOX COATS AND PALETOTS, finest kersey and cheviots, some Oxford gray, handsomely tailored, sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years.

6th Ave. and 23rd Street. 6th Ave. and 23rd St.

THIEVES IN ST. PATRICK'S

Purses Stolen While Their Owners Were at Confession.

Policeman Believes That Women, and Even Little Girls, Are Among the Culprits.

The devotional fervor and the temporary renunciation of objects of dross by the feminine worshippers at St. Patrick's Cathedral have lately developed a new species of thief. As yet he has confined himself to the cathedral.

There are two days upon which the general public is given access to the confessional boxes that line the southern wall—Fridays and Saturdays. Upon these days the larger number of the penitents are women. It is their custom upon these occasions to lay whatever they may have in their hands in some one of the pews. As women carry their purses in their hands, frequently the purse is laid down with the packages. As the cathedral is open from early morning until 10 P. M., a considerable number of persons, some of whom are determined to lay up earthly treasure, pass through the edifice.

One young woman, who wouldn't tell her name, paid, she said, just $11 for yielding to a good impulse.

"I had been shopping and was on my way home," she said, "when I remembered that it was confessional day. When I went in I laid some small packages down, and still with my purse in my hand, started for the confessional.

"I was half way there when the worldliness of going to lay bare my heart with money in my hand struck me.

"What would the father think of me if he noticed, I thought. So, back I went and laid the purse down with the other things. It was gone when I came from confession. But in its place lay an old purse, entirely empty."

Besides coming to use the confessional boxes the communicants regularly visit the well of holy water, which is also in the church's southern part. The parishioners are accustomed to have the holy water always in their homes. When they draw it naturally they lay their effects aside and frequently purses and packages are missing.

Special Policeman Rutledge recently found one purse with a number of small religious images intact. But its owner subsequently said that a sum of money had been taken.

Rutledge, who has been detailed to the cathedral for a number of years, thinks that not all of the cathedral thieves are men.

"Women and little girls," said he, "are among those taking advantage of the habit of laying aside purses. I have come to think that somewhere in New York a school exists for the training of young girls as expert pickpockets, and that the first course in their schooling is given here in the cathedral."

NEXT G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Denver Rejected as Place of Meeting, but Decision Will Be Fought.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 17.—The Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic had a special meeting to-day to decide upon a place for the next National Encampment, which will be held Sept. 10, 1901. The cities desirous of securing the encampment are Denver, Washington, Cleveland, and Pittsburg.

While no place was definitely chosen, the claims of Denver were rejected by a vote of eight to one. This does not settle the matter, for Denver's representatives say that they will fight the decision when the committee meets again Jan. 21 to make its final selection.

It was voted last Summer to accept Denver as the site provided that city would secure railroad rates of 1 cent a mile. This was the point on which the committee and the Denver representatives disagreed, the latter claiming that the rate is practically assured, while the committee refuse to accept the evidence.

SHOT WHILE STEALING.

Detective Seriously Wounds Negro Caught in a Store—Walked to the Station House.

Henry Johnson's attempt to rob the store of M. E. Fajus & W. B. Pahelram, importers of East India goods, at 15 East Seventeenth Street, will probably result in his losing his life. A private detective shot him in the head and stomach while he was trying to make his escape in the elevator.

There have been a number of attempts at robbery in this store, and as a safeguard the proprietors secured Charles Fromur, a private agency detective, to watch in the building at night. He has, he says, frightened away a burglar or two every night during the week that he has guarded the store, but it was not until last night that he had a really lively experience.

With the elevator man, who also spent the night in the building, the detective had gone to the third floor, when a noise from the basement was heard. The men listened. Then a buzzing sound from the elevator shaft told them that the burglar had disdained to climb the stairs and was riding up comfortably. The elevator stopped at the third floor, and the burglar entered the loft where the two watchers had concealed themselves. He tried the lights and then began to help himself to some rich silks, when Fromm cried:

"Stand, or I'll shoot."

The burglar, a negro, did not take the man at his word, but ran to the elevator. Fromm ran after him and caught him by the coat tails. Then the negro started the elevator on its downward journey, and it threatened to saw off the detective's arm, as he refused to let go the coat. Fromm then discharged his revolver twice at the negro, and the elevator man, gaining courage at the sound of his companion's shots, ran out and stopped the elevator.

Johnson exclaimed: "God, you shot me right through my stomach."

Fromm asked the man if he wanted to go to the hospital; he replied that he wanted to go to the West Twentieth Street Station. Fromm and his prisoner walked to the station, a distance of about one mile. There Johnson talked for several minutes and then became unconscious. He was then removed to the New York Hospital. Dr. Youman said he was in a critical condition.

To the police he gave his name as Henry Johnson and his address as 235 West Forty-fifth Street. It is believed he had accomplices.

Fromm, whose arm was badly cut by the elevator, was locked up by the police.

SMASHED WINDOW FOR FOOD.

Carl Hanson, a shoemaker, spent his last cent for food Saturday morning. He continued as he had been doing, to tramp the city for work, but got none. He threw a brick at a window to get arrested, but was not held in court, and he threw another through a $40 window last night in Harlem, was arrested again, and then got the first bite he had had to eat since Saturday.

Hanson is forty-eight. He came from Baltimore. He had a few dollars on arriving, but spent it in room rent and board while looking for work. Saturday evening he asked a Chatham Square baker for some bread, but was refused. Then he flung a brick at a pawnbroker's window, was arrested, and on being arraigned in Centre Street Court, was discharged, the window not having been broken and the owner refusing to prosecute. The man told his story to police and court, but he did not get any food. Last night he threw a brick at the window of Bernard Frumke's cigar store, at 2,117 Third Avenue, and took good care to smash it.

CASES OF SKIN GRAFTING.

Dr. Blackmar of Harlem Hospital yesterday, assisted by Drs. Mooney, Levy, and Bivings of the hospital staff, grafted a piece of skin 5 by 3 inches on the forearm of James Gaughan, twelve years old, who was admitted to the hospital on Oct. 12. The boy on that date was severely injured by a heavy iron girder which fell on his arm, badly lacerating it. The injury refused to heal, and yesterday a piece of skin was taken from the boy's leg and placed on the injured arm.

Dr. Haynes, one of the visiting physicians at the same hospital, earlier in the day grafted a piece of skin on the right arm and chest of Ellen Campbell, a child of three years, who on Nov. 14 was severely burned while playing about a bonfire. The skin was removed from the little girl's thigh.

DEMOCRACY'S FUTURE POLICY.

Will Be Bryan's Subject at Jacksonian Banquet in Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 17.—W. J. Bryan, who will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the Jacksonian Club to be given Jan. 7, has announced that he will on this occasion talk about the future policy of the Democratic Party.

As this will be the first public declaration since the election of the late Presidential candidate's ideas on the future policy of the party, the speech will be one of National interest. The other speakers on the programme, which has been completed, will be Gov. Beckham of Kentucky and J. Hamilton Lewis of Washington.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF-ASTORIA—Charles Weingart, Mannheim; Calderon Carlisle, Washington; A. D. Provand, London; Sir Anthony Thornhill, England; Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Canada; B. A. Scott, Quebec; Wilfrid Randolph Boudneau, Ottawa; L. Victor Baughman, Baltimore.

CAMBRIDGE—Count and Countess Cassini, of the Russian Embassy, Washington.

HOLLAND—L. P. Waldo Marvin, Hartford; Judge D. Cady Herrick, Albany; J. R. Arrias, Amsterdam, Holland.

MURRAY HILL—Judge Nathaniel Shipman, Hartford; C. T. Saxton, Clyde, N. Y.; James H. Manning, Albany; C. H. Dutton, Chester, England; J. Sursfeld, Paris.

IMPERIAL—G. Katsuda, Japan; E. V. Young, London.

GRAND—Judge Burr Nattice, Oneonta.

FIFTH AVENUE—The Rev. J. Addison Henry, Philadelphia; H. E. Wilson, London; ex-Senator A. P. Gorman, Maryland; Judge J. P. Parkhurst, Bath, N. Y.; Thomas W. Cridler, Washington.

NETHERLAND—W. E. Seddon, Baltimore; A. M. Matheson, Pittsburg.

SAVOY—Duke of Newcastle, England; A. F. Whitin, Whitinsville, Mass.

BUCKINGHAM—Gov. F. W. Rollins, Massachusetts; John R. McArthur, Washington.

MANHATTAN—W. L. Parker, Boston; A. N. Shaw, Baltimore; J. S. Colton-Fox, England.

HOFFMAN—Ex-Congressman George N. Southwick, Albany; Judge W. J. Wallace, Albany; W. H. Harvey, London.

ASTOR—Robert Nixon, Liverpool; R. C. Clark, Mexico; A. L. Bagnall, Yokohama, Japan.

Brief Railroad Items.

Aldace F. Walker, Chairman of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Board of Directors, returned from a Western trip, during which he attended the annual meeting of the road's stockholders. He says that traffic is very heavy, fruit shipments from Southern California especially having broken all records.

The Metropolitan Street Railway Company has taken possession of the compressed air plant and motor system operated heretofore by the Compressed Air Company for the use of the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Streets Crosstown line.

Experiments with air motors sufficiently powerful to draw heavy trains are now proving satisfactory enough to warrant officials of the New York Central to seriously consider their adoption for local traffic.

A slight delay in the arrivals of trains at the Grand Central Station was caused early yesterday morning by the inability of an incoming train to make the flying switch. By 9:30 o'clock everything was again running smoothly.

The cold weather caused delays of various fast express trains from Western points, because of the great demand for steam wherewith to heat the cars which was made on the locomotives.

Rates are reported as being fairly well maintained in most of the territory of the lines belonging to the Presidents' Conference. Even in Kansas City, where most of the cutting on east-bound business has been done, freight agents are said to be refusing business at less than traffic rates to be moved after Jan. 1, 1901. This is supposed to be the first result of the Advisory Committee to the Western Presidents' Conference with power to punish rate offenders.

There was a large increase in east-bound shipments of grain last week, 1,414,000 bushels being carried out of Chicago by the railroads, as against 939,000 bushels for the previous week. Of this amount, the Erie, as usual, secured the largest individual share, carrying 393,000 bushels, while the combined Vanderbilt lines carried 513,000 bushels, the Grand Trunk 186,000, and the Pennsylvania lines 121,000 bushels. There was also an increase in flour shipments, which amounted to 83,960 barrels, as against 75,654 barrels for the previous week. Of these shipments the Vanderbilt lines carried 43,595 barrels, or nearly one-half of the total. Shippings of packinghouse products showed a decline, only 18,667 tons being carried, as against 22,678 tons for the previous week.

PRIMA DONNA WOULDN'T SING.

Mme. Schumann-Heinck Got to Rochester Late and Refused to Fill Engagement.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 17.—Mme. Schumann-Heinck was to have given a recital here last night, and a couple of thousand people gathered in the Baker Theatre to hear her. To their astonishment, an employe of the theatre came forward and stated that the artiste had refused to sing. The house cleared as if by magic, and many expressions of disappointment were heard.

Mme. Schumann-Heinck sang on Saturday night at Milwaukee, and the Maurice Grau Opera Company journeyed east in a special train. The train was delayed between Detroit and Buffalo, and arrived in Rochester five minutes after the time advertised for the concert to begin. The prima donna protested that she was physically unable to sing. If it had been opera, she said, she would have made the attempt, but she required at least an hour's rest before undertaking the arduous task of a recital.

"Why did you not come by a fast train?" was asked.

"Ask Grau," was the answer, and the musicale managers mean to do so without delay, for they have lost $400 and disappointed all their friends. Edgar Strakosch, Mr. Grau's representative, said he had been all the afternoon trying to induce Mme. Schumann-Heinck to sing. This, however, she denied.

The musicale people say that it was Mr. Grau's duty to see that Mme. Schumann-Heinck got to Rochester in time to fulfill her engagement, and that they will look to him for compensation for breach of contract.

STRIKE ON TUNNEL WORK.

Contractor Says He Was Ordered to Employ Only Union Men.

According to a statement made by H. B. Seamans, Superintendent for Holbrouck, Cabot and Daly, sub-contractors for Section 3 of the Rapid Transit Tunnel, in Yorkville Court yesterday afternoon, walking delegates representing certain unions are interfering with workmen employed on the tunnel. He declared that on Dec. 6 Walking Delegate Parks of the Ironworkers' Union called upon him and ordered the discharge of all non-union men. Superintendent Seamans refused to accede to the request and immediately all the union men quit work. They were at once replaced and the work proceeded as usual.

Five days later, on Dec. 11, a small-sized riot took place on Fourth Avenue, near Nineteenth Street, and still later, last Saturday, there was considerable trouble on Fourth Avenue, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth Streets. Policeman Saunders of the East Twenty-second Street Station had been detailed to keep watch and learn if possible who made the trouble. He was standing on the southwest corner of Nineteenth Street and Fourth Avenue, when he saw Michael McMahon of 518 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street, a workman, knocked down by Charles Grady of 39 Vandewater Street. The policeman interfered and was immediately set upon by William Davis, who says he comes from Chicago.

With assistance, Grady and Davis were arrested, and yesterday were arraigned in court. After hearing the testimony, Magistrate Hogan reserved his decision. Davis claims that he is not affiliated with any union, and that he was only a looker-on.

An Ambulance Makes Quick Time.

Fred Kronawitz, in some way fell from the roof of his residence at 100 East Eighth Street yesterday afternoon, landing squarely on his head on the sidewalk. The building is four stories high. Kronawitz's skull was crushed in. An ambulance from Bellevue Hospital was summoned, and Dr. Mourning responded. The ambulance driver urged his horse to its utmost and beat all records in getting to the hospital. The boy was alive when he was borne into the operating room twenty-four minutes after he had fallen, but died last night.

Philippine Volunteers Coming Home.

MANILA, Dec. 18.—The homeward movement of the volunteers will begin on New Year's Day with the embarkation of the Thirty-seventh Volunteer Regiment. The Eleventh Cavalry will follow.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST LAWYER ON THE STAND

Mr. De Lano Cross-Examined in the Brush Will Case.

Tells How He Drew the Testament on Instructions from Mrs. Stetson—How a Citation Was Waived.

George W. De Lano, the lawyer and Trustee of the First Church of Christ, Scientiat, was placed under cross-examination yesterday in the contest over the will of Helen C. Brush, in which she left the residue of her estate, over $50,000, to the church. Her brother, who is contesting the will, alleges undue influence on the part of members of the church in inducing his sister to make the will. Mr. De Lano not only drew the will, but with Mrs. Holden, a "healer" of the church, acted as a witness. His direct examination was completed before Surrogate Fitzgerald on Friday last, and yesterday John M. Bowers, for the contestants, took a turn at questioning him.

Mr. De Lano first explained the two wills he had drawn for Miss Brush. He said that on May 22 last Mrs. Stetson, the first reader of the church, called on him and gave him memoranda as to how Miss Brush's will should be drawn. The will was executed, but it left nothing to Mary Hall Brush, the testator's sister, so on May 24 a new will was drawn, and this was also witnessed by Mr. De Lano and Mrs. Holden. At the same time the fact was brought out that Miss Brush had executed a will in 1889, about five years before she began to believe in Christian Science.

Mr. De Lano was asked how he happened to get possession of the will of 1889, and said that Miss Brush had written him to go to her former lawyers and get the will. He did so, and took it up to her on May 23, when she tore off the page on which her signature was placed. He put the balance of the will in his pocket, and took it down to his office the next day, when, after reading it, he tore it up.

"How long have you been a Christian Scientist?" he was asked.

"Twelve years."

"How long have you been a Trustee of the church?"

"Nine years."

"Matters in relation to raising funds for the church come before the Board of Trustees?"

"Yes, decidedly."

"Such matters are entirely within the province of the board?"

"Yes."

"You were considering the proposition of building a new church edifice about the time Miss Brush's will was drawn?"

"Yes."

"You were anxious to raise funds?"

"Yes."

"How frequently had you seen Miss Brush before her death?"

"Four or five times a week at the church."

"How frequently have you heard her speak in public?"

"Five or six times."

"You never called on her before you drew her will?"

"No."

"How long before making this will did you discover that Miss Brush was ill?"

"I don't remember dates. I noticed that her voice was weak for some time."

Mr. Bowers then examined the witness as to when he had first made the contents of the will public. Mr. De Lano, after mixing up his dates very badly, finally decided that, as Miss Brush died on July 7 last, it was on July 9 that he had spoken to her sister, Mrs. Southard, and told her that she was executrix under the will; and that on July 11 he met Mrs. Southard, Mrs. Findlay, and Mary Hall Brush in the apartments of the testator, at the Hotel Beresford, and read the will to them.

"Did you not then and there request the ladies to sign a waiver of citation, so as to allow the will to be admitted to probate at once?"

"I did not."

"Are you sure you did not?"

"I asked them if they were willing to sign. I did not request them to do so."

"I don't see the difference," commented Mr. Bowers. "By the way, was there any lawyer or friend present with them when you asked them to waive citation?"

"No; they were alone with me."

"Do you consider that it was a proper professional act on your part to ask the ladies to consent to the probate without their first consulting counsel?"

"I think it was proper."

"Did you ever do any business directly or indirectly for Miss Brush before you drew her will?"

"Never."

"You say that on the morning of May 22 Mrs. Stetson, the first reader of your church, brought you instructions as to how Miss Brush's will should be drawn?"

"Yes; about 11 o'clock in the morning."

"How long did she remain at your office?"

"Long enough for me to take notes as to how the will should be drawn."

"You remember destroying the will of 1889?"

"Yes."

"How about the legacies in that will?"

"Mrs. Southard received $8,000, and the brother and two other sisters $2,500 each. There were twenty-five or thirty small bequests."

"Was there any disposition of the residuary estate?"

"I don't remember."

"You remember about the specified legacies?"

"Yes; that is all."

"Of course, you understand that it is a very material point to the contestants to establish the facts of the residuary estate?"

"Yes, I presume so."

"How does the First Church of Christ, Scientist, get interest in her estate?"

"Under the residuary clause of her last will."

Mr. Bowers here took occasion to severely criticise the witness for failing to remember the same clause in the will which he destroyed, as the point was one of vital interest to the contestants.

"Did you not think it extraordinary for one woman to come to you and give you details and instructions as to drawing another woman's will?"

"I did not."

"Did you ever meet such a condition before?"

"I never did."

"Did you ever in your life have the chief officer of the principal beneficiary bring you instructions as to how the testator's will should be drawn?"

"I never did."

"Do you know a Dr. Pease, a healer?"

"He is a Christian Scientist, and every Christian Scientist is authorized to act as a healer."

"Are you healers authorized to depart from the teachings and precepts of Mrs. Eddy if a case is very serious and administer medicine?"

"No; we are not."

"If Dr. Pease did that he violated the tenets of your faith?"

"Yes."

"Did Dr. Pease sign the death certificate of Miss Brush?"

"I don't know."

"How do you healers get death certificates?"

"I don't know. I have never had to get one."

"At the last hearing in answer to a question as to your age, you said, 'Before Abraham was, I am.' What did you mean by that?"

"It is an answer I frequently make."

"Do you use it from any religious belief?"

"Yes, I may."

"And you consider it perfectly reverential, do you?"

"Yes."

The witness was then asked numerous questions as to Miss Brush's belief in Christian Science. He declared that she believed that she had been cured of pneumonia, and that consumption could be cured by the same method. He admitted that consumption was the cause of Miss Brush's death.

At this point the hearing was adjourned until to-day, the witness still being under cross-examination.

Society of the Genesee Dinner.

The Society of the Genesee will hold its third annual dinner on the evening of Feb. 11 next at the Waldorf, and efforts are being made to have the event a memorable one. Major Gen. Otis will be the guest of honor, and among those who have signified their intention of making addresses are Major Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Secretary of War Root, Major Gen. Corbin, Dr. David J. Hill, and Justice Werner of Rochester, Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals. Rossiter Johnson, first President of the Society of the Genesee will read a poem in honor of Gen. Otis.

LEAKE HEIRS SUE THE STATE.

Seek to Recover $86,608—How They Trace Their Relationship to John George Leake.

The State Court of Claims met yesterday in the City Court Building and took testimony in the claims of the heirs of John George Leake against the State. The action is to recover $86,608.35, the amount realized by the State from the sale of the property of Mr. Leake, which escheated to the State because he was supposed to have no heirs.

John George Leake was a lawyer of this city who died in 1827. He endowed the Leake-Watts Asylum, which stood where the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine is now being built. In addition to his property in this city, he was credited with owning land worth several millions of dollars, located in New Jersey.

At the time of his death it was supposed that he had no heirs, but about ten years ago several relatives turned up, and they retained Henry M. Heymann of this city and Thomas F. Hamilton of Saratoga Springs to look after their interests. Those interested in the present claims are Mrs. Clara Leake Ellison, wife of H. H. Ellison, druggist, of this city; Mrs. Clara Leake Reuter of New Rochelle, Mrs. Mary P. Evans and Mrs. Julia L. Perkins of Washington. These heirs claim descent from William Leake, and one of their chief pieces of documentary evidence is a diary begun by William Leake on Sept. 15, 1745. In this diary it is disclosed that William Leake and his brother, James Leake, served in the armies of Charles the Pretender and fought against George II. of England. The brothers were sentenced in 1749 to be "hung, drawn, and quartered," but this was later modified to banishment. This diary is considered a valuable historical relic, and the Scottish Historical Society has offered $6,000 for the same. Those claiming the estate do so from the fact that they are descended from Robert J. C. Leake, a son of William Leake, who was a cousin of John George Leake.

The case will be finally determined by the Court of Claims in January next, and counsel for the claimants believe they have a very strong case. They will soon start action in New Jersey for the recovery of the nearly $4,000,000 worth of property which they claim was part of the estate of John George Leake.

WOMAN'S INJURIES FATAL.

Gripmen Whose Cars Caused a Death Fined and Paroled.

Mary Gill, assistant housekeeper at the Hotel Imperial, who was knocked down by a cable car at Broadway and Twenty-third Street on Sunday, causing a fracture of the skull, died yesterday afternoon at the New York Hospital. The ambulance containing the injured woman was run into by another cable car while on its way to the hospital.

Patrick Flynn, the gripman of this car, as well as Arthur Conlse, the gripman of the car which struck the woman originally, were arrested. When arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning, Flynn was fined $10 for malicious mischief and Conlse was paroled.

STREET PEDDLERS VANQUISHED.

Push-Cart Men Leave Seward Park and Quiet Prevails.

Everything was quiet in the vicinity of the William H. Seward Park yesterday morning, the push-cart men and trackmen who formerly used the border line of the park as their headquarters having been driven away entirely. The two stores on the park property have been tightly closed, and Foreman Petty of the park squad is only awaiting orders to tear them down.

The push-cart men seem to understand now that they will not be tolerated on park property, and are making the best of it. Some of them have taken advantage of the space offered on an empty lot opposite the park on Hester Street, near Essex, where they have erected their stands.

CORONER FAILED TO APPEAR.

Inquest Was Not Held in the Schaeffer Case, as Announced.

The inquest into the death of George Schaeffer, the piano worker who was shot and killed by David Schrank, at Sohmer's factory, at Astoria, was announced to be held at Jamaica yesterday morning. District Attorney Merrill and the attaches and detectives of his office went to Jamaica to attend the inquiry, as did a large number of the employes of the piano factory, who had been summoned as witnesses.

At 10 o'clock, the hour named for the inquest to open, Coroner Philip T. Cronin failed to appear. The District Attorney and his staff waited patiently for an hour, and then Mr. Merrill became highly indignant at the continued absence of the Coroner and finally returned to Long Island City, taking his assistants and detectives with him.

NEW METHOD IN EXCISE CASES.

Testimony of Policemen Who Arraign Barkeeper Placed on Record.

The recent complaints of the District Attorney's office that the Police Magistrates were too prone to discharge excise cases prompted Magistrate Hogan, in the Yorkville Court, yesterday morning, to have the testimony of two policemen who appeared before him with a case placed on record.

Policemen O'Connor and McGuire of the Fifth Street Station arraigned Gaetano Liggeo, a barkeeper at 445 East Thirteenth Street. The officers said they entered a rear room of the saloon on Sunday afternoon and saw two men eating macaroni with a glass of beer beside each of their plates. Liggeo said the two men in question were the proprietor of the place and a boarder. He said he refused beer to the policemen when they asked for it. The Magistrate asked the policemen if they went into the saloon proper, and they said they did not, because it was locked.

The Magistrate ordered the court stenographer to take down every word of this testimony and discharged the prisoner.

CLAIMS ON "CHOSEN FRIENDS."

Attachments Against the Order Secured Here and in Newark.

Deputy Sheriff Ahearn has received five attachments aggregating $5,820 against the Supreme Council of the Order of Chosen Friends, which went into the hands of a receiver last week. Two of the attachments were obtained in this city by Sophia Anderson for $1,084, and by Martin T. Garvey for $2,700, and three were obtained in Brooklyn by Lizzie G. Brown, $1,800; Justina Speer, $780, and George D. Emmons, $540. They were served on the National Park Bank, where it is said there is $5,000 to the credit of the concern.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—The funds of the Order of Chosen Friends on deposit in the Essex County National Bank were attached to-day on behalf of the widow of John P. Grower. She has a claim of $1,700 against the order. The attachment will also protect as far as possible other persons in New Jersey who have death claims against the order.

MISS BONIFACE NOT ENGAGED.

Faints in the Office of Dr. McMaster—Friends Indignant.

Miss Rachel Boniface, a teacher in Public School No. 140, in Norfolk Street, was greatly surprised to find in her Sunday newspaper formal announcement of her engagement to Dr. Nathaniel G. McMaster, her family physician. She at once went to his office at 120 East Fifty-eighth Street to demand an explanation, and the physician told her that he had not caused the publication of the notice, and was as much at a loss to understand it as she was. The young woman fainted, and after Dr. McMaster had administered restoratives she was assisted to her home at 144 East Fifty-eighth Street, by her sister, who had accompanied her.

Her mother, Mrs. Lena Boniface, with whom she lives, yesterday caused a denial of the reported engagement to be published. Mrs. Boniface's friends are very indignant over the matter, and Bonford Boniface, a brother of the young woman, and Dr. McMaster held a long discussion as to the best way of discovering the identity of the person who gave out the report. Mr. Boniface declared that he would seek an order of the court requiring the newspaper which printed the announcement to produce a copy of the original manuscript in the hope of tracing the guilty person by the handwriting. Dr. McMaster said that he was satisfied that the bogus notice was a piece of feminine spitework.

NEWS OF NEW JERSEY

UNITED ELECTRIC'S TRIUMPH.

Reported Agreement with Dissatisfied Stockholders—The Trouble Prevented a Big Bond Issue.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—It was announced to-day that the United Electric Company had placated the local stockholders who have so long been in opposition to the policy of the corporation. The stockholders in question are Richard C. Jenkinson, James E. Howell, George F. Reeve, Julius S. Rippel, and Joseph Ward, Jr. It is said that a compromise was effected, but the basis was not made public. The settlement is of great importance to the company, which will now go ahead with important plans of expansion.

The differences between the company and the stockholders named began at the time of the organization of the corporation, in 1899. The United Electric Company absorbed the People's Light and Power Company and a number of other lighting concerns. The terms of the merger were that the stockholders of the People's Light and Power Company should surrender their holdings and pay 10 per cent. extra in cash, for which they should receive $1,750 in bonds of the new corporation for every $1,000 of the People's Company stock. This was not satisfactory to the stockholders named, and they have held on to their stock, preventing the company named, among other things, from issuing first mortgage bonds to the amount of $20,000,000.

THIEVES TACKLE AN APIARY.

Destroy Two Colonies of Bees and Get Some Honey, but Farmer Warns Them It Is Poison.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 17.—Thieves invaded John Herman's apiary on the Mattison Berry farm a few days ago, and he has issued the following in consequence:

NOTICE AND WARNING.

If the thieves who think they stole honey from my apiary eat any of it they will die. It is poison and not honey, but bee food.

The apiary contained twenty colonies of bees, which had been prepared to winter there. The thieves effected an entrance by tearing the lock from the door. They destroyed two colonies of bees in the attempt to get some honey, of which they obtained very little, as there was only enough left there for the bees to winter on, the crop of honey being taken out some two months ago.

The matter was reported to Chief Titus and Mr. Herman told him that the little food required to sustain the lives of the bees until Spring has been especially prepared with formic acid and honey. It is many times worse than knockout drops, he says. A reward of $10 has been offered for the apprehension of the thieves.

WOO AND WED IN RECORD TIME.

Couple Meet at Church Supper, Go Out and Marry, and Repast Is Turned Into a Nuptial Feast.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 17.—The village of Old Bridge is discussing the wedding of Robert Benson and Miss Kate Roller of that village. Last Tuesday evening the Methodist Church of Old Bridge conducted a supper in Crescent Hall there. Mr. Benson and Miss Roller met at this supper, and although they had not previously been engaged, decided some time in the evening to get married.

Leaving the hall, the young people secured a horse and buggy and drove to the village of Spotswood, two miles away, and called upon the Rev. William Chamberlain, pastor of the Spotswood Methodist Episcopal Church, who made them man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Benson drove back to Old Bridge and returned to the hall in which the supper was being given. They informed their friends of what had taken place, and the church feast was turned into a merry wedding supper.

BATHGATE DIVORCE CASE.

Taking of Testimony Resumed in Jersey City Court.

Vice Chancellor Emery, at Jersey City, yesterday resumed the taking of testimony in the divorce case of James Bathgate, receiving teller of the Park National Bank, Manhattan, against his wife Grace on statutory grounds, Leland N. Atwood being named as co-respondent. The case was begun at Newark several weeks ago. Bathgate and his wife were married in Manhattan on April 13, 1897, and went to live at Hackensack. They separated Oct. 18, 1899. They have one child.

Several women friends of Mrs. Bathgate testified that Atwood had been in the habit of calling at Bathgate's house in his absence, and that on several occasions Atwood and Mrs. Bathgate went to the Hackensack River to bathe. Charles Krieger, the keeper of the bathing house, testified that there never was anything improper in their conduct on those occasions.

Mrs. Mary H. Voorhis testified that Mrs. Bathgate neglected her child to such an extent that witness was obliged to go to the house and wash and dress the child.

The hearing will be continued to-day.

TOMATOES FOR BROKEN SKULL.

Queer Remedy Applied to Injured Man's Head Astonished a Physician.

Dr. John Justin of West New York, N. J., is wondering whether or not he has added anything to his stock of medical knowledge by a visit he paid to Shady Side yesterday. He was summoned to attend John Slavick, whose head had been injured by a blasting accident in a quarry where he worked. The man's head had been bound up with a strange poultice, the like of which, Dr. Justin said, he had never seen nor imagined. On inquiry, he found it was composed of tomatoes, which Slavick's friends assured him were regarded as an excellent remedial agent in Hungary.

Dr. Justin found that Slavick's skull was fractured, and he ordered the patient removed to St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken. Slavick's recovery is doubtful.

KNEW HE WAS GOING TO DIE.

Wife Laughed at Branbad's Premonition, but He Expired the Same Day.

"I believe I am going to die to-day," said William Branbad of Fairview, N. J., to his wife, as he left the breakfast table on Sunday morning. Mrs. Branbad laughed at him, and told him that, as he was only thirty-four years old, he was foolish to entertain such an idea.

Nothing more was thought of the matter until Branbad went to his room at night, saying he would go to bed early, as he was tired. A few minutes after a strange noise was heard in his room. Mrs. Branbad and her eldest son ran up stairs. They found Branbad stretched on the floor. A physician who was summoned said that he was dead. Heart disease was the cause.

Drove Burning Wagon Into River.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—Filipe Ponsito, a junk dealer, was driving along the river road at Avondale this morning, when a can of burning charcoal in the front of his wagon was upset and set fire to the load of rags and paper. Ponsito turned his horse from the road and drove into the Passaic River, going far enough into the stream for the water to cover his burning cargo and extinguish the flames.

State Senator-Elect Hudspeth Ill.

Robert S. Hudspeth, State Senator-elect for Hudson County, is seriously ill at his home, at Garfield and Lembeck Avenues, Jersey City. His physicians attribute his condition to overwork during the campaign.

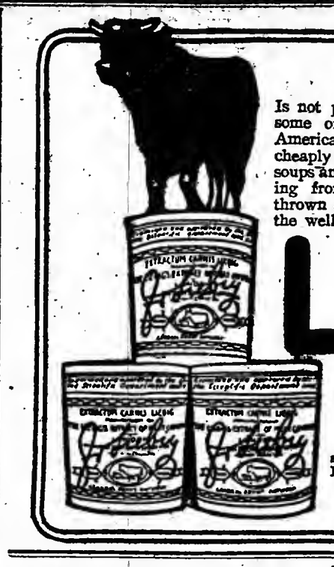
Man Cut in Two by a Train.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 17.—Martin Dorsch of 238 First Street, Harrison, was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the First Street crossing to-night. He was cut in two. Dorsch was fifty years old.

Recruits for the Philippines.

The United States auxiliary cruiser Buffalo started yesterday on her long voyage to Manila, carrying recruits for distribution among the vessels of the fleet now in Chinese waters. The trip will consume about two months.



KITCHEN THRIFT

Is not practiced as effectively here as in some of the older European countries. American housewives could easily and cheaply prepare many of the delicate soups and entrees peculiar to French cooking from ingredients which are often thrown away, by using a tiny quantity of the well-known

LIEBIG

Company's Extract

OF BEEF

A dainty cook book by the famous cooking authority, Miss Maria Parloa, mailed free. Drop a postal to LIEBIG'S EXTRACT COMPANY, P. O. Box 2718, New York, N. Y.

CHINESE COUPLE MARRIED.

Alderman Marks Ties the Knot, but Refuses to Kiss the Bride.

Alderman Marks married Mr. Henry Lum, late of China, and Miss Dia Hia, a daughter of one of the exclusive Chinese families of Mott Street, in the City Hall yesterday.

Alderman Marks refused to kiss the bride. He helped out the Oriental bridegroom by slipping the wedding ring on the finger of the dainty young woman.

The scene in the "Cupid Chamber" of the City Hall was unique. Mr. Henry Lum did not seem to know much about the etiquette of civil American marriages. He kept on his hat in the presence of his bride while they were on the way to the platform to be married. He did not appear in fine clothes. In comparison with the dainty dress of the pretty bride, Mr. Henry Lum was shabby. Then, again, Mr. Henry Lum had to be shown the way to take his bride's hand. In fact, he absolutely refused to do so until told that it was a part of the American ceremony which had to be gone through.

The bride was dressed handsomely. Her gowns were of the richest silks, and her hair was arranged daintily in the Cleo de Merode style. On top of her wadded hair was a large bunch of beads.

From the Caucasian point of view this wedding has been rather long-drawn out, it having been begun as much as three days ago with a gorgeous ceremony last Friday night on Bayard Street in the Chinatown district, where everybody present, except the bride, enjoyed a sumptuous wedding feast. Since that time the parties of the first and second part have, according to Oriental custom, been undergoing a three days' term of "probation," consisting principally in abstaining from food. The bride has been kept blindfolded during that time in a room under the constant supervision of Miss Josie Ling, her "sponsor." The happy bridegroom fared but little better.

The bridal carriage drove up to the City Hall at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the bride was assisted to the ground by her "sponsor," who, according to the rules, could not let go of her charge until the final ceremony had been performed.

The bridegroom, dressed in American costume, and looking anxious and hungry, arrived in a separate conveyance.

AFLOAT WITHOUT A CREW.

Italian Captain Sights an Abandoned Brig with Cargo Intact.

When the Italian steamship Vincenzo Florio arrived here yesterday, her commander, Capt. Montano, reported that he had sighted on last Thursday, while about 250 miles northeast of Bermuda, the dismantled wreck of a brig that upon investigation proved to be that of the Electric Light, a Britisher. The wreck was first descried early in the morning. Through his glass Capt. Montano saw that her rudder was gone, her bowsprit snapped off close to the bow, her foremast broken at the deck, and her maintopmast entirely gone. He noticed with surprise that there were no men in sight on her decks and that her mainsail was still set, the breeze stretching it taut and carrying the vessel on a starboard tack.

As soon as the Vincenzo Florio was near enough, a boat was sent to the wreck to investigate. It was found that there was no one aboard. The cargo of case oil, rum, tobacco, and lumber was comparatively intact. The steamship sailed away and left the dismantled brig to drift whither she listed.

It was learned yesterday that the owners of the brig are A. D. Straus & Co. of this city, her agents being Swan & Son. The latter said that the Electric Light left here on Nov. 30, bound for Cape Coast and Acora, Africa. On board were eight men—Capt. C. Edwards, First Mate Clooney, Steward Alsopp, a second mate, and four hands before the mast. The agents said that they thought the crew had probably been picked up and taken to Europe, after abandoning their vessel when she became dangerous.

The Electric Light was built in Schulee, Nova Scotia, in 1880. She was of 293 tons burden, and was valued at $8,000, her cargo being worth about $15,000.

COMPLAINANTS FEAR DIVORCE.

The Failure of Witnesses to Appear Against Women Accused of Robbery Explained by Capt. Titus.

So many women have been arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court recently charged with robbery, their release following because the complainants were not in court, that when a particularly flagrant case of this sort came before Magistrate Zeller yesterday he lost all patience and sent for Capt. Titus of the Detective Bureau. When the Chief of Detectives arrived in court, an hour later, the Magistrate asked him to instruct his men in such cases to inquire if the complainants really lived at the addresses they gave, and if not to place them in the House of Detention to insure their appearance in court.

Capt. Titus explained that the reason so many of the complainants in these cases failed to appear against the prisoners was that it would give their wives grounds for divorce. He said that while they caused the arrest of the women when the offense was first committed, and while they were in a passion over their loss, they almost invariably, after they had had time to think the matter over, decided to pocket their losses rather than appear as complainant in the case. He promised, however, that the instructions of the Magistrate should be carried out.

Memorial for Capt. Hoegemann.

Just before the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. arrived here, after her recent trip from Mediterranean ports, the passengers presented to Capt. Högemann a memorial which every one of them signed. In it they expressed their appreciation of "the admirable judgment and prudence" which had characterized the commander's management of the ship during the stormy voyage. "We are also," the memorial read at the close, "your most grateful debtors for a courtesy and thoughtful consideration for our comfort and pleasure that have never failed."

Dinner to Insurance Men.

H. A. Appelius, general manager of the Metropolitan Department of the New York Life Insurance Company, gave a dinner last night in the Hotel Marlborough to the newly elected officers of the agency department. These officers included Thomas Buchner, Fourth Vice President; John C. McCall, Secretary, and F. R. Perkins, Superintendent of Agencies. About sixty members of the staff were present.

Underwriters' Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Life Underwriters' Association of New York will be held at the Hotel Savoy on Tuesday, Feb. 20, 1901. J. G. Schurman, President of Cornell University, and James G. Cannon, Vice President of the Fourth National Bank, have accepted invitations to speak. James Yereance is Chairman of the Dinner Committee.

SICK CHILD TURNED AWAY.

Experience of a Father Who Sought Treatment for His Little One from Hospitals and Physicians.

Pinched by bitter poverty and denied the services of several physicians to whom he applied for treatment for his sick child, Henry Segol, thirty years old, of 110 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, took the little one in his arms on Sunday afternoon and went from one hospital to another seeking admittance in vain because the child had measles. Discouraged at last, he sat down on a rock in a lot between Park and Madison Avenues, on One Hundred and Eighteenth Street to rearrange the shawls that were wrapped around the baby. A policeman appeared and arrested him. This at least was his explanation, given in the Harlem Court, where he was arraigned yesterday morning charged with attempting to abandon the child, and Magistrate Brann believed him.

Mrs. Kate Merk, janitress in the house in which Segol lives, said that two doctors had been called by him to see the child, but had gone away when they found that the father had no money. The child was finally taken to the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street Station House, where the Sergeant sent for an ambulance from the J. Hood Wright Hospital. The ambulance called, but the surgeon refused to take the patient, telling Segol to take it to the Maternity Hospital on West Fifty-ninth Street. The father carried the child there with all speed, only to be again refused. They vaguely intimated something about the Willard Parker Hospital, and Segol with his precious bundle started to look for the hospital. The janitress had accompanied him thus far, but she had to hurry home then, and left him.

Segol said he finally became confused from the cold and fatigue, and, thinking that his child was dying, started toward home. He sat down on the way to arrange the baby's clothes, and was arrested. He had several witnesses in court to bear him out in his statement that abandonment of his baby was furthest from his thoughts. The child was sent to the Harlem Hospital.

The Marine Society Ticket.

After a very stormy conference the Nominating Committee of the Marine Society, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce, placed the following ticket in the field to be balloted for on Jan. 14 next: President—A. J. Newbury; Vice President—David A. Scribner; Second Vice President—Benjamin F. Marsh; Secretary—Thomas M. Nichols; Treasurer—James J. Chamberlain; Attorney—William Allen Butler.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.	P. M.		A. M.
Sun rises...7:19	Sun sets..4:35	Moon rises	...4:00

High Water This Day.

A. M.	A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook...4:36	Gov. Isl'd...5:09	H. Gate...7:05
P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
S. Hook...5:00	Gov. Isl'd...5:22	H. Gate...7:18

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (TUESDAY,) DEC. 18.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Adria, Inagua	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
Algonquin, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
El Dorado, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Kaiser Wilhelm II., Naples	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Niagara, Colon	9:30 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Princess Anne, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Roraima, St. Kitts, &c.	12:30 P. M. *1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
San Marcos, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19.

Belvernon, Inagua	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Havana, Havana	12:30 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Mae, San Juan	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Majestic, Liverpool	8:30 A. M. *10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Oranje Nassau, Haiti	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
San Marcos, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Southwark, Southampton	8:30 A. M. *10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Vincenzo Florio, Naples	.....	.....

THURSDAY, DEC. 20.

Comal, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
El Cid, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Guyandotte, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
La Champagne, Havre	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Santiago, Santiago	12:30 P. M. *1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Trier, Bremen	.....	8:00 P. M.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21.

Comanche, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Jamestown, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick Ga.	.....	3:00 P. M.

SATURDAY, DEC. 22.

Adirondack, Fortune Island, &c	10:00 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Colorado, Hull	.....	.....
Comus, New Orleans	..... *9:30 A. M.	3:00 P. M.
Cyrene, Brazil, &c.	6:00 P. M.	8:00 A. M.
Hekla, Christiansand	5:00 A. M.	2:00 P. M.
Hildebrand, Para, and Manaos	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
Hermodas, Argentine Republic, Uraguay, and Paraguay	2:30 P. M.	4:30 P. M.
Iberian, Liverpool	.....	.....
Maracaibo, Venezuela and Curacao	9:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Minnehaha, London	.....	.....
Morro Castle, Havana	10:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Nueces, Key West and Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Ponce, San Juan	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Princess Anne, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
State of Nebraska, Glasgow	.....	10:00 A. M.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp	.....	.....
Umbria, Queenstown and Liverpool	2:30 A. M.	6:00 A. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily up to 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 21, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Zealandia. Mails for Hawaii, Japan, China, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 24, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer America Maru. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 25, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Empress of India, (registered mail must be directed "via Vancouver.") Mails for Australia, (except West Australia,) New Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji, and Samoan Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Dec. 19 and up to Dec. 29, inclusive, or on day of arrival of steamer Etruria, due at New York Dec. 29, for dispatch per steamer Sonoma. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia, which goes via Europe, and New Zealand, which goes via San Francisco,) and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 5, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Warrimoo, (supplementary mails, via Seattle, close at 6:30 P. M. Jan. 6.)

†Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Postmaster Van Cott announces that mails from the Philippine Islands, China, and Japan arrived at Vancouver and were dispatched East Dec. 13, due in New York this morning; also that the mails from China, Japan, and Hawaii of the following dates, Hongkong, Nov. 17; Shanghai, Nov. 21; Yokohama, Nov. 28, and Honolulu, Dec. 7, which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Coptic, were dispatched East at 6 P. M., Dec. 11, and are due in New York to-morrow morning.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (TUESDAY,) DEC. 18.

Advance, Colon, Dec. 11.
Allegheny, Port Limon, Dec. 11.
Arkansas, Copenhagen, Dec. 2.
Bulgaria, Hamburg, Dec. 2.
Bovic, Liverpool, Dec. 7.
Colorado, Hull, Dec. 2.
Comua, New Orleans, Dec. 12.
City of Augusta, Sayannah, Dec. 13.
Hugenden, Havre, Dec. 1.
Iberian, Liverpool, Dec. 5.
Jefferson, Norfolk, Dec. 17.
Maracaibo, Curacao, Dec. 10.
Maraval, Port Spain, Dec. 12.
Nubia, Stettin, Nov. 29.
Nueces, Galveston, Dec. 12.
Prins Maurits, Port au Prince, Dec. 9.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam, Dec. 6.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Dec. 1.
State of Nebraska, Glasgow, Dec. 6.
Trier, Bremen, Dec. 1.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19.

Betty, Gibraltar, Dec. 4.
Comanche, Jacksonville, Dec. 16.
Ceria, Gibraltar, Dec. 4.
El Rio, New Orleans, Dec. 14.
Guyandotte, Norfolk, Dec. 18.
John Sanderson, Sunderland, Dec. 5.
Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Bremen, Dec. 11.
Phillas, St. Lucia, Dec. 12.
Vaderland, Southampton, Dec. 10.

THURSDAY, DEC. 20.

Arabistan, St. Lucia, Dec. 13.
El Norte, New Orleans, Dec. 14.
Hermodius, Barry, Dec. 4.
Jamestown, Norfolk, Dec. 19.
Kansas City, Swansea, Dec. 6.
Pennsylvania, Hamburg, Dec. 7.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21.

Brooklyn City, Swansea, Dec. 7.
Consuelo, Hull, Dec. 9.
H. H. Meier, Bremen, Dec. 9.
Incamaree, Algiers, Dec. 7.
Moonetone, Huelva, Dec. 7.
Princess Anne, Norfolk, Dec. 20.

SATURDAY, DEC. 22.

Ardlethen, Rotterdam, Dec. 6.
Campania, Liverpool, Dec. 15.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 15.

Arrived.

SS Peconic, (Br.,) Mills, Venice, &c., Nov. 4, with mdse. to Phelps Brothers & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 5 P. M.

SS La Champagne, (Fr.,) Fajolle, Havre, Dec. 8, with mdse. and passengers to the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. Southeast of Fire Island at 7:11 P. M.

SS Vincenzo Florio, (Ital.,) Montano, Naples, &c., Nov. 28, with mdse. and passengers to Hirzel, Feltmann & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 11:30 P. M., 16th.

SS Madiana, (Br.,) Fraser, St. Martens, &c., Nov. 25, with mdse. and passengers to A. E. Outerbridge & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 11 P. M.

SS Victoria, (Br.,) Bridges, Marseilles, &c., Nov. 7, with mdse. and passengers to Henderson Brothers. Arrived at the Bar at 5:18 A. M.

SS Dunbar, (Br.,) Campbell, Glasgow, Dec. 1, in ballast to J. H. Winchester & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 1:30 A. M. Will load for Australia.

SS Umbria, (Br.,) Dutton, Liverpool, Dec. 8, and Queenstown, 9th, with mdse. and passengers to Vernon H. Brown & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 8:41 A. M.

SS Minnehaha, (Br.,) Robinson, London, Dec. 6, with mdse. and passengers to the Atlantic Transport Company. Arrived at the Bar at 10:20 A. M.

SS Algonquin, Platt, Jacksonville, Dec. 13, and Charleston, 14, with mdse. and passengers to William P. Clyde & Co.

SS Manna Hata, Charles, Baltimore, with mdse. to H. C. Foster.

SS El Cid, Quick, New Orleans, Dec. 12, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle.

SS Excelsior, Maxson, Boston, to J. T. Van Sickle.

SS Princess Anne, Davis, Newport News and Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

SS Benefactor, Swain, Philadelphia, with mdse. to William P. Clyde & Co.

SS Richmond, Catharine, Newport News and Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

SS Geestemunde, (Ger.,) Thielemann, Christiania, Nov. 28, via Shields Dec. 3, in ballast to Philip Ruprecht. Arrived at the Bar at 2:35 P. M.

SS Exeter City

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, DEC. 18, 1900.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

THE BETRAYAL OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN THE SENATE.

It was in the Kansas City platform of BRYAN that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was condemned as "a surrender of American rights and interests, not to be tolerated by the American people."

The Republican platform declared that the party of MCKINLEY favored "the construction, ownership, control, and protection of an isthmian canal by the Government of the United States." A complete exposition of this party pledge and the best argument we have seen in support of the policy it embodies and of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is contained in the Republican Campaign Text Book, an authoritative publication issued by the Republican National Committee during the Presidential campaign.

The United States Senate, under the leadership of a few Senators whose motives, having never been avowed, can only be surmised, has abandoned and repudiated the Republican position and gone over to the policy of BRYAN and the Kansas City platform. The party has been betrayed in the Senate, and voters who put their faith in the platform and the official, authoritative declarations of the Republicans have been deceived.

The preface of the Republican Campaign Text Book contains this declaration: "The purpose of this text book is to supply in a convenient form for reference the official and statistical data which will enable speakers and writers to demonstrate the accuracy and wisdom of Republican principles and the inaccuracy and unwisdom of those offered in opposition to them." In the argument in support of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty which that text book contains we find the following principles and declarations officially and authoritatively set forth as a part of the promises and professions on which the Republican Party appealed to the people:

1. That the negotiation by Secretary HAY of the treaty now before the Senate "was a notable triumph of American diplomacy."

2. That the policy of the complete neutralization of the canal, in war and peace, has been "the uniform and unchanging policy of the United States Government from the very beginning." And in support of this declaration CUSHMAN K. DAVIS, the author of the Davis amendment, is quoted:

> No American statesman speaking with official authority or responsibility has ever intimated that the United States should assume a control of this canal for the exclusive benefit of our Government or people. They have all, with one accord, declared that the canal was to be neutral ground in time of war and always open on terms of impartial equity to the ships and commerce of the world.

3. That if the canal "is by international agreement placed beyond a possibility of rightful or legal attack the whole world is bound to respect its immunity"; and that, in the words of Admiral DEWEY, "to fortify it would simply result in making it a battle ground in time of war."

4. That the United States by her treaty with Nicaragua has agreed not to seek any exclusive privilege in connection with the canal, and that Nicaragua has agreed not to grant any such exclusive privilege to the United States or any other power. These agreements "in effect amount to perfect neutralization as regards an interoceanic canal."

5. That the condemnation of the treaty in the Kansas City platform as a surrender of American rights was made "either in abject ignorance of treaty obligations previously entered into by the United States, or it signifies a disposition to repudiate or ignore the solemn contractual obligations of the United States."

The Republican Party is expressly committed to the principle of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The Senators who are trying to kill the treaty by amendments which it is shameful for us to present to Great Britain and impossible for her to accept are betraying their party. The American people passed upon the treaty when they re-elected President MCKINLEY. The press of the country, including the greatest and most influential Republican newspapers, supports the principle of neutralization and demands the ratification of the treaty. Public opinion is defied, the President and his party are betrayed by the Senators who are stabbing the treaty to death.

As the leader of his party it is the political duty of Mr. MCKINLEY to see to it that the traitors are baffled and treason made odious. It is the public duty of President MCKINLEY to see to it that our good name is not stained and our friendly relations with England are not poisoned by the Senators who have undertaken to serve the interests secretly hostile to the treaty. They will not be content with amendments that he can accept, that England can accept. They are bent on defeating the canal project by defeating the treaty, and they are doing it in a most indecent manner. As the President has failed to command sufficient strength in the Senate to overcome the men who are betraying him and his party, the most dignified way out for him is to withdraw the treaty.

SUBSIDIES VS. SHIPS.

The most striking fact in connection with the so-called Ship Subsidy bill now before the Senate is that it is not in the least adapted to secure a single one of its professed aims.

It will not, if passed, encourage the building of American ships owned and manned by Americans and carrying American products to foreign markets. It will not reduce the freights on American commerce with other lands. It will not extend that commerce.

As our readers are well aware, we are entirely opposed to subsidies even if they are honestly intended to attain the ends above defined, and think that in any case they cost more than they come to, tax the many for the few, and in the long run confuse, demoralize, and retard enterprise. By so much more are we opposed to a scheme which, while pretending to serve these ends, does not serve them, but only adds to the profits of special interests. In this instance, not only does the bill seek these unjustifiable objects, but it was drawn up by a committee of gentlemen directly concerned and so shaped in the character of its provisions and the time at which its benefits should accrue, that the interests represented by its private authors can and will get exclusive advantage from its operation. We know of nothing in the history of recent legislation more openly and impudently defiant of the decencies of public action than this. It is a trick that could not be practiced in ordinary business life without subjecting its perpetrators to general suspicion and aversion.

As we pointed out yesterday, the provision for paying subsidies to foreign-built ships is in itself contrary to the avowed purpose of the measure. It is utterly in conflict with every idea ever put forward by the advocates of subsidies for American shipbuilding. Nevertheless, if subsidies were given to ships bought abroad by any and all Americans, say, for the next twenty years, on the sole condition that an equal number of ships of the same kind should be built in America, it is conceivable that this would add considerably to the number of ships owned by Americans and to the number built here. That is not what this bill does. It gives subsidies only to the ships built or contracted for prior to the first of January, 1900. For what reason such peculiar and valuable privileges should be directly conferred on any class we do not know, nor have we seen any rational explanation of it by the advocates of the plan in Congress. It is easy enough to understand how it was proposed by the gentlemen who would reap the profit, but how any responsible man in public life could allow himself to be implicated in so transparent a prostitution of the public authority for private gain passes our comprehension.

We believe that this feature of the bill will produce its defeat. We do not think that Congress will have the hardihood to resist the strong public opinion that has sprung up since the true nature of the bill has been made known. But if the scheme should, by the means open to the wealthy corporations interested in it, be pressed through Congress, we shall hope that the President will veto it. It is a shameless attempt to pervert the principle of protection to American industry to which he has lent the force of his advocacy, and to loot the Treasury for private interests. As a true friend to an American mercantile marine, he should kill it.

OUR TERMS TO CHINA.

That is a curious announcement which was made yesterday, that the progress of the negotiations with China had been arrested by Great Britain. Great Britain has shown, all through this wretched business, so much amiability and so strong a desire that the action of the Western world, including Japan, should be harmonious, that an objection on her part would carry a very particular weight. This case is one in which it is proper to specify, and to say that any objection entertained by Lord SALISBURY would carry and would be entitled to particular weight.

There must be a natural and pardonable curiosity concerning the grounds upon which the veteran Premier has entered a caveat against the proceedings, we cannot in this case say of the "European concert," but of the civilized world. Nobody is better aware than Lord SALISBURY of the desirableness of united action and of the hopelessness of separate action. Great Britain would not have interposed objections at this stage unless they appeared to her vital. What were they?

This is an entirely legitimate and even necessary inquiry, which no material for a satisfactory answer has been vouchsafed. In fact, we have already had two opposed conjectural explanations, of which one was to the effect that the British Government was in favor of stiffening the terms of peace provisionally adopted, and the other that it was in favor of softening them. The latter seems to us to be intrinsically much the more probable. Lord SALISBURY himself, at the Lord Mayor's banquet, gave terse and epigrammatic expression to the really crucial question in our dealings with China, when he said that our efforts should not be directed to governing China, but to leaving it to be governed by the Chinese themselves.

If we assume that the present British objections to the allied proposals have been framed in accordance with this guiding principle, we can have no hesitation in assuming that they have been in the direction of removing obstacles to the successful Chinese government of China. And to say that is the same as saying that they have been directed to softening rather than hardening the original conditions. We must not impair whatever there is of national self-respect, which is only another name for patriotism, in the Chinese Empire. It is upon that that we must build if we are to have a Government in China with which we can live and do business in peace. It is inconceivable that the British official proposals can have had any other end in view, whatever may have been the individual expressions of Englishmen "in positions of greater freedom and less responsibility." No nation concerned has anything like the experience of Great Britain in successful dealing with alien races, as no living statesman can be compared, in that experience, with Lord SALISBURY. If it shall appear, as to us it seems bound to appear, that, in insisting that we shall not disable China from governing itself, Great Britain is at one with the United States, the fact will be a tribute, from the most authoritative source, to the wisdom with which our own State Department has been directed from the very beginning of the Chinese troubles.

JUDGE BEEKMAN.

It has not often happened to this community to lose within the week three citizens so useful and distinguished, in their respective ways, as Mr. OTTENDORFER, Mr. BEAMAN, and Judge BEEKMAN. Nay, the loss is the more striking and affecting because their several ways of serving the community of which they formed a part were really the same way. They were all three men remarkable and eminent in the one civic virtue in which New York is so commonly described as being deficient. They were all three distinctly and eminently men of public spirit.

Perhaps the reprosch proceeds largely from the peculiar conditions of the city which, for three-quarters of a century, has presented more attractions than any other in the United States to the seekers for fortune and fame throughout the country. The alert and active minded and ambitious of all parts come here to find the largest and the fairest arena for their talents. New York is not to them a sacred place, not even always a home, but only an arena. It has not, and for obvious reasons, been even so successful as Chicago in impressing upon its prosperous inhabitants the duty they owe to the place in which they get their livings. The most obvious of the reasons is, perhaps, that nobody, so to speak, was born in Chicago. It is necessarily and exclusively to the "Outlanders" that Chicago owes its prosperity and even its existence. Accordingly, it is the Outlanders who feel a responsibility for its civic conditions which cannot be felt by the Outlanders in New York, which was the first city in the United States before any of them was born. There has been, for all these years, and there is still, a temptation to them to regard themselves, as BURKE said the English in India regarded themselves, as "birds of prey and passage."

All honor to the immigrants to New York who do not thus regard themselves, but hold themselves as much responsible to the community in which they have cast their lots, and as much responsible for its civic conditions as if they had been born into it. Such an immigrant was Mr. OTTENDORFER, from Germany. Such an immigrant was Mr. BEAMAN, from New England. But the case of Judge BEEKMAN was different. He was a New Yorker of the New Yorkers, a "Manhattanese," to use FENIMORE COOPER'S nomenclature, of the Manhattanese. And we may even suppose that he felt the current insults to the Boers of South Africa, and the race they represented and from which he was descended, in which so many writers for the press so complacently indulge themselves, almost as personal affronts. At any rate, public spirit, as to the affairs of this municipality, was with him not a reason so much as an instinctive obligation. He felt a stain upon the good name of the city like a wound. He could not help taking an interest in public affairs and feeling a responsibility about them. And whatever conspicuousness came to him in consequence was not of his seeking, but an incident of the performance of his civic duties. It was "all in the day's work."

That the recognition should have taken the form of judgeship was to the advantage of the public. Nobody who knew him, even before he was a Judge, could have failed to be impressed with his "judicial temper," with his reluctance to deliver an opinion until he had made up his mind, with his reluctance to make up his mind until he was in possession of all the relevant facts, with the caution and the equity of his mind. He said once, after he went on the bench, "It must be a very bad man who does not try to be a good Judge." Those who are most cognizant of the detail of his judicial work will in due course put on record their estimate of it. But it should be emphatically said by laymen that he was primarily a fair-minded, public-spirited, and useful citizen.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—Considerable space in all the London papers is filled just now with letters from correspondents, who complain bitterly of the constant shaking of their houses, due, they say, to the passage, some eighty feet below their foundations, of the trains of the Central London Railway. The suddenness with which this chorus of lamentation has started is almost enough to suggest that those participating in it did not fully realize the severity of their sufferings until American capitalists undertook to improve the transportation facilities of the English metropolis. At any rate, the writers show a curious unanimity in agreeing that the vibrations caused by the existing road must be endured, since it is worked in the manner authorized by Parliament, while they all protest against the construction of new lines to carry the trouble into districts that have as yet been spared. It is not claimed that the safety of any buildings has been endangered. The worst charges brought against the deeply buried trains are that a few china ornaments have been jarred from mantelpieces, and that nervous people find it difficult to sleep in houses directly over the line. That doesn't seem to be a very high price to pay for quick, cheap, and comfortable transportation in a city that until a comparatively recent period had to depend almost entirely on cabs and busses, but for some reason or other more than a few Londoners are making a great fuss about their newly discovered grievance, in the evident hope that their outcry will render difficult—and expensive?—the acquisition of new franchises for underground roads. There is, however, presumably some substance in the complaints, and it may be worth while asking whether our own tunnel trains are to create the same annoyance. The nature of the ground traversed probably determines the amount of disturbance. It is said that in London the worst effects are felt where the road goes through beds of gravel, and the least where these are replaced by clay. In New York the alternations are chiefly between sand and solid rock, and possibly neither will transmit vibrations as readily as gravel does.

—There are many and entirely satisfactory devices for ascertaining the number of revolutions made by a wheel in a certain time, and any of these can be adapted to tell the speed per hour or minute of a moving vehicle, but it is not so easy to find devices that will indicate from moment to moment the rate at which a wheel is revolving or a vehicle moving. An ingenious method of doing this is reported by The Automobile Topics as having been invented abroad. As described, the machine consists of a series of differently colored disks, or sectors, so arranged that they present to the eye a tint varying with the rate of revolution. These tints, it is said, can be identified with the speeds that produce them with some approximation to accuracy by making tests at given speeds and noting the colors that result. It seems as though the approximation might be exact if each color produced by each elevation of speed were painted for comparison just outside of the moving disks. No details of the invention are yet at hand, but the plan is apparently practicable, and if so it is easy to think of many uses to which it can be put. The mystery is that a European, and not an American, should have lighted on an idea so simple, especially as the principle of it has been known for many years to everybody who has paid even the slightest attention to optics.

—Our attitude with respect to the Anglo-Boer war moved a correspondent whose letter we published yesterday to ask sternly: "Is sympathy for the 'under dog' entirely a forgotten instinct of the human breast?" Our correspondent's own views are a sufficient and negative answer to this inquiry, but really we think that he might more profitably have asked both himself and us whether the "under dog," as such, ever did or ever does deserve the very large amount of sympathy he always gets. To be quite frank, that "under dog" is a rather tiresome beast, and it may fairly be doubted if, in at least a large minority of cases, he isn't just where he ought to be. Before extending sympathy to him it is well to investigate the circumstances that brought him into his uncomfortable position. Little dogs are not a bit less inclined to bad conduct than big ones, and, though their lack of size and weight does give them immunity from punishment in many instances when it would do them much good, yet, when worst comes to worst, and the big dogs, their patience exhausted at last, stand over them threatening instant retribution, then the little dogs assume the airs and utter the cries of martyrs. Weakness is not a virtue and strength is not a crime—necessarily or even usually. All things considered, there is probably more frequent abuse of weakness than of strength, and, taking the world over, the underness of any particular dog, instead of justifying a presumption that he is right, warrants a strong suspicion that he is wrong. As for the Boers and the British, there is some reason for doubt, just at this moment, which of the two is the under dog. We all know which is the bigger of the two, but that one could find use for a little sympathy himself.

Cold Street Cars.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Has the Board of Health gone out of business, or is it paid to keep its eyes shut to the daily outrages perpetrated on the residents of this city by that octopus, the Metropolitan Railway Company? The present outrage of cold cars goes on, and when complaints are made, no attention is paid, but we are informed by the President of the road either that he does not know why they are not heated or, as in the case of the Broadway cars, that there is some wonderful kind of water used in the heating that will freeze if the fires are not kept up. It strikes me that if it is cold enough to freeze the water, it is cold enough to keep the fire going to keep the passengers from getting pneumonia. A SUFFERER.

New York, Dec. 14, 1900.

NUGGETS.

As the Other Fellow Saw It.

Jack—What reason have you for wanting to marry Miss Willing?

Tom—I love her.

Jack—Pshaw! That's no reason; that's an excuse.—Chicago News.

Lucky Bingles.

"Bingles is a lucky man; his time goes right on whether he is waking or sleeping, sick or well."

"What is Bingles's business?"

"Watchmaker."—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

What Things Seem Tending To.

"Thomas Tibbs is in a receiver's hands."

"What broke him up?"

"Oh, the tip system got started in his office and he had to pay extra for every bit of work his clerks did."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Exact Truth Exacted.

Caller—You look like a good and truthful girl. Tell me—is your mistress really out?

Domestic—She is, ma'am.

Caller—Where?

Domestic—At the elbows, ma'am.—Chicago Tribune.

ON THE HEIGHTS.

Nelly Hart Woodworth in Boston Journal.

Ay, on the heights at last, so far (so cold)
From warmth and love and all that makes life sweet,
With love's bright river flowing at my feet,
So far away 'tis but a thread of gold!

Before I reached the heights, heights that were heaven,
Could I have come heartwhole and rested here,
I passed such torturing ways, where far or near
I could not see, so low the clouds had driven.

And, oh, the brambles e'er I reached the pass!
My arms were torn, my feet are bleeding still,
My heart was pierced with cruel thorns until
The drops of blood lay on the meadow grass.

My soul is white, but see the crimson stain
Still oozing from my heart; the pain is o'er;
And all the sweetness—put me back once more,
And let me feel the old, old pain again!

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL

Sarah Bernhardt Acts Floria Tosca at the Garden Theatre.

Coquelin as Cruel Baron Scarpia—Other Changes of Bill—Stage Gossip.

In their change of bill at the Garden Theatre last evening, the French actors did not bring forward a great imaginative work, but only a stirring and clever example of theatrical craftsmanship. "La Tosca" is an old piece now, and it has often been acted in New York, but still it is worth some sort of fresh examination this morning in view of the extraordinary quality of the new performance and the large measure of public interest manifested in the current representations of French plays.

Sarah Bernhardt takes up the title rôle again with positively no lessening of power or grace. Pictorially and dramatically, this portrayal is as fine as it ever was. In the scenes of the torture of Mario and the dalliance with Scarpia, last night, she moved the spectators profoundly. In that ingeniously devised sequence of fairly blood-curdling incidents beginning with the crushed and despairing woman's first thought of assassination as a way out of her dilemma, as her eye falls on the knife on the table, and ending with her catlike exit from the chamber of death after placing the crucifix on the body of her victim, she acted with matchless effect, producing the most powerful results without a hint of striving.

The novelty in this performance was the assumption of the character of Scarpia, the arch-villain, for the first time, by M. Coquelin. It is, by no means, a great rôle, or one in which the talent of the foremost French comedian is best illustrated, but the impersonation was of extraordinary interest nevertheless. Coquelin's conception of Scarpia is not a mere brute possessed of a low order of cunning. It naturally would not be. A man of quick intellectual habit, and great personal refinement, with a Machiavellian suavity when he needs to be suave to accomplish his purpose; a fellow full of device and assurance, touched in his pride rather than stirred to brutal rage by his Queen's rebuke; a man-of-the-world, immovable in his purpose, but not without a sense of humor and a hint of personal drollery in his own composition—such is the new Scarpia.

It matters very little, in the circumstances, whether this is or is not Sardou's Scarpia. Perhaps the scenes of Acts III. and IV. have been quite as effectively played when the actor of Scarpia sounded only one or two notes of lust and cruelty, firmly and loudly, and knew no light or shade. Probably inferior actors have often more strongly affected their hearers, both in the torture episode and in the scene of the wicked baiting of poor Floria.

Coquelin, however, finds a thousand notes, it seems, to sound in the gamut of Scarpia. He endows the monster with many recognizable human attributes. He is inimitable in all the denotements of little subsidiary traits. His diction is richly varied and his play of features as facile as ever and as graphic as possible. There is appreciable passion, too, in his acting, though he is more restrained than Bezcara in his last scene. Wherefore this is a portrayal to be commended and to see for art's sake, as well as to satisfy one's curiosity.

Sarah Bernhardt, however, is the dominating attraction in "La Tosca." She is Tosca as truly as Coquelin is Cyrano. All the traits of Floria Tosca are vividly defined, but they are slowly developed at the beginning, after the favorite Sardou formula. She is fascinating and gifted, affectionate, trusting and tender; crafty, suspicious, and bitterly vindictive all at once, and the type is felt to be not unnatural or uncommon. She is shown to suspect her lover momentarily in the church scene of the first act, and her doubt is reawakened and played upon craftily by Scarpia in the second, wherein all her worst traits are quickly developed.

She goes to Mario's villa bent on vengeance, impetuously casting from her all tender regard for the man to whom she had sworn fealty a few hours before, and the moment of her realization of his innocence and the terrible havoc her needless jealousy has caused is one of the most thrilling in its clear exposition of human suffering in the whole range of modern drama. But it comes after two acts and a half of the most sluggish development and much talk.

"La Tosca," in those two and a half acts, is certainly not the least interesting of plays, but it is far from inspiriting. The genius of Sarah Bernhardt is held in check in all these passages and the irresistible charm of her personality is required to hold one's attention to the performance. One enjoys seeing her do many little things in a perfect manner and patiently bides his time.

Who ever cared for that emotionless conspirator, the brother of the Marchesa, who is driven to his death in the old Roman well? Who ever cared, indeed, for that feeble Queen of Rome and her gossiping Court, and the false news of the defeat of Bonaparte? For that matter, Mario himself, in his patriotic devotion to a theatrically uninteresting and hopeless cause, does not entertain us. Only the development of the traits of Floria and the development of the train of passions which lead to the capture of her lover by the spies and thence to havoc and desolation give the early episodes real dramatic value.

Thenceforward, however, the interest is steadily and vigorously upheld, and the affecting and stirring episode, in which La Tosca succumbs to her fear and affectionate sympathy with Mario and betrays the secret of his friend's hiding place while the artist is undergoing torture is the beginning of a series of well-wrought and powerful scenes culminating logically in a tragic climax.

One who has often seen Sarah Bernhardt has often seen her in more edifying performances than this. There is no need to specify. Of its kind, however, her Tosca is unequaled. One who sees it remembers some of its moments all his life. The frivolous public favorite stirred suddenly to jealous doubt by the likeness of the Magdalen in her lover's painting to the Marchesa! The distracted woman trying to bear herself calmly under Scarpia's cruel questioning at the villa! The murderess, after her mad harangue over her prostrate victim, washing the blood from her hand! The deluded creature, in the moment preceding the catastrophe, calling playfully to her lover, who has been shot dead, but whom she believes to be shamming, to turn and speak to her! No other actress who has trod the stage within the memory of men and women now living could do such things so well.

Dramatically the whole performance, apart from the principals, was respectable. Some of the scenery, though, was absurdly inadequate. The "back-cloth," representing an English country lane with a church, which did duty alike for the festival in the royal palace and the garden of Mario's villa was clearly not fit in a production for which the tickets cost $5.

MR. GERARDY'S RECITAL.

The Young Belgian 'Cellist Makes His Reappearance Here.

Mr. Jean Gerardy, the young Belgian violoncello player, who made his first bow to an American audience three years ago as a juvenile prodigy, has returned an adult performer, and yesterday reappeared in a recital at Mendelssohn Hall. His programme consisted of the following numbers: Saint-Saëns's concerto in A minor, two movements of Haydn's concerto in D major, a sonata by Boccherini, Schumann's "Abendlied," the familiar aria of Bach, and Popper's "Papilion." Mr. Aimé Lachaume, pianist, assisted him, and played a ballade and a scherzo by Chopin. There was an audience of fair size, and the applause was evidence that fondness for the uncommon playing of Mr. Gerardy was quite ready to resume its former proportions. It must be admitted, however, that the element of astonishment, so dear to the general public, can no longer enter into the enjoyment of his performances. It is in the general opinion one thing to hear a boy play and another thing to hear a man. But, of course, only the quality of the playing should be considered, and as a boy Gerardy played like a mature artist.

It would perhaps not be safe to say that his playing yesterday did not show any improvement, but there was none that forcibly impressed itself on the average hearer. The young man has a wonderfully large and opulent tone, especially in the lower register of his instrument, which he causes to sing with extraordinary beauty. He has, however, heard so much about the unusual power of his tone that he is easily tempted to force it to its disadvantage in the upper tones. Aside from this and an occasional slip in intonation, his work yesterday called for nothing but praise. He has a generous equipment of technic, and he treats his hearers to a contablie of uncommon richness and expressive quality. He plays with much feeling, albeit his temperament at times overrides his judgment. But this is one of the familiar faults of youth, and may be forgiven for the sake of its demonstration of the existence of the real flame. Mr. Lachaume played the accompaniments crisply and with discretion, and his solos were enjoyed by the audience.

GRAU COMPANY'S DELAY.

Afforded an Opportunity to Renovate the Metropolitan Opera House.

The inability to bring the Maurice Grau Opera Company into this city earlier than to-night worked to advantage in more ways than one. The eleven weeks' engagement concluded last Saturday night by the Metropolitan English Grand Opera Company brought more wear and tear on the interior furnishings of the Metropolitan Opera House than this house had ever before been subjected to. It was therefore deemed advisable by the company to renovate the house, and with this object in view Superintendent Andrew Boyd of the Metropolitan Opera House and his assistants went to work early yesterday morning, and with brush and broom made many complete changes.

A vast improvement was made in the section occupied by the musicians. The brass open-work railing which surrounded the pit heretofore has been removed and a handsome wooden partition three feet high has been placed in its place, thereby shutting out a view of the musicians from the body of the auditorium.

The change will also give a more direct stage view to those occupying seats in the front part of the orchestra. Another important change will be noticeable at the Sunday evening popular concerts, when a new interior scene painted by Homer C. Emmons will be used, instead of the old bedroom scene from "La Traviata," which has always heretofore been brought into use.

A conference was held by Maurice Grau and Henry W. Savage yesterday regarding the recent English opera season, and while Mr. Grau was non-committal regarding the future of this kind of entertainment in the Metropolitan Opera House, he did say that the contract which existed between him and Mr. Savage terminated on Saturday last, and that their relations were of the most pleasant kind. Regarding a Spring season of the company, Mr. Grau said he was of the opinion if the organization was still in existence it may possibly come back.

After being delayed by various kinds of mishaps and snow blockades, Mme. Melba and Mme. Nordica arrived in this city last night at 10 o'clock. The remaining part of the organization, which was due here last evening, is expected early this morning. the train at a late hour last night being reported eleven hours late.

THEATRES AND MUSIC HALLS.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE.—The change of bill brought Miss Olga Nethersole in her play of "Sapho," which will be continued for the remaining part of this week.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The tuneful Smith and De Koven opera, "The Highwayman," was revived last night, with a wealth of scenery equal to that of the original production.

DEWEY THEATRE.—Manaco's City Club Burlesquers presented their sketch called "Satan's Will," followed by good vaudeville numbers. Signor Albert Operti's new living pictures were exhibited for the first time.

PROCTOR'S PALACE.—Della Fox headed the bill of stars, her associates being John Kernell, the Irish Demosthenes; Clarice Vance, Caswell and Arnold, acrobatic girl, and the clown; Olympia Quartet, Falke and Semon, musical comedians, and others.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—"The Silver King," a melodrama which won much popularity some years ago, proved a strong enough attraction last night to draw an audience that almost filled the theatre. Its various stirring incidents and realistic scenes were frequently and loudly applauded.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE.—Maurice Desvalliers and Anthony Mars's amusing farce "Never Again," which proved so popular with the patrons of this house last season, was revived yesterday by the Donnelly stock company, which interpreted the different rôles in a capable manner. The performance throughout was given with considerable vim.

HURTIG & SEAMON'S MUSIC HALL.—A fine bill is presented this week, headed by Isabella Urquhart, who presented her former success, "Even Stephen." The remaining part was one of a most varied kind, offering James J. Barrow, John Lancaster and company in a sketch called "Tactics," Ed Latell, the musical comedian; O'Brien and Havel, Louise Gunning, and many more.

HUBER'S MUSEUM.—There are two leading attractions offered this week. They are the moving pictures reproducing the Corbett-McCoy fight and the revival of old-fashioned minstreisy by J. H. Moore's New Orleans Minstrels. Besides these, the theatre also contains a company of vaudeville artists, and in the curio halls Baker's trained pigs, the Arabian Trio, and half a dozen other attractions.

PROCTOR'S ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STREET THEATRE.—The Four Cohans made their first appearance yesterday in Harlem, presenting their sketch called "The Governor's Son." The rest of the programme was uncommonly interesting, and included Yorke and Adams, Hebrew comedians; Sager Midgley and Gertie Carlisle, in their specialty; Ethel Levey, vocalist; Zeno, Carl and Zeno, aerial artists; Mr. and Mrs. Neuville, and others.

KOSTER & BIAL'S MUSIC HALL.—Manager Hashim presented a long and an interesting bill of variety to his two large audiences yesterday. Heading the bill are Gertrude Haynes and her choir celestial, who presents a full church choir of surpliced boys, assisted by Master James Haynes, the boy soprano. This specialty is but one of the many others in the bill, some of which include Dolan and Lenharr, Maxwell and Simpson, Herbert's diving dogs, Williamson and Stone, and others.

PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—Vaudeville has had no more artistic specialty than is found in Jean Marcel's living pictures, bas-reliefs of famous classics which are now in their second week. Ezra Kendal was a new comer at this house yesterday. Others in excellence in a splendid programme were Staley and Birbeck, in a transformation novelty; Lottie Gilson, Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance in a farce; Les Domends, capital musicians, and Horace Goldin, magician.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET THEATRE.—A host of good vaudeville specialties was offered in yesterday's programme. The entertainment included the Irish servants, Miss Marie Rose, who is the possessor of a sweet soprano voice; Le Roy and Clayton, Hogan of the Hansen, Clifford and Huth in the comedietta, "A Chappie's Visit"; Lew Sully, the black face jester; Alice Pierce, clever imitator of Mrs. Carter, Digby Bell, Guilbert, Duse, and May Irwin; John Donohue, and Mattie Nichols.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE THEATRE.—The programme arranged is one of much merit and interest. The house at both performances was filled to its utmost capacity, and the many interesting features were hailed with delight by the large audiences. The bill is headed by Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar and McIntyre and Heath. Mr. Hart and Miss De Mar repeated their former success called "A Close Call," and McIntyre and Heath kept the audience constantly laughing with their sketch, "The Georgia Minstrels." The others in the entertainment included Felix and Barry, acrobats; Foy and Clark, Leo Dervalte, and Bueman and Adele.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

A framed bas-relief portrait of William H. Crane as David Harum was given away at the Garrick Theatre last evening in commemoration of the hundredth performance of that play.

Mlle. Kita di Lorenza, a French danseuse, has been engaged by the Hashim Brothers for her appearance at Koster & Bial's, commencing next Monday. She is expected to arrive on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse to-morrow.

Willie Edouin's limited engagement with the "Florodora" company will terminate in five weeks, after which he will return to London. The management is negotiating with five prominent comedians, one of whom they expect to secure before the end of this week to play Mr. Edouin's part for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. John Philip Sousa, the wife of the bandmaster, is lying seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia in her apartments at the Hotel Netherland. Mrs. Sousa accompanied her husband on a shooting expedition to North Carolina, and it was while they were in that State she was taken sick and hurriedly brought back to this city.

DUKE OF NEWCASTLE HERE.

Wealthy Nobleman Greeted by His Brother, Lord Francis Hope.

Says He Has Come Here in the Interests of the High Church; Also to Travel and Fish.

The Duke of Newcastle, Henry Pelham Archibald Douglas Pelham-Clinton, one of the wealthiest noblemen in England, arrived here yesterday on the Atlantic Transport Liner Minnehaha. His wife did not accompany him. As the ship warped into her berth a young man of English build and clear, ruddy complexion waved his hat from the dock, and in him the Duke recognized his brother, Lord Francis Hope, the husband of May Yohe. The greeting between the two was enthusiastic, notwithstanding that once many objections on the part of Lord Francis's family were made against his marriage with the erstwhile Broadway actress.

As soon as his baggage had been declared, the Duke and his brother got into a cab and were driven to the Savoy. A few minutes after their arrival they were joined by Lady Francis Hope, who arrived radiant, and presently departed to dress for dinner, leaving the brothers alone to talk over family affairs.

The Duke of Newcastle is a modest-appear man of thirty-seven. He walks with a limp, the result of an accident on the part of a careless nurse who dropped him when a child, and then, fearing to tell of the mishap, kept silence until her neglect nearly made of the Duke a life-long cripple. In stature the Duke is short, his head coming barely to the shoulder of his athletic and more handsome brother, Lord Francis. He wears a slight moustache. His rent roll is upward of $200,000 a year, and he possesses upward of 35,000 acres of land and an ancestral residence that is one of the finest in England. At home the Duke is principally known as an earnest upholder of High Church doctrines.

When asked last evening if his visit had to do with church affairs, he smiled slightly and replied:

"Yes, it is true that I have come over here in the interests of the High Church, but I do not care to talk of my business at the present time. I have come largely for pleasure, as I am desirous of seeing something of America. I shall remain in New York a month at least, and then I will go to Florida. My intention is to remain there until April, spending the time in sight-seeing and fishing, after which I may go to Canada. I am anxious to see the Canadian Pacific country before my return home, but that matter I have not as yet decided."

The Duke evinced considerable interest in the news of the latest defeats of the British in South Africa, and remarked that the war was very sad. He feared, he said, that it might be prolonged indefinitely.

The Duke was asked about a rumor that he is here in connection with the establishment of a High Church paper. He showed some surprise and answered that he knew nothing of it.

He was formerly President of the English Church Union and has been for years working to the end that high church doctrines and a high church ritual shall commend themselves to the Nation at large, and his time and money have been largely devoted to the fulfillment of this desire. Part of his activity in this direction has been as a member of the London School Board, and he is a consistent advocate of a thorough religious training for the young. He is a patron of many monastic and semi-monastic associations.

He is also an enthusiastic archaeologist and has on various occasions used his purse and influence to preserve ancient historic buildings in the United Kingdom. His best-known work of this character was the purchase, soon after he succeeded to the title, of the ancient archiepiscopal palace at Croydon, Surrey.

This building, or rather collection of buildings, had since the time of the Commonwealth been neglected until it was in almost complete decay, and at the time the Duke bought it the great hall, one of the finest specimens of Plantagenet architecture in existence, was used as a laundry. The chapel, dating from Queen Elizabeth's time, with many exquisite carvings added by Archbishop Laud, was used as a girl's school. The Duke presented the palace to a Protestant sisterhood, which is gradually restoring it to its former condition. He had previously offered it to the Diocese of St. Albans, but the Bishop felt compelled to decline it.

GOOD NEWS FOR ITALY.

Accouchment of the Queen Said to be Expected in Six Months.

ROME, Dec. 17.—The Messagero asserts that the King of Italy, Victor Emmanuel, has informed the Premier, Signor Saracco, that the Queen will become a mother about six months hence.

When, a little over four years ago, Victor Emmanuel, the then Prince of Naples, instead of marrying, as had been hoped, one of the English Princesses, wedded the beautiful Princess Helena, daughter of the ruler of the little principality of Montenegro, there was considerable discontent in Italy. The fact that no children have as yet resulted from the union has not diminished its unpopularity, especially among the lower classes.

Victor Emmanuel succeeded to the throne on July 29 of this year, when his father, King Humbert, was assassinated by Bresci at Monza.

The announcement that an heir to the throne might be expected has been long awaited. Whether the dispatch from Rome is authentic is open to question, as the Messagero is not one of the semi-official papers.

New Canal in Russia Planned.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 17.—Belgian capitalists are planning a canal between the Volga and the Don River at the point where they are separated by only about sixty miles. The chain of hills on the right bank of the Volga offers a considerable obstacle, but one which is not considered unsurmountable. The cost is estimated at $35,000,000 or $40,000,000. Representatives of the Belgian capitalists will arrive here within a few weeks to negotiate with the Ministries of Finance and Ways of Communication. This canal will, if constructed, give the Volga, the greatest river in Europe, an outlet to the Black Sea and connect the Caspian and the Black Seas.

Anthrax Epidemic in German States.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—The Imperial Health Office to-day published statistics of animal diseases in 1898, showing that twenty-four of the twenty-six German States were affected by anthrax. All the States were affected with foot and mouth disease and with wildfire among swine. Other diseases were very prevalent during the period covered by the statistics.

Medical Examinations in Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—The Imperial Government has sent to the Bundesrath a bill regulating entrance to the medical profession, prolonging the period of study to five years and enlarging the subjects upon which the examinations are based. The bill provides for one year of practical work before a license can be granted to practice.

Kaiser's Son Enters German Army.

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—To-day being the tenth birthday of Prince Joachim, the sixth son of Emperor William, he entered the First Regiment of the Guards at Potsdam as a Lieutenant. The Emperor and Empress witnessed his first marching in the ranks.

To Sail for Here on the Teutonic.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 17.—The White Star Liner Teutonic, sc

GOULDS REPUDIATE CASTELLANE'S DEBTS

Contend the Countess by Ante-Nuptial Pact Is Not Liable.

ANSWER IN BRIC-A-BRAC SUIT

Wife's Indorsement of Drafts Alleged to be Not Binding—Fraud and Non-Jurisdiction Charged.

Anna Gould, Countess de Castellane, is not, according to the contention of George J. Gould, responsible for the debts of her husband, and even if she did indorse drafts accepted by him, the indorsement was fraudulently obtained. This argument is made by Mr. Gould, as one of the trustees under the will of Jay Gould, in answer to the proceedings brought by Anton J. Dittmar, as assignee of claims held by Asher Wertheimer, a bric-a-brac dealer of London. This answer was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Charles A. Gardiner and Col. E. C. James, who represent the trustees of the estate of Jay Gould.

Mr. Dittmar, as assignee of Mr. Wertheimer, a few weeks ago obtained an injunction in the Supreme Court, under which the trustees of the will were prohibited from paying any of the income of the trust fund to the Countess de Castellane until the courts should determine the rights of the assignee of the Wertheimer claims to $377,295.26, said to be due on drafts given for large quantities of bric-a-brac. The injunction was, however, modified so as to allow the Countess an income of $250,000 a year.

George J. Gould was the only trustee who filed an answer to the complaint in the action. After denying that he is a resident of the State of New York, Mr. Gould goes into details as to why the trustees should not recognize the claims against the Count and Countess de Castellane, the principal contentions being as follows:

The defendants allege that by an ante-nuptial agreement entered into between the Count and Countess de Castellane it was therein agreed that their marriage should be under the status known in France as a separation of property and property rights.

These defendants further allege that, under and by virtue of the laws of the Republic of France, where the drafts and acceptances set forth in the complaint are made payable, the acceptance of a draft by a married woman, who has a separation of property, for her husband does not constitute a joint and several liability, and said liability is not regulated by the commercial law of France, but by the civil law; that under and by virtue of the civil law of France such an acceptance by a married woman under a contract for separate property jointly with her husband constitutes only a simple promise, and as such has no binding effect, and constitutes no charge upon her separate estate.

It is further alleged that the husband has no power to give his wife valid authority to accept such drafts. As to the accepting of the various drafts by the Countess de Castellane, the answer says:

By the law of the Republic of France, where said drafts were accepted and payable, and also by the terms of a certain ante-nuptial agreement between them, the said wife or her estate is not liable for the debts of her said husband, and he has no power to charge her separate estate with said indebtedness; that her alleged acceptances of said drafts were wholly without consideration, and were procured by fraud, and were and are fraudulent and void, as to her and her separate estate, and her interest in the income from the said trust fund in the hands of the trustees is not indebted to the said Asher Wertheimer or his said assignee.

The answer also asserts that Mr. Wertheimer induced the Count de Castellane to purchase the bric-a-brac at an exorbitant price "by false and fraudulent representations, knowingly made by him, as to the character, antiquity, maker, cost, and value of the articles, with the intent to cheat and defraud the purchaser." It is further asserted that Mr. Wertheimer first assigned the drafts to Julius Cohen & Co., bankers of London, and that Mr. Dittmar has acquired no right to them. As a further defense, it is asserted that Mr. Wertheimer brought an action before the Tribunal of the Seine, at Paris, to recover the alleged debt, and the action is still undetermined, and that at the same time the Count and Countess de Castellane had begun action in the same court to have the sale of the bric-a-brac as well as the drafts given set aside on the ground of fraud, cheats and frauds hereinabove set forth."

From all this it is contended that the Supreme Court of this State has no jurisdiction over the debts of the Count and Countess de Castellane, and that it has no right to determine what income shall be allowed to her out of her father's estate. It is also stated that "there are other persons, who are, or claim to be, creditors at large of Anna Gould, Countess de Castellane, similarly situated with the plaintiff, who claims to be such a creditor."

After presenting this answer, counsel for the trustees asked Justice Blanchard for an adjournment of the argument to make permanent the injunction restraining the trustees from paying the Countess more than $250,000 a year out of her income of $440,000. Samuel Untermyer of counsel for the plaintiffs agreed to the adjournment until Thursday morning, providing the stipulation as to the $250,000 a year should stand until then.

Neither the Count nor Countess has appeared by attorneys of record in the case, but it is understood that their affidavits as to the claim against them are on the way here, and will be used in the action.

MR. CLEVELAND ON POLITICS.

Says Democratic Party Has Abandoned Old Doctrines and "Wandered After Strange Gods."

ATLANTA, Dec. 17.—The Atlanta Journal this afternoon published an interview with ex-President Cleveland obtained by a staff correspondent at Princeton, N. J. Mr. Cleveland is quoted as follows:

"In my opinion the great need of the Democratic Party is a return to first principles. The Democratic Party has not been fatally disorganized, but it sadly needs rehabilitation on purely Democratic lines.

"What is the matter with the party? It has in my humble judgment simply wandered off after strange gods. A large mass of Democratic voters saw this before the last election. They remained quiet, but when the time came to vote they said, 'This is not Democracy,' and refused to support it.

"As I see it, it is the duty of Democrats everywhere to aid in the rehabilitation of the party. There are some signs of an insistence upon the necessity of a return to Democratic doctrines in the South, but they are not so general as I would like to see.

"With a sincere return to its old-time doctrine, the old-time victories of the Democratic Party will certainly be won."

Verona Club In Politics.

Seventy-five young men met Sunday at Odd Fellows Hall, 69 St. Mark's Place, and formed an organization called the Verona Club for the purpose of supporting an independent candidate for Mayor. The club will soon open headquarters in the Tenth Assembly District. The officers elected are: A. Gronich, President; Dr. M. J. Schuh, Vice President; G. Edelstein, Recording Secretary; Dr. J. Manisof, Financial Secretary; L. L. Amster, Treasurer; S. Goldberg, Sergeant at Arms. President Gronich yesterday consulted with R. Fulton Cutting, President of the Citizens' Union, which will aid the club in its work.

LONDON'S SHELDONIZED PAPER.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The first issue of The Sun under the editorship of the Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker, pastor of the City Temple, appears this afternoon. The column in which the day's betting is usually published contains, under the caption "Latest News," "The wages of sin is death," and other well-known texts, followed up by a vigorous protest against gambling. The article declares, "If a paper cannot live six days without pandering to the gambler, the drunkard, and the sensualist, let it wither away."

In another editorial Dr. Parker urges the magistrates to "apply the cat and wipe out Hooliganism."

Otherwise the paper is much the same as usual, the advertising columns being filled with company prospectuses, and the news columns announcing "Another Ghastly East End Tragedy."

INDUSTRIAL CONCILIATION.

Conference Under Auspices of the National Civic Federation Begins in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—A conference on "Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration," under the auspices of the National Civic Federation, began here this morning. Steinway Hall was only half filled when the speaking began, but Secretary Ralph M. Easley of the Civic Federation declared that the numerous labor leaders present from various points of the country formed a good return on the invitations sent out. The conference has as its object the stirring up of public sentiment by means of discussion between employers of and representatives of labor, rather than of taking definite action, although it is not unlikely that some resolutions giving the sentiment of the conference on the best ways of dealing with industrial disputes will come up before the close of the meeting to-morrow night.

The conference was called to order by Franklin MacVeagh, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements. In arguing that the line of demarkation between employers and employed is not growing more, but less, defined, Mr. MacVeagh said:

"The greed of wealth itself—the ambition for extreme and unrequired wealth—promises to undo itself, as any form of greed is so liable to do. More money than a man really needs requires distinction to make it desirable. Formerly wealth was generally distinguished. It was mainly associated with personal distinction, and made to support and maintain personal distinction. It also was not easy to get; and, therefore, it was more to be desired. It conferred more honor. Of late it has become so much more easy to get, and is so frequently associated with commonplace or objectionable personal qualities that one may look forward to the time when wealth will not necessarily confer either distinction or honor.

"It is when public opinion sets such men apart—as it does men of other distinctions—to be honored and envied, as it did Stephen Girard, for instance, that excessive wealth is truly worth the while. I only need to add that the normal disposition to honor and envy rich men is being strained to the breaking point, even at present, by the disappointing and disheartening quality of the latest crops of rich men."

D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, spoke about "Trade Boards of Conciliation and Arbitration Abroad." He confined his address to relating some of the latest attempts to adjust industrial difficulties through the efforts of voluntary trade boards of conciliation and arbitration, saying at its close:

"If men and employers meet in all fairness and kindness, and are careful to arrange for co-operation and mutual good, many of the differences can be and are constantly settled without hostilities of any kind. The best feeling exists, and disturbances have been few where the men are treated with proper courtesy and frank interest."

John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers, was the next speaker. He was received with vigorous applause. He said his organization had favored for over ten years an adjudication of differences by conciliation and arbitration, and that there had not been a great strike in which the miners had engaged when they had not first tried to apply the principle of conciliation and arbitration. In the recent contest in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, Mr. Mitchell said, the mine workers' organization exhausted every honorable and every possible means before striking.

At the afternoon session E. D. Kenna, First Vice President and General Manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé system, spoke. He said in part:

"When the employer of great numbers engaged in a business affecting the public can fill the places made vacant by strikers the employer will win the contest, and where he cannot do so, the employees will win. The decision of the contest, therefore, will always revolve itself into two questions—how necessary is it that the employer shall continue in business, and how necessary is it that he shall employ the strikers? No amount of intimidation or persuasion will change the result, though it may postpone it, for the inexorable laws of supply and demand will control the decision."

To this talk, and more of the same sort in which Mr. McKenna was understood to refer directly to the Santa Fé telegraphers' strike, Mr. Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, protested in an address at the evening meeting. He held that unless an opportunity to reply was to be given the telegraphers, Mr. McKenna should have made no reference to the labor trouble on his railroad.

Chairman MacVeagh this evening appointed a Committee on Resolutions and Plan of Action. The committee will report to-morrow.

THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

Manufacturers in Philadelphia Discuss the Advantages and Disadvantages of the Tariff.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.—The Industrial Commission began a special session at the Manufacturers' Club here to-day, and representatives of all the important industries in Pennsylvania have been invited to appear. The first witness was J. Gordon Grey, Secretary of the Manufacturers' Club and head of the firm of Queen & Co., manufacturers of optical goods.

Mr. Grey asserted that, despite the prosperity of the country, manufacturers had not participated in it to any extent. He gave as a reason for this the increased price of raw material, which, he said, prevented a proportionate increase in profit with the increase of business. Raw material costs more and wages are higher, he said, but the manufacturers are unable to secure relatively higher prices for the finished article.

Regarding export trade, Mr. Grey said business with South America was less than it should be. This was due, he said, partly to defective shipping facilities from this port, and partly to the lack of organized effort to get the trade.

Concerning the manufacturer of optical instruments, Mr. Grey said it was almost impossible to secure American skilled labor for this purpose. Foreign workmen are employed, and they instruct children. At the Zeiss factory at Jena, Switzerland, skilled workmen are paid from $4 to $8 a week, while in this country they receive from $15 to $21 a week. Despite this difference in the wage scale, Mr. Grey said, the foreign-made instruments are no cheaper than those made in this country.

The clause in the Tariff bill permitting the importation of these instruments free of duty when they are consigned to educational institutions has been a great disadvantage to the manufacturer, and its repeal would vastly benefit the American trade.

At the afternoon session Theodore Justice, an extensive wool manufacturer of this city, was heard. He stated that the United States supply of wool is steadily increasing under a protective tariff, while there has been a decrease in the wool crops of the Argentine Republic, Cape of Good Hope, and Australasia, all free trade countries. During the period from 1873 to 1884 the supply increased in these countries from 40 to 60 per cent. In the United States there was a tariff of 12½ cents a pound on wool at that time, and the supply in this country increased 100 per cent. This was evidence, Mr. Justice said, that with an adequate undisturbed protective tariff this country could soon supply the wants of the population.

From July 1890 to July, 1900, Mr. Justice continued, the American woolen mills had more work than ever before, employed more hands, and paid better wages. The price of clothing is higher now than during the free trade period, there being an increase of 75 cents a pound in scoured wool. This country is importing less wool than ever, Mr. Justice said, and with the decrease in imports there is an increase in American wool manufacture and in American employment.

SPAIN'S ROYAL BETROTHAL.

MADRID, Dec. 17.—Gen. Azcarraga, the Premier, in full uniform, read to-day in the Chamber of Deputies a royal message announcing the projected marriage of the Princess of the Asturias to Prince Charles, second son of the Count of Caserta. Subsequently, accompanied by the other Ministers, he proceeded to the Senate Chamber, where the message was again read.

A committee is drawing up a reply to the message, unanimously favoring the alliance.

It is reported, however, that at a private meeting this evening Señor Sagasta, ex-Liberal Premier, decided to vote against the marriage.

For some months it has been asserted in responsible journalistic circles in Spain that the Chief of the Dynastic Liberals, Señor Sagasta, despite his well-known personal devotion to the Queen Regent and to the Alfonsist branch of the Bourbons, would not refrain from stating in the Cortes, in the name of his party, that he must censure the marriage of the Heiress Presumptive to the throne to a Neapolitan Bourbon, son of a man who was Chief of Staff to the Pretender in the last civil war, when Don Carlos was confronted by Alfonso XII., father of the present King and the Princess.

JUSTICE BEEKMAN DEAD

Expired Suddenly While Opening the Door of His Home.

Had Started for County Court House, Became Ill, and Returned—Courts Adjourned on Receipt of News.

Henry Rutgers Beekman, a Justice of the Supreme Court, died suddenly yesterday morning in the vestibule of his own home, at 35 West Seventeenth Street. He had started for the County Court House when he became ill and returned home. Before he could use his latchkey and open the door he fell dead. Apoplexy was the cause. The Justice was feeling as well as usual yesterday morning when he had his breakfast. As customary, a cab was called at 9:30 o'clock to take him to the Court House, where he was to sit in Trial Term, Part VI. He got into the cab and drove away. It was about thirty minutes later when his wife saw what she thought was the same cab drive away from the house again. At the same time the door bell rang. Lying in the vestibule was the Justice. He was unconscious and was carried into the house. His brother, Dr. John N. Beekman, and Dr. Daniel M. Stimson were called. They found that he was dead.

It appears that after the Justice had driven down Fifth Avenue to Washington Square he began to feel very ill, and had the driver turn around, saying that he would go back to the house. When he reached the house he dismissed the driver and walked quickly up the steps. He stepped inside the vestibule and hesitated a moment, then reached for his keys. He suddenly reeled, but mustered strength enough to ring the bell, then fell forward on the floor. A passer by who saw him fall aided in carrying him into the house.

By a peculiar coincidence, just about the time the Justice died, two legal actions in which he was plaintiff were commenced in the Supreme Court, the papers being filed in the County Clerk's office. In both cases he appeared as trustee under the will of Charles H. Nelson, and Hannah M. Halpin was the defendant. The actions were for foreclosure sale under mortgage of two pieces of property at One Hundred and Forty-second Street and Broadway. The late Justice Frederick Smyth had as referee sold these pieces of property to Mrs. Halpin. If the actions were filed after the death of Justice Beekman they will have to be started all over again.

Justice Beekman was born in this city in December, 1845. He was educated in Columbia College, graduating in 1863. He then entered Columbia Law School, and on completing his course was admitted to the bar in 1867. He was appointed Park Commissioner in 1884 by Mayor Grace to fill a vacancy. In 1886 he was reappointed for a term of five years, and made President of the board. The same year he was elected President of the Board of Aldermen and resigned as a Park Commissioner. At the expiration of his term of office Mayor Hewitt appointed him Corporation Counsel, which position he held until Mayor Grant appointed his successor. While he was Corporation Counsel he was active in the promotion of rapid transit, and subsequently, early in 1894, when the subject was taken up by the Chamber of Commerce, he drew the bill for that body which was introduced in the Legislature to ultimately be passed. Under the commission created by that bill he was appointed as one of the counsel, and held the position until he was elected to the bench.

It was in November, 1894, that he became a candidate for the position of a member of the Superior Court on the ticket headed by William L. Strong, who was the candidate for Mayor. He was elected, and when the courts were consolidated by the new Constitution, on Jan. 1, 1896, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court. Prior to going on the bench he was the head of the law firm of Beekman & Ogden, now Philborn, Beekman & Menken.

As soon as the news of his death reached the County Court House the various parts of the Supreme Court and the Surrogates' Court were adjourned for the day out of respect to his memory, and the same courts will all stand adjourned on Thursday next, the day set for his funeral. There will be a meeting of the Justices of the Supreme Court at 1:30 P. M. to-day at their chambers, to make arrangements for attending the funeral and for memorial services.

Justice Beekman was married in 1870 to Isabella Lawrence, daughter of Richard Lawrence of this city. The widow and four children survive him. He was a member of the Century, University, City, Manhattan, Reform, and Democratic Clubs.

The funeral services will be held at Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, Fourth Avenue and Twentieth Street, at 9:45 o'clock Thursday morning, and the interment will be in the family plot at Greenwood.

THE POPE NOT PLACATED.

Declares in Allocution He Has Been Despoiled of His Just and Legitimate Sovereignty.

ROME, Dec. 17.—At the secret consistory held to-day the Pope appointed a number of Bishops, including Mgr. Keane, formerly Rector of the Catholic University at Washington, to the Archdiocese of Dubuque.

The Rev. Hermann Joseph Alesding was appointed Bishop of Fort Wayne, Ind., and the Rev. Joseph O'Reilly of Peoria Titular Bishop of Laredo, Texas.

The Pope in to-day's allocution thanked God, who had enabled him to accomplish the holy year. He went on to say, however, that many painful matters pressed him, especially the conflict between Italy and the Church, resulting in a violation of Papal rights.

"Still graver things, are to be apprehended," continued his Holiness. "It is truly a calamity that the Pontiff is despoiled forcibly of his just and legitimate sovereignty, which is closely bound up with the liberty of his ministry. The Pontiff is now held under the power of other men and subjected to their arbitrary will.

"Difficulties arise when we see the domination of Rome pass from one to another, as though it were a right instead of being the fruit of injustice. We wish the right of the Papacy to remain intact. We declare that neither time nor the succession of rulers can suppress or diminish the imprescriptible right of the Pontiff."

As announced last Sept. 5, the Pope, at about that time, sent to Mgr. Keane a Papal decree formally conferring upon him the rank, title, and authority of Archbishop of Dubuque. Mgr. Keane's full title previous to this was Titular Bishop of Ajaccio, Canon of the Lateran Basilica, and Consulator for American Affairs to the Propaganda. He succeeds the late Archbishop Hennessy.

HELD ON BROTHER'S COMPLAINT.

Charles Weatherby Accused of Drunkenness—Father Had Dropped Dead.

Charles H. Weatherby, forty years old, who gave his home as 207 West Eighteenth Street, was locked up in the West Sixty-eighth Street Station last night on the complaint of his brother, George, who charges him with being drunk and disorderly.

The prisoner's father, Charles Weatherby, died suddenly yesterday morning of apoplexy as he was entering the dining room in his flat in the Eighteenth Street house. He lived there with his wife, four sons, and one daughter.

At 11 o'clock last night Patrolman Rathmaker was called upon to arrest the son. At the station house the complainant, George, told Sergeant Wade that his mother was prostrated. His brother had been drinking all day, and refused to be quieted. When the prisoner gave his address at 207 West Eighteenth Street, the complainant denied that he lived there.

The dead man was until four years ago, when he retired, in the stove and furnace business at 281 West Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Charles—Rodgers.

SING SING, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Miss Emilie Amsdell Rodgers, daughter of Edward Hunter Rodgers, was married this evening to Frederick Hyatt Charles of Brooklyn. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, at 59 James Street, and the Rev. F. W. Lockwood, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. Only relatives were present. The bride wore a very becoming traveling dress of brown cloth, with hat to match. There were no maid of honor, bridesmaids, best man, or ushers. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast, and later in the evening the couple started on a wedding trip to Washington.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

Three sudden deaths that have occurred since Thursday last will have their effect upon the social attendance at the opera this evening. Owing to the death of her brother-in-law, William Stanhope Callendar, who married Miss Teresa Anthon, and which occurred on Saturday at Morristown, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish will naturally not be present in the brilliant house. Mrs. Alexander Van Nest and her daughter, Miss Mary Alice Van Nest, and Mrs. Richard Gambrill, who share a parterre box, will be prevented from attending by the death of Charles Carroll Jackson, who married Mrs. Van Nest's sister-in-law and Mrs. Gambrill's sister, Miss Mary Van Nest. Mr. Jackson died on board the German steamship Columbia, on which he had sailed with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Girard Foster ten days ago. The news of his death came by cable from Gibraltar, the Columbia's first port. The death of Judge Henry R. Beekman, which occurred so suddenly yesterday in this city, will plunge the large Beekman family connection into mourning, and they will be missing at the opera. Mrs. Charles Thorndike Parker, (Miss Susan De Forest Day,) who has been thrown into mourning by the death of her brother, George Lord Day, has transferred her lease of Parterre Box 26 for odd Friday evenings to Mrs. Francis H. Leggett.

***

The events and incidents of to-day, in addition to the opening of the opera, will be the second fortnightly dance at the Astoria, the second Assembly at Delmonico's, a performance of the comedy "Professor Whimsical," written by Lecnidas Westervelt, by the Columbia College sophomores at the Carnegie Lyceum; a fair at the Waldorf in aid of the destitute blind, the second of two coming-out receptions, given by Mrs. John Erving for her daughter, Miss Justine B. Erving, and a reception by Miss Catherine C. Crosby and Miss Edith Carpenter, at 16 East Fortieth Street. Miss Gladys Whitin will give a luncheon to her bridesmaids and maid of honor; Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright has issued invitations for a card party at her residence, and among the dinner givers of the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dana and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Q. Jones.

***

Amadée Depau Moran of 17 West Fifty-sixth Street will give a large dinner on the evening of Jan. 9 for his débutante daughter, Miss Rosalie E. Moran. The dinner is to be followed by dancing, and there will probably be a cotillion. The affair is to be for débutantes, and will not be a large one. Several other dinners are to be given on the same evening, notably one by Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Jr., from which the guests will go to the dance.

***

Mrs. William Seward Webb has issued invitations for a dinner on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 9, for her débutante daughter, Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb. The dinner will be given at her residence, 680 Fifth Avenue, and will probably be followed by dancing.

***

The wedding of F. D'Oench and Mrs. Alice Grace Halloway will take place at the residence of the bride's father, William R. Grace, 31 East Seventy-ninth Street, on Thursday, Jan. 10, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

***

Mrs. James F. Ruggles of 244 West Seventieth Street gave yesterday afternoon at her residence the second of two receptions for her niece, Mrs. Daniel E. Seybel. Mrs. Ruggles and Mrs. Seybel received. Mrs. H. H. Piffard and Miss Gurnee were at the tea table.

***

Mrs. L. Hollingsworth Babcock of 53 West Thirty-seventh Street gave yesterday afternoon the last of three receptions to introduce her daughter, Miss Pauline Babcock. The débutante was assisted in receiving by Miss Sallie Cook and Miss Helena Rutherfurd Ely.

***

The second Fortnightly will be danced to-night at the Waldorf. The cotillion will be led by Alexander Hadden, dancing with Miss Morris. The favors are to be paper knives of ivory and brass, pen wipers, paper weights, and ornaments for the men, and for the girls silk pompons, in various shades, for the hair and fancy belts. Mrs. Thomas S. Young, Jr., Mrs. Alexander Shaw, and possibly others of the patronesses are to receive.

***

Mrs. John Erving (Miss Cornelia Van Rensselaer) will give to-day at her residence, 17 West Fiftieth Street, the second of two coming-out receptions for her daughter, Miss Justine Bayard Erving. Mrs. Erving and the débutante will be assisted in receiving by Miss Erving, Mrs. Henry W. Cooper, and Mrs. John V. L. Pruyn.

***

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thornell (Miss Clara E. Keyes) are to chaperon a party of young people, who are to be guests at Lakewood over New Year's. With their guests they will leave New York on Dec. 28, and will return after New Year's day. The party will include the Misses Thornell, Miss Violet Stewart, Miss Madge Niles, Miss Cecil Boardman, and several young men.

***

Robert F. Collier was the host last night of a theatre party, and later gave a supper at Sherry's, in honor of Miss Sarah Van Alen. Mrs. Clement C. Moore chaperoned the young people.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philip Henop, who with their family are at present at the Buckingham Hotel, gave last evening at Sherry's, in honor of their débutante daughter, Miss Sydney Stuart Henop, a dinner of 100 covers, followed by a cotillion. The entire second floor was reserved, and the dinner was served at eleven tables in the banqueting hall. The tables had centrepieces of holly, and the corsage bouquets and the boutonnieres were of holly tied with red ribbons. The dinner, which began about 8 o'clock, was finished and cotillion was started in the small ballroom about 10. Alexander Hadden led, dancing with Miss Sydney Stuart Henop, assisted by Schuyler Schieffelin, who danced with Miss Grace Seeley Henop. The favors were ribbons and bells for the men, and for the girls there were artificial Japanese iris flowers, done in white and purple silk. These iris flowers had the foliage and stem attached. There was also a confetti and serpentine figure at the close, which was extremely effective. Mrs. Henop was gowned in white satin and chiffon, trimmed with lace; Miss Henop wore a yellow satin frock, trimmed with yellow and white maline, and her flowers were chrysanthemums, while Miss Sydney Henop was in white liberty chiffon, the bodice fitted by tiny tucks, and the skirt laid in accordion-pleated flounces, very fluffy and soft in effect. The guests were chiefly débutantes and the young men who dance, only a few older people being asked. Among those who were seated at Mrs. Henop's table were Mr. and Mrs. William Kingsland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Fairchild, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gardiner, and James K. Gracie. Another of the older guests was P. F. Collier, and among the young married people present were Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. William Dinsmore, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Pierson, Jr. The débutantes present included the Misses Kathleen Nelison, Florence Twombly, Leila Bryce, Sibyl Kane, Nathalie Schenck, Nathalie Henderson, Marie de Neufville, Marion Fish, Helen T. Barney, Rosamond Street, Helen Kountze, Mary Harriman, Rosalie Moran, Eleanor Jay, and Lily Delrichs. Of the older girls, there were the Misses Claire Bryce, Edith Hall, Alice Olin, Mary Gardiner, Laura Swan, Nellie Barnes, Mildred Stokes, Ethel Irvin of Paris, Louise Scott, Eva Barbey, Pauline Robinson, Carrie Edgar, Evelyn Parsons, Anna Dodge, Katharine Dix, Julia Rodgers, and the Misses Robb, Rutherford, and Whittaker. Among the young men were Searle Barclay, J. Insley Blair, Archibald Alexander, John Delafield, William Thorn, William Low, Langdon Irvin, Coster Wilmerding, Prince Henri de Croy, De Lancey Coster, Benjamin B. Moore, W Scott Cameron, Grosvenor Nicholas, Frederick Juilliard, Renwick Hurry, Kenneth Robinson, Herman and Beverly Robinson, Mansfield Patterson, Lowell Blake of Boston, Harry Robbins, Howard Dickinson, Richard Willing, Graham Stokes, Dongan de Peyster, De Ruyter Hollins, Philip Benkard, Robert L. Livingston, Marshall Kernochan, Victor Loew, George Brewster, Douglas Campbell, Phoenix Ingraham, Mansfield Patterson, Wainwright Parrish, and Rudolph Neeser.

***

Mrs. Woodbury G. Langdon (Miss Sophia E. Montgomery) gave, at her residence, 719 Fifth Avenue, last evening, a small dance in honor of her débutante daughter, Miss Sophie E. Langdon, who was presented at two coming-out receptions given recently. The house was handsomely decorated with palms, orange trees, and large vases of American Beauty and Liberty roses. There were five favor figures in the cotillion, which was led by Frederic Ashton de Peyster, dancing with Miss Sophie Langdon, and thirty couples took part. The favors were many of them handsome, and included the usual ribbons and bells, silver articles, frames, &c. Among the guests were the Misses May Gallatin, Eleanor Morris, Ella de Peyster, Mary Harriman, Sibyl Kane, Nathalie Henderson, Nathalie Schenck, and Miss Hone, and Rudolph Neeser, Goelet Gallatin, and Messrs. Robinson, de Peyster, Delafield, and Harriman. Few of the guests arrived late from the Henop dinner dance at Sherry's.

***

The Kaiser Wilhelm II., which arrived three days late on Sunday, will probably sail to-day. A list of those booked to sail on her and which includes ex-Gov. Morton and his daughters, the Misses Helen and Alice Morton, has already been published. Among those who arrived on the steamer and whose names have not been published were Prof. John W. Burgess and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cram, Mr. and Mrs. Harden F. Crawford, Miss Isabel King, Mrs. Charles H. Lord, and Mrs. Charles McNamee of Biltmore, N. C.; Dr. W. P. Porter and Mrs. Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whitehouse.

***

The Sin-Som Club, which has a membership of sixty young men and women who are, with few exceptions, identified with the Southern set, attended the Lyceum Theatre last evening. The members assembled at the residence of Mrs. Oliver Livingston Jones, 116 West Seventy-second Street, and, after the play, enjoyed a supper at Delmonico's. This supper was served at an immense oval table. The matron in charge of last night's affair was Mrs. Oliver Livingston Jones. The club will meet for its next theatre party at the residence of Mrs. John Burling Lawrence, 126 East Thirtieth Street. Two later meetings will be held on Jan. 28 and Feb. 4, 1901. Among the members of the club who were present last evening were the Misses Lucile Bacon, Edith Brander Matthews, Hildegarde Neste, Florence A. Helm, Anne Tracy Turner, Mary Newbold Lawrence, Charlotte E. Huntington, Carolyn D. Eidlitz, Elizabeth F. Johnson, Nellie Lewis, and Mrs. James Lindsay Gordon, and Anson Baldwin, Walter L. Taylor, John S. Wise, Jr., Heth Lorton, Percy Jackson, George B. Lee, and Dr. George H. Bell.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY NOTES.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The President and Mrs. McKinley are entertaining ex-Secretary and Mrs. Day of Canton, Ohio, who arrived at the White House to-day. The President gave an informal dinner party in their honor this evening.

The Minister from Costa Rica and Mme. Calvo gave a dinner to-night in honor of William L. Merry, United States Minister to Costa Rica, Nicaragua, and Salvador. The Secretary of War and Mrs. Root, the First Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill, with several South American diplomats, were present.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Mackay-Smith gave a dinner to-night in honor of Bishop Potter of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Von Bruening have arrived, to spend the next two weeks with Col. and Mrs. Augustus C. Tyler of New London, who opened their Washington home last week. Mrs. Von Bruening has almost entirely recovered from her severe illness of the Autumn, and is accepting many invitations for her Washington stay. Mrs. Tyler will give a large reception to-morrow to introduce her second daughter, Miss Sarah Tyler.

The engagement is announced of Miss Keats Rodgers, only daughter of the late Capt. John F. Rodgers, to Horace Westcott of this city. The wedding is to take place next Spring. Miss Rodgers and her mother have only recently returned from a protracted absence abroad, and are spending the Winter at the Richmond. Mr. Westcott is a member of the Metropolitan and Chevy Chase Clubs and of the Bachelors' German.

Mrs. Charles A. Murow, who recently returned from a two years' residence abroad, gave a large tea this afternoon, which brought together a fashionable company. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Roy Stone, Mrs. Lowndes, Miss Mary Sheridan, and Miss Kennedy, Miss Biddle doing the honors of the tea table.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Dr. Cyrus Augustus Bartol.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—The Rev. Cyrus Augustus Bartol, D. D., for nearly twenty-five years pastor of the West Unitarian Church here and for a quarter of a century an assistant to the Rev. Charles Lowell, D. D., formerly pastor of the church, is dead, after a two weeks' illness from bronchitis.

Dr. Bartol was born in Freeport, Me., on April 30, 1813, graduated at Bowdoin College when nineteen years old, and at the Harvard Divinity School in 1835. Nearly all hist active life was passed in the ministry of the West Church, he having been called thither in 1837 as junior colleague of Dr. Lowell. On the death of Dr. Lowell, in 1861, he became pastor. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by Harvard University in 1859.

An important controversy in which Dr. Bartol took a leading part was that of something like a dozen years ago, when the proposition was made by New York Unitarians, and seconded in other parts of the country, that the Unitarians formally adopt a creed and a regular form of service. Dr. Bartol joined with many others in opposing any step which might in the least trammel freedom of thought and action among liberal Christians, and, in response to an invitation, about seventy of the principal clergymen and laity of the Unitarian denomination met at his house to protest against such action. This gathering was the foundation of the famous Radical Club, now the Chestnut Street Club, which has such a brilliant history, and which during the first part of its existence met alternately at Dr. Bartol's and the Rev. John T. Sargent's, the two houses being only two doors from each other.

Among his works are "Church and Congregation," "Radical Problems," "The Rising Faith," "Principles and Portraits," &c.

He had one child, Elizabeth H. Bartol, who has become well known as a painter. Dr. Bartol had lived during most of his life on Chestnut Street, in one of the quaintest and oldest houses of the West End.

Col. John G. Parke.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Col. John G. Parke, who was retired from the United States Army July 2, 1889, died at his residence here yesterday of a complication of diseases incident to old age.

He was born in Pennsylvania in 1827, and was graduated at West Point in 1845. His first active service was in the topographical engineers. He was in charge of the survey for the Pacific Railroad on the thirty-second parallel; he had to do with establishing the Northern and Southern boundary lines. He was commissioned a Brigadier General in the volunteers in the Fall of '61. He took part in the North Carolina campaign of Gen. Burnside, and also saw service along the South Carolina coast. He was Chief of Staff of the Army of the Potomac while Burnside commanded it, and was engaged at South Mountain and Antietam. After this his corps was sent to Kentucky and operated there in connection with the Army of the Ohio. Thence he proceeded to reinforce Gen. Grant before Vicksburg, and after the surrender of that place he commanded the left wing of the army under Gen. Sherman and participated in the pursuit of Johnston. He was temporarily in command of the Army of the Potomac during the battle of Fort Stedman. He came out of the war a Major General of volunteers.

After the war his most valuable service was accomplished in the office of Chief of Engineers in Washington. For nearly twenty years he had chief charge of the office work pertaining to the immense transactions of the Government in the improvement of rivers and harbors. He was also Superintendent of the Military Academy at West Point for two years.

He leaves a wife, but no children. He had lived here many years. Funeral services will be held here Wednesday. The interment will be in Philadelphia.

Gen. Edward Fitch Bullard.

Gen. Edward Fitch Bullard died on Sunday night at his home, 397 Macon Street, Brooklyn, after an illness of two months.

He was born Feb. 7, 1821, in Saratoga County, N. Y. He was admitted to the Supreme Court of this State in 1843 and to the United States Supreme Court in 1850. He was commissioned a Brigadier General in the National Guard of the State in 1845. On July 4, 1876, Gen. Bullard delivered the centennial ofation at Schuylerville, N. Y., where Gen. Burgoyne surrendered. With his brother, Daniel A. Bullard, he was one of the Trustees who supervised the erection of a monument at Schuylerville to commemorate the surrender of Burgoyne.

Gen. Bullard was one of the original members of the American Bar Association, and was also a member of the Empire State Society, Sons of the Revolution. He had practiced his profession in every county in this State and also in many other States. His name was presented to the Republican State Convention in 1870 for nomination to the bench of the Court of Appeals. Gen. Bullard leaves a widow, four sons, Emanuel G., Edward F., Jr., Howard B., and Waldo E. Bullard, and one daughter, Miss Lillian G. Bullard. The funeral will take place this evening at the family residence.

Obituary Notes.

DAVID H. NICHOLS, Lieutenant Governor of Colorado from 1893 to 1895, died last night at his home, near Boulder, Col. He was born in Hardwick, Vt., in 1826. He was a veteran of the Mexican war. He had resided in Colorado since 1859.

HENRY VAUGHAN UPHAM, well known in the lumber trade, is dead, aged fifty-three years. For thirty years he was manager of the business of John W. Leatherbee. He was very prominent in Boston in Baptist church and Bible school work.

Capt. T. L. CHURCHILL, for many years one of the best-known figures in the insurance business in Boston, is dead. For many years he was one of the surveyors employed by the New England Bureau of United Inspection. He was about seventy-five years of age.

RICHARD JONES TIMPSON, who for thirty-two years had been in the employ of Tiffany & Co., in the diamond jewelry department, died on Saturday at his home, 102 Penn Street, Brooklyn, where the funeral was held last evening. He was fifty-nine years old, and leaves a son and three daughters.

JAMES R. MOSEMAN, a leather dealer, whose home was at 102 Hollywood Aven

RED BALL UP IN BRONX

Skaters Cover Van Cortlandt and Corona Lakes.

Ice in Fairly Good Condition in Both Parks—New Skate and Golf House Nearing Completion.

The skating season opened yesterday, when the red ball was hoisted at Crotona and Van Cortlandt Park Lakes in the Borough of the Bronx.

The signal had not been up an hour when the crowds began to arrive at Van Cortlandt Park by way of the New York and Putnam trains from One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street and Eighth Avenue, and in the Jerome Avenue trolley cars from all parts of the Bronx. The ice was found to be in fairly good condition, with the exception of the extreme north end of the lake, where it had frozen in ridges and was rough and uneven. By 2 o'clock there were several hundred devotees of the sport gliding over the glittering sheet of white. This number was tripled after 3 o'clock, when the schoolchildren began to arrive in droves and made things merry. At night a couple of thousand men and women enjoyed themselves until 10:30 o'clock, notwithstanding that the light was very poor, there being only some gas lamps round the edges of the lake, instead of electric lights.

The new skate and golf house near Van Cortlandt Lake is not quite completed, but now that skating has started, the work will be rushed with all possible speed. With the completion of this structure the public will be placed in possession of one of the most comfortable of the city's free institutions connected with the Park Department. It will cost $18,500 and will accommodate about 1,000 people. Connected with it are shower baths, dressing rooms, curlers' rooms, golf rooms, lockers, a spacious skaters' room, a restaurant, and a café. The building is an artistic structure two stories high, having a frontage of 120 feet and a depth of 40 feet. Yesterday the old skatehouse on the edge of the lake was used, and the coffee and sandwich man who was at his old stand did a rushing business.

The ice on the curling pond just north of the charred remains of the famous old Van Cortlandt mill was in good condition, but will be scraped to-day, and then the curling teams will take possession and the rinks opened for the tournaments, several of which have already been announced.

The crowd on the ice in Crotona Park was far greater than that on Van Cortlandt Lake, for the reason that it was easier to reach and handy to three different trolley lines. The school children took complete possession of the lake, and it required the combined efforts of several policemen to keep them within bounds. At night several hundred skaters were on hand.

There was also good skating on Cromwell's Creek, at Jerome Avenue, near One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, and many skaters on their way to Van Cortlandt Park stopped there to make sure of a spin on the ice. This place was rather dangerous in spots, and one youngster, who gave his name as Frederick Hyman and said he lived at One Hundred and Sixty-first Street and Melrose Avenue, broke through the ice while venturing too near the edge. The time was low, however, and he only went waist deep in black mud. He was pulled out very much scared, and went home shivering and received a vigorous warming on his arrival.

SHAMROCK II. IS LOCATED.

Yacht Building by Hendersons of Scotland Is Cup Challenger.

Doubt as to the builders of Sir Thomas Lipton's new cup challenger Shamrock II. has been cleared by a direct statement from Sir Thomas contained in a letter written by him to a friend in this city and received here yesterday. The Hendersons of Partle, Scotland, have been intrusted with the construction of the yacht. In his letter Sir Thomas, speaking of the two boats of cup challenger size designed by George L. Watson, and now in process of building, says: "The boat at the Hendersons is mine, and it is the one which I expect to sail in the cup races. I have nothing whatever to do with the yacht building by Denny & Co., at Dumbarton."

The yacht now under construction at the Denny yards, it is assumed, is intended for the Prince of Wales, as he is known to have placed an order with Watson some time ago for the designs of a ninety-foot yawl for racing in the British and other European events next season. Special significance has been attached to which of these two new Watson boats was intended for Sir Thomas, for the yacht at the Dennys is to have a metal hull, while it has been given out that the Hendersons will be being built of composite material, that is, of nickel steel frames and wooden planking. If this report be true, the international races next year will furnish a contest between the two methods of construction—metal and composite—for both trial defenders are to have bronze hulls.

Columbia to be Ready Early.

The old defender Columbia, which is to compete next Summer in trial races with the two new candidates for the privilege of defending the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, will be afloat and in commission a full month earlier than her rivals. Ex-Commodore E. D. Morgan of the New York Yacht Club, who has been selected as manager of the Columbia in the trial races, said yesterday that the yacht would be refitted early in the Spring at the Hawkins yard, City Island, where she now is, and that Capt. Barr would have a crew aboard her by April 1. The Columbia will be tuned up at this end of the Sound before competing against the new boats. No steps have yet been taken to engage her crew, but ex-Commodore Morgan desires to secure, so far as possible, native American seamen.

Yacht Building Plant Burned.

Special to The New York Times.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., Dec. 17.—Fire yesterday morning destroyed the boatbuilding plant of Sammis & Dickerson, on the shores of Huntington Harbor. The yacht Helen, owned by Aldrich Sammis of Brooklyn, moored near the plant, is a total loss, as are also the catboat Enola, owned by the Rev. Samuel T. Carter; eight or ten small boats, and two sloop yachts from Stamford, Conn., the property of members of the Stamford Yacht Club, Lewis E. Tunnell and T. J. Halle. All of the contracts and plans for next season's boats also were destroyed. The firm will rebuild at once, and in the meanwhile has secured an office and workroom on Spring Street.

High-Priced Dogs for Brooklyn.

Two of the prize-winning bulldogs noted in Europe have become the property of John H. Mullins, Jr., of Brooklyn. The purchase by cable last week of King Kotopult, a winner in the best benches in England, was followed yesterday by the purchase of King Crib, a high-priced son of Bromley Crib, Richard Croker's great bulldog. The price for King Crib was stated to be $2,500, and for King Kotopult about $2,000. Mr. Mullins is the owner of the Bridge Kennels.

Wants State to Supervise Boxing.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Assemblyman-elect Charles F. Brooks announced today that he will introduce a bill in the Legislature which will put boxing under State supervision. Mr. Brooks says of his intended measure that under State control Inspectors can be placed at every ringside with power to stop contests at any time. Limitation of licenses and imprisonment of impostors is contemplated. Mr. Brooks said: "I believe the party in power favors all legitimate athletic sports."

Dr. O'Connell Shot in Fine Form.

On the grounds of the Hudson Gun Club at East Harrison, N. J., yesterday, at an invitation trap shooting tournament, Dr. Louis H. O'Connell of New York led the fields in every event except two, of which A. A. Alberte and Thomas H. Diffley took one each. Dr. O'Connell in addition to taking the individual honors landed his team a winner in the team race by five birds after a close contest.

Hockey Game in Pittsburg Off.

The Faculty Committee on Athletics of Columbia College has refused to permit the college hockey team to make its proposed trip to Pittsburg, to play against the Pittsburg Hockey Club, the college rules non-college teams except on the college grounds.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

The Harlem League Team Wins East-Side Bowling Championship—Other Competitions.

The final match for the bowling championship of the east side was rolled last night at the Germania alleys between picked teams representing the Harlem League and the American National tournament. The result was a victory for the Harlem bowlers, who won two of the three games very handily, losing one by six pins. As the American National team had won two of the three games in the first series, this made a tie on games, which, according to the rules governing the competition, was decided by the total number of pins in the entire series. This gave the championship to the Harlem League by a majority of 214 pins.

In the second game the Harlem team made a total of 1,065, which is the highest team total of the season on any of the local alleys. Of this W. Gerdes made 247, which is only a few pins short of the high individual score of the season. Lockwood and Kahlsdorf also tallied over 200.

The Harlem League team will meet the winners of the west side championship contest, to be decided to-morrow evening at Schlusing's alleys, in a final competition for the championship of Manhattan. The date of this final match is yet to be fixed. The scores of last night's games follow:

HARLEM BOWLING LEAGUE.

	First Game.		Second Game.		Third Game.
Name.	Pins.	S. Sp.	Pins.	S. Sp.	Pins.	S. Sp.
W. Gerdes	188	3 7	247	7 3	186	0 10
McDonald	177	3 5	194	3 6	191	2 8
Lockwood	171	3 4	223	6 3	167	1 6
Kahlsdorf	165	1 7	210	6 3	171	2 6
F. Gerdes	170	2 6	191	4 5	199	5 4
Total	851	10 29	1,065	26 20	904	10 34

AMERICAN NATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

	First Game.		Second Game.		Third Game.
Name.	Pins.	S. Sp.	Pins.	S. Sp.	Pins.	S. Sp.
Bucholz	186	3 6	182	4 4	149	1 5
Koster	160	2 5	162	2 5	178	2 6
Rothermel	193	2 8	157	1 6	221	4 6
Foege	151	1 6	170	1 7	148	4 2
Lehrbach	167	1 7	182	3 8	201	5 3
Total	857	9 32	833	11 25	897	16 22

Grand totals.—Harlem Bowling League—First match, 2,747; second match, 2,820. Total, 5,567.
American National Tournament—First match, 2,706; second match, 2,687. Total, 5,353.

In the tournament of the Interclub Bowling League, which was continued on the alleys of the six Brooklyn clubs comprising the association, the Crescent Athletic Club and Aurora Grata Club by eight pins, the Carleton Club defeated the Brooklyn Bicycle Club by 221 pins, and the Knickerbocker Field Club won from the Columbian Club by 198 pins. The scores:

AT AURORA GRATA CLUB.

AURORA GRATA CLUB—First game, 772; second game, 807; third game, 717. Total, 2,296.
CRESCENT ATHLETIC CLUB—First game, 725; second game, 821; third game, 756. Total, 2,302.

AT CRESCENT A. C.

CRESCENT ATHLETIC CLUB—First game, 760; second game, 815; third game, 868. Total, 2,443.
AURORA GRATA CLUB—First game, 888; second game, 713; third game, 840. Total, 2,441.
Grand total—Crescent Athletic Club, 4,745; Aurora Grata Club, 4,737.

AT CARLETON CLUB.

CARLETON CLUB—First game, 875; second game, 868; third game, 867. Total, 2,610.
BROOKLYN BICYCLE CLUB—First game, 872; second game, 803; third game, 714. Total, 2,389.

AT BROOKLYN B. C.

BROOKLYN BICYCLE CLUB.—First Game, 823; second game, 869; third game, 823. Total, 2,520.
CARLTON CLUB—First game, 806; second game, 844; third, 870. Total, 2,520.
Grand Totals—Carleton Club, 5,130; Brooklyn Bicycle Club, 4,900.

AT COLUMBIAN CLUB.

COLUMBIAN CLUB—First game, 803; second game, 796; third game, 869. Total, 2,468.
KNICKERBOCKER FIELD CLUB—First game, 862; second game, 843; third game, 888. Total, 2,614.

AT KNICKERBOCKER F. C.

KNICKERBOCKER FIELD CLUB—First game, 776; second game, 849; third game, 779. Total, 2,404.
COLUMBIAN CLUB—First game, 719; second game, 832; third game, 801. Total, 2,352.
Grand Totals—Knickerbocker Field Club, 5,015; Columbian Club, 4,820.

The America bowlers of Elizabeth, N. J., won three straight games from the Spartan five in the National League tournament on Starr's alleys last night. Simon rolled only the three last frames in the first game. The scores:

AMERICA B. C.				SPARTAN.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Buehler	183	177	197	Schultz	160	201	155
Dieffenb'h	162	163	178	Rentsch	180	158	181
Cooke	170	180	173	Schilling	175	189	178
Lipp	197	179	140	Maler	188	167	154
Friedenthal	195	209	159	Simon	24	148	149
Total	911	914	887	Total	733	863	818

The Hyperion team won three games from the Tremont five in the North Side League tournament, on Pump's North Side Palace alleys last night. The scores:

TREMONT B. C.				HYPERION B. C.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
McAdam	134	155		Stiefel	151	202	184
Schultz			135	Krick	146	153	179
Walter	155	133	130	McKenzie	176	159	167
Thoma	144	128	150	Fechter	179	204	167
Fowler	154	125	180	Hermann	186	192	175
Dagner	167	157	160
Total	754	716	761	Total	833	910	898

The Corinthian team outrolled the Grove Hill and Wang fives in the Columbia League tournament on Schlusing's Columbia alleys last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Grove Hill Bowling Club—Potts, 158; Voigt, 166; Robitzek, 145; Soffel, 172; Ireland, 183. Total, 824.
Corinthian Bowling Club—S. Walter, 150; Clinch, 217; Zollinger, 138; Schaefer, 165; Tonjes, 113. Total, 839.
SECOND GAME.—Wang Bowling Club—Silberstein, 146; Koles, 135; Pinover, 143; Tobias, 190; Lederer, 154. Total, 768.
Grove Hill Bowling Club—Potts, 162; Voigt, 199; Robitzek, 187; Soffel, 175; Ireland, 143. Total, 866.
THIRD GAME.—Wang Bowling Club—Silberstein, 203; Strauss, 155; Pinover, 184; Koles, 147; Lederer, 136. Total, 825.
Corinthian Bowling Club—S. Walter, 185; Clinch, 155; Zollinger, 168; Schaefer, 153; Tonjes, 227. Total, 888.

The Lafayette bowlers defeated the Eclipse and Harlem Wheelmen teams in the Harlem League tournament on Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace alleys last night. The scores:

First Game.—Lafayette Bowling Club—Davis, 138; Delkmann, 160; Silberstein, 192; Wanderer, 189; Darrell, 182. Total, 861.
Eclipse Bowling Club—Brill, 189; Thron, 173; Kapp, 138; Stalb, 178; Korndorfer, 180. Total, 858.
Second Game.—Eclipse Bowling Club—Brill, 140; Thron, 200; Kapp, 169; Stalb, 154; Korndorfer, 153. Total, 816.
Harlem Wheelmen—Dumahaug, 200; Veitch, 157; Fulle, 139; Du Bary, 134; Haigh, 213. Total, 843.
Third Game.—Harlem Wheelmen—Dumahaug, 172; Veitch, 198; Fulle, 151; Du Bary, 138; Haigh, 139. Total, 798.
Lafayette Bowling Club—Davis, 151; Delkmann, 194; Silberstein, 180; Wanderer, 157; Darrell, 176. Total, 858.

All three teams broke even in the Greater New York tournament on Thum & Ehler's Palace alleys, Brooklyn, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Imperial Bowling Club, 911; Queer Bowling Club, 875.
SECOND GAME.—Empire Bowling Club, 902; Queer Bowling Club, 888.
THIRD GAME.—Empire Bowling Club, 920; Imperial Bowling Club, 919.

The Orient team defeated the Atlantic and South Paw fives in the Long Island League tournament on the Elephant Club alleys, Brooklyn, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Atlantic Bowling Club, 778; Orient Bowling Club, 943.
SECOND GAME.—South Paw Bowling Club, 920; Atlantic Bowling Club, 799.
THIRD GAME.—Orient Bowling Club, 951; South Paw Bowling Club, 867.

Fort Greene Council won from Washington Irving and Brevoort Councils in the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum tournament last night. The score:

FIRST GAME.—Washington Irving Council, 858; Brevoort Council, 809.
SECOND GAME.—Fort Greene Council, 851; Brevoort Council, 865.
THIRD GAME.—Washington Irving Council, 802; Fort Greene Council, 808.

West Point's New Football Captain.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, Dec. 17.—Cadet Adam F. Casad of Kentucky will be Captain of next year's Military Academy football team. His election by a unanimous vote was announced to-day. Cadet Casad has done good work for his team during the past two seasons. He generally played half back, but on several occasions took the place of quarter back. The new Captain is a short, sturdily built young man. He stands high in the class of 1902, and is a general favorite with the entire corps.

WILL ENCOURAGE MARKSMEN.

National Rifle Association's Plans to Stimulate Shooting and Arrange an International Contest.

The annual meeting of the National Rifle Association of America was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Gen. George W. Wingate, 20 Nassau Street, when a new Board of Directors and officers for the year were elected, and a considerable amount of accumulated business was transacted. The meeting was the first held since the reorganization of the association. Gen. Wingate presided. Of the old Board of Directors there were present Lieut. Albert S. Jones, who acted as Secretary; Gen. B. W. Spencer, Gen. Story, and Capt. E. L. Zalinski. Gen. Wingate called for an election of Directors, stating that by amendment to the by-laws the number had been increased to thirty-six, and that the term of office of the present Directors long ago had expired. He said also that his term as President had expired, and that as he had ceased to hold a commission in the National Guard, he wished to retire from the Presidency, which he had held for a number of years. He suggested Gen. Spencer as his successor. The election of Directors resulted as follows:

To serve one year, during 1901—Brig. Gen. George C. Lambert, Adjutant General, Minnesota; Brig. Gen. P. Farmer Wanser, First Brigade, National Guard of New Jersey; Major Gen. George Sharkley, United States Army, retired, New York; Major William Ely, President, Rhode Island State Rifle Association; Major S. S. Scheiffelin, First Brigade, National Guard of New York; Major Charles H. Gaus, Third Brigade, National Guard of New York; Lieut. Albert S. Jones, Assistant Secretary, New Jersey State Rifle Association; Dr. W. G. Hudson, President Manhattan Rifle and Revolver Association; Nathan Spering, President Philadelphia Rifle Association; Harold Hutchison, Massachusetts Rifle Association; William Hoyes, Vice President New Jersey State Rifle Association, and Thomas Zeller, Zettler Rifle Club, New York.

To Serve Two Years, During 1901 and 1902—Brig. Gen. Thomas J. Stewart, Adjutant General, Pennsylvania; Brig. Gen. John S. Saunders, Adjutant General, Maryland; Col. Henry S. Dietrich, General Inspector Rifle Practice, Illinois; Col. E. C. Farrington, Inspector General of Rifle Practice, Maine; Col. Thomas E. Cooke, Inspector General of Rifle Practice, Iowa; Col. Charles A. Reid, Assistant Inspector General of Rifle Practice, New Jersey; Col. F. K. Patterson, Inspector General of Rifle Practice, Pennsylvania; Major C. H. Lauchheimer, Assistant Adjutant and Inspector General, United States Marine Corps; Capt. S. E. Allen, Fifth Artillery, United States Army; Lieut. Sumner Paine; D. L. F. Chase, President Massachusetts Rifle Association, and Gus Zimmerman, President Zettler Rifle Club, New York.

To Serve Three Years, During 1901, 1902, and 1903—Brig. Gen. G. W. Wingate, New York; Brig. Gen. B. W. Spencer, Inspector General of Rifle Practice, New York; Brig. Gen. George H. Harries, Col. James A. Frye, Col. James M. Rice, Northwestern Military Rifle Association; Lieut. Col. N. B. Thurston, National Guard of New York; Brevet Brig. Gen. and Lieut. Col. George F. P. Howard, National Guard of New Jersey; Major Frank L. Kimball, Brigade Inspector of Rifle Practice, New Hampshire; Major James E. Bell, Inspector General of Rifle Practice, District of Columbia National Guard; Major Louis V. Rawlins, Fifth Infantry, Maryland National Guard; Capt. E. L. Zalinski, United States Army, retired, and Lieut. Reginald R. Sayre, Inspector of Small Arms Practice and Ordnance, Squadron A, National Guard of New York.

The following officers were elected: Honorary President—Major Gen. Wesley Merritt, United States Army; President—Brig. Gen. Bird W. Spencer, New Jersey; Vice Presidents—Brig. Gen. G. H. Harries, District of Columbia, and Brig. Gen. John S. Saunders, Maryland; Treasurer—Nathan Spering, Philadelphia, and Secretary—Lieut. A. S. Jones, Passaic, N. J.

Gen. Spencer then took the chair and appointed the following committees: Executive Committee—Brig. Gen. G. W. Wingate, Brig. Gen. G. H. Harries, Brig. Gen. B. W. Spencer, Brig. Gen. John S. Saunders, Col. James M. Rice, Lieut. A. S. Jones, and Nathan Spering. Finance—Col. James A. Frye, Lieut. Col. George E. P. Howard, and Nathan Spering. Annual Competitions—Brig. Gen. G. W. Wingate, Lieut. Sumner Paine, and William Hayes.

Unfinished business was next taken up from former meetings and new business then were taken up. A resolution approving the plan of an international contest in 1901 was adopted and the matter was referred to the Committee on Competition, the Secretary being instructed to communicate with all countries where rifle shooting is encouraged, with the purpose of inducing them to send rifle teams to the proposed contest in this country. Another resolution authorized the Secretary to prepare and have published a history of the National Rifle Association, together with an explanation of its purposes, with the view to increasing the association's membership.

The President was empowered to appoint a committee of three to revise the rules and regulations for rifle shooting contests. By resolution it was also decided that the National Rifle Association adopt and provide a form of medal, these to be struck off and offered as prizes for members' matches in all clubs, associations and military organizations in connection with the National Rifle Association, and to be competed for at the annual meeting of each such organization.

After the meeting Secretary Jones issued an official statement, in which he said, in part:

"We propose to be aggressively active from now on in the interest of rifle shooting, and to make this sport one of the popular pastimes of the people. To do this will require State and Federal support. With this end in view it is proposed to have drawn up and introduced in Congress and in State Legislatures bills in support of ranges and a more comprehensive course of instruction for organized militia. It is proposed also to break away from antiquated ideas and customs and to increase innovations in the way of running-man targets, disappearing targets, up-to-date skirmish matches, and other attractive features at annual meetings. The great difficulty confronting the association in its endeavors to bring about an international competition next Summer is the lack of funds. It has been proposed to make an appeal to the public for subscriptions toward defraying part of the expenses of holding the meetings. This question has been put in the hands of the Executive Committee."

ATHLETICS IN HIGH SCHOOLS.

Metropolitan Association Plans Championships in Ice Sports.

The quarterly meeting of the Metropolitan Public High Schools Athletic Association's Advisory Committee was held yesterday at the Thirteenth Street High School Building. The delegates present were: Manual Training High School, E. G. Vanderpoel and William B. Powell; Jersey City Public High School, Prof. Wilson; Manhattan High School, F. S. Anthony; Flushing High School, W. F. Beam; Commercial High School of Brooklyn, Prof. Todd; Bronx High School, Prof. Denbeigh. It was decided to pool the receipts from the league competitions for another season by which each team or school benefits equally in the purchase of the prizes.

The tie in the football championship existing at the close of the season was permitted to stand, and prizes of equal value were ordered to be presented to the Flushing High School, Peter Cooper High School, and De Witt Clinton High School, the teams in the tie. The by-laws were amended to provide for the annual meeting being held in future in March.

A plan to form a hockey league brought from all the schools of the league promises to enter teams, and apply for time at the local rinks. Skating championships, the first ever held by the league, will be conducted this season, and a full championship programme will be arranged.

The Chess Tournament.

Two games were played at the Manhattan Chess Club in the championship tournament yesterday. Delmar and Simonson and Raubitschek and Roething were the players. The former, a queen's pawn opening, was drawn after fifty-four moves, while the other game, an Evans gambit declined, was also drawn, fifty moves being recorded in this contest. In the Simonson-Delmar contest the former sacrificed an exchange.

Following is the record of the players:

	Won.	Lost.		Won.	Lost.
Roething	3	1	Marshall	1	1
Simonson	2½	1½	Finn	½	½
Schmidt	2	0	Delmar	½	2½
Hanham	2	1	Biard	0	2
Raubitschek	1½	1½

CLOSE BILLIARD CONTEST

Best Game of Class B Championship Series Was the Last.

TITLE GOES TO BEATEN MAN

Cutler Lost by Three Points, After Splendid Play, but His Average Gave Him Victory.

With a hotly contested game, in which John A. Hendrick of this city defeated Albert G. Cutler of Boston by a margin of only 3 points, the National Class B billiard tournament, which for the past two weeks has been in progress under the sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, last night was brought to a close.

Mr. Cutler now stands the National Class B champion, W. W. Kellogg of Chicago is awarded second prize, and Mr. Hendrick third prize. In point of games won, however, all three men are tied, Mr. Hendrick's victory last night leaving each with a record of four games won and one lost in the final round.

According to an agreement entered into between the contestants last week, their standing in the tournament was decided upon a basis of grand averages for the last three games played. Mr. Cutler's grand average for these games is 7.19, Mr. Kellogg's 5.37, and Mr. Hendrick's 5.17. This represents fairly well the comparative ability of the three prize winners, as it has been estimated by spectators who have witnessed the entire series of games.

The prize for the best single average goes also to Mr. Cutler, while A. D. Ferguson takes the high single-run trophy for a run of 56 points made in the qualifying round.

The final game last night was by far the most closely contested of the tournament and had a sensational finish when Mr. Hendrick ran out his 300 points by an unfinished break of 18 and left Mr. Cutler with a score of 297. The number of spectators also was the largest of the series. When Referee Wilson P. Foss of Haverstraw, who holds at present the general amateur billiard championship, called the players to the table there were very few of the 400 arena seats in the cozy little theatre of the clubhouse that were not occupied.

Mr. Cutler won the bank and chose the white ball. Both men began play timidly. When he came to the table for the third time, Mr. Cutler clicked off 18 carooms before resigning the cue ball, and the New Yorker replied in his half of the inning with a run of 14 points.

The new champion struck his gait at this point, adding a break of 23 to his score in the sixth inning. It took Mr. Hendrick somewhat longer to get down to work, but in the ninth inning he got the balls together in clever style and worked gently away at the object balls until his twenty-first shot. Then he broke, and the score stood 59 to 47 in the Bostonian's favor.

The next fifteen innings witnessed Mr. Cutler's best work. Runs of 21, 27, 22, and 16 sent his score up by jumps, while smaller breaks of high single figures kept up the general average. His longest run, one of 27 points in the eighteenth inning, was accompanied by close and the most careful play after his first four shots had brought the balls together. He finally missed a fairly easy cushion shot after scoring on two difficult masses. Mr. Hendrick in the meantime played raggedly, far below the form he showed in previous games, and at the twenty-fifth inning the score stood 200 to 127 in the Bostonian's favor.

Six innings later the New York man began to play. Twenty carroms were clicked off by his cue in the thirty-first inning. This encouraged him, and three innings later his steadied nerves permitted him to run up 26 points. Still more encouraged, his string in the next inning numbered 32 more. Mr. Cutler in the meantime had dropped off greatly in his play, and at this point, the thirty-fifth inning, he led by only 11 points, the score standing 236 to 225. Two innings later Mr. Hendrick passed him, and the score was 252 to 249 against the Boston man.

The champion then braced himself, while the New Yorker fell into a fit of "the nerves" which lasted several innings. He led Mr. Cutler only for one inning, and a run of 24 points by the Bostonian in the forty-third inning put the score at 293 to 267 against the eventual victor. Every one expected to see Mr. Cutler run out when he next came to the table.

Instead, he went all to pieces and made a goose egg. Breaks of 4 and 11 points in the next two innings brought Mr. Hendrick's score up to 282. When the Bostonian came to the table for his forty-seventh time he missed his fourth shot, with only 3 points to go. Then Mr. Hendrick stepped up, and, amid the most nerve-shaking excitement among the spectators, ran out his needful 18 points, and won the game. The scores:

Cutler—1 0 18 1 0 23 0 2 14 0 6 6 21 6 1 7 1 27 4 22 0 13 0 2 5 1 0 5 18 4 6 7 7 2 1 0 0 24 0 1 0 3. Total, 297; average, 6 15-47; high runs, 27, 24, 23, 22, and 21.
Hendrick—0 7 14 0 0 2 0 4 2 0 8 0 5 5 4 12 0 1 0 0 0 14 0 1 9 10 7 1 9 0 1 0 20 1 8 2 6 3 2 8 10 2 3 2 1 0 7 0 4 11 18. Total, 300; average, 6 18-47; high runs, 32, 26, 20, and 20.

The following table shows the records and standing of the six contestants in the final round of the tournament:

Player.	Won.	Lost.	High Run.	High Single Average.	Grand Average.
A. G. Cutler	4	1	46	9 21-31	7.13
W. W. Kellogg	4	1	41	5 30-54	5.70
J. A. Hendrick	4	1	48	6 30-48	5.61
L. G. Schmitt	2	3	30	5 45-51	4.56
William Paige	1	4	38	5 30-54	4.39
Frank Billiter	0	5	47	....	4.39

Howison Challenges Morningstar.

Leonard W. Howison, the young Canadian professional billiard player, has challenged Ora Morningstar to a 1,000-point match at 14-inch balk line, for $250 a side. Mr. Morningstar has signified his desire to accept, and a date soon will be set for the contest. Two nights will be occupied in the match, which will probably be held at Daly's Billiard Academy.

Louisville Rejects American League.

Special to The New York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 17.—A meeting of those interested in baseball here to-night decided to decline the offer of Ban Johnson for the placing of a minor American League team in Louisville, and resolved to extend it no financial aid. Johnson J. McCloskey, who was formerly manager of the Louisville National League team, and who has good backing, has plans on foot for a Western League team in Louisville. McCloskey, through friends in the National League, has assurances that he can get the Louisville franchise. The new circuit proposed for the Western League is Louisville, Indianapolis, Kansas City, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, St. Joseph, and Denver. The National League still holds the lease on the park here, and is thus reserving it as its territory.

Princeton Wants Three Ball Games.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 17.—Manager F. H. Hall made the following statement to-day regarding the baseball differences between Harvard and Princeton: "For years Harvard has been urging that only two games should be scheduled, but we have always insisted that three games should be arranged, so that a tie would be played off. Last year we conceded to Harvard's demand for only two games, and each team won a game. I don't think there is any possibility of the two teams meeting next Spring, but I think the difficulty will be adjusted a year from now. If Harvard held to her two-game idea with Yale, she would have better grounds for demanding the same of us. We shall insist that three games be scheduled."

Cornell's Baseball Plans.

ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 17.—It is probable that Hugh Jennings, the Brooklyn first baseman, will continue to coach the Cornell 'Varsity nine this season. It is practically decided that he will enter the College of Law here for a three years' course, and will sign a contract to coach the baseball team during that time. The schedule of games has not been fully completed, but it is known that a game with Harvard has been arranged, to be played in Cambridge on Decoration Day.

Will Hear Water Polo Captains.

Chairman W. M. Brittain of the Registration Committee of the Metropolitan Association, Amateur Athletic Union, has called a meeting of his committee for Friday evening. He has requested the Captains of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club and the New York Athletic Club teams to attend and furnish what information they can in relation to the water polo game they played last March in Madison Square Garden.

ROADSTERS ON THE SPEEDWAY.

Drivers Had Good Sport in Spite of Cold Weather.

There was some fast work on the Speedway yesterday afternoon by crack trotters and pacers. The crowd of road drivers was small, but very select, and every brush was hotly contested from start to finish, close finishes being the rule for the day. The noted bay pacer Noods Boy, 2:25¼, recently purchased by William Clark of Yonkers, owner of Little Barefoot, 2:18¼, did some unusually fast pacing and won the majority of tilts he engaged in. His first encounter was with Lady Allerton, 2:21¼, driven by George Coleman, who got a trifle the better of the start, but notwithstanding this advantage was not able to hold on in front. Noods Boy had a half-length to the good when the finish line was crossed. In a second heat Lady Allerton made a better showing, and gave Noods Boy a nip and tuck race to within a hundred yards of the finish, where she broke and spoiled her chances of winning.

Cobwebs, 2:12, known as the trotting king of the Speedway, showed some of his old-time speed with his owner, Nathan Straus, handling the reins. After several warming jogs, Cobwebs was turned several lengths behind Vera G., driven by Trainer Isaac Fleming. From the start Vera G. set a pace that taxed Cobwebs's speed to its utmost, and it was not until the stretch was reached that Cobwebs began to close the gap, but he was not quick enough and was beaten out by a head. Charles Welland's bay mare Salient was turned to a good start with Lady Allerton, 2:21¼, and they covered the first quarter nose and nose, when Noods Boy, 2:25¼, joined in the brush. All three horses came down the stretch under the whip, with Noods Boy still holding his lead and Salient a half a length in front of Lady Allerton. They finished in this order, Salient having increased his lead on Lady Allerton and lapping Noods Boy when the mark was crossed. The chestnut pacer Spinx S., 2:09¾, was in fine form and speed, the hard roadbed seeming to suit her exactly. Smathers, her owner, sent her down the stretch with Cobwebs, but lost the brush by a narrow margin. Noods Boy led the way home in a brush with the old favorite, Glenmere Boy, 2:14½, driven by J. Donnely. Pilot Evans, 2:13¼, driven by George Spear, tried conclusions with Spinx S., but broke before the stretch was reached.

Results on Winter Race Tracks.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 17.—The weather favored to-day's racing, but the track was slow. Results: Bloomfield, 103, (T. Kane,) 1, was disqualified and the horses placed: Belle Simpson, 100, (Dale,) 1; Domage, 94, 2; Star Cotton, 96, 3. Time—1:45½. Five furlongs—Animosity, 113, (Wilkerson,) 1; Divonne, 109, 2; Gracious, 108, 3. Time—1:03. Mile and a quarter—Admatus, 115, (Flick,) 1; Silver Coin, 103, 2; Hood's Brigade, 99, 3. Time—2:12. Mile, handicap—Frangible, 98, (Flick,) 1; Ida Ledford, 96, 2; Mint Sauce, 116, 3. Time—1:43. Seven furlongs—Locust Blossom, 119, (Mitchell,) 1; Judge Magee, 114, 2; Heroics, 114, 3. Time—1:31. Six furlongs—Sir Christopher, 109, (Mitchell,) 1; Digge, 103, 2; Dousterswivel, 106, 3. Time—1:16½.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Results at Tanforan Park: Five furlongs—Cougar, 108, (Mounce,) 1; Ada N., 105, 2; Courtier, 107, 3. Time—1:04¾. Seven furlongs—Hohenlohe, 107, (Mounce,) 1; Lamachus, 110, 2; Gilsando, 107, 3. Time—1:38¾. Five furlongs—Toah, 103, (J. Wade,) 1; Phil Archbald, 108, 2; Thracia, 105, 3. Time—1:04¾. Five furlongs—Espirando, 102, (Mounce,) 1; Genua, 102, 2; Mountain Dew, 109, 3. Time—1:03. Mile—Tappan, 100, (Dominick,) 1; Walkenshaw, 105, 2; Astor, 98, 3. Time—1:45½. Seven furlongs—The Lady, 116, (Kiley,) 1; Prejudice, 100, 2; La Borgia, 100, 3. Time—1:32¼.

Prizes Paid to Six-Day Racers.

The six-day bicycle racers were paid off yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Bartholdi by J. C. Kennedy and P. C. Powers, who managed the race. The members of two of the teams were greatly dissatisfied with the treatment they received. They were Waller and Stinson and Louis Gimm and Charles Turville. The complaint of all four was that the prize money they received was less than they had been led to believe they would get. Messrs. Kennedy and Powers declined to make any statement concerning the matter.

"Major" Taylor to Race Abroad.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—"Major" Taylor, the colored bicyclist of Worcester, to-day signed an agreement to race in Europe during July and August of next year.

Champion Wrestlers Matched.

Paul Pons, the champion wrestler of France, and Ernest Roeber were matched yesterday afternoon to meet at some unnamed date within the next four weeks in a wrestling contest for the championship of the world. The match will probably take place in Madison Square Garden. It has been agreed that the contest shall be on a mat twenty feet square, with any hold allowed. Charles White has been selected as referee. The contestants deposited $500 each, to be forfeited in case either withdraws from the agreement. The articles of the match were drawn and signed by Robert Fitzsimmons for Roeber and Emile Regnier for Pons.

Golf Notes of Interest.

The meeting of professionals which was to have been held last evening at the Hungarian Hotel, Fourth Avenue and Fourteenth Street, has been abandoned on account of lack of interest among the professionals.

The Boston Golf Club, which was organized about a year ago by the players who use the public links in Franklin Park, has disbanded and the $75 in the treasury is to be presented to Mrs. Campbell, widow of the professional, Willie Campbell.

H. F. Hill and T. D. Smith were the survivors in the final round of the tournament begun last week by the golfers in the University of Pennsylvania, for the 'Varsity championship. In the point contest H. M. Taylor won by 22 points. J. G. Lindsay and P. A. Castner were tied for second honors at 19.

David Kay, who was the professional at the Weston Golf Club last Summer, has been engaged by the Boston Athletic Association to give golf instruction during the Winter. The association has

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Supreme Court United States:

15—The United States, petitioner, vs. E. A. Morrison & Sons, and 16—The United States, petitioner, vs. H. Wolf & Co.—On writs of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.—Judgments of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed and judgments of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York affirmed and causes remanded to said circuit courts. Opinion by Justice McKenna. Dissenting, Justice Peckham.

59—Rothschild & Brother, appellants, vs. The United States.—On a certificate from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Questions certified answered in the affirmative. Opinion by Justice McKenna.

12—Hunting Elevator Company, petitioner, vs. C. H. Bosworth, receiver of the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railway Company et al.—On writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.—Decree of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed, with costs and decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Illinois affirmed and cause remanded to said Circuit Court. Opinion by Justice White.

13—Jacob Reu, petitioner, vs. C. H. Bosworth, receiver of the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis Railway Company et al.—On writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.—Decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Illinois reversed, with costs and decree of the Circuit Court of the United States affirmed, and cause remanded to the said Circuit Court. Opinion by Justice White.

14—C. H. Bosworth, receiver of the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis Railway, petitioner, vs. the Carr, Ryder & Engles Company.—On writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.—Decree affirmed, with costs and cause remanded to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Illinois. Opinion by Justice White.

76—Raymann Brewing Company, appellant, vs. Harry Brister, Treasurer of the County of Jefferson in the State of Ohio.—Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Ohio.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Justice Shiras. Justice Harlan concurs in the result.

110—The Cincinnati Street Railway Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Charles B. Snell.—In error to the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio.—Dismissed for want of jurisdiction. Opinion by Justice Brown.

286—Jack Davis, appellant, vs. J. E. Burke, Sheriff of Cassia County, State of Idaho.—Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Idaho.—Order affirmed with costs. Opinion by Justice Brown.

213—William B. Tyler, plaintiff in error, vs. the Judges of the County Registration.—In error to the Supreme Judicial Court of the State of Massachusetts.—Dismissed for the want of jurisdiction. Opinion by Justice Brown. Dissenting, Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Harlan, Justice Brewer, and Justice Shiras.

The Chief Justice announced that the court would take a recess from Monday, Dec. 24, to Monday, Jan. 7.

The Chief Justice also announced the following orders of the court:

"Ordered that Rule 5, Paragraph 1, of the rules of this court be amended so as to read as follows: 'All process of this court shall be in the name of the President of the United States and shall contain the Christian names as well as the surnames of the parties.'

"Ordered that the first sentence of Rule 12 of the rules of practice in equity be amended so as to read as follows: 'Whenever a bill is filed, the clerk shall issue the process of subpoena thereon, as, of course, upon the application of the plaintiff, which shall contain the Christian names as well as the surnames of the parties, and shall be returnable into the clerk's office the next rule day, or the next rule day but one, at the election of the plaintiff, occurring after twenty days from the time of the issue thereof."

Original—Ex parte: In the matter of Alphonse Bowers et al., petitioners.—Motion for leave to file petition for a writ of certiorari granted and rule to show cause unwarded, returnable Jan. 14 next.

265—Pin Kwan, petitioner, vs. The United States; 254—Ping Yik, petitioner, vs. The United States; 440—The United States, appellant, vs. Pin Kwan, and 450—The United States, appellant, vs. Ping Yik.—Motions to advance granted, and causes assigned to be heard as one case Jan. 14 next, after the cases already set down for that day.

317—The City of New Orleans, appellant, vs. Alphonse Emsheimer.—The consideration of the motions to dismiss or affirm is postponed until the record is printed, or so much thereof as will enable the court to act understandingly without referring to the transcript.

438—The Erie Railroad Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Albert L. Purdy. Motions to dismiss or affirm postponed to the hearing of the cause on its merits.

536—Peter Hagan et al., petitioners, vs. The Scottish Union and National Insurance Company.—Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit granted.

98—Agnes A. Niver, plaintiff in error, vs. George E. Fields, et al.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of South Carolina.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, on the authority of Malony vs. Adsit, 175 U. S. 281.

507—Samuel B. Dowes, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. George R. Ridwell.—Advanced and assigned for argument Jan. 7 next, after the cases already set down for that day, on motion of Frederic R. Coudert, Jr., for the plaintiff in error.

501 and 502—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. The United States, and 509—Carlos Armstrong, appellant, vs. The United States.—Advanced and assigned for argument Jan. 7 next, after the cases already set down for that day, on motion of John O. Carlisle for the plaintiffs in error and appellants.

429—Fred Lee Rice et al., appellants, vs. John C. Eames, United States Marshal.—Motions to dismiss or affirm, or to advance, submitted by Lynden Evans in support of motions and by S. H. True in opposition thereto. Motion to admit appellants to bail submitted by S. H. True for appellants.

357—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, petitioner, vs. Tine Cohen.—Mandate herein stayed until the 15th of January next, on motion of Wesley L. Jones in behalf of counsel for respondent.

498—Margaret French et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the Barber Asphalt Paving Company.—Motion to advance submitted by A. S. Worthington in behalf of counsel.

340—John H. Goetze, appellant, vs. The United States, and 419—Fourteen Diamond Rings, (Emil J. Pepke, claimant,) plaintiff in error, vs. The United States.—Leave granted to Alexander Porter Morse to file a brief herein on behalf of certain interested parties.

43—Entimio Montoya, surviving partner, &c., appellant, vs. The United States et al.—Argument continued by Assistant Attorney General Thompson and Kle Oldham for the appellees and concluded by William H. Robeson for the appellant.

44—Milton C. Conners, Jr., administrator, &c., appellant, vs. The United States et al.—Argued by William H. Robeson for the appellant and by Assistant Attorney General Thompson and Kle Oldham for the appellees.

340—John H. Goetze, appellant, vs. The United States, and 419—Fourteen Diamond Rings, (Emil J. Pepke, claimant,) vs. The United States.—Ordered that three counsel for the appellant or plaintiff in error be allowed to open the argument and one to close the same, and five hours allowed to each side, on motion of Edward C. Perkins for the appellant.—Argument commenced by Everit Brown for the appellant and continued by Edward C. Perkins for the appellee.

Call for Tuesday: 34, 419, 94, 136, 137, 138, 139, 45, 142, 143, 144.

Calendars for Tuesday, Dec. 18.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building.

Preferred cause.
98—Thomson - Houston Co. vs. Lorain Steel Co.
General calendar.
85—3d Av. R. R. Co. vs. Barton.
46—In re Butler.
47—Ash vs. Prunier.
48—In re Ablowich.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J. Opens in Room 47, P. O. Building, at 11 A. M. Equity calendar.
6—Edison vs. Am. Mutoscope Co.
84—Crocker vs. Oakes.
7—Brander Adjustable Hanger Co. vs. Waterbury Button Co.
Issue of law.
9—Brander Adjustable Hanger Co. vs. Waterbury Button Co.
15—McCormick vs. McDonald.
6—Willard vs. Sun Printing & Pub. Association.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Townsend, J.—Opens in Room 43, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Customs appeals.

623—U. S. vs. W. J. Matheson Co.
80—Wildermann vs. Schoverling, Daly & Gales.
81—Russman, Gallard & Co. vs. same.
106—Calhoun, Robbins & Co. vs. same.
105—Stewart, Howe & May vs. U. S.
114—E. S. vs. Lee, Tweedy & Co.
116—Neuss, Hesslein & Co. vs. U. S.
119—U. S. vs. Churchill.
120—Train, Smith & Co. vs. U. S.
124—Nicholas vs. same.
126—U. S. vs. R. F. Downing & Co.
131—U. S. vs. Topham & Co.
132—O. G. Hempstead & Co. vs. U. S.
140—Douglass & Berry vs. U. S.
142—Paris, Allan & Co. vs. U. S.
144—R. F. Downing & Co. vs. U. S.
151—Kessler & Co. vs. U. S.
159—Davies, Turner & Co. vs. U. S.
162—Gillespie Brothers vs. U. S.
165—Fisher vs. U. S & Corset Co.
169—Vandergrift vs. U. S
170—McCreery vs. same.
171—U. S. vs. Leeser
183—Klipstein vs. U. S
185—Einstein, Wolff Co vs. same.
191—Lamb & Grisback vs. same.
196—U. S. vs Bruno & Sons
199—Schnabel vs. U. S
202—U. S. vs. Downing
203—Same vs. Cohen.
204—Same vs. Wilmerding & Bisset.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 96, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Admiralty calendar.

134—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Municipal et al.
148—Coastwise SS. Co. vs. SS. Craigearn.
153—Hastorf vs. Ferryboat Burlington.
43—Smith vs. Booth.
178—Morrissey vs. SS. Tauric.
132—N. Y. & N. J. Tr. Co. vs. Tugs Wilson and Lipdeman.
133—Tracy vs. same.
170—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Mamie Hoffman, &c.
156—Chappelle vs. Steamboat Massachusetts.
139—Otts vs. Canalboats Mahar and Burns.
121—N. Y. & So. B'klyn Ferry Co. vs. Tug Transfer No. 1.
182—Standard Oil Co. vs. Tug Dorothy Annan.
79—Bowning vs. SS. Ely.
150—Cardiff SS. Co. vs. Bowning.
142—Warford vs. Staples Coal Co.
187—Meyer vs. Wittenberg.
2—Parsons vs. Patterson.
160—Olsen vs. Tug Genesta.
152—Sizer vs. Barge J. R. Coleman.
2—Berkoven vs. Canalboat Ida Meyer.
181—Burns vs. Ferryboat Texas.
183—Tracy vs. Barge Eureka No. 8.
184—Hudson Tow Co. vs. Barge Cambria.
185—Ford vs. Barge Westerland.
186—Hudson Tow Co. vs. Barges Empire et al.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

To-day's calendar: 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 820, 821, 822.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Rumsey, Patterson, Ingraham, and Hatch, JJ. Opens at 1 P. M. Enumerated motions.

66—Hurley vs. Roosevelt et al.
62—Malloy vs. Man. Ry. Co.
57—Marks vs. Dellaglio.
67—Gilbert vs. Warren.
69—Mason Supplies Co. vs. Jones.
70—Casper vs. Dry D., &c., R. R. Co.
72—Munn vs. Travie.
74—Whitehead vs. Heidenheimer.
77—City Trust Safe Deposit & Surety Co. vs. Fidelity & Casualty Co.
79—Rudd vs. Cornell.
75—Ebling vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
5—Streubel vs. York et al.
60—Shimmel vs. Morss.
30—Strebel vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
65—Herrick vs. Guarantor Finance Co. of Philadelphia.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court. Truax, P. J., Scott and Dugro, JJ.—Opens at 2 P. M. Appeals from the Municipal Court.

25—Reilly vs. McCormick.
43—Schwartz vs.
45—United Elec. Light & Power Co. vs. Gr. Central R. E. & Imp. Co.
47—Schmidtke vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
55—Adams vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
63—Crawford vs.
69—Waite & Bartlett Mfg. Co. vs. Morton.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Blanchard, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—Newcomer vs. Blaney
2—Du Bois vs. Rosenberg.
8—Matter of Odum.
4—Anglo-Amer. Provisio Co. vs. Noble.
5—London vs. London
6—Lang vs. Mead.
7—In re Virga.
27—In re Sink.
28—Topiltz vs. Topiltz.
29—Sinks vs. Bell.
30—Rainey vs. Bass.
31—Scholder vs. Rehm.
32—Fuller vs. Beyer.
33—Hughes vs. Hughes
34—McDonald vs. Clausen
35—Bridgman vs. Thorley.
36—Bohnig vs. Bohnig.
37—Pin Kwan, petitioner, vs. The United States; 254—Ping Yik, petitioner, vs. The United States; 440—The United States, appellant, vs. Pin Kwan, and 450—The United States, appellant, vs. Ping Yik.—Motions to advance granted, and causes assigned to be heard as one case Jan. 14 next, after the cases already set down for that day.
37—Alphonse Emsheimer.—The consideration of the motions to dismiss or affirm is postponed until the record is printed, or so much thereof as will enable the court to act understandingly without referring to the transcript.
38—The Erie Railroad Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Albert L. Purdy. Motions to dismiss or affirm postponed to the hearing of the cause on its merits.
39—Peter Hagan et al., petitioners, vs. The Scottish Union and National Insurance Company.—Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit granted.
98—Agnes A. Niver, plaintiff in error, vs. George E. Fields, et al.—In error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of South Carolina.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, on the authority of Malony vs. Adsit, 175 U. S. 281.
507—Samuel B. Dowes, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. George R. Ridwell.—Advanced and assigned for argument Jan. 7 next, after the cases already set down for that day, on motion of Frederic R. Coudert, Jr., for the plaintiff in error.
501 and 502—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. The United States, and 509—Carlos Armstrong, appellant, vs. The United States.—Advanced and assigned for argument Jan. 7 next, after the cases already set down for that day, on motion of John O. Carlisle for the plaintiffs in error and appellants.
429—Fred Lee Rice et al., appellants, vs. John C. Eames, United States Marshal.—Motions to dismiss or affirm, or to advance, submitted by Lynden Evans in support of motions and by S. H. True in opposition thereto. Motion to admit appellants to bail submitted by S. H. True for appellants.
357—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, petitioner, vs. Tine Cohen.—Mandate herein stayed until the 15th of January next, on motion of Wesley L. Jones in behalf of counsel for respondent.
498—Margaret French et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the Barber Asphalt Paving Company.—Motion to advance submitted by A. S. Worthington in behalf of counsel.
340—John H. Goetze, appellant, vs. The United States, and 419—Fourteen Diamond Rings, (Emil J. Pepke, claimant,) plaintiff in error, vs. The United States.—Leave granted to Alexander Porter Morse to file a brief herein on behalf of certain interested parties.
43—Entimio Montoya, surviving partner, &c., appellant, vs. The United States et al.—Argument continued by Assistant Attorney General Thompson and Kle Oldham for the appellees and concluded by William H. Robeson for the appellant.
44—Milton C. Conners, Jr., administrator, &c., appellant, vs. The United States et al.—Argued by William H. Robeson for the appellant and by Assistant Attorney General Thompson and Kle Oldham for the appellees.
340—John H. Goetze, appellant, vs. The United States, and 419—Fourteen Diamond Rings, (Emil J. Pepke, claimant,) vs. The United States.—Ordered that three counsel for the appellant or plaintiff in error be allowed to open the argument and one to close the same, and five hours allowed to each side, on motion of Edward C. Perkins for the appellant.—Argument commenced by Everit Brown for the appellant and continued by Edward C. Perkins for the appellee.
Call for Tuesday: 34, 419, 94, 136, 137, 138, 139, 45, 142, 143, 144.

Calendars for Tuesday, Dec. 18.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building.

Preferred cause.
98—Thomson - Houston Co. vs. Lorain Steel Co.
General calendar.
85—3d Av. R. R. Co. vs. Barton.
46—In re Butler.
47—Ash vs. Prunier.
48—In re Ablowich.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J. Opens in Room 47, P. O. Building, at 11 A. M. Equity calendar.
6—Edison vs. Am. Mutoscope Co.
84—Crocker vs. Oakes.
7—Brander Adjustable Hanger Co. vs. Waterbury Button Co.
Issue of law.
9—Brander Adjustable Hanger Co. vs. Waterbury Button Co.
15—McCormick vs. McDonald.
6—Willard vs. Sun Printing & Pub. Association.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Townsend, J.—Opens in Room 43, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Customs appeals.

623—U. S. vs. W. J. Matheson Co.
80—Wildermann vs. Schoverling, Daly & Gales.
81—Russman, Gallard & Co. vs. same.
106—Calhoun, Robbins & Co. vs. same.
105—Stewart, Howe & May vs. U. S.
114—E. S. vs. Lee, Tweedy & Co.
116—Neuss, Hesslein & Co. vs. U. S.
119—U. S. vs. Churchill.
120—Train, Smith & Co. vs. U. S.
124—Nicholas vs. same.
126—U. S. vs. R. F. Downing & Co.
131—U. S. vs. Topham & Co.
132—O. G. Hempstead & Co. vs. U. S.
140—Douglass & Berry vs. U. S.
142—Paris, Allan & Co. vs. U. S.
144—R. F. Downing & Co. vs. U. S.
151—Kessler & Co. vs. U. S.
159—Davies, Turner & Co. vs. U. S.
162—Gillespie Brothers vs. U. S.
165—Fisher vs. U. S & Corset Co.
169—Vandergrift vs. U. S
170—McCreery vs. same.
171—U. S. vs. Leeser
183—Klipstein vs. U. S
185—Einstein, Wolff Co vs. same.
191—Lamb & Grisback vs. same.
196—U. S. vs Bruno & Sons
199—Schnabel vs. U. S
202—U. S. vs. Downing
203—Same vs. Cohen.
204—Same vs. Wilmerding & Bisset.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 96, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Admiralty calendar.

134—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Municipal et al.
148—Coastwise SS. Co. vs. SS. Craigearn.
153—Hastorf vs. Ferryboat Burlington.
43—Smith vs. Booth.
178—Morrissey vs. SS. Tauric.
132—N. Y. & N. J. Tr. Co. vs. Tugs Wilson and Lipdeman.
133—Tracy vs. same.
170—N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co. vs. Tugs Mamie Hoffman, &c.
156—Chappelle vs. Steamboat Massachusetts.
139—Otts vs. Canalboats Mahar and Burns.
121—N. Y. & So. B'klyn Ferry Co. vs. Tug Transfer No. 1.
182—Standard Oil Co. vs. Tug Dorothy Annan.
79—Bowning vs. SS. Ely.
150—Cardiff SS. Co. vs. Bowning.
142—Warford vs. Staples Coal Co.
187—Meyer vs. Wittenberg.
2—Parsons vs. Patterson.
160—Olsen vs. Tug Genesta.
152—Sizer vs. Barge J. R. Coleman.
2—Berkoven vs. Canalboat Ida Meyer.
181—Burns vs. Ferryboat Texas.
183—Tracy vs. Barge Eureka No. 8.
184—Hudson Tow Co. vs. Barge Cambria.
185—Ford vs. Barge Westerland.
186—Hudson Tow Co. vs. Barges Empire et al.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

To-day's calendar: 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 820, 821, 822.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Rumsey, Patterson, Ingraham, and Hatch, JJ. Opens at 1 P. M. Enumerated motions.

66—Hurley vs. Roosevelt et al.
62—Malloy vs. Man. Ry. Co.
57—Marks vs. Dellaglio.
67—Gilbert vs. Warren.
69—Mason Supplies Co. vs. Jones.
70—Casper vs. Dry D., &c., R. R. Co.
72—Munn vs. Travie.
74—Whitehead vs. Heidenheimer.
77—City Trust Safe Deposit & Surety Co. vs. Fidelity & Casualty Co.
79—Rudd vs. Cornell.
75—Ebling vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
5—Streubel vs. York et al.
60—Shimmel vs. Morss.
30—Strebel vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
65—Herrick vs. Guarantor Finance Co. of Philadelphia.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court. Truax, P. J., Scott and Dugro, JJ.—Opens at 2 P. M. Appeals from the Municipal Court.

25—Reilly vs. McCormick.
43—Schwartz vs.
45—United Elec. Light & Power Co. vs. Gr. Central R. E. & Imp. Co.
47—Schmidtke vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
55—Adams vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
63—Crawford vs.
69—Waite & Bartlett Mfg. Co. vs. Morton.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Blanchard, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—Newcomer vs. Blaney
2—Du Bois vs. Rosenberg.
8—Matter of Odum.
4—Anglo-Amer. Provisio Co. vs. Noble.
5—London vs. London
6—Lang vs. Mead.
7—In re Virga.
27—In re Sink.
28—Topiltz vs. Topiltz.
29—Sinks vs. Bell.
30—Rainey vs. Bass.
31—Scholder vs. Rehm.
32—Fuller vs. Beyer.
33—Hughes vs. Hughes
34—McDonald vs. Clausen
35—Bridgman vs. Thorley.
36—Bohnig vs. Bohnig.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Motions.

1—London vs. London.
2—People, &c., vs. Mercantile Credit Guarantee Co.
3—Allen vs. De Nyss.
4—Livingston vs. Sire. Demurrers.
1481—Keller vs. N. Y Telephone Co.
1509—Fisher vs. Standard R. R. Signal Co Preferred causes.
2357—Mendelsohn vs. Herne.
2394—Well vs. De Grazzia.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Day calendar. To be called in Part IV. Room at 10:30 A. M Cases to be assigned to the several parts of Special Term for trial. Law and fact.

1823—Hall vs. Long.
1801—Deering vs. City of New York.
1679—Deeves vs. Stokes.
2117—Gerlally vs. Rash.
2082—Cowan vs. Walker.
1337—Kalish vs. Higgins
1357—Same vs. same.
1815—Plummer vs. Getchell.
2053½—Berlinger vs. Baldwin.
2073—Leo vs. Lee.
2125—Smith vs. Sullivan
1443—Wellbrock vs. Olten
1458—Barry vs. Klingman.
1503—McCormack vs. Chambers.
2278—Bianchi vs. Peckham
2273—Finnigan vs. Finnigan
1633—Carroll vs. Carroll
1667—Lawlor vs. Bucklin.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2186.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Bischoff, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—Russell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Criminal Term—Fursman, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre, Schwarzkopf, and Hooker for the People.

1—Walter Dunn.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—McAdam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Causes will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Part XII., for trial. Preferred causes. Calendar clear.

7820—Lamoreaux vs. City of New York.
8177—Unruh vs. Langel.
7704—Pell vs. McKay.
8223—Clarke vs. White.
7868—Goetchius vs. Haulam.
8210—Plump vs. Skelly.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Part III. Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases will be sent from this calendar for Trial Term, Parts III., IV., and V., for trial.

1647—Loftus vs. Bennett.
2001—Turner vs. Schell.
4382—Frank vs. Spiegelberg.
2125—Jansen vs. Consol. Gas Co.
1252—Kaminski vs. Schaefer.
2083—Phillips vs. Met St. Ry. Co.
2227—McCready vs. Lindenborn.
2316—McGrane vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1284—Fisher vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1175—Fitzpatrick vs. same.
1327—Schoen vs. same.
1886—Miller vs. same.
8364—Karrigan vs. 9th Av. R. R. Co.
3674—Buchanan vs. Baisey.
1284—Grenolonge vs. Simon

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2405

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—O'Gorman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VII. Room at 10:30 A. M Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VII. and XI., for trial

166—Rowe vs. Union R'y Co.
2105—Greenen vs. Scribner
1405—Collett vs. Mayor, &c.
2274—Kroll vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1027—Oppenheim vs. Erlanger.
1603—Sloane vs. McCauley.
2268—Ronaldo vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2271—Brant vs. Mayor, &c.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Parts VIII., IX., and X. Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XI.—Giegerich, J.—Opens at 2 P. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XII.—Stover, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from preferred calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SURROGATES' COURT—Chambers—Thomas, S.—Held in Surrogates' Chambers, ground floor of County Court House. Motion calendar. Called at 10:30 A. M.

1—J. Scott Aitken.
2—Ellen Mulligan.
3—Emma Appel.
4—James E. Cassidy.
5—Jane Thomas.
6—Bertha Janson.
7—Frank Yoran.
8—Annie Taylor Moran
9—Susan J. McDermott.
10—Annie Taylor Morgan.
11—Ludwig Heck.
12—Frank Yoran.
13—Emily Hancock.
14—Charles L. Huntoon
15—Conrad Stein.
16—Margaret Lavery.
17—Emanuel Rentlinger.
18—Isaac Rothschild.
19—Mary Ann Brugmann.
20—Henry Hornstein.
21—Same.
22—Thomas Kelly.
23—James Mackin.
24—James Barry.
25—Ann Keelan.
26—Margaret Riordan.
27—George Heater.
28—Catharine Donahue.
29—Hannah Apfel.
30—Eugene Kelly.
31—Anthon Becker.
32—Eliza P. Sandford.
33—Gustav Muller.
34—Frank Kiely.
35—Wm. H. Truman.
36—James Barry.
37—Luigi Miccio.
38—Jans Knight.
39—Alexander Frear.
40—Ramsdell Moore.
41—James Donaldson.
42—Philip Ahern.

Wills for probate at 10:30 A. M.

Samuel S. Purple, Edmund M. Post, Mary Murray, Horace T. Hanks, Eliss Proanitz, Margaret Bendert, Louise Reiman, John C. Clegg, Moses Wallich.

SURROGATES' COURT—Trial Term—Fitzgerald, S.—Held in Surrogates' Court, Trial Term, second floor in County Court House. Opens at 10:30 A. M. Contested wills.

1625—Helen C. Brush.
1616—John Forrester.

CITY COURT—General Term—Adjourned sine die.

CITY COURT—Special Term—McCarthy, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.) Motions must be made returnable at 10:30 A. M. Defaults on motions will be taken at 11 A. M.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Hascall, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Case on.

3334½—Buob vs. Geratz.
1827—Sun vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1413—Miller vs. Barth.
3108—Kuhn vs. Starin.
1254—Gorman vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1469—Shaffron vs. Am. Stamping Co.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—Fitzsimons, C. J.—Held in General Term Room, second floor, Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.) —Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

2009—Peale vs. Richard.
1977—Lennon vs. Wright.
1985—Bernstein vs. Phillips.
1062—Blatt vs. Richard.
1304—Cassidy vs. Cons. Ice Co.
1965—Hagen vs. Northrop.
1823—Stiefel vs. Scheuer.
1070—Urban vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1071—Cummings vs. Pirle

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Schuchman, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens and calendar called at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

1043—Lyddy vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1879—Gerrill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1856—Schlechter vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1949—Martin vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1954—Shea vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1956—Levine vs. same.
1958—O'Neill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1510—Lewkawitz vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1457—Krulich vs. Metzler
1749—Littenberg vs. Littenberg.
1960—McFadden vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2139—Craig vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1606—Durnin vs. Crane.
1513—Springer vs. Ice Co.
2020—Lambotte vs. Herts

CITY COURT—Trial Term Part IV.—Conlan, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. All cases must be tried when reached. Calendar clear. Short causes.

3264—Garrett vs. Hatie
3489—Rankin vs. Reed.
3530—Bostwick vs. Switzer.
3474—Kreizer vs. Kilaotta.
3593—Barnes vs. Baldwin
6594—Same vs. same.
2238—Fennin vs. Marcus
2306—Carman vs. Ullman.
2312—Edison Elec. Ill. Co. vs. Zucker.
2320—Stellwagen vs. McCarthy.
2322—Lyons vs. City of New York.
2379—Watson vs. same.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—Cowing, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Gordon, Herrman, and Carr for the People.

1—James Boyle.
2—John Sawyer, indicted as Yan Sonya.
3—Patrick Shea.
4—Harris Neville.
5—Lorenzo Manzonie.
6—Emma Bolton.
7—John De Gross.
8—Charles Day.
9—Louis Charles.
10—James Kennedy.
11—George Price.
12—Barney Felnberg.
13—John Gorman.
14—John Keeley.
15—Michael D. Sullivan.
16—Samuel Schwartz, Louis Schwartz.
17—Charles Smith.
18—Lizzie Wright.
19—James Whalen.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Goff, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Hedges and Hammond for the People.

1—Henry Williams.
2—John Doe, alias Daniel Skully.
3—John Doe, alias George Green.
4—William F. Casey.
5—Joseph B. Webb.
6—William King.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part I.—Foster, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Townsend and Gray for the People. Motions must be noticed for 10:30 A. M. All motions and ex parte matters will be disposed of prior to 11 A. M. The calendar for the day will be called at 11 A. M.

1—David Marks.
2—George Talbot.
3—William Storms, Lawrence Hearn.
4—Richard Cooper, James Gallagher.
5—Charles Hunter.
6—John Graham.
7—John Milree.
8—James Reilly, John Carroll.
9—Edward L. Pape.
10—Maggie Fleming.
11—Antonio Lopardi.
12—Albert C. Albertson.
13—John Raftery.

Pleadings.

1—Samuel Beatty.
2—John Kenny.
3—Patrick Sullivan.
4—Charles Smith.
5—Martin B. Dwyer.
6—John Donnelly.
7—Charles Johnson.
8—Santo Parisi, Raphael Napolitano.
10—Joseph Rheinstrom.
11—Edmund J. G. Tower.
12—James Manody.
13—Henry Meiers.
14—Michael Mullins.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part II.—Geff, R.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Deputy Attorney Generals Hedges and Hammond for the People.

1—Henry Williams.
2—John Doe, alias Daniel Skully.
3—John Doe, alias George Green.
4—William F. Casey.
5—Joseph B. Webb.
6—William King.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part III.—Newburger, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Gordon, Herrman, and Carr for the People.

1—James Boyle.
2—John Sawyer, indicted as Yan Sonya.
3—Patrick Shea.
4—Harris Neville.
5—Lorenzo Manzonie.
6—Emma Bolton.
7—John De Gross.
8—Charles Day.
9—Louis Charles.
10—James Kennedy.
11—George Price.
12—Barney Felnberg.
13—John Gorman.
14—John Keeley.
15—Michael D. Sullivan.
16—Samuel Schwartz, Louis Schwartz.
17—Charles Smith.
18—Lizzie Wright.
19—James Whalen.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part IV.—McMahon, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Blake, Blumenthal, and McCann for the People.

1—Walter J. Flynn.
2—Henry Cassell.
3—May Nelson.
4—George Summers, John Bryan.
5—John Culhane.
6—Lung Saw.
7—William Nevills.
8—Alberto Marchetti.
9—Santo Parisi, Raphael Napolitano.
10—Joseph Rheinstrom.
11—Edmund J. G. Tower.
12—James Manody.
13—Henry Meiers.
14—Michael Mullins.

Receivers Appointed—New York.

CITY COURT—McCarthy, J.—Calvin S. Hunter vs. Francis Cawley—John H. Taylor. Lord & Thomas vs. John E. Du Bois—H. G. Ritter.

Referees Appointed—New York.

SUPREME COURT—Leventritt, J.—Merchants' Insurance Company vs. Falconer—Leo Lithauer. In re Pena Brothers—Frederick E. Perham. O'Rourke vs. Lenane—S. H. Weinhandler.

SUPREME COURT—Blanchard, J.—Pine vs. Gillmore—Arthur Hurst. Hutkoff vs. Dawson—Robert C. Merris. In re Stemper & Co.—R. M. Hague. Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company vs. Macdonald, (3 cases)—N. A. Elsberg. Barr vs. Macdonald, (3 cases)—N. A. Elsberg.

CITY COURT—O'Dwyer, J.—Young vs. Kilburn—M. W. Platzek.

Brooklyn Court Calendars.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division, Second Department.—Recess.

NOTICE.—On and after the first Monday of January, 1901, the sessions of this court will be held from 1 to 5 o'clock P. M., instead of from 10 A. M. to 2 o'clock P. M., as heretofore.

SUPREME COURT—Kings County—

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000 Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $1,800,000.00.
ST. PAUL BLD'G. 222 B'way.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Bankers' Cards.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS & BROKERS,
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Stocks and Bonds for cash or on margin.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSIT.
Investment Securities.

New York Telephone, 3700 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street. New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

Henry L. Wardwell. Edward L. Adams.
Telephone 3243 Broad.
WARDWELL & ADAMS,
STOCK BROKERS,
10 BEAVER ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds, & Investments

Wm. Cossitt Cone & Co.
44 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
MEMBERS CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
Execute Commission Orders, PURCHASE OR SALE,
Stocks, Bonds, Wheat, Cotton.

Leonard H. Conant, C. P. A. James Grant.
Conant & Grant,
Public Accountants & Auditors
141 BROADWAY.

FINANCIAL.

WE OWN AND OFFER SUBJECT TO PREVIOUS SALE
20,000 Long Island R. R. Co. (Pennsylvania)
First Consolidated Gold 5s, due July, 1931.
TO NET 3.70%.

80,000 Manhattan Railway Company
Consolidated Gold 4s, due April, 1990.
TO NET 3.80%.

50,000 Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh R. R. Co.
General Mortgage Gold 5s, due September, 1937.
TO NET 4.25%.

70,000 Wheeling & Lake Erie R'way Co., Wheeling Division,
First Gold 5s, due July, 1928.
TO NET 4.30%.

Offerings of other first-class securities furnished on application.
Lincoln, Caswell & Co.,
SUCCESSORS TO
CHAS. T. WING & CO.,
BONDS,
18 Wall St., - - - New York.
2 KILBY STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
Telephone Numbers 2656 and 2657 Cortlandt.

THE TRUST CO. OF AMERICA,
149 BROADWAY,
(Northwest Corner Liberty St.)
Capital - - - - - - $2,500,000 00
Surplus and Undivided Profits - $2,716,626 83
Allows interest on Daily Balances, subject to check through the New York Clearing-house or payable at sight, and on Certificates of Deposit.
Acts as Trustee, Receiver, Committee, Executor, Guardian, Administrator, Assignee, Registrar, Transfer and Fiscal Agent.
Is a legal depository for Court and Trust funds.
Special attention given to the management of real estate and the collection and remittance of rents.
OFFICERS:
Ashbel P. Fitch, Pres. Wm. Harbour, V.-Pres. Wm. H. Leupp, V.-P. H. S. Manning, V.-P. R. J. Chatry, Secy. T. C. Clarke, Jr., A. Sec. A. L. Banister, Treas. W. Hunt Hall, A. Treas. Lawrence O. Murray, Trust Officer.
DIRECTORS:
Ashbel P. Fitch, George Crocker, C. I. Hudson, Wm. Barbour, Edw. C. Schefer, William Brown, H. S. Manning, S. C. T. Dodd, Philip Lehman, Saml. A. Maxwell, Joel F. Freeman, Edwd. F. Craglo, Myron T. Herrick, William F. Sipler, Geo. Blumenthal, Chas. F. Cutler, Anson R. Flower, Frank Jay Gould, Emery McMillin, H. S. Redmond, Wm. A. Clark. Jas. M. Donald, Jno. R. Hegeman,

OFFICE OF THE CANTON COMPANY OF BALTIMORE.
N. E. Corner Toone and Second Streets.
Canton, Baltimore Co., Md., December 13th, 1900.
By resolution of the Directors, notice is hereby given to the Stockholders that One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, ($125,000,) or such sum, more or less, as may be deemed expedient, will be expended in the purchase of the Capital Stock of the Canton Company of Baltimore, for cancellation, in accordance with its Charter.
All offers to sell must be in writing and inclosed in sealed envelopes and indorsed "Proposals to Sell Stock."
All offers received before 12 o'clock noon on the 27th day of December, 1900, will be considered for the purchase of shares offered at the lowest price, the Company, however, reserving the right to reject any or all offers.
W. B. BROOKS, Jr., President.

INDIANA BLOCK COAL RAILROAD CO.
In accordance with the terms of the Deed of Trust of the Indiana Block Coal Railroad Company, the following bonds have been drawn for account of the sinking fund, viz.:
Nos. 50 and 75, two for $1,000 each, and Nos. 108, 144, and 165, three for $500 each.
The principal and accrued interest of the above bonds will be paid upon presentation at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, 16, 18, 20, and 22 William St., New York.
The interest on the above bonds will cease on and after Jan. 1, 1901.
The Farmers' Loan and Trust Co.,
By E. S. MARSTON, President.
New York, Dec. 1, 1900.

UNIONTYPEWRITER CO
BOUGHT AND SOLD BY
J. S. STANTON,
16 BROAD ST.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A PLAN of Reorganization of the Hampton Roads Hotel Company has been prepared by the Reorganization Committee, and filed with the Knickerbocker Trust Company, 66 Broadway, N. Y.
H. M. DE LANOIE,
Secretary of the Committee.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

ARLINGTON COPPER STOCK.
A small block of stock for sale. Address "COPPER," Box 113 Times Office.

WE LOAN MONEY TO PEOPLE IN ANY kind of business; also on salaries. 150 Nassau St. Office 729.

Proposals.

PROPOSALS FOR
$3,555,000.00
OF
3½% Corporate Stock
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Exempt from all Taxation in the State of New York, except for State Purposes.

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold.

EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS, GUARDIANS, AND OTHERS HOLDING TRUST FUNDS ARE AUTHORIZED BY SECTION 9 OF ARTCLE 1 OF CHAPTER 417 OF THE LAWS OF 1897 TO INVEST IN THIS STOCK.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, at his office, No. 280 Broadway, in the City of New York, until

Wednesday, the 26th day of December, 1900,

at 2 o'clock P. M., for the whole or a part of the following described Registered Stock of the City of New York, bearing interest at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. per annum, to wit:

$1,500,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR THE USES AND PURPOSES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DOCKS AND FERRIES. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

$1,610,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR A NEW HALL OF RECORDS. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

$445,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR HIGH SCHOOLS AND SITES THEREFOR. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

A Deposit of TWO PER CENT. (in money or certified check on a National or State Bank in the City of New York) required.
For fuller information see CITY RECORD. Copies to be procured at No. 2 City Hall.

BIRD S. COLER, Comptroller.
THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE.
DECEMBER 11TH, 1900.

Meetings and Elections.

Empire City Fire Insurance Company,
50 Wall St., NEW YORK, Dec. 6, 1900.
At the annual election for Directors of this company, held on the 3d instant, the following-named gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year:
John M. Burke, Henry W. Curtiss, Charles H. Kerner, Charles H. Leland, Henry C. Mortimer, Walter R. Wood, John W. Condit, David J. Burtis, Lindley Murray, Jr., Francis M. Scott, Charles H. Lowerre, J. Eugene Robert, George M. Miller.
For Inspectors of Election for the year 1901: Arounah M. Burtis, Wm. M. Farrington, Thomas B. Peck.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. LINDLEY MURRAY, Jr., was unanimously re-elected President.
DAVID J. BURTIS, Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING.
The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Dexter Sulphite Pulp & Paper Company, Dexter, N. Y., for the election of Trustees for the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as may be necessary, will be held at the Westminster Hotel, corner of 16th Street and Irving Place, New York City, December 28th, 1900, at 2 P. M. Polls open at 2:30 P. M. and close at 3 P. M.
E. F. BERMINGHAM,
Treasurer and Secretary.

The Merchants' National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
1370. December 6, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 42 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8, 1901, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

The Western National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
7th December, 1900.
The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, for the election of Directors, will be held at the Banking House, No. 15 Nassau Street, on TUESDAY, January 8th, 1901. The Polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
H. A. SMITH, Cashier.

Henderson Bridge Company.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Henderson Bridge Company will be held at the Company's Office, Louisville, Kentucky, on the 7th of January prox. The stock transfer books will close at 3 P. M. on the 28th inst., and reopen at 10 o'clock A. M., on the 8th of January, 1901.
J. H. ELLIS, Secretary.
Louisville, Ky., Dec. 3d, 1900.

The Mechanics' National Bank
of the City of New York,
Dec. 8th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, No. 33 Wall St., on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M. CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The National Butchers and Drovers' Bank.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking rooms, No. 083-085 Broadway, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.

The Hanover National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 9 and 11 Nassau Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 1 o'clock P. M. WILLIAM LOGAN, Cashier.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT FOR THE purposes of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Anthracite Coal Company, to be held in New York City on January 8th, 1901, that the transfer books of the said company will close at 3 P. M. on December 18th, 1900, and remain closed until January 9th, 1901.
R. L. CERERO, Secretary.

Dividends.

The Chicago & Alton Railway Co.
First Lien Mortgage 3½% Bonds.
Coupons No. 1, due January 1, 1901, from the above-mentioned bonds will be paid at maturity upon presentation at the office of the Treasurer of the Company, No. 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
Temporary receipts will be issued for packages of coupons left for verification on and after Wednesday, December 26, 1900.
FREDERIC V. S. CROSBY, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Reading Co. and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., New York, will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
W. G. BROWN, Sec'y.
Philadelphia, Dec. 13th, 1900.

TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE HOCKING VALley Railway Company First Consolidated 4½ Per Cent. Registered Bonds will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due January 1st, 1901, and will reopen January 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
WM. N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, December 13, 1900.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE FIRST Consolidated Mortgage 5 per cent. registered bonds of the Southern Railway Company will close at the office of the company, 80 Broadway, New York, Friday, December 21, at 3 P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
JOSIAH F. HILL, Sec'y.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 15, 1900.

Williamsburgh Trust Company.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
A SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND OF THREE PER CENT. has been declared, payable Jan'y 2d, 1901, to shareholders of record at the close of business Dec. 20, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from Dec. 21st, 1900, to Jan'y 2d, 1901, both days inclusive.
W. ADDISON FIELD, Sec'y.

COLONIAL TRUST COMPANY.
222 Broadway, New York, December 11, 1900.
The Board of Trustees have this day declared a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. on the Capital Stock of the Company, payable January 2d, 1901, to stockholders of record on December 20th, 1900.
Transfer books will close December 20th, 1900, and reopen January 3d, 1901.
EDMUND L. JUDSON, Secretary.

DIVIDEND NO. 28.
THE RIO GRANDE WESTERN RAILWAY CO. will pay the regular quarterly dividend, No. 28, of ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS ($1.25) per share, February 1st, 1901, to PREFERRED stockholders of record December 31st. Checks will be mailed.
WALTER HINCHMAN, Treasurer.
December 8, 1900.

United Traction and Electric Company.
Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 13, 1900.
A dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Capital Stock of this Company will be paid to the registered holders on the 2d day of January, 1901. Transfer books will be closed on the 19th inst., and will reopen January 3d, 1901.
C. S. SWEETLAND, Treasurer.

Proposals.

PROPOSALS FOR
$3,555,000.00
OF
3½% Corporate Stock
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Exempt from all Taxation in the State of New York, except for State Purposes.

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold.

EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS, GUARDIANS, AND OTHERS HOLDING TRUST FUNDS ARE AUTHORIZED BY SECTION 9 OF ARTCLE 1 OF CHAPTER 417 OF THE LAWS OF 1897 TO INVEST IN THIS STOCK.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, at his office, No. 280 Broadway, in the City of New York, until

Wednesday, the 26th day of December, 1900,

at 2 o'clock P. M., for the whole or a part of the following described Registered Stock of the City of New York, bearing interest at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. per annum, to wit:

$1,500,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR THE USES AND PURPOSES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DOCKS AND FERRIES. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

$1,610,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR A NEW HALL OF RECORDS. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

$445,000 00 CORPORATE STOCK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, FOR HIGH SCHOOLS AND SITES THEREFOR. Principal payable November 1, 1940.

A Deposit of TWO PER CENT. (in money or certified check on a National or State Bank in the City of New York) required.
For fuller information see CITY RECORD. Copies to be procured at No. 2 City Hall.

BIRD S. COLER, Comptroller.
THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE.
DECEMBER 11TH, 1900.

Dividends.

NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE
AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY.
100 Broadway, Dec. 17, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day there was declared from the surplus net earnings a dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT. (2⅝%) on the Preferred Stock of this Company, in full for the period up to Oct. 1, 1900, payable Jan. 24, 1901, to the holders of record of the Preferred Stock at the closing of the transfer books on Jan. 10, 1901.
For the purpose of such dividend, the Preferred Stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Jan. 10, 1901, and reopened at 10 A. M. on Jan. 25, 1901.
AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY,
By H. SCHOONMAKER, Secretary.

23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 17, 1900.
On Jan. 24, 1901, the undersigned will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT., (2⅝%,) when received by them, among the registered holders of their Trust Receipts for Preferred Stock of the American Bridge Company.
J. P. MORGAN & CO.

Oregon Short Line Railroad Company
Consolidated Mortgage 5% Bonds.
Utah and Northern Railway Company
First Mortgage 7% Bonds.
Utah and Northern Railway Company
Consolidated Mortgage 5% Bonds.
Coupons due January 1st, 1901, from the above-mentioned bonds will be paid at maturity on presentation at the office of the Treasurer of the Oregon Short Line Railroad Company, No. 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
Temporary receipts will be issued for packages of coupons left for verification on and after Wednesday, December 26th, 1900.
OREGON SHORT LINE RAILROAD COMPANY.
FREDERIC V. S. CROSBY, Treasurer.

Chicago Great Western Railway Co.
The Board of Directors of the Chicago Great Western Railway Co. have declared the semi-annual dividend of $2.50 per share on the Preferred A stock for the half year ending with December, 1900, payable on the 31st day of January, 1901, to the holders of record on the last day of December, 1900, and in accordance with the contract pertaining to said stock, have ordered that the surplus earnings for said half year applicable for dividends on said stock shall be carried forward and held available for the dividend of the second half of the fiscal year ending with June, 1901.
The transfer books of the Preferred A Stock will be closed from the close of business on the 24th day of December, 1900, to the 1st day of January, 1901.
By order of the Board of Directors.
R. C. WIGHT, Secretary.
St. Paul, Minn., December 8th, 1900.

Union Pacific Railroad Company.
First Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Bonds.
Coupons No. 7, due January 1, 1901, from the above-mentioned Bonds will be paid at maturity upon presentation at the office of the Treasurer of the Company, No. 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
Temporary receipts will be issued for packages of coupons left for verification on and after Wednesday, December 26th, 1900.
All prior coupons are now payable by The Mercantile Trust Co. of New York.
The Books for the registration and transfer of the above-mentioned bonds will close at 3 P. M. on Monday, December 24, and will reopen at 10 A. M. on January 2.
FREDERIC V. S. CROSBY, Treasurer.

Chicago Great Western Railway Co.
The 17th semi-annual payment of $2.00 per share interest on the 4 per cent. Debenture Stock of the Chicago Great Western Railway Company will be made, according to the contract pertaining to said stock, on the 15th day of January, 1901, to the holders of record on the last day of December, 1900.
The transfer books of the 4 per cent. Debenture Stock will be closed from the close of business on the 24th day of December, 1900, to the 1st day of January, 1901.
By order of the Board of Directors.
R. C. WIGHT, Secretary.
St. Paul, Minn., December 8th, 1900.

United Shoe Machinery Company.
A quarterly dividend of 1⅝% (37½ cents per share) on the preferred stock and 2% (50 cents per share) on the common stock of this Company has been declared, payable January 15th, 1901, to stockholders of record December 20th, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from December 20th to December 31st.
GEORGE W. BROWN, Treasurer.

UNITED FRUIT COMPANY.
DIVIDEND NO. 6.
A quarterly dividend of two and one-half per cent. on the capital stock of this Company has been declared, payable January 15, 1901, at the office of the Treasurer, 60 State Street, Boston, Mass., to stockholders of record at the close of business, December 31, 1900.
CHARLES A. HUBBARD, Treasurer.

The Chicago & Alton Railway Co.
A dividend of TWO DOLLARS ($2.00) per share on the Preferred Stock of this company has been declared, payable at the Treasurer's Office, 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y., on or after January 10, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 20, 1900.
The stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. December 20, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 A. M. on January 11, 1901.
Stockholders who have not already done so are requested to promptly file mailing orders for dividends with the undersigned, from whom blank orders can be had on application.
FREDERIC V. S. CROSBY, Treasurer.

Metropolitan Street Railway Co.
New York, December 17, 1900.
By resolution of the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company of New York a dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. per share is declared on the capital stock of this Company, payable at the opening of business on Tuesday, January 15, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Wednesday, December 26, 1900. The transfer books will be closed for the purpose of this dividend on December 26, 1900, and will be opened on January 16, 1901.
CHARLES E. WARREN, Secretary.

THE STANDARD GAS LIGHT COMPANY of the City of New York, 801-3 Third Avenue.
New York, December 14, 1900.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a Dividend of 2½ per Cent. on the outstanding Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on December 21st, 1900, to Stockholders of record at 12 o'clock M. on Saturday, December 22nd, 1900.
Transfer Books will be closed at 12 o'clock M., December 22nd, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 o'clock A. M., January 2nd, 1901.
W. GREELEY HOYT, Secretary.

Copartnership Notices.

BY MUTUAL CONSENT THE CORPORATION heretofore existing under the firm name of BOARDMAN & WILLIAMSON, is this day dissolved.
FREDERIC A. BOARDMAN,
JOHN WILLIAMSON, JR.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19th, 1900,
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
(By order of Executors.)

$2,000 Mich. Cent. R. R. (Det. & Bay City Div.) 1st 5 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1931.
$2,000 Cinn., Indapls., St. L. & Chi. Ry. gen. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1936.
$5,000 Del. & Hudson Canal Co. (Penn. Div.) 1st 7 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1917.
$2,000 N. Y., Prov. & Boston R. R. gen. 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1942.
$2,000 Rome, Wat. & Ogdensburg 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1922.
$1,000 N. Y., Chic. & St. Louis R. R. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1937.
$1,000 Chic., St. L. & Pittsburg R. R. consld. 5 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1932.
$1,000 Chic., Mil. & St. Paul R. R. (Chic. & Pac. West. Div.) 1st 5 p. c. Bd., 1921.
$5,000 Chic., R. I. & Pac. Ry. 1st 6 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1917.
$2,000 Chic., St. L. & New Orleans R. R. consld. 5 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1951.
$1,000 West Shore R. R. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 2361.
$2,000 Morris & Essex R. R. consld. 7 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1915.
$3,000 Sand., Mans. & Newark R. R. 1st 7 p. c. Bds., 1909, (Union Trust Co. certf. of dep.)
100 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
628 shs. International Express Co.
$5,000 Iowa & Illinois Coal Co. Bds. (Atlantic Trust Co. certf. of deposit,) and $300 Funded Coupon Bond, A 22.
1 membership Shelter Island Golf Club.
50 shs. Southern National Bank, ex-div. of 90 p. c.
6 shs. Bank of the State of New York.
30 shs. National Bank of North America.
4 shs. Bank of New York.
5 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
3 shs. Avon, Geneseo & Mt. Morris R. R. Co. guar. stock.
$1,000 Calvary Cemetery, Greenpoint & B'klyn R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bd., 1907.
(For account of whom it may concern.)
5 shs. Union Trust Co.
500 shs. Shelby Iron Co.
10 shs. Hamilton Bank.
10 shs. Brearley School, "Limited."
84 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
15 shs. City Trust Co.
5 shs. National Park Bank.
50 shs. Mt. Morris Bank.
$3,000 City of Galveston 5 p. c. bonds.
$1,000 American Lithographic Co. 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1921.
$1,000 Lehigh & N. Y. R. R. Co. 1st 4 p. c. Bds., 1945 (hypd.)
$2,000 Rochester Gas & Electric Co., consld. 5 p. c. Bds., 1912 (hypd.)
$5,000 Oblo Mining & Manfg. Co. 5 p. c. noncum. income Bds., 1949.
500 shs. Economic Postage Association.
142 shs. Erie & Pittsburg R. R. 7 p. c. guar.
$22,000 Mutual Fuel Gas (of Chic.) 1st 5 p. c. gold Bds., guar., 1947.
10 shs. Market and Fulton National Bank.
20 shs. Union Trust Co.
8 shs. Leather Manfrs. National Bank.
7 shs. Fourth National Bank.
1 sh. Bank of New York.
10 shs. Germania Bank.
12 shs. Holland Trust Co.
$5,000 Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin 6 p. c. sksg. fund gold deb. Bds., 1905.
$2,000 City of Milwaukee, Wis., 5 p. c. Bds., July, 1901.
40 shs. Publishers' Plate-Renting Co.
34 shs. Ninth National Bank.
10 shs. Bank of the Metropolis.
$5,000 Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Co. 5 p. c. (Cfts. of Dep.)
100 shs. United Lighting & Heating common.
50 shs. Hamilton Trust Co.
25 shs. Kings County Trust Co.
10 shs. Bank of Commerce.
10 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
$7,000 Fort Wayne Gas Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds.
$5,000 Logansport & Wabash Valley Genl. 1st 6 p. c. Bds.
$1,000 Low., New Albany & Chic. Ry. (Chic. & Ind. Div.) 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1911.
$2,000 N. Y., Lake Erie & Western Coal & R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., Guar., 1922.
17 shs. Morris & Essex R. R. Co.
20 shs. Kansas City, St. Louis & Chic. R. R. pfd. Guar.
$5,000 Pavonia R. R. Skg. Fd. Subsidy 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
Letters Patent of the Gould Equipment Company as follows, viz.: FRENCH, 212,023, March 10th, 1891; 241,790, 241,791, 241,792, 241,793, 241,794, Oct. 2, 1894; BELGIUM, 94,079, March 31st, 1891; 112,068, 112,069, 112,070, 112,071, 112,072, Oct. 2d, 1894; SPANISH, 2,366 and 11,870, April 30th, 1891; AUSTRIAN, 12,328, August 6th, 1891, Vol. 41, Fol. 2,172; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,138, Dec., 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,203, Dec. 1, 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,222, Dec. 4, 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,572, Dec. 31, 1894; Vol. 45, Fol. 440, Feby. 5, 1895; GERMAN, 58,876, Sept. 18th, 1891; ENGLISH, 17,681, Sept. 17, 1894; 9,286, 9,287, 9,288, 9,289, May 10, 1894.

RICHARD V. HARNETT & CO.,
Auction Sale
STOCKS AND BONDS
Tuesday, Dec. 18, 1900, at 12:30 P. M.,
At the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway.
(For account of whom it may concern.)
25 shares Apollo Incandescent Gas Light Co., $100 each.
799 shares Orchard Land Co., Limited, $100 each.
100 shares Pennsylvania Mining Co., $5 each.
30 shares Dennett's Surpassing Coffee Co., $100 each, (hypothecated.)
100 shares Canandaigua Water Works Co., $100 each.
$6,000 Troy & Greenfield Railway Co. 6 per cent. Bonds.
Lists at Auctioneers', 71 and 73 Liberty St.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.
At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 21st day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.
Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.
WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

CHRISTMAS ON 'CHANGE.
Preparation for an Elaborate Celebration of the Holiday Season.
Members of both the New York Stock and Consolidated Exchanges are preparing to have a big jubilee on Saturday next, when the Exchanges will close for a three-day holiday over Christmas, not to reopen until Wednesday morning. Each Exchange will have its own celebration, but from what can be learned of the preparations already made the jollification of the minor Exchange will, in point of enthusiasm, be little behind that on the larger board.
While it is not definitely decided, it is believed that the festivities on the Stock Exchange will be much after the nature of those of a year ago, which, however, because of the December panic, were not held until the new year. In all probability, a brass band will be among the attractions, discoursing sweet music for the edification of the members and spectators while the "incidents" are on, and then heading the grand procession, which later will march around the floor. A boxing match may also be one of the features, while the decorations promise to be on an elaborate scale.
The brokers are just in the mood for a jubilee. This is one of the few Decembers in which stocks have advanced, and in which money has been made by nearly all the members. Ever since election time the market has been booming, and many fortunes have been made. Only yesterday, for example, notwithstanding the rise of Friday and Saturday, about 2,000,000 shares of stock, including those not officially recorded, were traded in—almost a record breaker—with many quotations showing substantial gains at the close by the day. As a consequence the brokers are happy; their commissions have been large, and, in the case of the room traders, most of them have made handsome profits since election.

BIG BATCH OF IMMIGRANTS.
First Day in the New Headquarters a Very Busy One.
During their first day at the new headquarters on Ellis Island the officials of the Bureau of Immigration had a busy time of it. Before night they had received a total of 2,251 immigrants. On the Umbria came 105 Irish men and women, on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. 654, mostly Italians; the Victoria 631 Italians, and the Vincenzo Florio 861 more of the same race. The first person to be registered was an Irish girl, very fat and with bright red hair.
Some of Commissioner Fitchie's friends sent him in the afternoon an enormous horseshoe of white and red roses, with the compliments of the season. Assistant Commissioner McSweeney expressed himself as delighted with the new buildings, and said that in future the handling of immigrants would be as play to what it had been in the former restricted quarters at the Barge Office.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks strong.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 17	1,487,686
To date this year	125,470,669
Corresponding date last year	168,775,316

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 17	$5,664,500
To date this year	$532,476,080
Corresponding date last year	$813,923,640

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 4@6 per cent.; at three months, 5 per cent.; at six months, 5 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4¾@5 per cent.

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Amal. Copper	2½	Keok. & Des M.	⅞
Am. Car & Fdy. pf.	½	K. & D. M. pf.	2½
Am. Coal	5	Lake Erie & W.	⅜
Am. Express	6	L. E. & W. pf.	½
Am. Ice	¾	Man. Beach	4
Am. Steel & Wire pf.	⅞	Man. Elevated	2⅜
Am. Sugar Ref. pf.	½	Met. St. Ry.	4¾
Am. Tin Plate	2½	Mexican entral	⅝
Anaconda Copper	¾	Minn. & St. L. pf.	3
At., T. & S. F.	⅝	Mobile & Ohio	1
Brooklyn R. T.	2½	Nat. Lead	½
Brooklyn Un. Gas	2½	Nat. Steel	½
Brunswick	½	N. J. Central	1¼
Buff., R. & P. pf.	1	N. Y., C. & St. L.	1⅛
Canada South.	½	N. Y., C. & St. L. 1st pf.	2
Chi. & Alton pf.	½	N. Y., C. & St. L. 2d pf.	1⅞
Chi. G. W. pf., A	⅞	North American	½
Chi. G. W. pf., B	⅝	Northern Pacific	2⅜
Chi., Ind. & L. pf.	1	North. Pac. pf.	⅞
Chi. & N. W.	¾	Pac. Coast	2½
Chi. St. P., M. & O.	1	Pennsylvania	⅞
Chi. St. P., M. & O. pf.	3	Pullman Co.	2¾
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	⅞	St. J. & G. I. 1st pf.	1
C., C., C. & St. L.	2⅛	St. L. & S. F.	1⅝
Col. So. 1st pf.	⅝	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	1½
Cont. Tobacco	1½	St. L. S. W. pf.	⅞
Cont. Tobacco pf.	1⅝	Sloss-Sheff. pf.	1½
Del., L. & W.	2	Southern Railway	½
Den. & R. G. pf.	½	Third Avenue	2
Erie	⅜	Twin City R. T.	2½
Erie 1st pf.	4½	Union Pacific	⅝
Erie 2d pf.	4½	U. S. Leather pf.	1
Evans. & T. H. pf.	1½	U. S. Rubber pf.	½
Federal Steel pf.	¾	West. Union Tel.	1
Glucose Sugar	1	W. & L. E. 2d pf.	⅛
Great North. pf.	1½	Wis. Central	1½
Int. Pump	½	Wis. Central pf.	⅛
Kan. & Mich.	¾

Stocks Declined.

Am. Linseed pf.	1	Gas & El., Ber. Co.	½
Am. S. & R. pf.	⅝	Homestake Mining	3
Am. Steel Hoop	¾	Int. Paper pf.	½
Am. Steel Hoop pf.	⅞	Iowa Central	⅝
Am. Sugar Ref.	1½	Kan. City South.	⅝
Am. Tobacco	½	Nat. Tube	½
Am. Tob. pf.	½	Nat. Tube pf.	¾
Chi., Bur. & Qy.	½	N. Y. Air Brake	3
Chi. & E. Ill.	¾	N. Y., O. & W.	½
Chi. Great West.	½	Pacific Mail	2
Chi. Term. Trans.	½	People's Gas	1⅝
Cleve., L. & W. pf.	2	Pressed S. C. pf.	1
Col. So. 2d pf.	½	Reading 2d pf.	½
Col. & H. C. & I.	½	Rep. Steel	½
Consol. Gas	½	Wabash	1½
Des M. & Ft. D.	½	Wabash pf.	1½
Evans. & T. H.	¾	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	¾

Net changes in bond quotations of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

C., I. & L. ref. 6s. 1
C., R. I. & Pac. 6s. 1
N. Y., S. & W. 2d. 3
Long Dock 6s. 1½

Bonds Declined.

Det. City Gas 5s. 1½
Int.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Trading in the outside market yesterday broadened out considerably, and a number of issues showed fair activity. Prices advanced in sympathy with the Stock Exchange market, and closing figures in many cases showed substantial net gains. The several groups of stocks each supplied one or more active issues, and all told the market showed more life than it has on any recent day. Another stock which of late has been quite active was lost to the curb yesterday in the transfer of American Woolen to the unlisted department of the Stock Exchange.

***

AMERICAN BRIDGE for the first time in a number of days was in large demand. Trading in the common and preferred stocks aggregated about 10,000 shares, and in each issue the transactions were accompanied by substantial advances. The common sold up to 44½, and the preferred to 93¾, and both issues closed at top prices. The buying of the stock was scattered, and the demand seemed broad.

***

STANDARD OIL was active, and sold above the highest previously recorded price. The trading amounted to about 250 shares, which advanced the stock to 825¼, the previous record having been 825. A single share sold at 830.

***

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT showed considerable strength, and after selling as high as 13, closed with a net gain of half a point, at 12½ bid. It was traded in to the extent of about 3,000 shares. Much of the buying was said to be by those closely connected with the company.

***

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was fairly active, but irregular. The preferred stock advanced fractionally, closing at 25¾ bid, but the common ended the day with a slight net loss at 5¾ bid. Trading in the stocks probably did not exceed 1,000 shares.

***

UNION COPPER led the copper shares in point of activity as well as in strength. It sold up to 5¾, and closed at 5½ bid, a net gain of three-eighths of a point. An officer of the company was quoted as saying that the work done on the property has overcome the difficulties encountered in the early development and that the plant of the company is now in practical working condition.

***

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER, on transactions in something over 2,000 shares, sold fractionally above Saturday's closing bid, but made no net gain for the day.

***

TENNESSEE COPPER was traded in between 16¼ and 17, which was slightly below recently recorded prices.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS reacted yesterday from the best prices of last week, and the preferred stock, as well as St. Louis Transit, declined substantially. They both lost a point or more.

***

SEABOARD AIR LINE 4s sold to the extent of $20,000, at an advance of about a point over Saturday's quotation. As far as reported, there were no transactions in either the common or preferred stock.

***

RUBBER GOODS closed with a slight net gain at 30¾ bid. The preferred stock sold at 82½ and closed at 82 bid.

***

ELECTRIC BOAT common, on the sale of 900 shares, declined 1½ points. The preferred stock sold at 45 and closed at 43 bid, a decline of several points from Saturday's final price.

***

Closing quotations yesterday, compared with those of Saturday, were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Dec. 17. Bid.	Asked.	Dec. 15. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	25	27	26	27
Am. Agricul. Chem. pf..	70	80	79	80
American Banknote	47	50	47	50
American Bicycle	6½	7¼	6½	7¼
American Bicycle pf....	27	29	27	29
American Bridge	44½	45	43	43¾
American Bridge pf....	93½	94	92¼	92¾
American Chicle	83	..	80	..
American Bicycle bonds.	74½	76	74½	76
American Chicle pf.....	75	82	75	82
Am. Hide & Leather	10	10½	10	10¾
Am. Hide & Leather pf..	37	38	37	38
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	89½	90½	89½	90½
American Thread pf....	4	4½	4	4½
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	85	87	85	87
Arlington Copper	5	7	5	7
British Columbia Copper.	20	20¼	20	20¼
British Exch. 3s.....	98	99	98	99
California Copper	1¾	2	1¾	2
Cast-iron Pipe	5	5½	5	5½
Cast-iron Pipe pf.....	30½	31½	30½	31½
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf...	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	44	46	44	46
Con. Ry. L. & E.....	11½	12	11½	12½
Con. Rubber Tire	2	7	2	5
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	27	33	25	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	17	18	17	18
Crucible Steel pf.....	89	..	89	90
Cramps' Shipyard	77	78	77	78
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5¾	6	6	6¼
Dist. Co. of Am. pf.....	25¾	26	25¼	25½
Electric Boat	28½	29¾	28	29
Electric Boat pf.....	47	48	46	50
Electric Vehicle	16½	19	18¾	20
Electric Vehicle pf.....	35	45	35	45
Electro-Pneumatic	2¾	3	2¾	3
Flemington Coal & Coke.	18	20	18	20
General Carriage	4½	4¾	4¾	5
General Chemical	58	62	58	62
General Chemical pf....	97½	99	97½	99
German Treasury 4s....	100	100¼	100	100¼
Havana Commercial	7½	9½	7½	9½
Havana Commercial pf...	40½	43	40½	43
Hudson River Tel.pf...	115	118	115	118
Illinois Transportation...	1⅞	1¾	1⅞	1¾
International Silver pf...	35	40	35	40
Inter-State Oil	79	80	78	79
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds....	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	½	1
Kings Co. El. L. & P...	137	143	135	140
Lorillard pf.....	100	105	100	105
Markeen Copper	1	2½	1	2½
Mex. Nat. Construc. pf.	13½	13¾	13½	13¾
Nat. Enamel & Stamp..	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Gramophone	12	16	12	16
National Sugar pf....	102	103½	102	103½
New England Transpgt..	3	3¼	3	3¼
N. Y. Transportation....	6½	7¼	6½	7¼
Otis Elevator	26	27	26	27
Otis Elevator pf.....	86	88	86	88
Peo. Dec. & Evansv....	1¼	1¾	1¼	1¾
Pitts., Bess. & Lake Erie	29½	30	29	29½
Retsof	..	..	32	..
Retsof bonds	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	93½	95	93½	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.....	30¾	31	30½	30¾
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf...	82	83	81½	82½
Safety Car Heat & Light.	117	120	117	118½
St. Louis Transit.....	18½	19½	20	20½
Seaboard Air Line 4s....	71	74	71	71
Seaboard Air Line.....	10¾	11	10¾	11
Seaboard Air Line pf....	28½	29	28½	29
Sheet Steel pf.....	73½	74½	72⅝	73
Southern Light & Trac...	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler.....	34	37¼	36	40
Standard Coupler pf....	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J....	824	827	812	..
Storage Power.	11	13	11	13
Tennessee Copper.....	16½	17	17	19
Tel., Tel. & C. of A., $10 paid	3	3¼	3¼	4
Trenton Potteries.....	4	6	4	6
Trenton Potteries pf....	55	60	55	60
Union Copper.....	5¼	5¾	5¼	5¾
Union Typewriter.....	35½	36	35½	36½
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	110½	112½	110½	112½
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	110	112	110	112
United Rys. of St. L. 4s.	80¼	80½	80¼	80¾
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	68	69	68	69½
Va. Coal, I. & C.....	3	5	3	5
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	34	35	34	36
Westinghouse Air Brake.	365	370	365	370
Worthington Pump pf...	110	113	110	113

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share Par value $10.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.....	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102½	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d....	102½	103½	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R....	231	233	231	233
Brooklyn B. & W. E. 5s.	101½	102	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E.R. 7s.	104½	105	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	32½	35	32½	35
Columbus Railway pf..	80	82	80	82
Con. Traction of N. J..	59	58	59	60
Con. Traction 6s.....	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N Av. 1st.	113½	115	113½	115
42d St., M. St. N. Av. 2d.	98	100	98	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry	27	30	27	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	78½	80	78½	80
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¼	20	21¼
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s..	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.....	86½	89	87	90
New Orleans Traction...	22	..	22	08
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	91	08
9th Av. 1st R.	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	83	84	83	84
North Jersey St. R. R..	24½	25½	24½	25½
Orange & Pas. V. bonds.	93	95	91	96
Second Av. R.R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.	200	210	200	210
Stein Ry. Co. 1st 6s....	116½	118	116½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit	11	15	11	15
Syracuse Rap. Tran. pf.	30	40	30	40
28th & 29th St. 5s. 1909.	112¾	114½	113¾	114½
Union. Ry. 1st 5s.....	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds..	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac.	34½	35½	34½	35½
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf..	107	108	107	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas.....	15-16	1	⅞	1
Buffalo (N. Y.) stock....	8	9	8	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st.....	..	68	..	68
Ferry Companies.
Brooklyn Ferry	19¼	21	19¼	21
Brooklyn Ferry 5s	84	87	84	87
East River Ferry	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s....	96	98	96	98
Peo. G. & C. (Os.) 5s, 1930.	91	93	91	93
St. Joseph (Mo.)....	31	38	..	38¼
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s.....	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock.....	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds.....	75	80	77	81
Standard Gas, New York.	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	153	150	153
Standard Gas 1st.....	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	98	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s.....	107	109	107	100

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64@65. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted in London at 29⅝d per ounce, and in New York at 64c. Mexican silver dollars at 50¼c.

On the Consolidated Exchange 300 shares of Argentum Juanita sold at .28, 200 Consolidated California and Virginia at 1.35, 1,000 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .13, 1,000 Gold Dollar at .23, 500 Isabella at .72, 500 Mollie Gibson at .25, and 500 Ophir at .68.

TREASURY BALANCES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—To-day's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the Division of Redemption, shows:

Available cash balance	$140,665,829
Gold	99,556,721
Silver	8,661,220
United States notes	10,986,497
Treasury notes of 1890	148,223
National bank notes	6,363,142
Total receipts this day	2,537,041
Total receipts this month	26,688,073
Total receipts this year	271,684,026
Total expenditures this day	1,770,000
Total expenditures this month	22,280,000
Total expenditures this year	255,149,533
Deposits in National banks	97,287,220
National banknotes received to-day for redemption	511,513
Government receipts—
From internal revenue	1,721,530
Customs	780,831
Miscellaneous	34,679

The condition of the Treasury, Divisions of Issue and Redemption, at the beginning of business to-day, was as follows:

RESERVE FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$150,000,000

TRUST FUNDS, DIVISION OF REDEMPTION.

Gold coin	$261,366,379
Silver dollars	426,265,000
Silver dollars of 1890	4,727,497
Silver bullion of 1890	57,735,503
United States notes	1,570,000
Total	$751,664,379

DIVISION OF ISSUE.

Gold certificates outstanding	$261,366,379
Silver certificates outstanding	426,265,000
Treasury notes outstanding	62,463,000
Currency certificates outstanding	1,570,000
Total	$751,664,379

GENERAL FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$64,428,461
Gold certificates	35,129,260
Silver coin and bullion	4,730,654
Silver certificates	3,930,566
United States notes	10,986,497
Other assets	11,295,218
Total in Treasury	$130,500,669
Deposits in National banks	97,287,220
Total	$227,787,889
Current liabilities	87,122,060
Available cash balance	$140,665,829

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

	1900.	1899.	1898.
ANN ARBOR—
Mileage	292	292	292
2d week Dec.....	$37,710	$30,656	$24,071
From Jan. 1.....	1,596,808	1,488,888	1,379,519
NORTHERN PACIFIC—
Mileage	5,456	5,134	4,862
1st week Dec.....	643,296	585,421	575,392
From July 1.....	16,090,360	15,575,933	13,947,445
RIO GRANDE WESTERN—
Mileage	610	584	582
2d week Dec.....	83,700	76,000	53,650
From July 1.....	2,328,274	2,044,041	1,574,317
ST. PAUL—
Mileage	6,542	6,397	6,154
2d week Dec.....	828,221	809,625	785,071
From July 1.....	20,239,400	20,053,619	18,413,962
WABASH—
Mileage	2,358	2,326	2,326
2d week Dec.....	342,333	326,916	254,942
From July 1.....	8,232,972	7,965,933	6,700,598
WISCONSIN CENTRAL—
Mileage	950	950	....
2d week Dec.....	92,955	86,923	88,204
From July 1.....	2,501,924	2,314,049	....
MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS for the month of October—
Mileage	2,222	2,197	2,208
Gross earnings ..	1,690,773	1,448,202	1,538,523
Op. exp. and tax.	920,771	866,898	788,304
Net	764,002	581,304	750,219
Prop. exp. to gross	55⅞	59⅞	51⅛
Charges	289,313	257,277	235,588
Surplus	474,689	294,027	464,631
From July 1—
Gross earnings ..	5,102,010	4,744,226	4,456,358
Op. exp. and tax.	3,277,377	3,077,302	2,713,413
Net	1,855,223	1,664,724	1,742,945
Charges	1,157,206	1,147,916	1,142,394
Surplus	668,027	516,808	600,551
Gross for October, 1897, $660,169.

The following traction companies controlled by the Metropolitan Street Railway report to the State Railroad Commissioners for the quarter ending Sept. 30:

DRY DOCK, EAST BROADWAY & BATTERY—

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Gross	154,564	164,032	163,369
Net	58,083	48,958	46,781
Surplus	26,097	15,914	16,702

THIRTY-FOURTH STREET, CROSSTOWN—

	1900.	1899.	Increase.
Gross	94,949	84,589	7,660
Net	48,244	38,720	9,524
Surplus	34,225	24,900	9,325

FULTON STREET—

Gross	14,093	13,772	321
Net	6,487	5,762	725
Surplus	1,010	304	706

TWENTY-EIGHTH AND TWENTY-NINTH STREETS CROSSTOWN—

Gross	40,490	42,264	*1,785
Net	16,227	19,438	*3,211
Deficit	4,856	1,506	3,350

*Decrease.

RAILWAY STATEMENT.

The following railways, reporting yesterday gross earnings for the second week in December, showed increases, as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Ann Arbor	$7,054
Rio Grande Western	7,700
St. Paul	18,598
Wabash	15,417
Wisconsin Central	5,732
Total increase (five roads)	$54,501

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Brooklyn Iron Works Company; capital, $6,000. Directors—James McLachlin and Angus McLachlan, Brooklyn; Norman McDonald, New York.

John C. Post's Sons of Buffalo, to deal in paints, oils, and glass; capital, $30,000. Directors—James Post, Peter Post, and Henry Post, Buffalo.

Porsch Chemical Company of New York City; capital, $200,000. Directors—Joseph E. Porsch, Ottokar Porsch, and Herman A. Heydt, New York City.

Family Physician Publishing Company of New York City; capital, $5,000. Directors—A. A. Ochs, George W. Willis, and C. H. Guild, New York City.

Albion Cold Storage Company of Albion; capital, $50,000. Directors—Claus H. Behrenberg, Jersey City; William Hallock and B. S. Beckwith, Albion.

Waring & Fox Valve Company of New York City; capital, $50,000. Directors—John B. Waring, Orange, N. J.; Hugh L. Fox and Hugh C. Fox, New York.

Antiseptic Hot Towel Machine Company of Little Falls; Capital, $1,000. Directors—Lorenzo O. Buckin, William F. Lansing, and William O'Rourke, Little Falls.

Legal Protective Association of Cattaraugus, to carry on a general mercantile agency; capital, $1,000. Directors—Henry L. Wachler, M. W. Cook, and De Ett R. Powell, Cattaraugus.

Rocky Mountain Paper Company of New York City, to manufacture paper and bi-products of same; capital, $1,350,000. Directors—Thomas H. Savery, William W. Pusey, and Samuel C. Biddle, Wilmington, Del.; Thomas Scattergood, Philadelphia; George W. Kenyon, Charles R. Smith, Newell Martin, Charles A. Tinker, and Henry L. Thornell, New York City.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Monday, Dec. 17, 1900.

	Closing Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change
	145	150	42	Adams Express	147	150	147	150	....
	92⅝	93	22,237	Amalgamated Copper..	90¼	93⅜	89¾	92⅝	+2⅛
	22⅞	22¾	3,560	Am. Car & Found. Co.	22½	23	22½	22½	....
	70	70¼	8,150	Am. C. & F. Co. pf...	69½	70¼	69½	70	+½
	165	180	450	American Coal	165	165	165	165	+5
	31¾	32	1,935	American Cotton Oil..	31½	32	31½	31¾	+¼
	173	176	320	American Express ...	174	174	174	174	+6
	41	41¼	1,600	American Ice Co.....	41¼	41¾	40¾	41¼	+¾
	70½	71	110	American Ice Co. pf.	70½	70½	70	70	....
	7½	7¾	510	American Linseed Co.	7¾	7¾	7⅝	7⅝	-⅛
	37⅞	38½	540	Am. Linseed Co. pf..	39	39	38	38½	-1
	5	5½	300	American Malting Co.	5¼	5¼	5¼	5¼	+⅛
	25	26	500	Am. Malting Co. pf...	28	26	25¼	25⅞	+⅛
	54⅜	54⅞	18,710	Am. S. & R. Co.....	55⅛	55½	54	54⅝	+⅜
	96¾	97	1,575	Am. S. & R. Co. pf..	98	98	96½	96½	-2
	30⅝	31	5,750	Am. Steel Hoop Co...	31⅞	32	30¾	30¾	-⅝
	77¼	78¼	800	Am. Steel Hoop Co. pf.	78	78	77⅞	77⅞	-⅛
			200	Am. Steel & Wire...	45¼	45¼	45¼	45¼	....
	42¾	43	13,450	Am. S. & W., er d...	43¼	43¾	43	43	+⅛
	87⅞	87¾	2,000	Am. S.& W. pf., ex d.	86½	87¼	86½	87⅛	+⅛
	124⅝	124¾	15,465	Am. Sugar Ref. Co...	126	126⅝	124½	124⅝	-1⅛
	115	116	300	Am. Sug. Ref. Co. pf..	115½	115½	115½	115½	+2½
	52	52⅛	28,995	American Tin Plate..	50½	52¼	50½	52⅛	+2⅛
	89¼	89¾	150	Am. Tin Plate pf....	90	90	90	90	+⅛
	109¼	109⅜	20,740	American Tobacco ...	110	110⅜	109	109¼	-⅛
	135	138	450	Am. Tobacco pf.....	137	137½	137	137½	-⅛
	22	22¼	870	American Woolen	22	22¼	22	22	....
	76	76½	250	Am. Woolen pf.....	76½	76½	76½	76½	+⅛
	47	47¾	6,450	Anaconda Copper	47	49¼	47	48¾	+¾
			100	Ann Arbor pf.....	55	55	55	55	+⅛
	43¼	43⅞	45,633	At., T. & S. F.....	43¼	43⅞	43¼	43¾	+⅛
	87⅝	88⅛	37,210	At., T. & S. F. pf...	87⅝	87½	86¾	86⅞	+⅛
	82⅝	83	6,724	Baltimore & Ohio....	82⅝	83	81⅝	82	-⅛
	86¾	86¾	1,155	Baltimore & Ohio pf..	86¾	86¾	86	86¼	+¼
	77⅞	78	113,291	Brooklyn Rapid Tran.	76½	78¼	76½	78	+2⅛
	176	178¼	1,000	Brooklyn Union Gas.	178¼	178¼	178¼	178½	+2½
	9¼	9¾	440	Brunswick City	10	10¼	10	10¼	+½
	120	125	200	Buff., Roch. & P. pf..	120	120	120	120	+1
	60	60¼	7,100	Canada Southern	60	60⅞	59⅜	60¼	+⅞
	87¼	88	50	Canadian Pacific	88¼	88¼	88¼	88¼	....
	39	39¼	26,824	Chesapeake & Ohio...	38⅝	39¾	38¼	38⅞	+⅜
	40¼	40½	5,261	Chicago & Alton	40¾	41	40¾	40¾	....
	77½	78	4,541	Chicago & Alton pf...	77⅞	78	77⅞	78	+⅛
	138½	138¾	14,522	Chi., Bur. & Quincy..	139½	139¾	138⅝	138⅝	-⅞
	95¼	96	100	Chi. & East. Ill.....	95½	95½	95¼	95¼	-½
	16¼	16½	5,000	Chicago Great West..	16⅝	16⅞	15¾	16¼	-⅛
	81¾	81¾	484	Chi. Gr. West. pf., A.	81¾	82	81¾	81¾	+⅛
	41¾	42	870	Chi. Gr. West. pf., B.	42⅜	42⅞	42¼	42⅞	+⅜
	93¾	94	250	Chi. Gr. West., deb...	93⅜	93⅜	93⅜	93⅜	+⅛
	26⅜	27	4,810	Chi., Ind. & Louis....	26½	27½	26¼	26¾	+⅛
	61½	62	4,378	Chi., Ind. & Louis. pf.	61½	63¼	61½	62¾	+1
	132⅛	132¼	49,035	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul.	132⅝	135⅝	131⅞	132⅝	....
	181	183	....	Chi., Mil. & St. P. pf.	181	180¼	181	180¼	....
	169⅜	170	1,550	Chi. & Northw. ex. d.	168	170	168	169½	+2½
	117¾	118	11,250	Chi., R. I. & Pac....	118	119	117¾	117⅞	+¼
	123	125	500	Chi., St. P., M. & Om.	122	123	122	123	+1
	175	181	100	Chi., St. P. M. & O. pf.	175	175	175	175	+3
	10½	11¼	800	Chicago Term. Trans.	11⅞	11⅞	11¼	11¼	-½
	33½	34	1,700	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	32¾	33½	32¼	33¼	+⅛
	70½	70⅞	12,800	C., C., C. & St. L....	68⅝	71	68⅜	70⅞	+2⅜
	113	114	60	C., C., C. & St. L. pf..	114	114	112¾	112¾	....
	....	....	100	Cleve., Lor. & W. pf.	66	66	66	66	-2
	52½	52¾	5,300	Colorado Fuel & Iron.	53	53⅜	52½	52½	-¼
	120	122	40	Col. Fuel & Iron pf..	122	122	122	122	....
	8¼	8½	7,200	Colorado Southern ..	8½	8⅝	8⅜	8⅜	+⅛
	45¾	45¾	5,355	Col. Southern 1st pf..	45⅞	46⅛	45¾	46⅛	+⅛
	19	19¼	250	Col. Southern 2d pf...	19⅛	19	19	19	-⅛
	16	16	400	Col. & H. C. & I....	16½	16½	16	16	-½
	102	103¼	2,745	Consolidated Gas.....	102	103¼	102¼	103¼	+1
	37⅜	38	25,335	Con. Tobacco Co.....	36⅛	38⅝	36	37⅝	+1½
	91	91½	2,235	Con. Tobacco Co. pf..	91	92	91	91⅞	+1⅝
	122⅝	123	5,190	Delaware & Hudson..	122⅜	123½	121½	121½	-¼
	190	192	3,300	Del., Lack. & Western.	190	192½	190	191½	+2
	28	28¼	1,686	Denver & R. G.....	26⅜	26¼	26	26	....
	81⅞	82	3,015	Denver & R. G. pf...	81⅝	82¼	81⅝	81⅝	+⅛
	17¼	18¾	600	D. M. & Ft. Dodge...	18¾	18¾	17¾	17¾	-⅛
	5½	6	650	Dul., S. S. & At.....	6¼	6¼	6	6	....
	15¼	16	1,100	Dul., S. S. & At. pf...	16¼	16¼	16¼	16½	+⅛
	45	45¾	1,200	Erie	19⅞	21½	19½	20⅝	+¾
	17½	19	130	Erie 1st pf	52	56	51⅝	55	+4½
	37⅞	38¼	2,700	Erie 2d pf.....	82⅝	37¼	82⅝	36	+4½
	17½	17⅝	200	Evans. & T. H.....	40	40	40	40	-⅝
	17½	19	130	Evans. & T. H. pf....	81	81⅝	81	81⅝	+1½
	45	43¼	45,633	Federal Steel	53¼	54	53	53⅛	+⅛
	77⅞	78¼	37,210	Federal Steel pf....	78½	79	78¼	78⅝	+⅛
	82⅝	83	6,724	Fort Wayne	71	71	71	71	-⅛
	83¼	84	1,155	Gas & El., Bergen Co.	....	....	....	200	....
	111½	113	2,000	General Electric	172	172¼	171¾	172	+⅛
	52¾	53¾	340	Glucose Sugar Ref....	53	53½	53	53½	+1
	188¼	189	1,912	Great Northern pf....	188	188½	188	188½	+1½
	42¼	42⅝	6,420	Hocking Valley	42	42⅞	42	42⅞	+⅛
	74⅝	74¾	1,420	Hocking Valley pf....	74⅝	74¾	74½	74½	+⅛
	75	75	50,447	Homestake Mining....	75	75	75	75	-3
	82⅝	83	6,680	Illinois Central	127½	127¾	126¾	126¾	-¼
	14	14¼	16,300	International Paper...	22¼	22¾	22¼	22¾	-⅛
	73⅝	75¾	2,350	International Paper pf.	72½	72¾	72½	72¾	-⅛
	25	25¼	2,500	Internat. Power Co...	54	54¼	54	54¼	+⅛
	28¼	28⅞	1,450	Internat. Steam Pump	28¼	29	28	29	+½
	77	78	100	Int. Steam Pump pf...	77	77	77	77	....
	80¾	80¾	960	Iowa Central	20¼	20¼	20¼	20¼	-⅝
	13¾	13⅞	5,300	Iowa Central pf.....	45	45	44½

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Site Sold for Apartment House on West 116th Street—Other Dealings and Auction Sales.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold to John Bannen the plot of four lots on the north side of One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, 143 feet west of St. Nicholas Avenue. Mr. Bannen will erect thereon a seven-story apartment house, with stores, from plans by Neville & Bagge.

John N. Golding has sold for Charles A. and John F. Baudouine, executors, to Daniel S. Lamont, the stable 19 West Fifty-fifth Street, 25 by 100.5.

Cornish & Anderson have sold for the Keane Estate, for about $33,000, the five-story flat 2,200 Eighth Avenue, 25 by 80.

S. Marcus has sold for August Oppenheimer to Louis Lese, for about $60,000, the two five-story flats 6 and 8 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, 50 by 100.11.

The deeds in the recently reported trade between Henry Corn and Augustus D. Juilliard were recorded yesterday. Mr. Corn transfers the building at the southwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Nineteenth Street to Helen C. Juilliard and others, individually and as executors, for $750,000. The property 546 and 548 Broadway, running through to 80 to 88 Crosby Street, taken by Mr. Corn in part payment, figures in the deal at $462,500. A three-year loan of $250,000 at 4 per cent. interest made by the Bank for Savings on the Fifth Avenue corner was also recorded, while the Equitable Life Assurance Society has advanced $350,000 to Mr. Corn on the Broadway and Crosby Street parcel, due in two years.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By Philip A. Smyth.

217 West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, north side, 183 feet west of Seventh Avenue, 17 by 99.11, three-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, David McClure.....$9,250

By William M. Ryan.

124 West Ninety-eighth Street, south side, 214.11 feet west of Columbus Avenue, 18 by 100.11, four-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Helen [illegible]..... 15,000

Lewis Street, northwest corner of Seventh Street, 74 by 79.8 by 73.1 by 70.11, two six-story brick tenements, with stores; foreclosure sale, to Daniel Farrell..... 76,750

2221 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, south side, 300 feet east of Third Avenue, 19 by 100.11, three-story stone-front dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, William H. Hull..... 7,002

By McVickar & Co.

Second Avenue, northeast corner of First Street, 91.8 by 27.3 by 75.5, six-story iron-front building; sale by order of the liquidating committee of the Tradesmen's National Bank; to Jacob Korn 114,000

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

2,068 Fifth Avenue, west side, 50.5 feet south of One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street, 19.6 by 75, four-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, the American Baptist Home Missionary Society..... 15,000

Fulton Street, west side, 400.1 feet south of Westchester Avenue, 25 by 100, vacant; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Eliza M. Hough..... 875

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By Richard V. Harnett & Co., executors' sale, 20 East Twelfth Street, south side, 325 feet east of Fifth Avenue, 19.9 by 103.6, five-story brick flat, Third Avenue, east side, 75 feet south of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Street, running through to Lincoln Avenue, 51.4 by 128.10 by 99 by 117.5, vacant; 2,628 Third Avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Forty-first Street, 28 by 92.8 by 25 by 79.11, five-story brick flat, with two stores.

By James L. Wells, trustee's sale, Park Avenue, east side, 144 feet south of One Hundred and Forty-fourth Street, two lots, each 25 by 111.9, Canal Place, west side, abutting on the foregoing, on lot, 25 by 111.9.

By Herbert A. Sherman, foreclosure sale, Edward B. Whitney, referee, 209 West One Hundred and Eleventh Street, north side, 167 feet west of Seventh Avenue, 16 by 100.11, three-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $12,067.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, David McClure, referee, 550 and 552 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, north side, 100 feet west of Alexander Avenue, each 25 by 100, five four-story brick flats. Due on judgment, on each, $8,601.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, William A. Boyd, referee, Anthony Avenue, northwest corner of Minerva Place, 50 by 100, vacant. Due on judgment, $987.

By John T. Boyd, foreclosure sale, Sylvester L. H. Ward, referee, 538 and 540 West Twenty-first Street, south side, 250 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 50 by 92, one and two story brick buildings; 530 and 532 West Twenty-first Street, south side, 350 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 50 by 92, frame sheds, and vacant. Due on judgment, $1,898; subject to another mortgage for $24,000.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Clinton Street, northwest corner of Grand Street, for a seven-story brick tenement, 50 by 75.5; Jacob Fischel of 197 Henry Street, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $75,000.

One Hundred and Twelfth Street, north side, 175 feet east of Lenox Avenue, for two five-story and basement brick flats, 42 by 90.11; Louis Cohen of 65 East Ninety-ninth Street, owner; M. Bernstein of 245 Broadway, architect; cost of each, $38,000.

No. 127 Cannon Street, for a six-story and basement brick shop, 20 by 38; Dr. Senlesinger, premises, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $10,000.

Alterations.

No. 23 Orchard Street, to a five-story brick flat; A. J. Dworsky of 239 East Sixteenth Street, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $100.

West Farms Road, south side, 200 feet west of Union Avenue, to a one-story frame store; Michael Brennan, owner; W. C. Dickerson, Third Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, architect; cost, $100.

Ninety-first Street, north side, 100 feet east of Third Avenue, to a four-story brick storage house; Jacob Ruppert of 1,639 Third Avenue, owner; Julius Kastner & Son of 1,133 Broadway, architects; cost, $5,000.

Nos. 328 and 330 East Twenty-sixth Street, to a brick laundry; George and John Matthews of 333 East Twenty-sixth Street, owners; William J. M. Dobson of 5 Dey Street, architect; cost, $400.

Nos. 48 and 50 Walker Street, to a five-story brick loft building; John Boyle, owner; John F. Kelly of 7 Platt Street, architect; cost, $15,000.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. The "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyances should therefore show the true consideration:

Monday, Dec. 17.

AMSTERDAM AV, w s, 50 ft s of 180th St, 50x100; Jane Meehan and another to Annie Ormsbin and another, quitclaim..... $1

AUDUBON AV, e s, 30 ft s of 169th St, 50 x95, John S. Miers to Samuel Miers, mtg, $3,000, R S $10,) re-recorded..... 1

BROADWAY, 546 and 548, and 80 to 88 Crosby St; Helen C. Juilliard and another, individually, and others, executors, to Henry Corn. (R S $462.50).....462,500

BRONX TERRACE, w s, Lot 1,233, map of Wakefield, 87.6x140; Catherine E. Allison to Robert Wallace, (taxes, &c., R S $2).....

CHRISTOPHER ST, 117, n s, 25x90.6; Christopher St, n s, 169 ft e of Hudson St, 25x91; Robert Friedman to Israel Lippman, ½ part, (R S $6).....

CROTONA AV, w s, 225 ft s of Tremont Av, 50x116; John Rumore to Jacob Leitner, (mtg $9,000, R S 50 cents).....

HUDSON ST, 459 and 461, w s, 27x64x irregular; Henry Oberle to Daniel E. O'Neill, (R S $10, mtg $2,500).....

HUDSON ST, 459 and 461, w s, 27x64x irregular; Hubert Oberle to Henry Oberle, ½ part, (mtg $2,500).....4,375

JOHN ST, s w s, ½ of Lot 15, map of East Tremont, 25x150; Thomas Barry to and others to Nathan B. Levin, (R S $1.50).....

LEGGETS LANE, now closed, e s, 63.2 ft e of Hewitt's Place and 225 ft n of 150th St, runs n 17.5x n 31.3x n e 67x n e 70.11x n 26.9x s e 80.1x s 99.9x w 150 to lane; thence s s along lane, being 86.4 ft e of Amsterdam Av x99.9 ft n of 129th St; dus April 2, 1901.....2,800

PELL, Alexander M., to Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum; 31st St, 132 West, 3 years, 4½ per cent.....15,000

BLEAKLEY, Elathine A. and Andrew, to German Savings Bank; Greenwich St, 270 and 272, 1 year, 6 per cent.....21,000

BOCCUZZI, Felice, to Meyer Solomon; Mangin St, e s, 75 ft s of Rivington St, 1 year.....1,000

BULL, Charles H., to George F. Johnson, Leggett's Lane, now closed, e s, 63.3 ft e of Hewitt Place and 225 ft n of 150th St; also all title to Leggett's Lane closed, e s, 63.3 ft e of Hewitt Place x225 ft n of 156th St, 2 years.....2,500

CIMINO, Vito, and wife to Giovanni Lordi; Mulberry St, 110 and 112, demand, 6 per cent.....1,500

CORN, Henry, to Equitable Life Assurance Society, Broadway, 546 and 548, extends to Crosby St, Due Jan. 1, 1903.....350,000

CORN, Henry, to Bank for Savings; 5th Av, 140, s w corner of 10th St, 3 years, 4 per cent.....250,000

COSTELLO, Mary A., and Thomas F., to Angelina Champlin; transverse road at East 200th St, n s, new line, 75 ft w of Valentine Av, 3 years.....

COSTELLO, Mary A., and Thomas F., to Elihu Thomson; transverse road at East 200th St, new line, 50 ft w of Valentine Av, 3 years.....5,500

EAGER, Arthur W., to United States Life Insurance Company; 45th St, 59 and 61 West, due May 27, 1902.....175,000

FOLSOM, John G., to Bowery Savings Bank; 123d St, n s, 283.4 ft e of 3d Av, 1 year, 4 per cent.....4,500

FRANKENTHALER, Louis, to East River Savings Institution; 61st St, 326 East, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....12,000

FRIEDHOFF, John P. and Henry C. Meyer to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 1st Av, s e corner of 5th St, 3 years, 4 per cent.....15,750

GAROFALO, Frank, and Concetta Marrone; 1st Av, w s, 100.11 ft n of 109th St, installments, 6 per cent.....650

GEIS, William V., and others to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 2d Av, 457, three-fourths part, 3 years.....7,000

HANSEN, Niels, to Edward and Henry Hirsh; Amsterdam Av, e s, 25 ft n of 146th St, demand, 6 per cent.....10,000

HANSEN, Niels, to Knickerbocker Trust Company; Amsterdam Av, e s, 25 ft n of 146th St, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....26,000

HASSLER, George, and Solomon Brill to Henrietta Hermann; Ludlow St, 75, 5 years.....20,000

HASSLER, George, and Solomon Brill to John A. Hassler; Ludlow St, 75, 5 years, 6 per cent.....7,000

JACKSON, Isidore, to Thomas S. Ollive, committee, &c.; 20th St., 333, 1 year...5,500

JOHNSEN, Kate, to Gustav Barna; 49th St, 354 West, 2 years.....2,000

KESSLER, George A., to the National Savings Bank of Albany; 70th St, 259 West, 3 years, 4 per cent.....12,000

LANG, Henry, and others to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Washington Av, s e corner of 10th St, or Bathgate Place, demand.....20,000

LEITNER, Jacob, to John Rumore; Crotona Av, w s, 225 ft s of Tremont Av; due December, 1900.....1,000

LYNCH, Bernard F., to Bowery Savings Bank; Tremont Av, s s, 166.2 ft e of Webster Av, 3 years, 4 per cent.....10,000

MALINTZKI, Maly, to Ellen J. Nevins; Jackson Av, w s, 331.1 ft n of 163d St, demand, 6 per cent.....2,000

McGRATH, Thomas, to George Ehret; Morris Av, 540, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent.....2,000

McKEON, Johanna, to Emma C. Orr; 33d St, n s, 161 ft w of 8th Av, due May 1, 1901, 6 per cent.....2,000

McKEON, Johanna, to Emma C. Orr; 8th Av, w s, 74 ft s of 32d St, due May 1, 1901, 6 per cent.....3,000

MOORE, Annie, to New York Savings Bank; 89th St, s s, 232 ft w of Av A, 1 year, 4 per cent.....8,500

MULLER, Lioba, to John and Mathias Haffen; Central Av, e s, 150 ft s w from n line land of Elizabeth Nell, &c., runs s e 300 ft to w s of old Woodlawn Road, 1 year.....

MURRAY, Blanche A., to Annie McGrath; 2d Av, west ½, Lot 693, Map Wakefield, 1 year, 6 per cent.....140

NEW YORK CITY CHURCH EXTENsion and Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church to Franklin Savings Bank; King's Bridge Av, s w corner of Terrace View Av, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....15,000

ROOSEVELT ST, 78, n e cor of Batavia St, 24.9x87.3; to New Chambers St x28.4x2.0x100.2; Batavia St, n w cor of New Chambers St, 2.5x2.6x3; William I. Cayen to Tarmine Cava, (R S $16.50, mtg $23,500).....

SILVER ST, e s, 75.2 ft s of Roselle St, 50.1x104.5x50x100.9, George F. Baisley and another to Mark H. Brown, (all liens).....

STEBBINS AV, e s, 388 ft n of 167th St, 50x100; Sylvanus O. Phelon to August F. Schmidt, ½ part, (mtg $5,300, R S 50c).....

UNION AV, w s, 146.10 ft n of 163th St, 189.11x138.8x194x132; Ferdinand Hecht and another to John O'Leary, (mtg $15,000).....

WEST END AV, e s, 138.8 ft s of 96th St, 20.9± — x21.3x100; also West End Av, e s, 78.8 ft s of 95th St, 20x100; William E. Finn to Amelia R. Rogers, (R S $18, mtg $40,000).....

WEST END AV, w s, 25 ft s of 80th St, 20x80; Adrian H. Larkin, referee, to Archer V. Pancoast, trustee, (R S $22)..

1ST AV, s e corner of 5th St, 21.9x67.2; John J. Aster to John P. Friedhof and another, exrs.....21,000

1ST AV, 2,129, 25x75; Concetta Marrone and another to Frank Garofalo, (mtg $11,000, R S $4).....14,060

2D AV, s s, w 25 ft of Lot 693, map of Wakefield, 32.6x181.2x2.6x177; Annie McGrath to Blanche A. Murray, (R S $1).....450

5TH AV, e s, 25.8 ft s of 86th St, 21.10x100; L. Napoleon Levy to Allster Greene, (R S $20).....

5TH AV, 140, s w corner of 10th St, 27.10x100; Henry Corn to Helen C. Juillard and others, (R S $500, mtg $250,000).....750,000

11TH AV, s s, Lots 820 and 821, map of Wakefield, 100x228 to n s of 10th Av; Mary M. Bickford to Robert Wallace, taxes, &c., (R S $3).....

11TH AV, s s, Lots 820 and 821, map of Wakefield, 100x228 to n s of 10th Av; Charles T. Wilson to Mary M. Bickford, (R S $1).....

11TH AV, s s, Lots 820 and 821, map of Wakefield, 100x228 to n s of 10th Av; Francis F. Brennen and others to Mary M. Bickford, (R S $1).....

2D ST, n s, 193.3 ft e of 1st Av, 74.4x121.11; 2d St, n s, 292.3 ft e of 1st Av, 49.4x121.11; 2d St, n s, 306.3 ft e of 1st Av, 25.4x121.11x irregular; Julius Dreyfus to Joseph L. Butteweiser, (R S 50 cents).....Omitted

6TH ST, s s, 158 ft w of Av C, 25x90.10; Mary Bier to Jacob Bier, (R S $3.50, mtg $19,000).....

9TH ST, s s, 225 ft w of 1st Av, 25x 85; Samuel Greenfield to Nathan Kohn, (mtgs $13,000, R S $7).....61,959

17TH ST, 112 and 114 East, 50x92; Adelburt S. Vosburgh to Ernest B. Wintersmith, (mtg $156,000).....1,000

20TH ST, 132 West, 25x92; Julius Dreyfus to Joseph L. Butteweiser, (R S 50 cents).....Nom.

20TH ST, s s, 225 ft w of 1st Av, 20x92; Sarah O'Neill, by guardian, &c., to George Pfister, (mtg $4,783, R S $5.50).....10,000

20TH ST, 333 East, 15.3x92; Augustus Van H. Stuyvesant to Isidore Jackson, (R S $9).....

49TH ST, 354 West, 25x100.5; Gustav Barna to Kate Johnsen, (mtg $19,000, R S $11).....

54TH ST, n s, 175 ft e of 10th Av, 25x 110.10; J. George Flammer, executor and trustee, to Ellen O'Neill, (R S $10).. 9,000

62D ST, 223 West, 25x100.5; Mary M. Baldwin to Harry B. Baldwin, (mtg $15,000, R S $5).....

62D ST, n s, 200 ft e of 4th Av, triangular piece; Anderson Fowler to Edward R. De Grove, (R S 50 cents).....

68TH ST, 74, e s, 45 ft e of Columbus Av, 20x100.5; Anna T. E. Kirtland, widow, to William Z. Larned, (R S $7.70)

70TH ST, 259 West, 21x100.5; Charles L. Leonori to George A. Kessler, (R S $25).....1,000

88TH ST, 336 West, 21x100.8; Gilbert M. Speir, referee, to Eugenie S. Joyce, (R S 50 cents).....6,000

95TH ST, s s, 333 ft w of Central Park West, 18x100.8; Mary Murphy to William H. Newschafer, (R S $23.50).....23,500

107TH ST, s s, 100 ft w of Madison Av, 24.11x100.11; New York Realty Company to Isaac M. Berinstein, (R S $6.50, mtg $40,000).....

108TH ST, 143 West, 25x100.11; Joseph Studer to Charles Stutz, (mtg $23,500, R S $5).....27,000

116TH ST, n s, 143.8 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 100x75.11; Thomas S. Walker to John Bannen, (R S $55).....100

133D ST, n s, 100 ft e of Lenox Av, 25x 99.11; Frederick P. Rose and another to William O'Shaughnessy, (R S $5, mtg $15,000).....20,000

142D ST, n s, 245 ft w of Boulevard, 15x 99.11; Charles Donohue, referee, to Jennie Orr, trustee.....8,000

143D ST, n s, 150 ft w of Courtlandt Av, 25x100; George Schweebins to Christian Vorndran, (R S $4).....1

Recorded Leases.

BROADWAY, 1,472 and 1,474; William Wilson to Charles R. Scallen, 5 years 11½ months.....$3,000

GREENWICH ST, 753; Rebecca Fritz, executrix, to Joseph F. Evans, 3 years.....420

MORRIS AV, 544; Matthew Sullivan to Thomas McGrath, 2½ years.....780 to 840

PINE ST, 30, Room 21; Goold Hoyt to John McMahon, 3 years.....300

WASHINGTON ST, 63; John Frohlich to Daniel J. Faour, 5 years.....1,500

6TH AV, 738; Henry Jentes and another to the Carlton Hotel Company, 3 6-12 years.....2,460

9TH ST, 109 East; Elias Stone to Frederick Rohmeling, 5½ years.....1,800 to 2,000

102D ST, 330 to 330 East; Daniel Daly to George Dumrauf and another, 5 years.....1,500

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 5 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

BANNEN, John, to Thomas S. Walker; 116th St, n s, 143.8 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 1 year, 6 per cent.....$80,000

BANNEN, John, to Thomas S. Walker; 116th St, n s, 143.8 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 1 year.....55,000

BANNEN, John, to Thomas S. Walker; 116th St, n s, 143.8 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 1 year.....10,000

BELL, Thomas H., to Alexander McMurray; Amsterdam Av, n e cor of 129th St, also all title, being 86.4 ft e of Amsterdam Av x99.9 ft n of 129th St; dus April 2, 1901.....2,800

PELL, Alexander M., to Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum; 31st St, 132 West, 3 years, 4½ per cent.....15,000

BLEAKLEY, Elathine A. and Andrew, to German Savings Bank; Greenwich St, 270 and 272, 1 year, 6 per cent.....21,000

BOCCUZZI, Felice, to Meyer Solomon; Mangin St, e s, 75 ft s of Rivington St, 1 year.....1,000

BULL, Charles H., to George F. Johnson, Leggett's Lane, now closed, e s, 63.3 ft e of Hewitt Place and 225 ft n of 150th St; also all title to Leggett's Lane closed, e s, 63.3 ft e of Hewitt Place x225 ft n of 156th St, 2 years.....2,500

CIMINO, Vito, and wife to Giovanni Lordi; Mulberry St, 110 and 112, demand, 6 per cent.....1,500

CORN, Henry, to Equitable Life Assurance Society, Broadway, 546 and 548, extends to Crosby St, Due Jan. 1, 1903.....350,000

CORN, Henry, to Bank for Savings; 5th Av, 140, s w corner of 10th St, 3 years, 4 per cent.....250,000

COSTELLO, Mary A., and Thomas F., to Angelina Champlin; transverse road at East 200th St, n s, new line, 75 ft w of Valentine Av, 3 years.....

COSTELLO, Mary A., and Thomas F., to Elihu Thomson; transverse road at East 200th St, new line, 50 ft w of Valentine Av, 3 years.....5,500

EAGER, Arthur W., to United States Life Insurance Company; 45th St, 59 and 61 West, due May 27, 1902.....175,000

FOLSOM, John G., to Bowery Savings Bank; 123d St, n s, 283.4 ft e of 3d Av, 1 year, 4 per cent.....4,500

FRANKENTHALER, Louis, to East River Savings Institution; 61st St, 326 East, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....12,000

FRIEDHOFF, John P. and Henry C. Meyer to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 1st Av, s e corner of 5th St, 3 years, 4 per cent.....15,750

GAROFALO, Frank, and Concetta Marrone; 1st Av, w s, 100.11 ft n of 109th St, installments, 6 per cent.....650

GEIS, William V., and others to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 2d Av, 457, three-fourths part, 3 years.....7,000

HANSEN, Niels, to Edward and Henry Hirsh; Amsterdam Av, e s, 25 ft n of 146th St, demand, 6 per cent.....10,000

HANSEN, Niels, to Knickerbocker Trust Company; Amsterdam Av, e s, 25 ft n of 146th St, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....26,000

HASSLER, George, and Solomon Brill to Henrietta Hermann; Ludlow St, 75, 5 years.....20,000

HASSLER, George, and Solomon Brill to John A. Hassler; Ludlow St, 75, 5 years, 6 per cent.....7,000

JACKSON, Isidore, to Thomas S. Ollive, committee, &c.; 20th St., 333, 1 year...5,500

JOHNSEN, Kate, to Gustav Barna; 49th St, 354 West, 2 years.....2,000

KESSLER, George A., to the National Savings Bank of Albany; 70th St, 259 West, 3 years, 4 per cent.....12,000

LANG, Henry, and others to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Washington Av, s e corner of 10th St, or Bathgate Place, demand.....20,000

LEITNER, Jacob, to John Rumore; Crotona Av, w s, 225 ft s of Tremont Av; due December, 1900.....1,000

LYNCH, Bernard F., to Bowery Savings Bank; Tremont Av, s s, 166.2 ft e of Webster Av, 3 years, 4 per cent.....10,000

MALINTZKI, Maly, to Ellen J. Nevins; Jackson Av, w s, 331.1 ft n of 163d St, demand, 6 per cent.....2,000

McGRATH, Thomas, to George Ehret; Morris Av, 540, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent.....2,000

McKEON, Johanna, to Emma C. Orr; 33d St, n s, 161 ft w of 8th Av, due May 1, 1901, 6 per cent.....2,000

McKEON, Johanna, to Emma C. Orr; 8th Av, w s, 74 ft s of 32d St, due May 1, 1901, 6 per cent.....3,000

MOORE, Annie, to New York Savings Bank; 89th St, s s, 232 ft w of Av A, 1 year, 4 per cent.....8,500

MULLER, Lioba, to John and Mathias Haffen; Central Av, e s, 150 ft s w from n line land of Elizabeth Nell, &c., runs s e 300 ft to w s of old Woodlawn Road, 1 year.....

MURRAY, Blanche A., to Annie McGrath; 2d Av, west ½, Lot 693, Map Wakefield, 1 year, 6 per cent.....140

NEW YORK CITY CHURCH EXTENsion and Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church to Franklin Savings Bank; King's Bridge Av, s w corner of Terrace View Av, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....15,000

OGDEN, Samuel B., and wife to Eliza J. Fountain and another, executors, &c.; 145th St, widened, n e corner of Brook Av, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....29,000

OGDEN, Samuel B., and wife to Eliza J. Fountain and another, executors, &c.; 145th St, widened, s s, 50 ft e of Brook Av, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....12,000

OGDEN, Samuel B., and wife to Eliza J. Fountain and another, executors, &c.; 145th St, widened, s s, 75 ft e of Brook Av, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....12,000

OLCOTT, Susan B., to Broadway Savings Institution; 8th Av, 2,303, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....7,000

O'LEARY, John, to Ferdinand Hecht and another; Union Av, w s, 146.10 ft n of 165th St, ½ year, 6 per cent.....891

O'NEILL, Daniel, to Ellen F. Carragher, guardian, &c.; Hudson St, 459 to 461, 3 years, 4 per cent.....8,000

O'NEILL, Ellen, to New York Savings Bank; 54th St, n s, 175 ft e of 10th Av, 3 years, 4½ per cent.....6,000

PETERSEN, Karen, to Ann Moore; 109th St, 1,076 East, and 1,075 Home St, due Jan. 1, 1904, 6 per cent.....5,000

PFISTER, George, to Samson Lachman and another; 20th St, s s, 120 ft w of 1st Av, 1 year.....

POLALSCHEK, Leopold, and Eva Powell to Isaac Meinhard and others, executors, &c.; Amsterdam Av, 822, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....23,000

POLALSCHEK, Leopold, and Eva Powell to Isaac Meinhard and others, executors, &c.; Amsterdam Av, 824, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....25,000

ROHMELING, Frederick, to George Ehret; 9th St, 109 and 109½ East, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent.....2,000

STOLZ, George, to Harlem Savings Bank; Prospect Av, s e s, 293.6 ft n e of Home St, 1 year.....7,000

WEINSTEIN, Louis, to Joseph Oshinsky; Monroe St, 172, 7 years, 6 per cent.....4,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

BELL, Maty H., to Minnie L. Simon....$1,250

DAY, Milton P., administrator, to Ira O. Miller.....5,000

DE GROVE, E. Ritzema, trustee, to Kate Lloyd.....Omitted

DOWLING, Robert E., to New York Security and Trust Company.....61,959

FARLEY, Thomas, to Albert Schafran....1,000

FOUNTAIN, Eliza J., to Gideon Fountain.....Nom.

GOODMAN, Urry and Max, to Bertha C. Goldstein.....8,000

HARRISON, John P., administrator, to Cleveland S. Stilwell.....2,500

KEENE, ——, as chamberlain, &c., to Daniel L. and Mary B. Bradley.....Nom.

LAWYERS' MORTGAGE INSURANCE Company to Nannie S. Vanderpoel.....3,500

LAWYERS' MORTGAGE INSURANCE Company; Irving Grinnell and another, trustees, &c.....26,500

MARRONE, Concetta, to Henri Strasbourger.....600

RUMORE, John, to Anna Fontine.....Nom.

SELIG, Charlotte, to Charles Thomson...3,000

TATUM, Mary T., administratrix, to Joshua L. Barton.....12,000

WEIL, Jonas, and Bernhard Mayer to Samuel Weil.....2,000

WHELAN, Thomas A., executor, &c., to Francis X. Brady.....2,000

WILLENSKY, Nathan, to Urry and Max Goodman.....Nom.

Mechanics' Liens.

BEACH AV, n w corner of Dawson St, 125x100; Edward F. Walter against Vito Marcantonio, owner and contractor.....$725

BRISTOW ST, n e corner of Jennings St, 120x100; T. Watson Ringrose against Max Barnett, owner and contractor.....83

BROADWAY, n w corner of 98th St, 100.11x100; Mitchell & Perry against Emilas Vigna, owner; J. B. Davidson & Co., contractors.....465

CAULDWELL AV, 501; Steinebach & Co. against Amelia Ebling, owner; William H. Ebling, Jr., contractor.....775

CAULDWELL AV, w s, 197 ft n of 158th St, 75x100; George W. Martin & Co. against William Ebling, Jr., owner and contractor.....1,260

FRANKLIN AV, s e corner of 167th St, 31.7x100; John W. Rapp against James T. Barry, owner; J. H. Dudley, contractor.....117

LAFAYETTE PLACE, 21; Ferrazo & Martin against Anna Howard, owner; Matheslus & Carl, contractors.....11,165

LAFAYETTE PLACE, 23; Felix Ferrago against Anna Howard, owner; Matheslus & Carl, contractors.....560

MADISON AV, n e corner of 92d St, 100.8x62; Charles P. Simmons and another against William H. Ebling, Jr., owner and contractor.....650

MADISON AV, n e corner of 92d St, 100.8x62; Steinbach & Co. against William H. Ebling, Jr., owner and contractor.....3,600

MADISON AV, n e corner of 92d St, 100.8 x62; James McLean against William H. Ebling, Jr., owner and contractor.....1,242

MADISON AV, n e corner of 92d St, 100.8 x62; Duparquet, Huot & Moneuse Company against William H. Ebling, Jr., owner and contractor.....2,097

MORRIS AV, 647; Mackenzie Brothers against Salvatore Spallone, owner; Henry Jaeger, contractor.....856

RUTGERS PLACE, 11; Thomas-Roberts-Stevenson Company against Nathan Armschefsky, owner and contractor....61

RYER AV, 2,630; George W. Fouder against M. E. Morgan, owner; Thomas Morgan, contractor.....9

SUMMIT AV, w s, 141 ft n of 165th St, 40x75; Antonio Guarino against Weinstick & Purdy, owners; George Schmitt, contractor.....237

TRINITY AV, n w corner of 165th St, 75x95; John W. Rapp against Walter McLaughlin, owner; J. H. Dudley, contractor.....81

TRINITY AV, n w corner of 165th St, 75x100; Kleinfeld & Katz against Sarah McLaughlin, owner; Walter L. McLaughlin, owner and contractor.....675

TRINITY AV, n w corner of 165th St, 75x100; Consolidated Gas Fixture Works against Sarah McLaughlin, owner; Walter L. McLaughlin, owner and contractor.....330

3D AV, w s, 200 ft s of 174th St, 50x 130; Thomas Mackey against John J. Steinman, owner and contractor; Julius Miller, contractor.....600

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Andrea Adamo against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....32

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Vito Adamo against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....32

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Giovanni Tomaselli against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....73

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Vincenzo Tomaselli against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....41

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Giuseppe Adamo against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....115

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Filippo Salemi against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....36

8TH AV, n e corner of 152d St, 50x100; Salvatore Pendola against John Farrell, owner; the Pisciotta Company and Mark E. Stevens, contractors.....21

112TH ST, 24 to 30 West; Arthur E. Williamson against Morris J. Bernstein and Jacob Rclas, owners and contractors.....1,300

124TH ST, 418 and 420 West; Mackenzie Brothers against Salvatore Spallone, owner; Henry Jaeger, contractor.....1,428

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACTS UNDER CHAPTER 778, LAWS OF 1900.

MACDOUGALL ST, 106; Title Guarantee and Trust Company, with James A. Lowe, 2 payments.....$18,000

4TH ST, 374 to 380 East; the State Bank, with Pincus Lowenfeid and William Prager, 7 payments.....35,000

94TH ST, s s, 208 ft w of West End Av, 62x100.8; the Metropolitan Improvement Company, with Rachel Axelrod, 22 payments.....55,000

94TH ST, s s, 176 ft w of West End Av, 62x100.11; the Metropolitan Improvement Company, with Rachel Axelrod, 22 payments.....55,000

94TH ST, s s, 110 ft w of West End Av, 66x100.8; the Metropolitan Improvement Company, with Rachel Axelrod, 22 payments.....60,000

110TH ST, n s, 143.8 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 75.11x100; Thomas S. Walker, with John Bannen, 20 payments.....80,000

Lis Pendens.

BATHGATE AV, s w corner of 179th St, 75x 100; the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company against James Gentry and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Olin & Rives.

ST. NICHOLAS AV, w s, 59.3 ft s of 120th St, 29.6x82.11x25.3x67.6; Austin B. Fletcher and another, trustees, &c., against Joseph Maio and another, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. B. Fletcher.

4TH ST, s e s, 140 ft n e of Union Av, 20x100, Bronx; Christine E. Corrigan against Annie Campion and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Fitzgerald & Stokes.

17TH ST, 39 West; Joseph W. Sanford, Jr., and others, against Charles A. Morford, individually and as executor, &c., and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. H. Stockwell.

28TH ST, n e s, Lot 346, map of estate of Cornelius Ray and map of land of heirs of Thomas B. Clarke, 20th Ward, 25x98.9, leasehold; Charles Barth against Andrew Kreig and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, M. Altmayer.

32D ST, 423 West; Grace E. Glaze against Charles R. Burke and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Kneeland, La Fetra & Glaze.

122D ST, 61 East; Edward L. Clarkson, administrator, &c., against Chessie E. Zelier and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. M. Clute.

128TH ST, 19 West; John O'Connell against Elijah Humphreys and others, as committee, &c., (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorney, H. C. Quinby.

143D ST, s s, 418.9 ft e of 11th Av or Boulevard, 56.3x99.11, 3 actions; Henry R. Beekman, trustee, &c., against Hannah M. Halpin and others, (foreclosure of three mortgages;) attorneys, Philbin, Beekman & Menken.

Surrogate Notices.

OTTIWELL, JOHN D.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOHN D. OTTIWELL, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of John F. Lambiks, No. 7 Beekman Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the fifth day of February, 1901, next. Dated New York, the 24th day of July, 1900. CHARLES S. HENSCHEL, HERBERT A. SHIPMAN, Executors. JOHN F. LAMBIAS, Attorney for Executors, 7 Beekman Street, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City. jy24-law6mTu

Auction Sales.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

JAMES P. SILO, Auctioneer.

SILO ART GALLERIES,

43 Liberty St.

GREAT TRUSTEES' SALE at auction of

Diamonds and other Mounted Gems,

Gold Watches and Novelties of the Jeweler's Art,

Including Diamond, Ruby, Sapphire, and Pearl Brooches, Ladies' and Gents' Gold Rings, Scarf Pins, Bracelets, Ear Drops, Chains, Lockets, Studs, Sleeve Links, Scarf Holders, Cigar Cutters, Charms, &c., &c., Together with the Handsome Showcases, in good order.

By order of GEORGE I. WOOLEY, ESQ., Attorney for the Trustees, Lord's Court Building, 27 William St.

Also,

To close a private estate, and by order of Olney & Comstock, attys. for the mortgagees, Two Patent Phillipé Repeating Watches, one pair Diamond Solitaire Earrings, one fine Stone Diamond and Ruby Ring, Marcus & Co.; one Diamond Watch and Pearl Scarf Pin, by Tiffany &

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

McVICKAR & COMPANY, Auctrs'

Will sell at auction, at the Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, at 12 o'clock noon,

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18TH, 1900.

Absolute, without reserve,

451 Lenox Avenue,

between 132d and 133d Streets.

8-story and basement high-stoop brownstone dwelling, containing 10 rooms and bath; lot, 16.8x74. Title guaranteed by Lawyers' Title Guarantee Co. Photographs and further particulars at offices of auctioneers, 24 Nassau St., 111 West 125th St., 1,368 Broadway, 246 East Houston.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

A.—ASKING $12,000; ANY TERMS; THREE-story, 18 foot brownstone dwelling; vicinity Madison Av.; 127th St.; fine condition; private block; sacrifice to quick buyer. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th St.

BEST CORNER PLOT IN THE BRONX TO bold or improve at once; streets sewered, paved, &c., and paid for; location fine; size 200x115; price $55,000. V. T. HERVEY, 759 Melrose Av.

LOTS $150 TO $400.

Not New Jersey or Brooklyn, but mainland of New York; 40 minutes from 42d St., 6th Av. "L"; high ground; no mosquitoes or malaria; healthiest locality; $5 monthly. BANNAN, 1,123 Broadway.

TO CLOSE AN ESTATE.—14x55x92.6; three-story brownstone high-stoop, west side, above 59th St.; bank mortgage, $7,500, at 5 per cent.; little cash required. J. F. McKEON, 370 Washington St.

27 WEST 58TH ST.—Four-story 20-feet-brownstone, box stoop, foyer hall; perfect condition; finest location. Apply to owner, Room 9, 243 Broadway.

INVESTORS'—TWO NEW APARTMENT houses, elegantly located, all leased; will pay 12 per cent. net; plots on and near Broadway. THEO. ROGERS BRILL, 351 West 59th St.

THREE-STORY MODERN DWELLING; 11 rooms, two baths; will sacrifice; $3,000 cash; terms to suit; perfect order. M. J. NEWMAN, 147 East 125th St.

LOTS NEAR BRONX AND PELHAM PARK, fronting Eastern Boulevard and Pelham Road. Coming speculative section. Bargains. S. CONE, owner, 115 Broadway, Room 48.

BARGAIN.—West 127th St. private house, $18,000; sacrificed for $16,500 this week only. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

FOR SALE—21 Av. investment, between 21st and 22d Sts.; size, 20x100. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

FOUR-STORY ENGLISH BASEMENT HOUSE in West 22d St.; only $1,000 cash; bargain. ATWATER, 156 Broadway.

ATTENTION!—Butchers, grocers; 8th Av. flat, near 126th St.; possession of store March 1. CRANE, 187 Broadway.

411 WEST 21ST ST.—Large, deep four-story brownstone, handsomely decorated; cheap. W. OILHOOLY, 5 Beekman St.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

QUEENSBOROUGH IS THE MOST VALUABle from an investment point, and the cheapest in price of any of the Boroughs of New York City. We have the best and cheapest. A single lot or one hundred acres. WHEELER BROTHERS, 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

WHEELER BROTHERS.

Investments Queensborough,
16 COURT STREET, BROOKLYN.

ONE LEFT—2 FAMILY HOUSE, 2-STORY AND basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price $4,000; cash $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

SNAP—800 Monroe St., near Gates Av. L Station; 2-story basement brick dwelling; 10 rooms, bath; $2,000, mortgage $2,500. KETCHAM BROS., 1,565 Broadway.

$1,800 CASH WILL BUY FINE THREE-FAMily house, all improvements; 20 feet front, near Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn. Address D., 79 New York Av., Brooklyn.

EQUITIES IN SEVERAL PIECES GOOD INrome property in all sections of Brooklyn for lots or unincumbered private house. FORMAN & WHITLOCK, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

WANTED—LOTS FOR PRIVATE DWELLINGS in exchange for good store property. Send particulars or call afternoons. MOE & CO., Third Avenue, 58th Street, Brooklyn.

WE HAVE PROPERTY IN ALL SECTIONS TO rent, for sale, exchange; also money to loan. L. H. PFEIFFER & BROTHER, 81 Flatbush Av., Brooklyn.

$2,250, ONLY $100 DOWN, DETACHED HOUSE, 7 rooms; all improvements; stable. STOUTHOFF, Eastern Parkway, near Montauk Av.

NEW 7-ROOMED HOUSES; IMPROVEMENTS; furnace, sewer; easy terms; $2,300. BEARDALL, 11 Willoughby St.

STUYVESANT SECTION. — 2-story basement stone, same as new house, $5,500. PINCKNEY, 342 Sumner Av., Brooklyn.

Long Island Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

FOR SALE—ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL properties on North Shore of Long Island, 55 acres, 1,800 ft. of fine shore front; good bathing and safe anchorage. No nuisances near. Large springs of fresh water. Many fine old trees. Forty-five minutes from house to 34th St. Ferry. Suitable for both Summer and Winter home. Can be divided into two or more parts. Prices $2,000 to $3,000 per acre. Address F. W. WRIGHT, Manhasset, L. I.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ALL COUNTRY REAL ESTATE A SPECIALty; bargains and exchange all directions. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BRONXVILLE, HARLEM RAILROAD, 28 minutes from 42d; lots near station $100 upward; city improvements; no assessments; title insured; easy payments. OFFENBACH, 97 East 116th.

PORT CHESTER, NEAR STATION AND Sound; 1½ acres; 12 rooms, all improvements; $17,500. PERRY, 309 Broadway.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ICE HOUSE, 80x200; LAKE, 40 ACRES; RAILroad siding; farm, 190 acres; $12,000. CONDICT, 40 Wall St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 BROADWAY, HAS many parcels, large and small, of the finest city and country Properties for sale and exchange. Flats, Tenements, Business Property, Lots, private Dwellings, all sizes and all sections; suburban Houses and Farms; cash buyers for bargains; bargains for cash buyers; money on mortgage at lowest rates. Call or write.

DESIRABLE EXCHANGES. — Mount Morris Dwelling; Orange Residence; Brooklyn Dwelling; Income-Paying Tenements; Beekman Hill Dwelling, Elizabeth Residence, Washington Heights Dwelling; Others. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

HAVE GOOD-PAYING HOUSE IN BROOKLYN, price $7,500, bank mortgage $1,800, 5 per cent. interest; will exchange for a farm in Nassau County, or suburban lots. For further information call TREAT, 202 East 23d St., New York.

SELL OR TRADE FOR WESTCHESTER property, 285x75, 5th Ward, Manhattan; mortgaged $20,500 at 4½ per cent.; 5 years to run; rented for $1,500 for 3 years. J., Box 102 Times Office.

LEBANON, NEW JERSEY.—Nine acres, house, barn, $2,000; mortgage, $600; make offer. K., 583 Lafayette Av., Brooklyn.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANTING BETTER earnings or an advantageous exchange call on MURRY, 309 Broadway, Room 101.

SEVERAL WEST SIDE DWELLINGS FOR free and clear country or city equities. FINN, 115 Broadway.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display

ACCESSIBLE SUBURBAN LOTS WANTED—For improvement; Manhattan income property offered in exchange. GEORGE B. DOWLING, 189 Broadway.

WANTED—Upper Broadway property, improved or unimproved; within $500,000; diagram necessary. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

SMALL MORTGAGE WANTED FOR A SHORT time on a large tract of good paying land near city. PETER JAEGER, 69 West 106th St.

Storage.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT MORGAN & BROTHER'S
STORAGE WAREHOUSE,
232, 234, & 236 WEST 47TH ST.,
near Broadway, separate rooms for furniture, pianos, baggage, &c. PADDED VANS FOR REMOVAL OF FURNITURE, &c. Boxing, shipping promptly attended to; estimates furnished. Telephone, 113-38th.

UNIVERSAL STORAGE WAREHOUSE COMpany, 202-208 East 88th St., near 3d Av.—Storage of furniture, pianos, &c.; separate compartments; estimates given for packing, shipping, moving, city or country. Telephone, 28-79th.

Lawyers.

DIVORCE $50 entire expense. Lawyer GEO. ROBINSON, 99 Nassau St.

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

McVICKAR & COMPANY, Auctrs'

Will sell at auction, at the Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, at 12 o'clock noon,

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18TH, 1900.

Absolute, without reserve,

451 Lenox Avenue,

between 132d and 133d Streets.

8-story and basement high-stoop brownstone dwelling, containing 10 rooms and bath; lot, 16.8x74. Title guaranteed by Lawyers' Title Guarantee Co. Photographs and further particulars at offices of auctioneers, 24 Nassau St., 111 West 125th St., 1,368 Broadway, 246 East Houston.

Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

GRANTWOOD

ON-THE-HUDSON.

OPPOSITE GRANT'S TOMB.

Nature and man have done their best for you at Grantwood. In the finest region about New York, directly on the Hudson, and only 20 minutes via 14th and 42d St. Ferries and Hudson Traction Co's R. R. 15 minutes from 125th St. Ferry and Trolley. With perfect water works and sewer system, electric lights, macadam streets and all modern conveniences, this is the place that will appeal to your fancy and to your best judgment when you see it. Only a small initial payment required and covering principal and interest; we will build for you house like above, or we will build for you in any style on similar terms. Size of plot, 50x100. House has nine rooms and bath, with butler's dirty extension; large full-width porch, finished in oak, cypress, or whitewood; polished oak staircases, nickel open plumbing, porcelain bathtub, handsome mantels, laundry tubs, furnace, &c.

$40 a Month

Write or call for photographic views and maps of picturesque Grantwood and full particulars.

Free Tickets to visit the property.

Columbia Invest. & Real Estate Co.
1,135 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Telephone 1087 Madison Sq.

LOTS; BRONX BARGAINS; TREMONT, Westchester, Aqueduct Avenues, Fordham Road, three Woodlawn corners, others. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DWELLINGS
$75 a Month and upwards.

136th & 139th Sts., 7th & 8th Aves.

Several desirable, well-appointed dwellings, containing from 10 to 14 rooms and baths; handsomely decorated. These homes are now open for inspection.

ERASTUS HAMILTON,
252 West 138th St. Telephone 647 Harlem.

54TH ST., 138 WEST.—Four stories and extension; two bathrooms; open plumbing; prime condition; rent, $1,500; caretaker; examine. FINN, 115 Broadway.

City Houses to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED HOUSE TO rent for Winter season; $300 monthly. W. D. STARR, 313 West 75th St.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

FACTORY, POWER, RAILROAD SWITCH, Sprinklers, cheap labor, low freights. W. LAWTON, Kingston, N. Y.

ALL THE UPPER PART OF 290 PEARL ST., 4½ lofts, to let; in good order; electric elevator. RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

CTH AV., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

16TH ST., 423 WEST.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

10TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

DESK ROOM TO LET.—Inquire Room 915, Hartford Building, 41 Union Square. J. L. Manney.

Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, 368 HICKS ST.—Large store, with dwelling rooms; will decorate to suit; $16.

Hotels.

HOTEL EMPIRE

BROADWAY AND 63d ST., N. Y. CITY.

. . ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF . .

MODERATE RATES

THERE IS NO CROWD OR JAM. THE LOUNGER AND CURIOUS ARE ABSENT AND AN ATMOSPHERE OF REFINED CONGENIALITY PERVADES THE WHOLE ESTABLISHMENT. Within ten minutes of amusement and shopping centres. All cars pass the Empire.

W. JOHNSON QUINN, Proprietor.

BARRETT HOUSE.

European Plan. 6th Av. & 38th St.
MINUTE FROM BROADWAY.

A select hotel for permanent and transient guests, convenient to leading theatres and shopping district, "L" station, and all car lines; rooms newly furnished and decorated; single or en suite, with or without private bath; steam heat, electric light, elevator.

W. P. BARRETT, Proprietor.

Winter Resorts.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

HEALTH, STRENGTH AND PLEASURE

In America's Great Winter Resorts

IN CALIFORNIA.

Take the luxurious

"SUNSET LIMITED"

which comprises everything that is up to date and modern in the railroad world, and is the only solid train between the Mississippi River and San Francisco remote from the inconveniences of high altitudes and snow.

Special through trains consisting of sleeping and dining cars leave New York every Monday, Thursday, and Saturday, connecting directly with the "Sunset Limited" at New Orleans.

For full information, free illustrated pamphlets, maps, and time tables, also lowest rates, sleeping-car tickets, and baggage checked, apply to Southern Pacific Co., 349 Broadway, N. Y. City.

THE LAKEWOOD,

LAKEWOOD, N. J.

"A PERFECTLY APPOINTED HOTEL."

CUISINE UNEQUALLED.
ENVIRONMENT SUPERB.

The Lakewood golf links are famous throughout the land.

White for booklet and diagram of rooms.

JAMES N. BERRY, MANAGER.

THE LAUREL-IN-THE-PINES.

LAKEWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

Improved in all essentials since last season, with new Palm Room and other attractive features.

DAVID B. PLUMER, Manager.
HORACE PORTER, Associate Manager.

HAMILTON HOTEL, BERMUDA

OPEN DECEMBER TO MAY

Situated on high elevation in the centre of the City of Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda. Send for booklet. A. C. BROOKS, Manager, Hamilton, Bermuda.

Lost and Found.

LOST.—STOCK CERTIFICATE, Southern R. R. Preferred; payment stopped; reward. FRANK M. SHARPE, 100 Hanson Place, Brooklyn.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE IOWA,
135 West 104th St.

JUST COMPLETED.

ELECTRIC ELEVATOR & HALL SERVICE. THE FINEST 6 & 7 ROOM APARTMENTS. With all up-to-date, modern improvements; every room large, light, and beautifully decorated; large, handsome entrance hall and reception room, richly and tastefully furnished, about 300 feet from 104th St. station; express trains, Broadway and Amsterdam Av. electric cars. For further particulars apply on premises.

PAUL B. PUGH & CO., Builders and Owners.
STABLER & SMITH, AGENTS
674 COLUMBUS AVE., 93D ST.
TELEPHONE 79 RIVERSIDE.

126 East 34th St.

Eight rooms and bath, butler's pantry, servants' toilet; handsomely decorated; elevator, electric light, hall service and every modern convenience.

Superintendent on Premises.

ELEGANT APARTMENTS, (new,) 404 and 406 Gold St., between Hamilton and Willoughby; right in the dry goods section; 3 rooms and tiled bath; steam heated; hot water supplied; refrigerator; every room has outside window; resident janitor; private block; they just meet the demand for this section; rent $23 to $26. C. H. DENISON.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 BROADWAY.

MARQUERITE,
2,731 Broadway, near 104th St.
Six rooms and bathroom.....$40
Elevator—Hot water—Open plumbing.
Steam heat, gas and electric lighting, &c.
J. Edgar Leaycraft & Co., B'way, cor. 44th St.

$38.—HALL ATTENDANCE; STEAM HEAT; hot water supply; tiled bathroom, exposed plumbing, porcelain tubs and sinks; eight rooms and bath. Janitor, 230 West 122d St., or J. EDGAR LEAYCRAF & CO., B'way, cor. 44th St.

254 MADISON AV., NEAR 38TH ST.—$60 for splendid second floor suite of two rooms and bathroom; caterer on premises. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., Broadway and 44th.

BETWEEN 6TH AV. AND BROADWAY, ON West 46th St.—Single flat, seven rooms and bathroom; $50. See janitor, 165 West 46th St., or J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

ELEGANT APARTMENT DOWN-TOWN.—8 rooms and bathroom; all improvements; $38. 41 3d Av., near 10th St.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SINGLE FLATS AT 58 EAST 06TH ST., NEAR Madison Av., $38. SCHNUGG, 78 East 90th St. 4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 92d St.

21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-21, at 2 East 119th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $25.

50TH ST., 154 EAST.—Handsome flat, 6 large light rooms and bath, steam-heated, $30; newly painted.

122 WEST 135TH ST.—$21 and $24; all light; steam heat; hot water supply; six rooms and bathroom. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th St.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $30; handsomely decorated.

114TH ST., 305 WEST.—5 rooms; bath; hot water; all improvements; newly decorated. JANITOR.

10TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartment; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV. —3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

58TH ST., 368 WEST.—Steam-heated apartment, 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; $40.

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HICKS ST., 368.—Desirable apartments of two rooms; prices, $7.

Instruction.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

MISS LE BARON DRUMM'S BOARDING AND Day School for Girls; college preparation; boys in kindergarten and primary classes; reopened Oct. 4th. 40 West 72d St.

FRENCH LESSONS; EXPERIENCED PARISian teacher; references from schools and prominent families. PROFESSOR, 280 St. Nicholas Av.

SHORTHAND TAUGHT BY MAIL, $5 PER month. F. NELSON, Prin., 194 22d St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WINTER TERM

THE WINTER TERM OF THE

Clavier Company Piano School

BEGINS THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1901.

ENROLLMENT AND EXAMINATION DAY JANUARY 2.

EVENING CLASSES IF DESIRED.

THE ONLY WAY PUPILS CAN GET THE FULL BENEFITS OF THE SUPERIOR ADVANTAGES AND LOW TUITION RATES WHICH THIS SCHOOL OFFERS IN TECHNICAL AND MUSICAL TRAINING IS TO ENROLL AT THE PROPER TIME AND ENTER CLASSES AT THE BEGINNING OF A TERM. FURTHER INFORMATION GIVEN ON APPLICATION IN PERSON OR BY LETTER.

THE CLAVIER COMPANY SCHOOL,
26 WEST 15TH ST., NEW YORK.

MRS. CAROLIN'S
MUSICAL BUREAU,
ARTISTS FOR SOCIAL FUNCTIONS.
2 WEST 23D ST.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS FOR THE HOLIdays for sale at low prices; especially old violins, 'cellos, basses, bows, and fine strings. PFEIFFER'S, 220 East 86th St.

NEW RECORDS for Phonographs and graphophone. Large stock just received from factory. Barkelew & Kent, 26 West Broadwny, near Barclay St. Send for catalogue.

PIANO.—Experienced teacher, graduate Berlin Conservatory, desires pupils; best references. Address Miss A., 1,360 3d Av.

MRS. EDWIN DUSTIN RUGGLES, ACCOMpanist for concerts and musicales. Apply to MME. CAROLINE, 2 West 33d St.

VIOLIN PLAYING ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT pupil's residence or J. CHADOVITZ, Dumont Av., corner Osborn St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MISS EDITH ROBERTS, VIOLINIST, PUPIL of Shradiack. Address Box 1, 132 E. 23d St., for concerts and musicales.

VIOLIN, MANDOLIN, BANJO, GUITAR, ELOcution. P. C. U., F. S. C. cordially invited. 231 East 110th St.

REMINGTON SQUIRE, MANAGER FOR LEADing musical artists, 125 East 24th St.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH,
NOS. 12 AND 14 EAST 49TH STREET.
Classes and private lessons.
SEASON NOW OPEN.

MACDONALD'S KNICKERBOCKER SCHOOL for Dancing, 44 East 14th St., Near Broadway. —Private and class lessons daily; send for circular; receptions every Wednesday and Saturday.

PROF. D. C. LESTER.—Dancing and polite deportment. Colonial Hall, 101st St. and Columbus Av. Offices hours, 2 to 10 P. M.

PROFESSOR PAUL'S SCHOOL FOR DANCING, 111 East 125th Street.—Open afternoons, evenings; also Sundays; terms, $1.00 monthly.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av. WALTZ
135-137 West 125th St.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDed into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 39th St.

B. SILBERSTEIN, PRACTICAL FURRIER — Seal garmente to order; latest styles; furs remodeled. 22 East 125th Street.

AD. WOLFF, 31 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments a specialty; altered and repaired; lowest rates.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Patents.

THOMAS DREW STETSON, 23 MURRAY ST., patent solicitor and expert; established 1865. Telephone, 2138 Cortlandt.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Fee Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT

If you think that if you can afford to dress yourself as well as your neighbor with his bank account you have a right to make as good an appearance as you can;

If you think your wife has the right to dress herself well in spite of the fact that you are only an honest working man;

If you think that keeping your children well dressed will help cultivate a taste in them for better associates and will tend to tear down the false bars between the plebeian and aristocrat;

If you think a well-furnished home and the responsibility of having honest debts to pay will improve your own moral tone and keep you away from the saloons and evil associations—

In short, if you think you have as much right to live for your money as well as anybody else and that you are a free man and the best arbiter of your own destiny, then connect yourself with who believe that an honest man is entitled to credit and who are perfectly willing to trust you.

THE AARONSON CREDIT CENTRE,

Remember this is a CREDIT CENTRE, where anybody and everybody can get anything and everything on credit.

MEN'S AND BOYS' SUITS, ready made or to order: Top Coats, Reefers, Hats, Shoes.

LADIES' AND MISSES' Tailor-made Suits, Underwear, Dry Goods, Millinery, Capes, Cloaks, Furs, Watches.

DIAMONDS, ALL KINDS JEWELRY, FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC.

AARONSON CREDIT CENTRE

62 BOWERY AND 157 CANAL ST., ONE FLIGHT UP.

Open from 8:30 A. M. to 8:30 P. M. Open Saturdays from 4:30 afternoon to 11 at night. Also Sunday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

MONSTER BOOK SALE.

100,000 HOLIDAY BOOKS
AT YOUR OWN PRICES.

Everybody in New York for fifty miles around knows Lovering. His store is headquarters for book-lovers and book-buyers. Books to suit all tastes and all pocketbooks. Historical books, biographical, religious, scientific, books of travel, books of fiction, books for children, poetry, etc. Anything you want, and positively at the lowest prices. Encyclopaedias on sale for a song—Appleton's, Chambers', Britannica, and People's. Books and libraries purchased. Chambers' Encyclopaedia, 15 vols., $2.50.

LOVERING, 823 BROADWAY, Near 12th St.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY AFFORDED those who contemplate the purchase of furniture, bric-a-brac, works of art, &c.—Entire contents of a richly furnished private residence sacrificed regardless of cost or value; Gold Suit, Cabinets, Paintings, silk covered Chairs, Couches, Leather Chairs, magnificent upright mahogany Piano, $185, standard make and sold for $475 regular; richly carved oak Dining Room Set, complete, with tapestry covered Chairs, originally cost $900, sell $400; Cut Glass, superb Draperies and Lace Curtains, Brass Beds, Mahogany Bureaus, Chiffoniers, Desks, &c.; in fact, everything that is essential for completely furnished home; sold separately; no reasonable offer refused; must be sold at once. Monday and Tuesday, 128 West 73d St.

CREDIT

Ladies' and Gents' Clothing

Without Security on Easy Payments.

LENOX CLOTHING CO.

2,2d 3D AVE., Near 125th St.
CONFIDENTIAL. ONE FLIGHT UP.

THE LATEST.—Indestructible Records, 50c each; Talking Machines and Supplies, cut rates; Graphophone Grand, $40.00; A. T., $15.00; Eagle, $4.00; Concert Grand Records, 75c; Good Toy Machines, $1.00; Edison or Columbia Records, $3.50 doz. J. McILLYNNE, 202 B'way, Room 4.

A.—ON WEEKLY PAYMENTS.—Fine diamonds, watches; no trash; delivered on first payment; lowest prices; business confidential. Call or address WATCH SUPPLY CO., 3 Maiden Lane, Room 52. All goods guaranteed.

R. V. HURD, LATE WITH WILLIAM MOIR, saves you money on diamonds, watches, and all repairing; old gold, jewelry, gems bought, exchanged or remodeled. 126 West 23d St., bet. 6th and 7th Avs.

THE "EXPRESS DUPLICATOR," MAKING 150 clear and distinct copies from one original; the best multicopier extant. BENSINGER DUPLICATOR CO., 123 and 125 Liberty St., New York.

WATCHES AND DIAMONDS ON SMALL weekly or monthly payments; lowest prices; goods guaranteed; holiday goods a specialty. NATIONAL DIAMOND AND WATCH CO., 177 Broadway.

ANTIQUE HALL CLOCKS, MARBLE COLUMN Empire Clocks, China Closets, High-Back Chairs, Clawfoot Sofas, Ball Clawfoot Desks, Dressers, etc. MULLER, 455 East 52d St.

TYPEWRITERS SOLD AND RENTED; EXpert repairing done. GENERAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

SEWING MACHINES RENTED BY WEEK OR month; $2 monthly; Domestic, Singer, New Home, Wilcox & Gibbs Automatic; all kinds repaired. NICHOLES, 276 8th Av., 24th St.

HARDMAN UPRIGHT PIANO, THREE PEDals; folding bed, mattress, chiffonier; all in curly birch; also pool table. Apply to owner, Room 9, 245 Broadway.

CREDIT WATCHES, $1 WEEKLY; DIAMONDS, silver novelties; lowest prices; strictly confidential; open evenings. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane; take elevator.

PHONOGRAPH SALE—Edison Gem Phonographs, $7.50; one to a customer while stock lasts. Barkelew & Kent, 26 West Broadway. Largest stock of records in the city.

MISFIT CARPETS HALF PRICE.
BRING SIZE OF YOUR ROOM.
JAMES R. KEANE & CO.,
1,351-1,355 Third Av., between 77th and 78th Sts.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW.) $40; REMODELED Remingtons, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

NAVAJO INDIAN RUGS, BLANKETS, CURIOS, burnt leather pictures, novelties. Wholesale prices. Capt. RIGGS, 41 University Place.

FOR SALE, CHEAP, SQUARE PIANO; HOTEL range; would exchange for cash register. RICCADONNA, 31 West 27th St.

WALTHAM WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELry, $1 weekly; article delivered on first payment. EXCHANGE WATCH CO., 187 Broadway.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY; WEEKly payments; reasonable prices; all goods guaranteed. JAMES BERGMAN, 37 Maiden Lane.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 990 Cortlandt.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, SOLD; BEST MAchines; lowest prices; expert repairing; telephone. DURANT McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

PHONOGRAPHS, GRAPHOPHONES BOUGHT, exchanged, sold, cash or $1 week; gramophone plates $2.50 dozen. 148 East 58th St.

BEAUTIFUL FULL BLOODED WATER SPANiel bitch; age 2 years; cheap. Address W. B., PINCELL, Box 103 Times.

AT 244 6TH AV AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stocking refooted; underwear repaired

STATIONERY, CANDY, CIGAR, AND TOY store; no agents. 1,275 1st Av., between 68th and 69th Sts.

SAFE.—Combination; double door; 24x40x15; good order; used only six months. Room 27, 156 Broadway.

SAFES.—Fire and burglar proof safes; lowest prices and best goods. GROSS & SONS, 332 Canal St.

Good Will and Interest for Sale.

SPOT CASH PAID

For stores and stocks of merchandise of every description; city or country. F. JACOBS, 384 Grand St.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SMALLEST WHITE TOY BULL TERRIER IN America; 3½ lbs.; sell cheap; all week. Miss HALL, 100 East 121st St.

MEYERS, 207 WEST 23D ST.—Dogs, birds, gold fish; aquarium; dog and bird medicine; fine singing canary and cage, $2.50.

COLLIE PUPS, 5 MONTHS OLD, PRIZE stock, pedigree; white and sable. DR. DICKEY, 172 East 123d St.

Millinery and Dressmaking.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DRESSCUTTING, LADIES' TAILORING, MILlinery, thoroughly taught; $5 starts you. McDOWELL SCHOOL, 310-318 6th Av. Evening school Monday, Wednesday, Friday. Special: Call this week.

LEFF & SCHOENFELD, LADIES' TAILORS and Furriers.—Suits made from your own material, $12.00 up; our material, $20.00 up; perfect fitting guaranteed. 242-244 6th Av.

MARY JUSTUS, 148 EAST 123D ST., FASHIONable dressmaker and ladies' tailor. Latest styles. Perfect fit guaranteed. Cheapest prices.

MADAME MILBINE, LADIES' TAILORING, 330 6th Av.—Skirts made without trying; fit guaranteed or money refunded.

Clothing.

MRS. COHEN, 629 6TH AV.—Absolutely highest prices paid for ladies' street and evening costumes, jewelry, furs, &c.

MADAME BLUM.—Absolutely highest prices for ladies' castoff evening and street costumes; also furs. 759 6th Av.

Miscellaneous.

RESPIRATORIUM.—Great help to singers for hoarseness. Call and investigate. 132 East 23d St.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ORGANS

Sacrifice sale of Organs and Aeolians, prices cut to sell them out this week, stool and book with each organ.

$15	Perry,	$2	monthly until paid
22	Beatty,	2	monthly until paid
25	Estey,	2	monthly until paid
30	Peloubet,	2	monthly until paid
35	Russell,	2	monthly until paid
40	Bridgeport,	2	monthly until paid
45	Mason & Hamlin,	3	monthly until paid
60	Aeolian, oak,	4	monthly until paid
150	Aeolian, mahogany,	5	monthly until paid
175	Aeolian, walnut,	5	monthly until paid

GOETZ & CO.

81 to 87 COURT ST., Brooklyn,
One block from City Hall.
Open Evenings, until 10 o'clock.

WISSNER PIANOS

Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.

Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.

$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

CALENBERG PIANOS

Are THE BEST in
TONE, TOUCH, FINISH and DURABILITY.

Over 16,000 pleased customers to our evidence.

Special Inducements for Holiday Season.

TUNING, REPAIRING, RENTING.
Warerooms, 23 East 14th St.
EASY TERMS. OPEN EVENINGS.

POPULAR

PEASE PIANOS.

109 WEST 42d ST., JUST WEST OF 6th AV.

Over 64,000 purchasers in the last half century will attest to the durability and fine tone qualities of the PEASE PIANOS. Special factory prices and easy terms. Bargains in used pianos of standard makes, from $125 up. Write for catalogue.

OPEN EVENINGS.

BEFORE DECIDING ON A PIANO IT will be to your interest to consult us and ascertain the great advantages in price, terms, and quality of the Hardman. "A word to the wise is sufficient." If in town call on us, if not, write. Hardman, Peck & Co., Mfrs., 5th Av. and 19th St.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS

This is bargain week with us, and we offer our patrons the rarest bargains of the year, including Chickering Grand, Steinway Upright, Decker Brothers', and our own new Holiday Stock at reduced prices; a small cash payment and balance in easy monthly payments; rents, $4 up.

MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.
Open evenings.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano, stool, and scarf, delivered free; balance on easy monthly payments. In addition to elegant Holiday Stock, we have Steinway, $150; Chickering, $185, and many other rare bargains; rents, $4 up.

741-743 8TH AVE., NEAR 46TH ST.
Open Evenings.

KRAKAUER

PIANOS.

For Sale and to Rent. Easy Terms. 113 EAST 14TH ST.

Buy of manufacturer; reliable Connor Pianos; easy terms; renting; exchanging; repairing. Open evenings. 4 East 42d St.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS. NEW PIANOS $125, UPWARD. 105 East 14th St. & 98 5th Ave.

$200 NEW PIANO, STOOL, AND SCARF; $7 per month. Call at 1,567 B'way, cor. 47th St. Open evenings.

200 New Piano, stool, and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 Broadway, corner 47th St.; open evenings.

$100.00—THIS MONTH ONLY, HOLIDAY BARgains; Beautiful Upright Piano, Stool, Scar

JAMES McCREERY & CO.,
BROADWAY AND 11TH STREET.

Fancy Goods.

Gauze Fans,—spangled and hand painted, — white and black, ... $1.00;
Value $1.50.

Photo Frames, — French Gilt, — handsome scroll design, ... 50 cents to $1.50;
Formerly $1.00 to $3.75.

Cut Glass Flasks, — mounted with Sterling Silver, ... $1.45;
Value $2.00.

3,000 Sterling Silver Novelties, — Toilette Articles, Desk Accessories, etc.,
50 cents to $12.50 each;
Considerably reduced from usual prices.

Millinery.

Handsome Models for Street or Carriage Dress. Remainder of this season's stock.
$5.00 each.

Decorative Flowers, — Daisies, Snowballs, Autumn Leaves, Oleander,
25 cents per spray.

Men's Umbrellas.

500; 28 inch Umbrellas, — covered with fine quality, pure Twill silk.
8 rib, lock Paragon frame, steel rod:—
Heavy solid burnt Ivory handles, with sterling silver mountings.
A handsome article for holiday souvenir.
$4.75 each;
Value $7.00 to $10.00.

Sale of Handkerchiefs.
Commencing on Tuesday, December 18th.

One thousand Dozen. French, German, Swiss and Irish Linen, — including an Importer's Surplus Stock with large transfers from the Wholesale Department.
Embroidered, hemmed, hemstiched and initialed,
10, 12½, 25, 50 cents to $7.50 each;
Usual Price 20 cents to $12.50 each.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.
BROADWAY AND 11TH STREET.

The man that doesn't look at home in dress clothes looks out of place.

Homelike feeling is produced only by absolute correctness and perfect fit. We guarantee both.

Evening dress suits $30 to $50; Tuxedo coats $16 to $27.

Those little Eton or Tuxedo suits, the kind wanted at a moment's notice for Willie's party to-night or dancing school to-morrow, are here—and everything that goes with them.

Many of our Winter weight sack suits have been vaccinated with the virus of low price.

They are certain to "take" at present prices—$15 and $18.

Something for his stocking, be he 6 or 60.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.
We fill orders by mail.

Men's Furnishing Dep't.

The New Parisian Muffler, or neck Scarf. For Street or Evening Dress. Made from rich quality, Imported, Silk Squares,

$2.50 and $3.50 each;
Value $4.50 to $7.00.

James McCreery & CO.,
Twenty-third Street.

SALE

Smoking Jackets

Japanese Habutai Quilted Silk Smoking Coats, Jackets and Robes.

Blue, garnet, brown magenta, and golden tan. Silk cord frogs and fastenings.

Short Coats,—plain, and embroidered, in Silk,—floral designs,
$3.75;
Value $5.50 and $8.50.

Robes,—full length,
$9.50;
Value $14.50.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Infants' Coats and Bonnets.

Remainder of this Season's stock.

Colored Cloth Coats, including several varieties of Woolen Fabrics,—Broadcloth, and Velveteen.

Trimmed with all fashionable braids, stitching, lace and fur.

Sizes 2 to 4 years,
$4.50 to $14.00.

Bonnets,—white or colored,—sheer or substantial Fabrics.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Stern Brothers

Exceptionally large and well selected assortments of articles for artistic house decoration or personal use and particularly suitable for the

Holiday Season

Silverware — Sterling Silver Toilet Sets, Standing Mirrors, Vases, Trays, Bon Bon Dishes, Smokers' Requisites and Articles for the Desk.

Oriental Rugs — Shirvans, Daghestans, Mossouls, Ganjis, Killims, Kirmans, Shiraz, Kazaks, Melez, Irans and Senas in small sizes. Afghan, Cashmere, Tebriz, Khorassan, Serapi, Fereghan, Modern Persian, Turkish and India Carpets.

Bric-a-Brac and Art Objects — Unusually large display of choice specimens Real Bronzes, Limoges Enamels, Clock Sets. Old Silver, Miniatures, Electric Light Bronzes, Curio, Parlor, and Music Cabinets, Writing Desks, Tea, Sewing and Card Tables, Pedestals.

West Twenty-third Street

SOROSIS
TRADE MARK.
THE BEST SHOE FOR WOMEN.

At this season, when gifts are rife, both for intimates and dependents, — where the consideration of utility is a kindness,—the "Sorosis" Shoe is an ideal and most acceptable souvenir,

$3.50 per pair.

James McCreery & Co.,
Broadway and 11th Street.
Twenty-third Street.

Act Promptly,
if you would be well and economically dressed.

Oxford Cheviot Overcoats, good value $12.
Oxford Frieze, silk sleeve lining, raw edges, two-inch cuffs, $15.
We are very strong on our $15 line of Overcoats.
Brown Gray Mixed Cheviot, velvet piping on cuffs—very stylish coat, price cut from $22 to $16.00.
Oxford and Black Elysian, piped edges, cut full and long, $20.
Soft Oxford Cheviot, wool lined and silk shoulder—splendid value, $24.00.

13th St. Store Open Evenings Until Christmas.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.
3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.

O'Neill's,

Open Evenings Until Christmas.

Useful Holiday Gifts in Fine China.

Dinner Sets.

American Porcelain Dinner Sets of 115 pieces, Gold traced, Violet and Pink Decorations, all large pieces,
15.98 Set.

English Porcelain Sets of 130 pieces, Underglazed Border Pattern, Violet decoration, exceptionally good value at 23.95 Set.

French China Dinner Sets, new shape and decoration, value 25.00,
20.98 Set.

Fine Austrian China Salads,
48c. upward.

Austrian China Vases, handsomely decorated, worth 1.25,
75c each.

Cut Glass Gifts.

A large assortment of the newest and finest cuttings at remarkably low prices.
A few specimen values:

Bowls, 8 inch	3.75
Celery Trays	4.25
Sugar and Creamers	4.98
Tumblers, doz.	2.65
Oil or Vinegar Cruets	98c.
Spoon Trays	3.50
Olive Dishes without handles	98c.
Vases	2.25
Covered Cheese Dishes	11.98
Claret Jugs	9.75

Chafing Dishes, 5 o'Clock Tea Kettle, Etc.
FULL LINE OF NICKEL-PLATED NOVELTIES.

Chafing Dishes	2.25 up
5 o'Clock Tea Kettles	1.48 "
Pudding Dishes	1.10 "
Carving Sets, 3 pcs., in case	1.70 set

Choice Novelties in Fancy Baskets at exceptionally low prices.

Choice Collection of Vases, Jardinieres, Pedestals, Bric-a-Brac, Etc.

☞ All cash purchases, except Sewing Machines, delivered free to any railroad station within 100 miles of N. Y. City.

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

O'Neill's
Useful Holiday Gifts
Sale of Lace Curtains and Portieres

Lace Curtains—
A special lot of Irish Points, choice designs, all new goods, value 6.00 to 8.00,
4.98 and 5.98 Pair

Portieres—
Two Hundred Pairs of Extra Heavy Solid Color Portieres, value 6.75 pair, on special sale to-day at 4.98 Pair

Sofa Cushions
Five Hundred Tapestry and Fancy Silk Covered Sofa Cushions worth from 2.00 to 9.00 each, on sale at 1.25, 2.50 and 4.98 Each

OPEN EVENINGS
6th Ave., 20th to 21st St.

O'Neill's
Artistic Furniture For the Holidays.

A large stock of the newest and richest designs at very attractive prices.

Corner Chairs.
Mahogany finish Corner Chairs, handsomely inlaid and covered in Damask, value 8.00,
4.98 each.

Rockers.
An enormous variety to pick from. For to-day—a special lot in Mahogany Finish and solid Golden Oak, high back, handsomely carved and inlaid, cobbler or wood seats, value 7.50,
3.98 each.

Desks
Mahogany finish and solid Golden Oak Desks, French legs, carved tops, handsomely polished, regular value 9.50,
6.98 each.

A large assortment of Vernis-Martin Cabinets and Tables, Pedestals, Odd Pieces, etc. at unusually low prices.

OPEN EVENINGS.
6th Ave., 20th to 21st St.

Registered Trade Mark.

8550 Dozen Handkerchiefs

At "The Linen Store."

For the last week of Christmas buying we have provided the following lots, all of absolutely pure linen.

4000 dozen Ladies' lace trimmed and embroidered plain hemstitched and initialed Handkerchiefs at 25c.

800 dozen Ladies' Handkerchiefs including embroidered, lace edge and insertion, plain hemstitched and initialed, at 50c.

250 dozen Ladies' hand hemstitched, fine hand embroidered and lace trimmed (some with real Valenciennes), at 1.00

Also 3500 dozen of Men's hand initialed and hemstitched Handkerchiefs, at 25c. and 50c.

For gifts we will make up especially boxes containing one dozen assorted Ladies' lace trimmed and embroidered Handkerchiefs, at $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 a dozen.

OPEN EVENINGS DURING THIS WEEK.

James McCutcheon & Co.,
14 West 23d St.

...DOWNTOWN STORE...
The only one with a Full Line of
HOLIDAY GOODS.
TOYS. DOLLS. GAMES. BOXING GLOVES. STRIKING BAGS. SKATES. FOOTBALLS. POKER SETS. DOG COLLARS. DOLL CARRIAGES. BANKS. HOBBY HORSES. EXPRESS WAGONS. STEAM ENGINES. SLEIGHS. MECHANICAL TOYS. CUTLERY. CARVING SETS. RAZORS.
The most novel of Novelties, as well as all the Standard Toys and Games.
Low Prices. Open Evenings. Quick Service.
JOHN G. HOPKINS & CO., 119 Chambers St.

TRADE —41— MARK.
EVERYBODY'S WHISKEY
WHY?
Because it is a blend of absolutely pure whiskies, ripe and mellow with age. Bottled only by
L. J. CALLANAN,
41 and 43 Vesey St., New York.
SEND FOR COPY OF MONTHLY PRICE LIST.

DICKERMAN'S DURABLE DESKS
American Store Stool Co., Howard & Crosby Sts. Just East of 434 B'way. 'Phone, 2303 Spring.

$18 Clay Cotaway, C. & V. Silk Lined, Made for $25. BENSON & CO., 60 E. 14th St., Misfit Parlors.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.
"All the News That's Fit to Print."

CAREY & SIDES
America's Largest CREDIT CLOTHIERS AND TAILORS.
80-82 4th Ave., JUST ABOVE TENTH ST.
MEN'S AND BOYS'
CLOTHING
ON CREDIT.
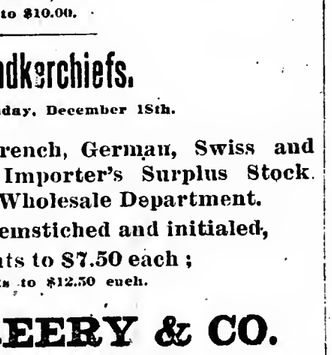
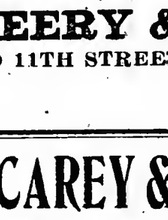
READY-MADE AND TO ORDER.

This week puts every pocket book to the severest test. Let us assist in making your expenditures for presents less burdensome. OUR NO EXTRA CHARGE CREDIT SYSTEM is at your service for your clothes. This is our means of assisting you. WE DON'T WANT YOUR MONEY THIS WEEK.

WEEKLY AND MONTHLY PAYMENTS.
Ready-Made Suits, Raglans, and Overcoats, $10, $12, and $15. TO ORDER, $16, $20, and $25. Boys' Suits, $3 to $12. Tuxedo and Full Dress Suits, silk lined, to order, $30, $35, $40. Silk and Fancy Vests, $3 to $6. Men's Hats, $2.50.
Dress Suits to Hire. Write for terms.
OPEN EVENINGS THIS WEEK.





DESKS.
Great Variety of style and Price.
T. G. SELLEW.
111 Fulton St., N.Y.

Silk Skirts.

Made of fine Taffetas, —finished with accordeon pleated, ruch edged ruffles.
Selected with a view to their sale as Christmas Souvenirs.
$7.75;
Value $10.50.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

$15 OXFORD RAGLAN, DARK SHADE, MADE FOR $25. BENSON & CO., MISFIT PARLOR, 60 E. 14TH ST.

---

5 CENT BOXES — Dr. WHITE'S COUGH DROPS
PLEASANT TASTE
INSTANT RELIEF
E. GREENFIELD'S SONS & CO., New York Sole Agents.

A Condition,

relating to the value of a large invoice of

Oriental Rugs,

enables us to sell

57 Bales of Rare Rugs,

Antique, Guendji,
Mousoul and Persian,
divided as follows:

Lot 1, $27 to $34
Lot 2, $17 to $22
Lot 3, $12 to $17
Lot 4,
$6.50 to $8.75.

About ½ price.

Goods reserved for Holiday delivery.

Lord & Taylor,
Broadway & 20th St.

Kennedy 12 Cortlandt St.
SWELL GIFT THINGS FOR MEN.

We beat the dry goods houses all to pieces on both prices and assortments.

House Coats,
3.98, 4.98, 5.98.
Bath Robes,
3.49, 3.98, 4.98.
Knit Golf Jackets,
4.98 to 7.98.
Dress Shields, 98c. to 2.98.
Silk Suspenders, 98c. to 1.49.
Great piles of neckties of the newest silks, 19c., 35c., 49c., 79c.
Umbrellas, rare and quaint handles, 3.49 to 7.00.

Here is the place to make your Christmas money go a great deal farther than usual.

Amusements.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St. Daniel Frohman, Manager.
Matinee Wednesday 2:15
LAST THREE NIGHTS
of the Modern Society Comedy, a Love Story in 4 acts, entitled
THE MAN OF FORTY
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.
The New Comedy by R. C. Carton, Author of "Lord and Lady Algy" and "Wheels Within Wheels," entitled
LADY HUNTWORTH'S EXPERIMENT
With
DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY.
Matinee Wednesday and Saturday.
Extra Matinee New Year's Day.

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23..... At 8:30 Daniel Frohman.... Manager
Matinees Thurs. & Sat., 2:15.
EXTRA MATINEES XMAS AND NEW YEAR'S.
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY.
A ROYAL FAMILY.

Proctor's 23d St., 5th Ave., 58th St., 125th St. | Continuous Performance. | 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
Clifford & Huth, Russell Bros., Le Roy & Clayton, Alice Pierce, Lew Sully, etc.
Marcel's Living Pictures, Ezra Kendall, Staley & Birbeck, Lottie Gilson.
Della Fox, John Kernell, Clarice Vance, Olympia Quartet, Falke & Semon.
Four Cohans, Yorke & Adams, Seger Midgley and Gertie Carlisle, Ethel Levey.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av. Christmas Plays
"Children's Theatre" "THE FORESTRING"
a 3-act Play of Fairyland.
Orchestra of Children, Opening Thursday Aft., Dec. 20, at 3 o'clock and every aft. at same hour.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM. Tues., Wed., Thurs. at 8:15
57th St & 7th Av. Wed. at 2:15.
Sophomore Class of Columbia University Presenting PROFESSOR WHIMSICAL.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Evs. 8:15 Sharp. Mats. Tues. & Sat., 2
FIDDLE-DEE-DEE BURLESQUE OF ARIZONA.
Next Thursday, Burlesques of THE GAY LORD QUEX and A ROYAL FAMILY.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Every Eve'g 8:20. Mat. 2:20 to-morrow & Sat.
Only Two Weeks More. Holiday Seats Selling.
Augustus Thomas' Masterwork. ARIZONA

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Evs., 8:15. Mats. Sat. & Xmas. FLORODORA

HURTIG & SEAMON'S West 125th St. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Isabelle Urquhart & Co., James O. Barrows, Ed Latell, Louise Gunning, O'Brien & Havel

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl.
LAST TWO WEEKS. JAMES O'NEILL. PRICES, 25, 50, 75, 1.00.
Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8:15. MONTE CRISTO

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. To-night 8:15. Sat. Mat. Only.
LULU GLASER LAST TWO WEEKS IN SWEET ANNE PAGE.

Koster & Bial's 25c. Mat. Daily
Evgs. 25c. Boxes, $1. Gertrude Haynes, Dolan & Lenharr, Maxwell & Simpson, Herbert's Dogs, Juan Caicedo, The Donovans, 20 others.

THE NEW YORK B'way, 45th St. Mat. Wed., Sat.
Xtr. Mat. Xmas. Ballet & Amer. & European Vaudeville. Sund. aft. & ev. concerts. Dec. 24, "The Giddy Throng." Seats now selling.

KEITH'S HART & DeMAR. McINTYRE & HEATH. WHITE, STUART & CO. Felix & Barry, Foy & Clark, Will H. Fox.

AMERICAN 42D ST. AND 8TH AV. Evgs. 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c. Mat. Daily (ex'pt Mon.) 25c. The Silver King.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.
Grand Opera Season 1900-1901.
Under the direction of Mr. MAURICE GRAU.
TO-NIGHT AT 8.
ROMEO ET JULIETTE, (in French.)
Mme. Melba; MM. Ed de Reszke, Plançon, Sizes, and Saleza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Wed. Evg., Dec. 19, at 8—TANNHAEUSER, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Plançon, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Fri. Evg., Dec. 21, at 8—LOHENGRIN, (in German.) Mmes. Nordica and Schumann-Heink; MM. Dippel, Bertram, and Ed de Reszke. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Dec. 22, at 2—ROMEO ET JULIETTE, (in French.) Mme. Melba, Ed de Reszke, Gilibert, and Saleza. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Evg., Dec. 22, at 8, at Popular Prices—AIDA, (in Italian)—Mmes. Susan Strong and Homer; MM. Scotti, Journet, and Imbart de la Tour. Conductor, Flon.
Sun. Evg., Dec. 23, First Grand Popular Concert. Soloists: Mmes. Nordica, Susan Strong, Bridewell, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Cremonini, Campanari, Gilibert, and Plançon, together with Met. Op. House Orchestra and Chorus. In addition to a miscellaneous Concert Rossini's STABAT MATER will be performed. Conductor, Mr. Mancinelli.
Seats now on sale at BOX OFFICE, OPERA HOUSE, and at BOX OFFICE RATES at Tyson & Co.'s and Rullman's, 111 Broadway.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Second Chamber Music Matinee.
THIS (TUESDAY) AFTERN'N AT 2:15.
KNEISEL QUARTET
Assisted by MR. HAROLD BAUER PIANO
(His First Appearance in New York.)
PROGRAMME: HAYDN, Quartet, G major, op. 77, No. 1; BEETHOVEN, Sonata for Piano and Violin, op. 47, (Kreutzer Sonata;) SCHUMANN, Quintet for Piano, Two Violins, Viola, and Violoncello, E flat major, op. 44.
Res. seats, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Wednesday Afternoon, December 19, at 3.
VIOLIN RECITAL
FRITZ
KREISLER
Res. seats, $1, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. Management ..... HENRY WOLFSOHN

MENDELSSOHN HALL. Thursday Afternoon, Dec. 20, at 2:30. Seats $1.50, $1, on sale at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. Management ..... London G. Charlton
First Piano Recital HAROLD BAUER

MUSICAL ART SOCIETY
FRANK DAMROSCH..... Director
Chorus of 60 Artists.
FIRST CONCERT
Thursday, Dec. 20, at 8:30, Carnegie Hall.
MISSA PAPAE MARCELLI. Palestrina; songs by Brahms; Old Christmas Carols, etc. CONCERTO FOR TWO SOLO VIOLINS, J. S. Bach
FRITZ KREISLER, DAVID MANNES and a selected String Orchestra.
Tickets now on sale at office of Society, 388 Fifth Ave., (36th St.)

CARNEGIE HALL
Farewell Song Recital Sat. Aft., Dec. 22, at 3:15.
MADAME Sembrich
For the Benefit of the GEORGE JUNIOR REPUBLIC
By arrangement with C. L. Graff.
Prices: $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50. Boxes, $15, $25.
Tickets now on sale at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York
EMIL PAUR..... CONDUCTOR
Fri., Dec. 21, at 2 P. M. Sat., Dec. 22, at 8:15 P. M.
Program: Overture, "Oberon," Weber; Symphony No. 6, "Pastoral," Beethoven; Concerto for Piano, B major, performed by the composer, Mr. HENRY HOLDEN HUSS; Fantasia, "Francesca da Rimini," Tschaikowsky.
Tickets at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Rullman's

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Every Eve. & Mat. Sat'y. The great laughing success "DAS GROSSE HEMD." Comedy by Carlweis.

BIJOU, B'way & 30th St. Tl. 2224 Mad. Mat. Sat. Ev. 8:20. MADGE SMITH
May Irwin's biggest hit.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinees 2:15.
Xtra Mat Xmas. Mats. Wednesday and Sat'day.
JOHN DREW in RICHARD CARVEL.

KNICKERBOCKER. B'way, cor. 38th St.
MAUDE ADAMS LAST TWO WEEKS. Evs. 8. Mat. Sat., 2. L'AIGLON
EXTRA MATINEE XMAS.

Charles Frohman's CRITERION THEATRE Broadway and 44th St.
JOHN HARE. EVES. 8. MAT. SATURDAY.
THE GAY LORD QUEX.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. 24th St., nr. B'way.
Last week. Mats. Wed. and Saturday.
PETER F. 100th Time Friday—Souvenirs.
DAILEY | HODGE, FODGE & CO.
Dec. 24, THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

GARRICK THEATRE, 35th St. & B'way.
Evenings at 8:15. Mats., 2:15.
Xtra Mat. Xmas. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

GARDEN THEATRE, 27th St. & Madison Av.
SARAH BERNHARDT AND M. COQUELIN
To-night, Thursday, & Friday Evgs., Saturday Matinée. CAMILLE
Wednesday Matinée, Wednesday & Saturday Evgs. LA TOSCA
Next Week—Farewell Week—HAMLET.

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evs. 8:10. Matinée Saturday at 2:10.
Last Week "FOXY QUILLER" JEROME SYKES. WITH
MON., DEC. 24, SPECIAL MATINEE CHRISTMAS DAY.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS in "A ROYAL ROGUE."
big cast, inc'g Josephine Hall, Henry Norman, Eva Davenport, Hilda Hollins, Chas. Dungane.
Sale of Seats, THURSDAY, DEC. 20th.

Hammerstein's VICTORIA 42d St. B'y & 7th Av. Evs. 8:30. Gen. Adm. 50c. Mat. Sat. p'cs, 50, 75, $1. No smoking or drinking at Mats.
Last Week. AGOUSTS—STAR AND GARTER
BEGINNING CHRISTMAS NIGHT, MARIE DRESSLER and Company in the Musical Comedy, "MISS PRINNT."

WALLACK'S Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. Wed., Sat., & Xmas., 2:15.
MARY MANNERING —IN— JANICE MEREDITH

14th Street Theatre, nr 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat
LAST WEEK. LOST RIVER.
Next Week—THE VILLAGE POSTMASTER.
Monday (opening night) SOUVENIRS, 1,000th time

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. CITY CLUB BURLESQUERS. NEW LIVING PICTURES.

THEATRE REPUBLIC Evgs. 8:20. Mats. Wed., Sat. & Xmas. at 2:15.
Last 2 weeks. The Sprightly Romance of Marsac.
VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King." Dec. 31. Sale opens next Monday.

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH. EDEN MUSEE Charming Concerts.
Xtra attractions.

GRAND Opera House. THE HIGHWAYMAN Prices, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE Evgs. 8. Only Matinee Saturday 2. OLGA NETHERSOLE IN SAPHO.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—NEVER AGAIN.

SAVOY 8:20. Mats. Wed., Sat., Xmas, N. Y'rs. Henrietta Mistress Nell. CROSMAN

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM. Corbett-McCoy Fight; Colored Minstrels. Theatre, 25c. &

SUNDAY, THREE CENTS. DAILY, ONE CENT.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Fair; fresh south to west winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,896. NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1900.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. / Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

CHIEF DEVERY AT HOME ON A VACATION

Not Disturbed, It Is Said, by the Criticisms on the "Shake-Up."

DENIAL FROM HENRY E. ABELL

Has No Son in the Cigar Business, and Is Not a Member of the E. J. Milan Association.

Chief William S. Devery went on his vacation yesterday morning. He did not, however, leave it to Senior Deputy Chief Moses W. Cortright to announce his season of rest from police duty to the force, but caused the following announcement to be sent to all commands and superior officers late on Monday night:

Dec. 17, 1900.

To all, in all boroughs:
From 8 A. M., Dec. 18, 1900, and continuing during the absence of Chief of Police William S. Devery on vacation, Deputy Chief Moses W. Cortright will be in command of the police force of this department, and will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

WILLIAM S. DEVERY,
Chief of Police.

The Chief is at his own home, 310 West Twenty-eighth Street, and it is said that he is not disturbed by the situation created by his "shake-up" of Saturday. He may return to active duty before the expiration of the thirteen days of holiday yet due him from the leave granted by the Police Board last Summer, convinced that the wisdom of the changes he made "for the good of the service" will sooner or later be recognized. The Chief has resolved not to talk for publication on any subject, and particularly about the transfers.

For the first time since election day the full Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday. Commissioner Hess, who was prostrated by sickness Nov. 15, left his residence, 68 West Sixty-eighth Street, in a carriage with his secretary, E. V. Hines. When he arrived at his office he found a handsome bouquet of flowers on his desk from his staff, and the attachés of the Treasurer's office. He was very weak and complained of a headache, but greeted many callers. Commissioner Abell went to him, and they were joined by President York and held a private conference while Mr. Hess lay on a lounge. Mr. Hess sat through the routine meeting of the board, which lasted two hours, but he was so fatigued that he had to lie down for an hour before starting for home.

"The meeting," he said, "was a great strain on me. As to the police situation, I have not been able to follow the newspapers or to discuss it with any one, so as to inform myself fully, especially in regard to what the Chief did on Saturday."

The Bathgate Avenue Station House labor question was considered by the board. Contractor Leahy said he had not exceeded eight hours a day in employing the workmen and that he had paid the prevailing rate of wages. The only reference to the "shake-up" was in a verbal report by President York asking the Corporation Counsel as to the right of Chief Devery to transfer Deputy Chiefs. The Commissioners laughed over reports that Chief Devery had handed in his resignation, and that the board met to appoint Captains from the eligible list. After the meeting President York had a long private conference with Commissioner Sexton. The only echo of the transfers of Saturday was the shifting of the staffs of the superior officers who changed districts.

Commissioner Henry E. Abell explained that what he said while trying policemen in Brooklyn in the morning had no reference to the "shake-up." He said: "I did say, in regard to a policeman who failed to discover a burglary, that officers could not be everywhere; that there are only 7,000 policemen to cover this great city, and that at night not more than 3,500 can be on duty in all the boroughs. I also stated that we cannot get more men, and that if there were 10,000 men it would not be too many, and that when we asked for more we got 'roasted' in the newspapers."

"Do you approve of the transfers made by Chief Devery on Saturday?"

"I have nothing to say on that point."

"Do you regard them as for the good of the service?"

"No doubt the Chief thought so."

"But what is your view on the subject?"

"Well, I hope they will result in better police service."

"What do you say of what was said about you by Hugh McLaughlin or in his presence, as quoted in THE TIMES?"

"When it comes to knowledge, I do not know that he has said anything about me."

"Are you 'tarred with the same brush as Chief Devery,' as Mr. McLaughlin says?"

"I am not tarred with anything. But I am not offended at the remarks. I don't believe he said it."

"Are you a member of the Edward J. Milan Association?"

"I have no connection with it whatever."

"Is a son of yours in the cigar business, and has your name and influence as a Police Commissioner helped along his prosperity through the patronage of lawbreakers?"

"I am blessed with four sons. None is in the cigar business, none has profited as you state, none has had any interest in Coney Island."

"As to the Milan Association and the ball and my name being on the list of patrons, I'll explain. As is customary, those who got it up took the same liberty with my name as they did with those of Lieut. Gov. Woodruff and others. I did not authorize it."

"What are your relations with President York, friendly, or are you, as it is generally stated, at war with him and keep out of his way socially?"

"Not the least particle of truth in those stories. We are on friendly terms. The story that he snubbed me by not recognizing my salutation in front of the Union League Club in Brooklyn the other day is utterly untrue."

"You met with him and Commissioner Hess to-day?"

"Yes, and the conference was a pleasant one. It was a friendly talk on police matters."

CHARGES AGAINST CAPT. HERLIHY.

His Trial for Insulting the Rev. Mr. Paddock Will Begin on Friday.

The charges preferred by ex-Judge W. M. K. Olcott against Capt. John D. Herlihy were yesterday received and approved by President York. The trial will begin at 1 P. M. on Friday next.

The first charges include neglect of duty, conduct injurious to the public peace, inefficiency, and inattention to and disobedience and violation of rules in relation to restraining or repressing vice and in not suppressing the vicious conditions in the Twelfth Precinct, of which he was in command.

The second charge is based on the complaint of insult to the Rev. Robert L. Paddock by Capt. Herlihy. It is alleged that on April 26, 1900, at the Eldridge Street Station House Capt. Herlihy said to the Rev. Robert L. Paddock, who complained of vicious conditions, that he was sick and tired of such complaints from this clergyman, and that he was disgracing his cloth, adding that when he made such complaints he lied, and knew that he lied. The next day, in Inspector Cross's office, Capt. Herlihy, according to the complaint, charged the Rev. Mr. Paddock with being the cause of the conditions he complained of, said that he would be sorry that he ever got into "this business," and added: "If you want to present charges against me and bring me to trial I advise you to do it, and when you do I will show you up to the world as being one of the worst of them." Capt. Herlihy is also accused of failing to keep proper records of complaints made to him by the Rev. Mr. Paddock, James B. Reynolds, the Rev. A. J. Kerr, Edward Ridley & Sons, and many others of the nuisance which form the basis of the first charge.

Police Power a Trust to Cities.

Speaking at the Social Reform Club, 45 University Place, last evening, Frank Moss deprecated the introduction of the question of a State constabulary at the present time. He argued that the idea of State control of the police was theoretically sound, but said it was a question for some future time, when the organization in control at Albany is one that can be trusted more than the one now dominant there. "As a proposition in government, there should be some sort of State oversight of the police. The police power is a State power granted to the cities in trust. The State owes it as a duty to all to make life and property reasonably safe in all parts of the State. If there were a State board, honestly constituted, reasonably vigorous and effective, it could come and call Mr. Devery from his vacation, Mr. York from his quarrel, Mr. McLaughlin from his grievances, and the people who run poolrooms and other illegal resorts."

Plans of Committee of Fifteen.

The future plans of the Committee of Fifteen will be the object of lengthy discussion at the meeting of that body this afternoon. The report of the Sub-Committee on Plan and Scope will not be accepted, probably, without considerable debate. The sub-committee is made up of William H. Baldwin, Jr., Alexander E. Orr, and Charles Stewart Smith. Mr. Baldwin, who has been made the spokesman of the committee, declined to make public any part of the report in advance.

MOROCCO PAYS INDEMNITY.

American Claim of $5,000 for the Murder of Eszagui Settled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A message from United States Consul Gummery at Tangier informs the State Department that the Moorish Government has settled the claim of the United States for $5,000 indemnity on account of the murder of Marcus Eszagui, a naturalized American citizen, in Morocco last Spring.

Eszagui was of French birth, but the fact that he was naturalized as an American citizen relieved the French Government from the necessity of joining in the demand for indemnity. The Moorish Government pleaded as a basis for its first declination to pay the fact that the man was killed not by Moorish officers [illegible] in a fight with the rabble. The claim for indemnity, however, was based on the failure of the Moorish Government to make any effort to arrest or punish the perpetrators of the murder.

The Navy Department, at the instance of the State Department, was making arrangements to send a naval vessel to Morocco to give moral support to the demands of the American Consul for a settlement.

SENATOR SULLIVAN MARRIED.

Mississippian, Defendant in a Breach of Promise Suit, Weds Mrs. Marie N. Atkins in Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A closed carriage drove up to St. Stephen's Church, at Pennsylvania Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street, this afternoon. Although not more than half a dozen persons had entered the church before the carriage arrived, it was rumored that a wedding was to take place, and several people were idling near waiting for a glimpse of the bride and groom. They were greatly astonished when the bridegroom emerged from the carriage and disclosed the well-known figure of Senator Sullivan of Mississippi, who is the defendant in a sensational breach of promise case.

A short time ago a young woman from Senator Sullivan's State entered suit against him, charging him with breach of promise under circumstances similar to those of the Breckinridge case. The suit has not yet been tried.

The bride was Mrs. Marie Newman Atkins, daughter of the late Dr. Newman, one of the best-known physicians of this city. She is the widow of Paul Atkins. Mr. Atkins died eight years ago, and after the period of mourning Mrs. Atkins became a prominent social figure in Washington, moving in the same set as the daughters of ex-Senator Gorman of Maryland. Her brother, Dr. H. M. Newman, is well known as a physician in Washington. Mrs. Atkins is an attractive woman of thirty-one, and is said to possess considerable property in her own right.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. S. Caughy. Immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left for his home, in Mississippi. After a protracted tour through the South and West they will live at the Ebbitt House, where apartments have been engaged.

Senator Sullivan is about to come up for re-election, and his friends intimate that the Leeton suit was timed so as to have a political effect. Miss Leeton was in the city some time ago, but is said to have left. While here she declared that she had not compromised the suit and meant to prosecute it with vigor. It is believed that she did not know of his intended marriage.

THOUSANDS OF DEER KILLED.

Experts Say About 6,000 Were Shot in the Adirondack Region.

ALBANY, Dec. 18.—The Forest, Fish, and Game Commission has received the statistics of the deer hunting season just closed, which shows that the express companies shipped out of the Adirondack region 1,020 carcasses, 89 saddles, and 95 heads, representing 1,204 deer killed by hunters. Experts estimate that the actual number killed by residents and men employed in the lumber camps is about four deer for every one taken by the hunters, so that the total killed can be estimated with reasonable accuracy for the season.

The average weight of the undressed deer taken this season range from 250 to 294 pounds.

Alabama's Wire Nail Industry.

Special to The New York Times.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 18.—Thirty-five wire drawers from Allentown, Penn., arrived at the Alabama Steel and Wire Company's works to-day, and the company started the operation of its nail mill at Ensley in earnest. The mill is already turning out 1,000 kegs of wire nails per day, and this output will be increased. The Carnegie interests made overtures to purchase the plant recently, but the offer was refused.

American Socialists in New Zealand.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—"Sixty American Socialist Democrats have landed here," says a dispatch to The Times from Wellington, "attracted by the settlement conditions under New Zealand's advanced legislation."

The "Pittsburg Limited," Via Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.
Only $9.00 first class and $3.50 second class, New York to Pittsburg, via this train. Leave New York, South Ferry, 6:55 P. M. and Liberty Street 7:09 P. M., arrive Pittsburg 8:55 A. M. Pullman Buffet Drawing Room Sleeping Cars.—Adv.

PUSHING THE BOERS BACK

Invaders of Cape Colony Being Forced to Orange River.

CONSIST OF TWO COMMANDOS

The Burghers Reported to Have Defeated the Cape Rifles and Brabant's Troopers.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—"The Boers have raided Cape Colony at two separate points 100 miles distant," says the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail. "One commando advanced upon Philipstown, between Colesberg and Kimberley. The other, supposed to be Herzog's commando, crossed the Orange River between Odendaal Stroom and Bethulie, northwest of Burgheradorp, its objective apparently being Cradock.

"Gen. Macdonald is engaging the invaders, who have no guns, twenty miles west of Burghersdorp. The latest news is that they are being slowly forced back to the Orange River, where a warm reception is being prepared for them."

Lord Kitchener, in a dispatch from Pretoria, dated Dec. 17, states that all the British wounded in the engagement at Neoltgedacht have arrived there and are doing well.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 18.—The Boers who crossed the Orange River into Cape Colony, west of Aliwal North, on Saturday, encountered the Cape Rifles and Brabant's force, who retired with loss.

JOHANNESBURG, Dec. 17.—Details of the defeat of the British at Nooitgedacht indicate that Gen. Clements's entire force had a narrow escape from capture. The Boer plans were splendidly laid. If the main British column had carried a little longer there would have been a complete success for the Boers, who exposed themselves undauntedly, yelling and waving their arms. Their rushes were only stemmed by artillery.

After the British retreat the Boers held a prayer meeting. Their hymns could be heard by the retiring British.

All accounts indicate a heavy Boer loss.

Col. Legge exhibited splendid bravery. He shot five Boers with his revolver before he fell with three bullets in his body.

PREMIER'S GLOOMY SPEECH.

Lord Salisbury Declares Efforts to End War Successfully May Entail Great Self-Sacrifice.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—In his speech at the annual conference of the National Union of Conservative Associations yesterday Lord Salisbury alluded to the war in South Africa.

He told his hearers that if the British people wished to sustain the empire and maintain the glory of England untarnished, their efforts must not be slackened until that great enterprise was carried out, for on the issue thereof depended the glory and perpetuity of the empire. It might require a strenuous effort and great self-sacrifice. The present was a period of some anxiety.

"We do not know," said the Premier, "exactly what has taken place. We earnestly hope the issue may be better than the beginning. But we have to push it through. Maybe there are matters which have not been explained, and when explained it may be the subject of scrutiny as to the steps whereby the present results have been reached. But we must spare no effort whereby the glory and the maintenance of our empire may be achieved."

Lord Salisbury's gloomy speech causes much bewilderment. The conservative press, reluctant to admit that the situation is worse, complains of the Premier's "needless pessimism."

The Daily News asks whether Lord Salisbury's utterances foreshadow the news of another reverse, and it suggests that the Government has received dispatches from Lord Kitchener asking for more troops on the ground that the war, instead of being finished, is entering upon a new and difficult phase.

All the papers are urging the Government to do everything possible to support Lord Kitchener. The Queen's message to the volunteers was evidently designed to soothe the general disappointment over their retention in the field. There are rumors current that the Government is not able to respond to appeals from South Africa to send out more regulars.

The abandonment of the Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's brings vividly home to the public the fact that there is still much work to be done in South Africa.

The Times, editorially denouncing "misguided leniency toward the Boers," says:

"Such a concentration of Boers as brought disaster on Gen. Clements's force would not have been possible had we carried on the war as it would have been carried on by any other civilized nation."

NO THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The contemplated Thanksgiving service in St. Paul's Cathedral in connection with the return of Lord Roberts from South Africa has been abandoned, owing, as the Government announces, "to its being considered desirable to defer a general thanksgiving until the close of the operations in South Africa."

The programme now is for Lord Roberts to debark in the Solent, to visit the Queen at Osborne House on Jan. 2, to re-embark, and to land finally at Southampton, coming from that point to London.

VOLUNTEER OFFICERS RESIGN.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Numerous volunteer officers' resignations were gazetted last night. They consist of lawyers, physicians, and business men, who have urgently represented that their affairs are going to ruin. The War Office, on account of these representations, has let them off.

The Government publicly requests employers who have kept open situations for yeomanry, colonials, and volunteers to continue their patriotic efforts to minimize the sacrifices of these men in the service of their country.

The War Office has issued the Queen's thanks to the yeomanry, colonials, and volunteers, expressing her reliance that those abroad will continue to aid the regulars.

These measures are designed to quiet those in the field who are waiting to come home.

Germans Allege Brutal Treatment.

BERLIN, Dec. 18.—At a meeting to-day of Pan-Germans protests were entered against the expulsion of Germans from the Transvaal. Some of the speakers so expelled alleged they were brutally treated by the British, and a Government inquiry was demanded.

Mishap to the Bailey on Speed Trial.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 18.—The torpedo-boat destroyer Bailey started on her official speed trial this morning over the measured mile course in Narragansett Bay, with Admiral Rodgers and the Board of Inspection and Survey on board. She was doing some magnificent work, and at one time she was running at a speed of 30.5 knots an hour, when one of her cylinders became injured. She was slowed down and returned to the torpedo station because of the mishap. Her performance this morning is highly commended, and especially the absence of any great vibration while she was running at a high rate of speed.

Science and Art Exemplified.
A revelation, (as it were,) from the Brew House of C. H. Evans & Sons, Hudson, New York.—Adv.

MOTOR FRIGHTENS A HORSE.

Animal Runs Wildly Through a Crowd on Columbus Avenue.

A spirited runaway that landed two people in a hospital, injured three others, and jumped a Central Park parapet, the horse landing on the other side with a broken neck, took place last night from West End Avenue and One Hundred and Sixth Street. The horse belonged to B. Altman & Co., and was standing in front of a house in charge of a driver at the corner, when a motor vehicle which dashed by enveloped the horse in a jet of steam.

The animal took fright and started off at a run, turning the corner with the wagon on two wheels, and throwing out the driver, J. Corcoran. It tore down One Hundred and Sixth Street toward Central Park. Crossing Columbus Avenue the wagon struck a north-bound cable car. A wheel was knocked off the wagon, and the frightened animal tore on faster than ever.

Standing at the corner of Central Park West and One Hundred and Sixth Street was a crowd waiting for a trolley car. Before all had time to get out of the way the animal knocked down three persons, one of them a man carrying a baby. Then the horse ran on, struck a lamp post which tore the horse clear of the wagon and sent him tearing along in a frenzy directly at the stone wall which surrounds the Park at that point. The horse tried to jump the wall, but when found was lying with a broken neck, unable to stir.

Meantime Driver Corcoran had picked himself up and, cut and bruised from a fall against an iron tree guard, ran after his horse. Where the horse had struck the crowd he found a policeman in charge bending over a number of injured.

An ambulance from the J. Hood Wright Hospital was summoned, and Dr. Ogelby responded. He found Hattie Levy, twenty-eight years old, of 66 West One Hundred and Sixth Street, had been knocked down and trampled upon, and her arm had been broken. Her husband, David, who had been carrying a baby in his arms at the time, was bruised and cut. As he was struck by the horse he threw the baby out of harm's way into the crowd.

The little one had a scalp wound. Mrs. Annie Goldfarb of 61 East One Hundredth Street had been struck in the breast with the shaft of the wagon, and was severely bruised about the body and had her left leg broken. Both women were taken to the hospital. The others had their wounds dressed by the surgeon and were removed to their homes.

HORSE RUNS AWAY TWICE.

Was Being Driven Home After First Fright When He Bolted.

A horse owned by Robert Gnam of 204 East Twenty-eighth Street ran away twice yesterday, injuring one man the first time and two men the second time. They are William Wenker of 847 East Thirty-third Street, whose collarbone was broken; Paul Schriller of 847 East Thirty-third Street, whose head was cut, and Gnam, who received cuts on the head and bruises. The men were taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

Wenker was driving the horse, at Eighth Avenue and Fifty-first Street, in the afternoon, when the animal ran away and hit a lamppost, throwing him to the sidewalk. The horse was captured by a policeman.

Gnam and Schriller claimed the property last night, and were driving home when the animal took fright at Eighth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, and ran away again. He dashed down Fifty-ninth Street, turning the wagon into an "L" pillar at Sixth Avenue.

When the collision came Gnam and Schriller were flung to the pavement. They were taken to the hospital in an ambulance, and the horse, which was stopped again by a policeman, was tied up in a stable with the still more damaged wagon.

IRON LION SCARES A DOG.

Chicago Department Store Image Throws Animal into a Fit.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—"Sport," a Great Dane dog, owned by Godfrey Johnson, threw Christmas shoppers into a panic at Washington and State Streets this afternoon. Johnson brought the dog down town for exercise, and all went well with the man and dog until the corner of Washington Street was reached and the dog found himself beside one of the big iron lions that guarded the door of a department store.

The minute "Sport" saw the lion he went into a fit. With a howl of fear he bounded out into the middle of the street. In his dash for the street through the crowd the dog upset a half-dozen women, who carried arms full of purchases, and they added to the noise incident to the dog's discovery of the lion. Johnson had a hard time catching and quieting the dog, but many women will always believe that the animal was mad.

ELEPHANT CLIMBS THE STAIRS.

Ascends Three Flights of Steps After Taking a Drink and a Cigar.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Barney, a ton-and-a-half live elephant, walked into the Chicago Athletic Association this afternoon, waved the attendants to one side with his giant trunk, picked up an imported cigar from the cigar stand, and then started up the marble stairway. After he had ascended three flights of steps he made himself comfortable on the fourth floor, where he spent te-night munching hay.

Barney in his feat had the assistance of a stimulant, being "a little nip" of a gallon or so of whisky, well sweetened with molasses. He was then safely chained to a post on the gymnasium floor alongside four lions, a cage of snakes, raccoons, and a score of other wild beasts.

All of this animal aggregation was brought from the Lincoln Park Zoo early in the afternoon to form part of the "Monster Menagerie of Beasts Famous for Their Beauty, Ferocity, or Scarcity," which will be on exhibition to-night, when the clubhouse doors are thrown open on the "Second annual C. A. A. Circus."

The bills describe the show as "Multitudinous, Overwhelming, Indescribable Crush of Amazing Gymnic, Acrobatic, Spectacular, Aerial, and Hippodramatic Sensations."

POSTMASTER GIVES UP OFFICE.

Trouble with Woman Secretary Causes New Orleans Man to Resign.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 18.—As the outcome of an exposé of a sensational nature, J. R. G. Pitkin, Postmaster of New Orleans, has sent his resignation to the President. No charges had been made against Pitkin in the courts here, but revelations in connection with the arrest of his private secretary, a woman, who was charged by him with stealing papers and documents brought to light certain letters, claimed the woman to have been written by Pitkin and sent through the mails while he was Postmaster, the nature of which involved a violation of the postal laws.

There is no doubt expressed here that the President will accept the resignation. Already the office seekers are scrambling over the anticipated appointment.

This Year's Cotton Crop in Texas.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 18.—The estimate of the Texas Agricultural Department of the total yield of cotton in Texas this year was made public to-day. It is placed at 3,250,000 bales. This estimate is based on careful personal investigation on the part of Commissioner Jefferson Johnson and on reports received by the department from various points in the cotton belt of the State.

Deerfoot Farm Sausages
Made of the tender meat of little pigs and choice spices. You have never tasted sausage in perfection unless you have tried them. Beware of imitation.—Adv.

CHINA NEGOTIATIONS SEEM TANGLED UP

Cable Error in Official Dispatch Made the Muddle Worse.

BRITISH ATTITUDE NOT CLEAR

Mystery as to How the Word "Irrevocable" Got Into the Protocol—Envoys to Meet in Peking To-day.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—"Great Britain's proposed alterations in the preamble of the joint note have been practically accepted by all the powers," says the Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring Monday. "Both Russia and Japan, whose support was regarded as doubtful, have agreed. Only the attitude of the United States remains as yet not clearly defined, but the acquiescence of America is anticipated, and it is probable that the joint note will be signed and delivered to the Chinese Plenipotentiaries within three or four days. The German Minister has warmly supported the British proposal."

Just what Great Britain's "proposed alterations" are, or even whether she has recently insisted on any alterations at all, cannot be stated. The whole question of the joint note is at present wrapped in mystery, which the dispatches from Peking certainly do nothing to illumine.

Mr. Choate, the United States Ambassador, had a long conference yesterday afternoon regarding the Chinese situation with the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the Marquis of Lansdowne, and subsequently Henry White, Secretary of the United States Embassy, paid a visit to the Foreign Office. Secrecy is maintained as to the outcome of these consultations. What little could be learned from British and American sources varied considerably, the former expressing annoyance and anxiety, the latter maintaining that nothing serious was developing. Some slight explanation, however, was gathered as to the extraordinary tangle in which the Chinese negotiations have recently been.

It appears that, over a week ago, the powers came to an agreement to eliminate the word "irrevocable" from the joint note. Then, when it was believed that everything had been settled, objections were raised. It is reported that at first Great Britain, for the sake of harmony, although much against her will, agreed to reinsert the "irrevocable" clause. In this attitude, it is believed, she was supported by the United States.

Once more the joint note seemed on the verge of signature, when a misunderstanding arose in Peking. This confused the Governments and formed the subject of the dispatch from Secretary Hay which Mr. Choate transmitted to the Marquis of Lansdowne to-day. As the result of the interview, Mr. Choate has sent a long cablegram to Secretary Hay, in which he attributes the latest misunderstanding to an error in wording, in instructions—an error which occurred presumably through the cable company, and which caused Minister Conger and Sir Ernest M. Satow (the British Minister in Peking) to take opposite views, although their Home Governments were perfectly agreed.

The British Foreign Office officials now profess to be at sea as to whether the conditions are to be "irrevocable" or otherwise. They add that if the demands are to be "irrevocable" this in no way necessitates an enforcement of the demands by European troops. To such a course Great Britain cannot and will not agree.

Consequently compliance with the "irrevocable" clause would be somewhat of a farce on the part of Great Britain, and this feature of the case becomes more interesting when taken in conjunction with the statement authoritatively made here that Great Britain and the United States are in the same boat in the joint-note negotiations.

PEKING, Dec. 18.—It is now understood that a meeting of the foreign envoys will be held to-morrow.

ROME, Dec. 18.—A Peking dispatch, dated to-day, says the Ministers at Peking will meet to-morrow, when, probably, a final agreement will be reached as to the text of the joint Chinese note.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Peking dispatch to The Daily Mail of London, stating that Great Britain insists upon the "retention" of the word "irrevocable" in the protocol, is entirely erroneous. At the State Department it is suggested that either the correspondent was misinformed or his dispatch became disterted in transmission.

The United States has no interest in Great Britain's suggestion that garrisons be retained in Pe-chi-Li, for the American legation guard at Peking cannot be called a garrison, although it has been assisting in the work of the foreign detachments. This, however, is a secondary matter with Great Britain herself. Her main desire is that the word "irrevocable" shall be stricken out, because of the grave consequences which its retention would involve. In this the United States stands with her.

A mystery still unexplained is why, at the beginning of last week, Great Britain imagined that the word "irrevocable" was not in the protocol. There may be some interesting developments when this point is cleared up.

TUNG CONTROLS THE COURT.

Famous Mohammedan General Said to be Virtual Dictator—Is an Able Commander.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—A Peking dispatch to The Pall Mall Gazette, dated Dec. 17, says:

"The situation has not improved by the representatives of the powers having reached an agreement, as the scope of the negotiations is limited and the effect is neutralized. The allies have neglected to close the arsenals and factories at Han-Kow and Shanghai, and have failed to check the transmission of supplies of ammunition of the Chinese.

"Tung-Fu-Siang thus has every opportunity of rallying and equipping his army. He has secured the position of dictator, terrorizes the Empress, and controls all the movements of troops.

"It will be necessary to give the military operations of the allies a wider area."

"An experienced General with whom I conversed to-day," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring Monday, "considers a settlement by next Spring improbable. He foresees some danger of complications here that will disturb the peace of Europe."

Gen. Tung-Fu-Siang is regarded as by far the ablest and most powerful of the Chinese Generals. It is a remarkable fact, and one which perhaps explains his ability as a leader, that he is neither a Chinaman nor a Manchu, but was born in Central Asia among a Mohammedan people. This remarkable man's early career is unknown to Western writers upon China, but it is said that some ten years ago he was a Brigadier General in Aksu, Kashgaria. When he next appears on the scene it is in a more important capacity, that of the commander to whom was intrusted the task of subduing the Tun-Gan rebellion in the Province of Kiang-Su. It is said that he became known to the Imperial authorities through having, while the Japanese war was in progress, brought a considerable force from Central Asia for the defense of Peking.

Tung was conspicuously successful in subduing the Tun-Gan rising, and was officially thanked in the Peking Gazette. He is a man of such great activity that he was unwilling to remain at Peking, and a special post was created for him—that of the command of the troops in Shen-Si, Shan-Se, and Kiang-Su.

Occidentals familiar with China declared last Spring, when Gen. Tung returned to Peking at the head of 10,000 troops, largely recruited from ex-Mohammedans, that this was a warning of coming trouble that ought not to be neglected. Since the anti-foreign outbreak came to a head, Tung has been the one commander who has achieved any success against the allies, and if, as is reported, he now controls the Imperial Court, the task of the powers may be a very serious one.

FRANCE TO RETURN ALL BOOTY.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—In addition to the order directing that the cases filled with Chinese loot, sent to President Loubet and others by Gen. Frey, Commander of the French marine forces in China, shall be embargoed at Marseilles when they are unshipped, the Government has decided that all objects, unless material of war, which have been seized or shall be seized by the French expeditionary force in China shall be restored, whether belonging to the Chinese Government or to private individuals.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES $1,500,000

University of Chicago to Use $1,000,000 for Endowment Fund—Freedom of Speech for Professors.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—At the convocation exercises of the University of Chicago to-day President Harper announced that John D. Rockefeller had made another gift of $1,500,000 to the institution.

Of thus sum $1,000,000 is to be used as an endowment fund and the university is to derive the benefit of the income of it from year to year. It is also stipulated that the $1,000,000 is to be in the university's name and is to be considered its absolute property for all time.

The balance of the gift is to be used for immediate purposes and for general needs. Mr. Rockefeller suggests that $100,000 of the $500,000 be used for the construction of a university press building, a large part of the structure to be devoted to a library.

Before making public Mr. Rockefeller's latest gift Dr. Harper upheld in emphatic terms the right of the professors of the University of Chicago to freedom of speech. The earnestness with which he declared that no donor might interfere with the speech of any of the instructors of the university, coming as it did just before the announcement of an additional gift from Mr. Rockefeller, was especially significant. He said:

"Whatever may have happened in other universities, in the University of Chicago neither the Trustees, nor the President, nor any one in official position, has at any time called an instructor to account for any public utterances which he may have made.

"In order not to be misunderstood, I wish to say that no donor of funds to the university, and I include in the number of donors the founder of the university, Mr. Rockefeller, has ever by a single word or act indicated his dissatisfaction with the instruction given to the students of the university or with the public expression of opinion made by an officer of the university. I vouch for the truth of this statement, and I trust it may have the largest possible publicity."

FIRE TRUCKS HIT BY CARS.

Two Hook and Ladder Crews Meet with Accidents at the Same Hour.

Two hook and ladder trucks, responding to the same alarm of fire, were run into by street cars at almost exactly the same time, in different parts of the city, yesterday afternoon.

Hook and Ladder Truck No. 21, with quarters at 432 West Thirty-sixth Street, was struck at Forty-ninth Street and Seventh Avenue. Tillerman Martin J. Murphy was thrown to the ground, receiving a fractured hip and dislocated shoulder. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital. Both the car and the truck were seriously damaged and the passengers in the former were badly frightened. Traffic was delayed. James Kilcullen, gripman of the cable car, was arrested.

The other collision was at Madison Avenue and Fifty-third Street. Truck No. 2, with quarters at Fiftieth Street and Lexington Avenue, was struck by a south-bound electric car. It was hit fairly in the side and overturned, Driver Joseph Arencau being thrown from his seat. Other firemen saved themselves by jumping. Arencau was considerably bruised. The car stood the shock pretty well, but the truck will have to lay up for repairs. Motorman Thomas Foley was arrested.

BIG PRICE FOR ROAD BUILDING.

Union Pacific Will Pay $6,000,000 for Forty-five Miles of Track.

Special to The New York Times.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming, Dec. 18.—The Union Pacific Railroad has awarded a contract to Kilpatrick Brothers & Collins of Lincoln, Neb., to build forty-five miles of road from Evanston, Wyoming, on its main line to Salt Lake City. The price to be paid for the work is $6,000,000, and four years have been allowed in which to complete the task.

The route of the proposed road, which will shorten the distance between Omaha and Salt Lake over twenty-five miles, is through the most rugged part of the Wasatch Mountains. The work will be almost entirely in rock, and many tunnels will be constructed. Aside from being one of the largest pieces of work ever contracted by a Western railway, engineers regard the project as a stupendous undertaking.

RIPON COLLEGE'S NEW BUILDING

Ingram Hall, the Gift of O. H. Ingram of Eau Claire, Dedicated.

Special to The New York Times.

RIPON, Wis., Dec. 18.—Ingram Hall, to be devoted to scientific study, the gift to Ripon College of O. H. Ingram of Eau Claire, was dedicated here to-day with appropriate ceremonies. The building is a handsome structure, and will compare favorably with university buildings throughout the country.

Mr. Ingram, through whose generosity Ripon College has profited so much, is a representative lumberman of Wisconsin. He was left fatherless when eleven years old, and went from his home in Massachusetts to work for a New York farmer for his board and clothing. When twenty years old he began work in the New York woods for $12 a month. Then he became a Superintendent of log cutting, and from that drifted into mill building and removed to Wisconsin, where he has amassed a fortune.

OFFICER MAY DIE AT SEA.

Capt. Butler, Wounded in China, Sick and Homeward Bound.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Capt. Smedley D. Butler, the young officer who was so frequently mentioned for gallantry in the actions in China, is on the way to this country in a dangerous condition, and may not live to reach port. He is a son of Representative Butler of Pennsylvania and is a Captain in the Marine Corps.

Capt. Butler was wounded at the battle of Tien-Tsin, but recovered sufficiently to participate in the march to Peking, although far from well. At the taking of Peking he was again wounded. Subsequently he was attacked by typhoid fever. He was reported convalescent on Nov. 10, and on Nov. 11 was transferred from the shore hospital to the cruiser Brooklyn and sent to Manila. He again became ill, and was in a bad way when the transport Grant sailed from Manila on Dec. 1. He is on the sick list of that transport.

The Grant is due in San Francisco on Jan. 1, and Representative Butler is about to leave Washington for San Francisco in order to be there when the transport arrives and learn if his son is alive.

As a Food 'tis Appreciated!
EVANS' ALE.—Adv.

SENATE EXPECTED TO RATIFY CANAL TREATY

Great Britain Will Approve It as Amended, It Is Believed.

FORAKER'S DEFENSE OF HAY

Says He Only Followed Policy of This Government—Canal Would Be Safe Without Forts, He Asserts.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Before the adjournment of the Senate to-morrow it is expected by the majority of that body that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty or what is left of that convention will be ratified, and the men who speak more confidently of the prospect are sure that the treaty, as amended, will be approved by Great Britain. Debate seems to have worn the Senate weary, for there were no Senators who desired to speak after 3 o'clock to-day, and the Senate adjourned for the last time before winding up the most interesting business it has had before it this session.

The tone of the majority of the Senators is not only confident, but it assumes that the British Government will be about as well satisfied with the treaty as it has been shaped in executive session as if the British Ambassador had himself, with the sanction of the British Foreign Office, suggested that the United States convert the instrument from one intended to secure a neutralized canal into one primarily to give the United States superior advantages for making war upon possible enemies.

A great deal of gossip has been heard here about the influences at work for the transcontinental railroads to prevent the adoption of any treaty or bill that will forward the Nicaragua Canal, and some talk has been made now and then about the sympathetic co-operation of the Panama Canal Company that would like to see the Nicaragua Canal scheme beaten in order to give the Panama canal a chance.

Local newspaper publications have from time to time lent some color of probability to the reports that the Panama Canal Company seeks aid here, and the talk cropped up again to-day after Senator Tillman had introduced a resolution in open session calling for information about a possible concession across Colombia. This resolution drove the Senate into executive session, as it was not considered proper business to be discussed in legislative session, having intimate relation to the discussion proceeding upon the treaty.

This Panama opposition and the railroad opposition to the canal are not expected to develop in force to-morrow, but some of the Senators who intend to vote for ratification, with the committee amendments adopted, are not over clear about voting for the Canal bill. As that measure is not to come up until after the holidays, and will then be subject to interruption by appropriation bills, which are to be very carefully considered this session, the day for a vote on the Canal bill cannot be predicted even approximately.

Every day brings a new form of assertion that Secretary Hay is to leave the Cabinet. From a very high officer of the Government, the semi-official statement has been made that Secretary Hay has never thought of leaving the Cabinet, and that the President has no idea of accepting his resignation at the instigation of those who have protracted and ugly fight on him ever since he entered the Department of canal even though it should not be fortified, for it was absurd, he said, to suppose that any enemy would attempt to sail its ships through a canal 175 miles long and owned, controlled, and policed by this country when actual hostilities were in progress. In this connection he referred to the fate of the Maine, which was on a peaceful mission and had been anchored in a harbor of a country with which at the time the United States was at peace.

Senator Morgan traversed much of the ground he had covered in his previous arguments in support of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. He referred to the protocols agreed upon between Nicaragua and Costa Rica regarding the canal, and said that the ratification of the Hay treaty is a debt we owe to them. Those countries, if they should see fit, might rise up and refuse to allow us to do anything; hence we could not afford to do anything that would offend them. For this reason he would have the neutrality of the canal assured and the pending treaty ratified.

REPORT ON CANAL SUBMITTED.

Senate Committee Strongly Approves Hepburn Bill—Cession of Land Would Destroy Nicaragua.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Senator Morgan, (Dem., Ala.,) Chairman of the Senate Committee on Interoceanic Canals, to which was referred the preliminary report of the Isthmian Canal Commission, to-day submitted a partial report thereon, in connection with the protocols of agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua, relating to the proposed canal, which were submitted recently to the Senate. In the course of the report it is said that the statement of the Walker commission and the protocols referred to have a direct bearing upon what is known as the Hepburn bill, now on the Senate calendar. The report says:

"That bill is a declaration of the policy of the United States for a canal under control of this Government. It is the law of necessity rather than the expectation of profit or advantage to the United States that compels us to construct, own, and control a ship canal through Costa Rica and Nicaragua, and the geographical relation of those States to our country and the prestige of the United States among American Governments point to us as the power that must incur the expenditure and be invested with the authority to control the canal, as a marine highway for ships of all nations.

"The assured profits of this enterprise in money, calculated on a basis that is even much larger than is indicated in any report that has estimated the cost, are a sufficient justification of the expenditure that is necessary to acquire the right of way and to construct the canal.

"As the basis and precedent to the accomplishment of this great task of duty, the United States must first acquire from Costa Rica and Nicaragua by agreement the right to construct, own, control, and manage the canal. In doing this we must fully recognize their sovereign independence and authority over these countries, respectively, and deal with them without any attempt at encroachment on their national rights."

After discussing the Hepburn bill briefly, the report proceeds:

"This duty [that of constructing the canal] enjoined on the President is a distinct recognition of the sovereignty of those States and their ownership of the country through which the canal is to be constructed. The President is not empowered or advised to encroach upon the sovereignty of those States. The acquisition of the sovereign ownership of a tract of country, including the line of the canal, would separate Nicaragua into two parts, between which the sovereignty of the United States would be interposed.

CESSION OF LAND IMPOSSIBLE.

"An act more fatal to her autonomy cannot be conceived, and if her Government had the power to do this, under her Constitution, which forbids any cession of territory to a foreign State, the severance of her territory by such mutilation would destroy its territorial integrity, and with it the republic. Such an effort is beyond the purpose of the House bill, and is unnecessary to the enjoyment of any privilege or right that relates to the ownership, control, or management of the canal.

"The House bill deals with our own National policy, defining it clearly, and writes it on the statute book, which is the highest record of the political and international policy of the United States.

"In making this declaration of the policy and purposes of the United States, and in supplying the President with the means of executing the law, the House bill proceeds on the assumption that there are no obstacles in the way of its full, just, and peaceful enforcement. This line of action commends itself to all who sincerely desire to execute the will of the American people in the construction of a ship canal, placing its ownership, control, and management in the Government of the United States.

"If the Senate shall acquiesce with the House in the passage of this bill it would be a movement of such force as will draw after it the settlement of any international difficulties that may exist without friction or danger to the peace and good-will that exists between the United States and other nations."

The report declares that by the treaty of 1867 between the United States and Nicaragua the United States is prohibited from exercising a permanent military occupation of that State, but "we have the right to enter Nicaragua with military forces to protect a canal through the State at the request of Nicaragua."

Attention is directed to a treaty between Great Britain and Nicaragua that contains the identical provisions of the American treaty of 1867.

"If that treaty remains," the report says, "Nicaragua cannot grant us the ownership, control, and management of a canal in her territory that is free from all military interference or control by Great Britain."

The report then discusses at length the operation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and refers to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty now pending in the Senate. The House, the report maintains, has the right to expect the Senate to take action upon the pending canal bill, and such action "is the proper way in which to preserve the honor and true dignity of the United States."

GREAT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

Proceeding, the report says the passage of the Hepburn bill by an almost unanimous vote in the House must have called for a protest from Great Britain if that Government considers that any right of hers is in conflict with that measure. If the passage of that measure through the Senate calls forth such a protest, then will be the appropriate time for its consideration and for taking measures to answer it. Until then this country can never know the grounds of the objection that Great Britain may choose to make.

"The Senate, engaged in a negotiation with Great Britain which may or may not result in an agreement, cannot refuse to consider a bill so important to the country as the House Bill No. 2,538 merely to await the pleasure of one-third of that body. The Senate, as a part of the treaty-making power, has no more just right to suspend legislation and this subject than the President, who is the other part of that power, has to suspend legislation by his order."

Adverting to any supposed relation Costa Rica and Nicaragua may have to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the report declares:

"These States were not prohibited by the Clayton-Bulwer treaty from disposing of canal privileges or other entire territory, if their people so desire, to the United States or to any other power, for the reason that they are not parties to that treaty. If such was the purpose of that treaty, it failed, not only for that reason, but also because it was flagrant usurpation on the part of the great nations that made the agreement and was condemned, as it still is reprobated by the morality of nations.

"Whether we will abide by and perform such a covenant is a conflict between morals and manners that our people will not suffer to deprive them of commercial liberty, the security of peace, and the pursuit of happiness."

HAY DREW UP THE TREATY.

British Ambassador Accepted It Without the Slightest Change—Secretary to Fight His Enemies.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—It was announced to-day that Great Britain had nothing to do with the drafting of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The treaty as it went to the Senate was exactly as Secretary Hay wrote it, without the slightest modification by Great Britain. This announcement was made at the State Department, and it is taken to indicate that Secretary Hay means to give battle to his enemies.

The Secretary does not wish any excuses to be made for him to the effect that he was forced into signing the treaty by Great Britain. He considers that there is nothing to apologize for in the agreement, and is willing to accept the full responsibility. By permitting the statement to go out that he and he alone is responsible for the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, that instead of being a Hay-Pauncefote treaty it is really a Hay treaty, the Secretary of State flings down the gauntlet to his enemies and expresses his willingness to fight for the justice of his cause.

This is the generally accepted interpretation to-night of the State Department's admission. It will come as a surprise to many of Mr. Hay's enemies, who have been in the habit of regarding him as too easy-going and amiable a gentleman to put up much of a fight. The scheme of elbowing a Cabinet officer out of his place by indirect attack, by hint, by often-repeated rumor that he would soon resign, is well known, and some of Mr. Hay's secret enemies expected an easy prey.

The only part which Lord Pauncefote had in making the treaty to which his name is attached, jointly with Mr. Hay's, was to transmit it to his Government and to sign it. "It was accepted by the British Government," said the official who made the statement, "exactly as it was drawn up by the State Department. There was not the change of the dotting of an 'i' or the crossing of a 't.' When it reached the Senate it was exactly as it first came from the State Department, where it originated."

This puts an end to all rumors that the British Government forced or cajoled the State Department into signing the treaty. It was an American proposition, and it represented what the Secretary of State considered a fair, honest, and American treaty.

The State Department's frank statement disposes of all attempts to show that Mr. McKinley accepted the treaty as the best he could get. He knew what was in it while it was being drawn up, and when he transmitted it to the Senate he knew that it was a Hay treaty, not a Pauncefote treaty. He did not yield to it as a necessary but unpleasant concession to Great Britain, for he knew that it originated in his own State Department, and that there was not a single British suggestion or idea in it.

BRITISH OPINION CHANGING?

Fortification Question Said to be Not Material—Odd Comment by The London Times.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Henry Labouchère, discussing the Hay-Pauncefote canal treaty in Truth, says:

"Although theoretically we are not masters of the Suez Canal, we are so practically, owing to our tenure in Egypt and our hold of the Red Sea. I do not think the United States Senate is wrong in inserting the Davis amendment.

"The questions are therefore, first, whether we ought to risk creating ill-feeling toward us on the part of the United States, and, second, whether we should not be gainers by the construction of the canal even if it were in the military occupation of the United States."

Having answered the first question in the negative and the second in the affirmative, he concludes as follows:

"Great Britain would be wise in accepting the amended treaty."

Sir Charles Dilke, in an interview published this morning in The Daily Chronicle, emphasizes the fact that other countries besides Great Britain are interested in the Nicaragua Canal. He points out that France is interested by treaty, and Germany by trading enterprises, so that the question cannot be treated, in his opinion, as merely one between Great Britain and the United States.

No great importance is attached by Sir Charles to the question of fortification or the position of the canal in time of war. He thinks the matter is essentially and entirely commercial, and that the fortification issue is being used as a "stalking horse for the public."

The Times, commenting upon the "misconception in the United States of England's calm attitude regarding the Hay-Pauncefote treaty," says:

"The idea that this calmness is due to indifference is absurd, and betrays a curious unfamiliarity with English habits and methods. We are not disturbed, simply because we cannot bring ourselves to believe that a one-sided denunciation of a solemn international agreement, solely and confessedly because it is inconvenient, will commend itself either to President McKinley, Mr. Hay, or the American people.

"If Mr. McKinley stands by the Hay-Pauncefote arrangement, the action of the Senate will not acquire international importance. He has just been re-elected and holds a strong position, and if he has the courage of his convictions he has only to exercise his undoubted Constitutional rights in order to render the proceedings of the Senate innocuous. If he appeals boldly to the people, can it be doubted that they would support him?"

COLOMBIA TO MAKE AN OFFER.

COLON, Colombia, Dec. 18.—Advices from Bogota say a Minister of Colombia will shortly proceed to Washington, there to enter into negotiations for opening the canal in course of construction across the Isthmus of Panama. Colombia reserving national sovereignty and guaranteeing free transit to the nations of the world.

FIVE TREATIES RATIFIED.

Senate Disposes of Minor Conventions in Short Order.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Previous to taking up the Hay-Pauncefote treaty today the Senate, for the purpose of clearing its calendar, disposed of several other treaties of comparatively little importance. Five conventions in all were ratified.

Among the documents thus disposed of was an agreement supplementary to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty itself and extending the time within which it may be ratified. Under the terms of the original treaty the time for ratification expired five months ago. The agreement favorably passed upon to-day extends the time until the 4th of March, during which the treaty may be completed. Senator Lodge, who had the matter in charge, manifested some anxiety over this treaty and evidently was relieved when it went through without a dissenting voice.

The other treaties which were ratified were as follows:

Extending for one year the time within which the commercial treaty with Argentina may be ratified.

Extending for a year the time within which the treaty with Great Britain for reciprocity with Jamaica may be ratified.

The new extradition treaties with Bolivia and Chile.

AMNESTY BILL PASSED.

Adopted by French Chamber by Big Majority After All Night Session.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—The Chamber of Deputies, after an all-night session, adopted the Amnesty bill by a vote of 356 to 2.

The benefits of the measure extend to offenses connected with strikes, public meetings of associations, and the troubles in Algeria in 1897-8, in addition to cases arising out of the Dreyfus agitation.

The decision of the Cabinet to conclude the discussion met with much opposition from the Rightists, who desired a postponement until Thursday. This was largely due to the late sitting. Hours were wasted in voting by ballot, and, as time progressed, each vote showed the number of Deputies in the Chamber to be dwindling. Toward 2:30 A. M. it was found that there was no quorum, and it was necessary, in order to obtain a quorum, to open the sixth sitting. The ballot this time was valid, whatever the number of voters.

Under these conditions the bill was adopted. Four hundred and thirty-three Deputies were absent.

The only incident which aroused the somnolent Chamber was a violent attack by Joseph Lasies upon M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the Premier, who was accused of abandoning the Dreyfus family, out of which, M. Lasies said, the Premier had made a fortune.

Several times M. Lasies was called to order, and finally he was censured.

NEPTUNE TRANSFORMED.

Old Father Neptune appeared one day
'Mid the Nereids frolicking at their play,
Smiling, and shaven as smooth as a friar;
The Nereids gazed in astonishment dire.
But the kindly old King, with a nod and a smile,
Reassured them 'twas he, as he held up a phial:
"Extrait Vegetal, from the famous Pinaud;
It fell overboard just a few hours ago,
"And I couldn't resist, e'en my long beard to save,
The delight that it brings to one after a shave.
And here—" with a twinkle he tossed them a prize
That brought a quick sparkle of joy to their eyes
And the mariners caught a faint shout from below
As the nymphs read the name on the package—PINAUD.
And each carried off, with a merry refrain,
A bottle of exquisite Violette Reine.

No Christmas Table COMPLETE WITHOUT
The World-Renowned Appetizer & Invigorator.

DR. SIEGERT'S ANGOSTURA BITTERS.
The only genuine.
IMPORTED FROM
Port of Spain,
Trinidad, B. W. I.
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS AND DOMESTIC SUBSTITUTES.

SOME CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PRACTICES

Cases of Contagious Diseases Not Reported to Health Board.

Witnesses in Brush Will Suit Also Show Persons Qualify as "Healers" for $100 Fee and a Two Weeks' Course.

When Christian Science healers treat contagious diseases they do not notify the Department of Health that such cases exist, as it is against the rules of their Church, although it is one of the laws and rules which are mandatory as to all regular physicians. This fact was brought out yesterday at the hearing of the contest of the will of Miss Helen C. Brush before Surrogate Fitzgerald. In addition to this violation of the laws, there were many other points in the practice of the "Scientists" disclosed, including the fact that it takes a fee of $100 and a two weeks' course for a person to become qualified to "heal."

It was also brought out that in addition to leaving the residue of her estate, worth more than $50,000, to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Miss Brush was induced by Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, the first reader of the Church, to donate over $6,000 to the Church, and also to loan it $5,000. The contest is made on the grounds that the "Scientists" used undue influence in order to get her to make these gifts.

George W. De Lano, the lawyer who drew the contested will and who is a trustee of the Church, finished his testimony on cross-examination. He said that Mrs. Stetson received a salary of $5,000 a year for her work as first reader, and that $1,500 was paid to the second reader.

"Do you know how much money Miss Brush contributed to the Church before her death?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied.

After this answer there was a legal fencing match between the lawyer-witness and John M. Bowers, counsel for the contestants. The Treasurer's books were placed in Mr. De Lano's hands, but he said he knew nothing about them.

"What do you know about the Church?"

"Everything."

"Is it not your duty as a Trustee and a member of the Building Committee to inquire as to the means by which a new church could be built?"

"It certainly is."

"Now, cannot you tell us about the subscriptions made by Miss Brush?"

"I cannot. The Treasurer knows all about them."

"Will this refresh your memory?" said Mr. Bowers, and he produced a check signed by Miss Brush, and dated Dec. 29, 1899. It was payable to Mrs. Stetson and called for $5,000. Mrs. Stetson had turned the check over to the Church.

"I do remember," said the witness, "that Miss Brush subscribed $5,000 at a meeting where there were twenty-five or thirty people present."

WITNESS TELLS HIS AGE AT LAST.

"What's your age?" suddenly asked Mr. Bowers. Heretofore the witness has replied:

"Before Abraham was I am."

"Do you really wish to know?" asked the witness.

"Certainly."

"Well, if you wish to know, I am fifty-five years old."

"Are you a healer?"

"I heal sometimes."

"You can practice as a healer without a certificate?"

"Oh, yes."

"Did you ever get a certificate?"

"Yes."

"Who presided over the class in which you studied?"

"Mrs. Stetson. That was about twelve years ago."

"Did you talk with Miss Brush about the disposal of her personal property, such as books, furniture, clothing, and jewelry, when you drew her will?"

"No, Sir."

"You knew she had these things?"

"Yes."

"You also knew that unless she made specific bequests of them they would go to the church as part of the residue estate?"

"Yes."

"Is it not usual for you to call attention of clients making wills to the law governing the disposal of property?"

The witness in a lengthy explanation said he did when the clients came to his office, but as the will of Miss Brush was an extraordinary matter, he did not call her attention to the law as to residuary legacies and what the residue included.

A letter from Miss Brush written to her sister, Mrs. Findlay, in January, 1899, was put in evidence. In this letter Miss Brush complained that her family criticised her because she had become a Christian Scientist.

Following this, William Rand, Jr., counsel for the church, and Mr. Bowers indulged in a controversy. Mr. Rand insisted that Mr. Bowers was trying to prove that his clients were "suffering from insane delusions" because they believed in Christian Science, and he wanted the Court to allow him to show how many members there were in the world. Mr. Bowers replied that already some of the witnesses had "shown themselves to be fanatics" and that he wanted to confine his inquiry to the First Church and its first reader, Mrs. Stetson, and show the methods used to obtain Miss Brush's estate. Mr. Rand was not allowed to go into a general discussion of the church.

Joseph B. Whitney, the Treasurer of the church, testified that in March, 1899, Miss Brush gave $25 to the church, on April 15 $1,000 more, and in December, 1899, the five-thousand-dollar check. All these sums were given through Mrs. Stetson. Mr. Whitney also said that in February, 1899, Miss Brush loaned the church $5,000.

"What fee is paid to teachers of Christian Science in order to learn to become a healer?"

"The fee is $100. I paid that amount to Mrs. Stetson."

Ethelinda Dietz was the next witness. She testified that she had been taken to Miss Brush's home by Mrs. Stetson for the purpose of aiding in healing Miss Brush when she was ill of pneumonia.

"When did you first see Miss Brush?"

"It was in 1896."

"What did Mrs. Stetson order you to do there?"

"I was told to go and watch the case. That meant that I was to assist Mrs. Stetson, who was in charge of the case. When I first went to the house Miss Brush was only partially conscious."

GAVE "IMPERSONAL TREATMENT."

"What treatment did you give her?"

"The impersonal treatment."

"What was the matter with her?"

"She had pneumonia."

"What do you mean by 'impersonal' treatment?"

"In the third person, so to speak. I was representing Mr. Stetson. Sometimes I gave the audible treatment—that is, declaring aloud the statements we use, which are found in 'Science and Health.'"

"Where was Miss Brush when you went to treat her?"

"She was in bed, and she had a high temperature."

"How do you know her temperature was high?"

"By intuition."

"Have you ever been a trained nurse?"

"No."

"Did you perform the duties of a trained nurse while attending Miss Brush?"

"Yes."

The witness, in answer to further questions about attending Miss Brush, said that at the time her patient was living at 71 West Forty-seventh Street. She declared that Miss Brush's relatives showed prejudice against the treatment of Christian Science, and finally she was not allowed to go to the house. This was after Miss Brush had recovered. Finally Miss Brush moved away from her relatives and had only members of the First Church visit her.

"Have you ever treated contagious diseases?" the witness was asked.

"Yes."

"Did you make a report of such cases to the Department of Health?"

"No."

"What contagious diseases have you treated?"

"Diphtheria and measles."

"How many of each?"

"One case of diphtheria and three or four of measles."

"How about the diphtheria case?"

"That was by the 'absent treatment.' I received a letter telling me about the case."

"How did you treat the measles?"

"The parents of the children notified me that they were ill and I treated them."

"Have you ever reported such cases to the Department of Health?"

"No."

"Why?"

"It was not necessary."

"Did you ever have a physician helping treat them?"

"No, never."

"It's a custom of the Church not to report such cases?"

"Yes."

Counsel for the Church here interrupted the examination, declaring that the object of Mr. Bowers was to get evidence on which the County Medical Society could prosecute.

Miss Deitz said that she had learned to be a healer after two weeks' course under Mr. Stetson.

Agnes F. Bayle, who also attended Miss Brush, testified that she came here from England seven years ago in order to learn healing, and had taken the two weeks' course under Mr. Stetson. Both she and Miss Deitz made their living out of this occupation, charging $3 a day for their services. The witness said that she had gone to Miss Brush's house at the request of Mrs. Stetson, but that she did no real "healing," as that was left to Mr. Stetson because two "healers" could not work together on the same subject.

The witness was still on the stand when the case was adjourned until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

MR. DURYEA'S VIOLENCE.

Daughters Tell of Starch Manufacturer's Threats and Dissipation in the Hearing of the Contest of Will.

MINEOLA, L. I., Dec. 18.—There was evidence of increased interest over the will of Edgar E. Duryea, the starch manufacturer, when the hearing was resumed this morning, before Surrogate Seabury. The three daughters of Mr. Duryea, Mrs. Eva D. Thelberg, Mrs. Grace Sprigg, both with their husbands, and Mrs. Marcia V. D. Cox, were present.

Mrs. Cox was called as a witness, and said that Lawyer Payne was an intimate friend of her father, and exercised an influence over him. He drew up her father's will. She said she knew of her father's bad habits as far back as 1894. He frequently came home at midnight, she said, and sometimes later. The witness said she left boarding school in 1892 and married in 1893.

On cross-examination Mrs. Cox said when she married Mr. Cox he was employed as a bookkeeper at $25 per week, and continued to be employed as such for two years after their marriage. She admitted that he had not since done any work, and that he went to China for his health, and that she did not see him for about a year and a half. She now supposed that he was in the Klondike.

She told of an invitation to her and her husband to dinner at the Glen Cove house. When dinner was served Mr. Duryea had not yet arrived home, and when he did come he was intoxicated and ugly. He invited them into the library, and there had a quarrel with Mr. Cox. The two men clinched and fell on the floor, and rolled out into the hall. Mr. Cox was on top, and was forced to hold Mr. Duryea down by the wrists for two hours and a half, until he promised that he would not carry out his threat to kill everybody in the house. Mrs. Cox and the other women were forced to leave that part of the house.

Mrs. Cox said that after her husband went to China she hired a flat in Fiftieth Street, New York, and invited her father to make his home there while in the city during the Winter. In the Summer she went to the Glen Cove House, and remained there about four months.

Mrs. Thelberg, one of the daughters, testified that after her mother's death Mr. Payne told her that she must get her mother's will, by fair means or foul, and that if she did not he would induce her father to disinherit her. His threats were of no avail. She was present on Sept. 28, 1899, when her father made his will.

She said Mr. Thelberg was a chemist in the employ of Duryea Brothers, in Glen Cove. He was introduced to her by her father. He afterward was chemist of the Standard Oil Company at Long Island City. She received $7,000 from her father when she transferred her share under her mother's will. She did not know how much her sisters were paid.

In July, 1896, while in the house at Glen Cove, she heard Mr. Payne and her mother talking in the parlor. Mrs. Duryea had been contemplating obtaining a divorce from her husband on account of his cruel treatment and his dissipated habits, and it was for the purpose of reconciling Mrs. Duryea to her husband that Mr. Payne had called on Mrs. Duryea. She told Mr. Payne that if he knew the trials and hardships of the family he would not interfere with her mother in this matter. Mrs. Thelberg was nervous when she returned to her place beside her husband and sister.

Mrs. Sprigg asked to be excused from testifying to-day, as she said she had got up from a sickbed to come down here, and after listening to the testimony of her sisters all day she did not feel able to go on the stand, and the case was postponed until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Lawyer Thompson still has twelve or fifteen witnesses to examine, and the case promises to go over into next year.

PALMER M. WOOD DEAD.

Cashier of the Post Office in This City Dies After an Injury.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Palmer M. Wood, cashier of the New York City Post Office, died at his home, in this village, shortly after noon to-day, aged sixty years. He was formerly Clerk of the Assembly. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Wood was knocked down by a team in this city two weeks ago, and did not recover from the shock. He went home Thursday night and failed very rapidly until the end came. He had been connected with the Post Office only a short time, and was not intimately known to his associates.

LAUDS MR. HARRISON'S SPEECH.

Best Yet Made on Expansion Question, ex-President Cleveland Says.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 18.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland was asked to-day if he had read Mr. Harrison's speech at Ann Arbor. Mr. Cleveland replied:

"I saw a liberal synopsis of it in some of the papers and regard it as the best deliverance yet made on the subject which it discusses. It seems to me that those who desire to acquaint themselves with the precise question involved and what territorial expansion means to our Republic and what it threatens our people, cannot possibly be afforded a better means of enlightenment than ex-President Harrison has furnished."

CUCKOO CLOCKS.

For Dining Room, Hall or Library, as an ornament and timepiece, the Cuckoo Clock cannot be equalled. We have them in all sizes and styles. Also full Crystal, Onyx and Travelling Clocks.

Small Cottage design Cuckoo Clocks	$4.00	French Travelling Clocks With Strike or Repeating	$5.50 to $25.00 $20.00 to $100.00
Same Size, Carved	$5.00	Crystal Clocks	$20.00 to $85.00
Larger Carved Clocks	$7.00	Brazilian Onyx Clocks	$16.00 to $50.00
Other designs	from $8.00 to $50.00

Open Evenings till Xmas.

A. Frankfield & Co. Jewelers, Importers.
52 West 14th St., Near 6th Ave.

MEMORIAL FOR DR. STORRS.

The Rev. Washington Gladden and Seth Low Tell of His Many Good Qualities.

A large audience of representative Brooklyn people assembled last evening in Association Hall, Fulton and Bond Streets, to do honor to the memory of the Rev. Dr. Richard Salter Storrs, at a memorial service held under the auspices of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. A. Augustus Healy, the President, made the opening address, and introduced the other speakers, President Seth Low of Columbia University, and the Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden of Columbus, Ohio. The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Albert J. Lyman of the South Congregational Church, Brooklyn.

Dr. Gladden said in part: "To the memory of one who uttered nothing insincere or fulsome, who never praised what he did not honor, and never spoke what he did not think, this hour is set apart.

"But it is difficult for one who reads these masterpieces of historical study and feels the comprehension which they display of the great principles of our National life—the splendid statesmanship which they evince—it is difficult, I say, under this impression, to refrain from the wish that Richard Storrs had remained in the office of Rufus Choate and devoted his life to those larger services of the State to which he must have been summoned. That wish is vain, and possibly profane. Doubtless the man followed the light that never fails, and the glorious fruition of his choice, which to-night we celebrate, reproves us for even whispering the thought."

President Low, in his address, said: "Dr. Storrs, in Brooklyn, was not only the eloquent preacher, the good pastor, and the representative citizen, he was also, here and elsewhere, a teacher. Brooklyn is the poorer since he is gone. It is not believed, however, that the death of such a man is all loss. Being dead, he yet speaketh; and there are doubtless multitudes still in Brooklyn and elsewhere who will be moved by the inspiration of his words and life to a better citizenship and a nobler manhood.

IN MEMORY OF JUSTICE BEEKMAN.

Courts Have Adjourned Until After the Funeral Has Taken Place.

Justice Van Brunt, the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, yesterday adjourned that body until 10 o'clock to-morrrw on account of the death of Justice Henry R. Beekman.

In closing the court Justice Van Brunt said: "The loss of such a man is difficult to appreciate. It will be a great loss, not only to the bench which he adorned, but to the profession which he belonged."

The Justices of the Supreme Court have arranged to attend the funeral to-morrow morning. The Justices and attachés of the Supreme Court will meet in the vestibule of Calvary Church, at Twenty-first Street and Fourth Avenue, at 9:30 A. M., and march up the aisle in a body to the seats reserved for them in the church. All parts of the court will be adjourned on that day.

The Board of Managers of the Manhattan Club passed resolutions of regret at his death. Members are requested to meet at the clubhouse at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning to attend the funeral.

CHARLES C. BEAMAN'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services for Charles C. Beaman were held yesterday at 10 o'clock from Calvary Church, Fourth Avenue and Twentieth Street. The Rev. Dr. Parks, rector of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Huntington of Grace Church. The pall bearers were ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, Edward J. Jeffries, George L. Rives, James J. Higginson, George Blagden, James W. Alexander, Edward Wetmore, and Edward King.

In the church were delegations from the Union League, University, and Harvard Clubs, and from the New York City Bar Association, the latter having charge of the funeral arrangements.

After the services the body, accompanied by the family and a number of near friends, was taken by a special train to Windsor, Vt., where the interment will take place to-day.

DIES TO BAFFLE POLICE.

New Orleans Train Robber, Fearing Capture, Kills Himself.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 18.—With a gaping wound in the back and another in the left wrist inflicted by the police, Channing B. Barnes, train robber, drew the keen edge of a hunting knife across his throat in a swamp near this city to-day and ended his career.

Since the hold-up of the Chicago Limited Mail on the Illinois Central in the suburbs of this city Thursday night officers have searched in vain for two men who had escaped from them after a running fight near the scene of the hold-up. It was known that one was badly wounded and that he was compelled to drop a United States mail bag in his flight. In a swamp near by all traces of the men were lost, however.

Notwithstanding the officers felt sure the wounded man had not gone far, and to-day in the midst of the swamp they found his body. It bore two bullet wounds, one in the back, the other in the wrist. With a hunting knife the robber, knowing that his wounds were fatal and that escape from the swamp was impossible, had cut his own throat. In the pockets were found the watch of the conductor of the mail train, many registered letters, and a quantity of dynamite.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 18.—Charles W. Barnes, the father of Channing B. Barnes, the alleged train robber whose dead body is reported to have been found near New Orleans, resides here. Mrs. Barnes, the wife of Channing, is also here visiting her husband's parents. Both she and her father-in-law assert that Channing is in Spain and that he has not been near New Orleans.

Indiana Bank Robbed of $15,000.

HOPE, Ind., Dec. 18.—Kennedy's Bank was robbed early to-day by three men, who destroyed the vault with a heavy charge of nitro-glycerine, and secured, it is said, $15,000. So quietly was the job done that the robbers secured their plunder and were entering a carriage, which they had in waiting in a darkened part of the main street, on which the bank was situated, when their actions were observed by the operator in charge of the telephone exchange. The alarm was quickly spread and a posse of citizens began at once to scour the surrounding country. No trace of the robbers has been found.

New York's Leading Fur Establishment!
OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS. HALL OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS.

Our Holiday Sale of Furs

Is beyond question the event of the day. As the week progresses the sale assumes Extraordinary proportions. Could it be otherwise with prices like these for the most Reliable Furs?

Sealskin and Persian Coats.

Sealskin Coats,	$125 to $275
Persian Lamb Coats,	$75 to $200
Broadtail Persians,	$175 to $350
Electric Seal (Coney),	$25 to $50
Dark Eastern Mink Capes,	$175 to $250

Storm Collars.

Dark Eastern Mink,	$35 to $75
Persian Lamb,	$20 to $40
Sealskin,	$25 to $75
Chinchilla,	$50 to $100
Beaver,	$15 to $35
Black Marten,	$15 to $35
Mink,	$16 to $25
Alaska Sable (Skunk),	$15 to $35

New Large Muffs.

Dark Eastern Mink,	$18 to $45
Chinchilla,	$25 to $35
Alaska Sable (Skunk),	$7 to $12
Mink,	$9 to $20
Sealskin,	$18 to $30
Persian Lamb,	$5 to $25
Black Lynx,	$15 to $30
Brown Fox,	$12 to $25
Beaver,	$6 to $18
Blue Lynx,	$15 to $20
Electric Seal (Coney),	$3 to $5

Fur Scarfs.

Dark Eastern Mink,	$19 to $100
Hudson Bay Sable,	$35 to $75
Chinchilla,	$32 to $50
Brown Fox, Double,	$15 to $60
Blue Lynx, Cluster,	$15 to $22
Mink,	$5 to $25
Black Lynx,	$20 to $75
All Colors of Fox,	$10 to $30
Alaska Sable (Skunk),	$5 to $30
Electric Seal (Coney),	$4 to $7
Black and Cinnamon Bear Boas,	$25 to $50

Misses' and Children's Furs.

Children's Fur Sets,	$3 to $5
Misses' Fur Sets,	$5 to $15
Beaver Muffs,	$6
Nubia Beaver Muffs,	$5
Nearseal Muffs,	$2.25
Krimmer Muffs,	$5

Fur-Lined Overcoats, best melton and kersey cloths, lined with mink, sable or muskrat, trimmed with otter, beaver, Persian lamb or sealskin, $65 to $250.

Sealskin Gloves,	$8 to $16
Sealskin Caps,	$5 to $18
Coachmen's Capes,	$9 to $75
Men's Mufflers,	$4 to $16

Garments in a complete line of sizes from 32 to 50 bust. New Catalogue mailed free.

W. H. HALL, 346 Sixth Avenue.
(BETWEEN 21ST AND 22D STS.)

Guard Chains

Attention is directed to our jewelled chains, set with Pearls, Sapphires, Amethysts, Opals, Diamonds, Topaz, Garnets, and Turquoises.

Gold guard chains $10.00 to $40.00. Pearl chains $25.00 to $200.00. Diamond chains $75.00 to $600.00. Amethyst chains $14.00 to $50.00. Topaz chains $20.00 to $45.00. Opal chains $16.50 to $100.00. Turquoise chains $28.00 to $100.00. Garnet chains $18.00 to $45.00.

Theodore A. Kohn & Son
Jewellers
56 West 23d St.

Open Evenings until Christmas.

NEW MINISTER TO TURKEY.

John G. A. Leishman Nominated—Selection Does Not Mean that Dispute with Porte is Settled.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—John G. A. Leishman, now United States Minister to Switzerland, was selected to-day to be Minister to Constantinople, and his name was sent to the Senate by the President.

The appointment indicates that the United States is temporarily on friendly terms with Turkey, but does not indicate that the Armenian indemnity matter is settled. It will not be settled until the $90,000 owed by the Sultan is paid. But it is likely to be some time before this take place, and in the meantime it is regarded as desirable that the United States should be represented at Constantinople by a Minister instead of merely by a Chargé d'Affaires.

It is recalled that when Minister Straus came back to the United States and resigned, the impression was semi-officially given out that no Minister would be named to succeed him until the Turkish Government had met the American demands. After waiting a long time the Turkish Government itself was obliged to take notice of the diplomatic manifestation of the displeasure of the United States evidenced by the absence of Mr. Straus from Constantinople. Therefore it caused the announcement to be made that it had terminated the ministerial office of Ali Ferrouh Bey, the Minister resident here. To prevent the issue from becoming too acute it at the same time named Shekib Bey as Minister to Washington.

But Shekib thus far has not left Constantinople, and Ali Ferrouh Bey remains in Washington, although, as he frankly states, he is nothing more than a Chargé d'Affaires for the moment.

It is expected that Shekib Bey now will come to Washington, or that the former Minister will be recommissioned.

Oscar S. Straus, when seen last evening at his residence, 27 West Seventy-fourth Street, said:

"All the unsettled matters pending at the time of my appointment have been brought to a satisfactory stage, including the placing of a Consul at Erzeroum, the permit for the reconstruction of the college buildings at Harpoot, the right of our missionaries to travel in the interior of Turkey, which was interdicted after the Armenian troubles, and the reversal of the position taken by the Turkish Government regarding the liabilities for the Armenian indemnity, followed by the Sultan's thrice repeated promises to pay them, and finally the pending negotiations for the payment.

"The President, while desiring very much that I should return to Constantinople, was willing to respect my wishes to resign. He felt I had earned the right to remain at home as soon as my successor could be selected, which was done to-day.

"In fact," added Mr. Straus, "the Secretary of State, at the request of the President, wrote me only a few days ago expressing the President's desire on account of the difficulty in finding a suitable successor that I should return to Turkey, provided my duties permitted it, but I replied that that was impossible."

OTHER MINISTERS NOMINATED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The President to-day sent the following nominations to the Senate:

Arthur S. Hardy of New Hampshire, now Minister to Greece, Roumania, and Servia, to be Minister to Switzerland.

Charles S. Francis of New York, to be Minister to Greece, Roumania, and Servia.

Clarence L. Thurston of Nebraska, to be Secretary of the Legation at Buenos Ayres.

Charles Spencer Francis was born in Troy, N. Y. He is the only son of the late John M. Francis, who, with Henry G. Tucker, founded The Troy Daily Times in 1851.

Mr. Francis as a newspaper man understood every branch of the business. He has been compositor, pressman, stereotyper, reporter, city editor, managing editor, and business manager. He has always manifested a great liking for athletics and military matters

BOOZ INQUIRY CONTINUES

Military Court Begins Taking Testimony at West Point.

FOURTEEN CADETS EXAMINED

All Deny that Brutal Hazing Occurred—They Describe the Methods in Vogue at the Academy.

WEST POINT, Dec. 18.—The military court of inquiry which began taking testimony in Bristol, Penn., yesterday, arrived at the Military Academy this afternoon and resumed the investigation of the charges of hazing and brutal treatment made by the parents of former Cadet Oscar L. Booz, who died a couple of weeks ago in his home, in Bristol, Penn.

Sixty-eight members of the class of 1902, to which Booz belonged until he resigned in the Fall of 1898, were summoned to the court and were brought in squads and kept in an anté-room in the academic building. Fourteen of them were examined during the afternoon, and all of them who knew Booz declared that his standing with his classmates was not very high, as they looked upon him as a coward.

Every one of the witnesses denied that any brutal hazing occurred, and two of them described the "bracing" and "setting-up drills" were only "correctional measures" and neither injurious nor humiliating. Every one of them seemed to give a straightforward story, and one and all denied that Booz had been interfered with on account of his religious belief or tendencies.

The first witness called was William A. Mitchell of the second class. In reply to Gen. Brooke he said he was subjected to hazing while in camp.

"Now, state exactly what did it consist of?"

"Well, it was bracing and exercising. It would all come under the form of exercising. It did not do me any injury, either physically or mentally."

The next witness was Henry M. Dallon of the class of 1902. He said he knew of no hazing of Booz and was not present at the fight between Keller and Booz. He said Keller was seconded by Cadet Spaulding and Booz by Cadet Tyler. He saw Booz after the fight and he had a smile on his face as if he didn't care.

Cadet Orfield N. Tyler was next examined. He said he was present at the fight.

"Was there a knock-out blow delivered?"

"Yes, Sir; Booz was hit in the region of the stomach, and when he was on the ground he said: 'The wind was knocked out of me.'"

"Was there any blow delivered in the region of the heart?"

"No, Sir."

"Was it a fair fight?" asked Gen. Clous.

"Yes, Sir, it was, although I told him that I did not think he acted exactly fair. The other man was smaller and lighter. He had asked me to be his second and I could not well refuse."

In reply to a number of leading questions by Gens. Clous and Brooke the witness said he had never been made to take hot sauces, but he had seen it given in the mess hall. It was given in a spoon, but not more than three or four drops. He never saw it given to Booz. He never knew of any one in his class being injured by hazing.

"Did you know of any hot grease being dropped on the body of any of the men in your class?" asked Gen. Bates.

"Yes, Sir. At night sometimes some one would come into the room and remove the clothes off the feet of the man in bed, and in examining the feet some drops of candle grease would fall on them."

"Was this dropping accidental or intentional?"

"Well, I think it was intentional, but it did not hurt much," was Tyler's reply.

Cadet Myron S. Crissy was then called. He gave the same description of the "hazing" he had received, as the previous witnesses, and said it was not severe and gave him no inconvenience. He did not know Booz well enough to know he had been in a fight.

Gen. Brooke asked the witness by what names the fourth classmen were known. In reply Cadet Crissy said:

"Well, they are called 'beasts' and 'plebes,' and they use these names themselves, and if they come in September they are known as 'Seps.'"

In regard to the tobasco sauce forced down the throats of fourth classmen, the witness said it was never done.

"Did you ever take any of it yourself?"

"Yes, Sir; on one occasion I was asked to hold out my finger, and some tobasco sauce was poured on it. I was told to lick it, but I licked the other finger and made a face. It was the face they wanted to see." This reply caused some merriment among those who heard it, and one of the Generals laughed.

Edmund L. Zane, another classmate of Booz, said he did not know Booz very well. When asked if he were ever hazed, the witness replied: "Yes, Sir; I was subjected to athletic exercises."

"Did you ever know any one to faint from hazing?" asked Capt. Dean.

"I have heard such reports, but I think the men only pretended to faint. Cadet Dougherty, a colored man, now a first-class cadet, who was made to stand up with his head thrown back, so that he was looking upward, and he wore a rain coat to keep him warm. Dougherty fainted, or rather, pretended to do so." Later on, the witness said that he had made Cadets Caldwell and Orr sit in a strained position on a chair for a couple of minutes about two days ago.

"Why did you do this?" asked Gen. Brooke.

"Because they had helped themselves to dessert before the first classmen,' was the prompt reply.

Cadet Robert R. Ralston answered a number of questions as to the practice of making fourth-class men sit in a constrained position at the table, and he defined this as a "correctional measure," which was not hazing. He described the order in which the men were served at table, which was according to their grade.

"Then," said Gen. Clous, "if a man helped himself before an upper class man it would be considered an act of rudeness and impoliteness?" The witness replied: "Yes, Sir."

"Were you a fellow-communicant of Cadet Booz?"

"Yes, Sir."

"And has your attending to your religious duties lowered you in the estimation of your classmates or caused any one to speak disrespectfully of your reading your Bible?" was the next question put by Gen. Bates.

"No, Sir, it has not," was the earnest reply.

Cadet Wade H. Carmenter described what sort of hazing he himself went through in camp in '98. He said he was asked to do athletic exercises and bracing, but that he was asked to do nothing which humiliated him.

"Did you see Booz about the time he left the academy?"

"Yes, Sir."

"Do you know why he left?"

"Yes, he was low in his mathematics and his eyes were weak. His legs were also weak and he was not a strong man."

Stephen B. Vernon said he did not see the fight between Booz and Keller, but saw Booz afterward and his face was marked.

"What was his standing with his classmates?"

"He was considered a coward and his standing was not very high."

Before the next witness was sworn Gen. Clous made a motion that from the scope and character of the investigation it appeared to him that the Commandant of Cadets and Superintendent of the Academy should be present, as the evidence might involve their standing in the academy. Gen. Brooke then sent orderlies for Col. A. L. Mills, the Superintendent, and Lieut. Col. Otto Hein, Commandant of Cadets, and they were furnished with separate table and chairs.

Cadet John C. Pegram said that Booz was looked upon as a coward by his classmates, but was not interfered with on account of his religious actions or belief. Cadets John H. Gilbert and Edward Moran were the last witnesses called. They corroborated the evidence of the last witnesses and the Court adjourned at 6 o'clock, to reconvene at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

SAY BRETH DIED FROM HAZING.

Family Asserts He Succumbed to Rough Treatment at West Point.

ALTOONA, Penn., Dec. 18.—John Breth, a letter from whose mother Mr. Booz wanted to submit to the military board of inquiry at Bristol, Penn., yesterday, was a son of ex-Mayor Samuel J. Breth of this city.

He was appointed to West Point by Congressman J. D. Hicks, also of this city, in 1897, and after a seven months' stay at the academy came home and died of typhoid pneumonia. Young Breth's family firmly believes that the severe treatment he received from the other students at West Point was the primary cause of his death, but no formal complaint was or will be made. Even Breth never complained of the hazing, any more than to refer to it guardedly.

"There is no doubt that John lost his life through the weakened condition he was in after being hazed," said a member of the family to-day.

ARTIST WILLIAMS ARRESTED.

Complainant Miss Ada Howard Says that She Was Attacked.

Pedestrians in the vicinity of Lexington Avenue and Fifty-third Street late Monday evening were startled to see a middle-aged man, clad only in his trousers, shirt, and stockings, and wearing no hat, accompanied by a stylishly dressed young woman, hurrying through the streets, stopping now and then to closely scrutinize the face of some passer-by. The mysterious pair entered every saloon that came in their way, took a hurried look around, and hurried out again.

At Fifty-third Street and Lexington Avenue the couple came upon a well-dressed young man who was walking leisurely along smoking a cigarette. "That's he!" exclaimed the young woman, and without more ado the elderly man pounced upon the young man and began beating him furiously. The younger after a sanguinary struggle broke away and ran at top speed to the house at 619 Lexington Avenue, closely pursued by the bareheaded man and the young woman. The fugitive dashed into the door and closed it in the face of his pursuer. The latter mounted guard on the stoop while the girl went to the East Fifty-first Street Police Station and returned with a policeman. After much knocking at the door the young man appeared and surrendered himself.

When arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday the prisoner gave his name as Charles T. Williams, twenty-five years old, an artist, of 619 Lexington Avenue, with a studio in the Lincoln Building, at 1 Union Square. The complainant against him was Miss Ada Howard, sixteen years old, daughter of Patrick Howard of 386 Park Avenue. The young woman was accompanied by her father, and made a charge of assault against Williams. The prisoner bore the marks of conflict with the elder Howard, his left eye being closed and swollen and he bore other marks of violence.

Miss Howard, according to her story, attended the Murray Hill Theatre on Monday evening with some friends, and afterward she walked with them to Fifty-third Street and Lexington Avenue, where she left them, going west toward her home in Park Avenue. As she reached the viaduct of the New York Central Railroad she heard hurrying footsteps of a man as if in pursuit of her. She ran to her home, and as she reached the stoop the man caught up with her. She had rung the door bell in the vestibule when he attacked her, threatening to shoot her if she screamed. She screamed nevertheless, and the man fled just before her father appeared at the door. She detailed her adventure to her father, and the latter, thinly clad as he was, ran out on the street with his daughter to find the assailant.

Williams, in his defense, told Magistrate Hogan that there had been a terrible mistake made. He said he had never seen Miss Howard before in his life, and had not followed or assaulted her. He said he never was so much surprised in his life as when the elder Howard sprang upon him. Williams's mother, a stylish appearing woman, was in court and denounced her son's arrest as an outrage. The case finally went over until to-day and Williams was held in $500 bonds.

NO DRINKING ON THE DOCKS.

Notices Posted at Lake Erie Harbors Forbid Laborers to Consume Liquor in Working Hours.

Special to The New York Times.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Dec. 18.—Notices were to-day posted at all Lake Erie harbors forbidding the use of liquor on any of the docks. All who violate the order will be discharged. For many years, in fact, ever since ore handling became an industry, it has been the custom among many of the dock laborers to take their beer in the middle of the forenoon and again in the middle of the afternoon in working hours. In many instances they took it into the vessel's hold with them. The new order reads as follows:

"No beer or whisky or any intoxicating liquor shall be brought upon the company's property; no employe under the influence of drink will be permitted on the premises, nor drinking be permitted during working hours. No employe will be allowed to leave the dock without permission. Any person violating the above will be subject to discharge."

It is not yet known just how the new order will be received by the men. No trouble is expected, although probably some will not take it kindly. At the recent Cleveland conference the majority of the delegates from among the laborers agreed to it.

FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

Chicago Conference Names Committee to Devise Means for Settling Disputes Between Capital and Labor.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The conference of employers and labor leaders held here under the auspices of the Civic Federation for the purpose of effecting a basis of permanent reconciliation between capital and labor ended its sessions to-night after adopting resolutions looking to the establishment of industrial peace. The resolutions recognize the fact that compulsory arbitration, aside from all other objections urged against it, is not at this time a question of practical industrial reform, and that such systems as are now in vogue do not seem to fully meet the requirements of the different interests.

The resolutions further recommended that the presiding officer of the conference appoint a committee to serve for one year, to be composed of six representatives of the employer class and six of the employe class, to be selected as nearly as consistent from the different sections of the country, for the purpose of formulating some plan of action looking to the establishment of a general system of conciliation that will promote industrial peace.

"We would also recommend," the report concluded, "that this committee of twelve be given power to appoint such auxiliary committees from the industries, trades, and professions as may seem best to promote the work of conciliation and education.

"We believe that this conference will have, in part at least, failed in its mission unless it strenuously insists that the proper time to arbitrate is not after a strike or lockout has been inaugurated, but before it has begun. We fully realize that all plans of arbitration will be unavailing unless we are all animated by a spirit of fairness and justice and are willing to open our eyes to such rights as belong to every citizen."

The report was adopted without debate, and Chairman MacVeagh appointed as members of the committee for one year the same men who constituted the Resolutions Committee, as follows:

A. C. Bartlett, Vice President Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.; Chicago; Henry W. Hoyt, President National Founders' Association; Herman Justi, Commissioner, Illinois Coal Operators' Association; G. Watson French, Vice President Republic Iron and Steel Company; E. D. Kenna, Vice President Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway Company; Chauncey H. Castle, President Stove Founders' National Defense Association; Samuel Gompers, President American Federation of Labor; John Mitchell, President United Mine Workers of America; Martin Fox, President Iron Molders' Union of America; Frank P. Sargent, Grand Master Brotherhood Locomotive Firemen; Henry White, General Secretary United Garment Workers of America; James M. Lynch, President International Typographical Union.

New Building for Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, Dec. 18.—The General Electric Company this afternoon awarded a contract for one of the largest office buildings in this county. It will cost $250,000 and the builders will be the Prescott & Buckley Construction Company of Plattsburg. The building will have a frontage of 150 feet and will be 210 feet deep and six stories high.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

POLITICAL SUIT IN VERMONT.

Democratic Editor Sues for $500 for Supporting Republican Candidate—Hot Fight Expected.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Dec. 18.—Carroll S. Page of Hyde Park, Governor of Vermont in 1890, and who failed of the Republican nomination for Congress in the First District last June because the five other candidates for the office united against him, has been sued by J. H. Livingstone of The Bennington Reformer, a Democratic paper, for $500. It is alleged that Page agreed to pay that sum in return for the support of that paper during the Congressional campaign, and that he has not done so.

Congressman H. Henry Powers, who was defeated for a renomination at the same time as Page, is counsel for Livingstone, and it is reported that he has said he would give $500 for the choice to crossexamine Page. They are the bitterest of political enemies. Page and Powers live in towns adjoining and have never agreed. In every effort to secure office that Page has made he has had to fight Powers.

Page is one of the best business men in the State, and is a shrewd politician. He has always been above reproach in money matters, and says that this suit is brought to damage his political future. The suit is brought in Bennington County, and will be tried next June. Page has not yet engaged counsel, but it is likely that ex-Senator Roger Hulburd will conduct his defense.

MR. ODELL'S APPOINTMENTS.

Governor-Elect Announces Personal and Military Aides.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Governor-elect Odell announced the following appointments this evening:

Governor's personal aides: William Littauer of Gloversville, with rank of Captain; Charles H. Sherill of New York, with rank of Captain; Georgs F. Roth of Rochester, with rank of Captain; Edward S. Fowler of Brooklyn, with rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Governor's military aides: Capt. Charles Henry Ross, Eighth Regiment, New York City; Capt. John J. Byrne, Ninth Regiment, New York City; Major Charles O. Davis, Thirteenth Regiment, Brooklyn; Capt. Charles L. De Beboise, Troop C, Brooklyn; First Lieut. Chauncey Matlock, Third Battery; Capt. Seymour Penfield White, Sixty-fifth Regiment, Buffalo; Capt. A. B. McIntyre, Twenty-fourth Separate Company, Middletown; First Lieut. W. L. Leland Thompson, Twelfth Separate Company, Troy; Capt. J. T. Sadler, Thirtieth Separate Company, Elmira; Naval Militia, Lieut. Commander Alfred Brooks Fry, New York City.

NEW JERSEY ASSEMBLY.

Republican Majority in Caucus and Elect Officers of the House.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—The Republican majority of the House of Assembly met in caucus this afternoon in the Assembly Chamber.

W. J. Bradley of Camden was chosen for Speaker, and Vivian M. Lewis of Passaic leader on the floor. The other officials chosen were Charles H. Folwell of Burlington, for Supervisor of Bills; James Parker of Passaic, Clerk; George E. Poole of Morris, Assistant Clerk; George Powell of Essex, Bill Clerk; William Cole of Camden, Assistant Bill Clerk; Frank Tantum of Monmouth, Sergeant at Arms.

The caucus adopted a resolution commending United States Senator W. J. Sewell, and pledging the votes of the members to him for re-election.

CASSIDY WINS IN QUEENS.

Alderman Is Elected Chairman of Democratic General Committee.

The Queens County Democratic General Committee elected Alderman Joseph Cassidy Chairman yesterday. This result was somewhat unexpected. Judge Thomas C. Kadien, Mr. Cassidy's main supporter, is ill and was unable to attend. As the Cassidy faction was supposed to have a bare majority of one with Judge Kadien, it was expected the vote would be a tie. The committee met at the Democratic Club. Martin Major was named by the Madden faction. Mr. Cassidy by his friends.

When the vote was cast Michael Contz of Flushing, who was counted with the opponents of Mr. Cassidy, voted for him, making the vote seven to five. Mr. Contz then voted for the remaining officers. Judge Kadien was chosen Vice Chairman; F. Diehle of Woodhaven Treasurer, and M. Contz Secretary. A committee on by-laws and one to secure new quarters were named.

This action is considered significant, as the Democratic Club is hostile to Mr. Cassidy. According to usage Mr. Cassidy should now become the leader of his party in Queens Borough. Leader Wissell was asked if he intended to surrender his position to Mr. Cassidy. He replied that he remained leader, and would continue to act as such.

LAKE NAVIGATION CLOSES.

The Season Has Been a Most Satisfactory One, and Next Season Promises Still More Traffic.

Special to The New York Times.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Dec. 18.—Navigation on the chain of great lakes closed to-day. The last vessel up-bound with coal has arrived at Milwaukee, and the few boats which were carrying iron-ore cargoes have reached their destinations at the lower lake ports. By Saturday all the vessels which came inside the harbors to-day will be laid up for the Winter, and the work of repairing and rebuilding will have begun. At Duluth there are nearly forty vessels in Winter quarters. Cleveland, too, has a notably large Winter fleet. Ice has formed at many points, thus making navigation practically impossible.

The marine season just passed has witnessed an unusually large number of disasters and considerable loss of life. Aside from this the year has been a most satisfactory one, nearly every line of traffic having developed over preceding years. The shipments of iron ore from the upper lake districts for the season closing to-day aggregate more than 18,500,000 tons. This shows an increase over last year in the output of the Lake Superior mines of about 1,000,000 tons.

Toward the end of the season a cargo of ore arrived at Ashtabula from the newly discovered Canadian mines of Michipicoten, Ontario. This marks a new epoch in lake marine for next season, as it appears that these extensive mines of the Michipicoten range are to send a great deal of their ore to the Hanna docks at Ashtabula. If estimates are correct, the new mines will produce between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 tons annually, or more than the equivalent of all the ore that has been brought down the lakes from all the American mines in the past two years.

During the Winter months a number of very large lake vessels are to be built, and the coming season will probably see still greater fleets in commission.

ALDERMEN ACT ON BOND ISSUE.

Pass Hall of Records Measure After Being Cited to Show Cause Why Mandamus Should Not Issue.

The members of the Board of Aldermen were yesterday served with an order to show cause why a mandamus should not be issued compelling them to approve the issue of $2,250,000 of bonds for the construction of the new Hall of Records.

Alderman McInhess, the Republican leader, was incensed because the lawyer for Contractor John Naughton had promised that the Board of Aldermen would not be mandamused. He said it was a breach of faith on the part of the contractor's attorneys. Alderman McCall, the Tammany leader, said:

"If there ever was a gigantic steal it is this. It is a wonder that the people do not go before the Supreme Court and obtain a writ of mandamus restraining this board from voting this amount. It is ridiculous the way we are going with these things. The people complacently allow us to be compelled to vote for this steal—the worst I have ever known, and all for the decoration of a building that has only progressed as far as the ground floor. I can, however, take but one alternative and vote for the bond issue."

The motion to issue the bonds was carried at yesterday's meeting.

A resolution appropriating $60,000 for the removal and replacing of trees on Broadway where they interfere with the digging of the underground tunnel was brought up. Alderman Matthews stated that the trees could easily be preserved. It was stated that the work on the tunnel had progressed as far as the rows of trees on the north and south ends of the Boulevard, and that they were now being dug up. It was finally decided, on the motion of Alderman McInness, to hold a public hearing on the matter.

A resolution favoring the cutting off of the loop of the Rapid Transit Tunnel at Two Hundred and Fifteenth Street was referred to the Committee on Highways to give a public hearing.

THEODORE B. STARR
Diamond Merchant, Jeweler and Silversmith
Madison Square
Open evenings commencing Thursday. December 20

BEST & CO
LILLIPUTIAN BAZAAR
Toys, Dolls & Games for Christmas.
Naturally the Children's Store is the first place to look for presents of all descriptions, suitable for the purposes of good old Santa Claus.
Those who look will not be disappointed. The things are here, in great variety, and at moderate prices.
60-62 West 23d Street.

BATHGATE DIVORCE TESTIMONY

Husband's Complaint Made "on Information and Belief"—Counter Charges by Witnesses.

Vice Chancellor Emery at Jersey City yesterday continued the hearing in the divorce suit of James Bathgate of the Park National Bank, Manhattan, against his wife, Grace.

Mrs. Barbara Bathgate, complainant's mother, testified that she had never witnessed any misconduct between her daughter-in-law and Leland N. Atwood, the co-respondent, but she knew that young Mrs. Bathgate received letters from Dr. Adams, a surgeon in the army. Her daughter-in-law once told her that Dr. Adams had called at the house, and Grace asked her not to tell "Jim," (her husband.) At another time Grace told her "Lee" had called, and when she asked who Lee was, her daughter-in-law replied that he was "the dearest boy in the world."

Miss Grace Bathgate, sister of complainant, testified that she had seen Grace, her sister-in-law, and Atwood smoking cigarettes together. She had also gone with them to the beach to bathe and did not consider her sister-in-law's conduct on that occasion exactly what it should have been.

"There was no surf," said witness, "but she clung tightly to Atwood as if she were in danger."

"Wasn't he teaching her to swim?" asked counsel.

"There was no need for that," was the reply. "She is an excellent swimmer."

Sarah Johnson, colored, who washed for Mrs. Bathgate, testified that she had seen Avice Carter, a servant, sitting in Bathgate's lap with her arms about his neck.

"Show us how he embraced her," said Lawyer Koester, who was standing near the witness.

"Like this," she said, throwing both arms around the lawyer's neck, to his confusion and the amusement of the Court and all others present.

H. J. Tenny of 241 West One Hundred and Thirty-first Street, Manhattan, testified that after Avice Carter left Mrs. Bathgate's employ, she boarded at his house. His wife told him that Bathgate was responsible for the woman's board.

James Bathgate, the complainant, was the last witness. He said he had no personal knowledge of any misconduct on his wife's part, but made his complaint from information and belief. On one occasion, he said, he returned home and saw Dr. Adams doing a song-and-dance act for his wife in the hall. He watched the performance unobserved. It ceased promptly when he entered at a side door. He asked his wife not to receive calls from Dr. Adams after that, but she did not promise. The hearing will be continued to-day.

COMMOTION IN WOMAN'S CLUB.

Fur Stolen at Euchre Party and Sold Recovered—Name of Vendor Known.

Considerable excitement has been created among the members of the Woman's Club, Jersey City, by the announcement that a fur collarette belonging to Mrs. E. H. Leetch of 25 Belmont Avenue had been stolen while a euchre party under the club's auspices was in progress at Hasbrouck Hall, on the Heights, two weeks ago. As Mrs. Leetch was a guest, and not a member, the club paid her $12 for the collarette, the price she gave for it.

Few days ago Mrs. Leetch went to Manhattan to buy a new collarette. She called at the shop of a well-known furrier, and, to her great surprise, among the collarettes offered for her inspection was the one that had been stolen from her. The dealer doubted the statement, but Mrs. Leetch convinced him by a private mark on the collarette that she was right. The dealer said he had bought the article from a person whose name and address he took, paying $6 for it. The upshot of the affair was that Mrs. Leetch bought back her own collarette for $6.50, on condition that the name and address of the person who had sold the collarette should be given to her.

When Mrs. Leetch returned to Jersey City she laid the matter before the committee that had charge of the euchre party, and Mrs. Benjamin K. Curtis, Chairman, is making a thorough investigation. Neither she nor Mrs. Leetch would talk of the matter last night. They said that the club had decided to keep the names of the dealer who bought the fur and the person who sold it secret, at least until the inquiry is ended.

DIVORCE FOR DR. L. W. DODSON.

Wife Whose Sole Duty Was to be Agreeable Failed Signally, Referee Says.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—William A. Lewis, as Special Master, to-day filed a report in the Court of Chancery recommending a divorce in favor of Dr. Louis W. Dodson of Jersey City. The divorce is recommended on the grounds of desertion.

The testimony developed a peculiar condition of affairs, which led the Master to say that Mrs. Dodson had no duties except to be agreeable, and in this she was a signal failure.

Dr. Dodson was Acting Superintendent of the New York State Hospital on Long Island and was forced to resign his position there because of his wife's conduct, according to the testimony she was arrogant and annoying and kept a pet dog, which was an annoyance to other officials of the institution. A similar condition of affairs existed in New York City, where the doctor started to practice medicine and had to give it up. He went to Jersey City.

The wife deserted him more than two years ago. She made no defense to the suit for divorce.

COURT ORDER SERVED BY TRICK.

Process Server, Instead of His Wife, Kept Rendezvous with R. P. Lister.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 18.—The order of the Chancery Court requiring Robert P. Lister to pay his wife $50 a week alimony and $250 counsel fee has been served upon him. He refused service and kept out of the way of the process servers, but was trapped by a trick in which his own counsel was an unwitting tool.

Frank M. McDermott, Mr. Lister's counsel, was induced to consent to a meeting between the husband and wife in what purported to be an effort to patch up the troubles between them. Accordingly, Mr. Lister called at his counsel's office yesterday. A clerk was sent to notify Elvin W. Crane, Mrs. Lister's counsel, that Mr. Lister and his counsel were ready for the conference. When the clerk went back he was followed by a process server, who entered behind him, and, in Mr. McDermott's presence, served the order.

Mr. Lister and his counsel were highly indignant over the trick, but the order will now have to be obeyed.

Chosen Friends to Oppose Receiver.

NEWARK, Dec. 18.—It has been decided by members of the Order of Chosen Friends to contest the powers and rights of the receiver appointed by the Indiana courts. To this end a call was sent out to-day to all the councils of the order in New Jersey to send representatives to a meeting to be held here on Friday. A meeting of the councils in New York State will be held in New York City the same day. The question of reorganization of the order will come before these meetings.

Fire at an Asbury Park Hotel.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Dec. 18.—Fire started by an overheated furnace damaged the Tenny House at Grand and Sewall Avenues early this morning to the amount of $4,000. There were fifteen guests in the house, and at the first alarm they ran out without waiting to dress. No one was injured.

New Jersey's Profit from Corporations.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—The State Board of Assessors in its annual report calls attention to the profit derived by the State from its corporation laws. The amount to be paid by the New Jersey corporations in the shape of taxes was $2,051,250.

AUTO-CAB KNOCKS OUT CAR.

Derails the Big Vehicle and Causes a Long Blockade on Broadway.

An automobile hansom put a Broadway car hors de combat, with the result that car traffic was blocked for nearly an hour last night.

The automobile speeded down Fifth Avenue and started to turn into West Twenty-fifth Street. It was going at a high rate of speed and struck Columbus Avenue Car No. 373 with such force as to throw it from the tracks.

The operator of the automobile drove on about his business, but the derailed car caused a blockade which extended to Thirty-second Street before a wrecking wagon righted matters.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., Dec. 18.—The trunk and bag factory of Cutter & Cutter of 122 Chauncey Street, Boston, was burned to-night. Loss, $40,000.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Dec. 18.—Fire at Elk Point, S. D., to-day destroyed the entire business portion of the town, involving a loss estimated at $150,000.

BOSTON, Dec. 18.—Fire to-night in the six-story Wakefield Building, on Canal Street, caused a loss of $150,000, most of which falls on N. Freedman & Brother, wholesale jobbers and men's furnishings, small wares, and notions.

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 18.—Wilkesbarre Pier at East Providence, the property of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, was burned to-day and 2,000 tons of coal destroyed, causing a loss of $200,000. Three barges and two schooners which lay alongside the pier were towed to a safe place before they had been damaged. Included in the equipment of the pier were an elevator and four engines, all of which were destroyed. The fire is believed to have been put into the pier with some soft coal unloaded last night from the barge Felix from Philadelphia.

Tiffany & Co.
Union Square.
Open Evenings until Christmas.

The wine-like fragrance and delicious flavour of
"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY
make a highball, cocktail, toddy, or any drink in which whisky is used, indescribably delicious and satisfying. "CANADIAN CLUB" in any form is highly grateful to the appreciative palate.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.
Macy's
Both Sides 14th St. from 13th to 15th, 6th Ave.

Shopping Jots.

Because impetuous buyers abound at this special period we don't tack on extra profits. The usual low price level is firmly maintained.

Quantities and varieties that would bewilder, were it not for the system and orderliness with which they are displayed.

You may have one or twenty presents to buy, and come here without a single clear idea. The merchandise on view appeals to every need, and idea will follow idea with marvellous rapidity. That's not all. Oftener than not the "appropriation" made for gift things will not be exhausted when you've chosen and paid.

At Macy's you frequently secure two presents for the amount you thought one would cost.

Good Wines—Annex.

Champagne, Theophile Roederer & Co.:—Red Label and Crystal Bottles, packed in small baskets, just the thing for a present:
Baskets of six quarts, $13.37.
Baskets of three quarts, $6.79.
Baskets of twelve pints, $14.37.
Baskets of twelve half pints, $7.69.
Case 12 quarts, $26.74.
Case 24 pints, $28.74.

Champagnes, George D'Orbel—our special importation, equal in quality to other imported wines, extensively advertised and sold at 50 per cent. more:—Red Seal, case pints, $19.99; case quarts, $18.49; case four dozen half-pints, $21.49.

Grand Duke Champagne, extra dry, made by the French process, four years in bottle; case of two dozen pints, $14.24; case of one dozen quarts, $12.24.

Genuine James E. Pepper Whiskey, five years old, aged in wood, per gallon, $2.64; bottle, 59c.

Old Jordan Whiskey, eight years old, matured in wood at the distillery, rich and mellow, sold elsewhere at $1.00 per bottle; our price, 64c.

One Star Rye Whiskey, gallon, $3.98; bottle, 97c.

Monogram Rye, eight years old, gallon, $3.38; bottle, $1.23.

Old Crow Whiskey, five years old, gallon, $3.24; bottle 78c.

Superior Old Jamaica Rum, gallon, $5.44; bottle, $1.24.

St. Croix Rum, per gallon, $4.19; bottle, 99c.

New England Rum, gallon, $1.94; bottle, 49c.

French Brandy—Societe Charentaise; equal in quality to Brandy sold elsewhere at $1.25 per bottle; our price, 99c.

Imported Sherry Wines.

Royal Cabinet; gallon, $2.84; bottle, 72c.

Oloroso; gallon, $3.88; bottle, 93c.

Imperial Extra Fine, gallon, $5.94; bottle, $1.34.

Amontillado, superior quality; gallon, $5.69; bottle, $1.29.

Amontillado, very old and dry; gallon, $6.69; bottle, $1.49.

California Wines.

Strictly Pure—selected—bottled ripe:—
Claret; gallon, 69c; doz. qts., $2.34.
Zinfandel; gallon, 74c; doz. qts., $2.44.
Reisling; dozen quarts, $2.44.
Port, Sherry, Angelica, Muscatel; gallon, 84c.; bottle, 24c.

Fancy Quart decanters, glass stoppers, filled with pure California Wines:—

Port, Sherry, Muscatel and Angelica, 34c.; Zinfandel, 33c.; Claret, 27c.

Burgundy—A. & L. Beaudet Freres, Beaune:—
Macon, case pints, $8.24; case quarts, $7.24.
Beaune, case pints, $10.24; case quarts, $9.24.
Chambertin, case pints, $16.74; case quarts, $15.74.

Red Star Cocktails.

Cocktails, "Red Star" brand, none better. The same goods are being extensively advertised under a different name at $1.25 per bottle; Manhattan, Martini, Holland Gin, Vermouth, Manhattan Dry, Whiskey, Tom Gin, our price, 89c.

Cigars—In Annex.

Imported Havanas:—
Henry Clay Perfectos, box of 25, $5.24
La Carolina Perfectos, box of 25, $5.24
La Carolina Perfectos Royal, box of 25, $3.99

Manuel Garcia:—
Waldorf Perfectos, box of 25, $4.99
Puritanos Finos, box of 50, $6.24
Democratas, box of 50, $4.99
Prados, box of 50, $4.99

La Vencedora, Londres Fina, box of 100, $11.98.

Fine Key West Clear Havana:—
La Nobleza Perfectos, box of 25, $2.49
La Nobleza Invincibles, box of 25, $3.74
La Baronia Habanas, box of 50, $3.74

Le Vive—Key West Clear Havana:—
Puritanos Extra, box of 50, $3.74
Panatelas, box of 50, $4.24
Perfectos Especial, box of 25, $2.24

Flor de Merode—clear Havana filler, Sumatra wrapper:—
Perfectos, box of 25, $2.24
Universales, box of 50, $3.99
High Life, box of 50, $3.49
Regalia Bouquet, box of 50, $3.19
Bouquet Especial, box of 50, $2.69

La Causerie—Sumatra wrapper, mixed Havana filler:—
Rothschilds, box of 50, $3.12
Regalia Especial, box of 50, $2.99
Perfectos, box of 50, $2.49
Conchas Especial, box of 50, $2.24
Conchas Especial, box of 25, $1.19

Miss Columbia:—
Puritanos, box of 50, $1.74

La Primas:—
Perfectos Grande, each cigar wrapped in tin foil and banded; equal to any 5c. cigar in the market, box of 25, 74c.

Perfectos Royal, each cigar wrapped in tin foil and banded, box of 12, 39c.

SONG SENT TO ALDERMEN.

Gift of "Bathhouse John" Coughlin—Mr. Bridges Thinks He Could Turn Out a Better Poem.

The song "Dear Midnight of Love," the words and music of which are by "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, Alderman of Chicago, has stirred up feelings of jealousy among the members of the New York Board of Aldermen. At the meeting held yesterday it became known that Alderman Coughlin had sent to each member of the New York board a copy of his song with a "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from New York to Chicago."

Many members of the New York board affirm that they have among their number men who can compose a better song, and they proposed yesterday to enter into a competition with the Chicago Alderman.

The plan was to have Alderman Bridges of Brooklyn and Alderman Downing compose a lyric in reply to "The Dear Midnight of Love," to be sung at the next meeting of the New York Aldermen, and if it compared favorably with the Chicago production Aldermen Bridges and Downing were to be directed to "raise their voices in melody" as a tribute to Chicago.

The matter received official consideration yesterday. A resolution was adopted thanking "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, and providing that the words of "The Dear Midnight of Love" shall be preserved on the official minutes of the board. It was also proposed that the joint production of words and music by Aldermen Bridges and Downing should appear in parallel columns in The City Record with the Chicago song, but this and the motion appointing the Aldermen to compose the song were finally tabled.

The chorus of the Chicago song shows the class of the composition. It is as follows:

Dear Midnight of Love, why did we meet?
Dear Midnight of Love, your face is so sweet.
Pure as the angels above, surely again we shall speak,
Loving only as doves, Dear Midnight of Love.

Alderman Bridges when asked yesterday whether he was willing to go into a song competition with the Chicago Alderman, said:

"Sure, that would be easy. I could write a better song than that talk of midnight love with my eyes closed. That sounds like the nursery rhyme, "Oh, mother, how pretty the moon looks to-night.' I could write something which would be a lasting monument to New York. Will I try? Well, I don't know yet."

Coupe and Victoria in Collision.

A coupé occupied by Mrs. Billings, who lives in The Lorraine, 2 East Forty-fifth Street, and driven by William Sullivan, while being driven on Fifth Avenue yesterday afternoon, came in collision at Fifty-fifth Street with a victoria occupied by Mrs. Henry A. C. Taylor of 3 East Seventy-first Street, and driven by John Goodwin. Seated with Goodwin was a footman. Mrs. Taylor, Goodwin, and the footman were thrown to the pavement. Goodwin received contusions of the right shoulder. Goodwin refused medical treatment. Mrs. Billings's coupé was not damaged.

Frank Bottome Memorial.

Donations of toys, dolls, games, books, clothing, groceries, candy, fruit, and money for Christmas season are requested for the Frank Bottome Memorial, recently established under the auspices of the King's Daughters, in the thickly populated tenement district of Harlem. A kindergarten, a sewing school, and a mothers' meeting are being carried on at present. The Treasurer is Mrs. F. B. Higbet, 305 West Eightieth Street. Donations can also be sent to the King's Daughters' House, 218 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street.

Mr. Root Going to Clinton, N. Y.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Secretary and Mrs. Root will leave here to-morrow morning for Clinton, N. Y., to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Alice Root, which will occur Thursday.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Monday night until 12 o'clock Tuesday night.)

12:40 P. M.—60 Bayard Street; owner, J. Frank; damage slight.
1:10 P. M.—520 West Forty-ninth Street; owner, John Skabill; damage, $15.
1:40 P. M.—116 Cherry Street; owner, John W. Arsman; damage slight.
1:45 P. M.—550 West Fifty-second Street; owner, L.

The Wanamaker Store.

Store Open Evenings Until 10 o'clock—All this Week

How Many Stockings Are Yet to Fill? And How Can You Best Fill Them?

THE shopping hurry and rush are to be expected now. This store is busier than ever before; and we are doing better than ever before to serve you comfortably. Then crowding is not of the unpleasant kind at Wanamaker's. Here are pleasant and good-natured people, who are courteous under all circumstances. The unpleasant pushing and crowding of the usual store is absent here. Do the soft chimes and the chords of the Hymnolia organ in the Rotunda, cast a kindlier Christmas feeling over the busy thousands?

The display of gift-things occupies every convenient counter of the store. Broadest variety of carefully selected goods make decisions easy and purchases most highly satisfying. You are sure of the newest and the best—you are certain that only a fair price has been paid whether you buy a vase or a diamond. The Toy Store keeps the Subway thronged. The collection of toys is as wonderful as the way of getting there is unique. Variety still undiminished, in spite of the greatest selling we have ever done. Here is every toy for which childhood dreams; and hundreds more that genius has newly contrived for their delight.

For young, for old, for grave or gay, here is fullest, most satisfying variety of gift-things for all.

A Favor Asked of Our Patrons

On account of the strain upon our trebled delivery force for the next few days,

Will you be good enough to remember that it will save something for hard worked men and horses, whenever you can conveniently carry small packages.

Please try to avoid buying C. O. D. if you can, as it takes double time to make settlements, especially when the driver cannot provide change. You know that you are always at liberty to have money back when article is no longer wanted.

We shall, however, certainly deliver as usual everything desired. This request is only to make shorter hours for our faithful workers.

Crepe Flannel

A fine, soft, dainty all-wool flannel, ideal for shirt waists. A better appearance than any you're acquainted with, and better after washing than most flannels. The makers claim it does not shrink like ordinary flannels—some, of course. But with their methods the chances for shrinkage are reduced to a minimum. Wide choice of splendid colorings:

Pink, Grays, Heliotrope, Old Rose, Tans, Cardinals, Reseda, Cadet Blue, New Green, Royal Blue, Black

All 31 inches wide.

seventy-five cents a yard

Tenth street and Fourth avenue.

High-Class FURS

The gathering of furs for this season's selling here was most thoroughly done. All through the many inexpensive kinds, up through the finer grades to the most splendid garments that are made, great care was exercised to select only good, honest, dependable furs,—only correctly cut and conscientiously made garments. The assortment is complete—none is more varied. And fair prices rule. To-day's chapter concerns coats of higher grades.

Plain Electric Seal Etons at $35.
Electric Seal Coats, trimmed with mink, at $45.
Plain Astrakhan Coats at $55.
Electric Seal Coats, chinchilla trimmed, at $55.
Persian Lamb Coats at $65 and $90.
Seal Coats at $200, $265 and $275.
Persian Lamb Coats, chinchilla trimmed, at $125.
Seal Coats, with deep revers and collar of Hudson Bay Sable, at $375.
Chinchilla Eton Coats at $500.
Eton of dark Eastern Mink at $500.
Newmarket of select Persian Lamb, with bodice of chinchilla, at $1,000.

Second floor, Broadway.

Silk Petticoats

There are various unusually attractive styles and good values here at little prices. For instance, this petticoat at $5. It's of good taffeta, in light and dark shades; with deep accordion plaited ruffle, trimmed with narrow ruffle; also neatly finished dust ruffle. This would be not unfairly priced at $6 or $6.50.

There's a particularly handsome petticoat at $7.50. Of a fine, firm, crisp taffeta; in all the leading colorings. Made up according to the newest ideas. A splendid value. Other domestic made garments up to $20. And imported kinds in excellent assortment—the finest and most elaborate petticoats that Paris has turned out this season.

All purchases of petticoats for gift-making put up in neat boxes

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Shaving STANDS Some Under-Price

A man frequently puts up without the proper conveniences for shaving. A thoughtful Christmas gift would add wonderfully to his comfort—that means a Shaving Stand.

We show about twenty styles, in oak, mahogany and imitation mahogany. Patterns are all new and with latest conveniences. Average height is about 65 in. and average size of mirror about 12x14 in. Mirrors are French plate with beveled edges. Four of our best patterns, about twenty-five in all, are marked at special prices to-day.

At $10.50, from $16.50—Mahogany; top 21 in. wide; swell front; 2 small drawers and closet; lower shelf; inlaid lines.
At $12, from $18—Mahogany; top 21 in. wide; swell front; 3 drawers and closet; lower shelf; inlaid lines.
At $14, from $21—Mahogany; top 24 in. wide; 4 small drawers and closet; inlaid lines.
At $15, from $22.50—Mahogany; top 24 in. wide; 5 small drawers; lower shelf; inlaid lines.

Some of the regular patterns are priced as follows:

At $10—Golden oak; top 17½ in. wide; 1 drawer; highly polished.
At $18—Golden oak; top 27 in. wide; long drawer and double closet; 2 small closets above the top.
At $14—Golden oak; top 17 in. wide; 1 drawer and closet; lower shelf.
At $19—Mahogany; top 24 in. wide; 2 long and 2 short drawers and closet; lower shelf; highly polished.

Fourth floor.

Three Bargains in Toilet Requisites

This story is about a triad of beautiful toilet accessories, which would worthily grace any dressing table; each of which has intrinsic value far above its present price, and with this value still further enhanced by its singular appropriateness as a Christmas gift. At these prices, they'll not tarry here long:

Japanese Atomizers, of beautifully decorated porcelain, with brass tubes and spray and netted bulb. We bought out all a Japanese importer, now retiring from business, had remaining; hence their price, 50c, regularly sold at $1.50.

Military Hair Brushes, of genuine ebony, of large size, with large shield of sterling silver, in handsome design on the back, $3.75 a pair; value $5.50.

Round Mirrors, with heavy sterling silver handles and backs, beautifully ornamented. A splendid value at $7.50; now $4.75.

Tenth street and Fourth avenue.

Framed Pictures

Here's a lot of fine imported carbon photographs, in handsome frames, at an exceedingly low price. They are reproductions of some of the leading pictures of recent Paris Salons—numerous carefully selected subjects, all absolutely fadeless. The frames are of oak—many of them ornamented with gilt. Sizes from 14x16 in. to 18x22 in. All framed without mat. Values $6.50 and $7.50. Choice at $4

There's a pretty, suitable gift for some friend at but little more than half its value.

Picture Store, Fifth floor.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

A Notable Transaction in Women's COATS

For twenty years the firm of Louis Graner has been a leader in American tailoring for women. Now the head of the firm wishes to retire, and the business is being closed up. The stock of coats on hand—all new and beautiful garments—comes to us for prompt distribution. To be sold at wholesale prices, yet in time for holiday wear or Christmas giving. The lot comprises short jackets, 26-inch jackets, three-quarter coats and Newmarkets, of various handsome cloths, all beautifully tailored, and superbly lined. All now marked at

A Third Below their Worth

Yet you can practically choose any cloth, color and style you wish; and the style expressed in the manner that only highest tailoring genius can produce it.

Jackets at $7.50 to $25
Three-quarter Coats at $14.50 to $42.50
Newmarkets at $13.50 to $42.50

Every Garment Worth a Half More!

This is an offering that might be expected in January; but is rare and remarkable coming before Christmas.

On sale this morning

Second floor, Broadway.

Gift-Things in MEN'S WEAR

Neckwear and Fancy Suspenders are safe gifts always. No man ever has too many of either. A House Coat or Bath Robe offers a still more effective and practical present. Nowhere else is there equal variety to those shown here and now. No other store buys on such a vast scale; and none gets such favors as have been ours from manufacturers. For instance, see the

New Neckwear—
Here are patterns that will be found nowhere else until spring stocks are displayed. We were given the opportunity to select from the new silks, and have what we wanted, exclusively. It is a fresh and beautiful addition to an already magnificent stock of foreign and American neckwear. Prices, $1, $1.50, $2 and upwards.

Silk Suspenders—
Silk webbings, gilt buckles, kidskin ends; put up in neat box, 50c. Other styles at $1, $1.50 and $2.

Men's Bath Robes—
Made with the comfortable Raglan sleeve, that adjusts the fit to every figure—made in the expert and liberal way that we can only obtain through our own factory. Prices, $3.75 to $10.

House Coats—
A large and handsome stock of regular goods as well as a special offering of fine coats away under-price—
$8.50 House Coats for $5 $11 House Coats for $6.50

Men's Store, Broadway and Ninth.

Imported Gift-Things In LEATHER

The most beautiful articles in leather that have come from abroad this season, are in dull-finished leather with bronze mounting, being strongly antique in finish, and giving an effect of unusually high character. There is a wide variety of giveable articles; among them these:

Pocket-books, $4.75 to $6.50.
Purses, $3.
Cabinet Clocks, $6.50 to $15.
Folios, $19 to $24.
Book Covers, $4 to $9.
Cigar and Cigarette Cases, $6.75 to $8.50.
Card and Letter Cases, $4.25 to $7.50.

Then in morocco and fancy leathers, there are:
Jewel Boxes, $1.50 to $15.
Stamp Boxes, 50c to $2.50.
Card Boxes, of highly polished levant, with tracing and figures of gold, $2.75 to $3.75
Twine Boxes with scissors, 50c to $6.50.
Watch Cases, $1 to $2.50.
Book Covers, $4 to $9.
Handkerchief and Glove Boxes and Sets, $2.50 to $21.
Folios, $7.50 to $24.
Smoking Sets, four pieces, $20.
Cigar and Cigarette Cases, $3.75 to $8.50.

Broadway.

The MUSIC For Young and Old

Does the little fellow, that just learned to walk last summer, run and scramble up on a chair to hear the "mookally man" play? Or has he some other name for the street piano? Childhood universally delights in music, and most of the responsive little hearts are starved for want of more of it.

The Regina Music Box Plays for Young and Old

There are superb instruments for parlor use, and there are small boxes for the nursery. There are others that can be used to entertain visitors and then be moved into the children's rooms.

The Regina is the most perfect of automatic music boxes—strong and full in tone; perfect in time and harmony. Made in a wide variety of styles, at a broad range of prices.

Then you can pay for it at once, or buy it

On Easy Monthly Payments

with only a few dollars to pay before Christmas.

Perhaps music is just the one thing you have neglected in your Christmas plans. Not too late yet to have the very best sort, and in a way any home can afford to buy it. Come, or write for full particulars.

Basement.

An Englishwoman's Love Letters

Here is a most remarkable book. Without any author's name to give it introduction or prestige; with nothing but its strength and vitality to rely upon, it has sprung into the most conspicuous place in the literary talk of England—is, in fact, the book of the day in London.

An American edition, published by Doubleday, Page & Co., was issued last Thursday. Many Americans will be glad to know that it is to be had on this side of the ocean.

The charming candor and entire lack of reservation with which these letters are written will win an equally enthusiastic American audience as soon as the book becomes known. Handsomely bound in watered silk. Price, $1.35.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Beautiful Gifts in the ART BRIC-A-BRAC ROOM

A connoisseur gathered the many exquisite pieces of marble and bronze and onyx and rare specimens of ceramic art displayed in the notable bric-a-brac room in the Basement. He goes direct to the art centers of Europe, and selects the richest, choicest productions. Not in tid-bits, but in large generous quantities so as to obtain the best possible price-concessions on his purchases. That price advantage will be quickly apparent in our markings. The gathering this year is splendid—rich in suggestions of holiday gifts. This list may be helpful:

Teplitz Figures and Busts at 75c to $40 each.
Teplitz Vases at $1.50 to $10 each.
Ghouda Ware—real Dutch—at $1.25 to $40.
Florentine Frames and Pictures at $2.50, $5, $7.50, $10, $22.50, up to $100.
Limoges Enamels at $4 to $20.
Royal Bonn—a number of choice pieces, at from $4.50 to $30 each.
Cantagalla pieces, Urns, Vases, Plaques, Pitchers, at $5 to $27.50 each.
French Mounted Vases, in full assortment, at from $7 to $200.
Marble Pedestals, in both white and green, at $7.50 to $25.
Castilena Marbles, in fancy subjects, busts and figures; a very complete assortment at each of the following prices: $9, $12, $18, $22.50, $30, $42.50, $52.50, $75 to $150 each.
Royal Vienna pieces in a very complete variety; rich pieces at prices like the following: $7.50, $8.50, $12.50, $15, $22.50, up to $360.
Vienna Plates at $15 and $20 each.
Cauldon Plates at $30 to $144 dozen.
Onyx Pedestals at $32.50 to $100.

Art Room, Basement.

Tissot's Life of Christ

What more appropriate gift at Christmas time than this life in picture of Him who gave earth's most sacred and most joyous day its name?

This superb work contains three hundred and sixty-five remarkable pictures, illustrating the story of the Four Gospels, with notes and other drawings explaining details.

The author, while trying to paint one more picture of such as made his fame, sees a vision of Jesus so plain, so different from any conception that he has ever formed, but so human and so high, that he gives up his prosperous work and his comfortable home, and at the age of fifty goes to Palestine that he may verify the vision, give himself up to it, and give to the world a truer and more vivid conception of the life of Jesus than it ever had before.

He studied the Gospels until he knew them almost by heart; he studied the country until he knew it; he even went to far-away regions like Arabia, and Egypt to find people who now dress and live somewhat as the people of that time.

For such details as these we are indebted to Tissot, because the work is not only vivid and dramatic, but true—true to the country and life and the times, and true to the Four Gospels.

The Tissot Paintings (which excited so much comment when exhibited in New York and Philadelphia) have been reproduced; some in colors and some in black and brown tints.

In four volumes; cloth, $30, half morocco, $40, full morocco, $50.

You can pay this all at once, or you can join the Wanamaker-Tissot Club, entrance fee, $1, and $3 a month. Sets delivered on payment of Club Fee.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Fur RUGS

What a cozy, even luxurious air they give to a living room! The open fire seems twice as alluring when you can look into the embers from the vantage-ground of the fur rug in front of it. The Germans, indeed, express the summit of indolent ease in the phrase "to lie on the bearskin."

At the little price of these rugs, their attendant delights are too easily attainable to be foregone. Many is the library or boudoir that, if you are wise, will be graced by one of them by Christmas-time.

They are of goat skin, thick, soft, and handsome, well lined, and dyed to simulate bears, foxes, and other skins, in combinations of black, brown, gray.

Rugs, 28x64 in., reduced from $4.50 to $3.
Rugs, 36x72 in., reduced from $7.50 to $6.

Also some goat-skin rugs, gray, unlined, at $2.

The Persian Wilton Rugs we have mentioned before are going fast, but there's still choosing among many pretty patterns and colors. They're 27x54 in., and are priced at $1 each.

Third floor.

Boys' CLOTHING

"Something that will wear well and look well." That's what parents generally demand for their boys, nowadays. And Wanamaker's fills the bill to the letter. There's an experience of a generation that inspires and advances this clothing business, compels improvement here and there, in every detail and at all times. Not during that generation have better materials, nor better making gone into boys' clothing than these stocks represent. Here are some specimen values:

$5—Russian blouse suits, of all-wool cheviots and serges, in various shades; sizes 3 to 8 years. Other grades at $6.50 and $7.50.
$5—Vestee suits of blue cheviot; handsome, durable suits for little fellows of 3 to 8 years. Another quality at $6.50.
$5—Vest-jacket suits of plain blue and fancy mixed cheviot; sizes 8 to 16 years.
$5.50—Rough-and-ready warm top-coats; of frieze, in Oxford gray and blue; 4 to 16 years.
$6.50—Chinchilla reefers, lined throughout with red flannel; a splendid warm coat for boys of 4 to 12 years.

Second floor, Ninth Street.

Two Shoe Stores Offer Rare Values

The bargain shoes for women and children are in the basement store, just under the main shoe store. New lots of fine seasonable shoes are finding their way to the shelves there every week, to be disposed of at prices much below regular. Among the latest comers are these worthy grades:

Women's $3.50 Shoes at $2—
All lace; turned soles; light and dainty; for dress wear; all sizes.

Women's $2.50 Patent Leather Shoes at $1.80—
Both lace and button; not as reliable as kidskin, but a handsome dress shoe for those who want 'em.

Women's $2 Kid Shoes at $1.40—
Many of these shoes were made to sell at $3; none worth less than $2. You may not get just your style, but you'll make a big saving at any rate. Other items of special interest just now:

Girls' velvet leggings; blue, maroon, green and black, $1.25.
Lamb's wool soles; patent kind; 13c. Worth double.
Felt Rrmec slippers; fur trimmed; red, gray, and black, $1; from $2.
Felt slippers; felt soles; red lined; women's size, 35c.

The Bargain Store for Men is an attractive place these evenings for men and boys who do not find it convenient to shop during the day. Special lots that accumulate from day to day will be on sale every evening, and furnish substantial and appreciated presents at small cost, compared to their actual value.

Men's $2 Shoes at $1.30—
900 pairs heavy black satin oil lace shoes; neat and durable.

Men's $4 Shoes at $2.95—
1,650 pairs patent leather dress shoes; very light and good-looking; carefully made.

Boys' Shoes at $1.35—
600 pairs boys' black kangaroo calf lace shoes, with extra heavy soles. These are all new arrivals. Thousands of others that have been sold of before, at $1.50, $1.90, $2.45, and $2.85.

This store will be open evenings all this week.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue, Ninth and Tenth Streets.

RIGHTS OF CEDED ISLANDS

Mr. Griggs Defines Status of Porto Rico and the Philippines.

Argues Before Supreme Court that Government Has a Right to Acquire Territory and the Constitution Does Not Follow the Flag.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Arguments in the Porto Rico-Philippine cases, involving the status of those islands, were resumed in the United States Supreme Court to-day. The widespread interest in the cases was shown by a large attendance of prominent members of the bar and by a crowd of spectators which filled the public area and overflowed into the corridor. Senators and Representatives in Congress, who had taken part in the Porto Rico-Philippine legislation dropped in as the arguments proceeded and gave attentive ear to the proceedings.

Prior to the opening of the court the counsel conferred and arranged a general plan of procedure, by which Edward C. Perkins, senior counsel in the Porto Rico case, would conclude his argument to-day, being followed by Lawrence Harmon, counsel in the Philippine case. The appellants would then give way to Attorney General Griggs for the presentation of the case in behalf of the Government. This, it was expected, would continue until to-morrow, when Charles H. Aldrich, former Solicitor General, and senior counsel in the Philippine case, will close in behalf of the appellants.

MR. PERKINS RESUMES.

Mr. Perkins, on resuming his argument, took up the Dred Scott and other cases relating to the extension of the Constitution over territory. Soon after Mr. Perkins began Justice Brown interposed an inquiry as to whether Mr. Perkins had examined the more recent cases relating to the extension of the Constitution to Territories, and also whether he had examined those sections of the United States statutes wherein Congress extended the Constitution to certain Territories.

Mr. Perkins said he had examined both of those branches, and he hoped to be able to present answers to the contentions made as to them.

After examining numerous cases, Mr. Perkins said that the doctrine that the Constitution did not extend to the territories was based on the idea that the Constitution was a substance, a sort of chattel, which could be moved about here and there as Congress saw fit, rather than something bequeathed to us by our ancestors. It was, he said, a sort of "transubstantiation of the Constitution." It was a contention that the Constitution could not get into a Territory unless Congress placed it there. He denied that the Constitution in itself extended to the Territories by declaring that it was an inanimate substance lacking the powers of locomotion.

At this point Justice White asked a series of pointed questions of Mr. Perkins. The Justice first asked if Mr. Perkins's contention would lead him to the conclusion that immediately upon the making of a treaty ceding territory to the United States, every person born in that Territory after the date of cession became ipso jure a citizen of the United States.

Mr. Perkins answered in the affirmative, saying that if his contention was correct, those born in the Territory after the cession were citizens if they were civilized and not in the position of our Indians.

QUESTION OF CITIZENSHIP.

Justice White asked what authority there was for excluding Indians. He pointed out that the distinction between the American Indian and the citizen ante-dated the Constitution. He again propounded the query to citizenship following immediately on the conclusion of a cession of territory.

Mr. Perkins answered that undoubtedly persons born in the territory after the cession and subject to the jurisdiction of the United States were citizens of the United States.

Justice White suggested that in this answer "under the jurisdiction of the United States," stated out of the question the very contention which was being made in these cases.

Mr. Perkins said the limitations of his answer were intended to cover such special circumstances relating to Indians and uncivilized persons which had been referred to. Continuing his argument, Mr. Perkins cited many other authorities supporting his view that the Constitution in itself extended to territories.

Mr. Perkins summed up the arguments for the appellant in part as follows: "The people of the United States in and by the Constitution organized and erected one and the same Government, of defined and limited powers, for all people who might inhabit within the dominion of the Nation. The whole purpose and theory of the Constitution is the establishment in a permanent form, unalterable except by the people themselves, of fundamental principles of Government, applicable in all time and in every place.

"The power to govern the people inhabiting the territory of the Nation, which is delegated by the Constitution to Congress, is limited and defined by the Constitution, and Congress cannot transcend the limits imposed. The Constitution limits the powers of Congress to impose taxation by the mandate that all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the entire domain of the United States."

CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITATIONS.

Mr. Perkins also referred to some other constitutional requirements such as the right of habeas corpus, which might have to be extended to all territory alike. Justice Brown asked in this connection if counsel thought we could single out what provisions of the Constitution apply to new territory and what do not. Mr. Perkins responded that it was for the Court to say, "thus far and no further"; that it was for Congress to act, always, however, within the limits defined by the Constitution.

Mr. Perkins said the appellants felt that they had established that neither the treaty of Paris nor the Tariff act of 1897 is violative of the constitutional principles he had set forth, but that the Tariff act was in full force and effect throughout the National domain, as well in Porto Rico and the Philippines as elsewhere, and that it does not contemplate a tax upon goods transported from one part of the National domain to another.

When counsel referred at one point to the need of applying general constitutional principles to the new domain instead of considering mere commercial or practical features, Justice Brown asked if the Court could not consider the practical effect of extending to the Philippines the requirement for trial by jury in every case. Mr. Perkins said that if the Constitution provided that trial by jury should not be withheld he doubted whether the Court would consider the practical inconveniences of giving that right to particular localities.

THE PHILIPPINE CASE.

Mr. Harmon of counsel for appellant in the Philippine case followed Mr. Perkins, speaking at times in impassioned tones which rang through the chamber. He spoke of the august character of the court and the sentiment that on this "holy ground" justice and right were certain to prevail. "The proposition now present, small in itself," he exclaimed, "involves results affecting the entire future of the Government."

Mr. Harmon briefly recited the circumstances of the Philippine case: Emil J. Pepke, a volunteer serving in the Philippines, where he purchased fourteen diamond rings, valued at $900 to $1,000, brought them back to the United States, where at Chicago the United States customs officers confiscated the diamond rings, on the ground that they came from the Philippines, were dutiable, and had been smuggled into the United States. The case now comes to the United States Supreme Court on the appellant's plea that the property was not subject to customs duties, the Philippines being a part of the United States.

The early part of Mr. Harmon's argument was directed to setting forth the fundamental principles of equality which had been enunciated by the Declaration of Independence. He was speaking when, at 2 o'clock, the court took its usual mid-day recess. When the court resumed its session, Mr. Harmon continued. The chief points urged were:

"By the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain the Philippines became a part of the United States; the Government and citizens of the United States both enter said islands under the authority of the Constitution, with their respective rights defined and marked out; the former can exercise no power over the person or property of a citizen of the United States beyond what that instrument confers, nor lawfully deny any right which it has reserved.

"Being a part of the United States, the Philippine Islands are subject to the provisions of Clause 1, Section 8, Article 1, and of Clauses 3 and 6, Section 9, Article 1, of the Constitution of the United States. And as there is nothing differently stipulated in the treaty with respect to commerce, it became instantly bound and privileged by the laws which Congress had passed to raise a revenue from duties on imports and tonnage.

"The President of the United States has no legislative power. The imposition of customs duties upon commerce between these islands and other parts of the United States after the treaty of peace and exchange of ratifications by Executive order is without lawful authority, and the seizure of the property of the plaintiff in error, a citizen of the United States, under such pretended authority, constitutes a taking of his property without due process of law."

POWERS OF CONGRESS.

Mr. Harmon elaborated these main points, citing and discussing many decisions in support of them. In the course of his argument Mr. Harmon conceded that Congress could govern the new territories in any way it saw fit, so long as the form of government came within the Constitution; it might be by a Governor General, or by a commission, so long as the form was not repugnant to the Constitution. He referred to the advance of the American military commander in Porto Rico, the welcome given him by the Porto Ricans as their deliverer from bondage, and the promise made to them of protection and equality under the American flag.

Referring to the language of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Cross vs. Harrison, referring to the acquisition of California, Mr. Harmon said it was asserted that immediately upon the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of peace with Spain the Philippine Islands "became a part of the United States," and became instantly bound and privileged by the limits placed upon Congress by the Constitution. Both the Philippines and Porto Rico, he declared, are now and have been since the treaty of peace took effect a part of the United States. They are the property of the United States in the sense that they are held in trust for the people thereof. The trust is an express one in that its conditions are fixed by the Constitution. The builders of the Republic did not frame a Constitution for the original thirteen States, but for all the lands and peoples which in the beneficent workings of divine Providence shall come under its benign influence and control.

MR. GRIGGS'S ARGUMENT.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Attorney General Griggs began the presentation of the Government's position in the case. Mr. Griggs began in quiet and conversational style, seldom resorting to gesture or emphasis. He said that as counsel had been "wandering in the fields and plucking the flowers of eloquence," he would first give a plain statement of the issues involved. Mr. Griggs's plea was based upon a brief of 90 pages, the greater part of which is devoted to presenting the argument of the United States, while the remaining portion is in the shape of an appendix giving the text of the peace treaty between the United States and Spain, and also the text of other treaties supposed to bear upon the question.

In presenting the Government's side of the controversy the Attorney General first stated the two cases upon which the proceeding is based. This was followed by a general explanation, and summing up of the Government's position, after which came the citation of innumerable authorities, under appropriate headings, with pertinent running comment upon them.

The Attorney General contended that the United States has the power to acquire territory; that, having acquired it, it has the right to govern it; that administrative construction, Congressional action, and judicial precedent affirm that every port in a ceded country is properly regarded as foreign until laws are extended by Congress to the new possessions; that the clause of the Constitution of the United States declaring duties uniform throughout the United States is not applicable to new possessions, and that the Constitution does not extend of its own force over acquired territory.

IMPOSITION OF TARIFFS.

In his general contention on behalf of the United States Mr. Griggs argued that his opponents were wrong from both a legal and a Constitutional point of view. Referring to the legal aspect of the case, he asserted that the Dingley act applied to merchandise imported from Porto Rico and the Philippines after their cession to the United States the same as it did before, and that in view of the fact that tariff laws are in rem there is no principle of justice, much less of Constitutional restriction, which forbids Congress from taxing in this way the merchandise of outlying possessions of the United States when brought into the ports of the Union.

He laid down as established the two following propositions: (1) That the tariff act of 1897 was intended by Congress to classify as foreign all countries not a part of or belonging to the United States at the time of its passage, and the subsequent cession of the Spanish islands to the United States did not operate to admit imports from those islands free of duty under that law; (2) that the tariff act so construed and enforced violates no Constitutional rule of uniformity.

Taking up the Constitutional question, the Attorney General declared that there was no doubt that it was the intention of the Paris treaty not to make the ceded islands a part of the United States and also that it was intended not to make the inhabitants of those islands citizens. The only thing that could justify a declaration that the treaty is invalid would be that it violates the Constitution of the United States.

CONSTITUTION OR PRINCIPLE?

Calling attention to the fact that those who attack the treaty rest their case upon no specific provision of the Constitution, but rather upon a principle of our Government, which they say forbids this Nation to hold sovereignty over subject territory which it does not make a part of itself under the Constitution, Mr. Griggs said:

"If this were true, it would be a limitation upon the usual and necessary powers of a sovereign independent nation of such tremendous importance as to justify us in inquiring why it was not clearly expressed in the fundamental law by the men who drafted our Constitution. They were learned in the law of nations, they knew the nature of colonies and provinces and how they were acquired by treaty and conquest and discovery, and how they were held and governed by other nations.

"They gave to the Nation they founded the usual untrammeled powers of making war and treaties, the most frequent methods by which foreign territory is acquired by the nations of the earth. If they intended to restrict or limit their own Government in these respects, would they not have done so in express terms? They did not do so by any language which can even be suggested as capable of such import, and it is therefore right—nay, necessary—to conclude that they did not intend to do so."

ACQUISITION OF TERRITORY.

Then Mr. Griggs proceeded to argue that this was not only not the intention of the framers of the Constitution, but declared that it could be positively shown that so far from their intending to organize a Government which should be incapable of acquiring foreign territory except upon condition of making it an organic part of the United States, the early statesmen of the republic were under the impression that no territory could be annexed to and become a part of the United States without amending the Constitution.

"I shall show," he said, "that the practical construction put upon the Constitution by the Executive and Congressional branches of the Government for a hundred years has, with one partial exception, been uniform in regarding acquired territory as neither bound by privileged by that instrument until brought within its operation, either by express compact in the treaty or by act of Congress, and that acts of Congress do not apply to after-acquired territory until extended to it by subsequent legislative enactment."

Continuing, he said it was not contended that Congress had absolute power over the lives and property of citizens. "There is here," he went on; "no proposition to confiscate or destroy the possible quality of the plaintiff's merchandise. It is a mere demand of a right to tax it at the Custom House. The right to tax at our own ports merchandise coming from outlying territory of the United States is not a strange nor an unusual exercise of power. There is nothing essentially unjust in such a practice. It may be made unjust by the severity of the tax or the rigor of the prohibition, but so may any other kind of a Custom House imposition.

"Such a practice has long been followed by every civilized power. England to-day levies duties on the merchandise of all her colonies when brought into the United Kingdom. She did the same in ante-Revolutionary days, and we will not find among the complaints of the American colonists any protest on this score."

THE INTERNATIONAL LAW.

Mr. Griggs then entered upon the presentation of his subject in detail. He contended that the right of the United States to acquire territory had been asserted in the Declaration of Independence, and said that such acquisition could be made either by conquest, by treaty, by annexation, or by discovery. He quoted a number of Supreme Court decisions in support of this contention.

A great deal of attention was given to the right to govern territory when once acquired, and innumerable authorities were presented in support of this position, among others the decision of the Supreme Court in the Mormon Church case, in which the Court said that "it would be absurd to hold that the United States has power to acquire territory and no power to govern it when acquired."

In this case the Court said, further on, that the United States, having acquired the Territory of Louisiana and the Territories west of the Rocky Mountains, "the United States Government was the only one which could impose laws upon them, and its sovereignty over them was complete." In the course of his argument in this connection Mr. Griggs asserted that "international law declares that the new sovereign may deal with the inhabitants of conquered or ceded territory and give them such laws as it sees fit."

QUOTES THOMAS JEFFERSON.

Mr. Griggs gave considerable attention to the views of Thomas Jefferson on the power of the United States to acquire territory. He quoted the letter of Mr. Jefferson to Senator Breckinridge in 1803, in which Mr. Jefferson said: "The Constitution makes no provision for holding foreign territory." Commenting upon this expression, the Attorney General said:

"If this language stood by itself and were the only utterance of Jefferson on the subject, it would justify that belief as to his opinion on the Constitutional question which has been commonly attributed to him. An examination, however, of his writings and of his whole conduct in connection with reference to the Louisiana Purchase, especially with reference to the Constitutional question, shows conclusively that Mr. Jefferson's doubt was not with reference to the power of the United States to acquire foreign territory, but rather as to the right to annex it and to make it part of the United States.'

Various other quotations were made from Jefferson's writings, and among others the following from a letter to Albert Gallatin:

"There is no Constitutional difficulty as to the acquisition of territory, and whether when acquired it may be taken into the Union by the Constitution as it now stands will become a question of expediency. I think it will be safer not to permit the enlargement of the Union but by amendment of the Constitution."

COURT DEFINES RIGHTS.

Liberal extracts also were made from the annals of Congress to show that the only doubt in the minds of members of Congress in connection with the acquisition of Louisiana was the right to attach it and make it a part of the United States.

Referring to the doubts of Jefferson, Madison, and various others of their time as to the power to bring acquired territory into the Union, Mr. Griggs said that power had now been affirmed by the judiciary, and he quoted numerous opinions in support of the statement. He contended also that "the conceded power to acquire territory by treaty or by conquest includes the right to prescribe what terms the United States will agree to in fixing the future status of its inhabitants," and in support of this contention, said, among other things:

"The political status of native Indian tribes within territory acquired by the United States by treaty has been uniformly regarded as unaffected by the cession. A long line of special treaties with such tribes, and numerous acts of legislation by Congress on the subject of Indians and Indian rights show that these people have always been regarded as quasi-foreign."

He asserted that "the treaty-making power of the Government has exercised the right to deal with the status of the inhabitants of ceded territory in every treaty of cession from 1803 to 1898." The status fixed, he said, has not been uniform, but exceedingly varying.

The Attorney General then proceeded to argue that this practice is entirely at variance with the doctrine that "the Constitution follows the flag," and that when territory is ceded to the United States the inhabitants become immediately ex proprio vigore citizens of the United States. "If that doctrine be true," he said, "every treaty that has brought us new lands and new inhabitants has violated in this respect the principles of the Constitution. It convicts of error and usurpation Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, James K. Polk, Franklin Pierce, Andrew Johnson, their Cabinets, and the Senates that ratified their treaties."

MR. GRIGGS ASKS QUESTIONS.

Arguing this point, he asked: "If Congress may properly define the classes of emigrant or aboriginal inhabitants who may become citizens, and the proper period of probation and the terms and conditions of admission, why is it unreasonable or unjust to leave to its judgment and discretion the time, the terms, and the conditions upon which the inhabitants of lately foreign islands may be admitted to the same high status?

"Is the United States so bound and tied by this Constitution of ours that it can never acquire an island of the sea, a belt across the isthmus, a station for a naval base, unless it be at the cost of admitting those who may happen to inhabit the soil at the time of the purchase to full rights as citizens of the Union, no matter how incongruous or unfit they may be, while the foreign-born inhabitant or the aboriginal red man must depend upon the grace of Congress, though he dwell half a century among us?

"What reason can be suggested for denying this Nation such full power and discretion as are possessed by all other nations in this respect? Why should the framers of the Constitution have wished to put shackles on the national limbs, or to strip the Nation of powers necessary to the preservation of its dignity and the maintenance of its material interests on an equality with the nations of the earth?

"The full exercise of these ordinary powers tends to the exaltation of the dignity, influence, and welfare of the union. These powers are inconsistent with no principle of personal liberty. Why seek to needlessly limit and restrain the National functions? Why not rather, with the same largeness of view and purpose that characterized such statesmen as Jefferson and Marshall, seek, by liberal interpretation, to give broad and ample scope to the spirit of National development, looking forward, as Marshall expressed it, 'to the ages to come,' when newer, grander, and more potential opportunities for National growth and influence should have come to us, than our fathers ever dreamed of?"

REVENUE LAW CONSTRUCTION.

Mr. Griggs laid it down as a fact that "administrative construction, Congressional action, and judicial precedent all affirm that under our revenue laws every port in a ceded country is to be regarded as a foreign one until such laws are expressly extended by Congress to the new possessions," and he gave very complete citations of proceedings under these heads in support of his contention.

In this connection he quoted the clause in the Thirteenth Amendment saying that slavery shall not exist in the United States, "or any place subject to their jurisdiction," and commenting upon it, said:

"The clear significance of this language is that there may be territory pertaining to and under the jurisdiction of the United States which is not a part of the United States, and to which the Constitution of the United States does not apply unless it be expressly made to apply thereto, as in the case of slavery."

Mr. Griggs then went at length into the claim that the Constitutional clause which provides that "duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States" prohibits imposition of duties in the cases before the court.

MEANING OF "UNIFORM."

"That clause," he said, "does not apply to nor govern these cases, because the term 'United States,' as there used, means only the territory comprised within the several States of the Union, and was intended only for their benefit and protection, and not for the benefit or protection of outside territory belonging to the Nation. In the latter sense, duties on imports from these islands are uniform throughout the United States because they are uniformly imposed at every port in the United States, so that there is no preference given to the ports of one State over those of another, nor is any inequality between the several States created."

He gave three definitions to the term "United States," as follows:

"1. The corporate name of the Nation or governmental entity, the same as was provided in the 'Articles of Confederation which declared, 'The style of this confederacy shall be the United States of America.'

"2. The States united—referring to the several States composing the Union. In this sense, of course, it excludes Territories.

"3. The international sense, designating the extent of our domain as a sovereign Nation.

"In this sense," he argued, "it includes all territory under our dominion wherein no other nation has sovereignty, even such as may be under our control by temporary conquest, as Tampico, Mexico, during the Mexican war, [Fleming vs. Page,] while in a domestic sense it includes geographically the States of the Union and such territory as the President and Senate have by treaties expressly annexed to and made part of the United States, and such as Congress and the President, by act or resolution, have expressly annexed to and made part of the United States, as the Hawaiian Islands."

TERRITORIAL RIGHTS.

The Attorney General argued for a sharp delineation between the rights of the people of the States and those of our immediate Territories, saying that all the authority of the United States is derived from the people of the States, and not from those of Territories; that the people of the Territories cannot share or contribute to that authority, as they are deprived of the right to elect officials, &c.

The purpose of the Constitutional provision for uniformity was that of insuring equally fair treatment by Congress to all the States, and it was known to have been one of the guarantees held out to the States to accept the Constitution. It was not a personal, but a local, guarantee, operating not as a privilege to individuals, but to States considered as organized constituents of the Union. Hence, he argued, reasons for applying it to Territories are wanting.

The last feature of the argument was a contention that the Constitution does not extend of its own force over acquired territory, and in this connection the Attorney General sought to refute the doctrine, as laid down by Chief Justice Taney in the Dred Scott case, that the United States could not acquire territory for any other purpose than to convert it into States of the Union.

THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

"The doctrine of the ex proprio vigore extension of the Constitution was never heard of," he said, "until it was invented and advocated by Calhoun as a means of fastening slavery upon California and New Mexico beyond the power of Congress to disturb or abolish it. It was in conflict with all previous views of statesmen of all parties, and opposed to the compact in the ordinance of 1787, as well as to the act of Congress known as the Missouri Compromise."

The doctrine announced in the Dred Scott decision was, said Mr. Griggs, not original with Chief Justice Taney, but was originated by John C. Calhoun and pronounced by him during the discussion of the Wilmot Proviso of 1847. This doctrine had been tacitly ignored and repudiated in later opinions and in Congressional action, to say nothing of the effect upon it of the result of the civil war. Indeed, said the Attorney General, in the language of Prof. Pomeroy, the Dred Scott decision had become "a by-word and a hissing."

Court adjourned at this point. Mr. Griggs will conclude his argument to-morrow, and will be followed by Mr. Aldrich, who will close the cases for the plaintiffs.

Among those who came in to hear the Attorney General was Representative Littlefield of Maine, whose speech in the Porto Rico debate was one of the most notable expressions on the status of the new insular possessions. Justice Brewer inquired of the Attorney General, soon after he began, if he maintained that Arizona and New Mexico came in the same category with the new possessions in the limitations which could be placed upon them. Mr. Griggs said he would later consider how far the Territories in this country and those beyond the sea rested on the same basis.

As the Attorney General proceeded he warmed up to his subject, at times speaking with great emphasis and pounding home his points by resounding blows on the table before him. Secretary Gage came in during the latter part of the day.

THE REAPPORTIONMENT PLAN.

Measure Providing for No Increase in the Representation Meets with Much Opposition.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Much opposition is developing in the House of Representatives to the Hopkins plan of passing an Apportionment bill retaining the present membership of 357. The chief argument advanced by the sponsors of this measure is that the chamber of the House is now filled to its capacity, and that the members who sit furthest from the Speaker can neither hear nor be heard when they address the chamber. The most popular plan is that of Mr. Burleigh of Maine, which proposes to add thirty members by adopting a ratio of 194,000 inhabitants as a unit basis.

In order to succeed in overturning the plan of the Census Committee, the opposition, which is both Republican and Democratic, will combine forces to support a minority report, to be submitted by Mr. Burleigh. According to the majority report, New York will get but one additional member. Mr. Burleigh would provide New York with three additional members and Pennsylvania with two, while Mr. Hopkins's plan adds one to New York and nothing to Pennsylvania's representation.

Under the minority report no State would lose and the following would gain: Arkansas, 1; California, 1; Colorado, 1; Connecticut, 1; Florida, 1; Illinois, 3; Iowa, 1; Louisiana, 1; Massachusetts, 1; Minnesota, 2; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 1; New Jersey, 2; New York, 3; North Carolina, 1; North Dakota, 1; Pennsylvania, 2; Texas, 3; Washington, 1; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 1.

Although the Census Committee has decided to pay no attention to the question of reducing Southern representation, in consequence of the deprivation by Southern States of the voting privilege hitherto enjoyed by negroes, Mr. Crumpacker is determined that the matter shall be discussed if he can command the floor and the attention of the House for a time.

Should the demand for an extended House be discovered in caucus to be too strong to be disregarded, the report of the Census Committee will be discarded and a new basis adopted before the public discussion is opened. It is the general opinion that a compromise will be effected, and that the membership will be increased to somewhere between 357 and 387—enough at least to preserve every State the representation that it now has.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL GROWS

Committee Decides Total Must Be Brought Down to $60,000,000—$2,200,000 for Buttermilk Channel.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The House Committee on Rivers and Harbors expects to have its bill completed before the holiday recess. As the bill nears completion, with the continuing contracts provided for, the total is mounting up far beyond the original anticipations, and at the last moment it may be found necessary to scale all around.

The committee has decided that the total carried by the bill, including provisions for continuing contracts, shall not exceed $60,000,000, and tentative items will be scaled accordingly. The bill will carry about $20,000,000 of direct appropriations.

The committee has provisionally agreed to an appropriation of $225,000 for a survey of the fourteen-foot canal project to connect the great lakes with the Mississippi by way of the Chicago Drainage Canal and the Desplaines River. There was a big fight in the committee over this matter, but the canal people won.

It also is understood that the committee has provisionally agreed upon $2,200,000 for Buttermilk Channel, New York.

HOME FOR DISABLED VETERANS.

Bill in Congress Provides for Union Men and Confederates.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Representative Richardson of Alabama to-day introduced in the House a bill to establish a soldiers' home for disabled Union and Confederate soldiers at Huntsville, Ala.

RAILROAD FIGHT IN THE HOUSE.

Opposition to Bill Giving New Terminal to the Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The whole day was occupied in a spirited contest over a Senate bill to change the terminal facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in this city and elevate the tracks of that company across the Mall, south of Pennsylvania Avenue.

The bill was antagonized on the ground that it gave the road three and a half acres of the land of the Government and would destroy the scheme to beautify the Mall from the Capitol to the Washington Monument. The opposition filibustered vigorously, but the friends of the bill finally succeeded at 6 o'clock in securing a recess until 11 o'clock to-morrow, when the fight will be resumed.

Congressional Notes.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio has introduced in the House a bill to extend to Hawaii the privileges of the act providing for the immediate transportation of dutiable goods.

The Secretary of War has sent to the House the report of the chief of engineers on the proposition to remove Ohio Reef at Narragansett Bay, R. I. The cost of the project is estimated at $307,200, but the report is adverse.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota yesterday offered an amendment, which he will propose to the Army Reorganization bill, providing for the issuance by the Secretary of War to the Governors of the States and Territories of Krag-Jorgensen rifles and equipment for the use of the National Guard.

The Senate Committee on Finance has authorized a favorable report on the House bill giving the Superintendents of Coinage at mints the right to exchange gold bars for gold coin free of charge or with charge, at their discretion. The present law makes the charge mandatory.

The War Revenue bill received brief consideration yesterday from the Senate Committee on Finance, but there was no discussion of the merits of the measure. There was no result except an increase of the uncertainty as to when the bill would be taken up for formal consideration by the committee. Some of the Democratic members indicated a desire for time to thoroughly examine the bill with the view of suggesting amendments.

At the request of the Secretary of War the House Committee on Insular Affairs has reported a bill increasing the salary of the Commissioner of Education of Porto Rico from $3,000 to $4,000. When Prof. Brumbaugh of the University of Pennsylvania accepted the position at the urgent request of the President and Secretary Root it was with the understanding that his salary should be increased. He received $5,000 at the University of Pennsylvania, and only accepted the position in Porto Rico out of a sense of public duty.

THE SHIPPING BILL'S FATE.

It Is Intimated that the Measure Will Not Be Passed at This Session of Congress.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—There is a new Ship Subsidy bill alarm every day. Yesterday there was one in the Senate corridor, and it gave the impression that something new had happened to the measure. But nothing had happened, and about the only foundation for the excited discussion was that Senator Aldrich had said that the bill would go over until after the holidays, simply because there will be but one short day in which to do business after the Hay-Pauncefote treaty has been disposed of.

Still, it is admitted by Senators who will vote for a bill, and who insist that subsidies will promote the development of the merchant marine, that the experience of the last three weeks does not hold out any prospect that the bill will grow in strength between now and New Year's.

Discussion of the provisions of the bill and examination of Mr. Hanna's speech, particularly in the interior of the country, are said to have fixed attention upon some of its features that had not been understood, and have intensified the feeling that the scheme of the bill is defective in that it will favor a limited class and tend to keep that class small.

Members of the steering committee treat the talk about the failure of the Ship Subsidy bill and the Nicaragua Canal bill very lightly, and declare that both will be passed at this session. While canvasses can be made of the probable vote on both measures, none is regarded as trustworthy.

It will not do, however, to assume anything from remarks made by Senators that seem to favor Mr. Hanna's expectations of early action. Private intimations justify the belief that on different pretexts the vote on the Subsidy bill is to be deferred from time to time until public opinion forbids its passage at this session, or the pressure of more imperative business precludes the attempt to force it to a vote. Said one very influential Republican Senator this afternoon:

"The Subsidy bill is a very important measure; it may eventually be passed, but it would be neither wise nor safe to wager that it will be passed at this session of Congress."

WHO WILL BUILD WARSHIPS.

Naval Board Settles on Builders of Several Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Board of Naval Construction, considering the bids for the construction of battleships and cruisers, has settled that one of the big armored cruisers shall go to Cramps', one to Newport News, and one to the Union Iron Works, in San Francisco. One battleship shall go to the Fore River Engine Works at Quincy, Mass.

This leaves seven ships to be disposed of, and while, in view of the fact that another meeting of the board is to be held, it is not possible to make the prediction with absolute accuracy, the indications are that these will be distributed as follows: One cruiser and one battleship to Cramps', making three for them; one cruiser and one battleship to Newport News, making three for them; one cruiser and one battleship to the Union Iron Works, making three for them, and one battleship to the Bath Iron Works.

There is still a possibility that Moran Brothers of Seattle may get the battleship slated for the Union Iron Works or the Bath Iron Works.

WORCESTER'S ELECTION TANGLE.

Both Candidates for Mayor Received Same Number of Votes.

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 18.—Worcester is to-day in a tangle over the Mayoralty question. The registers of voters have given their official declaration that both O'Connel and Lytle received the same number of votes—8,061. On these returns neither man is elected.

The city charter provides that in the failure to elect a Mayor a special election shall be ordered by the Board of Aldermen. This probably will be the next move. When this is done it is expected that O'Connel will ask the Supreme Court to issue an injunction restraining the Aldermen from calling the election. There are three ballots which were counted for Lytle that O'Connel claims should have been thrown out, on the ground that they are illegal. On these ballots O'Connel will ask for the injunction.

Mrs. McKinley Sees "San Toy."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Mrs. McKinley was the guest of honor at a box party given at the Columbia Theatre to-night by Controller and Mrs. Dawes to witness the performance of "San Toy," the musical comedy produced by the Augustin Daly company.

Lieut. Hobson Had a Good Day.

It was said at the Presbyterian Hospital last night that Lieut. Hobson had passed a good day.

B. Altman & Co.

SHAWL DEPARTMENT.

Algerian, Real Shetland, Silk and Wool, Chinese Embroidered Silk and All Silk Fancy Shawls, India Chuddah, Himalayan, Beaver and Long Woolen Shawls, Wool and Silk Fascinators, Cardigan Jackets and Quilted Vests.

WATCHES, DIAMONDS,
And Fine Jewelry.

Attention is called to our several grades of TIME-KEEPING WATCHES, all made specially for our house, and bearing our name.
(EVERY WATCH WARRANTED.)

Diamonds and Fine Gems a Specialty.

SIDE VIEW

"The Benedict" Perfect Collar and Cuff Button.
In gold, extra heavy rolled gold, and sterling silver.

FRONT VIEW

NOTE—THE GENUINE BENEDICT BUTTON has the name "BENEDICT," and date of patent stamped upon it. A SET OF FOUR MAKES AN ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.

BENEDICT BROTHERS, Jewelers,
Broadway and Cortlandt Street, N. Y. (Established 1819.)

New Publications. | New Publications. | New Publications.

A KENTUCKY CARDINAL AND ITS SEQUEL, AFTERMATH

Offers a rare opportunity to the artistic lover of books in that it combines in one volume, Cloth, $2.50,

JAMES LANE ALLEN'S AND HUGH THOMSON'S
Most Popular Short Stories, Delightful Illustrations.

"THE STORIES themselves are too well known to need any word of commendation, but another reading in their present setting will show that the delicate humor and gentle pathos are just as rare and delightful to-day as when they first touched the heart of the literary world."
TOLEDO BLADE.

"THIS NEW EDITION has been thoroughly revised and has a new preface, but its principal attractions lie in the one hundred illustrations by HUGH THOMSON, whose drawings have enriched so many artistic publications . . . with a truth to nature that is fairly captivating."
—SATURDAY EV'G GAZETTE, BOSTON

A complete collection of MR. JAMES LANE ALLEN'S writings in new editions:

THE REIGN OF LAW:

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE . . $1.50
SUMMER IN ARCADY . . . $1.25
A Tale of the Kentucky Hemp Fields . . . . . Illustrated, Cloth . . $1.50
THE BLUE GRASS REGION . $1.50
And FLUTE AND VIOLIN . . . $1.50

"Each new edition of the books has won additional praise."—Portland Transcript.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, 66 FIFTH AVENUE, N. Y.

IF YOU ARE CONSIDERING A CHRISTMAS GIFT
WHY NOT GIVE YOUR FRIEND
McCLURE'S MAGAZINE
For 1901
Twelve Months of Enjoyment Guaranteed
One Dollar a Year — Ten Cents a Copy
S. S. McCLURE COMPANY
141 - 157 East 25th Street - New York City

PARIS EXPOSITION 1900.
THREE GRAND PRIZES FOR OXFORD INDIA PAPER, BOOKBINDING, AND HIGHER EDUCATIONAL WORKS.

OXFORD IDEAL XMAS GIFTS
BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, PRAYER BOOKS AND HYMNALS
IN A VARIETY OF CHOICE BINDINGS

For Sale by all Booksellers. Send for Catalogue.
OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS—AMERICAN BRANCH.
91 and 93 Fifth Avenue, New York.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

OUR SPECIALTIES:
THE CELEBRATED INSTRUMENTS
BAY STATE GUITARS
BAY STATE BANJOS
BAY STATE MANDOLINS
BAY STATE ZITHERS
BAY STATE FLUTES

Guitars,	From	3.00	to	75.00
Mandolins,	From	3.00	to	75.00
Banjos,	From	1.50	to	50.00
Flutes,	From	1.00	to	175.00
Cornets,	From	10.00	to	100.00
Clarinets,	From	5.00	to	50.00
Violins,	From	1.50	to	300.00
Music Boxes,	From	.75	to	350.00

Music Rolls, Piano Chairs, Music Satchels, Piano Stools, Music Stands, Instrument Cases, Music Cabinets, Metronomes, Musical Sundries of All Kinds

THE LARGEST STOCK OF MUSIC and MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
Musical Instruments repaired. Musical Instrument supplies.
Chas. H. Ditson & Co.,
867 Broadway (18th St.)

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

On the wheel of time our skill has been perfected—twenty-three years of making satisfactory clothing.

Special sale of overcoatings, embracing the newest novelties, the green gray, blue gray, brown gray, and Oxford gray, Cheviots and Friezes, overcoat to order, satin lined, $20. Raglan or Chesterfield, $25. Special sale of fancy Worsteds and Cheviots, suit to order, $16. Prince Alberts made of Vicuna Thibet, silk lined and faced, $23. Imported trouserings, $6. Our full dress Tuxedo, at $30, is special value.

Samples, Fashion Review, Measuring Guide mailed upon request.

ARNHEIM,

BROADWAY & NINTH STREET

Solid Silver

Exclusively.

TRADE MARK W STERLING

WHITING M'F'G CO.

Silversmiths,

Broadway & 18th St.

New York

SUGGESTIONS.

1. We manufacture solid silver only, and of but one grade, that of Sterling 925-1000 fine; therefore the above trade mark is a guarantee of quality as absolute as the Hall Mark of England.
2. Purchasers secure an entire freedom from false impressions to which they are liable where solid silver and plated ware are made in the same factory.
3. The question, "Is it silver, or is it plated?" is never raised concerning a gift bearing this trade mark, as all wares so marked are solid silver and solid silver only.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS.

We Will Not Change

our quality of whiskey to blended, just because it pays much more profit; shall continue to sell

OLD CROW RYE

in its purity. The public are fast learning that a straight whiskey, is better for their health. Gold Medal awarded for purity, Paris, 1900.

H. B. KIRK & CO., N. Y.

WINE MERCHANTS.

If your past experience with the transient beauty of Dolldom suggests the need of a

Dolls' Accident Insurance

buy a Metal Head and stop the breakage.

ONLY THE

"Minerva" METAL Dollheads

combine

BEAUTY OF BISQUE

with

DURABILITY OF METAL

AND CAN NOT BREAK.

Indispensable for old and new dolls! Can be adjusted to the shape of body and easily fitted in position without experience.

ALL SIZES! ALL STYLES!

FOR SALE AT ALL DEALERS IN TOYS.

Alfred Visoher & Co., Gen. Agts., 11 Warren St., N.Y.

BRUMMELL'S

WORLD RENOWNED CANDIES.

FINE CHOCOLATES, BON BONS & CARAMELS.

On account of their delicious flavor, procured by the use of only the most expensive flavorings, our Candies have become the most popular and widely known throughout the country.

Carefully packed in tin boxes and shipped to any part of the country.

BRANCHES:

831 Broadway. Cor. 31st and B'dway. 293 Sixth Ave 28 East 23d St.

EVERY DAY AND SUNDAY

THE NEW YORK TIMES

Delivered at Your Home

NINE CENTS A WEEK.

Order in Advance from your newsdealer.

THE NEW YORK TIMES is sold by newsdealers without the privilege of returning unsold copies, consequently to be sure of getting the paper it is well to Order It Delivered at Your Residence.

REPUBLICANS FAVORED AT MR. PLATT'S REQUEST

Senator Asked that Politics Influence an Armory Contract.

THE LOWEST BID REJECTED

Contractor Whalen, a Democrat, Put In an Offer $400 Less than Filkins & De Graff, but the Republicans Got It.

A documentary exposé of the political pressure successfully exercised by Senator Thomas C. Platt, Irving L'Hommedieu, Republican State Committeeman of the Thirtieth Congressional District, and Col. William J. Youngs, Gov. Roosevelt's private secretary, to secure the contract for the Medina armory building for Filkins & De Graff, their political friends, as against Thomas F. Whalen of Ogdensburg, a Democrat, whose bid was the lowest, was made in The New York Journal yesterday. Four letters—one from Filkins to Senator Platt, one from L'Hommedieu to Senator Platt, one from Senator Platt to Col. Youngs, and one from Col. Youngs to Senator Platt—were published to support the charge.

The authenticity of the letters is admitted.

The bids for the contract to build an armory in Medina, Orleans County, were opened last Summer by the State Armory Board, composed of Adjt. Gen. Edward M. Hoffman, Gen. James McLeer, and Gen. Peter C. Doyle. The amount appropriated by the Legislature for the building was $50,000. The specifications expressly provided that "a satisfactory bond, approved by the Controller," must be given by the contractor for the construction of the building according to the specifications, and within the amount appropriated. Those from whom bids for the work were received were Thomas Whalen of Ogdensburg, Filkins & De Graff of Medina, A. W. Reynolds of Binghamton, Peter Keeler of Albany, M. L. Ryder of Albany, Wentworth & Taylor of Niagara Falls, H. H. Edgerton of Rochester, and William Alden of Tonawanda.

Whalen's bid of $42,437.82 was the lowest bid received. The next bidder to Whalen was the firm of Filkins & De Graff, who bid $42,843, which was $407.18 more than Whalen's bid. Under the conditions of the advertisement, Whalen, being the lowest bidder, was entitled to the contract, provided he could furnish the required bond. The bond required was 5 per cent. of the amount bid. Mr. Whalen at once forwarded a check to cover that amount to the Armory Board. No question as to the sufficiency or soundness of Mr. Whalen's security was raised at the time he offered it.

THE POLITICS IN IT.

Filkins & De Graff, having failed to secure the contract in fair competition, resorted to political influence. Filkins is a Republican of prominence in Orleans County. He wanted to be a delegate to the National Republican Convention in Philadelphia, but was disappointed. Irving L'Hommedieu, the Republican State Committeeman of the Thirtieth Congressional District, who lives in Medina, was generally believed to be responsible for the turndown of Filkins. Later Mr. L'Hommedieu found he had use for Mr. Filkins, and became anxious to placate him. Mr. L'Hommedieu's change of front toward Mr. Filkins was due, it seems, to a political exigency. Senator Platt had ordered the renomination of State Senator Ellsworth of the Forty-fifth Senatorial District, comprising the Counties of Niagara, Genesee, and Orleans. There was a rival aspirant for the nomination—Ellis of Genesee. The combining of the delegates from Orleans and Genesee would defeat Ellsworth. In this situation Filkins became important.

When Filkins realized that he was about to lose the contract for the Medina armory he appealed to L'Hommedieu. In this appeal L'Hommedieu saw his chance to clinch Ellsworth's renomination, and lost no time in availing himself of it. He set the Republican political machinery of the State working to secure the armory contract for Filkins & De Graff, and thus bind Filkins to the support of Ellsworth. The influences he invoked and the action he called forth are shown in the four following letters, which have been acknowledged to be authentic:

FROM FILKINS TO PLATT.

Medina, N. Y., July 13, 1900.

My Dear Mr. Platt:

Fortune seems to be driving me all the time to asking favors of you instead of conferring them. I know that you must have your hands very full and ten thousand favors asked of you which requires, on your part, a very great deal of patience, &c. But a matter which is of some interest to me and to the Republicans of this county is at stake. It is the building of the armory here at Medina of Medina sandstone. Yesterday at Albany some six or seven bids were made and a bid made by myself and Mr. De Graff, made jointly, was the lowest bid of any of them, except one made by Mr. Whelan of Ogdensburg. His bid was not a straight bid, that is, a bid on all the matters to be furnished; but by the method of bidding his bid will be from four to six hundred dollars less than De Graff and myself. He has not furnished a certified check to within two or three hundred dollars of the amount required by law.

We don't know the politics of Mr. Whalen, but we do know that he is in with one or two quarry owners in this county who are Democrats, and it would be the laughing stock of the entire county if these Democratic quarry owners should get the job of furnishing the stone and a Democrat should get the job of building the armory. Mr. De Graff owns a first-class quarry in this county, and is a leading Republican and a delegate to the next State Convention, and I own another large quarry, and we put out bids together; it went in under the name of Filkins & De Graff.

Mr. L'Hommedieu is in New York now and is very much interested in Filkins & De Graff getting the contract for the entire armory, as he has other fish to fry in connection with it.

We need that armory to handle here in the politics of this county and it can be done very effectively. The question is whether a foreigner, having no interest in the quarries of this county, having no interest in anything in this county, should be awarded the job, when the county itself is to pay a very large amount toward it, and should be awarded the cutting and furnishing the stone and doing nearly all the work, and furnishing all the rest of the matters connected with the armory, should be given to a lot of Democrats. You know how to manage this thing. We want the job more for the politics than for the money there is in it. If you can possibly aid us in this matter it will certainly be remembered, and I think you know how to do it. Very sincerely yours.

S. E. FILKINS.

FROM L'HOMMEDIEU TO PLATT.

Medina, N. Y., July 14, 1900.

My Dear Senator:

Mr. Filkins wrote you recently concerning the contract for the armory to be constructed at this place. By accepting proposition of Filkins & De Graff in preference to the proposition of a Mr. Whalen of Ogdensburg, it will only cost $400 more to have the contract awarded to Filkins & De Graff in preference to Mr. Whalen. This contract is to be awarded by the Armory Commission, of which Gen. Hoffman is the one who will undoubtedly control.

Senator Ellsworth and myself have seen Gen. Hoffman, but I wish you would find some means of communicating with Gen. Hoffman or with Senator Fassett of Elmira, who is a particular friend of his, with a view of having Gen. Hoffman influence the commission to have this contract awarded to Filkins & De Graff.

Frankly, this matter is of great political moment locally; it is also of considerable interest to Senator Ellsworth that Mr. Filkins's interests should be recognized at this time. By reason of some developments at our recent District Convention, the Niagara County people failed to keep an agreement of theirs to send Mr. Filkins to the National Convention, which somewhat angered Mr. Filkins, so much so that great pressure has been brought to bear to defeat Senator Ellsworth for renomination by having the Orleans delegates vote for Ellis of Genesee.

I would like to be relieved of this embarrassment by having Mr. Filkins taken care of at this time. He has been a life-long friend of yours, as you know, and has had very little recognition at the hands of the local district organization. Sincerely yours,

IRVING L'HOMMEDIEU.

PLATT'S ORDERS TO YOUNGS.

New York, July 16, 1900.

Hon. William J. Youngs, Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y.:

My Dear Youngs: I wish you would please read carefully the attached letters from my friends S. E. Filkins and Irving L'Hommedieu, which are self-explanatory. I do not know just how I can properly achieve the result which they seek; but it strikes me that you, being on the ground and presumably having relations with the officials concerned, can find a way to accomplish it. I regard its accomplishment as of considerable political consequence, and I would like to have you do what you can in the interest of these gentlemen. Please return their letters. Yours truly, T. C. PLATT.

YOUNGS'S REPLY TO PLATT.

July 17, 1900.

Hon. T. C. Platt, 49 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Dear Senator—Yours of the 16th inst., with inclosures, is just received. I reinclose the letters to you, thinking you may wish to retain them. I have just seen Gen. Hoffman in relation to this matter, and he tells me that he is one of the three who compose the board, the other two being Gen. McLeer of Brooklyn and Gen. Doyle of Buffalo.

I don't know about McLeer, but Doyle is a Democrat. I do not know whether you can reach him through Kreidenheimer or not. The meeting is to be held here to-morrow, at which these bids will be considered.

Gen. Hoffman went to see Mr. Odell yesterday afternoon, but found him out. He says that he has consulted with Col. Ellsworth on three separate occasions, and Mr. L'Hommedieu on two other occasions, in regard to this matter, and if in any way he can consistently and properly under the law do as requested, he will, of course, be happy to do so. I will try to see Gen. McLeer to-morrow morning.

As to the check being sufficient in amount, the matter will be submitted to the Attorney General for report to-day.

I will be in to see you at the very first opportunity. Faithfully yours,

WM. J. YOUNGS.

Up to this time no question had been raised as to Whalen's legal right to the contract. The only grounds urged for depriving Whalen of it and giving it to Filkins & De Graff were purely political. But about a week after the talk between Youngs and Hoffman the point was raised that the check sent by Whalen as security for the fulfillment of the contract was insufficient. Whalen's check was for $2,000. The claim was made that it should have been for $2,121.

On Aug. 3 the Armory Board met, and Deputy Attorney General Frank M. Parsons, who understood from a statement of Gen. Hoffman's that Whalen had sent no check with his bid, said the law required a check. On Aug. 27 the board met again, threw out Whalen's bid and awarded the contract to Filkins & De Graff.

The law says distinctly that the board shall award the contract to the lowest bidder, and that the State Controller shall decide as to the bond.

Contractor Thomas T. Whalen, when seen at his home, in Ogdensburg, furnished an explanation of the way in which the officials interested in Filkins & De Graff getting the contract are alleged to have found an excuse for their action. Mr. Whalen has been a contractor and builder in Ogdensburg for many years and his standing is of the best. Mr. Whalen said:

SPECIFICATIONS WERE ALTERED.

"In his letter to Platt I observe that Filkins acknowledges that my bid was from $400 to $600 less than his. I have since been figuring on the job, as Filkins & De Graff propose to finish it, and I find that I can complete the same work for from $1,300 to $1,500 less. When I made my bid certain stipulations were contained in the specifications which do not appear in the contract as given to Filkins & De Graff. I was indignant when my check was returned to me and when I learned that my bid had been rejected. The cheap excuse was made that the check did not cover the 5 per cent. condition. It did cover it, and covered more than the actual contract figures, but the rascals added items to the specifications which were not mentioned in the original requirements. And to go further, I understand that since my check was returned these and other specifications have been lopped off without requiring a proportionate decrease of the Filkins & De Graff bid."

Mr. Whalen is a Democrat in politics. He says he thought of bringing suit to establish his right to the award, but after figuring that the cost of litigation would eat up all the profits of the work concluded not to do so.

"SOME POLITICS IN IT."

Leader L'Hommedieu Says He Wanted His Friends Helped When the Award Was Made.

Special to The New York Times.

MEDINA DEPOT, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Both Mr. L'Hommedieu, the Orleans County Republican leader, and Mr. Filkins, the Republican politician and quarry owner who was the senior member of the firm to which the contract for the Medina Armory was awarded, made statements to-night. Mr. L'Hommedieu says: "I was interested to the extent that I wished Filkins & Degraff to obtain this contract. It is true that there was some politics in it, and I wished to care for my friends. The records of the Adjutant General's office will show that the difference between Whalen's bid and Filkins & Degraff's bid is a matter of about $400. Mr. Whalen did not comply with the requirements, as his check was less than 5 per cent. of the amount of his bid, and he had no standing whatsoever before the Armory Commission as a competitor for this work. I wrote as I did to Senator Platt because I was not acquainted with the Armory Commission, and I desired that proper consideration should be given by the commission to the claims of my friends, for they were entitled to the contract, as a matter of law. No rights have been invaded, and if my action in the matter has aided me in the contract being awarded to the parties legally entitled to it, I am proud of that action. If yellow journals take any delight in publishing private correspondence, obtained evidently through theft or purchase from some man who has had the opportunity of taking photographic copies of the letters for the purpose of sale or blackmail, they are welcome to their glory."

Mr. Filkins said: "I saw the legal point that Mr. Whalen's check was not 5 per cent. of the amount of his bid, and I raised it by writing to the Armory Commission and objecting to the awarding of the contract to Mr. Whalen. As to the politics of the matter, I have to say simply that Orleans County this Fall gave the greatest Republican majority in its history."

"LET IN COMPLIANCE WITH LAW."

Gen. Hoffman Says State's Interests Were Looked After—Attorney Parsons's Advice.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Dec. 18.—While neither Secretary William J. Youngs nor Adjt. Gen. Hoffman would deny the authenticity of the Senator Platt correspondence relative to the letting of the Medina Armory contract to Filkins & De Graff, they refused to make any statement for publication. Secretary Youngs was at the Executive Chamber, but confined himself to the remark: "I will not discuss it and have no statement to make."

All that Adjt. Gen. Hoffman would say regarding the matter was this: "The contract for the Medina State Armory was let in strict compliance with the law, and the interests of the State were properly looked after by the commission."

Deputy Attorney General Parsons was called in by the Armory Board for legal advice on the letting of the Medina Armory contract. He said to-night: "The Board of Armory Commissioners had a meeting and sent for me, and I was told they had advertised for bids—I think it was on the Medina Armory—and that they required a deposit accompanying the bids. One of the bidders had failed to make the deposit required on the proposal for bids. The Commissioners wanted to know what rights they had in the matter, or what their duties were, and I suggested that if the bids did not conform with the requirements of the proposals published, they could consider them as informal and could readvertise for bids, or if they deemed it for the best interests of the State they might let the contract to the next higher bidder. This I considered to be within the sound discretion of the board. That was substantially all the advice I gave in that connection."

NEW FLAGPOLE FOR POST OFFICE.

One It Is to Replace Has Braved Wind and Weather for Sixteen Years.

Uncle Sam is to make the Post Office Building a Christmas present of a new flagpole for the Mail Street front of the huge Mullet-designed pile. That is the reason why the existing pole is to-day surrounded by supporting braces and decorated with tackle of various sorts. The old pole will be taken down by a firm of Brooklyn riggers late this week, and a new pole of Oregon pine will be hoisted in place on Sunday.

Peter Manee put the present pole in place sixteen years ago. It rises fifty-nine feet above the cupola, and extends below the circular roof thirteen feet, at which point it is securely stepped. This pole succeeded the one placed there in 1874 when the building was erected, so that it has outlived by six years its predecessor. Recently the custodian of the building decided that wind and weather had so weakened the pole that it was not entirely sound and safe. Rather than run the risk of accident, Mr. Flaherty decided that a new pole should be substituted, so as to save the Government from even the possibility of a suit for damages. The new pole is the result.

It will have a weather vane that will work at all times. The present one will only do so when a half gale or more is blowing. The new pole will be about the same height as that which is to be removed.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

BAIL FOR ACCUSED NURSES

Held in the Sum of $1,000 Each to Appear Next Friday.

OGDEN MILLS THEIR BONDSMAN

Commissioner Keller Says Wright Is a Liquor Fiend and that He Is Unworthy of Belief.

Clinton L. Marshall, Edward O. Dean, and J. R. Davis, the three nurses from the Bellevue Hospital pavilion for the insane, who were arrested night before last on the charge of having been instrumental in causing the death of Louis H. Hilliard, a patient in the pavilion, were taken before Coroner Fitzpatrick yesterday morning. He released them on bail of $1,000 each and set Friday as the day of the inquest. Ogden Mills went on their bonds, naming as security his residence at Fifth Avenue and Sixty-ninth Street. Thomas Minnock, the "newspaper man" who had himself incarcerated in the insane pavilion last week, and who made an affidavit that the nurses maltreated Hilliard, was not present, and the Coroner said that he could not account for his absence. Mr. Mills, the bondsman, is a son of D. O. Mills, who founded the Mills Training School.

John W. Keller, Commissioner of Charities, was busy all day investigating the charges made to him on Monday by Thomas D. Wright, a former patient in the alcoholic ward of Bellevue Hospital. This man told the Commissioner that he had witnessed, while in the ward, all kinds of abuses, seeing the nurses beat and kick their charges and accept bribes from such patients as were willing or able to pay for the privilege of not being beaten, kicked, and otherwise maltreated. In the course of his complaint Wright named several specific instances of the misconduct of nurses, mentioning the names of the nurses whom he accused and repeating alleged conversations with them, in which they are alleged to have praised the principle of kicking the sick and the taking of bribes from either drunken men or their friends.

After hearing the charges of the former patient, Commissioner Keller summoned the accused nurses, the President of the Board of Trustees of the training school, and some of the physicians of the hospital to his office and questioned them as to the allegations. When all of them had been examined, Mr. Keller said:

"This Wright is an alcohol fiend, who, according to his own confession, has been in various institutions for the treatment of drunkards. I do not believe that he is telling the truth.

"The persons connected with the hospital whom I have examined are Dr. Fowler, President of the Board of Trustees of the training school; Superintendent O'Rourke of Bellevue Hospital, Dr. Moore who is in charge of the alcoholic ward; Mrs. Willard, the Superintendent of the school; Dr. Lambert, visiting physician to the hospital; Mr. Harmer, head nurse of the alcoholic ward, and Mr. King, a helper in the same department. They all deny Wright's stories. Dr. Moore tells me that never since he has been in the hospital has there been an instance of the kind of thing narrated by Wright, and Superintendent O'Rourke says that it would be impossible for such a state of affairs to exist.

"I think that as Commissioner I should be perfectly justified in taking the record of the school, and the statements of Drs. Fowler and Lambert, Superintendent O'Rourke, and the rest of the witnesses, as more credible testimony than that of a liquor fiend like Wright. I think, also, their statements are more reliable than those of a man like this Dr. Lent, who is quoted as having made statements similar to those of Wright, and who is a morphine fiend. I shall leave no stone unturned, however, to obtain evidence corroborative of the sayings of Wright and Lent. I do not believe, however, that the evidence will be forthcoming."

After saying that he would exert every effort to get hold of Lent, who is at present somewhere on Long Island, the Commissioner explained the methods employed in the training school—how more than two-thirds of the applicants for admission are always turned away, how satisfactory references are required as to character, health, and ability, and how, after being received, a scholar is first kept on probation for a month, and then becomes a "pupil-nurse" at a salary of $10 a month, including board and lodging.

"It is a peculiar trait of victims of alcoholism that they fancy things. They especially regard restraint upon them as an intentional effort to do them bodily injury. Wright might have thought anything. That he has not yet recovered from his ailment was plainly shown by the way he behaved when he came to my office last night. He was so nervous that I feared he might jump out of the window, and, when Head Nurse Harmer came in, we had to put the accuser in a side room, as he either was or pretended to be so frightened that he did not want to come face to face with the man he attacked. He declined to go into the alcoholic ward with us afterward, saying that the nurses would kill him."

It seems that Wright was, after he had been in the hospital for a while, sufficiently recovered to be pressed into service by the nurses as a kind of assistant—a thing that they have to do occasionally when they are short of help. Commissioner Keller said yesterday that Wright had never got well enough to be discharged by the regular physician in charge of the ward, but that his release had been effected adroitly during an absence of that physician.

When Superintendent O'Rourke was asked for a statement about the charges he said that they were all groundless.

"Any nurse guilty of such conduct as he tells of," added the Superintendent, "would be discharged at once. Are there any bribes? Of course I can't say as to that. If any were discovered, I should get rid of the takers. But tips, you know, have been in vogue for a long time. They are an American fault everywhere."

He said further that the death rate for the last year in the male division of the alcoholic ward had been only 4.03 per cent. of the total registration.

HIS LITTLE BOY 6 FT. 7 IN. TALL.

Father Hadn't Beaten Him, and Couldn't Understand Why He Ran Away.

J. H. Orr of Wilkesbarre, Penn., has for some days been on a visit to his son-in-law, who lives on Garden Street, Hoboken. Yesterday he received a telegram stating that his son Willie had left home, taking $200 with him. He hurried to the telegraph office and telegraphed instructions for a general alarm to be sent out, and then went to the Lackawanna Station to watch the trains. While there he got into conversation with the night operator.

"What does your son look like?" the operator asked.

"He's just a little boy," the father answered, "fifteen years and six months old, and six feet seven inches tall."

"I guess I'll know him if I see him," the operator answered, and twenty minutes after the father had left he saw the unmistakable six feet seven inch boy enter. He telephoned to Mr. Orr, and in a few minutes the latter was marching the boy to Police Headquarters. He had $137 left, and said that he had thrown $50 into the river. After giving him a severe scare, the father started for home with the youngster by way of the Lackawanna Road.

"If I had beaten the boy," the father said, looking up at him, "I could understand it; but I never beat him."

BUSY BROOKLYN BURGLARS.

Store and Flat Near a Police Station Robbed on the Same Day.

One of the boldest burglaries committed recently in the Park Slope section of Brooklyn came to light yesterday. Early on Monday morning thieves broke into Charles A. Cook's sporting goods store, at 535 Sixth Avenue, and carried off stock worth $300, including a phonograph weighing seventy-five pounds.

The store, which is near Fifteenth Street, little more than a block away from the Fifth Avenue Police Station, was well lighted at the time.

A flat at the corner of Sixth Avenue and Fourteenth Street was robbed on Monday night, and residents of the neighborhood claim that other stores and flats there have been entered by thieves within the past few days.

Street Railway's Assessment Reduced.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—The State Board of Taxation to-day rendered a decision reducing from $3,100,000 to $2,266,000 the assessment made against the North Jersey Street Railway Company by the City of Newark. The assessment included about $500,000 representing franchise value. This, the State Board held, could not be taxed. A further reduction was allowed because of the liability of the company's rolling stock and equipment to wear and tear.

Gifts For Women

Toilet Articles—silver mounted. Vases, Bon Bon Dishes Sets in Cases

Glassware

OPEN EVENINGS.

DORFLINGER

915 Broadway and 36 Murray St., New York

DETECT THE DETECTIVES

Lookouts Give Notice of Elaborate Preparations to Raid.

"Nothing Doing" at an Alleged Poolroom When Snydecker and Hahn Appear on the Scene.

Wearing an air of mysterious importance Detectives Snydecker and Hahn, attached to the Oak Street Station, hurried into the Centre Street Court about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and in low tones asked of Magistrate Flammer a warrant for the arrest of the proprietor "of one of the biggest poolrooms down town." The warrant clerk's eyes opened very wide as the Vidocqs confidentially added that "it was the Big Boy's." To the court reporters the detectives, calling each aside, remarked that there would be something doing promptly at 2 o'clock.

"We're after 'em, sure, this time. Watch something drop. Be around 80 Park Row in an hour or so and see the fun," said they. No. 80 Park Row, on the ground floor, is a saloon. On the floor above there is a large room with two entrances, divided off by a glass partition, like an office. In this partition is a small window similar to those used by the cashiers in banks. A telegraph instrument ordinarily ticks busily on a table in the centre of the room. More tables are ranged along the walls, and there are also a few chairs in the place. The wall paper is red. Disposed around this sanguinary-hued paper are printed signs which declare that the management is not responsible for jockies, weights, and distances. Explanation of the meaning of these legends is not appended. The dark window shades are always drawn, and at the Park Row entrance an alert young man stands and closely scrutinizes every one who endeavors to enter.

The place has been openly termed a poolroom many times in the Centre Street Court by persons with sporting proclivities who thought they knew a thing or two about horses and who had backed their judgment, they said, in the red-papered room. Having, as they thought, won much money in this manner, upon demanding it they have sometimes been ignominiously booted out of the front door by a large and muscular "bouncer." Patrick Divver's name has been persistently connected with the ownership of the place.

Court hangers-on, steerers, tipsters, lookouts, and runners, loitering in the corridors of the Criminal Court Building, yesterday knew that a warrant had been issued within seven minutes after the detectives entered the court. Instantly they scurried away in many directions, and shortly after a steady stream of men came slowly down the white stairs of 80 Park Row and mingled with the crowd on the street. The alert young man at the entrance lighted a cigarette and waited for things to happen. The neighborhood also wore an air of anxious expectancy. The policemen at the bridge corner and at the crossing looked listlessly across the park. No patrol wagon hove in sight as time passed, and up stairs the three men remaining swept up the floor and read the large-typed announcement in an evening paper that the premises which they were occupying would be raided promptly at 2 o'clock. The New Orleans races began about 2 o'clock, and this hour the telegraph instrument on the table gave a spasmodic tick or so and was silent. Shortly after Detectives Hahn and Snydecker arrived out of breath, ran up the steps, violently pushed open the door, and looked around in vain for the crowd of bettors which is usually present at this hour.

"Hello, Bill," said one of the men.

"Lookin' for anybody?" asked the other.

John Schroeder, a driver for an afternoon paper, who had made the latest complaint of having been fleeced in the place, identified one of the men as the person who had accepted his money, placed at long odds on Frangible, running yesterday at New Orleans. He was kicked out when he asked for his winnings. This man was arrested. He gave his name as Michael Sheehan of 430 Pearl Street, and was held in $1,000 bail for trial.

Later the stream of persons entering No. 80 went on as usual.

MORE SMALLPOX CASES.

Seventy Persons in All Have Been Stricken and Only Three Have Died.

Although smallpox continues to appear in different parts of the city, it does not secure the foothold that seemed likely at the commencement of the present outbreak. This is due, the Health Department doctors believe, to the manner in which people awoke to the dangers of the situation, and submitted to vaccination. New cases reported yesterday were Michael Furlong, a member of Truck No. 14 of the Fire Department, whose headquarters is at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, near Lexington Avenue, and who lives with his mother at 168 East One Hundred and Seventeenth Street; Albert Cordts, eight years old, of 759 Melrose Avenue, near One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Street, and Julia Murphy of 526 St. Ann's Avenue. The department has not succeeded in tracing the origin of these cases.

Furlong was at the firehouse Sunday morning, and at that time responded to an alarm at Third Avenue and One Hundred and Seventeenth Street with the company. He went to dinner, but did not return, sending a report that he was ill. It was not until late the following day that the nature of his ailment was suspected.

The case in the Bronx is the first that has originated in that borough. There is a case on North Brother Island which was caught just in time to avoid great danger to many. The patient is Evelyn Evans. She was ill and her friends drove her to the Presbyterian Hospital in a cab. The doctors decognized the nature of the malady as she sat in the vehicle at the door, and she was taken directly to the Reception Hospital. Dr. Charles F. Roberts yesterday reported a total of 54 cases at the island pesthouse, of 70 in all during the outbreak, of whom but three have died, one of those being an infant in arms.

Dr. F. H. Dillingham, his assistant, said yesterday that these figures indicated that New York was as safe from the scourge at the present time as any place in the country. "People need feel no undue fear of meeting the disease as they go about their Christmas shopping," he said yesterday.

Dr. Blauvelt said that in regard to other contagious diseases the city was more healthy than usual. Dr. Roberts produced figures to show that diphtheria, typhoid, measles, and other contagious and infectious diseases are much less prevalent now than at this time last year. Diphtheria, however, seems to be increasing more rapidly than other diseases with which the department has to cope.

LA CHAMPAGNE FOUGHT GALES.

French Liner Delayed Forty-eight Hours by Rough Weather at Sea.

The French liner La Champagne, forty-eight hours overdue from Havre, arrived in port yesterday morning. From port to port gales, heavy seas, and high head winds were encountered. From the 10th to the 15th the fury of the storm increased to such an extent that the engines were slowed down, the steamer proceeding at a greatly reduced speed. Although the seas often swept across her decks, the vessel suffered no damage.

Among those who arrived on the Champagne were M. Dallemagne, French Consul General at New Orleans; Wilson Tripp, José Vidal, M. S. Wolff, Cathel Brown, and A. S. Clarke.

W. & J. Sloane

FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS.

ORIENTAL RUGS,

comprising many beautiful specimens of various weaves; Rare Silk Rugs, unsurpassed for decorative purposes; Antique Runners in great variety for halls and stairs.

FUR RUGS for DRAWING ROOMS.

Polar Bears, Tigers, Leopards, Black Bears, and White Angoras.

SILK PILLOWS of richest materials.

FRENCH FURNITURE, including Small Tables, and Writing Desks, Pedestals, Screens, and Odd Chairs.

Broadway & 19th Street.

If You Take Cold Easily

WINTER MUST BE AN ANXIOUS TIME FOR YOU.

KOTEDSILK

is almost an insurance against colds and their attendant evils. It is a double fabric. Pure silk on the finest cotton. Fits like tailor work, and is so well finished that it outlasts two suits of less perfectly constructed underwear.

See the word KOTEDSILK on every garment.

All Leading Stores, and Kotedsilk Underwear Co., Millbury, Mass., or 70-72 Franklin St., N. Y.

COL. GARDINER'S ANSWER.

District Attorney and His Assistants Will Appear Before the Governor on Saturday.

District Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner, with all of his assistants mentioned in the charges of Deputy Attorney General John Henry Hammond, alleging misconduct and malfeasance in office, will appear before Gov. Roosevelt in Albany Saturday to enter personal denial to each allegation.

Col. Gardiner's answer to the charges, including affidavits from Assistant District Attorneys Gordon, McClelland, O'Reilly, McCann, and Unger, will be ready for transmission to the Governor late this afternoon or early to-morrow. An affidavit from Abraham Levy, counsel for a number of the persons indicted for violations of the election laws, will also be incorporated in the answer.

Col. Gardiner refused yesterday to talk of the charges, but his assistants all pronounced them groundless. Their fears that the District Attorney will be removed by Gov. Roosevelt had not abated, however.

DARRAH'S STOCK TIED UP.

His 37,000 Shares Held to Await a Decision of the Court.

There are at present many shares of the Standard Shoe Machinery Company tied up in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company awaiting a decision of the Supreme Court on a motion to vacate a temporary injunction restraining the issuing of these shares to James M. Darrah.

Mr. Darrah, in 1889, conceived the idea of forming a company to make complete outfits for manufacturers of shoes. It takes forty-five different machines to turn out one pair of shoes. Mr. Darrah had his company capitalized at $14,000,000, and among those interested with him was Gov. Pingree of Michigan. The company was to work in opposition to the United Shoe Machinery Company, which has a capital of $20,000,000. To carry out his plans it was necessary for Mr. Darrah to get a number of independent companies to consolidate into the Standard Shoe Machinery Company. Nearly all of the independent companies were consolidated, when, in September last, William B. Hosmer of Boston, Mass., and Woodson R. Ogleaby brought actions in the Supreme Court declaring that Mr. Darrah had not put in $350,000 capital, as agreed, and therefore they wanted him restrained from receiving the 37,000 shares which were placed with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company as a depository. Mr. Darrah admitted that he had paid in only $150,000, and had not put up the remainder of the money owing to the dissension.

ACTRESS SUES FOR SEPARATION.

Mrs. Kenny Says Her Husband Was Cruel and Abandoned Her.

Mrs. Cecilia L. Kenny, an actress, has brought suit against her husband, Joseph F. Kenny, a real estate dealer, for separation. The plaintiff charges that her husband threatened to shoot her, threw vitriol in her face, and abandoned her. She further alleges that when she was playing at the Casino, Mr. Lederer invited her to sup at Sherry's, and as they were going into that place her husband knocked Mr. Lederer down. When she told her husband the next day that Mr. Lederer was her manager he said that he was sorry.

Mr. Kenny denies all his wife's allegations. Justice Maddox refused yesterday afternoon to grant alimony to Mrs. Kenny because her statements were unsupported.

Contractor Arrested for Homicide.

C. Curtis Woodruff, a contractor, of Long Island City, was arrested yesterday on a charge of homicide. He is accused of being responsible for the death of William Harrison, fourteen years old, of 70 South Street, who died from a fracture of the skull, having been struck on the head by a piece of iron pipe that fell from a tank that was being moved by Woodruff.

FIRE IN W. L. STRONG & CO.'S.

Remnants of the Woolen Stock Ruined —Strange Fatalities of the Ruined Firm.

Fire practically ruined the remainder of the stock of woolen goods of the late firm of William L. Strong & Co., at 75 and 77 Worth Street, last night.

An automatic alarm at 7 P. M. was immediately followed by three regular alarms. Volumes of smoke poured from the cellar, and the only way to reach the fire was by breaking the dead lights covering the vaults. Eight streams of water were turned on.

The cellar was filled with cases of woolen goods, and most of these were damaged by either fire, smoke, or water.

The damage was placed at $20,000. Smoke and water damaged the few goods on the first floor. The four other floors of the building were occupied by various firms, none of whom suffered any damage. "Defective insulation" of electric light wires and lighted-match or half-burned-cigarette theories were both advanced as the cause of the fire.

Ex-Mayor William L. Strong died on Nov. 3 last, and soon after, F. H. Stott of Stottsville, N. Y., passed away. The two had been closely associated in business ventures. Following the death of these men came the announcement on Nov. 13 last that the firm of W. L. Strong & Co. had failed. This was accompanied by the appointment of Edward A. Treat of Treat & Converse as receiver of the firm. Only a few days ago the widow of F. H. Stott died at her home, and now comes the fire as the apparent climax to a series of incidents.

Ever since the failure of the firm Mr. Treat, as the assignee, has been carrying on the business of the old firm as far as filling orders already contracted for was concerned. No new business was taken up, but even with the old business in hand there were large quantities of woolen goods stored in the basement ready for shipment. These were to have been removed in a short time, and the "To Let" sign was already on the building. The receiver carried insurance on the stock.

H. VICTOR NEWCOMB'S SANITY.

Wife's Application to Have Examination Made Denied.

Justice Fitzgerald, in the Supreme Court, yesterday denied the motion of Mrs. Florence Ward Newcomb to have her husband, H. Victor Newcomb, examined as to his sanity. The son, Herman D. Newcomb, joined in the application made by Mrs. Newcomb. Peter B. Olney, as referee, is now taking testimony as to whether Mr. Newcomb is competent to handle his own property.

Counsel for Mr. Newcomb, who is an ex-railroad President, opposed the application of the wife and son on the ground that the physicians Mrs. Newcomb wanted on the commission were men who had already expressed an opinion before the referee.

The SOHMER

An Ideal Holiday Gift

THE "SOHMER" HEADS THE LIST OF THE HIGHEST GRADE PIANOS.

SOHMER PIANOS

Sohmer Building, 5th Ave., cor. 22d St.

Only Salesroom in Greater New York.

Here's a chance for a thousand feet to walk away in a $5.00 Patent Leather Shoe for $2.65—and a patent leather shoe, mind you, of the finest quality, made on the new flat lasts, genuine oak tanned soles—$2.65 now.

They're regular $5.00 Patent leather men's shoes, we're offering as a Holiday special at $2.65.

Everything else to dress you well, from hats to shoes, and in between.

WM. VOGEL & SON,
Broadway, Houston St.

Tiffany Favrile Glass

In no other glass is it possible to obtain the richness in metallic lustres and marvellous color effects found in Favrile Glass.

TIFFANY STUDIOS
333 TO 341 FOURTH AVENUE
(Bet. 24th and 25th Sts.) New York.

No more beautiful Christmas gifts can be found than the vases, bowls, etc., of Favrile Glass and lamps of Metal Work and Favrile Glass.

The large pieces all bear the name Louis C. Tiffany in full, the smaller the initials L. C. T. Prices from two dollars up.

Christmas Gifts

Prestige

is the power of acknowledged reputation. Jealously conserved by such business houses as have attained it, it offers a guarantee of their every product or transaction. The bear this guarantee pre-eminently, by virtue of the world-wide, half-century-old prestige of their manufacturers.

Mason & Hamlin PIANOS

Warerooms, 3 and 5 West 18th St.
Near Fifth Avenue

TRADE —41— MARK.

EVERYBODY'S WHISKEY
WHY?
because it is a blend of absolutely pure whiskies, ripe and mellow with age. Bottled only by
L. J. CALLANAN,
41 and 43 Vesey St., New York.
SEND FOR COPY OF MONTHLY PRICE LIST.

H. N. SQUIRE'S SON.
Diamonds and Watches.
1 MAIDEN LANE, N. Y.

WOMAN VICTIM OF GAS.

Miss Jennie P. Demming Found Dead in Her Apartments.

Miss Jennie P. Demming, fifty-five years old, was found dead in her apartments, at 400 West Twenty-third Street, at 10:30 o'clock last night. She had been asphyxiated by illuminating gas.

Miss Demming, who was possessed of considerable means, had lived in the house for five years. She suffered from insomnia, and it was her custom to read at night and sleep through the day.

Last night Herman Dolemann and J. Hearst detected the odor of gas and traced it to Miss Demming's room. The door, which was unfastened, was opened, and she was found dead in bed. One gas jet was wide open.

Her death is attributed to an accident. The landlady was accustomed to turn off the gas at the meter at 9 o'clock in the morning, and turn it on again at 5 o'clock in the evening. It is supposed that Miss Demming was sleeping when the gas was shut off at the meter and was still asleep when it was again permitted to flow.

Miss Demming's only known relative, Mrs. Margaret C. Myers of Morristown, N. J., has been notified.

AN OFFICE FOR COL. YOUNGS.

Either Receiver of the Anglo-American Loan Association or Justice of the Supreme Court.

Friends of Col. William J. Youngs, Secretary of Gov. Roosevelt, are working to secure his appointment to the receivership of the Anglo-American Loan and Savings Association, vacated by Col. Joseph M. Dickey.

Failing to secure the receivership, Col. Youngs is said to be a candidate for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench caused by the sudden death of Justice Henry R. Beekman. It is not thought, however, that he will get the place, but if an appointment is made by Gov. Roosevelt it will go either to ex-Justice Joseph F. Daly or John Proctor Clarke. Should the appointment be deferred until B. B. Odell, Jr., becomes Governor, it is said that either ex-Judge W. M. K. Olcott or Deputy Attorney General Job E. Hedges will get the place.

CHECK TO PROGRESS OF CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

League Reports Law Has Not Been Honestly Enforced.

POLITICS IN APPOINTMENTS

No One Punished for Flagrant Violations of the Law—Evasions Numerous—$3,000,000 Added to Cost of Census.

The committee of the National Civil Service Reform League appointed to investigate the condition of the Federal civil service and the enforcement of the reform law and rules under the present Administration, has submitted its report, in which it says:

"The committee reports that, while in many of the branches that have been longest classified, the system has been unimpaired and has continued to produce excellent results, it cannot be said that the law has been 'thoroughly and honestly enforced,' while, with the exception of the start made in the establishment of rules for the Philippines service, conspicuous and unusual opportunities for its extension, where clearly 'practicable,' have deliberately been set aside.

"The progress of the reform, in its application to the Federal service, has, in brief, been seriously checked. That this is at variance with the declared purposes of President McKinley and with his professed wishes for the welfare of the service while under his control is recognized.

"On March 3, 1897, approximately 86,000 positions were in the classified service, while 92,000 remained unclassified."

In the year ending on June 1 last 4,640 appointments were made through competitive tests and 9,153 without them.

"So far as the committee has been able to learn, appointments of local Federal officers of the Presidential class have been controlled almost exclusively by Senators and Representatives, or unofficial political leaders, whose selections the President has ratified. While good men are not infrequently secured through this system, in the majority of cases those appointed are active local politicians, whose disposition to provide places for their adherents furnishes a serious obstacle to the satisfactory administration of the civil service rules at the outset.

"Positions in the classified service excepted from competitive examinations are virtually unclassified. On March 3, 1897, at the close of the preceding Administration, there were, all told, only 866, of which number 570 were of Assistant Postmasters. On July 27, 1897, President McKinley added 533, deputies and others in the Customs and Internal Revenue Services, previously subject to competitive examination, and on May 29, 1899, approximately 4,000 more, in addition to the number removed absolutely from the classified service at that time.

"While direct violations of the rules have been more or less common, indirect evasions have been more so. 'Temporary appointments' are an instance in point. Under the rules, persons may be appointed without examination for ninety days' temporary service, in the absence of an eligible list, for emergency work. It is required that these shall be permitted only when the Civil Service Commission has given its certificate that there is no adequate list. In practice the vast majority of these appointments have been made at pleasure and without inquiry as to the state of the lists, continued indefinitely, and reported as long afterward as the appointing officer chose. This practice, moreover, has grown alarmingly. During the thirteen months following the amended rules of May 6, 1896, 729 temporary appointments were authorized, and during the eleven months from June 1, 1897, to May 31, 1898, 2,365, of which not more than 80 were authorized by the commission in any manner.

"Another common method of evasion is the appointment of persons (generally women) as 'laborers'—in which class examination is not required—and their assignment immediately to duties of a higher class. 'Excepted' places are also used to bring persons surreptitiously into the competitive service, as in the San Francisco Custom House, where the principal deputy was made Chief Clerk, and the son of the Collector appointed, without examination, to the vacancy, only to change places with the deputy when it came to the assignment of duties.

"The Post Office Department has adopted a device for evasion that the committee deems peculiarly reprehensible. When a small Post Office is about to be given free delivery, (which of itself brings the office force into the classified service,) persons are brought from other cities, and even from other States, to take positions in such offices just before they enter the free delivery class, to be transferred immediately afterward to the office for which they are really destined, thus escaping examination altogether. Nearly a hundred apointments of this sort have already occurred, despite the earnest protest of the Civil Service Commission. Five of those so appointed (presumably without the least experience) have been transferred to the important and high-salaried office of Post Office Inspector, a proceeding which has been made easily possible by the change in the transfer rule contained in the President's order of May, 1899.

"As the classified service has grown, it has been observed that violations of the civil service law, both now and heretofore, have occurred most frequently in the branches most recently included. The Civil Service Commission addressed repeated protests to the departments concerned in these violations, but in hardly an instance with satisfactory results. On Sept. 17, 1897, the league addressed a letter directly to the President, inviting attention to the growing number of offenses, and asking that measures be taken to stop them. Where the rules had been most flagrantly disregarded, the dismissal of the guilty officer was urged. In the great majority of cases, however, there was no correction—except in so far as appointments were nominally nullified by the order of May 29, 1899. It is also true that no single officer has been removed for violation of the rules, although the rules themselves, in clearest terms, provide this penalty.

"One of the most serious features of the situation is that, no matter how plainly or how frequently appointments may be made in violation of the law, the Civil Service Commission is powerless to prevent them. In New York and Chicago, and in almost every other place where a civil service system has been established, fiscal officers are forbidden to pay salaries to persons whose appointment is not made in the manner the law proscribes. The Federal Commission assumed that the same rule applied, of necessity, at Washington, and three years ago asked the Secretary of the Treasury to aid it in establishing a proper system of audit. Failing to secure that officer's co-operation, lists of persons known to be illegally in office were sent to the Controller, Mr. Tracewell, with the request that their claims for salary be not recognized. Mr. Tracewell on April 1 following gave a remarkable opinion, addressed to a United States Marshal, to the effect that, even though the civil service act declares that 'no officer or clerk shall be appointed to a classified position except in conformity with its terms, an appointment otherwise made is not illegal; that the civil service rules have no force except such as the Executive or head of department chooses to give them.

"Although Mr. Carroll D. Wright, ad interim Director of the Census, informed Congress that more than $3,000,000 had been added to the cost of the tenth census by reason of the failure to select the working force through the merit system, this system was again deliberately set aside in the taking of the present census."

TO EXTEND LAFAYETTE PLACE.

Commission Will Take Steps to Facilitate Tunnel Work.

The Rapid Transit Commissioners are considering a scheme which will soon be submitted to Corporation Counsel Whalen in the form of an application for the extension of Lafayette Place from Astor Place to Ninth Street. The Commissioners will ask that the city make a public street at that place, as it will facilitate work on the tunnel. Should the property owners continue their objections it would mean a delay of at least six months at that point.

The plan of the Rapid Transit Commissioners is to have a large plaza at the junction of the three streets, at which place a large station, the largest in the lower part of the city, will be built.

Notice to Readers of New York Times.
Orders for the delivery of THE NEW YORK TIMES to either residence or place of business may be made by postal card or through telephone Cortlandt 4861. Any irregularity in delivery should be immediately reported to the office of publication.—Adv.

REMINDER!!!

MOËT & CHANDON

"WHITE SEAL"

CHAMPAGNE.

Shipping ONLY the celebrated vintage of 1893, of which we have in reserve sufficient for several years.

The house of MOËT & CHANDON owns more vineyards than all of the following houses combined: Clicquot, Piper-Heidsieck, Monopole, Ruinart, G. H. Mumm, Pommery, Roederer.

GEO. A. KESSLER & CO., Sole Importers.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

JOINT AGREEMENT A SUCCESS.

West-Bound Passenger Rate Situation Is Satisfactory to Railroad Men.

The West-Bound Passenger Committee of the Trunk Line Association held its last meeting of the current year yesterday, closing the first year of the existence of the joint passenger agreement. To this agreement is due the present satisfactory condition of the west-bound passenger rate situation, which, according to the unanimous testimony of the General Passenger Agents, as expressed at the meeting yesterday, is better than it ever has been at the end of any previous year.

Of course, there still remain some phases which are susceptible of improvement, but, on the whole, the situation is highly satisfactory. The influence of the joint passenger agreement on the passenger earnings of the railroads cannot be overestimated. It has been the basis of every anti-commission agreement which is now in force, and has saved the railroads thousands of dollars. It has endured longer than any other agreement ever had, and yet when it was first proposed the man who suggested it was laughed at. He was told it would not last thirty days, but he answered that if it would only last thirty minutes it would be a good thing.

The credit for its suggestion and establishment is now admitted to belong to D. I. Roberts, the General Passenger Agent of the Erie Railroad. It is not generally known that the agreement is based only on the honor of the members, who give their personal word to maintain it. That this is an effective scheme was proved when Mr. Roberts, finding that certain gentlemen had violated their pledges, at one of the meetings quietly stated this to be a fact, and then withdrew, with the result that the acts of bad faith—it was not a case of actual rate cutting—were immediately stopped and recalled as far as possible.

At the meeting yesterday a proposition was considered to rearrange the New York-Chicago rates of the differential lines, so as to make them conform with those of the Erie, which would mean that the West Shore, the Lehigh Valley, the Lackawanna, and the Baltimore and Ohio would have to charge $18 for the trip, instead of $17. The proposition was laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Earling Will Not Resign.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—A rumor was current in railroad circles in Milwaukee early today that A. J. Earling, President of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, had tendered his resignation with a request that it be acted upon immediately. To-day Mr. Earling said that there was absolutely no truth in the rumor that he had resigned or intended to resign. He said he was unable to understand why the rumor had gained circulation.

Brief Railroad Items.

The new freight classification of the Trunk Line Association has been issued. The classification, which makes many changes, both advances and reductions, will take effect Jan. 1, 1901.

Charles E. Lambert, General Passenger Agent of the West Shore, who has been suffering from erysipelas for over a month, although still quite weak, was about again yesterday and attended the Passenger Committee meeting of the Trunk Line Association.

Denial was made by President Fowler of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad yesterday that his company is negotiating for additional coal properties. Mr. Fowler says that the company purchased all the properties contributory to its road before others began to buy.

In order to secure the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in Denver next September, the Rock Island Route has served individual notice to all lines in Western Passenger Association territory to the effect that it will make a rate of one cent per mile to Denver and return.

Melville E. Ingalls, President of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, said yesterday that the traffic situation in the territory through which his line passes is in excellent condition. "We are doing all the business we can handle," said Mr. Ingalls, "and our only trouble is that we cannot get cars enough to carry the freight. We are getting tariff rates right along, and there is no rate cutting, as far as I know, in our territory. That affliction seems to be confined mostly to Western roads."

QUILL CLUB MEETING.

Members Discuss the Subject, "What Our Crowded Districts Need."

The Quill Club had its eighty-seventh regular meeting at the Hotel Manhattan last evening. The Rev. Charles P. Fagnani presided. Following the dinner there was a discussion of "What Our Crowded Districts Need."

The Rev. Robert L. Paddock, after saying that he rejoiced that the red light in his district had gone out, spoke of the heroes and heroines who are living and fighting amid darkness, vice, and poverty. "With our freedom," he said, "would we not feel ashamed if we were not better men than they?" Picturing conditions on the east side, he said that the boys fear above all the "cop," which represents to them the law. And so, having only the crowded street and dark hallways for a playground the boy begins to drink, gamble, and frequent evil places.

"If we were in their places," he said, "we would probably go to the devil faster than they do."

After referring to the excellent work of the Settlements and urging the needs of model tenements, Mr. Paddock said: "There is danger in a locality where it is known that girls are being sold for $40 and kept as though enslaved. As a club, agree to look into this thing and cast your votes, if necessary, for those who would not tolerate this state of affairs."

The Rev. William T. Elsing made a plea for better homes in the tenement districts. He told of a visit to Commissioner York, as a result of which the pushcarts were finally driven from Rivington Street on Sundays, and said that with the right sort of effort much could be done.

"You should serve God below Fourteenth Street as you labor to make money there," he said.

COMMUNIST SCHWAB DEAD

Passes Away After Five Years' Illness in His East Side Home.

Was Violent in His Speeches Until His Arrest, After Which He Bowed to the Law and Opened a Saloon.

Sorrow was in the hearts of the Anarchists yesterday, for Justus H. Schwab, their one-time leader, is dead. He died Monday night in his home, over the little saloon at 50 East First Street. He fought death to the last, even as he had fought law and order. "Lung trouble of five years' standing," his friends say, as they stand on the sidewalk in front of the little saloon, and, shivering, with hands in pockets, read the little script notice pasted on the main door, "Closed on account of death of owner."

Schwab came from Anarchistic stock, and even as a boy, in his native town, Frankfort-on-the-Main, distinguished himself by spiking an old Prussian cannon near his home. At least, so his friends say. Later, stories say, he stole a Prussian flag, which he took home. His father buried half of the flag and used the other half to mop up the floor of his "Weinstube." When compelled to enlist, at the age of twenty-one, Justus promptly deserted and fled to this country.

Here he learned the trade of mason, but became notorious as a labor agitator. In the Tompkins Square riots, in 1874, he was arrested in a saloon, where, draped in red, he was making a speech denouncing marriage laws and property rights. That is about the most serious offense of which the leader was ever guilty. When arrested and haled to court his excuse for the speech was:

"I am a mason. I am given only $3.50 a day, while my employer makes hundreds of dollars." For this he was sent to prison, but was soon pardoned.

After his release, Schwab bowed to the marriage vows. He met a girl who did not believe exactly as he did, and he married her and settled down and opened a saloon and sold beer. The marriage was a happy one. Two sons and two daughters were born to the couple. The sons are working—one as a machinist, the other in a bank.

In the railway strikes of July, 1877, Schwab again gained some notoriety. He was the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements for a communistic labor meeting announced to be held in Tompkins Square on the evening of Wednesday, July 25. Schwab said that the meeting would be peaceable unless it were interfered with, but that they were prepared to resist, if necessary.

It was at that time that he denounced Mr. Beecher, who, he said, "enacted a contemptible rôle last Sunday night." The meeting was a fizzle. There were about 5,000 persons present, many of them curiosity seekers. John Swinton made a speech, and after one more speaker had been heard Schwab adjourned the meeting.

But among the Anarchists the name of Schwab was one to conjure with. His standing among the brethren is best told by the introduction of the report in which the New Yorker Volkszeitung tells of the idol's death. It reads:

"Even this once so knotty figure has the axe of the All-conquerer felled. Flown is the thunder voice of former days, quenched is the fire in the imperial eye. With muffled step, Death stole into the well-known homestead at 50 East First Street—Justus H. Schwab at 6:10 o'clock last night, and at the age of fifty-three, breathed his last."

LEGAL NOTES.

THE LORD TRUST ESTATE.—The beneficiaries under the trust created by the will of Benjamin Lord, who died just fifty years ago, have had much trouble with the administrators of the trust estate. Caleb Barstow, who was the first trustee, resigned many years ago, and Gilbert N. Marshall succeeded him. Dorothy Marshall and others, beneficiaries, brought suit to remove Mr. Marshall, and he resigned. Then, in 1883, Augustus Cruikshank was appointed. In a suit brought against Cruikshank by Hirium J. Burrows and others, it was adjudged in March, 1890, that $87,653.33 was held by him to be distributed, and distribution was directed among the beneficiaries. In 1893 George I. Smith, who was Mr. Cruikshank's surety for $25,000, died. The American Surety Company thereupon executed a bond as surety. In a suit brought by David Thomson, who succeeded Mr. Cruikshank as trustee, to recover from the surety company upon its bond, it appeared that that bond was executed ten years after Mr. Cruikshank was appointed, and three years after the date of the judgment for $87,653. There was nothing in the surety company's bond which made it responsible for any failure to execute the trust prior to the date of the bond, or by which the surety became liable for delays in the duties of the trustee before its execution. The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in this city has affirmed judgment rendered on the trial in favor of the defendant. Justice Ingraham, giving the opinion, said the bond was conditioned only upon the trustee paying over all property "which shall come to his hands as such trustee." To entitle the plaintiff to recover there must be proof that the trustee had failed to faithfully execute the trust which was in his hands at the time of the execution of the bond, and upon the death of Mr. Cruikshank. The action was first begun against Anne Cruikshank, alleging that Mr. Cruikshank had converted assets of the estate into money and realized $125,000, and that on Oct. 4, 1894, he died without having made full distribution. It was claimed that Mr. Cruikshank's estate and his surety remained chargeable with $17,968.77. The court holds that there was no evidence that the trustee had failed to account for any moneys which were in his hands at the time of the execution of the bond, or any that afterward came into his hands.

***

RULES UPON STREET CARS.—Edwin W. Montgomery, in his suit against the Buffalo Railway Company for assault committed by one of its conductors, testified he had paid his fare upon entering one of the company's cars on a connecting line and, with a transfer ticket, got on another car. While on the rear platform he tendered the ticket to the conductor. One of the company's rules required conductors not to "allow passengers to sit or stand on or to crowd the rear platform, but will politely request them to take seats or to stand inside the car." The conductor called Mr. Montgomery's attention to the rule and directed him to go inside the car. Mr. Montgomery declined, saying he had a sick headache, was nauseated, and that he expected to be affected actively by the nausea at any moment. The conductor insisted upon compliance with the rule and the car was stopped and the passenger ejected. A verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $60 was reversed by the Appellate Division of the Fourth Department on appeal, and the Court of Appeals has now affirmed that decision. Judge Gray, giving the opinion, held that the rule forbidding passengers to stand on the platform was a reasonable one and that Montgomery, on refusing to comply with it, was lawfully ejected from the car. The fact that he was suffering as he stated was held not to be an excuse for violating the rule.

***

SHERIFF'S FEES.—John Duffy recently succeeded in the Court of Appeals in a suit he brought against Isabella M. Burton to recover his fees, as Sheriff of Westchester County, for levying certain attachments. Mrs. Burton was an attaching creditor of the D. G. Burton Company in December, 1896. By agreement with some twenty-one other attaching creditors, she was substituted to their interest, and her attorney, who was made the attorney of record in the actions brought by them, after settling all the attachments, directed the Sheriff to release his levies and discontinue the several actions of the other creditors. The Court of Appeals, affirming the judgment of the Appellate Division of the Second Department, holds that the defendant, the attaching creditor thus substituted, became liable to the Sheriff, by operation of law, for his fees in the actions so discontinued.

BUY

SOLAR

Baking Powder

AND

BUST THE TRUST.

Purest, Cheapest,
Strongest, Best.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.		P. M.	A. M.
Sun rises...7:20	Sun sets...4:35	Moon rises	4:58

High Water This Day.

A. M.		A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook...5:19	Gov. Isl'd...5:50	H. Gate...	7:46
P. M.		P. M.	P. M.
S. Hook...5:48	Gov. Isl'd...6:09	H. Gate...	8:05

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (WEDNESDAY,) DEC. 19.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Belvernon, Inagua	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Havana, Havana	12:30 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Mac, San Juan	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Majestic, Liverpool	8:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:00 A. M.
Oranje Nassau, Haiti	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
San Marcos, Galveston		3:00 P. M.
Southwark, Southampton	8:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:00 A. M.
Vincenzo Florio, Naples

THURSDAY, DEC. 20.

Comal, Galveston	3:00 P. M.
El Cid, New Orleans	3:00 P. M.
Guyandotte, Norfolk	3:00 P. M.
La Champagne, Havre	7:00 A. M. 10:00 A. M.
Santiago, Santiago	12:30 P. M. 3:00 P. M.
	*1:00 P. M.
Trier, Bremen	3:00 P. M.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21.

Comanche, Charleston	3:00 P. M.
Jamestown, Norfolk	3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick Ga.	3:00 P. M.

SATURDAY, DEC. 22.

Adirondack, Fortune Isl- and, &c	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:30 A. M.
Colorado, Hull
Comus, New Orleans		3:00 P. M.
	*9:30 A. M.
Cyrene, Brazil, &c	6:00 P. M.	8:00 A. M.
Hekia, Christiansand	5:00 A. M.	2:00 P. M.
Hildebrand, Para, and Manaos	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
Hermodas, Argentine Republic, Uraguay, and Paraguay	2:30 P. M.	4:30 P. M.
Iberian, Liverpool
Maracaibo, Venezuela and Curacao	9:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Minnehaha, London
Morro Castle, Havana	10:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Nueces, Key West and Galveston		3:00 P. M.
Ponce, San Juan	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Princess Anne, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
State of Nebraska, Glasgow		10:00 A. M.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp
Umbria, Queenstown and Liverpool	2:30 A. M.	6:00 A. M.

SUNDAY, DEC. 23.

Jefferson, Norfolk	3:00 P. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily up to 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 24, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Zealandia. Mails for Hawaii, Japan, China, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 24, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Coptic. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 25, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Empress of India, (registered mail must be directed "via Vancouver,") Mails for Australia, (except West Australia,) New Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji, and Samoan Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Dec. 19 and up to Dec. 29, inclusive, or on day of arrival of steamer Etruria, due at New York Dec. 29, for dispatch per steamer Sonoma. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia, which goes via Europe, and New Zealand, which goes via San Francisco,) and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 15, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Warrimoo, (supplementary mails, via Seattle, close at 6:30 P. M. Jan. 16.)

‡Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Postmaster Van Cott announces that the mails from China, Japan, and Hawaii of the following dates: Hongkong, Nov. 17; Shanghai, Nov. 21; Yokahama, Nov. 28, and Honolulu, Dec. 7, which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Coptic, were dispatched East at 6 P. M., Dec. 11, and are due in New York this morning.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (WEDNESDAY,) DEC. 19.

Advance, Colon, Dec. 11.
Arkansas, Copenhagen, Dec. 2.
Betty, Gibraltar, Dec. 4.
Bulgaria, Hamburg, Dec. 2.
Bovic, Liverpool, Dec. 7.
Ceria, Gibraltar, Dec. 4.
Colorado, Hull, Dec. 2.
Comanche, Jacksonville, Dec. 16.
City of Augusta, Savannah, Dec. 18.
Guyandotte, Norfolk, Dec. 18.
Hugendax, Havre, Dec. 1.
Iberian, Liverpool, Dec. 5.
John Sanderson, Sunderland, Dec. 5.
Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosee, Bremen, Dec. 11.
Maraval, Port Spain, Dec. 12.
Nubia, Stettin, Nov. 29.
Nueces, Galveston, Dec. 12.
Phidias, St. Lucia, Dec. 12.
Prins Maurits, Port au Prince, Dec. 9.
State of Nebraska, Glasgow, Dec. 6.
Trier, Bremen, Dec. 1.
Vaderland, Southampton, Dec. 10.

THURSDAY, DEC. 20.

Arabistan, St. Lucia, Dec. 13.
El Norte, New Orleans, Dec. 14.
Hermodius, Barry, Dec. 4.
Jamestown, Norfolk, Dec. 19.
Kansas City, Swansea, Dec. 8.
Pennsylvania, Hamburg, Dec. 7.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21.

Brooklyn City, Swansea, Dec. 7.
Consuelo, Hull, Dec. 9.
H. H. Meier, Bremen, Dec. 9.
Incamaree, Algiers, Dec. 7.
Moonstone, Huelva, Dec. 7.
Princess Anne, Norfolk, Dec. 20.

SATURDAY, DEC. 22.

Ardiethen, Rotterdam, Dec. 8.
Campania, Liverpool, Dec. 15.
Jefferson, Norfolk, Dec. 21.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 15.

SUNDAY, DEC. 23.

El Mar, New Orleans, Dec. 18.
Guyandotte, Norfolk, Dec. 22.
La Normandie, Havre, Dec. 15.

Arrived.

SS Morro Castle, Downs, Havana Dec. 15, with mdse. and passengers to James E. Ward & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 11:13 A. M.

SS Alleghany, (Br.,) Low, Kingston, &c., Dec. 10, with mdse. and passengers to Pim, Forwood & Kellock. Arrived at the Bar at 8:30 A. M.

SS La Champagne, (Fr.,) Fajolle, Havre Dec. 8, with mdse. and passengers to the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. Arrived at the Bar at 9:47 P. M.

SS New York, Staples, San Domingo City and Macoris, &c., Dec. 8, with mdse. and passengers to W. P. Clyde & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 7:20 A. M.

SS St. Cuthbert, (Br.,) Lewis, Antwerp Dec. 1, with mdse. and one passenger to Sanderson & Son. Arrived at the Bar at 8 A. M.

SS Beliaggio, (Ger.,) Russ, Rio Janeiro, &c., Nov. 23, with mdse. and passengers to Funch, Edye & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 2:15 A. M.

SS Fridtjof Nansen, (Nor.,) Gregor, Baltimore Dec. 15, with grain in transit to H. Vogemann & Co. Will finish loading for Hamburg.

SS Belvernon, (Nor.,) Hansen, Cape Haiti, &c., Dec. 4, with fruit to the United Fruit Co.—vessel to the Cameron Steamship Co. Arrived at the Bar at 2:40 A. M.

SS Maracaibo, Terrill, Maracaibo Dec. 9 and Curacao 10th, with mdse. to Boulton, Bliss & Dallett. Arrived at the Bar at 3:30 A. M.

SS Nacoochee, Smith, Savannah Dec. 15, with mdse. and passengers to Ocean Steamship Co.

SS Rio Grande, Johnstone, Brunswick Dec. 14, with mdse. and passengers to C. H. Mallory & Co.

SS Comus, Kemble, New Orleans Dec. 12, with mdse. and passengers to E. S. Allen.

SS El Rio, Mason, New Orleans Dec. 14, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle & Co.

Comal, Evans, Boston, to C. H. Mallory & Co.

SS Jefferson, Dole, Newport News and Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steamship Co.

SS Alaska, (Br.,) MacAuley, Tilt Cove, N. F., Dec. 9, with copper ore to the American Metal Company—vessel to Henry T. Knowlton. Arrived at the Bar at 10 A. M.

SS Adler, (Br.,) Skelton, Kingston, &c., Dec. 8, with mdse. to J. E. Kerr & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 2 P. M.

SS Rotterdam, (Dutch,) Potjer, Rotterdam Dec. 6 and Boulogne 7th, with mdse. and passengers to the Holland-America Line. Arrived at the Bar at 3:50 P. M.

SS Oneida, Staples, Wilmington, N. C., Dec. 15, with mdse. and passengers to W. P. Clyde & Co. Passed in Sandy Hook at 11:40 P. M.

SS Alsenborn, Curry, Philadelphia, for Bridgeport and New Haven.

SS Captain Bennett, (Nor.,) Olsen, Port Antonio ——, with fruit to the United Fruit Co. In Quarantine at 1:06 A. M.

WIND—Sandy Hook, N. J., Dec. 18, 9:30 P. M., south, light breeze, partly cloudy.

Sailed.

SS Niagara, for Colon.
SS Princess Anne, for Norfolk, &c.
SS San Marcos, for Galveston.
SS Roraima, (Br.,) for Demerara, &c.
SS Algonquin, for Charleston, &c.
SS Manna Hata, for Baltimore.
SS Senga, (Nor.,) for Norfolk.
SS El Dorado, for New Orleans.
SS Critic, (Br.,) for Leith.
SS Standard, (Ger.,) for Rotterdam.
SS Helios, (Ger.,) for Flushing.
SS Kaiser Wilhelm II., (Ger.,) for Naples, &c.
SS City of Augusta, for Savannah.
SS Benefactor, for Philadelphia.
SS Adria, (Nor.,) for Inagua, Belize, &c.

By Cable.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—SS Deutschland, (Ger.,) Capt. Albers, from New York for Hamburg via Cherbourg, arr. at Plymouth at 1:15 P. M. today and proceeded.

SS Potsdam, (Dutch,) Capt. Boujer, from New York via Boulogne, arr. at Rotterdam at 2 P. M. to-day.

SS Patricia, (Ger.,) Capt. Leithauser, from New York for Hamburg, arr. at Plymouth at 7:30 P. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Pretoria, (Ger.,) Capt. Karlowa, (from Hamburg,) sld. from Plymouth for New York at 8:50 P. M. to-day.

SS Lahn, (Ger.,) Capt. Pohle, from New York for Bremen, passed Hurst Castle at 8:26 A. M. Dec. 19.

SS Trinidad, (Br.,) Capt. Fraser, from New York, arr. at Bermuda at 8:30 A. M. to-day.

SS British Prince, (Br.,) Capt. Sharpe, from New York, arr. at Montevideo Dec. 16.

SS Knight of St. George, (Br.,) Capt. Billett, from New York via St. Vincent., C. V., &c., arr. at Melbourne previous to to-day.

SS Potsdam, (Dutch,) Capt. Bonjer, from New York for Rotterdam, arr. at Boulogne at 6 A. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Tuscarora, (Br.,) Capt. Bayne, sld. hence for New York to-day.

SS Weimar, (Ger.,) Capt. Steenken, from New York for Bremen, passed Isle of Wight to-day.

SS Archimede, (Ital.,) Capt. Orenge, from New York, arr. at Naples Dec. 13.

SS Dona Amelia, (Port.,) Capt. Costa, from New York via Lisbon, arr. at Lisboa Dec. 13.

SS Hispania, (Ger.,) Capt. Von Leuenfels, from New York via Copenhagen, arr. at Stettin Dec. 13.

SS Alexandra, (Dan.,) Capt. Svendsen, from New York via Stornoway for Copenhagen, &c., arr. at Christiania Dec. 14.

SS Peninsular, (Port.,) Capt. Bettencourt, sld. from Lisbon for New York Dec. 11.

SS Claudius, (Ger.,) Capt. Schwaner, (from Calcutta,) sld. from St. Michael's Dec. 13.

SS Bermania, sld. from Naples for New York Dec. 14.

SS Karamania, (Br.,) Capt. Johnston, (from New York, &c.,) sld. from Marseilles for Genoa and Naples Dec. 15.

SS Sahara, (Br.,) Capt. Cove, sld. from Calcutta for New York Dec. 16.

SS Kansas City, (Br.,) Capt. Lewis, (from Bristol,) sld. from Queenstown for New York to-day.

SS Furnessia, (Br.,) Capt. Young, from New York for Glasgow, arr. at Moville to-day.

X-Mas Merry Making

For all needs of this happy custom

Hunter Baltimore Rye

Is the Finest Type of the Purest Whiskey

Never sold till 10 years old.

A. B. HART and FRANK MORA, Representatives,
3 S. William St., New York, N. Y.

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19, 1900.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: F. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.80
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

CONDITIONS OF PEACE WITH CHINA.

We have received some confirmation, in the way of actual testimony, of the belief about the motives and action of Great Britain with reference to the peace negotiations in China, which we had announced without any special information, and solely upon what lawyers call "the reason of the thing." It is several years since Great Britain laid down a statement of her objects in China. Her proposition was popularly summed up in the phrase "the open door." That was evidently and equally our policy also, as was evident to all Americans who had considered the subject, but as was not evident at that time to the controlling intellects of the State Department. On the contrary, that department went to the length of "giving out" a statement that the interests of the United States were not concerned in the dispute between the British contention for an open door in China and the Russian contention for the partition of China.

Things have changed since, and, under its present administration, the State Department has reflected and promoted the real American interest in China, which is fuller and freer trade, which is "the open door." But there has never been any reason to suppose that the British Government had receded from the British position, which was the same as ours, though it is true that, since the troubles in China became acute, our own record there has been clearer than that of any other nation, not excepting Great Britain. We have acted upon the principle laid down by Lord SALISBURY that we must allow the Chinese to govern China instead of undertaking to govern it ourselves. And we have done this so prudently and so skillfully that we shall have nothing to explain away to the Chinese Government in any event, after it has resumed its sway at Peking, whereas the British Government would be rather hard put to it to justify its participation in the "punitive expeditions."

Our policy, which is the reflex of our National interest, is not to make it hard, but to make it easy, for the Chinese Government to maintain order in China and to give us the assurance of trading there in peace. It is plain that this purpose is obstructed by any condition, in the terms of peace, that tends to weaken the hold of the Chinese Government upon the Chinese people by causing it to "lose face." That is also the interest and ought to be the official policy of Great Britain. But that object is obstructed by several of the provisions of the terms of peace as they have been published, apparently on the authority of the allied Powers.

We have declined, and still decline, to believe that Great Britain would stultify herself and help to frustrate her own contention by insisting upon these unnecessarily humiliating proposals. Nor has our skepticism been affected by the fact that important British journals, commonly authoritative, have expressed themselves in a different sense. Upon this particular question we believe it will be found that the serious part of the American press has more accurately foreshadowed the action of the United States than the corresponding part of the British press the attitude of the British Government. This condition is so unusual as to be in itself a matter for patriotic congratulation.

"YOU KNOW HOW TO MANAGE THIS THING."

FILKINS was right. He understood PLATT perfectly. He was in need. One WHALEN of Ogdensburg, who shamelessly admits that he is a Democrat, had underbid the firm of FILKINS on a State contract for building an armory at Medina, and there were many reasons, among them the plain requirements of the law, for supposing that the contract would be awarded to the lower bidder. In his alarm and indignation FILKINS turned to PLATT. "You know how to manage this thing," he wrote to the boss. This shows the immense acumen of FILKINS. For PLATT did, in fact, know; and he managed it. FILKINS got the contract, and the State will pay some hundreds of dollars more for keeping the Medina job in the Republican Party.

Thus Republican politics and private business go sweetly hand in hand, as they always have since PLATT has managed these things.

It was in these terms, on the 13th day of July in this year of grace, that the ingenuous FILKINS opened his heart and sent the Macedonian cry to 49 Broadway:

> We do not know the politics of Mr. WHALEN, but we do know that he is in with one or two quarry owners of this county who are Democrats, and it would be the laughing stock of the entire county if these Democratic quarry owners should get the job of furnishing the stone and a Democrat should get the job of building the armory, although I do not know that Mr. WHALEN is a Democrat. Mr. DE GRAFF owns a first-class quarry in this county, and is a leading Republican and a delegate to the next State Convention, and I own another large quarry, and we put our bids together; it went in under the name of FILKINS & DE GRAFF.
>
> Mr. L'HOMMEDIEU is in New York now, and is very much interested in FILKINS & DE GRAFF getting the contract for the entire armory, as he has other fish to fry in connection with it. We need that armory to handle here in the politics of this county, and it can be done very effectively. * * *
>
> You know how to manage this thing. We want that job more for the politics than for the money there is in it.

Re-enforcing the appeal of FILKINS and corroborating the averment that he was very much interested in the matter Mr. L'HOMMEDIEU also wrote PLATT, on July 14:

> Frankly, this matter is of great political moment locally. It is also of considerable interest to Senator ELLSWORTH that Mr. FILKINS's interests be recognized at this time. By reason of some developments at our recent district convention the Niagara County people failed to keep an agreement of theirs to send Mr. FILKINS to the National Convention, which somewhat angered Mr. FILKINS, so much so that great pressure has been brought to bear to defeat Senator ELLSWORTH for renomination by having the Orleans delegates vote for ELLIS of Genesee.
>
> I would like to be relieved of this embarrassment by having Mr. FILKINS taken care of in this matter at this time. He has been a life-long friend of yours, as you know, and has had very little recognition at the hands of the local district organization.

A manager who is entirely great seldom does things himself. He gets others to attend to them. Accordingly PLATT sent the following letter, with inclosures, to Mr. WILLIAM J. YOUNGS, private secretary to GOV. ROOSEVELT:

> I wish you would please read carefully the attached letters from my friends, E. FILKINS and IRVING L'HOMMEDIEU—which are self-explanatory. I do not know just how I can properly achieve the result which they seek. But it strikes me that you, being on the ground, and presumably having relations with the officials concerned, can find a way to accomplish it. I regard its accomplishment as of considerable political consequence, and I would like to have you do what you can in the interest of these gentlemen.

YOUNGS was responsive and nimble. The sluggard grass never grows under the feet of a Republican office holder when money and politics are happily wedded in one job. It was on July 16 that PLATT wrote YOUNGS, and on the 17th that YOUNGS wrote PLATT:

> I have just seen Gen. HOFFMAN in relation to this matter, and he tells me that he is one of the three who compose the board, the other two being Gen. MCLEER of Brooklyn and Gen. DOYLE of Buffalo. I don't know about MCLEER, but DOYLE is a Democrat. I do not know whether you can reach him through KREIDENHEIMER or not. The meeting is to be held here to-morrow at which these bids will be considered. Gen. HOFFMAN went in to see Mr. ODELL yesterday afternoon, but found him out. He says that he has consulted with Col. ELLSWORTH on three separate occasions and Mr. L'HOMMEDIEU on two other occasions in regard to this matter, and if in any way he can consistently and properly under the law do as requested he will of course be happy to do so.

The bid of FILKINS was $42,845. The bid of WHALEN was $42,437—$402 lower. The Armory Commission awarded the contract to FILKINS.

It is never a pleasure, but often a duty, to temper the ardent hopefulness of youth with the sober precepts of experience. It is our neighbor The Journal that has made this excavation and revealed the crouching figure of PLATT at the far end of the hole. We are indebted to its columns for the extracts we have made from this politico-business correspondence. But we must warn our neighbor that its exposure will not cause Mr. PLATT one moment's uneasiness, or in the slightest degree diminish the respect, honor, and influence which are his in the Republican Party. PLATT has been exposed many times. From the days of the old rag-disinfecting ring, when he was Quarantine Commissioner, up to this day, THOMAS C. PLATT has been a successful practitioner of those arts of commercialism in politics to which RICHARD CROKER has lent the distinction of his great name. There is not difference enough between them to save or damn the soul of either, or to differentiate by the breadth of a hair the treatment due to them from men of honor and public spirit. But while every hound in the vice crusade is baying loud on the track of CROKER, the responsible organizers of the anti-Tammany campaign next Fall will have to consult gravely with PLATT, listen to the statement of his views, defer to his wishes, and make up their ticket to suit him, or he will defeat their candidates and turn the town over to Tammany again by running a candidate of his own, for whom tens of thousands of the most intensely respectable Republicans in this town will cast their votes.

The Republicans of the city and State know perfectly well that PLATT is a commercial politician. Yet there has never been a day or an hour when he was in the least danger of losing the leadership.

M'LAUGHLIN IN REVOLT.

HUGH, MCLAUGHLIN'S rage against Chief DEVERY is the most becoming emotion that has stirred his bosom for many years. The motive is ignoble, and therefore characteristic, but the desire to destroy DEVERY is so wholesome a passion that its base origin is readily overlooked.

It is futile to regret the many more serious and respectable occasions for rebellion that the leader of the Brooklyn Democracy has neglected. He would have won higher praise had he got into a passion over the insults of CROKER, who has repeatedly offered him the intolerable affront of buying the right to cast the Kings vote in conventions, paying for it with some miserable mess of patronage. Indeed, it is not the immoral aspects of DEVERY that now quicken the moderate currents in the aged leader's veins. DEVERY has been a bad policeman and an open conniver at gross violations of law ever since he took the office, and MCLAUGHLIN has apparently been content. But when the family is disturbed, when the political protégés for whose keep the Brooklyn organization is maintained and managed are banished to strange and inhospitable climes, then cries of pain are heard and threats fill the air.

If Mr. MCLAUGHLIN will carry his resentment to the point of breaking with Tammany, if he will throw off the disgraceful Croker servitude altogether and conduct his organization like a man leading men, the 110,000 or 120,000 Democrats in Kings County will naturally become one of the most powerful factors in the rebuilding of the Democratic structure in the great city.

A LESSON IN CITIZENSHIP.

One peculiar feature in the career of Justice BEEKMAN was the fact that the public service which he rendered was chiefly outside of the range of his profession, while his profession itself was literally a vocation, in the old sense of the word—an occupation to which he had been called by nature.

Justice BEEKMAN found in the study and practice of the law that deep satisfaction afforded by the sustained and efficient exercise of his strongest and most active faculties. He was a born student, but his studies were not confined to the accumulation of knowledge; they were instinctively directed to its use as well. He had an unusual analytic faculty, and, what does not always go with that faculty, a love of and aptness for generalization. The one was the complement of the other. His generalizations were based on wide and careful detailed information, and his analysis was guided, aided, and, so to speak, fructified by his perception of general rules. It is hardly needed to say that he was a hard and patient worker. He was forced to be by the nature of his aims and his conception of the only right method for reaching them. And it followed that the qualities and habits of mind that made him one of the really strong lawyers in a city where the profession is crowded as in hardly another made him a peculiarly well-equipped, sound, and valuable Judge. The distinction that he gained and the position he held in the estimation of his associates at the bar and on the bench were such as might well have been regarded as the reward of a life wholly devoted to his profession.

But Justice BEEKMAN'S service to his native city and to the State was, as we have remarked, largely outside of his profession. During his term as Corporation Counsel much of his energy and time was devoted to shaping legislation for the city, and he was at all times a valued adviser in such matters. Much of the long and difficult work that resulted in a feasible rapid-transit system was his. To him almost entirely was due the initiation of the plan of small parks which has had so marked an influence on the character of what were once the worst quarters of the city. His aid in developing the present admirable body of laws that regulate elections and the ballot was indispensable. Hardly any measure of real importance to the progress of the city lacked the impress of his active, fertile, and constructive mind. His interest in politics was strong and constant. He had great confidence in the democratic system, not as infallible or as a finality in itself, but as far the most rational dependence in public action. He was a practical politician in the sense that he keenly appreciated the essential power of the people and never was tempted to impose thories for which popular support could not be obtained. But he thoroughly believed that popular support could be relied on for really good measures if the people could be made to understand them. The present writer recalls a remark of his as to the future of a politician then in the possession of great power. "He cannot go much further; he does not understand that in the long run the mass of the people are guided by their conscience and not by their passions or their greed." And his prediction, which seemed rash at the time, was speedily realized.

This conviction of Justice BEEKMAN was not a mere sentiment. It was the result of extraordinary familiarity with the history of politics and with existing conditions acquired by study and observation. His mind worked with a peculiar combination of deliberate reflection and acute and original suggestiveness. He was at once philosophic and practical, a student of and an active participant in affairs. His activity was always directed by a high conception of the duty of a citizen, and his rare intelligence gave it great value. It is the lesson in citizenship which his life supplied that is his legacy to the city he loved and served so well.

THE CHARTER AND THE SCHOOLS.

We note with satisfaction the signs of an organized movement in this city to promote the adoption of the general plan of charter revision proposed by the commission appointed by Gov. ROOSEVELT. The action of the Citizens' Union in this direction is likely to be followed and to be in itself influential. There is, however, one point as to which, we think, the report of the commission requires careful consideration, which may lead to a modification of its recommendations. It is the provision that repeals the present law as to the salaries of teachers.

We have already expressed our cordial approval of the general reorganization of the school system proposed by the commission. It is clearly in the right direction. It follows the principle adopted in the remainder of the report, the principle of concentration of power on the one hand and responsibility on the other hand. It does away with the meddling and hindering Borough Boards, and makes possible a system that will give to the whole city equal advantages of schooling, and all of the highest order that any section may enjoy. But the repeal of the present law as to salaries is not required by that principle, and it would unquestionably expose the whole teaching force to the demoralization that prevailed, with deplorable results, for several years previous to the adoption of the present plan.

The proposition of the commission is to relegate the question to the determination of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment temporarily and ultimately to the Board of Aldermen, contemplated in the revision. It has been shown by melancholy and distressing experience that the Board of Apportionment is not a wise or even a fairly sensible judge of the detailed needs of the schools in the matter of salaries, and its action in the past has been singularly inconsistent with either justice or expediency. It is reasonable to assume that the present plan of fixing salaries and distributing them is a fair and judicious one, since it receives the approval of all the educational officers of whatever party and of the teachers. It does not seem wise to upset it so soon after its adoption and to throw the whole business into the terrible condition of uncertainty and confusion from which the present plan undoubtedly rescued us.

LORD SALISBURY AND THE TRANSVAAL.

What will be, perhaps, to most American readers the most striking fact about Lord SALISBURY'S address yesterday before the National Union of Conservative Associations will be its omissions. We could not have expected him to refer to the question of the canal, even if that were as burning a question in London as it is in Washington, as we all know it not to be. For that question is still, technically, "under the Judge" in this country, and not at all amenable to official British comment. And, in any case, it is in the nature, as English-speaking people on both sides are coming to be agreed, of a family quarrel with which outsiders, such as the Prime Minister of Great Britain necessarily addresses, have no concern, and with respect to which it is the business of both parties to it to refrain from supplying them with material for unsympathetic conjecture.

What we should have expected the Premier to refer to, on such an occasion, is the status of the negotiations between China and the allied Powers. That question is burning throughout the whole civilized world, as well as throughout a great part of the world which the civilized world does not admit to be civilized. But it is a question, moreover, which the reported attitude of Great Britain has rendered delicate as well as burning, and anybody can understand the considerations which may have led the orator to believe that it was a question upon which the less was said the sooner it would be mended.

However that may be, the only foreign question upon which Lord SALISBURY delivered himself freely was the South African question. Without doubt his exclusive attention to that question corresponds to the hold it has upon the British public. And it must be owned that, upon this particular question, the British Prime Minister does not present a very imposing figure. It is easy enough to understand and sympathize with the considerations which prevented him from interfering with the settlement of it when it might have been settled without all the material and vital loss which it has cost not to settle it yet. But the present condition of it can by no means be satisfactory to the late Foreign Minister and actual Prime Minister of Great Britain. Mr. FREDERIC HARRISON does not count in British politics as a practical politician at all. But it must now be apparent to British practical politicians that if Lord SALISBURY had taken the advice which Mr. HARRISON delivered to him some eighteen months ago, the advice to resume for the Foreign Office the charge of South African affairs, and to take it away from the Colonial Office, the prestige of the British Empire, upon the importance of which Lord SALISBURY lays just stress, would be far less impaired than it is to-day.

It cannot be matter of patriotic congratulation to any Englishmen that, eighteen months after the Colonial Office had been allowed to hurry Great Britain into a war with half a million "embattled farmers," who are also the representatives of an obsolete type of civilization, the embattled farmers should not only not be annihilated, but should be undertaking offensive and successful operations against the armies of the greatest "world empire." It is true that Lord SALISBURY'S own responsibility for this condition may be more technical than substantial. It may be true also that, in the circumstances, which are only officially of his making, his present counsel of carrying through the war to the bitter end may be the only practicable plan. But it must remain true that it is not of his own choice that he finds the condition of affairs in the South African republics the only foreign topic upon which he can freely discourse to the National Union of Conservative Associations.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—Of the many mysteries connected with "Christian Science," not the least interesting and suggestive is that presented by the maintenance of a so-called Board of Lectureship, the apparent object of which is to send specially trained and instructed speakers from city to city, delivering speeches in public halls and so supplementing the work of the scattered "churches." New York, for instance, has, or the "scientists" pretend that it has, eight of these "churches," and yet every now and then one of "Mother's" special deputies comes here to stir things up by explaining and defending her adaptation of old Dr. QUIMBY'S vagaries. This is done, presumably, because the regular proceedings in the "churches" get no newspaper attention, while a well-advertised "lecturer" not only often succeeds in securing the unpaid publication of a few of his more startling remarks, but he attracts within the radius of possible influence a considerable number of the uninitiated—and as yet unexploited—public. Thus do the lecturers earn their salaries and advance the two great objects of "Christian Science," which are, of course, the sale of the books written by the originator of the grotesque cult and the persuasion of hypochondriacs to pay big fees to the professional "healers." Ex-Judge JOSEPH CLARKSON of Omaha, who spoke in Carnegie Hall Sunday evening, performed the task set for him with sufficient ability to justify his appointment on the Board of Lectureship. He did not, to be sure, say a single word that appealed to enlightened reason or sound judgment, and he answered none of the innumerable accusations that have been brought against the pestilent teachings of his sect, but he backed up limitless claims with glib statistics impressive enough to people who never think of attempting to verify them, and, with a bold confidence that was amusing if not admirable, he took for granted the desire of his auditors to hear a lot of solemn, pseudo-religious nonsense, and gave it to them. The lecture undoubtedly effected the ends desired by those who paid the not insignificant expenses incidental to it, and therefore it must be called a success. But what a pitiable spectacle is presented when, in a city that has no mean idea of its own intelligence, a huge crowd of well-dressed people, under no compulsion, but quite of their own accord, will assemble to hear a man talk as did this ex-Judge from Nebraska! It's really no wonder that WU-TING-FANG laughs at us.

—After a week or two of good behavior, the trains at the Grand Central Station have all gone crazy again, and the new waiting room resounds anew with angry wailings. The trouble began early Monday morning, continued all day, and yesterday no signs of a speedy return to regularity and promptitude were to be discovered. The only explanation offered for the irritating delays—and very few of the angry passengers could get even that—was a vague story about a tank car that had been jostled off the track in the yard by an inconsiderate locomotive, but as the confusion began several hours before the accident happened, and as it has already continued long after the leisurely yard employes had removed all evidences of the little wreck, the commuters have received this excuse with cold scorn. If the truth were told, it might appear that those much vaunted new switches were responsible for the delays. The installation of the pneumatic machinery has been going on, with occasional intermissions for rest and recreation, for considerably more than a month, and it is still far from completed. When the work will be done is a question nobody is able to answer, and after it is done there will be no more room for the manipulation of trains than before, and the patrons of the two roads using the station look forward hopelessly to a break-down of the train schedule every time there is the slightest increase in the regular traffic.

—Of all griefs, probably those are the hardest to bear which, while real and serious to the people who suffer from them, are of a kind to excite unsympathetic smiles in everybody else. So it is no wonder that the residents of Sing Sing are eager to change the picturesque name of their village. They know perfectly well that to the outside world Sing Sing means a big prison, and they have wearied of the jests to which the identification of the title and the institution exposes them. So they want to say that they live in Ossining instead of in Sing Sing, and the desire is natural enough. But unfortunately it is also funny, and possibly it would be wiser to endure their present ill than to bring their sensitiveness to general attention by taking action for relief. And how long would it be, moreover, before the prison association fasten itself upon Ossining? What Sing Sing wants to do is to grow so big that it can win recognition for itself. There is no other cure for its woes, but a cultivation of a philosophical indifference will do much to mitigate them, as it will for most other woes.

THE A. I. A. AND THE WHITE HOUSE.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Permit me to correct the surmise which closes the editorial about the White House in to-day's TIMES.

It is assumed there "that the attention of the American Institute of Architects was not directed to the question what it was that it was proposed to be done, but was engrossed by the question who it was that was proposing to do it."

This is so erroneous that it must have been based upon imperfect information. The facts are exactly the opposite.

The Institute had in mind only what it was proposed to do and carefully refrained from any criticism of the department having the matter in charge. Yet a too hasty press almost nullifies this courtesy by many misstatements.

The Institute is not engaged in an effort to take this public building or the task of enlarging it out of the custody of the United States engineers, nor does it charge that the scheme proposed is looking in reverential intent toward the historic monument in question.

It simply seeks to show the custodians de facto the need of professional advice of a high order when the design of a house for the Chief Magistrate is in question, whether that house be or be not an addition to an existing one. The Institute believes and declares that the thing to be done is important to the whole Nation and is worthy of the best skill procurable. This is what the resolution of the Institute says.

I can scarcely believe that THE TIMES would contradict such a statement or intentionally oppose a disinterested effort for the public good. ROBERT W. GIBSON.
Fellow American Institute Architects.
New York, Dec. 17, 1900.

NUGGETS.

Presidential Interposition.

"Here's a portion of the President's message intended for you, Carolyn."

"Nothing of the sort, Clarence."

"Yes; he advises economy."—Detroit Free Press.

What He Escaped.

"King Solomon's millinery bill must have been something prodigious."

"Yes; but he died in time to avoid the sealskin wrap era."—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

The Gift.

"It is not the cost of a gift," said the Cornfed Philosopher, "that counts so much as the spirit in which it is given—especially if it happens to be a spirit of economy."—Indianapolis Press.

Invaluable Assistant.

"Did that wealthy bridal couple have many trunks?"

"Trunks? They keep a librarian who doesn't do anything but take care of the trunk catalogues."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Harsh Fate.

"Yis, poor chap," said Michael, "he had a hard toime av it. He ought to be glad he's dead. He niver had none av the blessings av the rich. The only toime he iver rode in a carriage in his loife was phwin he wint to his funeral."—Chicago Times-Herald.

WARNING.

From The Washington Post.

'Tis not the gleams of whiteness at the temples that proclaim
Your youthful years are fleeting and that life is not the same,
For each year is what you make it as the seasons come and go,
And life is ever youthful, if you care to have it so.

Your birthday anniversary may measure
like a cheat,
But the holidays give warning with a faithfulness complete,
And you may as well confess it. Yours is not a happy lot
When you find you aren't caring if it's
Christmas time or not.

When the laughter of the children seems a harsh, discordant strain,
And the fragrance of the market waits its greetings all in vain,
Oh, it's then that comes the warning that you can't misunderstand;
It's then that Time has touched you with a cold and ruthless hand.

For youth will live so long as youthful memories are dear,
And age will knock in vain until you bid
them disappear.
You may be lean and slippered, but you needn't mind a jot
Till you find you aren't caring if it's
Christmas time or not.

OPERA SEASON OPENED

Fashionable Society Once More in Its Favorite Public Resort.

"ROMEO ET JULIETTE" HEARD

Reappearance Here of Mme. Melba—The House Crowded and Society Out in Full Force.

The ninth season of opera in French, German, and Italian at the Metropolitan Opera House under the management of Maurice Grau, either singly or in association with his former partners, Henry E. Abbey and John B. Schoeffel, began last night with the customary incidents. In opera as in other things history repeats itself, and the files of the newspapers for any of the previous years could be depended upon to furnish an excellent account of what took place in the yellow temple of hybrid art in Upper Broadway last evening. In the first place, there was the customary furbishing of the temple itself to make ready for the official advent of high society. Those who read newspapers know that there has been opera at the Metropolitan this Fall and Winter since the first night of October, and that Marguerite and Carmen and Elsa and Lucie have trod the boards and warbled their passions and their woes to the same old boxes and seats. But that part of society which spells itself with a large S has not officially noticed the existence of such opera. It was opera in English, for the people, and at low prices. Some few of the personages whose names always figure in the social chronicles of the town have from time to time looked in upon the proceedings, but always, as it were, incognito.

So when the great night of open refulgence for society was at hand it became necessary to prepare the temple for the elect. There were sweepings and scourings and washings and polishings, and the old brass rail which used to separate the orchestra from the front row of seats was taken away and a handsome wooden partition, well arranged to keep the musicians' lamps from shining into eyes sufficiently shining in themselves, had been erected in its place. Before the hour for opening the doors all was ready. Treasurer Max Hirsch took his stand near the entrance, clad in his festal raiment, and Head Usher Thomas Bull stationed himself at the centre door, ready, as usual, to tell people where their seats were or explain to them the story of the opera. Amlable Peter, the keeper of the main gate, was at his post, and on the stroke of 7:30 the portals were thrown wide and the eager public began to flow in.

The galleries were, of course, the first to fill, for there people go just to hear music. In the orchestra stalls there was a constant movement throughout the first act and most of the second, while the occupants of the boxes did not fill the horseshoe curve with the glory of their jewels till after 9 o'clock.

There were enough persons in the house, however, to give a cordial welcome to the distinguished figure of M. Plançon when he appeared as the urban Capulet, and to make a true prima donna's reception for Mme. Melba, when as the youthful and yet joyous Juliette she reappeared upon the Metropolitan Opera House stage after an absence since January, 1899. M. Saleza, who was the Romeo of the occasion, was also received with demonstrations of delight, behind which no doubt were hopes that his voice would prove to be in better condition than it was when he went away. Those who are acquainted with operas will have gathered from the foregoing statements that the work of the evening was "Romeo et Juliette," grand opera in five acts, book by Barbiere & Carré, music by Charles Gounod. It was, indeed, so. In their first season Messrs. Abbey and Grau began with "Romeo et Juliette," which last night had its performance as the opening work under the sanction of the sole remaining member of the firm.

But the fact that a well-worn work was sung by persons whose interpretation of its dramatic and musical content is very familiar need count for little. The great and significant fact remains that the regular season of opera was opened, that the town was once more in the Opera House, that the time to glitter and glow, to laugh and talk, to visit from box to box, to see and be seen had come again, and no man—and especially no woman—who aspired to be any one could afford to be out of the going. Carriages began to arrive early, and there was the customary confusion at the Broadway entrance, caused by the failure of the police to prevent vehicles from approaching in two directions. This matter has never been regulated, and it is only one of the numerous instances of police stupidity in dealing with the opera problem. After the opera there is always a wild confusion of carriages at Fortieth Street, and persons crossing that street take their lives in their hands.

After the first act of the opera the lights around the circles were turned on—they are usually left out—and the audience had a chance to see itself. It was worth looking at, for it was of uncommonly brilliant appearance. Women all over the house craned their necks to see what the leaders of society were wearing. There has been, for example, a heavy run on gold trimmings in the dry goods shops, and no woman of ambition to glitter was supposed to be without some evidence of the precious metal in her garments. It took about five minutes last night to find that the members of the "smart set" were following their invariable custom of ignoring that which is easily accessible to all others. Corsages looked much the same in general style as they did last season, except there was a much smaller display of jewels. In this continence Mrs. Gould Hoyt and Mrs. Starr Miller, who were in a box together, did not share, but wore some brilliant and costly gems. Mrs. Henry Clews wore a tiara with a wonderful ornament on the front, much like the Egyptian headgear which usually adorns Amneris in "Aida." It was noticed that many flowers were worn in the hair of the ladies in the boxes, thus reviving a very pretty fashion.

Among the men the invariable evening dress was worn, of course, and the men of the boxes, who last season seldom wore anything but black waistcoats, last night chiefly wore white ones. Opera hats were seen on many of the heads of men in society, though the silk hat seemed to be the favorite. The "smart set" did not promenade in the corridors between the acts, but those who were not smart did so in large numbers.

The audience was in a cold mood at the beginning of the performance, though the upper galleries betrayed a readiness to applaud at the least excuse. Mme. Melba's delivery of the familiar waltz song, which she sang very fast and with an extraordinarily acid tone, was the first signal for general applause, and two bouquets were thrown upon the stage. Mlle. Bauermeister graciously consented to carry them off the stage, while Juliette went on with her part. Old operagoers remember an occasion when Mlle. Bauermeister indignantly refused to do this, but Mlle. Bauermeister has learned a thing or two since that time.

The duet between Mme. Melba and M. Saleza in the first scene pleased the audience, but chiefly because of the tenor's admirable share in it. It was not till the second act that Mme. Melba's voice showed its true quality, and then she and M. Saleza sang their baloony scene exquisitely. The applause which followed this came from all parts of the house, even the ladies in the boxes joining in it. The ensuing scene brought the great figure of Edouard de Reszke as Frère Laurence into sight, and there was a burst of hearty applause to welcome him back to the familiar boards. M. Saleza's work in the duet and banishment scenes won him enthusiastic commendation, and he was recalled several times. He was in superb voice last night, and seemed to have recovered entirely from his illness of last season.

For the rest, it should be noted that a new baritone, M. Sizes, made his first appearance here as Mercutio, and was pleasantly received. Of his singing more may be said hereafter. In other details the opera went on as it has gone so often at the Metropolitan in the hands of nearly the same artists. The chorus sang quite as rudely as it has generally done, but the orchestra played with warm tone and some expression under Signor Mancinelli's capable baton. The audience accepted the performance with evidences of pleasure, but it would require a considerable elasticity of fancy to picture its behavior as that of a festive assembly.

THE KNEISEL QUARTET.

Second Afternoon Concert at Mendelssohn Hall Yesterday.

The second afternoon concert of the Kneisel Quartet of Boston took place yesterday afternoon at Mendelssohn Hall. The programme consisted of Haydn's quartet in G major, Opus 77, No. 1; Beethoven's sonata for piano and violin, Opus 47, and Schumann's quintet for piano and strings. The pianist was Harold Bauer. The arrangement of the compositions offered was happy, as is usual at the concerts of this organization. Mr. Kneisel seldom makes a faulty programme. The Haydn quartet served, as the compositions of this master generally do in these days of complex musical expression, to tune the minds of the hearers for the more serious things to come. Yet it must be said that Haydn is by no means out of date in a community not different in its fundamentals from the fashionable public of Vienna for which the good old man provided melodious confections in the last century.

Of the "Kreuzer" sonata there is nothing new to be said. One can only repeat the well-worn comment that Tolstoi must have been easily affected by simple and pretty music when he imagined the possibility of two persons being led by a joint performance of this soothing work to forget their moral principles. The Schumann Quintet is matter of a different sort. Here, indeed, the notes of enthusiastic feeling are sounded with no uncertain hand, and both players and hearers must always come under their warming influence.

The office of reviewing the concerts of the Kneisel Quartet is one of the most grateful that presents itself to the critic in the course of the musical season. He can go to the concert hall with a reasonable assurance that he will have a pleasant time and that he will have only to say afterward that the standard of the organization has been maintained. This is all that need be said of yesterday's concert, except for such passing comment as may now be made on the playing of Mr. Bauer, the latest of the imported pianists to bow before a New York audience.

Mr. Bauer earned for himself a cordial welcome, and his recital, presently to be given, will be an occasion of interest. He showed yesterday that he has a good technic, especially rich in gentleness of touch and pliability of finger, a crisp and clean style of enunciating running passages, a warm tone, and a straightforward manner of reading the music before him. In the "Kreuzer" sonata he was not perfectly at one with Mr. Kneisel either in the measure of dynamics or in conception, but in the Schumann quintet he was heard to his better advantage. If he had not kept the lid of the piano open there would doubtless have been little to censure in this performance, and certainly in the slow movement, in which all five players rose to a rare level of beauty of interpretation, there was ground for nothing but warm praise of the new-comer.

THE FRENCH PLAYERS.

Mme. Bernhardt and M. Coquelin in "La Dame aux Camelias."

"La Dame aux Camélias" was the play at the Garden Theatre last night. This historic and perennial work, which every American playgoer knows as "Camille," always draws the multitude when Mme. Bernhardt acts Marguerite Gautier. "Society" was sparsely represented in the audience, and the "book of the play" was more conspicuously in evidence in all parts of the house than it has been since this engagement began. There were plenty of vacant seats in the back part of the orchestra, but the upper floors were jammed and many persons stood all through the performance.

The persevering old play has never been acted, surely, with more distinction, fervor, and artistic discretion. One notices in Mme. Bernhardt's portrayal the tendency that was also noted in her acting in "La Tosca" toward a certain simplification of the illustrative "business," and there are minor changes of pose, gesture, and station in every episode which the spectator who has often seen this piece of acting does not fail to note.

The costumes and appointments of the "forties," however, with which Mme. Bernhardt recently decorated "La Dame aux Camélias" in Paris, have already been discarded. The dressing is quite "up-to-date," while the scenery is, seemingly, any bit of stage painting the carpenters happen to lay their hands on.

The acting, though, is good enough to atone for many pictorial deficiencies. While one may regret the needless absence of camélias from the hair and corsage of the lady named after that flower in Parisian gossip, and look askance at the new "business" of plucking a white flower from a dubious bush growing in a property flower pot, to serve as a token for Armand, still the sensibility, delicacy, and wonderfully graphic quality of Bernhardt's acting in the opening scenes must have their full effect.

The sharply contrasted passages of emotion in the second division of the play, in which the impersonation of Signora Duse reaches its highest point of excellence, are still endowed by Mme. Bernhardt with a rich variety of expression, while the portrayal rises in passionate intensity from that episode to the great climax of Act III., upon which, with such a hopelessly wooden Armand as M. Deneubourg, the curtain ought surely to fall.

The famous interview between Marguerite and the father of her lover was acted with the very perfection of art last night by both Mme. Bernhardt and M. Coquelin. Not a tone or a gesture was out of place. Coquelin has often impersonated the elder Duval here in his engagements with Mme. Hading, but, it seems, never quite so well as now. He contents himself with no other make-up than a moderately patriarchal sort of wig, and he lends dignity and human feeling to every utterance of the old gentleman. The sincerity and fervor of his appeal to the woman, and the tenderness of his recognition of her innocent worth, (which is so strenuously insisted on all through the play,) are splendidly effective.

One may be pardoned for not dwelling further on the antique and not too savory masterwork of the younger Dumas. People who want to see it in the original, (which is much more coherent, reasonable, and artful, by the last season, except there was a much smaller display of jewels. In this continence Mrs. Gould Hoyt and Mrs. Starr Miller, who were in a box together, did not share, but wore some brilliant and costly gems. Mrs. Henry Clews wore a tiara with a wonderful ornament on the front, much like the Egyptian headgear which usually adorns Amneris in "Aida." It was noticed that many flowers were worn in the hair of the ladies in the boxes, thus reviving a very pretty fashion.

Among the men the invariable evening dress was worn, of course, and the men of the boxes, who last season seldom wore anything but black waistcoats, last night chiefly wore white ones. Opera hats were seen on many of the heads of men in society, though the silk hat seemed to be the favorite. The "smart set" did not promenade in the corridors between the acts, but those who were not smart did so in large numbers.

The audience was in a cold mood at the beginning of the performance, though the upper galleries betrayed a readiness to applaud at the least excuse. Mme. Melba's delivery of the familiar waltz song, which she sang very fast and with an extraordinarily acid tone, was the first signal for general applause, and two bouquets were thrown upon the stage. Mlle. Bauermeister graciously consented to carry them off the stage, while Juliette went on with her part. Old operagoers remember an occasion when Mlle. Bauermeister indignantly refused to do this, but Mlle. Bauermeister has learned a thing or two since that time.

The duet between Mme. Melba and M. Saleza in the first scene pleased the audience, but chiefly because of the tenor's admirable share in it. It was not till the second act that Mme. Melba's voice showed its true quality, and then she and M. Saleza sang their baloony scene exquisitely. The applause which followed this came from all parts of the house, even the ladies in the boxes joining in it. The ensuing scene brought the great figure of Edouard de Reszke as Frère Laurence into sight, and there was a burst of hearty applause to welcome him back to the familiar boards. M. Saleza's work in the duet and banishment scenes won him enthusiastic commendation, and he was recalled several times. He was in superb voice last night, and seemed to have recovered entirely from his illness of last season.

For the rest, it should be noted that a new baritone, M. Sizes, made his first appearance here as Mercutio, and was pleasantly received. Of his singing more may be said hereafter. In other details the opera went on as it has gone so often at the Metropolitan in the hands of nearly the same artists. The chorus sang quite as rudely as it has generally done, but the orchestra played with warm tone and some expression under Signor Mancinelli's capable baton. The audience accepted the performance with evidences of pleasure, but it would require a considerable elasticity of fancy to picture its behavior as that of a festive assembly.

THE KNEISEL QUARTET.

Second Afternoon Concert at Mendelssohn Hall Yesterday.

The second afternoon concert of the Kneisel Quartet of Boston took place yesterday afternoon at Mendelssohn Hall. The programme consisted of Haydn's quartet in G major, Opus 77, No. 1; Beethoven's sonata for piano and violin, Opus 47, and Schumann's quintet for piano and strings. The pianist was Harold Bauer. The arrangement of the compositions offered was happy, as is usual at the concerts of this organization. Mr. Kneisel seldom makes a faulty programme. The Haydn quartet served, as the compositions of this master generally do in these days of complex musical expression, to tune the minds of the hearers for the more serious things to come. Yet it must be said that Haydn is by no means out of date in a community not different in its fundamentals from the fashionable public of Vienna for which the good old man provided melodious confections in the last century.

Of the "Kreuzer" sonata there is nothing new to be said. One can only repeat the well-worn comment that Tolstoi must have been easily affected by simple

SOCIETY AT THE OPERA

The Wealth and Fashion of the Metropolis on View Last Night.

RICH COSTUMES AND JEWELS

Great Auditorium Presented a Brilliant Scene, with Prominent Women in Their Smartest Gowns.

The first night of foreign opera at the Metropolitan Opera House last evening brought for the sixteenth time the usual display of wealth and fashion in the boxes and orchestra stalls, and a house in which every seat was taken, and in which hundreds of men and women stood in the spaces back of the parquet the performance through.

The social atmosphere of the great house last evening was a warm one, in marked contrast to that of the first night last year, which, in consequence of the panic in Wall Street on that day, was appreciably less brilliant. There were no anxious expressions on the faces of the men who on the corresponding date in 1899 restlessly moved from box to box and during the acts gathered in the corridors to discuss, not the music or the brilliant display, but the day's losses in the Street.

So close are the relations of the marts of finance with the world of society, that after weeks of prosperity this year in the Street, those who watched the brilliant scene of last evening were struck at once by its contrast to that of a year ago. Last night, as a year ago, Romeo et Juliette was the opera produced. But Gounod's matchless melodies had last evening the close attention of a notable audience. The varied colors, the flashing lights and jewels, combined to make a picture of exceeding beauty.

Although several prominent families have been plunged into mourning during the past few days, notably the Stuyvesant Fishes, the Van Nests, Gambrills, Parkers, and Beckmans, there was only one empty box—in either row—that of Mrs. Alexander T. Van Nest in the parterre row, and the "glittering horeshoe" showed an unbroken circle of fashionable women, beautifully gowned and wearing superb jewels.

Even the women who occupied the orchestra chairs and those in the parquet and dress circles and the upper balcony were nearly all attired in evening dress, which made the scene, as always, a fascinating one. There was much promenading in the corridors during the entr'actes, to watch which those in the fashionable part of the house gathered there to enjoy the spectacle of New York society on parade.

There were many new faces in the parterre boxes, and there were also many new subscribers in the grand tier boxes and the parquet. The majority of old operagoers were there, relating incidents of other first nights, and telling stories of the days of older opera houses where New York society gathered, long before even the Academy of Music and its predecessor, the Opera House in Astor Place, were built.

The fashionable part of the audience, as usual, was late in arriving. Only after the curtain fell at the close of the second act did a sudden flash of light reveal that the social part of the annual function was at its full. The approaches to the Opera House were crowded with men and women, for the most part milliners and dressmakers who came to see the latest fashions.

The quick flight from carriages to lobby revealed little of the costumes worn, but the crowd enjoyed a study of the wraps, which were even more showy and handsome than those worn last year. Much costly fur was used on these garments, which for the most part were of the richest materials.

THE PARTERRE BOXES.

In Box 1 were Mrs. Ogden Goelet and Miss May Goelet. Mrs. Ogden Goelet wore white satin, trimmed with knots of green panne velvet, a green garland on the left shoulder and a diamond star in her hair, and pearl and diamond ornaments. Miss Goelet was in white crêpe de chine, with a bodice trimmed with sprays of holly and a single spray of holly in her hair.

In Box No. 3 were Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson. Mrs. Orme Wilson wore a light sage green crêpe de chine, embroidered in flowers. Mrs. Vanderbilt was in pale shades of blue satin, trimmed with lace and a wreath of diamonds in her hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Hyde were in Box 5, with Miss Stokes and Herbert M. Hyde. Mrs. Notman was in pink and Miss Mildred Stokes was in pink silk trimmed with pink chiffon.

In Box 7 was Mrs. Astor, who wore black velvet, the bodice smothered in white lace, elbow sleeves with flaring edges trimmed with lace and ropes of diamonds draped on the bodice, and a band of black velvet studded with diamonds around her neck. About her waist was a loosely woven golden girdle studded with diamonds. She wore a diamond tiara and she carried an immense bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor was in white net, embroidered in silver on white satin. She wore a rope of immense diamonds caught to her bodice with a large sapphire clasp, and diamonds in her hair. With the party were Frederick Betts, Harry Lehr, and Baron Alliotti.

In Box 9 were Mr. and Mrs. Stanford White and their guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer, Lady Cunard, Alphonso do Navarro, and Alexander Harrison, the artist. Mrs. Stanford White was in white, with a wreath of white roses. Lady Cunard was in gray velvet paillette in steel. Mrs. Stanley Mortimer was in white.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont occupied their box, No. 11. Their guests were the Russian Ambassador, Count Cassini; his niece, Countess Cassini; Sir Martin Conway, the English explorer; Richard Peters, and James F. Parker. Mrs. Belmont was in black tulle with the bodice paillette in gold and a blue velvet knot in her hair and diamonds; Countess Cassini was in gray.

In Box 13 were Mrs. Lloyd Bryce and Miss Leila and Miss Claire Bryce. Mrs. Bryce was in pink satin and Miss Claire Bryce was in pale pink satin trimmed with chiffon. Miss Leila Bryce was in white relieved with touches of blue.

In Box 15 were Mrs. Adrian Iselin, Jr., and Miss Iselin. Miss Iselin was in white, with pink roses. Mrs. Iselin was in white satin.

Mrs. H. McK. Twombly and Miss Florence Twombly were in Box 17. Mrs. Twombly was in pearl-colored satin, with sprays of mauve flowers on the bodice and feathers of the same shade in her hair. Miss Florence Twombly wore a white silk frock, with a knot of black tulle on her shoulder and butterflies in her hair.

In Box No. 19 were Mrs. Henri Barbey and the Misses Barbey. Mrs. Barbey was in black. Miss Barbey was in black tulle, with a gold wreath on her head, and the youngest Miss Barbey was in white.

Box No. 21 held Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jennings and Miss Burden. Miss Burden was in black and gold tulle.

In Box 25 were Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry and the Misses Gerry. Mrs. Gerry was in white satin. Empire fashion, and diamonds. Miss Mabel Gerry was in blue and white, brocade, and Miss Angelica Gerry was in white.

In Box 25 were Mrs. G. G. Haven, Mrs. Stephen Peabody, and Miss Haven. Mrs. Peabody was in white, with diamonds. Miss Haven was also in white with dark cherry velvet and Mrs. Haven in black.

In Box 27 were Mr. and Mrs. George Bowdoin and Miss Bowdoin. Mrs. Bowdoin was in black.

In Box 31 were Mr. and Mrs. James Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller, and Miss Stillman. Mrs. Stillman was in black and Miss Stillman in pink.

In Box 33 were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Rhinelander, Center Hitchcock, George Pollock, and Frank Griswold. Mrs. Hitchcock was in heliotrope brocade trimmed with white lace, and wore diamonds.

Pierpont Morgan had as his guests in Box 35 Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Satterlee, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hamilton, and Miss Anne Morgan. Mrs. Satterlee was in black velvet and diamonds and wore a diamond tiara. Miss Morgan was in light pink.

In the Isher Bishop box, No. 34, were Mr. Bishop, Miss Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. D. Lanier.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze had in Box 36, in addition to their débutante daughter, Miss Helen L. Kountze, their son, Delancey Kountze, and Robert B. Van Cortland and Mr. Wharton. Miss Kountze was in black lace over white satin, with pearls and diamonds, and Miss Helen Kountze wore white chiffon, with touches of black velvet on the bodice.

Ex-Secretary Whitney had as his guests in Box 30 Miss Helen Barney and the Baron and Baroness de Sellière. The Baroness wore electric blue velvet, spangled with silver.

In Box 28 were Mr. and Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting, Miss Caroline Wilmerding, Arden M. Robbins, R. Munroe Ferguson, and Herman Rinnicutt. Miss Wilmerding was in cream crepe de chine, with chiffon ruffles. Mrs. Cutting was in white. The Misses Cutting were also in white.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murray and the Misses Babcock were in S. D. Babcock's box, No. 26. Prince Henri de Croy was their guest. Mrs. Murray (Miss Fanny Babcock) wore a very handsome gown of white chiffon, covered with lace, and some beautiful pearls. The Misses Babcock were in white.

Mrs. Robert Goelet's box was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George G. De Witt. Their guests were Mrs. Augusta Temple Merritt, Miss Charlotte Pell, and James Toltree. Mrs. De Witt was in gray brocaded satin, with a collarette of pearls. Mrs. Merritt was in white chiffon, trimmed with lace, and Miss Pell was in black chiffon, with a red rose in her hair.

Mrs. William D. Sloane occupied the Seward Webb box. With her were Miss Lila Sloane and Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr. Mrs. Sloane was in white satin, the bodice trimmed with sprays of mauve flowers. She wore a diamond aigrette in her hair. Miss Lila Sloane was in green tulle. Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., was in a striking gown of red panne velvet.

In Box 20 were Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. Mrs. Mills wore a gown of white satin and a coronet of diamonds. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid was in a gown of pale lilac satin trimmed with white lace. She wore superb diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, who had Box 18, had with them Miss McCook, Cecil Baring, Frederick Townsend Martin, and Isaac T. Burden. Mrs. Alexander was gowned in white satin, embroidered in spangles. In Box 16 were Gen. Samuel Thomas and Miss Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Warren, Jr., had as their guests in Box 14 Mr. and Mrs. Starr Miller. Mrs. Warren was in gray silk and diamonds, and Mrs. Miller was in black velvet with a crown of diamonds and a large bow knot of the same stones on her corsage.

In Box 12 were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parsons. Mrs. Clews was in pale rose pink satin and diamonds, and a garland of diamonds in her hair. Mrs. Parsons was in pale green satin and white lace.

In Box 10 George F. Baker had his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew, (Miss Queenie Baker.) Mrs. Loew was in pink.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. D. Borden were in Box No. 8.

William K. Vanderbilt had with him as his guests in Box 6 Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. Mrs. Oliver Harriman was in white satin, the bodice veiled in black lace and the skirt trimmed with appliques of jet. She wore diamonds and carried an enormous fan of black plumes. Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish also wore white satin trimmed with rose mauve flowers and a crescent of diamonds in her hair surmounted with a diamond aigrette.

Box 4 was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Duer, Frederick Baldwin, and Frederick Delano Weekes. Mrs. Speyer was in white, with large black velvet bows. Mrs. Duer was in blue.

The A. D. Juilliard box was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Juilliard and Mr. and Mrs. Vatable. Mrs. Vatable was in black velvet, and Mrs. Juilliard was in black, with her famous pearls.

Among those who occupied grand tier boxes were:

THE GRAND TIER BOXES.

Mrs. R. W. Patterson, Miss Breese, Mrs. Sanford Bissell, Miss Wells, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Clark, Mrs. L. C. Clausen, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clark, Mrs. J. P. Laflin, Mrs. E. St. John Hays,

Mrs. George C. Clausen had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carroll. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Clark had Miss Clark and Miss Louisa Parsons with them.

In Box 41, as the guests of Mrs. Sanford Bissell, were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Livingston, Miss Edith Van Cortlandt Jay, Miss Eleanor Patterson, William North Dunn, and Edward S. Hosmer. Mrs. E. St. John Hays had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Ladew, Mrs. Hays, and Henry F. Dater.

IN THE PARQUET.

In the orchestra stalls among others were:

Jacques Huber, Miss Helen F. Pratt, Victor Morawitz, Miss C. M. Smith, Mrs. M. A. Field, T. P. Field, A. N. Bendleston, B. Lounsbury, Mrs. S. F. Barger, Mrs. H. H. Knox, Mrs. Herman Uhl, Henry Parrish, E. T. Shaw, H. B. Wilson, Mrs. D. H. Stewart, Perkins Stern, Dr. Carl Beck, Mrs. J. H. Selmes, H. D. Lyman, Mrs. R. Chesterman, Otto M. Mills, J. A. Mitchell, Morris K. Jesup, L. E. Wells, James J. Goodwin, Mrs. F. B. Candler, G. D. Mackey, Stewart A. Coats, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, C. M. Hyde, Mrs. C. P. Swan, W. T. Stafford, Mrs. R. C. Colt, Julius Robertson, Mrs. John J. Morris, Mrs. Alfred de Cordova, James A. Parrish, Edward Winslow, R. J. Kimball, C. M. Goodridge, S. Philip Staats, Mrs. W. A. Putnam, Miss M. Penniman, C. T. Cook, Miss De Ruyter, Mrs. W. L. Suydam, Mrs. L. Lee, Mrs. F. E. Ballard, A. Roelker, N. Salsbury, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. J. B. Dickson, A. A. Cowles, Miss A. B. Jennings, K. G. Gilbert, Henry Hummel, C. L. Davis, E. L. Johnson, Mrs. E. D. Avon, Mrs. Polk, Mrs. Deas, Mrs. W. Bryce, E. F. Cole, G. Bidwell, A. J. Rothermel, Mrs. J. E. Emmet, Mrs. M. E. Carpenter, Mrs. M. E. Copeland, Mrs. W. Bunker, Manton B. Metcalf, Henry H. Vail, Miss A. E. Hasbrook, G. G. Frelinghuysen, W. Luttgen, Mrs. J. Van Doren, Mrs. H. V. Wright, B. Adams Burnett, F. Voorhies McAllister, E. W. Inslee, Robert R. Remington, F. F. Emmet, Miss A. Pliess, Mrs. F. F. Bushnell, Mrs. A. I. Smith, J. Dwight, Mrs. B. E. Kingman, Mrs. R. C. Black, Mrs. J. G. Janeway, Theodore O. Eger, Mrs. S. Hartshorn, Mrs. J. T. Dunnell, Mrs. W. E. Coffin, John McCann, Mrs. J. V. Meserole, Mrs. G. B. Hurd, Mrs. C. A. Macey, Jr., W. Hogencamp, Dr. J. G. Perry, Frank C. Travers, Mark Ash, L. J. Busby, Mrs. T. L. Clark, C. R. Smith, Mrs. Helen E. Holbrook, Henry D. Brewster, C. H. Stitt, Mrs. E. Steiger, Mrs. W. G. Davies, Miss Lucy F. Myers, R. S. Holt, Jr., J. G. Speed, Howard C. Butler, Mrs. A. Wix, Mrs. F. S. Douglass, Miss L. Benet, Mrs. A. R. Turner, J. M. Punch, S. M. Williams, Mrs. John Koster, Miss F. Pressler, Mrs. John Brown, G. W. Priest, M. C. Roach, L. C. Till, Mrs. H. F. Gardner, Mrs. W. E. Parsons, Miss Mary C. Schnell, Miss M. E. Watson, B. H. Beecomb, H. De Vce, Miss Ella T. Willis, Mrs. E. A. Rainsford, L. D. Ferris, Mrs. James M. Stewart, E. Ehrman, A. C. Zabriskie, M. M. Billings, Ferdinand Hirsh, H. W. Harris, G. R. Turnbull, N. W. Lada, H. Morgenthau, C. F. Droste, J. H. Volkman, E. M. Shepard, C. E. Waterman, C. Pyfer, F. C. Moore, Henry Evans, A. Simonson, Miss Roosevelt, H. Rothschild, H. Hummel, Mrs. J. Taylor, A. J. Rothermel, C. L. Johnson, E. G. Tinker, Miss Cushing, James A. Wright, Miss Tyndall, J. B. Witherall, H. B. Ditson, George C. Barrett, James P. Latlin, W. H. Poor, W. H. Bridgman, A. H. Schermerhorn, H. C. Beadleston, Miss Dehon, G. B. Post, W. Butler Duncan, I. D. Fletcher, C. D. Halsey, Mrs. Van Wyck Brinkerhoff, S. S. Bigod, George Mayer, E. Matthews, J. G. Grand, C. W. Bowns, Miss E. Remsen, Mrs. Tillottson, J. R. Suydam, Mrs. A. F. Brush, Miss F. Jones, W. C. Strong, C. B. Stockwell, A. Pinchett, Mrs. E. M. Raymond, Dr. Bull, Gen. Eckert, F. De Fiorez, A. P. Montant, F. Holden Hall, E. C. Whitney, Brayton Ives, C. L. Ives, M. S. Remsen, McC. Butt, G. C. St. John, H. R. Eckelheim, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hendricks,

A "KISSER" IN THE BRONX.

Three Young Women Hugged and Kissed by a Young Man with a Beard.

Three young women were kissed and hugged in the streets of the Bronx yesterday and last night, and the police are looking for a man in a white soft hat who was complained about by the young women.

Ida Fisher was kissed last night at One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street and Third Avenue. She was walking home when a man threw his arms about her and kissed her twice on the cheek. Then he ran, and the young woman screamed. Policeman Flannery of the Tremont Station, to whom she told what had happened, reports the case to the station.

The man is described as 5 feet 7 inches in height, with a brown Vandyke beard. He was dressed in a blue suit and a white soft hat. He had no overcoat. The other two young women kissed and hugged would not give their names.

Captured Sophs at Freshmen's Feast.

The dinner of the freshman class of Columbia University, held at the Hotel Majestic last night, was enlivened by the presence of five members of the Sophomore class, who had been captured on the campus early in the evening and conveyed in a furniture van to the scene of the festivities.

Troopers Attack Bolomen.

MANILA, Dec. 18.—Lieut. Herbert L. Evans of the Furty-fourth Volunteer Infantry Regiment, with fifty men, attacked Dec. 12 several hundred bolomen and fifty insurgents armed with rifles, occupying an intrenched position at Tonoxigan, Island of Cebu. The Americans had three men wounded and the enemy lost twelve men killed and many wounded.

21,000 Panay Natives Take the Oath.

MANILA, Dec. 18.—Gen. Hughes reports that 21,000 persons in the Island of Panay have sworn allegiance to the United States.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR OSWALD OTTENDORFER

Tributes to the Dead Editor in German and English.

Ceremonies at Liederkranz Hall Attended by Prominent Citizens and Representatives of Many Organizations.

The funeral of Oswald Ottendorfer, publisher and editor of the Staats-Zeitung, was held yesterday in two separate services. The first took place at 9 o'clock at the residence, 150 West Fifty-ninth Street, and was attended only by the members of the family and the immediate friends of the deceased, after which the body was borne to the Deutscher Liederkranz, on Fifty-eighth Street, between Lexington and Park Avenues, where a large gathering, including many prominent citizens, paid their tribute to the character and lifework of the distinguished dead.

The services at the residence were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hebler, who spoke briefly of Mr. Ottendorfer's love for the poor and of his many other sterling qualities which had endeared him to a very large circle.

Then began the funeral procession to the Liederkranz Hall. At the head of the procession marched the ushers, followed by the pall bearers, the latter consisting of George von Skal, Frank Schmidt, Herman Lauckhardt, Clemens Huenewinckell, and Oscar Brion, from the staff of the Staats-Zeitung, and Andrew H. Green, Edward S. Whitman, August Finsser, Julius D. Brunn, Adolf Kuttroff, Richard H. Adams, and Reinhold Van Der Emde, representing the Isabella Home Society.

Then came the casket, hidden under a bank of floral tributes, and behind it came the family, consisting of Edward Uhl, Mrs. Anna Woerishofer, Miss Carola Woerishofer, Mrs. Herman Uhl, Oswald Uhl, Mr and Mrs. Herman Ridder and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meyer, Mrs. Eleanor Stabler, Miss Oekiman, and Patrick Gaffigan, for many years Mr. Ottendorfer's valet.

After the family walked six ex-Presidents of the Deutscher Liederkranz—Julius A. May, Dr. Mittendorf, F. A. Ringler, H. Adams, Julius Hoffmann, and William Vigelius. They were accompanied by John De Witt Warner, who delivered the English eulogy.

The hall was filled to its utmost with friends and admirers of the deceased. The casket was carried into the room while Frank's Orchestra played Handel's "Dead March from Saul." Then followed an old folk-song by the Liederkranz choir.

George Von Skal, managing editor of the Staats-Zeitung, delivered an address in German, dwelling especially upon the broad view of mankind which Mr. Ottendorfer took. His sight, he said, was not only broad, but deep and penetrating as well, and his love and work for men was in proportion to his knowledge of them.

After the dead march from Beethoven's opera "Erourekа" had been given, John De Witt Warner delivered a eulogy in English, speaking tenderly and eloquently of the many qualities which had made the deceased so truly powerful, but beloved by all who knew him.

"Adequate as may be the offering that I can bring," said the speaker, "there is a tribute a thousand times richer in the hearts of those who are here this morning. In the ways in which the world judges success, this man was indeed great, but much more so in those capacities which make a man stand out from among his fellows personally.

"Mr. Ottendorfer was imbued with that sort of courage that makes a man stand unflinchingly on the ground which he believes is right and just, when all those about him are falling.

"He is to be remembered not as a representative German-American, but as the great American of German birth."

A few remarks were made by William Vigelius, after which the service was brought to a close with Grieg's "Herswulde," played by the orchestra.

Among the societies represented at the service were the Arion, Deutscher Liederkranz, Eichenkranz, Beethoven, Mänzer Carneval Verein, Austro-Hungarian Wohlfest Verein, Deutscher Kriegerland, Deutscher Gesellschaft, Geselig Wissenschaftlicher Verein, Independent New York Schützen, and the German Press Club.

Some of the prominent people present at the exercises were Isider Straus, Miles O'Brien, Police Captains Schmittberger and Haughey, Jacob H. Schiff, Charles Schieren; ex-Mayor of Brooklyn; Supreme Court Justices Bischoff, McLean, Gaynor, and Freedman, Gen. B. F. Tracy, ex-Mayor Cooper, Aqueduct Commissioner Windolph, Ferdinand Levy, Superintendent Jasper, Gen. Franz Sigel, Theodore Sutro, Carl Schurz, the German Consul Gen. Buenz, Frederick William Halls, A. P. Fitch, Senator Fox, ex-Secretary Fairchild, Judge Sutro, and President Guggenheimer.

Following the funeral services the body was taken to Greenwood Cemetery for interment. Otto Hubach, city editor of the Staats-Zeitung, delivered a short eulogy at the grave.

MAY SELL ENGLISH CHURCH.

French Government Seizes St. Joseph's, Paris, for Arrears of Taxes—American Catholics Attend It.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The French Government has refused the petition of the American and British Ambassadors requesting that the Passionist Fathers and Chaplains of the English-speaking Catholic Church of St. Joseph be exempt from the heavy tax which the special law imposes on religious bodies. The petition represented that the fathers discharge the duties of secular priests stationed in Paris solely to minister to the needs of the English-speaking colony, and that their withdrawal will be an irreparable loss to the colony.

The church was built thirty years ago with English and American money, and the congregation is composed chiefly of English, Americans, and Irish. The fathers have already contested the matter in the courts, which have decided against them.

The Government has now seized St. Joseph's and the property of the fathers in the Avenue Hoche, and threatens to sell the property unless the sum of 20,000f., arrears of taxes since 1898, is paid. The services, however, are not interfered with. The fathers propose to appeal to English and American Catholics for assistance.

PRINCE OF WALES DENOUNCED.

Dr. Parker, in His Temporary Capacity of Editor, Attacks Him and Lord Rosebery.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker, pastor of the City Temple, who has assumed for a week the editorship of The Sun, in to-day's issue of the paper, under the heading "Betting and Gambling Forecasts," tilts at the Prince of Wales and Lord Rosebery as follows:

"Woe to any country in which the heirs to the throne and Prime Ministers favor the race course, as exists among us to-day. If Princes are guilty, it is a poor consolation for us to rebuke peasants. If the Premier can blaspheme, he has no right to rebuke ribaldry upon the street. I would rather have as Premier a man of solid character than one of brilliant mind addicted to habits that may have the effect of a pestilence upon the rising generation."

LORD STRATHCONA'S ADDRESS.

He Is Installed as Lord Rector of Aberdeen University and Speaks on Unity of the Empire.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian High Commissioner, was installed as Lord Rector of Aberdeen University this morning. He met with a very cordial greeting from the students.

In his rectorial address Lord Strathcona dealt with the unity of the empire. He referred to the gratifying growth of the Dominion of Canada, and the Federation of Australia and mentioned the similar federation of South Africa, to follow the war.

The speaker did not altogether favor an imperial Parliament. He thought a consultative imperial Council would meet all the needs.

At the close of his address Lord Strathcona announced that he would give £25,000, provided £50,000 more was raised within a year, to wipe out the debt of the university.

Charles Mitchell of Newcastle has offered another £20,000 to the university.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

The programme for to-day is not an overfull one. The wedding of Thomas Entwisle Peters and Miss Gladys Whitin, at Grace Church, at 3:30 P. M., will be the principal event of the afternoon. There are to be several "at homes," including those of Mrs. Charles Addison Miller of 26 West Thirty-seventh Street and of Mrs. Alfred Ely and Miss Helena Rutherfurd Ely, at 175 Second Avenue. The second performance of Leonidas Westervelt's comedy, "Professor Whimsical," by members of the sophomore class of Columbia University, will be given at the Carnegie Lyceum this evening, and the first of a series of concerts by the Morgan String Quartet, organized by Mrs. Jacob W. Miller and Mrs. J. West Roosevelt, will take place, also this evening, at Mrs. Miller's. Mrs. James Varnum of 27 East Thirty-ninth Street will give a dinner this evening, and Mrs. Dexter Hawkins of 5 West Thirty-fourth Street will also give a dinner.

***

Among coming dinners are those to be given by Mrs. Elizabeth Remsen on Saturday next for Mme. Sembrich, by Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, also on Saturday; by Mrs. William Street on Thursday for Miss Rosamond Street, and by Mrs. R. H. White of 2 East Seventy-fifth Street on Saturday. Mrs. White's dinner will follow a theatre party in the afternoon.

***

Other entertainments of the near future recently announced are dances to be given by Mrs. William Seward Webb for her daughter, Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb, on Jan. 16 and 30, and a dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt on Jan. 2.

***

Cards for days at home have been issued by Mrs. James Wilson Clark and Miss Clark of 46 East Fifty-third Street, for Tuesdays, Jan. 8 and 15; Mrs. Payson Merrill and Miss Cornelia Helen Merrill of 41 East Sixty-seventh Street, for Thursdays in January; by Mrs. Samuel P. Hinckley of 126 East Sixtieth Street, to introduce Miss Dorothy Hinckley, for Thursday, Jan. 3 and 17, and by Mrs. Henry Ashton Crosby (Miss Mary Leavitt) of 20 Washington Square West, to introduce Miss Beatrice Crosby, for Fridays in January.

***

To-day will bring the wedding, in Grace Church, of Thomas Entwisle Peters of Gloucestershire, England, and Miss Gladys Whitin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Whitin (Miss Lucy Morgan) of 9 West Fiftysixth Street. The ceremony will take place at 3:30 o'clock, and the Rev. Dr. Huntington will officiate. Miss Whitin's father will give her away. The maid of honor is to be Miss Caroline Nichols of Worcester; the Misses Cecil Boardman, Juliette Hubbell, and Charlotte Stillman of New York, and Susan Franklin, Louisa Weightman, and Angelica Thompson will be the bridesmaids. Mr. Peters will have as his best man Henry M. Ward, and his ushers are to be W. Forbes Morgan, Jr., a cousin of the bride; Stowe Phelps, C. Morton Whitman, Templeton Johnston, Edwin Sands, and Dwight Taylor, another cousin of the bride. Mr. Peters will take his bride to India for the coming Winter, and they will return to Mr. Peters's English home next Summer.

***

The many friends of Mrs. James E. Martin (Miss Florence Brokaw) will regret to learn that she is ill with typhoid fever at her city residence, 808 Fifth Avenue. Mrs. Martin returned to town only a few weeks ago from her country place, Martin Hall, at Great Neck, L. I.

***

Miss Gladys Whitin, daughter of Lewis M. Whitin of 9 West Fifty-sixth Street, gave yesterday afternoon at her parents' residence a luncheon for her attendants at her wedding to-day. Her guests were Miss Caroline Nichols of Worcester, who is to be the maid of honor; the Misses Cecil Boardman, Juliette Hubbell, and Charlotte Stillman of New York, and Susan Franklin of Baltimore; Louisa Weightman of Philadelphia and Angelica Thompson of Troy, who are to be her bridesmaids; Miss Grace Gillette and one or two others. Late in the afternoon there was a rehearsal for to-day's wedding.

***

Mrs. John Erving of 17 West Fiftieth Street gave yesterday afternoon at her residence the second of two coming out receptions for her daughter, Miss Justine Bayard Erving. Mrs. Erving and her débutante daughter were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Erving's two married daughters, Mrs. Henry W. Cooper and Mrs. John V. S. Pruyn, and Miss Erving. Mrs. Erving was gowned in black and white and Miss Erving in black velvet.

***

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., went to the theatre on Monday evening. This was her first outing since the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Vanderbilt expects to attend a dinner at her sister's, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, on Christmas eve. There is to be a Christmas tree for the new Vanderbilt heiress.

***

Among the hostesses of the dinners given last night before the opera were Mrs. Ogden Goelet, Mrs. Paul Dana, and Mrs. Lewis Q. Jones. These dinners were small, and Mrs. Goelet and Mrs. Dana, with their guests, afterward went to the opera.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betts Hillhouse, (Miss Georgiana D. Remsen,) who have been absent from New York for several months, have returned. They were guests at a luncheon given yesterday at the Waldorf by Mrs. James F. Kernochan. Miss Mary Scott of San Francisco is the guest of Mrs. Francis Burton Harisorn (Miss Mary Crocker of San Francisco) at the latter's residence, 6 West Fifty-sixth Street.

***

The second "Fortnightly" was danced at the Astoria last evening. Mrs. Alexander D. Shaw and Mrs. Thomas D. Young, Jr., received. Mrs. Lewis Livingston Delafield, owing to a temporary indisposition, was not present. The cotillion was led by Alexander Hadden, dancing with Miss Morris. There were a number of guests from out of town. The favors were paper knives of ivory and brass, paper weights, &c., for the men, and for the women silk pompons in various colors for the hair and fancy belts. Among those dancing were the Misses Angelica S. Church, Edith Adams, Beste, Stevens, de Kay, Delafield, Hoe, Olyphant, Drake, Martin, Boardman, Beekman, Gould, and Fanshawe, and the Messrs. Landale, Myers, Shaw, Goadby, Bogert, Hawkins, Montgomery, Borden, Delafield, McLean, Hubbard, Jones, Fales, and Gibson.

***

Mrs. William Manice of 20 East Forty-first Street gave a dinner last night in honor of Miss Nathalie Schenck. Among her guests were the Misses Evelyn Parsons, Sibyl Kane, Marian Whitaker, and Kathleen Neilson.

***

Mrs. Spotswood D. Schenck gave at her residence on Lexington Avenue yesterday a luncheon. Her guests included Mrs. Joseph Stickney, Mrs. William Pollock, Mrs. George Crocker, Mrs. Gouverneur Kortright, Mrs. J. K. Soley, Mrs. John Suydam, and Miss Clementina Furniss and Miss Pell.

***

Among those booked to sail to-day on the Majestic for Liverpool are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Abel, Capt. G. S. Cartwright, Mrs. A. S. V. Grinnell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Latlin, Capt. Montague and Mrs. Montague, Hon. Ed. Plunket, Mrs. Horace Porter, D. A. Stuart, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY NOTES.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Senator Kean and his sister, Miss Kean, entertained a distinguished dinner company this evening at their new residence in I Street, which in the hands of its present owner has become one of the most delightfully appointed homes at the capital. The guests were the Secretary of War and Mrs. Root, the Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs, Senator and Mrs. McMillan, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, Mrs. Slater, Miss Gwynn, Senator Allison, Senator Aldrich, Senator Wolcott, C. A. Griscom of Philadelphia, and Miss Elizabeth Kean.

Mrs. Augustus Tyler gave a dinner party this evening, the entertainment being the result of a wager on the West Point-Annapolis football game of Dec. 1. The name cards were tiny flags of the Naval Academy, with the name of each guest attached by a still smaller United States flag. A representation of the Annapolis mascot and a profusion of white roses graced the centre of the round table, where other suggestions of the famous victory were also in evidence. The guests were the Secretary of the Navy, Assistant Secretary Hackett, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Crowninshield, Commander and Mrs. Richard T. Mulligan, Commander and Mrs. Henry C. Davis, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Hoff, and Dr. Kindelberger.

Miss Fannie Fuller, youngest daughter of the Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, made her début at a tea at her parents' residence this afternoon. Receiving with the débutante and her mother were Mrs. Hugh Campbell Wallace of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Nathaniel Francis, Jr., of New York, both daughters of the house. Other assistants were the Misses Harlan, the Misses McKenna, and Miss Brewer, all of the Supreme Court families; the Misses Griggs, the Misses Hitchcock, Miss Vivian Sartoris, Miss Julia Foraker, Miss Haquer, and Miss Sargent.

Mrs. Augustus Tyler gave a large reception this afternoon to introduce her second daughter, Miss Sarah Tyler. Assisting in the entertainment were Mrs. Edward Tyler, Mme. von Bruening, Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Deering, Miss Bessie Ferguson, Miss Kellogg, and Miss Aileen Kerr.

A Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Post (Miss Caroline T. How) celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on Monday, at their residence, at New Brighton, S. I. They were former residents of New York, but for some years past have lived on Staten Island. Owing to the delicate health of Mrs. Post there was no formal celebration, but a family luncheon, which was participated in by the sons and daughters and daughters-in-law and two or three intimate friends. The couple received many beautiful gifts. A remarkable fact is that Mr. and Mrs. Post have six children and nine grandchildren and have never had a death occur in their family. Mr. Post is the oldest living male representative of the old New York family of Post.

Cliff Cottages at Newport Sold.

The property on Sea View Avenue, Newport, R. I., formerly known as the Livingston cottages and more recently as the Cliff cottages, has been sold through Brokers W. E. & F. B. Taylor. There are four houses on the property, which will be extensively altered and improved, and one of which will probably be occupied by the purchaser, who is said to be a prominent New Yorker.

DR. CHARLES S. TAFT DEAD.

Was the First Surgeon to Reach Lincoln's Side After the Assassination.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Dr. Charles S. Taft, the first surgeon to reach the side of President Lincoln after he had been shot in Ford's Theatre, Washington, died to-day at his home, 39 South Seventh Avenue, this city. He had lived in Mount Vernon for about a year. He was born in New York, and after graduating as a physician shortly after the outbreak of the war he entered the Army Medical Corps.

On the night Booth shot the President Dr. Taft occupied a seat in the orchestra of the theatre just below the box occupied by the President. When the shot was fired Dr. Taft arose and called out he was a surgeon and would attend the President. Willing hands lifted him into the air and he was dragged into the box.

Dr. Taft did what he could and remained with the dying President during his removal from the theatre, and was in constant attendance with other physicians until the end came. With the death of Dr. Taft only three persons now remain who were in the room when Lincoln died. They are Secretary of State Hay, Robert Lincoln, and a physician living in New York City.

Dr. Taft continued in the army service until about fifteen years ago when he retired. He was born in 1835. He is survived by a widow and three children.

ASSOCIATED PRESS WINS.

Missouri Supreme Court Decides Against Claim of The Star that It Is a Monopoly.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—The Supreme Court of Missouri, sitting at Jefferson City, today handed down an opinion in the case of the Star Publishing Company versus The Associated Press of Illinois, deciding the case unanimously in favor of The Associated Press.

The Star Company was engaged in publishing an evening newspaper in St. Louis known as The Star, and it brought suit for a writ of mandamus to require The Associated Press to serve it with the evening news report on the same terms of which such service was being rendered to The Post-Dispatch, which was a member of The Associated Press.

The Star Company claimed that it was not able to secure from any source as

SPEEDWAY TEAM RACES

Tom and Lotus Paired, Showed the Way in Several Brushes.

AN AFTERNOON'S GOOD SPORT

Smith, a Pacer, Was a Factor in Some Fast Trials — Damiana Won a Three-Cornered Brush.

Team racing was the most interesting feature of yesterday afternoon's sport on the Speedway, when James Murphy's famous pacing team, Tom and Lotus, had a series of brushes that were among the best witnessed this Fall. The team was in unusually fine condition, and ready to meet all comers. After winning several minor heats, they were turned to a good start with the old favorite, Commodore Porter, (2:13,) driven by Hugh Reilly. For the first quarter Commodore Porter held the lead easily and then the team began to creep up on him, so that by the time the stretch was reached they had closed the gap completely and were upon perfectly even terms. Then began a desperate struggle for a lead, but Commodore Porter was not ready to meet a spurt and the pair crossed the line a half length in front. The second heat was as exciting as the first, except that the team took the lead in the start and was never headed, although closely followed by Commodore Porter, who was beaten by a half length. In the third and last heat Commodore Porter somewhat redeemed himself, but had not quite enough speed to win.

The pacer Smith, 2:13, driven by J. P. Balter, did some fast work and had a very lively go with Edward W., 2:21¼, driven by George Coleman. To the surprise of everybody, Edward W. gained a lead which Smith was unable to overcome, and the pacer lost by a good length.

There was a very pretty three-cornered brush between the chestnut trotter Damiana, 2:22¾; Glenmere Boy, 2:11¾, driven by J. Donley, and N. T. B., 2:21¼. The start was somewhat ragged, but before a quarter had been covered all three horses were pretty well bunched, with N. T. B. in the lead, Glenmere Boy following, a half length behind. At the head of the stretch Damiana showed a remarkable burst of speed and had a lead in an instant. This she gradually increased, and won by a length, with Glenmere Boy second. The bay pacer Grant, 2:17¼, with C. R. Jarvis handling the reins, was matched against Oscar, driven by B. Zahn, who gave him a good race, but was no match for his speed. Smith, 2:13, led the way home in a pretty brush, with Teddy Look, 2:20¾, driven by H. L. Stout, and Commodore Porter, 2:13, and the bay mare Rival, 2:17½, driven by John F. Cockerill, came down the stretch together, Commodore Porter having a slight advantage as the mark was passed. Harry Davis, driven by M. Timmons, beat Strathbelle, driven by George Spear. The well-known trotter Alice Barnes, 2:11½, was on the road, but her owner, E. E. Smathers, did not step her.

Important Change in Turf Plans.

Special to The New York Times.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 18.—A deal contemplating the absorption of the American Turf Congress by the Eastern Jockey Club is now on foot, according to statements of well-known horsemen here. They claim that it will be carried to completion at the meeting of the congress at Chicago in May. The plan is to restrict the length of race meetings in the West and to reduce the number of tracks in Chicago to one. Harlem, Hawthorne, and the Northern tracks will be outlawed and a meeting of comparatively short duration allowed at Washington Park. Memphis, Latonia, and St. Louis will be likewise restricted. It is thought that this will do away with the system of continuous racing around the large circuits and give the small places a chance to see good horses running. The plan meets with approval here, as it would give Lexington a meeting.

Race Track Results.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 18.—One and one-eighth miles.—Donna Rita, 110 pounds, (Bradford,) 1; Phidias, 104, 2; Pacemaker, 107, 3. Time — 1:57. Five furlongs. — Tonicum, 115, (Mitchell,) 1; Admiral Pepper, 101, 2; Choice, 114, 3. Time—1:02. Mile.—Lillian Reed, 100, (Ransom,) 1; Linden Ella, 100, 2; Sir Gatian, 106, 3. Time—1:42¾. Seven furlongs.—Tom Kingsley, 108, (Dale,) 1; Alex, 107, 2; Georgia, 110, 3. Time—1:28¾. Six and one-half furlongs.—McHattan's Prince, 106, (Mitchell,) 1; Handcuff, 112, 2; Terralene, 104, 3. Time—1:23¾. Mile.—Boy Blue, 109, (Cochran,) 1; Elsmore, 108, 2; Rodd, 87, 3. Time—1:42½.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—Five furlongs. Duckey, 102, (Coburn,) 1; MacLaren, 105, 2; Formiatus, 103, 3. Time—1:03. Six furlongs. Brutal, 115, (O'Connor,) 1; Careschal Neil, 118, 2; Argregor, 113, 3. Time—1:16. Seven furlongs. Lomond, 102, (Dominick,) 1; Good Hope, 104, 2; Isalloe, 101, 3. Time—1:31. Seven furlongs. Boudilee, 99, (Buchanan,) 1; Alee, 103, 2; Cyril, 106, 3. Time—1:31½. Five furlongs. Anlon, 109, (Mounce,) 1; Bambouila, 102, 2; Herculean, 102, 3. Time—1:03¼. Six and a half furlongs. Bernota, 103, (Coburn,) 1; Galanthus, 101, 2; Dandy Jim, 108, 3. Time—1:24½.

PRINCETON HOCKEY TEAM LOST.

Quaker Citys Won the Second Match by Four Goals to None.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Dec. 18.—The Princeton University hockey team was defeated here to-night at the ice palace by the Quaker City Club players by the score of 4 goals to 0. It was the return match between the two teams and Capt. Little's men were determined to retrieve the defeat of their first visit if possible. The game was an unusually fast one, and at times the play was brilliant. Princeton gave a remarkably good team exhibition, excelling in that particular. Little and Henry at cover point and point respectively seldom allowed the puck to get past their stations in the second half of the game.

Quaker City scored three of her goals in the first half, and the fourth a half minute after play was started in the second half. Then Princeton took a brace and the excellent work of Little and Henry, as noted above, prevented further scoring. The lineup:

Quaker City.	4.	Position.	Princeton.	0.
Rhoades		Goal		Brown
Heston		Point		Henry, Homans
Gorman		Cover Point		Little
Devine, Robertson		Rover		Purnell
Varney, Wallace.
Demotte		Right forward		Poe
Orton		Centre forward		Ogden
Rodgers		Left forward		McAlpin

Goals—Orton, 2; Devine, 2. Referee—Mr. Clifford. Umpires—Messrs. Hall and Ewing. Timekeeper—Mr. Roser, Pennsylvania Dental College. Time of halves—Fifteen minutes.

Entries for Billiard Tournament.

Dr. A. L. Ranney, for the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, has announced a list of eight entries for the Class A billiard tournament for the amateur championship, to be held in the theatre of the clubhouse beginning on Feb. 4, under sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union. The men who will compete are Charles Thrushie of Boston, Class B champion in 1899; Albert L. Cutler of Boston, winner of the Class B championship that was decided Monday night; Charles G. Schmitt of Boston, Charles S. Norris, ex-amateur champion of the Chicago Athletic Association, now a resident of New York; John A. Hendrick of New York, L. L. Mial of New York, Dr. Mun Smith of St. Louis, and Charles Conklin of Chicago. The winner will challenge Wilson P. Foss for the Class A championship emblem, won by him in the competition last year. It is said by officials that this championship contest will be the last held in New York for several years, as the annual competitions will be transferred to other cities.

Christmas Day Skating Races.

A large number of entries have already been received for the skating carnival to be held at Silver Lake, S. I., on Christmas Day, and it is expected that nearly all the well-known skaters in this part of the country will take part in the competition. The open events will be one-mile, novice; one-mile handicap, and three-mile handicap. Entries close to-morrow with W. H. Robertson, 29 Park Row, city.

Mrs. Sidney Webster's Narrow Escape.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Webster, wife of Sidney Webster, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Monday at the Webster villa in Harrison Avenue. It appears that Mrs. Webster struck a match, and the sparks flew into the lace on her waist and ignited it. The butler, hearing Mrs. Webster calling for help, ran to her assistance and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, not, however, before Mrs. Webster had been burned about the breast and hands.

BENEFIT ATHLETIC SHOW.

Interesting Sporting Exhibition for the Hugh S. Hart Fund.

The sporting benefit for the family of the late Hugh S. Hart, turf reporter and sporting writer, drew a fairly good attendance to the amusement hall in Grand Central Palace last night, and with the advance sale of tickets netted nearly $500 for the fund. The entertainment was of a mixed character, a few vocal efforts being sandwiched in among such exhibitions of a sporting and athletic nature as could be put upon the stage. The promised exhibition boxing bouts were not presented, as the police warned the managers of the show that such action would be an infraction of the law. Several exhibitions of wrestling were put on, however, but no decisions were made. Hugh Leonard, the wrestling instructor, with George Bechtel, one of his pupils, gave a decidedly interesting bout, in which, without really trying for a fall, they illustrated most of the holds and tricks of the game.

The pugilistic champion, "Jim" Jeffries, could not appear for the announced wrestling exhibition with Ernest Roeber, and in consequence Roeber's part in the entertainment was limited to acting as referee for a sharp and clever Graeco-Roman wrestling bout between George Bothner of the Pastime Athletic Club and Phil Brown, known as the "Irish Giant." Both men worked hard for an advantage, Bothner's agility and skill offsetting Brown's greater strength, and the spectators warmed up to the contest as if it were something more than a mere friendly display. Bothner ended the struggle by turning Brown with a quick twist, and spreading him on his back before he could recover. The time was 6:30. One more wrestling encounter that aroused keen interest was between two amateurs who were introduced as "The Iceman" and "The Beerman."

Several exhibitions of bag punching were given. John L. Sullivan made his inevitable "I remain yours truly" speech, and a number of lesser lights in pugilism, past and present, were introduced.

Receipts of Yale-Princeton Game.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 18.—George R. Murray, General Treasurer of the University Athletic Association, to-day gave out his report of the money received from the Yale-Princeton football game, held here on Nov. 17. The total number of tickets sold was 13,408, at $2 each, making a total of $26,016 received. The expenses for policemen, umpire, referee, &c., amounted to $1,440.24, which left net receipts of $24,575.76, of which Yale and Princeton each received half—$12,287.88 each. The total amount received in 1898 was about $24,500. Manager Hall of the baseball team announced to-day that Hugh Wilson, 1902, has been appointed manager of the freshman baseball team.

Doings of College Athletes.

A Tufts College combination hockey team has been organized at College Hill. Arthur F. Williams, Jr., '02, was elected Captain, and A. W. Robinson, M. S., '03, manager.

Hugh Jennings, the former Brooklyn baseball player, who has been engaged to coach the Cornell nine throughout the entire season of 1901, will enter the Cornell Law School with the purpose of adopting the legal profession.

Hockey has this Winter been revived at Swarthmore after a lapse of several seasons. W. J. Clothier of Wynnewood, Penn., has been elected Captain of the team, and games will probably be played against Princeton, Pennsylvania, and Harvard.

The Cornell University Track Athletic Association has arranged for a handicap road race to be held Jan. 12 on the Cornell campus, at Ithaca. Prizes will be awarded the first six men. The handicaps will be sealed and not announced until immediately after the race.

Effort is being made by the University of Chicago athletic managers to send their hockey team East during the Christmas holidays. If the project succeeds at least four matches will be arranged, and the probable contestants of the Westerners will be Pennsylvania, Princeton, Yale, the University of Maryland, and the Quaker City Club.

It is rumored at Harvard that "Bill" Reid, the Captain of the Crimson baseball nine, and former full back on the 'Varsity eleven, has been induced to act as head football coach next Fall. As yet Capt. Camobell refuses to make any definite statement. He says he is looking for a good man, but it is known that he has discussed Reid as head coach with a number of the football men.

The University of Pennsylvania has found a new sprinter in J. R. Anderson of Salt Lake City. Anderson has a scholastic record of ten seconds for the 100 yards, and is also an exceptionally fast man in the 220 yards. He is nearly 6 feet in height, weighs about 180 pounds, and is thought by Coach Woodruff capable of winning points in other track and field events in which he has not yet been tried.

Cornell's football authorities are considering seriously the project of engaging only graduate coaches hereafter, and it is generally believed that Glen S. Warner, the old Cornell player, who has coached the Carlisle Indians for the last few seasons, will be offered the position of head coach, to succeed Percy Haughton of Harvard. Should Mr. Warner, for financial reasons, be unable to coach the Ithacans next Fall, the choice will probably fall upon Capt. Starbuck of this year's team.

Pennsylvania's track candidates will begin practice indoor by Jan. 1, when the new indoor cinder track will be completed. The Quakers will this year lose the most heavily in the sprints and field events, and to develop new men in all events a series of weekly handicap games will be arranged to last throughout the Winter. In addition to these games, it is the intention of the track management to send some of the more promising of the men to the various indoor games to be held at Boston, New York, and Washington. The first of these games will be held at Boston, where Pennsylvania will compete against Harvard in a relay meet as in past years. This meet will be followed by those given in February by the New York Athletic Club, Knickerbocker Athletic Club, and Georgetown University.

Capt. Hallowell of the Harvard track team has already begun to plan for the dual track games with Yale, which will take place next Spring. During the past week he called out all of the candidates for the shot-put and pole vault. It has not been customary to begin Winter training for the track before the middle of January, but Capt. Hallowell and Trainer Graham both realize that Harvard was never very strong in these two events, so they are going to develop as many men as possible for them. Graham has had a great deal of experience as a trainer, being at the Boston Athletic Association for a number of years, and he is still athletic director there.

Officers for Ice Yacht Club.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 18.—The Orange Lake Ice Yacht Club held its annual meeting to-day at the clubhouse at the lake. The officers elected were: Commodore—Harry C. Higginson; Vice Commodore—Willitt Kidd; Secretary and Treasurer—Willit Sloan; Measurer—H. Percy Ashley. The call had been made for the first regatta of the season. The ice was in fine condition, but there was a lack of wind and no boats were called to the line.

The trial of Commodore Higginson's new yacht, the Aurora, was necessarily postponed.

The race for the Higginson gold stopwatch will be called for the first day when ice and wind favor.

Activity Among Ice Yachtsmen.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 18.—There is activity among the members of the Hudson River and Hyde Park Ice Yacht Clubs in anticipation of good sport as soon as the river freezes over. The Hudson is now closed north of Rhinebeck. The members expect to have a race this Winter for the world's challenge pennant, now held by the Hudson River Club.

Ogden Mills has given S. R. Rogers a commission to build him a new ice yacht that is expected to prove one of the speediest on the river.

Notes for Yachtsmen.

Capt. Edward Sycamore, who is to sail Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger Shamrock II. in the international races next year, has been elected Deputy Mayor of Brightlingsea, England.

The Indian Harbor Yacht Club has appointed the following committee to nominate officers for 1901: Charles F. Kirby, Chairman; John H. McKee and E. E. Zittel. The annual meeting of the club will be held Jan. 9.

Mrs. Robert Goelet's steam yacht Nahma, which has been refitted on the Clyde, will sail shortly for Cannes, where she will be boarded by her owner's family and a party. After a Mediterranean cruise, it is likely that the Nahma will voyage to China and Japan.

Almy Brothers of Providence have submitted to the Rhode Island Yacht Club plans for a one-design class for the John Eighteen-footers which will probably be prominent in the racing events of Narragansett Bay next Summer. The Almy plan shows a powerful and speedy boat, the general dimensions of which are: Length over all, 20 feet; length water line, 15 feet; extreme beam, 8 feet; load water line beam, 7 feet 5½ inches; freeboard, bow, 2 feet 9 inches; freeboard, stern, 2 feet; least freeboard, 20⅝ inches; overhang, bow, 5 feet 6 inches; overhang, aft, 5 feet 8 inches; draught, 23 inches; displacement, 3,875 pounds; area, lateral plane, 39.4 square feet. The sail plan calls for a mainsail with an area of 389.5 square feet, and a jib with 95 square feet of canvas.

The following yachts are berthed for the Winter at Tebo's basin, South Brooklyn: Steam yachts—Miss Eloise L. Breese's Elsa, John D. Crimmins's Admiral, Frederick G. Bourness's Artemis, George W. Childs's Alcedo, Joseph B. Thomas's Neverita, Lloyd Phoenix's auxiliary Intrepid, Perry Belmont's auxiliary Satanella, J. Herbert Ballantine's Juanita, H. Darlington's Elreba, R. Hall McCormick's El Placita, E. W. Bliss's Felicia, Simon Stern's Leando, Charles M. Pratt's Yashmeh, J. Rogers Maxwell's Kismet, A. Van Santvoord's Clermont, James W. Haviland's Armorica, D. Willis James and Arthur Curtiss James's auxiliary Aloha, John Young's Nada, W. R. Ellison and J. H. Carstairs's Manitou, Charles A. Gould's Nesira, Thomas L. Watt's Oscoola, Arthur S. Lurie's Prebie, George W. Quintard's Saranac, Joseph Stickney's Susquehanna, J. Henry Alexander's Sappho, R. A. C. Smith's Privateer, Isaac Stern's Virginia, and the Radha. Sailing yachts—Major Charles F. Ulriche's schooner Carlotta, John I. Waterbury's schooner Coronet, Chester W. Chapin's yawl Polly, John I. Waterbury's schooner Saxon, and Cleveland H. Dodge's sloop Wasp.

In England as on this side of the Atlantic amateur yachtsmen are growing weary of the comparative tameness of steam yachting, and are beginning to abandon the steam craft for large cruising schooners. The London Yachting World in a recent issue says: "While the returning popularity of the schooner has long since got past the stage of being indicated by the drift of straws the revival has received a very considerable fillip just now by the building of the fine new schooner at Fairlie by F. G. MacAndrew of Knock Castle, Largs, and the buying of the old Solent queen, the Sea Belle, by Duncan Sillars, Glasgow and Wemyss Bay. Directly, these two important boats will make a valuable addition to the sailing division of the Clyde fleet, while their presence will not be without its influence in enticing others either to buy or to build schooners. It is quite an open secret in the inner circles of Clyde yachtsmen that several of the younger men are just about tired of 'swelling' it lazily on steam yachts. They often weary, even when being 'whished' through the water at ten, twelve, and fourteen miles an hour as privileged passengers on a splendidly appointed steamer, for a boat in which they could take a rally at the sheets and a turn at the tiller occasionally. On these grounds alone a leading authority here is confidently expecting to see a considerable impetus imparted to the revival presently."

At McIntosh's basin, South Brooklyn, the following yachts have been laid up for the Winter: Anita, George B. Wilson; Embla, J. T. Williams; Nourmahal, J. J. Astor; Atalanta, Venezuelan Government; Halcyon, R. C. Potter; Charavi, estate of David Hunt; Maytia, Louis Bossert; Dione, Charles Tyler; Dirigo, Mr. Bartlett; Laurena, Oscar Lipton; Hadassah, Henry Kriese; Priscilla, S. M. Jarvis; Flamborough, C. J. Mayer; P. J. Nevious, Charles Suffer; Tioga, L. R. Wood; Kiawasaha, E. P. Morse; Meteor, Mr. Raab; Pearless, C. A. Hunt; Miladi, C. B. and S. H. Mason; Como, R. Siegmann; Sayonara, C. B. Hendricks; Wanderer, W. H. Reynolds; Orithyia, F. H. Lee; Maraquita, H. B. Shaen; Fanny and Carrie, M. Bellows; Aglaia, C. H. Pope; Flossie and Gretchen, W. M. Ivins; Marie and Daphne, G. W. Copeland; Nautilus and Triton, J. W. Martin; Lotowana, T. O'Connor Sloane; Scout and Rosalie, J. S. Spencer; Fredonia, Dwight Braman; Minerva, estate of A. T. Johnston; Vinita, G. D. Pryor; Izoli, C. W. Vason; Uvira, R. F. Doremus; Zingara, Harrison Dike; Bedouin, J. M. Mitchell; Halcyon, N. L. Tuck; Wayward, Katrina, and Fleur-de-lis, Charles Smithers; Nomad, A. Helmrath; Argonaut, A. D. Von Kuhl; Ionquil, R. B. Roosevelt; Amy, G. R. Grossley; Wm. Thurman, St. John's Guild; Beatrice, Emilie, and Echo, D. H. Valentine; Bedouin, Capt. Percival; Marion, J. A. Swan; Phroso, E. B. Showell; Etta, F. C. Rawolle; Gertrude, G. R. Branson; Kismet, Edward Winslow; Sadie, Mr. White, and Georgia, J. L. Dunlap.

Middle Distance Cycle Race Entries.

In the twenty-five-mile bicycle race which will take place to-morrow night at Madison Square Garden there will be at least twenty starters. Those already entered are Goulotz, Simar, Fischer, Fredericks, Acoutrier, Muller, Walthour, Cooper, McFarland, Kramer, McEachern, Babcock, Gimm, McLean, Krebs, Ross, Kaser, Miller, Ireland, and Albert. This race gives promise of being an exciting affair from start to finish, as the $500 in prizes will be split among the first four riders—the man in front for the greatest number of laps and the leader at five, ten, and twenty miles. A race that will interest the entire police force on this night will be the match for the police championship between Roundsmen Schuessler of New York and Haussler of the Brooklyn force, a one-mile indoor championship, and a half-mile handicap. Michael and Elkes will be seen in exhibitions behind the motors.

Automobile Club Meeting.

An informal closed meeting of the Automobile Club of America was held last evening at the clubrooms, in the Waldorf-Astoria. The new President, Albert R. Shattuck, presided, and several members gave short talks regarding their touring experiences, both in this country and in Europe. A more important meeting will be held to-day, when the Governors of the club will meet in President Shattuck's office, 11 Broadway. It is expected that some definite report may be made regarding future permanent quarters, and the Law Committee may propose some scheme to test the law preventing gasoline vehicles from being admitted on ferryboats. The Secretary of the club said yesterday that, owing to the cold weather, it was not likely that any more runs would be held for some time.

Yale-Annapolis Boat Race.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 18.—Manager A. H. Richardson of the Yale University crew and Manager Fisher of the Annapolis Naval Cadet crew have concluded their negotiations for a third annual race in Southern waters between the second crew of Yale and an eight representing the middies in the United States Naval Academy.

The race is set for May 11, but the hour of the day and place are not settled. It will depend on weather conditions prevailing. It will, however, be either on the James River or the Severn.

Royal Arcanum Wheelmen Officers.

The Royal Arcanum Wheelmen have elected the following officers for the coming year:

President—J. R. J. Ryen; First Vice President—J. L. Sheerer; Second Vice President—C. H. Palmer; Recording Secretary—W. J. Cronin; Financial Secretary—E. B. Stockvis; Treasurer—W. G. Hoff; Board of Directors—Dr. G. E. Rice, B. Frank, J. L. Sheerer, H. M. Duncan, H. L. V. Warner, A. R. Cantrell, W. G. Hoff, J. J. Burke, J. F. Jones, A. J. Reiga, and A. O. Plathow.

A reception will be held by the newly-elected officers on New Year's Eve.

Elliott and Welch Matched.

The date of the 100 live bird shooting match between J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City and Robert A. Welch of the Carteret Gun Club has been fixed for Tuesday, Jan. 8, at the Interstate Park traps. Elliott is one of the few men in this country with a record of 100 straight kills in a match, while Welch won the amateur championship of America in 1896 at the Larchmont Yacht Club, and the Grand American Handicap at Dexter Park in 1893.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF-ASTORIA.—Col. G. B. Davis, United States Army.

CAMBRIDGE.—Baron von Hengermuller, Austrian Minister, Washington.

VICTORIA.—Congressman J. W. Wadsworth; Genesee; Col. L. T. Michener, Washington; ex-Gov. F. E. Pierce, Oregon.

HOFFMAN.—Judge A. Hamilton, Albany; J. B. Lyon, Albany.

FIFTH AVENUE.—J. G. Batterson, Hartford; ex-Secretary Henry G. Davis, West Virginia.

ASTOR.—Gen. D. S. Stanley, United States Army.

PARK AVENUE.—Capt. J. S. Wilkins, United States Army.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Field, Marshall & Co., Chicago, Ill.; C. L. Drain, cloaks; 104 Worth Street.

Hengerer, William, Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. Cooper, linens; 377 Broadway.

McCarthy, D., & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; J. McDonald, dress goods; D. McCarthy, dry goods; 43 Leonard Street.

Marks Brothers, Philadelphia, Penn.; E. Marks, silks; Hoffman House.

Steppacher, William, & Co., Philadelphia, Penn.; William Steppacher, piece goods; Hoffman House.

Gimbel Brothers, Philadelphia, Penn.; D. Gimbel, dry goods; 377 Broadway; Hoffman House.

Levi, J., Erie, Penn.; clothing; E. Levi, clothing; Hotel Imperial.

Broughton, H., & Co., Troy, N. Y.; H. Broughton, furs; Hotel Albert.

Freimuth, L., Duluth, Minn.; T. Griffith, carpets and upholstery goods, 24 West Fourth Street; Hotel Albert.

Macauley & Co., Detroit, Mich.; R. H. Macauley, millinery; Criterion Hotel.

Solomon, H., St. Louis, Mo.; clothing; Criterion Hotel.

White, R. H., Company, Boston, Mass.; A. L. Aldred, cloaks and suits, 480 Broome Street; Hotel Cadillac.

Orrick, C. J., Cumberland, Md.; dry goods; Hotel Vendome.

Smith, M. E., & Co., Omaha, Neb.; A. C. Smith, domestics; Murray Hill Hotel.

McConnell, J. C. & S. E., & Co., Gainesville, Ga.; J. C. McConnell, dry goods; St. Denis Hotel.

McConnell, J. C. & S. E., & Co., Atlanta, Ga.; S. E. McConnell, dry goods; St. Denis Hotel.

Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Reading, Penn.; J. F. Custer, toilet articles; 2 Walker Street; Hotel Albert.

Tower, H. C., Troy, N. Y.; M. J. Harris, cloaks; Continental Hotel.

Toplitz, R. L., & Co., San Francisco, Cal.; R. L. Toplitz, millinery; 621 Broadway; Herald Square Hotel.

Strouse Bros. & Co., Baltimore, Md.; I. Strouse, woolens; Hoffman House.

Hengerer, William, Co., Buffalo, N. Y.; C. B. Bechtold, domestics; 377 Broadway; Hotel Navarre.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The collier Justin, which rescued the sailors of the Yosemite during the Guam typhoon, has arrived at Cavite.

The cruiser Albany has sailed from Cavite for Subig.

The training ship Hartford has left Puerto Cabello for La Guayra.

The Potomac has left Port Royal with Coal Barge No. 2, bound for Cienfuegos, Cuba.

The torpedo boat Foote has left Wood's Hole for Boston.

The Leonidas has sailed from Lambert's Point for Washington.

The Monongahela, in tow of the tug Choctaw, has left New York for Newport.

The Buffalo has arrived at the Delaware Breakwater.

The Kearsarge and the Massachusetts will leave Hampton Roads Thursday for Pensacola.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

National League Team Wins West Side Championship—Other Games.

The final match for the bowling championship of the west side was rolled last night at Schlusing's Columbia alleys between picked teams representing the National and Columbia Bowling Leagues, respectively. The Columbia team, which was on its home alleys, won all three games, which made the result a tie on games, as the National team had won the three games in the first series last week. The decision was accordingly made on the total number of pins scored in the six games, which gave the victory to the National team by 71 pins. The National League will now bowl the Harlem League for the championship of Manhattan at some time and place yet to be chosen. The scores of last night's games follow:

NATIONAL BOWLING LEAGUE.

Name.	First Game. Pins.	S.	S.	Second Game. Pins.	S.	S.	Third Game. Pins.	S.	S.
Breen	194	4	7	195	4	6	180	2	7
Sherwood	196	2	8	157	3	4	193	3	7
Fisher	173	0	9	147	1	6	210	5	4
Voorhels	167	3	5	158	2	5	191	5	8
Starr	157	1	6	179	2	6	160	3	5
Total	887			836			934

COLUMBIA BOWLING LEAGUE.

Name.	First Game. Pins.	S.	S.	Second Game. Pins.	S.	S.	Third Game. Pins.	S.	S.
Clinch	203	4	5	183	4	4	209	4	6
Kessler	148	1	6	153	2	5	167	2	6
Dohn	176	1	8	172	5	2	231	7	2
Smith	159	3	3	178	2	7	172	2	3
Schaeffer	212	6	3	192	5	3	176	3	4
Total	898			879			955

Grand total.—National Bowling League—First series, 2,741; second series, 2,657. Total, 5,398.

Columbia Bowling League—First series, 2,685; second series, 2,732. Total, 5,827.

Our Council, Royal Arcanum, won two and lost one of their three matches with the Berkeley bowlers in the National League tournament on Starr's alleys last night. The scores:

BERKELEY B. C. Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	OUR COUNCIL, R. A. Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Dennis	133	212	165	Bulwinkle	177	132	203
Dawson	163	166	148	Schroeder	135	209	218
Tracy	195	172	216	Cantrell	133	170	179
Coghlan	173	178	179	Wilcken	198	212	196
Weingarth	177	167	178	Dent	172	244	196
Total	841	895	886	Total	819	966	977

The Liberty team won two of their three matches with the Morris Wheelmen in the North Side League tournament on Pump's North Side Palace Alleys last night. The scores:

MORRIS WHEELMEN. Name.	1st.	2d.	3d	LIBERTY B. C. Name.	1st.	2d.	3d
McDonald	181	186	145	Becher	196	156	184
Schwager	174	157	177	Criegen	136
O'Neill	161	133	125	Kline		187	133
Gibson	176	121	125	Wallace	158	161	123
Thompson	160	165	169	Colligan	167	143	136
				Mieche	180	170	178
Total	852	762	741	Total	827	817	759

The National Bank of the Republic was the only team of six to win two games in the Bank Clerks' League tournament on Reid's Church Street alleys last night. The American Exchange National, Mechanics and Traders', National Park, and Importers and Traders' teams broke even, and the Mount Morris Bank five lost two games. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—American Exchange National Bank—Jarvis, 182; Frazee, 185; Lee, 134; Ferdon, 153; Kennedy, 168. Total, 822.

Mechanics and Traders' National Bank—Spratt, 162; Larbig, 125; Waasman, 114; Holmes, 188; Miles, 164. Total, 753.

SECOND GAME.—Mechanics and Traders' National Bank—Spratt, 169; Larbig, 104; Hegner, 169; Holmes, 129; Miles, 153. Total, 724.

National Park Bank—Iseman, 179; Date, 116; Block, 133; Burke, 137; Wylie, 129. Total, 687.

THIRD GAME.—National Park Bank—Iseman, 150; Dale, 137; Block, 155; Burke, 116; Wylie, 141. Total, 699.

American Exchange National Bank—Jarvis, 148; Frazee, 132; Lee, 119; Ferdon, 139; Kennedy, 140. Total, 683.

FOURTH GAME.—Mount Morris Bank—Duffy, 110; Benedict, 118; Spalding, 155; Alexander, 132; Gross, 156. Total, 671.

Importers and Traders' National Bank—Gilmour, 125; Neill, 115; McKenna, 148; Smith, 126; Benn, 177. Total, 694.

FIFTH GAME.—National Bank of the Republic—Linz, 194; Burhennie, 157; Murphy, 149; Douglass, 158; Hartzel, 199. Total, 854.

Importers and Traders' National Bank—Gilmour, 168; Neill, 163; McKenna, 142; Smith, 151; Benn, 155. Total, 779.

SIXTH GAME.—Mount Morris Bank—Duffy, 130; Benedict, 127; Spalding, 137; Alexander, 160; McKenna, 177. Total, 731.

National Bank of the Republic—Linz, 158; Burhennie, 140; Murphy, 132; Douglass, 163; Hartzel, 167. Total, 760.

The Lotus bowlers won two games in the Harlem League tournament on Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace Alleys last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Central Park Bowling Club—Roll, 213; Glifillan, 128; Haight, 144; Luce, 182; Duff, 142. Total, 809.

Lotus Bowling Club—W. Gerdes, 164; Sieberg, 167; Modersohn, 185; Warmuth, 168; S. Gerdes, 209. Total, 912.

SECOND GAME.—Colonial Bowling Club—Bell, 160; Ruhe, 124; Schaefer, 167; Kilner, 154; Walters, 133. Total, 738.

Central Park Bowling Club—Roll, 151; Glifillan, 158; Haight, 187; Luce, 157; Duff, 161. Total, 824.

THIRD GAME.—Lotus Bowling Club—W. Gerdes, 201; Sieberg, 136; Modersohn, 193; Warmuth, 156; S. Gerdes, 171. Total, 887.

Colonial Bowling Club—Bell, 162; Ruhe, 133; Schaefer, 149; Kilner, 173; Walters, 190. Total, 807.

The Central team won two games in the American National tournament on the Germania alleys. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Spartan Bowling Club—Maier, 182; Kittler, 157; Westberg, 168; Schultz, 128; Lehrbach, 160. Total, 795.

Central Bowling Club—Carstens, 177; Kuehn, 148; Ward, 189; Wendsrer, 179; Kahlsdorf, 176. Total, 877.

SECOND GAME.—Glendale Bowling Club.—Laine, 203; C. Fuchs, 182; Klechling, 191; Groeling, 128; R. Fuchs, 197. Total, 899.

Spartan Bowling Club—Maier, 176; Kittler, 158; Westberg, 186; Schultz, 178; Lehrbach, 191. Total, 889.

THIRD GAME.—Central Bowling Club—Carstens, 147; Kuehn, 158; Ward, 157; Wenderer, 168; Kahlsdorf, 181. Total, 809.

Glendale Bowling Club—Laine, 192; C. Fuchs, 140; Klechling, 140; Groeling, 158; R. Fuchs, 176. Total, 806.

The Hamilton Trust Company team was short one man in the Brooklyn Bank Clerks' League tournament on Knubel's Fulton Street alleys last night. The score:

FIRST GAME.—Williamsburg Savings Bank—Conner, 192; Cantrell, 133; Hucke, 148; Lersner, 166; Van Tassel, 171. Total, 810.

Manufacturers' Trust Company. — Nooregard, 147; Paddock, 105; Noyes, 182; Whitlock, 166; Rier, 143. Total, 698.

SECOND GAME.—Manufacturers' Trust Company—Nooregard, 166; Paddock, 139; Noyes, 159; Whitlock, 170; Ryder, 131. Total, 765.

Hamilton Trust Company—Hoffmier, 99; Hecker, 123; McKenna, 158; Kennedy, 131. Total, 517.

THIRD GAME.—Hamilton Trust Company—Hoffmier, 125; Hecker, 120; McKenna, 128; Kennedy 108. Total, 481.

Williamsburg Savings Bank—Cantrell, 117; Hucke, 157; Lersner, 150; Van Tassel, 114; Conner, 178. Total, 716.

All three teams broke even in the tournament of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island on the Palace Alleys, Brooklyn, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Williamsburg Wheelmen—De Graff, 135; McPhee, 168; Hibson, 129; Bagley, 125; Schroeder, 137. Total, 714.

Macon Wheelmen—Brown, 164; Winnington, 158; Behrman, 116; Hempstead, 192; Hatton, 170. Total, 795.

SECOND GAME.—South Brooklyn Wheelmen—Hamilton, 114; Fallek, 134; Eno, 181; Stoutenburgh, 133; Henry, 118. Total, 695.

Williamsburg Wheelmen—De Graff, 167; McPhee, 128; Higson, 134; Bagley, 126; Schroeder, 169. Total, 724.

THIRD GAME.—Macon Wheelmen—Brown, 149; Winnington, 170; Behrman, 107; Hempstead, 155; Hatton, 171. Total, 752.

South Brooklyn Wheelmen—Hamilton, 141; Fallek, 128; Eno, 161; Stoutenburgh, 184; Henry, 192. Total, 756.

Fraternity Council won two games in the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum tournament last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Fraternity Council—Lee, 177; Field, 151; Ferguson, 167; Higgins, 183; Griffin, 168. Total, 846.

Adirondack Council—Hesser, 186; Haberstock, 143; Campbell, 156; Meyer, 163; Cuming, 149. Total, 797.

THIRD GAME.—Fraternity Council—

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Supreme Court of the United States:

514—Christian Huus, appellant, vs. New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company.—Motion to advance submitted by William Lindsay for the appellant.

540—John H. Goetze, appellant, vs. The United States, and 410—Fourteen diamond rings, (Emil J. Pepke, claimant,) plaintiff in error, vs. The United States.—Argument continued by Edward C. Perkins for the appellant, by Lawrence Harmon for the plaintiff in error and by Attorney General Griggs for the United States.

Call for Wednesday: 340, (and 449,) 94, 136, 137, 138, 139, 45, 142, 143, and 144.

Calendars for Wednesday, Dec. 19.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building.

General calendar.

35—3d Av. R. R. Co. vs. Barton.
48—In re Ablowich.
49—Barney Dumping B. Co. vs. the St. Louis.
55—U. S. vs. Legg.
57—Holmes, Booth & Haydens vs. McGill.
58—U. S. vs. Gabriel & Schall.
50—U. S. vs. McBratney.
60—Sams vs. Altman.
61—Durchman vs. Dun.
62—In re Stein.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J. Opens in Room 47, P. O. Building, at 11 A. M. Equity calendar.

84—Crocker vs. Oakes.
85—Lamson Con. Store Service Co. vs. Siegel-Cooper Co.
Issue of law in suits at law.
9—McCabe vs. Cruikshank.
6—Willard vs. Sun Printing & Pub. Association.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Townsend, J.—Opens in Room 43, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Customs appeals.

523—U. S. vs. W. J. Matheson Co.
30—Wildermann vs. Schoverling, Daly & Gales.
81—Russman, Gallard & Co. vs. same.
110—Neuss, Hesslein & Co. vs. U. S.
120—Train, Smith & Co. vs. U. S.
128—U. S. vs. R. F. Downing & Co.
131—U. S. vs. Topham & Co.
140—Douglass & Berry vs. U. S.
144—R. F. Downing & Co. vs. U. S.
146—Calhoun Robbins Co. vs. U. S.
158—Davies, Turner & Co. vs. U. S.
162—Gillespie Brothers vs. U. S.
165—Fisher vs. U. S.
168—U. S. vs. R. & G. Corset Co.
169—Vandergrift vs. U. S.
170—James McCreery & Co. vs. same.
177—U. S. vs. Lesser.
183—Klipstein vs. U. S.
186—Einstein, Wolff Co. vs. same.
191—Lamb & Grisback vs. same.
196—U. S. vs. Bruno & Sons.
199—Schnabel vs. U. S.
202—U. S. vs. Downing.
203—Same vs. Cohen.
204—Same vs. Wilmerding & Bisset.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 66, Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M. Bankruptcy proceedings. Motions.

In re Leo Gassner.
In re Henry Hofheimer.
In re Horace E. Biddell.
In re John L. Farwell.
In re Raphael Alzeman.
In re Albert J. J. Fermer.
In re P. & J. McMahon, (2.)
In re Durant, McLean & Co.
In re Elias Marks.
In re Stoerer & Diederichs.
In re A. Popkin.
In re Achille Del Fermo.
In re Joseph Goldstein.
In re J. W. Aspell & Co.
In re J. W. A. Brown & Co.
In re Schatzberg & Levittan.
In re Bernard H. Novick In bankruptcy.
2035—James West.
2477—J. F. Smith & Co.
3006—W. H. & M. S. Gilbert.
2556—MacFarland & Co.
3145—Bernard Edelman.
3194—J. F. Shera.
Discharges.
3054—Frank A. Spencer.
3011—Della Case.
2071—Toner vs. Prescott.
2058—Thomas J. Flanagan.
3071—Viola Glassel.
2716—Samuel H. Innerblum.
3082—Nathan Schuman.
3069—Adolph Haase.
2918—Lesser & Raphael.
3075—Thomas J. Hahn.
2505—Bennett Fertig.
3114—Jacob Blumenthal.
3046—Leo Sobel.
1853—Ann Rozinski.
3102—Wolf Cohen.
3120—Kathrine Schaffel.
2982—J. F. Reithling.
Schaefer & Herman.
2509—Adler & Herman.
2773—Charles Detsken.
3119—Julius Keller.
2417—Bernard Lande.
3054—Porter & Gilmour.
3106—James McCracken.
3091—S. & J. Roth
3051—Charles G. Hallidy.
Under objection.
2613—W. H. Budd.
3067—Jacob Hedderick.
2841—Sig. Rabinowitz.
Adjourned cases.
3050—Leo Gassner.
2739—Palma Bracca.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

West, appellant, vs. Bacon.—Motion for reargument denied, $10 costs.

Griffin vs. Carr, appellants, et al.; Keegan vs. Third Avenue Railroad Company, impleaded, appellants; Doual, appellant, vs. Lutgens; Ford, administratrix, appellant, vs. Ford; Darling, appellant, vs. Klock, Jr.; O'Flaherty vs. Nassau Electric Railroad Company, appellant.—Orders affirmed, with costs, in all.

To-day's calendar: 815, 821, 822, 1029, 803, 823, 824, 837.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court. Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Blanchard, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—Rengel vs. Bork.
2—Isenberger vs. U. S. Fidelity & Casualty Co.
3—Wilkens vs. Traphagen.
4—Brightson vs. H. B. Claflin Co.
5—In re Speyer.
6—Ostrom vs. Brown.
7—Stuchin vs. Levy.
8—Browning vs. Sire.
9—Murphy vs. Shropshire.
10—Nowak vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
11—Aiglon vs. same.
12—Broadley vs. same.
13—Lambert vs. same.
14—Schaefer vs. same.
15—Dunham vs. Kilpatrick.
16—Lytle vs. Crawford.
17—In re Papay.
18—McGrath vs. Emigrant Ind. Savings Bank.
19—Graves vs. Graves.
20—De Cesare vs. De Cesare.
21—In re Squire.
22—Brook vs. Scott.
23—Groh vs. Groh.
24—Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assn. vs. Patereon.
25—Sullivan vs. Bowlby.
26—Gray vs. Addison.
27—Naylor vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
28—Harlem Sav. Bank vs. Entwistle.
29—Sturges vs. Taylor.
30—In re North.
31—Katz vs. Berrick.
32—People, &c., vs. Canal St. Bank.
33—Nelson vs. Michaelis.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Divorces.

1996—Ettlinger vs. Ettlinger.
2202—Maurier vs. Maurier.
1594—Steinhauer vs. Steinhauer.
1980—Schneider vs. Schneider.
1986—Jorden vs. Jorden.
2234—Keresey vs. Keresey.
2003—Lebowitz vs. Lebowitz.
1977—Hill vs. Hill.
1994—Powers vs. Powers.
2000—Greenwood vs. Greenwood.
2030—Raffy vs. Raffy.
2238—Richter vs. Richter.
2239—Brewer vs. Brewer.
2240—Hoffman vs. Hoffman.
2241—Seegler vs. Seegler.
2242—Aldred vs. Aldred.
2243—Brown vs. Brown.
2244—McCoy vs. McCoy.
2245—Klyachko vs. Klyachko.
2246—Hansen vs. Hansen.
2247—Ward vs. Ward.
2248—Van Namee vs. Van Namee.
2249—Travers vs. Travers.
2250—Schaatzel vs. Schaetzel.
2274—Rabinowitch vs. Rabinowitch.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Day calendar. To be called in Part IV, Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be assigned to the several parts of Special Term for trial. Law and fact.

2062—Cowan vs. Walker.
1337—Kalish vs. Higgins
1857—Same vs. same.
1815—Plummer vs. Getchell.
2125—Smith vs. Sullivan.
1443—Wellbrock vs. Olten
1867—Lawlor vs. Bucklin.
1729—Schuss vs. Weisberger.
1789—Met. Imp. Co. vs. Housman.
1757—McIlvaine vs. McIlvaine

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2186.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Bischoff, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—Russell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Criminal Term—Fitzsimon, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre, Schwarzkopf, and Hooker for the People.

1—Walter Dunn.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—McAdam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Causes will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Part XII., for trial. Preferred causes. Calendar clear.

2146—Lyons vs. Studley.
2147—Same vs. same.
2145—McCann vs. same.
2149—Munson vs. same.
2150—Halstead vs. same.
2363—Leeson vs. City of New York.
2364—Same vs. same.
2322—Sherhoff vs. Silverbert.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Part III, Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts III., IV., and V., for trial.

Inquest, 2278—Roldan vs. Power.
2001—Turner vs. Schell.
2125—Jansen vs. Consol. Gas Co.
1252—Kaminski vs. Schaefer.
2083—Phillips vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2227—McCready vs. Lindenborn.
2316—McGrane vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1175—Fitzpatrick vs. same.
1323—Schoen vs. same.
1868—Miller vs. same.
8304—Karrigan vs. 9th Av. R. R. Co.
3074—Buchanan vs. Belsey.
913—Kiernan vs. Kiernan.
1141—Lee vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1236—Caponigri vs. same.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2406.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—O'Gorman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VII. Room, at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VII. and XI., for trial.

Inquest, 2320—Stellwagen vs. McCarthy.
1405—Collett vs. Mayor, &c.
1494—Barentzen vs. Pr. Pub. Co.
1027—Oppenheim vs. Erlanger.
1603—Sloane vs. McCauley.
2269—Ronaldo vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2306—Carman vs. Ullman.
2379—Watson vs. City of New York.
1514—Roth vs. Shearer.
8372—Kochmann vs. Baumeister.
8372—Schusterman vs. Schwartz.
1346—Lamble vs. Webb.
2328—Farley vs. City of New York.
2329—Foley vs. same.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Parts VI., VIII., IX., and X. Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XI.—Giegerich, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XII.—Stover, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from preferred calendar for trial. Case on.

SURROGATES' COURT—Chambers—Thomas, S.—Held in Surrogates' Chambers, ground floor of County Court House. Wills for probate at 10:30 A. M.

Charles H. Thompson, Mary A. Young, Sarah Filkington, Magdalena Ruckert, Patrick Marrin, Christina Robb,
Henry J. McAleenan, Louisa Chase, John Hammond, At 2 P. M. Anne Watson.

SURROGATES' COURT—Trial Term—Fitzgerald, S.—Held in Surrogates' Court, Trial Term, second floor in County Court House. Opens at 10:30 A. M.

1625—Contested will of Helen C. Brush.

CITY COURT—General Term—Adjourned sine die.

CITY COURT—Special Term—McCarthy, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Held in Brownstone Buildings, (Chambers Street.) Motions must be made returnable at 10:30 A. M. Defaults on motions will be taken at 11 A. M.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Hascall, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Case on.

1413—Miller vs. Smith.
3108—Kuhn vs. Starin.
1284—German vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1000—Gottschalk vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2898½—McGuire vs. McKee.
1397—Niehaus vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1632—Suffin vs. Block.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—Fitzsimons, C. J.—Held in General Term Room, second floor, Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

3328—Erlander vs. Union Ry.
3419½—Ludecke vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2606—Thompson vs. Bauman.
2007—Same vs. same.
1981—John Kress Brew. Co. vs. Spinner.
1699—Benedict vs. Ellsworth.
2000—Schoonmaker vs. Larner.
450—Lamb vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1899—Rubin vs. Hamburg-Am. Packet Co.
1429—Ponzio vs. Union Ry. Co.
1361—Harntschferger vs. Naughton.
1908—Cohen vs. Hertzberg.
2051—Peckham vs. Patterson.
2032—Enright vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2033—Stern vs. Gordon.
2054—Kopf vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Schuchman, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

1879—Gorrill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1856—Schleicher vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1949—Martin vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1954—Shea vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1956—Levine vs. same.
1510—Lewkowitz vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1457—Krulich vs. Metaler
1960—McFadden vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1513—Springer vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2020—Lambotte vs. Herts
2034—Rix vs. Fritz.
1941—Woods vs. Noble.
1957—Ellerdyce vs. Rector, Churchwardens, &c.
1597—Blumers vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1722—Elsas vs. Bloch.
1673—Reilly vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1139—Holtz vs. Barnett.
1523—Becker vs. Bullowa
1019—Allen vs. Baldwin.
1739—Reynolds vs. People's Telephone Co.
2038—Serel vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2039—Adler vs. Man. Ry. Co.
2010—Schenker vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2040½—Adams vs. Argyro.
2041—Herkowitz vs. Goldstein.
2044—Jones vs. Hartje.
2045—Miller vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2018—Query vs. Leventritt.
2049—Strauss vs. Murray
2050—Sassney vs. Dixon.

CITY COURT—Trial Term Part IV.—Conlan, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. All cases must be tried when reached. Calendar clear. Short causes.

3492—E. P. Gleason Mfg. Co. vs. Sire.
3547—Miller vs. Ernst Marx-Nathan Co.
3577—Pollack vs. Ginsberg.
3579—Carl vs. Ringler.
3622—Levenson vs. Mooney.

Highest number reached in regular call, 2064.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part I.—Foster, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Walsh, Skidmore, Townsend, and Gray for the People. Motions must be noticed for 10:30 A. M. All motions and ex parte matters will be disposed of prior to 11 A. M. The calendar for the day will be called at 11 A. M.

1—Annie Brown.
2—Benjamin Berger, Jacob Robertson, Samuel Lichenstein.
3—George Bradley.
4—William B. Johnson.
5—Benjamin Franklin.
6—Ella Claiborne.
7—John Graham.
8—Albert C. Albertson.
9—Straus, Fleisher & Co.
1—Frank Merelin, Joseph Morello.
2—Samuel Beatty.
3—John Kenny.
4—Patrick Sullivan.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part II.—Goff, R.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Deputy Attorney Generals Hedges and Hammond for the People.

1—Mary A. Thompson.
2—Byrde G. Herrick.
3—Frank Cardona.
4—Joseph Williams.
5—John Marron.
6—John Bannon.
7—William Ticker.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part III.—Newburger, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Gordon, Herriman, and Carr for the People.

1—Francesco Eva.
2—Florence Perkins.
3—James Whalen.
4—John De Gross.
5—Salvatore Pama.
6—Thomas Quinn.
7—Samuel Schwartz, Louis Schwartz.
8—David B. Schoor.
9—Bertha Violand.
10—John O'Brien, Charles McDonald.
11—Harry L. Brindle.
12—Heneonn.
13—Henry F. Hardy, Arthur Brooks.
14—Charles Lopez.
15—Charles Becker.
16—William Sheebeck.
17—William Anderson, Arthur Snyder.
18 George Price.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part IV.—McMahon, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Blake, Blumenthal, and McCann for the People.

1—Michael Verbound.
2—John Chamberlain.
3—James Cunningham.
4—Henry Wilson.
5—Samuel W. Carr, Jr.
6—Harry Williams.
7—Oscar L. Isly.
8—Joseph Rheimstrom.
9—Charles Dwyer.
10—James Marshall.
11—Emile Fisconia, Joseph Peretti.
12—William J. Casey.
13—Emma McCarthy, Thomas McCarthy.

Receivers Appointed—New York.

SUPREME COURT — Leventritt, J. — In re Wright, Duryee & Barwise—George H. E. Mitchell.

CITY COURT—McCarthy, J.—Jacob Jacoby vs. Louis Grauer—James J. Martin. H. S. Horton & Co. vs. Bernard Kahn—Charles W. Ridgway.

Referees Appointed—New York.

SUPREME COURT—Leventritt, J.—Burke vs. Brogan—Julius H. Cohn. In re Cruger—William B. Putney. In re Delaney—M. Warley Platzek. Crane vs Crane—Thomas Allison. In re Price, McCormick & Co.—Arthur H. Masten. In re Wright, Duryee & Barwise—George Holmes. Marsh vs. Hopkins—Samuel H. Ordway.

SUPREME COURT—Fitzgerald, J.—Kunzenmann vs. Kunzenmann—Elbert Crandall.

SUPREME COURT—Blanchard, J.—Solan vs. Leslie—Arthur Falk. Kottek vs. Salomon—Horace Seger, J. Marshall vs. Schnugg (2 cases)—Samuel S. Slater.

SUPREME COURT—Lawrence, J.—Nearing vs. Backus—John H. Judge, Huber vs. Streifler—Franklin Bien.

Brooklyn Court Calendars.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division, Second Department.—Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Kings County—Trial Term—Day Calendar—Part I., Osynor, J.; Part II., Smith, J.; Part III., Herrick, J.; Part IV., Dickey, J.; Part V., Houghton, J.

8990—Hoffman vs. Met. St. R. R.
8990—Phillips vs. Triples.
4037—Yaniga vs. Met. St. R. R.
4040—Hood vs. Schaefer.
4040—Lauterbach vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4053—Leavitt vs. Thompson.
4057—Knoblach vs. Brook. Heights R.R.
4058—Ketcham vs. Owens.
4067—Ketcham vs. Owens.
4059—Cipriano vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4060—Ridgway vs. same.
4061—Taylor vs. same.
4064—Finnin vs. same.
4062—Finamore vs. same
4071—Gardner vs. same.
4078—Crisci vs. Union Ry.
4080—Monahan vs. B. H. R. R.
4082—Lyons vs. same.
4083, 4085—Amato vs. same.
4084—McGovern vs. same.
4087—Aaronson vs. Garlin.
4088—Daverin vs. B. H. R. R.
4090—Wicke vs. same.
8293—Freestone vs. 3d Av. R. R.
8389—McGoldrick vs. Caulfield.
4078—Murtha vs. B. H. R. R.
8380—Sweeney vs. B. H. R. R.
8318—Fulford vs. Blake.
8361—Van Houten vs. B. H. R. R.
8161—Brunswitz vs. same.
1460—Greer vs. Quinn.
3800—Matulewics vs. B. H. R. R.
4902—Bogin vs. same.
2856—Johnston vs. Harrison.
4100—Cropsey vs. Sutherland.
4104, 4105—McNamee vs. Eastern Brewery.
4107, 4109—Bassett vs. Brighton Heights R. R.
4109—Perks vs. same.
4110—Green vs. same.
4113, 4114—Laing vs. same.
4116—Mullady vs. same.
4120—Jordan vs. same.
4121—Goodstein vs. Brook. R. T. Co.

The following causes if marked ready will be passed for the day. Causes will not be set down for days upon the call:

4122—Roverto vs. Union Ry.
4124—Flynn vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4126—Cohen vs. same.
4127—Ryan vs. same.
4128—Barry vs. same.
4129—Ward vs. same.
4137—Rooney vs. Berg.
4138—Janower vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R.
4139—Schaefer vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
4147—Brown vs. same.
4148—London vs. Met. St. R. R.
4150—Never vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
4151—Woolsey vs. same.
4152—Ziebarth vs. Mc Avoy.
4154—Hamilton vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
4155—Maurin vs. Wing.
4159—Fleet vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
4161—Albrecht vs. same.
4163—Martin vs. same.
4168—Corry vs. same.
4170—O'Loughlin vs. Bolen & Byrne Mfg. Co.
2680—Gormley vs. Scott.
3736—Meyer vs. Helmken.
4171—Trunk vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4172—Burns vs. same.
4174—Sperling vs. Eldridge.
4175—Shortman vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4176—Dowling vs. same.
4178—Saltzman vs. Steinberg.
4179—Williams vs. same.
4180—Butler vs. Brook. Heights R. R.
4181—Smith vs. same.
4182—Schaeffer vs. same.
4183—Hill vs. same.
4187—Mitchell vs. Met. St. R. R.

Highest number reached on regular call, 4243.

SUPREME COURT—Kings County—Special Term—For Trials. Marean, J. Day calendar. 38—Rempel vs. Hogan.
879—Burns vs. Christ Young, &c., Church.

SUPREME COURT—Kings County—Special Term. For motions.—Maddox, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M. Motion calendar called at 10:30 A. M.

COUNTY COURT—Kings County—Part I., Aspinall, J. Court opens at 10 A. M.

People vs. Watson.
Same vs. Gennell.
Same vs. Dangnese.
Same vs. Barrett.
Same vs. Fulde.
Same vs. Sullivan.
Same vs. Barrett.

COUNTY COURT—Kings County—Part II.—Hurd, J. Case on.

The People vs. Daniel Doody.

SURROGATE'S COURT—Abbott, S.—Day calendar. Court opens at 10 A. M.

The wills of John Bringeman and Caspar A. Denker.

The accounting in the estates of George L. Thomas, Rachel Oakes, Hannah Ann Corwin, Kunnigunda Stucke, Fredericka Modinger, (No. 1,) Fredericka Modinger, (No. 2,) Eliza Ford (or Shea,) Dennis F. Dunne, Anna Frederick, James H. Remsen, Catharine Van Tuyl, Gustav Berge, Albert Tilotson, James Dolan, Alida M. Lewis, Hannah A. Herman, Betty Astic, and Jacob Dnlls.

The estates of Charles Fernald, Robert Murrell, Henry Webel, John Bellmer, and Bertha A. Blank.

The administration in the estate of Michael F. Wall.

The transfer tax of Hannah Pope and Frederick A. Stevens.

Contested calendar at 10:30.—72—Revocation of probate of Horatio D. Mould. 44—Will of Jacob Duran.

Referees Appointed—Kings County.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Maddox, J.—Durland vs. Esmond et al.—Henry M. Post. Matter of Hlavac—Charles S. Warbasse. Murtagh vs. Murtagh et al.—Alfred E. Mudge. Millinery Building and Loan Association vs. Haywood et al.—John H. Durack.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Smith, J.—Allweyer vs. Rossin—Benjamin F. Blair.

Queens County Court Calendar.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Garretson, J.—Court opens and calendar called at 10 A. M.

703—Tillinghast vs. Queens Co. Ry. Co.
485—Susselman vs. Met. St. R. R. Co.
488—Shaw vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
493—Hubbie vs. Met. St. R. R. Co.
505—Yeager vs. N. Y. & North Shore R. R.
675—Griel vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
676—Naplis vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
677—Lambke vs. B'klyn Heights R. R.
368—Slevitzky vs. Strasser
338—Harkins vs. Bittner.
691—Foster et al. vs. Foster et al.
487—Askey vs. Bradley & Currier Co.
758—Bensinger vs. N. Y. & Queens Co. R. R.

Highest number reached on regular call, 705.

Legal Notices.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the voluntary dissolution of the JOHN STEPHENSON COMPANY, Limited.

All creditors of the John Stephenson Company, Limited, and all persons holding open or subsisting contracts of said corporation are hereby notified that pursuant to Section 74 of Title 4, Chapter 8, Part III., of the Revised Statutes of the State of New York, a general meeting of the creditors of such corporation will be held at the office of Sullivan & Cromwell, attorneys for the receivers, at 45 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on the 21st day of February, 1900, at one o'clock P. M., at which meeting all accounts and demands for and against said corporation, and all its open and subsisting contracts will be ascertained and adjusted as far as may be, and the amount of money in the hands of the receivers declared.—Dated New York City, Dec. 17, 1900.

ALBERT A. WILCOX,
LOUIS STERN,
Receivers of the John Stephenson Company, Limited.
SULLIVAN & CROMWELL, Attorneys for Receivers, 45 Wall Street, New York City, N. Y.

Public Notices.

PUBLIC NOTICE.—At a general meeting of the stockholders of the ELLERY HOWARD COMPANY held October 26, 1900, on due notice, the following resolution was passed, more than a majority of the capital stock being represented and voting in favor of the said resolution. That resolution is as follows:

RESOLVED, That the Ellery Howard Company discontinue its business as a corporation and surrender to the State of West Virginia its charter and corporate existence and be dissolved."

WM. P. ELLERY, President.

Surrogate Notices.

BOWNE, WILLIAM R.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WILLIAM R. BOWNE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of William H. Willits, his attorney, at No. 29 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 10th day of June next.—Dated New York, the 4th day of December, 1900. WASHINGTON M. HADDOCK, Executor. WM. H. WILLITS, Attorney for Executor, No. 29 Wall St., Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

d5-1aw6mW.

BRADY, HENRIETTA E.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Mary Ryan, 619 George Street, Baltimore, Md.; James H. Ryan, 560 W. Preston Street, Baltimore, Md.; Thomas Ryan, William Ryan, same address as above; Emily Johnson, 67 Spruce Street, Newport, R. I.; Adelaide Butler, 646 Pierce Street, Baltimore, Md., and Edward Moran, Belleville, N. J., send greeting: You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrobate of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' Court of said county, held at the County Court House in the County of New York, on the 29th day of January, 1901, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why Georgiana Hawkins, administratrix with the will annexed of HENRIETTA E. BRADY, deceased, executrix and residuary legatee under the last will and testament of James Ryan, or Rines, should not be appointed administratrix with the will annexed upon the estate of the said James Ryan, or Rines, deceased, upon her giving a satisfactory bond therefer according to law, and such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto [L. S.] affixed. Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 11th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

d19-1aw6wW

LOCKE, CHARLES S.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrgoate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against CHARLES S. LOCKE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Augustus H. Skillin, No. 34 Pine Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 20th day of June next.—Dated New York, the 18th day of December, 1900. CORNELIA M. LOCKE, Administratrix. AUGUSTUS H. SKILLIN, Attorney for Administratrix, No. 34 Pine Street, New York, N. Y. d19-1aw6mW

Referees' Notices.

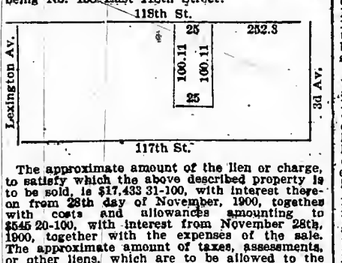
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—THE IRVING SAVINGS INSTITUTION, plaintiff, against JULIUS A. ROBINSON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 7th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 7th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Philip A. Smyth, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, in the centre of a party wall, distant two hundred and fifty-two (252) feet three (3) inches westerly from the southwesterly corner of One Hundred and Eighteenth Street and Third Avenue; and running thence southerly, and parallel with Third Avenue and part of the way through the centre of a party wall, one hundred (100) feet eleven (11) inches; thence westerly, and parallel with One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, twenty-five (25) feet; thence northerly, parallel with Third Avenue and part of the way through a party wall, one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches to the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighteenth Street; and thence easterly along said southerly side of One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, twenty-five (25) feet to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, December 10th, 1900. LEWIS L. DELAFIELD, Referee.

M. M. FRIEND, Attorney for Plaintiffs, No. 11 Pine Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold as described above, the street number being No. 153 East 118th Street:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold, is $47,433 31-100, with interest thereon from 28th day of November, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $545 20-100, with interest from November 28th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens, which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $2,136 and interest.—Dated New York, December 10th, 1900.

LEWIS L. DELAFIELD, Referee.

d15-2aw3w&s&7

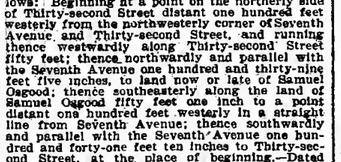
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES, plaintiff, against ROBERT McNEILL and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 3d day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 27th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situated in the Twentieth Ward of the City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Thirty-second Street distant one hundred feet easterly from the northeasterly corner of Seventh Avenue and Thirty-second Street, and running thence westwardly along Thirty-second Street fifty feet; thence northwardly and parallel with the Seventh Avenue one hundred and thirty-nine feet five inches, to land now or late of Samuel Osgood; thence southeasterly along the land of Samuel Osgood fifty feet one inch to a point distant one hundred feet westerly in a straight line from Seventh Avenue; thence southwardly and parallel with the Seventh Avenue one hundred and forty-one feet ten inches to Thirty-second Street, at the place of beginning.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS VAN WYCK, Referee.

ALEXANDER & COLBY, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.



324 Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $40,875, with interest thereon from 1st day of December, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $377.44, with interest from December 2d, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $1,600.83 and interest.—Dated New York, December 4, 1900.

AUGUSTUS VAN WYCK, Referee.

d5-2aw3wW&Sa&d27

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—GEORGIANNA L. COOK, plaintiff, against JENNY A. CORNWELL and others, defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment of partition and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 27th day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 20th day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being on the northerly side of Grand Street, between Suffolk and Norfolk Streets, in the 13th (formerly 10th) Ward of the City of New York, (now Borough of Manhattan, in said city,) bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Grand Street fifty feet west from the corner of Suffolk Street; thence running northerly on a line parallel with said Suffolk Street one hundred feet; thence westerly by the side of a lot fronting on Suffolk Street twenty-five feet; thence southerly to Grand Street one hundred feet; thence easterly along said Grand Street, in front, twenty-five feet to the place of beginning, said lot containing in width on front and rear each twenty-five feet, in length on each side one hundred feet, be the dimensions more or less, said premises being now known as Number 384 Grand Street.

Dated New York, November 27th, 1900.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

HENRY B. WESSELMAN,

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Phenix National Bank
92 Wall Street.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $1,800,000.00.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Investment Offerings.
New York, Lackawanna & Western R. R. Terminal Improvement Mortgage 4% Bond, Guaranteed by endorsement by Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R. R. Co.
Price to Yield About 3.70%.
Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company First Mortgage 5% Gold Bond. Company controls entire electric lighting industry in City of Cleveland, Ohio. Interest charges earned nearly three times over. Earnings have shown steady increase each year since operations were begun.
Price to Yield About 4.40%.
COMPLETE LIST OF OFFERINGS MAY BE HAD UPON APPLICATION.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St., NEW YORK,
BUY AND SELL
Investment Securities.
Receive accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals on favorable terms.
Make loans against approved collateral.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS.
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and Remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission.
DEAL IN
High-Grade Investment Securities.
Lists of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS.
GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

New York Telephone, 3700 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street. New York. 208 Montague St Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

EXCELLENT SERVICE.
DIRECT PRIVATE WIRES.
CURRIER & BUNKER { New York and Boston.
Bankers and Brokers,
MEMBERS { New York Cons. Stock Exchange. New York Produce Exchange.
NO. 52 BROADWAY, N. Y.
103 STATE ST., BOSTON.
BRANCH OFFICES: 121 Park Row, N. Y. 105 Summer St., Boston.
10 Shares and Upward. Commission 1-16.

LEWIS A. MAY & CO.,
Members { N. Y. Consolidated Stock Exchange. N. Y. Produce Exchange.
31 & 33 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Branch Office, Cor. 28th St. & Broadway
Connected by private wires.
MARGINS 3 TO 5 PER CENT. COMMISSION 1-16.
DAILY MARKET LETTERS and our new illustrated book, "WALL STREET," sent free.

Established 1868. Tel. call, 2385 Cortlandt.
FRED. H. SMITH,
STOCK BROKER, 8 BROAD ST., N. Y.
Member New York Con. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds and Grain.
Bought, sold, and carried on margin.
COMMISSION 1-16TH.
Bank of Railway Statistics upon application.

FINANCIAL.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.
At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 21st day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.
Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.
WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

AN HONEST INVESTMENT,
sure to yield large returns the coming year. The company owns 17 gold mines of proved value. One mine shows 14 feet of pay ore yielding $13 gold per ton by mill test. Another mine shows 5½ feet of ore of an average assay value of $48 gold per ton; other veins show pay ore. Water power fully developed and connected with mill. All buildings completed; portion of machinery on ground. The Company offers 100,000 Treasury Shares at 25 cents per par value $1.00, to add additional machinery, and construct tramway from mines to mill. These shares have a great future. Write for particulars.
COLE SAUNDERS, Prest.
2 Wall St., N. Y.

OIL—INVEST IN OIL—Greatest opportunity to make a great amount of money from small investment in Oil since the days of Pennsylvania Oil excitement. We have 1,000 acres of Oil lands near the great 7,000 barrel gushers in the wonderful Sand Fork Oil Fields in Lewis County, W. Va. Portion of our stock offered at 5 cents on the dollar. Money to be used in drilling wells. Property all paid for. Stock full paid and non-assessable. For further particulars address—
SAND FORK OIL & GAS CO.,
Peabody Building, Wheeling, W. Va.

Haskins & Sells,
Certified Public Accountants,
NO. 30 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Unlisted Securities a Specialty
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St
WE LOAN MONEY TO PEOPLE IN ANY kind of business; also on salaries. 150 Nassau St. Office 729.

FINANCIAL. | FINANCIAL.

$75,000
United New Jersey Railroads & Canal Co.,
General (1st) Mortgage 4% Gold Bonds.
PRINCIPAL DUE 1944.
COUPONS MARCH 1ST AND SEPTEMBER 1ST.
Principal and Interest Guaranteed by
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,
Which guarantees also 10% upon the stock of the Co. for 999 years.
Price 121 and accrued interest.
YIELDING ABOUT 3.15%.

$150,000
Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Co.
General (1st) Mortgage 3½% Gold Bonds,
PRINCIPAL DUE 1948.
COUPONS MAY 1ST AND NOVEMBER 1ST.
Principal and Interest Guaranteed by
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,
Which guarantees also 7% upon the stock of the Co. for 999 years.
Price 106½ and accrued interest.
YIELDING ABOUT 3¼%.

$250,000
Erie & Pittsburg Railroad Co.
General (1st) Mortgage 3½% Gold Bonds.
PRINCIPAL DUE 1940.
COUPONS JANUARY 1ST AND JULY 1ST.
Principal and Interest Guaranteed by
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,
Which guarantees also 7% upon the stock of the Co. for 999 years.
Price 104½ and accrued interest.
YIELDING ABOUT 3.30%.
FOR SALE BY
Goldman, Sachs & Co.,
BANKERS,
31 Nassau St., New York.

$5,669,000.
United New Jersey Railroad & Canal Company
General (now First) Mortgage 3½ Per Cent. Gold Bonds
PRINCIPAL PAYABLE MARCH 1st, 1951.
Interest Payable Semi-annually on March 1st and September 1st, in New York.
PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST GUARANTEED BY THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY

The undersigned offer the above Bonds for Subscription at 109½%, payable as follows:

9½ % or $ 95 per Bond on allotment.
100 % or $1,000 per Bond on March 1, 1901.
109½ % or $1,095 per Bond of $1,000.

Definitive Bonds bearing interest from March 1, 1901, will be delivered on that date. Payment in full may be made in purchaser's option, on allotment, under discount at the rate of 3½% per annum, against delivery of Interim Certificates to be issued by the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Philadelphia.
Default of payment of the instalment, due March 1, 1901, will render the previous payment liable to forfeiture.
The above bonds are to be issued to take up the same amount of 6% bonds maturing on March 1, 1901, and form part of a total issue limited to $20,000,000, which are secured by a first mortgage on the entire properties of the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company.
The entire property of the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company was leased in 1871 to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for 999 years, the latter guaranteeing 10% annual dividends on the entire Capital Stock of over $20,000,000.
For the year ending December 31, 1899, the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company earned a large surplus over the guaranteed dividends.
The bonds are of $1,000 each, and to bearer; but can be fully registered in the option of the holder.
The Subscription will be opened on Friday morning, December 21st, and may be closed without notice at any time thereafter, the right being reserved to reject any applications, and to award a smaller amount than applied for.

SPEYER & CO.,
30 BROAD STREET.
New York, December 19th, 1900.

MORTON TRUST COMPANY,
38 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, $2,000,000
Surplus & Undivided Profits, $3,000,000
OFFICERS:
LEVI P. MORTON, President
THOMAS F. RYAN, Vice-President
JAMES K. CORBIERE, 2d Vice-Prest
H.M. FRANCIS, Secretary
W. REDMOND CROSS, Treasurer
EUGENE E. VARET, Asst. Secretary
H. B. BERRY, Trust Officer
DIRECTORS:
John Jacob Astor, Joseph Larocque,
George F. Baker, D. O. Mills,
Edward J. Berwind, Levi P. Morton,
Frederic Cromwell, Richard A. McCurdy,
James B. Duke, W. G. Oakman,
Henry M. Flagler, George Foster Peabody,
G. G. Haven, Samuel Rea,
Joseph C. Hendrix, Elihu Root,
Abram S. Hewitt, Thomas F. Ryan,
James N. Jarvie, Jacob H. Schiff,
Walter S. Johnston, John Sloane,
A. D. Juilliard, William C. Whitney.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
LEVI P. MORTON,
THOMAS F. RYAN,
EDWARD J. BERWIND,
G. G. HAVEN,
JOSEPH C. HENDRIX,
JAMES N. JARVIE,
GEORGE FOSTER PEABODY,
JACOB H. SCHIFF,
WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
CAPITAL SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS $900,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows Interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Registrar, &c.
HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. Cammann, V-Pres. H. W. Reighley, Sec.

LOST.
Dec. 17, 1900.
The following certificates of
AMERICAN TIN PLATE COMPANY
COMMON STOCK:
No. M1140 for 50 shares in name of Johnson I. Rubins.
No. M1342 for 10 shares in name of John Heath.
No. M1881 for 30 shares in name of DeCoppet & Doremus.
No. M1768 for 10 shares in name of Orvis Bros. & Co.
Please notify E. & C. RANDOLPH,
7 Nassau Street,
All parties are cautioned against buying or negotiating same.

REDEMPTION NOTICE No. 9
GEORGIA PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
EQUIPMENT MORTGAGE BONDS, DATED JULY 17, 1889.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that fifty-three (53) of the Equipment Mortgage Bonds of the Georgia Pacific Railway Company were this day drawn for the Sinking Fund, in accordance with the requirements of Article Three of the Trust Mortgage, numbered as follows, viz.:

53	257	317	517	653	800	879
95	260	328	524	685	826	885
113	264	332	535	700	827	893
114	265	353	542	711	829	910
140	268	394	600	760	830	940
168	275	405	632	788	860	984
179	291	426	644	797	870	969
218	311	512	646

All future interest on any of the bonds so designated ceases with the coupons due February 1st, 1901, in accordance with the terms of the mortgage.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
By E. P. Hyde, Second Vice President.
New York, November 7th, 1900.
We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the fifty-three bonds were designated by lot in our presence as above stated.
FRED. C. RANDALL,
With Central Trust Company of New York.
R. D. LANKFORD,
Of Georgia Pacific Railway Company.
FRANK B. SMIDT,
Notary Public, N. Y. Co.
In accordance with the foregoing certificate, said mentioned bonds and coupons maturing February 1st, 1901, attached thereto, will be paid at this office on or after the 1st day of February, 1901, at par.
Central Trust Company of New York, Trustee.
By E. F. Hyde, Second Vice-President.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows Interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT. T. STALLKNECHT, 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS. ERNEST EHRMANN, Secretary.
Treasurer.
DIRECTORS:
Frederic P. Olcott, Augustus D. Juilliard,
James Stillman, Henry O. Havemeyer,
Anthony N. Brady, William A. Nash,
Alwyn Ball, Jr., James N. Jarvie,
John D. Crimmins, James H. Post,
Michael Coleman, Frederick Southack,
Ernest Ehrmann, Hugh J. Grant
Henry Morgenthau.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A PLAN of Reorganization of the Hampton Roads Hotel Company has been prepared by the Reorganization Committee, and filed with the Knickerbocker Trust Company, 66 Broadway, N. Y.
H. M. DE LANOIE,
Secretary of the Committee.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19th, 1900,
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
(By order of Executors.)
$2,000 Mich. Cent. R. R. (Det. & Bay City Div.) 1st 5 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1931.
$2,000 Cinn., Indapls., St. L. & Chi. Ry. gen. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1836.
$5,000 Del. & Hudson Canal Co. (Penn. Div.) 1st 7 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1917.
$2,000 N. Y., Prov. & Boston R. R. gen. 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1942.
$2,000 Rome, Wat. & Ogdensburg 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1922.
$1,000 N. Y., Chic. & St. Louis R. R. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1937.
$1,000 Chic., St. L. & Pittsburg R. R. consld. 5 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1932.
$1,000 Chic., Mil. & St. Paul R. R. (Chic. & Pac. West. Div.) 1st 5 p. c. Bd., 1921.
$5,000 Chic. R. I. & Pac. Ry. 1st 6 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1917.
$2,000 Chic., St. L. & New Orleans R. R. consld. 5 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1951.
$1,000 West Shore R. R. 1st 4 p. c. Reg. Bds., 2361.
$2,000 Morris & Essex R. R. consld. 7 p. c. Reg. Bds., 1915.
$3,000 Sand., Mane. & Newark R. R. 1st 7 p. c. Bds., 1909, (Unipn Trust Co. certf. of dep.)
100 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
529 shs. International Express Co.
$5,000 Iowa & Illinois Coal Co. Bds. (Atlantic Trust Co. certf. of deposit,) and $300 Funded Coupon Bond, A 22.
1 membership Shelter Island Golf Club.
50 shs. Southern National Bank, ex-div. of 90 p. c.
6 shs. Bank of the State of New York.
30 shs. National Bank of North America.
4 shs. Bank of New York.
5 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
3 shs. Avon, Geneseo & Mt. Morris R. R. Co. guar. stock.
$1,000 Calvary Cemetery, Greenpoint & B'klyn R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bd., 1907.
(For account of whom it may concern.)
5 shs. Union Trust Co.
500 shs. Shelby Iron Co.
10 shs. Hamilton Bank.
10 shs. Brearley School, "Limited."
34 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
15 shs. City Trust Co.
5 shs. National Park Bank.
50 shs. Mt. Morris Bank.
$3,000 City of Galveston 5 p. c. bonds.
$1,000 American Lithographic Co., 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1921.
$1,000 Lehigh & N. Y. R. R. Co. 1st 4 p. c. Bds., 1945 (hypd.)
$2,000 Rochester Gas & Electric Co., consld. 5 p. c. Bds., 1912 (hypd.)
$5,000 Ohio Mining & Manfg. Co. 5 p. c. non-cum. income Bds., 1949.
500 shs. Economic Postage Association.
142 shs. Erie & Pittsburg R. R. 7 p. c. guar.
$22,000 Mutual Fuel Gas (of Chic.) 1st 5 p. c. gold Bds., guar., 1947.
10 shs. Market and Fulton National Bank.
20 shs. Union Trust Co.
8 shs. Leather Manfrs.' National Bank.
7 shs. Fourth National Bank.
1 sh. Bank of New York.
10 shs. Germania Bank.
12 shs. Holland Trust Co.
$5,000 Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin 8 p. c. skg. fund gold deb. Bds., 1905.
$2,000 City of Milwaukee, Wis., 5 p. c. Bds., July, 1901.
40 shs. Publishers' Plate-Renting Co.
34 shs. Ninth National Bank.
10 shs. Bank of the Metropolis.
$5,000 Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Co. 5 p. c. (Cfs. of Dep.)
100 shs. United Lighting & Heating common.
50 shs. Hamilton Trust Co.
25 shs. Kings County Trust Co.
10 shs. Bank of Commerce.
10 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
$7,000 Fort Wayne Gas Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds.
$5,000 Logansport & Wabash Valley Genl. 1st 6 p. c. Bds.
$1,000 Low., New Albany & Chic. Ry. (Chic. & Ind. Div.) 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1911.
$2,000 N. Y., Lake Erie & Western Coal & R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., Guar., 1922.
17 shs. Morris & Essex R. R. Co.
20 shs. Kansas City, St. Louis & Chic. R. R. pfd. Guar.
$5,000 Panama R. R. Skg. Fd. Subsidy 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
Letters Patent of the Gould Equipment Company as follows, viz.: FRENCH, 212,023, March 26th, 1891; 241,790, 241,791, 241,792, 241,793, 241,794, Oct. 2, 1894; BELGIUM, 94,079, March 31st, 1891; 112,068, 112,069, 112,070, 112,071, 112,072, Oct. 2d, 1894; SPANISH, 2,368 and 11,870, April 30th, 1891; AUSTRIAN, 12,328, August 6th, 1891, Vol. 41, Fol. 2,172; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,188, Dec. 1, 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,203, Dec. 1, 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,222, Dec. 4, 1894; Vol. 44, Fol. 6,672, Dec. 31, 1894; Vol. 45, Fol. 440, Feby. 5, 1895; GERMAN, 58,876, Sept. 18th, 1891; ENGLISH, 17,681, Sept. 17, 1894; 9,286, 9,287, 9,288, 9,289, May 10, 1894.
33 shs. Chatham Natl. Bank.
$14,000 Pennsylvania Central Brewing Co. 6 p. c. Bds., dated Oct. 1, 1897.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 19TH, 1900.
At 12:30 O'CLOCK, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW R'WAY CO.
41,900 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. Pref.
26,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common.
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 shs. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co.
$300,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., March, 1936. Coups. on.
$1,500,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bds.
THE SALE OF THE ABOVE SECURITIES WILL BE ADJOURNED TO WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9TH, 1901, AT SAME TIME AND PLACE.

REDEMPTION
OF
First Mortgage Bonds of the
Equitable Illuminating Gas Light Company of Philadelphia.
Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage of the EQUITABLE ILLUMINATING GAS LIGHT COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA, dated February 1, 1898, One Hundred and Thirty-four (134) Bonds were this day drawn in accordance with the requirements of Article Third of the Mortgage:

40	1007	1484	2468	3685	5375	6615
94	1017	1584	2481	3735	5414	6625
95	1021	1657	2594	3862	5444	6685
102	1060	1700	2615	3901	5456	6698
203	1062	1738	2705	3976	5540	6732
240	1137	1743	2713	3990	5567	6733
241	1139	1745	2767	4016	5880	6759
243	1217	1801	2795	4101	5959	6876
249	1230	1963	2826	4124	5967	6958
303	1240	1975	2843	4451	6037	6987
410	1287	1985	2863	4585	6145	7088
413	1291	2039	2990	4882	6159	7087
422	1293	2067	3058	5001	6165	7210
501	1297	2108	3084	5016	6227	7223
666	1385	2132	3173	5114	6234	7261
672	1387	2297	3317	5206	6463	7265
739	1338	2327	3319	5268	6470	7281
777	1436	2418	3540	5271	6494	7292
944	1470	2447	3675	5328	6609	7381
						7497

These bonds will be paid at 105 and accrued interest to January 1, 1901, on presentation at the office of the NEW YORK SECURITY & TRUST COMPANY, 46 Wall Street, New York City, on and after January 2, 1901.
Interest will cease on the above bonds on January 1, 1901.
December 1, 1900.

$1,000,000
NEWARK, N. J.
New City Hall Bonds.
Sealed proposals for the purchase of Newark, N. J., 30-year 3½ per cent. registered New City Hall Bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 will be received at the office of the Comptroller, in said city, until 3 o'clock P. M. on Friday, December 28th, 1900. For circulars containing conditions and information, address
FREDERICK T. JOHNSON
COMPTROLLER,
Newark, N. J.

Copartnership Notices.

BY MUTUAL CONSENT THE CORPORATION heretofore existing under the firm name of BOARDMAN & WILLIAMSON, is this day dissolved.
FREDERIC A. BOARDMAN,
JOHN WILLIAMSON, JR.

FINANCIAL.

Dividends.

NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE
AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY.
100 Broadway, Dec. 17, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day there was declared from the surplus net earnings a dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT. (2⅝%) on the Preferred Stock of this Company, in full for the period up to Oct. 1, 1900, payable Jan. 24, 1901, to the holders of record of the Preferred Stock at the closing of the transfer books on Jan. 10, 1901.
For the purpose of such dividend the Preferred Stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Jan. 10, 1901, and reopened at 10 A. M. on Jan. 25, 1901.
AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY.
By H. SCHOONMAKER, Secretary.

23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 17, 1900.
On Jan. 24, 1901, the undersigned will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT. (2⅝%) when received by them, among the registered holders of their Trust Receipts for Preferred Stock of the American Bridge Company.
J. P. MORGAN & CO.

St. Joseph & Grand Island Railway Co.
33 Broad St., New York, Dec. 13, 1900.
At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, held this day, a dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. on the First Preferred Stock of the Company was declared, payable Jany. 15, 1901, to the holders of record of the First Preferred Stock at the closing of the transfer books on Dec. 31, 1900.
The transfer books for First Preferred Stock will close Dec. 31, 1900, at 3 P. M., and will reopen Jan. 16, 1901, at 10 A. M.
S. W. WILSON, Secretary.

54 Wall St., N. Y., Dec. 13, 1900.
The above-mentioned dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. will be payable on Jan. 15, 1901, to holders of record at the close of business on Dec. 31, 1900, on the books of the Voting Trustees for Certificates of First Preferred Stock of the St. Joseph and Grand Island Railway Company.
The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for Certificates of First Preferred Stock will close Dec. 31, 1900, at 3 P. M., and will reopen Jan. 16, 1901, at 10 A. M.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.
Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of the Childs' Unique Dairy Company will be held at the office of the company, at No. 42 East 14th St., Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Wednesday, the 26th day of December, 1900, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of electing seven Directors to serve for the ensuing year, and two Inspectors of Election to serve at the next annual meeting, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting. Polls will remain open one hour, from 10:30 A. M. to 11:30 A. M.
Dated New York City, N. Y., December 11, 1900.
CHARLES L. ROBERTS, Secretary.

Metropolitan Street Railway Co.
New York, December 17, 1900.
By resolution of the Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company of New York a dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. per share is declared on the capital stock of this Company, payable at the opening of business on Tuesday, January 15, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Wednesday, December 26, 1900. The transfer books will be closed for the purpose of this dividend on December 26, 1900, and will be opened on January 16, 1901.
CHARLES E. WARREN, Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE
American Smelting and Refining Co.,
71 Broadway, New York, Dec. 18th, 1900.
PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND NO. 6.
The Directors of the American Smelting and Refining Company have this day declared a dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. upon the Preferred Capital Stock of the Company, payable Jan. 8th, 1901, to stockholders of record, at 12 o'clock noon, Dec. 22d, 1900. The books for the transfer of the Preferred Capital Stock of the Company will close at 12 o'clock noon, Dec. 22d, 1900, and be opened Jan. 9th, 1901.
EDWARD BRUSH, Secretary.

The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co.
OFFICE OF THE TREASURER.
Chicago, Ill., December 17th, 1900.
A quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share will be paid February 1st next to the shareholders of this Company's stock, registered as such on the closing of the transfer books.
The transfer books will close at three o'clock P. M. on the 28th day of December, 1900, and reopen at ten o'clock A. M. on the 7th day of January, 1901.
F. E. HAYNE,
Treasurer.

The Hocking Valley Railway Co.,
Columbus, Ohio, November 30, 1900.
A SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND OF TWO PER CENT. out of surplus net earnings has this day been declared on the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable Jan. 16, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 28, 1900.
The Preferred Stock transfer books will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Company, No. 23 Wall Street, New York, at 3 P. M., on Friday, Dec. 28, 1900, and will reopen at the same place at 10 A. M. on Thursday, Jan. 17, 1901.
WM. N. COTT, Treasurer.

THE STANDARD GAS LIGHT COMPANY of the City of New York, 801-3 Third Avenue.
New York, December 14, 1900.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a Dividend of 2½ Per Cent. on the outstanding Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on December 31st, 1900, to Stockholders of record at 12 o'clock M. on Saturday, December 22nd, 1900.
Transfer Books will be closed at 12 o'clock M., December 22nd, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 o'clock A. M., January 2nd, 1901.
W. GREELEY HOYT, Secretary.

Office of the United Gas Improvement Company,
N. W. Corner Broad and Arch Streets.
Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 12, 1900.
The Directors have this day declared a quarterly dividend of two (2) per cent., ($1.00 per share,) payable January 15th, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 29th. Checks will be mailed.
LEWIS LILLIE, Treasurer.

The Hall Signal Company,
44 BROAD STREET.
New York, Dec. 18th, 1900.
The Board of Directors of THE HALL SIGNAL COMPANY has this day declared the usual quarterly dividend of One Per Cent. (1%) on the common stock of the Company, payable on December 24th, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from December 21st to 25th, inclusive. Checks will be mailed.
R. K. WALLER, Secretary.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST CO.,
146 Broadway, New York, Dec. 16, 1900.
A QUARTERLY DIVIDEND OF THREE PER CENT. has this day been declared by the Board of Trustees, payable January 2, 1901, to stockholders of record on the closing of the transfer books at 3 P. M. on December 27, 1900. The books will be opened at 10 A. M. January 2, 1901.
EDWARD O. STANLEY, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Reading Co. and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., New York, will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
W. G. BROWN, Sec'y.
Philadelphia, Dec. 13th, 1900.

TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE HOCKING VALley Railway Company First Consolidated 4½ Per Cent. Registered Bonds will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, Wednesday, December 19, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due January 1st, 1901, and will reopen January 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
WM. N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, December 13, 1900.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE FIRST Consolidated Mortgage 5 per cent. registered bonds of the Southern Railway Company will close at the office of the company, 80 Broadway, New York, Friday, December 21, at 3 P. M., preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Jan. 1, 1901, and will reopen Jan. 2, 1901, at 10 A. M.
JOSIAH F. HILL, Sec'y.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 15, 1900.

Established 1784.
The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, Dec. 18, 1900.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a dividend of Five Per Cent., free from tax, payable on and after January 2d, 1901. The transfer books will remain closed until January 3d, 1901.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

Tennessee Coal, Iron and R. R. Co.
No. 80 Broadway, New York, Dec. 18th, 1900.
The regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent. on the preferred stock of the Alabama Steel and Ship-Building Company, guaranteed by this Company, will be paid by check January 1st, 1901. Transfer books will be closed December 21st, 1900, and reopened January 2d, 1901.
J. BOWRON, Treasurer.

The National Park Bank of New York.
The Board of Directors of this Bank have this day declared a Semi-Annual Dividend of Six (6) Per Cent., free of tax, payable January 2, 1901.
Transfer books closed from December 20th to January 1st, inclusive.
GEO. S. HICKOK, Cashier.
Dec. 18th, 1900.

Merchants Exchange National Bank
of the City of New York. Dec. 18th, 1900.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a Semi-Annual Dividend of Three Per Cent., free of tax, payable on and after January 2d, 1901, until which date the transfer books will be closed.
A. S. APGAR, Cashier.

Tennessee Coal, Iron and R. R. Co.
No. 80 Broadway, New York, Dec. 18th, 1900.
The coupons due Jan. 1, 1901, on the BIRMINGHAM DIVISION Bonds will be paid at matrnity at the Hanover National Bank, N. Y. City.
JAS. BOWRON, Treasurer.

Williamsburgh Trust Company,
Brooklyn, N. Y.
A SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND OF THREE PER CENT. has been declared, payable Jan'y 2d, 1901, to shareholders of record at the close of business Dec. 20, 1900.
The transfer books will be closed from Dec. 21st, 1900, to Jan'y 2d, 1901, both days inclusive.
W. ADDISON FIELD, Sec'y.

Savings Banks.

EMIGRANT INDUSTRIAL SAVINGS BANK,
51 Chambers St., New York.
New York, Dec. 19th, 1900.
DIVIDEND.—The Trustees of this Bank have ordered that interest be paid to Depositors entitled thereto for the six and three months ending December 31st, 1900, at the rate of Three and One-Half Per Cent. per annum on all deposits up to the limit of Three Thousand Dollars, ($3,000.)
Interest will be credited under date of January 1st, 1901, and will be payable on and after Monday, January 21st.
JAMES McMAHON, President.
DAVID LEDWITH, Comptroller.

Meetings and Elections.

The Merchants' National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
1370. December 6, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 42 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8, 1901, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

Office of the American Coal Company,
No. 1 Broadway.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of the American Coal Company of Allegany County, Maryland, will be held at the company's office in the City of New York on THURSDAY, the 27th day of December, 1900, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock P. M.
GEO. M. BOWLBY, Secretary.

The Western National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
7th December, 1900.
The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, for the election of Directors, will be held at the Banking House, No. 15 Nassau Street, on TUESDAY, January 8th, 1901. The Polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
H. A. SMITH, Cashier.

National Broadway Bank,
NEW YORK.
December 10th, 1900.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors for the ensuing year will be held at the banking house, 237 Broadway, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
Polls will be open from 12 o'clock M. until 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. J. DAY, Cashier.

The Mechanics' National Bank
of the City of New York,
Dec. 8th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, No. 33 Wall St., on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The Hanover National Bank
OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.
New York, December 7th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 8 and 11 Nassau Street, on Tuesday, January 8th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 1 o'clock P. M.
WILLIAM LOGAN, Cashier.

The Conley Foil Company.
Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of The Conley Foil Company will be held at the office of the Company, Nos. 2 and 4 Dominick Street, New York City, N. Y., on the 3d day of January, 1901, for the election selling rather mystified the room traders, who believe that London must still buy many stocks against options sold some time ago, and induced to some selling for local account. All the sales, however, were readily taken.

***

There was little change in the call money rates, the quotations ranging between 5 and 6 per cent., with most of the day's loans at 5 and 5½ per cent. The banks continue to gain from the Sub-Treasury, that institution being debtor at the Clearing House yesterday morning for $1,750,000, largely representing payments for pensions and interest and premiums on Government bonds.

NICKEL PLATE'S BIG RISE.

In a market in which there were many features, Nickel Plate stocks were on the Exchange yesterday easily the leaders, the second preferred advancing over 5 points and the common and first preferred over 2 each on dealings showing much more activity than for some time has been seen in the securities.

For a week or more Wall Street has been filled with all kinds of stories in respect to the stock. One of them has semi-official warrant to the effect that the first preferred is to be retired or exchanged into bonds, and that the second preferred is forthwith to be put on a dividend basis. In this connection, a Director of the company was yesterday quoted as saying that the earnings of the company for the last calendar year will amply warrant an increase in dividends.

"It is the policy of this company," says the Director in question, "to declare its dividends out of the net earnings of the previous calendar year, the Directors meeting in January and declaring the dividend in a lump sum. Last January 5 per cent. was declared on the first preferred stock and was paid on March 1. Besides this dividend, $300,000 was set aside out of the earnings to build new bridges and make other improvements. A surplus of more than $200,000 remained in the Treasury. The earnings for 1900 were fully 25 per cent. in excess of the previous year, which will provide the usual 5 per cent. on the first preferred and leave nearly $750,000 for any additional dividend which the Directors may choose to declare."

NO SMELTING COMBINE YET.

Wall Street expected yesterday to receive definite announcement, as a result of the meeting during the day of the Directors of the American Smelting and Refining Company—the so-called trust—that the proposed consolidation with the Guggenheim interests had been finally completed and that the trust was in control of all the smelting plants of the country.

Instead, however, at the conclusion of the meeting, shortly before 5 o'clock, it was stated that, though the matter of consolidation had been discussed, no understanding or conclusion had been come to, and that it was not certain when one would be. Secretary Brush of the company made this statement:

"We declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock, and discussed numerous things—among them the proposed consolidation with the Guggenheims. Nothing, however, was done, and all that can be said is that the matter is in abeyance. I do not know when we will meet again, adjournment having been taken subject to the call of the President."

Asked as to the report that in the event of consolidation W. C. Whitney would be Chairman of the board of the new company, Secretary Brush said: "That is the first I had heard of it."

From another source it is learned that the delay does not mean that the deal is off, but merely that details in relation to the consolidation must be further discussed and agreed upon.

MUTUAL INSURANCE'S DENIAL.

Will Not Unload American Stocks to Do Business in Germany, President McCurdy Says.

The attention of President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company was directed yesterday to an article in an evening newspaper containing the following assertions:

The Equitable and Mutual Insurance Companies may unload their stockholdings, so as to be able to do business in the German Empire. This would throw upon the stock market next year many millions' worth of American railroad stock. It is said that the stockholdings of the Mutual Life Insurance Company alone approximate $40,000,000.

The further declaration was made that it is "believed in insurance circles that the report is true."

"So far as the Mutual Life Insurance Company is concerned," Mr. McCurdy said, "the report is absolutely false. We have never contemplated such a proceeding; we do not now, and reasons multiply daily why we should not in the future. The motives actuating the persistent circulation of this story are perhaps best left to the imagination. But one fact is certain; they are neither worthy nor patriotic.

"The full history of the difficulty which arose between our company and the Prussian Government is too long and complicated for present recapitulation, but it is sufficient to say that the revocation of our license in 1896 was due to a misapprehension on the part of the Government regarding certain details of our company's business. This misapprehension has since been acknowledged by the Government, and we infer from an allusion in the President's message to Congress that our State Department has received assurances that the wrong will be righted and the privilege restored.

"Whether this conclusion shall prove to be justified or not, our position will be unchanged. The Mutual Life Insurance Company holds a charter of the State of New York, to whose officers alone it is responsible for the general conduct of its affairs. We admit the right and propriety of the Prussian Government insisting upon strict compliance with its insurance regulations with regard to the business done within its borders, just as we admit a like prerogative on the part of each of the various States, and we have offered to comply with the conditions of the new general insurance law now before the Imperial Parliament, and to invest the entire reserves on Prussian policies in German or Prussian Government securities. Moreover, we have directed an extension of the rule that, eliminating every stock investment which the company has, there still remains invested in securities of which the Prussian Government approves more than sufficient funds to equal the full legal reserves of every policy contract of the company, not alone in Prussia, but everywhere else in the world.

"Further than this we cannot and should not be expected to go. To do so would be to admit the pre-eminence of a foreign State as a regulator of business and conserver of the people's money over our own, under whose guidance have developed the greatest insurance companies in the world. To comply with the sweeping requirement that bonds be substituted for shares as investment would be not only absurd from a business standpoint, but would indicate a lack of faith in the growth and progress of the country, no less than in the management of our great corporations. We have no such unbelief, and therefore see no reason for discrediting millions of American securities by substituting therefor the obligations of foreign Governments. The suggestion of such an act I can only regard with earnest indignation as unpatriotic and un-American, as it surely would be grossly unjust to the millions of our fellow-citizens whose savings are invested in the securities of their own country, in whose progress and stability they have sturdy faith.

$50,000 FOR A SEAT ON 'CHANGE.

Still another record was broken on the Stock Exchange yesterday, when a seat on the Exchange was sold for $50,000, an advance of $500 over the previous high price, recorded on the preceding day, when R. O. Wrenn, the well-known tennis player, paid $49,500. Yesterday's price is equivalent to $51,000, inasmuch as the buyer must pay a one-thousand-dollar initiation fee in passing the Nominating Committee.

The name of the purchaser was not disclosed.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

According to London cables, the Bank of England may advance its rate of discount to-morrow.

Printing of odd lots by the Stock Exchange tickers again discontinued.

Statement that the Pennsylvania Steel Company intends to increase its capital to meet the requirements of its steadily growing business.

Listing on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange of the $1,000,000 capital stock of the Franklin National Bank of that city.

Arrangements for the formation of a crude rubber company, with $10,000,000 capital, to control the domestic market, said to have been practically completed.

Statement that subscriptions to the five-million-dollar stock of the National Tin Plate Company, which proposes to make tin plate under a new process, will be opened in a few days.

Philadelphia Stock Exchange to remain closed from Saturday night until Wednesday morning next.

Stockholders of the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railroad of Chicago to vote at the annual meeting on Jan. 4 on the question of increasing the number of Directors from nine to twelve.

Shipments of 220,000 ounces of silver to Europe by to-day's steamer.

Sale by the United Gas Improvement Company of $9,350,000 Connecticut Railway and Light Company 4½ per cent. fifty-year gold bonds to a local banking house.

Increase of $1,421,982 in exports of general merchandise from the Port of New York for the week as compared with the previous week, but decrease of $1,305,411 as compared with the corresponding week last year.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 4@6 per cent., closing at 5 per cent.

Time money, 5 per cent. for thirty days, 4½ per cent. for sixty days, 5 per cent. for three to six months. Mercantile paper, 4¾@5 per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 5@5½ per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5½@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $325,484,220; balances, $12,241,433; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,771,011.

Money on call in London, 3@3½ per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 4 per cent. for short and 4@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was quiet and steady. Nominal rates were $4.81 for sixty days and $4.85 for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.80½; demand, $4.84¾; cables, $4.85; commercial bills, $4.79½@$4.81.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.20⅜ and 5.17½ less 1-16@5.18¾; reichsmarks, 94 3-16 and 94⅛@94 15-16, and guilders, 39 15-16@40 and 40 3-16.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—40c premium. Boston—Par@5c premium. New Orleans—Commercial, $1 discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 5c premium; telegraphic, 7½c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-16c premium. Savannah—Buying, 3-16c discount; selling, 1-16c discount. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14½@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Money was in fair supply and good demand to-day. The withdrawals of gold, fears of their continuation, and the fall in Paris checks firmed discounts, most of the leading houses refusing to work under 4 per cent., with the result that considerable business went to the Bank of England.

Business on the Stock Exchange was dull and inactive, except West Australians and Americans. Consols were affected by the fear of gold exports. Argentines and Brazilians were strong.

Americans reacted in sympathy with New York. Although there was no indication of a severe break, they closed weaker. Northern Pacifics were the feature in strength. Grand Trunks were firm on traffic returns, especially preferreds.

Consols for money, 97 5-16; consols for the account, 97⅛; Atchison, 43⅜; Canadian, 90¼; St. Paul, 136½; Illinois Central, 130½; Louisville, 87⅛; Union Pacific preferred, 85½; New York Central, 147; Erie, 20⅝; Pennsylvania, 74¼; Reading, 12⅛; Erie first preferred, 53⅝; Northern Pacific preferred, 88⅛; Grand Trunk, 6⅜; Anaconda, 9⅛; Rand Mines, 39½.

Bar silver steady at 29⅝d per ounce.

Money, 3@3½ per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 4 per cent.; three months' bills, 4@4¼ per cent.

Spanish 4s, 69¾.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £65,000. Gold premiums: Buenos Ayres, 131.40; Madrid, 33.92; Lisbon, 38.25; Rome, 5.55.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—Prices opened irregular on the Bourse to-day. Internationals, except Italians, were firm. Rio Tintos were firm owing to the decrease in copper stocks, but reacted later to yesterday's level. Kaffirs were weak, and toward the close this condition was accentuated. Spanish Fours were in strong demand at first, but declined later. During the second part of the day the unfavorable disposition became general, including Parquet stocks. Banks declined, Gas was freely offered, and Tramways and Tractions were weak.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f 7½c for the account. Exchanges on London, 25f 8½c for checks.

Spanish Fours closed at 70.35.

BERLIN, Dec. 18.—Funds were generally maintained on the Boerse to-day, although Home Funds and Chinese were somewhat easier. Americans and Canadian Pacifics were supported. Mines declined sharply on the decision of the coal syndicate to restrict the output for 1901 10 per cent. Banks were lower.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 41 pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 4 per cent.; three months' bills, 4⅝ per cent.

The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes: Cash in hand increased 9,400,000 marks; Treasury notes increased 680,000 marks; other securities increased 54,900,000 marks; notes in circulation increased 20,120,000 marks.

MADRID, Dec. 18.—The gold quotation to-day was 34.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 18.—Boston had a continuance of broad trading and further gains in prices among the copper shares. Montana was active, gaining to 333; Tri-Mountain was in brisk demand, with a gain of 1¼, to 20¼, some 1,500 shares selling in the morning. Parrot gained 1¼, to 50¾. Amalgamated, Isle Royale, and Old Dominion were prominent. The last named hardened to 31¼, later 30¾. Osceola was up ½, at 74. Massachusetts touched 14¾. Butte sold at 86, later 84, closing at 86. Hingham was firm at 15¼. Adventure touched 8.

United States Oil was the weak spot, falling 1⅛, to 10½. There was liquidation to-day of stock carried on margin all the way down from three or four times current prices. The price rallied to 10½.

Massachusetts Electric shares softened slightly; common fell ⅛, to 25¾, on sales of 2,600 shares in the morning, but rallied to 26¾, later on continued large dealings; the preferred held at 80. Boston and Albany was up 2, at 252, with active buying, and other high-priced investment shares were strong. Utah lost 1, to 83½.

At the Clearing House, money was in increased supply, but the rate between the banks was unchanged at 4 per cent. New York funds sold at par and 5c premium.

Money is firmer in Boston than in New York, especially on time. Banks generally are quoting 5 per cent. as the minimum for four to six months on the usual run of brokers' collateral. Call money ranges from 5 to 5½ per cent. There is comparatively little business paper moving, though some business is done at 5 per cent., mostly to out-of-town banks.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure ..	7½	8	Old Colony...	3½	4
Allouez	2¼	3	Old Domin...	30¾	31
Arcadian	22½	23	Osceola	73¼	74
Arnold	4⅝	5¼	Parrot	49¾	50¼
Ash Bed.....	.25	.50	Quincy	168	..
Atlantic	26	27	Rhode Island.	2⅞	3
Baltic	30¼	31	Santa Fé....	6½	7
Bost. & Mon.	330	333	Santa Ysabel	2¾	2⅝
Butte & Bos.	86	87	Shoe	31	..
Cal. & Hec.	807	815	Tamarack ...	230	235
Centennial ..	22¾	23	Utah Cons...	83½	83¾
Franklin	15	15½	Washington.	.50	1
Humboldt ...	.50	..	Winona	3¾	3⅝
Isle Royale..	38	..	Wolverine ...	46	46½
Mohawk	22⅞	23

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	252	Cent. M. pf.	92	..
Bost. & Low.	242	Fitchburg pf.	137½	138
Bost. & Me.	196¾	199	N. Y. & N. E. 8s.....	109	..
Bost. & Pr.	302	..	N. Y. & N. E. 7s.....	113	..
Bost. Elev.	156	157	West End....	93	93½
West. G. 5s..	89	..
Cent. Mass..	14	15

Miscellaneous Stocks.

A. T. & T..	155	157	N. Eng. Tel.	126½	128
Chi. Stk. Y.	138¾	140	U. S. Oil....	10	11
Dom. Coal...	37⅞	38¼	Westinghouse	54¾	55¼
Dom. C. pf..	106	109	Electric
Erie Tel....	98½	100	Westinghouse
Mex. Tel....	5¾	5¾	Elect. pf...	98	..

*2d dividend.

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—The stock market presented a cheerful aspect to-day. The dampening influence that had hung over the market in the form of persistent weakness in the Asphalt issues was partially removed by the official statement issued by the National and American interests, and the effect was beneficial upon not only the securities directly concerned, but upon the market generally.

The sensation of the day was in Lehigh Coal and Navigation. That stock rose rapidly, finally crossing 65, the highest ever recorded, making a net gain of 6½ points for the day. Subsequently, Lehigh Valley took on a buoyant spell, and all the coalers fell into line. The improvement then extended to the steel division. American Iron and Steel sold at 10, Tidewater rose ⅝, to 9¼, and 4⅞ was bid for 1,000 shares of New Haven. It was a day of bidding for big blocks. Two dollars per share was bid for any part of 40,000 shares of Alkali, and 7 for 10,000 shares of Marsden.

There was a decided tendency to dullness in the money market, and rates stiffened slightly. Call money was quoted at 4½ per cent., although more was loaned at 5 per cent. Time money brought 4½ to 5½ per cent., with little demand for it.

The market's close was strong, at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry., Lt.	34	35	Lehigh Nav.	64½	65
Cambria	20⅝	20½	Lehigh Val..	29½	29⅝
Choctaw	39⅝	39½	Marsden.....	7½	7⅝
C. N. J.	60	61	North. Penn.	105	109
C. T., N. J., 5s	108¾	109	Penn. Steel..	75	77
C. T., Pitts.,	28¼	28½	Penn. S. pf.	94	95
E. & P. 4s.	100	100½	Peop. T. 4s.	108	109
El. Stge. Fr.	85	90	Phila. & E..	29	30
E. St. B. pf.	88	96	Phila. Trac..	98¾	99
E. Co. of A.	9½	9¾	Union Trac..	36	36½
H. & B. T.	18	20	U. Co's, N. J.	272	275
H. & B. T. pf.	49	50	U. Gas Imp.	124	124½
			Welsbach Lt.	47	49

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Biscuit common was in some demand on the Exchange this morning around 37¾, but otherwise the market was featureless. Biscuit opened at 37⅛, dropped ¼, and closed at 38. Trading in Union Traction and other street railways was very light. West Chicago opened at 97½, and closed at 98. Metropolitan Elevated preferred brought 84. North Chicago was 2 points off, at 190.

Sales.		High.	Low.	Close.
55..	Linseed common	7¾	7¾	7¾
250..	Linseed pf.	38¼	38	38¼
25..	Strawboard	32¼	32¼	32¼
60..	Chicago Edison	150	150	150
12..	Metropolitan El. pf.	84	84	84
63..	Diamond Match	131	130¼	131
150..	Mil. & Chicago Brew. pf.	20	20	20
580..	National Biscuit	38	37⅝	38
300..	National Biscuit pf.	92	91¾	91¾
80..	National Carbon	17	17	17
140..	National Carbon pf.	84½	84½	84½
300..	Chicago Union Trac. pf.	45	44½	44⅞
2..	North Chicago Ry.	190	190	190
25..	Northwestern El. pf.	79½	78½	79½
15..	Lake Street El.	10	10	10
3..	South Side El.	100	99	99
50..	Street's W. S. C. Line.	19	19	19
257..	West Chicago Ry.	98	97½	98

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

	1900.	1899.	1898.
BUFFALO, ROCHESTER & PITTSBURG—
Mileage	472	338	336
2d week Dec....	$102,778	$79,228	$65,224
From July 1.....	2,676,473	2,085,658	1,847,074
CLEVELAND, LORAIN & WHEELING—
Mileage	192	192	192
2d week Dec....	32,622	38,323	26,151
From July 1.....	944,671	913,678	715,594
DENVER & RIO GRANDE—
Mileage	1,675	1,673	1,673
2d week Dec....	214,300	193,700	173,900
From July 1.....	5,450,000	4,718,800	4,308,200
INTERNATIONAL & GREAT NORTHERN—
Mileage	775	775	775
2d week Dec....	109,124	100,155	98,794
From Jan. 1.....	3,956,769	3,946,434	3,745,333
IOWA CENTRAL—
Mileage	510	510	509
2d week Dec....	48,392	38,818	42,951
MISSOURI PACIFIC—
Mileage	4,938	4,938	4,938
2d week Dec....	650,000	564,000	519,000
From Jan. 1.....	28,813,901	26,647,579	25,300,162
CENTRAL BRANCH—
Mileage	388	388	388
2d week Dec....	21,000	19,000	18,000
From Jan. 1.....	1,280,362	1,200,210	1,226,102
MEXICAN NATIONAL—
Mileage	1,323	1,266	1,219
2d week Dec....	123,956	132,502	129,794
From Jan. 1.....	6,782,265	6,088,170	5,823,855
ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN—
Mileage	1,258	1,258	1,223
2d week Dec....	177,009	140,628	127,700
From July 1.....	3,418,989	2,892,217	2,798,306
SHERMAN, SHEVEPORT & SOUTHERN—
Mileage	201	155	155
2d week Dec....	20,848	9,708	.....
From July 1.....	356,076	204,697	.....
TEXAS & PACIFIC—
Mileage	1,517	1,492	1,492
2d week Dec....	265,867	203,104	212,017
From Jan. 1.....	8,899,784	7,827,843	7,486,893
WHEELING & LAKE ERIE—
Mileage	464	464	464
2d week Dec....	58,323	53,563	42,054
From July 1.....	1,393,377	1,257,939	.....

PHILADELPHIA COMPANY and affiliated corporations for November—

	1900.	1899.	Increase.
Gross earnings....	209,670	172,740	36,930
Op. expenses.....	173,281	122,477	50,804
Net earnings.....	36,389	50,263	*13,874
Other income.....	12,065	4,289	7,816
Total income.....	48,444	54,502	*6,058
Div. & int.....	48,062	46,950	1,112
Surplus	382	7,552	*7,170
Gross, 5 months.	2,206,579	1,647,565	559,014
Net, 5 months...	849,336	527,018	322,318
Surplus	611,038	258,633	352,405

*Decrease.

TWIN CITY RAPID TRANSIT for November—

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Gross earnings....	239,713	210,976	177,622
Op. expenses.....	109,477	98,618	88,774
Net earnings.....	130,235	112,358	88,848
Charges	69,464	70,533	63,396
Surplus	60,770	41,824	25,462
Gross, 11 months.	2,582,536	2,286,164	1,960,929
Net, 11 months...	1,382,551	1,230,458	1,032,651
Surp., 11 months..	617,678	490,682	319,026

TREASURY BALANCES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—To-day's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the Division of Redemption, shows:

Available cash balance	$141,010,008
Gold	102,846,927
Silver	9,329,321
United States notes	10,101,442
Treasury notes of 1890	104,009
National bank notes	6,808,794
Total receipts this day	1,124,619
Total receipts this month	27,813,293
Total receipts this year	272,808,846
Total expenditures this day	1,055,000
Total expenditures this month	23,315,000
Total expenditures this year	256,204,533
Deposits in National banks	97,783,067
National bank notes received to-day for redemption	304,511
Government receipts:
From internal revenue	568,849
Customs	468,596
Miscellaneous	87,174

The condition of the Treasury, Divisions of Issue and Redemption, at the beginning of business to-day was as follows:

RESERVE FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$150,000,000

TRUST FUNDS, DIVISION OF REDEMPTION.

Gold coin	$261,602,379
Silver dollars	428,327,000
Silver dollars of 1890	4,729,497
Silver bullion of 1890	57,659,583
United States notes	1,570,000
Total	$751,898,379

DIVISION OF ISSUE.

Gold certificates outstanding	$261,602,379
Silver certificates outstanding	428,327,000
Treasury notes outstanding	62,389,000
Currency certificates outstanding	1,570,000
Total	$751,898,379

GENERAL FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$67,761,377
Gold certificates	35,585,610
Silver coin and bullion	4,719,978
Silver certificates	98,832,784
United States notes	10,101,442
Other assets	11,648,920
Total in Treasury	$130,928,673
Deposits in National banks	97,783,067
Total	$228,709,740
Current liabilities	87,699,731
Available cash balance	$141,010,008

Want C. W. Morgan & Co.'s Books.

Bert Hanson, assignee of C. W. Morgan & Co., "bankers and brokers" at 71 Broadway, who failed a fortnight ago, after the police had invaded the place, has, through his attorneys, White & Otheman, made an application in the Supreme Court for an order for District Attorney Gardiner to show cause why he should not surrender the books of the Morgan firm as a part of the Supreme Court records. The order is made returnable to-morrow.

Corn Shorts Bid Up the Price.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—It was corn first and the other grain and provision markets nowhere to-day. December corn, under active bidding by shorts, was forced up another cent and a half, while January shorts also showed nervousness, that option closing at an advance of ¾c. December closed at 41. After the first flurry was over, trade quieted somewhat, but near the close the market again showed considerable strength.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Trading in outside stocks yesterday was not as broad as on Monday, and there was a considerable falling off in the total of the day's transactions, but nevertheless a few issues showed much strength and considerable activity. Some stocks seemed to be in good general demand, but in many issues there seemed to be few buying orders. At the close quotations showed, in some cases, considerable recessions, but in the majority of active issues prices were somewhat better than on the first day of the week.

***

AMERICAN BRIDGE was again prominent, but transactions in both the common and preferred stocks fell somewhat below Monday's total. The former issue sold as high as 45⅛, and showed a net gain of half a point, ending the day at 45 bid. A larger rise occurred in the preferred stock, which advanced to 95, and made a net gain of ⅞ points. The strength of the preferred stock, in particular, was explained by the official announcement of the first dividend on this issue.

***

ELECTRIC BOAT was probably more active than any other issue. There was a large demand for the common stock, which advanced the price from 26½, the opening sale, to 30. After a slight reaction it closed at 29½ bid, a net gain of 3 points. Transactions aggregated about 4,000 shares. The preferred stock, on smaller transactions, sold up to 50, and closed at 48 bid, which was 6 points above the best bid at the close on Monday. An officer of the company stated that announcement of the completion of important negotiations might be made in a few days, but nothing of a definite character could be learned in regard to the developments in the company's business which are under way, and to which the present strength of the stock is attributed.

***

PITTSBURG BESSEMER AND LAKE ERIE was fairly active and again advanced fractionally. Transactions amounted to 500 shares or more. Much misunderstanding has prevailed in regard to the proposed distribution of preferred stock, and incidentally in regard to the closing of the books of the company. At the office of the United States Trust Company, the New York transfer agents of the road, it was stated yesterday that the books had closed on Saturday last and would remain closed until Jan. 17, next, and moreover that the distribution of preferred stock would be made to the holders of common stock, as recorded at the close of business last Saturday. It would therefore seem that all transactions made since that day would be ex-rights. The Pittsburg Exchange, it was reported yesterday, has ruled that all transactions made on last Saturday must carry all the privileges that attach to the stock. On Jan. 16 a special meeting of the stockholders will be held for the purpose of voting on the question of leasing the road.

***

EMPIRE STEEL preferred was offered down to 89, but there appeared to be no buying orders in the market, this being an issue that has been traded in only to a very small extent. Recent sales of the stock were made in the neighborhood of 50. The reason for the decline was stated to be that at yesterday's meeting of the Board of Directors of the company a semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent. was declared, instead of 3 per cent., which was the amount of the last dividend. According to a Director of the company, the reason for the decrease was that the Empire Company is planning important improvements on its furnace and mining properties in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and part of the earnings has been set aside to make these improvements. The books of the company close for the purpose of the dividend on Dec. 26, and will reopen Jan. 2.

***

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER was traded in to a fairly large extent between 20¼ and 20¾. It closed at 20⅝ bid, a net gain of five-eighths of a point.

***

UNION COPPER remained strong, and ended the day with a fractional net gain of 5⅝ bid. It was traded in to the extent of about 1,000 shares.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s were active between 86 and 86¼, but the preferred stock, as well as St. Louis Transit, was dull and somewhat weak.

***

AMERICAN HIDE AND LEATHER, for the first time in a number of days, was in some demand, and the common stock closed with a net gain of 1 point, at 11 bid. The bonds were also stronger, closing at 90½ bid, a net gain of 1 point.

***

Closing quotations yesterday, compared with those of the previous day, were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Dec. 18. Bid.	Asked.	Dec. 17. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	27	28	27	27
Am. Agricul. Chem. pf..	79	80	79	80
American Banknote	47	50	47	50
American Bicycle	6¼	7¼	6½	7¼
American Bicycle pf....	27	28	27	28
American Bicycle bonds.	73	76	74½	76
American Bridge	45	45½	44½	45
American Bridge pf....	94¾	95	93½	94
American Chicle	83	..	83	..
American Chicle pf.....	75	82	75	82
Am. Hide & Leather....	11	12	10	10½
Am. Hide & Leather pf..	37	38	37	38
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90½	90¾	89½	90¼
*American Thread pf...	4	4½	4	4½
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	5⅝	5⅞	5⅝	5⅞
Arlington Copper	5	7	5	7
British Columbia Copper.	20¾	21	20	20¾
British Exch. 8s.....	98½	99¼	96	99
California Copper	1⅝	2	1⅝	2
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	5½	6	5½
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.....	30½	31½	30½	31½
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf....	73	75	70	75
Compressed Air	43½	45	44	46
Con. Ry. L. & E.....	12½	13	12	12½
Con. Rubber Tire.....	2	7	2	7
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	25	30	27	33
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	105	104	106
Crucible Steel	18	19	17	18
Crucible Steel pf.....	79	80	80¼	..
Crampe' Shipyard	77	78	77	78
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5½	6	5⅞	6
Dist. Co. of Am. pf....	25	25½	25	26
Electric Boat	29½	30	26½	29½
Electric Boat pf.....	45	51	45	47
Electric Vehicle	16½	16	16½	19
Electric Vehicle pf....	35	45	35	45
Electro-Pneumatic	2¾	3¼	2⅞	3
Flemington Coal & Coke.	12	20	18	20
General Carriage	4½	4¾	4¾	5
General Chemical	86½	90	86	86½
General Chemical pf....	97½	99	97½	99
German-American Tr. 4s.	100¾	100	100¾	100¾
Havana Commercial	8½	9½	7¾	9¼
Havana Commercial pf..	43	45	42½	44
Hudson River Tel.....	115	118	115	118
Illinois Transportation..	⅛	1½	⅛	1¼
International Silver pf..	35	40	34	40
Inter-State Oil	81¼	..	79	80
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds...	50	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf..	⅛	1	½	1
Kings Co. El. L. & P...	137	143	137	143
Lorillard pf.	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1	2½	1	2½
Mex. Nat. Construc. pf..	13¾	14½	12½	13¾
Nat. Enamel & Stamp...	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Gramophone...	5	12	6	12
Nat. Sugar pf., ex div..	100	102	102	103½
New England Transport.	3	8	3	8
N. Y. Transportation....	3¼	4	3½	5
Otis Elevator	26	27	26	27
Otis Elevator pf.....	86	88	86	88
Peo., Dec. & Evansv....	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅝
Pitts., Bess. & Lake Erie	29½	29⅞	28½	30
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds	72	85	75	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	92	94½	93½	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf..	80½	81	80¾	81
Rub. Goods Mfg. pf. ex d.	77½	82½	82	83
Safety Car Heat. & Light	130	131	130	131
St. Louis Transit.....	17¼	18½	18½	19¼
Seaboard Air Line 4s...	73	73	73	74
Seaboard Air Line.....	10	11	10¾	11
Seaboard Air Line pf....	25½	26	25	26
Sheet Steel pf.....	72½	74½	73½	74½
Southern Light & Trac..	32	35	33	35
Standard Coupler.....	34	37½	36	40
Standard Coupler pf....	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J....	822	824	824	827
Storage Power	10	13	11	13
Tennessee Copper	17½	18	19½	17
Tel., Tel. & C. of A., $10 paid	3	8½	3	3½
Trenton Potteries.....	4	6	4	6
Trenton Potteries pf....	55	60

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Bond Transactions.

U S 3s, registered 1,500.....110½
500.....109½
7,500.....110½
U S 3s, coup 6,000.....109⅝
small bds 7000.....110
U S 4s, coup, 1907 40,000.....116½
10,000.....116⅝
6,000.....116½
Alabama, Class A 5000.....110
Am Cot Oil 4½s 2,000.....99⅝
Am Spirits Mfg 6s 1,000.....75
Ann Arbor 1st 4s 5,000.....75
2,000.....76
5,000.....75½
Atch, Top & San Fe gen 4s 1000.....102½
2,000.....102⅝
5,000.....102⅝
500.....102⅝
15,000.....102⅝
1,000.....102½
25,000 adjustmt 4s 25,000.....85⅝
2,000.....85⅝
500.....85½
5,000.....85¾
22,000.....85⅝
Balt & Ohio 4s 2,000.....100⅝
7,000.....100⅜
1,000.....100⅜
Balt & Ohio 3½s 50,000.....97⅜
25,000.....98
Baltimore & Ohio Southwn div 3½s 43,000.....90½
1,000.....90⅝
Brooklyn City 1st 5s 1,000.....115
Brook Un Elev 1st 5,000.....97½
Brook Un Gas 5s 5,000.....115¾
5,000.....116
Buf, C H & N 1st 5s 1,000.....100½
Cent of Ga con 5s 5,000.....90⅞
3,000.....97
10,000.....90⅝
8,000.....97
5,000.....90⅝
10,000.....97
Ches & O 4½s reg 25,000.....100
Chic & Alton 3½s 4,000.....85⅞
5,000.....85⅝
27,000.....85⅝
2,000.....86
Chic, Bur & Quincy Nebraska ext 4s 500.....105¼
Chic, Ind & Louisv refundg 6s 2,000.....120
Chic, Mil & St Paul C & M 7s 9,000.....131
Chic, Mil & St P terminal 5s 20,000.....115¾
Chic, Mil & St P gen 4s, Ser A 2,000.....114½
Chic & N Westn sinkg fund 5s registered 1,000.....107
Chic Term Tran 4s 20,000.....93
Pac Coast 1st 5s 1,000.....109
Penn stpd 1st 4½s 10,000.....116½
2,000.....116½
Peo & East 1st 4s 2,000.....93¾
1,000.....93¼
Peo & East inc 4s 15,000.....41½
10,000.....41½
25,000.....41½
11,000.....42
25,000.....41½
5,000.....42
10,000.....42½
Reading gen 4s 3,000.....93⅛
2,000.....93⅛
15,000.....93⅛
2,000.....93⅛
64,000.....93⅜
Rich & Dan con 6s 9,000.....124½
2,000.....101
Rome, W & O con 5s 1,000.....120⅞
7,000.....120⅝
St Jo & G I 1st 4s 1,000.....91
St L & S F gen 6s 7,000.....113½
1,000.....113⅜
St L & I Mt 4s 15,000.....84⅝
10,000.....84⅞
10,000.....84⅞
10,000.....84⅞
St L & San Fran 4s 5,000.....90⅜
St L & S F gen 6s 5,000.....129½
St L Southw 1st 4s 15,000.....94⅛
11,000.....94⅝
12,000.....94⅞
10,000.....94⅞
12,000.....95
5,000.....84⅜
10,000s20F.....84½
3,000.....72½
5,000.....84½
1,000.....72½
2,000.....84½
20,000.....72½
5,000s20F.....84½
10,000.....72½
St P & Dul 1st 5s 1,000.....125
Sann Ant & Ar P 4s 3,000.....79½
Southern Pacific 4s 15,000.....82½
20,000.....82¼
Southern Ry 1st 5s 5,000.....113½
5,000.....113⅝
10,000.....113½
10,000s20F.....84⅝
18,000.....84⅝
10,000s10F.....84⅝
100,000.....85
10,000.....84⅞
30,000.....85
Ft Worth & D C 1st 5,000.....79
Galv, Har & San An Mex & P div 5s 8,000.....100¼
Gen Elec deb 5s 1,000.....143¼
Green Bay & Wn deb ctfs B 16,000.....83
10,000.....83
30,000.....83
5,000.....83
20,000.....83
8,000.....77
Hock Val 1st 4½s 9,000.....104⅞
Int & Gt N 2d 5s 11,000.....92
35,000.....92½
10,000.....93
20,000b3.....93
10,000.....93¼
8,000.....98
Int & Gt N 3d 4s 8,000.....68¾
7,000.....59
1,000.....68½
1,000.....59
10,000.....59½
Inter Paper 1st 6s 1,000.....103¼
Kansas City So 3s 120,000.....56
Kings Co Elv 4s 2,000.....88
Laclede Gas Light of St L 1st 5s 2,000.....107
Mex Cent 1st inc 20,000.....28
Mex Intern con 4s 10,000.....84⅞
Total sales.....$3,713,700

Louisville & Nashv unified 4s 5,000.....101¾
Metropol St gen 5s 4,000.....122
2,000.....121½
5,000.....121⅝
2,000.....121⅝
10,000.....121⅝
10,000.....121⅝
1,000.....122
Minn & St L 1st & refunds 4s 1,000.....97¾
1,000.....98
Mo, K & Tex 1st 4s 1,000.....91⅝
1,000.....94½
Mo, K & Tex 2d 4s 5,000.....75
10,000.....75
12,000.....75¼
15,000.....75
21,000.....75¼
65,000.....75
10,000.....75¼
27,000.....74½
Mo, K & Tex ext 5s 20,000.....94½
10,000.....94½
27,000.....94½
Mo Pac 1st 5s 5,000s3.....93⅞
10,000.....93⅞
Mo Pac 1st ref 5s 10,000.....93⅝
16,000.....93⅝
10,000.....93⅝
5,000.....100
M & O, Montg div 5s 10,000.....98
N Y Cent & Hud R Lake Sh col 3½s 2,000.....97¾
8,000.....98
registered 1,000.....96
N Y Cent & Hud R Mich Cent col 3½s 20,000.....97
N Y Gas, El L H & Pwr pur m'g 4s 6,000.....94
N Y, Susq & W gen 5s 5,000.....103¾
Nort & Westn con 4s 7,000s20F.....99⅜
15,000.....99⅜
Pac Coast 1st 5s 1,000.....109
Penn stpd 1st 4½s 10,000.....116½
10,000.....116½
Peo & East 1st 4s 2,000.....93¾
1,000.....93¼
Peo & East inc 4s 15,000.....41½
10,000.....41½
25,000.....41½
5,000.....42
10,000.....42½
Reading gen 4s 3,000.....93⅛
2,000.....93⅛
15,000.....93⅛
2,000.....93⅛
64,000.....93⅜
Rich & Dan con 6s 9,000.....124½
2,000.....101
Rome, W & O con 5s 1,000.....120⅞
7,000.....120⅝
St Jo & G I 1st 4s 1,000.....91
St L & S F gen 6s 7,000.....113½
1,000.....113⅜
St L & I Mt 4s 15,000.....84⅝
10,000.....84⅞
10,000.....84⅞
10,000.....84⅞
St L & San Fran 4s 5,000.....90⅜
St L & S F gen 6s 5,000.....129½
St L Southw 1st 4s 15,000.....94⅛
11,000.....94⅝
12,000.....94⅞
10,000.....94⅞
12,000.....95
5,000.....84⅜
10,000s20F.....84½
3,000.....72½
5,000.....84½
1,000.....72½
2,000.....84½
20,000.....72½
5,000s20F.....84½
10,000.....72½
St P & Dul 1st 5s 1,000.....125
Sann Ant & Ar P 4s 3,000.....79½
Southern Pacific 4s 15,000.....82½
20,000.....82¼
Southern Ry 1st 5s 5,000.....113½
5,000.....113⅝
10,000.....113½
10,000s20F.....84⅝
18,000.....84⅝
10,000s10F.....84⅝
100,000.....85
10,000.....84⅞
30,000.....85
Ft Worth & D C 1st 5,000.....79
Galv, Har & San An Mex & P div 5s 8,000.....100¼
Gen Elec deb 5s 1,000.....143¼
Green Bay & Wn deb ctfs B 16,000.....83
10,000.....83
30,000.....83
5,000.....83
20,000.....83
8,000.....77
Hock Val 1st 4½s 9,000.....104⅞
Int & Gt N 2d 5s 11,000.....92
35,000.....92½
10,000.....93
20,000b3.....93
10,000.....93¼
8,000.....98
Int & Gt N 3d 4s 8,000.....68¾
7,000.....59
1,000.....68½
1,000.....59
10,000.....59½
Inter Paper 1st 6s 1,000.....103¼
Kansas City So 3s 120,000.....56
Kings Co Elv 4s 2,000.....88
Laclede Gas Light of St L 1st 5s 2,000.....107
Mex Cent 1st inc 20,000.....28
Mex Intern con 4s 10,000.....84⅞
Total sales.....$3,713,700

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64@65. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted in London at 29⅝d per ounce, and in New York at 64c. Mexican silver dollars at 50¼c.

On the Stock Exchange, 1,000 shares of Phoenix sold at 10@12.

On the Consolidated Exchange, 100 shares of Alice at .40, 100 Brunswick at .18, 1,000 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .13, 1,000 Golden Age at .02, 300 Isabella at .70, 300 Little Chief at .16, 500 Mollie Gibson at .24, and 500 Phoenix at .11.

***

Closing bids for mining stocks on the Consolidated Exchange were as follows:

Alamo	.11	Horn Silver	1.10
Arsconda	.40	Iron Silver	.65
Alice	.40	La Crosse	.14
Adams Con	.29	Leadville Con	.65
Belcher	.12	Mexican	.30
Best & Belcher	.24	Moulton	.30
Bruns. Consol	.14	Ontario	6.00
Caledonia, B. H.	2.00	Ophir	.62
Chrysolite	.05	Occidental	.04
Chollar	.12	Plymouth	.05
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.35	Phoenix C. M. Co.	.10
Com. T. Co. stock	.04	Potosi	.11
Com. T. Co. bonds	.03	Quicksilver	1.25
Com. T. Co. scrip	.05	Quicksilver pf	7.00
Crescent	.06	Savage	.16
Daly	1.10	Sierra Nevada	.29
Deadwood Terra	.55	Standard	5.00
Eureka Con	.15	Union Consol	.20
Father De Smet	.35	Yellow Jacket	.18
Gehlen Fleece	.20	Argentum Juanita	.25
Gould & Curry	.18	Isabella	.68
Hale & Norcross	.18	Mollie Gibson	.22
Homestake	60.00	Portland	3.30

EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE.

The exports of merchandise from the Port of New York for the week were valued at $11,155,473, against $9,733,491 in the preceding week and $12,460,884 in the same week last year. Since Jan. 1 the exports of merchandise from this port have aggregated $538,694,777, against $450,963,608 in the same period last year.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Broadway and Sixty-seventh Street Corner Resold for Improvement—Other Dealings and Auction Sales.

Franklin Pettit has resold, through Charles E. Schuyler & Co., the plot of about six and one-half lots at the southwest corner of Broadway and Sixty-seventh Street, fronting 112 feet on Broadway and 137 feet on the street. The buyer, August M. Bruggeman, will erect on the site a ten-story apartment hotel.

Negotiations are pending for the sale of the vacant block front on the east side of Broadway, between Eighty-fifth and Eighty-sixth Streets, owned by Charles T. Barney. A report that the property had been sold is declared to be premature by interested parties.

Plummer & Sherman have sold for Thomas J. McLaughlin the plot on the south side of One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, 350 feet east of Seventh Avenue, 50 by 91.3 by 62.3 by 128.3.

Isaac M. Berinstein has sold the plot 100 by 100 on the south side of One Hundred and Seventeenth Street, 200 feet west of Lenox Avenue.

Porter & Co. have sold for Barech Werthem to Sarah B. Simon the three-story brownstone-front dwelling 16 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, 25 by 50 by 100.

Max Marx has bought from Ida E. Moore the three-story brownstone-front dwelling 221 West One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, 16.8 by 100, and has sold the three-story tenement 449 West Thirty-third Street, 18 by 99.2.

It is reported that Nelson D. Stilwell has bought the three-story brick dwellings 236 and 238 West Fifty-fifth Street, each 20 by 100.5.

Millard Veit has sold for D. Scheer to a client, for about $30,000, the five-story double flat 64 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, 25 by 100.

Ghames & Losere have sold for Charles Knauf, for $3,500, the two-story frame dwelling on the west side of Rosedale Avenue, 270 feet south of West Farms Road.

Dean Alford reports that he has sold a large plot on Rugby Road, Prospect Park South, Brooklyn, to Col. Alexander S. Bacon, who will erect a residence thereon at a cost of $10,000.

John J. Kavanagh has sold 11A East Eighty-third Street.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By James L. Wells.

Park Avenue, east side, 114 feet south of One Hundred and Forty-fourth Street, two lots, each 25 by 111.9; trustee's sale, to Maria Padula.....$2,900

Canal Place, west side, abutting on the foregoing, one lot, 25 by 111.9; trustee's sale, to William Procter..... 1,175

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

553 to 563 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, north side, 100 feet west of Alexander Avenue, each 25 by 100, five four-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to David R. Underhill, $8,750 each.. 43,750

Anthony Avenue, northwest corner of Minerva Place, 59 by 100, vacant; foreclosure sale, to Henry Raabe..... 1,550

538 and 540 West Twenty-first Street, south side, 250 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 50 by 92, one and two story brick buildings; together with 530 and 542 West Twenty-first Street, south side, 350 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 50 by 92, frame sheds, and vacant; foreclosure sale, to Georgia O. Lynch..... 27,675

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By James L. Wells, partition sale, Peter A. Shiel, referee, Second Street, Unionport, north side, 395 feet west of Avenue, 100 by 108, vacant.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Mitchell L. Erlanger, referee, 11 First Avenue and 73 First Street, being the southwest corner, 26 by 57.11 by 33.2 by 58.10, six-story brick tenement, with store. Due on judgment, $13,-993; subject to another mortgage for $8,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, John Delahunty, referee, 209 West Seventy-sixth Street, north side, 140 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 25 by 102.2, two-story brick building. Due on judgment, $21,931.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Charles H. Knox, referee, 46 to 52 West One Hundred and Seventeenth Street, south side, 225 feet east of Lenox Avenue, each 25 by 100.11, four five-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $10,982; subject to other mortgages for $35,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Henry Thompson, referee, 795 and 797 St. Nicholas Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, 51.1 by 75.10 and irregular, seven-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $125,942.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Eugene L. Bushe, referee, 17 East Eleventh Street, north side, 197.2 feet east of Fifth Avenue, 23.4 by 103.3, four-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $23,157.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, James C. T. Blackhurst, referee, 2,364 Wilkins Place, southeast corner of Jennings Street, 25 by 100, two three-story frame flats, with stores. Due on judgment, $4,196.

By John T. Boyd, partition sale, Thomas Kilvert, referee, 744 and 750 Second Avenue, southeast corner of Fortieth Street, 49.4 by 100, two four-story brick tenements, with stores.

By Charles A. Berrian, partition sale, Stephen S. Marshall, referee, Willis Avenue, northwest corner of One Hundred and Forty-third Street, 50 by 106, vacant.

By Charles A. Berrian, foreclosure sale, William J. A. McKim, referee, 2,964 Decatur Avenue, east side, 252.8 feet north of the Southern Boulevard, 50 by 120, two-story frame dwelling. Due on judgment, $7,539.

By Charles A. Berrian, foreclosure sale, John H. Judge, referee, 438 West Twenty-seventh Street, south side, 475 feet west of Ninth Avenue, 25 by 98.9, four-story brick tenement, with store. Due on judgment, $1,010, subject to another mortgage for $9,000.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

No. 281 West Eleventh Street, for a five-story brick and stone flat, 25.1 by 102; D. Rosenbaum of 153 East Eightieth Street, owner; Charles Rentz of 153 Fourth Avenue, architect; cost, $20,000.

Nos. 240 to 244 East Seventy-seventh Street, four two-story brick flats, each 29 by 85.6; G. M. Karpas of 30 Beekman Place, owner; M. Bernstein of 245 Broadway, architect; cost of each, $35,000.

No. 144 Sullivan Street, for a seven-story brick flat, with store, 25 by 80.7; Nieberg Brothers of 133 Crosby Street, owners; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $35,000.

No. 252 Avenue A, for a six-story brick flat, with store, 25 by 81.5; Julia Phelan of 111 Broadway, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $29,000.

Columbus Avenue, southeast corner of Sixtieth Street, for a galvanized iron sign; John C. Barth of 133 West One Hundred and Third Street, owner; F. Q. Smith of 128 Fourth Avenue, architect; cost, $210.

No. 115 East Seventh Street, for a five-story and basement brick and stone flat, 21 by 88.10; Samuel E. Jacobs of 135 Broadway, owner; G. F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $23,000.

No. 111 East Seventh Street, for a five-story and basement brick and stone flat, 21 by 72.2; Samuel E. Jacobs of 135 Broadway, owner; G. F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $23,000.

No. 237 to 241 East Fifty-third Street, for two six-story and basement brick flats, each 27.2 by 80.4; Jacob Kassewitz of 45 Avenue A, owner; G. F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost of each, $29,000.

Pallsade Avenue, west side, 173.8 feet north of River Road, for a one-and-one-half-story frame stable, 25 by 25; John Kennedy of 217 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, owner; G. H. Van Auken of 30 East Fourteenth Street, architect; cost, $300.

Alterations.

Nos. 200 and 202 East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street, to a one-story brick store, 37 by 65; D. O'Rourke of 2,319 Third Avenue, owner; F. Q. Smith of 128 Fourth Avenue, architect; cost, $75.

No. 59 Division Street, to a four-story brick store and lofts; N. Schlessel of 132 Green Street, owner; cost, $200.

No. 9 Oak Street, to a four-story brick police station; city, owner; T. E. O'Brien of 300 Mulberry Street, architect; cost, $350.

No. 2,157 to 2,161 Prospect Avenue, to a one-story brick factory; Schwitzer & Traber, premises, owners; Franz Wolfgang, Southern Boulevard and One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Street, architect; cost, $5,500.

Nos. 67 and 69 Hudson Street, to a four-story brick and stone hospital; Society of the New York Hospital, owner; Cady, Berg & See of 31 East Seventeenth Street, architects; cost, $900.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus $2,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyances should therefore show the true consideration:

Tuesday, Dec. 18.

ANTHONY AV, w s, 70.7 ft s of Bush St, 24.1x120.6x22.11x113; Mayer L. Henry and Louis Gates to George W. Brinsmade, (R S $5).....$100

AUDUBON AV, e s, 25 ft n of 168th St, 50x95; 3d Av, n w corner of St. Paul's Place, 24.5x100.0x23.6x95.11; Marcus Nathan to Phillippini Nathan, (mtg $5,000).....

AUDUBON AV, e s, 25 ft n of 168th St, 25x95; Ernst-Marx-Nathan Company to Morris Nathan, (mtg $16,000, R S $11).....

AUDUBON AV, e s, 50 ft n of 168th St, 25x95; Ernst-Marx-Nathan Company to Marcus Nathan, (mtg $16,000, R S $1).....

AVENUE A, w s, 84.1 ft n of 4th St, 16x100; John J. Astor to Catherine H. Hopke.....

AVENUE A, w s, 80.1 ft n of 4th St, 16x100; John J. Astor to Charles H. Ropke.....

AVENUE D, 93, w s, 27.5x100; John Roth and another to Ludwig Grosszwirth and wife, (R S $0, mtg $31,000)..

BOSTON ROAD, s w corner of 168th St, 52.2x100; Evelyn H. White to George J. Kelly, (R S $3.50, mtg $8,000).....

BROOK AV, e s, 290 ft n of 171st St, 100x100.11; Ernst-Marx-Nathan Company to Max Marx, (R S $11.50; mtg $39,000)

BROOME ST, s s, 50 ft w of Ludlow St, 25x87.6; Wolf Brand to Banned Friend, (mtg $20,000, R S $5.50).....

CANAL ST, 117, n s, 18.9x24.9; Canal St, 115, n s, 18.6x24.7x19.6x24.7; Charles Vonhof, as executor, to John W. Fleck, (R S $22).....

DATER ST, w s, extends from Wales to Concord Av, x201, sixteen lots; Salvator Lasperches to David Schwartz, (R S $1).....

DE MILT AV, n s s, Lots 37, 38, 39, map of Penfield property, 100x100; George D. Sloatman to W. Herbert Atwood, (mtg $1,200, R S 50 cents).....

FOREST AV, w s, 225 ft n of road from West Farms to Westchester, 25x100; Thomas Isherwood to George W. Whelan and wife, (R S $5).....

HESTER ST, 103; William R. Wilson to Joseph C. Levi, trustee, &c., (R S 25 cents,) trust deed.....

HUGHES AV, e s, 200 ft n of Columbia Av, 25x100; Tommaso Giordano to John Violante and wife, (R S $1, mtg $525)..

JACKSON AV, s w corner of 156th St, 90x75; Nelson D. Stillwell to Antonia D'Andre, (R S $8.50, mtg $8,000).....

LENOX AV, n w corner of 137th St, 25.4x75; William H. Scott to Peter Doelger, (R S $11.50, mtg $20,000).....

LOT 21, map of Cebrie Park; Philip A. Smyth to William J. Purdy, (R S 50 cents).....

LOTS 96 and 97, map of Cebrie Park; Philip A. Smyth and another to Anna M. Newbold.....

LOTS 96 and 97, map of Cebric Park; Philip A. Smyth and another to Julia A. Gaskin.....

TOWNSEND AV, n w corner of 175th St, 25x100; Laura E. Smith to Timothy F. Sullivan, (R S $3, mtg $9.15).....

UNION AV, w s, 50 ft s of 166th St, runs W 90.x s 50 x W 10x s 100 x e 100 to avenue x n 60 John O. Leary to Ferdinand Hecht, (R S $7, mtg $17,303).....

WALES AV, w s, 137.7 ft s of Westchester Av, 25x111x29.11x94.7; Timothy F. Sullivan to Bernard J. Clark, (R S $4.50, mtg $11,550).....

WARREN ST, 73, s s, 25.2x75.2x25.4x75.2; Hannah Felbel and another to Ratcliffe Hicks, (R S $9, mtg $73,000).....

WOODYCREST AV, w s, 201.1 ft n of 167th St, runs w 58.7x w 1.3x s 147.3x s 31.11; Melissa Thwaite to William H. Nelson, (R S $2.50).....

WOOSTER ST, 149 to 153, 74.6x100x74.7 x100; Joseph McElroy, referee, to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.....

1ST AV, e s, 84 ft n of 4th St, 21.10x87.11; John J. Astor to Frederick Jantzen and wife, (R S $15).....

1ST AV, e s, 65 ft s of 5th St, 21.6x87.11; John J. Astor to George Stanger, (R S $15).....

3D AV, n w corner St. Paul's Place, 28.5 x100.9x28.8x95.11; Ernst-Marx-Nathan Company to Marcus Nathan, (mtg $22,000, R S $1).....

7TH AV, s s, west half of Lot 212, map of Wakefield, 52x114; William E. Farrington to Emma Beekman.....

7TH AV, s s, west half of Lot 212, map of Wakefield, 52x114; Emma Beekman to Frederick C. Beekman, (mtg $3,000).....

7TH AV, s e corner of 54th St, 100x100; Charles B. Mills and others to Benjamin F. Mills and others.....

4TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Av A, 25.6x 98.2; John J. Astor to Sarah G. Bloomberg.....

4TH ST, n s, 125.8 ft w of Avenue A, 25.3x96.2; John J. Astor to Edward Wilckens.....

4TH ST, n s, 125.6 ft w of Avenue A, 25.3x96.2; Edward Wilckens to William Brill, (mtg $15,000, $10).....

11TH ST, n s, 220.6 ft e of 5th Av, 23.9x 103.3; Amelia R. Rogers to William Rau, (mtg $7,000, R S $10).....

11TH ST, n s, 198.9 ft e of 5th Av, 23.4x 103.3; Amelia E. Rogers to William Rau, (mtg $22,000, R S $13).....

13TH ST, s s, 71 ft w of 1st Av, 20.8x 103.3; Peter D. Fischer to Pincus Lowenfeld and another, (R S $9).....

16TH ST, s s, 225 ft w of 9th Av, 50x 122x50.2x117.4; 7th St, 161 West, 20x 102.2; 52d St, n s, 375 ft e of 11th Av, 25x100.5; 52d St, n s, 375 ft w of 10th Av, 25x100.5; John H. Hoyt, referee, to the Hamilton Bank, (R S $14, mtg $34,998).....

35TH ST, n s, 332.1 ft e of 6th Av, 21.5x 98.9; William D. Washburn, referee, to Harris Mandelbaum, (R S $1,).....

50TH ST, 41 West, 16x100.6, leasehold; Henry H. Landon to Alice C. Fisk, (mtg $10,000, R S $1).....

71ST ST, n s, 288 ft e of 1st Av, 25x 102.2; Samuel Adler to Leon Laurowitz and another, (R S $3, mtg $525).....

74TH ST, n s, 120 ft e of 2d Av, 20x 102.2; Morris Flue and others to Samuel Adler and another, (R S $4, mtg $10,000)

75TH ST, n s, 148 ft e of Avenue A, 25x 102.2; Pincus Lowenfeld and others to Frederick Lese, (mtg $1,837, R S $3)..

80TH ST, s s, 75 ft e of 1st Av, 25x102.2; Hannah Greenebaum and others, executors, &c., to Jennie Helborn.....

82D ST, s s, 210.9x e 2 e of 4th Av, 16.8x 102.2; Mary A. Casley to P. W. Reilly, (mtg $2,781).....

94TH ST, s s, 110 ft w of West End Av, 190x100.8; Metropolitan Improvement Company to Rachel Axelrod, (mtg $23,500, R S $105).....

96TH ST, 27 West, 25x100.11; Albert V. Donellan to Bernard B. and Frieda Zippert.....

105TH ST, 58 West, 33.8x100.11; Robert Wallace to Elsie B. Allison, (R S $5, mtg $33,500).....

113TH ST, 221 West, 16.8x100.11; Ida E. Moore to Max Marx.....

117TH ST, n s, 127 ft e of Lenox Av, 26x 100.11; Peter C. Brander and Margaret Starn, (mtg $20,000, R S $8).....

118TH ST, 340 ft w of 4th Av, 60x100.10; Myer Hellman to Francis J. Schnugg, (R S $1).....

118TH ST, n w corner of Lenox Av, 91x 100.11; John H. Hyde, referee, to Hamilton Bank, (R S $22.50, mtg $127,785)..

120TH ST, 55 East, 16.7x100.11x16.8x 100.11; Louisa A. Finck to John R. Perihefter, (mtg $12,000).....

120TH ST, n s, 185 ft w of 2d Av, 18.8x100.11; Peter Doelger to Thomas Berkeley, (R S $10).....

129TH ST, n s, 250 ft e of 7th Av, 25x 99.11; Maria C. Hersee, widow, to Louis Lese, (R S $9).....

132D ST, 12 East, 30x99.11; Astoria Real Estate Association to Anna Fischer, (R S 50c, mtg $22,500).....

135TH ST, 174 West, 25x99.11; Morris J. Simon and another to Samuel Oppenheim, (R S $50, mtg $27,000).....

139TH ST, s s, 562.9 ft e of St. Ann's Av, 92x100; Samson Lachman and another to Hugh Kiernan, (R S $9.50).....

Recorded Leases.

BROOME ST, 293; Caroline Pia to Harris A. James, 3 5-8 years.....$1,400

CANAL ST, 245; Lippman Able to Simon Senville, 2 years..... 600

RIDGE ST, 57 and 89; Lazarus Levy to Nathan Prusanowsky, 5 years..... 4,800

STANTON ST, 179; Yetta Lapides to Harry Postel, 2 1-3 years..... 2,700

9TH AV, 559; Joseph M. Ledwith to Ann Maguire, 5 years..... 2,000

2D ST, 356 and 358; Hyam Steinhauser and William Siegmeister, 5 years... 300

32D ST, 325 West; D. G. Hildebrand to Nannie Rynders, 3 years..... 1,000

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 6 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 110 ft w of West End Av, 1 year, 6 per cent.....$46,000

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 110 ft w of West End Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 60,000

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 220 ft w of West End Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 42,000

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 238 ft w of West End Av, demand..... 55,000

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 176 ft w of West End Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 42,000

AXELROD, Rachel, to the Metropolitan Improvement Company; 94th St, s s, 176 ft w of West End Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 55,000

BARAN, Rose and Julius, to Harris D. Colt; 79th St, 134 East, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 15,000

BLOOMBERG, Sarah G., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 4th St, n s, 160 ft w of Avenue A, 3 years, 4½ per cent..... 15,000

BRAND, Wolf, to Lena Brand; Broome St, s s, 50 ft w of Ludlow St, 5 years, 6 per cent..... 9,000

BRIMEYER, George W., to Louis Gates; Anthony Av, w s, 70.7 ft s of Bush St, due Jan. 1, 1904, 6 per cent..... 1,800

BUCKLEY, Henry, to Irving Savings Institution; 183d St, 156 West, 1 year, 4½ per cent..... 5,000

CADOO, Sarah V., and others to the Franklin Savings Bank; 46th St, 411 West, 1 year, 4½ per cent..... 5,500

COHEN, Max, to American Mortgage Company; 176th St, s s, 100 ft w of Myrtle Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 2,500

CONLON, Michael, to Bernheimer & Schmid; 2d Av, 806 lease, demand..... 8,000

CURRY, Sarah C., to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 76th St, s s, 125 ft e of West End Av, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 10,000

D'ANDRE, Antonio, to Nelson D. Stilwell; 156th St, s w corner of Jackson Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 8,500

D'ANDRE, Antonio, to City Mortgage Company; 150th St, s s, 96.3 ft e of Morris Av, widened, 1 year, 6 per cent.. 1,000

D'ANDRE, Antonio, to City Mortgage Company; Jackson Av, s w corner of 156th St; 1 year, 6 per cent..... 55,000

